

HOARE SA'S FEAR OF LEAGUE BREAKUP PRODUCED UNPOPULAR PEACE PLAN

DEFENDS DEAL WITH FRANCE BEFORE HOUSE

FOREIGN MINISTER OF BRITAIN RESIGNS HIS POST

LONDON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Prime Minister Baldwin told the house of commons today that the Franco-British peace plan for Italy and Ethiopia was "absolutely and completely dead" and the British government would make no attempt to resurrect it.

GENEVA, Dec. 19. (AP)—The council of the League of Nations formally shelved the Franco-British plan for peace between Italy and Ethiopia at a meeting late today.

BY BEN ROBERTSON.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—Sir Samuel Hoare, who resigned last night as foreign secretary, told the house of commons today that fear of a breakup in the League of Nations rather than fear of "any Italian threat" motivated the British government's recent foreign policy.

"We had no fear as a nation whatever of any Italian threat," said the man whose peace agreement with Premier Laval of France has brought the British government to the face of a crisis.

"If the Italians attacked us," he declared, "we would retaliate and, judging from past history, we should retaliate with full success."

"What was in our minds, however, was that an isolated attack of this kind, launched on one power without the full support of the other power, would almost inevitably lead to a dissolution of the league."

"When the election was ended, the war had been in progress some weeks. I had done everything in my power to mobilize world opinion against it in the assembly at Geneva."

"Despite our efforts, war had broken out and every day it continued it involved the world in greater and more dangerous problems."

"The Prince of Wales was present to hear Sir Samuel's statement. He occupied the seat over the clock in the chamber."

Prime Minister Baldwin had come before them without any of the applause which usually greets the presence of the head of government.

The resigned foreign secretary, who spoke as a private member of the house, told his colleagues the war raised very difficult questions between Great Britain and France.

"It must be obvious to every member," he said, "that the great body of public opinion in France is intensely nervous concerning a breach with Italy and nervous concerning anything likely to weaken the French defense."

"In view of these facts, I did everything in my power to make a settlement possible."

"The proposals which emerged from the discussions in Paris were not French or British in the sense"

PRESS ASSOCIATION men are noting that for the first time a genuine, open-minded investigation of all phases of the Lindbergh kidnaping case is under way.

It is interesting to note that the investigation is loosening a bit in his comment on the case, although he is sticking to his original story that Isador Fisch, who died of t. b. in Ge. many, left the ransom money at the Hauptmann residence.

Hauptmann claims he did not know Fisch until after the kidnaping.

There is no disposition to believe Hauptmann innocent, but the belief is gaining credence that the Bronx German does not tell the whole story of the case.

Investigations of the movements of Fisch into Canada shortly after the kidnaping, then possibly to Colorado, thence to Germany where he died, are being pushed diligently at the time nears for Hauptmann's execution.

ABOUT A YEAR ago The NEWS published the possibility, based on evidence then in hand, that Fisch might know more of the case than the Department of Justice and New Jersey authorities believed.

This possibility was called to attention of those working on both sides of the case. Proof of what

Kidnapers Free Victim Without Ransom Payment

Milne Found Dazed, Doped, Bruised, Trussed

BY LEO W. SHERIDAN

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Dec. 19. (AP)—Caleb Milne the fourth, held four days by kidnapers, was abandoned by his abductors without the payment of a cent of the $50,000 ransom they had demanded.

The 24-year-old grandson of a wealthy retired textile manufacturer of Philadelphia, lured from his New York City apartment late Saturday by a note that said his grandfather was ill, was found shortly before midnight—dazed, doped, bruised and trussed—beside a roadside ditch near here.

Today he was recovering in a Doylestown hospital. Doctors said his condition was not serious. Federal agents, who had the actor and mystery story writer in technical custody made no effort during the night to question him in detail.

Physicians said he should be allowed to rest. Milne was found by S. R. Gerhart, a Philadelphia salesman, and R. Morris Urganhart, an inventor, who were driving along the old York road about midnight. Four youths, passing by in another car shortly afterward, assisted in getting the half-conscious youth to Lakaska, Pa., nearby, where he received first aid before being brought here.

Milne's eyes and lips were sealed with cruel tape that crisscrossed his face. His overcoat, pinned tightly about him, was a straitjacket. There were no socks on his feet, but he wore one shoe. The bare foot was swollen. His wrists were bound to his knees with hemp. His right arm showed marks as of a needle.

One of the first things he said was "Don't stick those needles in me."

New York police had listed Milne merely as "missing," but J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, stated in Washington today that his department was convinced it was a case of kidnaping.

Hoover sent his men on a three-point drive to capture the kidnapers, working at New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

SHOPPERS CROWD LOCAL STORES AS XMAS BUYING SWINGS AHEAD

Stores Are Remaining Open Until 9 p. m. In Order to Avoid Annoying Rush Next Monday and Tuesday

Shopping days are really here again. "Mama, buy me this!" "Oh gee, it runs! I hope Santa brings me a train like that!"

These and a thousand more expressions of glee salute the ears of busy Pampa clerks as the Christmas buying season swings into its heaviest period.

And here's a tip: Shop now or face an annoying rush later. Stores are going down as buyers take their pick of the merchandise. Many of those who wait until the last day or so will be disappointed. Stores are remaining open until 9 p. m. this week for the convenience of buyers. The hour will be 10 p. m. on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The shopping rush is bringing the usual problems: Of keeping shelves stocked, of hiring and instructing new clerks, of watching for shop-lifters.

Yes, the shop lifters are shopping early, too. Three were arrested in one day and placed in the county jail. Two had walked out of stores with garments, the other had a variety of smaller articles. Merchants take heavy losses from these thievs every year. Most of them lately have been of the down-and-out variety, some dope addicts.

Neal Powers Is Questioned About Money In Hearing

Attorney Refuses to Answer Hill's Questions

KILGORE, Dec. 19. (AP)—State Senator Joe Hill of Henderson, chairman of the senate oil investigating committee, started a surprise hearing here today and centered his questioning on Neal Powers, member of the Tyler law firm of Alfred, Powers, and Alfred.

Hill questioned Powers concerning alleged payments made to the oil engineering firm of E. M. Stanley and G. A. Sadler. Stanley is chief engineer in charge of the East Texas division of the Texas Railroad commission, having resumed his post after a voluntary absence of several months.

LEASE BOILER EXPLODES AND INJURES PAIR

PAMPANS SERIOUSLY BURNED AND CUT NEAR LEFORS

After miraculously escaping death when the boiler near which they were working exploded and rolled 500 feet from its original position, Bill Durbin and Herbert McKercher of the Triplehorn Oil company are in Pampa-Jarratt hospital with serious burns and injuries.

They were brought here from the Morse lease east of Lefors in a Pampa Mortuary ambulance.

Durbin received a fractured jaw, concussion and cuts and burns. McKercher, who was hurled far from the boiler by the explosion, received a leg fracture when he struck the ground. He also suffered severe pressure burns, cuts and bruises and was badly shocked.

Witnesses said a piece blew out of the boiler before it started its wild flight. Mr. McKercher, who was closest to the boiler, who hurled high in the air by the blast. Cause of the explosion has not been determined.

Mrs. West's statement, given to police with the unexplained preface "I was evasive when I talked to you last night; I want to tell everything I know now," contradicted the theory Miss Todd died accidentally from the fumes while running the engine of her car to warm herself after returning from a gay Hollywood party early Sunday morning.

Her statement supported the inquest testimony of Mrs. Wallace Ford, actor's wife, that she talked over the telephone with Miss Todd at 4:10 p. m. Sunday and that Miss Todd said she was bringing a guest and that "you'll drop dead when you see who it is."

Italians Claim Victories Over Ethiopians In Bloody Major Battles; Many Killed

MYSTERY MAN ENTERS TODD INVESTIGATION

THELMA SEEN DRIVING WITH DARK MAN BY WOMAN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29. (AP)—The eerie mystery of Thelma Todd driving with a "foreign looking man" in Hollywood hours after she was supposed to have died claimed attention of a grand jury today.

This angle of the strange case was given to police by Mrs. Carmen West, estranged wife of the screen star's business partner and owner of the garage where she was found dead Monday.

"I saw Thelma Todd with a man of dark complexion whom I did not recognize about 11 p. m. Sunday," Mrs. West related.

This was about 16 or 17 hours after the actress was supposed to have died in her garage near Santa Monica.

"I was returning from San Fernando Valley, and was traveling east on Sunset boulevard when I saw a chocolate-colored phaeton which I immediately recognized as belonging to Miss Todd," Mrs. West said.

"I hurried my own car and drew as close as possible. Sitting next to the driver was Thelma Todd. I recognized her from a smart hat I knew she wore and also her blonde curls."

Mrs. West said she was positive "Driving the phaeton was a foreign-looking man. He wore a suit and a dark overcoat to match it. He was of dark complexion, but before I could get a good look at him, they turned on Vine street. I followed the car as far as Santa Monica boulevard, where they turned west and sped away."

Mrs. West said she was positive of her identification.

"She was a bosom friend of mine," she said, "and I have ridden in that phaeton many times."

District Attorney Buron Fitts, declaring the chief question is "When did Thelma Todd die?" said he questioned Mrs. West today concerning her story.

Meantime, Fitts summoned 20 witnesses to appear before the county grand jury in an effort to solve the enigma of the coming of the actress' death and the puzzle of how long she lived after leaving a gay Hollywood party Sunday morning.

A coroner's jury returned an inclusive verdict that the star's death "appears to have been accidental, attributing her death to carbon monoxide poisoning."

But Fitts announced "there are circumstances that do not satisfy us. We intend to clear them up."

Testimony Agrees

LANGER GOES FREE IN U. S. JURY VERDICT

Former Governor of North Dakota Acquitted on Conspiracy Charges

BISMARCK, N. D., Dec. 19. (AP)—A federal court jury today acquitted former Governor William Langer and two other former North Dakota officials of conspiracy charges.

Acquitted with Langer were R. A. Kinzer, former relief secretary, and Frank Vogel, former state highway commissioner. They were charged with conspiracy to obstruct administration of federal relief legislation by soliciting political contributions from workers paid with federal relief and highway funds.

A fourth defendant, Oscar Erickson, publisher of the Leader, for support of which the contributions allegedly were sought, was freed two days ago on a directed verdict.

The case was given to the jury late yesterday.

The three acquitted today were on trial for the third time. They were convicted at the first trial, in June, 1934, and gained a new trial upon an appeal. A second trial, last month, ended in jury disagreement.

Langer was removed from office as governor following his conviction. Renominated as Republican candidate for office, he withdrew in favor of his wife, Mrs. Lydie Langer, who was defeated in the final election by Thomas Moodie, democrat.

Moodie subsequently was disqualified for failure to fulfill a constitutional requirement and was succeeded by Walter Weiford, then lieutenant governor.

Steps to Make Sale of Liquor Legal Are Taken

Possibility of some package sales of liquor in Pampa was seen today as prospective retailers and wholesalers took steps to have their temporary licenses from the state by the city commissioners.

Canvasses the recent local option election Saturday morning.

However, if the county sets up its license fee system on that day, and the city likewise, some delay may be incurred. The city commission will meet tonight. It must set up a new beer and liquor ordinance.

Several advertisements of intent to sell package liquor are being inserted in The NEWS today, as required by law.

No liquor sales in any form are permitted on Sundays under the new law. In some instances, buildings are being altered to come under the legal requirements for making package sales separate from beer sales over the bar.

PEACE PLAN IS ABANDONED BY LEAGUE BODY

BLAKES AMBUSHED AND MACHINE-GUNNED, SAY ITALIANS

BY DEVON FRANCIS, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Italian and Ethiopian troops fought bitterly today for the possession of land which, in European repercussions to proposals of peace, had precipitated a crisis in one government and a near-crisis in another.

Hundreds were reported dead in sanguinary engagements.

The most ambitious Ethiopian assaults on East Africa's northern front since the start of the war were repulsed by the Italians, said dispatches from Asmara, Eritrea, and the fascist blackshirts retaliated with vigorous counter-movements.

ASMASA, Eritrea, Dec. 19. (AP)—Italy's northern army repulsed a second Ethiopian assault south of Makale, after balking the first offensive in the Takkeze river sector and retaliated today with vigorous counter-movements against the attackers.

Fascist fliers pursued the Ethiopians below Makale, machine-gunning them as they retreated, while Italian officers said the native warriors who attacked on the Takkeze river front were surrounded and in danger of almost "total annihilation."

The two battles, coming in quick succession, aroused a belief among military experts that the Ethiopians charged on the Makale front, hoping to profit from a diversion of the Italian troops to the conflict northwest along the Takkeze.

Mountainous barriers between the two sectors, however, apparently prevented proper coordination for a decisive double blow.

Details of the battle south of Makale, forward point of the Italian front lines, were slow to come, but Makale advisers said the Ethiopians attacked fiercely with a strong force yesterday, just as the Takkeze advance to the northwest was being blocked.

Italian machine-gunners met the Makale assault with a withering fire, and the attackers withdrew under a strafing from aerial squadrons. The losses did not become known immediately.

Italian dead from the Takkeze sector outnumbered the Italian wounded 10 to 1. (Rome officials said more than 500 Ethiopians and 272 Italians died up to yesterday, after three days of fighting.)

The outcome of that battle confirmed reports that an Italian retreat drew the Ethiopians into an ambush at Dembe Guina Pass.

books meant when they discussed the American governmental system of "checks and balances."

And he realized that the nine black-robed justices could and did affect his manner of living.

He saw it most clearly when the supreme court voided NRA, throwing out government regulation of hundreds of industries which employ millions of workers and produce goods or services for practically the entire nation.

With the Blue Eagle dead, John Smith no longer could look to the government to back up agreements for minimum wages, maximum hours.

Many called the decision a "death blow" to decent competition and workers' standards; others saw it a "life saver" for business. One of its results was to push organized labor's drive for collective bargain-

PREPAREDNESS TO BE ISSUED IN CONGRESS

TWO SENATORS HAVE OPPOSING VIEWS ON PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—Clashing views about the drive for a stronger army and navy seemed today to forecast a major controversy at the congressional session opening in January.

These three developments brought the problem to the fore: 1. Senator Lewis (D., Ill.), just back from a European tour, called for increased army and navy strength so the United States could take what he terms "her rightful course of fearless independence" in a war-threatening world.

2. A few hours earlier Senator Frazier (R., N. D.) said war preparations head the country toward bankruptcy, declaring that these preparations are a "mad orgy" he said "preparation propaganda" is inspired by "those who make a profit out of war."

3. The war department drove ahead with its plan to build up the army air corps. Yesterday it ordered 100 swift craft, designed to strafe such targets as marching troops or ammunition dumps, and today it was indicated that new bombers and pursuit craft will be bought shortly. Money available for the purchases total $17,500,000.

Lewis, in an interview, said nations abroad are suspicious of each other and expect war.

"This is the state of affairs," he said, "which justifies the president and congress and parties increasing our navy, multiplying our aviation, strengthening our army, as proof to the world that while we do not want to war against any people, we are prepared as against any war made against our people."

COMMITTEE OF 13 TO DECIDE LEAGUE ISSUES

New Peace Plan Vs. More Sanctions Debated

GENEVA, Dec. 19 (AP)—The League of Nations council, after two hours of secret deliberation, adopted a resolution today placing further efforts toward Italo-Ethiopian conflict in the hands of a committee of 13—all members of the council except the parties to the conflict.

A member of the council told the Associated Press there was no immediate question of imposing an oil embargo on Italy, meanwhile to reinforce present arms, financial and economic sanctions.

The general Geneva impression was that the existing sanctions system would be permitted to continue functioning against Italy until stabilization of the political situation in Britain and France as a result of the unsupported Franco-British project for peace and military developments in the war area.

The league's sanctions committee of 13 will meet late today or tomorrow to consider the general situation concerning application of the war penalties.

France's Premier Pierre Laval proposed creation of the conciliation committee of 13, pointing out that neither Italy nor Ethiopia had yet replied formally to the last peace proposal, and that conciliation efforts therefore should be continued. The committee of 13 unanimously adopted a resolution to be submitted to the council, meeting as such. A resolution takes note of the steps which have been made in the interests of peace, and recognizes that replies have not yet been received from neither side.

The resolution says future negotiations will be handled by the committee of 13.

A delegate explained that the resolution meant if any further action were found necessary the council would entrust the committee of 13 with the question.

The council's discussion of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict was complicated by the resignation of Sir Samuel Hoare as British foreign secretary and the possibility of a French cabinet crisis as a result of the drafting of the much-criticized Anglo-French peace project.

Official French sources forecast that Edouard Herriot, resigned leader of France's dominant radical-socialist party, would eventually quit Laval's cabinet but they believed the minister of state would await the premier's return to Paris before doing so.

Official French sources forecast that Edouard Herriot, resigned leader of France's dominant radical-socialist party, would eventually quit Laval's cabinet but they believed the minister of state would await the premier's return to Paris before doing so.

The league's sanctions committee of 13 will meet late today or tomorrow to consider the general situation concerning application of the war penalties.

France's Premier Pierre Laval proposed creation of the conciliation committee of 13, pointing out that neither Italy nor Ethiopia had yet replied formally to the last peace proposal, and that conciliation efforts therefore should be continued. The committee of 13 unanimously adopted a resolution to be submitted to the council, meeting as such. A resolution takes note of the steps which have been made in the interests of peace, and recognizes that replies have not yet been received from neither side.

The resolution says future negotiations will be handled by the committee of 13.

A delegate explained that the resolution meant if any further action were found necessary the council would entrust the committee of 13 with the question.

The council's discussion of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict was complicated by the resignation of Sir Samuel Hoare as British foreign secretary and the possibility of a French cabinet crisis as a result of the drafting of the much-criticized Anglo-French peace project.

PRODUCTION IN TEXAS FIELDS ESTABLISHED

SOUR GAS ALLOWABLE IN PANHANDLE BOOSTED

AUSTIN, Dec. 19 (AP)—Winter market conditions today gave gas producers an allowable increase for January but Texas oil fields a sharp cut under orders of the Railroad commission.

Gas fields outside of the Panhandle shared an increase of 151,490,000 cubic feet daily while oil production was cut approximately 45,000 barrels from the December 1 basic schedule to 1,015,645 barrels.

The oil cut was greater compared with December 15 production as reported by the commission, of 1,072,845 barrels.

New oil allowables by districts were East Texas, 428,000 barrels; Panhandle, 57,800; Moore county, 1,500; Osborne area, 500; North Texas, 57,500; Ford county, 500; West Central, 50,201; West Texas, 123,990; East Central, 42,232; South-west Texas, 108,717; and Gulf Coast, 148,615.

Sweet gas allowables in the Panhandle were unchanged from 608,532,000 feet in the west zone and 131,740,000 feet in the east zone.

For the rest of the state the daily flow was raised to 90,717,000 feet from 239,223,000 feet effective January 1.

Allowed production of sour gas in the Panhandle was boosted from 451,000,000 feet to 320,496,000 feet, while in the rest of the state it was cut from 5,831,000 feet to 4,770,000 feet.

The new order, which readopted field rules in the preceding one, limited the maximum flow of a well to 35 per cent. of its open-flow capacity.

The commission found the open-flow capacity of sweet gas wells in the west Panhandle was 8,324,321,000 feet; in east Panhandle, 6,938,169,000 feet and in the remainder of the state, 9,231,441,000 feet. Potentials of sour gas wells in the Panhandle were 2,128,326,000 feet, and rest of the state, 336,000,000 feet.

happened but I feel sure the jumped from the window." He said he traced a "swish" behind him as he was packing a bag and when he turned she had vanished.

"We don't believe Matkins is telling the truth," Police Inspector Allen McGinn said. "There was a violent quarrel and we want to find out what it was about."

McGinn did not elaborate. Matkins, accompanied by an attorney, appeared at police headquarters several hours after the body of the 38 year old woman was found yesterday.

He said he first learned of her death in a newspaper.

Everett E. Saxe, liquor salesman, told police the woman, who was divorced from Matkins 17 years ago, was his wife. Saxe was treated at a hospital for head wounds he said to join a party with Matkins.

He told police Miss Steek was "being nice" to Matkins because she wanted their two sons, Thomas, Jr., 19, and Robert, 18, who are in Mat-kins' custody, with her for Christmas.

Notre Dame Honors Roosevelt

Eulogized by speakers and cheered by a throng of 8500 that packed the spacious Notre Dame University gymnasium, President Roosevelt is shown here as he received the honorary degree of doctor of laws from the Rev. John F. O'Hara, president of the university. At the exercises, commemorating Philippine independence, the president reaffirmed the American doctrine of religious freedom.

INTERSCHOLASTIC GAMES TO BE BROADCAST IN WEEKEND

With Texas foremost on the football calendar this year, the eyes of Texas are turned upon the youngsters who battle it out this week in the semi-finals of the Texas interscholastic league playoff. The southwest grows its own football stars, as history has proved, and these lads who play Friday and Saturday will be the Wilsons, Baughs, and McCaulys whose names will be written in the nation's headlines a year or two from now. And Texans are spotting them early.

Many names have been eliminated during the preliminaries, notably that of Lena, the Port Arthur boy who played a bang-up tough losing game at Corpus Christi Friday. The surviving teams boast such future stars as Karl Rice, who accounted for more than half of Amarillo's 25 points against San Angelo Saturday; Bert Marshall and Bill Easter of Greenville, Charlie Haas of Corpus Christi, and Stephens of Wichita Falls. All of these youngsters will be seeing plenty of action over the week-end, and record crowds are predicted for the two games.

Fans unable to see the schoolboy stars in action will be able to hear them on the air, it was announced today. SBS will broadcast both games over a nine-station hookup. The Greenville-Corpus Christi game goes on the air Friday from Greenville, the Amarillo-Wichita Falls affair Saturday from the Panhandle city. The final game next week will also be broadcast, Magnolia Petroleum company, sponsors of the broadcasts, announced.

Stations carrying the games are: KRLL, Dallas; KTAT, Fort Worth; KTHH, Houston; KTSB, San Antonio; WACO, Waco; KNOV, Austin; KGNC, Amarillo; KPDM, Beaumont, and KGKO, Wichita Falls.

RENO DIVORCE PARADE RANKS AS THIRD MOST PROSPEROUS

RENO, Nev. Dec. 19. (AP)—Reno's 1935 divorce parade, led by the fabulously wealthy Barbara Hutton, already ranks as the third most prosperous in the long history of this international separation center.

The multi-millionaire Woolworth "5-and-10" heiress divorced the Georgian prince, Alexis Mdivani, since killed in a motor crash in Spain, and next day married the Danish count, Kut Von Haugwitz-Reventlow.

Social registers of 12 cities contributed 125 "bluebloods" to the list of 2,895 who have filed for divorce so far this year. New York's social register alone accounted for 60; "Who's Who in America" added 21 suits.

The total compared with 1,920 in 1934; 2,438 in 1933; 3,162 in 1932, and 4,745—the record—in 1931.

Another heiress, Millicent Rogers, daughter of the Standard Oil magnate, Henry Huddleston Rogers II, only this month won a decree from Arturo de Peralta-Ramos, prominent Argentine.

Pearl Buck, the novelist, divorced John Lossing Buck and immediately married Richard J. Walsh, member of a publishing firm.

Consuelo Vanderbilt Smith, heiress daughter of Mrs. Ochsman Fair Vanderbilt, divorced the wealthy and socially prominent Earl E. T. Smith of New York.

A mother-and-daughter "act" was introduced by Mrs. Emily Knight Davies and her daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Cheeseborough, both socially prominent in Washington. Mrs. Davies divorced Joseph E. Davies, former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission at Carson City 30 miles south of here, the day before her daughter divorced Thomas P. Cheeseborough Jr., in Reno.

Davies since has married Mrs. Marjorie Post-Hutton, daughter of the late C. W. Post, cereal king, and Mrs. Cheeseborough's engagement to Sen. Millard Tydings of Maryland recently was announced.

Credit Association 'Swamped' as Xmas Business Increases

The rising tempo of Christmas business is reflected in demands for reports from the Pampa Credit association, which is "swamped," according to Walter J. Daugherty, manager. The association is remaining open at nights this week.

Better business during November in this state and nation was also shown in collection and credit sales figures received by the local association. The regional report was made up from figures submitted by 16,129 retail stores in 64 cities. Fifty-two of these cities reported

Vicars Points Out Dangers of Money Printing

That inflation, as advocated by some people in the United States, would not work was shown by De-Len Vicars in a talk before the Rotary club yesterday. He told of the countries in which currency inflation has been tried by the printing of extra money without proper backing and the resulting depreciation. He cited conditions in Germany after the World War and other countries in earlier times.

The experiences of the United States after the revolutionary war and the civil war were cited. Continental money and greenbacks were issued to such an extent that they became so worthless as to become by-words for things without value.

Mr. Vicars showed that money will purchase only an amount which is based on a comparative of money and goods. As more money is issued, it requires more to make purchases and consequently fails to accomplish the purpose for which the new money was created.

Cowboy songs were given by pupils of Mrs. John Bradley's room at the Sam Houston School and accordion solos were given by 5-year-old Mary Jo Shellebarger.

Visitors were Dr. Elliott Mendenhall, of Dallas, J. O. Gillham, Mack Graham, C. A. Shellebarger and A. L. Patrick.

It was announced that the club had made a contribution to the community Christmas tree which will be held Monday night. Members also combined on a contribution for the new home of Boy Scout Troop 20, Rotary sponsored troop, as a Christmas gift. The funds will be used to purchase equipment for the new home.

FINISH BOUT
CHICAGO (AP)—If some unregenerate person hadn't blown smoke in their cage, declared Anton Neukirch of Berlin, his German countrymen would have won the world, singing title at the National Canary Breeders' association show.

So he challenged Mrs. Frances Wolf of Chicago to pit her champion, "Rajah," against his prides in a $400 special match next month at Cincinnati. She accepted.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Dec. 19 (AP)—Texas never had a man like Governor James Stephen Hogg, says Bob Barker, secretary of the senate, and maybe never will again.

Barker has held positions with the senate or the house for nearly 30 years and knew Hogg well. "He was in a class to himself," he reminisced recently. "He hit things he opposed with devastating force. One of these was the practice of railroads giving members of the legislature passes."

"On speaking campaign he never drank water from a glass. He would grab the pitcher and down a quart."

"People in all walks of life loved him and when he died an old negro made a long trip to attend his funeral."

Governor Allred has an old-fashioned, straight-backed cowhide-bottom chair in his private office. It was received recently from Senator Gordon Burns of Huntsville.

"I thought the governor would appreciate it because I know he's a country boy and must have been reared in chairs like that," Burns said.

L. G. Phares, acting director of the department of public safety, tells this story about causes of automobile highway accidents:

"My wife and I were driving to Clovis, N. M., some time ago," he said. "All day we breezed along about 40 or 60 miles an hour and only one automobile overtook and passed us."

"After night when we were still some distance from Clovis, we slowed down because driving conditions were not so good. My wife counted 73 automobiles which passed us."

"There are lots of accidents because people disregard changing driving conditions."

He gave the opinion also that many accidents were due to slow drivers who cause others to take chances of passing.

Anyone whose automobile has been stolen will understand the feelings

Rose Bowl Coaches Expect 'Just Anything' In Battle

Shuford Will Captain Mustang Eleven At Pasadena

DALLAS, Dec. 19. (AP)—Coaches of the Rose Bowl teams seem to be together on one point—they expect "just anything" in the big post-season classic at Pasadena New Year's day.

Coch Matty Bell of Southern Methodist, drilling his undefeated Mustangs in everything from fundamentals on up, including the famous aerial attack, says he doesn't know what to expect from the Stanford Indians. He, therefore, is preparing for "just anything."

When Coach "Tiny" Thornhill of Stanford was in Texas recently to watch the Mustangs trounce the Aggies, he said he was going back to California and prepare his Indians for "just anything."

Although the Mustangs have given much time to an overhead offensive in practice this week, Coach Bell says he has settled on no definite plan of attack. He added that the passing machinery would be in good running order but that he hoped to have the Ponies in shape to gain yardage on running plays.

The Mustangs' chances at an effective ground offensive were strengthened by the return of Harry Shuford to the lineup.

Shuford will captain the Mustangs in the Rose Bowl battle. The hard-plunging fullback was recommended for the honor by J. C. (Iron Man) Wetzel and Maco Stewart.

Shuford, Wetzel and Stewart are tri-captains and each was named to the leadership honor in four of the 12 games on the regular season schedule. Shuford's injury received in the U. S. C. L. A. game deprived him of two of his allotted games.

Gene Lillard, Pacific coast league home run king signed by the Cubs for 1936, first homer as a Wichita player in 1922. The prize was $100 in merchandise, and since then Gene hasn't bothered much about singles. He tries for the fences.

The Brooklyn Dodgers now have a Butcher as well as a Baker on their pitching staff. Tom Baker was at the Olympic training camp last spring. The new man, Alfred Maxwell Butcher, won 11 straight for Galveston in the early part of the 1935 season.

Here's a team record that deserves some notice of fame. For a long time D. C. "Ed" Gallagher has been coaching the Oklahoma Aggies wrestling teams, and in 11 years his boys have lost but on dual match. Thus accounting for the fact that Oklahoma is the hotbed of amateur wrestling in America.

ACT OF GOD? WATERBURY, Conn. (AP)—Superior Court Judge Alfred C. Baldwin holds that a heavy rainfall, under some circumstances at least, is not an act of God.

Frank Tavano sought damages from the Waterbury trust company for his landlady, after water backed into his store, damaging a stock of wall paper.

The bank contended the rain was a divine act, but Judge Baldwin awarded Tavano $2,273.

tion, dating from her default to Helen Jacobs at Forest Hills. The fact that she was arrayed against Miss Jacobs in the Wimbledon applied the perfect dramatic touch.

The poll's finding that Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove turned in baseball's outstanding comeback is confirmed today by the official American league pitching averages showing the Red Sox southpaw at the head of the list in effectiveness.

A "bust" last year with a sore arm, Grove regained old-time form, won 29 games and set a record by compiling the league's best expected-run average for the seventh time. Grove shares third place in the poll with Glenn Collet Vare of Philadelphia, who regained the national women's golf crown after a lapse of five years. Mrs. Vare's victory at Minneapolis was her sixth.

MARCUM, THE LARGE KENTUCKY FARMER, STOPPED SCHOOLBOY ROWE'S 16-GAME WINNING STREAK IN 1934, AND WON 17 CONTESTS FOR LAST PLACE PHILADELPHIA CLUB LAST SEASON.

Robert Moses Grove Chalks Up '35 Record

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (AP)—Robert Moses Grove, the $125,000 Boston "Lemon" of 1934, was the star pitcher of the American league pitching crop in 1935.

Baseball experts, who said the great southpaw was all washed up last year when his buggy whip lashed with pain every time he tried to use it, probably will blink their eyes today as they gaze at the official pitching records for 1935. Topping them all from the standpoint of earned run averages is the same Lefty Grove.

Grove, who ranked 63rd among 65 American league pitchers a year ago, made such a spectacular comeback that he won 29 games, lost 12 and turned in an official earned run average of 2.70, or .32 ahead of his closest rival, Ted Lyons of the White Sox, who teamed with Grove and other vets in winning the 1935 pennant.

Although Grove is listed in number one position on the official averages, the hot stove league can argue over the winner of the all-around pitching championship between him, Wesley Ferrell, who won 25 games, and Elden Auker of Detroit, who led in winning percentage with a record of 18 victories and 7 defeats for a 720 mark. Sandwiched among them are other big winners like Mel Harder of Cleveland, who won 22 and lost 11; Tommy Bridges of Detroit, winner of 21 and loser of 19; and Schoolboy Rowe of Chicago, who won 19 and lost 13 after a shaky start.

Bridges was the strikeout king with 163 victims and Rowe second with 140. Bridges also won nine straight games, the longest winning streak of the year. Merrit "Sugar" Cain of the Athletics allowed the most bases on balls, 123.

Tarleton Cage Team Ready to Win '36 Title

STEPHENVILLE, Dec. 19. (AP)—Basketball teams at John Tarleton college have about forgotten when they lost a game.

The Tarleton cagers, under W. J. Wisdom, head football and basketball coach 14 years, hold a record of 40 wins in a row as they prepare for the approaching season with four letter men on hand. The junior college goal shooters went through the last two seasons undefeated, although about one-third of their opponents were strong senior institution quintets.

COYOTE STARS IMPRESS CITY GRID EXPERTS

PASSING OF FULLBACK ASTOUNDING LOCAL 'COACHES'

The Amarillo Golden Sandstorm is going to blow up against trouble Saturday afternoon on Butler field when it meets the Wichita Falls Coyotes in a semi-final high school title battle. The Coyotes, not as big as advertised, but much more potent, arrived here yesterday afternoon and without rest went to Harvester field for a tough practice session.

Pampa fans, and a number of ex-Harvesters who witnessed the hard scrimmage, saw a bunch of boys who could block like demons, tackle like tornadoes and carry the ball like places. The rail birds stood with open mouths as Neal, 245-pound fullback, stood flat-footed behind his line of scrimmage and passed with fair accuracy, 65 and 70 yards.

The big fellow doesn't even sway or cock back for the throw. He just drops his hand behind his head and bring it forward.

For short range passing the Coyotes introduced Mr. Hill, who shot the ball with force and accuracy to a couple of rangers ends with sticky fingers. However, Mr. Hill's long suit was tucking the ball under his arm and airing off tackle or around the ends. In that department he was ably assisted by Stephens and Lyons.

The Coyotes have a demon defense man in Whitlow, center Stone, a guard, and Allen, fair-sized tackle, are a couple of stellar boys Corbell and Duncan, tall ends, are the lads who are expected to play a big part in the game Saturday.

Coach Ted Jeffries drove his charges relentlessly. He "bawled" them out when they needed it and told them things were okay when the eleven clicked. All the time the coach cracked a long length of rope.

Two practice sessions were in order for today with a tapering off drill set for tomorrow.

The big Amarillo line is expected to give the Coyotes plenty of trouble. Despite comparative weights published, the Sandies will outweigh the Coyote forward wall considerably.

Many Pampans plan to see the game. A block of tickets, received by Roy McMillan, are now on sale at his office in the courthouse. The Coyotes will remain here until Saturday morning.

Regents Inquire Into Wisconsin Athletic Brawl

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 19. (AP)—Regents of the University of Wisconsin called a special session today to receive the athletic council's report on its inquiry into the upheaval within the athletic department.

The council, whose power is limited to recommending action, gave no indication of its findings after four long closed hearings during the two weeks since football captain-elect John Golemeske charged the athletic director with encouraging a move to oust Coach C. W. Spears.

Delving into the dispute that climaxed numerous other minor upheavals in two decades at Wisconsin, the council's three man subcommittee questioned the entire football squad, Dr. Walter Meenwell, athletic director, Spears and the assistant coaches.

Many persons close to the situation interpreted the upheaval as the blowoff of alleged friction between the football coach and Meenwell, a former basketball coach, who won the appointment as athletic director in a close vote over Spears.

Protest Of Mexia Against Greenville Is Ruled Out

Greenville, Corpus Christi to Play Tomorrow

BY BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer

The first of semi-final games in the Texas interscholastic championship football marathon will be played tomorrow at Greenville with Corpus Christi meeting Greenville.

The other game is scheduled Saturday with Wichita Falls at Amarillo against the Golden Sandies, the 1934 champions.

Mexia's protest of Greenville was ruled out yesterday at Austin and the Lions were declared eligible to continue in the race.

The executive committee of the league heard Mexia's protest that John Kallina, Greenville halfback, was ineligible under the eight-semester rule and that Greenville violated league rules because its business manager was not connected with the school system.

With the intelligible clouds moved away, Greenville is ready to entertain Corpus Christi in what should develop into a great game. Corpus Christi swept through a hard practice yesterday at San Antonio and left last night for Greenville. Corpus Christi planned a short workout at Greenville today. The Buccaneers are in top condition, and primed to stop Bert Marshall, Greenville's speedy all-state halfback.

Corpus Christi invades Greenville with 26 players, including Captain Chas. Haas, 1934 all-state halfback and one of the league's leading scorers. Corpus Christi defeated Greenville in last year's semi-finals, 24 to 14. Corpus then lost to Amarillo in the final.

Wichita Falls is in the semi-finals for the first time since 1923 when Leo Baldwin, backfield star led the Coyotes near the championship but could not get over a stout Abilene team.

The Coyotes boast a strong line that features Captain Whitlow, center; Swain and Stone, guards, and stick Neel and Decker. This strong forward wall is flanked by ### two sterling wings in Corbell and Duncan, and it's this impressive line with weight, speed and alertness that lifts the Coyotes into the co-favorite class with Amarillo.

The Golden Sandies have never been defeated by a Texas interscholastic league team on their home field. Coach Blair Cheffy has his defending champions ready for another slashing game such as the one they turned in last Saturday when they smothered San Angelo by an overwhelming score.

BRADDOCK'S COMEBACK RATED BEST OF YEAR; WILLS SECOND

BY ALAN GOULD. Associated Press Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—In a year marked by the succession of the greatest comebacks in athletic history, James J. Braddock enjoys the distinction of finishing at the head of the class for 1935.

The most surprising development in the fifth annual Associated Press sports poll, as disclosed by today's tabulation, is not that Braddock is rated the hero of the year's biggest comeback but that he was given a remarkably close race by Helen Wills Moody, the tennis queen, in the ballots by sports editors and writers throughout the country.

Braddock won on points by a margin not much greater than that which enabled him to lift the world heavyweight boxing championship from Max Baer last June in the Madison Square Garden Bowl. The final count was 190 points for Braddock and 171 for Mrs. Moody, who had voted the No. 1 woman athletic performer of the year.

Points were scored on a 3-2-1 basis with the experts listing their three comeback choices in the order of preference. Braddock was put at the top of 46 lists, while Mrs. Moody was ranked No. 1 by 21 observers.

All things considered, Braddock earned the comeback honors. Rated a flake has-been and in such personal straits that he was on the relief roll in New Jersey, Braddock within a year fought his way up from the heavyweight title. He was a 12-to-1 shot against Max Baer. His decisive triumph was the happy ending to one of the dramatic stories in prize-fight history.

Mrs. Moody's comeback was notable because it followed two years absence from tournament competition, dating from her default to Helen Jacobs at Forest Hills. The fact that she was arrayed against Miss Jacobs in the Wimbledon applied the perfect dramatic touch.

The poll's finding that Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove turned in baseball's outstanding comeback is confirmed today by the official American league pitching averages showing the Red Sox southpaw at the head of the list in effectiveness.

A "bust" last year with a sore arm, Grove regained old-time form, won 29 games and set a record by compiling the league's best expected-run average for the seventh time. Grove shares third place in the poll with Glenn Collet Vare of Philadelphia, who regained the national women's golf crown after a lapse of five years. Mrs. Vare's victory at Minneapolis was her sixth.

Tabulation of the poll on the year's outstanding individual comebacks:

1. James J. Braddock, world heavyweight boxing champion, 193.
2. Helen Wills Moody, Wimbledon tennis champion, 171.
3. Robert Moses Grove, Boston Red Sox southpaw pitcher, 43.
4. Glenn Collet Vare, national women's golf champion, 33.
5. Wilmer Albion, national men's tennis champion, 28.
6. Tony Canzoneri, world's lightweight boxing champion, 14.
7. Alvin (General) Crowder, Detroit Tigers' pitcher, 11.
8. Thomas Hitchcock Jr., world's only 10-gal polo player, 9.
9. Wesley Ferrell, Boston Red Sox pitcher, 7.
10. Charles Gelbert, St. Louis Cardinals' infielder, 6.

Madison (Matty) Bell, football coach at Southern Methodist university, received two points.

Treasury Bought All Newly-Mined Silver in Mexico

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Reiterating that the treasury still is buying silver, Secretary Morgenthau said today the government has taken all of Mexico's newly-mined output during the past year—about 72,000,000 ounces.

"I have bought silver every day this week, including today," Morgenthau replied to press conference questions about slumping world prices for the metal which brokers attribute to treasury policies.

But aside from mentioning the Mexican purchases, Morgenthau declined to say whether he was buying from private individuals or from governments.

It was understood Mexico's output had flowed naturally to the United States because of favorable prices. Morgenthau said the metal was taken at New York price levels.

The secretary recalled that the entire newly-mined production of the United States was being purchased by the government. The price paid is 77.57 cents an ounce—far above world figures. Montreal, for example, today quoted 45.40 cents on December futures.

JAPS OPPOSE PLAN

LONDON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Japan's stubborn, unswerving determination to have a navy equal to any regardless of world opposition emerged clearly today as sea powers delegates debated the merits of British compromise proposals. While American, French and Italian conferees voiced approval of the principle of the British proposal that each nation set a limit on new construction based on naval needs instead of "rights," the Japanese made no secret of strong objections.

BOYS' PLAY IS GIVEN OVATION BY RAPT CROWD

Laughter and Tears Among Reactions To Drama

An appreciative audience laughed and wept and sat spellbound last night when 15 boys of Junior high school age presented a gripping drama of boyhood, "Fingers," in the city hall auditorium.

The play was notable for several things. It was the first time that probably half of the audience which filled back stage to see and congratulate the young actors who had entertained them for an hour and a half.

But the boys, all of whom were 13 and 14 years old, were too busy to pay attention to visitors. They were eating cake, pie, fish, candy and drinking milk chocolate cones.

Members of the cast were as follows: Jack Hervey, "Foxy" Green, Jack Crout, Jack Strups, James Archer, James Evans, John Edwin McConnell, Bill Coons, Doyle Alden, Joe Crisler, Herbert Maynard, Wayne Coffey, Harding Duke, Ray Boyles.

Adult members of the cast included E. D. Caskey, L. N. Bra-shers, Ely Fonville, Mrs. Caskey was director.

The 4-act play presented to intermissions that lasted a total of eight minutes in all. One of the best things that could be said for the boys was that they acted "natural."

The play developed the theme that adults should interest themselves in boys and should provide a proper environment for them.

The plot dealt with the experiences of a boy crook who "went straight" after he was given a chance.

The complete inside story of the kidnaping when eventually it did vary considerably from the popular version.

One line of investigation is said to indicate that the Lindbergh baby may be alive; another requires that it be dead, and explains how it came to be in the place where found. One thing is certain: The case is far from closed.

A POPULAR magazine finds that the average age of 24 1/2 years for the man and 19 1/2 years for the woman.

Children number 2 1/2 on the average, for each couple. Mixed religious ties are in the minority, and living with in-laws avoided if possible.

South in husbands' occupations children most, good meals second in importance. In the home, social ability fourth. Two out of every three couples have life insurance.

Many have savings accounts despite the depression. Negro populations affect the averages somewhat by states. For instance the average marriage age for men in Mississippi is 29 North Carolina averages 4 children per couple.

These figures indicate a rising standard of living.

Sentenced to Die For Killing Son

HOUSTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—E. L. Little, 52, carpenter, was given the death penalty by a jury here today when he was found guilty of slaying his 18-year-old son, Marion Ellis Little.

It's tough, isn't it Sheriff?" he remarked. From the stand he told the jury his son had attacked him "with something that looked like a claw hammer and that the gun, a .410 gauge shotgun, went off accidentally as he and his son and his wife engaged in a three-way struggle for possession of it.

The boy was shot Sept. 23 in the Little home.

16-Year Old Boy Dies at Lefors

Gaines Ray, 16, died at the home of his parents in Lefors yesterday afternoon a few hours after he had returned from visiting relatives near Mineral Wells. He had been ill for several days.

The youth was a student in Lefors high school. Forgiving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Ray, five sisters, Wylene, Claudine, Wanda Lee, Ada Fay and Billie Marie, and one brother, Bobbie. Mr. Ray is employed by the Helena Oil company.

The family has resided in Lefors nearly two years. Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Megaree Baptist church with the Rev. Lee pastor, officiating. Burial will follow in Megaree cemetery. The body will be taken overnight by Pampa Mortuary.

MORE GIFTS TO TREE FUND FOR NEEDY DONATED

650 Children Likely To Have Gifts On Tree

The fund for the Christmas tree for the needy was further increased today. It was announced by Mrs. Charles Chiltree, general chairman of the project.

Contributions included: Rotary club, $25; Kiwanis, $15; Daniger Oil & Refineries Inc., $5; Lunsford Bit shop, $5; Jones-Everett Machine Co., $5; Dunaway Bros., $5; Marvin Lewis, $2.50.

It was announced that old Santa Claus would positively be at the Christmas tree Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the city auditorium. To be admitted children must obtain tickets at the relief office in the city hall. Only children of needy families expected to number 650, will be given tickets.

High school students were to help the cause by contributing toys of a value not to exceed ten cents. They were to be held at the office of Principal L. Sone, then taken to the relief office.

Women of local clubs will sack candy and fruit tomorrow for the event. Contributions for the tree may be left at The NEWS.

Home Modernization. But the fate of this law also might hang upon a high court ruling. Other measures, close to the average person, and upon which the supreme court was expected to pass, included: the Guffey coal bill, setting up a commission in the soft coal industry to draft codes containing wage, hour and fair practice standards; and the agricultural adjustment administration's processing taxes—levied on certain farm products before they reach the consumer and used to compensate the farmer for controlling production.

Uncle Sam seemed to take particular interest in John Smith's electric equipment. In newspaper advertisements, bill boards, show windows, Mr. Smith was informed the government gladly would help him buy his electric washer, his refrigerator, his radio. The help came in the payment terms—Mr. Smith was encouraged to buy at nothing down and a little a month over a long time.

This was part of the home modernization program pushed by the federal housing administration. John Smith could get loans for a number of other purposes, too, from patching a leaky roof to installing a bathroom or completely remodeling his home.

Social Security. The FHA also stood ready to assist him in buying a house. Up to November 16, the administration had insured home mortgage loans totaling $22,115,000; home modernization loans totaling $22,644,000. Funds were provided by private financial institutions under government guarantee.

Of all this year's federal legislation, perhaps John Smith stood to be affected most by the social security and unemployment insurance. Just what the legislation would mean to him depended to a great extent upon what cooperative measures his state put into effect.

Remembering 1933's "bank holiday," he saw the temporary law insuring bank deposits up to $5,000 made permanent; saw, too, a new tax law linking the levies on large estates, gifts, big incomes.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

(By The Associated Press.) The Franco-British proposals for peace in Ethiopia, whereby that country would have been partially dismembered, were formally shelved by the League of Nations council today.

Sir Samuel Hoare, who resigned as British foreign secretary last night because of popular indignation over the plan in which he collaborated, told the house of commons Britain's recent foreign policy was based on fear of a breakdown of the league, but not fear of "any Italian threat."

Italian and Ethiopian troops fought on the northern front in the wake of two Ethiopian assaults which left hundreds dead.

Ethiopian bands in the Takkaze river sector were believed by Italians to be hopelessly trapped.

Great Britain faced a cabinet crisis, with resignation of the cabinet possible, as a repercussion to the dead Franco-British peace plan.

Corridor reports in the chamber of deputies, Paris, said Premier Laval, co-author of the plan, may resign; President Lebrun was expected to ask him to remain.

The council of the League of Nations put into the hands of the committee of 19 the question of conciliation in East Africa. A member said no immediate embargo on oil to Italy was likely.

Premier Mussolini delayed his reply to the Franco-British peace offer.

(Continued from page 1) Stanley's testimony revealed he had measured tanks, taken gravity tests and had agreed to appear as a witness in any court his employers "might go into."

In reply to Hill's question, Stanley testified that he had never "made a test on a pit." He added that all tests made were in tanks.

Hill previously had questioned Ralph L. Marek, head of the commission's engineering department, in regard to measurements and gauges in pits of the Tyreco Refining company, numbers one and two. Marek said he would supply data on measurements and reports which might have been made in connection with the pits.

W. J. Christian, member of the tender board and in charge of the commission personnel, was questioned concerning the policy of the commission on granting tenders on back allowances. Christian said he understood no tenders were being granted on back allowances.

Sadler telephoned Hill that he would appear as a witness at the afternoon session.

Chapter XXXVI

Bobby Walter hunched himself back of the stunted, soot-blackened bush and held himself motionless with a tense effort that made his muscles ache. The light from the auto headlights inside the factory yard seemed to blaze with a brilliance beyond that of mid-day. For a long, agonizing minute he was in the very center of the brightness, while he cowered low in sudden fear, not daring to move—with a little spring from the bush tickling his ear.

Then, at last, the rumble of the engine grew louder as the car went into gear; the light swung slowly past him as the car turned to drive to the gate at the front of the encircling fence, and at last he was in darkness again.

He waited there a few seconds longer, straining his ears; he could hear no sounds that would indicate that he had been discovered. He grew bold enough to raise his head and peek out, over the bush.

The fence was not more than 15 feet away, and the factory was perhaps 40 feet beyond that. The car was trundling along over uneven ground between the fence and the building, and as it reached the front, where the gate was—a matter of 60 or 70 feet to Bobby's right—it came to a halt, its engine throwing the gate and its supporting uprights of metal into sudden relief.

Bobby blinked, until his eyes got used to the darkness, and stood up, peering beyond the fence intently. No one was visible along the wall; down at the front, where the car was, a few figures were visible.

One man, evidently the watchman—as he crossed the beam of the lights a holster was visible on his hip—was sauntering over to open the gate. Two others had come out of the factory and were standing at the running board, talking to someone in the car. They had left the factory door open and stood in the light that came out from inside.

The ground where Bobby stood was full of cinders and little stones, and it was hard to walk without making a noise; but with infinite care Bobby tried to draw nearer. He had proceeded a dozen feet or more when the watchman swung the wire gate open. The car's motor sometimes mumbled, doubtfully, again, the man who had been standing at the running board stepped back, and the car went on through the gate.

As it did so, its rear end passed into the light that came from the factory door. Throwing the fortune which had given him good eyes, Bobby peered at the license number, silently repeating the digits over and over to fix them in his memory: FH-1973-X. Then the car passed out of the light and disappeared up the little ravine, its red tail light blinking brightly as it passed out of sight.

The watchman closed the gate, and the other two men went back into the factory and closed the door, leaving the place at the factory entrance as dark as the rest of the landscape. Bobby stood there, gazing at nothing, with his mouth open.

To be sure, he had seen nothing in the least out of the way... except for the fact that FH-1973-X was the license number of the car owned by Mark Hopkins, his employer, who he suspected of running a secret and illegal factory where bullet-proof cars were made for gangsters!

He must have stood there for three or four minutes, quite motionless, oblivious to his surroundings, while he tried to think things out.

His first impression was that all of this confirmed his worst suspicions. He had in his pocket an invoice proving that Mark Hopkins' auto agency regularly bought a number of passenger car chassis from Detroit, which could be accounted for in any ordinary business. He had discovered this factory, tucked away in an almost undiscoverable part of the wastelands on the fringe of the industrial district, guarded by an armed man who permitted no one to loiter near it. Now he had discovered that Hopkins himself came out here, late at night.

And yet, he told himself, it might all mean nothing at all. There might be some perfectly proper explanation for it.

"I'll tell Larry Glenn all about it," he decided, at last. "He'll know what to do about it."

He began walking toward the front of the building, to find the cinder road that would take him back to Pulaski avenue, where his car was parked. And he thought so hard about what he would tell the federal man that he forgot how much care he ought to exercise in putting his feet down on the crunchy gravel; and suddenly a harsh voice split the night with a rough "Hey, you! Where you going?"

Bobby froze in his tracks. Beyond the fence he could just see the hulking figure of the watchman standing up and staring out at him. For one painful moment Bobby waited there; then, impulsively, he broke into a wild, headless dash of direction, seeking only to get as far away from the factory as is short a time as possible.

"Hey!" yelled the watchman. "Stop or I'll drill you!" Bobby heard a sharp report behind him; but if the bullet went past he never heard it.

He did not know whether the watchman tried to pursue him or was satisfied with having put him to flight. He only knew that he ran and ran, up and down the wildly ridged and furrowed wasteland, missing a sprained ankle in the dark and the treacherous footing only by miraculous good luck... until at last he came out of the wasteland into the paved length of Pulaski road.

Bobby staggered to a halt, and listened; although he was panting so hard that for a moment he could hear nothing else, he soon persuaded himself that he had outdistanced pursuit, if pursuit there was. He looked about to orient himself, concluded that he must go to the car to find his keys, walked a few hundred yards along the lonely roadway—and, with a heart-throb of thankfulness, found it at last.

By the time he got back to town he had regained both his breath and his composure. He returned the car to the place where he had rented it and took a street car to his room; there his first act was to call Larry Glenn. But Larry's phone did not answer, and Bobby was obliged, at last, to go ingloriously to bed with his exciting story untold.

He went to the safe agency the next morning, got out his demonstrator car, and announced that he was going to give a prospect a ride; then he drove downtown, parked, and went to the suit of offices occupied by the Department of Justice men.

There, to his disappointment, he learned that Larry was out of town, with the date of his return uncertain. When Bobby hesitated, and mumbled that he had some important information, he was invited to an office where an agent named Frank Watson sat with him and, in less time than Bobby would have thought possible, extracted all the facts—plus the invoice slip.

"Do you think it amounts to anything?" asked Bobby.

Watson was noncommittal. He murmured that they would investigate, thanked Bobby for bringing in the information, and promised to tell Larry what Bobby had done; presently Bobby was out in the street again, feeling almost as if he had been cheated out of something.

He wandered down the street and presently he came to the office building in which Jean Dunn worked; and the sight of this perfectly prosaic box of steel and cut stone afflicted him with all the romantic melancholy which might visit a swain who, in a happier era, beheld again the rustic bower wherein he had first kissed his lost love. Without exactly intending to, he came to a halt in the entrance and stood there, his last night's exploit forgotten, thinking of the girl he loved, who had told him a week before, that she could not marry him.

At last he looked up—and, with a start of amazement, saw Jean's other coming out of the building. Mr. Dunn saw him and came toward him with one hand extended, smiling a rather preoccupied smile. They had hardly shaken hands and greeted one another when the banker said:

"Bobby, do you know where Jean is?"

Bobby looked at him uncomprehendingly and said, "Why— isn't she— up there?"

"No," said Mr. Dunn. "I was just up. You see, I came to town unexpectedly—I left Maplehurst on the midnight train last night and got here about 7 I had to come up in connection with our robbery insurance. I called Jean's apartment when I got in but there was no answer. So, thinking I would reach her a little later at her office, I had breakfast and made another little call, and then came down here. And they tell me she's gone out of town for a few days!"

"Out of town?" said Bobby blankly.

"Yes, I can't understand it. This Mr. Montague, her employer, wasn't in, but one of the girls said Jean left day before yesterday. She didn't know where she'd gone, or anything, except that she supposed she'd be back in a few days."

The two men looked at each other.

"You knew nothing about it?" asked Mr. Dunn. Bobby shook his head. "I haven't seen her for a few days," he said.

"I don't understand," repeated Mr. Dunn. "Jean wrote nothing to us about it. She would surely have written."

And then Bobby was struck by a horrible thought—one that put an actual, physical pain in his chest, and made him feel a little weak and giddy. Even as he told himself

GAS COMPANY IS ORDERED TO REDUCE RATES

43 PLAINS CITIES WILL BENEFIT FROM RULING

AUSTIN, Dec. 19. (AP)—Railroad commission officials here anticipated so hard that the West Texas Gas company would accept an order reducing burner tip rates in 43 plains cities to save consumers $154,000 a year.

Olin Culbertson, director of the gas utilities division, said he was "reasonably sure" the company would accept the reductions, which made rates "fair both ways."

Effective for December billings, 15 cents was cut from the charge for the first 2,000 feet, 12½ cents for each of the next 2,000 feet, and 17½ cents per 1,000 feet for the next 46,000 feet.

Net rates, subject to one-ninth penalty for failure to pay bills in 10 days, under the order would be $1.35, the minimum charge, for the first 2,000 feet; 67½ cents per 1,000 for the next 2,000 feet; 55 cents per 1,000 for the next 2,000 feet, and 50 cents per 1,000 for the next 46,000 feet.

Reductions were applicable to domestic and commercial rates in Lubbock, Plainview and Midland as well as numerous other northwest Texas points.

E. O. Thompson, commission chairman, said the order followed the "findings of the court of civil appeals in the Lone Star Gas company rate case in that the commission exercises the jurisdiction conferred by the statute to fix burner tip rates in towns having more than 2,000 population."

Evaluation of the properties was started in April and hearings in June. Culbertson estimated the reduced rate would yield the company between six and six and one-half per cent on an evaluated investment of between $7,500,000 and $8,000,000.

LUBBOCK, Dec. 19. (AP)—R. F. Hinchey, vice president and general manager of the West Texas Gas company, said recently the company will accept the new rate set by the railroad commission and put into effect on December bills.

"The authorities representing the West Texas Gas company have been attending gas rate hearings with that he was being disloyal and stupid for even thinking it, he knew that he could not rest until he could find out about it. He seized Mr. Dunn's arm.

"I'm going up to Larry Glenn's office," he said. "He's out of town, too, but they've got to tell me where I can reach him. They've got to tell me how to know about this."

At that moment Jean Dunn was riding north in a big blue sedan, aware at last that she was the virtual prisoner of a desperate man; and Larry Glenn, without knowing it, was standing in a room she had quitted less than an hour before.

FUTURE OF LIQUOR QUESTION

With fewer than one-fourth of the citizenship voting or qualified to vote, Gray county has decided to make a try of the new package liquor law—the wettest, seemingly, that a constitutional amendment would permit under its mandatory barring of the "open saloon."

The vote in this county was without any campaign worthy of the name. Habitual drunks either felt the cause hopeless at this time or believed that a bit of experience with the new law might lead to a more permanent solution.

The burden of proving the new plan workable is upon those who wished the county to be wet, and upon those who will sell hard liquors. It will be demonstrated whether those who refused to obey prohibition will obey the regulations which now permit legal sales, or will prove that they are common law-breakers.

The State liquor control board will share the burden of enforcement with local officers in wet territory. The first step should be to make sure that little or no liquor is sold tax free and that no unlicensed sales are permitted. Income from liquor will go to the old age pension fund and to the schools. Local officers should "crack down" heavily from the first day to get in every dime possible.

Doubtless the most difficult enforcement problem will be to prevent sales by the drink. In this, the State can do most by revoking licenses. Citizens who see violations should be able to secure quick action by submitting affidavits or petitions to the State Liquor Control board. Similarly, Sunday sales and election day sales can be curbed. The fear of loss of a license should be a potent factor.

There is a possibility that the legislature will revise the new law. The prohibiting of sales of mixed drinks is certain to be attacked. This regulation, aimed at preventing the "open saloon," is feared by many to be a guarantee of life to the speakeasy and the bootlegger. Moreover, says the Texas Weekly, mixed drinks would be less potent than raw whisky and would be more in line with drinking as it is done abroad—with food. "Straight drinking," it is added, leads more quickly to intoxication and to the drink habit.

But time alone will "tell." The constitutional amendment banned the "open saloon." While it is true that the words are more or less what the legislature may define, the Supreme Court will be gunning for obviously unconstitutional laws.

With even the legislators disagreeing as to what the new liquor laws mean, the people must be patient, waiting official and legal interpretations. This uncertain period may give rise to abuses, with penalty, which may mean the return of prohibition.

Certain it is that an increase of drunken driving in engineering a hatred of intoxication. If the village halfwit seizes a shot-gun and starts shooting with uncertain aim, he is quelled with great outcry and the opportunity for a repetition of the offense removed. . . . A drunken driver is less than half mentally competent, and a powerful car is as dangerous as a shot-gun. DRUNKEN DRIVERS ARE MENTALLY INCOMPETENT AND, IF HABITUAL OFFENDERS, SHOULD BE TREATED AS HALF-WITS.

Before drinking, decide firmly not to drive!

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—No one here is trying to laugh off the current results of the Literary Digest's current New Deal popularity poll. On the contrary, it is being discussed earnestly in the highest quarters.

The effect created falls considerably short of a panic, because there is no New Dealer who cannot talk himself into believing that a 55 to 45 per cent vote on a general question comes far from meaning that all will be lost when Mr. Roosevelt campaigns next fall against a Republican candidate as yet unnamed.

Nevertheless, all of us are entitled to use our own judgments and if the prevalent swing against Roosevelt policies as shown by the poll continues, we will have to answer these questions:

1. Does a request for approval or disapproval of "acts and policies of the Roosevelt New Deal" bring the same pro or con reaction as a demand for choice between the election of Roosevelt and of Hoover—or Landon or Borah?
2. Is the present question equivalent in the minds of poll voters with that of the 1934 poll which asked whether voters favored Roosevelt policies "on the whole"?
3. How much of the anti-New Deal vote is a protest vote from liberals and lift-wingers who feel Roosevelt hasn't gone far or fast enough, but who wouldn't vote for a Republican?
4. Is the Digest poll representative of all groups on the economic scale?

WANTED: A poor old widow in Maine who killed two of her own hogs for her family's use, who was promptly pounced upon by federal agents and penalized $18 "from her scant store."

A very serious effort is being made to locate this poor old widow and almost any official in AAA is willing to dig down to contribute for a reward to the successful sleuth.

She appeared first in the Atlantic Monthly in an article by John W. Owens, who ascribed the tale to a nice old retired clergyman of his acquaintance who had heard it while on a visit to his old home town in Maine.

AAA is also looking for a wealthy southern woman named Mrs. Dryden, who reported to have received $1000 from the government despite the fact that she had no contract to reduce cotton acreage and who, an seeking to return it, was told to keep it because its return would mean "too much red tape."

It would also like to find the AAA agents reported to be distributing $100 bills through rural districts as fast as they can hand them out.

Mrs. Vanderbilt Asks Money for Big Week-Ends

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt says it costs $191.10 every week-end to entertain her 12-year-old heiress daughter.

The child's mother filed an affidavit in supreme court Tuesday asking $9,937.20 a year for expenses instead of the annual $9,000 personal allowance she has received from her daughters' $4,460,716 estate.

Mrs. Vanderbilt has custody of little Gloria on Saturdays and Sundays for 11 months of the year and every day in July. She requested the right to apply for special funds for maintaining a summer home in July, but for the week-ends she estimated her expenses as follows:

Rent for two days $40.00.
Food $29.10.
Tips $6.00.
Telephone $1.00.
Entertainment $15.00.
Flowers $5.00.
Rental of car and chauffeur $5.00.
Detective service $45.00.

Quail Boy Wins Judging Honor

QUAIL, Dec. 19.—Kenneth Allen of Quail's new F. F. A. chapter, was the highest scorer at the Hereford poultry judging contest last Saturday over 40 boys from eight of the strongest vocational agriculture departments in the Panhandle. His score was 463 points out of a possible 500.

The Quail team consisting of K. Allen, Emmett Palmer, and James Eiland, had a team total of 1331 points which was second to the strong Tulsa team, which placed first with 1374 points.

Quail also had first team in examination of the American standard of perfection with 268 points, and Allen was the highest scorer on examination, with 98 points out of a possible 100. He missed only one question out of 50 asked.

The two alternates, Bill Depauw and Richard Hooker, made a very good showing. While there, the boys took a keen interest in observing the 500-bird show which had some of the finest fowls on exhibit in this region.

This contest was the first in which any of the Quail boys ever competed.
