Ex-educator faces sentence in bomb hoaxes

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A no contest plea was entered by a former special education teacher who is accused of making fake bombs and placing them in two schools where she used to work.

Tania Faver, 38, made her plea Tuesday in district court in Frio County nine months after a grand jury indicted her on three bomb hoax charges.

The charges are state jail felonies and carry six months to two years in a state jail and a maximum $10,000 fine.

Faver's plea was accepted by District Judge Olin Strauss who set a punishment hearing for Nov. 21.

Faver allegedly planted seven hoax bombs at Dilley

High School, five in October 2000, and two in October 2001. She also is accused of placing two fake bombs in the Bigfoot Alternative School in February 2000, when she worked there.

Her attorney, Nick Rothe, told the San Antonio Express-News in its Wednesday editions that there's plenty of evidence that ties his client to the crime, including videotapes and an admission.

"There was nothing to try," he said after the hearing.

Faver declined comment after the hearing, but court records say she told investigators last fall that she made the devices and planted them out of "frustration" with school administration.

DEAR ABBY

written by Pauline Phillips and daughter Jeanne Phillips

Guest Talking Cell Phone Flunks Wedding Etiquette Test

DEAR ABBY: My husband travels all over the state of Florida as a disc jockey. He provides musical entertainment at weddings, conventions, school dances and corporate events. I recently accompanied him to an evening wedding that was held at an upscale country club.

No sooner had the ceremony begun when a young woman entered, crossed the center aisle and sat down. A moment later, her cell phone began to ring. Instead of turning off the phone, the woman took the call! She got up, walked in front of the videographer, and stood next to my husband and me behind our equipment while speaking loudly to the caller throughout the entire ceremony.

Although countless guests turned around and glared at her, she never once stopped to consider that perhaps her phone conversation was disrupting the bride and groom as they recited their vows, or that her voice would be the only one picked up by the videographer's microphone.

I felt so embarrassed I actually hid behind our equipment in order to avoid the murderous stares from the guests. Only after the ceremony was over did she finally end the call. To add insult to injury, her date arrived right before dinner wearing tennis shoes, shorts and a T-shirt with a nearly naked woman on the back.

Our society seems to have lost touch with any inkling of decent conduct.

STILL SHOCKED IN FLORIDA

DEAR SHOCKED: How sad that a guest or someone in the wedding party was not assertive enough to escort the woman out of the room. However, since no one was willing to do so, whoever was officiating should have halted the ceremony and firmly instructed her to either end the call or complete it outside.

P.S. It appears she and her date are made for each other.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Still Bugged in Illinois," whose thoughtful mother gave a bride and groom a gift of $20 (and she hadn't even been invited to the wedding). When the bride opened the envelope, she made a rude remark about the amount of the gift.

I fondly recall a much different response to a similar situation. Before the late Judy Garland married David Rose, a star-studded shower was held at the home of Judy, her mother and sister.

When I arrived and realized that my simple gift couldn't compare with the lavishly wrapped presents I saw, I became embarrassed. I hid my gift behind a potted plant, thinking I could give it to Judy privately after everyone had left the party.

Instead, her butler retrieved my present from behind the plant and added it to the others on the gift table. It was the very first gift Judy opened — a copper silent butler for which I paid $6.95. It was all I could afford.

Upon opening it, Judy rushed over to me, gave me a big hug and said, "Thank you, Margie — I love it!" The next gift was a complete portable bar from Joan Crawford.

followed by a generous gift from Jimmy Stewart, etc.

"The bigger they are, the more gracious."

MARGIE STEWART JOHNSON, STUDIO CITY, CALIF.

DEAR MARGIE: A gracious hostess would never humiliate a guest in her home, and Judy Garland was obviously a gracious hostess. Thank you for sharing your story.

P.S. I'm surprised Joan Crawford didn't also give Judy a set of wooden coat hangers.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Special Election

NOVEMBER 5, 2002

Explanatory Brief for HJR 2

HJR 2 would amend the constitution to allow the commissioners court of a county to declare the office of constable dormant if that office has been vacant for at least seven consecutive years. The records of a constable office that is declared dormant will be transferred to the county clerk. If the office is declared dormant, the previous officeholder does not continue to hold the office. The office may not be filled by election or appointment unless the commissioners court votes to reinstate the office or a majority of votes cast in an election held on the issue favor reinstatement. The reinstatement election may be held if the commissioners court on its own motion orders such an election, or the reinstatement election must be held if the commissioners court receives a petition signed by 10% of the registered voters of the constable precinct.

The proposition will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the commissioners court of a county to declare the office of constable in a precinct to be dormant if the office has not been filled by election or appointment for a lengthy period and providing a procedure for the reinstatement of the office."

Este es el informe explicatorio sobre la enmienda propuesta a la constitución que aparecerá en la boleta el 5 de noviembre de 2002. Interior secretary addresses
Native American summit

PHOENIX (AP) — Interior Secretary Gale Norton told American Indian leaders that tribal successes in travel and forestry can be the building blocks for developing sustainable reservation businesses.

"We hope that the success of one tribe will serve as a template for the success of other tribes," Norton said Tuesday during the first full day of the National Summit on Emerging Tribal Economies.

Norton told the leaders they can count on the government as an ally as they try to develop sustainable economies and generate strategies for raising capital.

She appeared at the conference on the same day a federal judge found her in contempt for failing to fix oversight problems with a trust handling hundreds of millions of dollars in royalties from Indian land.

Norton said the ruling deals mostly with events that occurred before the Bush administration, and she has devoted more energy to fixing the management of Indian money than any other project. Norton said she may appeal.

The summit drew 1,500

tribal leaders and federal government officials from across the country to Phoenix to plot the first steps toward creating new jobs and viable economies on reservations.

The stated goals of the conference are to create 100,000 new American Indian jobs by 2008 and to create sustainable Indian economies by 2020. The summit comes at a time when reservations nationwide face a 50 percent unemployment rate.

Norton said the goals can be attained by tribes working with the federal government. "These are very ambitious goals," she said. "To accomplish them will require a lot of effort."

Norton also attended meetings Monday in which Interior Department officials helped tribal officials develop strategies for dealing with government agencies.

Norton's keynote address was preceded by comments from several tribal leaders.

Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community President Ivan Makil focused on the importance of building relationships between the government and communities on and off reservations.

Wartime collaborator leaves French prison

PARIS (AP) — Wartime collaborator Maurice Papon, convicted of sending French Jews to Nazi death camps, was released from prison Wednesday after a court ruled he was too old and sick to serve out his 10-year sentence.

Papon, 92, emerged from La Sante prison, heavily guarded by dozens of police. His lawyers helped him into a dark Renault sedan. Residents of a nearby apartment building leaned out of windows to watch.

The court's decision provoked immediate outpourings of frustration and dismay from Holocaust survivors and others who fought a long battle to bring Papon to justice. Papon was convicted in 1998 of complicity in crimes against humanity.

Now that he is free, Papon plans to "rest, rebuild his health and spend time with family and friends," lawyer Jean-Marc Varaut said.

Varaut said his stunned client gathered up his prison belongings, including framed photos of his dead wife and of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, when told Wednesday of the ruling.

"He didn't believe it," Varaut said. "I told him he was free. He said: 'How did it happen?'"

Papon rose to budget minister after the war, making him the highest-ranking former French official sentenced for collaboration with the Nazis. His six-month trial revived painful memories of France's wartime past.

Papon led the Bordeaux area police during the Nazi occupation of France and was convicted in 1998 for signing orders that led to the deportation of 1,690 Jews from Bordeaux from 1942-44. Most were sent to Auschwitz. All but a handful died.

Papon's continuing imprisonment had sparked impassioned debate in France about jailing the elderly. Two former French prime ministers were among those who had called for Papon's release.

Papon had triple coronary bypass surgery several years ago and had a pacemaker implanted in January 1999.

His lawyers have repeatedly pressed for his release because of his poor health. They filed another request over the summer, based on a new provision in French law that allows prisoners to be freed if two independent doctors agree they are suffering from a fatal illness, or their long-term health is jeopardized by remaining behind bars.

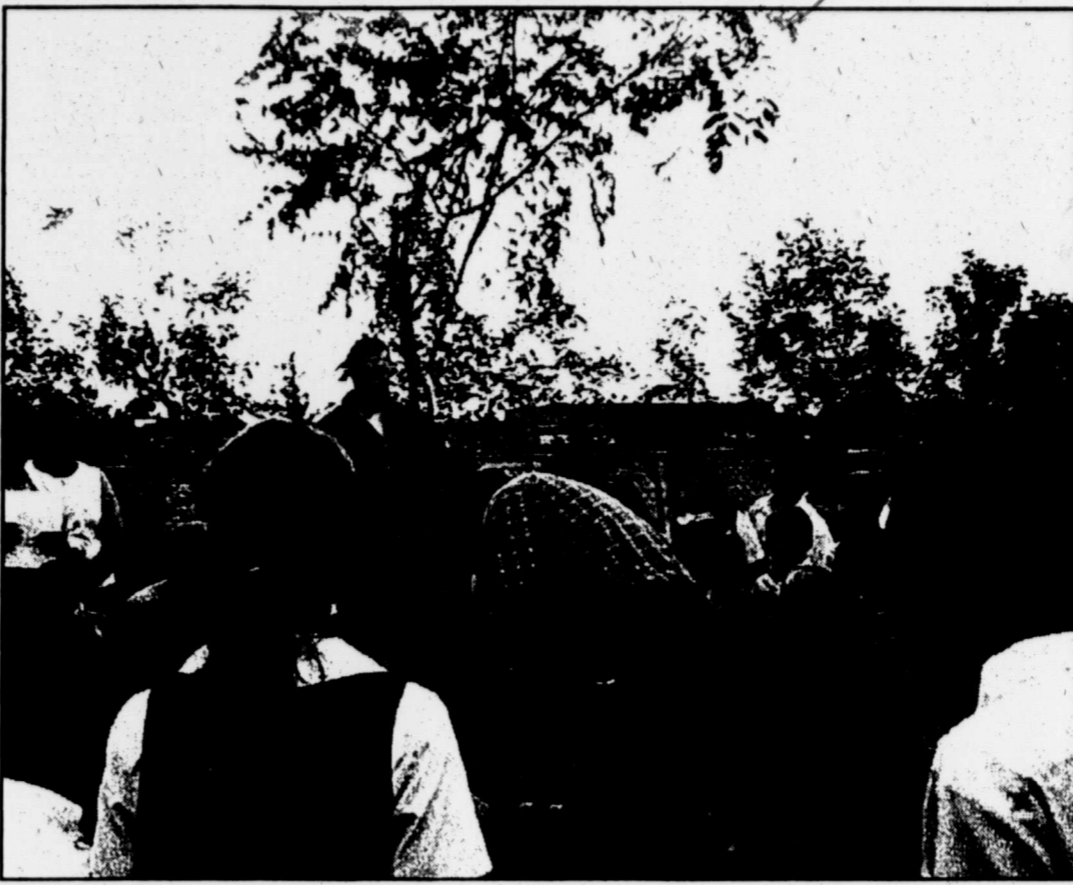

A court rejected the request on July 24, and Papon's lawyers appealed.

The panel of three appeals court judges said it based its decision on the opinion of several doctors who said Papon's health was "incompatible with his remaining in detention."

Minutes after the verdict was announced, anti-racism groups and representatives of Holocaust victims' families condemned it.

Serge Klarsfeld, a Nazi hunter and historian who helped assemble much of the evidence used at Papon's trial, said the decision to free him "gives a feeling of injustice."

Burundi officials to look into deaths

By ALOYS NIYOYITA
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

BUJUMBURA, Burundi (AP) — Burundi's government will investigate a report that 183 civilians were killed last week by uniformed men in an area of heavy fighting between government troops and rebels, a spokesman said Wednesday.

Information Minister Albert Mbonerane said the governor of north central Gitega province and the area's military commander have been ordered to investigate the killings and report back to government officials Thursday.

"We should wait for them to give their findings and the government will judge whether an investigative commission is needed or not," Mbonerane said.

The human rights commission of Burundi's parliament called Tuesday for an official investigation into the Sept. 9 killings. Commission head Leonidas Ntibayazi said people in Gitega province sought shelter in houses on the Kanyonga and Kagoma hills when shooting erupted between the army and rebels.

Without identifying those responsible, Ntibayazi said the uniformed men ordered the civilians out of the houses, "then told them to lie down and shot them in cold blood." The victims included many women and children, he said.

Local witnesses, who refused to identify themselves, said government soldiers shot the civilians.

Col. Augustin Nzabampema, the army spokesman, confirmed there was heavy fighting with one of Burundi's two Hutu rebel groups, the Forces for the Defense of Democracy, and did not deny that 183 people were killed. But he said rebels should be held responsible.

"If it is true innocent people were killed during the fighting, the responsibility falls on (the rebels), who misused the population by telling them that the area was securely in the hands of the rebels," Nzabampema said.

Rebel spokesman Lt. Gelase Ndirirabire insisted the army killed 1,200 civilians in the area after ordering people to assemble for a meeting. He demanded an investigation by an international commission.

Annual chuckwagon cook-off in offing at Saints' Roost Museum in Clarendon

CLARENDON — The eighth annual Col. Charles Goodnight Chuckwagon Cookoff will be staged all-day Sept. 28th on the grounds of the Saints' Roost Museum in Clarendon.

The gate will open at 7:30 a.m. Breakfast will be served and concessions will be available throughout the day. A trade show is scheduled to get under way at 10 a.m., and several museum tours will be conducted.

Entertainment will begin at 11 a.m. The slate of performers will include: Saints' Roost Jamboree Band, Dan Hall, and cowboy poet Oscar Aufer of Clarendon; Thut Creek, Cozy Parsons, and Buddy Payne of McLean; Christine Walls of Quitaque; and Gary Alan Bruce of Pampa.

Fourteen wagons will compete for top prizes and trade booths have been reserved by Kenneth Wyatt Galleries, silversmith Jack Craft, Rae's Candles, Courtney Shaller's jewelry, and a number of other western and Native American exhibitors.

Admission is free. Tickets for the chuckwagon supper are $10 each and may be purchased at Henson's Hardware Store in Clarendon or by calling (806) 874-3517. The meal will be served at 5 p.m.

The festivities will conclude Sunday morning with cowboy church under the tent at the museum. Shannon Hall of Loco, Okla., will officiate.

Proceeds from the annual cookoff celebration benefit the Saints' Roost Museum located in the old Adair Hospital in Clarendon.

Symphony sponsoring luncheons

AMARILLO — "Lunch & Listening" will kick-off at 12 noon, Sept. 27 at Amarillo Civic Center Auditorium. A $10 buffet luncheon will be served by The Big Texan backstage.

Started in 1986, Lunch & Listening takes place each Friday before the Saturday concert, and Music Director James Setapen and the Symphony's visiting guest artist for the concert speak to the audience about the upcoming program.

This lively presentation gives entertaining insights about the repertoire, composers, and, if the spirit moves him or her, the guest artist might perform some excerpts from the concert.

This program is a part of the many educational programs that the Amarillo Symphony and the Amarillo Symphony Guild provide. The program will be offered from 12-1 p.m., on the following dates:

September 27, 2001 Van Cliburn Silver Medal Winner Maxim Philippov. (Lunch: Pineapple wedge filled with chicken salad, tricolored spiral pasta, fresh fruit, bread, and brownies.)

October 25. Richard Rodgers and Friends. (Lunch: Smoked trout enchiladas with mild ancho pepper sour cream sauce, asparagus with fiesta salsa, salad, fruit, quesadillas, and pralines.)

November 22. William Preucil, violin. (Lunch: Pork tenderloin with hickory sauce, baked apples, acorn squash, salad, rolls, and lemon squares.)

January 24. Wu Man, pipa and Michael Palmer, guest conductor. (Lunch: Tenderloin, roasted potatoes, cole slaw, fruit, and cookies.)

February 7. Mary Jane Johnson, soprano. (Lunch: Crepe filled with chicken and mushrooms topped with white wine sauce, green beans almondine, salad, citrus salad, rolls, and strawberry cinnamon mini tart.)

March 28. Sharon Robinson, cello. (Lunch: Quiche Lorraine and broccoli quiche, baby spinach leaves with raspberry vinaigrette, fruit, breadsticks, and vanilla bean pound cake.)

April 11. Christine Brandes and Sarah Booth, both sopranos; Joe Bolin, tenor; Tim Kennedy, bass-baritone; Amarillo Civic Chorus/Steve Weber, conductor; West Texas A&M University Chorus/George Biffle, conductor. (Lunch: Chicken picatta, wild rice, steamed broccoli, salad, fruit, mini muffins, and strawberry shortcake.)

Tickets for reserved seats are $25, $20, and $15 and are available from the Symphony office. General admission tickets are available on the day of the performance for $10 at the Amarillo Symphony Box Office in the foyer of the Auditorium. For more information call the symphony office at (806) 376-8782 or visit on-line www.amarillosymphony.org.

KICK-OFF

He said that afternoon the boy ran to the field to show the clipping from the newspaper which described the boy as a leading hitter with a "perfect night at the plate."

Warner said that story was probably the only time a newspaper reported that boy in a positive manner.

He said the Optimist program is for all kids, rich or poor. In 1998, 470 kids played baseball and softball, he said, and that it grew to 620 in 1999.

Warner said that in the past three years the Optimist Club has been associated with United Way, they have been able to advertise the program. He also said they have been able to build a new ballpark.

"We've been able to tell people that if you don't have the money, it doesn't make any difference," he said. "We just want your kids to play."

"A Pampa family was devastated this past year when their home was destroyed by fire. They had five children, and they lost everything," he said. "But fortunately the American Red Cross was there. They pitched in and helped with temporary housing. They gave vouchers for groceries and clothing. They helped find them another place to live and paid the deposits so that they could integrate back in society."

He said the American Red Cross is there to help people who have fires, tornadoes or even the Twin Towers.

Tralee Crisis Center

"A few years ago, a 13-year-old in Pampa was very, very flattered when she was courted by a 21-year-old man," said Warner. "I have no idea why her parents permitted this, but four years later they were married. When she was 19 she gave birth to her first child."

Her entire marriage was one of abuse - both physical and mental, he said.

"She clung to the belief that he loved her, and he would never, ever harm her children," Warner told the group. "But by the time she had their third child, her worst fears were realized. She got up her courage, and she left."

With the help of the Tralee Crisis Center, who helped her first with housing and later on with utilities, Warner said the woman will graduate from college in December.

The agency provided individual counseling as well as group sessions.

"She learned she was not alone in these sessions," he said. "She was able to get back some of the self-esteem she had lost. Her husband stalked her, telling her, 'You are too stupid to get along without me. You can't handle it financially without me.'"

Warner said, "With Tralee's encouragement, she went back to school, and she will graduate in December as a nurse - with a 3.8 grade point average."

He said she is also giving back to the organization that gave so much to her as she is currently a Tralee volunteer helping other women.

Latchkey and Community Day Care

A single mother takes her three children to these programs while she works. Two of the children are in Community Day Care while the third is at Latchkey.

"She wouldn't be able to maintain her minimum wage job and would have to be on welfare to be supported by all of us. But thanks to these two organizations she's able to make a living and with child support at least make an existence for her three children," said Warner.

Boy Scouts

Telling of an 11-year-old becoming involved in Boy Scouts about 40 years ago, Warner said the values and skills young people learn in many organizations as children can reward Pampa many times over when the children reach adulthood.

He described a young man who earned the rank of Eagle Scout before leaving home to further his education at college at McMurry in Abilene.

"When he completed his education, he returned to Pampa where he gives back to his community," said Warner. "The community continues to reap the benefits of volunteers 40 years ago because of John Curry."

He told of Curry's involvement as a volunteer in scouting and that he is currently a United Way volunteer and president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

Lisa Ryan of Celanese is chairman of the United Way drive. Moving to Pampa 15 months ago, she said she has been "astounded" at the care and support provided by Pampa people to their neighbors.

She said the local organization served 10,000 people last year.

Ryan said while the goal is the same as last year, some businesses are unable to help as much as in the past. She said one local business has reduced their matching portion due to economic conditions. She asked the volunteers to ask people to give more generously this year.

United Way also provides assistance to the following groups which serve Pampa residents: The Bridge, CASA, Genesis House, Girl Scouts, Gray County Child Protective Services, High Plains Epilepsy Foundation, Pampa community Youth Service, Meals on Wheels, Pampa Sheltered Workshop, Salvation Army, Samaritan Pastoral Counseling Services, Southside Senior Citizens Center, and Texas Panhandle Mental Health Authority.

U.S., Britain begin drafting new Iraq resolution at U.N.

UNITED NATIONS (AP)

The United States and Britain began drafting a new resolution on Iraq on Wednesday aimed at authorizing the use of force should Baghdad fail to comply with U.N. Security Council resolutions, Western diplomats said.

The draft may be ready by next week and then circulated to the three other permanent members of the Security Council — France, Russia and China — one of the diplomats, who spoke on condition of anonymity, told The Associated Press.

Iraq's surprise announcement this week that it would accept the return of international weapons inspectors nearly four years after they left has divided the council, with the United States stepping up preparations for war even as weapons inspectors planned their return to Baghdad.

Russia, France and Arab nations oppose the U.S. demands for a new resolution. In Washington, Defense Secretary Donald H.

Rumsfeld told Congress that it should authorize the use of military force against Iraq before the Security Council makes a move.

"No terrorist state poses a greater and more immediate threat to the security of our people and the stability of the world than the regime of Saddam Hussein in Iraq," Rumsfeld told the House Armed Services Committee on Wednesday.

President Bush, also speaking Wednesday, said Iraq would not "fool anybody" with its about-face and predicted the United Nations will rally behind the United States despite Iraq's "ploy." His administration disclosed plans for moving B-2 bombers closer to Baghdad, preparing for possible war to remove President Saddam Hussein.

At the United Nations, key players moved ahead with plans for the inspectors' return. U.N. Secretary-General Kofi Annan was to meet later Wednesday with Iraqi Foreign Minister Naji Sabri.

On Tuesday, Secretary of State Colin Powell and Russian Foreign Minister Igor Ivanov clashed at a news conference over the need for a new Security Council resolution that would set a deadline for the return of inspectors and threaten consequences if Iraq doesn't cooperate.

The exchange between the two veto-holding council members set the stage for difficult negotiations if the United States introduces a tough anti-Iraq resolution, as expected.

"We have seen this game before," Powell said of the Iraqi offer of inspections. He called for a new resolution to keep the pressure on Iraq "to make sure that we satisfy the need for disarmament."

Ivanov said there was no need for a new resolution. "Russia believes that the main job now is to see to it that the inspectors — without any artificial delays or obstacles — should go to Iraq and get down to discharging their functions," he said.

ty as they prepare for an audience.

Since 1944, more than 1,600 boys have presented in excess of 3,500 performances in 42 states and overseas. The group, Boy Scout Troop 80, is sponsored by the Kwahadi Heritage Inc. and St. Paul's United Methodist Church of Amarillo and is a part of the Golden Spread Boy Scout council. It is financed through donations, performances, and the Christmas Treeland of Amarillo. The group also raised money by painting faces for 25 years at Funfest.

The Kwahadis began with Troop 9 as the result of a skit competition planned under the direction of Scout leaders, Ralph Ireland and Dr. C. E. Colgate. These two leaders realized the positive influence that the crafts and dances of the American Indian could have on young boys, making them better men.

Colgate had worked with Ralph Hubbard at his ranch in Colorado Springs where Scout groups met to learn outdoor skills and Indian lore. He taught his troop of eight boys the Sioux War Dance. They improvised, using a drum made of an old wooden nail keg. They made costumes and went through strenuous workouts.

Following the initial performance, they began to be booked for more shows. They added more dances, and the popularity of their show grew.

The Kwahadi name was chosen after the Comanche band that hunted the nearby Palo Duro Canyon area.

Kwahadi Dancers perform the Shield Dance.

Kwahadi is the Comanche word for antelope. After 30 years, their name became official at a Comanche powwow.

The Kwahadi shield, patterned after the flag of Oklahoma Indian Territory, was selected as the official emblem of the group. The group has worked with Indians through the years and learned many dance routines.

During the 1950s, several dance teams emerged and by 1967 boys from all over the Panhandle merged into the one team. They officially opened the million-dollar Kiva in 1967, and were chartered into Explorer Post 80 in 1968. In 1992 the leaders created Eighty Scouts Inc., a non-profit corporation to own the property and sponsor Troop 80.

One of the most memorable experiences on one of their annual tours included the five shows they performed in Jordan as guests of King Hussein for 12,000 international guests. While there, they toured the Holy Lands.

Traditionally they hold winter performances in December at the Kiva and Indian Summer performances in Pioneer Amphitheater in Palo Duro Canyon.

A groundbreaking was held Sept. 14 for Phase I of their new Kwahadi Heritage Center, to be built on a 24-acre site between Lakeside and Tiltrotter drives off Interstate Highway 40. The Center will provide a showcase on Native American dance and art.

The museum will include Indian paintings, writings and artifacts of noted researcher Thomas Malls. This includes 1,600 books on Native American subjects, 3,000 charcoal illustrations, 70 oil and pastel paintings, and 5,000 color photographs. An amphitheater is planned for Phase II of the Center.

FOOTBALL

BALTIMORE (AP) — With the wail of bagpipes filling the cathedral and his coffin covered in white lilies and roses, Johnny Unitas was remembered as "the greatest," a quarterback who made the impossible possible.

Before more than 2,000 relatives, fans and friends, the Hall of Famer was honored as a leader who forever changed the NFL and made everyone around him better. Unitas died Wednesday of a heart attack at 69.

CROSS COUNTRY

DUMAS — Pampa cross country teams competed in the Dumas Invitational last weekend.

Pampa's best finish came in the boys' division with Evan Ladd placing 44th. Other placings were by Brodie Hall (55), Will Vise (64) and Steven Smith (74).

Korëy Dunn was 55th in the girls division.

"Our times are better even though we didn't place very well," said Pampa coach Mark Elms. "We need to be in the top 15."

GOLF

CANADIAN — Joyce Swope of Pampa won consolation in the championship flight at the 11th annual Western Lone Star Senior Ladies Golf Association Tournament earlier this month.

Joyce Epperson, also of Pampa, placed second in the fifth flight.

The tournament was held at the Canadian Golf Club.

PAMPA — Community Care will hold a fund-raising golf scramble Saturday at the Pamel Course. Tee time is 9 a.m.

Prizes will be awarded in first through third place in the four-person scramble.

Entry deadline is Friday. For more information, call 665-3823, 663-4942 or 663-4479.

HUNTING

PAMPA — The Top O' Texas Chapter will host a Ducks Unlimited Dinner at 7:30 Saturday night in the Pampa Community Center, located at 200 North Ballard.

Ruffling of Feathers is scheduled for 6:30, followed by the dinner.

For more information, call 669-0433.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — The NCAA rejected Alabama's request that it ease sanctions against the football program.

Alabama sought restoration of six scholarships and its bowl eligibility but the appeals committee upheld all the penalties imposed after the program was cited for illegal recruiting by boosters and other infractions.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — An NCAA infractions appeals committee upheld a one-year postseason ban placed on Kentucky's football program.

The ban was one of several sanctions levied against the school in January after internal and NCAA investigations unearthed dozens of recruiting violations.

Anaheim opens one-game lead over A's in AL West Division

By The Associated Press

Troy Percival loves the feeling:

"I've never been to the playoffs, but I can't imagine anything much more adrenalin-filled than this," he said after finishing Anaheim's 1-0 victory over Oakland on Tuesday night, a game that gave the Angels a one-game lead in the AL West.

"That," Percival said, "was probably the best-pitched ball-game on both sides I've ever seen. Both guys didn't miss a spot all night."

Tim Salmon homered with one out in the 10th against Billy Koch (10-4) to give Anaheim its 17th win in 19 games.

Mark Mulder matched his career high with 12 strikeouts for Oakland, allowing five hits over nine innings. Anaheim's Jarrod Washburn, pitching on three days' rest, gave up three hits in eight innings. Neither pitcher walked a batter.

"It's never something you wish for, to be in a battle like that, but it was a lot of fun out there," Washburn said. "I'm never dominant, but it was just about the best game I've pitched all year. It was definitely one of the highlights of my career so far."

Salmon worked a full count before hitting his 20th homer, a drive deep into the elevated left-field stands.

"It feels great to get the big one in a game like this. I've played my whole career for this," Salmon said. "I can't imagine more intensity than there was out there tonight."

In other games, it was: Seattle 3, Texas 2 in 10 innings; Minnesota 4, Detroit 4; Boston 4, Cleveland 2; Tampa Bay 9, New York 7; Baltimore 10, Toronto 4; and Chicago 6, Kansas City 1.

Twins 7, Tigers 4

Jacque Jones had four hits, including a homer leading off the game, before spraining his left ankle on an awkward slide into second at Detroit.

Torii Hunter had a bruised left triceps after being hit by a pitch and Corey Koskie bruised his right shin after fouling a ball off his leg. X-rays showed no major injuries.

Luis Rivas tied a career high with four hits and Brad Radke (9-4) sent Detroit to its 21st loss in 26 games.

Harvesters honored as Team of the Week

PAMPA — It was a great week for the Pampa High School football program.

Not only did head coach Dennis Cavalier pick up his 100th win, but the Pampa Harvesters were honored as Team of the Week by the Amarillo Globe-News after their 22-16 overtime win over Amarillo High.

It was the 18th time in 80 meetings that Pampa has beaten the Class 5A Sandies. Cavalier reached the century mark in his 16th season as Harvester coach.

Senior quarterback John Braddock was cited for tossing three touchdown passes, including the game-winning 12-yard pass to Seth Foster in overtime.

Braddock's game-tying touchdown came with 1:08 to play on a 23-yard pass to Ryan Zemanek, which completed a 67-yard drive. His other TD toss was a 30-yarder to Jesse Tarango in the second quarter.

Tarango was Pampa's leading receiver with 8 catches for 113 yards.

Jered Snelgrooves added a 38-yard field goal that gave Pampa the early lead in the first quarter.

Braddock, who has thrown nine touchdown passes for the season, threw for 285 yards against the Sandies. He completed 26 of 42 pass attempts with one interception.

Pampa's defense also came through, holding Amarillo High's ground attack to 140 yards. AHS didn't gain any positive yardage during its overtime possession.

Tristan Brown, Britten East and Tommy Abernathy were Pampa's defensive leaders.

On the offensive line, center Brandon McElroy played a key role with his blocking efforts.

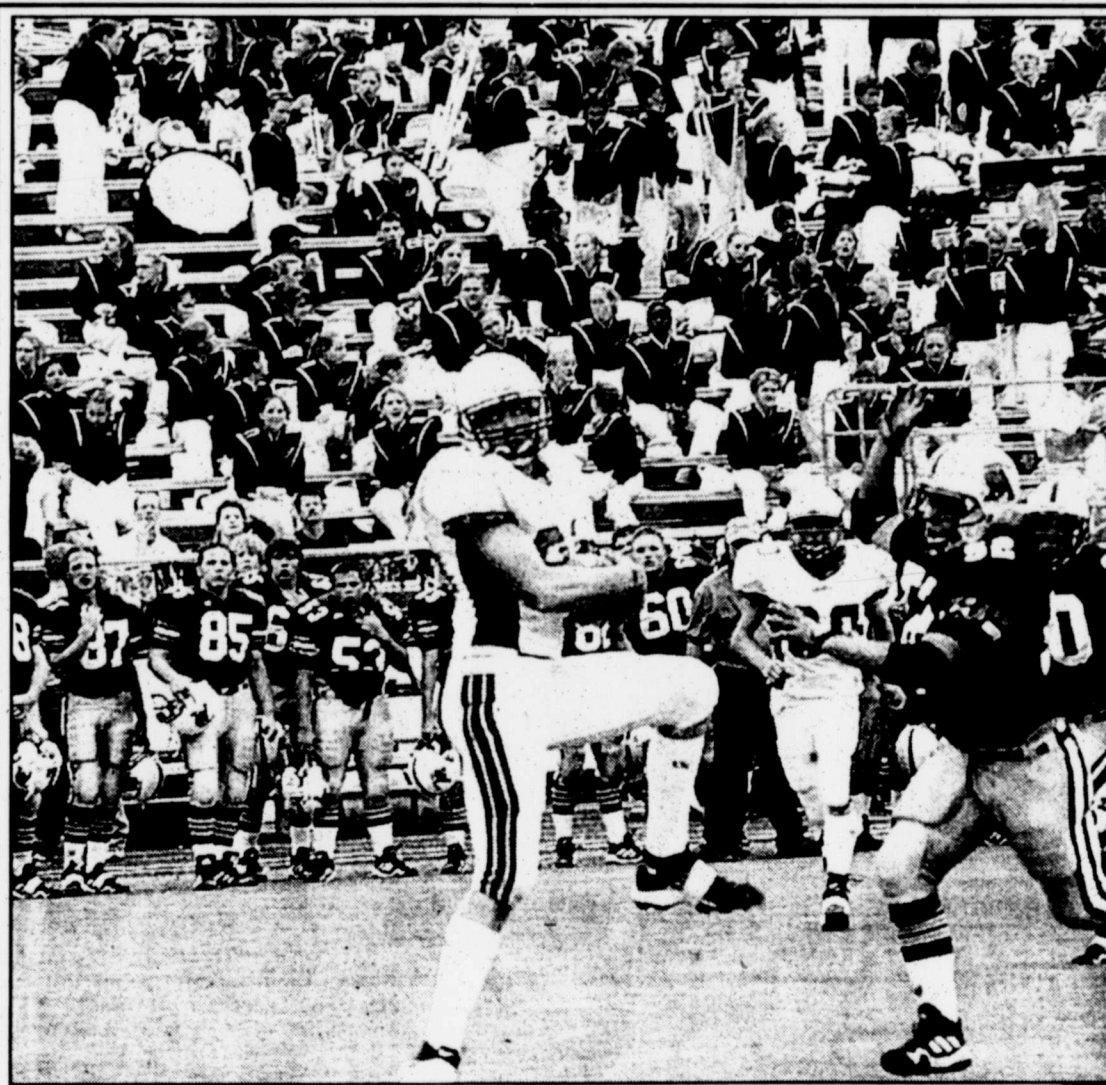

Pampa, 2-1 for the season, hosts Borger at 7:30 Friday night in Harvester Stadium.

Connecticut woman qualifies for PGA Tour event

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Suzy Whaley has a chance to become the first woman to play in a PGA Tour event. Whether she does so is another matter.

Whaley, the head pro at a Connecticut golf club, earned an exemption to next year's Greater Hartford Open. She won a PGA Section Championship on Tuesday, becoming the first woman to qualify for a tournament on the PGA Tour.

The 35-year-old former LPGA player said she hasn't decided if she'll play at the GHO, a tournament close to home in several respects.

Her husband, Bill, is the general manager at the TPC at River Highlands in Cromwell, where the GHO is held each summer.

"It's ironic," said Whaley, who lives in the Hartford suburb of Farmington. "My household has a lot of discussing to do on that. That is truly up in the air."

The GHO is more than happy to welcome her.

"We'd be thrilled to have her," GHO chairman Dan Baker said. "She's a great player. She earned it."

Baker said the GHO reserves a spot for the section champ with no regard to gender. Baker said other women have previously tried to qualify for the GHO.

On Tuesday, Whaley played off tees 10 percent closer to the hole than the men's tees. She would have to play the GHO from the same tees as the men.

Whaley, with her mother as her caddie, shot a 1-under-par

71 at Ellington Ridge Country Club. She had a total of 5-under 211, with rounds of 68-72-71 to win the Connecticut Section title. She is the first woman to win a Section Championship.

"I had a couple wins this summer already and had a whole lot of confidence," said Whaley, the pro at Blue Fox Run Golf Club in Avon.

Whaley started the day two strokes behind leader Bob Mucha, then fell three back when Mucha birdied No. 10. Mucha then made three bogeys and a double bogey over the final six holes to finish second at 213.

Whaley made her move on No. 16 with a birdie on the 430-yard par-4 hole, dropping a 30-foot putt after hitting a 7-wood approach.

Whaley grew up in Syracuse, N.Y., and played college golf at North Carolina. She competed on the LPGA Tour in 1990 and 1993. The birth of two daughters, now 8 and 5, kept her from serious competition for a while.

In June, she became the first woman to qualify for the National Club Professional Championship.

Tuesday's win also gives her a spot on next year's Challenge Cup team, a 10-year exemption into the Connecticut Open and a lifetime exemption into the Connecticut Section Tournament of Champions.

Her opponents this week were Connecticut colleagues. "Hardworking guys," she called them.

"I've gotten to know them, but it was serious out there today," Whaley said.

Bonds delivers again, Giants move ahead of the Dodgers

By the Associated Press

Given a rare chance to swing away with runners on base, Barry Bonds delivered.

Bonds came up with yet another big hit, a two-run double that sent the San Francisco Giants toward a 6-4 win over Los Angeles on Tuesday night and a one-game lead over the Dodgers in the NL wild-card race.

Bonds, leading the majors in hitting at .373, drew three more walks that boosted his single-season record total to 182. He also lined a two-out drive to left-center field that capped a four-run second inning at Dodger Stadium.

"I didn't want to leave any pitches out over the plate to Bonds because we don't want to get beat by that guy," Omar Daal said. "I was trying to throw that pitch away, but I left it right down the middle of the plate. I'm not perfect. This was just a bad game for me."

Bonds' hit chased Daal, and the Giants bounced back from a one-run loss to Los Angeles the previous night. Both teams have 11 games left, including meetings Wednesday and Thursday nights at Dodger Stadium.

"I'm not telling my team anything," Giants manager Dusty Baker said after his win for the 20th time in 29 games. "I'm just telling them to go out there and play. I really don't have to say very much. They know how I want them to play, they know how to play."

In other NL games, St. Louis beat Colorado 11-4, San Diego stopped Arizona 3-2, Milwaukee edged Houston 5-4, Atlanta defeated Philadelphia 2-1, Montreal beat Florida 8-5 in 14 innings, New York topped Chicago 3-1 and Pittsburgh downed Cincinnati 11-3.

The Giants won despite leaving 14 runners on base. Dodgers catcher Paul Lo Duca helped thwart San Francisco with a spectacular, sliding catch on Damon Minor's pop just before tumbling into the Los Angeles dugout in the seventh.

"We played well tonight, but we got beat," Lo Duca said. "That's the bottom line. They got out in front of us and we scratched and clawed our way back, but we just couldn't catch them."

Robb Nen pitched a perfect ninth for his 39th save in 47 chances. It was his 310th career save, tying Goose Gossage for 12th place on the all-time list.

Cardinals 11, Rockies 4
 Tino Martinez hit a grand slam to highlight a seven-run eighth inning and St. Louis trimmed its magic number for clinching the NL Central to five.

Pinch-hitter So Taguchi had a go-ahead single for his first major league RBI, then the Cardinals broke it open at Colorado on Albert Pujols' two-run single and Martinez's 10th career slam.

Pampa 13-14 team splits fall league baseball games

AMARILLO — Howard Compressor Service of Pampa split two games last weekend to open the Amarillo YMCA Fall Baseball League season. Howard Compressor is a team of 13-14 year-old players entered in the 13-15 year-old fall league.

Howard lost the opener to the Amarillo Pirates 13-5. Pampa pitchers struggled in the opener, yielding 6 hits, 13 walks and hitting 3 batters. Highlighting the game for Pampa was a solo home run by James Coffee. Also collecting hits for Pampa were Keenan Davis, Jake Craig and Ryan Hansen.

Pampa got things on track in the late game against the Amarillo Texans, winning 15-10. Keenan Davis got credit for the win with relief help from Jarrod Moler and Sameer Kelley. Davis pitched the first three innings, giving up one run on three hits while striking out four.

Defensive gems were turned in by Jake Craig, who had an unassisted double play and right fielder Sameer Kelley, who threw out a runner at third base.

On the offensive side, Pampa pounded out 16 hits with all players in the lineup collecting a hit and scoring a run. Sameer Kelley paced the way, going 4 for 5 with 2 doubles and 2 singles. Jarrod Moler was 3 for 5 with 2 singles and a triple.

Ewing retires, takes job with Wizards

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — This retirement business won't be easy, Patrick Ewing said, not easy at all for one of the 50 greatest players in NBA history.

"I'll miss the camaraderie, the rivalries with other teams," Ewing said Tuesday after ending his 17-year career. "I'll miss everything."

The next stop for the 40-year-old center will be a seat on the Washington Wizards bench as an assistant coach for Michael Jordan's franchise.

"What more could you ask than to have a future Hall of Fame player on your staff, working with your players every day," Washington coach Doug Collins said.

"It will be a real privilege for our players to work with Patrick. His firsthand experience in this league, the ability to prepare yourself as a professional, and knowing what it takes to win, will be absolutely priceless lessons for our players to learn from Patrick."

Ewing is somewhat amused to be working with Jordan, who played on six NBA championship teams with the Chicago Bulls and often deprived Ewing of the prize he wanted most — an NBA title. The Bulls eliminated Ewing's New York Knicks from the playoffs four times.

The NBA championship was the missing piece of the puzzle for the 7-footer who led Georgetown to three NCAA finals, including the 1984 title, before becoming the No. 1 pick in the first NBA lottery draft.

"I'm disappointed I never won a championship — in the pros," Ewing said. "We did the best we could to help the franchise win one. It didn't happen. That's life. You've got to move on."

In 1994, Ewing led New York to a 3-2 lead over the Houston Rockets in the NBA Finals before losing in seven games. He said his greatest memory was converting a put-back on a shot by John Starks that beat Indiana for the Eastern Conference title, sending the Knicks to those finals.

Ewing was injured in 1999 when New York lost in the finals in five games to the San Antonio Spurs.

For 15 years, Ewing was the foundation of the Knicks. There were two closing seasons with Seattle and Orlando, footnotes to a career as one of the league's most dominant centers.

Ewing finishes his NBA career with 24,815 points and 11,606 rebounds. He was an 11-time All-Star and holds a number of Knicks records, including leading scorer (22.8 points) and leading rebounder (10.4).

"He came to work every day," longtime sidekick Charles Oakley said. "He put a lot of effort into what he wanted to do, what he wanted to accomplish."

Also attending Ewing's farewell news conference were ex-teammates Charley Ward, Allan Houston, Herb Williams and Mark Jackson; coaches Mike Jarvis, Don Chaney and Jeff Van Gundy; and Miami's Alonzo Mourning, out for the season with the Miami Heat because of a kidney condition.

Ewing was asked how he wanted to be remembered.

"As a hard hat," he said. "A hard nose. The work ethic I brought, I gave it 110 percent. I thought I had a great career. I have no regrets. I wouldn't trade it for anything. I enjoyed every minute."

Ewing said he thought hard about retiring, discussing the move with friends and family.

"It's still 50-50," he said. "Should I play? Should I retire? I felt I could still play."

"It's time to move on. It was a great ride."

So what happens if next season some team decides it needs help in the middle? Is Ewing available?

He laughed at the question.

"A few teams called," he said. "I made this decision anyway. Unless one of the Wizards goes down and they tell me, 'Put down the pad, we need you to get some shots ...'"

Dave Checketts, longtime president of the Knicks, remembered Ewing's work ethic. In a game against Milwaukee, the center banded his knee and, with the Knicks comfortably in front, went to the dressing room. Checketts came down to join him.

As the two men sat, talking about basketball and families, the Bucks sliced the Knicks' lead to single digits. Ewing, watching on TV, removed the ice from his knee and stood.

"Look," Checketts recalled him saying, "I've enjoyed talking to you, but I've got to go." He pulled the sleeve over his knee, went back out to check into the game, and we won it."

Rangers defeated by Mariners in 10 innings

SEATTLE (AP) — Ryan Franklin may have earned a spot in the Seattle Mariners rotation next season.

Franklin struck out a career-best nine and pitched 8 1-3 innings of three-hit ball Tuesday night, leading the Mariners to a 3-2, 10-inning victory over the Texas Rangers.

"Franklin has shown us he belongs in our rotation next year," manager Lou Piniella said. "He was really sharp. Any time you throw a three-hitter against a good-hitting team like Texas, that is a good performance."

Franklin retired the first 14 hitters he faced before Carl Everett's two-out bloop single in the fifth inning.

"I thought about the no-hitter after Everett's hit," Franklin said. "Someday, I'd like to throw one in the major leagues."

His performance was a big improvement over his Sept. 12 start against the Rangers in Texas. He allowed seven hits and five earned runs and was the loser.

"I want to go out and do my job whatever it is,"

Franklin said. "I focused on hitting my spots and did it."

Carlos Guillen's two-out single scored pinch-runner Jose Offerman in the 10th inning, giving the Mariners their third straight victory.

Arthur, Rhodes (9-4) pitched 1 2-3 innings for Seattle, seven games behind Oakland in the AL wild-card race with 11 games left.

John Olerud led off the 10th with a single off Rich Rodriguez (3-2) and Offerman pinch-ran. He took second on Bret Boone's sacrifice, moved to third on an infield out and scored on Guillen's drive off C.J. Nitkowski.

Guillen's shot sailed over the head of center fielder Donnie Sadler, who was playing shallow. Guillen saw where Sadler was playing.

"I just wanted to hit the ball hard," Guillen said.

Rangers manager Jerry Narron defended the positioning of Sadler, a defensive substitute in the eighth inning.

"We brought him in a couple of steps. I'd rather have him defend a ball in front of him than defend a ball at the warning track," Narron said.

Horoscope BY JACQUELINE BIGAR

HAPPY BIRTHDAY Thursday, for Sept. 19, 2002:
Others seek you out this year. You barely need to do anything. Your popularity soars in different areas of your life. Your efforts come back to you in many ways. You become much happier on a daily basis, enjoying those around you. You develop a very pleasant manner, which associates, friends and family cannot help but respond to. If you are single, your dance card will be filled, but finding the right person might take awhile. Don't get discouraged. Enjoy socializing and networking. If attached, you often juggle your needs with your sweetie's. Start dialoguing about your inner conflicts. Closeness results from these sharings. PISCES understands you.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
 Extremes punctuate your emotions and feelings. A friend goes off the deep end, and you feel the need to catch him or her. Be extremely thoughtful of others. A special card or token of affection warms up the emotional climate. Tonight: Turn on the answering machine. TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
 Bosses seem to be iffy but OK with your choices. Head in the direction you feel is best. Don't allow another's ambivalence to waylay you. Associates as well as intimates smile at your decisions and actions. Network to your heart's content. Tonight: Where the cards are. GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
 Accept responsibility for others, especially at work. Help associates relax and feel more at ease. What seems most doable to you could be difficult for others. Establish greater good will in the workplace. Let the good times roll. Tonight: Could be late. CANCER (June 21-July 22)

 Your instincts guide you. News from a distance brings unusual luck and opportunity. Add a touch of imagination, and you'll come up with something unique, being able to create a very special happening or event with others. Tonight: Think "weekend." LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
 Deal with others from your centered, caring space. Others feel your warmth and head toward you. Don't do anything halfway right now. An associate or partner wants to connect on a much deeper level. Don't push this person away. Tonight: One-on-one time. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
 You say the right thing at the right time. Your popularity soars to the extent that you cannot get anything done. Think twice about what might be workable. You could be delighted by what someone you care about shares. Tonight: The only possible response is "yes." LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
 Dig into work and get as much done as possible. Your sixth sense takes you in a new direction. Evaluate someone's behavior, understanding that he or she might be starry-eyed. Dig into your work, knowing that you need to pitch in and help others as well. Tonight: Treat yourself on the way home. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
 You're able to make a difference. Your emotional responses are right on. Don't do anything halfway. Your instincts help you know what is going on with a family member or loved one. Help this person feel more relaxed through your actions. Tonight: Play away. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

 You might not be able to share what is going on with yourself. A secret needs to stay that way. Take action in a personal or domestic matter. Logic won't work in a discussion. Just let a pal know that you have thought out a decision. Tonight: Put on a favorite piece of music. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
 A friend comes through for you. Good news happens through meetings and brainstorming sessions. Make calls and reach out for others. Someone has something important to share. Your sensitivity to the moment and what to say makes you a winner. Tonight: Say "yes." AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
 Take the lead financially, knowing when you need to say you have had enough. Others will respond. You don't always want to overindulge, but someone close expects just that. Loosen up when emotionally dealing with family. Tonight: Be less uptight. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
 The Moon highlights you. Use this extra touch of charisma to further a heartfelt project. Your ways might foster more than friendly feelings with an associate. Detach and decide what you think is appropriate here. Tonight: All you have to do is wish upon a star.
