Compete in Ag. Contests at Tech

Two teams from Borden County Agriculture Department travelled to the Texas Tech campus on Saturday, April 14, and competed in the annual FFA Area Judging Contests.

Members of the livestock team were Mickey Burkett, Michael Murphy, Gerry Smith, and Tommy Soto. The livestock team ranked 38th out of 111 teams participating.

The Dairy Cattle team consisting of Jerry Green, Doyce Taylor, Jeff Covington, and Shon Parker placed 10th out of 120 teams and barely missed qualifying for the state contest.

Mr. Wallace said he was very proud of the two teams and said that even though this was a building first year for the kids, they did exceptionally well and would be even better next year.

The Livestock Judging Team placed 38th of 111 teams-Back-Tommy Soto, Mickey Burkett, Gerry Smith, and Michael Murphy made up the team.

over third place Anton. Kim Wills and Shana Bradshaw also competed in the Region I tennis tournament and first round defeated the District 2A champions from Booker, Mabel Rivas and Dianne Wilmoth, 7-6, 6-1. They then fell in the quarter-finals to third place Anton. Becky Massingill also played, in the singles division, and won her first match over Booker also. She defeated Diane Miller in split sets 6-3, 1-6, 6-4, in a match which lasted 2½ hours. She then played one hour later in the quarterfinals and was defeated by the eventual regional runner-up from Hartley, Johanna Thompson.

The team from Nazareth, Leona Gerber and Ramona Heiman, both played singles last year with Heiman losing in the championship at state and Gerber was defeated in the semi-finals at state. They will go in the opposite bracket of Borden at the State Tournament so there is a chance that there will be a repeat of last years doubles where Region I had both doubles teams reach the finals. The draw has not been made but two other state qualifiers will be Paint Rock and Forsan, both of which Tammy and Kelli have defeated this year.

Hobby Sees Trouble in Nuclear Waste

Dear Fellow Texans:

Twentieth century man's lifestyle has been enhanced through products that have made our lives easier and more efficient.

Ironically, products created with the intention of simplifying man's life, such as tires, medicines and fertilizers, produce a poisonous by-product. The by-product, appropriately named hazardous waste. The most common methods of disposal are landfills and injection wells. These methods, once considered safe and inexpensive, have proven at times to be dangerous and costly.

In Texas, the Environmental Protection Agency has placed eleven dump sites on the National Priority List for prompt remedial action. Ten of the eleven sites are in the Gulf Coast region and are the unfortunate results of landfill disposal.

Hazardous waste control has proved expensive, and it is the subject of a growing area of government involvement. For instance, to aid the EPA in cleanup of disposal sites, the Texas Legislature provided $5.6 million. However, with possible addition of other sites, the EPA's estimated cost of $56 million could skyrocket to $150-$200 million, thus putting a tremendous strain on state government to provide matching funds.

Various levels of state government have launched studies on hazardous waste disposal. The 68th Legislature formed the Joint Study Committee on Hazardous Waste Disposal, which is considering alternatives to landfill dumps and is formulating recommendations for the location of disposal sites. Likewise, the Joint Committee has planned a public meeting in Canyon, Texas at the Southwest Texas State University Activities Center Ballroom on April 27 at 6:00 p.m. Testimony taken at this public meeting will aid the legislators in formulating legislation on the disposal of wastes.

Our Comptroller, Bob Bullock, has suggested a tax on hazardous wastes to provide revenues to create incentives for safer disposal and cleanup. He has estimated that a tax of $1.00 per ton on hazardous waste produced would bring in about $50 million in "new" revenue. It is believed that this would deter increased production of hazardous wastes and would fund research for safer disposal methods.

Also, Governor White is very much concerned with hazardous waste management. He has appointed a special task force to recommend new laws to form a statewide hazardous waste management policy.

Obviously, it will take many years of research to develop methods to eliminate hazardous wastes.

Until that time, we must work together to prevent Texas from becoming a "trash can." It will take work at every level of government, industry and society. If we are going to enjoy the conveniences of modern times, we must spend more time, effort and money to develop safer methods of disposal.

CHANGES -1984 WHEAT PROGRAM

Congress has passed and President Reagan has approved the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1984. The Act makes changes in the 1984 Wheat Program, and for all crops in 1985.

A new sign-up period begins April 16 and extends thru May 4 for those producers who wish to enroll in the revised Wheat Program. There will be no opportunity to enroll in the Feed Grains and-or Cotton Program during this sign-up period.

Changes made in the 1984 Wheat Program are:

1. The 30 percent unpaid wheat acreage reduction has been replaced with a combination of paid diversion for 10 percent of the farm's wheat acreage base and a 20 percent unpaid acreage reduction requirement. The diversion payment rate is $2.70 per bushel times the farm's established wheat yield. Producers may receive 50 percent of the diversion payment in advance.

2. The target price for wheat has been changed from $4.45 per bushel to $4.38 per bushel. As a result, the portion of wheat deficiency payment subject to the payment limitation has been reduced from $.90 to $.83, and the rate of liquidated damages for failure to comply with the requirements of the Wheat Program contract has been reduced from $.89 per bushel to $.876 per bushel.

3. Acreage designated as acreage conservation reserve (ACR) under the Wheat Price Support and Production Adjustment Program which was devoted to wheat prior to January 12, 1984, may be hayed or grazed, so long as the haying is completed before May 4, 1984. There is no deadline for grazing the wheat on ACR; however, grazing must be sufficient to prevent the wheat from reaching maturity and cannot be grazed to such extent that the acreage is not protected from wind and water erosion.

Those producers who have already signed a contract to participate in the 1984 Wheat Program will have their contract revised to reflect the changes made in the 1984 Wheat Program.

However, because of the revisions that have been made in the program, producers will have the right to withdraw from participation in the 1984 Wheat Program. To withdraw, a producer must notify the ASCS county office in writing of the intention to withdraw. The notice must be received in the county office by May 4,

The 1984 Wheat Payment-In-Kind (PIK) Program has been revised to increase the rate of payment from 75 percent to 85 percent of the farm's program payment yield. No change was made in the requirement that producers furnish wheat produced from a participating farm as production for PIK payment.

All eligible producers not currently participating in the 1984 Wheat Price Support and Production Adjustment Program or the 1984 Wheat Payment-In-Kind Program may sign agreements to participate in the revised programs at the ASCS county office thru May 4, 1984.

SMALL GRAIN CERTIFICATION

May 4 is the final date to certify small grain acreages for 1984. Small grains for grain and for grazing must be reported.

Acreages designated for ACR (set-aside) with small grain cover must also be reported by the May 4 deadline.

FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION (FCIC)

Final sales closing date for crop insurance thru FCIC has been extended to April 30 for all spring seeded crops.

REPORT NEEDED BY TEXAS CROP AND LIVESTOCK REPORTING SERVICE

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in mid-May for 1984 crop information and mid-year livestock inventories.

The information from these surveys is very important, therefore, a good response on the surveys is essential so accurate figures will be available for each county and the state.

The reporting service is urging all farmers and ranchers to return the mailed questionnaires as soon as possible.

Handling Consumer Complaints

Consumers mean business for stores, companies and services. They also mean business about having their complaints and problems resolved.

Even in today's complex marketplace, consumers should expect quality products and services at fair prices. But when something goes wrong, you need to let the company know about your problem. This is the fastest way to get your complaint resolved. It also gives the company a chance to keep your business and gain new customers by learning from mistakes. Most companies welcome this opportunity.

Handling your own complaint is easy if you take the following steps:

-Identify the problem and what you believe would be a fair settlement. Do you want your money back? Would you like the product repaired? Will an exchange do?

-Gather documentation regarding your complaint. Sales receipts, repair orders, warranties, cancelled checks, or contracts will back up your complaint and help the company solve your problem.

-Go back to where you made the purchase. Contact the person who sold you the item or performed the service. Explain the problem and what action you would like taken. If that person is not helpful, ask for the supervisor or manager and repeat your complaint. A large percentage of consumer problems are resolved at this level. Chances are yours will be too.

-Don't give up, if you are not satisfied with the response. If the company operates nationally or the product is a national brand, write a letter to the person responsible for consumer complaints at the company's headquarters.

-After that, contact an industry dispute program; the Better Business Bureau, or a local or state government office. In Texas, contact: Maria Mercado, Assistant Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, Office of Attorney General, 806 Broadway, Suite 312, Lubbock, Texas 79401, 806-747-5238.

-Finally, contact a trade association or agency of the Federal government if your complaint has not been satisfactorily resolved. Your last resort is a small claims court or private lawyer.

-A free consumer handbook containing information about complaint resolution and names and addresses of public and private organizations may be obtained by writing to: HANDBOOK, Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

New York was the first state to require the licensing of motor vehicles. The law was adopted in 1901.

MAINE ATTRACTION

For those for whom the romance of the sea beckons, Maine offers a whole fleet of historic windjammers to choose from. Passengers can sail the coast of Maine from June through September on a trip through time in the travel poster that is Maine.

The passage of time seems to have spared a portion of the Maine coast where the two-masted schooners of the Maine Windjammer Association still roam the water. From the ports of Rockland, Rockport, Camden and Belfast the schooners set sail throughout the summer months for week-long adventures at sea. This spectacular fleet is a distinctive regional phenomenon. There is nothing at all like it anywhere else in the world.

Surprisingly, the Maine Windjammer Association fleet can offer you more for your vacation dollar than convention vacations do. For as little as $325 per person, one can enjoy six days of sun and sail with meals and accommodations included. The highlight of each week is an authentic Down east Lobster Bake. Passengers and crew row ashore and gather wood to build a fire. After filling a large tub with water, layers of lobsters, seaweed, mussels, clams and corn are added and simmered until the lobster turns red. Next, everyone digs in.

Other meals, served in the traditional New England style, consist of an endless supply of chowders, stews, roasts, homemade breads, cakes and pies. After a day inhaling fresh salt air, large portions of food are most welcomed.

The 13 vessels of the Maine Windjammer Association fleet are operated by a captain and crew, and passengers are welcomed to pitch in hoisting the sails, weighing the anchor, swabbing the decks and helping in the galley.

For those seeking a more tranquil vacation, sunbathing on deck, swimming, reading and spectacular photography are other more restful activities to indulge in, away from the stressing noise of traffic and telephones.

You'll go where the wind and tides take you, but such beautiful stop-offs as Vinalhaven, Isle Au Haut, and Mount Desert Island's Northeast Harbor are possibilities.

Each of the 13 Maine Windjammer Association vessels is Coast Guard inspected and has a ship-to-shore radio. For more information on riding the waves on a windjammer, write to the Maine Windjammer Association, Box 317 P, Rockport, Maine 04856, or call (207) 236-4867.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with rules and orders promulgated by the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of a public hearing to begin at 10 a.m. on Monday, May 14, 1984, in the offices of the Public Utility Commission, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, concerning proposals made by the company to add three optional services and delete two services from the list of local exchange services available to its Texas customers.

Proposed additions to the local exchange tariffs include an optional Local Measured Service under which all residence customers and single-line business customers could pay monthly rates less than flat rate for one-party service, with an additional charge for each completed outgoing call to be determined by the time of day, distance and duration of each call; and a subsidized LIFELINE local service to be made available to qualified individuals, as determined by the Public Utility Commission. The monthly rate for LIFELINE service would include an allowance of 25 outgoing calls per month, plus a charge for each additional call.

Proposed for deletion from the local exchange tariffs are one-element measured service offerings for residence customers and single-line business customers, but current customers would not be affected.

The company does not anticipate that these additional services will result in an increase in revenue to Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso al Publico

Por medio del presente aviso y en conformidad con las reglas y dictámenes de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, la compañía Southwestern Bell Telephone anuncia la audiencia pública que se llevará a cabo a partir de las 10 de la mañana del día lunes 14 de mayo de 1984 en las oficinas de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas, con respecto a la propuesta de la compañía, que consiste en agregar tres servicios opcionales y suprimir dos servicios de la lista de servicios telefónicos locales a disposición del usuario en Texas.

Las adiciones propuestas al arancel del servicio telefónico local incluyen un Servicio Medido Local opcional según el cual todos los clientes residenciales y los clientes comerciales con línea única pagarían tarifas mensuales menores que la tarifa fija para servicios de línea única, con un cargo adicional por cada llamada completa efectuada desde ese teléfono, establecido según la hora, la distancia y la duración de cada llamada; así como un servicio local subvencionado de LIFELINE que estaría disponible para determinadas personas, según lo establezca la Comisión de Servicios Públicos. La tarifa mensual para el servicio de LIFELINE incluiría 25 llamadas mensuales con un cargo adicional por cada llamada en exceso de 25.

Se propone suprimir del arancel del servicio telefónico local las opciones de servicio medido de un elemento para clientes residenciales y clientes comerciales con línea única, pero esto no afectaría a los clientes actuales.

La compañía no espera que estos servicios adicionales produzcan un aumento de ingresos para Southwestern Bell Telephone.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757.
