HIGHEST FIRE CREDIT AGAIN GIVEN PAMPA

AUSTIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—Fire record credits and penalties announced by the state fire insurance commission included: Maximum 25 per cent credit: McAllen, Pampa. Fifteen per cent credit: Vernon. Twenty per cent credit: Paris, Sherman.

Pampa has had the maximum credit of 25 per cent since March 1, 1936. This credit permits a reduction of 25 per cent in the total amount of insurance costs. It is possible to have a 15 per cent charge. Thus a deviation of 40 per cent between the highest charge and the maximum credit exists.

That frozen up vehicles and sleet and snow drifts prevented the Follett basketball team, Lipscomb county champs, from arriving at the district tournament today.

PRECIPITATION TOTALS 1.22 INCHES HERE

Combined rain, fog, mist and sleet during the past three days brought 1.22 inches of precipitation to the Pampa area, according to a check-up today on the Daily NEWS official government gauge.

Yesterday's rain, sleet and snow was responsible for eight-tenths of an inch of the moisture and 42-inch was recorded in the rainfall of Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Farmers and ranchers are jubilant over the moisture which has come in the last few days. It has been of such a nature, because of the slow falling sleet and rain, that it has had ample opportunity to soak into the ground in a manner to do the most good, growers report.

Ice conditions with freezing mist and light flurries of snow prevailed generally over the Panhandle yesterday and last night, with moisture totaling between one-half inch and one inch in most localities.

MEXICAN BANDITS KILL NINE AND WOUND FIVE

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17 (AP)—Nine persons, including two women, were killed and five were wounded in bandit raids and assaults in various parts of Mexico, reports reaching the capital said today.

One hundred bandits attacked Quinciguapa, Guerrero state, ransacked several buildings, set them afire, and killed a civilian, two federal soldiers and two women.

A Hacienda manager was killed by bandits in Querataro state. In the state of Jalisco, peasants from San Nicolas and Brisenas clashed over land rights. Three were killed and five wounded.

THE R. R. HEARS FROM BIG GAME HUNTERS AT McLEAN AND MOBEETIE

BY THE ROVING REPORTER. The Roving Reporter would be insulted if his feelings were not hurt too much.

He has just received, read and is now filing to publish two cruel, skeptical letters from readers at Mobeetie and McLean.

Both letters are dignified in form and have a lofty, pompous air, but they reek with sarcasm. You can tell that their authors are laughing up their sleeves at the Roving Reporter.

The R. R. could cite proof that there are panthers, huge, dark, reddish-brown, long-tailed, short-haired cats on White Deer creek, on Cow creek, on McClellan creek, on Chick creek, and he could describe the shooting to death of such a panther on McClellan creek by a local man, but he will save that story for several days and publish the letters

State Liquor Board Opens 'Sit-Down' In Rebellion At Borger

AUSTIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—A "sit-down" campaign of law enforcement was inaugurated at Borger today by the state liquor control board.

C. A. Paxton, chief supervisor of enforcement for the board, said the continuous inspection was the result of mishandling of an inspector in a beer establishment there early this week.

"Rebelliousness against the law will not be tolerated," Paxton said. "In carrying out their duties, our agents must go into all establishments, regardless of whether some of these have reputations of being 'tough.' No dealer is so tough he can flout the law and escape punishment."

The supervisor said the man-handling inspector was investigating reports of Sunday-sale and sale-by-drink violation.

MEXICAN SEX SLAYER SLAIN, REPORTS SAY

TIJUANA, Mex., Feb. 17 (AP)—A detachment of 30 soldiers waiting for a Mexican sex slayer to be executed today to have marched upon the Tijuana jail, seized a former comrade, Juan Castillo Morales, 24, accused sex slayer of Little Olga Consuelo Comacho, 8, took him to the cemetery on the hill, and executed him with a volley of rifle bullets.

The announcement of the death of the slayer carried the traditional Mexican explanation that he had been "shot while attempting to escape."

It was a startling climax to four days of wild excitement, rioting, burning and bloodshed that followed the ravishing and slaying of the little girl.

It forestalled further disorders, feared in connection with the funeral today of Vidal Torres, 56, who died Tuesday night of a bullet wound received in street fighting with Mexican troops.

THREE ASPHYXIATED IN RESIDENCE AT LUBBOCK

LUBBOCK, Feb. 17 (AP)—Bodies of Mr. and Mrs. James McMullan and six-week-old baby were removed from the trailer house which had been their home for one day this morning after a person looked through a window and saw an overturned baby basket and the still body of the mother and infant.

Verdict will be death from accidental asphyxiation," said Walter Davies, justice of the peace. Leakage apparently was from a gas connection in the tiny kitchen of the house, he said.

MOSKOW, Feb. 17 (AP)—Soviet Russia's four drifting scientists drank beer and ate tangerines today and decided to stay on their ice floe camp until the icebreaker Taimyr reaches them.

Their first taste of the outside world after more than eight months on the floe came yesterday when two airplanes landed from nearby rescue ships off the Greenland coast and delivered a half dozen bottles of beer and a bag of tangerines.

CAVE CHAMBER 3 MILES LONG

CARLSBAD, N. M., Feb. 17 (AP)—Discovery of a magnificent limestone cavern, with one vaulted chamber more than three miles long, was reported here today.

The great cave, said R. P. Burnett, curator of the Carlsbad museum, outcrops in beauty the famed Carlsbad cavern nearby, and may prove the largest yet discovered in the world.

Carlsbad cavern and another near Mexico City now vie for the title of the world's biggest "hole in the ground." Neither has yet been explored thoroughly.

Burnet led a small party of explorers through the tiny, hidden entrance, deep in the Guadalupe mountain of southern New Mexico 12 miles south of Carlsbad flashlights.

This Picture Not Made Here

It would seem that Sonja Henie just can't shake her skating habits judging by the above picture of her, taken as she emerges from an ocean dip on the warm sands of Miami's Roney Plaza Sabana Club beach. Sonja apparently is skimming the surface of the water with the same graceful swoop which she glided to fame as the world's Ice Queen.

$40,000 Suit Based On Blood Transfusion

Divorce, compensation, and damages were the principal causes of action in the 36 suits that have been filed in district court since January 4, a checkup yesterday revealed.

Of the 36, divorce was the cause of action in 22 of the cases. Recent cases filed include: Pampa Independent School District vs. Elbert Barrett et al, foreclosure on delinquent taxes, south half of section 130, block 3, I. & G. N. survey, 120 acres. Plaintiff claims amount due is $1246.82. W. E. Rogers is attorney for plaintiff.

Slipped On Ice. Cecil Baird vs. Maryland Casualty company. Plaintiff alleges that on July 31, 1937, while in the employ of Gerhard's, Inc., he slipped on a piece of ice while stacking cases of milk in a vault and suffered a sacro-iliac and other injuries. He asks judgment for 60 per cent of his average weekly wages for a 200-week period, from August 10, 1937. The Industrial Accident Board made a ruling on the case January 14 of this year, to which plaintiff has filed notice of intention to appeal.

Actual damages of $40,000 are asked by A. C. Russell in a suit in which the Employers Liability Assurance Corporation, Limited, of London, Eng., et al, are defendants. Plaintiff alleges that he suffered injuries resulting in his being incapacitated for work when he gave a blood transfusion to Charles Ray at a local hospital on September 18, 1935. ICE BRINGS NEW JOB FOR COURT CUSTODIAN

Cold weather means outside work for Lee Harris, courthouse caretaker. Ice-covered trees are a pretty sight, but Mr. Harris had no time to admire their beauty this morning. He was out early cutting off two dozen ice-coated branches of the trees around the courthouse.

Another speaker at this morning's opening session was J. F. Crawford, of the British-American Oil Producing company, who gave a lengthy and technical discussion of the use of hydraulic pumps in mid-continent fields.

12 INJURED AS ENGINES MEET IN N. MEXICO

TRINIDAD, Colo., Feb. 17 (AP)—Four trainmen were killed and 12 other persons, including 10 passengers, were injured when a freight train and passenger train chashed head on near Folsom, N. M., Colorado and Southern Railroad officials reported today.

The accident occurred two miles north of the little Northeast New Mexico town shortly before last midnight.

The dead, all from Trinidad: Guis Diemer, engineer of the passenger train. R. E. Selders, fireman of the passenger train. C. E. Hampton, engineer of the freight train. C. H. Cook, brakeman on the freight train.

The injured: Conductor P. Courtney of the passenger train. Fireman E. Greenwade of the freight train. Mrs. H. E. Price, 831 Main street, Grand Junction, Colo., shoulder injury. Mrs. L. R. Gregory, Slaton, Texas, neck sprained. David H. Wood, 1018 Delmar, Amarillo, Texas, back injured.

A wrecking train was rushed to the scene of the accident from Trinidad, 68 miles away. The passenger train was northbound, and was due at Trinidad at 1:30 a. m. Mountain Standard time. It was due in Denver about 8 a. m.

The freight train was a regular southbound fast freight. Rail officials declined to discuss responsibility for the wreck pending an investigation by A. J. Horton, division superintendent at Trinidad.

The trains struck with terrific impact, both locomotives being derailed and topped over a small embankment. Seven freight cars and one passenger coach were derailed. Physicians and nurses raced to the scene.

THOMPSON ADDRESSES API OIL CONVENTION

AMARILLO, Feb. 17 (AP)—Oil men attending the two-day mid-continent district meeting of the American Petroleum Institute here today heard Ernest O. Thompson, member of the state Railroad Commission and chairman of the oil benefits of deepening oil supply and demand in balance.

"As a result of this program," he said, "there are now 1,141 more oil operators in the state of Texas than before the regulation measures went into effect. Formerly when a small operator discovered a new pool his first thought was to seek out some big company. Under regulated control and controlled purchases, that same operator can now borrow all the money necessary for orderly development of his property at 4 per cent on four years time."

The commissioner also said that in the past two years on account of the favorable laws in Texas, 150 millionaire oil men had moved from Oklahoma to Texas.

The progress and importance of vocational education in the petroleum industry were stressed by E. K. Coville, state supervisor of trade and industrial education for Oklahoma.

Another speaker at this morning's opening session was J. F. Crawford, of the British-American Oil Producing company, who gave a lengthy and technical discussion of the use of hydraulic pumps in mid-continent fields.

Friday games will be played at 9, 10 and 11 o'clock tomorrow morning and at 3, 4, 8 and 9 p. m. tomorrow afternoon and night. The semi-finals will be played Saturday morning and Saturday afternoon and the finals Saturday night.

The team that wins in the first

Glamour can be a personal matter. Like a broiled lobster or mushrooms under glass, for example, or even a tray of afternoon tea—tea just for one in the live-alone-and-like-it manner. SURVIVORS OF STORM RELATE ODD STORIES

MERTZON, Feb. 17 (P)—W. E. Thompson, sleeping in a frame building in the center of the path of a twister which wrecked the downtown section of Mertzton early this morning, was one of the survivors telling odd stories about the windstorm.

He said that Carlton Webster, sleeping in the same room with him, was blown from the house to a point 50 yards away but was unhurt. Thompson was not moved from the fragile building.

Queerest incident, perhaps, was the "flight" of another sleeper in an adjoining room. He and his bed were blown about 25 yards when the twister amputated the room from the house. The bed was left upright but was cleared of all clothing and its occupant ran screaming to the house calling for clothes. He had been stripped of his bedclothes and left shivering in the heavy downpour of rain that accompanied the tornado.

W. B. Burke, ranchman, county commissioner and former mayor of Mertzton, was among those assisting in removing the wreckage and searching for possible victims of the storm. He said that the wind blew down a windmill at the home of a brother-in-law, Newman Busby, near the business section. But Busby's home was unscathed and no one in the family was hurt.

One of the stories told in the fog soon after the wind struck was that a truck on the main street was lifted from the pavement and set down again bottom-side-up. The driver was unhurt.

The awning of the post office building was warped as if some giant hand had struck it and heavy iron sustain bars curved to show from which direction the wind pulled.

Aside from the inquiries as to the injured and possible dead, most interest in the Mertzton tornado seemed to be as to whether the new $125,000 Irion county court house had been destroyed. It was not touched. It was occupied only last week. The court house was moved from Sherwood to Mertzton last year after a bitter inter-town election and legal fight which had gone through the court of civil appeals at Austin. Sherwood then gave up the fight after threatening to appeal to the supreme court.

Sherwood, smaller community from which the county seat was taken, also felt the brunt of the tornadoic winds. Two buildings there were reported razed. Sherwood is two miles east and slightly north of Mertzton.

MRS. FDR TO ATTEND MOTHER-IN-LAW FETE

Who are the oldest and youngest mothers-in-law in the Southwest? Does she live in or near Pampa. Both will have places of honor in the parade, which will be a feature of the national celebration, Mar. 9, in Amarillo. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, No. 1 mother-in-law of the United States, will attend the observance. "Of course, the oldest mother-in-law must be vigorous enough to ride on a float," said Miss Louise Evans of The Amarillo Globe-News, who is conducting the search. Features of the parade will be the longest float in the world, on which 750 mothers-in-law will ride, a delegation of 50 Indian mothers-in-law from the Navajo reservation, and more than 50 bands. Governors from 3 states will lead the parade which Mrs. Roosevelt will review. Miss Evans has asked The Daily News to aid in the search so if you know either the oldest or youngest mother-in-law or both, please write to her.

PROJECT WILL SHOW ANCIENT PLAINS HOMES

CANYON, Feb. 17—Ruins left by an agricultural people who are believed to have abandoned their culture in the Panhandle about 1300 A. D. will be excavated and in some instances restored in a district-wide WPA archaeological project sponsored by West Texas State College. The project, with E. Baker as supervisor and Prof. C. Stuart Johnston as sponsor's superintendent, began Wednesday with twenty Amarillo workers assigned to it. The ruins which first will be excavated are found about 30 miles north of Amarillo. Excavating will be done from a scientific standpoint. A portion of the ruins will be carried to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum here and restored, roof and all, for the inspection of the public. The Indians who developed this Panhandle culture are known to have cultivated corn, and possibly other crops. They also hunted a great deal. It is believed that they were a transitional people, being located as they were between the warlike plains Indians and the Pueblos farther west. The former may have decimated them, or forced them to join the Pueblos for protection. Floyd V. Studer, Amarillo insurance executive, has given much of his time for many years in locating ruins and studying them. Working under the auspices of the Historical society, he has collected many notebooks of data, photographs, and sketches of artifacts and ground plans. Some of the ruins show houses of more than 150 rooms. He long has been familiar with the ruins to be excavated. Mr. Baker, the supervisor, is a graduate of the University of New Mexico and a son of "Uncle Billy" Baker, archeologist of Boise City, Okla. He has been engaged in similar work in New Mexico.

Traffic fatalities in England reached 6,591 and injuries 226,339 in 1937 compared with 6,561 and 224,865 in 1936.

MARVIN JONES THINKS WELL OF FARM ACT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (P)—Texas congressmen from principal agricultural districts in the state agreed generally today that the new farm bill, while being far from perfect, is at least a move forward in the quest of economic justice for the farmer.

Typical of their opinions was that of Rep. Marvin Jones of Amarillo, Chairman of the House Agricultural Committee, who said: "The bill is the best that could be worked out under the circumstances. I do not believe it is perfect, but I think it is a step in the right direction." Among the most outspoken opponents of the measure was Rep. Richard Kleberg of Corpus Christi, a member of the agricultural committee, who described it as "unworkable, impractical and unconstitutional," and a step toward loss of Democratic self government in this country.

Representative Mahon of Colorado gave this opinion: "The farmer wants an adequate price for at least a portion of his crop. This bill does not insure such a price, and therefore can not be wholly satisfactory. "Merely reduction in the production of American cotton by marketing quotas or otherwise will not adequately raise top price of cotton in view of enormous production abroad."

"Some provisions of the bill represent a distinct improvement over the old AAA program," Representative McFarlane of Graham also compared generally the new bill with the old AAA and said he thought the 1938 act was an improvement over the former. Representative Luther Johnson of Corsicana, whose district is in one of the main cotton sections of the state, said: "I think the psychology of the bill will of itself tend to favorably affect prices, and if probably and judiciously administered will benefit the farmer."

TOO INQUISITIVE
MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Walter Hoppe, 24, and Almira Nemic, 23, told police a robber accosted them in front of her home. "This is a stickup," he declared. "Now where did she go?" the gunman asked Hoppe. "I don't know but I'll find out," Hoppe said—and dashed after her.

NEW THEATER TO BE BUILT

BORGER, Feb. 17—Borger is to have a new theater, the Ritz, it was announced yesterday by Carl Barber, former Pampa, who is manager of the Griffith theaters here.

CRITICAL TIME OF LIFE

Dallas, Texas — Mrs. Mattie Hughes, 4311 Canal St., says: "During the menopause Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription helped to quiet my nerves, gave me a fine appetite, strengthened me wonderfully and helped to relieve many discomforts that I had at the time." pected to start within 30 days after surveying work is completed by Corgan and Corgan, Shawnee, Okla., architects, who will be in Borger in ten days.

The 50-foot front two-story building will be erected on Hunt's Used Car lot, next door north of the Borger Bowling alley.

Seating capacity of the new theater will be 1,000. The structure will house the main offices of the three Griffith theaters of Borger at present located in the Rig theater building. The lease on the Circle theater building is nearing expiration and that theater will be closed after the completion of the Ritz, which will occur probably in May. The Rig and the Rex are other Griffith theaters in Borger.

John Derkin and his wife were in their trailer home when the storm struck. He said it was rolled over and over for a block neither was badly injured.

Like Firecrackers The postoffice building, a substantial structure, was moved several inches from its foundations and cracked from top to bottom. The roof of the depot was riddled as if by shrapnel. Witnesses said the approach of the wind was heralded by a sound not unlike that of many exploding firecrackers.

The building formerly used as the Irion County courthouse withstood the blow but most of the windows were blown out.

A brick warehouse, belonging to a Merton wool and mohair company, a block from the center of town, was demolished. Several houses across the Santa Fe tracks in the southern part of town were also wrecked.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cunningham, who occupied quarters at the rear of a building on main street emerged unscathed from a twisted tangle of timbers. The building in which they lived was one of the first to collapse. Workers had to extricate them from the wreckage.

Highway patrolmen from San Angelo were joined by volunteers in more than 50 automobiles from San Angelo and nearby towns who rushed to the scene of the storm.

Several persons were tossed about by the twisting wind, but escaped uninjured.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 17. (AP)—Chairman Reford Bond of the corporation commission said today he had been advised Oklahoma's crude oil demand for March had been estimated at 547,700 barrels daily by the federal bureau of mines.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Feb. 17. (AP)—Heavy industrial stocks tipped the market scales on the rallying side today for gains running to 8 or more points.

Boardroom observers said the "inflation" bug apparently was biting a bit deeper in speculative circles and most of the day's gains were attributed to influence.

A vigorous recovery in futures of wheat, corn, cotton, hides, rubber, copper and other staples bolstered sentiment for stocks.

however, was slighted. Precipitation there and to Clovis, N. M., was light.

Grain men and agriculturists reported that Panhandle crops and ranges would receive great benefit from the rain, snow and sleet—the first appreciable moisture received in months.

Light snow, rain and sleet fell in the dust bowl areas of Southeastern Colorado, the Oklahoma Panhandle and Western Kansas where winter winds have whipped up heavy dust storms during the last month.

Snow fell at Boise City and Beaver, Okla., a freezing rain at Guyman, and snow and sleet at Springfield and Lamar, Colo.

In Utah, freezing temperatures prevailed after a snowstorm that interrupted transcontinental air service blanketed most of the state with an average of four inches.

The widespread snow and rain extended to Arizona. Pampa streets today were made hazardous by condition of paved surfaces. Traffic was slowed down and highway travel likewise was made perilous by slippery pavements.

However, no serious accidents had been reported to Pampa police or Gray county officers.

(By The Associated Press)

Texas' cold wave lingered on in the Panhandle area today, a windstorm struck Merton, Irion county, and rains continued in the central portion of the state where temperatures remained mild.

More rain was forecast by the U. S. weather bureau for East and West Texas tonight and Friday with freezing temperatures only in the extreme northeast portion of East Texas and Northwest Texas.

Several were injured in the early morning Merton storm. Freezing temperatures today were 16 at Pampa, where sleet, snow and rain brought total precipitation to .8 inch and streets and highways were glazed; 19 at Amarillo, where precipitation of snow, rain and sleet totaled 1.31 inch and highways were slick with ice; 20 at Borger, with sleet overcast in the wake of a two and a half inch sleet yesterday afternoon.

Amarillo expected a warmer sun today to melt part of the ice on highways, and lessen the hazard of traffic.

Heavy rains continued at Vernon. At Wichita Falls where a light hail fell this morning and a low temperature of 35 degrees was recorded.

It is striped black with the stripes running in opposite directions. Its method of locomotion is to rear on its hind legs (the short ones, which are about 12 feet long) and it makes a puffing sound like a railroad engine when it moves off at a gait of 12 miles per hour.

Smoke or a fog-like substance emits from it when it is moving. When it stops the smoke and puffing also stop. It is about nine feet high when it rears up and starts off. Another peculiar feature is that it makes only one track. How would you explain this?"

Settlement was made in 31st district court this morning of the case of James Manatt vs. Better Blacks, Inc. Plaintiff is to recover $850, in payment of a salary claim.

Julius Dorenfield Jr. of Amarillo represented the plaintiff, John F. Sturgeon of Pampa the defendant.

The jury hearing the case of Elvin Wesley vs. Fred Cullum, reported again at 9 o'clock this morning and had made no report up to late this morning. The jury was dismissed at 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Charlie Pipes, indicted on a charge of drunken driving, was given a one-year suspended sentence and his driver's rights revoked for a six-months period, in a hearing Wednesday in 31st district court.

32 DISTRICT BASKETBALL TOURNAMENTS BEGIN OVER STATE TODAY

8 REGIONALS TO BEGIN ON FRIDAY WEEK

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF.
DALLAS, Feb. 17 (AP)—Thirty-two teams will remain in the battle for the Texas Interscholastic League basketball championship when the firing ceases in district tournaments from the Panhandle to the Gulf this week-end.

A ballast crew from Little Carey held the center of interest today as the tournaments got under way. Counted out of the running in pre-season predictions, the defending state champions came back with a rush in winning stages of the Childress county campaign and nosed out the favored Tell quintet to reach the first big test—the district meet where regional contenders are determined.

Carey, however, was not the top favorite in the district tournament at Childress though the Cardinals were accorded a fine chance of upsetting Williams for the championship.

The thirty-two teams emerging from this week's battles will play for eight regional titles next week, the winners to go to Austin the first week in March for the state tournament.

A number of clubs stood out but few of them boasted anything like the records of Abilene, John Reagan (Houston) and Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), though Livingston had hung up a streak of 23 consecutive wins through other fine showings throughout the state's 1,500 teams.

Abilene has 19 victories and Reagan 24, each without defeat, and Woodrow Wilson has bowed only to college freshmen teams.

District tournaments will be held at Canyon, Pampa, Lubbock, Childress, Abilene, Breckenridge, San Angelo, Brownwood, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco, Commerce, Naples, Tyler, Nacogdoches, College Station, Livingston, Houston, Beaumont, Carrizo Springs, San Antonio, Georgetown, Yoakum, Victoria, Laredo, Edinburg, Fort Stockton, McCombs, and Van Horn.

There are no tournaments in districts 26 and 29. In the former the champion comes from a round-robin schedule between Aransas Pass, Pass, Kingsville and Bishop. In the latter Bowie (El Paso) is playing Yaleta a series to decide the winner.

The eight regional champions last season were Carey, Dublin, Poly (Fort Worth), Gober, Livingston, Jefferson of San Antonio, Harlingen, and Fort Stockton.

Carey, Poly, Gober, and Livingston played in the semi-finals. Poly was one of the state's favored teams at the start of this campaign but the Parrots fell in the Fort Worth city race, being beaten out by Paschal in something of an upset.

Dick Metz to Renew Golfing Campaign Soon

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 17 (AP)—Brushing adversity aside for the third time within a year, dapper Dick Metz of Chicago is ready to renew a golfing campaign he hopes will escape future interruptions.

Hilness, a broken leg in an automobile accident and, more recently, a shoulder injury have combined to handicap his career.

For two weeks the handsome, curly-haired Chicagoan rested in Thomasville, playing practice rounds and receiving treatment for his shoulder injury. He then went to New Orleans to compete in the $5,000 Crescent City open, February 25 he will return here to enter the $3,000 Glen Arven tournament.

Becoming ill in the Southwest in 1936, Metz was forced to withdraw from the tournament circuit for several weeks. He came to Thomasville for a rest. Recovering under treatment, he went on to win the Glen Arven tournament and another meet at Hollywood, Fla., the following week.

Then came an automobile crash on a Florida highway—a broken leg that became infected. There followed three months in a hospital, where he was told he might lose his leg and never play golf again. But he was back in the parade six months later.

The 26-year-old Metz began his comeback this winter in Florida. He finished second at Hollywood beach, and just one stroke behind Johnny Revolta, the winner, in the $10,000 Miami Billmore open.

UNHAPPY LANDING
NEW YORK—William Fogarty, returning here from a movie, saw two legs protruding from a street excavation.

He lifted out the body of a 20-year-old girl. Then he lit a match—and saw it was his own daughter, Harriet.

She apparently had stumbled and fallen into the excavation, members of the family said.

HORTON SMITH HAS ANSWER TO GOLF QUESTION

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17 (AP)—Handsome Horton Smith, the prince of putters, believes he has the answer to the professional golf nomad's rank disrespect for par.

Ten years ago a round of 69 in an open tournament was sensational. Four rounds of par would win almost any 72-hole meet. Today it takes four of those 69 rounds—or better—to take top money.

What caused this nose-dive below par?

"Bunker shots and putting are the physical reasons," said Smith, here for the $5,000 Crescent City open tourney. "However, there are many other factors."

"Golf professionals are specialists now. Their methods of application are far better. They study, practice and play the game. There's an incentive in the winter tournament swing now, where, just a few years ago, it was more or less a 'hit-or-miss' affair."

Back in the infant days of open tournament competition the great clan of oldtimers—the Mac Smiths, the Bobby Clutshanks, the Wild Bill Melhorus and the Bob McDonalds—took their golf seriously, but they weren't specialists.

"Nowadays," continued Smith, "the youngsters on the winter swing are all Ars. They're eager for information. Many nights on the winter swing you can find one of the topnotchers sitting in a hotel lobby, surrounded by the youngsters, passing out invaluable tips. It's almost a 'coaching school' for these boys."

Seabiscuit and Pompoon to Race

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17 (AP)—The next best thing to a turf duel between Seabiscuit and War Admiral shapes up as a battle between Seabiscuit and Pompoon.

The first skirmish between Chas. S. Howard's Seabiscuit and Pompoon may come Saturday, with the running of the $5,000 San Carlos handicap at Santa Anita park.

Jerome H. Louchheim sent Pompoon to the coast and the runner-up to War Admiral in last year's Kentucky derby may give the mighty Seabiscuit all the argument he wants.

Amateur Bird Dogs Have Day at Trials

FALFURRIAS, Feb. 17 (AP)—Amateur bird dogs had their day today as the field trials of the Lone Star association on the Skipper ranch near here. The amateur derby and the amateur all-age were events slated for today after other events had been run yesterday in a hard rain.

Fall Sam, owned by E. A. Johns, Austin, and handled by John Parker, finished first among 13 entries in the open derby. The puppy stake was won by Steadmons Village Lou, owned by Park Farm Kennels, Beaumont, and handled by V. E. Humphreys. Eight pups, mostly pointers, competed.

ABOUT ONE OUT OF EVERY 100 PLAYERS GETS LEAGUE TRIALS

By GAYLE TALBOT.
NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—Baseball clubs, led by the Giants, have begun their annual excursion to the sunshine belt, and that morbid, skeptical soul, the diamond scout, won't be far behind.

All winter he has dreamed of plucking another Christy Mathewson or Joe DiMaggio from under the very noses of his rival scouts, and winning the ever-lasting gratitude of a rich club owner.

Now and then, of course, he has awakened sweating from a nightmare in which the brilliant discovery whose purchase he recommended for a record price of $200,000 developed a tragic distaste for curve balls.

It's all in the game for these quiet, keen-eyed men whose vast beat covers every baseball lot in the land, from a cross-roads stubble field out in Iowa to the parks of the big time.

Seldom will one of them get in the news. Not one of the youngsters who will be coveting in the spring camps in the coming weeks will be referred to as the valuable discovery of scout "Eagle-Eye" Schultz. Yet nearly every one of them will be there because some Diamond Sherlock thought he had the makings.

It's true the business isn't quite so haphazard or laden with the potential "drummer" of other days. Since clubs like the Yankees began paying out $300,000 annually in salaries and "farm" systems became a part of the pastime, less is left to

GORILLA POGI WILL RETURN MONDAY NIGHT

Two newcomers and an old timer who has not appeared here in several years will be presented by Promoter Cliff Chambers at his weekly wrestling program on Monday night. The new faces will be Orville Grable of Phoenix, Ariz., and Jerry Hollis of Salem, Ore. The returning veteran will be Gorilla Pogi, the Argentine roughster.

Headlining the card will be a meeting between Sailor Jack E. P. Moran and Wild Bill Venable. Moran was scheduled to appear on last Monday night's card against Dick Sampson but his car skidded from the pavement near St. Francis and was badly damaged. Moran was only slightly hurt. Dutch Mantel brought Sailor Otto Klingman to Pampa and he bettered Sampson two out of three falls in a thrill-packed match.

Grable will be sent to the mat with Pogi in the semi-final. Grable is reported to be a classic, scientific grappler who takes the rough boys under with his knowledge of the wrestling art. Pogi, fans will remember, is a chunky piece of dynamite who doesn't care how he wins.

Opening the card promptly at 8 o'clock will be Dick Sampson introducing Jerry Hollis to local fans. Hollis will come to Pampa with a reputation as a top-notch grappler. Little Tex Hager, popular grappler, will be in charge of the arena Monday night in place of Promoter Chambers who will be attending the Golden Gloves boxing tournament in Fort Worth. Promoter Chambers matched the boys this morning before leaving for Fort Worth.

CAGE COACH MUST BE READY TO STOP SEVERAL OFFENSES

By JERRY BRONDFIELD
NEA Service Sports Writer

Pity the poor basketball coach. Most college teams these days play schedules which call for 15 or perhaps 20 games a season, and by the time his charges have been through the wars, they will have met more styles of attack than you can shake the proverbial stick at.

And your sore-pressed mentor must know how to nullify all of them.

There is the short-passing, fast-break attack; the deliberate set-up game; the four-man weave, and the pivot.

Coaches try to plan their offense according to the material they have available. Piggy Lambert of Purdue places a heavy premium on speed. Consequently he uses smaller men than are found on the average big-time cage team.

With small, speedy men, the short pass, fast-break is found at its best.

Coaches who like to depend a great deal on set plays often resort to the deliberate passing game. A team sometimes passes the ball around a dozen times or more before someone takes a shot at the basket.

Big, rangy men are particularly adapted for this style of play. They simply pass the ball over the heads of their opponents until a clear shot is presented.

Pros Introduce Pivot
The four-man weave is a fast-moving attack that finds the ball being worked into definite scoring territory by four men—as the name might indicate—any one of whom is released at the first opportunity for a clean shot, while the fifth man guards against interception and a goal-ward dash by the opposition.

Professional basketball introduced the pivot play and made it the deadliest maneuver on the court, when executed properly. Dutch Dehnert, the New York Celtics' famed pivot expert, was a master at the trick, and more often than not, the defense was forced to foul him in order to prevent a score.

The effect of the maneuver was nullified in college and high school competition when a three-second limit was placed on the time and offensive player could remain within the territory marked by the foul lines. The complaint was that gigantic centers worked the pivot so much and so well, that it was impossible for smaller opponents to stop them.

COURT TO ACT IN GRID CASE

AUSTIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review a decision of the Beaumont civil appeals tribunal that twelfth graders in Port Arthur high school could not be barred from playing football.

The Beaumont court did not rule finally on the question until after the football season closed. The district 14 committee of the Interscholastic league, which adopted the resolution excluding twelfth graders, wants the opinion vacated, however, so the case can be argued "from scratch" again this year.

The Supreme Court said it was granting a review "because this case is moot." That led to the supposition it would not pass on the question of whether the district committee can continue to exclude twelfth graders from football competition.

Attorney for the Interscholastic league and its district committee said "it is inevitable that this same law suit will appear before the courts again next fall during football season."

The trial court held against Port Arthur's contention it would play its twelfth graders but the appellate court reversed and remanded the case. As a consequence of the controversy, the district did not declare a football champion last fall.

National Cage Champs in Slump

DENVER, Feb. 17 (AP)—Everett Shelton, the impassive Oklahoman, today came here last year to guide the Denver team, never able to advance past the quarterfinals in previous tournaments, to the national crown.

He predicted his outfit "will be a better and smarter ball club" when the tournament opens here March 13 than it was in winning the first half of the Missouri Valley A. A. U. league's split season.

Denver is definitely out of the running for the second half title. The national champions won 24 of their first 26 games this season, then lost five of the next eight.

For Love of Polly

CHAPTER XIII
The young patron whose stage name had been Mazie Miller and who now served behind the bar of the Sheaf of Wheat Tavern, owned by her husband, was having a bit of nerves. She had broken half a dozen tumblers in that many days. When a customer asked for a glass of stout she was apt to give a glass of port.

The reason was, she kept thinking of that pair of young lovers who had separated. It was the first time she had ever done a thing that, deliberately, a half a dozen men she had lured into the clutches of the "press gang" for a paid very well, and who was Mazie Miller to question the way the British Navy was run? But she had seen the girl think her retreat had been decided.

She meant with the girl, let us now be introduced to Jerry's husband, a common man, a mean one, flashily handsome and sometimes given to cackling Mazie's pretty eyes and annoyed with her. Surfactant to say that Mazie had reason to dread asking the day off of this man and master. Yet she did so, as she feared, he refused, so she was compelled to slip away against his orders.

When she reached the Unicorn Crown Tavern (which she respectfully conceded to be much less respectable and pretentious in the Sheaf of Wheat) she led the landlord aside. "Mr. Toby," she said, "you've got a young lady staying here I want to talk to. I don't know her name, but she's the betrothed of Jerry Whitefield. I take it, of one Jerry Whitefield, a common man, a mean one, flashily handsome and sometimes given to cackling Mazie's pretty eyes and annoyed with her. Surfactant to say that Mazie had reason to dread asking the day off of this man and master. Yet she did so, as she feared, he refused, so she was compelled to slip away against his orders.

"You mean Miss Polly Chelsey?" she asked. "Yes, that's her name. She's too bad you put off your planning so long. She left for New York yesterday. She hopes to get me to America by way of once if she can cross the Channel. She had no plans when she left here."

"She's an American, you say?" "Oh, she's gone. . . . Oh, what was her state of mind, Mr. Toby?" "For several days, Miss, she seemed fairly crushed. Took to her bed and refused food, all of a sudden, like she recovered. As a wife says, she seemed as hard nails, tossing her head and acting like she hadn't a care for her name."

"Oh, the poor creature!" Mazie claimed. "She could read Polly Chelsey's behavior very readily," she prompted, she guessed, by proud hurt heart that seeks to do its wounds. She asked indignantly, "Do you know where I could find her in Dover, Mr. Toby?"

"No, Miss. Though she'd doubtless go to a decent tavern. Yes, it's likely what she'd do."

"Well," said Mazie. "I must do what I can. I must write a letter and leave it for you to give to the driver in the morning. He'll remember her — who wouldn't? — know where he put her off to her trunk. Here's four shillings to pay him for his trouble. All the coach driver, Mr. Toby" Mazie paused and fixed the innkeeper with compelling eyes — all him to deliver this letter to Miss Polly Chelsey if it's humanly possible, because it will right a wrong."

When Mr. Toby had fetched paper and ink and a quill, Mazie sat down at a table and began to compose a letter.

JERRY WHITEFIELD and his companion, Cabell Banks, of Boston, were in the small dark prison hold of the brig sunrise, playing a game of chance. It was a child's game, but it kept them from losing their minds. There was in the hold a great deal of maddening rope, an overflow from the table. From this stout wet rope, at smelled so reekingly of blagater and the sea they pulled amp strands with infinite care, and these they pitted against each other in various ways. They were artful about the rules they made, and events were conducted very sportingly. Whoever lost an amp paid two pence to the winner.

At times Jerry would interrupt the game with an outburst of anger and would climb the ladder toward the open hatch. Always he would at once a marine's bayonet could send him down again. "If you keep that up," Cabell complained irritably, "they'll close the hatch. A little daylight helps."

"Yes," Jerry agreed. "But it seems like I've got to keep trying. Something drives me to keep trying."

"Why?" Cabell asked. "What do you hope to gain?" "My freedom. . . . Listen, Banks, I don't mean to boast, but I'm a good swimmer. I'm one of the best swimmers that ever came out of Gloucester. It would be nothing for me to swim ashore now. Tomorrow may be too late."

"I disagree. Tomorrow would be better, because your head would be better healed. You've got a nasty cut there, near the crown."

"That!" said Jerry disdainfully. "I tell you, Banks, tomorrow may be too late. I believe we're getting ready to sail. I know the signs. They're bringing on provisions. Sailors are coming on board. Listen, if you don't believe me!"

"I wonder you can be so so reconciled to this floating jail!" Jerry exclaimed bitterly.

Cabell shrugged. "I can afford to bide my time. I've got no fiancée who thinks I've deserted her."

In the long watches of several sleepless nights they had exchanged life histories; he asserted though they were, these confidences had given them admiration and respect for each other. Jerry knew the rich man's son to be brave, loyal and shrewd; Cabell had discovered Jerry Whitefield to be brave, loyal, and obstinate. Both had a streak of recklessness, but in Jerry it was far more pronounced; he was in love, and that state begets a special form of madness all its own.

They were confined in the prison hold continuously except for half an hour a day above deck for exercise. It had been so since their interview with Captain Steel. That irate officer had no sooner recovered from the shock of their insubordination than he had had them returned to prison quarters, with all privileges suspended.

He called them "the seagoing peasant and the rich Boston fool"; and when he thought of the Boston boy's insolent boast that he would outfit a "raider" against England and make the Gloucester sailor his first mate, he all but had a stroke of apoplexy.

Yet the order of his for 20 whip lashes on Jeremiah Whitefield's bare back had not yet been consummated. . . . No, yet. . . . In the prison hold Jerry was looking upward toward the open hatch. "Listen!" he said to Cabell Banks. "Something's going on. They climbed the ladder, part way, to catch the sudden shouting in the forecastle. It was Jerry who interpreted it. "We're going out with the tide!" he said bitterly. "Bound for the North Sea."

PULLMAN CHARGES ANALYZED BY COL. THOMPSON IN RATE HEARINGS

AUSTIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—The railroad commission learned today why railroads charge more for the privilege of riding in a Pullman than for travel in other coaches.

Ernest O. Thompson, commission member, raised the question at a hearing on a request of railroads to boost rates on several classes of passenger fares, a request already denied once.

"If I want to ride in a Pullman," inquired Thompson, "why do I have to buy a higher-priced ticket, in addition to paying the special charge for a Pullman?"

"It's the same train, going down the same track, isn't it?"

Attorneys for the railroads gave the answer. It costs the railroads more to operate the Pullmans, they said.

W. J. Rodgers of St. Louis, chairman of the Southwestern Passenger Association, said in Europe there were first, second and third classes of travel by railroad, but the American people won't stand for the system as it is here.

"Every man in this country thinks he is as good as another," he said. "Spoke up another lawyer: "It's just like a hotel. You can get a room with or without bath."

It was explained further railroads charged the Pullman Company fixed charges and had to have higher rates for travel in Pullmans to meet those charges. It was said Pullmans weighed and required extra servicing at terminals.

Higher rates were asked on first class round trip tickets with limits of six months, round trip coach fares with 30-day limits and certain fares affecting traffic to and from El Paso in a tourist car primarily intended to care for travel between New Orleans and San Francisco.

The carriers claimed the increases would net about $35,000 a year additional revenue.

The commission was not convinced, it said, the requested increases would yield more revenue.
