Leader—Giant popcorn poppers in packing houses are said to supply the cereal which they mix with saucages in cases. That's a mighty fine way to raise the price of corn, only the producer gets no benefit—just the packers. Corn sold as sausage increases the price of the corn about six times.

ADRAIN ODOM in Hereford Brand—There is really no need of working oneself down, getting out of humor and making a job to be dreaded out of Christmas shopping. In fact, it seems to us that if this cannot be done cheerfully and pleasantly, the spirit behind the giving of remembrances at Christmas time is defeated.

HARRY JAFFA in Roswell Dispatch—The proposed old age pension plan is a complicated affair and besides one has to pay and pay until he reaches the ripe old age of 65 if ever. Payments won't begin till 1942 and that won't interest many of the old timers. Another thing, anyone who's been brought up on caviar and oysters, will be forced to subsist on cabbage and perhaps an occasional slice of dry salt meat, oye what a future.

EARL C. JOHNSON in Memphis Democrat—The practicability of the SCS work may be seen when we consider the merit of the work being done. The men are building more brush dams than anything else at the present time. These dams help check the water and free the water completely of silt, furnishing a clear, pure water in the stock tanks for the cattle to use. The main purpose of the brush dams, however, is to hold the silt and plant food, and in this way hold the soil itself.

For the first time since 1903, Gray county is going wet. Sale of "all liquors" was legalized yesterday in a local option election, although it will be five days before the commissioners court canvasses the election and declares the result. Licenses of various types and costs will then be issued for sale of packaged liquor.

The complete, unofficial vote tabulated by County Clerk Charlie Tuttle was: For legalizing all liquors, 677; against legalizing all liquors, 497, a 180-vote margin.

As expected, the north half of the county was wet and the south half was dry. It will be possible to hold precinct local option elections to determine whether liquors shall be sold. McLean's two boxes cast 146 dry votes and 45 wet ones, while Albarran had 43 dry votes to only 4 wet ones. Grandview was dry, 27 to 11, while Kingsmill was evenly divided at 9-9. The only dry box in Pampa, No. 9 in northeast Pampa, stood 30 to 27. West of the Pampa boxes was No. 10, at the court house, which had a vote of 122 to 46. LeFors was wet, 180 to 36.

Proceeds of the sale of licenses will be shared by the city, county, and state. The state's portion will be Commander Lays Demand Of Legion Before President During Visit.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—The American Legion demand for cash payment of the bonus was laid squarely before President Roosevelt today at the White House by Ray Murphy, national commander.

The Iowa laid before the president the legislative program adopted by the legion. It included, in addition to the Bonus, pensions for widows and dependent children of world war veterans, the universal service bill for war time and adequate national defense.

Murphy was accompanied to the white house by John Thomas Taylor, chairman of the legislative committee of the legion.

As they left, Murphy refused to comment on the president's attitude but when asked if he thought a cash bonus bill could be passed over a veto, replied:

"We are hoping to have a bonus bill become law. We are not even discussing a veto."

NORMAN DAVIS PUTS JAPANESE ON DEFENSIVE

ASKS WHY JAP NAVY SHOULD BE INCREASED

BY ILOYD LEHRBAS, Associated Press Staff Writer.
LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP)—Norman H. Davis, the United States chief delegate to the international naval conference, told the Japanese today that inasmuch as neither the United States nor Japan has any intention of taking the offensive against the other, there is no reason to change the existing relative power of their two navies.

He made this statement to Admiral Otsu Nagano, the chief Japanese delegate, directly across a private conference table.

Davis told the assembled conference that the usefulness of the Washington treaty of 1922—which set the British, American, and Japanese navies on a 5-5-3, 4-5-7-9—had been fully demonstrated and that there was no reason to change the existing system.

Admiral Nagano, however, did not retreat a single step from Japan's demand for equality with the United States and Great Britain in sea power, declaring that Japan has made great sacrifices in the Washington talks.

He said the sacrifices would not be repeated inasmuch as modern ships and weapons had rendered Japan's position more dangerous.

ROME, Dec. 17 (AP)—The long-waited general battle in northern Ethiopia, toward which the Italian and Ethiopian armies have been maneuvering for weeks, appeared to be under way today with the first engagement a victory for the Ethiopians.

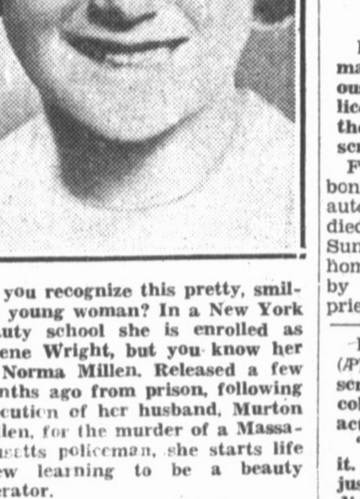

The Italian government announced today that Italian troops had retired before an attack of about 3,000 Ethiopians on the northern front.

This announcement, the first of the war in which Italy has admitted a retreat, was made in an official communique.

There were considerable losses among the Italian forces including four Italian officers killed and three wounded, nine Italian soldiers killed and several dozen Eritrean allies killed and wounded.

The Ethiopian losses were described as "considerable."

REPUBLICANS STRIVING TO SPLIT DEMOS

GOP Appeals to Democrats To Prevent Founding of 'Socialistic State'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (AP)—Unfolding part of their campaign plans for 1936, republican leaders were engaged today in a definite effort to win support of anti-new deal democrats in the drive to oust the Roosevelt administration.

This plan to topple the new deal by splitting away sizeable segments of the democratic party became plain in an unexpected resolution announced by the republican national committee last night after it had decided to hold the party's 1936 convention on June 9 at Cleveland.

Specifically, the announcement appealed to the "millions of constitutional Jeffersonian democrats" to join hands with republicans to prevent the establishment of what was termed "socialistic state."

Introduced by R. B. Creager, Texas committeeman, and seconded by Mark Requa, Californian who is a close friend of Herbert Hoover, the resolution said:

"The coming election will determine whether we hold to the American system of government or whether we shall sit idly by and allow it to be replaced by a socialistic state, honeycombed with waste and extravagance and ruled by a dictatorship that mocks at the rights of states and the liberty of the citizen."

"The crisis rises far above any question of political parties but it is only through political action that the menace can be fought."

Appealing to "Jeffersonian democrats" for aid, the resolution continued:

"We ask this and cooperation not only in the coming election and in the campaign preceding it, but also after the victory is won and during the trying times that will follow when present conditions are being corrected and the nation is being brought back to government under the constitution."

In some quarters there was a disposition to regard this last sentence as an inferential promise that democratic aid in beating the new deal would not be forgotten after the election. For example, this was the interpretation placed upon it by the Washington Post.

Lie Detector Is Wished by Bruno

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 17. (AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's expressed wish to undergo a lie detector test in an effort to prove his innocence in the Lindbergh baby kidnap-murder brought no immediate response from New Jersey authorities today.

"I don't want to comment now," was the answer of Governor Harold G. Hoffman, to whom the convicted murderer of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., addressed his appeal. Other officials, including Attorney General David T. Wilentz, chief prosecutor of Hauptmann, also were silent.

Hauptmann made his request in a letter penned in the death house of state prison. Governor Hoffman made it public yesterday.

"I assure your excellency, had any guilty feeling, in this terrible crime, I would not trouble your excellency with this request," Hauptmann wrote. "But since it is my deepest desire to prove to your excellency and the world that I have spoken the truth, I would be very thankful for permitting any able persons, whom are free of any opinion in this case, to take a test with a so-called lie detector, serum, or whatever science may offer."

He suggested also that Dr. John F. Condon, the Jafsis of the ransom negotiations, submit to a similar test.

MIAMI, Dec. 17.—The young people of the Methodist church presented a touching play Sunday evening. Other churches turned out to attend and the auditorium was inadequate for the large crowd present to see it.

M. M. and W. H. Craig were called to Wheeler Sunday by the death of their mother. Funeral services were held for the deceased Monday morning at ten o'clock at Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Barnett have returned from a visit with their daughter, Velva, who attends Missouri university at Columbia.

Jett McMurtry, county agent of Roberts county, is attending the meeting of county agents of districts one, two and six which is being held at Lubbock.

Rev. Joe Wilson, pastor of the Baptist church, was called to Idalou Sunday to hold a funeral for one of the deacons of that church. Wilson was formerly pastor there.

Miss Zell Stewart and Anne Hopkins spent Sunday in Shamrock.

FUNERAL PLANNED

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 17. (AP)—Funeral services for First Lieut. Robert L. Carver, killed when his pursuit plane crashed here, will be held Saturday at Dallas, Texas, his home. Carver former Army football star, had been towing a target while other planes engaged in gunnery practice yesterday. He released the target and circled Chapman field for a landing. His plane suddenly nosed downward and crashed in a mangrove swamp.

LAUGHTER AND CHEERS GREET HOOVER TIRADE

Hoover Explains His Plan of Relief In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 17. (AP)—Herbert Hoover's lashing attack here on new deal relief threw before the nation today a Hoover plan of decentralized relief based on "the voluntary services of American men and women."

The former republican president, answering President Roosevelt's recent speeches, offered his proposal last night as an alternative to the new deal relief set up which he branded as "typical of the whole gamut of waste, folly, ineffectiveness, politics and destruction of self-government."

His scathing indictment of the democratic administration generally, and its relief system in particular, drew cheers and laughter from the more than 1,000 persons who heard him address the John Marshall republican club of St. Louis and its guests.

He asserted the administration of relief needs reform "right now" and demanded a setup devoid of politics.

He advanced a plan to "confine public works projects to the projects which meet the needs of the nation," decentralize and turn back "to the state and local communities" all other forms of relief; cut government allotments to state by more than half and relieve human distress "which suffers enough without the poison of politics in its bread."

Political leaders commented with approval at the examples of wit and biting sarcasm in the speech which caused frequent interruptions of applause and laughter.

Introduced as "the most distinguished leader of our party," Hoover launched into a direct attack on the Roosevelt administration.

He asserted that under the new deal a vast political bureaucracy has developed.

FANS URGED TO COME OUT AND SEE ABOVE-AVERAGE BASKETBALL TEAM

PAMPANS WILL PLAY RANGERS AGAIN FRIDAY

IT'S POSSIBLE PAMPA HAS MAKINGS OF CHAMP TEAM

The "old faithful" who support Harvester athletic teams in fair weather and foul and offer just as much criticism as criticism, are beginning to feel that it's getting time for all the fans to fill up the high school gymnasium at the basketball game.

Why? Because the Harvester basketball team is as good or will be just about as good as fans will probably see this season. Those fans who like to see the Harvesters click should come out Friday night when the Pampa eagles clash with the Perryton Rangers whom the Harvesters defeated in the finals of the Perryton tournament.

It is highly possible that Pampa has the makings of a championship team. If the boys continue to improve, they may possibly earn the right to go to the state tournament next spring at Austin. Twice Harvester basketball teams have attempted that, to be blocked both times by Lamesa quintets. Last year, the Harvesters were swamped in the finals by Lamesa. The Tornados went to the state and were eliminated in the final battle.

Right now, Pampa has a better team than she had last year. The starting lineup of Stokes Green and Moose Hartman at forwards, Junior Strickland at center, and Ayer and Roy Lee Jones at the guard positions, is ahead of the Harvester team of a year ago in December. Coach Mitchell has a conscientious team that is anxious to win. It is rather safe to assert that there is not a center in the Panhandle that can out-jump Strickland, and Friday night he will again face a center that is six feet and six inches tall. The average height of the Pampa team is about six feet and two inches which is unusually tall for a basketball team. Moose Hartman turned out to be the surprise of the entire squad of 14 players. Thus far, Moose has hustled in a spectacular manner about every fourth game the team has played. Last Saturday night against Perryton, Moose led the team in a devastating attack. He had the stands, including spearman fans and those from small towns near Perryton, yelling for him.

At any moment the first string falters, Coach Mitchell has a bunch of reserves on the sidelines who could make most anyone's first team—Kitchens, Nicholson, Keyser, Spurlin, Nix, Baker, Bailey.

Tonight, the Pampans will go to Groom for a return game with the Tigers. The Harvesters played their first game of the season against Groom, winning it 14 to 11, and it will be interesting to note the improvement, if any, and compare the scores. The Pampans will be handicapped by the small Groom gym, but since the boys got used to a "cracker box" at Perryton they should not feel much out of place.

The game with Perryton, Friday night, will start promptly at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 10 cents for students and 25 cents for adults.

McLean Tigers To Be Honored With Banquet

McLEAN, Dec. 17.—Members of the McLean high school football team, winners of District 3B, will be honored with a banquet tonight, when lettermen and reserve lettermen will be announced by Coach Bill Allen.

Taking a ball club with three lettermen in the lineup and guiding it into the district championship was the accomplishment of Coach Allen. His Tigers lost to Matador, regional champions, in a bitterly fought contest which followed upon the heels of two games with Shamrock, necessary to decide the district winner.

Most of Coach Allen's lettermen of this year will be lost for next season, but the majority of his reserves will return for another season of football.

More than 300 fans and players are expected to attend the banquet tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The following lettermen will be introduced by Coach Allen: Horace Johnson, Frank Kennedy, Porter Chilton, Red McCarty, James Cook, Vernon King, Averill Christian, J. T. Graham, Larry Cunningham, Hokey Stratton, Roy Laswell, D. V. Nickerson, Jess Finley, Leonard Brawley, Bill Roth, J. D. Back, George Watson.

Twelve Tiger reserves will also be introduced.

Louisiana State Schedule Given

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 17 (P)—Louisiana State university's football team will play the same schedule in 1936 as the past season with the exception that the University of Mississippi has been substituted for Manhattan.

The schedule:

Sept. 26—Rice, at Baton Rouge, at Austin.

Oct. 3—University of Texas, at Austin.

Oct. 10—Georgia, at Baton Rouge.

Oct. 17—University of Mississippi, at Baton Rouge.

Oct. 24—University of Arkansas, at Shreveport.

Oct. 31—Vanderbilt university, at Nashville.

All Star Team of Texas Conference Features 3 Clubs

ABILENE, Dec. 17 (P)—Three schools—Austin college, McMurry and Howard Payne—furnished most of the gridiron performers placed on the all-Texas conference team announced by Dr. J. C. Godby, secretary of the loop.

The mythical eleven was selected by tabulating votes of each team for an all-opponent team. The conference will present each player on the team with a gold football. Duplicate awards will be made Maurice Harper, Austin college, and Robert Carruthers, Abilene Christian, who tied for the center position.

The team: Ends—Huston Wedeman, Howard Payne, and Richard Dunlap, McMurry.

Tackles—Lynn McGraw, Austin and Bob Harlow, Howard Payne.

Guard—Raymond Moyer, Austin, and Clovis Fletcher, Howard Payne.

Center—Robert Carruthers, Abilene Christian, and Maurice Harper, Austin.

Quarterback—J. W. Pool, McMurry.

Halfbacks—Bobby Anthony, McMurry, and Joe Barnes, Austin.

Fullback—J. D. Rogers, Howard Payne.

TIGERS START TRAINING EYE ON 'OLD HOOP'

BOTH BOYS AND GIRLS WORKING OUT ON CAGE FLOOR

McLEAN, Dec. 17 (P)—With football "ancient history" the McLean Tigers have turned their attention to basketball under direction of Coach Henry Loter. The Tigerettes are also working out, with Coach Bill Allen in charge.

Both teams will officially open the season on Thursday night with Shamrock providing the opposition. The games will be played at Shamrock. No games will be played on the home court until after Christmas.

Several lettermen from last year are available for both teams and prospects for winning teams appear bright. The Tigerettes played an exhibition game with a team of Pampa Outlaws last week, winning by a score of 24 to 18. The Jones family furnished half of the Tigerette starting lineup, there being a Jones at jump center and two Joneses on the forward line.

Boys out for the team include H. McCarty, L. Cunningham, J. Back, R. Laswell, E. Humphreys, R. L. Floyd, J. B. Bogan, S. Sitter, F. Hess, J. E. Cook, L. Brawley, E. Johnson, Porter Chilton, C. Finley, J. Finley, L. E. Flowers, A. Overton, A. Christian, J. Hefner, N. Trimble, C. Woolston, J. McDonald, M. Turner, J. E. Graham and C. Carpenter.

Girls trying out for the team are Flora Jones, Florence Jones, Edie Jones, M. Landers, M. Young, Eva Swafford, M. Kennedy, D. Mann, L. Williams, M. Downer, Julia McCarty and Mary Fannie Steger.

Three Prisoners In Kidnap Case Shot to Death

HAVANA, Dec. 17 (P)—Three prisoners in the Nicolas Castano kidnaping case died under a blast of gunfire today, killed during an attack on a Cuban army car in which they were being brought to Havana after the 66-year-old militant leader was liberated.

Two ruffians rescued the kidnaped capitalist yesterday from a farm near San Antonio de Las Vegas, 30 miles in the interior, without payment of the demanded $500,000 ransom, and rounded up five men and a woman in connection with the case.

Three army corporals were bringing three of the prisoners to the capital early today, police announced, when another car ranged alongside their automobile as they entered the outskirts of the suburban town of Chaparral, a group of unidentified men opened fire.

Police announced the prisoners killed were Aurelio Martinez Cuervo, Elie Estevez Ortega and Rafael Ponce Gonzalez.

WILLS RANKED BEST ATHLETE DURING 1935

DIVER, FENCER ALSO RATED HIGH IN VOTING

(This is the second of a series detailing results of the annual Associated Press sports poll.)

BY ALAN GOULO, Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (P)—For her remarkable comeback in winning the Wimbledon tennis championship for the seventh time, after a two-year absence from tennis competition, Helen Wills Moody is rated the outstanding individual performer of 1935 among women athletes by the fifth annual Associated Press sports poll.

Tabulation today of votes cast by sports editors and writers in all parts of the country showed Mrs. Moody far in the lead over rivals in all sports in a year marked by many noteworthy feminine achievements.

The California matron, who first scaled national championship heights in senior competition in 1923, nearly doubled the point total of her nearest rival, Glenna Collett Vare, heroine of the year's outstanding golf comeback as she won the national title for the sixth time.

Mrs. Moody polled 136 points to 76 for Mrs. Vare. Points were tallied on a 3-2-1 basis, sports observers listed the three outstanding performers in the order of preference. Mrs. Moody headed 33 lists and Mrs. Vare 11.

In a close race for third place in the poll, little Mary Hoeger of Mills Beach, who has not yet celebrated her twentieth birthday, July when she won the national senior A. U. three-meter diving championship, emerged the winner, with 55 points.

Sports observers cited evidence to show that 1935 marked a fresh challenge to masculine superiority in the theory of masculine superiority in sports. With no rivals among her own sex, Helene Mayer, the famous German girl and Olympic fencing champion, engaged leading men fencers on the Pacific coast on Dec. 15.

In golf, Mildred Babe Didrikson, the Texas girl who turned professional, and Joyce Wethered, British star, started galleries by their ability to match shots with masculine rivals.

Miss Didrikson can hit a golf ball 295 yards, showing to develop the all-around skill of Miss Wethered, generally considered the best shotmaker of her sex, amateur or pro.

Detailed tabulation of the poll on the year's outstanding performer lists: 1. Helen Wills Moody, Berkeley, Calif., Wimbledon tennis champion, 136.

2. Glenna Collett Vare, Philadelphia, national golf champion, 76.

3. Mary Hoeger, Miami Beach, national senior diving champion, 55.

4. Helen Stephens, Fulton, Mo., national sprint champion and record-holder, 52.

5. Helen Hull Jacobs, Berkeley, Calif., national tennis champion, 51.

6. Lenore Knight Wignard, Pittsburgh, Pa., national freestyle swim champion, 27.

7. Katherine Rawls, Miami Beach, national medley swimming champion, 26.

8. Ethel Burkhardt Arnold, Los Angeles, tennis star in Wightman matches, 16.

9. Mildred Babe Didrikson, Texas all-around athlete (professional), 13.

10. Joyce Wethered, former golf champion, now a professional, 11.

Bell Has More Friends Than Any Coach In South, Believe

Friends Helped Him Make Amazing Comeback

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Dec. 17 (P)—Madison A. Bell, 36-year-old Southern Methodist football mentor, is every inch plain man. He loves the sweets of life because he has sampled the bitterness of temporary oblivion.

Youthful Matty knows success in the world of football is not a walking shadow to next season's crop failure. He knows coaches live between two football worlds—success and despair. He now is a member of the first and a past resident of the last, combine all these "knows" and it's easy to understand why Matty has a multitude of friends, why his head is level and his views sane as he prepares to lift the coral gate and turn his galloping Mustangs loose against Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

Two years ago Texas A. and M. college kicked Matty out. The excuse was that he couldn't produce. That he was a defensive coach. The road was shadowed with uncertainty for Matty until his friends rallied and convinced him that he was good enough to comeback.

What a comeback! Made head coach of the Mustangs this year, his Mustangs won the Southwest conference crown with an untied and unbeaten record and now are preparing for the Rose Bowl.

A person who dresses like the ordinary business man, loves a good joke, has football as his first hobby and golf as his second, is the man Bell, who probably has more down-to-earth friends than any coach in the southland.

Listen to Jimmy Stewart, athletic business manager of the Mustangs: "It really is amazing how many friends Bell has. It makes no difference what part of the country we play in, New York to Ft. Worth, Matty was just like coach then, but from the crowd of friends in his room you'd thought he was a triple all-America halfback giving away dollar bills.

"This season when we went to Los Angeles, Matty's telephone started ringing the moment we registered, and before he could unpack his traveling bag the room was jammed with his friends. The same situation existed at St. Louis, at Tulsa, at Fayetteville, at Fort Worth and other ports where we played.

"I've been around coaches practically all my life, but never have I seen coach or player with as many real friends in so many different parts of the United States as Bell has. There's something remarkable about the guy that gets, holds and makes them remember him."

Ask Matty about it and he smiles. His eyes sparkle and you instantly know the appreciation he has for his friends. Coaching success, the Rose Bowl, the conference championship, the unblemished record of a great team. They're all a part of the football world to Matty Bell but his friends, from coast to coast, are his life.

MEET WILL BE HELD IN NEW WHEELER GYM

Tournament Will Begin on Jan. 3; Entries Asked by Coach Bob Clark

WHEELER, Dec. 17.—The beautiful new Wheeler high school gymnasium will be completed in time for the school's invitation basketball tournament on January 3 and 4.

A call for all teams to have their entry in the hands of Bob Clark, Wheeler high school coach, by December 30 has been issued so that all arrangements can be completed before the Christmas holiday.

The tournament will be open to both boys' and girls' teams and six beautiful trophies, ranging in height from eight inches to 22 inches, will be awarded. Six medals will also be awarded to the outstanding players, three for each division. The players will be selected by a secret committee.

Wheeler's new gymnasium will have a seating capacity of more than 600. The hardwood playing floor will be 42 feet wide by 30 feet long. The building will be sound-proof, well ventilated, and lock-boards will be placed in each locker room.

A specially constructed box for officials and reporters will be available. Special compartments for the two teams, on each side of the officials' box, will be built so that substitutions can be easily made. A time box and score board will be one of the added features.

The tournament will be open to any high school basketball team in the country. Entries should be mailed immediately.

Turner Is Man to Defeat in Tourney

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 17 (P)—The man to beat today in the $100,000 Miami Biltmore open golf tournament—even as Saturday—was Ted Turner of Pine Valley, N. J.

Two rounds of super-golf that more than redeemed his four-over-par round of 75 Sunday placed the 27-year-old professional two strokes in the van, at 209, of the field of seventy-one.

Trailing Turner by two strokes with 211, were Horton Smith of Oak Park Ill., who slumped to 72 yesterday after two earlier sub-par rounds gave him the 36-hole lead, and Frank Walsh of Chicago, whose 69 yesterday tossed him high up among the leaders.

CALLES' POWER IS CRUSHED BY MEXICAN FOES

'DEATH TO CALLES' IS SHOUTED BY 200 DEMONSTRATORS

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 17. (AP)—The Mexican government moved today to crush the last vestiges of the once enormous power of former President Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles.

Secrecy was maintained in official circles concerning the action, but it was learned authoritatively today by these means that the government expected to remove forever any chance of Calles' regaining the dominant position he maintained as President for four years and "strong man" for more than eight.

Gen. Vicente Gonzalez, chief of the federal district police, ordered police to pursue with any possible "hand" terrorists who bombed six schools in the capital, causing some property damage.

Extra guards were placed in the vicinity of all schools and police were given instructions to capture the bombers "in any way possible."

Calles, whose return to the capital from the United States last Friday caused the political disturbances which swept through the country, was still under close guard in his home here, with his hands apparently completely tied.

About 200 demonstrators shouting "death to Calles" attempted to approach his house last night but were turned back by police.

One of Mexico's most persistent rebels abandoned his attitude to join an apparently overwhelming majority of the country in promising support of President Lazaro Cardenas.

General Antonio I. Villarreal once a presidential candidate and an open rebel against the government since a year ago, announced that in view of the "revolutionary attitude" adopted by former President Plutarco Elias Calles, he would abandon his personal feelings to aid Cardenas.

In a message to workers, students, peasants, soldiers, legislators, and a majority of state governors with some notable exceptions, the president expressed his gratitude today for their support.

"You should have confidence in the stability of our institutions and in the support which is enjoyed by the government," he said. "These things make impossible any disturbance of the public peace. I recommend that you dedicate yourselves to your ordinary activities and do not suspend your work, inasmuch as it is unnecessary to adopt any such procedure and would occasion harm to the nation's economy."

New pledges of adhesion received by the government included many from military elements. Both the secretary of war and department of interior announced the country was quiet and no military problem existed.

Press dispatches from Medira reported the home of Governor Fernando Lopez Cardenas of Yucatan had been bombed, but without causing any extensive damage and that the situation in Vera Cruz was tense as a result of difficulties between Cardenistas and Callistas.

Jaycees Elect Directors; Cash Prizes Awarded

Pampa Jaycees today handed out checks to winners of contests held in connection with the recent Santa day celebration, then went into business session to elect new directors and alternate directors.

MYSTERY (Continued From Page 1)

After a Sunday holiday, missed her mistress, went to the garage and found the door slightly open. The actress' face was bloody and a crown of a tooth had been dislodged in her mouth.

THELMA TODD

called for her at the Cafe Trocadero and drove her home to her own cafe on the coast highway four miles north of Santa Monica.

Co-partner with the actress in the cafe venture, Roland West, former film director, told Captain Bruce Clark he had "locked out" Miss Todd Sunday morning from her living quarters because she had been "getting in late."

"As it was necessary for me to stay up late and open the door for her," West said, "I told her when she started for the Trocadero that she would be home at 2 o'clock in the morning."

"She replied that she'd be home at five minutes after two. At 2 o'clock I locked the door. I stayed awake until 2:30, then retired. At about 3:30 I was awakened by the whining of my bulldog. I know it must have been Miss Todd at my door because had it been anyone else, the dog would have growled."

"But she didn't make any noise or attempt to awaken me. Instead she must have walked up the hill to the garage in which she kept her car, and getting in the car and becoming cold, started the motor."

Police said they would not abandon the possibility that the actress had been slain, nor cease an investigation of other theories of suicide, accidental death, or a fatal heart trouble.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. (AP)—Buyers and sellers were comparatively few and rather feeble in today's stock market, although selected issues managed to keep a lap or so ahead of the procession.

Mining equities resisted another cut in world silver prices but the trading volume was the smallest since early October. Traders approximated 1,200,000 shares. The close was firm.

the only dominant feminine film portrait of the year. In any year, I think, her portrayal of the small-town girl who wanted so painfully to "be in the swim" could be cited.

In surveying the year's films I have considered, with trepidation, the great variety of the annual motion picture menu. In selecting three, my opinion wavers for a fourth, a fifth, and more.

"The Informer" is listed because John Ford's direction made a moving picture—a real moving picture—from the ordinarily poor screen material of a character study. Ford used his camera to tell the story of an Irish Judas simply, directly, powerfully. The result is vital, attention-riveting drama that packs a wallop.

"Les Miserables" is chosen for its great story and for the manner in which Director Richard Boleslawski brought it to the screen. The story of Jean Valjean has been good drama for years. Its director's hand knits it on film neatly, with feeling, artistry, and sense. Among other notable aspects the picture contains Laughton's Javert and Frederick March's Valjean.

"A Tale of Two Cities" I select for minor reasons besides its general excellence. One is a desire to include, in a measure, Mr. Dickens' "Earlier" film work, "David Copperfield."

Under the new plan, enforcement of the liquor law will largely pass from local hands and into the jurisdiction of the state liquor control board and its administrator.

Liquor permit applications must be advertised. No hard liquors may be sold on Sunday.

Local attorneys differed today on the time likely to be required for legalizing of sales here. From a week to ten days will likely be needed for obtaining the licenses from Austin.

STUDENTS HEAR TB Specialist In First Talk

The high school age is the dangerous age, insofar as tuberculosis is concerned, Dr. Elliott Mendenhall of Dallas, a specialist, told high school students here this morning.

On the basis of averages, 150 of his listeners have living tuberculosis in their bodies, he said, and of these at least five will develop actual tuberculosis if they do not discover their weakness in time.

Dr. Mendenhall was to address parents, teachers, and the public in the city auditorium this afternoon, then was scheduled to be guest-speaker at the Gray-Wheeler County Medical association banquet here this evening.

Pampa Receives Tickets to Grid Tilt at Amarillo

Pampa has received a block of tickets for the Amarillo Sandies-Wichita Falls Coyote semi-final football game to be played at Butler field in Amarillo Saturday afternoon. The tickets, $1 each, will be placed on sale at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning at the office of Roy McMillan, in the courthouse.

The game will probably be the last of the season in this section. Should the Sandies win, they will meet the winner of the Greenville-Corpus Christi game in the championship final, probably at Fort Worth on Christmas Day.

Market Demand For Gas Upped

AUSTIN, Dec. 17. (AP)—Slight increase in the January market demand for gas was shown in nominations filed today at the Railroad commission's monthly hearing.

No new testimony on gas conservation and prorations was submitted at previous evidence. Frost and rain in the current hearing. The December gas order was issued Dec. 10 after extensive hearings in November.

Nominations of purchases indicated a sweet gas demand of 1,023,654,000 cubic feet daily in November, compared with the current allowable of 1,028,840,000 feet. Sweet gas potential was calculated at 24,493,590,000 feet from 2,102 wells.

Statewide demand for sour gas was $25,260,000 feet, compared with a current allowable of 456,631,000 feet. Sour gas potential was estimated at 2,464,676,000 feet from 257 wells.

The demand for sweet gas was 4 per cent of the potential and of sour gas 21 per cent.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 17. (AP)—With the final 1935 domestic crop report due tomorrow afternoon, wheat prices here today average higher.

Contrary to yesterday's action Chicago and other North American markets made a fair response to decided strength of wheat prices overseas. Canadian export sales of wheat today were estimated at around $1,000,000 bushels.

Wheat closed irregular, 1/4 off to 1/4 up compared with yesterday's finish. May 97 1/2-98, corn unchanged to 1/4 lower. May 59 1/4-60, oats unchanged to 1/4 higher, and provisions 10 to 22 cents down.

WHITE CHRISTMAS SPONSORED BY STUDENTS; GIFTS TO MAKE YULETIDE BRIGHT FOR NEEDY

School Program Will Be Given Friday Morning

"Not what we give, but what we share, for the gift without the giver is bare."

The ideal expressed in these lines will be expressed in definite form this week when high school students and teachers will combine to sponsor a White Christmas observance. Students will this week be unknown donors of gifts to the needy. No student is required to give, but each one is asked to give as he is able. Students are asked to wrap their gifts in white paper, if possible, naming no persons to receive the gifts unless they wish them to go to definite persons who need the articles. If the student giver does know a person who needs his gift, he is asked to put that person's name on the package in order to simplify distribution.

Each student will receive tomorrow a printed program of the Christmas program with an explanation of the gift service. These programs are to be carried home in order that parents may clearly understand the purpose of the program. A White Christmas program will be given in the gymnasium Friday morning at 10 o'clock. It was originally announced that this program would be presented Thursday evening.

The program will tell the Christmas story in various ways. The pep squad will sing some Christmas carols, and a male quartet under the direction of Supt. R. B. Fisher will sing. An explanation will be given of the White Christmas plan. Parents and the public in general are invited to attend the program. No one will receive a gift at the program. The White Christmas is being sponsored by the school. Mrs. Frances Alexander, with the help of a few students, has charge of the distribution of gifts.

Special Price For Pupils to 'Fingers' Made

All high school and junior high students, as well as children in the ward schools, will be admitted to "Fingers" four times a week, to be given at the city hall auditorium, Wednesday evening, Dec. 18, at 8:15 o'clock, for 20 cents each. The price of admission for other adults will be 35 cents.

Cast of the gripping drama of boyhood, described as "the best piece ever written about boys," includes 15 boys, all students of Junior high. Leading roles will be played by Wayne Coffee, Bill Coons, Doyle Auld, Aubrey C. Green, Jr., others. Mrs. Florence Caskey, who majored in dramatics at college, is the experienced director. It is said that the boys have developed into good actors, and that the play will "not have a dull moment in it." Posters advertising the play were made by junior high.

THE GIFT AND THE GIVER

Plans will be carried out here this week for the White Christmas, in which students will be unknown donors of gifts to the needy of Pampa. Gifts will include various types of things, ranging from toys to groceries, but whatever the gift the spirit back of it will be the same—good will and the desire to share. Most of the gifts will be of small monetary value, but the spirit is significant.

Much has been said about the commercialization of Christmas. There is a grain of truth in it, but we like to believe that most of the commercial activity connected with the occasion is prompted by the need of the public. Great business activity is inevitable when the demand is so great. As for the attitude of the millions of busy shoppers who crowd stores over the nation this week, it should be obvious to us from personal experience that "duty" gifts are in the minority and that most gifts are prompted by sincere affection and good will.

True it is that possibly all of us give presents that are not prompted by the desire to give, but it is also true that most of us give many more presents because we want to give them. Much of the financial anxiety of Christmas shoppers is prompted not by penuriousness but by fear that available funds will not cover all the planned purchases. The question is sometimes posed as to whether gift-giving that causes financial inconvenience is desirable. We think so. Of course this is not meant to advocate foolish extravagance; it refers merely to the average person to whom the purchase of small gifts is a financial problem. If it is true that "the gift without the giver is bare," then we should value the more gifts from people who have made sacrifices that they might give. As for the giver, it is good for him to keep alive in brusque modern life one of the best emotions of which he is capable.

Banquet Honors Members of Pep Squad and Band

The High School P-T A. and the Athletic Association gave a banquet for the band and pep squad Friday evening at the Baptist church. A color scheme of blue and silver was carried out attractively in the decorations. An appetizing turkey dinner topped by ice cream and cake was served.

Mrs. R. W. Lane, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, introduced the toastmaster, Edwin Koone. Brief talks were made by two of the pep squad leaders, Mary Price and Flora Dean Finley. Two band members, Arvo Goddard and Borden March, also gave talks. Rose LaNell Williams and Pauline Gregory gave a tap dance, and a girls' quartet consisting of Mary Helen Gilstrap, Colleen McMahan, Inez Hawkins, and Jean Gillespie, sang "Dinah."

Those called on for brief talks were Supt. R. B. Fisher, Principal L. L. Sone, Mrs. Sone, Mrs. E. L. Nowan, Miss Angela Strand, and Winston Savage. Music was provided by the high school orchestra under direction of Mr. Savage.

STUDENTS MAY LEARN HISTORY IN SONG FORM

Revision of "Yankee Doodle" Reviews Presidents

Students of American history who have difficulty in keeping clearly in mind the order in which the various presidents of the United States served may simplify this by learning the song given below. Ernest Cabe, history teacher, clipped the revised version of the old song, which has "Yankee Doodle" as its title, from a newspaper a few years ago. By learning this song, history students will have a ready means of answering questions concerning American presidents. On being asked questions in class, they will need only to hum a few bars of "Yankee Doodle," and the right answer will be recalled. Of course this may necessitate the teacher's working in a few music lessons; otherwise, there will be little harmony as students sing their answers.

Only one thing is lacking in the song—it was written soon after 1776 in the present key. The last line of the concluding stanza needs some changes in tense, and a new stanza should be added to include Franklin D. Roosevelt and his bringing things up to date. Mr. Cabe, it is understood, is interested in having this deficiency remedied, and he will be glad to receive suggested new stanzas for the song.

The song follows:
YANKEE DOODLE PRESIDENTS.
(Adapted and revised by Clara Vir-Townsend)
George Washington, the choice of all, by Adams succeeded, and then came Thomas Jefferson, who bought the land we needed. James Madison helped win a war, our country's strength revealing. And James Monroe then ushered in the Era of Good Feeling.

(CHORUS)
Yankee Doodle keep t up
Yankee Doodle Dandy!
We choose the best from all the rest
For Yankee Doodle Dandy!

John Quincy Adams was the next, and then came Andrew Jackson. And after them Van Buren came with panic's mad distraction. Then Harrison for one month ruled, and Tyler came in order. Next Polk and war with Mexico about our country's border.

Next Taylor ruled for one short year, and then his work was ended. Death called the hero, and his work to Fillmore then descended. Then Pierce and James Buchanan came, while war clouds thickly cover. And Lincoln was the chosen one, the statesman of the hour.

Next after Lincoln's martyrdom, A. Johnson then we see, sr. Then Grant, the war-time hero came, a silent man was he, sr. Then R. B. Hayes was counted in, then Garfield, second martyr. Whose term was ended peaceably by Chester Adams Arthur.

Next Cleveland came and Harrison, then Cleveland came once more, sr. McKinley wore a martyr's crown before his work was o'er, sr. Then Roosevelt came to serve the state. The people called him Teddy. Then William Howard Taft came on, for duty ever ready.

Then Woodrow Wilson came to fill the loftiest of stations. He steered the Ship of State throughout the World War of the nations. Harding ruled a few short months, and Coolidge then succeeded. Now Hoover serves his country well, wherever he is needed.

Student Paper Is In Last 1935 Issue

Today's issue of the Little Harvester will be the last one until after school is resumed following the holidays. Since school will be dismissed Friday and will not start again until January 2, the next edition of the student newspapers will be published Jan. 7. Staff members will forget news-gathering for a time in the rush of holiday activities, but they will soon be back at their tasks determined to put out a better paper than ever before. As a matter of fact, they have determined to make their faculty adviser a Christmas present of a New Year's resolution to more alert, accurate, and prompt than in the past.

GROOM CAGERS TO MEET PHS TEAM TONIGHT

Perryton Trophy Is Brought Home By Locals

Pampa Harvesters will play a hard game tonight when they meet the Groom cagers, who will be seeking revenge for the licking they received at the hands of the Harvesters two weeks ago tonight. At that time the Harvesters won their first game of the season when they defeated the Groom basketeers 19-14. Tonight's game will be at Groom.

So far the Harvesters started the season has not been broken. The Harvesters have played eight games, winning all eight by fair margins. The teams defeated by the fast and hard-playing Pampa cagers thus far are: Groom, Spearman (two games), Panhandle, Liberal, Canadian, Perryton, and their arch-rival, Borger. The last four wins mentioned carried the Harvesters to victory in the Perryton tournament last week-end.

The Harvesters were playing their fifth game of the season when they entered the Perryton tournament, and had spent only one week and three days in practice. Much improvement has been shown among the Harvesters, many of the men who have had little experience making competition for places keen.

The squad brought back a handsome trophy by virtue of their victory at Perryton, and three Harvesters won individual honors. Albert Ayers and Junior Strickland won positions on the all-tournament team, and Stokes Green won the best-player medal. Three things decided the late honor: playing ability, appearance on the court, and sportsmanship.

The Harvesters have one more game before the holidays: they play Perryton here Friday night, Dec. 20. They will play five games during the holidays. They will meet Altus in two games, December 20 and 27. They will play Sayre here on the following night, on December 31 they will play Allison here, returning the Allison game January 21.

FOUR MEN, ALL GRADUATES OF TEXAS INSTITUTIONS, MAKE UP HISTORY DEPARTMENT'S STAFF

All Had Experience Before Coming To Pampa

Pampa high school's history department is unique among the departments here in that it is made up entirely of men. It seems strange that an essential qualification that they must be big men, for all members of the department stress the fact that 180 pounds is the minimum weight with which one may hope to enter this group.

The four men who make up the staff are all experienced and well-educated teachers. E. N. Dennard heads the department, while Doyle F. Osborne, J. C. Prejean, and Ernest Cabe are the other instructors. WILL RECEIVE M. A. FROM S. M. U. Before coming to Pampa high school three years ago, Mr. Dennard was principal, coach, and teacher in Palmer high school for four years.

A graduate of the high school at Carthage, Mr. Dennard received an A. A. degree from Lon Morris Junior college, at Jacksonville. Later he attended Trinity university, at Wapakoneta, receiving his B. A. degree from that institution. He has completed all work on his M. A. degree at S. M. U. with the exception of his thesis on public school administration.

Mr. Dennard is coach of the Gorkillas, having played four years of college football. He is a favorite with high school students. HAS TAUGHT IN COLLEGES Mr. Osborne, teacher of American and World history, is the only member of the faculty with a Ph. D. degree. He received the degree from Ohio State university in 1933. He attended the University of Chicago

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION GIVES PHS CONTINUED MEMBERSHIP WITHOUT ANY RESERVATIONS

PHS Faculty to Give Program at General Meeting

Senior high school teachers will arrange the program for a general faculty meeting to be held January 26. Subject for their program will be "Character Education," with practical demonstrations being arranged to illustrate points brought out.

This will be the second of the six general faculty meetings scheduled. The first was held Saturday morning in the city auditorium with the faculty of B. M. Baker school in charge. The program was designed to point out the differences in methods of teaching in the modern school as compared with those used in schools some years ago.

Ferman N. Sawyer, superintendent of the Caddo schools, talked on the advantages and disadvantages of both the old and the new methods used in school systems. He also gave the stud it's viewpoint on the difference between good and bad teaching and between good and poor teaching.

The Junior high school and Woodrow Wilson, Horace Mann, and Sam Houston ward schools will have charge of programs in the order named, following the presentation of the Senior high program.

PHS Volley Ball Girls Win Game

Pampa high school volleyball girls won over McLean players Wednesday afternoon. Both the local first and second teams were taken to McLean by J. L. Lester and Miss Kathleen Milam.

Pampa's second string was defeated by the McLean substitutes, but the McLean first team was defeated.

Players and points scored follows: First string: Jackie Bragg, 15; Mary McCallum, 4; Thelma Faye Seeds, 4; Evelyn Nash, 3; De Ann Heiskell, 3; Sarah Pafford, 2. Second string: Emma Kerscheloe, 1; Geraldine Hyatt, 5; Mildred McPherson, 5; Melba Williams, 4; Bessie Belle Davis, 3; Fern Durham, 1.

Soph 'Fun Night' To Be Wednesday

Wednesday will be "fun night" for the sophomores. From 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock the sophomores are to have a party in the high school gymnasium. These sophomores who can have been asked to bring a toy or gift of some kind, costing not more than ten cents. These gifts will be used as a part of the entertainment and afterward as a part of the White Christmas planned by the high school.

Decorations will consist of a Christmas tree and other Yuletide symbols. Students will play pingpong and various other games.

Texas Chairman Says Group's Action Is High Honor

Notification received here last week that Pampa high school has been retained without a single reservation for the current year in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is of extreme gratification to school officials here, Supt. R. B. Fisher said yesterday.

The notification was in the form of a letter from J. W. O'Banion, chairman of the Texas committee and also director of supervision in the entire organization. Mr. O'Banion said in his letter that it is a distinct honor to the school that because only a small percentage of the high schools with membership in the organization escaped either a letter of advice or warning concerning sub-standards in one or more points.

Some of the requirements that a member school of the Southern Association must meet are:

1. The building must meet requirements set forth in the Public School Laws of Texas, section 351, Building Specifications.
2. Equipment for the library and laboratories must be of the best.
3. Two-thirds of the high school faculty must have degrees.
4. The teaching loads must be balanced.
5. Teachers must be teaching their majors or minors.
6. The school must not have more than 50 per cent teacher turn-over.

The purpose of this association is to raise standards of schools to meet qualifications set up by colleges and universities. Graduates of schools that are members will not be required to take examinations for entrance to any college in the United States.

PHS FOOTBALL CARD FOR '36 ALMOST FULL

Lawton, Bowie High Only 1935 Foes Not Included

The Harvesters football schedule is nearing completion, only two games remaining uncertain. With ten games in view, the Harvesters must be ready for a hard season next year. All of the foes met in the season just closed, with the exception of Lawton and Bowie high schools of El Paso have been scheduled for next year.

The probable schedule follows: Sept. 18—Central, Oklahoma City, here. Sept. 25—Capitol Hill, Oklahoma City, here. Oct. 2—Norman, Okla., here. Childress, here (no date set). Fort Collins, Colo., here (no date set). A Fort Worth or Dallas team there (no date set). Oct. 24—Lubbock, here. Nov. 1—Borger, there. Nov. 20—Plainview, here. Nov. 26—Amarillo, there.

Definite Assembly Seats Assigned

Definite seats were assigned to high school students for assembly last week. The sections of seats were assigned to teachers whose duty it will be to check attendance at all regular and called assemblies. Absence of a student from assembly will be reported in the same manner as class absences, and the students will adjust such absence in the usual way.

BOOKS DUE FRIDAY

All library books are to be turned in by Friday, and no books will be checked out for the holidays. Miss Latimer, librarian, announced yesterday. Students who have reading to do will find it necessary to attend to the matter this week.

Jim Arndt's "personality hat" easily puts that of Willard Roff in the shade.

Many a lonesome high school girl will be contented this week and for two weeks following when the college boy friend comes home. Among the happy gals will be Marge, Mary, Helen Frances and Lillian(?)

And the men will be glad to know that among the girls coming home from school, college or otherwise, will be Alberteen, Ella May, Dado, Harriet, Jean, and Dorothy.

Students in public speaking were so interested in hearing Mr. Gull read his play, "Dust," that they failed to notice a mouse playing on the floor. The play must have been good to keep their attention.

Don Foster was looking at Christmas cards in Woolworth's: "Here's a lovely sentiment," suggested Elizabeth Graham. "To the only girl I ever loved."

"That's keen," said Don. "I'll take six or seven. No, make it a dozen."

Who is Jean Gillespie's new chump? Snopoor knows, but it's a deep secret.

Rosemary Hampton says that Melvin Qualls is getting cuter every day.

Guess Who Chump—Jean's ex-ping pong "expert"—Ford Cope.

"Chief," George, Leon, '35 Pontiac, goes for athletes in a big way. Model T Ford, big brother, Fred "Rudolph," Eldra's honey, Freshman hat.

Silent, beautiful but dumb, Don and Paul, Studebaker, sister Paloma, Elevator boy—Rosemary's ex-Plymouth, pool shark, central park football.

Pep squad leader, brunett, Roy and Bill and Harold—"Oh, me."

Egg malts cost 15 cents, unless you do like Willard Roff. He brings his own eggs.

Allan Wise's new flame is Maxine Wheatley, but she doesn't know it.

Excerpts from other high school papers: Panhandle "Panther's Scream": "Women's minds are cleaner than men's because they change them oftener."

Amarillo "Sandstorm": "Thish match won't light." "Whassa madda with it?" "I dunno. It lit all right a minute ago!"

Sand Springs Okla., "Sandtonian": "Mac: 'Hand me my sock.' Doc: 'Which one?' Mac: 'The left one.' Marshall, Texas, "Parrot": "Jones took his aunt out riding. Though wintry was the breeze, He put her in the rumble seat To watch his anti-freeze."

Houston, Texas, "Davis Dispatch": "All the world loves a lover except the persons waiting to use the telephone."

Borger, "Bulldog's Growl": "Out late at night, Lots of fun. But you'll see red When the six week's done."

Miss McFarlin: (In shorthand class) "Doesn't that just make your water moist?"

Edwina Gilbert, Katherine Ward, and Betty Ann McTaggart certainly must like to ride Pampa Transit buses. They rode the entire route eight times Sunday afternoon.

Betty Ann McTaggart has been named "official wooer" of a certain crowd, (Edwina Gilbert helps her some).

The girl who borrowed Holt Hamlet's pencils has returned three of them. (It was Evelyn Kentling.)

Mrs. Norman called on Stokes Green in geometry to answer a question. "I didn't have my hand up," said Stokes. "I was just scratching my nose."

Mr. Osborne says that he hopes to have text books printed in larger type next year so that students can answer questions more quickly.

Mrs. Wagner: "Name three clauses." Kelly Kitchens: "Adverbial clause, adjectival clause, and—er Santa Clause."

A new romance in the band is that of Edwin K. and Clara Marie H.

Seniors to Attend Party at La Nora

Seniors will have a class party tonight. They will go to the La Nora theater to see Frederic March, Merle Oberon, and Herbert Marshall in "The Dark Angel." All seniors will meet at 7:30 o'clock at the gymnasium in order that they may all attend together. Members of the class should see Miss Zenobia McFarlin for further information.

Class Hears Talk By Travis Lively

Travis C. Lively, manager of the Pampa hardware company, gave an inspirational talk to the first-hour bookkeeping class yesterday. The talk was on bookkeeping in general. He gave a discussion of how one should go about securing a position as bookkeeper under the original probable requirements would be. As one who has employed many bookkeepers, the speaker gave the students suggestions as to the things they might be asked by a possible employer.

Changes Are Made In School Calendar

Changes were made last week in the school calendar as announced about a month ago. As was originally planned, school will close for the Christmas holidays Friday at 4 o'clock. Classes will be resumed however, January 2 instead of January 1. The semester will end January 24. Easter holidays will be April 10 to 13 inclusive. Another date of interest to teachers and many other people will be March 6, which has been set for the Educational Conference at Canyon.

Assembly Program Featured by Band

Assembly was featured Wednesday by a program given by the high school band under the direction of Winston Savage. Members of the organization were introduced by Mr. Savage, and the group played a number of selections. A quartet made up of Jean Gillespie, Colleen McMahan, Inez Hawkins, and Mary Helen Gilstrap sang two popular songs, and Pauline Gregory and one LaNell Williams tap danced while the band played "Lulu's Back in Town."

"Dracula" Will Be Given in Panhandle

"Dracula" will be staged in Panhandle at the high school auditorium Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Panhandle Girl Scouts. This is the first time that a three-act play has been presented out of town by Pampa high school students. Because of the play's successful presentation here recently plans were made for giving it in Panhandle and possibly in other towns near here.

Songs Are Feature Of Room Prgram

Annabelle Holloway, who tied for first place in the La Nora amateur contest, entertained students in home room 210 Friday morning with a group of songs. Following the program, the home economics girls decorated a small Christmas tree, the tree having been purchased by individual contributions. About 75 juniors attended a theater party Wednesday evening, seeing Ginger Rogers in "In Person" at the La Nora theater.

Progress Chart Helps Mississippi Town Beat Depression

OKOLONA, Miss.—This is the story of a city that "made good." There are seeds of inspiration in the successful up-hill climb of a little city in the cattle and cotton country of Northeast Mississippi.

When the depression was at its height, Lowell Thomas said that Okolona had been harder hit than any city in the country. The three local banks closed their doors, and for months the city was without any banking facilities. Local industries slashed operations and payrolls, and 18 store buildings were vacated. In these and other ways the depression left deep scars on Okolona.

Okolona's Progress Chart
Go to Okolona today, and you would scarcely believe that there had ever been a depression. If you want to know the secret of the change, stop for a moment on Main Street, beside the City Hall. In front of you is a vacant lot. Once this lot was littered with weeds and rubbish. Now it is a garden spot, with well-kept paths and flower beds. In the center of this park, you will see Okolona's "Progress Chart" which outlines the achievements which this little city intends to realize in building a "Greater Okolona." Six months ago, this chart was drawn up by the city's chamber of commerce, then it was erected by public subscription. Joseph L. Bowles, inset above, is secretary of the chamber.

This chart has become the nerve center of Okolona's civic life. Ask any school boy about it, and he will tell you what it means.

Each Square An Achievement
One ten year old explained it to your writer: "See each one of those squares?" he said. "Well, each one of them means something we want to get done to make the city better. Just as quick as it gets done, then the people meet in the park, and the Mayor points that square red. You can see how many red squares we have already."

On the chart there are 60 squares. Already 20 of them have been painted in.

A glance at some of the red bricks on the chart shows just what progress has meant to this little city. A new cheese plant brought to Okolona, a modern picture house opened, freight and express rates equalized, headquarters secured for a federal game preserve, surveys completed of industrial and agricultural resources, as well as retail, dairy and business surveys made, health campaign conducted in the school, state trapshoot staged, merchants' institute conducted, five special sales handled, meetings in country districts held periodically.

There are many other achievements to come. A new hotel, a garment plant, rural electrification, cold storage plant, hay storage warehouse, livestock auction sales, good roads, city beautification, modern merchandising methods, these are among the next steps set out on the progress chart.

BROTHERHOOD TO MEET
Men's Brotherhood of Central Baptist church will meet this evening at 7:30 for a program and an oyster supper. H. P. Taylor and his group are in charge of the program. Men of the community are invited.

Wolf and Meyer Silent on Offers

FORT WORTH, Dec. 17 (AP)—R. (Dutch) Meyer, head coach of Texas Christian university's Horned Frogs, said today he had not accepted nor refused "a flattering proposition" to take over the football destinies of Oklahoma A. and M. college.

Meyer returned Monday from Stillwater, Okla., where he conferred with Henry G. Bennett, president of the Aggie school.

The Christian coach, who has carried the Frogs through a great season to a bid to play Louisiana State in the annual Sugar Bowl classic at New Orleans, said: "I received a flattering proposition from Oklahoma A. and M. but I have neither accepted nor refused it. I don't know yet what I will do, and it will probably be three weeks before a definite decision is made."

At the same time it was learned R. B. (Bear) Wolfe, line coach of the Christians, had been approached by at least three schools.

DAVID WINDSOR MAY BE CALLED 'COWBOY KING'

Wales Likes Farming And Raising of Livestock

BY ROGER D. GREENE, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

LONDON, Dec. 17 (AP)—When David Windsor, Prince of Wales, ascends the throne on the death of his father, Britons may have their first chance of referring to their "farmer king."

Just as the present monarch, King George V, is fondly termed the "sailor king," so English rulers from time immemorial have won adjectival titles.

There were, for example: Henry the Eighth, the "marrying king" with six wives. Elizabeth, the "virgin queen." Charles the First, the ill-fated "martyr king." Mary, the "bloody queen." Edward, the confessor. Alfred the Great. Ethelred, the unready. William the Conqueror.

More and more, in recent years, the prince has been qualifying for the title of "farmer king," on his ascendancy.

Though he is generally pictured in the atmosphere of the town, a dapper figure in smart grey top hat at the Derby at Epsom Downs, or in immaculate evening dress at a West End restaurant—more of his time than is generally known is spent on one of his farms in Devonshire or Cornwall, or in his gardens at Port Belvidere.

He is a practical farmer, not merely exercising a profitless hobby.

A highly successful breeder of pedigree cattle, his prize stock carried off top awards in Chicago as well as in England and Scotland.

He himself runs his farm at Stoke Climsland, in Devonshire, with a sharp eye on the profit-and-loss ledger.

Despite his heavy schedule of duties in affairs of state, he also manages to find time to send out detailed instructions for operation of his ranch in the Canadian Rockies, where he ships blooded stock from pastures of his English farm.

Candidates for Rhodes Honors Are Announced

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17 (AP)—Twelve candidates for Rhodes scholarships were examined here today by the sixth district committee which will name four of them to receive the $400 annual stipend for study at Oxford university in England.

The sixth district embraces the states of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas, two candidates were selected in each state last week.

The candidates by state include: Texas—Morris Keeton of Overton, graduate student at Southern Methodist university, and Alba H. Warren, 20, of Houston, student at Princeton university.

Oklahoma—Hugh Comfort of Norman and Lawrence Reedy of El Reno, both graduates of the University of Oklahoma.

Arkansas—Paul Geren of El Dorado, Ark., Baylor university senior, and A. B. Bounds Jr., Louisiana State university graduate student.

Montana's Chief Executive Dies

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Dec. 17 (AP)—The death of Gov. Frank H. Cooney, 62, gave Montana its third chief executive in as many years today.

Governor Cooney, who rose from a $4-a-month delivery boy, died Sunday night of heart disease. He was stricken while attending a highway officials' convention at Miami, Fla., and returned home.

W. Elmer Holt of Miles City, president pro tem of the senate, automatically succeeded to the governorship and will serve until the next general election in November, 1936.

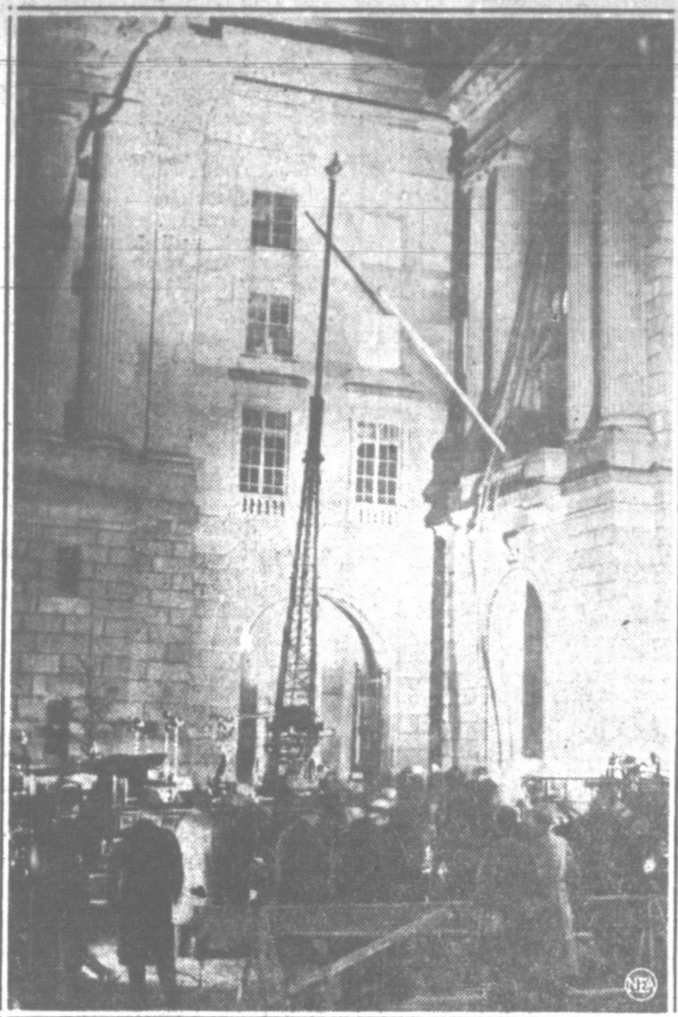

The state has had no lieutenant governor since March, 1933, when Gov. John E. Erickson resigned and Cooney, lieutenant governor, succeeded him. Erickson later was appointed to the senate when Sen. Thomas J. Walsh died.

Both the new governor and the old were democrats.

Cooney is survived by his widow and six children.

PIONEER DIES. LUBBOCK, Dec. 17 (AP)—J. V. Roy, 86, resident of Lubbock for 35 years and a pioneer cattleman and freighter of West Texas, died at his home here at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He had been an invalid for the past four years. Mr. Roy brought a herd of cattle here from Sweetwater 35 years ago to begin his operations as a cattleman on the plains. He was more prominently known as operator of a freight service between Amarillo and Colorado City, with Lubbock as the central point of his activities.

Fighting Post Office fire

Hampered by the dense smoke rising from tons of burning paper, firemen for seven hours fought the blaze that destroyed valuable U. S. government records temporarily stored in the new Post Office building at Washington, D. C. Here's a general view outside the building during the blaze, one of the towers stretching toward the flames on the sixth and seventh floors of the $10,000,000 building.

Chapter XXXIV

Jean Dunn sat in an old-fashioned rocking chair on the porch of the little farmhouse and looked out at the fields that shimmered in the summer heat. She had been at the farmhouse just a little less than 24 hours, now, and every hour seemed to increase the queer feeling of dissatisfaction and uneasiness that possessed her.

To begin with, she told herself, she ought to be getting back to Dover. She had delivered the envelope which Mr. Montague had asked her to deliver; that part of the job was finished. In addition, she had found Sandy, satisfied herself that his accident would not have any serious consequences, and thus eased her mind on that score. She could not, then, stay on here indefinitely. She had done all that she set out to do; it was time for her to be leaving.

Yet when she had mentioned this to Sandy, half an hour before, he had been rather unsympathetic about it. Indeed, his lack of sympathy seemed to arise from a wholly new attitude toward her, an attitude which she did not at all like.

"What do you want to go back to that dump for?" he asked her petulantly, as she sat by his bed and explained her desire to return to Dover.

"But Sandy, I must," she said. "I can't stay on here forever. I've got my work to get back to, for one thing."

"Oh," he said, waving a hand airily. "If you ask me, old Montague don't expect to see you again."

Her eyes widened. "Why shouldn't he? He just sent me down here to give you that letter—or whatever it was."

Sandy grinned at her. "Don't fool yourself, baby," he said. "He knows you and I've got it bad. Bet you he's got a new secretary engaged already."

"He wouldn't do that," she said stoutly. "Besides, Sandy, don't you see—I just can't stay on here with you, like this."

"Why not?"

"Why—I just can't, Sandy."

He grinned a lazy grin, laid one hand on her wrist, and slid it slowly up and down her arm. "Why not?" he repeated.

"You ought to understand," she said.

"Oh," he said, comprehension dawning. "Forget it. We're going to be married. What difference does it make?"

She stared at him blankly, while his hand continued to slide slowly up and down her arm. In the brief time that she had been here, Sandy had displayed a tendency to paw her; she didn't like it, and she disengaged her arm and stood up.

"I've just got to go back, whether you understand it or not," she said. "Can't somebody drive me—oh, part way, anyway? To Plainfield, where I can catch a train?"

"Don't know if any of the cars are available," said Sandy.

"Then I'll have to take the train from Midlothian."

He grinned mockingly.

"There's only one train a day, in the direction you want, and it's gone already."

"But Sandy! Won't you help me? I don't like this."

He seemed to become penitent.

"Don't worry—I'll fix it," he said. "I'll speak to Red about it. Just forget about it. O'll fix things."

On that assurance she had left his bedroom; and now, sitting alone on the porch and reviewing the conversation, she was forced to admit that she did not like the one of it in the least. Sandy didn't seem like the sympathetic and understanding sweetheart he had been in Dover, and in Maplehurst; something hard and unpleasant was showing through from underneath.

Then her innate loyalty came to his defense.

"I'm just—silly," she told herself. "I've been tired and excited, and I see things wrong. And he's sick, poor boy, and not himself. I mustn't judge him so hastily."

Eve Lewis came out and perched on the porch railing. She lit a cigarette, tossed the match on the lawn, and looked down at Jean with a wry smile.

"This place is a hole isn't it?" she said.

Jean looked up, smiled, and nodded.

"Well, we won't be here long," said Eve. "That's one comfort. The next place'll be better."

"Oh? Where are we—where are they going?"

Eve noticed how Jean corrected herself, and gave her a curious look. "What do you mean—'they'?" she asked. "You're coming too, aren't you?"

Jean shook her head. "I've got to get back to Dover, Eve."

"Oh, forget it. Trail along with us. I admit this place is a dump, but it's only for another day or so. Red's got another place spotted, and it's a spot where we can really enjoy life a little."

She yawned and stretched lazily. "This place does give me the willies," she added.

"But I can't go," said Jean. "You can understand, Eve, can't you? I've got a job to get back to."

"Oh, a job—said Eve, gesturing with royal disdain. "I'll give you my promise. Okay?"

She hesitated. She wanted to leave now—today—and yet . . .

"Oh, what's one more night?" asked Sandy, laughing. "Nobody'll bite you. There's two married women here to chaperon you—Eve Lewis and Mrs. Engle, the farmer's wife. And I'm crippled, anyhow." His eyes danced with mocking humor. She found herself smiling in tune with him.

"You're sure—about tomorrow morning?"

"Of course. Come on—it's okay, isn't it?"

She gave a little laugh, with just a faint note of irritation in it. "I guess it'll have to be," she said.

Time seemed to drag, in this farmhouse. Sandy was still weak, unable to walk with her outdoors. Lewis was absent in one of the cars, and the strange "Red" was aloof and unapproachable. Jean took a stroll across the fields with Eve, sat in the dusky, old-fashioned living room with Sandy, lounged aimlessly on the porch—and somehow got through the day and the evening, conscious always of a queer feeling of unease, almost of guilt, at her continued presence here. But the day did end, eventually, and the night of broken and unquiet sleep ended also; and at last it was the next morning, and she ate her breakfast at theingham-checked table in the big farm kitchen, at a table littered with many dishes—the others, it seemed had arisen earlier and breakfasted before her.

She went out to the porch to wait for the car. And after a few minutes the red-headed man came out and surveyed her dourly.

"All ready, are you?" he asked.

"Got your things packed, and all?"

She nodded.

"Come on, then," he said. She took her bag—which he permitted her to carry for herself—and followed him through the back yard where the big blue sedan was parked. Two men were in the front seat, and Eve Lewis sat in the back.

"Get in," said Red.

She hesitated. Why were so many people in the car?

"Come on, we're in a hurry," said Red. "We're all going for a little ride. Sandy and Wing've gone on ahead in the other car. Step on it, baby."

"But—but where are we going?" she stammered uneasily.

"Never mind where," he said, bending his face close. "Get in, sit down, shut up and do as you're told."

And as she looked into his cold blue eyes she knew she had to obey.

Victim of Plane Crash Was Famed Dallas Athlete

DALLAS, Dec. 17 (AP)—Second Lieut. Robert L. Carver, killed in a plane crash near Miami, Fla., Monday was a brilliant quarterback at West Point in 1931 and 1932 and one of Texas' outstanding high school football players of recent years.

Carver, known affectionately as "Red" by Dallas football fans, entered the United States military academy in 1929 and in his junior and senior years quarterbacked the Army grid team.

He was an outstanding high school athlete here, attending Oak Cliff high school. He was graduated in 1926.

Carver played both football and basketball at West Point and was one of Dallas' outstanding tennis players before entering the military academy.

Lindy Will Not Confront Bruno In Death Chair

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—The Daily News in a dispatch from Trenton, N. J., said today that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has vetoed a plan to have him appear before Bruno Richard Hauptmann in the electric chair in an attempt to obtain a full confession regarding the Lindbergh baby kidnaping.

The News said the plan was conceived immediately after Hauptmann's conviction last February and that Col. Lindbergh was reported to have received the idea with interest. The plan was for Lindbergh to appear before Hauptmann as he was being fastened in the chair with only a few moments more to live.

The paper said, however, that activities of the last few weeks, culminating in the revelation of Gov. Harold G. Hoffman's midnight death-house visit to Hauptmann, have caused Lindbergh and his advisors to abandon the idea. The aviator is said to feel that his appearance might be construed as an admission of doubt as to Hauptmann's guilt.

Governor Issues Galvan Reprive

AUSTIN, Dec. 17 (AP)—Ramiro Galvan, sentenced to be executed Dec. 18 for the slaying of a United States border patrolman near El Paso, had been reprieved today until Feb. 14, 1936.

Governor James V. Allred granted the reprieve to permit further study of the voluminous record.

The Mexican government is interested in the case and officials at Mexico City have expressed doubt Galvan was guilty. They pointed out he was convicted on circumstantial evidence.

Ivan Scotten, the patrolman, was shot fatally on July 20, 1929, in a gun fight with alleged liquor smugglers at Los Pompos crossing of the Rio Grande.

SPARE THAT (OUTSIDE) TREE DEADWOOD, S. D., Dec. 17 (AP)—You can cut your own Christmas tree in the Black Hills national forest, officials ruled, but—not those on the edges of wooded tracts. It must be a tree at least 200 feet into the stand, where it won't be missed.
