Pioneer Increases Irrigation Gas Rate

On May 30, Pioneer Natural Gas sent out letters to all users of natural gas for irrigation with a notification of a rate increase of 10.6 percent.

Jimmy Murl Clements of Bovina, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. (Jim) Clements of Needmore and Muleshoe was admitted to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock on May 26.

He is in room 492 and would appreciate hearing from his friends.

Five students from Muleshoe were listed on the dean's honoree list at South Plains College, Levelland, for the spring semester.

Students and their grade point average included, Candy Moore, 3.83; Olive Morris, 4.0; Doris Kelson, 4.0; Tammye Hicks, 3.46 and Kathryn Hardage, 4.0.

Mrs. Alvin Allison returned to her home in Muleshoe Wednesday from High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo, where she had undergone surgery last week.

Mrs. Sam McKinstry will present a group of her piano students in a recital Tuesday, June 5 at 8 p.m. This will be held in her two piano studio at 318 West Avenue J.

Mrs. McKinstry invites all parents to attend.

Librarian Ann Camp reported that sign up for the Summer Reading Program was good Wednesday with approximately 100 children signing up. Five hundred books were also checked out that day.

She encourages school age boys and girls to sign up for the program.

Baseball Teams Out For Season

Baseball and softball are underway in Muleshoe with an estimated minimum of 700 people directly involved.

In Little League, Sammy Gonzales is president and Galen Bock is vice president.

Teams include Sox, Lions, Savers, Lazbuddie Longhorns, Cardinals, U-Bars, Dollar Bills and Shorthorns.

Little League plays at Roger Miller Park Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

Loy Dominguez is president of the Babe Ruth team. The teams include Lazbuddie, Colts, Pilots, Eagles and Cats. They play at the Babe Ruth Park on Monday and Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

Senior Babe Ruth is headed up by Don Leak and they play Tuesday and Friday nights, both in town and out of town.

Carolyn Harris is president of the girls' softball league and the teams include Blue Jeans, Doves, Firebirds, Little Deers, Tornados, Blue Diamonds, Golden Eagles and Lady Bugs. They play four nights a week near Radio Station KMUL.

Also playing at the softball field near the radio station, three games each night are the men's softball league. Their games get underway at 7:30 p.m.

Teams include Marauders, Pioneer Seed, Western Sprinklers Inc., Dusters, Three Way, PAG.

K.B. Watson, president of Pioneer, wrote as follows:

"This is a letter we regret having to write...but, since November 1971, the date of the last base rate adjustment for irrigation customers, the costs of materials, labor, taxes and other expenses have been increased for Pioneer just as they have for you.

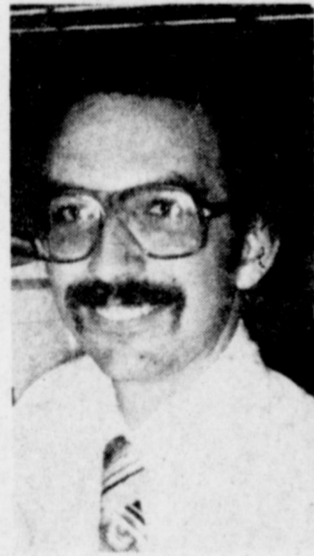

"As you know, in February we were granted an increase of approximately 20 percent in our General Service Rate in the West Texas System, which was the first increase in that base rate since 1970. Now, we find it necessary to increase the irrigation rate by an average of 10.6 percent.

"Enclosed is the rate schedule which will be applicable to irrigation gas service effective July 1, 1979. Coincident with the effective date of this new rate schedule, all present irrigation gas rates are cancelled. The new irrigation gas rate schedule will automatically displace the rate now attached to the irrigation contracts presently in effect.

"The new irrigation gas service rate is, for the first 50 mcf of gas used per month, the same price as the general service rate which became effective in Pioneer's West Texas System on February 15 of this year. The remaining steps of the new irrigation rate are lower in price than the last step of the new general use rate. This follows the general pattern of previous irrigation rate schedules which also followed the general service rate for the first bracket.

"As compared to the cost for alternate fuel, the price you will be charged for natural gas under the company's new West Texas System irrigation rate will provide for you an economical and advantageous energy source.

STEVE THRASHER

New Manager Arrives Here For Anthony's

Steve Thrasher, who has been employed with C.R. Anthony Co. for the past five years in Lubbock, arrived in Muleshoe last Friday to become the manager of the local C.R. Anthony Co.

He was formerly with C.R. Anthony with their 50th Street store in Caprock Center.

Thrasher and his wife, Jamie, are natives of Andrews and they are the parents of one son, Christopher.

Mrs. Thrasher has been teaching for the last two years at Estacado High School in Lubbock. The family will be moving here as soon as adequate housing can be obtained.

"GOLDEN YEAR " HEADS FOR MULESHOE... "The Golden Years of Country Music" a college road show highlighting 50 years of country music history, will be here Thursday, June 7 featuring more than 40 classic hits. Showtime is 8:30 p.m. at the football field. Cast members are, standing from left, Joe Howell, Levelland; Joe Alger, Grants Pass, Ore.; Leann Kuenstler, Jayton; Dan Hanson, Lamesa; Terry [Merle] Priebe, Shiloh Hill, Ill.; Ed Marsh, Blackburg, Va.; Natalie Berryhill, Wellman; Randy Ellis, Friona; and John Hartin. Seated, from left Barry Canter, Lorenzo; Tim McCasland, Lubbock; and Eddie Trice, Levelland.

Country Music's 'Golden Years' To Be Staged Here

"The Golden Years of Country Music" is coming to Muleshoe this week. It will be presented Thursday, June 7 at 8:30 p.m. on the Muleshoe High School football field. In the case of bad weather, the show will be in the high school auditorium.

Tickets are on sale by the local sponsors, the Muleshoe Fine Arts Booster Club and will cost $2.50 advance sale of $3 at the gate. Advance sale tickets will be available until 6 p.m. on Wednesday, June 6.

For advance tickets call 272-3304 or 272-3267. Proceeds from the show, to be presented by South Plains College, will be used to help purchase band uniforms for the junior high school band, and for other school fine arts departments.

"Golden Years" features about 40 songs spanning 50 years of country music history.

Songs include "Will There Be Any Freight Trains In Heaven," by Jimmie Rodgers, known as the father of modern country music; "Mule Skinner Blues" by Bill Monroe, father of bluegrass; "Wabash Cannon Ball"; "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke"; "Your Cheatin' Heart"; "Folsom Prison Blues" and "Amanda" among many others.

Country and bluegrass artists represented in the show include Hank Williams, Elvis Presley, Johnny Cash, Flatt and Scruggs, Waylon Jennings, Dolly Parton and many others, according to John Hartin.

The music in "Golden Years" should sound pretty much like the original recordings, if Hartin and his crew have anything to say about it.

"We worked primarily from original recordings, arranging all the songs and cast members listened to tapes of the originals," said Hartin, vocalist and electric guitarist in the show. Hartin also is director of a two-year program in country and bluegrass music at SPC. "We are trying to come as close as we can to the original sound."

"We think every artist we recognize in the show has made a definite impact on the business," said Hartin who also has been a professional guitarist for a number of years.

"Golden Years," along with the music, has a story to tell.

"There's a story developing the fact that country music has left the hills and is being recognized in the metropolitan areas," added Hartin.

"Certain things were happening in Kentucky with the bluegrass in the 30s and 40s; at the same time a completely different type of country music was followed in Texas by the Carter family, who did a lot of recording and broadcasting down at Del Rio. They had a big 50,000 watt station that was heard all over the country," he explained.

Fed Cattle In Feedlots Are Lower

Bailey County has 48,500 of the estimated 2,200,600 head of cattle in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains on feed in the four feedlots listed in the county, according to figures released by Southwestern Public Service Company. The totals are down from the totals fed last year by some 54 percent at this time, according to the SPS figures.

In 1978, SPS said a total of 78,500 cattle were fed in this county in the four feedlots. This is above the 2,500 head of cattle fed in Roberts County, but considerably below the 665,300 fed in Deaf Smith County.

Parmer County was second with 478,700 head of cattle fed in 1978, and a current capacity of 265,500 head.

Deaf Smith County, with 10 feedlots, processes the most beef through the feedlots each year, leading the area. There are also two packing plants in the county.

Amarillo lists four packing plants; Friona has one and Plainview also lists one plant. However, Iowa Beef Processors of Amarillo list the processing of 1,300,000 head of cattle each year, to a combined total for MBP-XL at Friona and Plainview of 1,164,000 head of cattle.

Also, Swift Fresh Meat Company of Dumas is another high producer with processing of 676,000 head of cattle.

The largest single feedlot in the 44 Southwestern Public Service Company Service area is Hi-Plains Feeders in Parmer County near Friona. Capacity of the feedlot is 90,000 head.

Awards Assembly Held For Students

Last Tuesday, on the final day of school for the 1978-79 school year, an awards assembly was held for junior high school students in Muleshoe.

Winner of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Outstanding Youth Award was Todd Holt and winners of the Soil Conservation Awards were Todd Holt, Melanie Roodler, Chad Williams, Jana Wuerflein and Darin Bratcher.

Other winners included: Rayshel Massingill, Girls PE, and Girls' Athletics, Marylyn Lewis, both seventh grade.

Donna Horn, English, seventh and Jimmy Lee, Spelling, seventh; Kristie Campbell, Reading, Sixth and Shelli Walker, Music.

Tina Ruthardt, English Six and Sherri Kinard, Social Studies, Seventh. Sharla Hawkins, English Eight and Kristi Ethridge, Spelling, Eight; Jimmy Lee, Reading Seven; Deena Burris, Speech Seven and Michael Isaac, Speech Eight.

If weekend weather started clearing as predicted by the National Weather Service, cotton should not be in 'too much trouble, and only benefits would be realized from a rainy, cool spell, predicted area farmers.

Cotton seed which has not had time to germinate is causing minor concern for farmers, who are very much afraid the cool, and rainy weather will keep the seed from germinating.

Also, last year, also at the end of May and first week of June, a cool, rainy spell caused a 'wet-weather' disease in cotton, causing tiny rooted cotton to rot.

Thursday at noon, several farmers in a conversation about the weather, said a prolonged spell would create problems for farmers, although the rain was proving to be a 'mixed blessing.'

Many farmers had planted cotton seed without adequate moisture hoping that rain would come along in a sufficient amount to germinate the seed and get the cotton growing. However, a prolonged rainy spell would possibly create problems through disease or wash-out.

Through late Friday, the rain which fell could be counted as only beneficial, as it fell slow enough to allow it to soak into the ground without significant 'wash-out.'

At noon Friday, rain gauges in Muleshoe were level at one inch, with amounts of up to three and a half inches recorded in the area.

No hail was reported from anywhere in the area, and only a brief, high wind heralded the approach of the storm.

Around 5 p.m. Friday, at Bula, Claunch Gin personnel said the sun was shining and that one to three inches of rain had been received.

From Maple, it was reported that one inch of rain was recorded in the immediate area, with up to three and a half inches being reported north of Maple.

Thursday night and Friday, 1.14 in rain had been received at the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge Cont. page 6, Col. 1

Several students at Richland Hills Primary School received certificates for perfect attendance on the last day of school this year.

Kindergarten students included Wendi Bland, Alex Aguirre and JMohn Edward Orozco.

Michelle Finney, Libby Aguirre and Frank Leal received the certificates for the first grade.

In the second grade, students receiving attendance certificates were DeAnn Bizzell, Krystall Derrick, Laurel Dillard and Shawn Rejino.

Muleshoe High School received heavy damage Friday night from vandals who invaded the school.

Saturday morning, officers were checking the vandalism which included flooding halls, tearing up bathrooms and other damage.

Muleshoe School Superintendent Neal B. Dillman offered a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the person or persons involved in the vandalism.

ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS....Thursday Morning, four employees of the Muleshoe Post Office received achievement awards as they have "accrued no less than 76 additional hours of sick leave with two calendar years starting April 1, 1977." They were awarded for not becoming ill during the two years, and received a certificate and $50 check. From left are Postmaster Tom Lobaugh, Doyle King, Elmer Davis and Assistant Postmaster Keith Burns.

Khomeini's Murder List

With the elimination of 21 more lives, after fake trials, the Ayatollah Khomeini's toll of institutionalized assassinations has grown to almost 200—through the agency of his Central Revolutionary Court. That's not counting the uncountable slaughtered in the province of Iran by "komitehs," in his name.

The victims, including two of the shah's former ministers, an Army general, a national police commander and several army and police officers who worked under them, were an answer to unknown assassins who picked off two of Khomeini's intimates, recently.

The former ministers and military officials slain by Khomeini could not have been responsible since they had all been in custody since at least February.

Among the capital offenses newly minted as grounds for slaughter is "insulting the Imam" (Khomeini).

It's as amorphous as previous charges that could bring death: Not being sufficiently Aryan in one country we can remember, or holding "counter-revolutionary" opinions in others.

So much for Islamic justice.

These endless official murders by Khomeini's minions are not only reeking evidence that "government by the mullahs" is a brutal farce in the name of religion, but also quite possibly a distraction arranged by the mullahs to take people's minds off the sad state of Iran's wrecked economy. No fewer than 200,000 persons were on the streets last week marching in protest of continuing unemployment and the sharp pangs of poverty. Khomeini seems to have no answer for that—so what could be simpler than to kill still more of the former officials the mobs have been conditioned to hate?

So the nation's best-educated class is demoralized, its intelligentsia destroyed.

Unfortunately, that course leads only to oblivion. It does not take the place of an orderly government. Destruction of civilized norms of conduct will surely rebound against alleged spiritual leaders who implement it (witness those assassins already striking back in the same coin). It leaves Iran, a formerly prosperous country, prostrate before its Communist-imperialist northern neighbor.

The Space Shuttle

A year from now the U.S. will launch a space shuttle—what some will call the National Spaceplane. After a test flight that year (1980), the space shuttle will feature an almost weekly delivery of payloads to an orbiting spacecraft.

Some five satellites can be carried into orbit on each shuttle ascent. The orbiting spacecraft will have the capacity to retrieve satellites before they fall. A large space telescope is to be part of the shuttle, which astronomers all over the world will be able to use.

A new spacelab, being built in Europe, will be part of the Orbiter. Scientific studies of various kinds, never possible before, can be carried out utilizing this Orbiter.

Marshall Kaplan has outlined all this and more about America's space effort in Space Shuttle (Aero Publishers). The Pennsylvania State University professor (and doctor of engineering) has assembled color diagrams, drawings and pictures to show how regular space travel will be inaugurated by the U.S. next year. It's a fascinating book about another historic, pioneer effort in space travel by the U.S.

JOHN ADAMS IN WASHINGTON

Gasoline—By The Can? A Risky No-No.

By John Hanly Adams

WASHINGTON, D.C.—"Explosion proof gasoline can" is the way the advertisement reads, in a leading newspaper—and it's a lot of dangerous baloney, to use Jimmy Carter's favorite word for Teddy Kennedy.

As gasoline shortages spread, many people are going to surrender to the impulse to buy and store a

John Wayne

John Wayne, fighting what many fear is a losing battle for his health, has captured the affection of Americans as few actors have. Primarily, it's because he personifies the honest, cowboy-type hero Americans think of as the patriotic, fair, New World-type who won the West and made America a better and stronger country.

Wayne also has always been proudly patriotic and not afraid to exhibit that patriotism in private life. (Few people slurred America in his presence, unscathed.)

There's something agonizingly sad about the passing of our cowboy stars of yesterday—all-American types like Randolph Scott and Gary Cooper, for example. The nation can't afford to lose them—the last of the traditional he-men of our theater days.

Their slick, inelegant, big-city TV replacements somehow don't quite fill their shoes. And so the nation hopes John Wayne can somehow lick the "Big C" again. The odds are heavily against him this time.

little "emergency reserve" of gasoline. Some are going to get hurt, because gasoline is an explosive material that cannot be safely stored and handled by the average family.

Curiously, you don't see much on the record about the safety problems associated with handling gasoline. It appears to be taken for granted that individuals of normal intelligence realize that gasoline is dangerous, and will stay away from the stuff. That may be true during normal times, but not in a gasoline scarcity panic.

Then, a significant number of people are going to let an obsessive fear of being caught without gasoline smother their normal common sense. And, as surely as night follows day, some of those people are going to become tragic fire victims—or create a booby-trap for innocents who happen to be nearby, including children.

Martin F. Henry, flammable liquids specialist for the Boston-based National Fire Protection Association, told this correspondent: "We have to assume people are going to store gasoline at home, and some are going to carry a reserve supply in their cars. I personally would not do that, but some people will. About all we can do is urge everyone to use only an approved safety container, with a flame arrestor and a vent plug that lets explosive fumes escape when the temperature inside the can gets high. Of course, the escaping fumes can themselves be toxic and fire-causing. So the fumes can be a real danger if you're carrying a gas can in your car trunk, and the fumes seep into the car itself. Again: Do not fill the container more than three-fourths full. That allows a little leeway for fumes to accumulate before they blow out the safety vent. Don't forget the vent plug may melt at temperatures of around 160 degrees. In many areas temperatures get that hot inside a car trunk very quickly during the summer."

Ken Giles of the Consumer Services Branch, U.S. Product Safety Commission, adds this: "I don't know of any explosion-proof can. There simply is no safe way to carry gasoline in a container inside a family car or camper. We think people who try that are going to run into terrible fires."

Unfortunately, bystanders are likely to suffer the consequences when a gasoline container goes up. Not long ago more than 100 people on New York's Wall Street were burned and injured by explosion of a gasoline can in an ice cream truck. At first it was assumed the cause was a bomb. In effect, that's what any container is, with gasoline inside: A bomb.

WASHINGTON NEWS REPORT

Carter & Bureaucracy—Curbing Salaries—The Military Balance—Salt II

WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Carter, who misjudged the power and cost of the bureaucracy when he first came to Washington, now realizes he must curb the automatic pay hikes and, in rural areas, salaries, in the name of common sense.

The President has sent Congress a proposal to lessen automatic pay increases and to adjust salaries of federal officials to the prevailing average in the localities they work in. It is a modest, but real, effort to get the growing cost of the federal bureaucracy (3,000,000 strong) under control.

Congress should enact these reform proposals into law. But the question is whether the army of federal employees can block this reform, or postpone it until next year, an election year, when such a bill would have less chance of passage.

Mr. Carter's proposal thus should be enacted in 1979; if it doesn't get through this first session of the 96th Congress it may not be enacted by this Congress.

The latest figures on comparative military strength between the U.S. and Russia are eye-opening. They show why the U.S. must accept almost anything, in the way of a new nuclear treaty, because any restraint of the Soviet military buildup is better than no restraint. The U.S. can't afford to keep up—thus there is little choice.

Here are the dismal comparative figures:

ICBM's: U.S.—1,054; Soviet Union—1,400.

Missile Subs: U.S.—41; Soviet Union—90.

Total throwweight: U.S.—7.8 million lb.; Soviet Union—14.7 million lb.

Total Megatonnage: U.S.—2,887 mt.; Soviet Union—8,352 mt.

Interceptors: U.S.—309; Soviet Union—3,200.

SAMS: U.S.—36; Soviet Union—10,000.

Army divisions: U.S.—19; Soviet Union—169.

Tanks: U.S.—10,500; Soviet Union—53,000.

Artillery: U.S.—17,500; Soviet Union—40,700.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN—There is presently a critical shortage of mortgage money in the State of Texas with which to purchase homes, due to unprecedented levels of inflation in the cost of housing and incredibly high interest rates.

Such conditions have made it impossible for hundreds of thousands of families to acquire and own homes of their own. Several other states have legislation that allow local governments to issue tax-exempt mortgage revenue bonds for the purpose of providing low interest mortgage money, in the neighborhood of 8 1/4 percent, to families of low and moderate income to finance home purchases.

Recently, U. S. Congressman Al Ullman introduced House of Representatives Bill 3712 which would effectively put an end to such mortgage revenue bond programs. Hearings on the bill have recently been held by the House Ways and Means Committee.

It has been called to my attention that the word in Washington is that Texans are opposed to such tax-exempt housing programs and thus in favor of HR 3712. I do not know who may have been making such comments, but I do know what the Texas House of Representatives has done regarding this matter during the current legislative session.

Medium Bombers: U.S.—66; Soviet Union—761.

Fighters: U.S.—3,400; Soviet Union—4,690.

Air defense radars: U.S.—59; Soviet Union—7,000.

Transports: U.S.—936; Soviet Union—1,305.

Fleet Ships: U.S.—398; Soviet Union—954.

Carriers: U.S.—12; Soviet Union—3.

Attack Submarines: U.S.—77; Soviet Union—270.

Two bills authorizing local mortgage revenue bond programs have been voted overwhelmingly by the House. House Bill 1 which would allow existing housing authorities to issue such bonds, was passed by vote of 109-14, and H. R. Bill 1876, allowing cities and counties to establish public instrumentalities for the purpose of implementing mortgage revenue bond programs, carried by a vote of 106-22. Both bills are in Senate where favorable action is anticipated.

I believe that the overwhelming mandate given these mortgage revenue bond programs by the people of Texas, acting through their elected representatives, clearly indicates that Texans do indeed favor the concept of providing a market interest rate housing program for persons of low to moderate income. I must add that neither bill's implementation would require credit of the State of Texas or any of its political subdivisions to be at risk.

I have asked the support of our Texas Congressmen voting against HR 3712 its present form and I have provided a statement of opposition to the House Ways and Means Committee.

TSCRA Investigators Solve Cattle Thefts

Investigators for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, working with other law enforcement officers, solved two major theft cases in the last week involving 113 head of cattle with an estimated market value of $61,543.

Don C. King, secretary-general manager of Fort Worth-based organization, said, "One case involved the theft by check of 83 head from a San Angelo auction market and the other involved 30 head stolen from a Hereford, Texas feedyard. Suspects have been arrested in both cases and all cattle have been recovered or accounted for."

King, who oversees 32 field inspectors, all certified peace officers, in Texas and Oklahoma, attributed the successful conclusion of the two cases to the brand inspection program TSCRA administers at all Texas auction markets and the investigative ability of the officers. Key leads in both cases were developed through brand inspection records.

"These cases show how very important it is for cattle raisers to brand their cattle," King said.

The two cases dramatically illustrate the broad spectrum of criminal involvement in the cattle business in recent months, he added. Suspects in the San Angelo incident are professional people, while one of the two suspects in the Panhandle theft is a convicted cattle thief and jail escapee.

The sequence of events in the larger case resembles a television mystery plot. In mid-April, a Professional order buyer in San Angelo was telephoned by a man impersonating a prominent Dallas businessman and cattleman.

The man told the buyer to purchase 80 to 100 head of choice steers for him and gave him an account number on a Dallas bank. The order buyer bought 71 choice steers and 11 choice heifers at San Angelo on April 19. That night, a truck sent by the suspect arrived at the auction market and the cattle were loaded. The driver gave a fictitious name and license number.

The draft in payment of the cattle was rejected by the Dallasite's company, and auction market owners called in TSCRA field inspectors to find the cattle.

The ensuing investigation revealed that 21 head had been sold through the auction market at Pilot Point in Northeast Texas April 21, and two more at the same place April 28. Six of these cattle have been recovered by TSCRA inspectors.

Eleven head were sold on the Oklahoma City stockyards and 49 head were traced to a pasture near Warner, Okla., in the eastern part of the state. All of the pasture cattle were recovered.

On May 16, TSCRA Field Inspector A.L. (Butch) Davis Jr. of Fort Worth arrested Glen Dale Yeatts, 40, of Grapevine, Texas, for theft over $10,000, a second-degree felony. Bond was set at $20,000, and Yeatts was released May 17. He and another suspect gave voluntary statements to Davis and TSCRA Special Assistant Cullen Robinson in regard to the incident. The other suspect remains free.

Investigating officers in this case were Texas Rangers Arthur Sikes and Tom Arnold, TSCRA Field Inspectors Hatton M. Moore Jr., Joe Ramer, Paul Wade and Davis and Special Assistant Robinson.

In the other case, a red and white 1968 Chevrolet truck tractor and 42-foot cattle trailer were stolen May 6 from Elmo Hall of Hereford, Texas. Thirty head of crossbred and native cattle were "shop-lifted" from Western Feedyards, east of Hereford. The losses were reported to the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office and to TSCRA Field Inspector Kenneth Chambers. Suspecting that the cattle might be sold at a large auction market, Chambers notified brand inspectors at Fort Worth, San Antonio and Oklahoma City.

TSCRA Market Inspector Oscar R. Leissner in San Antonio confirmed that cattle matching the description arrived at Union Stockyards early Tuesday morning, May 8. The 30 head were put in a special pen and TSCRA Field Inspector Jim DeLesdrenier notified TSCRA headquarters and, in turn, Chambers.

The cattle were consigned to Union Livestock Commission Co. and David Fluitt, one of the owners, played an instrumental role in the case. He convinced one of the suspects that the cattle could not be sold until Wednesday, May 8, because the health of the cattle had to be checked by Texas Animal Health Commission inspectors. He arranged to meet the suspects at the yards on sale day.

DeLesdrenier and market inspector Edmond Talk went undercover to learn more about the two suspects while King coordinated the investigation from Fort Worth. The inspectors learned that the "leader" of the two was using a fictitious name, L.W. Bowman, and in reality was Lyman Wayne Bassett, 26, a convicted cattle thief who had broken out of the Upshur County jail in East Texas April 28. Bassett and another subject, Guadalupe S. Ramirez, 34, of Tyler, Texas, were arrested for theft over $10,000. Both men gave authorities voluntary statements and on May 10, Chambers and Deputy Sheriff Dean Butcher, Deaf Smith County Sheriff's department, transported the two men to Hereford. Ramirez was released on $7,500 bond. Bassett was denied bond and remains in custody in Hereford.

All cattle and the tractor trailer were recovered, King said.

Bassett, who was recently given two-to-13 years in the Texas Department of Corrections for stealing 13 calves in Bell County, has also been charged for felony escape on a warrant from Upshur County.

Investigation officers were Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson, Deputy Sheriff Butcher, Texas Ranger John Dandy, Bexar County Sheriff's Department investigator Bill White, TSCRA Field Inspectors Son Guin, Chambers and DeLesdrenier and TSCRA Secretary-General Manager King.

Cattle raisers can help prevent theft of their livestock, King said, and the first step is to brand. The lawman also gave ranchers these other tips:

"Don't build working pens close to the road; lock the gate to loading chutes; vary the time when feeding--don't get into a predictable routine; watch for strangers or anything out of the ordinary; count cattle and check them regularly; report any suspicious vehicles and keep activities immediately to the local TSCRA inspector; jot down the license number of suspicious vehicles and keep gates fastened with strong locks." In 1978, the law enforcement arm of the non-profit cattle association recovered or accounted for livestock and ranch property valued at more than $2,640,000. For the first quarter of 1979, King said the number of theft cases being reported indicates a significant rise in livestock-oriented crime.

Military Funds Get Boost For Next Year

On an amendment by Senator John Tower (R-Tex) the Senate Armed Services Committee today added $149.2 million to the fiscal year 1980 Defense Authorization Bill for the purchase of 12 A-7 aircraft for the Air National Guard. The aircraft are to be built by the Vought Corporation of Fort Worth.

In completing its work on the measure, the Armed Services Committee approved approximately $40 billion for next year for military procurement and research and development programs. This figure is less than $100 million below the Administration.

Tower said he was not completely pleased with the committee's auction cutting some $400 million from the Navy's shipbuilding program, leaving a total of $5.8 billion. However, the senior Texas senator said the committee's approval of $143 million for a 90,000 ton conventionally-powered KENNEDY class aircraft carrier in lieu of a new design 60,000 class requested by the Administration is a step in the right direction.

The total procurement request for aircraft was increased some $600 million above the White House amount. The committee recommended the full $1.6 billion for purchase of 175 of the Air Force's new F-16 fighter aircraft, manufactured by General Dynamics at Fort Worth. Also the Army request for $276 million for modifications of its AH-1 Cobra Attack Helicopters was recommended for authorization. The committee also added $180 million to continue research and development of the AV-8B V/STOL aircraft for the Marine Corps.

$100 million was approved for continued development and initial procurement of the HARM tactical missile to be manufactured by Texas Instruments at Dallas for the Air Force and the Navy.

In the strategic area, the committee recommended authorization of $2.4 billion for strategic systems research and development, a figure less than $100 million below the President's request. The recommendation included $670 million to continue below the President's request. The recommendation included $670 million to continue research and development of the M-X missile system. Language was also placed in the bill requiring a report to the Congress on the final decision on the M-X system, including its basing mode, by October 1, 1979. The intent of this requirement is to assure the Congress of an opportunity to assess the final proposed M-X system.

The Armed Services Committee also today recommended a total active duty strength of 2,047,000, a reduction of some 3,000 from the cur-

Miss Tonya James-Bride Of Marshall Pool

Miss Tonya Lynn James and Marshall Bennett Pool were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony performed Friday evening, May 18, at 6 p.m. in the home of the grooms parents. Rev. James Williams read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Willie James and Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Pool II, all of Muleshoe.

The couple stood in the garden room area of the home, before two arched brass candelabra arranged with pastel yellow tapers entwined with greenery. Encircling the rest of the area were fern, palms, ivy, and various other potted plants.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father the bride was attired in a formal length gown of white organza fashioned with a deep V neckline edged with Venice lace and a flare ruffled edged with narrow lace. The ruffle formed a short cap sleeve. The A-line skirt extended into a full length chapel train flowing from the empire bodice. A deep ruffle formed the hemline of the skirt and train. Heavy Venice lace motifs accented the empire bodice and the skirt. The headpiece was a Juliet cap of Venice lace holding a lace edged veil of illusion. An arrangement of silk yellow and white daisies dominated the bridal bouquet carried by the bride, with accents of yellow and white ribbon and greenery.

For something old the bride carried a monogrammed handkerchief belonging to the grooms maternal grandmother, Mrs. Roy Jordan, and a silver ring which belonged to the grooms great-great grandmother. Something borrowed was a diamond necklace from the brides sister. The bride wore the traditional blue garter which was worn by the grooms mother at her wedding. Pennies minted in the years of their births were worn in the brides garter.

Serving her sister as Matron of Honor was Mrs. Randol Copley. She was attired in a pastel yellow floor length gown. She wore baby's breath in her hair and carried long stemmed daisies of yellow and white. Miss LaTavia Copley, niece of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a short dress of yellow chiffon featuring an accordion pleated skirt with white lace trim. She carried a small white satin basket with yellow and white rose petals. She wore yellow and white daisies in her hair.

Best Man was John Saylor. The groom and best man wore dark brown tuxedos featuring ivory shirts. Candelighters were Bill James and Tim James, brothers of the bride. The mother of the bride was attired in an apricot street length dress with a matching jacket. The mother of the bride wore a floor length gown of floral and pastel green. They each wore daisy corsages.

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the dining room of the home. The table was covered with a ecru lace trimmed tablecloth and decorated with a crystal candelabra featuring yellow candles and the brides bouquet. Serving the three tiered cake and bannana pineapple punch were Mrs. Mike Riley, sister of the groom and Mrs. Bruce Bruns.

Registering the guest was Miss Sheila Hunt.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico the bride wore a white cotton one piece jumpsuit with matching jacket. Following the honeymoon the couple will be at home at Rt. 2, Muleshoe where the groom is engaged in farming.

will be graduating in December.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. B.J. Black, Amherst, Maternal grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Black, Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Herb James, Millcreek, Oklahoma and Mrs. Cecil Ford, Hobbs, N.M., all aunts and uncles of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Lunsford, Oklahoma bride. Also, Mrs. Roy Jordan, Maternal grandmother of the groom; Mrs. and Mrs. Myron Pool, Paternal grandparents of the groom, Clovis, N.M. and Dr. and Mrs. B.Z. Beaty, aunt and uncle of the groom.

WEDDING PLANS FORETOLD.... Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Bryant of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tracy of Olean, N.Y. wish to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their children, Terri Bryant to Terrance Mark Tracy. Vows will be exchanged on August 25 at 4:40 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church of Muleshoe. Miss Bryant is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and West Texas State University School of Nursing. She is employed at HI-Plains Baptist Hospital, Amarillo. Tracy is a graduate of Olean High School and Jamestown Community College in Jamestown, N.Y. He is employed by the Amarillo Police Department.

COUPLE PLAN AUGUST VOWS:.... Mr. and Mrs. Haney Poyner of Muleshoe wish to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Perri to Rodney Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Flins Lee of San Bernardino, Calif. The couple will repeat vows August 4 at the 16th and Avenue D Church of Christ in Muleshoe. Miss Poyner is a 1976 graduate of Muleshoe High School, presently attending Texas Tech University while employed at the Texas Tech Ticket Office. Lee is a 1975 San Bernardino High School graduate, attending Fresno City College and California State University at Fresno. He is currently employed with the Education Service Center of Lubbock.

FILLING UP THE PLATES... The rainbow Girls served a salad luncheon Thursday to raise money for club projects and trips. The girls reported that the luncheon was a success.

TOPS Has Weekly Meeting

Brenda Murphy was crowned weekly queen of TOPS on Thursday, May 31 at 6 p.m. in the Bailey County Coop Community Room. Second Runner up was Ann Vinson. Clara Lou Jones called the meeting to order and the TOPS pledge was recited and members sang the TOPS song. Roll call was given by Evelene Harris with 23 members weighing in.

All members are reminded that June 7 is the monthly queen night. The meeting was dismissed with the Goodnight Song.

Prevent outbreaks of Deadly botulism--use safe home-canning methods. Unsafe food processing can cause botulism outbreaks. One sure danger is failure to use a pressure canner when home canning low-acid vegetables. For low-acid vegetables, a pressure canner is a "must". Also, botulism outbreaks have been traced to fermented, smoked and dried foods which were inadequately processed. Sources of clostridium botulinum--a bacteria--are soil, mud and water from which plants are grown and harvested. Under unsafe processing conditions, the bacteria can survive.

Once that happens, the bacteria is sealed into containers with the processed food. There it grows--without air--and sealed into containers with the processed food. There it grows--without air--and produces a deadly poison. For more information on home canning, ask the County Extension office for the "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables" (B-194). I will be testing pressure canners on Thursday, June 14, at the Coliseum from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Anyone wishing to have their canner tested, can bring their canner in and leave it to be checked but be sure to pick it up before 3:00 p.m.

Agriculture Census Final Call Issued

A drive to round up reports that have not yet been returned from farm households in Bailey County for the 1978 Census of Agriculture was launched today by the Bureau of the Census.

Bureau officials called the drive a "special effort to provide statistical results to the Nation's farmers and other users of census data as early as possible." Most farm operators first received report forms last January, and most have, by now, completed and returned them, explained the bureau of the Census. Orvin Wilhite, Chief of the Bureau's Agriculture Division commented, "Although the rate at which reports have been returned has exceeded the pace of the last farm census, some farmers and ranchers have not sent in their reports."

"The completeness and accuracy of this important agricultural census depends upon each individual filling out the report from received," he added. "I am sure that farmers and agricultural leaders want their county and state totals to be as accurate and and Western Farm Supply at Needmore reported one inch of rain.

From Foster Fertilizer at Lazbuddie, the amount was two inches northwest of Lazbuddie and one and six-tenths to two inches in the immediate Lazbuddie area.

Mrs. Charles Farmer at Lariat reported approximately one and one half inches, although their farm near Stegall received "only a sprinkle."

Loyd Stephens, near the New Mexico line said they received 2.2 inches of rain between 2 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Friday.

North of Progress, Tim Campbell received approximately one inch and a half of rain.

The Byron Gwyns reported continuous slow rain Thursday night and Friday morning, but it was unknown how much rain was recorded.

Temperatures ranged somewhat cooler during the current cool, rainy weather, when compared to temperatures during the same time last year.

On June 1 last year, the high temperature was 92, compared to the mid 60s this year.

Last year, low temperatures ranged from the mid 50s to 60, while they ranged some five degrees cooler this year for nighttime temperatures.

Daytime temperature is also cooler, ranging in the mid 60s to mid 70s.

rgy supply. It is also lower than the rate schedule that was approved by the West Texas cities and the Texas Railroad Commission effective February 15 for regular industrial service.

"Pioneer last increased the base irrigation rate in November of 1971. Since that time the Company has experienced enormous increases in its cost for labor and materials and other expenses. The Consumer Price Index shows that over 70 percent inflation has been measured in all consumer goods and services since 1971. This rate increase is necessitated by useful as possible." The farm census is the only government or private method for gathering and reporting agriculture information on a county-by-county basis for the entire nation, Wilhite noted.

Important decisions will be made by farmer organizations, Marketing associations and co-ops on the basis of the information in the farm census, he said. Census figures also are widely used by many other organizations, both public and private, on which farmers depend for services, supplies, and equipment.

Operators who neglect to fill out and return their reports, Wilhite said, are doing themselves and all other operators a disservice. They impair the accuracy of the statistics for their area and may even reduce their county's share of funds allocated for research and other agricultural purposes, Wilhite said.

A few landlords and other persons who did not operate farms in 1978 may have received report forms, and others may have received more than one form, each addressed differently, added the bureau chief. He explained, "each report that the Bureau mailed was assigned its own census file number. We need a response for each census file number mailed so that the record can be cleared. Anyone who did not farm in 1978, for whatever reason, and anyone who received extra reports with different file numbers should note these facts on the forms and return them so that additional followups can be avoided."

The Bureau realizes that some farmers and ranchers need reassurance that their report is confidential. "By law," Wilhite concluded, "the report may be seen only by sworn census employees, and used only to tabulate totals for your county, state and the nation."

In the 60s musicians like Johnny Cash and Merle Haggard made their play for fame. "They all had a completely unique style and were tremendously successful," said Hartin. Willie Nelson and Waylon Jennings symbolize the outlaw movement, moving away from Nashville and bringing the music back to where it started," he noted, "in Texas."

Golden Years will feature faculty and students from SPC's country and bluegrass music program and students from the speech and drama department as well. Featured instruments will include fiddles, acoustic, electric and pedal steel guitars, mandolin, banjo, auto harp, piano and drums.

the Company's increased cost of providing you service.

"While the cost of natural gas to you has increased significantly in recent years due to price increases experienced by Pioneer in acquiring and maintaining an adequate gas supply, the utility, of course, has not retained any of the increased cost of gas and does in fact fail to recover some of the increase because of cost items not included in the cost of gas adjustment. Pioneer's average cost of gas remains well below that of most intrastate gas companies and the sales price to you is less than the average purchase price of several.

"Once again, I would like to point out that Pioneer has no control over the price the producers charge for the gas at the wellhead. We have to bid in competition for the gas if we are to maintain a gas supply adequate to take care of your needs. This is further complicated by the national energy legislation passed late last year that now extends federal controls to Pioneer's purchase of gas.

"In the meantime, we, at Pioneer, will continue our dedication to the job of assuring you of an adequate gas supply for your needs and to continue to provide the necessary service to enable you to get the most value from your natural gas purchases."

Charge -A- Call Introduced For Telephone

A new long distance service for the traveling public is being introduced throughout the four-state operating territory of General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Called "charge-a-call," the service is being described as payphones which won't take money," according to James B. Emery, the firm's vice president-marketing.

The first installations are being made in locations such as airports, hospitals, motels, truck stops, etc., which experience heavy payphone use.

"Charge-a-call," according to O.D. Hearn, Brownfield division manager, "is designed for customers who make collect, third number and credit card long distance calls and frees them from the burden of searching for change in order to place a call. In fact, it's just like using a home or office phone. The customer talks now, pays later and has the advantage of having all of the billing details of the call recorded on his or her phone bill."

Aside from the obvious advantages for those who actually use the "charge-a-call" phones, all customers will benefit, according to the division manager. "The new 'coinless' phones are less expensive to install, less expensive to maintain and less subject to vandalism," he pointed out, "which, thereby reduces the cost to the company and its customers of providing payphone service."

"Charge-a-call" phones are identified by a distinctive blue/orange/yellow striped sign. To place a call, the customer simply picks up the receiver and follows the dialing instructions posted by the phone. The "charge-a-call" station is automatically identified to an operator who accepts only credit card, collect or third number billings. Local calls cannot be placed from "charge-a-call" phones. Residential or business customers may obtain telephone credit cards by making application for one at the local telephone company business office, Emery said.

"Charge-a-call" phones have been in service in many locations for several months now," the division manager commented, "and generally have been well accepted by customers. However, some old habits die hard. Customers are so used to depositing money in payphones, our coin crews frequently find nickels, dimes and quarters jammed into any opening on the phone the caller could find. Truly, no coins are needed for charge-a-call."

Muleshoe State Bank To Host Area Artist

Tuesday, June 5 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at Muleshoe State Bank, area residents will have an opportunity to view the work of Jim Ward, accomplished sculptor and artist. A former rodeo clown, bronc rider, bulldogger and cowboy, Ward captures the Western scene with complete realism. Some of his bronze work commands prices ranging from $700 to $3,500.

Highlighting the one man show will be the dedication of a painting called "Blackwater Valley State Bank" which Muleshoe State Bank commissioned Ward to paint. The bank was founded in 1914 as Blackwater Valley State Bank. During the show, the bank will give away 1,000 limited number, signed prints of the Blackwater Valley State Bank.

A native of Fort Worth who calls Stillwater, Oklahoma his home town, now a resident of Canyon, received a degree in Animal Husbandry from Oklahoma State University in 1953. After a knee injury on the football field, he turned his attention to the rodeo arena where he was able to earn enough money to pay his tuition. Active in ROTC at OSU, he received an Army Commission in 1952.

It was during his rodeo career that he became interested in Art and began to paint pictures of bucking horses and bulls for business establishments advertising the upcoming rodeos. In 1954, he married the former Jackie Mahoney of Antlers, Oklahoma and took a teaching position in Humphrey, Nebraska. In 1956 he was appointed Assistant County agent at Muleshoe. A year later he became manager of the 3,000 acre Muleshoe Ranch. During that time, he enrolled Famous Artist's correspondence course.

He went to work as a staff artist for the Quarter Horse Journal in 1964. In 1966 he was named Director for an Amari based magazine, Irrigati Age. He taught himself sculpt and cast in bronze 1965 when he installed his own foundry and developed unusual techniques casting.

His paintings and bronzes are found in private collections throughout the Southwest. His work also being distributed Sherwood Publishing Company in a line Western Christmas Cards. Large firms have used his works for advertising purposes and his paintings have been shown on covers of The Quarter Horse Journal, The Cattman, The Cutting Horse Journal and Southwest Heritage. He illustrates the Quarter Horse Journal and Irrigati Age. Ward and his wife have three children and live on farm south of Canyon.

Customer averaged billing plan

Southwestern's Averaged Billing Plan is designed to minimize the ups and downs in your electric bill.

If you've wished the amount of your electric bills could be more consistent every month instead of changing so much between seasons — here's a way...

The Averaged Billing Plan is provided to HELP SMOOTH OUT THE HIGHS AND LOWS that occur in your electric bills. As the name implies, this plan arranges for you to pay an "average" rather than the actual amount used each month.

Who's eligible for this plan?

Any residential customer with satisfactory credit, whose average bill is $25.00 or more, can request the Averaged Billing Plan.

How to get started.

All you have to do is call

Southwestern Public Service Company. There's no charge for participation in the Averaged Billing Plan. If for any reason you decide to drop the plan once you've started, just notify us. Payment by Automatic Bank Draft can also, in most cases, be arranged.

This is how the Averaged Billing Plan works.

The dollar amount of your electric bill each month will be determined by averaging the actual dollar amount of your bill for the past 12 months. When the amount you have paid does not cover the amount you have used, 15 percent of the difference will be added to your monthly average.

So, the Averaged Billing Plan does not change your rate, but allows you to pay less during high-use months and make up the difference by paying more during low-use months.

Farmers Analyzing Profit Margin Cost

Farmers analyzing every possible opportunity to widen their profit margins might do well to consider sheep, according to Dr. Frank A. Hudson of the Texas Tech University animal science faculty. "The wool crop brings in one income and lamb has had a high and stable market price at the producer's level," he explained. The key to making sheep pay is good management, but that can be learned, Hudson said. "Dollar for dollar, facilities cost less for sheep, and the animals can sustain for most of the year off crop residues. Sheep are just a good supplement in almost any farming operation." Hudson has found the major problem in handling sheep is the necessity for better quality fencing. The electric fence which serves a cattle operation will only hold sheep as long as they are contented, he said. "Wool insulates them from the shock of a one-wire fence, and, unless the nose hits the wire, there is little to keep them from moving through the barrier." While the market for breeding stock has gone up, Hudson suggested a shoe-string operation might begin with aged ewes from the range that would serve for two or three years. "With careful selection of lambs, a flock could be regenerated and put a beginner in the sheep business." Historically, according to Hudson, people wanting to get into the livestock business have found sheep a good way to start. The investment in animals is less than in cattle, and the facilities required are less than for swine. Hudson said that with the new facilities for sheep provided Texas Tech University through the Lubbock County Field Laboratory near New Deal, the Department of Animal Science is trying to rebuild its flock. The university has three good quality Rambouillet bucks, he said, but will be building upon that breed as well as the Hampshires and Columbia breeds. The Rambouillet breeds over a wide season and is kept primarily for its fine wool. Columbias, which have traditionally been a part of the teaching flock, are a dual-purpose breed providing fleece and excellent market lambs. The Hampshires produce the fat lambs wanted for market and have a medium wool production. "Much of what we seek in a flock is dictated by the needs in agricultural education, but there are feeding studies currently on the graduate level." Let the child's first lesson be obedience, and the second will be what thou wilt. -Benjamin Franklin

OPEN EMBASSIES
 With an enthusiastic welcome from President Carter, the United States and China have established full diplomatic relations for the first time in almost 30 years. In Peking, Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal hosted the American flag over the U.S. Embassy and welcomed the formal end to the long Sino-American diplomatic estrangement.

Military Police Height Standard Becomes Lower

Height standards for military policemen in the Army have been lowered recently to a minimum of 5 feet 4 inches for both men and women, according to Lieutenant Colonel Nicolas Vay, Army recruiting commander for New Mexico and West Texas. Opportunities for training in law enforcement, criminal investigation, and crime prevention are now available to many more qualified young people in New Mexico and Texas, Colonel Vay noted. To qualify, an applicant must be in top physical shape and have no record of civilian convictions other than minor traffic offenses.

Men and women in Army law enforcement are given training in methods of search and seizure, the fundamentals of judo and unarmed defense, and means of quelling disturbances and riots. Experienced military policemen may also qualify for specialized schooling in nuclear security, traffic accident investigation, or the handling of patrol, sentry, or detection dogs. For more detailed information about qualifying for military police work, contact your nearest Army representative, listed in the yellow pages.

ECONOMIC DECLINE
 The government's economic barometer fell for the third straight month in January, pointing to an economic slowdown later in the year. Economists disagree over whether there will be an orderly decline or a deep recession at the end of 1979.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — For awhile some thought they were hiding out in a Winnebago Mobile Home. Not a likely place to find a state senator with only a week left in the session.

And some people had the sneaking suspicion that the 12 missing senators were spread from Mexico to Las Vegas, from Houston to five minutes driving time from the State Capitol Building.

But wherever they were, 12 senators were not in the Texas Senate last week—at least four and a half days of that week.

What that meant, of course, is that the Senate, left without a quorum, had to close its doors and put a halt to the business. The 12 missing senators had set out to do just that.

"Spoiled Children"
The 19 remaining senators described their absent colleagues as "deserters," and accused them of being "on strike." Even Gov. Bill Clements threw in his two cents worth by saying they were acting like spoiled children and needed a good spanking.

The whole episode, charged Sen. Carl Parker of Port Arthur, had been caused by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and his parliamentary slight of hand in an attempt to get SB 1149—basically an election bill—passed by the Senate. The bill was labeled a "Trojan Horse" by Sen. Lloyd Doggett and few disagreed.

Hobby's plan was to get SB 1149 (that would have put the secretary of state in charge of funds now ruled over by county party chairmen) out of the Senate and into the House where it could be substituted. The substitute, so the plan would go, would be a measure providing for a split presidential primary. That primary, in March and separate from the regular state primaries, would cost the taxpayers $5 to $7 million. But besides that, backers of the idea were quick to point out, it would give Texas one of the earliest presidential primaries and would enable the state to have more clout over critical national issues such as energy. Not so, said the absent senators.

And when Hobby announced that he would abandon the traditional order of business, it was obvious, the missing senators charged, that what was at stake was political hides and not the influence of the state on national matters.

Help Connally
Who the split presidential primary would help and who it would hurt is a complicated story. Most agree that a split primary, non-binding as to party, would enhance the presidential hopes of John Connally. Others say a presidential primary on the same day as the regular state primaries would probably endanger the seats of some incumbent conservative Democrats.

What some called a "desperation move" on Hobby's part meant that it would take only a majority vote to bring up a bill in the Senate, instead of the traditional two-thirds. It was the first time Hobby had ever used such a tactic since becoming lieutenant governor in 1973. The last time anyone could remember the Senate going to a majority vote was in 1961.

When the 12 senators learned of Hobby's intentions, they decided the only thing left to do—the filibuster, which they had tried against SB 1149, had proven to be ineffective—was to abandon the Senate chamber.

Call on Senate
Hobby retaliated by putting a call on the Senate—the first since 1969. The Senate Sgt.-at-Arms, the Department of Public Safety and the Texas Rangers were called in to locate and return the truant senators.

Understandably, Hobby had started calling the group, "The Killer Bees." And when a statewide search failed to turn up even one of the hiding senators, almost every newspaper sang out with the same refrain: "Where are the Killer Bees?"

Hobby was more than just irritated that state police couldn't locate "12 prominent citizens of the state." Those 12—The Killer Bees—were Sens. Doggett, Babe Schwartz, Ron Clower, Parker, Bob Vale, Raul Longoria, Gene Jones, Chet Brooks, Glenn Kothmann, Oscar Mauzy, Bill Patman and Carlos Truan.

At one point during the search for the senators, the DPS nabbed a man they thought was Gene Jones at his home in Houston. Only after the man had been helicoptered back to Austin, did troopers learn that they had

Proof Needed

To Acquire

Social Security

Everyone who applies for a social security number must provide evidence of his or her age, identity, and U.S. citizenship or lawful admission status.

In addition, a person applying for a replacement card or changing his or her name or other recorded information must provide evidence establishing his or her identity.

Proper evidence of age is a public or hospital birth record established before age 5 or a religious birth record established before age 5. Evidence of identity includes: Driver's license, State identity card, voter's registration, school record, report card, school identity card, marriage record, divorce decree, work record or badge, building pass, draft card, military ID, U.S. Passport, U.S. Citizen ID card, baby's hospital wrist band, newspaper birth announcement, baby book, adoption record, court order for name change, church membership, or confirmation record, welfare case record, clinic, doctor or hospital record, vaccination certificate, insurance policy, day care or nursery school record, child's membership in any youth organization, or any other document showing identifying data.

In addition a person 18 or older who is applying for a social security number for the first time must apply in person. More information about applying can be found in the leaflet, "Applying for a social security number." Free copies can be obtained at the Lubbock social security office located at 1205 Texas Ave, Lubbock Texas. The telephone number is 762-7381.

grabbed the wrong man—Gene Jones' brother, Clayton Jones.
Clayton said, innocently of course, he went along just to get to ride on a helicopter. But it was later learned, that while one Jones (the right one) was slipping out the back door, another Jones (the wrong one) was being escorted out the front door by the DPS.

Deal Finally Struck

While the police chased Senators and the news media chased the police, Hobby and the Killer Bees quietly began negotiations. When the senators returned (to a packed senate gallery and chamber, to some boos and many cheers), it was clear what deal had been struck. The Killer Bees had forced Hobby to return to the two-thirds rule.

As soon as the Killer Bees took their seats, the Senate rushed back into action and passed more than 20 bills in one afternoon and evening. One of those bills was SB 1149. The measure was approved on second reading 17-14, meaning that if the 'nos' stood pat on the third and final reading of the bill, Hobby wouldn't even have enough votes to bring the legislation up for consideration.

Later, the Killer Bees admitted that nine of them had hidden out in a cramped garage apartment not more than five miles from the Capitol Building. Jones (Gene) had left the "bunker," as the Killer Bees called it, because of claustrophobia. Brooks offered the excuse that bad weather had kept him away from the Capitol (but, yes, he did agree with the Killer Bees' position on a split presidential primary), and Longoria had stayed in seclusion somewhere in South Texas.

Unfortunately, the Killer Bees may need to hide out again. Speaker of the House Billy Clayton says there are already some senate bills in the House that could be amended to include a presidential primary. Hobby's agreement with the Killer Bees did not include a promise that some other senate bill might not come back from the House with a split presidential primary proposal attached. If that happens, Hobby would need only a majority vote for the Senate to concur in House amendments.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan
Rice, so versatile and acceptable, is economical and delicious whether served in casseroles or with gravy.

- Almond Chicken with Rice
- 3 c cooked rice
 - 1/2 c sliced mushrooms
 - 1/2 c almonds blanched
 - 3 T salad oil
 - 1 clove garlic cut
 - 1 t salt
 - 1 c cubed bamboo shoots (canned)
 - 1/2 c thinly sliced water chestnuts (canned)
 - 1 c thinly sliced celery
 - 1 c diced cold chicken
 - 2 T liquid (1 tablespoon

each from bamboo shoot and water chestnut cans
Brown almonds in 1 tablespoon oil. Set aside. With a table fork, mash garlic into salt in skillet. Add 1 tablespoon oil and then bamboo shoots and mushrooms. Brown lightly. Add liquid. Cover tightly. Cook over low heat 5 minutes. Add water chestnuts, celery and 1/2 of the almonds. Just heat through. Celery and chestnuts should remain crisp.
Make gravy by mixing 2 teaspoons cornstarch, dash salt, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 4 tablespoons water and 4 teaspoons soy sauce. Cook until liquid thickens and is smooth. Garnish with green onions and almonds. Serve with hot fluffy cooked rice.

WILDLIFE BULLETINS AVAILABLE

Most species of wildlife have been studied in Texas and many of these technical reports are now available for a small printing fee to advanced students and landowners to assist them in their own wildlife projects.

management bulletins include: Quail Management Handbook For West Texas Rolling Plains, Bulletin #48, $1.25; Texas Deer Herd Management Problems and Principles, Bulletin #44, $1.45; Waterfowl Habitat Management In Texas, Bulletin #47, $1.64; Waterfowl Identification In The Central Flyway, Bulletin #51, $1.45.

There are several comprehensive numbered bulletins of general interest to the outdoorsman including: Freshwater Catfish Of Texas, Bulletin #39, $0.99; Freshwater Fish of Texas, Bulletin #5-A, $1.48; The Mammals of Texas, Bulletin #41, $2.63; Poisonous Snakes of Texas, Bulletin #31, $2.26.

Individuals ordering these booklets should send check, cashiers check or money order. Prices include all necessary tax and postage. Send all orders to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, Tx. 78744.

GAS SCARE NOT SLOWING PARKS VISITORS

The threat of gasoline shortages or service stations closing early or on weekends has had little affect on the number of visitors at Palo Duro State Park in the Texas Panhandle.

"We have noticed very little difference in the number of both local and out-of-state visitors at Palo Duro," said Miss Debra Richardson, park clerk. "Reports of higher gasoline prices are common in the area, but the availability of fuel does not seem to be a problem now," Richardson continued.

One bright spot among the higher prices paid by travelers is the reservation system now in operation by the Texas parks. According to comments from the visitors as well as park employees, everyone likes the reservation program.

There are many parks visitors who do not realize that those spaces not reserved are filled on a first-come, first-served basis each day. Reservations are not mandatory, but are convenient. More information on parks reservations and park facilities are available by calling the area state parks or dial 800-252-9327.

FLASH FLOODS ARE DANGEROUS

Everyone welcomes the nice spring rains and the affects the water has on the countryside. But a little too much rain in hilly or mountainous country and otherwise quiet streams become raging torrents.

Everyone visiting parks, lakes, streams or caprock country should watch for heavy rains upstream and be prepared to move themselves and their equipment to higher ground.

If you are caught in an area with high water, it is better to let the water recede before attempting to cross. Even vehicles have been swept off water crossings and many times, the passengers have not been able to escape.

The state's scenic areas and water resources offer the visitor a variety of opportunities for enjoyment, but it is still necessary to treat them with respect.

A TEXAS GAME WARDEN PROFILE

When you think of local hunting and fishing regulations or water safety requirements in Texas, the first person to come to mind is the area Texas game warden and Ronnie Ainsworth of Plainview is the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department representative for Hale and Floyd counties on the South Plains.

Ronnie covers two counties with as much variety of wildlife as any in northwest Texas including: deer, quail, dove, pheasant, waterfowl and aoudad sheep.

Ronnie is also familiar with northwest Texas, as his home town is Vernon. He resides with his wife, Barbara and 11 year old Joey and 8 year old Kimberly at 2001 West 18th in Plainview.

Ainsworth has been with the law enforcement division of the P&WD for nearly six years upon graduating from the game warden school in May, 1973.

Although the game warden doesn't receive many calls reporting violations or asking for local information, the officer can be contacted by calling 806-293-5688.

Ainsworth, as well as other Lubbock district wardens, work closely with other local law enforcement departments. Many times, the warden can be contacted by calling the local police department or sheriff's department.

Ainsworth knows that his area covers many square miles and without the help of conscientious sportsmen and landowners, his job would be nearly impossible to perform. The officer asks that all game fish and water safety violations be reported to him as quickly as possible by everyone.

Legislative Medical Advances Applauded

Not all medical help is dispensed in a doctor's office. Sometimes the Texas House and Senate are the sites of important medical advances. For instance, the Legislature passed several bills that will help children. These bills, backed by the Texas Medical Association (TMA), include:

HB 2096 by Bill Caraway (D-Houston) and Sen. Chet Brooks (D-Pasadena) will screen children for eye problems when they first enter school.

SB 834 by Sen. Bill Patman (D-Ganada) and Rep. Mike Ezzell (D-Snyder) will permit the Texas Department of Health (TDH) to add other inheritable diseases to its screening program of newborns for phenylketonuria (PKU). Mario Ramirez, M.D., TMA president, said treatment for many diseases of newborns is effective only if the diseases are identified early enough. Prompt treatment can help avoid a lifetime of expensive institutional care.

SB 1046 by Sen. Jack Ogg (D-Houston) and Rep. Ezzell is much like the PKU bill. Dr. Ramirez, a Rio Grande City family practitioner, said TMA supported this bill that will require newborn screening for hypothyroidism because this disease can cause severe brain damage if it is not detected early in life.

SB 835, also sponsored by Patman and Ezzell, permits a physician to refer a child directly to the state's Crippled Children Program. This new process will speed up a child's ability to get treatment. Dr. Ramirez also praised the Legislature for passing two other health-related bills. One will create a statewide cancer registry that will provide researchers with data to pinpoint areas and conditions associated with high numbers of cancer cases. Another bill will identify lay midwives and permit TDH to develop voluntary training programs for them. Lay midwives, many with little or no training, deliver about 9,000 babies a year in Texas.

Another recently passed bill, the new legal definition of death, should help clear up confusion in this sensitive area. The new definition recognizes the concept "brain death" as a method of determining death. Before the bill, the law only recognized failure of breathing and blood flow.

TMA also supported malpractice insurance legislation that would extend the state's Joint Underwriting Association and expand the duties of the Texas Medical Liability Trust, both created by the 65th Texas Legislature to help fight the high costs of malpractice insurance. Legislation that insures the continued availability of this insurance helps doctors control high costs passed on to patients.

However, TMA expressed concern over the Legislature's refusal to enact laws that would implement some changes recommended by the state's study commission on malpractice insurance. That kind of legislation would have helped control the public's health care costs by curbing the hundreds of groundless, reckless malpractice suits and preventing "double-dipping" on insurance claims. Dr. Ramirez said.

TMA also was active in legislation to improve patient care given by nurses. TMA also was active in legislation to improve patient care given by nurses and physician assistants. Prior to the 66th session TMA worked with the Texas Hospital Association and Texas Nurses Association to draft suggested legislation changing portions of the Nurse Practice Act. The result was SB 273 by Sen. Tati Santiesteban (D-E Paso) and Rep. Ron Bird (D-San Antonio). Another bill that passed that TMA supported was SB 956, by Sen. Carlos Truan (D-Corpus Christi) which will help the Board of Medical Examiners clarify standing order procedures for physician assistants.

One bill that did not pass would have created a new state group to determine what nurses legally could do under physicians' standing orders. Dr. Ramirez said the bill had good intentions, but would have created more problems than it could have solved. He announced that TMA will be an active participant in the Board of Medical Examiners' public hearing June 8 on possible rules on standing orders. TMA also will work with an interim session Senate committee on the subject.

Drownproofing Can Prevent Water Deaths

Spring's warm, sunny days mean an increase in swimming, boating, and water skiing for many people across the state. But even good swimmers should know about drownproofing before making their first splash.

Drownproofing is not a swimming technique like the breast stroke. In fact, the object of drownproofing is to survive in water by using as little energy as possible. In tests using this method, even non-swimmers have been able to remain in water eight hours or more without assistance.

Drownproofing involves the following steps:

First, fill your lungs with air and float face-down in the water. Salt water allows you to float higher than fresh water. Let your head, arms, and whole body float freely, much like a jellyfish, until you need air.

Then slowly use your arms and legs, or one arm and one leg, to lift your head above water enough to breathe. A gentle scissor or "frogleg" kick can be helpful in pushing upward as long as it doesn't take too much energy. The motion of the waves can be helpful as well.

With your head above water, quickly exhale and catch another breath. Then slowly return to a floating position by extending your arms downward and bringing your legs together. Calmly repeat the process until help arrives.

Knowing this simple water survival method can save you from sharing the same fate as 566 Texans who drowned last year. The Texas Medical Association urges you to learn more about drownproofing before your spring water fun begins.

Little League Summer Camp Sessions Slated

Enrollment is now being accepted for the three two-week summer baseball camps at the Texas State Headquarters of Little League Baseball. Camps are open to all youth baseball groups.

This year marks the seventh summer for the camps to be held on the campus of Baylor University. Dates for this summer's camps include June 17-29, July 1-13 and July 15-27.

Youngsters attending the camp learn and play organized baseball as it should be played. The approach taken by the camp staff places emphasis on fundamentals, sportsmanship and fun.

Covered during the two-week comprehensive program are such areas as improving individual skills, exposure to other game positions, batting improvement and actual game experience as part of a camp session team.

In conjunction with the camp schedule, the Texas State Center for Little League will offer seven, one-week sessions of umpire schools.

These schools deal with the rules and regulations, rule changes, proper positioning and knotty problems as well as providing practical on the field experience.

Additional information on either the camps or umpiring schools is available from the state headquarters of Little League Baseball, 1612 S. University-Parks Drive, Waco 76706.

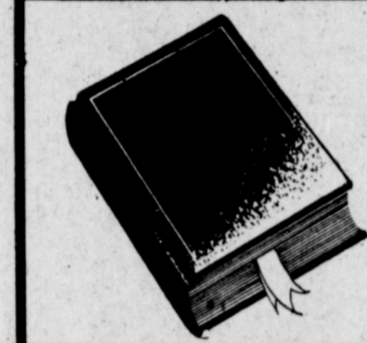

George Mallouf Funeral Rites Held Saturday

A SYMBOL OF SAFETY

When the ship is in danger, we can depend on the life-boats to take us over the seas to safety. It is comforting to glance at the life-boat when the seas are rough.

Our Armed Services are a symbol of safety when our country is in trouble, when war threatens to raise its ugly head. In the past, when war has come, our servicemen have not hesitated to give their lives to protect and defend us.

There is a special Day each year when we remember and honor our servicemen who have died in the defense of our blessed country. Let us not forget, as individuals, to honor these dead and give thanks to God for those who protect us even now. Remember them as you attend church this week.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long preserve and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,
Our community contributed $72.55 during the May drive which benefits the
Mental Health Association
in Texas. This group of citizens works to promote mental health and to prevent mental illness.

I wish to thank all those who gave their support.
Each of these people is now a part of the effort to promote mental health.
I would especially like to acknowledge the work of the Bellringer workers who collected house-to-house.
They are The Muleshoe
Rainbow Assembly #161.
Very truly yours,
Mental Health Association
