Admiral Says Security Of U. S. Is Threatened

The warning to Congress sounded by Admiral D. Leahy, Chief of Naval Operations, that not only is this country open to invasion, but that the Monroe Doctrine guaranteed security of Central and South American republics is at the mercy of old-world foes unless backed by U. S. naval might, brought a proposal from Rep. Kniffen of Ohio that the admiral's defensive "wall of steel," ending at Panama Canal, be extended to include the entire South American coastline. Admiral Leahy is seen above (left) pointing out to Chairman Vinson of the Naval Affairs Committee (right), the fighting "lifeline" he declared President Roosevelt's $800,000,000 naval expansion program would throw around this country.

Scouts To Open Week By Attending Church In Groups On Sunday

CAGERS WILL WATCH FIGHTS

Because Coach Odus Mitchell and Harvester basketballers saw the Golden Gloves tournament last night they will not play Canadian tonight at 9 o'clock in the Miami tournament as scheduled. They are playing this afternoon. The game was scheduled to start at 2 o'clock.

This morning Coach Mitchell was besieged with pleas of his players to try to get a change in the game hour that would enable the boys to stay in Pampa and watch the fights. The coach was hoping that the boys would do something like that. He was only too glad to telephone Miami for a change in the hour. Tournament officials granted the change. The Pampa cagers, favorites to win the meet, will return to Miami tomorrow to finish the tournament.

Now, Coach Mitchell and most of the basketball players will be on hand tonight when J. P. Mathews fights Martin Cluck of Shamrock.

The latest sensation in the Golden Gloves tournament is LeRoy Davis of Higgins who won over his opponent in the final match last night. Davis, one-time bouncer for an Oklahoma night club, and son of a pioneer Higgins family, whipped Bob Ritchie in the finals of the 1936 Clovis Golden Gloves tournament. Babe Ritchie, Bob's brother, won the state heavyweight title at Fort Worth last year.

TOMCAT SAVES TWO WOMEN FROM DEATH

CHICAGO, Feb. 4 (AP)—A black and white tomcat named Skippy owned a bronze medal today for saving two women from asphyxiation. Unaware that gas was escaping from a stove, Mrs. Anna Augustine and Mrs. Mary Luppert, sisters, retired for an afternoon nap. Skippy sensed danger, meowed and clawed at their skirts, but they sent him away.

I HEARD - - -

Postmaster C. H. Walker, recently rained from Washington, exploded the theory that George Washington cut down the cherry tree. It seems that "Papa" Washington was deaf when he asked George who cut down the tree, George replied, "The did it." Ike was a negro boy, playmate of George's, according to the postmaster. "Papa" Washington thought George said "I did it" and George didn't get a licking.

FOR TRYING TO PUT 'A FLOOR UNDER WAGES'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he was trying to put a floor under wages in the same manner that he was endeavoring to establish a minimum for agricultural prices.

Price fixing or wage fixing, he added, was not contemplated. The President made the statement to his press conference shortly before representatives of little business men—fresh from a turbulent two-day conference—went to the White House to tell him of their ideas on recovery. Many of the ideas failed to jibe with those of the administration.

The little business men presented a long statement on government-business relations adopted yesterday as the conference closed. The President's remarks on wages and farm prices were made in response to a question of whether he agreed with Senator Wagner (D-NY) who recently contended, in opposing the prevailing wage amendment to the housing bill, that collective bargaining would be eliminated and the country put on the road to fascism if the government ever attempted to say how much a carpenter or bricklayer and all other workers should receive.

The President said that argument was in line with what he had always said. But he warned reporters against misinterpreting.

LOMBARDO BANDAGED AFTER FIGHT IN CAFE

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Guy Lombardo, orchestra leader, displayed a bandaged nose and a pair of discolored eyes today as tokens of what happens when a "sweet music" man gets in the way of a swing.

WINTER SPELL RAKES NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4 (AP)—Northern California, shivering and wet after four days of rain, snow roads and swollen streams. There were threats of flood along the Sacramento and Feather rivers. One woman froze to death, three persons were missing in mountain snows, and 38 persons were snowbound or trapped by impassable roads and swollen streams. There were threats of flood along the Sacramento and Feather rivers. Along the coast, mariners described conditions for the 36 hours ending at midnight Thursday as the worst for shipping in 30 years.

LAND VACANCY CLAIMS HEARD IN TESTIMONY

AUSTIN, Feb. 4 (AP)—A Senate committee investigating Land Commissioner William H. McDonald heard more today about persons allegedly going over the state and expressing confidence they could obtain land office approval of vacancy claims.

Everett Hughes, abstractor of Wichita Falls (1905 Monroe street) was a witness. He said he had sought to obtain eight vacancies from the Land Commissioner's office and so far had not received any.

Various persons came to him with propositions whereby they would seek to obtain favorable action on his claims in return for an interest of the mineral leases or a cash consideration, he said. These persons he added, maintained they were in better position than he to effect approval of the applications.

It was the second time during the nine-day hearing that testimony of this character had been presented. The previous testimony concerned B. A. "Jerry" Adams of Tyler.

SEWER LINE WILL BE BUILT IN ADDITIONS

MINSTREL TO AID CRIPPLED KIDDIES HERE

Tickets to the Lions club annual minstrel show are now on sale at the office of Roy McMillen, business manager of the Pampa Independent School district, and will remain on sale at that office until Wednesday morning, when they will be then obtained from a desk in the lobby of the Rose building.

Mr. McMillen has a supply of both reserved and general admission tickets. There a block of 400 reserved seat tickets, selling at 75 cents each. General admission tickets sell at 50 cents each, for the lower floor, 35 cents for balcony seats.

The Lions club annual minstrel show, which will be the fifth one presented here for the benefit of the club's fund for crippled children, will be presented Thursday and Friday nights by a cast of 50 in the school auditorium building. The show is to start at 8:15 o'clock each night.

ROY WIGHT, EX-PAMPAN, KILLED IN FORT WORTH

Friends here learned late this morning of the death of Roy Wight, former Pampa resident, at his home in Fort Worth. Death was from a gunshot wound through his heart believed to have been self-inflicted.

Mr. Wight was transferred from Pampa to Wichita Falls three years ago as divisional engineer for the Texas company. More than a year ago he was again transferred to the company main office in Fort Worth. No cause for his action could be learned by friends excepting that he had been in ill health and had just returned from a two-week leave of absence. Yesterday he reported to his office but was urged to continue his vacation for another month before moving to the West Texas field where he was to become assistant district superintendent.

SHERIFF TAKES LEWIS JURY TO SEE FIGHTS

Even jurors are among the fans attending the Golden Gloves boxing tournament, which will be concluded tonight at the Pampa Athletic arena.

DEAD HORSE MEANS Sudden Wealth for Cabby in Madrid

MADRID, Feb. 4 (AP)—An unhappy cabby whose horse was killed yesterday by shrapnel from an insurgent shell that exploded against the front of the Associated Press office found consolation today in sudden wealth.

Runaway Boy Loves Only Father

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Howard Frankel's fourth runaway in 12 days from his unwanted home in Brooklyn ended early today when a newspaper employe, on his way home from work, found him at the Manhattan end of the Brooklyn bridge.

The 12-year-old youngster, who remains his father's boy in spite of a court order giving him to his mother, has disappeared so often that a special detective has been assigned to conduct all searches for him.

He did not return home from school yesterday and his description, now familiar to thousands in New York and in New Jersey towns across the Hudson, went out over police wires again.

Desperate in his attempts to return to his father, Julius Frankel, in Linden, N. J., the boy has threatened to kill himself.

GO-EDS WAR ON SYPHILIS

AUSTIN, Feb. 4 (AP)—The University of Texas' war on syphilis spread to women students today. Sponsored by two student organizations and approved by the dean of women, an illustrated lecture by the state health department was planned for women students.

FLETCHER AND WARREN BACK IN CLASSROOMS

The cases of four Pampa youths, two charged with juvenile delinquency, and two with burglary, in connection with a series of petty thefts over the Panhandle, will probably be among the cases considered by the 31st district court grand jury when it reconvenes Monday.

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Twenty-three recommendations to combat the recession were placed before President Roosevelt today by a committee representing the small businessmen's conference. White House officials declared afterward the President thought a large majority of them were constructive and possible of fulfillment.

J. E. MURFEE'S FATHER DIES

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR J. E. MURFEE, Sr., 77, pioneer Lubbock resident, who died at his home in Lubbock late yesterday afternoon, will be held there tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Murfee was the father of J. E. Murfee, Jr., of Pampa, founder of Murfee's, Inc., department store in Pampa. H. L. Polley, manager of the store, announced today the store will be closed from 2 to 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon during funeral services.

The death of Mr. Murfee yesterday followed a nine-day illness. He had been a resident of Lubbock for 33 years, moving there from Haskell county in 1904. He was well-known in Pampa, having visited here many times.

Funeral rites are scheduled for 2 p. m. in the First Methodist church at Lubbock with Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor, officiating. Mr. Murfee had been an active member of the Methodist church for more than half a century.

I SAW - - -

Coach Odus Mitchell moving from the front row on the ring-side to the seat behind him last night after he had been doused by water from a boxer's corner.

This corner trying to make up his mind which one of the following top-notch attractions he would attend tonight: Tovarich, the LaNora show and one of the best movies of the year; the AAUW's Cyrano de Bergerac at the high school auditorium; the Golden Gloves tournament at the Miami basketball tournament.

Likening Hague to Hitler, he says President Roosevelt, "as head of that liberal party which passed the labor relations act," should be asked about the conception of government held by Hague, state Democratic leader and vice-chairman of the national Democratic committee.

M'GRAW SEEKS TO HALT HUGE OIL SHIPMENT

AUSTIN, Feb. 4 (AP)—The attorney general's department today sought to halt shipment of more than 30,000 barrels of alleged reclaimed oil at Gladewater. Assistant Attorney General Harry S. Pollard said application for a writ of error had been filed in the supreme court seeking to reverse a ruling of the Austin court of civil appeals which directed the Railroad commission to authorize movement of the oil.

The Beaver Reclamation Oil company at Gladewater claimed to have salvaged the crude from three creeks in that area in 1935 after the oil had allegedly escaped and been abandoned.

2 INSURGENT PLANES HIT COAL STEAMER

By The Associated Press Spanish insurgent bombs that sent another British freighter to the bottom of the Mediterranean and a parliamentary speech by the foreign minister of Japan today emphasized the threat of war on two sides of the earth.

All aboard were rescued while two seaplanes bombed and sank the 1,387-ton steamer Alcira off Barcelona. The Alcira was trying to get through the insurgent blockade with a load of coal.

In Tokyo, Foreign Minister Koki Hirota addressed parliament that Japan had "warned other powers strictly to supervise shipments of arms munitions to China."

He did not name the nations cautioned but said neither Italy nor Germany—allied with Japan against international communism—were materially aiding China.

Aroused by the sinking of the Alcira and Endymion, Britain today intensified her leadership of forceful efforts to clear the Mediterranean of marauding planes and submarines.

France joined Britain in a renewed policy of force to protect neutral shipping and together they were reliably reported to have massed 70 destroyers to patrol the lanes of commerce. British planes that had been called home from the anti-piracy patrol were expected to be sent back.

Authoritative sources indicated Britain, if necessary, would carry out her anti-piracy program lone-handed. Italy, within both the non-intervention and anti-piracy systems, has been formally charged by the Barcelona government with assigning four submarines to the Spanish insurgents. Barcelona laid the sinking of the Endymion to an Italian submarine.

Air Raids Gory There were scant reports on actual warfare in Spain, save for renewed artillery attacks on government-held Madrid. At least 20 persons were killed and more than 50 injured by 200 shells in Madrid.

FDR URGED TO APPLY PRESSURE ON HAGUE

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 4 (AP)—Dorothy Thompson, author and newspaper columnist, suggests that President Roosevelt, as head of the Democratic party, should "apply pressure through patronage" on Mayor Frank Hague to make him cease his war with committee for industrial organization leaders and others he has denounced as communists.

Likening Hague to Hitler, he says President Roosevelt, "as head of that liberal party which passed the labor relations act," should be asked about the conception of government held by Hague, state Democratic leader and vice-chairman of the national Democratic committee.

Variety Program Given By Women

Diversified topics were discussed at the meetings of the four groups of the Women's Council of the First Christian church this week.

Mrs. A. A. Tiemann was hostess to the 14 members and two visitors, Mrs. Guy McTaggart and Mrs. Marland, of group one who met in her home.

The lesson and devotional for the afternoon were led by Mrs. Sophie Elkins. Those assisting in presenting the program were Misses A. L. Burgess and John Muller.

Members of the group took cookies for the orphan home in Dallas and clothing for a local relief family.

Group two met in the home of Mrs. Roy McMillen with Mrs. Paul Hill as co-hostess. At this meeting the members voted to give lunch to a local school child during the remainder of the year.

"The Menu of the Missionary Program" was the theme of the devotional presented by Mrs. Billie Taylor.

The subject of the lesson discussed was "The Mosque and the Church." Talks were made by Mrs. Claude Lard on "Christian Missions Among the Moslems"; Mrs. E. L. Reeves, "Among Moslems in India"; Mrs. W. L. Parker, "What About Moslem in Congo"; Mrs. Shelby Gantz, "Moslem in China," and Mrs. Billie Taylor, "Two Examples of Missionary Society."

Eleven members and four guests, Misses J. M. Turner, Ben Garber, Floyd Taria, and Miss Helen Taria, attended.

Mrs. Tom Eckard was co-hostess with Mrs. J. G. Gantz at the meeting of group three in the home of Mrs. Gantz.

The lesson, "The Seventh Step is Study" was given by Mrs. DeLora Vicars. This was followed with an open discussion by the members.

Attending were Misses Charles Mundy, W. G. Kinzer, DeLora Vicars, Weldon Wilson, C. L. Thomas, Alta Stannard, C. R. Followell, J. H. Moore, Don Hurst, J. G. Gantz, and Tom Eckard, members. Visitors were Misses E. D. Mundy and Edna Watson.

Group four of the council met in the home of Mrs. C. L. Shearer with Misses J. K. Longacre, J. A. Tanner, and John Beverly as hostesses.

Mrs. C. J. MacDullen was leader of the devotional and lesson on "Mosque and the Church" with topic discussions by Mrs. R. B. Allen on "Christian Missions Among Moslems"; Mrs. Elmer Whipple, "Among Moslems in China"; Mrs. C. A. U. W. on "What About Moslems in Congo"; Mrs. Burl Graham, "Among Moslems in India," and Mrs. John Beverly, "Moslems in the Philippines."

A vocal duet, "Love to You" was presented by Emma Mae Sims and Rita Whipple. Dixie Jean Whitfield entertained the group with a reading, "Aunt Menerva." Another reading, "Dorothy Have You Washed?" was given by Irma Jo Hawthorne.

Group four made definite plans for a surprise program to be given in the church basement on Feb. 16.

Twenty-eight women attended including five visitors, Misses J. D. Flemming, L. G. Daw, B. C. Dawson, E. E. McNutt, and D. D. Whitfield.

Rhythm Band Plays For Hopkins P-TA

HOPKINS, Feb. 4.—The Hopkins No. 2 Parent-Teacher association met in regular session Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. The program was opened by a prayer from Mrs. Karl Rippel, the president. The rhythm band I, composed of pupils of the first and second grades, presented the following program:

Triangles, Mary La Rayne Bottomly, Geneva Edmonson, J. D. Partridge, castanets, Jerry Mitchell, Marilyn Adame, wood blocks, Billie Joe Hurst, Alfred Cesano, cymbals, Dean Reed, Delmer Cox, drummer, Rob Mallow. Guest soloist of the rhythm band was Jerry Pace, who played a piano number, "An Old French Folk Song." Following the rhythm band numbers, Mrs. Jerril Pace gave an inspiring talk on Founders' day.

W. M. Parker, principal, made a very interesting speech on "How the Foundation of Character and Good Citizenship Are Laid in the Home." The program was followed by a brief business session.

The social hour which followed the meeting was enjoyed by 126, the largest attendance since the inauguration of night meetings, in order that fathers as well as mothers might attend. Members of the social committee were Mrs. Monroe, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Adame, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Franklin, Mrs. Rippel, Mrs. Pace, Mrs. Orr, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

G. A. Girls Have Business Meeting

G. A. girls of the Calvary Baptist church met in the home of Mrs. L. C. Vandenberg Wednesday afternoon for a business meeting.

Gingerbread and hot chocolate were served to Norma Jo Kennemer, Betty Jo Tucker, Doris Sweeting, Charlene Crain, and Josephine Wadell.

Is This Love?

AAUW Will Have Play This Evening

Presenting Leon Lassers as Cyrano in the famous play by Edmond Rostand at the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock this evening is one of the out-standing projects of the year for the American Association of University Women.

Mr. Lassers, assistant professor of speech at West Texas State college at Canyon is well known for his interpretation of the great lover who had a big nose.

President of the local branch of the A. A. U. W., Mrs. C. C. Wilson has directed all activities of the club members and high school students who have assisted in the arrangements for the evening.

Behind the scenes the artist's fee will be paid the annual A. A. U. W. scholarship which is awarded each year to a senior girl selected by the principal of the high school and a member of the A. A. U. W., usually a high school instructor.

Tickets have been on sale for several days with 25 cents as the admission for adults and 25 cents for students.

To Steam Velvet

To steam velvet—put the material on a needle board and press with iron covered with damp press cloth. Fold material lightly to prevent wrinkling with fingers and allow steam-stained materials to dry thoroughly before working on it. Light brushing with a very soft brush while steaming will help to take out stubborn marks.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART.

The more she sleeps, the more likely the painfully thin girl is to gain the extra pounds she needs to make her figure softly curved instead of flat and angular. However, the catch is that, more often than not, extreme nervousness often accompanies an underweight condition, making her to get to sleep quickly one of her major problems.

A young screen and radio star—one of the few who worries about losing weight rather than gaining it—confides that her greatest difficulty in relaxing is her nervousness. Unless she can relax, her keen appetite for food is impaired and sleep is impossible.

The slender star (she'd be thin instead of slender if she didn't eat five times a day and sleep nine hours every night) recommends relaxation exercises to relieve nervousness and thinks that the ideal one is the alternate swimming and floating routine. When a pool is not available, she suggests this exercise:

Lie on a bed with arms at sides. Lift arms high above head, then let them become as limp as possible and fall down on the bed. Now lift legs and let them and feet fall in similar manner. Repeat five times with arms, five with legs.

The actress follows her relaxation exercises with a warm bath and finishes with a cologne tub down. She sleeps without a pillow and tries not to worry about tomorrow's problems once she is ready to go to sleep. If she simply cannot sleep, she switches on the light, sips another glass of warm milk, reads until she does feel drowsy. Keeping the light on and reading makes her less tense and nervous than twisting and turning this way and that, counting sheep or whatever.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it courteous for a man to say to a girl, "What night next week can you have dinner with me?"
2. Should a girl refuse a date just by saying, "No, I can't go?"
3. Is it a good idea to write anonymous letters?
4. If one writes to an unknown person and asks for an answer to his letter, should he enclose an addressed and stamped envelope?
5. Is "Thanking you in advance" a proper phrase to use in a business letter?

What would you do if—
You are writing to a woman and do not know whether or not she is married, would you begin the letter—
(a) Dear Miss Smith?
(b) Dear Mrs. Smith?
(c) My dear Jane Smith?

Answers
1. Not unless they are old friends. Otherwise he should ask for one night so that she can give a ready excuse if she doesn't want to go.
2. She should at least add, "I'm sorry."
3. No. If you can't sign your name it usually is better not to write.
4. Yes. Unless the matter is part of the person's business routine.
5. It is presumptuous to thank a person before he has consented to a favor.

Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(a)

Ebanas "an Rihum" may be made by sprinkling one tablespoon of rum a few drops of lemon juice over a bit of brown sugar over the fruit. Arrange the bananas in a shallow well buttered pan and bake them until they are soft. (About twenty minutes).

A coating will often form over the top if baked custard is left standing. To prevent this, stir the custard a minute or two after it is cooked let it cool, then stir again. Pour the custard into a dish, cover tightly and allow it to chill.

If your kitchen work table is too low put casters on each leg.

New Dance Studio To Be Opened

Classes in Spanish dancing and technique, Mexican dancing, and the latest Hollywood tap routines, and corrective exercises will be opened here by E. Lucille Landers at her La Danza studio, 1200 Mary Ellen street.

Mrs. Landers, who has been a dancing instructor for the past five years, has studied and taught Spanish and dancing in Mexico, New Mexico, and California. Since receiving her A. B. degree in Spanish, Mrs. Landers has done translation work in Spanish as well as teaching.

Authentic interpretations of the Mexican music and songs aid Mrs. Landers in directing her students in both private and class instructions. In the Spanish dances, she uses the castanets and heel work of Canisno and Fernandez of New York and Hollywood.

Mrs. Landers, who arrived in Fampa a week ago, came directly from California where she has taught from the Newman-Komaroff studio. She has also done work with professional classes.

Elements of ballet, the new type of tap dance, and corrective exercises for women who wish to tone-up physically and for undeveloped children are among the classes which will be taught in the newly equipped studio.

Birthday Party Compliments Two

Dinner Given For Speaker Thursday

Preceding the regular meeting of the high school Parent-Teacher association last evening at the high school cafeteria, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sone honored the speaker of the evening, A. M. Meyers, of the educational department at West Texas State college, with a dinner in the cafeteria.

Guests at the dinner were members of the executive board of the high school P-T. A. with their husbands, Principal D. F. Osborne, and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Funkhouser. Principal R. A. Selby of the junior high school opened the regular meeting with the invocation, Mrs. C. H. Schulke, president of the unit, who presided during the evening, urged that all members plan to attend the P-T. A. conference to be held in the spring.

Before the program was presented, W. B. Weathered, county superintendent of schools, announced that the Christmas stamp fund would pay for tuberculosis tests for school students if the parents approved. The medical association will give the service for the tests, he explained.

A picture show to be given this afternoon to provide funds for buying National Honor society pins was discussed.

Three numbers were played by the high school band under the direction of Winston Savage and a special selection was played by a coronet trio composed of Jimmy Hammill, Junior Zimmerman, and Harold Gillespie. This group was accompanied at the piano by Mary Lynn Schofield.

followed with keen interest by the giant son of Hetty Green, had brought the device to a point where airplanes could be interested.

Bowles said the apparatus blew warm air into the atmosphere, vaporizing fog particles and clearing a 1500-foot channel as much as 100 feet in diameter.

He was a witness at a master's hearing before John S. Plannery of Washington to determine whether Green's legal residence was in Massachusetts, New York, Florida or Texas.

Bowles said Green remained at his New England estate in defiance of physicians' instructions that he go elsewhere because the rigorous climate endangered his health.

New Dutch ovens (heavy iron kettles with lids) should be "seasoned" to prevent the iron from permeating foods. Wash and scour the oven in hot water and a strong cleansing powder. Fill it with hot soda water, using one teaspoon of soda for each cup of water. Scour again and then grease the inside with lard or oil. Heat for an hour in a slow oven and finally wash well in hot soapy dishwater.

METHODISM'S GREATEST GATHERING COMMENCES RELIEF APPROPRIATION OF BILLION SUGGESTED

CHICAGO, Feb. 4 (AP)—A larger share of responsibility in church leadership was demanded for women today at Methodism's largest gathering in American history.

The demand came from the only woman speaker at the denomination's meeting, Miss Georgia Harkness, professor of religion at Mount Holyoke College.

In a prepared address to the United Methodist Council on the future and faith and service, Miss Harkness termed the church the "last stronghold of male dominance" and charged it was being drained of capable leadership by discrimination against women.

The gathering to which have come 4,500 clergymen and laymen representing 20,000,000 communicants and adherents was hailed by Senior Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes of Washington as "one of the greatest Protestant religious movements of the decade."

It provided an occasion for jubilation over the impending unification of the Methodist Episcopal church, Methodist Episcopal church, south, and the Methodist Protestant church after a century of division.

GEORGIA PROHIBITION LAW FINALLY REPEALED

ATLANTA, Feb. 4 (AP)—Governor E. D. Rivers signed early today a county option liquor bill that repealed Georgia's prohibition law of two decades.

The measure was passed Tuesday by the legislature in special session, to leave only four dry states in the nation. They are Kansas, Oklahoma, Mississippi and Tennessee.

"All Georgians will take on a new respect for all law," Rivers said as he signed the bill.

W. W. Gaines, chairman of the consolidated forces for prohibition in Georgia, said in a statement "I am deeply grieved over the advent of local option in Georgia.

APPARATUS TO DISPEL AIRPORT FOG INVENTED

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Feb. 4 (AP)—Apparatus to dispel fog at airports is nearly ready for commercial use, aviators learned today from testimony at a hearing to decide which of four states should collect inheritance taxes on the estate of Colonel Edward H. R. Green.

More than $150,000 of the millionaire's $40,000,000 fortune has been spent in experiments at Green's 256-acre estate, Round Hill at nearby South Dartmouth, Professor Edward L. Bowles, of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, disclosed.

He said five years' experiments,

TODAY'S SERMONETTE

Teaching the lesson that a man must be born again, become a new man to be a real follower of Christ, the Saviour said: "No man also seweth a piece of new cloth on an old garment; else the new piece that filled it up taketh away from the old, and the rent be made worse." To become a true Christian the whole man must be given to Christ.—Chivers.

WASHINGTON VOICE FOREVER LOST

What would historians give—what would you give, yourself—to hear George Washington's voice delivering his farewell address, or speaking to his ragged, freezing soldiers at Valley Forge?

It would be a priceless privilege, wouldn't it? Lincoln at Gettysburg, Patrick Henry in Richmond, or Daniel Webster in the Senate, speaking the words that made them immortal—what would you give to hear them?

It can never be. But future generations will be more fortunate. The voice of every president since Harding will be heard by those who come after them. In the Archives building in Washington, fireproof and as safe as man's ingenuity can make them, are recordings of these and other famous voices, where the historian can hear and weigh for himself the exact intonation of words that have influenced history in times past.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life ...

By R. C. Hoiles

WORKERS DAMAGING OTHER WORKERS
To us, it is axiomatic that no group of workers can secure more wages than they produce without other workers of necessity receiving less than they produce. It is very easy to cite many examples to prove this contention.

An instructor in economics contends that this is not true. When pressed for an example to prove his contention, he used one somewhat similar to the following: He contends that if a group of workers raises the wages so high that the employer A's capital is all consumed, that this does not lower the wages of other workers.

We contend this does not prove that any workers can secure more than they produce without lowering the wages of other workers. Our reasoning is as follows: If employer A has a million dollars worth of tools which the workers are permitted to divide among themselves in artificial wages, more than they produce, that even if these workers conserve all of the extra wealth (the tools) they receive more than they produce with the idea of using them or reinvesting again in business, even then the expense of persuading the workers to reorganize a business to that extent would the total capital be reduced in the country and consequently compel other workers to work for less.

In certain cases, it would seem, it might not be quite as much of a reduction as the wages which those people received who got more than they produced.

But by the law of averages, instead of being less, undoubtedly it would be more because if the capital is widely dissipated among many hands, the capital is usually consumed. This, of course, reduces capital and the demand for labor.

On the other hand, if the cost of the extra wages above production is temporarily passed directly on to the consumer, the consumer's purchasing power is reduced by exactly this amount. In addition to that, any rapid change in arbitrary wages not only reduces the purchasing power of those to whom there is an attempt to pay arbitrary wages but reduces wages to those who are getting arbitrary wages by throwing them out of work.

We cannot think of any exceptions wherein workers can receive more than they can produce but what some other workers are obliged to receive less than what they produce.

We would be glad to have exceptions and examples pointed out. If there cannot be exceptions pointed out, then every thinker should regard the principle as an axiom.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Spurred by production from a quartet of gushers brought in, Gray county had for the first time in its oil history gone above 20,000 barrels daily.

More than 75 universal, women and a number of men representing local organization went on record as favoring the establishment of a public library here.

I have just finished reading "Shadow on the Land," and it frightens me. . . Among other things, I learned that at the rate things are going the odds are plenty high that you will contract syphilis if you are not doubly cautious, and even then the cards are stacked against you. . . Clarence (Horse) Kennedy has received in the mail a picture dedicated to him. . . It is a picture of a man drawing a cart, and below it is the legend, "he works like a horse." . . The dedicatory photo came in a package carrying an Amarillo postmark.

Tonight is the final night of the Pampa Daily News Golden Gloves boxing tournament out at the Pampa Athletic arena and it appears that the S. R. O. sign will be hanging out again, if you are not there plenty early. . . The bouts have been so excellent on the first two nights that just about every fight fan in the Panhandle has heard about the stellar show being put on in Pampa. . . On top of that, they will want to be there tonight to see the local champs crowned and learn who is going to make the trip to the tournament at Fort Worth. . . Eight winners in the Pampa News tourney will go on to the state finals with all expenses paid.

John Sullivan is the name of that new voice you hear on KPDN. . . He has just joined the staff of the local station, coming here from Fort Worth. . . Incidentally, Coach Odus Mitchell will be happy to know he has a son whose middle name is football. . . Sullivan's first mike assignment was the broadcast of the Golden Glove fights last night. . . The American ambassador who was slapped by a Japanese sanny should learn the Oriental custom of saving one's face. . . U. S. representative says, "Congress should jealously guard its power over the nation's money." Who's been attacking their mileage payments now?

They're wearing fur bathing suits in Florida now. Just in case the weatherman fails to read the winner resort advertisements, perhaps. . . A woman's club is urging a campaign of "wise spending." As if women needed to be encouraged to any kind of spending. . . China has defaulted her payments to Japan on the Tsingtao-Tsinan railway. Presumably Japan will invoke all the provisions of international law in foreclosure proceedings. . . A German corporation announces it can grind up fish and make a substance named "viking" which can be used in place of eggs. Sounds pretty fishy.

Washington Letter

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4—Governor George Aiken of Vermont, who recently caused hubbub by demanding "liberalization" of the Republican party, is about to leap into the headlines again.

He will be the Lincoln's Birthday speaker before the National Republican Club at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, which is another the most conspicuous spot for a distinguished Republican to orate.

It's a significant fact that officials of the club try to pick the most outstanding Republican. In 1936 they chose Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan (who will speak in Boston this year) and in 1937 Governor Alf Landon, the defeated presidential candidate.

Friends of Aiken promise some hot stuff. They expect an epidemic of goose flesh among wealthy dowagers and corporation executives in the audience who constantly anticipate a mass leap by the voters back to Old Guard Republicanism.

Aiken is likely to emerge as a leader of the G. O. P. group which seeks to throw off the Hoover-Hamilton domination of the party machine. He is in fairly strategic position. Aspirants for the next presidential nomination are convinced that Vermont is too small a state, electorally speaking, to offer an acceptable nominee. Therefore, they would not seek to knife Aiken if he asserted leadership in the current "Stop Hoover" movement among those who think Hoover is still a presidential candidate.

Lady Nancy Astor, American born peeress and member of the British Parliament, availed herself of the privilege of a seat on the Senate floor. Visiting members of foreign parliamentary bodies sometimes do.

Much more surprising was the fact that Lady Astor seemed to think this privilege of the floor extended to cover a little lobbying on the side. Known in England as a prominent figure in the British pro-Nazi group, she assured senators that Spanish General Franco and his Fascist forces represented an excellent cause.

Senator Charles O. Andrews of Florida was about to join other senators in signing a message of greeting to the reconvening Spanish republican parliament at Barcelona. But Lady Astor dissuaded him.

Although persistent propaganda has pictured the Loyalist government of Spain as radical or "red," most of the 26 senators and 34 representatives who signed the message to Barcelona are conservative.

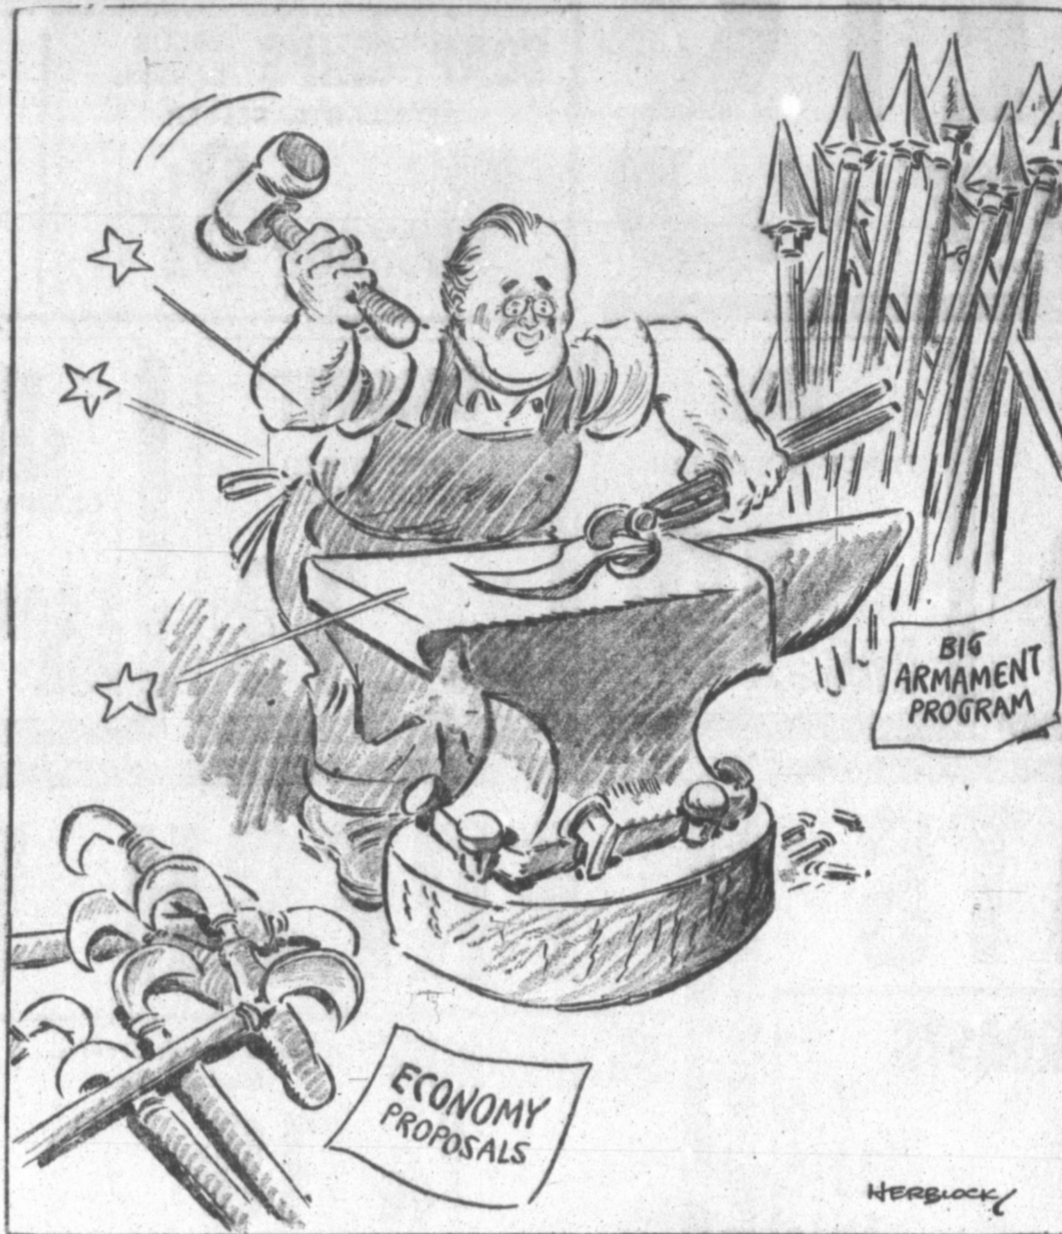

"Your struggle sets a stirring example to all democratic peoples," they said, signifying the steady swing of sentiment in Washington toward the Loyalist side.

Among conservative signers were Senators Austin and Gibson of Vermont, Byrd of Virginia, Ellender of Louisiana and Townsend of Delaware.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—The recent fist fight between a playwright, a dramatic critic, a restaurant proprietor, and a couple of newspapermen serves as a reminder that most of our celebrities nowadays are free swingers. Crooners, essayists, novel-composers all have had a hand in public brawls.

That some of the differences should arise between the men who compose the drama and those who criticize it merely shows that the town is its old self, for Broadway has always been a street that divides its time between first nighting and fighting.

The trouble between Jack Kirkland, who used to be married to pretty red haired Nancy Carroll, and Richard Watts, who reviews plays for a morning newspaper, has excellent precedent on Broadway. It hasn't been long since a famous novelist tossed a cup of hot coffee in a publisher's face, as result of an argument during luncheon at the Ritz-Carlton hotel.

Rudy Vallee is a crooner of plaintive love songs, but he has never been beaten in a fight. In the several years he has been drawn into five or six scuffles and the other fellow always has bobbed up with a very black eye.

Sinclair Lewis, now off on a lecture tour, has indulged in public face-slapping. Blonde Mae Murray, of the bee-stung lips, didn't hesitate to slap a lawyer's face in court. Ernest Hemingway, the novelist, and Max Eastman, the essayist, were drawn into a fight of mutual friend. So it goes.

And it didn't make things easier when Jed Harris, the producer, let loose another blast against the reviewers the other day. In an interview with Ward Morehouse, the dramatist and Broadway commentator, he denounced the critics as incompetent. "They are critics only because they have their jobs," he told Morehouse. "Not one of them has any creative force. When their papers fold they are no longer critics."

Another famous playwright who would like to see the New York reviewers exiled to Siberia is Elmer Rice, who made a great reputation with "Street Scene" and "Counselor at Law," and other dramas before he came up with one that the critics gave the axe. This so enraged Mr. Rice that he made a speech in which he denounced them as drunkards and degenerates and declared he was through with Broadway forever.

A humorous aftermath to Mr. Rice's farewell was that young man who approached Mark Barron, critic for The Associated Press, not long ago and asked him to help him get a news writing job in New York. The young man was Elmer Rice's son, and the job Mr. Barron helped him get was the dramatic critic's post on a morning newspaper.

Miss Branom, high school English teacher, believes, and with sound reasoning, too, that the public should expect the same type of sportsmanship at basketball games, wrestling and box-matches as it does at high school athletic contests—and who will say that she is not right? Miss Branom is one of those teachers who have helped make the Pampa high school one of the best; she is one of those teachers who never compromise with vulgarity or ledececy or uncivilized living or uneducated thinking, and mob action and mob thinking are her sworn enemies, so what she says is worth listening to. Miss Branom wonders whether the custom of booing at wrestling matches had anything to do with booing at basketball games this season. She was interested to know whether the local gym this evening at the Golden Gloves tourney the first night, and she expressed regret that there was. "It's an amateur event, the same as high school basketball," she said. "The booing took place when Gale, of the local gym this evening, was the first in several years, Mr. Sone and his teachers had created an attitude of fair play and good sportsmanship that has been seldom equalled any place. Miss Branom hopes the public will brown on booing any place—for the sake of high school sportsmanship, if for no other reason."

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 4—All over the lot: In one of the ballet numbers of "The Goldwyn Follies" a fierce storm blows up, scattering the dancers after permitting some very fetching posing in their gale-blown draperies.

"Oh, that's nothing much," said her companion, a studio employee. "Just some old wind that we had left over from 'The Hurricane.'"

Great Minds Run—
When a call went out for suggestions for a new title for "Gold Is Where You Find It," story of the strife between miners and farmers in early California, a dozen Warner workers had the same idea: "Gold Diggers of 1870."

"Gold Diggers in Paris" is the picture now being filmed in the series of musicals. Besides Rudy Vallee, Hugh Herbert, and numerous others, the cast contains Von, a brindle Great Dane from the kennels of Henry East, who owns Asta. Like Hamlet, he is a melancholy Dane, and he wears more makeup than a chorus girl. There's rouge on his muzzle (to make it look like a dog's) and they paint crescents under his eyes to make him seem sadder.

The Capitol Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Feb. 4 (AP)—Former Gov. James E. Ferguson makes an interesting prediction.
In his weekly newspaper he says Gov. James V. Allred will not run for re-election but in less than 60 days will be supporting Ernest D. Thompson.

Asked what he thought of the statement, Gov. Allred declined, as he has been doing consistently, to say whether he would seek another term, but he paid his respects, in a manner, to Mr. Ferguson.

"I haven't read the statement," he said, "but it is probably clever. His statements are usually clever, unless he's mad, and I don't think he is mad now."

On the basis of what has happened in the past, it is estimated 16 persons will be killed in the capital in traffic accidents this year. "We might as well dig a dozen or a dozen and a half graves now," said Chief of Police R. D. Thorp as he considered the probable deaths. He commented there would be an uprising if the citizens of Austin knew the number of murders committed in their city in 1938.

"The driver of a death car may not intend to take his victim's life but the loss of that life is just as needless as the murder victim's," he said.

In his opinion, the solution of the traffic accident problem lies in developing individual consciousness of responsibility in drivers and pedestrians.

If history is repeated, about 50 percent of the house of representatives to be chosen this year will be composed of new members. This is the normal turnover.

Many representatives escape opposition in their races for second terms in accord with the Texas custom of giving a man a second term unless he has done a lot of unpopular things in his first.

Rep. Abe Mayes of Atlania, who was active in numerous contests in the 191 days the legislature was in session last year notwithstanding he was a "freshman" said here he had announced against him and he was hopeful no one would.

He emphasized, however, there still was plenty of time for candidates to get into the race.

This yarn is printed in the monthly service bulletin of the highway patrol.

Two ministers bounced from their automobiles after having slammed together in a brake lane. Recognition, however, soon terminated threatened hostilities.

One of them said, "Well, Brother, it looks as if kind Providence has at last brought us together."

Patrolman Guy Smith, not suspecting they were ministers quickly replied, "Call it Providence if you like, but it looks like bad brakes to me."

One candidate for governor advocates making Texas' voting system "fool proof" by general installation of voting machines. He is James O. Rail of San Antonio.

"The people would have more freedom with voting machines than they now have with political machines," he said. "Enough money could be saved on costs of elections to pay for machines in a very short time."

Rail also wants the election laws changed so the ballot will be "absolutely free and secret."

Another sign of spring, backing up the judgment of gardeners who have been setting out flower plants in the capitol grounds:
From among rocks at the Buchanan dam on the Colorado river north of Austin, a diamond-back rattlesnake crawled the other way to bask in the bright sunshine.

BUSINESS REACTION

Albared, Feb. 3
Editor, The NEWS:
Press reports indicate the "Big Dam" at the Beaver Dam site, on McClelland creek, is an assured fast and construction work likely to begin March the first.

Announcement of this project, requiring approximately 2,500 acres of land, is being felt at Albared.
One recent business change to parties from Detroit, Mich., has been consummated.

The chamber of commerce has under consideration reconditioning the 4 1/2 miles of road, extending from Albared, direct north to the Big Lake, in contemplation the road will be paved from "U. S. 66 Will Rogers National Paved Highway" across the Big Dam to a point on the Pampa and McLean paved road near the Shamrock gas plant.

The lake will be one of the greatest assets in the county, an accomplishment every citizen has just right to be proud of.

All praise to each and every one of the Pampa and McLean paved road. To the Hon. Marvin Jones, Judge Sherman White, C. H. Walker and other Pampans, the citizenship of Gray county owe a debt of gratitude.

Marvin Hopkins, an employe of a New York realty firm, was stabbed in the back in the dingy first floor hallway of a four-story tenement. He had just collected the month's rent from the building's tenants and the killer fled with the money.

Within a half hour after the murder, police picked up Fingers Albert for questioning. Fingers lived near the tenement in which Hopkins was slain and he was known to be handy with a knife. He had been released from prison on parole the previous week and was known to be in need of money.

The officers who seized Fingers in his room told him that a rent collector had been killed down the block and that he was one of a dozen suspects.

But Fingers only sneered when the officers told him why he was wanted.

"N't me," he boasted. "I ain't no suspect. You mugs maybe can pin this steekin' on one of the 11 other suckers you got, but not on little Fingers. I got a cast-iron alibi."

'LITTLE MEN' AIR OPINIONS TO PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Big business and little business see eye to eye on many problems affecting the national economy, but in some instances they differ on the methods the government should employ to solve them.

Both have spoken. Forty-nine members of the commerce department's business advisory council expressed big business views to President Roosevelt Jan. 19. A thousand "little business men" have just concluded a conference in which they had their say.

Here are highlights of the expressed views of the two groups:

Wages and Hours. Little business: Opposes all forms of wage-hour regulation and legislation. Big business: Recommends a fresh study of the subject, aided by representatives of labor and industry who participated in NRA.

Housing. Little business: Urges the necessity of a large scale housing program with federal building loans at interest rates as low as one per cent. Big business: Pledges cooperation in the general policy of seeking to reduce the costs of home construction.

Business Practices. Little business: Urges clarification of anti-trust law provisions and increased penalties for violations. Big business: Asks revision of the anti-trust laws to make them more specific and retain "much that is desirable to preserve" in relation to the cooperation encouraged within industries by the NRA.

Labor Relations. Little business: Advocates putting equal responsibility on employer and employee and restricting unions from "harassing and intimidating business." Big business: Declares that privilege must be attended by responsibility.

Social Security. Little business: Favors reduction of unemployment tax in industries where employment is stabilized. Big business: Says amendments to the existing law are needed and pledges cooperation to this end.

Flow of Capital to Private Industry. Little business: Wants repeal or modification of the undistributed profits tax and capital gains tax; creation of a federal agency to provide for small businesses an inexpensive method of obtaining loans, and modification of the securities and exchange commission law to facilitate the sale of issues totaling $500,000 or less. Big business: Urges modification of the undistributed profits tax and capital gains tax.

Financial Policy. Little business: Urges curtailment of government expenditures and balancing the budget. Big business: Urges no further cheapening of the dollar or "pump priming."

TEXAS SCORES POINT IN GREEN TAX FIGHT

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Feb. 4 (AP)—Texas' fight for five million dollars in income and inheritance taxes from the estate of Colonel Edward H. R. Green gained a point today with testimony the millionaire considered himself a legal resident of the Lone Star state.

New York, Florida, Massachusetts and Texas are presenting evidence of Green's residence to prove they are entitled to the taxes on the $40,000,000 estate. The testimony is being heard by John S. Flannery.

Miss Yvonne A. Jette of New Bedford, told Flannery she assisted the son of the wealthy Herty Green with his coin collection and heard him claim Texas as his legal residence. "He seemed to evidence pride in his Texas citizenship," she said.

Z. B. Davis of South Dartmouth, who built a wharf on the colonel's South Dartmouth estate, Round Hill, told the court he knew the millionaire as "Colonel Green of Terrell, Texas."

Liverpool's name is believed to be derived from the Norse words meaning the "pool of the slopes."

Gets Life

He is only 18 years old, but Roger Kegg must spend the rest of his life behind prison bars. An Akron, O., judge sentenced young Kegg to life imprisonment after the youth had won a mercy verdict from a jury. Kegg and 21-year-old George Wells were convicted of murdering a restaurant operator during a holdup last December. Wells got a death sentence.

The United States will be in the middle of history's greatest naval armaments race—as the above chart shows—if the pending appropriation bill is passed. Little opposition to the measure is expected for the world's war fever seems to have left its mark on Congress. Look how the various nations place varying emphasis upon types of ships. While the United States, Great Britain and Japan concentrate upon new destroyers, Russia hastens to augment its already world-supreme submarine fleet. Italy and Russia see no benefit in aircraft carriers, while all other five nations have aircraft carriers under construction. Japan is building subs, but how many only Japan's naval warlords know. War on the water—if it comes—will follow no universal pattern.

CONGRESS TALKS OF QUITTING IN APRIL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Proposals for early adjournment of congress spread today among members who anxiously were watching primary election dates approach.

The executive board offered to give Green a hearing last summer. The miners' convention decided on that course Wednesday after Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, protested that a convention trial would be illegal.

Green has been a member of the U. M. W. for 48 years. He was charged with treason after he signed an A. F. of L. charter for the Progress Miners of America, rival to the U. M. W. in Illinois.

Senate leaders said a break-up of the anti-lynching bill filibuster next week would clear the way for long-delayed action on other measures. Senator Wagner (D-NY) urged the senate yesterday to vote on the anti-lynching bill, but opponents expressed certainty they could sidetrack it in a few days.

Back of the hopes of many legislators for early adjournment was the desire to get home for the election campaign. Opposition candidates already have announced against some of the administration's leading supporters.

Leaders conceded that adjournment depended largely on President Roosevelt's legislative plans. They expressed the belief he would ask for little more than he already has announced, but they noted that previous sessions have produced some last-minute surprises.

Carnival Patrons Thanked by P-TA
WEBB, Feb. 4—Members of the Webb Parent-Teacher association, through their president, Mrs. R. R. Rath, today expressed appreciation to Pampa and Mobeetie firms and individuals who contributed awards for the bingo party held Tuesday at the school, and to all who attended the event.

CONGRESS THREATENS TO UPSET NAVY PLANS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Congressional opposition to the proposed $800,000,000 naval expansion program threatened today to upset the House Naval committee's calculations for quick approval.

Committee members said indications were that the hearings on legislation to authorize 47 new warships and 22 auxiliaries would last two more weeks. Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) originally estimated they would consume only "two or three days."

Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, has been the only witness interrogated since the hearings started Monday. Rep. Maas (R-Minn.) said four other admirals remained to be questioned.

In addition, Vinson said representatives of a peace organization would be given an opportunity to present their views on the legislation next week.

Meanwhile, Rep. Luckey (D-Neb.) invited all house members to a secret meeting Saturday to discuss the foreign policy implications.

"We want to find out," he said, "whether we are going to build a navy to police the world or just to defend our own shores."

If the navy were to be used only for defense, he contended, the 20 percent expansion recommended by President Roosevelt would be unnecessary.

MINE WORKERS TO TRY GREEN FOR 'TREASON'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The United Mine Workers' executive board was under instructions today to try William Green on charges of "treason."

The miners' convention decided on that course Wednesday after Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, protested that a convention trial would be illegal.

DEMONSTRATION AGENT REDECORATES OFFICE

Redecorating of the office of Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, Gray county home demonstration agent, located in the south wing of the first floor of the courthouse, was completed last night.

Walls of the office have been painted white, while sand is the color applied to the baseboard. A large cabinet in the office has been painted ivory.

Two divans are expected to be added to the office room, in addition to other equipment that may be needed, Mrs. Kelley said.

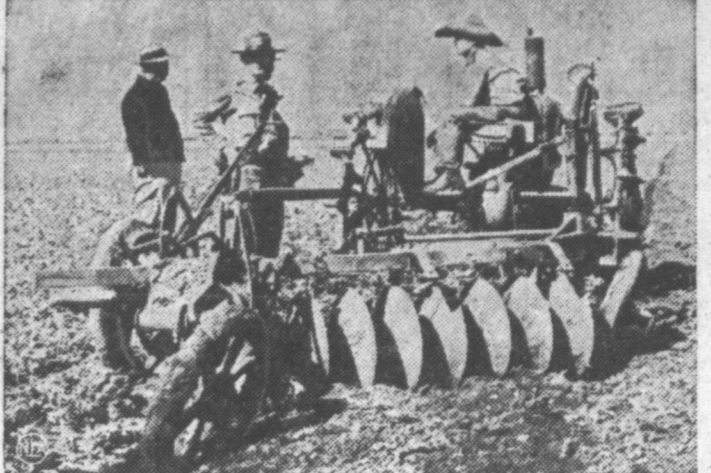

The office of the home demonstration agent occupies the space formerly used by Siler Faulkner Sr., abstractor. The home demonstration agent's office was formerly on the first floor of the courthouse, in the room now used by the state-wide tax survey project. The office was changed to the first floor five months ago.

Fire Destroys McDowell Home

GROOM, Feb. 4—The W. B. McDowell home, fourteen miles north-west of here, was destroyed by fire Tuesday night. A mattress and a washing machine was all that was saved, when the fire was discovered by Mr. McDowell about 10 o'clock as he opened a closet door. Flames burst out, scorching Mr. McDowell's hair and face.

Gone: 1,400 Acres Dream Stuff

Farmers who planted 1400 acres to hemp along the Rio Grande near Raymondville, Texas, didn't know that the habit-forming drug marijuana, may be gathered from hemp during certain stages of its growth. U. S. Customs agents ordered the crop plowed under last year. Seeds carried by the wind resowed the fields, however, and another plowing under was necessary. Customs agents are shown above supervising the job.

International Sunday School Lesson

CHALLENGING THE SOCIAL ORDER.
Text: Mark 2:12-22.
By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.,
Editor of Advance.

No great teacher or prophet can emphasize the truth concerning goodness of character and rightness of human relationships and of man's dealing with man without coming quickly into conflict with those who are out to serve their own interests, regardless of considerations of goodness and justice.

It was not long until Jesus in His earthly mission and teaching came very directly into conflict with false characters, attitudes, and customs. Our lesson tells us how Jesus, as He passed by, saw Levi, the son of Alphaeus, sitting at the place of toll. He invited Levi to follow Him, and Levi left his job to become His disciple.

When He came into Levi's house and was being entertained there, many publicans and sinners sat down with Jesus and the disciples. The scribes and Pharisees, who were the conventionally religious people of the day, did not like this.

They had the common notion that a man is known by the company he keeps. They could not perceive the motive and purpose of a good man in mingling with publicans and sinners that he might bring them the truth and invite them to a new way of life.

They were very critical of Jesus, and asked, "How is it that He eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?" The reply of Jesus, when He heard it, was very wise and pointed:

"They that are whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick; I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance."

He did not see these with whom He had sat down as men free from fault. He did not apologize for the evil in their lives. But He did emphasize the purity of His own motives and His purpose.

Questions immediately arose, also, about the formal observance of certain customs. There was the custom of fasting, which has been commended and practiced as a religious discipline.

But Jesus saw men emphasizing simply the custom without regard to its spiritual value. Those who laid such emphasis upon fasting drew the lesson that the new life could not be altogether merged with the old. There is a point where the whole must be strengthened and made new, unless the rottenness of the old is to destroy the new.

Jesus in one sense was not bringing to men new truth. He was emphasizing and bringing into newness of life the old principles of love to God and love to man. He was interpreting the law of the Jewish religions in terms of love and righteousness, and was enforcing the truth concerning human conduct with a message concerning God Himself.

He called upon men to be perfect, even as their Father in Heaven was perfect. He associated the grace of God with salvation and newness of life.

This is His message for society today: that life must be cleansed from within if we are to have right relationships of man with man, and build up a social order in harmony with the principles of the kingdom of heaven.

HIGHWAY WORKERS WILL BE TAUGHT FIRST AID

Personnel of the Pampa branch of the Texas Highway department, both office and maintenance workers, will have instruction in the American National Red Cross standard first aid course, beginning Monday night.

Classes will be held at the Pampa fire station at 7:30 p. m. each Monday for a total period of 20 hours.

Tom Eckerd of the Pampa fire department, who holds American National Red Cross cards for completion of the standard, advanced, and instructor's courses, will be the teacher of the class.

With the State Highway department employees, Mr. Eckerd's pupils will total 30, as he is now conducting an advanced class on Wednesday, and a standard class on Monday. The 25 new students will be merged in the other standard course class.

It is the plan of the Texas Highway department to have all its employees over the state take the first-aid course, J. C. Dingwall, Pampa resident engineer said.

AUDITOR CRITICIZES ALL-WOMAN AGENCY

AUSTIN, Feb. 4 (AP)—Texas' only all-woman state agency, the board and department of cosmetology, today faced official criticism for laxity in handling its business.

State Auditor Tom C. King reported to Governor James V. Allred discipline in the department's office had improved while a two-month audit was in progress but "much improvement is yet to be desired, especially when the board secretary is away."

From Mrs. Clara Dreyling, secretary, came the assertion many of King's recommendations had been effected and others would be later.

The auditor claimed traveling expenses of board members, executives and inspectors seemed high, but the secretary said they were limited by the legislature to $90 a month for inspectors and $100 for board members.

THE BOSS

Gainesville As Big As When It Was Cow Country Capital

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Unlike most boom towns which disintegrate with the passing of the industries which gave them sudden affluence, Gainesville, the mother town of the cattle industry of the early West Texas, today maintains approximately the same population as in its halcyon days of the '70's. The name of Gainesville's principal business thoroughfare, California street, was adopted after the first small log stores were opened on the town site in 1848, along the route of the California gold trail. But it was not until 1859 that the establishment of the court house gave the town recognition as an up-and-coming frontier village. Citizens at the time were divided whether the townsite should be located several miles south of the present city or on the Mary E. Clark tract of 40 acres. The story is told that as the debate waxed warm the bearer of a gallon jug of liquor decided the question by shouting: "All who want the court house on Miss Mary's land follow me, vote and have a free drink." The court house was located, but it was not until 1870 that the square was laid out and the straggling village took some semblance of a city. Two years later it was incorporated, W. O. Davis, still an active attorney at 92, having drafted the charter and was a member of the first council.

Was Cattle Center. Just prior to the coming of the railroads Gainesville was the capital of a great portion of West Texas and the then unsettled and unaltered Indian territory, and the financial center of the cattle industry. The Kansas cattle trail, over which millions of Texas cattle were driven to the northern rail heads, was established shortly before the Civil war, passing just west of Gainesville. Some of the herds went over at the Old Rock Crossing, the majority up the river to cross at Red river station between Neocoma and Ringgold, both non-existent in those days. Business from the trail, coupled with that of settlers who were coming to the many bends of Red river in Texas and Indian Territory, and the cross-timbers, made the town and laid the foundation for many of the industries important in its later development. Two business establishments which endured are the Whaley Mill and Elevator Company, the farthest west flour mill, when established in 1856, and the Tyler and Simpson Grocery Company, established in 1879, the year the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad reached Gainesville.

With the coming of the Katy, Gainesville was strategically located in the gateway between the Indian Territory and West Texas plains country, the two great cattle areas of the era. Foreseeing the end of the free range, such cattlemen as George Ball, Boog and Will Grant, Jim Beattie, J. M. Lindsay, Bud Bonner Jules and Jot Gunter, Henry Sauborn and others, bought large tracts which were fenced with newly introduced barbed wire. Much money came from eastern capitalists to invest in the cow business and D. T. Lacy, 91, still active as chairman of the board of the Gainesville National Bank, recalls that his first day as a citizen in 1880 he handled drafts amounting to $145,000 given by one cowman for cattle purchased in Indian Territory, and learned soon after it was an average day for the institution. Business flourished, new buildings and new stores supplying the range country came to town to be freighted from 50 to 200 miles by wagon to far-flung headquarters. The Lindsay hotel was the scene of the cattlemen's meetings, and against its east walls in the coil of the evening millions of dollars worth of cattle and ranch lands changed hands. As the railroads extended west into Texas and north into Indian Territory, new towns sprang up, and Gainesville slowly relinquished its leadership. The Rock Island, building from Topeka to Fort Worth, cut the Kiowa and Comanche reservations from the Gainesville trade territory, and at the turn of the century, the town's trade area embraced a 50-mile radius as it does today.

Still 12,000. Gainesville's population was 12,000 at the peak of the cattle boom, and actual count today reveals the population is within a few hundred of that mark. The territory's diversified farming interests and a dozen oil fields with some 800 producing wells have contributed to the maintenance of the town's boom day population an stable industrial and business development. In recent years, the town's name has come to public attention again as the home of a unique civic enterprise, the Gainesville community circus. Its performers are all residents of Gainesville and represent the business and social life of the city. Railroad traffic is heavier between New York and Philadelphia than between any other cities in the world.

TROOP 20 TO ATTEND CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

The new troop committee for Boy Scout Troop 20, sponsored by the Rotary club, met Wednesday night and planned numerous activities for the coming year. Hoj Wagner and Marshall Oden were elected to the committee and will be in charge of hikes, camping trips and similar activities. Troop 20 is planning to initiate an extensive camping program for this year which will include a 10-day camping trip next summer. Numerous trips will be taken by the troop before then. George Neef will be in charge of troop programs for the year. "Deacon" Jones and Frank Foster will be in charge of transportation for the troop and Paul Jensen will be in charge of finances. The troop will observe Boy Scout week by attending church in a body at the First Methodist church Sunday morning and will attend the First Christian church at night. The troop will go to LeFors Monday night to attend Troop 19's Scout stunt program. The father and son banquet was postponed until week after next. C. A. Husted, in charge of first aid for the Texas Company, will teach Troop Scouts first aid. The troop will have a window display at Pampa Hardware Co.

U. S. FLEET INFERIOR TO JAPS, SAYS LEAHY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Admiral William D. Leahy testified today the United States never had a 5-3 naval ratio with Japan because of the necessity of keeping part of the fleet in the Atlantic Ocean. Although this ratio was fixed by the now defunct London and Washington naval treaties, the chief of naval operations told the house naval committee division of the fleet between the two oceans had prevented its establishment. Leahy, questioned by Representative Maas (R-Minn.) asserted in the event of hostilities in the Pacific, he would want all the fleet available in that ocean. Responding to questions by Representative Brewster (R-Me.), the navy's top-ranking officer declared the navy never had considered any plans for "quarantining" aggressor nations. Brewster asked the question in reference to President Roosevelt's foreign policy speech at Chicago. Maas wanted to know whether a successful blockade of United States ports would permit a foreign power to "conquer" this country without a military conquest. "A blockade would put very serious pressure on the people of the United States if the fleet were destroyed," Leahy replied. "But I am unable to say whether they would submit."

CIVIL SERVICE RADIO OPERATOR'S JOB OPEN

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an open competitive examination for assistant communications operator for filling the position of junior radio operator, at $1,520 a year, for employment in the Fourth Air Navigation District, Bureau of Air Commerce, which has headquarters at Fort Worth, Texas. The Fourth Air Navigation District comprises all of the states of Texas and New Mexico, most of Kansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, the eastern part of Arizona, and the southern part of Arkansas. Applications must be on file with the manager, Tenth U. S. Civil Service District, Customhouse, New Orleans, La., not later than Feb. 23, 1938. Applicants must have had at least two years' experience as radio operator, and have a receiving speed of 30 words a minute on typewriter and be able to write by touch system 35 words a minute on teletypewriter or 50 words a minute on regular typewriter. They must have reached their eighteenth birthday but must not have passed their 40th birthday, except these age limits are waived for persons granted preference on account of military or naval service. Additional information and application blanks may be obtained from the secretary, U. S. Civil Service Board, post office, Pampa, or from the manager, Tenth U. S. Civil Service District, Customhouse, New Orleans, La.

China On Display If you have rare china, now is the time to display it. Decorators are again using beautiful china and pottery as vehicles of expression. Another uses a recessed cabinet lined with a pastel shade, for delicate imported china. Make your own kitchen containers out of coffee, baking powder or cracker cans. Remove all paper coverings, then paint or shellac the cans and put labels on them.

'RAILROADING' CHARGES FLY IN CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—The captains and the kings of "little business" dispersed today—some in sorrow and some in anger—but a committee remained to tell President Roosevelt that many of their recovery ideas failed to jibe with those of his administration. Their message, a long statement of recommendations on government-business relations, was entrusted to 11 men headed by gray-haired Fred Roth of Cleveland. Roth led the delegations to the White House at 11 a. m., by virtue of his chairmanship of the noisy two-day conference of a thousand "little fellows." The committee members consolidated the resolutions, which had been thicker than on a New Year's morning, after the general session ended yesterday in characteristic uproar. One of the committee members disclosed that the statement for the President had been "toned down" so that criticism of several administration policies would be "less offensive." He said, however, that the original resolutions also would be presented. The other delegates, turning homeward wearily—and in some cases bitterly—were divided over the results of the meeting, to which they paid their own expenses. Some said it was a failure. Others declared that, however turbulent it had been, it had directed attention to the needs of the butcher, the baker, and the candlestick maker. The conference broke up yesterday after the resolutions had been adopted amid shouts of "railroading." The recommendations adopted by the "Little Fellows" included demands for an end to "fear of further undue government interference" in business, and abandonment of all attempts to "regulate or control the operations of private business or industry."

LAWYER SAYS FIRM CAN'T OBEY RULING

DALLAS, Feb. 4 (AP)—Emil Corenbeth, attorney, said today he would advise the National Labor Relations Board in a few days that his client, Sheba Ann Procks, Inc., cannot comply with the board's ruling. The board had ruled that the garment manufacturing concern must bargain collectively with the workers' union. "The discharged employees have not worked for the firm since the strike," Corenbeth said, and those employees who have are not members of the union and do not want to bargain with anyone regarding their pay." Corenbeth said the board had found that none of the discharged employees lost his job because of union activities.

WAGNER URGES VOTE ON LYNCHING BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Senator Wagner (D, N. Y.) said today friends of the anti-lynching bill were "determined to have" a vote on the much-talked-about legislation that has been filibustered for a month. Defending its constitutionality, Wagner, one of the authors of the measure, told the senate "either we should vote down an anti-lynching bill, thus announcing once and for all that we will do nothing about the lynching evil, or we should promptly pass the measure now before us." While the New Yorker spoke, members of the house plodded along with debate on the District of Columbia appropriation bill. Before the discussion started House Naval committee members heard Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, testify the United States never had a 5-3 ratio of fighting ships with Japan because of the necessity of keeping part of the fleet in the Atlantic. On the senate side, J. Warren Madden, chairman of the National Labor Relations board, told the judiciary committee in plain spoken words that his agency was neither biased nor incompetent, and he added it had no "illusions about remarking the social order." Twenty-eight foreign merchant ships have a greater tonnage than the Manhattan and Washington, the largest liners flying the United States flag.

COUNCIL COSTLY FOR SMALL BUSINESS MEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—If spending is one way to end the recession, the thousand men attending President Roosevelt's small business conference have done quite a bit to restore prosperity. They have had to go into their own pockets to finance their trips here. Dan McGillicuddy, lumberman of Aberdeen, Wash., figured his total expenses would be at least $400. He said he was willing to spend much more to stay here and help work out a program that would set the country on its economic feet. Most fortunate of those attending were the Washington business men, who needed only a dime for trolley fare or 20 cents for a taxi to get to the Commerce Department auditorium. Expenses for many of the conferees averaged $200. Among those estimating theirs at that amount were E. H. Batscheider Jr., of Minneapolis, Richard Gill of San Antonio, Texas, and C. F. Hawn of Athens, Texas. Hawn, listening to the storm of words at yesterday's session, said, "I don't think it'll be money wisely invested." China reached the height of its power under Kublai Khan in the thirteenth century.

For Love of Polly

By RACHEL MACK

CAST OF CHARACTERS
POLLY CHELSEY, heroine, stranded in London when war breaks out.
JERRY WHITFIELD, hero; the Yankee who sees her through.
CABELL BANKS, privateer captain.
Yesterday: Polly Chelsey arrives in London, where her hopes of a share in her relative's estate are dashed. She is hungry and needs a shelter in her great-uncle's house.

CHAPTER II
POLLY tried to make conversation while she supped with old Oliver Dart, but it was hard going. To call him "Uncle Oliver" was out of the question, for he was addressing her as Miss Chelsey and repudiating their kinship. His cold pale eyes watched her furtively.

"As if I might slip the silver salt dishes into my pocket!" She thought irritably. "Or is it my manners he's critical of?" Her table manners were beyond reproach, however, which must have caused surprise to a man who believed all Americans to be savages. But old Oliver Dart was finding her annoying in other ways. "An American village girl," he told himself distastefully. He saw she lacked the graces that elegant English girls were trained to have. She was strangely outspoken, and she laughed like a boy. When she walked, it was with long swinging steps.

Seeing a portrait that interested her, she got up and crossed the room to look at it. "Is that my Grandfather Dart?" she asked. "It's nobody that concerns you," answered Oliver Dart, though it was her great uncle, his brother and her granfather's, now dead.

Whenever she tried to make contact, he thwarted her, so that she had nothing to which to cling. His hostility penetrated, as a frost penetrates the marrow of the bones on a cold day, and eventually she fell silent, hoping in this way to escape his displeasure. "He's a terribly cross old man," she decided in bewilderment. She had told Mrs. Broggs she knew many such at home. She saw that she was mistaking. There was something about the manner of Oliver Dart's dead eyes. She did not know that it sprang from a mind bordering on madness.

While Polly was at supper Mrs. Broggs ordered her helper, the porter, to carry the little doekskin trunk to a bedroom on the floor above. Presently she came for the girl and took her there. As the door closed on Polly Chelsey, Oliver Dart shut his eyes and put his finger tips together. It was thus that he could think of America most effectively. He hated the venomous current of his hatred make the circuit of his withered body while his warped mind plotted. The coming of this girl had fired his memory. He called afresh how he had lost a fortune when Yankee rebels had thrown British tea into the sea. He remembered the last rebellion. Wounded in the purse, he had become a little "touched," living more and more for the day when he would see the insolent American colonies (for he still spoke of them) restored and punished. Strange that this girl should come walking into his house tonight! A kinswoman? "Bah!"

Polly, meantime, was relaxing under the chatter of Mrs. Broggs and marveling over being so high in the air. "Are all London houses so tall and thin?" she asked, walking into his house tonight! "A kinswoman? "Bah!"

"Trapped! Then so am I!" cried Polly.

It was a foggy morning as if last night's rain had not finished, and yet could not keep on, either. The result was a yellow-gray mist that obscured objects 50 feet away and gave a dreamlike aspect to the street. Gigs, chaises and cabs moved at snail's pace over the cobble streets, and there was a deal of fretting and shouting from drivers.

Polly Chelsey liked it, because a London fog was something she'd often heard about and it would be an adventure to recount to Dick. It helped her to forget, too, that she'd come on a scatty-brained errand to a place where she was not wanted. Yet as the fog thickened instead of lifting she began to lose her enthusiasm for it. She could no longer see the houses she was passing, much less the sights across the street. "I'll go back," she decided, "and wait for fair weather."

And then it was that she came on two Americans talking earnestly together before a decent-looking public house, standing beneath a creaking sign that pictured a unicorn lifting a paw toward a great yellow crown. She knew the men were Americans even before she heard their New England voices, for the elder wore chin-whiskers and clothes exactly like her father's, and the younger one was like the young man who went to sea in ships from Lyme, or who kept store or tilled farms thereabout. Only he was handsomer. He had a devil-may-care manner and fine dark eyes and a bold chin.

"SAID the elder, "Is it true, Jerry Whitfield, that President Madison's declared war?"

Polly moved closer, her heart contracting, her ears sharp to hear.

"It's true," the younger man answered. "I got the news inside, where I'm stopping. We're caught here like rats in a trap!"

"Oh!" cried Polly, laying her hand on his arm in her swift, impetuous way. "Then so am I! So am I!"

The young man looked from her face to her own, to her hand on his arm. His incredulous look brought her to her senses and she thought wildly. "This is a bold thing 'I've done!' She turned on her heels and made off through the fog in the direction she believed Oliver Dart's house to be.

The young man named Jerry Whitfield wondered if London air was too strong for him. He said to the older man, Chet Wheeler, carpenter of the Elza Ann, out of Newburyport: "Did you see her too?"

Old Chet nodded vigorously. "Yes, I did, lad! A pretty gal, and no mistake. But she don't know her own mind, seems like. Why—"

Jerry Whitfield was no longer listening. He was running in pursuit in his haste he took the wrong turn, and so lost her. "American Girl!" he said to himself, panting as he ran. "Needs me!—Got to find her!"

There were not many women abroad, and whenever he saw one like her father's, and the younger one was like the young man who went to sea in ships from Lyme, or who kept store or tilled farms thereabout. Only he was handsomer. He had a devil-may-care manner and fine dark eyes and a bold chin.

POLLY remembered to stay out of the old one's way, but she did not keep in her room. After a breakfast of porridge and tea in the kitchen she put on her street clothes and set out for a walk, impatient to Mrs. Broggs' advice to "be careful and keep your bearings!"

NAVY WOULD PREVENT ANOTHER AIR TRAGEDY SAN PEDRO, Calif., Feb. 4 (AP)-The United States fleet, shocked by the death of 11 fliers in the worst airplane disaster of its history, convened a board of inquiry today to find new safety for the navy's fighting birdmen.

REAR ADMIRAL CHARLES A. BLAKELY, commander of the aircraft scouting force, said the inquiry board will seek information that "will make it impossible for such tragedies to occur again."

Two huge patrol bombers, the 11-P-3 and 11-P-4 of the squadron VP-11 at San Diego, collided in a squall Wednesday night 70 miles off the coast, and plunged into the sea with 10 of the 14 crewmen.

Four by an order from their heroic commander, Lieut. Charles E. Hutchins, parachuted from the 11-P-4 before it fell to destruction. None of the 11-P-3's seven men had a chance as roaring flames enveloped it immediately after its high wing struck that of the 11-P-4.

Of the four survivors, picked up by a crash launch from the flagship Pennsylvania, J. H. Hester, radioman, died a few hours later aboard the hospital ship, Relief, while the fleet vainly searched for the missing bodies of his 10 comrades in service.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THE MYNAH BIRD, OF INDIA, IS ONE OF THE MOST PROFICIENT TALKERS OF ALL BIRD SPECIES. THE TERMS "LONGITUDE AND LATITUDE" CAME FROM ANCIENT DAYS WHEN THE EARTH WAS BELIEVED TO BE GROUPED AROUND THE MEDITERRANEAN SEA.

THE gray parrot of Africa is probably the most gifted of all speaking birds, but the mynah is much more proficient than many parrot species that are famous for their human-like speech. Other birds that can be taught to talk are the piping crows of Australia, some species of jays, macaws, and even starlings.

500 AERIAL PHOTOGRAPHS OF COUNTY TO SHOW FARM WORK

How Gray county farmers comply with 1938 agricultural programs will be checked this spring by a series of 500 enlarged contact prints, developed from photographs taken from a plane that flew at altitude of 15,000 feet over Gray county in the period April-July, 1937.

As a part of the state-wide program, T. P. Mobley, mapping supervisor of the Texas Extension service has been in the county the past 10 days, determining the scale of the aerial photographs and assembling field data to be used for the enlarged prints.

Mr. Mobley expects to complete his work by the middle of next week then proceed to Roberts county. Two other extension service workers, G. C. Dillard and E. E. Austin, are also doing similar work at this time in the Panhandle.

There are six index maps, measuring 14x16 inches, scaled 1 inch to the mile, and each showing approximately 200 square miles of Gray county land, and 135 contact prints, 7x9 inches, scaled 3 inches to the mile, and each showing five square miles, in the aerial photographs, which were taken last year by the Southwestern Aerial Survey, Austin, sub-contracted from the Fairchild Aerial Survey, Inc. of Los Angeles, for the Soil Conservation service.

Mr. Mobley's job is to determine the scale to be used on the maps and assemble the data necessary to prepare the 500 enlarged prints. The maps and prints will then be sent to the Texas Extension service at College Station, checked there, and forwarded to Washington, where the enlarged prints will be made.

Use of the aerial photograph method was started in 1936 in Texas, however, one county, Caldwell, had used the method as an experiment the year prior.

The alleged assailant was John Mack, 59, of Chelsea, six-foot-three inmate who fled the institution after the shootings. Nearly three hours later he was picked up in Lowell three miles away by two Lowell policemen after squads of state troopers and city police had concentrated on the wooded area around the institution here.

Mack was immediately placed in a cell at Lowell police headquarters. He offered no resistance and was unarmed when captured. Patrolman Thomas Nelson said Mack was booked on a murder charge. Officials were endeavoring to learn where the pistol was obtained and the motive for the attack.

The shooting capped a dramatic investigation of a mounting total of violent deaths in Massachusetts mental hospitals. Police discovered last week that violent deaths since 1926 totalled more than 500, including eight slayings of patients by other inmates.

Scrapie can be made at home by adding chopped cooked meat, cheese or chicken to thick cornmeal mush. Put this mixture in a bowl and chill it. Then slice it and brown the slices in a little fat in a frying pan. Serve plain or with syrup or scrambled eggs.

OPEN BOUTS WILL BE FOUGHT IN FINALS OF TOURNAMENT TONIGHT

CLOSE FIGHTS AND KAYOES THRILL FANS

With a dozen bouts needed to clear away all competition and leave only champions, the Pampa Daily News Golden Gloves boxing tournament will reach its climax tonight at the Pampa Athletic arena. Members of the Pampa Daily News A. A. expect the bouts to be even better than the 13 presented last night to a packed house.

Arena doors will be opened at 7 o'clock with the first bout scheduled for 8 o'clock sharp and Director Cliff Chambers will have his boys ready to "go" at that time and not 15 or 20 minutes later.

Admission will be the same as for previous nights, $1.10 ringside reserve and 40 cents general admission for 25 cents. Only reserve seats were available last night a few minutes after the first bout got under way. Tonight, first to arrive will be accommodated. When the arena is filled with them the doors will be closed.

Last night's bouts were even better than the previous night and that is saying a lot because on opening night the boys stood toe to toe and slugged. Last night several new faces appeared while winner met winner in other battles.

White Hopes Battle
In the "white hope" or heavyweight class, LeRoy Davis of Higgins, with his young wife as one of his seconds, battered out a decision over Gene Gabler of Pampa, who tired badly. Davis, stocky with short arms, had considerable trouble getting inside Gabler's reach but he succeeded enough to get the decision. Tonight Davis will meet Jap Gillis of Pampa with the winner receiving a free trip to Fort Worth along with the other seven class champions.

The evening's entertainment was given a sensational sendoff by a pair of fast-stepping youngsters when Ray Elkins and Marc Mitcher both Pampa lightweights, stepped through three lightning rounds. Elkins was given a close nod through aggressiveness. Then Mack Winget of White Deer and Gene Davidson paced off three more sizzling rounds with the victory going to White Deer. Later in the evening the two tired winners met Elkins getting the nod, again because of his never-say-die work. Winget put up a great battle and the decision could have gone either way and the crowd would have applauded.

Decisions Popular
Popular Jimmy Hammill, local band boy, took a nip-and-tuck struggle from Guy Robinson of Wheeler for the right to meet Elkins in the class final tonight. Hammill worked offensively and landed the most blows while Robinson hit solidly.

It took Adrian White of Borger 20 seconds to kayo James Brown of Pampa. Frank Bills of Shamrock bested time by winning by a knockout over Donald Logan, also of Shamrock, in 20 seconds in another 118-pound classic. In the other light division, Rusty White of White Deer won a close but popular decision from Billy Morgan of Shamrock.

Alameda's Jake Bible hammered out his second win of the tournament deciding Freeman Sullivan of Pampa in a slugfest. Sullivan put up one of the greatest battles of the tournament, staging a comeback after taking Bible's two-fisted attack in the opening rounds.

Kelton Miller decided Thomas Smith, both Pampans, in the featherweight class to get to Bible in the final tonight.

Another game fight was staged by Lewis Stark of Pampa but he was unable to cope with the terrific charging and slashing of Eddon Flowers of Shamrock who took the decision. Stark came back gamely every round.

Burleson Promising
A dark horse of the tournament was A. C. Burleson, a welterweight recently moved to Pampa from Amarillo. He took a decision from a game Roger Townsend of Pampa who came back strong after being dropped for a count of eight. Burleson is a weaving fighter with dynamite in each hand.

Bob Gaiser of Borger required only one minute and 50 seconds to win on a knockout from Joe Hamlin of Pampa.

Results last night were:
Lightweight: Raymond Elkins, Pampa, defeated Marc Mitcher, Pampa. Mack Winget, White Deer, defeated Gene Davidson, Shamrock. Jimmy Hammill, Pampa, defeated Guy Robinson, Wheeler.

Raymond Elkins, Pampa, defeated Mack Winget, White Deer.

Featherweight: Jake Bible, Alameda, decisioned Freeman Sullivan, Pampa. Kelton Miller, Pampa, decisioned Thomas Smith, Pampa.

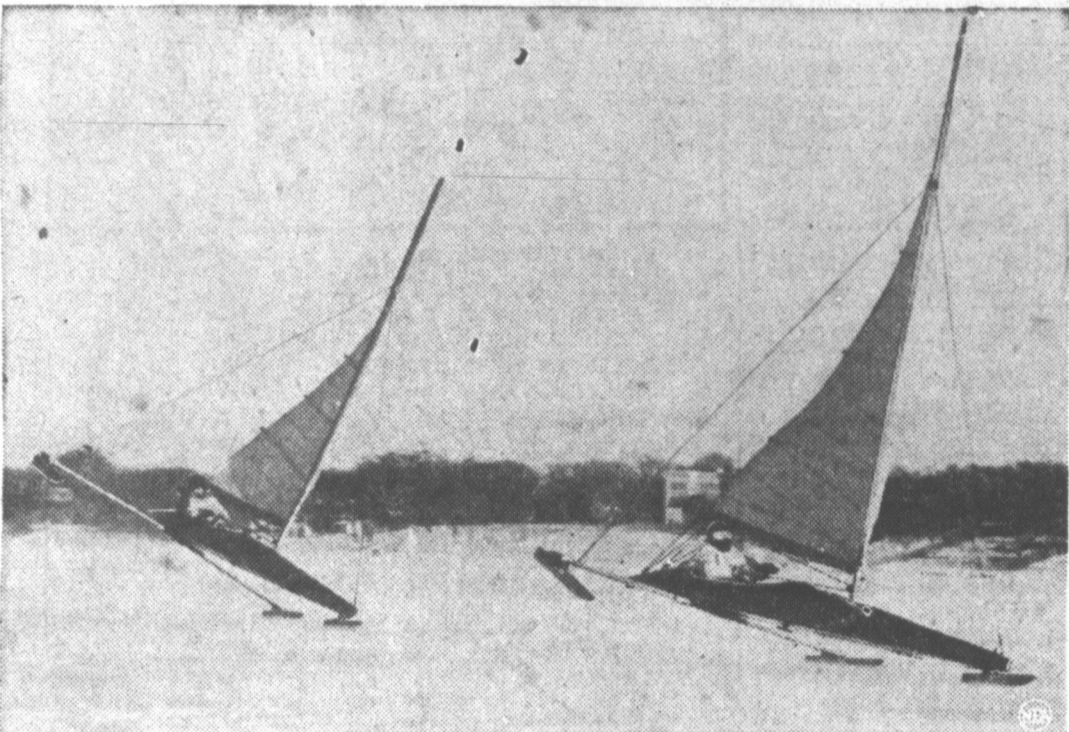

Welterweight: Eddon Flowers, Shamrock, decisioned Lewis Stark, Pampa. A. C. Burleson, Pampa, decisioned Roger Townsend, Pampa.

Heavyweight—Leroy Davis, Higgins, decisioned Gene Gabler, Pampa.

Gale Heats Up Ice Regatta in Wisconsin

Glen Lee Will Be Apostoli's Enemy Tonight

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—The middleweight situation already complicated, has a chance to get completely out of control tonight when Glen Lee, a tough little mug from the mid-west, tackles Fred Apostoli, the "uncrowned champ," in a 12-rounder at the Garden.

It's reported, though not confirmed, that Apostoli, who recently bashed out the champion, Freddie Steele, in an over-weight affair, has refused to lay his share of the "title" on the line. That is, the San Francisco thumper insists upon remaining the "uncrowned champ," whatever happens to-night.

Though it doesn't make much sense, Apostoli's stand is fully as logical as anything connected with the middleweights lately. If Lee wins, as he stands a good chance of doing, then it's up to him to think up another title. He could call himself assistant champion to Steele, for instance, and he and Apostoli could take turns challenging the champion.

Lee is something of a newcomer around here, but he made a powerful impression in beating Walter Woods, a local favorite, and knocking out Harry Balsamo.

He's a busy little guy, a hard puncher and untiring. Like Apostoli, he likes to stand up there and punch it out, so it looks like a good scrap. The betting has been 3 to 1 on Apostoli, which is natural considering the fact that he has stopped seven of his last eight opponents, including the champion. But Lee's followers think he has a big chance of winning.

Buffaloes Beat Hardin-Simmons

CANYON, Feb. 4—Cash customers yawned in their seats long before half-time at Hardin-Simmons Monday and Tuesday while the Cowboys sat on the ball to hold it away from the lanky Buffaloes of West Texas State. The Buffs managed to get the ball long enough to win both games by 26-21 scores.

There will be no yawning, however, when the locals face the Oklahoma City University Goldbugs here Feb. 7 and 8. The visitors are of the score-and-run type who are accustomed to winning most of their games. They won two games and lost one in the national tournament at Denver last year.

Coach Melvin J. Binford, Goldbug mentor, has eight lettermen and 11 squadmen back from the group which last year won 23 games and lost only eight. Lettermen are Lewis Behrens, Independence, Kan.; Norman Strahan, McPherson, Kan.; Bill Glass and Bill Slaughter, El Reno; Jess Fronterhouse, Chester Bryan, Woody Rentfro, and Bill Walker, Oklahoma City.

The Buffaloes have run their list of victories to sixteen, compared to four losses. At Abilene they broke the 24-game winning streak of the Cowboys.

Sports Roundup

BY SID FEDER (Pinch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz)
NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Al Schacht is moanin' low. . . figures he could make $100,000 this year if he had time for all the bids pouring in. . . As it is, he'll have to be satisfied with a mere 40 G's for 130 games. . . Which is really putting clowning on a paying basis.

Don't be surprised if the Giants and Cardinals still do some trading business. . . Bill Terry likes young Herb Bremer, and the gas house gang is going to find a lot of use for a catcher like Gus Mancuso. . . Our Cunnel Eddie Brietz is laid by up a touch of old man winter. . . Hurry back Butch. . . Jack Kearns wires: "Jimmy Adamson is a cinch to bring the heavy title back to the white race; the Indians have had it long enough."

Cunnel Brietz's tip on big things about to break at Duke has the whole south guessing. . . Here's one Dixie observer's hourly account of rumors around Durham: 10 a. m.—Grid Coach Wallace Wade going to Michigan, with Horace Hendrickson, his prize 1933 pupil, now at Elon College, succeeding him at Duke. . . 11 a. m.—Jock Sutherland coming down from Pitt as head coach, with Wade moving up to Athletic director. . . 12 noon—Duke to quit Southern Conference in favor of post season games. . . 1 p. m.—Bill de Correvont coming to Duke (Sorry, Northwestern got him an hour ago). . . 2 p. m.—Michigan climate too cold; Southern California now bidding for Wade to succeed Howard Jones. . . 3 p. m.—Carl Voyles, Duke end coach, headed for Princeton, with Fritz Crisler getting the Michigan job. . . All of which, sliced very thin, make a lot of baloney.

Don't worry about poor old Bill Hallahan getting his release from the Cincinnati Reds. . . He was only wild in his pitching, and the grapevine says his bankbook can strangle any wolf at the door. . . Bob Quinn is picking a first division spot for his Boston Bees, providing the "breaks" break right.

Gag: An autograph bug asked Yankees' Pitcher Bump Hadley for his signature at a dinner the other night. . . And when he got it, showed Bump what he signed was an I. O. U. for 50 bucks.

Higgins Girls In Semi-Finals Of Cage Tourney

HIGGINS, Feb. 4 (Special)—Higgins girls went to the semi-finals recently in the Laverne, Okla. tournament to be defeated by Turbin, an Oklahoma team that won the tournament, by 16 points.

Maxine Barnett, Higgins center, was chosen on the all-tournament team, and was presented with a tiny gold basketball. The Higgins girls made a good showing despite the fact that it was their first experience with the old three-division court used in Oklahoma. Higgins won from Byron 35 to 21. This team was once Oklahoma's champion. They took May, Okla. team with a score of 41 to 21.

Sally Houser, with 55 points, and Joy Wassell, with 40, were high scoring girls. Joy scored 16 out of 23 free throws while Sally made most of her points as field goals. Geraldine Carter and Ruth Clark were defensive standouts. Lillie Schwab also did fine work.

Higgins boys were defeated in their first game by Farry, runners up in the tournament.

Playing Golf Helps Batting, Stars Believe

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 4 (AP)—Driving a little white pill down the fairway may not enable a batter to slam a baseball out of a big league park, but diamond stars wintering in Florida believe playing golf will help fatten the old batting average.

Take Paul Waner, former south-paw links champion who already has played in at least three tournaments while waiting for the spring training season to roll around. He's convinced the ancient Scottish game has improved his batting.

"I don't get to play in the baseball season—it's a $100 fine of you do—but I think it aids instead of injures a batter," declared the Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder.

"Rhythm in swinging is the secret of both golf and baseball, and golf has helped me tremendously," he explained.

Lloyd, Paul's younger brother, shared the opinion and said he noticed a big difference last spring after spending his first winter on Florida courses.

Al Jolson and Mead in Fight For Armstrong

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4 (AP)—Singer Al Jolson and Fight Manager Eddie Mead sparred verbally today over the ring earnings of Henry Armstrong, featherweight champion of the world.

Jolson claimed he put up $5,000 for the purchase of Armstrong's contract 18 months ago, and expected to share in whatever purses Hustlin' Hank collected. But he hadn't, he added.

Mead countered that Jolson merely "loaned" him $5,000, that he had paid $4,000 of it back, and that he was the sole owner of Armstrong's. The remaining $1,000, he added, was in the hands of Jolson's attorneys today.

He also revealed that when Armstrong's original purchase price of $5,000 was doubled, Screen Star George Raft stepped in and loaned him the remaining $5,000.

BRITISH NET FORCES FACE STRONG NAZIS

NEW YORK, Feb. 4 (AP)—Great Britain's tennis forces, two years ago the all conquering holders of the Davis cup, face a stern fight this year if they are to get into the challenge round against the United States.

Germany's strong team, the United States' most effective opponents last year, and France and Czechoslovakia, the latter two nations boasting young and eager players, are all in the European zone pairings with the British team.

The German team, which apparently again will be headed by Baron Gottfried Von Cramm and Henner Eckenel, drew a bye for the first round in the schedules drawn yesterday at Washington by Secretary of State Hull. The Germans will meet Norway in their first match while Great Britain must beat Rumania to get into the second round.

The complete draw:
American zone:
Japan vs. Canada; Australia vs. Mexico. Winners of these matches will meet for the American zone title and the right to play the victor in European eliminations.

European zone:
Second round (first round byes): Germany vs. Norway; Hungary vs. New Zealand; Monaco vs. winner of France-Netherlands series.

First round: France vs. Netherlands; Poland vs. Denmark; Ireland vs. Italy; Czechoslovakia vs. Yugoslavia; Great Britain vs. Rumania.

The winner of the matches between the European and American zone victors will meet the United States in the challenge round.

Sport Sparks

Unbeaten Baylor braces in an old brick chapel at Waco tonight for invasion of the University of Texas—a game that will measure chances of both teams for the Southwest conference title.

Belatedly equipped with potent basketballers, Texas, six-point loser to Baylor in a wild game two weeks ago, can't lose this game and retain hopes for a championship. Wobbling after two wins and two losses, the Longhorns, bluntly speaking, can't lose any more.

Mid-term semester switches made three great sophomores, Elmer Finley, Oran Spears and Jimmy Britt, eligible. Coincidentally, Capt. Don White, guard, shook off his knee injury and came back into the lineup. All teamed up together for the first time as Texas battled Olson's Terrible Swedes, transient independent powerhouse, Tuesday night.

On the spindly legs of Hubert Kirkpatrick, tall center, Baylor lashed his hopes. Three nights ago he wore out the Texas Christian backboned with 35 points to set a new conference record. In the earlier Texas game he pumped in 19 points that crushed the Longhorns.

Baylor, too, has new power to inject into its lineup. Wilson White, last season one of the league's outstanding players, will be on the floor for his first conference game. Injured in an early-season tilt, he is ready again. He was ready for the T. C. U. game Tuesday night but Coach Ralph Wolf took no chances.

Baylor probably will rely on White and Cressy at forwards; Kirkpatrick at center and Bubba Gerand, high-scorer, and Shahan, at guards. Coach Jack Gray has Finley and Moers, forwards; Tate, center, and White and Spears, guards, ready.

Fans will be turned away from the Waco club. The old school chapel, site of the gym, will not accommodate a crowd certain to see one of the season's best games. Workmen are toiling now on a new gymnasium—but it won't be ready until next season.

Spotlight on Frank Kovacs In Net Meet
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 4 (AP)—The spotlight was on 18-year-old Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., in the semi-finals of the Surf club tennis tournament today. He met Wilmer Hines of Hollywood, Calif. Bryan Grant of Atlanta, deserted by his usual steadiness, was no match for the Oakland junior star yesterday and bowed out 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

Hines raced through his match with George Pero of Miami, 6-2, 6-2. Bobby Riggs of Chicago will meet Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., in the other semi-final tomorrow and the final will be played Sunday.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC FUND GROSSES $20,999.04 IN YEAR

The auditor's report of the Pampa high school athletic fund, just released, showed a balance of $171.77 on hand December 31 but there was $780.75 in outstanding bills according to Roy McMillen, business manager.

Receipts for the year, however, far exceeded expenditures for the period. The small balance was due to the association having paid off $1,000 previously borrowed, a $1,500 note on the flood lights and more than $1,000 old indebtedness on football equipment.

Gate receipts, according to the audit by Cornell and company, on home games were $15,808.24. Collections away from home were $3,678.21. The total on all receipts and money borrowed for fall training came $20,999.04.

Major expenditures were $2,054.46 traveling, $6,870.65 paid to visiting teams, $3,274.70 for equipment, $579.84 for improvement to grounds and keeper's salary, payment on lights, etc.

An added expense last fall was rent and transportation of bleacher seats for the Pampa-Amarillo game at a cost of $579.84.

The harvesters this fall are expected to take the field in new satin or silk uniforms of a different color than in the past although the green and gold color scheme will be carried out. The association has not made a definite decision on the new equipment as yet.

FIRST GOLDEN GLOVE TOURNAMENT CLOSES
FORT WORTH, Feb. 4 (AP)—First of the dozen district tournaments that will send champions to Fort Worth for the Texas State Golden Glove championships, was completed Wednesday night at Big Spring.

Within the next week the other 11 will complete their eliminations.

Wild Bill Venable, the Tuscaloosa woodchopper, will return to the Pampa mat Monday night to tangle with Dick Sampson, another young giant, from Ohio. It will be Venable's first appearance here since he took a dive on his head from over Sailor Clingman's shoulder to dislocate a few vertebrae. The pair will tangle in the semi-final.

Sailor Otis Clingman and Otto Van Ludwig will be the pair in the ring in the main event. Clingman last week took Pasha Bey under in nine minutes while Ludwig pulled a surprise in defeating Sailor Moran in the main event.

Opening proceedings Monday night will be Art Belcher of Amarillo and Pasha Bey, who asked for a return engagement to prove that Clingman's win last Monday was a fluke.
