

... and lo, the star which they saw in the east went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.—II Matthew 9-11.

'And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flocks by night.'—II Luke 9-11.

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: GENERALLY FAIR, RISING TEMPERATURE IN NORTH FORTION SATURDAY; COLDER IN THE PANHANDLE BY SUNDAY NIGHT.

Pampa Daily News

A Dependable Institution Serving Pampa and the Northeastern Panhandle

TODAY'S THOUGHT

MURDER ITSELF IS PAST ALL EXPRESSION THE GREATEST CRIME, WHICH NATURE DOTH ABHOR.

(VOL. 31, NO. 241)

Full AP Leased Wire

PAMPA, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS SUNDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 26, 1937.

(32 PAGES TODAY)

(PRICE FIVE CENTS)

FDR PLEADS FOR UNIVERSAL PEACE

Live Doll

A milkman making early morning deliveries in Philadelphia found a tiny baby on a doorstep in this Christmas shopping bag. The baby, turned over to police, is shown in the hospital.

LAMB COUNTY TO GET TEST

Lamb county will get a test for oil. It was announced last week when the T. W. Wynn Trustees announced a location on the Albert Nienschwander land in Labor 1, League 660. The test will be drilled about four miles northwest of Littlefield and about 30 miles north of Hockley county where the Texas company recently found oil.

Intentions to drill: The Texas company, C. S. Barrett No. 7, 330 feet from the south and west lines of W 1/2 of SE 1/4 of section 112, block 3, 1&GN, Gray county.

Gulf Oil corporation, I. B. Hughey "A" No. 1, 330 feet from the north and east lines of W 1/2 of SE 1/4 of section 129, block 3, 1&GN, Gray county.

Magnolia Petroleum company, E. Haggard No. 8, 990 feet from the Intentions to drill: The Texas company, C. S. Barrett No. 7, 330 feet from the south and west lines of W 1/2 of SE 1/4 of section 112, block 3, 1&GN, Gray county.

Gulf Oil corporation, I. B. Hughey "A" No. 1, 330 feet from the north and east lines of W 1/2 of SE 1/4 of section 129, block 3, 1&GN, Gray county.

Magnolia Petroleum company, E. Haggard No. 8, 990 feet from the

Baskets Delivered To Hundreds Of Families; Good Will Prevails

GIVING SPIRIT RULES TEXAS

Not long ago the newspapers headlined stories about two Texans whose chances for a happy Christmas went glimmering through accident. One of them was Lester Warren, blind youth who operates a concession stand in the postoffice at Greenville. The other was Mrs. C. C. Howell of Dallas. Lester Warren was hit by a car and his $14.50 Christmas savings scattered on the street and never returned. Mrs. Howell lost $200 down a storm sewer.

It's a Merry Christmas in Pampa today. That's because more fortunate Pampans have done everything possible to provide a merry Christmas for the city's needy. A truck heavily laden, was to go out in town this morning to deliver huge baskets of groceries, toys and clothing to less-chance families. Sacks filled by the schools, Good Fellows, churches and others were taken to the homes of the needy.

SPOKANE BANK LOSES $4,500 IN ROBBERY

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 24.—(AP)—A gunman who scattered currency about the floor in his hurry to escape, robbed the security branch of the Seattle First National bank here late today. Bank officials estimated he got away with between $4,000 and $4,500.

Frenchy Dealt Monte In Tascosa 57 Years Ago

TASCOSA, Tex., Dec. 24.—(AP)—Christmas will be quieter here than it was in the days when a girl called Frenchy was the prettiest Monte dealer between Boothill and St. Louis. There was only one person living here this Christmas Eve, 1937, and there is no telling how many there were when Tascosa was a booming cowtown, the last stop between Fort Dodge and Texas. The girl who was known as Frenchy still lives here and she is 80 years old. She is Mrs. Mickey McCormick, and she first came here 57 years ago.

'And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.'—II Luke 15-16.

The Roving Reporter Plays Santa Claus

By THE ROVING REPORTER. It seems to be the thing to do to play Santa Claus to somebody this Christmas, so the Roving Reporter is going to play Santa Claus to his friends, friendly acquaintances, unfriendly acquaintances, et al. The Roving Reporter, herewith dons the Jaycee Santa Claus outfit, sticks his tongue in his cheek where he will keep it some of the time while he hands out these presents to the following persons:

MASSA HOME PLACES FIRST

For the second consecutive year, the home of J. B. Massa, 1110 Christine street was awarded the grand prize in the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce home decoration contest. A nativity scene showing Mary and Joseph looking into a cradle with beautiful lighting effects was the winning theme.

Temperatures In Pampa

Table with 4 columns: Time, Temperature, and other weather-related data for Pampa.

NEW JAPANESE NOTE STUDIED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt considered carefully tonight whether Japan's latest assurances were adequate in the light of naval reports. Japanese planes which bombed the gunboat Panay flew within a few hundred feet of its huge American markings. He and Secretary Hull refrained from any immediate comment on a Japanese note saying rigid orders had been issued against future infringement of American rights and interests in China.

Property Not Mentioned

Comparison between the guarantees asked by the United States and those given by Japan indicated one important word in the United States note had not been repeated in the Japanese one—"property". However, students of diplomatic affairs felt that the Japanese assurances concerning American "interests" might logically be taken to include "property".

Here's How World Acts On Birthday Of Jesus

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Pope Pius today told 29 Cardinals gathered to offer him Christmas greetings that he was saddened this Christmas by religious persecution in Germany "such as there has rarely been." The Pontiff's discourse was a protest against the charge that the church has engaged in politics and a call to prayer for Divine aid.

FDR's Guest

DIANA HOPKINS FINDS CHEER

By BETH CAMPBELL. WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—A shy little girl, whose mother died recently and whose father is in a faraway hospital, found Christmas kindness tonight in the heart of Harry Hopkins, the Works Progress administrator, who is convalescing after an operation at Rochester, Minn.

FATAL ROAD ACCIDENT CALLED UNAVOIDABLE

The body of Riley L. Cummings, killed instantly about 2 o'clock Friday morning on U. S. Highway 66 west of Jericho, was still at the Keel-Carmichael Funeral home Friday night. Relatives had been located at Elk City, Okla., and were enroute to Pampa, officers said. Cummings was struck by a car driven by two Canton, Ohio, residents as he crossed the road in front of a car approaching in the opposite direction. Investigating officers took statements and Paul Moore, justice of the peace at McLean, later pronounced the accident unavoidable.

CHRIST GAVE EVEN ISCARIOT HIS GOOD WILL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—(AP)—President Roosevelt drew upon a columnist's parable today to stress the want of universal peace. After turning a switch to light the National Christmas Tree in Lafayette Park across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House, an annual event, the Chief Executive repeated a story by Columnist Heywood Brown. He said it had appealed to him as a Christmas sermon as he read it in bed last night, but he left its interpretation to the crowd that stood about him in the damp cold and to his radio listeners.

I SAW - - -

G. W. Holt, manager of the Holt Adams, pulling a fast one on his wife who drove to El Paso yesterday to spend Christmas with their son, Bill. Mr. Holt flew to El Paso today. Two new lines—Hastings Radio, Arvin Car Radios, Motor Bus—north and west lines of SW 1/4 of section 113, block 3, L&GN, Gray county.

NO. 1-- Continued From Page One

Christie-Hickman Drilling company, First National No. 2, 330 feet from the west and 1,320 feet from the south of NW 1/4 of section 49, block A-9, H&GN, Gray county.

Turman Oil company, Whittenburg "A" No. 17, 280.7 feet and 660 feet east of No. 5, E 1/2 of section 11, block B-21, TC&RR, Hutchinson county.

Phillips Petroleum company, Juanita Johnson No. 4, 330 feet from the east and 1,650 feet from the north of W 1/2 of section 5, block 1, E&B, Hutchinson county.

Toddie L. Wynn Trustee, Albert Nienschwander No. 1, 660 feet from the south and east lines of Labor No. 1, league 660, Lamb county. (Four miles NW of Littlefield.)

NO. 2-- Continued From Page One

abandoned his traditional red suit and long whiskers for a variety of disguises.

A Louisville, Ky., shopper found a Christmas card addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Davis of Canyon and wrote this on the back of the greeting after stamping it for mailing:

"This card addressed for mailing was found on the downtown streets of Louisville. The stamp brings our greeting for a happy Christmas to you and the sender." It was signed: "A Busy Shopper."

At Clarendon a 14-year-old farm boy, a meticulous shopper, canvassed the twenty-five cent counters in search "for something suitable." He finally bought a pound box of candy, and the clerk asked him who it was for.

"Myself," the lad replied.

NO. 3-- Continued From Page One

All of the offices customarily closed by 5 o'clock on Saturday's with the exception of the sheriff's office. Some close an hour or two in advance.

Turkey will be omitted from the menu of the extra-ration Christmas dinner served to the 23 prisoners in the jail. Roast beef and dressing will be the principal items on the special meal.

No arrests had been made by officers late Friday. While officers will remain on duty, subject to call, it was expected that the sheriff's force and police department will all have at least a partial holiday on Christmas. All offices in the city hall with the exception of the police station will be closed all day Saturday.

The postoffice will also be closed excepting for the parcel delivery window which will be open between 9 and 10 a. m. Christmas packages will be delivered in the morning but there will be no street mail delivery.

Mail will be received and dispatched as usual and mail will be placed in boxes.

NO. 4-- Continued From Page One

Coach Prejean—A turkey dinner every day during the holidays.

Drs. Bellamy & Overton—A son of War Admiral for each.

The City of Pampa—A grandstand at Recreation park that will hold up Uncle Sam.

The Youth of Pampa—A recreation center, including an indoor swimming pool, a basketball court, a gymnasium.

The Adobe Walls Boy Scout council—No further use for red ink.

THANK You, friends and neighbors of this community, for your favors to us during many years of association and service. Our sincere wish is that Christmas finds you all well, happy and prosperous.

Nance Grocery

223 E. Francis WE DELIVER Phone 1192

SEASONS

GREETINGS

Cordial greetings and our wish that the New Year will be brighter and more prosperous than ever.

Post - Mosley Norge Store

Combs-Worley Bldg. Phone 22

CHRISTMAS

It is our hope that you may have a Christmas filled and running over with the good things in life, including good health, abounding happiness and abiding prosperity!

TEXACO PRODUCTS

Wholesale Agent

M. A. GRAHAM

Mainly About People

Phone Items for this Column to The News Editorial Rooms, at 666

Mrs. Fannie Smith and sons, Jack and Jerry, are spending Christmas with relatives in Wichita, Kan.

Wayne Phelps left last night to spend Christmas with friends in Quanah.

Miss Kathryn Chesnut is spending Christmas with friends in Lubbock.

Sid Patterson is a Christmas visitor at the home of his parents in Norman, Okla.

District Judge and Mrs. W. E. Ewing left Friday for Brownsville where they will spend the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Engleman are spending Christmas with her parents in Blackwell, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson are spending Christmas with their parents in Chicago.

Clyde Yoes is spending Christmas in Eolles, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Johnson left Friday for Dallas where they will spend Christmas.

C. E. McGrew left Friday for Dallas where he will see the Longview-Wichita Falls football game.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Stine and family were called to Big Spring Friday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Stine's brother-in-law.

Mrs. L. M. Moore and daughters, Helen and Ruth, of Loraine, Ohio, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Lyons, Mrs. Moore is Mrs. Lyons's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hart of Austin are visiting Mr. Hart's cousin, R. C. Wilson, grandfather, W. S. Wilson, and other relatives in Pampa this week-end. Mr. Hart is an employee of the state treasury department.

Ola Gregory, deputy county clerk, is visiting her brother in Pratt, Kas. during the week-end.

A marriage license was issued Thursday to James Proctor and Ruby McDuffie.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cole of San Diego, California, arrived Thursday evening for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Brunow.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Baldwin of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Ethel W. Baldwin and Ruth Ann Ruthland of Okemah, Okla., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Van Garber and daughter, Constance Lou.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Surratt have as their guests for the holidays Miss Grace McCarthy of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Miss Harriet McCarthy of Oklahoma City, and Bob Surratt, student at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

The Pampa Credit Grantors association will finish its "round" of the alphabet in studying slow and unsatisfactory accounts Monday noon at their regular meeting in the basement of the Schneider hotel. Letters "U", "V" and "W" will be discussed.

PIONEER JACK COUNTY BANKER DIES FRIDAY

JACKSBORO, Dec. 24 (P)—James W. Knox, 85-year-old banker, died today at his home after a short illness.

He was chairman of the board of the First National bank, which he founded more than 40 years ago. He also introduced Aberdeen-Angus and Hereford cattle to this country and was an active rancher in Jack and Baylor counties for many years.

In his teens he came to Jack county and clerked in a general store when old Fort Richardson was a center of activity. Later he went into business for himself.

He was born in Charleston, Tenn. He was considered one of the oldest Masons in Texas, having belonged for 64 years to the Fort Richardson unit. He held various offices in Masonry.

In the early 19th century, the decks of Britain's East India merchantmen featured small vegetable gardens in boxes. Daily increasing temperatures caused the seed to shoot up surprisingly fast, making the crop turnover more rapid than in any place on land.

YOUNGEST.

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Walter P. Stanley claims that, at 62, he is the youngest great-grandfather in the United States.

His granddaughter, Mrs. Wilfred McCullough, gave birth to a seven and one-half pound son last week.

Texas had 114,881 old age pensioners in December compared with 115,587 in November. Grants averaged $13.71 and totaled $1,574,422 against $1,584,344 in November. The number of the rolls has been above 100,000 since early this year.

ONE SWIFT AND SAFE PRESCRIPTION FOR RHEUMATISM

One supremely good prescription for rheumatism, sciatica, neuritis and lumbago—when caused or aggravated by excess uric acid or other circulating poisons—and most of it—is well and favorably known to live pharmacists all over America. Just ask for 8 ounces Allenra prescription and take as directed—it is swift and safe—often the pain and agony leave in 48 hours. Cut this out and save it.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

My Republican Friends

To Others of Opposite Political Parties

from: DR. V. E. von BRUNOW Republican County Chairman

The Officers and Personnel of

UNION BAKERY

Wish You a MERRY CHRISTMAS

VOTE FOR ANY CANDIDATE YOU PLEASE!

(Regardless of Promise)

BEST WISHES

of the Season

May all the happiness and prosperity that have been your share in the old year be magnified many times in the New Year

EAGLE BUFFET

RUSSELL BEALL, Prop.

Christmas Cheer

We sincerely wish that your Christmas may be one of unlimited joy and happiness. We trust that in the past year we have, in some small measure, been of service to you. We hope that in the year to come we shall continue the pleasantness of cooperating with you to the mutual advantage of all. Our aim has been to always be able to make our business transactions a benefit to you.

We Wish All A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

NO. 5-- Continued From Page One

guard against anything of the kind in the future.

Hughes States Facts—The Japanese note, despite Lieutenant Commander Hughes' report that the Panay bore huge American markings, still insisted the bombing was a "mistake."

Hughes reported that: The Panay was easily identifiable by two flags on her top decks, covering together 500 square feet.

Four hours before the bombing a Japanese armed tender stopped the Panay and a Japanese lieutenant boarded it.

Japanese planes bombed the gunboat from low altitudes and machinegunned it from 100 to 200 feet.

Japanese aviators machine-gunned life-boats carrying survivors ashore, caused additional wounds and perforated the small boats.

When the survivors reached shore and hid among reeds, they heard a Japanese motor launch and a Japanese airplane and were fearful these craft were searching for them.

"Attacking planes concentrated almost all their efforts on the Panay during at least the first half hour," although three standard oil tankers later were bombed too.

When the Panay was about to sink, a Japanese motor launch fired on and boarded her.

NO. 7-- Continued From Page One

death of Emperor Taisho, father of Emperor Hirohito.

With the war spirit ruling Tokyo, Santa Claus was banished from the city's department stores.

Christmas in China—SHANGHAI (Saturday)—Cabarets remained open all night. For the first time in four months, current regulations were lifted to permit celebration of Christmas.

Windsor, England—The Duke of Windsor, for the second year an exile at Christmas time, telephoned his Queen Mary, at being in England.

The Duchess, for whom he gave up his throne, sat at his side as he talked with his mother, whom he has not seen since his abdication. Later he talked with his brother, King George VI, and then with his little niece, Princess Elizabeth.

The Duke planned to listen tomorrow to his brother's broadcast to the empire.

MUNICH—Chancellor Adolph Hitler was host to 200 old Nazi comrades, their wives and children at a Christmas Eve luncheon at which he presented gifts and talked for an hour on Nazi work, past and future.

Over Christmas the Fuehrer invited several leaders to his Berchtesgaden retreat.

LISBON—A church ban on all public non-religious Christmas celebrations made the feast a purely religious and family affair for Portugal. The church ruled that such festivities as the traditional arraial, a dance outside the village church, were out of keeping with the true Christmas spirit. Santa Claus has been banished by Portugal's nationalist government as having no place in Portuguese tradition.

Wishing you all the Joys of a Merry Christmas and a bright New Year.

... FROM PAMPA'S ONLY FEED MILL VANDOVER'S FEED STORE

467 W. Foster Phone 792

CHURCHES

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
 E. M. Dunsworth, pastor
 9:45 a. m. Sunday school.
 11 a. m. Morning worship.
 6:30 p. m. Baptist Training union.
 7:30 p. m. Evening worship.
 7:00 p. m. Wednesday. Prayer meeting with the subject, "What the Lord Has Done for Us."

Central Church of Christ
 500 N. Somerville
 Will M. Thompson, minister
 Radio Service, 8:30 a. m.
 Bible study, 9:45 a. m.
 Preaching, 11 a. m.
 Young People's class, 6 p. m.
 Preaching, 7 p. m.
 Ladies' Bible class, Wednesday at 2:30 p. m.
 Mid-Week Bible study, Wednesday at 7 p. m.
 You are kindly invited to attend these services.

Sunday, December 26 will bring to a close the labors of Will M. Thompson as minister of this church. He goes to Hobart, Oklahoma from here. The Thompson family will conduct the radio services Sunday.
 Robert R. Price will preach at this church the first Sunday in January and he will be the local minister beginning the first Sunday in February. He is an able preacher. Roy E. Wallace Jr., who is moving to Amarillo will preach here four Sundays in January beginning the second Sunday in the month. Brother Wallace is one of the outstanding if not the outstanding minister among us.

 This church uses only those that are sound in faith and those well known to the brotherhood as its ministers.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
 E. F. Robinson, pastor
 9:45 a. m. Sunday school.
 11 a. m. Morning worship.
 6:45 p. m. Young people's service.
 7:45 p. m. Evening worship.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
 Browning at Frost
 Robert Boshen, minister
 10 a. m. The Church school.
 11 a. m. Common worship.
 6:30 p. m. The High School Yuxis society.
 7:30 p. m. The Intermediate Christian Endeavor.
 7:30 p. m. The evening service.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH
 John Scott, pastor
 9:45 a. m. Sunday school.
 11 a. m. Morning worship with the pastor preaching on "The Way to Happiness in the Christian Life."

 6:30 p. m. Baptist Training union.
 7:30 p. m. Evening worship with the pastor speaking on "Can the Saved Fall from Grace?"

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
 W. M. Pearce, pastor
 9:45 a. m. Church school with P. L. Stallings as superintendent.
 11 a. m. Sermon by the pastor on "The Stewardship of Time."
 6:30 p. m. Epworth leagues.
 7:30 p. m. Evening service will be in charge of the Wesley Foundation, a group of young people. A special recognition will be given to the young people who are at home from college.
 Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
 John S. Stullen, minister
 9:45 a. m. Bible school.
 10:50 a. m. Church worship. Sermon by the minister, "Fighting for Life." A solo by Howard Zimmerman. The Lord's Supper is always observed by this church at the service.

 6:30 p. m. Christian Endeavor. Three societies for all young people.
 7:30 p. m. Sermon by the minister "Sunset Glory."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
 C. Gordon Bayless, pastor
 9:45 a. m. Sunday school.
 10 a. m. Men's Bible class in the city hall with the Rev. Bayless teaching.
 10:50 a. m. Morning worship with the sermon by the pastor on "Why are We Tempted?"
 6:30 p. m. Baptist Training union.
 7:30 p. m. Evening worship with the sermon by the pastor on "What Are You Looking At?"

Students who are at home from college will have charge of the Baptist Training union program. The evening worship will also be in charge of the young people. They will have charge of the choir service, read the scripture, and serve as ushers.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

901 N. Frost St.
 "Christian Science" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, on Sunday December 26.
 The Golden Text is: "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price" (Isaiah 55:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope" (Romans 15:4).
 The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The footsteps of thought, rising above material stand-points, are slow and portend a long night to the reveler; but the angels of His presence —the spiritual intuitions that tell us when the night is far spent, the day is at hand—are our guardians in the gloom" (page 174).

9:30 a. m. Sunday school.
 11 a. m. Sunday service.
 8 p. m. Wednesday. The reading room in the church edifice is open

Tuesday and Friday from 7 until 4 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend these services and to use the reading room.

TO BE SURE - - -

For Your Stomach's Sake
 After Christmas Dinner Take a

Full of the Real Noisy
 Christmas Spirit

Bottle of
 Of CRETNEY'S CITRATE
 MAGNESIA

It pops, fizzes, sputters and foams and is delightful to the taste. A busy body about your affairs and sure to clear away and make you ready for "New Year's" feast and festivities.

Our Entire Organization Wishes One and All a
MERRY CHRISTMAS

Cretney DRUG STORE
 NEXT TO LA MORA THEATRE

Christmas

May life's best gift make glad your day;
 And joy light up the New Year way.

JOHN W. CROUT And Son

Painters

Paper-Hangers

A warm fire and a creaking board. Lights and music and song. Jest and story. Cheerful voices and wide-eyed children. Bright thoughts. Romance. Security and a contented heart. This is our Christmas wish for you, and to it we add the hope that 1938 will bring you opportunity to achieve and enjoy in no small measure.

BROWN & WILLIAMS MOTOR CO., Inc.

Somerville at Francis

Phone 131

Just as the ties of friendship are strengthened at this Holiday Season so may our business association grow in mutual accord and confidence.

Mollye and Sam Fenberg
 And Employees

MAINTAINING ★ ★ ★ ★ A STANDARD

at Christmas and through the New Year

The Holiday Season, with its spirit of good cheer and friendliness, brings to mind the splendid associations that have been ours during the past year. It reminds us of the loyalty of our customers, whose patronage has made possible one of our best years in business in this community.

We gratefully acknowledge our appreciation of your consideration and favors. The trust and confidence you have shown are our incentives to even greater service during the years to come. They lead us to keep thoughtfully in mind your needs and desires so that we may more efficiently fulfill them.

As the old year draws to a close amid the good fellowship of Christmastime, we consider it singularly appropriate to extend the compliments of the season to our good friends of this area. May your Christmas be a happy one and may success attend your New Year.

CHRISTMAS
 GREETINGS
 and A HAPPY PROSPEROUS
 NEW YEAR

THE DIAMOND SHOP

Pampa's Leading Jewelers Since 1926"

MEET SAM
 and WEAR
 DIAMONDS

LONGVIEW AND WICHITA FALLS TO BATTLE FOR STATE TITLE TODAY

LOBOS TO BE OUTWEIGHED IN CHAMP BATTLE

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Dec. 24.—(P)—The brawny Coyotes of Wichita Falls arrive here Friday for their final practice session before clashing with the Longview Lobos in the Cotton Bowl Saturday for the state school-boy football championship.

Longview took its last drill on the home field and will not come to Dallas until Saturday.

Sunshine today dissipated all traces of heavy rains that fell at mid-week and with prospects of

Fred Schaffner
Pampa Bakery
100% Whole Wheat
French Bread
115 W. Foster Phone 81

SPORTS

Pampa Daily News

PAGE FOUR SUNDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 26, 1937.

Public May See Exes Play Harvesters Free cold, cloudy weather without precipitation at game time, an estimated 25,000 fans was expected for the battle.

Drills today for both teams were light and coach Ted Jefferies of Wichita Falls and Coach P. E. Shotwell of Longview announced their squads in tip-top shape for the game, without a single injury showing on either side.

Wichita Falls will take the field with an advantage in weight of about five pounds to the man. The Coyote line averages 176 pounds and the backfield 154. Longview has a 171-pound line and 150-pound backfield.

Wichita Falls officials estimated 4,000 fans would follow the team to Dallas and Longview predicted 2,500 would make the journey from there. Both cities will run special trains.

The undefeated, united Lobos will be favorites to win the game but not without a hard battle with the bruising Coyotes, who feature a powerful attack built around Harold Fleming, Minister - fullback. Longview features a deceptive offensive with Dick Miller, diminutive halfback, as the spark plug.

Longview won its way to the state finals with victories outside the district over Lufkin, Temple and Comroe while Wichita Falls was taking out Amarillo, Austin (El Paso and north side (Fort Worth). Wichita Falls lost two games and tied three but all defeats were inside the district along with two of the ties. In the other deadlock, the Coyotes edged out El Paso on penetrations.

Probable starting line-ups (weight in parentheses):

Wichita Falls	Pos.	Longview
Maddox (168)	LE	Pouncey (150)
Brand	LT	Sullivan (195)
Goforth (198)	LG	Daniel (185)
Damerall (169)	C	McMahon (159)
Zachary (151)	RG	Brannon (183)
Swanner (192)	RT	Richardson 162
Prichard (172)	RE	Burandt (162)
Collins (153)	Q	Lebus (140)
Wallis (144)	LH	Cantrell (160)
Foster (145)	RH	D. Miller (145)
Fleming (176)	F	H. Miller (159)

Officials: Bud Price (Austin college), referee; Jack Mahan (Texas A. and M.), umpire; Harry Viner (Missouri), head linesman; Charles Schwartz (Rice), field judge.

The pendulum, thermometer, and telescope were invented by Galileo, who was born on Feb. 15, 1564.

If an egg rattles when shaken, it indicates that the egg is not fresh. The air space inside the shell has become large through slow evaporation.

Installation of air conditioned dining cars on American railroads has resulted in an increase in the orders for heavier meals on the diners, according to statistics.

The 1937-38 Harvester basketball team will scrimmage a team of Exes Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The public is invited to witness the battle with no charge being assessed. Coach Odus Mitchell said yesterday.

On Tuesday the Harvesters will leave on a week's road trip which will end next Saturday in Dallas with the boys witnessing the Cotton Bowl football game.

The Harvesters will tangle with their old rivals, the Turkey Turks, coached by Alf Duncan, who, by the way, is the father of a big boy, on Tuesday night. They will be in Olney on Wednesday and Thursday nights and will wind up their trip with a game against Highland Park in Dallas Friday night.

Although the Exes have not announced a lineup for the scrimmage, probable starters will be Ayr and Strickland, forwards, Strickland, center; Roy Lee Jones and Enloe, guards. Such exes as Kitchens, McGaha, Harrell, Noblitt, and others will also be available.

It was thought that J. E. Green, Sticks Green and Moose Hartman would be home from Rice Institute but they had not arrived Friday night.

After the New Year the Harvesters will open a hard season which will end with the district tournament here February 17, 18 and 19.

Springing A Gelandesprung

These intrepid skiers are springing a double gelandesprung, i. e., leap in the open country to clear an obstacle, not from a prepared jumping hill. The picture was snapped at the Seignory Club in the province of Quebec.

TOTAL ON CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE NOW $434

Pampans were still continuing their prompt contributions Thursday to the Gray County Tuberculosis association despite the demands of last-minute Christmas preparations. Out of 57 letters received Thursday by W. B. Weathered, president of the county association, 34 contained money in payment of Christmas seals, for a total of $50.15, making the total contributions to date $434.

Efforts are expected to be increased Monday in order to complete the campaign before January 1.

Prior to 1847, San Francisco was known as Yerba Buena. That name still applied to Goat Island in San Francisco bay.

W. Somerset Maugham has had a basis in his own life for many of the experiences attributed to his fictional characters. He was born in France, educated in England and Germany, trained as a physician and surgeon, and was a secret agent during the World war.

SRO Sign in Use At SMU Chapel

DALLAS, Dec. 24.—(P)—Persuading students to attend chapel is a dimishing problem with Southern Methodist University officials because class men and women expect something exciting to happen.

While a speaker was discussing the causes of the Sino-Japanese war not long ago, an alarm clock rang loudly for several minutes before it was located by a faculty member. A few days later a shaggy terrier walked on the stage while a guest speaker was discoursing on world problems, and after gaining the attention of the audience made exit.

The S. R. O. sign is being dusted off.

There are more than 600 broadcasting stations in the United States.

Washington, Madison, Jackson, Folk, Buchanan, and Harding were the only American presidents who had no children.

Wishing you all the Joys of a Merry Christmas and a bright New Year.

"Rich" Richmond And The Boys PHILLIPS "66"

At this Joyous Season of the Year Our Wishes for You Are That All 1938 Be a Time of Prosperity and Content!

HOWARD MARTIN'S
REX SANDWICH SHOP
Next Door to Rex Theatre
HOWARD MARTIN — BILL MARTIN

Special Christmas Mat Card Set For Monday

"Merry Christmas" says Promoter Cliff Chambers.

"I may be late in giving wrestling fans their present but it will be worth waiting for, I believe," the little promoter said. "It will all happen Monday night when Jack Mandell and Jack Moran continue their battle started last week and everyone will be admitted for 25 cents."

The promoter isn't wrong in his prediction that fans will wait impatiently for the present because Mandell and Moran are two of the classiest grapplers in the country. They had a wild time last Monday night with the referee awarding a decision when none was in order. Moran won, according to the referee, but Mandell and fans know he didn't. That's why Promoter Chambers decided to bring the pair back Monday night in another main event.

What will happen in the battle is unpredictable, excepting that Moran will get rough and tough as usual. Mandell, usually a quiet mauler who does things with holds, is raving mad over the deal he got last Monday.

"I'll tear that sissy sailor to pieces," raved Mandell. "He can't beat me with one hand tied behind my back. No, he can't beat me with both hands tied because I can use my feet as well as my hands any day and that's enough to beat that guy."

Moran, on the other hand, remarked that he'll show Mandell that he was only playing with him the other night. "That Kangaroo's only a fake and I'll expose him by tearing him to pieces and feeding the parts to the wolves," said Moran.

A supporting card of main event caliber will be presented for the Christmas party. The preliminary, at 8 o'clock, will see Andy Tremaine facing Gust Johnson in a clean, scientific battle.

A semi-final between Cyclone Mackie and Tsutao Higami will be a challenge match. Mackie lost to the little Jap a couple of weeks ago. Since then he has figured a way to stop the Jap from pressing buttons.

"It's a secret," Mackie replied when asked how he would throttle the Jap.

Third man in the ring will be Pat Garrison of Pampa.

FLOWERS TAKEN FROM GRAVE AS YULE GIFT
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 24 (P)—An Oklahoma City High school boy who said he took flowers from a cemetery mausoleum to give his mother for a Christmas present, was released today so he could spend the holidays with his mother.

But, said John Eberle, assistant county attorney, the youth must return to face charges should the cemetery association wish to press them. Eberle said the youth told him he had no money and had taken them from a vase.

WILL GIVES OKLAHOMA OPERA STAR $120,000

NORMAN, Okla., Dec. 24.—(P)—Joseph Benton, Oklahoma's operatic tenor, was homeward bound today $120,000 richer because Miss Kate Buckingham, Chicago art patron, remembered him in her will.

"We hope he gets home for Christmas," said Mrs. O. H. Benton, his mother.

The noted tenor left the University of Oklahoma to attain success on the operatic stages of America and Europe. Miss Buckingham, a distant relative, who died December 14, did much for the youthful singer.

In her will, revealed yesterday, she gave Benton an outright bequest of $20,000 and left him a $100,000 trust fund.

M. P. Downs
Automobile Loans
Short and Long Terms
REFINANCING
Small and Large
504 Combs-Worley Bldg.
Phone 336

WRESTLING
RETURN MATCH
8 p. m.—MON. NITE, DEC. 27—8 p. m.
JACK MANDELL VS. "SAILOR" MORAN
Any Seat in House 25c
PAMPA ATHLETIC ARENA
Reservations, Pampa Drug or Phone 905-M

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

We take this opportunity of extending our sincere appreciation for the splendid patronage with which you welcomed us to Pampa.

Fletcher's Studio

As the old year draws to a close, amid the good cheer and fellowship of Christmastide, we desire to express anew our gratitude for the manifold courtesies received, for the cordial relations we have enjoyed, for the new friendships made and the old friendships more closely cemented, and for the splendid patronage that has been ours. . . . With these thoughts in mind, we wish for you one and all a very Merry Christmas and a happy and most prosperous New Year.

Herring & Risley
International Harvester
DEALERS

A DISTINCT PLEASURE

It is with profound pleasure and appreciation that we take this means of expressing our sentiments of Season's Good Cheer to the friends and customers of this firm.

Your liberal support is valued most highly by the employees and management. Your cooperation is best manifest has been our pleasure, and we are glad to express our thanks.

May we continue to serve you in the future? We have set our goal to even more efficient service, and we desire the privilege of showing you how sincere we really are. Again we say, "Thank you."

PAMPA HARDWARE
AND SUPPLY COMPANY

120 N. Cuyler Phone 4

Employees

Travis Lively
Raeburn Thompson
Mildred Overall
Oree Brock
Marshall Oden
Rufe Thompson
John McCaskey

Employees

Otto Rice
George Keehey
Dick Orr
Dan Sheffield
Raymond Elkins
Charles Miller
Guy Kerbow

Umpire Ormsby Plays Santa To 12 Children

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
CHICAGO, Dec. 24 (AP)—Old Santa Claus was left holding the bag tonight. It was an empty one, too, after he had doled out 200 gifts to the 12 children of Emmett "Red" Ormsby.

Wishing You

A HAPPY
CHRISTMAS

With every good wish for your happiness at the Christmas Season and throughout the New Year.

Crystal Palace Confectionery
121 N. Cuyler
Phone 287

Best Wishes

For a Happy Holiday Season to the friends and customers of this firm... and a hearty thank you for your patronage during the past.

Suits & Plain Dresses
Cleaned & Pressed 50c

TUX DRY CLEANERS

319 W. Foster Phone 813

TANK HORTON MENTIONED AS PENSACOLA TEAM MANAGER

American league umpire and champion father of the sports world. Christmas eve in the ten-room Ormsby suburban home was a scene of spiritual beauty.

Upstairs tucked in beds were the 12 sleeping children, from one to 15 years old, awaiting daybreak and Santa Claus, otherwise Ormsby himself.

Downstairs the 230-pound red-head, devoted to his brood, worked with his wife, filling 24 stockings hanging from the fireplace, trimming the Christmas tree. Outside in the moonlight the tall pine trees, silent and green, stretched toward the heavens. The ground was covered with snow.

Lives For Dozens
Ormsby, at the age of 42, loves, lives and works for the umpire's dozen.

"Ain't it just a grand feelin'?" he beamed.

He aimed to finish his task at daybreak. Then downstairs will patter 24 stockingless feet and 12-round-eyed youngsters. The presents will be heaped in neat rows. There's one for Rita, she's 15, the eldest. Another for Rosemary, she's next. Another for Byron Bancroft, 10, named after B. B. Johnson, late president of the American league, and so on. Eight girls and four boys.

"We simply gotta pile the presents in rows," Ormsby explained. "Otherwise, there would be too much confusion. Each child goes to his or her own pile of gifts. You Tank Horton, popular local ball-player of a few years ago, is being mentioned as playing manager of the Pensacola, Fla., ball team in the Southeastern league, according to a Pensacola paper received here.

The team franchise might be sold and the present manager given another club, the paper stated. Horton, spending the winter here, said he knew nothing of the change excepting the story sent to him by a friend.

Horton was regular catcher on the Pensacola team last season. He had one of his best years, being named the league's top receiver.

Word also comes from baseball circles that Harold Gregory, last year third baseman for Fulton, Ky., in the Kitty league, has been sold to Tyler in the East Texas league, where he will report in the spring. Gregory hit second on the Fulton team and led the league in stolen bases.

Another Pampan who broke into professional ball last year, Bob Bailey, will again report to Wink in the West Texas-New Mexico league. He led his team in home runs last season. He also set up a new fielding record in handling 21 chances in one game and also hitting the longest home run ever made in the home park.

"Tiger" Joe Berry, another former Pampan, had his best season with Los Angeles in the Pacific coast league in 1937 and will return to that team next year.

never heard such screaming and hollerin' in your life."

Playing Santa Claus is no new experience to Ormsby, one of the best liked umpires, among the players, in the major leagues. He does it 365 days in the year in feeding and clothing his flock. Every morning in the year four gallons of milk are left on his back porch. He buys 48 pairs of shoes at a crack. Sixty pounds of candy for Christmas. His basement resembles a country grocery store because Ormsby buys can goods in 12-case lots. Meat 125 pounds at a time. Listen mothers: the red-head personally bought only 125 dresses for those eight girls this year. Stockings by the gross. Two hundred pounds of sugar at a time.

Ormsby, during the off-season, drives nine children three miles to school every morning. All in one car. When they complained the other day about being uncomfortable, he stopped them with this crack: "all right, then, I'll buy a bus" not a peep out of them since.

When the red-head is away during the baseball season, Mrs. Ormsby does the job. Besides, she cooks three meals a day. Gets up at 6 o'clock and is ready to fall into bed at 9 p. m.

PEANUT VENDOR WITH A CURVE AT BOWL GAME

DALLAS, Dec. 24—Sutak claims to be the world's champion peanut vendor. To substantiate his claims, Sutak points out that during a week-long A. A. U. tournament in Denver, he sold 6,000 bags of goobers, 35 to a bag, 210,000 peanuts.

But even so, Sutak is more famous in the Rocky Mountain district for the manner in which he peddles his wares. He's glib, fast talking, sharp as barbed wire and always has a ready retort for the fan who would best him with wisecracks.

"Nuts to you for a nickel," "Delivered by air express, collect," "It's tagged for the gent in the black suit," are some of his favorite expressions. And what's more, he does things with a sack of goobers nobody else has ever tried.

For instance, Sutak walks along the sidelines at football games. When a customer shouts for goobers, Sutak winds up, cuts loose. Invariably, the sack of goobers lands in the customer's lap. And to make the stunt more difficult, Sutak throws a curve with the sack. He says he charges only a nickel for the goobers but adds five cents to the cost for the display of his curve.

That curve is no joke, either. Last year, Sutak who says he has no first name ("The boys call me Jack") earned a trial in pro baseball on his ability to curve goobers.

Sutak is known throughout the Rocky mountain section as being a real showman. He attended Colorado college, finished school and now operates a thriving peanut business in Denver. He was an all-conference baseball player at a Colorado college and played center field.

Sutak will be here for the Cotton Bowl Classic between the University of Colorado and Rice Institute on New Year's Day. He wrote the bowl association, asked for a job peddling peanuts and officials hurriedly advised the champion he was as good as hired. Sutak plans to work on one of the special trains but by game time, he'll be ready to show Texas grid fans he's the best peanut vendor in the nation just as "Whizzer" White is the best backfield man.

Sutak (Sutak--two sacks, no sales tax-- with Sutax) takes his business seriously and knows that showmanship is worth its weight in gold. He changes costumes three times during a game and his voice can be heard above those of all other vendors. But he prides himself on his curve and would have you think that Detroit scout signed him after seeing him toss a sack of peanuts instead of playing the outfield for the Colorado college nine.

Barnum and Bailey lost something when they let Sutak get away.

NO. 6—Continued From Page One

came the center of attraction. Diana and Sara took a look at the White House chimney. Sara had been nervous lest Santa couldn't get in.

Reads Carol
The President chose bright and simple bits of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" to read to the little girls before they ate their early supper, hung up their biggest stockings and were rushed off to bed.

Their going to bed gave the grownups a chance to listen quietly while the President read the entire carol.

Among the listeners were Franklin Roosevelt Jr., and his bride, the former Ethel Du Pont; Harry Hooker of New York, the President's former law partner; Hall Roosevelt, brother of the first lady; the President's sons, John, home from Harvard, and James, with his wife, Betsy; Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, the executive's mother, and Mr. J. R. Roosevelt, his half sister-in-law.

Early Christmas, the President's grandchildren and their guest, Diana, will awaken the President for a peek into their stockings, hung alongside those of the grownups on his bedroom mantel.

After breakfast the entire family will ride to the Church of the Covenant for an inter-denominational service.

The Children's Christmas dinner will be at noon, before the family gathers at an eight-foot candle-tipped tree in the east hall to open presents and read greetings.

The President will pay special attention to the greeting cards. For years, he has collected those which express the spirit of the times, and keeps a veritable Christmas card history in huge boxes upstairs. Names will be removed from those he doesn't keep and they will be sent to children's hospitals.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt

Jr. will leave for Wilmington, Del., in the afternoon to have dinner tomorrow night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Du Pont.

The climax of the White House celebration will be the dinner at 7:30 p. m. The President will carve a huge turkey, from the government-aided community at Ardendale, W. Va. Sleep while your want-ad works.

Once Again

May your Christmas be a merrier one... and your New Year a happier one... during which we may continue to enjoy the privilege of serving you well.

MCCARLEY'S
Jewelry
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING

JOLLY GOOD WISHES for CHRISTMAS and the
NEW YEAR

Bob Knox Service

ONLY 4 DAYS

MONDAY
TUESDAY WEDNESDAY
THURSDAY
DEC. 27 TO 30

TEXAS FURNITURE'S BIG PRE-MARKET SALE!

4 BIG MERCHANDISE-MOVING DAYS CLIMAXING ONE OF OUR BIGGEST AND BEST YEARS

No Leaders---Every Item in the House is Marked Down!

... and it's marked down plenty to make you and you and you take these furniture items off our hands so that we will have room to stock the merchandise that our buyer is planning on bringing back with him from market. . . If there's any item in your home that may need replacing soon, or an item that is missing from your room, don't fail to take advantage of the new low prices.

TEXAS FURNITURE CO.

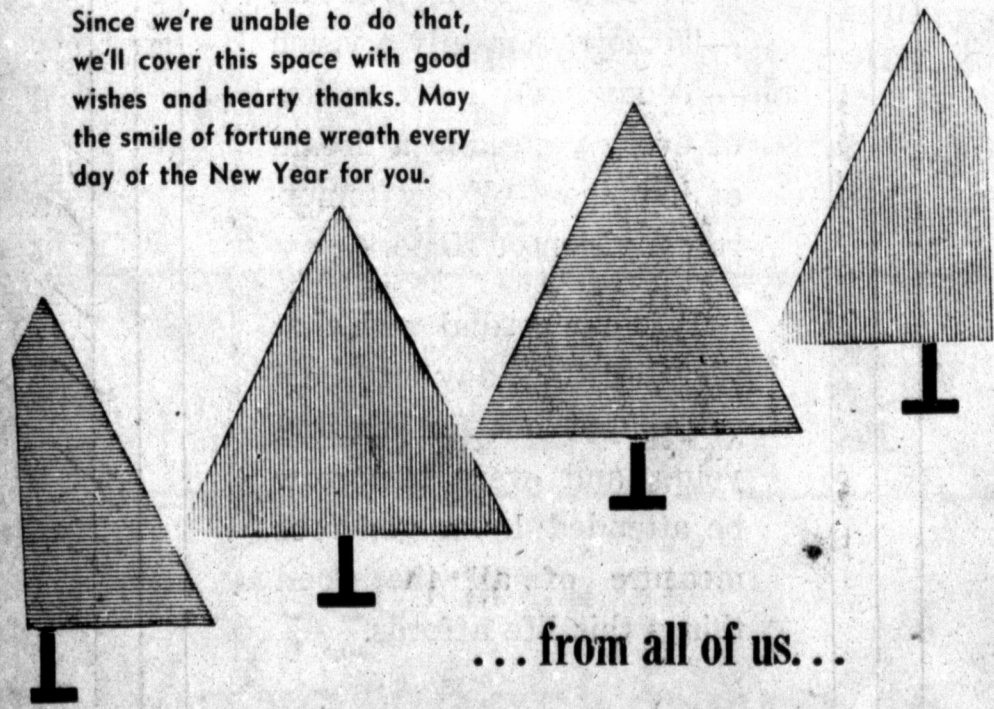

210-12 N. Cuyler

GUY E. McTAGGART, Mgr.

Phone 607

We'd Like to Fill a Forest of Christmas Trees with Gifts for You and Yours . . .

Since we're unable to do that, we'll cover this space with good wishes and hearty thanks. May the smile of fortune wreath every day of the New Year for you.

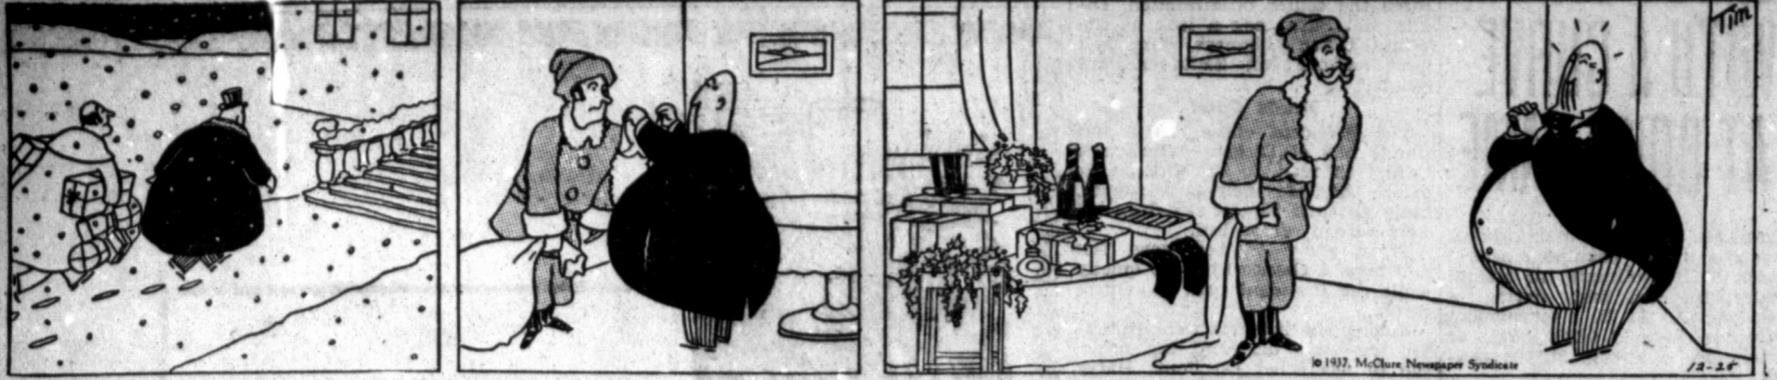

... from all of us...

Jack Helm
Otto Rice
Joy Enloe
Mrs. George Casey

Mary McCormick
Patricia Morgan
Mrs. Spears
A. W. Nicholson, Mgr.

L.T. HILL COMPANY
Better Department Stores

THE BOSS

FOR A PERFECT TRIP
To the Next Town Or Across America

DESTINATION	LEAVES PAMPA	Round Trip Daily
Oklahoma City	9:40 a. m. and 4:15 p. m.	McLean to Sunray
Elk	12:00 p. m.	Leaves McLean
Dallas	11:00 a. m., 2:45 p. m. and 7:00 p. m. via Amarillo	6:45 A. M.
		Leaves Leno
		8:15 A. M.
		Arrives Sunray
		11:30 A. M.
		Leaves Sunray
		12:45 P. M.
		Leaves Pampa
		7:00 P. M.

Five Round Trips Daily to Amarillo and Borger

Pampa Bus Terminal
PHONE 871

LOYALISTS IN NEW VICTORY

HENDAYE Franco - Spanish Frontier, Dec. 24 (AP)—The Spanish Government declared tonight its forces had destroyed the last insurgent defenders to Teruel and hailed the victory as the first in a "final drive" to crush insurrection throughout Spain.

But the insurgents, flatly denying the few hundred of their comrades remaining in Teruel had been annihilated, massed reinforcements to recapture the strategic city at the southernmost tip of the Aragon front.

An army of 40,000 men commanded by General Miguel Aranda, insurgent chief in Southern Aragon, was concentrated northwest of Teruel ready to participate in an encircling movement already started against government troops holding the city, insurgent high command announced.

Heavy snow had hampered movements of General Aranda's army, but it was said to be ready for action.

Government dispatches told of capturing the last insurgent strongholds within Teruel—held by about 400 men—after blasting them with hand grenades. A large number of prisoners were reported taken in final assaults on a seminary, a cathedral, the bank of Spain building, the Civil Governor's Palace and a barracks.

Government sources declared 600 prisoners were taken when government troops stormed and captured insurgent positions at Masoto, in the suburbs of Teruel.

1,000 Prisoners Taken
 Clean-up operations continued around the city and the conquerors were estimated to have taken more than 1,000 prisoners in scattered engagements.

More than 6,000 Insurgents who

NO. 8-- Continued From Page One

of prizes were $10, $5 and $2.50 in each division.

The Pampa Garden club joined the Jaycees in the program by offering prizes for the best lighted outdoor trees. It will be an annual event. This year's prizes were $3 for first place and $2 for second place.

J. E. Murfee was awarded the first prize with second place going to James E. Lyons.

Judges had to make two rounds of the city before awarding the prizes, so many beautiful trees were judged.

In the show window division of the Christmas decoration contest, all of the winners and the two stores that received honorable mention were stores located on Cuyler.

The first place winner and the two stores given honorable mention are all located in the 300 block on South Cuyler, while the second and third place winners were stores located on North Cuyler. Ribbons will be awarded the winners.

Winners, announced Friday night, were: First, Dille Bakeries, 308 South Cuyler; second, L. T. Hill Co., 213 North Cuyler; third, Violet Shoppe, 108 North Cuyler; honorable mention, Wilson Drug store, 300 South Cuyler; Lewis Hardware Co., 322 South Cuyler.

COTTON TAKES BACK SEAT TO OIL IN 1937

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS

HOUSTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Cotton took a back seat to oil in 1937 as Texas' chief export commodity.

The seven major Texas ports—Houston, Galveston, Texas City, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Corpus Christi and Brownsville—closed the year far ahead of last year's total tonnage.

Houston led the state in tonnage, taking rank near the top of the nation's list of major ports. Galveston led the world in cotton exports.

Warehouses and docks bulged with commodities at the end of the year. All Texas ports anticipated expansion programs that include more docks, warehouses, compresses and additional facilities.

Port Arthur closed the season with a 10.72 percent increase in tonnage over 1936 to lead all other Texas ports. Exports for the calendar year were well above the million bale mark. Receipts late in December were 1,431,420 bales.

Construction had been started by the Galveston Wharf company on a $250,000 banana wharf for use of the United Fruit company. The Todd Galveston Dry Docks, Inc., plant on Pelican Spit, across the Channel from Galveston, had an active year. Mayor Adrian P. Levy said New York officials of the Dry Dock company planned to expand the dry docks early in 1938.

Beaumont's municipal port tonnage, exclusive of 15,000,000 tons of oil products, spurted from 220,193 short tons in 1936 to 335,000 tons for 1937. The cotton movement at Beaumont showed a decline during the first 11 months with 11,289 bales having been moved as compared to 13,763 bales last year.

Scrap iron tonnage at Beaumont amounted to 70,760 tons, more than double the tonnage of last year. Flour, most of which moved coastwise, totaled above the 70,000 ton mark.

A shipside warehouse and a barge terminal costing $400,000 were under construction at Beaumont late in the year.

At Texas City, oil, scrap iron and cotton were the major exports. Port Arthur and Corpus Christi moved heavy tonnage all season. Corpus Christi had a $25,000 oil dock under construction.

Brownsville, newest of Texas ports, had a building boom on with John A. Hastings interests erecting a $250,000 warehouse and compress and installation by the American Processing corporation of a $100,000 processing plant.

The Brownsville navigation district built a wharf 450 feet long and a transfer shed. No cotton was exported by Brownsville in 1937.

Christmas with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger, arrived from Portland this morning.

The two grandchildren, Curtis and Stetie Dell, children of Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, had the first call on the time and attention of Mrs. Roosevelt.

The father of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow disapproved of his son becoming a man of letters.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

Is our Sincere Wish for all our Friends and Customers. We appreciate your trading with us this year. Your patronage makes our business possible.

HUBER FRUIT MARKET
413 S. Cuyler

JOYOUS NOEL

In just a few plain words and with all sincerity, we wish to express the season's greetings, and to thank you for your patronage.

EADS POULTRY & EGG
124 S. Frost Phone 1320

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

Let Us Take This Golden Moment To Hope for You and Yours A Real Old-Fashioned Christmas

CONTINENTAL OIL CO.
Wholesale Agent
F. D. KEIM

GREETINGS

WHEN YOU BUY INDIAN, YOU'LL KNOW IT NOW.

GALLUP, N. M. (AP)—Tags are to be used on Indian works of art to assure purchasers they are genuine Indian handiwork.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes has just approved a plan which Indian officials say is necessary to eliminate "undesirable" products from the market.

The tags will certify that the article was made of Indian produced materials, by Indian workers on traditional Indian implements.

Trade in Indian goods totals hundreds of thousands of dollars annually.

CHOIR BOY WILL SING DESPITE BLACK SHINER

ROPEVILLE, Hockley County, Dec. 24.—(AP)—James P. Williams, manager, announces harvesting of the 2,500 acres of cotton on the Ropesville community project of the farm credit administration here is about three-fourths completed. Nearly 900 bales, he says, have been ginned.

Williams says the cotton is long staple and from certified seed. Farmers on the project expect to plant about the same acreage next year. The grain sorghum crop, now being threshed, is yielding 1,500 or more pounds of heads per acre, Williams says.

THREE KILLED IN TRUCK, CAR CRASH

SALINAS, Calif., Dec. 24.—(AP)—Three persons were killed today when an automobile laden with Christmas presents collided head-on with a truck near here.

The dead: William Formay, Jr., 17, L. O. S. Altos.

Mrs. Miles A. Sharkey, 58, Redwood City.

Miles A. Sharkey, 60, Redwood City.

The dead boy's father, William Formay, Sr., 41, suffered severe head injuries.

About 2,200,000 people in England or one-twentieth of the population, pay income taxes.

If the land in the United States proper were divided equally among its inhabitants, each person would get 18 acres.

NOEL

To All of Our Friends We Wish

A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

WHITE WAY DRIVE INN

MRS. ROOSEVELT HELPS IN DECORATING TREE

SEATTLE, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt reached Seattle today with only one pressing engagement—to help her two grandchildren decorate a Christmas tree.

The nation's First Lady, who sped across country from Washington, D. C., by plane and train to spend

A Simple Wish

MERRY CHRISTMAS and HAPPY NEW YEAR

From Us to You

C. B. GLOAR
MOTOR CO.

208 N. Russell Phone 608

A MERRY XMAS

We wish the best of everything at all times. Now we wish you

A Very Merry Christmas And Happy New Year

Jeff Bearden
INSURANCE

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

... for a real, old-fashioned Christmas

FRANK HILL Great National Life Insurance Company Dallas, Texas

OTIS H. DOLLAR Local Offices 119 N. Frost Phone 772

H. C. BERRY

To Our Friends - -

Yesterday is only a dream—Tomorrow is only a vision—Today well lived makes of every yesterday a dream of happiness—Every tomorrow a vision of Hope.

It is our cordial wish that this Christmas day may be a very happy one for you and yours, and every tomorrow be attended by a generous measure of all the good things this life affords.

Foxworth - Galbraith Lumber Company

A Christmas Message to Franklin D. Roosevelt

SOME two thousand years ago The Man of Nazareth set out as His simple principles for living—FAITH, HOPE, and CHARITY. "These three," said His Apostle, "but the greatest of these is CHARITY."

On this Christmas Day we feel that we should give thanks to the Almighty that your life has always exemplified these Christian principles of FAITH, HOPE and CHARITY.

To the thousands who without your example would have had wrecked lives, you have shown that FAITH can surmount seemingly impossible obstacles.

To countless more with crippled, twisted bodies, you have given the HOPE to win their own fight back to health.

President Roosevelt's Statement
 Announcing A New National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis

The general purpose of the new foundation will be to lead, direct, and unify the fight on every phase of this sickness. It will make every effort to ensure that every responsible research agency in this country is adequately financed to carry on investigations into the cause of infantile paralysis and the methods by which it may be prevented. It will endeavor to eliminate much of the needless after-effect of this disease—wreckage caused by the failure to make early and accurate diagnosis of its presence.

We all know that improper care during the acute stage of the disease, and the use of antiquated treatment, or downright neglect of any treatment, are the cause of thousands of crippled, twisted, powerless bodies now. Much can be done along these lines right now.

The new foundation will carry on a broad-gauged educational campaign, prepared under expert medical supervision, and this will be placed within the reach of the doctors and the hospitals of the country.

The practicing physician is in reality the front line fighter of the sickness, and there is much existing valuable knowledge that should be disseminated to him.

And then there is also the tremendous problem as to what is to be done with those hundreds of thousands already ruined by the after-effects of this affliction. To investigate, to study, to develop every medical possibility of enabling those so afflicted to become economically independent in their local communities will be one of the chief aims of the new foundation.

Those who today are fortunate in being in full possession of their muscular power naturally do not understand what it means to a human being paralyzed by this disease to have that powerlessness lifted even to a small degree. It means the difference between a human being dependent on others, and an individual who can be wholly independent. The public has little conception of the patience and time and expense necessary to accomplish such results. But the results are of the utmost importance to the individual.

*From The New York Times
 September 23, 1937*

To every citizen of the United States you have shown the example of CHARITY, by giving lavishly of your time, your thought, your purse in the endless fight against Infantile Paralysis. You have brought cheer and happiness and sunshine to the bed-ridden throughout the land.

To our fellow citizens on this happy Christmas Holiday we say—Honor this day in true American fashion by joining Franklin D. Roosevelt as a Founder in the new national Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Please "do your bit." Send $1 or more if you can afford to do it. We believe in after years you may say with a million others that it was the best investment you ever made—to ensure protection to happy childhood—and to help those now afflicted with that dread disease—Infantile Paralysis!

Please make checks or money orders payable to Keith Morgan, Chairman, 50 East 42nd Street, New York. Every Penny... 100% of what you give will go directly to the new national Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday

KEITH MORGAN, Chairman • GEORGE E. ALLEN • WALTER J. CUMMINGS • MARSHALL FIELD • FRED J. FISHER • EDSSEL B. FORD • W. AVERELL HARRIMAN • S. CLAY WILLIAMS

HEADQUARTERS: 50 EAST 42ND STREET, NEW YORK

This Christmas page is sponsored by
 J. R. ROBY M. P. DOWNS JOHN HAGGARD W. B. WEATHERED EARL TALLEY MIRIAM WILSON F. E. LEECH SILER FAULKNER C. M. JEFFRIES
 J. H. BUCKINGHAM CHARLIE THUT C. H. WALKER PAUL CLIFFORD to assist the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday and the national Infantile Paralysis Foundation.

GREETINGS
 To Our CUSTOMERS
 And FRIENDS

It is only natural that our thoughts should go out at this season to those who have helped so materially in the building of these three great Pampa Institutions. To all of you, therefore, our customers and other friends, we extend the sincere appreciation for past favors and hope to continue serving you in years to come. All of our Officers, Directors, and Employees hope that you, and those whose happiness is yours, may have a Christmas of whole-souled joy and a New Year of prosperity and peace.

PANHANDLE
Insurance Agency
 PAMPA, TEXAS

SOUTHWESTERN
Investment Company
 PAMPA, TEXAS

FIRST FEDERAL Savings & Loan Ass'n
 PAMPA, TEXAS

LEFTIST PLAY, 'CRADLE WILL ROCK,' PRAISED BY CRITICS

By GEORGE ROSS
 NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—Some years ago, Clifford Odets woke to find that his play, "Waiting for Lefty" had made him overnight. Well, Broadway has heard thunder on the left once more and again the bolt is not out of the blue but out of the rebel skies of red.

The new man of the hour is a young author-composer named Marc Blitzstein whose "The Cradle Will Rock" evoked, when it was presented at the Mercury Theater, the most effusive bravos the theater has been accorded this year.

The reviewers, for the most part, did not spare the adjectives, and "The Cradle Will Rock," like "Waiting for Lefty," became the dark horse sensation of the Rialto the morning after.

Marc Blitzstein is a social-conscious writer of prose, verse and music. The Mercury Theater is a group which brought Broadway to its feet and unconditional surrender a couple of weeks ago with a trenchant performance of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar." Having a Sunday night free, its players decided to keep busy with the Blitzstein opus and being equally unoccupied, the critics used a Sabbath night to see it, without a single evocation of regret.

Rocky Road for "Cradle"
 "The Cradle Will Rock" has had a violent history. Originally scheduled by the Federal Theater in New York, it was cancelled by an administrative decree, allegedly because it was too red.

So it has been lying around dormant since last summer, waiting to be rendered under private auspices. Author - Composer Blitzstein, (like Odets, an erstwhile Philadelphian), finally found his haven at the Mercury.

It is an exciting evening of theater, whether or not you hold with its clearly expounded prejudices. It employs no scenery. The scene is a courtroom, through your imagination will have to picture one, and the locale is Steeltown, where labor is having an altercation with the bosses.

Blitzstein, presiding from a piano keyboard, plays the entire score—a remarkably versatile one—for 2½ hours. And a company of actors sit around the stage, waiting for their cues to rise and execute their lines and musical numbers. The theater seldom has seen so unorthodox a notion come off so stirringly.

Apparently, the commercial managers think as much about the success of "The Cradle Will Rock." Already there is a campaign to move this fighting operetta out of the limited confines of the Mercury Theater, where it can be given only once a week, and set it up as a regular attraction on Broadway.

Speed limits have been abolished on the rural highways of 22 states as a means of facilitating travel. Speed trap operations have diminished accordingly.

DON'TS FOR CHRISTMAS SAFETY BY FIRE CHIEF

AUSTIN, Dec. 24. (AP)—The joy that's unusually associated with the Yuletide season might be interrupted by fire, a greater than usual hazard at Christmas time, warns Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner.

To protect against accidental fires he recommends the following don'ts:

Decorate evergreen trees with highly inflammable materials. Place cotton or lighted candles on Christmas trees.

Smoke or get near a flame when wearing a cotton a Santa Claus beard.

Place a lighted candle in a window near curtains.

Allow small children to handle fireworks.

Use pennies or wire to replace blown out electric fuses.

Use kerosene or gasoline to start or quicken a fire.

Permit children and other members of the family to get too near stoves or open fire places.

AUDITOR QUIBBLES ON DEFINING OF RADIUM

HOUSTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Debate whether radium is hospital equipment or medicine has been settled.

Radium is hospital equipment in this county.

The question arose when Harris county was asked to pay its proportion of the cost of $30,000 worth of radium for the new municipal-county charity hospital.

The county has agreed to bear its portion of the cost of equipping the hospital but the city must furnish the medical supplies.

Before approving the bill, County Auditor H. L. Washburn asked his attorney to give him the legal definition of "equip."

The attorney, Ernest A. Knipp, turned conveniently to the dictionary and found that equip means:

"To furnish for service. . . to supply with whatever is necessary to efficient action in any way."

That settled the question for the auditor. He approved a check for the county's portion of the radium cost, $10,000.

BOUGHT FIRST STOVE
 HILLSBORO, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Jim Cauble, 93, who died here recently, was a native of McClennan county and reputed to have bought the first stove used in that county. Cauble was the last survivor of his company in the Confederate army and in the early days often fought with the Texas Rangers to control the Indians. He never belonged to the force, however.

Co lorado Linemen Limber Up in Texas

Colorado university's Buffaloes worked out journey kinks on a sunny Texas Christian university gridiron at Fort Worth after their trip from Denver. The Buffaloes are in training at Fort Worth for the New Year's Cotton Bowl game with Rice Institute at Dallas.

JA RANCH COWBOY-MECHANIC COVERED PLENTY OF GROUND

AMARILLO, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Dennis ("Red") Clampett says he prefers "forkin' a cow pony" at $30 a month "and found" at the famous JA Ranch in Armstrong county to a mechanic's job at many times that wage.

Born in Ireland and trained to be a master mechanic, Clampett's planned career was changed through circumstances to that of a "ramblin'" cowboy. The world war was the first interruption and, after returned from their front where he served with the British expeditionary force, he found Ireland in turmoil and went to Canada in 1920.

Working cattle in the western provinces opened a new career and in the succeeding years he came to know nearly every range from Canada to the Rio Grande, traveling on horseback with a pack animal. Five years ago he came to Vega in Oldham county and obtained there a Spanish-Arabian pony, "Center Man," which carried him on a three-year 3,500 mile journey through the southwest and back to the JA Ranch in the Panhandle where he remained.

Once, at least, his mechanical training was surprisingly demonstrated.

Machinery of the water works at Silverton, Briscoe county, broke down and the town council was preparing to send to Amarillo for a mechanic when one member suggested there was a cowboy "down below the rim" who could do the work. When Clampett finished the job and presented his bill the mayor exclaimed: "Why, man, we could have had a master mechanic from Amarillo for this sum!" Clampett produced his union card, received payment and left for the open spaces of the JA domain.

24 WORDS WERE USED - THEY ALL MEANT 'NO.'

CHICAGO (AP)—An old negro stood at a desk or the Chicago relief agency with a letter in his hand and said:

"I been writin' and writin' about getting me some clothes and all I gets is dis letter which doan answer me nothin'."

The letter read:

"Your request for clothing has been noted. Regret to advise that due to paucity of funds it cannot be met at the present time."

When "paucity" was explained as "scarcity" and "lack of funds" as "no money," the applicant left mumbling: "Why doan you jes say 'no?'"

Hawks, Armadillos Enemies of Quail

SAN ANGELO, Dec. 24.—(AP)—F. L. Craddock, president of the San Angelo bobwhite club, disagrees with Government observers and some bird societies that hawks and Armadillos are not harmful to wildlife, especially quail.

He says he has seen hawks catch quail and armadillos root up quail nests. The burrowing reptile isn't a nest robber, he says, but destroys homes of birds by tearing them up looking for termites. Craddock lists the marauding housecat one of the worst enemies of quail, with skunks and snakes among the most active destroyers.

More extensive cover resulted in a bigger quail crops throughout this section this year, Craddock says, and the shooting is better than in several seasons.

January 2 will mark not only the 89th birthday of T. U. Taylor, Dean emeritus of the University of Texas College of Engineering, but also observance of the 50th anniversary of his appointment to the university faculty. A dinner in his honor will be given at Dallas.

A Very Merry Christmas

and a
New Year Full of Happiness

Is the Sincere Wish of All the Bunch at the
F. E. HOFFMAN'S
One Stop Station

Firestone

Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires will continue during 1938, to be masterpieces of construction - - and will continue to provide a genuine Firestone for every purpose.

We appreciate your business during the past year and will continue to give the kind of service that merits your business.

DALE HUGHEY HAROLD BEEDLE—BUDGET DEPT. JIMMIE BELL
 PRICE CHAPMAN—HUMBLE OIL RAY DORMAN GLOYD ROBISON
 MR. AND MRS. F. E. (SHORTY) HOFFMAN

F. E. HOFFMAN'S SERVICE STATION

403 WEST FOSTER PHONE 100

- ★ Health
- ★ Happiness
- ★ Prosperity

Worley Hospital

- ★
- ★
- ★

1937 BANNER YEAR FOR THE OIL INDUSTRY

By ALFRED WALL.
TULSA, Okla., Dec. 24. (AP)— Don't shout it too loudly, but 1937 is going down as a banner year for the petroleum industry.

There were those last quarter jitters, it is true, brought on by the business recession, but, by and large, Christmas week finds most oil men agreed their stockings are pretty generously filled.

Some call it the best year since 1929, surpassing even the tremendous strides made in 1936. Others hold up a warning finger against too much optimism at this point.

Off to a good start at the year's beginning, the business boomed along through the unprecedented summer consumption season and achieved sufficient to carry it handily over the slump of the last three months.

Bonuses may not be quite so numerous nor dividends quite so big as last year but most authoritative opinion is that petroleum in 1937 finished strong.

Year of Records.
 Axtell J. Byles, president of the American Petroleum Institute, called it a year of new records and outstanding also in the orderliness that accompanied unprecedented activity.

The API head noted an estimated domestic all-time peak production of crude oil of 1,250,000,000 barrels as against 1,098,516,000 last year; 30,000,000 motorists consumed 22,000,000,000 gallons of motor fuel, enough to drive their cars an aggregate of 330,000,000,000 miles, or about 80,000,000 miles farther than the estimated travel in 1931, the pre-depression peak year for highway travel.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines estimated consumption of petroleum products in the United States at 11 per cent higher than last year, the previous peak.

As the year opened major companies failed to follow Continental's lead of a 17-cent-a-barrel horizontal price increase for crude but after some confusion a basic increase of about 12 cents resulted. Local oversupply in the East brought crude cuts late in the year. The mid-continent held firm.

Gas Prices Weaken.
 Gasoline prices weakened after the biggest summer motoring season in history, and the current tank car or wholesale price of gasoline was estimated about a cent below that of six months previous.

Faced with more than usual diminished demand in the fall and early winter, producers and refiners got together with state regulatory bodies and cut back operations to bring the business through the year in what the experts called a sound statistical position.

While use of residual fuels in big industries declined as business slackened, the call for burning oils for domestic furnaces was bigger than ever.

Throughout the year the big plant of the oil man, be he producer, refiner, marketer, lease broker, royalty dealer, was that prices for petroleum products basically had not kept pace with costs of operation.

Like business men in other lines, oil men fussed about their tax burden, hoped Congress would do something about it.

The API declared reductions in gasoline prices, totaling 50 per cent since 1920, had saved U. S. motorists $2,000,000,000 in 1937 alone.

Estimates of wells completed ranged in the neighborhood of 32, 500, about 7,000 more than the year before.

Wells productive of oil or gas were about 26,000. Most of the production was in the extension of previously proven areas. Major "plays" occurred in southern Illinois, Kansas, the Gulf Coast and late in the year in the K. M. A. district of North Texas.

TEXAS DUCKS SHIPPED TO FOR AT WASHINGTON

ORANGE, Dec. 24. (AP)—President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Vice President John Nance Garner will have opportunity to eat wild ducks shot in this area.

Charles Michaelson, publicity director of the National Democratic Committee; Baldwin Bane, director of the registration bureau of the Security Exchange Commission, and Ralph F. Scott, connected with the attorney general's department in the administration of President Woodrow Wilson, hunted recently at the Coastal club as guests of the president, Morgan W. Walker of Alexandria, La.

Before starting another hunting trip as guests of H. J. Litcher Stark on the Stark reserve south of the government sanctuary, a selection of the ducks brought down by the guns of the trio at the Coastal club were shipped to the capital for the President and Vice President.

Open air is clean compared to house air, which is contaminated with dust, mould and microbes.

Less than half of the Orkney islands off the Scottish coast are inhabited.

Katharine Cornell was born of American parents in Berlin, Germany.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

Violet Gher
 Ola Nellis
 Bessie Stone
 Mrs. Lizzie Eshelman
 Willa Bonds
 Edna Snelling

Wishing you a Christmas of Good Cheer, and a New Year filled with Happiness.

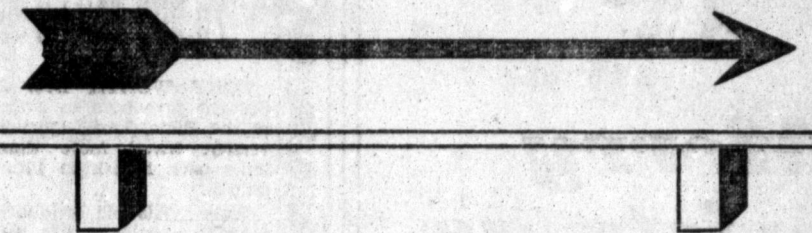

And thanking you sincerely for your loyal relationship with this firm and its personnel.

The Violet Shoppe

Another Milestone . . .

CHRISTMAS AND THE NEW YEAR

WE Pause in our furious pace to celebrate another Yuletide Season, and we reach another milestone in our journey through life. Perhaps the traveling has not always been as easy and free from worries as we would have it. Yet in looking back over the route we have chosen, we are reminded of innumerable deeds and kind words from our friends that have been of particular benefit.

AS We ponder, we can see many, many instances that have made the going just a little easier. And it is in appreciation of these kindnesses that we take advantage of the Christmas Season to tell you that we have not forgotten. The confidence you have bestowed in us will make us strive just a little harder, that we may come up to your expectations of us.

Good Wishes for You, Your Family, Your Friends . . . Our Friends

HARRIS FOOD STORES

322
 W. Kingsmill

"Better Foods for Less Money"

306
 S. Cuyler

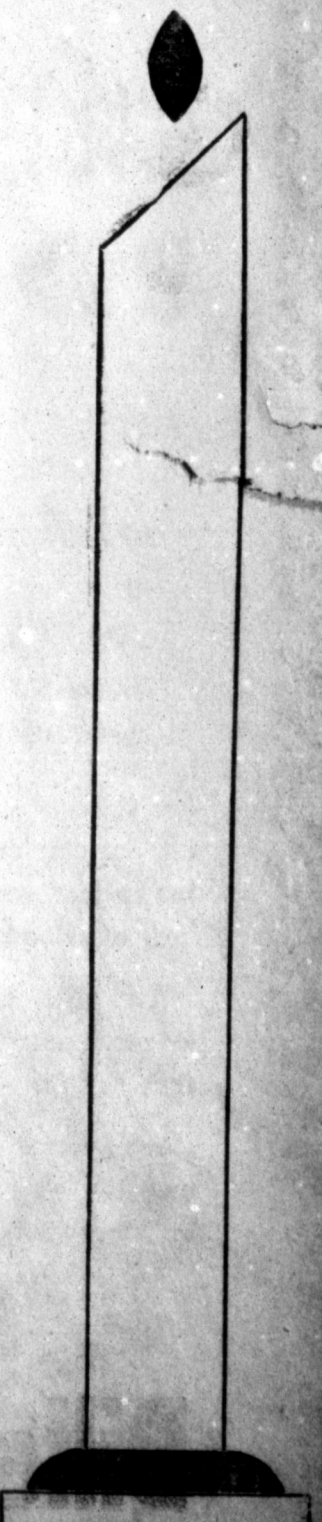

In Appreciation

THE Cordial relation between us inspires the hearty wish that your Christmas will be joyful and that the New Year will hold for you a gratifying measure of happiness and contentment. To say Merry Christmas and Happy New Year is to use a time worn phrase, yet after each year of associations its meaning reaches deeper into the hearts of friends.

The Yuletide Season offers a magnificent opportunity for us to express our heartfelt appreciation of all the fine things that have been ours to enjoy during the past year, chief among which is the splendid patronage that you have given us. Your consideration has made it possible for this firm to have a successful year from the standpoint of material gain, of growth and service, of acquisition of new and valued associations and of maintenance of old friendships. It will be our purpose to merit continued good will in the years to come.

CENTRAL STATES POWER & LIGHT CORP.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

MEERSCHAUM DEPOSIT FOUND NEAR UVALDE; DEVELOPMENT PLANNED

AUSTIN, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Solidified sea foam—meerschaum which makes the finest pipes has been discovered in good-sized deposits near Uvalde.

The state planning board's mineral resources committee says Texas might threaten Turkey's monopoly on sepiolite if the deposits, within sight of Vice President John N. Garner's home, were developed. Mineralogists estimate there is enough to keep the world supplied with pipes the next 100 years.

Sepiolite was not the only mineral found by the committee in a recent state-wide survey. Vermiculite was discovered near Llano.

Resembling mica in its raw state, vermiculite makes ideal insulation, the committee said, for ice boxes and hot water heaters. Exposed to low heats, it expands to 27 times its original volume and assumes the lightness and toughness of cork.

The board's mineralogists say a few kernels of treated vermiculite dropped into the head of a worn automobile engine gives the motor a new lease on life by sealing the gaps between the piston rings and cylinder walls.

Probing the state's treasure vaults the committee came across another prized mineral—wool clay, used in insulating buildings. When treated, it is claimed the clay becomes a glassy fibre and can be forced between the walls of buildings through high pressure hoses. It also can be pressed into sheets.

While no attempt has been made to commercialize the Texas deposits, two plants in the state manufacture insulating material from wool clay with raw products imported from Missouri.

Another mineral found in large quantities is serpentine, which, the mineralogists say, has value as roofing rap or filler. Several roofing paper manufacturers are experimenting with it as a substitute for slate chips.

TEXAS TO HAVE $18,600,000 TO BEGIN PAYING JOBLESS PENSIONS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Texas, twenty other states and the District of Columbia will begin paying next month's benefits to workers during periods of involuntary unemployment and the social security board said today the state would have $18,600,000 in its fund set aside for that purpose January 1.

The board estimated the state's unemployment laws covered 708,000 workers.

The Texas unemployment trust fund was built up over the last two years through contributions from employers. It is deposited in the United States treasury to the credit of the state which can draw upon it only to pay benefits to eligible workers.

Its laws provide a maximum payment of $15 a week and a minimum of $5 or three fourths of the workers usual wage.

Under the Texas program a worker is eligible to receive the benefits two weeks after he has registered for reemployment and applied for the benefits. If the state does not find him another job in two weeks it will begin paying him the benefits at the end of that time.

The board urged workers to file requests for employment promptly upon losing a job and at the same time file application for the unemployment benefits. It said if the worker delays in filing for reemployment he would delay his receipt of the benefits. The payments continue until the worker has received 16 times the weekly benefit based upon his previous earnings or until he finds a new job.

Wisconsin began paying unemployment insurance more than a year ago and eight additional states, bringing the total to thirty, will start them later in 1938. The board said every state and territory would have the unemployment insurance in operation by July, 1939.

It estimated that Wisconsin, District of Columbia and the twenty-one new states would have $440,000,000 in their unemployment trust funds by Jan. 1, and their laws would cover 11,568,000 workers.

The board issued instructions to workers today telling them how to go about getting their benefits. These instructions read:

1. Each worker should have a social security account number. In most cases he will have this, for it is the same number he received from the social security board when registering for old-age insurance. If he happens to have been working at a job which is covered by the state unemployment compensation law, but not by the federal old-age insurance plan, he should have an account number, nevertheless. He should apply for it at once, getting his application blank from the nearest field office of the social security board, or from the post office if there is no board office in his community, and returning it to the field office. The number, with his name, is necessary to identify his wage record, and to credit him with the wages on which his future benefits will be based.

2. When he loses his job, he should register promptly at the nearest public employment office. He registers for work and at the same time files a claim for benefits, in case he does not get work, giving his own name, address, and account number.

3. After registering at the employment office he must report back there as often as the regulations of his state require.

4. His claim for unemployment benefits must be examined and approved.

BORDER TOWNS WANT HIGHWAY TO MATAMORAS

BROWNSVILLE, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Citizens of the lower Rio Grande Valley and northern Mexico have turned their attention to the construction of the Matamoros-Victoria highway since completion of highway No. 96 through Kenedy county to the Rio Grande appears virtually assured. Building of these sections would be important contributions to a contemplated international highway to Mexico City by way of Brownsville, advocates of the route say.

Gen. Francisco J. Mujica, secretary of communications and public works in Mexico, said here recently a large force of men would be employed on the Matamoros-Victoria road in 1938. Much of the engineering work has been done.

Sid Kring of Harlingen has suggested on behalf of Valley Civic Organization that governors of the Mexican states of Tamaulipas and Nuevo Leon, bordering this section, be invited to meet Governor James V. Allred here to discuss highway construction. The suggestion was prompted by a proposal of Ralph Agar, county tax assessor-collector, for a scenic highway loop in northern Mexico, probably to be named the Arrowhead Highway.

Such a roadway would run from Brownsville to Victoria, thence northwest to Monterrey, northeast to Reynosa and McAllen, a road through the valley cities to Brownsville.

A broad plan for highway improvement in northern Mexico calls for connections from Matamoros and Reynosa on the proposed highway to Victoria to permit tourists to enter Mexico through McAllen or Brownsville.

The present highway from Monterrey to Victoria was paved several years ago, and that from Reynosa to Monterrey improved.

A highway by way of Brownsville and Victoria would shorten the present distance between Chicago and Mexico City over paved roadway more than 450 miles.

PORT ARTHUR, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Within a few blocks of the business center of Port Arthur, a trapper is profiting from his observation.

Marion Aquilina sets out at 6:30 a. m. daily to make the round of 22 traps set on the pleasure pier spoil bank within sound of the city's marts. Muskrats are his chief catch and since the season opened the middle of November he has snared 72 and one mink. Muskrat pelts bringing 80 cents each and mink from $9 to $12, he expects to earn more than $168 last season.

Aquilina was taking his daily walk in September, 1936, when he discovered fur at the city's gate. "I frequently tramp for hours in the fields," he said, "but on this occasion I turned south along the marsh rim after reaching pleasure pier, and within a few feet I found four muskrat nests. Usually there are 15 to 20 rats in each nest." The spoil bank, thrown up by the dredging of the Sabine-Neches waterway, is a favorite recreation center for Port Arthur citizens.

News Want-Ads Get Results

STUDENT PASTORS GO 25,000 MILES MONTH

PORT WORTH, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Student preachers in Brite College of the Bible, Texas Christian University, travel more than 25,000 miles each month in filling Texas pulpits.

Walter Griswold, graduate student from New Orleans, has the longest week-end journey, some 650 miles from Fort Worth to Tulsa and return.

Many of the more advanced ministerial students are married and often are accompanied, by their wives.

"I enjoy the Sunday trip," says Mrs. Floyd Leggett, whose husband preaches on alternate weeks at Italy, Lucas, and Frisco. "After the grind of the week's studying, it is a relaxation to do our church work."

Work of the student preachers is in charge of the Rev. Patrik Henry, secretary of the Texas Christian Missionary Society, with headquarters in Fort Worth.

"This is the method in which the students gain experience in their chosen work," he explains. "It is the laboratory in which their theories are tried out."

Twenty-eight students are preaching in 40 Christian churches of Texas the present school year, Henry said.

FROGS WRITE MARCH FOR AMON G. CARTER

PORT WORTH, Dec. 24.—(AP)—The "Amon G. Carter March," composed by Director Don Gillis, is a new piece in the repertoire of the Horned Frog band of Texas Christian University. It was dedicated to the publisher "for his continued interest in and extraordinary service to the Horned Frog band."

The South American llama, a useful beast of burden, can carry 100 pounds.

Merry Christmas

And . . .
A Happy New Year

TO EACH OF YOU
PLAINS
MAYTAG CO.

GREETINGS

... of the Yuletide Season

As another Christmas Season is welcomed, and the spirit of giving predominates in the minds of all, the employees and management of this institution join in extending Seasons Greetings to our host of friends and customers.

The past year has been a good one for us and we are indeed grateful for the splendid patronage that has been ours.

May your every Christmas Wish be fulfilled and may the New Year be one of Happiness, Health and Prosperity.

Dilley Bakeries

308 S. Cuyler Phone 377

A HOLIDAY GREETING

for you

In earnest appreciation of your patronage in the closing year we wish to say to each of you, "Season's Greetings and Best Wishes for the New Year"

HAMPTON & CAMPBELL
Storage Garage
OPEN ALL NIGHT

MERRY CHRISTMAS HAPPY NEW YEAR

There are many clever ways of avoiding the old fashioned greeting . . . but why should we? For centuries, your folks and ours have been saying those simple, cheerful words of good will and affection, and who are we to presume to better them?

The entire local Ward Co. personnel wish to take this opportunity of thanking you for your valued patronage during the year closing.

Montgomery Ward

Merry Christmas

and a
Happy New Year!

At this Glad Season of the year we wish all our Friends and Customers the Merriest of Christmases and the Best Luck and Prosperity in 1938!

ACROSS THE STREET OR ACROSS THE COUNTRY
SAFE — SPEED — ECONOMY — DEPENDABLE

Goods Insured While In Transit

Pampa Transfer & Storage

601 W. Brown St. STATE BONDED WAREHOUSE Phone 1025

KLEBERG AND JONES DIFFER ON FARM ACT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24. (AP)—Texas' two members of the House agriculture committee were at loggerheads over most of the farm bill, but on one provision they were in accord. That was a provision which would authorize an appropriation for the establishment of research laboratories to discover new uses for farm products.

part owner of the famous King ranch, arose and asked: "I want to know if my distinguished friend, the chairman, thinks the language in the bill is sufficiently mandatory, intelligible, and explicit at least to permit the secretary of agriculture to establish a laboratory for research looking to a wider and more extensive use of cotton if a state were to raise $250,000 of coin of the realm for the purpose."

Jones replied: "I certainly think it is; and I think if this provision goes through one should certainly be established." Kleberg continued: "And the chairman believes that is the intention of the Congress and certainly of the committee on agriculture?" "There is no question about that," Jones replied. Simultaneously, in the Senate, Senator Tom Connally was offering an amendment to the Senate farm bill which would authorize the secretary of agriculture to put up $250,000 in conjunction with the

CROMWELL IS MONEY REFORMER AND DORIS DUKE'S HUSBAND, TOO

By NEA Service
NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—If James H. R. Cromwell is appointed U. S. Senator from New Jersey, many a senator is apt to take one look and then fall back on the words of the Yankee who saw the giraffe and commented, "There ain't no such animal!"

For this is the strange apparition the senators would see: A man wealthy in his own right, married to "the richest girl in the world" (Doris Duke). A man who is a money reformer thoroughly at home with Father Coughlin Senator Elmer Thomas and Representative Wright Patman.

James H. R. Cromwell

An amateur boxer good enough to have gone three rounds on pretty even terms with Tommy Loughran. Author of two books and numerous pamphlets and articles demanding reform of capitalism, and deploring that the American government isn't democratic enough. A world traveler who has arraigned the Russian system as a bitter hoax, who "loathes Fascism," and who thinks it would be a good idea to abolish the Constitution and the Supreme Court.

Business Ups and Downs
James Henry Roberts Cromwell is the son of Oliver Eaton Cromwell, whose wife later became Mrs.

first state to raise that amount for establishment of a cotton-use research laboratory.

Connally and Kleberg said they were sure that, while neither bill specified any particular state in which the laboratory would be located, action taken last session by the Texas legislature indicated that state undoubtedly would be the first to qualify for the project.

Edward Stotesburg, wife of the Philadelphia banker and Morgan partner. Thus he is the son and stepson of two moneyed families.

When the World War came, young Cromwell enlisted in the Navy, and later transferred to the Marines, attaining the rank of captain. After the war he entered the Drexel banking firm in Philadelphia in which his stepfather was interested.

In 1920 Cromwell married Delphine Dodge, daughter of Horace Dodge, motor-car multi-millionaire. Cromwell organized the Cromwell-Dodge company to finance auto purchases and when the Dodge interests were sold for $160,000,000, the finance company had already been a big success.

His Project a "Bust"
In 1926 he launched his most grandiose project, the development in Florida of an "American Riviera" called Florida. On 3600 acres of land, his American-British Improvement Corporation planned to build a city.

But the boom in Florida land went bust, and so did the American-British company, wiping out most of Cromwell's own fortune and millions loaned by his family.

In 1928 Cromwell and his wife were divorced. They have a daughter, Christine, now 14. It was then that the Cromwell's education began, as he put it. He saw not only the crash of his personal fortunes, but the discharge of hundreds of lifetime employees of bankrupt enterprises. He wrote a book called "The Voice of Young America," attacking current business methods and urging a better distribution of wealth.

Cromwell went to the mat with the economic problem that was baffling everybody else, too. And he came up an inflationist and an enthusiast for public ownership of public utilities, unemployment insurance, modification of the government for greater democracy, and prohibition of tax-exempt securities.

In "The Voice of Young America" he drew a strict line between the "privacy," rich men whose wealth was based on privileges without service, and the "plutocracy" who made their money rendering socially-valuable service, like Ford.

Still a Reformer
In 1935 he married Doris Duke, who already had some $10,000,000, inherited another 10 or 20 recently when she became 25, and has 10 more coming from the estate of James B. Duke, the tobacco tycoon. They set forth on a world honeymoon tour.

His interest in monetary reform, however, is unabated, and with it the belief that it is the distributive system which has bogged down unbridled capitalism. Senatorial jaws jumped when he proposed to the Senate Agriculture Committee his plan for "negative interest."

LAKES INDUCE WATERFOWL TO PLAINS NESTS

AMARILLO, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Migratory waterfowls are nesting in the Dust Bowl.

Construction of lakes and the fencing of protected preserves have led to an abundance of migratory waterfowl and an increase in native quail.

H. M. McMurtry, head of the soil conservation service's division of wildlife, said an increasing number of the migratory fowl, especially ducks and geese, nested in the Plains country this year.

The preserves have been developed by fencing plots to keep out livestock where the grass would grow unmolested into a protective cover, and streams are dammed to form lakes in the preserves.

McMurtry said wild life, especially quail, flocked to the preserves as soon as a water supply and protective cover were developed.

The wild life division has done for game what the farm security administration is doing for farm families.

Covering practically the same territory as the regional soil conservation service, the FSA has directed its efforts toward rehabilitation of "blow out" and "dried out" farmers through loans and grants and the promotion of a balanced, live-at-home program.

The FSA extended loans amounting to more than $7,741,638 in the five states and more than $1,198,600 has been repaid. Less than 45 per cent is delinquent and FSA officials say that, except in few counties hard hit by drought and grasshoppers this year, collection of loans is increasing.

Records of the emergency feed and seed loan division of the farm credit administration show that the hundreds of thousands of dollars in loans made by the agency in West Texas and the Panhandle have been repaid more than 75 per cent on the average. Many counties, especially on the south plains, where bumper crops of feed and cotton were produced this year, repaid the loans 100 per cent.

Efforts of the various agencies, including the extension service, in spreading conservation methods proved successful by experiments and demonstrations have almost done away with straight-row farming on the high plains. Terracing and contouring have increased in popularity among farmers and ranchers.

Records show that the treated land even with abnormal rainfall which previously left the soil barren, has become productive.

conform to a single, uniform design of Spanish-type architecture. Last year big palm trees were planted along the main street, and the claim is made that Weslaco is the only town in Southwest Texas maintaining an annual municipal anniversary celebration. The eighteenth was observed recently.

MERRY CHRISTMAS
and a very HAPPY NEW YEAR

On this, the best Christmas of all, we wish to extend to our many good friends our sincere desire for continued good health, happiness and prosperity. The contacts we have had in the past have been most satisfying and pleasant to us, as we hope they have been to you.

May Every Joy
In Life Be Yours
In Years To Come

HARRAH'S
Tots-To-Teens Shop

Merry Christmas
AND
A Happy New Year

At this Joyous Season of the year we want to express our appreciation to our friends and customers and wish you all the happiness and success in the world!

WHITNEY'S AUTO STORES
Pampa, Texas
106 S. Cuyler Phone 840

MILITARY TRAINING POPULAR AT A & M 18-YEAR-OLD TOWN HIDALGO'S SECOND

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Figures prepared by Lieut. Col. George F. Moore, head of the Military Department, show 3,609 of the 4,932 students enrolled in military science and tactics courses at Texas A. & M. college this year. The number represents an increase of 18 per cent over the 3,125 students enrolled for military courses last year. At least two years of military work are required of students by the college.

WESLACO, Dec. 24. (AP)—Sixteen years ago the site of Weslaco was on open space surrounded by cactus and mesquite brush. Today it is the second largest town in Hidalgo county. Dec. 10, 1919, the first lots were auctioned and the name of the newly born town was fashioned from the first letters of the W. E. Stewart Land Company, owners of the townsite.

Two years ago the front of every business building was remodeled to

GREETINGS

from TARPLEY Music Store

Once more it is our pleasure to extend the compliments of the season and express our hope that the New Year will bring to you and yours the abundance of good things and good health you richly deserve.

We take this occasion to thank you most sincerely for your generous patronage the past year and pledge continuance of our established quality and service.

The Season's Best Wishes

to Each of You

It's a very pleasant, cheering custom to renew friendly associations during the Yuletide by extending to you our sincere wishes for a Happy Christmas. And our optimistic predictions of a prosperous New Year. We are looking forward to serving you in the New Year and hope that increased patronage will make our services even more satisfactory.

Pampa Brake & Electric Service
315 BEAR Wheel Alignment Phone
W. Foster Complete Body Shop 346

SEASON'S GREETINGS

Wishing you all the joys of the season and sincerely hoping that the coming months may bring you a large share of health, happiness and prosperity.

Pampa-Jarratt HOSPITAL
W. V. Jarratt, Supt.

5,000 ATTEND AMATEUR HOUR AT TEXAS TOWN

COLORADO, Dec. 24. (AP)—"Amateur hour" connotes Bronx cheer or a shower of vegetables, yet 5,000 persons—more than the entire population of the town—gather Friday nights in the summer months at the large out-door amphitheater at the Colorado park to attend "amateur hour."

They call it "amateur hour" because their children, cousins, uncles, aunts, nephews and nieces are the actors and nobody thinks of "kin-folks" as being professional, especially since they work on the farm, in the store, or in the office all day. They enjoy seeing little Johnnie do a tap dance, little Anne sing a song, cousins Tom and Harry do a skit, uncle Dave play the fiddle, aunt Sally give a reading, niece Jane just back from college, give a dramatic interpretation, and nephew Josephus, the community wit, pull a few razberries.

The amphitheater, hewn out of a rocky hillside, is fanned by cool evening breezes, adding physical comfort to entertainment. Tiers of native rock seats far enough apart to bed the little ones on a soft lawn, afford seating capacity for several thousands. But an additional thousand wooden seats on top of the hill failed to accommodate the crowd which overflowed on the grass-carpeted hillside during the 1937 season.

The Colorado chamber of commerce, sponsor of the programs, installed a loud speaker system to transmit every word of the program to the audience. Cash prizes of $5, $3 and $2 are awarded the three winning performers, the audience making the selections by applause. The "amateur hour" programs attract people from all sections of the town's trade territory and several thousand more seats will be carved out of the hillside for the 1938 season, the chamber announces.

INVESTIGATION SHOWS SOME NEGROES THRIFTY

AUSTIN, Dec. 24 (AP)—In a three-year study of 1,013 negro families, all patrons of free public schools, the state department of education concludes the average family of the group:

Lives in a rented three-room, unpainted, unscreened house with surrounding landscaped.

Suffers 30 days of confining illness and consults a doctor once a year.

Has a spring and summer garden of greens, beans, onions, okra and tomatoes.

Consumes seven-tenths of a gallon of milk daily, about a pint per member.

Has an orchard comprising one-fifth of one-fifth of a grapevine, one-fifth of a fig bush, three-tenths of a pecan tree, a pear tree and about three peach trees.

Has 13 mongrel hens, two scrub cattle, two piney woods rooster hogs, a dog and a cat.

Has a yearly income of $10.17 from sale of vegetables, fruit, poultry, eggs and hogs.

Has one copy of a daily newspaper each week, a farm journal every four months, one copy of a magazine of some sort every year and seven family-owned books in a lifetime.

Has no hobbies but hunts and fishes a little.

COW CROP GOOD

BRADY, Dec. 24. (AP)—Calf crops in this section are turning out unusually well says Harry Curtis, McCulloch county ranchman. Curtis reports his herd of 400 cows produced a 97 per cent, and he has 52 three-year old heifers to calve around the first of the year.

TWAS THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS IN HOLLYWOOD

By PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

'Twas the night before Christmas; all over the set, Everybody was wondering what he would get. Photographers set up their cameras with care, To snap the celebrities who would be there.

The players were standing around the big tree, And talking of contracts: "Is there one for me?" The director and script girl—a lass named Rosita— Were trying to pick winners at Santa Anita.

Then out on the street there arose such a clatter, We thought it the Ritz boys. (It didn't much matter.) But someone threw open the door, and a shout Drew our gaze to the wondrous equipage without:

The flood lights bright on the movieland snow Gave the luster of midday to objects below; When, what to our wonderful eyes should appear But Santa, his agent, and all eight reindeer!

With a little old driver so lively and quick, I knew in a moment it must be Saint Nick. (He looked like Guy Kibbee.) And then, in he came, Calling his eight little chargers by name:

"Now, Goldwyn! Now Zanuck! Now, Selznick and Cukor! On, Gable! On, Cooper! On, Marshall and Zukor!" They flew to the roof with a leap so tremendous That all of us cheered: "Terrific! Stupendous!"

He stayed on his perch, rehearsing his speech, Until property men built a chimney—a peach! Then Santa descended (let down on a wire) And soon stepped unscathed from the hearth's phony fire.

Producers and juicers and beauties and cuties Stood breathlessly by as he took up his duties. In a voice reminiscent of W. C. Fields, He said: "Now let's see what my heavy pack yields:

"For Dietrich, some garters; to Mae West, a tome Called 'Ten Easy Methods to Break Up a Home.' To Dixie (Miss Dunbar) I'm giving some volumes On ways to be mentioned in all gossip coliums.

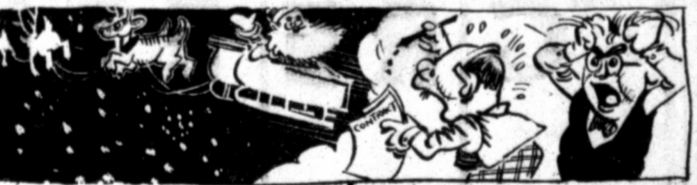

"A false face to Joe Brown. To Miss Pickford one dime. To Bing Crosby, his wish for a daughter this time. A joke book to McCarthy, to aid in his banter; And four sons-in-law for poor Eddie Cantor.

"To Joan, a big lipstick. And everyone sends Miss Hepburn the book on 'How to Win Friends.' To Sunbather Garbo, who's now in cold Sweden, I'm taking a deed to the Garden of Eden.

"For Miss Lombard, some balm for her numerous bruises; To Taylor, a license to wed when he chooses. Groucho Marx gets a clock to arouse him from slumbers; Wayne Morris—a list of fresh telephone numbers.

"To Lamour, I am sure, there is nothing to bring. For that honey—it's funny—has got EVERYTHING!" St. Nicholas blushed. Then he sprang to his sleigh; "Merry Christmas!" he called, as he clattered away.

His caravan faded from sight in the west, Before they could ask him to pose for a test. As producers cried vainly: "Hey, stop that old fossil! Sign him up for a picture! The guy is colossal!"

MEXICO STILL SHY OF U. S.

By J. P. MCKNIGHT.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 24. (AP)—Mexico's traditional distrust of the "Colossus of the North," the good neighbor policy notwithstanding, still endures.

That was inferred from editorial comment on Undersecretary Sumner Welles' address last week before George Washington university's forum on Pan-Americanism in which he said Americans abroad were entitled to "equitable compensation" for properties expropriated.

Welles stated two corollary principles of Washington's international policy thus:

"Than an alien residing in a foreign country is subject to the laws of the country where he lives to the same extent as are the nationals of that country and . . . that should the legitimately acquired properties of aliens residing in a foreign country be expropriated, such aliens are entitled to equitable compensation therefor."

Welles named no names, but the obvious deduction was that he had in mind—perhaps primarily—expropriation of lands under Mexico's agrarian reform program.

While much of the undersecretary's speech was on apology and justification for nations undertaking "to remedy underlying social and economic conditions," as is Mexico, this capital's newspapers paid little attention to that.

Instead, they hopped with both feet on his assertion an American seeking "fair compensation" for lost properties would be "supported by this government."

Ultimas Noticias, independent afternoon paper which rarely sees eye to eye with Washington, said that affirmation "brought to earth everything said to the effect that North Americans could only ask that they be treated alike with citizens of the country where the expropriation was effected."

Charging Americans put fantastic values on properties taken from them, the newspaper continued:

"There is the invincible might of the department of state at Washington to support demand for indemnification presented by the proprietor."

Ultimas Noticias' editorial referred also to Welles' indirect warning in another address that the United States would not tolerate any violation of the Monroe doctrine, and said:

"It is horrible to have to admit that we are not lords of our territory and our resources, and able to dispose of them as best suits our historical interests; that we can not make any concession to any European or Asiatic power whatever without Yankee rebuke in the name of the Monroe doctrine."

El Universal, influential morning-daily, observed dryly "citizens of the United States living in the weak countries of Spanish America continue counting, as always, upon the support of the military and economic might of the United States."

Welles' statement meant, the newspaper said, "privileged treatment for Americans," and declared "inacceptable this criticism made by the representative of a foreign government in a tone of transparent threat, and invoking sentiments of 'good neighborliness' which can not stand along side the attempt to command in the house of a neighbor."

Government spokesmen refrained from official comment upon Welles' speech, but one said privately "we welcome his recognition that Americans are subject to Mexican laws but dislike the idea his government will bring pressure to get compensation for Americans' properties expropriated."

Americans secure against aggression on both borders, find it hard to understand Mexico's fear of the United States.

They forget the war of the last century that took from Mexico millions of square miles of territory, the occupation of Vera Cruz in 1914, the Pershing expedition shortly thereafter—all incidents that still rankle in the Mexican memory.

That is why Mexico invariably is quick to present real or fancied slights to her national dignity, and actual or threatened infringement upon her sovereignty, which nations with less powerful neighbors might pass unnoticed.

BROWNWOOD TO HAVE PARKING METERS
BROWNWOOD, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Mayor W. H. Thompson has been authorized by the city council to arrange for installation of 426 parking meters here for a 120-day trial. Brownwood citizens at a special election Sept. 27, voted 595 to 197 against installation of the devices.

Where Food Sells For LESS

For your friendship and your patronage we express our grateful appreciation. . . In the very best spirit of the season the management and all employees extend to you and yours a—

MERRY CHRISTMAS
and
HAPPY NEW YEAR

STANDARD S
FOOD MARKET S

CHRISTMAS

gives us the opportunity long awaited to express our thanks for the splendid patronage that has been ours. We wish you a Joyous Season and Happy New Year.

L. H. Sullins
Plumbing Co.
"Service and Quality"
111 E. Kingsmill
Phone 102

MERRY MERRY XMAS

There are 45 OF US

Management and Employees, who join in saying "SEASON'S GREETINGS" to the friends and customers of this firm

PERSONNEL

Office Harry Carlson Irene Smith Louise Smith V. D. Kelley	Parts Dick Dublin Bill Robinson	Used Car Shop Earnest A. Baldwin H. E. Johnson Sam Devers O. T. Bonner Joe Daniels R. V. Baulch	Body Shop Coyle Ford R. E. Donovan Charlie Mitchell Calvin Follis L. B. Reeves T. H. Ford Edward McCormack
Sales Jess Reeves Wade Thomasson Don Duncan Campbell White L. M. Kaps D. E. Cecil Arthur Rankin John F. Compton	Sales Joe Paxton Luther Wagnon Jim Nicholson Claude Pullen Hap Dyson T. F. Smalling F. M. Culberson	Shop Don Donovan W. E. Riley Henry Kolb A. F. Washam Archie Bullard W. N. Screws	Shop L. E. Screws Ruth Wagnon C. H. Woods Sam Nichols Earnest Adams

Culberson-Smallling Chevrolet Co.
212 N. Ballard Phone 366

OUR ENTIRE ORGANIZATION WISHES ONE AND ALL

A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

Express Service at Freight Rates

Double Daily Service To Amarillo - Tulsa Oklahoma City

Reliable - State Bonded Commercial Warehouses

PAMPA MOTOR FREIGHT LINES, Inc.

DEFINITE GOAL SEEN BY FRANK AS THE COUNTRY'S GREATEST NEED

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Dec. 24.—In choosing Glenn Frank as head of a Republican committee to host a party standard "to which the wise and honest may repair," the Republicans select a man who is keenly aware of the party's need for such a standard.

Frank, a preacher, writer, editor, has spent much of his time since 1930 attacking just that problem. In his book, "America's Hour of Decision," he wrote:
"To know what we want is the beginning of statesmanship. Do we want what we want? Here in the United States? Now? Do we want what we want government to do and do in relation to the whole mechanism and movement of American life and enterprise over which, at its moment of highest potential power, the shadow of a vast futurity fell?"

Do we, in short, know what kind of political power we want? Do we know what kind of social order we want? Do we know what kind of economic order we want?

"We cannot make the decisions demanded of us at this juncture in American affairs unless we shake ourselves free from this paralyzing indecision of will."

Known as a Liberal
It is perhaps this clear recognition by Frank of the need of the party for more clearly defined goals that led to his selection to head the committee that will try to define them.

Frank has for years been known as a "liberal" among Republicans. That no longer means much. So was Nicholas Murray Butler. Frank's liberalism is such that he believes much of what passes for liberalism today is really reactionary. He thinks the road through the NRA and AAA to centralized and detailed control over the economic is in essence a reactionary road, and not truly liberal at all.

Frank believes in expansion of production as against its limitation. He admits that modern industrial conditions make imperative an increasing government activity in the field of business and industry; he adds that "the problem of determining the direction and degree of governmental activity in economic affairs" is "the greatest honor and obligation of my life."

Frank has advocated the maximum freedom for individual enterprises consistent with today's technology.

A Snappy Phrase-coiner
He is an apt phrase-maker and his characterization of the leaders of yesterday as "mushroom monarchs of business, industry, and finance," who "strutted for a day while the fantastic era of speculation came to a climax," shows no longing for a return to the "good old days."

Lush growth of bootleg religions, "apostolate of fakirs," show that Frank can pay his respects to opponents in just as juicy terms as Franklin Roosevelt or General Johnson. Whatever the final report of his committee reveals, it should make snappier reading than most similar documents.

The mark of the young Missouri preacher, who won a bride from among a congregation impressed by his eloquence and brilliance, is still on Glenn Frank. He quotes the Bible freely and aptly, and his concern is obvious at a world in which religion is a less active force than it might be.

Yet he can pay sardonic respects alike to "the psalm-singing captains of industry . . . whose piety and practicality never quite mesh," and to "the parson turned lobbyist." Despite this background he is a supporter of repeal of national prohibition.

Politically Ambitious
Through a prolific and constant writer on national affairs, Frank has never been an active Republican in the sense that Nicholas Murray Butler has been. He took no part in the forming of the Republican Committee of 150, which he is now asked to head. And he knew nothing of his appointment until he read it in the newspapers. Nevertheless, Frank is generally regarded as politically ambitious. When, at 38, he went to head the University of Wisconsin 11 years ago, he put down deep roots there. After his ousting from that job last January by Gov. Phil LaFol-

Gr. Glenn Frank. He will head a committee to formulate policies with which to combat the New Deal.

ette in a political and administrative row, there were many whispers in Wisconsin that Frank planned a political career, perhaps first running for the Senate.

However that may be, a mind that goes back to the fundamental thought that before we can go anywhere we must know where we want to go, has every right to consider the job of framing definite Republican goals as "the greatest honor and obligation of my life."

"PHONIES" DISPLAYED BY BUSINESS GROUP

DALLAS, Dec. 24 (AP)—"Phonies" citizens bought in varying quantities before the racks were explored by a business protective organization were displayed here recently.

"Suckers" were found to have made fairly profitable the sale of bogus tablets for relief from colds, which turned out to be merely soda. Fraudulent scidler which was sulphur sticks covered with aluminum paint; "nickel-plating" fluid which apparently was only a weak solution of red ink; and a round motion picture film container which sold for 50 cents as a new-type metal cake pan, were other objects that appealed to the human characteristic to get something for nothing.

The major item of the collection was a four-piece Christmas cosmetic set, including "perfume" of undiluted water, and a hand lotion, which the demonstrators said, "smells like gasoline and not very good gasoline at that."

Green beans should be cooked in size if they are to cook evenly. Test beans for freshness by seeing if they snap when they are broken in half. The best peas will be velvety to touch, bright green in color (never yellow) and rather plump. Plumpness indicates that pods are filled with peas of even size.

Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

The cow that jumped over the moon was the first beef to go sky-high, but still you can have beef on your table. Nexttime Zaima, the darling young Albanian girl who wrote "Daughter of the Eagle," passes on to these secrets of the way Albanians keep down their meat costs.

Albanian Stuffed Squash (4 to 6 servings)

One-quarter pound ground round steak, 4-5 cup uncooked rice, 1 onion, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 2 eggs, 4 medium green squash (about 5 inches), 1 lemon, 2 table-spoons butter.

Cut squash in two crosswise. Scrape out most of the pulp, leaving a fairly well padded squash cup. Mix meat, rice, chopped onion, parsley and salt and pepper to taste. Stuff squash halves with this mixture, but do not pack very tight, because the rice will swell when cooking.

In large deep kettle, place saucers upside down. (Use a steamer.) On these, stand the stuffed squash. Better run a long toothpick through each squash half to keep it in shape. Cover the squash with more plates: all about 1 cup water to pot, cover and place over low fire. Add more water when necessary, but never very much at a time. Steam about one hour, or until meat and rice are done.

Before removing squash from kettle, add this sauce and cook a little longer. Beat eggs and add lemon, then beat thoroughly until light. Add a little salt and a little melted butter. Beat some more. Pour this sauce into the pot over the tender squash. When sauce has boiled, the dish is done. The Daughter of the Eagle knows her squash!

Pan Broiled Steak with Lemon Butter

Allow one pound good ground round steak for 3 servings. Place a heavy iron frying pan over heat and get very hot. Shape round steak into thin round cake. It must be thin. If steak seems a little dry, add a drop or two of water. Add nothing else. Do not put any grease or fat into frying pan. Plank the steak down flat on the red hot surface, let it broil rapidly for about one minute, then turn with a sharp turner and broil on other side. Turn again and broil on original side for another minute, then lift out to hot platter. Dot liberally with butter, season with salt and pepper, and over it all squeeze a liberal amount of lemon juice. This makes a genuinely delicious broiled beef steak substitute and is quickly prepared.

Broiled Beef on Toast with Pickles
This recipe comes from your own Uncle Sam via the United States department of agriculture. It is printed verbatim, and should add one more ground beef recipe that has the double advantage of being quickly cooked and easily eaten.

Toast slices of bread on one side. Spread the untoasted side lightly with butter or other fat and sprinkle with salt and pepper. For 6 or 8 slices of bread season 1 pound ground raw beef with salt and pepper and add 2 or 3 table-spoons top milk or diluted evaporated milk. Spread the meat mixture over the untoasted side of the bread slices, covering evenly to the very edge.

"Broil by direct heat, under flame or grill for 5 to 10 minutes. Add melted butter if desired. Serve hot with garnish of pickles, sliced onion or green pepper."

TURN OFF THE HEAT.
CHICAGO—The temperature was near freezing, but Robert William Gilmore, 27, an optician, thought it too warm.

He went down to the Chicago river, shouted to nearby spectators "it's too hot," and jumped in. Coast guardsmen hauled him out. Chief Boatswain's Mate Thomas Andreasen said Gilmore complained he still was overheated from "a drink" he had sampled. Police took him in custody.

SENATOR SMITH RANKS GARNER BEST OF SIX VICE-PRESIDENTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Senator Ellison D. Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, serving under his sixth vice president in 29 years, concludes none matched John Nance Garner. The South Carolinian, who entered the Senate March 4, 1909, when James S. Sherman of New York became vice president, describes all six—Sherman, Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana; Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts; Charles Curtis of Kansas, and Garner as "honest, genial and fair-minded men."

The Democratic dean of the Senate ranks Garner "tops."
"He is the best presiding officer, the best parliamentarian, the best mingler, the best leader, the best politician and the best poker player of all six," Smith said.

"By reputation, Jack Garner is the past master of poker. He's the only vice president I've known who was a past master of the game, and I think poker has been a favorite pastime of vice presidents."
Smith said "insofar as Garner's reputation is concerned, he is not only the greatest poker player the Senate has had but also the greatest in the ordinary sporting world."

He remembers Curtis as the "social light" of the six; Dawes as the vice president who set out to reform the Senate; Coolidge as a man with "a peculiar human twist"; Marshall as a devotee of hog jowls, and Sherman as a "lovable old character."

Curtis took the position more seriously than any other, Smith said, explaining the Kansas apparently assumed an austere attitude because of long service in the Senate.

"He though if he didn't throw the robes of dignity about him the Senators might encroach upon their past fellowship," he said.

The South Carolinian also said Curtis was the "noisiest" presiding officer of the six.
"Without a doubt, he made more noise in trying to preserve order than those he was trying to bring to order," Smith said.

Curtis used the gavel with such force, he said, the Senate had to put a metal hat on the vice president's desk to protect it from permanent injury.
Smith remembers Dawes as the vice president who insisted Senators always be present when important questions were under consideration.

"Yet, one day," he recalled, "when it became the duty of the chair to make an important ruling, Dawes was asleep in his hotel room."
"We had to send a messenger to get him," he added, chuckling.

Dawes Puzzled.
"Dawes also was the most puzzled," Smith continued. "He came to the Senate to reform the rules and the rules reformed him."
Smith said Coolidge displayed as vice president the same personal characteristics he did when President.

"He had a keen sense of humor, but unless you could break his crust, those that only knew him casually would never have imagined it," he added.

Coolidge was remembered as an "automat" presiding over the dignified Senate.

Thomas Marshall, the World war vice president, was described as the intellectual of the six, but also as a man with a common touch.

"He liked hog jowls and didn't hide his like," Smith recalled.

Smith, a Senator longer than any other present member excepting of William E. Borah, Republican, Idaho, unrolled a cigar and lighted it.

"By the way, Senator," he was asked, "Did Vice President Marshall actually smoke the kind of cigars he said the country needed, a good five-cent brand?"

"I believe he did smoke those old stogies," replied Smith.

Smith said his memory was hazy about Sherman, who died in office, but he remembers him as the "most genial of all, even if he was a Republican and bore the name of the famous Union general who marched through Georgia and burned Columbia, the capital of South Carolina."

Smith said any of the vice presidents under whom he has served would have made a good President.

"They have been dubbed 'spare tires' because that is what they

Best Wishes
When Old Santa starts delivering all the nice things, we hope he'll leave a big sack by your tree.
We'll be thinking about you, and wishing you joy.
City Shoe Shop
G. H. (Mack) Anderson
104 1/2 W. Foster

are," he said, "but my opinion is anyone of them could have had the 'vice' dropped from his title and served the nation as chief executive with satisfactory ability."

Apples growing on neighboring trees were baked by the intense heat of the flames during a saw-mill fire at Dursey, South Hants, England, in 1899.

An opal, measuring 6 1/2 by 2 inches when roughly dressed, and claimed to be the finest in the world, was discovered in the gem field of Lightning Ridge, Australia.

Well, Folks....
THE happiest time of the year is stowing, of receiving, of good wishes to the whole wide world. Our year has not been completed until we feel that our customers and other friends have received our plain but heartfelt wish: May you all have a very MERRY CHRISTMAS, and a HAPPY NEW YEAR!
THOMPSON
HARDWARE COMPANY
113 N. Cuyler
Phone 43
BOB & FRED THOMPSON and employees

Wishing You
A JOYOUS YULETIDE
We desire to extend to you greetings of the Christmas season and to express to you our sincere wishes for your prosperity in the coming year. May the cordial relations existing between us continue.
CITY STEAM LAUNDRY AND HAPPY NEW YEAR

Achievement
As the old year passes, and we welcome a new era, we find ourselves thinking of the record of achievement made during the past twelve months. The old year, with all its disappointments and heart-breaks, still holds scores upon scores of cherished memories: we can count new acquaintances made, the closer binding of old ties of friendship, and many more happy relationships that have made this journey through life more pleasant.
We can measure the progressive strides this community has made, supported by the magnificent loyalty of its citizens whose objective has been a better, happier place in which to live.
As residents of this community, we are proud of its advancement. If we have helped its progress in some way, we are pleased because our own interests center in the region we are glad to call our home.
No finer people will be found anywhere, and we like to look upon each one as our friend. It is to these friends, in appreciation of the splendid enterprise of the community as a whole, that we wish to convey our Season's Greetings. May continued success come to the citizens who have made possible this progressive community with its record of achievement.
First National Bank
IN PAMPA
A. Combs, Chairman of the Board, DeLoa Vicars, President, J. R. Roby, Vice-President, Edwin S. Vicars, Cashier.
F. A. Peek, Asst. Cashier, B. D. Robison, Asst. Cashier, E. Bass Clay, Asst. Cashier, C. M. Carlock, Asst. Cashier.

FOR THE 36th TIME
WE WISH YOU A

Merry Christmas

A TIMELY MESSAGE

The Yuletide Season offers a magnificent opportunity to express our heartfelt appreciation of all the fine things that have been ours to enjoy during the past year, chief among which is the splendid patronage that you have given us.

Your consideration has made it possible for this firm to have a successful year from the standpoint of material gain, of growth and service, of acquisition of new and valued associations and of maintenance of old friendships.

It will be our purpose to merit continued goodwill and service in the years to come.

JONES-EVERETT MACHINE COMPANY

M. W. (Deacon) JONES - CHARLES H. EVERETT
and Employees

A Complete Line of Welding Supplies & Equipment

Dail are fore (VOL.
YO
MISS
DIR
ENT
Young from colle be recog service to 7:30 o'c dist church
A sing-will open certain vesper ryn Pearce and Mrs.
begin at 7
Miss Jo charge of include tal
Among the "Faith" by sittens W at Canyon with a sol student a university.
Clinton student, w
Howard Z solo on th numbers w by Maxine and a solo
"Love."
Iuring th
b; introduc
he is atten
A specia to all your dist church
not attend
Presby
Party
Of Th
Members o and junior Presbyteria tained at a Thursday e
Santa Ch
each child tree and an presented b Veda Lee son solo, F with a read given by H were also p lor, Glean
Diagn, Pat
Billie Bot
John Fria
A song by solo by War by the beg ogram.
Yule P
By You
Thursd
A large needy of the Christmas p at the Ce Enough gift
w; present
Each one ed with cand attractively tree. A prog with the sin ols under th
Lunsford wa
cluded a rea ana, and an
Ellen Seabo
Colleene Wi
Irb; Noblett
Janice Warr
and.
Sigma Annual McLEAN,
Gamma sor
Christmas p
Mrs. Rogers
ber, Monday
A delicio served. Gues
ret tables.
needles and
On the pr
Smith, who t mas story, a who gave a Gifts were Lillian Abbo closed with g mas carols.
Those pres
Hess, Lillian Jewel Cousin
Smith, Mild
Carter, Betty
Eunice Strat
Murdock, Mr hostess.
College
Home f
McLEAN, D people home days include
From Har
Emmett Cook
Appling, Larr
Abilene Ch
Back; from V old Rickard, E
Alice Fatterso
North Texa
Vern Harris, K per Military Charles Finley
Carpenter, K
Mary-Hardi penter, Franco co State col
Tulane, Char
Among the cricket, footb rank, as the gamis.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO BE HONORED AT SERVICE SUNDAY EVENING

MISS LANE TO DIRECT SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT

Young people who are at home from college for the holidays will be recognized at the candlelight service to be held Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the First Methodist church.

A sing-song by the entire group will open the program following an organ vespers recital by Miss Kathryn Pearce, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Pearce, which will begin at 7:15 o'clock.

Miss Josephine Lane will have charge of the program which is to include talks and solos by students. Among these is the address on "Faith" by Lawrence McBea, who attends West Texas State college at Canyon. This will be followed with a solo by Janice Purviance, a student at Southern Methodist University.

Clinton Evans, a Texas University student, will discuss "Hope" and Howard Zimmerman is to present a solo on this same theme. These numbers will be followed with a talk by Maxine Wheatley of Texas Tech and a solo by Mary Douglas on "Love."

During the service each one will be introduced and the college which he is attending is to be named. A special invitation is extended to all young people of the Methodist church and all others who are not attending services elsewhere.

Presbyterians Have Party for Children Of Three Classes

Members of the beginners, primary and junior departments of the First Presbyterian church were entertained at an informal party given Thursday evening in the church.

Santa Claus presented gifts to each child from a large Christmas tree and an enjoyable program was presented by the children.

Veda Lee Alden played an accordion solo, Peggy Shan entertained with a reading; a vocal solo was given by Hobart Fathere, readings were presented by Ariene Proctor, Glenda Stephens, Marjorie Dixon, Patty Stevens, Don Lindsey, Billie Bob Ward, Beverly Dull, and John Frauf.

A song by Mary Jo White, a piano solo by Wagon Fathere, and songs by the beginners completed the program.

Yule Program Given By Youngsters on Thursday Evening

A large white offering for the needy of the city was made at the Christmas program given Thursday at the Central Baptist church. Enough gifts to fill seven baskets were presented.

Each one attending was presented with candy and oranges from the attractive decorated Christmas tree. A program which was opened with the singing of Christmas carols under the direction of Mat Lunsford was given. Numbers included a reading by Betty June Evans, and an accordion solo by Sarah Ellen Seabold, a Christmas story by Colleen Williams, a flute solo by Irby Noblett, and readings by Janice Warren and Mary June Evans.

Sigma Gamma Has Annual Yule Party

McLEAN, Dec. 24.—The Sigma Gamma sorority held its annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Rogers Powell, a former member, Monday evening.

A delicious turkey dinner was served. Guests were seated at quarter tables. Decorations were pine needles and pine burs.

On the program were: Miss Dale Smith, who told an O. Henry Christmas story, and Miss Julia Slough, who gave a humorous reading.

Gifts were distributed by Miss Lillian Abbott. The program was closed with group singing of Christmas carols.

Those present: Misses Margaret Hess, Lillian Abbott, Julia Slough, Jewel Cousins, Nona Cousins, Dale Smith, Mildred Blossie, Robinson, Carter, Betty Farley, Madeline Ray, Eunice Stratton, and Mrs. Martin Mirdock, Mrs. Jim Back, and the hostess.

College Students Home for Holidays

McLEAN, Dec. 24.—McLean young people home for the Christmas holidays include the following:

From Hardin-Simmons, James Emmett Cooke, Buel Ellison, Hobby Appaling, Larry Cunningham.

Abilene Christian — Charles M. Back; from West Texas State, Harold Rickard, Eula Faye Foster, Mary Alice Patterson.

North Texas Agricultural college, Vern Harris, Frank Kennedy; Kemper Military school, Spencer Sitter, Charles Finley; Texas Tech, Juanita Carpenter, Katherine Patterson.

Mary-Hardin college—Gwynne Carpenter, Frances Landers; New Mexico State college, George McCarty; Tulane, Charles Ashby.

Among the people of London, cricket, football and lawn tennis rank as the most important ball games.

Furs and Gems ... Astors and Vanderbilts ... Beauty and Style

Beautiful without the aid of rare furs, Edna Brokaw keeps in step with the jewelry vogue with long, glittering earrings and a finely matched pearl necklace. Her gown is printed metal cloth.

'Met' Season Opens Amid Scenes of Unmatched Splendor

Pearls cascading gently down the generous décolleté of her simple black gown, an immense jeweled brooch at the neckline gives sparkle to Mrs. Vincent Astor's costume.

A glittering pair who excited admiration at the Metropolitan Opera opening in New York—Mildred Heye, left, in ermine wrap, with bejeweled tiara, three-strand necklace and bracelet; Mrs. Frank C. Henderson, right, in feathered headdress, beaded gown, sable scarf, waist-length diamond necklace, jeweled buckle, pendant and matching earrings of precious stones.

Audience Stars in Show That Outdoes Spectacle On Stage

Her wrist adorned by the famous rubies and diamonds bracelet, a priceless necklace and clips setting off her throat, Mrs. Lawrence Copely Thaw makes a dazzling picture.

A fortune in jewels around her neck in the diamond and precious stones collar with matching clip, Mrs. Joseph Davies completes her gem costume with a costly tiara.

Two Girls Hostesses At Yuletide Event Given This Week

Juanita and Dorace Jean Caldwell were hostesses at a party given for a group of girls at their home Thursday afternoon.

A Christmas tree decorated the room in which games were played. Nita Rose McCarty and Orene Alford won prizes in the games and treats were presented to each girl from the tree.

Refreshments were served to the group with miniature green candles in white holders as plate favors. Those present were Jean Mullins,

EIGHTH DISTRICT P-TA NEWS

By EUGENE MANN. Eighth District P-T. A. continues with its program of radio presentations in January with Irby Carruth, superintendent of Canyon schools, speaking on the subject of safety. The state highway patrol is expected to contribute to this broadcast which is scheduled for the sixth at 3:45.

In February, character training in the secondary schools will be discussed by Principal W. J. Adkins of Berger schools. Supt. W. C. Davis of Memphis will lecture on visual education in March. Mrs. Sid Clark of Spearman will be in charge of the April program and in May Supt. H. P. Clemons of Dimmitt will talk on the curriculum revision program.

Priona P-T. A. heard a discussion on Child Learning at their December meeting. The viewpoints of parents, teachers and ministers were given by Mrs. Joe Wilson, Miss Heria Meyer, J. A. Blackwell and Rev. David Hardy. The high school chorus and grade school pupils presented musical numbers. A solo was sung by Miss Jacquelyn Wilkinson.

Dr. Williams of the First Baptist church of Amarillo spoke on the real Christmas spirit at the December meeting of the Allision Park P-T. A. at the Highland Park school last Friday night. The Mother Singers of the group presented the musical program. Santa Claus, sponsored by the association, climaxed the evening.

Home study was the subject discussed by a teacher and a parent at the December meeting of the Panhandle P-T. A. The parent, Mrs. John O'Keefe, urged continuation of the practice of home study. She said it is the only means by which parents can keep in touch with the progress of a child in school.

The teacher, Miss Noble Ashworth, explained that, because of changing methods in presentation, confusion resulted from home assignments where parents assisted the child. She explained that applied study outside of school is to be encouraged instead of definite assignments.

Nita Rose and Oarm Jean McCarty, Orene Alford, Louise Alford, Jimmie Enloe, and the hostesses.

News Want-Ads Get Results.

Do-Se-Do Club Gives Yule Dance

A holiday dance at the Schneider hotel Thursday evening entertained the Do-Se-Do club members and their guests.

Decorations in the Christmas motif were used in the reception room where square and round dancing was enjoyed by the group.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the "Tunoo Teasers" orchestra.

Luncheon Entertains Junior Department Members Recently

A covered dish luncheon and Christmas party entertained members of the junior department of the First Christian church Thursday evening. Mothers of the boys and girls served the meal which was served in the basement of the church.

Mrs. Emory Noblett's class led the program for the evening. The singing of Christmas carols, readings and stories provided the entertainment for the 40 members who attended.

A basket to be given to some needy family was donated by this department.

Syrup left over from spiced fruits makes an excellent basting for ham, pork and veal roasts and steaks.

To bleach white linens, cover with lemon juice and lay in sun for a day. Wash out in warm water and soap suds.

American Beauty

Anita Louise, a perfect beauty... one of the few women in the world to whom the term "perfect beauty" is truly applicable. Hair like pale golden honey, skin so clear and pink and ivory that it seems transparent, eyes blue, mouth full and red, teeth even and pearly white. In fact, although it's hard to believe that one can be too pretty for the movies, Miss Louise's flawless beauty often keeps casting directors from considering her for dramatic character roles.

Yuletide Program Entertains Group

An old-fashioned Christmas tree entertained a large group of members of the First Christian church last evening at the church.

Featured on the program which was directed by Mrs. L. C. McMahan was the three-act play "Christmas Candle." The cast of characters included Mmes. Dick Rhodes, Mrs. Price, H. H. Isbell, Mr. Price, Bert Stevens, Miss Whitney, Frank Leonard, Mrs. Brownson, Betty Tieman, Jean, Janet McMillen, James Sanders, and Henry Buster Walker, Mrs. Price's children; Carolyn Sue Abbott, Beverly Jean Stalls, messenger boys; and carol singers, girls' glee club of the Woodrow Wilson school.

Five members of the A Cappella choir, Gene Finkbeiner, Elizabeth Mullinax, Colleen McMahan, Ethel Wilder, and Arvo Goddard, were presented on the impromptu program. Miss Helen Poolas and Mr. Finkbeiner also gave several piano and violin numbers.

J. L. Lester gave the devotional which was followed with several other numbers, included in the entertainment was an accordion solo by Janice Oswald, carols by the primary department, a duet by Emma Mae Sing and Le Rue Whipple, a reading by Jimmy and Jack Spear, and a reading by Barbara Blair.

Other members of the primary took part in the interesting program preceding the distribution of gifts by Santa Claus.

Couple United In Simple Ceremony

The marriage of Mrs. Ethel Harman and Dr. Paul Owens took place yesterday morning by the justice of peace at Panhandle.

The bride wore a rust suit with red fox trim. Her accessories were brown and her cottage was of orchids.

Mrs. Owens, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shipley of Big Springs, has made her home here for several years.

The bridegroom is a popular business man who has also made his home in Pampa for several years.

Girl Scouts of Troop Four Have Holiday Affair

Girl Scouts of troop four were entertained with a Christmas party at the little house Wednesday afternoon.

After playing several games, gifts were exchanged and each one was presented with a girl scout diary by the leader. In turn each patrol presented a gift to the leaders.

Refreshments were served to 25 members and three leaders.

The next meeting will be held at 2:30 o'clock instead of the regular 4 o'clock meeting.

200 Attend Yule Party at Laketon

LAKETON, Dec. 24.—Two hundred persons attended the annual Christmas party given Thursday night at the Laketon school.

The program included two plays, and several readings, given by pupils. A welcome to Santa Claus, by Florence Terry, fifth-grade pupil, was a feature of the program, which was directed by Principal E. H. Tooley and Miss Ollie Brown, assistant.

Presents were distributed to all children, and to the teachers and other adults attending.

Paraffin used for sealing jellies should be "smoking" hot, since it sterilizes as well as seals. Tilt the glass in order that the melted paraffin may form a seal around the side of the glass as well as a covering for the top.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART,

On the thorough manner and regularity with which she does her nightly beauty routines depends the success of the average woman's battle to ward off as long as possible the marks of the passing years.

One who does a few simple things to her skin but does them expertly each and every night has much greater chance of always looking younger than she actually is than the girls who clean her face almost every night, uses creams and lotions fairly regularly. Indeed, the face of the former fares better in the long run than the face of the woman who has a professional facial once a week but who never does anything for her complexion between appointments.

Brush, Sister, Brush!

"Naturally, it's good for my business to have all my customers order scalp treatments along with their shampoos," says one frank Fifth Avenue hairdresser. "But I'd rather work for three minutes every night than with hair which gets a scalp treatment once a week but never is brushed between times."

And he's right, of course. Scalp treatments are wonderful—for taut nerves as well as the hair. A girl who has once a week and uses a hairbrush nightly isn't likely to have problem hair or scalp ailments. But the and is the catch. For hair health, nothing can take the place of old-fashioned brushing. It can be supplemented, but never replaced.

Practically every facial expert urges the customers to use creams correctly between visits to her shop. The cynical can say it's because she wants to sell more creams, but any woman who went on for years doing nightly routines in hit or miss fashion, then started doing them regularly can tell you, if she will a story to take the wind out of the cynic's sails.

Four Essentials

Cleansing is all-important. It doesn't matter whether you use soap and water, cream or one of the cleansing lotions. You discover which is most suitable by the simple expedient of the trial and error method. What matters is that you keep your skin as clean as possible all day and never, never once, go to bed with makeup on your face.

If you are very busy, cut the nightly routines to four, then stick to them. Brush your hair, cleanse face and throat, pat on cream and allow a minute to two for stroking it into the skin (be sure to use it lavishly around eyes) and put a softening preparation on your hands. The last is not to be taken lightly. Don't you see, all too often, old hands on young women?

If you refuse to sleep with cream on your face, apply it before you step into your hot tub and leave it on until just before you get in bed. Naturally, we didn't include daily

Seasons Greetings

AS THE highest joys of Christmas come to us from the blessing of giving, we gather our humble share by giving our service to this community and our cordial and heartfelt wishes for your happiness. May the Spirit of the Nativity go with you throughout the coming year, and may your share of joy be brightened by the acknowledgement of our appreciation of your past favors.

... from all of us ...

Murfee's, Inc.

Intense Oil Activity Continues As 1937 Nears End

TOTAL OF 10 WELLS TESTED DURING WEEK

Christmas week saw 10 wells being given potentials as the Panhandle oil field showed little decline in activity as 1937 drew to a close. The wells were given an open flow potential of 4,038 barrels.

Seven new locations were filed, one a wildcat test in Lamb county where the Toddie L. Wynn Trustee staked a location for their No. 1 Albert Nienschwander in Labor 1, league 660. The test is four miles northwest of Littlefield and is about 30 miles north of where The Texas Company opened up a field in Hockley county.

Gray county led in new locations with four. Hutchinson registered two with the other in Lamb county.

Six Hutchinson county wells were tested for a total of 2,698 barrels. Gray county's three wells were good for 1,192 barrels. The other test was in Carson county.

Three gas wells, two in Moore and one in Carson county, were given a total open flow potential of 126,777,000 cubic feet.

Completions by counties:

In Hutchinson County.
Drilling & Exploration Company No. 15 Halle, section 5, block M-21, TORR survey, gauged 364 barrels with lime pay between 3,040 and 3,100 feet.

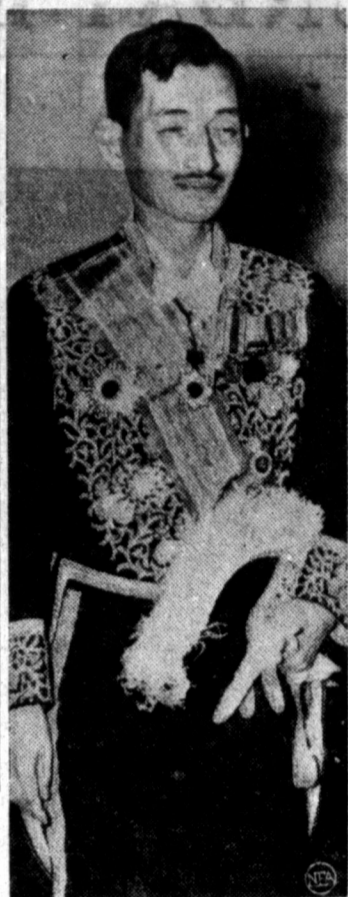

J. R. Phillips Employees No. 2 Twitchell, Twitchell survey, tested 594 barrels with pay from 3,050 to 3,100 feet in lime.

Stanford Oil & Gas Company, No. A-10 Halle, section 4, block M-21, TORR survey, was given a potential of 409 barrels with the lime pay between 3,012 and 3,100 feet.

The same company's No. B-9 Halle, section 5, block M-21, TORR survey, gauged 132 barrels. Lime pay was from 3,026 to 3,046 feet.

Barnsdall Oil Company, No. 7

Japan and China Wage Sartorial War at Reception

A resplendent figure in gold braid, Hiroshi Saito, Japanese ambassador, appears at the diplomatic reception held by President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Tension like that during the world war was noted by veterans of such affairs at the White House diplomatic reception, which brought the Japanese and Chinese ambassadors together socially for the first time since hostilities began in the Orient. They were spared meeting through co-operation of other guests. Although last on the list of envoys, Chinese Ambassador Chengting Wang and his three beautiful daughters made an outstanding group. Left to right the girls are Yoeh, An-Fu and An-Hsin.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Dec. 24. (AP)—Speculative forces concentrated their buying on armament stocks in today's market, leaving many leaders to drift for themselves at lower levels.

Bids for selected airters, steels and specialties mingled with the melody of Christmas season carols coming from just outside the stock exchange. Gains running to 3 or more points were reduced near the final hour and losses were plentiful. Dealings were comparatively light, transfers being at the rate of about 1,000,000 shares.

Am. Can.	11 7/8	74	74 1/2
Am. Rad. & S. S.	63 1/2	124 1/2	125 1/2
Am. T. & T.	12 1/2	147 1/2	147 1/2
Am. Wire	98 3/4	32	32 1/2
Atch. T. & S. P.	9 3/4	38 1/2	38 1/2
B. & O.	28 1/2	11 1/2	11 1/2
Barnsdall Oil	18 1/2	18 1/2	18 1/2
Ben. Avl.	27 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
Beth. Steel	100 62 1/2	61	62 1/2
Chrysler Corp.	80 5 1/2	83	83 1/2
Col. G. & E.	46 3/4	85	85 1/2
Com. Solvents	62 3/4	7 1/2	7 1/2
Com. W. & S.	21 3/4	2	2
Cont. Can.	18 40 1/2	39	40 1/2
Cont. Oil Del.	39 31 1/2	30 1/2	31 1/2
Cont. Oil	18 1/2	37 1/2	37 1/2
Doug. Air	66 41 1/2	40	40 1/2
DuPont DeN.	14 11 1/2	116 1/2	117 1/2
Gen. Elec.	14 17 1/2	16 1/2	16 1/2
Gen. Motors	150 22 1/2	32	32 1/2
Goodrich (BF)	14 15 1/2	15 1/2	15 1/2
Goodyear T. & R.	22 10	18 1/2	18 1/2
Houston Motor	8 7 1/2	6 1/2	6 1/2
Int. Harvester	20 68 1/2	67 1/2	67 1/2
Int. T. & T.	36 3 1/2	6 1/2	6 1/2
Kennecott Cop.	82 38 1/2	38	38 1/2
Marshall Field	16 3 1/2	8 1/2	8 1/2
Mid-Cont. Pet.	3 19 1/2	10 1/2	10 1/2
M. & E.	14 17 1/2	16 1/2	16 1/2
Mont. Ward	45 35 1/2	34 1/2	34 1/2
Nash Kev.	40 10 1/2	10	10 1/2
Nat. Distillers	15 21 1/2	20 1/2	20 1/2
Ohio Oil	17 13 1/2	13 1/2	13 1/2
Packard Motor	31 4 1/2	4 1/2	4 1/2
Penn. (JC)	5 6 1/2	6 1/2	6 1/2
Petrol Corp.	6 10 1/2	10 1/2	10 1/2
Phillips Pet.	17 40	39 1/2	40
Plymouth Oil	5 15 1/2	15 1/2	15 1/2
Pure Oil	66 12 1/2	11 1/2	11 1/2
Repub. Stl.	78 5 1/2	18 1/2	18 1/2
Radio Corp. of Am.	34 63	62 1/2	62 1/2
Sears Roeb.	6 18 1/2	17 1/2	17 1/2
Shell Un. Oil	1 3	3	3
Simms Petrol	76 15 1/2	15 1/2	15 1/2
Std. Brands	62 2 1/2	2 1/2	2 1/2
Std. Oil Cal.	11 34 1/2	34 1/2	34 1/2
Std. Oil Ind.	43 46 1/2	45 1/2	45 1/2
Std. Oil N.J.	34 5 1/2	5 1/2	5 1/2
Studebaker Corp.	46 41 1/2	41 1/2	41 1/2
Texas Corp.	19 27 1/2	27	27 1/2
Texas Gulf Sulph.	9 8 1/2	8 1/2	8 1/2
Tex. Pac. C. & O.	9 15 1/2	15 1/2	15 1/2
Tide-Wat. A. Oil	6 6	6	6
Trans. & West Air	40 76 1/2	75 1/2	75 1/2
Union Carbide	125 27	26	26 1/2
United Air	47 3 1/2	3 1/2	3 1/2
United Corp.	32 26 1/2	25 1/2	25 1/2
U. S. Rubber	50 60 1/2	59 1/2	59 1/2
U. S. Steel	32 25 1/2	24 1/2	24 1/2
West. Un. Tel.	11 9 1/2	9 1/2	9 1/2
White Motor	22 36 1/2	36	36 1/2
Wrayworth (FW)	5 3 1/2	3 1/2	3 1/2

NEW YORK CURB

Ark. Nat. Gas	5 3 1/2	3 1/2	3 1/2
Ch. Ry.	46 10	9 1/2	10
El. Bond & Sh.	3 5 1/2	5 1/2	5 1/2
Ford Mot. Ltd.	11 38 1/2	37 1/2	38
Hamble. Oil	11 6 1/2	6 1/2	6 1/2
Ning. Ind. Pow.	21 8 1/2	8 1/2	8 1/2
United Gas	31 4 1/2	4 1/2	4 1/2

WOOL

BOSTON, Dec. 24. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow "The broader demand for wool noted a week ago has continued and the market is in a more cheerful tone than for a long time. Prices are higher slightly for fine wools both here and at country points, especially for short fine scoured wools for women's suède cloths.

Foreign markets—mostly closed for the holidays—are generally firm, though not especially active.

"The piece goods markets are irregular but gradually are clearing out surplus goods and getting some new orders on the new levels of prices."

"Mohair is rather low and easier on the basis of the recent sale in Texas of adult hair at 30 cents."

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:

OKLAHOMA CITY LIVESTOCK
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 24. (AP)—(USDA)—Cattle 300; calves 200; no beef steers, yearlings or heifers offered; few beef cows and cullers 4.00-5.00; vealer top 10.00; others mostly 6.00-8.00; plain and medium slaughter calves 4.25-5.50; few good grades to 6.00; stockers nominal; compared with last week's close; beef steers and heifers 25-50 lower; beef cows and cullers around 25 off; bulls 25-50 lower; vealers firm; slaughter calves 20 lower.

Hogs 600; active, fully steady with Thursday; packer top 8.00; few sales on small killer accounts to 8.10; most sales 160-250 lbs. 8.00; few lights and heavies 7.25-7.50; packing sows 6.00-6.50.

Sheep 100; fat lambs steady; top fed natives 7.75; bulk 7.25-7.60; sheep nominal; for the week; fat lambs 25-35 lower; ewes mostly 25 off.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, Dec. 24. (AP)—(USDA)—Hogs 500; practical top 8.35, part load 8.40; good to choice 150-220 lbs. M-E-Y; most 240-290 lbs. 7.40-7.85; odd sows 6.75 down.

Cattle 150, calves 25; rather indifferent demand; market steady to weak; two loads good short fat steers taken off market; few vealers up to 8.50; stockers and

HIGHWAY COMMISSION TO SPONSOR 'GUIDE'

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 24.—(AP)—Publication of "The Texas Guide," product of the WPA writers' project, was practically assured today with announcement that the state highway commission would serve as sponsor of the book.

Announcement of the commission's decision was made here by Robert Lee Bobbitt, chairman.

The Guide, similar to those already published in many New England and eastern states, will contain complete information on the points of interest to be found in all sections of Texas.

J. Frank Davis, state supervisor, said workers already had submitted 7,000,000 words of material which will have to be boiled down to about 450 pages of reading matter. Authority is being obtained and double-checked for each statement, he said. The material is almost complete, Davis announced.

Earlier in the year an attempt was made to secure the state planning board as sponsor of the guide, but this move failed when it was ruled the board was ineligible under the law.

Forgeries of art pictures may be detected by photography, which reveals many differences of brushwork and medium between old and modern paintings.

In early types of motorcycles, the first form of ignition was a tube protruding from the cylinder. This was heated by a Bunsen burner before the engine could be started.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

The management and staff of this institution extend Christmas Greetings and wish for you every prosperity in the New Year. We deem it a pleasure to have served you.

OPEN ALL NIGHT

SCHNEIDER Hotel Garage

Phone 453
JOHN MOBLEY, Owner

GREETINGS

May happiness be your lot this Noel. Trade with us and keep your Christmas smile throughout the New Year!

Glen Ragsdale
PLUMBING AND HEATING CO.
929 W. Foster Phone 220

A Christmas Wish...

May all the joys of a happy Yuletide Season be yours, and may the New Year see the realization of your every dream. May we continue to enjoy the true appreciation that makes acquaintances friends.

SALARY LOAN COMPANY
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLDG.

PURITAN BAKERY

Your loyalty to this firm has made it possible for us to enjoy an unusual and highly satisfactory volume of business during the past year. We trust we may continue to merit this good will.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

FURR FOOD STORES

SEASON'S GREETINGS

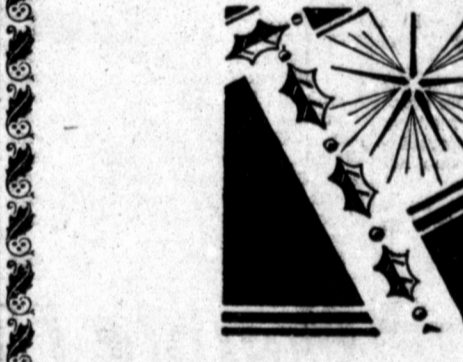

At this Holiday Season we feel prompted to tell you how deeply grateful we are for the consideration you have so kindly extended us in the past year and to wish each of you a Christmas of happiness and a year of health and prosperity.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

Today, as on previous occasions, we greet you with all the sincerity that is in our hearts; and thank you with a deep feeling of grateful appreciation for your thoughtfulness in the year just closing.

MANN FURNITURE COMPANY
406-513 S. Cuyler Mrs. Lela Mann, Owner Phones 271 and 281

Expressing Our Sincere Good Wishes

For a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

We welcome an opportunity to thank you for that measure of good will and confidence we enjoy from you. From this priceless asset—the good will of all we serve and those who serve us—we hope to draw inspiration for continued effort and for a greater achievement in the future. We are happy if we have been of service to you, and trust that we may continue to merit your patronage.

YOUR LAUNDRY & DRY CLEANERS
"Pampa's Largest and Most Modern"

WICHITA FIRM BUYS BUFFALO IN BIG SALE

HIGGINS, Dec. 24.—(Special)—One of the largest crowds a n d consignments of livestock was billed in at the Higgins Livestock Sales Company, Tuesday, that has been here for several weeks. Buyers and consigners were in front of different states with car and truck loads of stock that found a market well in line with Oklahoma City and Wichita markets. One of the main attractions was around 30 head of buffalo calves including both bulls and cows that sold from $40 to $60 a head. The Jacob Doid Packing Co., Wichita, was the principal buyer.

They also bought several head of fat cows and heifers to finish out a load. George Grimes was representing the company. G. C. Brunson of Crosbyton, Tex., bought a three year old buffalo cow and two buffalo bulls were taken by parties at Woodward. W. Scott also purchased a few head. George Howlett and Harold Bader of Shattuck were the buffalo consigners. In the hog yards a large run of fat hogs were sold with most offerings going around the $7.00 mark with a top of $7.50. V. K. Searth and Roy New sold a bunch of 165 pound butchers at this price. Oscar Kennedy of Arnett sold a sow and seven young pigs at $35.00. C. V. Talley, Canadian sold a load of pigs and light shoats from $4.10 to $7.00 a head.

Other Hemphill consigners were Bob Donaldson, Raymond Williams, Ramsey Bros., Chas. Newcomer and Jess Buzard. From Lipscomb county Boone Tyson sold a load of heavy butchers at 7c a pound. Bert Hastings, a thin sow at $27.25. Gilbert Bowles and S. H. Dickson were well pleased consigners from Ellis county, Oklahoma. A light run of horses was disposed of at fair prices. G. C. Hink, Vici had in a few, on the light order, that sold well in line with neighboring sales. In the cattle yards a large run of jackpot cattle were sold and a car load of whiteface steer calves. Included in this offering were sales made for C. G. Hughes—60 head of light steer calves to R. T. Kelley at $22.00 per head.

Mr. Kelley has bought around 800 head of this grade of cattle through the auction, within the past month. Bud Stuckey sold a load of mixed cattle including milk cows up to $42.00 a head. Irvin Stuckey of Arnett sold a load of fat cows and heifers up to $6.80 per hundred. Most of his offerings were bought by the Doid Packing company. Lem Porter of Shamrock sold some Jersey cows and R. R. Drum, Miami, a load of mixed breed dairy heifers.

Twin Gilson of Shattuck consigned a load of Jersey heifers that sold around $26.00 per head. F. F. Jergison, Darrouzett sold a load of plain mottled calves at $5.10 a hundred. Homer Owens, Lipscomb, sold 9 head of whiteface heifer calves at $24.75 each.

Omie Cress of Shamrock, made an outstanding sale on a whiteface bull that went to Harry Fleming at $82.25. He also sold cows up to 5c a pound. Paul Sanford, Arnett, sold a truck load of mixed cattle with two year old heifers up to $30.00 each.

Among the principal consigners other than those mentioned were R. W. Brown, R. Williams, Canadian; John Armstrong, Durham, Okla.; and Eugene Sell, Lipscomb. The largest buyers in the hog yards were V. K. Searth and Roy New, Higgins; J. L. Weiden and H. A. Johnson, Vici, Okla.; and J. M. Higgins, Shattuck.

A buffalo hide sold by Bud Stuckey brought $10.25. He also sold three buffalo—2 bulls and 1 cow—for $160.00.

A quilt made by Mrs. Nell Black with most of the old time cattle brands of the panhandle sold for $9.00.

STRANGE CAT FISHES FOR FOOD IN BOSQUE

WACO, Dec. 24.—(AP)—A cat patrols a section of the north bosque river and apparently fishes for its food.

Leonard Studer and Clyde Turner of Waco, fishing by fire light on the river recently, said a cat came out of the woods, poised on the bank and began slapping the water at intervals. Its claws often contained a minnow when withdrawn.

Studer caught a sizeable fish and without warning the cat leaped at it. It remained nearby until the men left.

SOAP COLLECTOR HAS CLEAN RECORD.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Elmo Israel, University of Alabama sophomore, says that when he feels "all washed up" he finds consolation in his unusual hobby, one of the "cleanest" on record.

For 10 years Israel has been collecting sample soap bars. He has hundreds of them, garnered from 20 states. New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, St. Louis and Miami are a few of the cities named on the wrappers of soap in his collection.

He is a member of the university band and trips with it are used to swell his collection. Friends who know what he does also help him, he says.

The potato beetle made an appearance in Germany just prior to the World War, but was quickly exterminated.

Reunited by Holdup Slaying

After 16 years, Mrs. Dorothy Reeder of Davenport, Ia., found her missing boy—in the Cook county jail at Chicago, where Paul Reeder, 19, awaits trial on a holdup murder charge. Tragic instead of joyous is the pictured reunion with the boy, taken from her by his father when they separated 16 years ago.

Local Crises Forgotten As White House Worries Over Foreign Situation

By RODNEY DUTCHER, Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The domestic situation, calculated to inspire the jitters from more angles than one, has been almost forgotten at the White House since the Japanese bombed and machine-gunned the U. S. gunboat Panny on the Yangtze river.

Official assurances that the international situation is "tense" or "critical" have been given out ostentatiously with an obvious intent to get the people of this country worked up over it.

Such tactics reflect the degree to which the Far Eastern problem has absorbed the President, the admirals, the diplomats, and other advisers. Officials who have tried to get presidential action on problems and crises here at home will testify privately that it's hard to get the presidential mind off China.

Nevertheless there is still a depression in this country with no assurance that it won't get worse after the first of the year, and the fate of the wage-hour bill has been shown that F. D. R.—for the time being, at least—has lost control over Congress. Much as he may prefer the international stage at this time, Roosevelt will have to turn and face these problems again.

Throw Treaty Overboard. If this government takes any strong action toward Japan, its first move, according to present plans, will be to throw overboard the Nine-Power Pacific treaty with public announcement that Japan already has figuratively torn it up.

Since Japan's promise to respect

China's territorial integrity was one of the pledges swapped for America's promise not to fortify possessions in the Pacific—except Hawaii—Tokio would then be advised that the U. S. would feel free to establish naval or airplane bases on American territory wherever it desired. This might or might not be followed promptly by a fortification program in the Philippines, or establishment of an air base in the Alutian Islands.

Delivering Death Blow.

Boss Frank Hague, labor-baiting mayor of Jersey City, N. J., delivered one of the final death blows under which the wage-hour bill was buried in the House. Almost at the last minute Hague, whose police have been deporting labor union organizers from the city where Hague admits he is the law, telephoned to members of New Jersey's Democratic congressional delegation and caused a switch of several votes which were subsequently cast for recommitment of the bill.

Nevertheless Congresswoman Mary Norton, who owes her seat to Hague and his machine, stuck to her guns, and as chairman of the House Labor committee fought to the end to save the bill.

She made a perhaps fatal error when she permitted Department of Labor lobbyists, and state labor commissioners influenced by them, to persuade her into substituting for the five-man administrative board proposal a provision for administration of the proposed act by a Labor Department administrator.

Fathered In Darkness. But that was naive. She fought the best she knew how, although subjected to some embarrassing heckling such as the following: Congressman Griswold of Indiana: "The gentleman from New Jersey said she had mothered this child which was dropped on her doorstep. I cannot believe that she really mothered it. If the gentleman from New Jersey had mothered this child it would have a different aspect from that which it has now."

Mrs. Norton: "I said I was the adopted mother."

Griswold: "The child here is a moron and the gentleman was not really mothered one child. She has mothered four."

Griswold: "The gentleman will have to turn the klieg lights on it. That is the only way that any light will ever appear on the face of this illegitimate child, fathered in darkness and born in obscurity."

Congressman Sam McReynolds of Tennessee subsequently also did his

FOUR GENERATIONS OF ROOSEVELTS REUNITE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—(AP)—A four-generation reunion of the Roosevelt family filled the White House with Christmas gaiety today.

The President, preparing to send holiday greetings throughout the nation by radio late this afternoon, was son, father and grandfather by turn as holiday house guests arrived.

There was some confusion about filling the President's Christmas stockings. Mrs. Roosevelt, who usually is Santa Claus' aid in this, was helping make the holiday brighter for their daughter, Mrs. John Boettiger, just out of a hospital in Seattle, Wash.

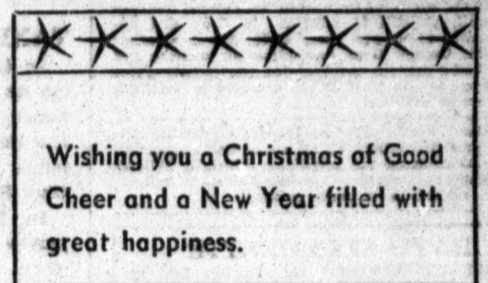

There were many Roosevelts on hand here, however. The group included the President's 84-year-old mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt; his half sister-in-law, Mrs. J. R. Roosevelt of New York; two sons, John, just home from Harvard, and James, who is a White House Secretary, with the latter's wife Betsy; and two grandchildren, Sara, 5, and Kate, 22 months old, children of James and Betsy.

Others were expected, possibly in time for the annual Christmas tree lighting service on Lafayette Square (at 5 p. m., E. S. T.). Greetings were to be broadcast to the country over the NBC, Columbia networks about 5:10 p. m., E. S. T.

Deficits in the Texas general revenue, confederate pension and old age pension funds are frequently mentioned, but the state is many millions to the good when all funds are considered. The aggregate net balance in the 98 funds was $20,405,624 Dec. 1.

In china, it is polite to make as much noise as possible when eating.

Wishing you a Christmas of Good Cheer and a New Year filled with great happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Foster
E. & M. CAFE
112 W. Foster

Our Sincere Wish For You Is That Complete Happiness And Prosperity May Be Yours in 1938

We Have Enjoyed Serving Our Friends In the Panhandle

BEHRMAN'S

Correct Apparel for Women Exclusive But Not Expensive 123 North Cuyler Phone 353

A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL

and a Prosperous New Year

It has been a pleasure to have served you throughout the past year, not from the standpoint of business alone, but also from the pleasant friendships we have enjoyed. It is our wish that these may continue through 1938 with even a greater number on our list.

... So to both Past and Future Friends, we say

MERRY CHRISTMAS and HAPPY NEW YEAR!

TEXAS FURNITURE COMPANY

210-212 N. CUYLER

THE YULETIDE SEASON

brings joyous Greetings to all our customers

The Yuletide Season brings joyous Greetings to all our customers and an appreciation for the considerations we have enjoyed during the past year. Our Good Wishes to you and yours.

In Pampa Since 1929
TAYLOR'S GARAGE & MACHINE SHOP

HE hunting season! We hunted and hunted for a new way of saying it, but we like the old way best... Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

OWL Drug Store 314 S. Cuyler

MESSAGE TO YOU

... at Christmastime

In true appreciation of the patronage that you have extended to us in the past year, let us express our sincere wishes for a most enjoyable Christmas and a successful New Year.

Serving Texans 20 Years
OWEN'S OPTICAL SERVICE
1st National Bank Bldg. Phone 269

Pampa Daily News

Published every evening, except Saturday, and Sunday morning by the Pampa Daily News, 322 West Foster Avenue, Pampa, Texas.

Phone 666—All departments.

JAS. E. LYONS, Gen. Mgr. TEX DEWEESE, Editor

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS (Full Leased Wire). The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited to this paper and also the regular news published herein.

Entered as second class matter March 15, at the post-office at Pampa, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879. National Advertising Representatives: Texas Daily Press League, New York, St. Louis, Kansas City, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES—By carrier in Pampa, 18c per week. By mail, payable in advance, in Gray and adjoining counties, $1.00 per year, $5.75 per 6 months; 75c per month. Outside Gray and adjoining counties per year, $9.00, $4.50 per six months, 75c per month. Price per single copy, 5c. No mail orders accepted in localities served by carrier delivery.

An independent Democratic newspaper, publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times and supporting in its editorial columns the principles which it believes to be right and opposing those questions which it believes to be wrong, regardless of party politics.

TODAY'S SERMONETTE

The old and the new testaments are so closely entwined that one would be powerless to impress its truth without the other, and all the prophets of all the old testament were pointing and preparing for the Lord's coming. "And thou, child, shall be called the prophet of the Highest; for thou shalt go before the fact of the Lord to prepare his way.

When conditions reach a point where the average American family must kick in with $160 a year to pay the salaries of "normal" government employees, the day doesn't seem far off when the taxpayers will exceed in number the taxpayers!

CHRISTMAS

You would think that the ordinary adult would get used to Christmas, after all these years; would get a little case-hardened, so to speak, so that the day would lose a little bit of its special, magical appeal.

But somehow that never happens. Christmas is forever new; even the most dour and crabbed of people, like old Scrooge, are likely to find themselves mystically made over by its influence, if only for a day or two.

For Christmas is, among other things, a kind of spiritual rebirth which restores the freshness and expectancy of childhood. It is not for nothing that its common symbol is a jovial Santa Claus, bearing a pack of gifts for children. Above all other days, Christmas is a children's holiday; and the adult who can pass through it without at least partly entering once more the stainless and unforgettably world of his own childhood is a hard and isolated soul indeed.

And it is quite right that Christmas should be the children's day. Its infinite significance, born of that divine event in far-away Judea, is something we must never overlook in the hustle and bustle of holiday observance; and the One whose birth the holiday commemorates is, after all, the author of that profound remark, "Unless ye become as little children..."

Which, in its turn, is a reminder that a spiritual rebirth like the one which Christmas brings is entirely and fundamentally necessary to us. That coating of cynicism which worldly experience puts on all of us, that readiness to expect the worst, to return evil for evil, to suspect motives and to count the costs of all generous actions—is not that something which we must discard, somehow, before we can shape the world in the way it must be shaped?

We cannot enter the Kingdom of Heaven with this cynicism; and Christmas is an excellent time to remember, also, that the Kingdom of Heaven is after all within ourselves. We must find the King there or nowhere. Until we do find it the world will continue to be the sorry and imperfect place it now is.

Christmas is a good time to start looking for it. For, on top of everything else, Christmas is a reminder that the Kingdom is really there, if we take the trouble to get at it. Man is perfectible, after all; his dreams are not vain, his ideals are not unattainable. If we can but remember that today, our Christmas will do for us what it was meant to do.

ANTI-MONOPOLY BILL LIKELY

Despite presidential hints, platform promises and a great deal of exploration, the administration is as far as ever from a concrete proposal to Congress for legislation to curb monopoly and replace present ineffective anti-trust laws.

Roosevelt and his advisers are still fishing around for the best method of discouraging concentrations of economic power—and getting nowhere. This can be said in spite of the fact that the President and Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, head of the Justice Department's anti-trust section, discussed the issue at length during F. D. R.'s recent fishing trip.

The best reason for thinking that an anti-monopoly bill will be offered to this Congress is the fact that Roosevelt wants a "Roosevelt issue" for the 1938 congressional campaigns. The monopoly issue would be a good one. It ties up with the high cost of living and price increases such as at least helped bring on the depression.

If any anti-monopoly program is agreed upon it will almost surely seek to hit at monopoly by use of the taxing power. Intercorporate dividend and graduated corporation taxes might be used.

But it also has been seriously proposed in conferences that a graduated prohibitive tax might be laid upon any corporation which does more than a stipulated percentage of the business in its industry.

Governor George D. Aiken of Vermont, who wants a Republican party house-cleaning, reminds you of Alf Landon of Kansas. At least, several correspondents who traveled with Landon in the last campaign and then interviewed Aiken at his press conference the other day in Senator Gibson's office, found a very strong resemblance.

The Vermonters' features—although somehow more rugged, his eye-glasses, gray hair and especially his mouth, his disarming smile, and conversational style were all cited as points of similarity. The two men appear to be about the same age, although Landon is about five years older.

Yet none of Aiken's interviewers saw him as a presidential possibility. Aside from the fact that Vermont has only three electoral votes and is far from pivotal, he frankly admitted "I don't know as much about the problems of labor as I wish I did;" and "I don't know how far we should go in farm legislation—it's in the experimental stage."

As a farmer, Aiken has specialized in nurseries and trees. News photographers posed him in every conceivable position, but he finally balked when they asked him to "look worried."

"I may look bewildered," said the governor, "but I'm not worried."

TAXEATERS AND TAXPAYERS

As the New York Times observes, our ancestors would probably have thrown up their hands in horror if they could have foreseen the state of affairs suggested by a survey of public employment recently released by the Civil Service Assembly.

In 1936, wages and salaries for all employees of government, excluding those on work relief, came to $5,145,873,000—which works out to $160 for each American family of four. As the Times also says, "If the extraordinary figures for relief were added to this normal total, the figures would be fairly astronomical."

Washington Daybook

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—Switchboards in the capitol's "national" telephone exchange burst into a rash of red lights.

The navy code-room is calling Secretary of State Hull takes the message, hangs up and puts in two calls: one to the White House and one to the naval observatory.

The White House call is through first.

"Mr. President," says Hull, quietly, "I have to inform you that our gunboat, the Panay, was sunk in the Yangtze today 25 miles above Nanking."

The President's crisp voice inquires whether anyone was killed.

"We can't tell yet, sir. We think not. The survivors are at Hohen."

As soon as he hangs up, Hull's phone rings again. Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, who lives at the naval observatory, is on the wire. Hull repeats his message.

"That's the way America's diplomatic machinery slips into highgear."

Each diplomatic incident is different. But in each case government department heads are notified. They work together in finding out exactly what happened and in taking action.

Usually events happen so fast that each department head stays by whatever phone catches him with the news. There is seldom flurry. The paths of diplomacy are so "well-worn" that the man involved go through the motions in a quiet one-two-three.

In the Panay incident, President Roosevelt stayed near his study phone in the White House. Hull stuck to his in the hotel where he lives two blocks away, and Leahy manned his in his quarters three miles away.

Each man called about him his special aides who knew Far Eastern problems. A skeleton office staff rushed to the state department to man typewriters and mimeographs that ground out the news for the press.

Hull sent off immediate instructions to Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, at Tokyo, to press the Japanese government for full information. Similar messages went off to Nelson T. Johnson, ambassador to China, and Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander of the Asiatic fleet.

Lights were out at 2 a. m., on the first day of the "incident."

By the next morning the navy radio was bringing more news, while Hull held an early morning conference with his aides. When the picture was complete, Hull stepped across the street to the White House with his portfolio, to prepare this country's strongest protest to the Japanese government with President Roosevelt.

When he returned to his high-ceilinged, Victorian office he found frail, almond-eyed Ambassador Saito of Japan waiting with his country's "regrets."

Across an old, mahogany desk the tall, dignified Hull unsmilingly requested the slight Japanese diplomat to convey President Roosevelt's "deep shock" to the Emperor of Japan, and to say that this country expected apologies, compensation and no further such incidents.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Switchboards in the capitol's "national" telephone exchange burst into a rash of red lights.

The navy code-room is calling Secretary of State Hull takes the message, hangs up and puts in two calls: one to the White House and one to the naval observatory.

The White House call is through first.

"Mr. President," says Hull, quietly, "I have to inform you that our gunboat, the Panay, was sunk in the Yangtze today 25 miles above Nanking."

The President's crisp voice inquires whether anyone was killed.

"We can't tell yet, sir. We think not. The survivors are at Hohen."

As soon as he hangs up, Hull's phone rings again. Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, who lives at the naval observatory, is on the wire. Hull repeats his message.

"That's the way America's diplomatic machinery slips into highgear."

Each diplomatic incident is different. But in each case government department heads are notified. They work together in finding out exactly what happened and in taking action.

Usually events happen so fast that each department head stays by whatever phone catches him with the news. There is seldom flurry. The paths of diplomacy are so "well-worn" that the man involved go through the motions in a quiet one-two-three.

In the Panay incident, President Roosevelt stayed near his study phone in the White House. Hull stuck to his in the hotel where he lives two blocks away, and Leahy manned his in his quarters three miles away.

Each man called about him his special aides who knew Far Eastern problems. A skeleton office staff rushed to the state department to man typewriters and mimeographs that ground out the news for the press.

Hull sent off immediate instructions to Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, at Tokyo, to press the Japanese government for full information. Similar messages went off to Nelson T. Johnson, ambassador to China, and Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander of the Asiatic fleet.

Lights were out at 2 a. m., on the first day of the "incident."

By the next morning the navy radio was bringing more news, while Hull held an early morning conference with his aides. When the picture was complete, Hull stepped across the street to the White House with his portfolio, to prepare this country's strongest protest to the Japanese government with President Roosevelt.

When he returned to his high-ceilinged, Victorian office he found frail, almond-eyed Ambassador Saito of Japan waiting with his country's "regrets."

Across an old, mahogany desk the tall, dignified Hull unsmilingly requested the slight Japanese diplomat to convey President Roosevelt's "deep shock" to the Emperor of Japan, and to say that this country expected apologies, compensation and no further such incidents.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

"Twas the night before Christmas"—when this was written—and the festive spirit of Christmas eve was rampant as Pampa folk prepared for the most colorful evening of the city's history.

Plans were being made for the annual school conducted by the Texas Wheat Growers' association, which was to be held in the Round-up room of the Amarillo hotel, January 2 to 6, inclusive.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Nominations for the Pampa Civic All-Stars of 1932 were still arriving in The NEWS' poll. Names of both men and women were included.

More than 1,100 children of 14 years of age and under filled the lower floor and the balcony of the LaNora theater at the annual Pampa Daily NEWS—La Nora free Christmas party.

'Boy! You've Got Something There!'

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Parties of four who plan to spend New Year's eve in any of the major hotels or nightclubs should count on shucking out anything from $50 to $100. There are a few places advertised at $5 to $750 a plate, but a majority are $10 and $15 a plate. One that I know of has announced its tariff as $25.

This seems an exceptional fee for dancing several hours on a postage stamp floor while having one's ribs caved in. True, you get dinner, a 15 cent paper hat, a lot of confetti, and music, plus the tumult of a noisy, carefree crowd, but you can get this any other night for less than a third the holiday fee.

Drinks are always extra, and at 60 cents to $1 a throw it doesn't take four people long to run through a $20 bill. Wines and champagne will come from $5 to $15 a bottle. Add transportation—taxi fares, plus hotel accommodations, and your weekly salary sails right out the window.

Incidentally, the dancing space in the New York clubs is seldom larger than your living room. About 14 by 16 feet. For this there are from 500 to 1,000 dancers. Don't forget your shoulderpads.

It's getting so now a body doesn't know which way to turn. For instance, Mr. Walter Winchell, the Broadway columnist, had this to say the other day:

"Freddie Bartholomew, whose soprano voice hasn't changed yet, sounds like a grown woman via the networks!"

Then along comes Miss Louella Parsons, the Hollywood columnist, with this announcement:

"Freddie Bartholomew's voice is changing and they are in a panic at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, for 'Boy-stown' is set to go into production next month. Personally, I think it would be charming to let Freddie play his part even if the crack in his voice becomes discernible."

Whither, Freddie, high C or bass? Many of the bars, clam stubes, and restaurants use sawdust on the floor. We often wondered where all the sawdust came from, sawdust being a rarity on the island, until Ganz, whose Palm restaurant on 2nd avenue is a sawduster, explained: "There's a fellow in New York who makes a business of delivering sawdust in New York. He has a regular trade route and retails it at 50 cents a potato sack. He calls with the milkman twice a week and dumps the order on the sidewalk."

However, he doesn't have to import it or sweep up a sawmill to obtain his product. He gets all the sawdust he wants from the liners that dock in East River. These big freighters line their holds with sawdust because it makes good insulation for the shipment of fruit and produce. He started out with a pushcart and now has half a dozen trucks.

CALIFORNIA'S BIG TREES MAY EMIGRATE.

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—In time California may lose the distinction of being the sole habitat of the "big trees."

Prof. Woodbridge Mead of the University of California finds that the two species which grow to such enormous size—the sequoia gigantea and the sequoia sempervirens—can be transplanted and are thriving strange soil. Among the places they are flourishing are Australia, Japan, New Zealand, Italy and parts of France and England.

It will take several thousand years, however, for them to rival the California redwoods in size.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

While Santa Claus was giving out presents at the First Christian church Thursday night, John Mullen, minister, was at home reading "Time." There's a story behind that. Now it happens that John never believed in Santa Claus because his parents taught him there was no St. Nicholas. As soon as he could grasp the meaning of words they told him there was no Santa Claus. John is teaching his children likewise. They do not now and never did believe there was a Santa Claus. John makes a point of his belief. "How many children have you known who have said, 'I haven't enjoyed Christmas since I was five, six or seven years old?'" he asked, and you admit that you've heard many children say that. Christmas is always the same for children who have not been taught to believe in Santa Claus. There is deeper meaning in Christmas," he said. "And it stays with them from the beginning." So it was not unexpected when he refused his members' joking request to be Santa Claus. Understand there were no hard feelings on either side. John respects the beliefs of his members, and they respect his. They can joke about it which shows both sides have a sense of humor which is necessary in this present-day complex civilization.

(Note: The Christian church was packed with members and their families as they received their gifts from Santa Claus at an old-fashioned Christmas tree.)

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — There's more sound but less fury over it in Hollywood after these 10 years of talkies.

Stuart Erwin brought that fact to mind, telling of a recent day's work in "Checkers." It was on the same stage where Stu made his first great film in the squawky era of the talkies. This time they didn't bother about sound-proofing, didn't bother when extraneous noises crept in during a scene. But then—there was awe, mystery, confusion about this thing called sound.

Roger Heman, once a prop man, now head sound man at 20th Century-Fox, supplies the obvious answer: "We know a great deal more about it now. Then we had to guess, and we couldn't do tricks with the sound track."

Those tricks, as practiced today in every studio, make weird dreams commonplace actualities. The sound department can "erase," figuratively, any noise it doesn't want on the sound track. It can camouflage the scene with perfect, and the company now was engaged on other scenes. What did they do? They called the actors to the recording room, projected the scene on a screen without sound, had them read their lines into a microphone to synchronize with their screen lip movements. Afterward, on another sound track, they took from the sound library—nearly 3,000,000 feet of assorted noises—a recording of more gentle rainfall, and super-imposed this on the dialogue. Then they played back the result, with other sound tracks containing desired sound effects, and recorded the composite on one final sound track.

"Second Honeymoon"—that pier scene between Loretta Young and Tyrone Power—something went wrong. In the projection room Miss Young's voice became a shrieking whine. The sounders "filtered" out the shriek, made the sound true, and super-imposed, to cover any remaining imperfections, the sounds of sea waves and crickets.

Still Some Interference

They can do these things easily, but they can't—contrary to fable—do much to improve a bad microphone voice. They can't, for example, make a male falsetto record like a booming bass. Perhaps they could, but the beautiful heroine also would sound like a foghorn, which would be embarrassing.

There are still interferences which they haven't conquered. Airplanes which zoom over outdoor sets, or any sustained noise of the sort, they have to depend on the courtesy of pilots, or wait until the aerial sighting trip is over. Strangely, more sound arises in interior sets than outdoors. That's because sound waves find walls to bounce upon, regardless of precautions taken to deaden the possibilities.

Gold hoardings in India are such that no one can accurately estimate the amount; the common estimate, however, sets it at above $5,000,000,000.

Mosquitoes are the favorite dish of the bat, so the city of San Antonio, Tex., erects bat roosts to encourage more bats to patrol the vicinity.

The Capitol Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Dec. 24 (AP)—In Texas there will be no special "Christmas" clemencies this year. In fact, there haven't been in any of the years of Gov. James V. Allred's administration.

Before the most important of the Governor's clemency powers were taken from him by constitutional amendment and given to the board of pardons, Gov. Allred had maintained pardons, paroles and other acts of clemency should be granted strictly on merit. The board continued that policy.

Bruce Bryant, chairman, asked whether the board would alter its habits this year, replied emphatically: "It is the policy of the board to conduct hearings regularly and to grant clemency to deserving convicts in accordance with the law," he said. "The board does not think much of bargain days in clemencies but believes the wheels of justice should turn regularly. That plan works out best for both convicts and the public."

Animal farm vehicles, that is to say, farm wagons, continue, the public safety department says, to be a dangerous source of highway traffic deaths.

The law prescribes such vehicles must be equipped either with a tail light or a light reflector, but the department says it is by no means universally observed.

"Take a typical case," said a spokesman. "A patrolman, about 10 o'clock at night comes upon a farm wagon. In it are the farmer, perhaps several, with women and children. The farmer says he has taken a bale of cotton to the gin and couldn't get it ginned in time to get home by dark."

"Should the patrolman file a case against the farmer? And if he did in Justice Court in the farmer's precinct, do you think there would be any likelihood of conviction?"

As a general thing, therefore, the patrolman usually explains to the farmer the hazard to himself and his family resulting from his violating the law, that at any moment a high-powered automobile or a truck might come plunging over a hill and send them all into eternity.

The department hopes that in time education and aroused public sentiment will work a solution of the problem.

Another cause of traffic accidents is the cow which either breaks out of lot or pasture, or is turned out by a thoughtless owner to graze upon the right-of-way.

The law prohibits running cows on the rights of way of fenced designated state highways, but, the safety department says, it is done in many sections.

"Another typical case," the spokesman continued, "may be this. A patrolman finds a cow grazing on the highway, or, perhaps, lying on the concrete slab, which is nice and cool after a hot summer day. The patrolman sees a nearby farmhouse. 'The farmwife says the cow isn't their's but maybe it belongs to Jim Smith a mile down the road. The patrolman goes down to Smith's, neither does the cow belong to Smith.'

"The patrolman can spend a day there, trying to locate the owner of the cow and then may not succeed. 'What shall he do? He can't shoot the cow? There is no state pound.'

Texas is in the third sequence of civilization, Julian Montgomery, new state highway engineer, said recently.

Addressing guests at a dinner given in his honor, Montgomery said the sequences of civilization are the explorer, the pioneer and the builder, engineers belonging to the last.

"Texas is in the building era of her civilization, which era is less than a century old," he said. "But in it we have brought forth the realization of the dreams of the explorers and pioneers."

Incidentally, Montgomery said that in hiring him the highway commission elicited only the proposition he would give his best to the job. There were no other exactions.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

Against self slaughter

There is a prohibition so divine That cravens my weak hand. That sums up Shakespeare on suicide.

This problem of self-destruction is extremely complicated. It is tied up with the individual's philosophy of life and with his religious convictions. To the orthodox Mohammedan and to the religious Jew, suicide is unthinkable. To the Japanese, and to the Greek and Roman of classical days, self-destruction was not only permissible but under certain circumstances, most honorable.

"Against the outrages of life, I have the refuge of death" was the pessimistic boast of many an ancient thinker.

Today suicide is viewed largely as a psychiatric problem.

During the last century, statistics show a large increase in the number of suicides. Self-destruction is more common in large cities than in country districts. More women attempt suicide but men are more successful in their efforts at self-destruction.

Whether the suicide is a coward or hero is purely an academic question. From the psychiatric viewpoint, the suicide is neither. He is basically one who exhibits, and reacts to, the highest degree of feeling.

Whether anyone who attempts suicide is of sound mind depends upon the definition of "sound." But the individual attempting suicide cannot be considered insane, because of his attempt. His act does bear witness to deep and serious mental conflict and to deep emotional dejection.

Every type of mental illness carries the threat of suicide. According to psychiatric authorities, the menace of suicide is greatest in the depressive states. They know that a patient threatening suicide must not be dismissed as one indulging in idle talk.

Suicide is not only a psychiatric problem—it is also a social problem, one that affects the communal as well as individual prophylaxis. In a number of cities, both here and abroad, organizations have been formed to combat suicide. Some have established clinics to which those with suicidal trends may turn for help before they are completely mastered by the self-destroring urge.

These are developments worthy of encouragement.

Cranium Crackers

1. To whom is the following quotation attributed: "Genius is 2 per cent inspiration and 98 per cent perspiration?"

2. What two important cities of the United States are not included in counties of their states?

3. In Clement Clark Moore's famous poem, "The Night Before Christmas," Santa's eight reindeer are named. Can you recall the names of four?

4. In what state is the town of "Santa Claus, U. S. A.," located?

5. In elections the votes are reported as a "plurality" and as a "majority." What is the difference? (Answers on classified page.)

So They Say

Don't spank your child when he comes home from school without his rubbers—put him to bed.

—DR. MORRIS A. WEINSTEIN, Philadelphia.

No German should pass the threshold of a Jewish store.

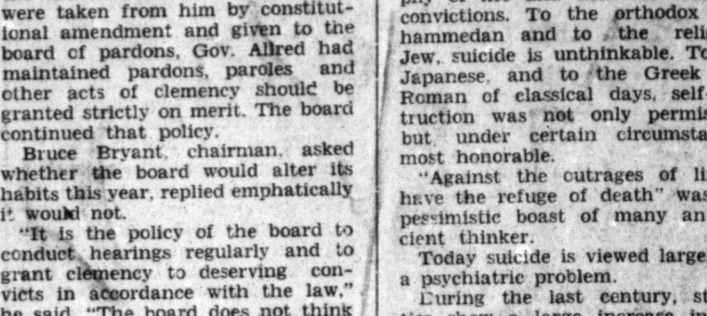

—JULIUS STREICHER, district Nazi leader, Franconia, Germany.

I do not go in for pure science. I am here to study hydraulic works like Boulder dam.

—H. ALBERT EINSTEIN, son of the noted scientist, visiting to the United States.

Side Glances

By George Clark

"Come in, but mama and daddy are sick in bed from eating too much Christmas candy."

© 1937 BY NEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF. 12-25

Comedies Predominate Pampa Theater Programs

CROWN

Sunday - Monday - Tuesday

MISCHA
"MISCH-BEHAVES"
AGAIN—!

They called him
"THE DANDY OF THE DANUBE"
—and ducked him in it!
Because he was the Pest of Budapest!

PRESCRIPTION FOR ROMANCE

A NEW UNIVERSAL PICTURE WITH
WENDY BARRIE • KENT TAYLOR • MISCHA AUER DOROTHEA KENT • FRANK JENKS • HENRY HUNTER

Screen Play by James Mulhouser, Robert T. Shannon & Albert R. Perkins
Directed by S. SYLVAN SIMON Associate Producer EDMUND GRAINGER

YULE JOLLITY REFLECTED IN FILMS BOOKED

Comedies as sparkling as the lights that decorate trees at this season are dominant on Pampa theater programs this week.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the Crown is showing a gay sentimental comedy, "Prescription for Romance," featuring Wendy Barrie, Kent Taylor, Mischa Auer, Dorothea Kent, Frank Jenks, and Henry Hunter.

At the LaNora Sunday, the Paramount film "Double or Nothing" featuring Bing Crosby and Martha Raye, opens for a four-day run.

Leslie Howard, whose reputation has been made in serious roles, takes an opposite kind of part in "It's Love I'm After," Warner Brothers picture at the LaNora Thursday and Friday. Bette Davis is co-starred.

Comedy with a mystery angle is provided in the Paramount film, "She Asked for It," showing Wednesday and Thursday at the Rex. William Gargan and Orin Heyward have the leading roles.

The new team of Ray Milland and Jean Arthur are in the cast of "Easy Living," Paramount picture showing Friday only at the State. Edward Arnold and Jean Arthur head the cast.

While comedies predominate the week's film fare, other types of pictures are represented. Among the action-adventure photoplays are "Tarzan, the Ape Man" starring Johnny Weissmuller, showing Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday at the State; "Hell Divers," an aviation story featuring Clark Gable and Wallace Berry showing at the same theater on Wednesday and Thursday; and "Courage of the West," featuring Bob Baker, at the Rex, Friday and Saturday.

"High, Wide and Handsome," with Irene Dunne and Randolph Scott in the chief roles, is showing Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday at the Rex.

John Boles and Ida Lupino are featured in "Fight for Your Lady," the New Year's day picture at the LaNora. There will be a prevue Friday night.

LaNORA

BING CROSBY
Martha Raye's susceptibility to the tune "It's On, It's On" costs her a cool million in the hilarious comedy "Double or Nothing." Every time she hears that tune she goes into a dance that calls for the riot squad. Also after that million in a serio-comic way are Bing Crosby, Andy Devine and William Frawley with Mary Carlisle in the role of Bing's tantalizing double-crosser.

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Leslie Howard, in the role of a great matinee idol, and Bette Davis, his leading lady, alternately love and hate each other in "It's Love I'm After." Howard finds himself in the position of having to make a girl (Olivia deHavilland) fall out of love with him. The harder he tries the more she loves him. This is misunderstood by his fiancee, Far-cial complications pile up—the proceedings are hilarious with plenty of down-to-earth comedy up to the final scene.

Thursday and Friday.

REX

COMEDY MYSTERY
The hectic problems of a mystery writer who has run out of story ideas is brought to the screen in Paramount's new comedy-mystery "She Asked for It." This fast-moving photoplay stars William Gargan and Orin Heyward, and includes Vivienne Osborne, Richard Carle, Roland Drew and Tully Marshall in the supporting cast.

Wednesday and Thursday.

CROWN

SPARKLING COMEDY
Presenting a fascinating mixture of sparkling comedy and gay romance, Universal's "Prescription for Romance" has been booked three days, beginning Sunday.

"Prescription for Romance" offers Wendy Barrie, Kent Taylor, Mischa Auer, Frank Jenks, Dorothea Kent, Gregory Gaye and Henry Hunter in leading roles.

The story tells the wild filmt of an American embezzler to Budapest Hungary and the maze of complications that ensue when a detective tries to run him down. Wendy Barrie and Kent Taylor furnish most of the romance while Mischa Auer, as the penniless Count Sandor and Frank Jenks, as the impetuous and brash newspaper correspondent furnish scores of laughs.

STATE

AIR STORY
"Hell Divers," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, showing Wednesday and Thursday, is a story dealing with the rivalry between Berry, as a navy veteran, and Gable, a new style of sailor, and typifies the conflict between old and new ideas in naval operations. The central romance is between Berry and Miss Rambeau as a keeper of a Panama resort, who has waited years for "her man." The original story is by Lieutenant Commander Frank Wead, with screen play by Harvey Gates and Malcolm Stuart Boylan. How a $50,000 sabie coat almost wrecked Wall Street and won an unemployed stenographer a handsome husband, is delightfully told in "Easy Living," the gay comedy with Jean Arthur, Edward Arnold and Ray Milland. The story is by Preston Sturges, who also wrote "Strictly Dishonorable," and it was directed by Mitchell Leisen. Friday only.

FEED MONKEYS PEANUTS.
SOUTHERN FARMERS URGE.
ENFIELD, N. C. (AP)—Monkeys, elephants and small boys can do something for the farm folk of this section. They can eat more peanuts.

Turning from cotton and tobacco to a new "cash" crop, eastern North Carolina farmers built up a gigantic peanut industry. Up, up went the "ground pea" production until it mounted this year to 243,000,000 pounds.

And down, down went the price until it reached a rock bottom of 3.5 cents a pound. The peanut stabilization corporation, through loans to the farmers, is trying to peg the price at that figure.

THE DAWN

of another
New Year...

finds us wishing you much joy and prosperity... and expressing our thanks for your friendship and patronage.

WHITE HOUSE LUMBER CO.

101 S. Ballard Phone 50
R. W. LANE, Mgr.

FOR YOUR HOLIDAY ENTERTAINMENT!

LaNORA TODAY

HERO OF THE HAREM!
He gives the Sultan's wives and dancers a new deal!

EDDIE CANTOR
IN
"ALI BABA Goes to Town"
with
JUNE LANG ROLAND YOUNG LOUISE HOVICK (GYPSY ROSE LEE)

REX TODAY

...THE RING-LEADER OF THE RUSTLERS
...Was his sweetheart's brother!

William BOYD
in
"HOPALONG RIDES AGAIN"
with
NORA LANE GEORGE HAYES

—also—
Frank Buck in "Jungle Menace"

Sunday - Monday - Tuesday

Here's a Christmas Gift...

We'd like to exchange gifts with you — something that we value very highly—our friendship and service for your continued good will. We want you to know we've appreciated your regard and that we'd like to keep it.

Also
Chapter 11 of
"Dick Tracy"
Cartoon and News

Theater Programs

LaNORA
Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday: "Double or Nothing," Bing Crosby, Martha Raye, Mary Carlisle.
Prevue, Friday night, and New Year's Day: "Fight for Your Lady," John Boles and Ida Lupino.

REX
Sunday, Monday, Tuesday: "High, Wide and Handsome," Irene Dunne, Randolph Scott.
Wednesday, Thursday: "She Asked for It," William Gargan.
Friday, Saturday: "Courage of the West," Bob Baker.

STATE
Sunday, Monday, Tuesday: "Tarzan, the Ape Man," Johnny Weissmuller.
Wednesday, Thursday: "Hell Divers," Clark Gable, Wallace Berry.
Friday: "Easy Living," Edward Arnold, Jean Arthur.

Crown

TODAY

"A RIDIN' BLAST OF THE MAN FURY!"
RUCK JONES
IN A NEW PRODUCTION
"SUDDEN BILL DORN"

Also
Chapter 11 of
"Dick Tracy"
Cartoon and News

Bing HITS the HIGH NOTES... WHILE Martha DOES the LOW-DOWN!

Martha as a cutie who couldn't resist music... Bing as a crooner on the bum!

BING CROSBY
MARTHA RAYE
IN "DOUBLE OR NOTHING"
A Paramount Picture

with
ANDY DEVINE
MARY CARLISLE

PREVUE TONITE
Also Sunday - Monday - Tuesday

DRAMA OF BLACK GOLD!

Romance of the '59

Irene DUNNE
in HIGH, WIDE and HANDSOME with Randolph Scott
Dorothy Lamour
Akim Tamiroff

STATE

Today Only
DICK FORAN
in
"CHEROKEE STRIP"

Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
RETURNED
"Tarzan The Ape Man"

Belated Holiday

By Elinore Cowan Stone Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
LINDA BENTON—Heroine, daughter of a famous singer.
CAPT. BARRY TRENT—Hero, flying "daredevil."
MIRANDA TRENT—Barry's mother's grandmother, a "strong" woman.

Yesterday, Barry, leaving Linda, afraid and fearful, starts on his hazardous rescue trip. At the airport, another woman's voice takes the air to speed him well.

CHAPTER IX
 The voice that spoke next was unmistakably familiar. It was the voice of Rita Blanchard.

"There isn't much one can say, is there? Rita began, "when you see someone whom you have seen fond of—Barry Trent and I played together as children—setting off alone in the dark on such an errand? . . . But I want to say to Barry, if he is listening, 'God-speed' and 'Come back soon.'"

"Children together, my foot!" snorted the Duchess when she could get her breath. "Rita Blanchard was plucking her eyebrows when Barry was playing with blocks . . . What some people will do for a little publicity!"

They went to bed then. . . . That is, they went up to their rooms. To Linda, climbing the stairs, it seemed for the first time since Barry's coming had brought the old house to life, that the faces of the dead and gone Trents lining the staircase peered down at her with secret, silent hostility.

Next morning life went on much as usual except that there were no bursts of song at the breakfast table, no swift feet taking the stairs two at a time, no fragrance of pipe tobacco floating through the rooms—and that, from time to time, Linda fingered incredulously a small golden circlet that hung on a ribbon under her dress, close against the white hollow of her throat.

The early edition of the afternoon paper carried a last-minute item to the effect that Captain Barry Trent, having covered the first leg of his flight in record time, would rest and refuel before continuing south.

Early in the afternoon a stream of callers began to pour into the house. Old Miranda received them, regally in her high-backed chair; but in an interval she observed to Linda with a sour amusement, "You might think from the way they go on that this was a funeral, and they were hired mourners."

MISS CHATTAM was among the first to come. She was with Mrs. Trent when Linda went in with a message.

Remembering the circumstances under which she had last seen the lynx-eyed Miss Chattam, Linda flushed as she greeted the caller. Her flush deepened as she saw the woman flash a significant sidelong glance at Barry's grandmother.

So they had been talking about her! Linda remembered Barry's words: "There, by the grace of God, goes the best old tongue in 20 counties."

What had Lydia Chattam been telling Barry's grandmother? Whatever it was, the old lady seemed unperturbed, even faintly amused.

"You must miss having Captain Trent about Miss Benton," Lydia Chattam said as soon as she had an opportunity. "And how pleasant it must have been for him—having a pretty young girl in the house. There's so little amusement for a lively young man in this town."

It was said with the most plausible amiability, but the implication was inescapable—a lively young man diverting his idle moments with his grandmother's pet companion.

And no doubt that was the only version of the affair that old Miranda would find credible. That accounted for her tolerant amusement. . . . And was that amusement faintly tinged with? . . . "A sweetest in every port."

"That anyone should believe such a thing was an insult, Linda felt, to the dignity of her love—of Barry's love for her. For the first time in her sheltered, rather placid life, she found herself furiously angry.

For the first time since she had come to the Trent house, she could not find tasks enough to keep hands and mind busy. There were unendurable idle moments in which she found herself wandering about, her hands lingering in caress upon objects Barry had used or touched—his chair at the table, a book he had been reading—her mind traveling around and around again the cycle of their brief, stormy companionship.

Late in the afternoon old Miranda came upon her sitting on the lower flight of stairs, her elbows resting on her knees, her chin cupped in her palms, her eyes wide on space.

"My dear Miss Benton, how tired you look!" she said with a gentleness so unexpected that tears sprang to Linda's eyes. "I'm afraid I have been too exacting. . . . I wonder sometimes if I am not a very trying old woman."

When Linda only murmured vaguely, she went on, "Do you get out and get some fresh air. Do you skate? They tell me the skating on the lake is good now."

So Linda half-heartedly dragged her skates from the trunk, and putting on a gray woolen skirt, a short fur coat, and a cap and a scarf of fete green, started off for the lake.

As she passed Judge Baldwin's house, she remembered that she had an errand there. She and Barry had been so hurried yesterday that they had not waited for their marriage certificate. Judge Baldwin was to fill it out and record it for them this morning. Linda had promised Barry to call and get it. He had been very insistent upon this.

This time Linda went boldly up the front steps and rang the bell. The maid who came to the door looked startled when Linda asked for the Judge. Hadn't she heard? Judge Baldwin had gone out to see a friend off on the train the evening before, and suffered a heart attack on the platform of the depot, and had been taken to the hospital.

Linda thought of asking if the Judge had left a paper for her but if Judge Baldwin had been stricken almost as soon as she and Barry had left him and Mr. Chadwick at the depot, obviously he could not have filed the record of their marriage. In fact, he could not even have finished filling it out. . . . Not that it mattered. That could be attended to later. Anyhow, she had kept her promise to Barry.

She walked on down to the lake and put on her skates.

Skating was one of Linda's accomplishments. She had been well taught, and though she looked frail, her body was as strong and supple as finely tempered steel. On skates, she was as much at home as most girls on a dance floor.

She had not been on the ice long before she began to realize that people stopped skating to watch as she skimmed by in her swift, humming-bird flight. . . . Then she began to hear voices—snatches of conversation:—

"—and Miss Chattam said they fairly jumped apart when she eyed the door." "Oh, the dowager's not worried. She'll see that Barry doesn't slip!" "Of course. No one's quite good enough for 'my grandson, the captain,"

With burning cheeks, Linda almost ran home. A little later she came upon Mrs. Trent seated before the dining room table. Spread out before her were dozens of photographs. . . . Photographs of Barry—Barry as a grave, dark-eyed, adorable baby in an almost complete state of nature; Barry as a small boy, grinning ingratiatingly with one front tooth gone; Barry on horseback; Barry in uniform—Barry at every age and in every mood.

A little sheepishly, yet with the air of one determined to brazen out a comprising situation, the old lady said, "Quiet a gallery, isn't it? The newspapers asked to borrow one."

But Linda knew why they were all spread out there, and she felt a rush of affection for the old lady that she would not have believed possible five minutes ago.

She had come back to the house determined to leave it as soon as she could get ready. She would leave a letter for Barry, explaining to him that her position there was untenable—unbearable. She had already begun to pack.

Now she went slowly upstairs and put her clothes back into closets and drawers.

After all, had Barry left old Miranda in her care? That night the radio reported Captain Trent well on the last leg of his flight. There was one ominous sentence in the broadcast, however, that sent Linda's nails deep into her palms.

"It is hoped," the announcer said, "that Captain Trent will make a safe landing in time to escape the unseasonable tropical storm which is sweeping westward across the Caribbean."

(To Be Continued)

beating or otherwise intimidating by force, propaganda, criticism or disparagement, this part of the order to include a ban on the use of vigilante or other similar groups such as the Ford service department insofar as the latter is employed in restraining union activity.

Crowley Announces For Governor With Two Reservations

DALLAS, Dec. 24 (AP)—With two provisos, Karl Crowley of Fort Worth has announced his candidacy for governor of Texas next year.

He said here he would be a candidate if Gov. James V. Allred does not seek a third term or if Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, former governor, does not run.

Crowley, solicitor for the post-office department, is on a two weeks' vacation in the southwest.

News Want-Ads Get Results.

AUTO LOANS
 See Us for Ready Cash to ★ Refinance.
 ★ Buy a new car.
 ★ Reduce payments.
 ★ Raise money to meet bills.
 Prompt and Courteous Attention given to all applications.

PANHANDLE INSURANCE AGENCY
 Combs-Worley Bldg. Ph. 604

Saint Nicholas

HORIZONTAL
 1, 6 Jolly old St. Nick.
 11 Liquid part of fat.
 12 Concise.
 13 X.
 14 War flyer.
 15 Company.
 16 To accomplish.
 18 Paid publicity.
 19 South Carolina.
 21 Scarlet.
 22 Dry.
 24 Passage.
 26 He lives in the . . .
 31 Branches.
 32 Raft's bird.
 34 Gods.
 36 Nothing.
 37 Cardinal number.
 39 To assume.
 41 And.
 42 Upright shaft.
 44 Before.
 45 Doctor.

VERTICAL
 1 Therefore.
 2 Singing voice.
 3 Born away.
 4 Something very inflammable.
 5 Form of "a".
 6 Court.
 7 Commander.
 8 Circle part.
 9 Consumes.
 10 Southeast.
 15 He comes down . . .
 16 Like . . .
 18 Like . . .
 20 . . . delight in him.
 21 To countersink.
 23 Walking stick.
 26 Race track.
 27 Tidy.
 27 Lubricant.
 28 Right.
 29 Point.
 30 At this place.
 32 Intellect.
 34 To sketch.
 35 Slave.
 38 One who runs away.
 40 Harassed.
 43 Grinding tooth.
 46 Isinglass.
 47 To nod.
 48 Nude.
 50 Lacerated.
 52 Falsehood.
 53 Nominal value.
 54 Coin.
 56 Native metal.

When Linda only murmured vaguely, she went on, "Do you get out and get some fresh air. Do you skate? They tell me the skating on the lake is good now."

So Linda half-heartedly dragged her skates from the trunk, and putting on a gray woolen skirt, a short fur coat, and a cap and a scarf of fete green, started off for the lake.

As she passed Judge Baldwin's house, she remembered that she had an errand there. She and Barry had been so hurried yesterday that they had not waited for their marriage certificate. Judge Baldwin was to fill it out and record it for them this morning. Linda had promised Barry to call and get

OUR BOARDING HOUSE . . . with . . . Major Hoople

OUT OUR WAY . . . By WILLIAMS

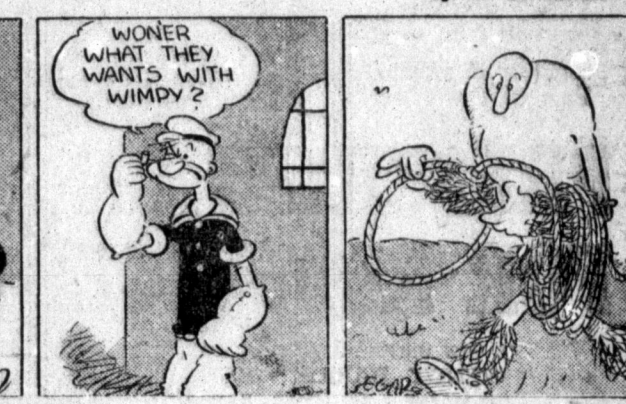

THIMBLE THEATER Starring POPEYE

Enough Rope for a Hanging . . . By E. G. SEGAR

By E. G. SEGAR

FORD COMPANY FIGHTS RULING

DETROIT, Dec. 24 (AP)—The Ford Motor company, described by the National Labor Relations board as a violator of the Wagner act which displayed "unconcealed hostility" toward unionization, prepared today to fight the board's decision in the United States court of appeals.

The company said immediately after the board's findings were announced late yesterday that the decision was "wrong and unjust" and "based on prejudice."

Announcement of the appeals was in line with the general understanding in Detroit that the Ford Motor company eventually would go to the Supreme Court of the United States, if necessary, to defend its views on management and labor.

Main points in the board's findings, based on a lengthy hearing held in Detroit last summer: The company must reinstate 29 employees the NLRB said were fired for union activity.

It must cease discouraging membership in the United Automobile Workers of America or any other "bona fide" union.

It must stop fostering "dummy" labor organizations such as the Ford Brotherhood of America; and it must desist in its efforts to interfere with the rights of self-organization" of labor through threatening, assaulting, coercing, beating or otherwise intimidating by force, propaganda, criticism or disparagement, this part of the order to include a ban on the use of vigilante or other similar groups such as the Ford service department insofar as the latter is employed in restraining union activity.

Crowley Announces For Governor With Two Reservations

DALLAS, Dec. 24 (AP)—With two provisos, Karl Crowley of Fort Worth has announced his candidacy for governor of Texas next year.

He said here he would be a candidate if Gov. James V. Allred does not seek a third term or if Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, former governor, does not run.

Crowley, solicitor for the post-office department, is on a two weeks' vacation in the southwest.

News Want-Ads Get Results.

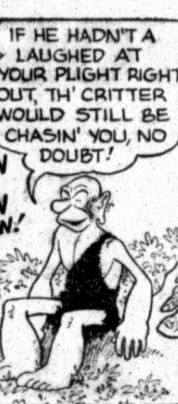

AUTO LOANS
 See Us for Ready Cash to ★ Refinance.
 ★ Buy a new car.
 ★ Reduce payments.
 ★ Raise money to meet bills.
 Prompt and Courteous Attention given to all applications.

PANHANDLE INSURANCE AGENCY
 Combs-Worley Bldg. Ph. 604

ALLEY OOP

Ooola Packs a Good Wallop

WASH TUBS

Easy's Not in the Mood

ALLEY OOP

Ooola Packs a Good Wallop

WASH TUBS

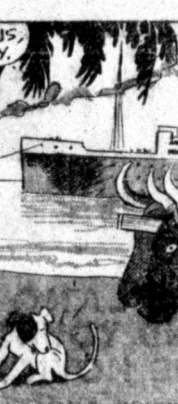

Easy's Not in the Mood

MYRA NORTH, SPECIAL NURSE

Jack Swings Into Action

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

THE NOTE

DOES SHE SIGN IT?

HAVE YOU EXAMINED THE OIL WELL?

YULETIDE GREETINGS AND BEST WISHES FROM FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS!

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

Not So Bad, at That

WHOOPEE, SIR.

FRIGIDAIRE - PIANO - DRESSERS - EQUITY IN 1937 FORD V-8

BOULDER CITY WILL BE TWA REGULAR STOP

Sammy Baugh of the Washington Redskins is shown with his fiancée, Edmonia Smith, in his hometown of Sweetwater, Texas, where Sam was welcomed back recently as a hero. She is a sophomore at Texas Christian university, where Baugh first won honors as a football star.

Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., will include Boulder City, Nevada, as a regular stop on its coast-to-coast flights, it was announced today by Jack Frye, president of T. W. A.

The announcement followed approval by the post office department of T. W. A.'s application for the new stop, and means that T. W. A. will be the only transcontinental airline to serve the new Boulder dam recreational area directly, Mr. Frye said.

The new recreational area, now being developed by the government at a cost expected to total several million dollars, already rivals the country's leading national parks as a tourist attraction, according to figures gathered at the dam by the national park service.

The new service will be inaugurated January 1, according to present plans. To the same group of public-spirited citizens that helped T. W. A. win its San Francisco airway goes the credit for securing the new stop at Boulder City, Mr. Frye declared.

Among them, the airline official said, are Senators Carl Hayden of Arizona, Key Pittman of Nevada, Patrick A. McCarran of Nevada, Dennis Chavez of New Mexico, William G. McAdoo of California, and Congressman James Scrugham of Nevada, J. Burrwood Daly of Pennsylvania, John J. Dempsey of New Mexico, Bertrand W. Gearhart of California, Harry R. Sheppard of California, Richard J. Welch of California, Arthur P. Lamneck of Ohio, Jack Nichols of Oklahoma, Harry L. Haines of Pennsylvania, and Mr. J. P. Haynes, executive vice president of the Association of Commerce, Chicago.

A new major outdoor playground area is in the making. To rival the great national parks, an oasis is rising from the desert near Boulder dam. According to national park service men supervising the job, it will be unlike any other playground area in the world.

Known as the Boulder Dam Recreational Area, it lies on the coast-to-coast route of Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., and includes 2,500 square miles surrounding 115 miles long Lake Mead.

Already under development is a mile-long bathing beach within five miles of the dam. Construction of an 18-hole, all grass golf course adjacent to the beach is soon to be started. Serving the golf links will be a luxurious lodge, where accommodations for desert vacationers will be provided.

SEASON'S GREETINGS

To each of you with an added expression of gratitude for your friendship and patronage during the past. We invite your consideration in the coming months.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

With sincere Christmas Greetings, accept too our cordial wish for abundant prosperity and contentment. In connection with these greetings, may we say,

"Thanks to all the good friends of this organization for enabling us to continue to be of service to you."

TEX EVANS BUICK CO., Inc.

Hold Everything!

"Well, well, the old boy has lost his voice again."

FEED YOUR FRIEND THE DOG 25 lbs Balanced dog food $1.75 100 lbs Sweet dairy feed $1.15 100 lbs Egg mash pillet $2.25

FINANCIAL 62-Money to Loan

MONEY FOR CHRISTMAS Any employed man or woman can obtain $10 or more from us on their own signature without delay or red tape.

PAMPA FINANCE COMPANY 100 1/2 South Cuyler Phone 450

ROOM AND BOARD 42-Sleeping Rooms ROOM FOR employed couple or two men outside entrance, 418 W. Browning.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent THREE-ROOM furnished modern house. Adults only. 531 South Russell. Phone 1534.

AUTOMOBILES

65-Automobiles for Sale BUICK 1937-Coupe-6 wheels-heater and radio. Looks and runs like new.

PONTIAC 1937-Coach-Radio equipped-low mileage-a nearly new car that will give new car performance.

CHEVROLET 1937-Coupe-Finished in metallic brown-good tires-priced below the market.

PONTIAC 1936-Coach with low mileage-built in trunk-motor AI condition.

PLYMOUTH 1936-Coupe-5 new tires-driven only 18 thousand miles-Black finish looks like new.

PAMPA MOTOR CO. "Good Will Used Cars" 211 N. Ballard Phone 365

Before buying C. RALPH JONES used cars, New Packard cars and Diamond T trucks, 310 W. Kingsmill. Phone 115.

Will pay cash for your used car or equity. BOB EWING USED CARS, 123 N. Somerville, Pampa, Texas.

1936 CHEVROLET Coach $450 1936 CHEVROLET Sport Sedan 425 1935 CHEVROLET Master coach 425

1935 CHEVROLET Master coach 390 1934 CHEVROLET Master, heater and radio 325 1934 CHEVROLET standard coach 300

1934 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan 300 1934 FORD coach, radio and heater 300 1935 FORD coach 365 1935 INTERNATIONAL pickup 325

USED CARS 1937 Chevrolet Town Sedan $575 1936 Plymouth Coach $450 1935 Ford Coach $425

1933 Ford Coupe $275 1937 Ford Pickup $485 1935 Ford Pickup $350 1934 Chevrolet Pickup $275 1932 Chevrolet Pickup $200

TOM ROSE (Ford) 68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

68-Auto Lubrication-Washing SPECIAL-Wash and grease-$1.00 GULF STATION NO. 2 Phone 472 Call for and Delivered

Classified Advertising Rates Information

All want ads are strictly cash and are accepted over the phone with the positive understanding that the account is to be paid when our collector calls.

The Pampa Daily NEWS

ANNOUNCEMENTS Card of Thanks 2-Special Notices 3-Bus-Travel-Transportation 4-Lost and Found

EMPLOYMENT 5-Male Help Wanted 6-Female Help Wanted 7-Male and Female Help Wanted 8-Salesmen Wanted 9-Agents 10-Business Opportunity 11-Situation Wanted

BUSINESS SERVICE 12-Instruction 13-Musical-Dancing 14-Professional Service 15-General Service 16-Painting and Paperhanging 17-Flooring-Sanding-Refinishing 18-Building-Material 19-Landscaping-Gardening 20-Shoe Repairing 21-Upholstering-Refinishing 22-Moving-Handling-Storage 23-Cleaning and Pressing 24-Washing and Laundering 25-Fertilizing-Drumming 26-Beauty Parlor Service

MERCHANDISE 27-Miscellaneous 28-Wearing Apparel 29-Household Goods 30-Radios-Service 31-Musical Instruments 32-Office Equipment 33-Good Things to Eat 34-Plants and Gardening 35-Wanted to Buy

LIVESTOCK 37-Dogs-Pets-Supplies 38-Poultry-Eggs-Supplies 39-Livestock-Feed 40-Wanted Livestock 41-Farm Equipment

ROOM AND BOARD 42-Sleeping Rooms 43-Room and Board 44-Housekeeping Rooms 45-Unfurnished Rooms

FOR RENT REAL ESTATE 46-Houses for Rent 47-Apartments 48-Cottages and Resorts 49-Business Property 50-Farm Properties 51-Suburban Property 52-Garages 53-Wanted to Rent

FOR SALE REAL ESTATE 54-City Property 55-Lots 56-Farms and Tracts 57-Out of Town Property 58-Business Property 59-Wanted Real Estate

FINANCIAL 61-Investments 62-Money to Loan

AUTOMOBILES 63-Automobiles for Sale 64-Trucks 65-Accesories 66-Repairing-Service 67-Tires-Vulcanizing 68-Auto Lubrication-Washing 69-Wanted Automobiles

AN UP-TO-THE-MINUTE DIRECTORY OF Business and Professional PAMPA

ACCOUNTANTS J. R. Roby 412 Combs Worley, R. 980-W. Of. 787.

BOILER TUBES Deering, Boiler and Welding Works BUILDING CONTRACTORS J. King, 904 E. Twiford. Phone 168.

CANARY SANDWICH CAFES Canary Sandwich Shop, 8 doors east of Rex Theater, Ph. 799.

MACHINE SHOPS Jones-Everett Machine Co. Barnes and Frederick Sts., Ph. 248.

WELDING SUPPLIES Jones-Everett Machine Co. Barnes and Frederick Sts., Ph. 248.

ANNOUNCEMENTS 1-Card of Thanks I wish to express my heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, and beautiful floral offerings received during the illness and death of my darling wife, Geo. F. Hazelton

IDEAL COFFEE SHOP 109 W. Kingsmill Food is man's one and only actual necessity. We Serve Quality Food

IDEAL COFFEE SHOP 109 W. Kingsmill PREPARE FOR LIFE at Draughon's Business University, Call G. W. Louhan registrar, office room 14, Malone Building, Pampa, Texas. Phone 740. Residence phone 481-J.

3-Bus-Travel-Transportation For Prompt Taxi Service Call PAMPA TAXI CO. We carry Public Liability Insurance Phone 731

4-Lost and Found LOST-Gold Society Pin in or near Methodist church, night of Memorial. Finder return to Mrs. Sam Irwin, 418 W. Browning. FOUND-Ladies purse containing small amount of money. Owner please call of Thompson Hardware, identify, and pay for ad.

Remington Typewriter Service 311 W. Pester Phone 1666

H. W. Waters Insurance Agency Room 107, Bank Building Pampa Phone 939 Texas

EMPLOYMENT

5-Male Help Wanted RELIABLE MAN or woman to supply selected customers with famous Watkins Products in Pampa. Experience unnecessary; permanent work plus good income assured producer, White J. R. Watkins Co., 70-74 West Iowa Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

6-Female Help Wanted GET NEW wardrobe free. Easiest thing in the world. No canvassing. No experience. No investment. Remarkable new way to make $25 or more weekly and your own wardrobe free. Send card and address to Fashion Frocks, Inc., Dept. G-359, Cincinnati, Ohio 1029-J.

10-Business Opportunity RESIDENT MANAGER. Permanent commission, income reasonably $5,500 yearly. $1,500 cash required, secured, returnable. Address Box B-9, Pampa News.

FOR SALE OR TRADE-Well established Turkish bath parlor doing good business. White Deer Land Building, Room 2, Phone 887-J before 9 a. m. or after 6 p. m.

BUSINESS SERVICE PUBLIC STENOGRAPHER and stenographer, also mimeographing and bookkeeping. 1029-J.

TURKISH BATHS-Mineral vapor baths eliminate sinus, magnetic relaxation, massage, for colds, rheumatism, kidney, neuritis, alcohol, nicotine poisons. Guaranteed reducing. Mrs. Lucille Davis, Room 2, White Deer Land Bldg.

14-Professional Service Aheumatism Responds to Chiropractic in the majority of cases Dr. Kathryn W. Hulings 218 W. Craven St. (1/2 Blk. W. Kilne Hotel) Phone 1624

15-General Service GLASS We sell and install plate, car and window glass of all kinds Case Planing Mills 1 block south Schneider Hotel

17-Flooring-Sanding-Refinishing FLOOR SANDING. WORK GUARANTEED Low prices and quick service. Call LOVELL, Phone 62.

SEE CHAS. HENSON for floor sanding. Work guaranteed, prices reasonable. Phone 861, Pampa.

19-Landscaping-Gardening TREE PRUNING TIME IS HERE HENRY THUT SEE PHONE 218

21-Upholstering-Refinishing MATTRESSES-Why not have your old mattress converted into a guaranteed innerspring, where the cotton is built in layers. AVERS AND SON MATTRESS CO. Phone 683.

BUKUMMETT'S FURNITURE REPAIR SHOP 614 South Cuyler Phone 1425 Use These Columns for Your Profit.

INNERSPRING MATTRESSES-Down quilts a specialty. Mattress renovating. PAMPA UPHOLSTERING CO. 824 W. Foster. Phone 188.

All Kinds of Furniture Service 12 Years in Pampa SPEARS FURNITURE CO. PH. 585

26-Beauty Parlor Service HOLIDAY SPECIALS Guaranteed Permanents $1.95 Duart Permanent $3.00 Machineless Permanents $3.00 Mrs. Zola Brown Mrs. Minnie Frye Phone 216 421 W. Francis

HOBBS BEAUTY SHOP Permanents $1 to $5 Opposite From Pampa Hospital

MERCHANDISE 28-Miscellaneous SIX FOOT FRIGIDAIRE $90.00 cash for quick sale. Phone 15

CONCRETE BUILDING BLOCKS For Sale or Trade Rubble design (rough, hand-hewn, hard rock face effect) ideal for residences, business buildings, retaining walls, foundations, terracing, etc. Dimensions 8x8x16, 12x12x16, 16x16x16, 12x12x24, 16x16x24, 12x12x36, 16x16x36, 12x12x48, 16x16x48, 12x12x60, 16x16x60, 12x12x72, 16x16x72, 12x12x84, 16x16x84, 12x12x96, 16x16x96, 12x12x108, 16x16x108, 12x12x120, 16x16x120, 12x12x144, 16x16x144, 12x12x168, 16x16x168, 12x12x180, 16x16x180, 12x12x216, 16x16x216, 12x12x240, 16x16x240, 12x12x288, 16x16x288, 12x12x324, 16x16x324, 12x12x360, 16x16x360, 12x12x432, 16x16x432, 12x12x480, 16x16x480, 12x12x540, 16x16x540, 12x12x600, 16x16x600, 12x12x648, 16x16x648, 12x12x720, 16x16x720, 12x12x768, 16x16x768, 12x12x810, 16x16x810, 12x12x864, 16x16x864, 12x12x900, 16x16x900, 12x12x936, 16x16x936, 12x12x972, 16x16x972, 12x12x1008, 16x16x1008, 12x12x1044, 16x16x1044, 12x12x1080, 16x16x1080, 12x12x1116, 16x16x1116, 12x12x1152, 16x16x1152, 12x12x1188, 16x16x1188, 12x12x1224, 16x16x1224, 12x12x1260, 16x16x1260, 12x12x1296, 16x16x1296, 12x12x1332, 16x16x1332, 12x12x1368, 16x16x1368, 12x12x1404, 16x16x1404, 12x12x1440, 16x16x1440, 12x12x1476, 16x16x1476, 12x12x1512, 16x16x1512, 12x12x1548, 16x16x1548, 12x12x1584, 16x16x1584, 12x12x1620, 16x16x1620, 12x12x1656, 16x16x1656, 12x12x1692, 16x16x1692, 12x12x1728, 16x16x1728, 12x12x1764, 16x16x1764, 12x12x1800, 16x16x1800, 12x12x1836, 16x16x1836, 12x12x1872, 16x16x1872, 12x12x1908, 16x16x1908, 12x12x1944, 16x16x1944, 12x12x1980, 16x16x1980, 12x12x2016, 16x16x2016, 12x12x2052, 16x16x2052, 12x12x2088, 16x16x2088, 12x12x2124, 16x16x2124, 12x12x2160, 16x16x2160, 12x12x2196, 16x16x2196, 12x12x2232, 16x16x2232, 12x12x2268, 16x16x2268, 12x12x2304, 16x16x2304, 12x12x2340, 16x16x2340, 12x12x2376, 16x16x2376, 12x12x2412, 16x16x2412, 12x12x2448, 16x16x2448, 12x12x2484, 16x16x2484, 12x12x2520, 16x16x2520, 12x12x2556, 16x16x2556, 12x12x2592, 16x16x2592, 12x12x2628, 16x16x2628, 12x12x2664, 16x16x2664, 12x12x2700, 16x16x2700, 12x12x2736, 16x16x2736, 12x12x2772, 16x16x2772, 12x12x2808, 16x16x2808, 12x12x2844, 16x16x2844, 12x12x2880, 16x16x2880, 12x12x2916, 16x16x2916, 12x12x2952, 16x16x2952, 12x12x2988, 16x16x2988, 12x12x3024, 16x16x3024, 12x12x3060, 16x16x3060, 12x12x3096, 16x16x3096, 12x12x3132, 16x16x3132, 12x12x3168, 16x16x3168, 12x12x3204, 16x16x3204, 12x12x3240, 16x16x3240, 12x12x3276, 16x16x3276, 12x12x3312, 16x16x3312, 12x12x3348, 16x16x3348, 12x12x3384, 16x16x3384, 12x12x3420, 16x16x3420, 12x12x3456, 16x16x3456, 12x12x3492, 16x16x3492, 12x12x3528, 16x16x3528, 12x12x3564, 16x16x3564, 12x12x3600, 16x16x3600, 12x12x3636, 16x16x3636, 12x12x3672, 16x16x3672, 12x12x3708, 16x16x3708, 12x12x3744, 16x16x3744, 12x12x3780, 16x16x3780, 12x12x3816, 16x16x3816, 12x12x3852, 16x16x3852, 12x12x3888, 16x16x3888, 12x12x3924, 16x16x3924, 12x12x3960, 16x16x3960, 12x12x3996, 16x16x3996, 12x12x4032, 16x16x4032, 12x12x4068, 16x16x4068, 12x12x4104, 16x16x4104, 12x12x4140, 16x16x4140, 12x12x4176, 16x16x4176, 12x12x4212, 16x16x4212, 12x12x4248, 16x16x4248, 12x12x4284, 16x16x4284, 12x12x4320, 16x16x4320, 12x12x4356, 16x16x4356, 12x12x4392, 16x16x4392, 12x12x4428, 16x16x4428, 12x12x4464, 16x16x4464, 12x12x4500, 16x16x4500, 12x12x4536, 16x16x4536, 12x12x4572, 16x16x4572, 12x12x4608, 16x16x4608, 12x12x4644, 16x16x4644, 12x12x4680, 16x16x4680, 12x12x4716, 16x16x4716, 12x12x4752, 16x16x4752, 12x12x4788, 16x16x4788, 12x12x4824, 16x16x4824, 12x12x4860, 16x16x4860, 12x12x4896, 16x16x4896, 12x12x4932, 16x16x4932, 12x12x4968, 16x16x4968, 12x12x5004, 16x16x5004, 12x12x5040, 16x16x5040, 12x12x5076, 16x16x5076, 12x12x5112, 16x16x5112, 12x12x5148, 16x16x5148, 12x12x5184, 16x16x5184, 12x12x5220, 16x16x5220, 12x12x5256, 16x16x5256, 12x12x5292, 16x16x5292, 12x12x5328, 16x16x5328, 12x12x5364, 16x16x5364, 12x12x5400, 16x16x5400, 12x12x5436, 16x16x5436, 12x12x5472, 16x16x5472, 12x12x5508, 16x16x5508, 12x12x5544, 16x16x5544, 12x12x5580, 16x16x5580, 12x12x5616, 16x16x5616, 12x12x5652, 16x16x5652, 12x12x5688, 16x16x5688, 12x12x5724, 16x16x5724, 12x12x5760, 16x16x5760, 12x12x5796, 16x16x5796, 12x12x5832, 16x16x5832, 12x12x58

MERRY CHRISTMAS

. . . ONE and ALL

Merry Christmas

Merry Christmas to teacher and to the little girl around the corner, to the fellow who fires the furnace in the morning and to Mike the policeman. Merry Christmas to all the tired folks who've been standing behind the counters, to the dependable delivery boy who got the last gift here on time, to Jack the mailman, almost down but by no means out under his hundred-pound load of greeting cards. Merry Christmas to our Congressman, the boss, the bus driver and the guy who makes up the chocolate malteds at the drug store. A Happy Yuletide to Jake the tailor, to the income-tax collector, to the butcher and to President Roosevelt. Greetings to Grandpa with seventy-four Christmas Seasons to his credit and to little Peggy who is enjoying her very first. To all and sundry, big and little, great and small the SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY wishes the compliments of this joyful season—"A Merry Christmas . . . and God bless us every one."

J. M. COLLINS
TOM SHERRIN
MRS. RUTH SEWELL
VIRGINIA McMILLEN
R. A. HANKHOUSE

Southwestern
PUBLIC SERVICE
Company

J. F. NELSON
LEE CANTRELL
C. REDD
E. M. CULBERSON
C. B. BOWIE