CHAUTEMPES TO TRY TO FORM NEW CABINET

PARIS, Jan. 17 (AP)—President Albert Lebrun today called upon Camille Chautemps to end France's four-day cabinet crisis when Leon Blum, socialist leader, abandoned efforts to form a "national union" government.

Radical socialist deputies said Chautemps, a radical socialist, was being charged with formation of a ministry to succeed his own cabinet, which resigned Friday in the face of financial and labor troubles.

Blum, who had been designated after he had blocked efforts by Georges Bonnet, radical socialist, to form a government, had met conservative opposition for his plan to draw support from centrist factions for the people's front lineup of socialists, communists and radical socialists.

REED HEARING WILL BE HELD ON THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—A Senate Judiciary Committee subcommittee today called a hearing for Thursday on the nomination of Stanley F. Reed to the Supreme Court.

The subcommittee was formally set up by the full Judiciary committee to consider the nomination. Headed by Senator Logan (D-KY), it also included:

YOUTHS HELD IN ROBBERIES

SAN MARCOS, Jan. 17 (AP)—County Attorney Henry C. Kyle today said burglary and theft charges would be filed against two Alabama schoolgirls and a Kentucky youth in connection with an attempted store robbery thwarted by a nightwatchman.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, sources here said, were expected to investigate activities of the trio relating to possible transportation of stolen cars across state lines.

Sheriff M. M. Wren held two cars, one of which he said was stolen at Jennings, La., and the other at Owensboro, Ky.

No trace was found of two other youths who escaped when the watchman apprehended their three companions.

Kyle sought to find out if the "left Decatur, Ala., last Wednesday with the three Kentucky boys."

Officers had a report the escaped pair caught a ride on a truck to Austin.

Nightwatchman H. A. Fisher said he made the arrests as loot from the store was being loaded into autos.

One was $1,277,000 to reopen the torpedo manufacturing plant at Alexandria, Va., to supplement the output of the torpedo plant at Newport, R. I.

'No Turning Back,' Says Fasting Dean

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 17 (AP)—Dean Israel H. Noe, shown below, said with conviction today there would be no "turning back" in his search for spiritual perfection and immortality.

The dean revealed for the first time that before last year when he lived on oranges alone, he lived throughout 1936 on oranges and raw cashew nuts.

"The test is, will I be afraid," he said. "Will I be afraid and turn back? No, I know that I won't. I've been through all of this. I worked it out potentially, now I have to experience it. I know I can do it."

GATLIN-WILD CASE CALLED

The case of Mrs. Mattie Gatlin vs. W. B. Wild et al was the first to be called this morning, as the third week of the January term opened in district court.

Works and Bassett represent the plaintiff, Underwood, Johnson, Doolley and Huff, the defendant. Both firms are of Amarillo. Damages in the case of action. The case was originally filed August 13, 1936.

The case of E. Miller vs. J. B. Bounds et al has been scheduled to follow the Gatlin-Wild case.

Local attorneys present in court this morning were Newton P. Willis, John F. Sturgeon, John F. Studer, John V. Osborne, Clifford Braly and Ennis Favors.

Out-of-town attorneys present included Joe Doolley and R. A. Wilson of Amarillo.

SURVEY BEING MADE AT SITE ON McCLELLAN

Following the announcement yesterday that definite commitments had been made by Washington officials for a $300,000 project at the Beaver Dam site on McClellan Creek, came word today that engineers of the land use division of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics already are on the ground making surveys for the Farm Security Administration which will supervise the project.

County Judge Sherman White, C. H. Walker, chairman of the Gray county lake committee, and Garnet Reeves, secretary of the Board of City Development, spent last week in Washington conferring with various government agencies on the proposal and gained definite approval of the project at a conference there last Friday.

When the surveys are completed they will go into Washington for WPA approval and the signature of the President, after which actual construction work of the dam can go ahead.

General approbation for the accomplishments of the Pampa men in Washington last week was heard from many sources today.

FIRE IN CAVE IGNITES GRASS

Pampa firemen made runs yesterday evening about 6:30 o'clock and this morning at 1:45 o'clock with no damage resulting of either alarm.

Yesterday's run was to 301 Sunset drive where a fire in a small cave spread to dry grass and threatened a building. The fire had been lit by boys playing.

This morning's call was to 408 Crest street where a gas connection had been pulled loose and fire followed. The blaze had been extinguished when the truck arrived.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 17 (AP)—John M. Horan, who claims to be the oldest active railroad employee in the United States, worked as usual today, little concerned over his approaching 100th birthday.

It was 83 years ago that the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad company offered Horan his first job, the task of keeping wood-burning locomotives supplied with fuel.

Today Horan, who for years has spurred a pension to remain active inspector of the boiler washing department in the Milwaukee shops.

Negro Leader

Narrowly escaping a lynching party of which he was the intended victim, and having twice been the target of bullets, have made inconspicuous Walter White impervious to verbal attacks like the recent charge of Senator Byrnes, of South Carolina, who said that the persistent and ubiquitous Negro lobbyist was "ordering" Congress to pass the anti-lynching bill.

Small, inconspicuous, White has for 20 years been the mainstay for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, although he can easily pass for white, as few persons suspect the light-skinned man is a Negro.

Fighting lynching has been a 20-year job for White, son of an Atlantic City, N. J., mail-carrier. He wrote a book analyzing motives behind the mob violence, while in college, and has personally investigated 41 lynchings and eight race riots.

He is convinced that racial feeling is dwindling. Growing support of anti-lynching legislation in the south itself, he asserts, substantiates this belief.

EAGLE CLUB BURGLARIZED

City police officers are investigating the burglary of the Eagle club, 305 South Cuyler street, owned and operated by William J. Bass.

The burglary was reported this morning when an attendant opened the place and found the side door had been smashed in. Thirteen case balls valued at about $33 and $30 in cash were taken.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—The United States' new warship building program, tentative statistics showed today, will provide work in the next fiscal year for 77,000 men.

This estimate was made by navy officials on the basis of recommendations in President Roosevelt's 1938 budget message. Requests for supplementary construction are expected in his national defense message, which may be sent to Congress in a few days.

The 1938 budget asked for an expenditure of $124,000,000 for new construction. Of this sum, $122,500,000 may be considered in estimating the employment to be provided.

INVADERS SET BACK REPORTS GENERALISSIMO

SHANGHAI, Jan. 17 (AP)—Chinese armies on the Northern, Central and Yangtze valley fronts were reported today to have pushed back Japanese invaders in a series of counter attacks.

Advices through Chinese channels said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek in a second visit to front lines had ordered his troops "not to retreat a single inch."

Chinese reported that: 1. The Chinese eighth army, organized from once-outlawed communist units, inflicted heavy losses on Japanese in Central Shaqui province.

2. A Chinese force along the Yangtze river above Nanking pushed back Japanese outposts, occupied two villages near Wuhu and prepared for an attempt to recapture Wuhu itself.

3. A Chinese guerrilla unit captured Chwansha, on the Pootung peninsula opposite Shanghai, bringing a Japanese declaration of martial law in Pootung.

4. Outer Mongolian troops advanced against Paochow in the northern province of Suiyuan.

Dr. H. H. Kung, China's second most powerful leader, declared China "can continue the war for years," and said "all recent talk of Chinese-Japanese peace, which apparently is inspired by Tokyo and Berlin, is utterly baseless."

The United States cruiser Marblehead stood by at the North China port of Chefoo, in Shandong province, to protect lives and property of 85 American adults and 27 children.

DEMO LUNCHEON BOARD WILL MEET THURSDAY

Members of the recently appointed Democratic Luncheon Club executive board will hold an organizational meeting in the City Hall at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. It was announced today by John W. Crout, Pampa member of the state executive board.

Mr. Crout stated that officers will be elected and plans will be formulated for the organization's activities.

Board members urged to attend Thursday night's meeting which will be held in the office of City Manager C. L. Stine are: Judge Sherman White, Mayor W. A. Bratton, James E. Lyons, Charles Tuck, C. H. Walker, Dr. R. A. Webb, John P. Sturgeon, Judge W. R. Ewing, B. S. Via, Newton P. Willis, C. E. Carr and Ted DeWeese.

"This will be a very important meeting," Mr. Crout said today, "and it is essential that we have a full attendance of the board members."

NEGRO HI-JACKER ASKS FOR AND GETS 6 BUCKS

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 17 (AP)—The negro who held up a drug store last night knew what he wanted—and got it.

"This is a holdup," he said, pointing a pistol at Gordon Hunt, a clerk.

"Well, what do you want?" asked Hunt.

"Six dollars," said the robber. Hunt pulled a $1 and $5 bill from a roll of currency in the cash register. The negro grabbed them and ran.

PROFESSOR RUNS ON PROHIBITION TICKET

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 17 (AP)—A college professor, mapping a unique campaign with no stump speeches or solicitation of funds, was in the field today as the first announced candidate for governor of Arkansas at the August Democratic primary.

Dr. Walter Scott McNutt, a professor at Arkansas college, Batesville, and formerly connected with the staff of Henderson State Teachers college, said that if elected he would seek the enactment of legislation to bring prohibition to the state again.

Drunk Driving Bond Set At $1,500 Here

Bond of L. E. Casada, charged with drunken driving, was set at $1,500, in a hearing before Justice of the Peace E. F. Young Sunday morning. Casada made bond, and was released yesterday from county jail.

Casada was arrested by county officers Saturday night, following an automobile accident on the Pampa-LeFors road near the driveway to the Y tavern, when the automobile in which he and another man was riding was in collision with an automobile in which was riding Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hines.

Mrs. Hines and Mrs. Cook were given emergency treatment at Wesley hospital and taken to their homes Saturday night.

Dead Week Taboo's Gaiety

Students of Pampa High school are observing for the first time the well-known, traditional dead week.
Dead week was first started in colleges where the students took no part in any social occasion during the week of exams.
Since the examinations in Pampa High school are from January 18 to January 20, dead week will be from Monday, January 17, to Thursday afternoon, January 20. During this time there will be no parties, picnics, or dances for the P. H. S. students!

Are You a Sheep?

Quote students. "Kid, are you going to take this subject, if you do I will." Quotes another student, "Hey, did you know that cute little blonde is taking journalism. I think I shall take it too."
Students should have quoted, "I studied the chart on courses and the paper describing the subjects and all they teach before I put my finger on them."
When selecting your subject for next semester, stop, read and listen—think what subjects you lack, read information concerning subjects, listen to teachers describe subjects. A good selection will result in a good education.

Everybody Sing!

"Let's all sing like the birds sing so well," sing the wayward "Music soothes the savage beast and it helps 'coffee nerves' too. If you want to be happy, sing!"
Seriously, the girls and boys' glee clubs build a foundation for the appreciation of finer music that can never be fully appreciated until much later in life. It's easier to forget "two times two equal four" than some beautiful strain of music and everyone will agree that music is more lasting in its effects than chemistry or geometry which are required.
Many beautiful songs are learned each year in the music groups which linger in one's mind all through life. Harmony and rhythm are also taught in music classes.
Join the music groups and learn how to sing and to appreciate finer music!

Is It Possible?

The last bell has rung. The teachers begin calling the roll, but where is everyone? Here they come 1, 2, 4, 6 and maybe more. What's the reason to be late? Just another of Pampa High school's inconvenience of crowded halls.
Those who get to their lockers first and have a top locker do very well. But, oh! those who have bottom lockers. They are stepped on or knocked over; however these students are not the only ones to be pitted. How about the students at the end of the line? With the many students at their lockers in the narrow halls, it is hardly possible for a single file of students to get down the halls. Then with only three or four minutes to get to class—is it possible for 750 students to get to class on time?

Student Opinion

This year the sophomores are looked upon by the faculty as being a class of leadership. They are expected to be at the head of everything, but are they living up to their name? The seniors have had countless numbers of meetings, a picnic and a theater party. The juniors have also had countless numbers of meetings and a theater party. The sophomores have had exactly one meeting and that was at the beginning of school. It was held in order that they might elect their officers. Why can't something be done in order that the sophomores might have at least another meeting before school is out?
A. L.

Teachers feel that students should spend at least an hour every night on the subject that they teach. After spending four hours of studying, examining—how much time is left for anything else? Maybe two hours, until it is then too late to attend anything and that soon gets very tiresome. After all students can't spend every night studying. They have to get something out of life besides an education.
I. G.

There are too many high school

Big Events To Be Scheduled For New Term

Contestants Limber Up as Spring Nears

Second semester is practically here and with it comes the inter-scholastic League contests! Blue ribbons and gold medals beset to each and everyone and that old motto, "Be prepared," and another "Practice makes perfect," reverberate in one's ears. The election of the favorites: most beautiful girl, most popular girl, most popular boy and best all-round boy approaches. National Honor Society members will be chosen soon and the race for the valedictory is getting hotter. New sweaters will be ordered. The activities are really getting under way.

The basketball season will be finished soon only to taper into spring football training. Track boys are getting limbered up for active work and the golf and tennis teams are soon going to be hard at work. Girls' volleyball and tennis teams are inspired with new pep by the advent of their physical education teacher, Miss Eugenia Johnston. Harry Kelly's tumbling team is to begin practice in a few weeks.

The new glee clubs and the A Cappella choir are caroling with vim, vigor and vitality and the band has still "got rhythm." The orchestra is getting hotter. P. P. A. boys are preparing for the spring contests and the home economics girls are working hard to go to the home-maker's convention this year.

Essays, spellers and extemporaneous speakers are still their rusty screws by practice as they prepare for the Interscholastic League contests. Typing and shorthand teams will shortly be chosen. Debaters are orating and the Little Harvester is getting ready to show them at state like it did at Denison. The Latin students are writing essays and the junior and senior plays are to be put on for the benefit of their respective classes very soon. One-act play cast will be chosen as soon as possible and the declaimers are preparing to steal Patrick Henry's trick: Senior Carlsbad trip, Junior-Senior banquet, the annual and the new superintendent.

Children Model Class-Made Clothes

Twenty-one pre-school children were present for the modeling of the garments made for them by Miss Arlene Pattison's Home Ec classes Thursday.
A list of the things which have been accomplished by the 119 students of Miss Pattison's five classes include: 54 wool and silk dresses, 57 children's garments, 12 skirts and blouses, 98 cotton print dresses, 16 slips, 20 pairs of pajamas, 25 house coats, 53 house aprons, six gowns, three bathrobes and one tailored suit. Six people took the care and repair of their wardrobes as home projects. A total of 340 garments were made.

Sophomores Lose To Amarillo Team

Sophomores last Wednesday lost a hard fought basketball game to Central Junior High of Amarillo 21-28. The Amarilloans, having an advantage in height, made it very hard for the Pampans to score. Feltner played an outstanding game, making 13 of the points.
The lineup for Pampa was: Mitchell, Clemmons, Feltner, Terrell and Stennis. The substitutes were Kansas and Cox.

According to an American scientist, you can consume 43 cups of tea a day without risk of injury, if you are of average weight.

North America, with one-twelfth of the world's people, uses about one-half of all the timber consumed in the world.

Students who use the office telephone, says Mrs. Roberts, A solution to the problem would be a phone booth exclusively for the students. Sometimes it depends on a call for students to contact a job or appointment. With the only student phone in a place where all of the noise of the school congregates, it is hard to use it between classes.
It would be a boon and needed gift if the senior class would equip the school with a sound-proof telephone booth as their parting tribute to the school.

Satin Suits May Be Worn By Harvesters Next Year

Harvester football players are going to be "decked out" in flashy suits next year. Tom Herod says that the Harvesters may have white satin suits for next year. If they are not white, they will be some other attractive color. A "make-up" suit will probably be tried on J. W. Graham in order to definitely decide what is wanted.
Besides these suits, the usual stock of shoulder pads, new shoes, blocking pads and further practice equipment will be purchased.
Mr. Herod also gives one a general idea of what the expense of the football team might be for a year in the following statements. First, the expense of the equipment runs

Annual Sales Expected To Soar Before February

"In order that they might work and decide on some of their problems, the annual staff has been holding and is holding a meeting regularly," says Mrs. Hol Wagner, annual sponsor. A dummy of over half the annual of '38 is completed, and the arrangements of pictures of all kinds decided upon.
One of their hardest problems at the last meeting was the choosing of the person to receive the honor of having the annual dedicated to him. The person receiving it is to be the staff's point of view more than worthy of this honor.

The selling campaign is progressing faster than ever before. All the people who are planning to buy an annual were informed last week by their dollar deposit wasn't paid by February 5, they would not have another chance and that the money, if less than a dollar, earned by selling tickets would no longer count. The number of annuals which have had a deposit made on them, will be sent to the printers and no other annuals will be printed. The deadline of full payment is April 1. After the first semester a chart showing the schedule of the taking of activity pictures will be placed on the bulletin board. A few pictures of inactive or unorganized clubs have been taken in the previous years because they were a club. This year a rule saying, "That no club except those that are organized will be allowed to have its picture taken," was made by L. L. Sone, principal, and Mrs. Wagner to prevent this.

Library Receives Valuable Books

Many valuable gifts of books and magazines have been received by the Senior High school library during the past year.
Some of the large public libraries have organizations called "Friends of the Library," the members of which aid the library by their personal influence and also financial support. Naturally the high school, like most other schools, has no such organization; however, various friends have made contributions. Mrs. R. B. Fisher, C. T. Hunkapillar, Carl H. Lutten, a student in the adult school, have given magazines. Life magazine, which is being given to the library by Mrs. Hol Wagner, has proved so popular that the library plans to subscribe to it next fall.

Sam Houston Trims Sophomores

Sam Houston Junior High of Amarillo led the Pampa Sophomores at the end of a tough battle last Friday 32-19 in Pampa. Both teams played a good game but Sam Houston, being higher and more experienced, made it tough for the little Sophomores to score. Feltner, for Pampa, was high point man with 9 points. McEntire led the Amarilloans with 12 points.
Both lineups are as follows:
Pampa: Mitchell and Stennis, forwards; Feltner, center; Terrell and Cox, guards.
Amarillo: McEntire and Baker, forwards; Abbott, center; Harlow and King, guards.

Preparatory Class In Journalism Begun

Among the new courses starting the second semester, Eugene Mann has organized a preparatory journalism class which will meet fifteen periods. The first half of the course will be given the last semester this year and must be completed the first semester next year in order to receive credit for this course.
This particular class will be open to sophomores, juniors and non-graduating seniors; however graduating seniors may take it for information but will not receive credit for the course.
The purpose of this course is to have the students now enrolled in it prepared to publish the "Little Harvester" next fall.

Saunders and Hicks Homes Inspected by Economics Classes

Mrs. Guy Saunders and Dr. and Mrs. Hicks' homes were visited by the Economics classes last Tuesday.
These home-economics girls have been studying about kitchens and their arrangements. They are also interested in the different finishes for floors and wood work.
On visiting Mrs. Hicks' new home, they were especially interested to find that she had it ar-

Notice!
Principal L. L. Sone requests all students not taking exams remain at home and not loiter around in the halls or disturb the teachers. Students must remain the full hour and a half in their rooms even though they finish their exams early.

All Students to Start Spelling

All students of Senior High school will begin spelling two or three weeks after the beginning of the second semester, according to Miss Lorraine Bruce, who is in charge of this department.
The spelling will start first in the home rooms as it did last year. The same procedure used last year, spelling one line each day from the State Interscholastic League spelling list. After the spelling gets well under way by home rooms, Miss Bruce will call for students who are interested in making a further study of spelling.

"About six students will be chosen from this group by the process of elimination," says Miss Bruce. These students' schedules will be arranged so that they may work together during Miss Bruce's off period. They will represent the Senior High school in spelling in the Interscholastic League contest.

11 Games Left For Harvesters

From now until the end of the season the Harvesters have 11 more games in the Big Five League; although, between main games, they will be matched with smaller schools in this district.
According to Coach Odus Mitchell, the local hoopsters will have four more games out of town. On February 9-10, they will play Plainview at Plainview; and February 11-12 they will go on to Lubbock and play two games there.

Local basketball fans are familiar with the Plainview Bulldog roster as they have played the Harvesters already this season. In most of the Western games this year Allen, Johnson, Venable, Ford, Cawthon, Jackson, Nash, Winters, Moxley and Ware have played, and occasionally Foster, Cooksey, Seward, Upton, Day and Pytel see action. The Westerners won their first two games of the season with an average of 16½ points margin.

Many valuable gifts of books and magazines have been received by the Senior High school library during the past year.
Some of the large public libraries have organizations called "Friends of the Library," the members of which aid the library by their personal influence and also financial support. ### Harvesters Again Halt Golden Tide As Amarillo Falls

Amarillo Sandies lost to the Harvester A team 18-35, but beat the local B team 20-26, last Tuesday evening. In the second and main game the Sandie first string slacked at the beginning of the second half, so the Amarillo coach sent in one of his fresher second strings. Directly before the second half Warner of the opposition had a leg injury and was out of the rest of the game. 22-8 was the main score at the beginning of the second half, the last quarter Jack Cunningham was substituted for Norman Cox and Foster went in for Dunaway. (Norman has been away from town and has not had a chance to practice with the team for the last few days; he made three field goals.)
Starting lineups were: Sandies; Moore and Rice, forwards; Winfred, center; Kelley and Martin, guards. Harvesters: Andis and Heiskell, forwards; Cox center; Reynolds and Dunaway, guards.
J. W. Ley of Oklahoma A. and M. was referee of the main game and Albert Ayers was official of the first.

Poultry Judges to Compete in Contest

White Deer chapter of P. F. A. has announced a poultry judging contest, January 29. The Pampa High school poultry team consisting of Junior McKay, Noland Cole, C. W. Smith, Norman Grossman and Harold Wisely will compete in this contest, states J. L. Lester, head of the Pampa department of Pampa High school.
This contest will include three classes and three breeds of males, two classes and three breeds of females, and four classes of eggs and three classes of cockerels.
There will be 50 questions in the standard perfection. This information concerning the contest was sent to Mr. Lester by Wallace Hiesel, secretary of the White Deer P. F. A.

More Boys Wanted For Judging Class

Ten boys are in A. E. Frazier's dairy judging class for next semester. Most of these boys are inexperienced, but there are a few who are not. Mr. Frazier asks for more boys who are taking agriculture, either first, second or third year to report. J. L. Lester is instructing the poultry judging team and has several boys from last year back. Mr. Lester also wants more boys.

Biology Pupils to Study Dissecting Art

"Biology classes will begin the second semester by studying the dissecting of some animals," stated Miss Alice Short. In her estimation the majority of the students taking biology are looking forward to this event. "Each student will have a new set of equipment to work with," she said.

Janitors of public schools have recently had their work outlined by a bulletin issued by R. B. Fisher. This bulletin gives a list of tools the janitors should have, and the duties he should perform, daily and weekly. Some of the tools he should have are: hammer, nails and saw. A few of the duties he should perform are: Should care for trees, grass and flowers. He should dust the furniture daily and should be in the building while it is being used for entertainments which sometimes keep the janitors very late.

Superintendent R. B. Fisher To Take Over New Post At Corpus Christi

R. B. FISHER

Boys, Yell Your Best, Teacher Wants A Tenor

Miss Helen Martin is not the only teacher who is having difficulty in finding members for the A Cappella choir. Not long ago Professor Paul M. Riley, head of the department of fine arts at Texas A. and M. college and director of the college A Cappella choir and male chorus, fretted for a week because he could not find a suitable first soprano. But that's all fixed now.
He was walking dejectedly up the walk towards the main building when Betty MacFarnworth, from Donna, began yelling lustily to her room mate a half block away.
A few minutes later she was running the scales in Mr. Riley's studio and telling him she had never sung a note in her life.
Now she sings first soprano in the choir—all because she wanted her room mate to bring her a package of gum.
Miss Martin hopes to be able to find three members in some such manner; however she is wanting first tenors instead of sopranos.
The girls' glee club has enough members, but it can take more. The boys' glee club is in need of more singers. Many of the members of the A Cappella choir are seniors and will graduate this year. "We will need trained voices to take their place in the advanced chorus next year," stated Miss Martin. "The Glee clubs train voices for this choir."
In a manner of mid-term exams for the choir the members were divided alphabetically into quartets. The quartets will sing songs of their own selection.
The choir broadcasted over K. P. D. N. Friday afternoon at 3:30.

Harvesters Divide Plainview Games

The Harvesters' winning and losing lists were both increased and decreased when they met the heavy Plainview Bulldogs in the high school gymnasium here last Friday and Saturday nights at seventy-three and eight o'clock respectively. Friday night the Harvesters trimmed the Bulldogs with a 26-22 victory but Saturday night the Bulldogs did some biting to the tune of a 32 to 31 victory.
Friday night C. Heiskell topped the scoring list for the Harvesters and Lovvorn for the Bulldogs. Saturday night Heiskell in scoring for the Harvesters. Again Lovvorn led the scoring for the Bulldogs.
The starting lineups were: Bulldogs; Miller and Lovvorn, forwards; Hutson and Wylie, guards, Sigmon, center. Harvesters: C. Heiskell and Andis, forwards, Dunaway and Reynolds, guards, Cox center. The Bulldog lineup for Saturday remained the same as that for Friday. Andis was unable to play for the Harvesters Saturday as he was in the hospital with blood poisoning, Cunningham substituted for him.
Dunaway and Cox were put out on personal fouls Saturday night. Sigmon, Hutson and Lovvorn of Plainview also left the court on personals.
Substitutes were: Bulldogs; Esslinger, Cook, Brown, Graham, McLean. Harvesters: Cunningham, Foster, Miller, Harrel, G. Heiskell.
After the game Coach Mitchell made this statement exclusively to the Little Harvester Reporter. "There were too many mistakes made Saturday night. Andis's absence hurt us seriously."
During the Friday night game Foster Fletcher's studio took flash pictures of the high spots of the game.

150 Men Attend Pampa High's Petroleum School

The well-known statement, "I wish I were out of school" is being opposed by the male adults of Pampa. Every school night, some of the 150 men under the supervision of E. C. Pennington, coordinator of diversified occupations, come tramping to school to receive training in various fields of the petroleum industry. Pampa High school supports this program and the teachers are tradesmen in the petroleum industry with at least a high school education.
The men come to school two hours each night for two nights a week. All the men do not attend school the same night.

Came to Pampa Over 10 Years Ago

Superintendent R. B. Fisher is to take over his new post as superintendent of schools in Corpus Christi February 1. All of Pampa feels the loss of this man who has so ably guided the schools of Pampa.
Mr. Fisher arrived in Pampa in August of the year 1927, ten years ago. During his stay here he has made friends and has brought about improvements in the school system of Pampa that will not soon be forgotten.

At the beginning of Mr. Fisher's first year in Pampa there were only 40 teachers in the whole system; there are now 125. There were only 1200 students and there are now 3500. The two large wings had not been added to the high school building; Woodrow Wilson and Sam Houston had not been built and E. M. Baker and Horace Mann were being built. High school athletes were playing basketball on the courthouse grounds and football on the old airport grounds.
During his first two years in Pampa Mr. Fisher held the office of principal of the high school; he also taught classes and did his own secretarial work. This reporter, long ago decided that there is nothing he cannot do. Incidentally, Mr. Fisher had a great deal to do with the beautiful high school auditorium dedicated last year—remember?

Curriculum Revised
During Mr. Fisher's supervision of the Pampa schools the entire curriculum has several times been completely revised. Just last year the new 12-year grade system was installed. Berger, El Paso and Amarillo (Mr. Fisher said that Amarillo gave Pampa credit for having it first, too—surprise—surprise) have since adopted this system and Mr. Fisher states that he wouldn't be surprised to see Corpus Christi start it next year because that school board favors it. A man that looks toward the future has nothing to worry about—says this bright young reporter. Only one outstanding thing Mr. Fisher has always considered in planning the curriculum of the Pampa schools is better methods with which to improve students' personalities—perhaps that explains why all P. H. S. students are so bright.

Questions were thrown at Mr. Fisher like bait to a fish in between telephone calls concerning the weather, his house, applications for his old position, congratulations and everything in general. Aside from answering very modestly, he has managed to dictate two very dignified letters and at the same time answer this reporter's questions—a very busy man!
When asked his outstanding accomplishments while serving as superintendent of Pampa schools, Mr. Fisher very modestly evaded the issue by giving the following statement: "Whatever has been accomplished in this school has been due to the fine type of citizenship we have in this community—an excellent school board and a cooperative faculty. The fact that people in this community have respected the progressive educational advice by those who have studied the problem is the key to successful schools in this community."
Builds Music Dept.
Mr. Fisher's promotion of music in all schools of Pampa has been noticeable. High school Principal L. L. Sone gives a statement concerning this: "Mr. Fisher has welded together the efforts of the entire faculty and has gained loyal support from every individual. His motto has always been 'Be happy in your work.' One among many outstanding things that he has done is that of promoting music in the system through the bands and glee clubs. He has pioneered the field of band work in the elementary schools." Mr. Fisher is a songbird of note, himself.

School Board Praises
C. T. Hunkapillar, president of the school board, states: "Mr. Fisher has worked us out a cooperative organization and developed a school system of which the board and the patrons of the school district are very proud."
Mr. Fisher also inaugurated physical education, art and socialized recitations into the Pampa school system. Like a stream we could run on forever, but there is a limit to space, even on Mr. Fisher. Pampa High school does wish to tell Corpus Christi that they have hooked a pretty big catch and to wish Mr. Fisher all the luck in the world.
As the superintendent of schools at Corpus Christi, a town of over 50,000, Mr. Fisher will supervise one senior high school, two junior high schools and 11 ward schools. There are over 10,000 scholars in the district including a number of Negroes and Mexicans.
P. S. Mr. Fisher says that if the Harvesters play Corpus Christi next year, he wants them to play harder than they have ever played before—that's your cue, coach. Mr. Fisher also invites all the students to come down to the beach. We say "You come see us, and bring your beach with you."

Fifth and sixth hour Latin classes will be combined the next semester. This will make one Latin class of about 30 students. "The reason for this change," D. F. Osborne states, "is to provide an off period for the foreign language teacher. Every teacher is supposed to have an off period."

TODAY'S SERMONETTE

And what a wonderful peace is promised to the earth when Christ shall reign in all hearts, when war shall cease and evil shall be banished. It is the period for which all Christians should pray and strive: "They shall not hurt nor destroy in my holy mountain; for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

THEY GOT THE JOB DONE

The three Pampans who fought for the Gray county lake in Washington all last week came back home Saturday night with everything they went after.

Postmaster C. H. Walker, County Judge Sherman White, and Garnet Reeves, Board of City Development manager, did a splendid job of getting definite commitments for a $300,000 recreation lake out at the Beaver Dam site on McClellan Creek.

Among the most pleased over their efforts was Try E. Duncan, father of the Gray county lake idea, who honestly believed when the Gray county project was moved out of the Farm Security set-up that the project was lost forever.

And, no doubt, that would have been true had not the Pampa trio gone to Washington and fought for what had been promised to Gray county. Now, the project is back under its original plan and ready to go.

The three Pampans were loud in their praise today for Carl Hinton, Amarillo Chamber of Commerce manager, who "went to bat" for them in the Washington conferences. Mr. Hinton was in Washington at the same time representing the interests of the Panhandle water conservationists and is still there pushing plans on the lakes and ponds projects for other counties.

The Gray county delegation also emphasized the assistance received from Congressman Marvin Jones on the lake program.

The important thing, now, is that preliminary surveys and work on the dam and 800-acre lake are expected to get under way very shortly and that completion of the project should be realized before the coming summer is over.

That is mighty fine news, and there is no question in the minds of anyone familiar with the facts that the only thing that made it possible was the splendid work done by the three Pampans in Washington last week.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life ...

By R. C. Hoiles

THE ABOVE IS THE GHOST OF A CALF

What we lose when we kill a cow is our chance of an increase in the herd at calving time. This increase in the herd explains the nature and source of profit.

We also lost our daily milking—food in form other than meat.

We might call the milk the "interest" on our capital.

Of course, there is no assurance that our cow won't get sick and die. She may be stolen by some good-for-nothing rustler.

That's the chance we take when we choose to save and invest our dollars rather than spend them. But some people prefer the risk. THAT'S WHY THE HERDS CONTINUE

That's why they increase at calving time.

But for the first time in our history for the past eight years capital has been decreasing.

(To Be Continued)

Tex's Topics

Jarrell Rhea, the 130-pound theatrical promoter, bites off a pretty good chunk when he says he'll ride 50 miles a day on his trip from Oklahoma City to Pampa, doubling for a pony express of old. . . Frank Allison, the restaurateur, thinks he won't be able to do it. . . John Mobley, the garageman, says he'll have to be plenty good as a cow-hand to make 35 miles a day. . . Rhea says phooey to both of them. . . What do you think?

Personally, I rode two miles on the top deck of a cow pony last April and wound up by having an operation on my saddle extremities the following October as a result of acting smart. . . That should be a lesson to the daring young man in the flying box-office. . . But he's full of youthful vim and vigor and the stuff that pioneers are made of, so it appears that he'll just have to learn for himself and wind up in a ditch by the side of the road and be a friend to man and beast.

Well, it looks like the Pampans who went down to Washington on the lake business got the job done all right. . . That's what I said in the first place (I told you so) . . . If you want something bad enough, you can get it if you go after it "bad" enough. . . I'm still saying that if Hub Walker, Garnet Reeves and Sherman White hadn't gone to Washington, Gray county wouldn't have got enough lake out there on McClellan Creek to swim a goldfish in. . . Just let somebody know that you mean business and they generally come to the conclusion that they had better do something about it.

Nazi army officials have instituted a campaign of "silence training" to prevent soldiers from giving away military secrets. Presumably they hope other nations will NOT follow suit. . . Why worry about the future of China? With Chinese armies destroying everything as they retreat, and Japanese troops finishing the job as they advance, there soon will be no China left to worry about. . . The British colonial secretary facetiously suggests perhaps Britain should offer Ireland to Italy for colonization. Well, that would be one way of taking it Duce down a peg—if he tried it. . . Tap dancer Eleanor Whitney is not going to be very popular among the dieting sisterhood in Hollywood. A studio physician ordered her to eat five meals a day, including plenty of milk and eggs.

Washington Letter

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 — The yen of the American people for peace dies hard, and probably will continue to plague Roosevelt and Secretary Hull.

That is the most significant aspect of the House vote against consideration of the Ludlow amendment for a popular referendum on war, in which 188 congressmen—pushed on by popular pressure—voted for consideration of the measure, as against 209 members who voted to kill it. The 209 were backed by an extraordinary degree of official and other pressure.

In future dealing with Japan, Germany, and Italy—especially Japan—Roosevelt and Hull want to be in a position to be just as hard-boiled as they think the situation requires.

Hull is fond of saying that down in his Tennessee country if a couple of men meet in the woods and have an argument and one man has left his gun 60 paces back and the other only 15 paces, there's no question of who wins the argument.

There is also a strong group, represented in the administration as well as in Congress, which seeks a check on executive discretion in foreign affairs, distrusts Roosevelt's fondness for taking chances and making spectacular gestures, and deplores official reversion to the "national honor" school of thought. This group draws much of its strength from the middle west.

Strong peace sentiment everywhere has caused Roosevelt and Hull to pull their international punches ever since the Chicago "quarantine" speech. And although defeat of the Ludlow amendment removes a threat to put them in a straitjacket, crystal gazers are analyzing the pro-Ludlow vote in the light of the fact that it was cast under as intense "heat" as the administration ever has applied. They deduce that there will be a solid backlog of opposition to official warlike gestures.

Roosevelt, Hull, Speaker Bankhead, Majority Leader Sam Rayburn and lesser leaders went their full limits to kill the amendment.

Lobbyists for the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars although without mandate from their memberships and perhaps primarily concerned with keeping their standards with the War Department, threw all their famous strength against it.

The great bulk of newspapers denounced the proposal. Members of the House were dragged out of hospitals in wheel chairs to vote with the administration.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Pampa's percentage of telephones installed during the year of 1927 was greater than that of any other city in this division, which included Fort Worth, and other large cities.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Bids were being received by the city commission and were to be opened January 23 on materials for the construction of a municipal swimming pool.

Papers of particular interest to oil men were read at the regular monthly session of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute.

'Why Mother Gets Gray'

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Sometimes there's a big heartbreak in the way people inadvertently work at NOT being a success.

Take the case of Dorothy Fox, that lissom lady of the dance, whose satiric solos cause the bleary-eyed to pause in muddling their old-fashioned, while the intelligent and uninebrated murrmer little "ohs" and "ahs" of admiration.

Not so many years ago, Dorothy was a St. Louis debutante who went off to Paris to acquire a higher musical education. There's no heartbreak in that, of course, and there wasn't any when she decided to sidetrack her ambition to compose modern rondolets for swirling on the hardwood.

She worked hard, came to New York and teamed with a charming young fellow named Charles "Chuck" Walters. Chuck's ability, too, was more than considerable and it wasn't long before the couple had an imposing array of favorable notices. It looked like top flight for a new dance team.

Then came one of those backstage twists that the movie critics call "old stuff." Walters got an offer of a fat contract in a Broadway show to dance with one of the cast stars. Dorothy Fox graciously bowed out.

Dorothy could write a volume about her next year. Capable male dancing partners are as scarce as stage-door Johnnies at the alley entrance of a neighborhood movie.

But through it all, an old habit of Dorothy's had been getting stronger and stronger. As some people go to movies, read books, collect stamps or take to drink for relaxation and relief from worries, Dorothy Fox took busman's holidays: she danced!

It wasn't, however, like any dancing you ever saw. Dorothy just put a record of her phonograph, kicked her furniture back in the corners and let the mood take care of itself. Sometimes, she pretended she was a chorus girl going through a day's routine of job-hunting; sometimes that she was on a world cruise and satirizing the peoples of every country she visited—anything that suited her mood.

The payoff came when she got an unexpected call for a solo audition one day, decided to take a try at it and having no routine ready, swayed and gilded and whirled through an extemporaneous dance—and got the job!

Two weeks later, an alert scout for John Roy, the Rainbow rooms' genial impresario, caught her act in a Brooklyn theater and the rest is written in the night club records and the figures on Dorothy Fox's pay check.

The chili man is at large again these blustery, sleety nights. He has a wobbly-wheeled wagon and he sells bowls of hot chili with mugs of scalding, blistering broth which can be described only as a cross-between red pepper, wine and tabasco sauce. And how warming!

GHOST STORY!

CHICAGO—Mrs. Johannah Lauferki and her two daughters, Ruth and Dorene, spent an hour and a half trying to convince someone they were locked in a graveyard.

The mother and daughters had gone to the cemetery to visit the grave of a relative and the gates were locked at dusk, unknown to them.

Several motorists who heard their shouts for help or saw them only put on more speed. Eventually one stopped and called the cemetery keeper.

People You Know

By ARCHER PULLINGM

This one cornered Uncle Jim Williams this morning. "Tell us about that Sunday morning back in May, 1886, when you drove 44 miles by one o'clock."

Mr. Williams removed his Stetson and rumbled his white hair with a steady hand, and his calm eyes flashed as he remembered that experience of the old days on the plains. In that month and that year, nearly 52 years ago, Mr. Williams came up from "down in Texas" looking for a job on the Diamond

Fe. He went to the camp at old Number One lake, two miles west of the town of White Deer. It was Sunday when he arrived. The wagon boss hired him, his time to begin on the first, so Williams decided that he would just hang around until that time came. Harry Groom who happened to be there that morning came out to the bunkhouse and said, "I want some of you fellows to go to White Deer," meaning the headquarters which was 22 miles away.

"I'll go," said Williams, "if you'll furnish the horse." A red-faced fellow named Slick who wanted to go to the Turkey Tracks offered to go as far on his way as that ranch. Williams noticed the boys wink at each other, and knew that they were framing up on him. "They're givin' us wild ones," he said, "but we can't as wild as they are."

"When I saw them going toward a bunch of striped-legged Arizona mules with their ears dragging the ground, I knew what they were up to but I grabbed me a blacksnake and told Slick to 'get aboard,' and lit out in a run. I left early in the morning, but I was back by one o'clock with the well repairs Groom needed. The first thing Harry said to me was, 'Your time's started right now and you can have a job as long as I have one.' It turned out that I had one a long time after he was gone."

Each Thursday afternoon there's a final rehearsal, then an hour's rest before the show goes on the air. This hour puts more distinguished film players on Hollywood Boulevard than have been seen in a group. Policemen have to accompany them to restaurants and cocktail bars near the theater.

The Wednesday night rehearsal is the most fun to watch because it's informal and goes on for hours. Players not busy on the stage gather in the first rows of orchestra seats or in the wings and talk in whispers, meanwhile trying to appear unaware of staking photographers who are sniping at them from every angle.

Film stars who came originally from the stage are stricken with nostalgia at being in a real theater again. Spencer Tracy wanders all over the house, from the gallery and files to the basement dressing rooms. When anybody wants Tracy in a hurry the dressing rooms are searched first. He's liely to be in one of them, just sitting there mooning.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

To the world at large, William Harvey (1578-1657) is known as the discoverer of blood circulation. To those better versed in medical history, he is also famed as the founder of experimental physiology. Very few, however, appreciate in full the extraordinary genius of the man and those qualities which have made a tradition of his name.

In England, America and other countries, groups of medical men periodically gather to listen to "The Harvey Lectures." These lectures are usually delivered by eminent physicians who report upon advances in medical research. They follow the injunction of Harvey "to search and study into the secrets of nature by way of experiment."

Before Harvey died, he established an endowment for an annual oration before the Royal College of Physicians of England. Harvey, who had studied in Padua, was a master of Latin. He stipulated that the annual oration should be delivered in his ancient tongue. And it was given in Latin until 1861, but after that the orator was permitted to use English.

In addition to his classical works, "De Moto Cordis" ("The Movements of the Heart") and "De Generatione" (a work on embryology). Harvey composed numerous medical observations. Unfortunately, while he was attending the king in 1642 a mob of citizen soldiers entered his lodgings, stole all his furniture and scattered his papers. So much of what he wrote is lost.

From what remains of his medical observations, we can gather how widespread his curiosity was and how keen his observations. He was the first to notice the motor functions of the stomach, having made his observations on birds.

Incidentally, he was among the very first to auscultate, that is, apply his ear to the body of the experimental animal in order to observe "what goes on inside." His interesting report reads:

"If you apply the body of a hawk on an eagle or other bird of prey, whilst fasting, to your ear, you will hear a distinct noise occasioned by the rubbing one against another, of the stones contained in the stomach."

The practice of auscultation and the stethoscope were developed later (1816) by the French physician, Rene Theophile Laennec.

IRISH LEADER CHEERED ON ARRIVAL IN LONDON

LONDON, Jan. 17 (P)—Special police details were stationed in Downing street today to hold back hundreds of Irish men and women gathered there to hear Eamon de Valera as the prime minister of Ireland arrived for his peace conference with Britain's leaders.

The problem arising from de Valera's desire to bring Ulster (Northern Ireland) into the union with the new Eire (formerly the Irish Free State) apparently was the chief obstacle to an accord to compose the long strife between Ireland and Great Britain.

Earlier, in preparation for the meeting, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain conferred with other members of the British cabinet.

The long trade war between Ireland and Great Britain and the question of fitting Ireland into the British empire's defense plans were understood to be the points discussed.

Competent observers believed the outcome of the discussions hinged on whether de Valera demands an immediate British concession favoring at least in principle the union of Ulster and Ireland.

Great Britain was desirous of gaining Ireland's good will and lining up dependable support in the event of a military crisis.

Negotiations were expected to last two or three days unless the partition issue causes the conference to break up.

NO OBJECTIONS TO NEW JUDGE BEING RAISED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (P)—Members of the Senate judiciary committee expressed certainty today that Stanley F. Reed would be confirmed as a Supreme Court justice this week, allowing him to take his seat before any new cases are heard.

Of the Senators who commented on the nomination of the 53-year-old solicitor-general, not one raised any objections. Senator Rush Holt (D. W. Va.), a frequent administration critic, was among members of both major parties indicating approval.

"The amazing thing about it," said Holt, "is that the President appointed a judge instead of one of his fervent 'haters.'"

Nevertheless the judiciary committee arranged for careful scrutiny of Reed's qualifications, even as Justice George Sutherland, whom he will succeed, made his final appearance on the bench.

No cases of national interest were up for decision by the justices, meeting at noon for the last session before a two weeks' recess. The retirement of the 75-year-old Sutherland will become effective at midnight.

After an informal discussion of Reed's nomination by the entire judiciary committee, Chairman Ashurst (D. Ariz.) said he would turn further consideration over to a subcommittee headed by Senator Logan (D. Ky.).

The subcommittee will hold hearings, Ashurst added, and any person wishing to do so may appear before it.

Committeemen expected hearings would be only routine, however. They said an informal decision had been reached to hold hearings on all Supreme Court nominations. Failure to conduct hearings on the nomination of Hugo L. Black created a furor when it was found Black once had been a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

Now that Black is on the high court and Reed has been picked for Justice Sutherland's post, liberals will be in the majority for the first time since Mr. Roosevelt took office.

Justice Cadozo now is seriously ill of a heart ailment, and some persons have expressed belief he will retire shortly. If this should happen, Mr. Roosevelt could make his third Supreme Court appointment.

Both Senate friends and foes of the administration's court reorganization bill expressed the view that court retirements have made that proposal a dead issue.

Reed is not expected to participate in Supreme Court cases in which he took part as solicitor-general. Among such cases is the pending litigation by the Electric Bond and Share Company to test the constitutionality of the public utility holding company act.

BORGER-PAMPA BATTLE AND WRESTLING CARD HOLD INTEREST TONIGHT

CAGE RIVALRY WILL INVADE LOCAL COURT

Catfish Smith's ambitious Borger Bulldogs who all season have been picturing themselves as district champions, will tonight at 7:30 o'clock clash with the Harvesters in the Pampa boys' most important game of the season, excepting of course the games to be played in the district tournament. The battle will be fought in the local gym.

The victory and defeat which Pampa Friday and Saturday nights drew out of the series with Plainview were the most important in the Big Five schedule in that they will probably decide the winner of the league which includes Pampa, Borger, Amarillo, Lubbock and Plainview. Results of play in the Big Five will have no bearing on the district tournament.

Now the four games the Harvesters will play with Borger are as important as the four games with Plainview, because Pampa and Borger are favorites to win the district title—provided of course they can eliminate Spearman, Panhandle, Croton, Perryton, Phillips, Miami, Wheeler, Redkey, Canadian, and other county champions.

Andis Leaves Hospital
If the Harvesters can whip Borger decisively without Bob Andis they should whip the Bulldogs in the district meet. Andis who was in the hospital recovering from blood poisoning Saturday night when Plainview nosed out the Harvesters 32 to 30, came back to school today but he will not play for a week.

Cunningham who missed 7 out of 7 free shots Saturday night will again take his place. The Cardinals, generally believed, were just plain loafing last week when they dropped two to the Plainview quintet compared to the energy they will expend tonight in a determined attempt to beat the Harvesters. They will shoot everything they have. Close observers of the basketball situation in the Panhandle are aware that Borger will play twice as hard tonight, and that they had rather Pampa than anybody else in district.

All the feeling is mutual here. The Pampa lads will be in to win. There will be no let-up they believe they can beat without Andis.

Harvesters Favored
Matter of fact, the Harvesters according to comparative scores, are expected to win, even without Borger lost to Plainview 12 and 2 points in two games. Pampa beat Plainview 4 points the first game with Andis in the lineup and lost by 2 points with Andis out of the lineup. Any way you look at it, Pampa should win.

The Harvester forwards will probably be Heskell and Cunningham. Norman Cox will be at center and Reynolds and Dunaway at the guard slots. However, it is quite probable that if those starters fall in a flock of reserves as he did Saturday night.

Wrestling Scheduled
The basketball game will be one of two major sports attractions in town tonight. The old Pampa favorite, Otis Clingman, will be in the favorite role at Cliff Chambers' wrestling arena in the final match. Chambers, a basketball fan who didn't want to miss the game, and Coach Odus Mitchell a wrestling fan who wanted to see the kimona match and Clingman in action, got together so they could see each other's attractions. The game will begin at 7:30 and the prelims on the wrestling card at 8:15 o'clock.

Fans May See Both Cage Game And Arena Match

Coach Odus Mitchell of the Pampa Harvesters and Cliff B. Chambers, wrestling promoter, "got together" this morning, not for a wrestling match or a basketball game but to change time of their respective engagements tonight. The basketball game between the Harvesters and Borger Bulldogs will begin at 7:30 o'clock sharp with the wrestling match set to open at 8:15 o'clock.

The 30-minute advance in time of the basketball game and the 15-minute delay in starting the wrestling match was because both are on the little notebook for a lot of fans to see. Because of the change in time, wrestling fans will be able to see the basketball game and miss only a few minutes of the preliminary wrestling match.

But why all the excitement about conflicting engagements, query some Pampans. Well, it's this way. Tonight Sailor Otis Clingman returns to Pampa for the first time in two years and he is one of the greatest and most popular wrestlers every to appear on a Pampa mat and that's not because he is a local boy although Clingman will meet Jack Mandell in the semi-final match, scheduled for 8:45 p. m.

'Nightshirt' Match.
Headlining the card will be another unusual attraction. A "nightshirt" wrestling match. The "nightshirt" on this occasion will be short jackets made of stout ducking. They will be worn by Prof. Tsuta Hagami and Otto von Ludwig, a pair of toughies without the added paraphernalia which can be used to choke, for leverage on foot flying holds, and any other purpose a wily mind can devise.

Instead of wrestling one fall American and one Japanese style with the third, if necessary, going to the man winning the quickest in the first two falls, tonight's battle will be all the way with the jackets. Ludwig has been heard to remark that he can handle the little Jap with or without his "night-shirt."

The opening battle will be a 20-minute engagement between Bill Venable and Cyclone Mackie. Reserve seats will be 65 cents, tax paid, with general admission 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, under 12 years. Fans are advised to "come early" to be sure of a seat.

Redskins Win Game 14 to 13

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17 (AP)—The Washington Redskins, National professional football champions, sent their uniforms to the cleaners today after defeating an all-star Pacific Coast team, 14-13 yesterday in a downpour of rain.

DISTRICT WINNER TO BE DECIDED EARLIER

WACO, Jan. 17 (AP)—The District 11 executive committee, meeting here today, altered the football schedule arrangement to prevent possibility of a championship tie in the Texas interscholastic league race.

Waco, Temple and Cleburne finished in a three-way deadlock for the title last season with Temple being declared the district representative in bi-district competition. By the new plan, conference games will be started earlier in the season and finished the week preceding Thanksgiving, thereby giving teams a chance for a play-off in case of a tie.

Mexia and Ennis, applicants for membership in the district, were rejected by the committee. These two schools announced their plan to carry their case to the state committee.

Jap in "Nightshirt"

Above is Professor Tsuta Hagami in a "nightshirt" or a Japanese kimona in which the Japs wrestle. Tonight, at the Pampa Athletic arena, Hagami and Otto von Ludwig will meet in a main event battle wearing the kimona or "nightshirts" as Americans call the heavy jackets. The card will open at 8:15 o'clock with Bill Venable and Cyclone Mackie on the mat. Sailor Otis Clingman, Pampa favorite, will be on the semi-final with Jack Mandell.

WRITER PICKS YANKS, BUDGE; BAUGH, MAX TO WIN IN 1938

By DILLON GRAHAM
AP Feature Service Writer
NEW YORK—Taking a deep breath, crossing our fingers and hoping for luck, we offer our 4-star special sport tips for the new year.

Max Schmeling to whip Joe Louis and retire as heavyweight boxing champion. Tommy Farr to beat Jim Braddock. Max Baer to beat a spirited comeback. Buddy Baer to become a strong contender. Henry Armstrong to shellack Lou Ambros, if he can get him in the ring.

Donald Budge to win U. S. and Wimbledon tennis singles championships, help retain the Davis cup and then abdicate to professional profit. Bobby Riggs of California to succeed Budge as America's No. 1 ace.

The girls to keep the Wightman cup but lose the national singles crown to either Anita Lizana or Jadwiga Jedzejowska.

The Yankees and Giants again in baseball. The Tigers to press the Yanks and the Cubs to win in the National if they get Mungo. The Americans to win the World Series and all-star game. Bob Feller to win more than 20 games. Lou Gehrig's consecutive-game streak to end. Detroit's Rudy York to take home-run honors from Joe DiMaggio.

Slammin' Sam Snead to win the national open, Johnny Goodman to retain the national amateur title, and Harry Cooper to take the professional crown.

Louisiana State to win the intercollegiate team laurels and Paul Leslie to take the individual crown. America to win the Walker cup matches. Bob Jones to give the professionals a great battle in the Augusta Masters' golf tournament. The stymie to be removed from golf.

An American auto racer to break the foreign monopoly and win the Vanderbilt cup in the Long Island race.

The Washington Huskies to win Poughkeepsie's rowing regatta. Sammy Baugh to keep the professional football championship for Washington.

The Redskins to whip the college all-stars at Chicago in early fall. Professional football to show another big increase in public interest.

Army's gridders to beat Navy. Fighting Fox or Nedyar to win the Kentucky Derby.

AGGIES LEAD CAGE SCORING IN SOUTHWEST

Down in the Southwest conference cage standings ensconced in fifth place are the Texas Aggies—but don't despair for the gentlemen without first consulting your statistician.

It's generally conceded the idea of basketball is to wear out the little net that hangs from the barrel staves at each end of the court, and the Aggies have caught on. Four of the five starting members of the Cadet crew can be located among the first eight scorers of the individual basket-ringing race, which is a colossal percentage. Heading up the parade is knock-kneed Louis Freisberger, a little item of six feet, seven inches who has draped 23 points.

Two points behind him in second place is Jimmy Clark, Aggie forward, while just three points behind him at 23 markers, is Capt. Buddy Harris. Eighth in the race is Sammy Dwyer, a guard who has sneaked up to ring in 16 counters.

No one believes the Aggies will win the title, but such offensive antics may more than jumble the race before its all over. Into North Texas this week-end the Aggies, winner of one and loser of two, march to meet Texas Christian at Fort Worth Friday night and Southern Methodist, defending champion, Saturday night at Dallas. The Aggies focused their eyes on the basket in the waning minutes so stop Rice, 45-39, in their only game last week.

Rice, which, after all, can rest awhile on its football laurels, on Thursday and Friday unpacks its shots in Arkansas' Fayetteville gym.

Arkansas, idle last week, could go a long way toward tying up the title by stopping Rice twice.

The Methodists, considered a potent threat, could do no better than break even in two games. Against a weakened Baylor team they missed scoring chances frequently, falling in a 29-26 win over Texas, also playing without two regulars.

Texas meanwhile came up as more than just another entry by its strong showing against S. M. U. and a 39-18 licking they strapped on Texas Christian. Both Cat. Don White and Warren Osborne were out of the lineup for those two games.

The Longhorns, with a 2 and 1 percentage, meet Baylor at Austin Tuesday night and then rest the remainder of the week.

Originally scheduled for Saturday night at Houston was a Rice-Baylor ruse, but inability of the Owls to return from Arkansas in time for the date caused an indefinite postponement.

Sport Sparks

By FELIX E. MCKNIGHT
DALLAS, Jan. 15 (AP)—Out of Texas sports grab-bag:

Golf-able Johnny Goodman, national amateur champion, tops a long string of great-Simon-Pures listed as entrants in the annual Houston Country club invitation tourney, opening Feb. 23 with the first field in its history.

Tourney officials felt confident Goodman, little silk-shirted par-blast-er, will compete.

A countless list of assorted champions will be in the expected field of some 235. For competition Goodman will have Reynolds Smith and Freddie Haas, Walker Cuppers; Ed White, Gus Moreland and Billy Howell, former cup players; Johnny Dawson, Dave (Spec) Goldman, former national amateur finalist now coming back; Ed McClure, the defending champ; Harry Todd, former Western and Texas king; Paul Leslie and Gus Novotny, both former Western titleholders; Don Schumacher, Trans-Mississippi tist; Mally Reynolds, Floriad champion; Lonnie Wendland, former state many winner; Percy Clifford, Mexico's ranking amateur; W. R. Lon, Austin's diminutive star; Wilmer Allison, former national tennis king and some shakes as a golfer.

Reports have it a lusty middle West delegation also will compete.

Football—Coach Jimmy Kitis plans to make double-barreled threats of Ernie Lain and Olie Cordill in 1938. Lain, plunger blocker and passer, will be drilled in kicking. Cordill, runner and great kicker, is taking lessons in passing. President J. Curtis Stanford of the Cotton Bowl association, has the endorsement of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce on his idea to stage a colossal cotton festival in connection with his New Year's day grid classic parade, dramatizing the cotton industry, would figure prominently in the two or three day celebration.

MUD WRESTLING RULED OUT BY TEXAS BOARD
AUSTIN, Jan. 17 (AP)—Mud might be permissible in the political arena but not in the wrestling ring. Labor Commissioner Fred E. Nichols ruled today.

He said a scheduled mud wrestling match at Dallas was contrary to state wrestling rules and would not be authorized.

Golden Gloves Entries Will Report Tuesday

COTTON CAN'T BE INDUCED TO COMPETE IN AMERICAN MEETS

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP)—Henry Cotton, regarded by many as the greatest golfer since Bobby Jones at his peak, still doesn't feel the lure of American gold.

The swarthy Englishman, has turned down every invitation to come over this season and fight it out with the American stars on their home grounds.

He doesn't need the money, and doesn't feel that he needs to come America to prove his is the champion. When he whipped the entire American Ryder cup team in the last British open and polished off Denny Shute in their 72-hole championship match, Cotton decided he had done enough for the time being.

It is to be regretted, because his invasion this summer would give golf a shot-in-the-arm.

"Of course, we have hoped he would come," said an official of the United States Golf Association. "But Cotton wants a big guarantee and it is not within our province to offer it."

The British ace scarcely can be blamed. Cotton is the hero of every golfing kid in England. He's the guy who finally set the Americans on their heads when everybody had about decided it couldn't be done. He has the sweetest teaching job in England, so many pupils that he's had to take on several extra assistants. The money is rolling in, and Henry is sitting pretty.

To cut loose from all that and come over here for a summer's free-for-all would be strictly a gamble. Henry might come over in the summer of 1939 with the British Ryder cup team, but even that is not assured. Some think he won't come, ever.

DiMaggio Due to Get His Price

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, the Yankees' amazing outfielder, has an added talking point when he negotiates with Colonel Jake Ruppert to discuss his 1938 salary.

DiMaggio, home run king of the majors and an almost perfect defensive outfielder, has been voted the "player of the year" award for his 1937 season, by the Baseball Writers' Association.

Joe is now on his way East and, although there have been reports he has already signed his contract or at least agreed to terms, he will discuss his salary with club officials.

It is the general belief that the club has offered DiMaggio a $22,500 contract an increase of $7,500. DiMaggio in his second year as a regular led both leagues in total bases and runs scored as well as in home runs. He batted .346 average from 323 to 366.

Moseley to Head East Texas Loop

HENDERSON, Jan. 17 (AP)—C. P. Moseley of Jacksonville, a former Baylor University coach, will head the East Texas baseball league through its 1938 season.

Moseley, who succeeds J. Walter Morris, head of the loop the last two years, was selected here yesterday at the annual winter meeting of directors.

A schedule calling for 140 games, drawn by Harry Faulkner, business manager of Longview, was adopted, and opening and closing dates set at April 20 and August 28.

Tyler will open at Longview; Kilgore at Henderson, Jacksonville at Marshall.

Directors also voted to adopt a new official ball, decided on a revised constitution, and planned an all star game between northern and southern division clubs on July 19, site to be selected later.

Ski Jumper Leaps 171 and 181 Feet

CHICAGO, Jan. 17 (AP)—Some 20,000 winter sports followers knew today why they called Birger Rund "tops" among the world's greatest ski jumpers.

Birger, the Norwegian Olympic ski champion in 1932 and 1936, won the Norge Ski Club's international meet near Gary, Ill., yesterday, making spectacular flights of 171 and 181 feet for Class A honors.

Dust from the explosion of Mount Katmai, Alaska, in 1912, made its way to North Africa in two weeks' time.

TEXAS HUNTING SEASONS ENDED

AUSTIN, Jan. 17 (AP)—The setting of yesterday's sun ended the last of Texas' big fall and winter hunting seasons, that on quail.

Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the state game department, said today hunting generally was the best in many years. From the business man's viewpoint it was equally successful, he said, with an estimated $50,000 in purchases incident to their excursions in search of game.

Since September 1, Texans have banded away at mourning and white-winged doves, white-tail and mule deer, quail, quail, quail, geese and the bobwhite in succession.

Today sportsmen turned to the rod and reel for a few weeks more of recreation before the general closed season on bass and crappie becomes effective March 1. In many counties strict federal restrictions, flocked over Texas lakes and streams and concentrated along the Gulf coast. The supply was so great game department officials predicted federal restrictions would be lifted somewhat in the near future.

At present the extent of all-levying use of live decoys, and provision of a longer period of shooting than the established 30 days. The season closed December 26.

The quail season opened Dec. 1. Rainy weather cut down hunting considerably but the take was declared to be fair when hunters were able to venture forth.

Pity Asked for Presidents of Small Leagues

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 17 (AP)—Elmer Daily, speaking as the oldest league president in point of service in organized baseball, says the "forgotten man of baseball" is the president of the small minor league.

Playing Moses for the class C middle Atlantic League for 14 years gave Daily some right to have his say.

"He is expected to know everything and do everything, yet get practically nothing for it," he continues. "Players work up to the majors through the minors. Managers and business representatives frequently advance the same way. But you never hear of a minor league president getting any of baseball's big jobs."

"I get $3,000 a year from the Middle Atlantic," he smiled, "and I could make more by minding my own business at the hotel. But baseball is a hobby with me. I've been connected with athletics for 25 years and I couldn't quit now if I wanted to. I'd shrivel up."

Pampa youths entered in the Pampa Daily News Golden Gloves boxing tournament to be staged Feb. 2, 3 and 4 are asked to report to the Pampa Athletic arena between 5 and 7 p. m. Tuesdays. Several of the boys have not been reporting for workouts and Director Cliff B. Chambers wants to know how many will positively be at the ringside to compete on Feb. 2.

Also, each boy entered must make application for membership in the Southwestern branch of the A. A. U. and Director Chambers wants his boys to sign the blanks tomorrow evening. A membership costs only 25 cents.

Plans are now being completed for a consolation bracket with each winner receiving an award. The tournament management feels that boys who lose on the first time out should be given a chance to show their strength.

There is still time for youths to enter the tournament.

Golden Gloves rules have been made so that the winner will be hurt. If the referee thinks a boy is overmatched, he stops the fight and awards the decision to the opponent. That is so that no boy will take a beating. Thus, boys who think they don't have a chance to win and plan to withdraw need not fear that they will be overmatched.

Most of the entrants to date have done very little boxing. Every boy is an amateur and only one is over 21 years of age. Out-of-town boys will be given hotel accommodations and meals while remaining in the running for a title.

The eight winning boys will be given a free trip to Fort Worth to participate in the state Golden Gloves tournament.

Sam Snead Takes Major Share of Crosby's Prizes

DEL MAR, Calif., Jan. 17 (AP)—For the second straight year, Sam Snead, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., had the major share of prize money in the Bing Crosby golf tournament in his jeans today.

Slammin' Sam romped home yesterday with a new Rancho Santa Fe course record of 67, fashioned on his final round. He put together a score of 139 for 36 holes. Far for the Rancho layout is 72.

Crosby put out $3,000 in prize money and Snead took $500 for first prize in pro competition.

Playing with Doug McKinnon of Los Angeles, he also won $225—second place money in the pro-amateur contest captured by Art Bell of Pasadena and Phil Finlay of Redlands, Calif., with a total of 134.

Jimmy Hines of Garden City, N. Y., trailed Snead by two strokes and Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex., was third with 142. They got $350 and $250, respectively.

Richest Girl in the World

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday, Bret and Katie arrived at the construction camp and immediately Katie realizes the reason for the coldness in Eloise's welcome.

CHAPTER X SEVERAL weeks had passed, the snow had long since melted, the men were once more back at work on Bret's bridge, and Connie was now an integral part of her surroundings.

Each morning Bret called for her to drive three miles to the camp; each evening drove her back. Connie loved the excitement and bustle, the mule teams with their burly drivers, the husky mountaineers with their sturdy muscles and soft drawing talk, the whistle of the freight train, unloading steel and materials, the log-cabin office with its old-fashioned wood stove.

She marveled now at that girl who had laid in the big Marie Antoinette bed, missing all the fresh loveliness of early morning, not caring enough about anything to get up, bored with life, sick of the endless round of social activity.

She felt, had been a "softie," she had never really lived at all. There had been so little justification for her existence.

Of course there was a reason for these conclusions, for this feeling of being so alive, so deliciously happy. The age-old reason that is always the same whether a girl be the Colonel's Lady or Judy O'Grady, the richest girl in the world, or plain Katie Blyn. For the whole world takes on a new meaning when a girl loses her heart to a man.

CONNIE was not sure just when she had fallen in love with Bret Hardesty. It might have been that first moment when he had handed her her glasses and she had looked into his dark eyes. Or perhaps it had been when he had tucked the bandit in the past, and she had been afraid of him. Again this miracle may have taken place during that long night, driving over the mountains, sharing its beauty and silence.

It did not matter. All she knew was that he was the man she loved. The only one she ever had loved. The only one she would ever love.

She was glad that she had met him while she was Katie Blyn. Bret would never have looked at her, let alone offered to help her, brought her into his own country, given her work, accepted her as a companion, had she been the beautiful, spoiled heiress to $70,000,000.

Hadn't he said that he knew he would not like that sort of girl? That he would have no use for her at all?

He liked Katie Blyn. Connie was confident of that. He had told her she was a gallant lady, a good little sport. If he fell in love with her it would be because of things like that, because of herself. It would have nothing to do with dollars and cents.

If he fell in love with her... "All that women think of is romance," Bret had said.

But Connie had predicted that the day would come when he would find time to think of romance too. She saw the first signs, already. A new look in his dark eyes when they met hers the way he helped her over rough places, as though she were something fragile and precious. The grim set of his nice mouth that day when one of the men had spoken roughly to her over a difference as to the number of loads he had checked in. The flush of deep crimson stealing up into his face at sight of Tim Randy, the state policeman, pompous and important in his handsome uniform, hanging about Connie's desk and trying to make a "date."

Oh, yes, Connie saw all the signs and her heart quickened. Her own blue eyes grew brighter, her pulses raced.

There was only one flaw in this happiness, one person who had refused to accept Connie as one of them, make her "at home": Eloise with her flaming hair, when in a coronet of thick braids, her reticent manner, her eyes, watchful and wounded. For Eloise, too, saw these signs in Bret, recognized them.

She, alone, recognized other things as well. She saw that Connie's black dress, which she wore on special occasions, was entirely different from the navy suit that had been Katie Blyn's. The black dress had air. It shouted Paris, even though Connie had ripped the label out. It made her look like a princess.

Eloise, cleaning Connie's room, one day, came across something else. The dinner ring and the emerald brooch and the strand of matched pearls.

She gave a gasp of amazement, examined them more carefully, slipped them back under the fine hand-sewn linen undergarments where they had been hidden. That night when she had a moment alone with Bret in the big cheerful kitchen, where they often gathered, suddenly she asked an abrupt question:

"Do you know who Katie Blyn really is, Bret?"

"Do I know who she is?" Bret looked up from the stove at which he had been peking. "Why of course. At least I know all that's necessary. Why do you ask?"

"It doesn't matter," Eloise said.

PAMPANS JOIN IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST WAR

Pampa members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars joined today in a nationwide campaign to keep America out of war, and L. L. McColl, commander of the local post, urged Pampans and other citizens of the Pampa to join in the movement.

Over the nation, the V. F. W. plans to obtain the signatures of 25 million citizens who would give Congress a definite mandate for the people which calls for strict neutrality in wars between other nations, and a national defense program strong enough to command respect for America's time-honored principles and its determination to remain at peace.

To aid this plan of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Pampa Daily News is publishing today on page 3 a ballot which was conceived as a means of reaching Pampa residents who will not have an opportunity to sign one of the 500,000 petitions being distributed from coast to coast.

The campaign is being conducted through the channels of more than 6,500 local units of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and its Ladies' Auxiliary, plus scores of other civic, fraternal, religious and patriotic groups.

Commander McColl of the Pampa post said today: "It should be kept in mind that this campaign is in no way identified with any demand for a war referendum amendment to the Constitution. This drive simply seeks to put tangible proof in the hands of Congress that public sentiment is vigorously opposed to the prospect of another war, with its subsequent sacrifice of human lives and its prolonged aftermath of huge debts, unbalanced budgets, and tremendous tax burdens."

The Keep America out of War ballot, on page 3 of today's Daily News, will be published at intervals during the next two weeks.

SPRING SIGNS: FRANKLIN, Pa.—Spring in January: H. P. Morrison reported seeing a fat fishing worm crawling on top of the snow near his home.

Another resident said he saw a group of furry caterpillars out for an airing.

"How dare you say that?" Connie asked from the doorway. Her head was flung back, defiant and proud, her tone contemptuous, her blue eyes cold as an icy blue lake.

"And you," she asked, "do you think that about me, too?"

NEW VESSELS NEEDED NOW, SAYS ADMIRAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP) -Congress received a warning from the navy's chief of operations today that any delay in the shipbuilding or aircraft programs would "jeopardize" the nation's security.

Admiral William D. Leahy, testifying before a house appropriations subcommittee on the navy's financial needs, said the international situation was so serious the United States "must continue to maintain our national defense establishments at their highest efficiency."

"The political conditions in the world, both in Europe and the far East, are more threatening than at any time since 1918, and are distinctly worse than a year ago," he said.

President Roosevelt is drafting a message expected to call for a naval construction program "substantially in excess of present limitations."

The material condition of the navy's most powerful weapons—its battleships—is satisfactory, Leahy said but they "are rapidly approaching obsolescence."

Under these circumstances, he explained, it would be legal for the United States, under the Vinson-Trammell act authorizing a "treaty navy," to build 13 battleships by 1942, including two now under construction and two for which an initial appropriation was included in the budget for the next fiscal year.

Admiral W. G. Du Bose, chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, estimated it would take $28,000,000 to complete the 72 ships now under construction and $229,000,000 to finish 22 vessels for which initial appropriations were sought for the 1939 fiscal year.

Rear Admiral H. E. Kimmel, navy budget officer, told the committee 16 more ships and 117 new airplanes would be operated in the coming fiscal year than the navy had during the current fiscal year.

He said new ships would be larger and stronger, have more offensive armament and "better ability to withstand damage."

Following the shareholders' meeting, an organization meeting was held by the directors and the following officers were elected: Wiley W. Wright, President; C. L. Thomas, Secretary; R. E. Tyson, Assistant Secretary-Treasurer.

In addition to the business transacted, lunch was served for the members and guests.

TEXAS WPA MATERIAL HAS COST $7,829,902

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 17—Materials, supplies and equipment for use on Works Progress Administration projects in Texas were purchased at a total cost of $7,829,902 during the calendar year 1937, it was disclosed today by Stearns S. Tucker, deputy state administrator.

Purchases of textiles for use in WPA sewing rooms, cement to be used in construction work, and lumber products were items upon which the largest amounts of money were spent.

More than 130 members of the Canadian Valley Production Credit association and their friends heard Secretary-Treasurer C. W. Allen and the Board of Directors of the association report on the association's progress during the past year at a meeting held at Canadian on January 13.

Reports showed that this cooperative lending institution has made loans to its members amounting to more than $775,539 during 1937. Other reports showed that there are now more than 120 local holders of stock in the association and that the total amount of locally owned stock and net earnings at the end of 1937 was $29,412.

Other speakers at the meeting included: S. P. Britt; Frank Shaller; Frank McMorde; and Mrs. Chas. L. Larkey.

Wiley W. Wright of Canadian was elected to serve as director. Other members of the Board of Directors are C. L. Thomas of Pampa; L. L. Palmer of Alabaster; and J. A. Bryant of Wheeler, and Geo. J. Trenfield of Follett.

In addition to the business transacted, lunch was served for the members and guests.

Following the shareholders' meeting, an organization meeting was held by the directors and the following officers were elected: Wiley W. Wright, President; C. L. Thomas, Secretary; R. E. Tyson, Assistant Secretary-Treasurer.

SHOWDOWN IN LYNCHING BILL FIGHT LOOMS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP) -Predictions of a showdown in the Senate's anti-lynching filibuster brought expressions of confidence today from supporters and foes of the controversial bill.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), leader of the southern opponents, said there were enough speakers to continue talking against the measure until the pressure of other legislative forces proponents to shelve it.

Some administration senators, however, forecast that night sessions would be ordered soon, and that such a step would cause the filibuster to collapse. A few even talked of limiting debate.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, emphasized that the administration is not taking fall. The House voting schedule said there were enough speakers to continue talking against the measure until the pressure of other legislative forces proponents to shelve it.

POWER PLANTS STRIKES SNAG

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—A proposal that the government buy out the largest private utility group in the Tennessee Valley received scant support today from the first members of Congress to discuss it.

Wendell L. Willkie had suggested that "as a last resort in a desperate situation," the government purchase power companies in that area which are subsidiaries of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation. Willkie is president of the latter company.

Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.), leader of the public power bloc in the house, was more favorably inclined toward the idea than other legislators who commented. He expressed willingness for such a purchase if the price was not based on "inflated values."

Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the house military committee, however, opposed purchase "at any price" as the beginning of "state socialism."

Senator King (D-Utah) objected to the government buying any power plant.

Willkie said his proposal was a reply to President Roosevelt's suggestion that the utilities sell their distribution systems to cities in the area.

Meanwhile, one administration adviser expressed doubt the President would seek abolition of all business holding companies at this session of Congress. Mr. Roosevelt said at a press conference last week that holding companies ought to be disbanded.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA administrator, declared last night the president's holding company pronouncement made "pickers and amateurs" of Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini in many respects.

President Roosevelt arranged to discuss recovery Wednesday with the Business Advisory Council, and informed officials said additional talks with leaders of business, labor, farming and the consuming public may follow.

PENNINGTON TO TEACH KELLERVILLE COURSE

In response to a request of two Kellerville citizens, made Friday to E. C. Pennington, Pampa, co-ordinator of diversified occupations, a meeting of persons interested in oil field mathematics, elementary science applied to the petroleum industry, internal combustion engine operation and allied subjects, has been scheduled for 7 o'clock Tuesday night at the Kellerville school, when classes in these subjects are to be formed.

The two Kellerville citizens told Mr. Pennington that there were 125 men within a radius of two miles of Kellerville who were interested in attending these classes.

Due to an insufficient number responding, a class could not be formed here Friday night in the course on internal combustion engine operation. Those interested have been asked to report again Tuesday night at Pampa high school. The course is to be taught by J. G. King, who has had 18 years experience as a Sinclair engineer.

A class of 13, formed Friday night, are studying oil field mathematics, and another class of 16, formed Tuesday night, are studying elementary science as applied to the petroleum industry.

DR. MEYERS TO SPEAK AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

At the annual "Dad's Night" program which will be presented this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium by the Junior high school Parent-Teacher association, Dr. A. M. Meyers of West Texas State college will speak on "Social Guidance."

Mrs. Raymond Barrah, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Ramon Wilson, will entertain the group with two musical readings and the Rev. Robert Boshen will give the invocation.

Dr. Meyers, who is instructor in school administration and philosophy of education, received his doctor's degree from Peabody college, Nashville, Tennessee. He has had 12 years of experience as teacher, principal, and superintendent in the public schools of three states.

This is to be the outstanding program of the year and all who are interested in social guidance are invited to attend this program.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP)—A drifting stock market today cancelled part of its recent advance.

While investors as a few specialties attempted to contest the trend, weakness of utilities spread to other divisions and losses running to 2 or more points were widely distributed in the final hour. Extreme set-backs were reduced in some cases just before the close.

Transfers were around 1,000,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 17 (AP)—Late reactions of Chicago wheat values today virtually wiped out earlier gains of 1 1/2 cents a bushel.

The late reaction trend on wheat values here was due in large measure to liquidating sales on the part of holders. There was no followup buying on advance, and European demand for North American wheat was disappointingly small.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were unchanged to 1/4 higher compared with Saturday's final. May 97 1/2-3/4, July 91 1/2-3/4, corn unchanged to 1/4 lower, May 50 1/2-3/4, July 60 1/2-3/4, and oats 16 1/2-3/4 advanced.

SYPHILIS STANDS FIRST AMONG U. S. COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

From the standpoint of prevalence and the number of deaths resulting syphilis stands first among the infectious or communicable diseases. To overcome a germ disease two things are essential, namely to know the cause and to be able to remove it. Fortunately, in the case of this disease not only is the cause known, but means of eradication are at hand.

The cause of syphilis is not apparent to the naked eye. In order to see the causative germ, vision must be aided by the lenses of a microscope. When magnified 500 times, the corkerew shaped germ, first discovered by Schaudinn, is clearly visible.

The medicine to destroy the germ of syphilis was devised by Paul Ehrlich, a genius in the field of chemistry. Ehrlich carried out a long series of tests. His primary object was to produce an arsenic compound which would destroy the germ but would not damage the tissues of the person infected by the germ. Ehrlich's laborious efforts were finally crowned with success.

Yes, the cause of syphilis and means of its removal are well known. Control of the disease and the hope for cure are dependent to a great degree upon the following factors: (1) early recognition of the nature of the disease; (2) a thorough course of treatment by a competent physician; (3) rearing of cases with investigation of sources of infection; (4) blood tests readily available for the discovery of new cases and (5) frankness in education regarding means of control and prevention.

GERMS FROZEN A YEAR REPRODUCE COLONIES

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif., Jan. 17 (AP)—Frozen bacteria sleeping one year in a cube of ice, are back to the busy life of reproducing colonies, Dr. Ira B. Bartle reported today.

The nap of a year in freezing temperatures had no more effect on the life of a certain soil bacteria than a 165-year snooze in the heart of adobe bricks from the walls of the old mission of San Luis Obispo.

In fact it was the same bacteria that the noted experimenting physician-scientist put to sleep for a year.

Taking one gram of soil from an ancient adobe brick, mixing it with two centimeters of sterile water, Dr. Bartle placed the mixture in a laboratory refrigerator.

Today he reported he found that the 11 varieties of soil bacteria counted in the soil, three had survived the year's freezing and began normal functioning and began reproducing when again in normal temperatures. On the soil counted 40,000,000 bacteria after a year's freezing the count was 18,420,000.

Surviving bacteria were all of the nitrogen forming varieties, Dr. Bartle said.

KILDARE BASKETBALL TEAM MEETS DEFEAT

ATLANTA, Jan. 17 (AP)—The mighty hath fallen. The Kildare Eagles girls' basketball team which ran their string of victories to 114 straight, were cut down 33 to 29 Saturday by a Leesburg team for their first defeat since 1932.

Assistant Coach R. S. Beasley, avoiding alibis, suggested the Kildares had merely met a better team.

With the tension off, the Eagles planned to carry on with many more thumpings for opponents.

Carefully follow instructions for making pickles. Tough, shriveled pickles are caused by too much salt, too much vinegar or the use of old cucumbers. Soft pickles are usually due to the use of vinegar that is too strong.

Leaves change color in autumn due to the decaying chlorophyll, or green coloring matter, undergoing chemical changes, and to the exposure of pigment cells formerly covered.

BEAUMONT LEADS NATION IN TRAFFIC DEATH REDUCTIONS

Editor's note: The federal census bureau ranked Beaumont first among the nation's principal cities reporting traffic death reductions in 1937. The Associated Press asked W. W. Ward, managing editor of the Beaumont Journal, to tell how Beaumont did it. His story follows.

BEAUMONT, Jan. 17 (AP)—Citizens of Beaumont stopped killing and maiming each other in 1937.

Of course, the police cracked them, but the safety campaign which projected the city into the position of first in the nation in reduction of traffic accidents, originated with the citizenry.

Traffic deaths in 1936 numbered 22. Traffic deaths in 1937 numbered six. Or a reduction of 72.7 per cent. (Census bureau figures put the percentage of reduction at 85.6, but they included a man as a traffic victim who was killed when

HOBART NAMED VICE PRESIDENT OF AMERICAN LIVESTOCK GROUP

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 17 (AP)—The American National Livestock Association expressed opposition Saturday to any attempt to reduce tariff duties on livestock and urged that no increase be made in quotas of existing reciprocal trade agreements.

Before adjourning a three-day convention, the association also urged immediate steps be taken to "so spread" the livestock receipts from Canada under the 1938 quota.

psychological effect in slowing down potential shippers.

The safety league maintained a daily chart, prominently displayed on the city hall lawn on the main street, tabulating the number of accidents to date, the number injured and the number killed. An engineering committee of the league took a hand in the campaign by eliminating bad corners and by the use of signal lights at strategic intersections.

But the safety league is not satisfied. It has arranged to continue its program of rigid law enforcement and expand its activities to include an educational campaign for pedestrians in 1938.

The league does feel it has made progress. In 1936, Beaumont ranked among the five most dangerous cities in the nation from the standpoint of traffic accident possibilities. Now it has a fine record and will make every effort to improve.

DYING WINDS PROMISE RESPITE FROM DUSTERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 17 (AP)—Dying winds promised Oklahoma a respite today from dust which rolled over parts of the Southwest yesterday.

Harry Wahlgren, federal weather observer, said there was little possibility of strong winds to bring back the dusts. Clear skies were reported at Waynes, Okla., Amarillo, Texas, and Gordon City, Kan.

A dust haze at Galvestone, Tex., cut visibility slightly but it was the remnant of yesterday's storm.
