Once in a 100 years

By DAVID BOWSER
STAFF WRITER

Darlene Birkes was still at it today.

Although the Gray County Centennial Celebration started Friday and officially ended Sunday, Birkes, who headed the celebration organization, was busy today paying bills and reviewing paperwork.

"I thought it went really well," Birkes said this morning. "I was very pleased."

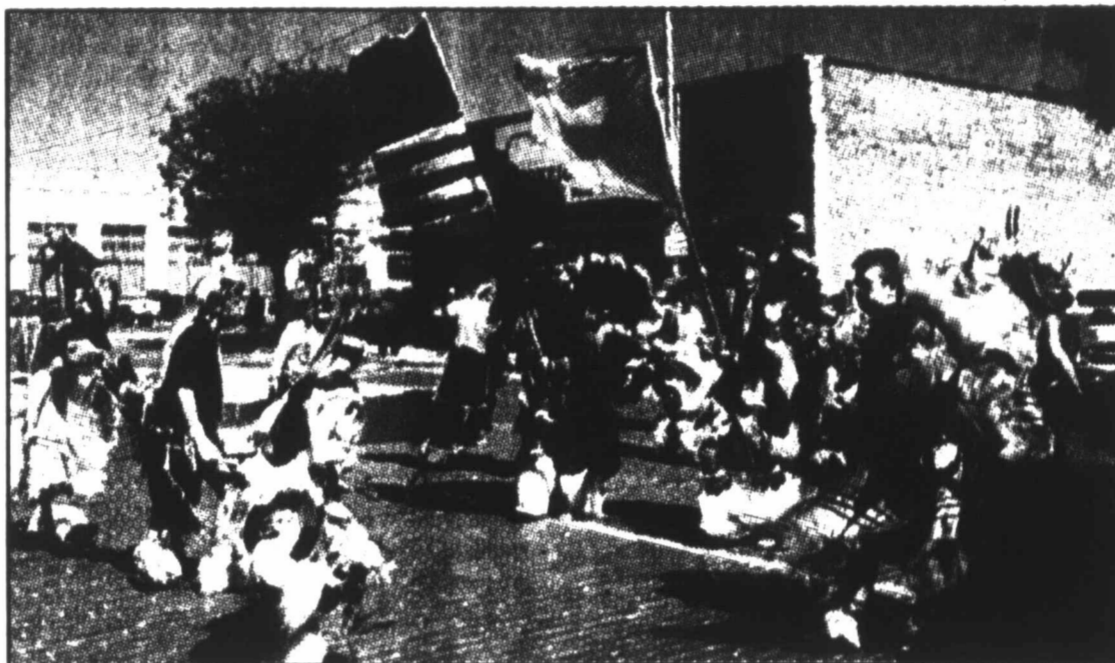

The oldest residents were recognized during the four-day celebration.

Teresa Reed was born the same year - 1902 - that local residents voted to organize Gray County. George Keeton, born in 1899, laughed that he was older than Gray County.

The celebration opened Thursday with the Pampa High School Homecoming Parade, which included historical floats.

Friday's activities included Pampa High School Hall of Fame induction ceremonies and luncheon.

Pioneer Welcome at the VFW Hall on Cuyler followed by a salute to veterans, a Shriners' Stew luncheon and entertainment.

Birkes said there was hardly a dry eye during the salute to veterans. The U.S. Air Force provided an honor guard from Altus Air Force Base.

"We had very good entertainment," Birkes said.

On the outdoor stage in Central Park, there was a tribute to settlers in dance and music, including a Mariachi band, Irish cloggers, Scottish bagpipers, Roman jugglers and the Kwahadi Indian dancers, a Boy Scout Troop from Amarillo.

The bagpipers, the choir groups and the cloggers performed music as varied as the people who first settled Gray County and Pampa.

"We wanted it to be entertaining as well as educational," Birkes said.

Birkes said they tried to include all the different ethnic groups that settled here.

"This was really a tribute to the early settlers," she said.

The cast of "TEXAS" also performed. There was also gospel and barbershop singing and German polkas.

The Kwahadi Indian Dancers and the cloggers were a big hit, Birkes said, as were the Scottish bagpipers.

"They had one boy from Scotland that has only been here for a little while," Birkes said. "He had a really thick brogue. It was thrilling."

The 23rd Street Pipers, based in of Canyon, has 45 members. They each come from a different walk of life. The leader, Tom Campbell, is a bagpipe teacher. Phil Smith is a doctor. Bruce Tiffin is a court services officer in Randall County. Colin Chalmers, who works at Jent's House of Music in Amarillo, is also a kilt maker.

Chalmers, when asked why they're called kilts instead of skirts, quipped, "Because the last man that called them skirts was 'kilt.'"

City Commission to get look at dissolution plan

Pampa City Commission has the Pampa Economic Development Corporation dissolution plan on its work session agenda Tuesday but there may be few opinions expressed at that time.

"This will be their first official notice of it," acting City Manager Kerry Sweatt said today. "My bet is the commissioners won't leap into a review of it Tuesday."

The city commission will meet for its work session at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in the second floor conference room at City Hall. The regular meeting will follow at 6 p.m. upstairs.

Sweatt, who is filling in until Oct. 14 for interim City Manager John Hatchel, told The Pampa News today he did include a copy of the dissolution plan with commission packets.

The minutes of the last PEDC meeting, which detail the plan, are expected to be approved at 5 p.m. today when the PEDC meets in the City Hall conference room. That is the only item on the agenda.

Included in the plan is the sale of assets so the proceeds can be used to retire the PEDC debt.

A section of land near the prison is part of the assets. Previously, city officials have voiced the need for the city to retain the water rights to that land.

Former City Manager Bob Eskridge said the water rights were needed to ensure sufficient water, long term, for the prison and to provide enough water should another prison facility be built there.

In other action Tuesday, commissioners will consider approving the 2002 tax roll as submitted by the Gray County tax assessor/collector.

Fire prevention focus of week

This year's observance of National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6-12, comes after a record year for destruction of homes and natural resources by wildfires across the nation.

Nationally, 67,424 wildfires have burned 6.6 million acres of forest, brush and grass, and consumed a staggering number of homes and other structures as well, according to the National Interagency Coordination Center in Boise, Idaho.

The creation of a national fire prevention day (later extended to a full week) was prompted by the Great Chicago Fire of 1871, a fire that killed 250 people and destroyed more than 17,000 buildings at a cost of $168 million. The national observance is always observed during the week that includes Oct. 9, the anniversary date of the Chicago fire.

Free speech, criminal rights headline Supreme Court term

WASHINGTON (AP) — The freedom to burn a cross, the post-prison privacy rights of sex predators and copyright protection for lingerie will occupy the Supreme Court as the justices step from behind red velvet drapes and into their courtroom next week.

The term's biggest news, however, may come from cases still making their way to the high court.

"There are some elephants here, but the elephants are standing in the wings," said court scholar David Garrow, a law professor at Emory University.

The court soon may face its first case testing the government's power to limit traditional civil liberties and legal rights in the name of combating terrorism. Fights also loom over affirmative action on college campuses and the new campaign finance law.

The court term that begins Monday may also be remembered as the final one for Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist, who has passed his 30th anniversary on the court, or for one of the other justices thought to be close to retirement.

None of the nine justices has indicated immediate plans to leave.

The court is taking a look at whether states went too far in passing child-protection laws commonly known as Megan's laws and whether California's "three-strikes-you're-out" sentencing law is unconstitutionally harsh.

"This is about locking people up for the rest of their lives for taking $150 worth of children's videos," American Civil Liberties senior lawyer Steven Shapiro said about the California law, the nation's toughest. The law allows up to a life prison term for a third felony, even for a nonviolent crime.

The cross-burning case evokes a mostly bygone era in the South, when nightriders set crosses ablaze as a symbol of intimidation to blacks and civil rights sympathizers. Virginia and other states tried to outlaw the practice, but the laws have run into trouble on free-speech grounds.

Two cases ask whether registries of convicted sex offenders, some posted on the Internet, are unfair to criminals who already have served sentences or who may have committed crimes such as exposing oneself in public.

HART WARREN

HOUSTON — Hart Warren, 83, longtime Pampa Country Club golf professional, died Saturday, Oct. 5, 2002, in Houston. Services are pending with Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors of Pampa.

Mr. Warren was born Oct. 16, 1918, in Caliente, Ariz., to Eva I. Lamb and husband John D. Warren. He was honorably discharged from the U.S. Army in 1946. He was a 32nd degree Mason and was a member of the Top O' Texas Masonic Lodge #1381 AF&AM. He and his wife Ava moved from Pampa to Houston in 2001 to be closer to their family. He loved golf and golfers alike and taught the game to many. All will remember his sympathetic response to anyone complaining about a bad lie on the course: "That ball just ended up somewhere you ought not to have hit it!" Everyone who met him also quickly realized that, although he might not always be right, he was rarely in doubt. He will be missed.

He was preceded in death by his first wife and the mother of his children, Maggie Lou Steward Warren.

Next to the White Deer Land Museum, a reenactment group, the Frontier Regiment set up a display.

"The Frontier Regiment outdid themselves," Birkes said.

The streets were filled with antique cars and farm machinery.

"The car show was really great," Birkes said. "They had 37 entries."

At the knitting and crocheting display, Girl Scouts made and gave away yarn dolls.

Nearby, the Boy Scouts demonstrated a rope braiding machine and wood carvers worked on a totem pole that will go to the Boy Scout camp at Mobeetie.

"The quilt show was successful," Birkes said of the Pampa Piecemakers Quilt Guild Quilt Show Saturday at M.K. Brown Civic Auditorium.

At Methodist Park, Joan Gray, Gray County home extension agent, and her 4-H members and parents set old-fashioned games. Gray said it was interesting. A number of children had no idea how to play 'Jacks.'

Angela Roberts, a teacher from Austin Elementary School, organized an oral history project and the students involved made story boards for display.

"It was terrific," Birkes said. "That was exciting for me."

Birkes said the style show was unique. The styles from the early 1900s were tailored for specific people at the time they were made, and it was difficult to make them fit some of the models.

Saturday night, the Knights of Columbus had a chicken fried steak dinner and enough birthday cake for the first 200 people to come by.

"We had a sell-out at both meals," Birkes said.

Jane Jacobs, who was tasked with the Pampa Ranch Rodeo, said today that two Earth, Texas, ranches, the Sand Hills Cattle Company and Hayes and Son Cattle Company, who teamed up together, won top honors.

"It was excellent," Jacobs said of the performances of the rodeo Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

The Sand Hills and Hayes team will represent Pampa in November at the World Championship Ranch Rodeo in Amarillo.

The Amarillo-based band, Cooder Graw, was a hit with the younger people, Birkes said of the sock hop Saturday night at the Pampa High School Field House.

The band, including Pampa natives Matt Martindale and Kelly Turner, had to leave immediately after their Saturday afternoon performance in order to be in Houston for a Sunday afternoon appearance. Today they're performing in Austin. Later this week, they'll be in San Antonio at a Dodge convention. The group has just completed a new Dodge commercial that will begin to air about two weeks.

Pampa's airfield, Perry Lefors Airport, held an open house and had 27 planes on display.

"They had good attendance," Birkes said.

Clarendon College provided a glimpse into the future with their computer teaching demonstration on Sunday afternoon during the school's Pampa Campus open house.

Loralee Cooley's "This Land" was performed at the new Woody Guthrie Folk Music Center Sunday afternoon to a standing room only crowd.

"It was really good," Birkes said of the four-day event. "Even the weather cooperated, except for the wind."

She said she was especially grateful to the Knights of Columbus and VFW for the use of their indoor facilities.

"It did cost us some money, but we had very good donors," Birkes said. "That allowed us to bring in some entertainment. The donors were really helpful."

GOLF

KAHUKU, Hawaii (AP) — Hale Irwin doesn't have to be at his best to win on the Senior PGA Tour — especially in Hawaii.

The 57-year-old Irwin won the Turtle Bay Championship for the third straight year Sunday, beating Gary McCord with a birdie on the first hole of a playoff.

"I think I was a little off," said Irwin, 1-5 in senior playoffs. "More than anything, I'd just tried to do my thing and I wasn't doing it very well. I was sort of hanging on."

The three-time U.S. Open champion has won five of his senior-record 36 victories in Hawaii, and also has a PGA Tour win and three Senior Skins Game victories on the islands.

"I guess you could call Hawaii a second home," he said. "It certainly is a primary home for my golf game with the successes I've had here. It's just fantastic."

Irwin, raised his putter and smiled after sinking the winning 8-foot putt at Turtle Bay Resort, also the site of his 2001 victory. He also won the event in 1997 and 2000 when it was held on Maui and called the Kananapali Classic.

"It's got to be a little more than coincidental," he said. "Some of it could be that the winds and conditions can be challenging and I like that. I think very much of it is the environment, not just climate, but the spirit."

AMARILLO — E. J. McIlvain considered it an honor to be in the group when the Clifton McNeely Endowment Scholarship was announced Friday in Amarillo.

"He was such a tremendous coach," said McIlvain, who was an all-state player under coach McNeely when Pampa won two of their four state basketball championships in the 1950s. "I looked at him as my mentor."

The McNeely scholarship, which will be administered by the Amarillo Area Foundation, will be given to a Pampa High student as a one-time gift at the end of each school year, starting in 2003.

McIlvain started playing for McNeely in 1952 at the start of an unmatched 72-game winning streak from 1952 to 1955. The Harvesters won Class 4A state title in 1953 and 1954, and again in 1958 and 1959.

"Teaching the fundamentals of basketball was very important to him. The first couple of weeks of practice, all we would work on was fundamentals. He believed if you did the fundamentals the right way, everything would fall into place," McIlvain said.

McNeely's wife, Peggy McNeely, along with twin sons Phil and Mike of Duncanville, daughter Sheryl Shaw and family of Crosby, were among those attending the formal scholarship announcement held at the Amarillo Foundation Board Room, 801 South Fillmore. McIlvain was joined by former Harvesters Kenneth Hinkle and Gary Griffin, both of whom played for McNeely.

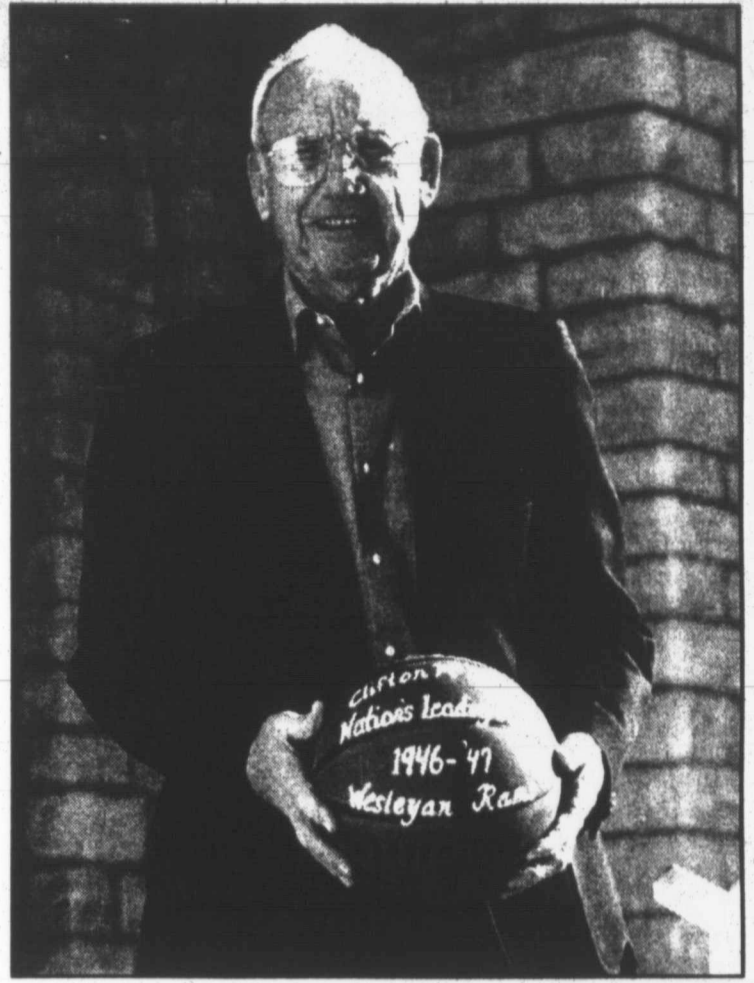

PHS head basketball coach Jerry Schaeffer and Woodrow Wilson counselor Mary Sturgeon were instrumental in making the scholarship idea a reality.

McNeely, who is now 83, was unable to attend the ceremony. He has been diagnosed with Alzheimer's and is currently in an assisted-living center in Dallas.

"He still knows his family, but his mental capacity continues to deteriorate. Both his short-term memory and long-term memory are pretty bad," says Mike McNeely, who lives in Duncanville.

The endowment scholarship is already gathering momentum. Tammy Shaklee, Amarillo Area Foundation spokesperson, said $3,000 was contributed to the scholarship fund even before Friday's formal announcement.

Persons interested in making contributions to the fund can contact Tammy Shaklee at 806-376-4521, Jerry Schaeffer at 806-669-3284 or Mary Sturgeon at 806-665-8287.

Giants force Game five in NL division series

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Livan Hernandez forced a Game 5. So did Tom Glavine.

The two pitchers combined to send the San Francisco Giants and Atlanta Braves back to Atlanta to determine who will advance to the NL championship series.

"We certainly played all year long to have home-field advantage, and we have that on our side," said Glavine, Atlanta's veteran left-hander who picked up the loss in San Francisco's 8-3 Game 4 victory Sunday.

"From my standpoint, it's disappointing we even have to play a Game 5."

Hernandez stayed perfect in the postseason and the Giants battered Glavine for the second time to even their NL division series at 2-2.

Barry Bonds drove in the first run and the Giants led all the way, sending the teams back to Turner Field to decide the series Monday night.

Buses to carry the clubs to the airport for cross-country flights were lined up before it ended.

"I'm ready to go. My kids are helping me pack my bag. I knew already," San Francisco's Jeff Kent said.

"We're the Giants. We're a team that's been scraping all year. Why not scrape all the way to a fifth game?"

Kevin Millwood, already waiting at home in Atlanta, will pitch for the Braves on three days' rest against a fully rested Russ Ortiz.

Handed a 7-0 lead, Hernandez — the 1997 NLCS and World Series MVP — improved to 6-0 in the postseason. Even after a disappointing record of 12-16 in the regular season, he was confident before his first outing of this series.

"I never lose in October," he said.

At least one team in the neighborhood is still alive. After the Oakland Athletics were eliminated by Minnesota in the AL division series across San Francisco Bay, Hernandez gave fans plenty to cheer about.

The wild-card Giants won for the first time in six tries when facing postseason elimination since the 1971 NL championship series.

Hernandez carried a no-hit bid into the fifth, but Vinny Castilla hit a high popup that dropped between Hernandez, third baseman David Bell and shortstop Rich Aurilia for a single.

Bell charged in too far and the ball fell behind him. Keith Lockhart followed with another base hit.

Hernandez allowed three runs and eight hits in 8 1-3 innings, striking out six. Giants manager Dusty Baker was booed when he lifted his starter, but Scott Eyre and Robb Nen finished up.

"I tried not to put pressure on," Hernandez said. "I knew it was a big game. I do it the same as I do every day. I came into the park and batting practice relaxed, my mind relaxed. I did not want to make a lot of mistakes ... and I won again today."

Aurilia hit a three-run homer in the third — his third hit of the game — as the Giants found the offense that eluded them in the two previous games of the series, both losses.

Big 12 bristling with big-time quarterbacks

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The new crop of quarterbacks in the Big 12 can get the job done with more than their feet.

Sorry, Eric Crouch. But just one year after your powerful, churning legs and short passes placed another Heisman in Nebraska's crowded trophy case, you're out of style.

In what could be called "quarterback Saturday," just about every Big 12 team last week had a splendid performance by its quarterback.

Records tumbled. Cross-country scoring plays sprouted like prairie flowers.

It got so frantic at the wild Texas Tech-Texas A&M game, officials put in a call to the NCAA to figure out how exactly how many touchdown passes they'd seen — 11 or 12.

The Big 12 has the game of the week this Saturday with No. 2 Oklahoma going against No. 3 Texas in Dallas.

But top to bottom, can any other conference in the country match the Big 12 week after week with talent under center?

At the top, at least for the time being, would seem to be Iowa State's Seneca Wallace and Texas Tech's Cliff Kingsbury — with Texas' Chris Simms lurking right behind them.

Wallace, the smooth, do-everything senior, is hitting 64 percent of his passes for 1,653 yards and 10 touchdowns. He's also run for five TDs and begun showing well in Heisman Trophy polls for the resurgent No. 11 Cyclones, who were off last Saturday.

Kingsbury was spectacular in Texas Tech's amazing 48-47 overtime thriller against Texas A&M. Though sacked six times, he put up 59 passes and hit all but 10, piling up 474 yards and five TD's, including an overtime toss that set up Robert Treece's game-winning extra point.

"This is my best game ever," said Kingsbury, who has thrown for a Big 12 career record of 9,546 yards and leads the nation this year with 2,134 yards through the air.

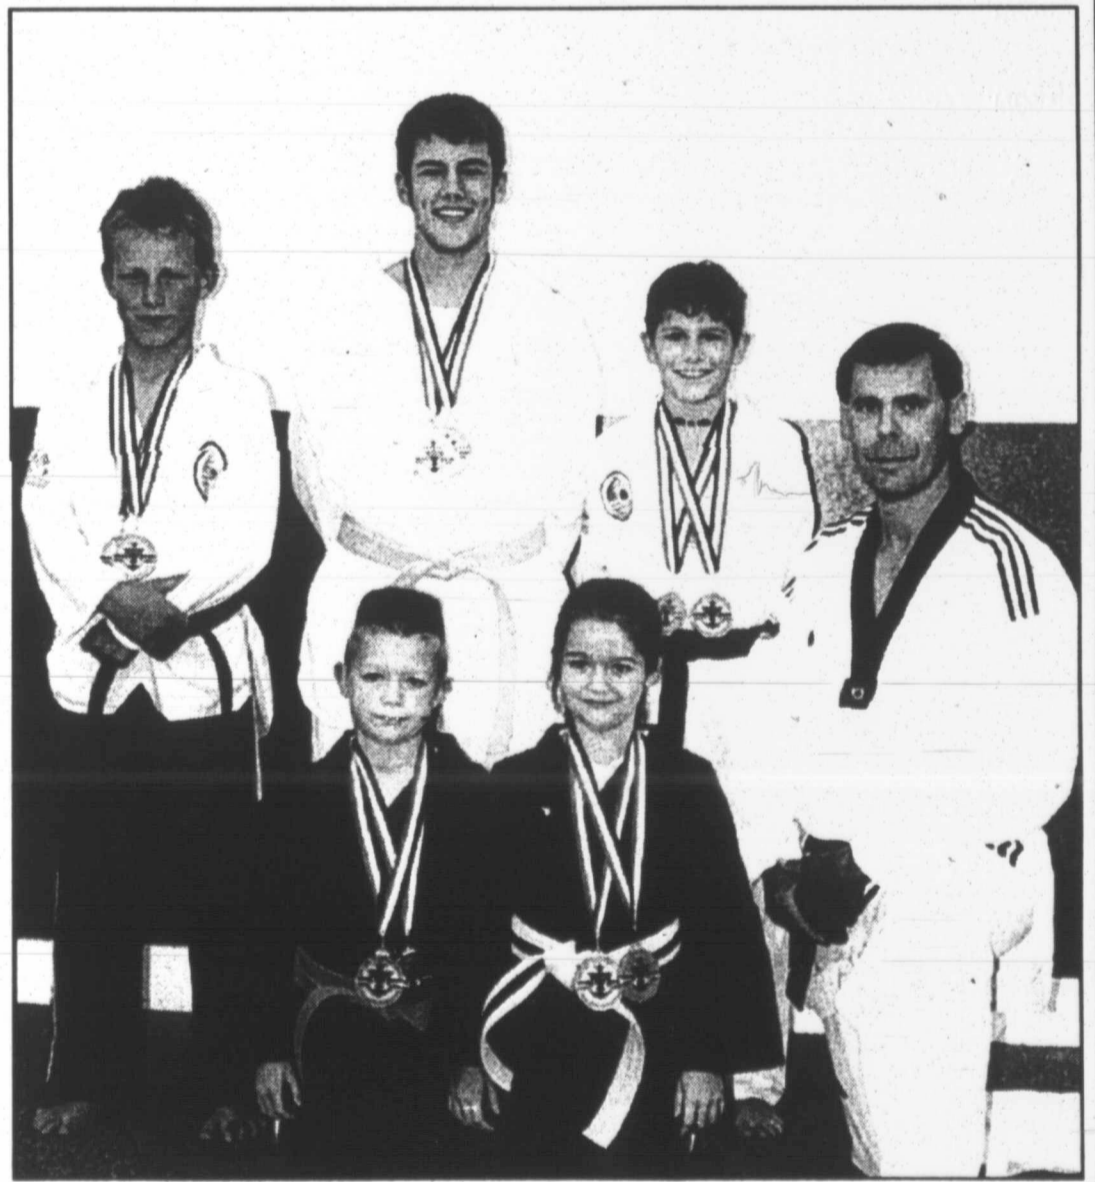

Does any other league have a redshirt freshman with the potential of Missouri's Brad Smith, who almost singlehandedly beat No. 2 Oklahoma on Saturday?

Against a Sooners defense that had been giving up 88 yards rushing a game, Smith went for 213 yards, more than any quarterback had ever run for against any Oklahoma team. He wound up with 391 total yards as the Sooners held on for a shaky 31-24 triumph.

"He made us look really average," said Oklahoma coach Bob Stoops.

And what about quarterback depth? When the season began, many people thought Craig Ochs would lead Colorado to a second straight conference title and emerge as a national star. Then on Sept. 7 Ochs went out with an injury and subsequently shocked the Buffs by withdrawing from school. His backup, Robert Hodge, has merely engineered back-to-back victories over UCLA and No. 19 Kansas State.

Martial arts medalists

Five students from T&W Martial Arts school entered the Poos Brothers Tae Kwon Do Championships recently in Oklahoma City. Each student placed in sparring and forms. Raiders beat Bills to become NFL's only unbeaten team

By The Associated Press

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (AP) — Rookie Phillip Buchanon returned an interception by Drew Bledsoe 81 yards with just over eight minutes left Sunday as the Oakland Raiders defeated the Buffalo Bills 49-31 to remain the NFL's only unbeaten team.

Oakland improved to 4-0 for the sixth time in franchise history and first time since 1990, and the Raiders later became the only team with an unblemished record when the San Diego Chargers were routed in Denver, falling to 4-1.

With the Raiders clinging to a 35-31 lead, Buchanon stepped in front of Bledsoe's pass toward Peerless Price and ran it back untouched up the left sideline. Buchanon had let a pass slip through his hands on the previous play.

Buchanon's interception came a week after the cornerback returned a punt 83 yards for a touchdown and had an interception to set up another TD in Oakland's 52-25 win over the Titans.

Rich Gannon finished 23-of-38 for 357 yards. The game featured two of the league's most prolific offenses, and the teams combined for 974 yards.

Bledsoe had led the Bills (2-3) to two victories in their three overtime games, but he couldn't engineer another great finish. He threw for 417 yards but also had three interceptions.

Broncos 26, Chargers 9

DENVER (AP) — Brian Griese threw for 316 yards and two touchdowns, and Denver held San Diego's LaDainian Tomlinson to 48 yards, a week after he tied the team record with 217 against New England.

Denver (4-1) bottled up San Diego's running game, forcing the Chargers to go almost exclusively with the pass. Drew Brees was 26-for-42 for 235 yards, but he was intercepted twice by Deltha O'Neal.

San Diego (4-1) crossed midfield just four times, with one drive ending on an interception by O'Neal in the end zone.

NFL roundup

O'Neal, who was ejected for bumping an official last week against Baltimore, also returned an interception 28 yards for a touchdown midway through the fourth quarter that put Denver up 26-3. Dolphins 26, Patriots 13

MIAMI (AP) — Jay Fiedler threw two touchdowns and ran for another — all on third down — as Miami defeated New England 26-13 Sunday to take over sole possession of first place in the AFC East.

The Dolphins improved to 4-1, while the Patriots fell to 3-2 with their second straight defeat. They're 0-13 in Miami in September and October.

Coming off a 48-30 loss at Kansas City, the Dolphins regained their dominant form on defense. End Jason Taylor had two sacks and forced a fumble by New England quarterback Tom Brady to set up Miami's first score.

The Dolphins led 16-0 at halftime, and the Patriots' first 21 plays netted just 17 yards.

Ricky Williams gained 105 tough yards on 36 carries — a Dolphins regular-season record. He already has four 100-yard games this season, one shy of the team season mark set by Delvin Williams in 1978.

Redskins 31, Titans 14

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Steve Spurrier found a new quarterback in rookie Patrick Ramsey, who relieved injured Danny Wuerffel and threw for 268 yards and two touchdowns.

The Redskins (2-2) bounced back from two straight defeats behind their first-round draft pick, who went 20-of-34 and helped his team roll up 442 yards against the hapless Titans (1-4).

Wuerffel made his first NFL start in four years, but he left after just one series with an injured right shoulder.

49ers 37, Rams 13

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers pounded their biggest rivals with delight as Jeff Garcia threw for a touchdown and ran for another in a rout that left the defending NFC champions 0-5.

Jason Webster staggered the already roughed-up Rams when he intercepted a pass by backup Jamie Martin — starting for the injured Kurt Warner — and returned it 37 yards for a touchdown and a 27-3 lead just before halftime.

Garrison Hearst ran for 116 yards, including a 16-yard touchdown midway through the fourth quarter for the 49ers (3-1).

Jaguars 28, Eagles 25

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Rookie John Henderson sacked Donovan McNabb three times, and Bobby Shaw returned a punt 69 yards in the Jaguars' close victory.

Jacksonville (3-1) made the big plays and the right calls, especially early in the fourth quarter, when coach Tom Coughlin took a gamble, going for it on fourth-and-1 from the Philly 2 with a 14-10 lead. Stacey Mack broke Barry Gardner's tackle for the first down, and scored from the 1 on the next play for a 21-10 lead.

McNabb threw for 230 yards and ran for 100 more, but he was sacked five times. He was so exhausted trying to lead the Eagles (3-2) back late in the game that he had to pull away from center while he threw up on the field.

Saints 32, Steelers 29

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Deuce McAllister ran for 123 yards and scored two touchdowns as the Saints improved to 4-1.

Steelers quarterback Tommy Maddox, making his first NFL start since 1992, played well in place of the benched Kordell Stewart, but defense was again the problem for Pittsburgh (1-3).

Maddox threw a 14-yard TD pass to Terance Mathis with 1:26 left, then hit Hines Ward for the conversion pass to cut the deficit to 3 points, but New Orleans recovered the onside kick.

Buccaneers 20, Falcons 6

ATLANTA (AP) — Keyshawn Johnson caught a 76-yard pass for his first touchdown of the season, and the Buccaneers got another defensive TD when Warren Sapp intercepted a pass and lateraled to Derrick Brooks.

Tampa Bay (4-1) has allowed only 27 points in winning four straight games, and the defense hasn't given up a touchdown on the road all season.

The Falcons (1-3) lost quarterback Michael Vick, who sprained his right (non-throwing) shoulder early in the third quarter and didn't return.

Giants 21, Cowboys 17

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Kerry Collins, who entered the game leading the NFC in passing yardage but had thrown for only one score, threw three TD passes to lead the Giants.

New York (3-2) took the lead for good when Collins hit Marcellus Rivers for a 17-yard score with 6:51 left.

The Cowboys (2-3) had a chance to pull out a second straight late victory, but Quincy Carter overthrew Antonio Bryant on a long pass with less than three minutes left.

Emmitt Smith scored his first TD of the season on a 30-yard run. He finished with a season-high 70 yards, leaving him 234 away from breaking Walter Payton's career record.

Cardinals 16, Panthers 13

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Bill Gramatica kicked a 50-yard field goal with 16 seconds left as Arizona improved to 3-2, its best start since 1991.

The Panthers (3-2) clung to a 13-6 lead through the fourth quarter, until the Cardinals' Coby Rhinehart intercepted a pass by Rodney Peete — one of four Carolina turnovers.

Freddy Jones scored on a 15-yard run to tie the game, and Carolina couldn't move the ball, giving the Cardinals a chance for the game-winner.

Chiefs 29, Jets 25

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Chiefs running back Priest Holmes ran for 152 yards and a touchdown, and his 19-yard touchdown reception from Trent Green with 27 seconds left handed the Jets their fourth straight loss.

Holmes caught nine passes for 81 yards, and Green followed his five-touchdown performance last week with 296 yards and two TDs to lead the Chiefs (3-2).

John Hall kicked a 25-yard field goal with 2:54 remaining to give the Jets (1-4) a 3-point lead, but Kansas City marched 78 yards for the winning score.

Chad Pennington, making his first career start after Vinny Testaverde was benched, was 23-of-30 for 245 yards, and Curtis Martin had 119 yards.

Colts 28, Bengals 21

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Peyton Manning threw for two touchdowns and ran for another, while Marvin Harrison caught nine passes for 145 yards and a touchdown as Indianapolis held off the winless Bengals.

Indy (3-1) finally got its offense in sync. Edgerrin James scored his first TD in more than a year, and the defense also produced four turnovers.

The Bengals (0-5) were just glad to hang around after getting outscored 119-23 in their first four games. Jon Kitna, Cincinnati's third starting quarterback in three weeks, threw for 244 yards and Corey Dillon ran for 164 yards and two TDs.

Ravens 26, Browns 21

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ray Lewis turned a national TV game into his own prime-time special for three quarters as the Baltimore Ravens (2-2) built a big lead and held on to beat the Browns.

Lewis, Baltimore's unstoppable middle linebacker, had an interception, forced a fumble that he recovered and made four tackles before he injured his left shoulder and had to sit out the fourth quarter.

Cleveland (2-3) trailed 23-0 at the start of the fourth quarter, but with starting quarterback Tim Couch sitting dazed on the bench with a concussion, the Browns stormed back behind Kelly Holcomb.

After recovering an onside kick, the Browns moved the ball to the Ravens' 17 in the final minute, but Holcomb's final pass was picked off by safety Ed Reed.

Fast car, friendship carry Earnhardt to win

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Dale Earnhardt Jr.'s Superman T-shirt was appropriate. He can certainly fly at Talladega Superspeedway.

The third-generation NASCAR star made it look easy Sunday as he joined long-retired Buddy Baker as the only drivers to win three straight races on the 2.66-mile, high-banked oval.

Tony Stewart was right behind at the end, protecting Earnhardt's flank and making sure of the second-place points that vaulted the series bad boy into the Winston Cup points lead.

Earnhardt came out of the pits in the lead following his final stop on lap 150 of the 188-lap event. Stewart pitted a lap later and came out second.

There was no way Stewart was going to take a chance on wrecking himself or his friend, so that's the way it stayed to the end.

"My hat's off to Tony Stewart for being a good friend and helping me out, sticking behind me," Earnhardt said. "Me and him kind of had our share of disagreements in the Busch Series and we became friends after that."

"We've done a lot of buddying up, partnering up on the racetrack in the past. We like racing against each other."

Stewart finished 0.118 seconds — about one car-length — behind.

"I never thought about trying to go by Junior," Stewart said. "It's a trust thing that he and I have. I know that if I'm leading the race, he has always stuck with me, and he knows that any time I've been behind him like that late in a race that I've always stuck by him."

Asked if he was disappointed the lead pack didn't gang up on Earnhardt and help him push to the front on the last lap, Stewart said, "To be honest, I never saw anything behind me that last lap."

A NASCAR experiment, cutting the gas tanks from 22 gallons to 12.5 in an effort to force more pit stops and spread out the field to avoid a big accident, looked like a failure through most of the caution-free race. But it paid off at the end.

The usual packs of 30 or more cars racing two- and three-wide at speeds close to 200 mph in restrictor-plate races formed up within a few laps after each of the early pit stop sequences. The race ended with no multicar crash.

With fuel mileage a big variable and cars making their final pit stops at different times, the leaders were finally able to break away in the waning laps, and nine cars — seven on the lead lap — crossed the finish line in single file behind Earnhardt.

NASCAR spokesman Jim Hunter said the sanctioning body was generally happy with the change.

He said NASCAR officials had hoped it would spread the cars out for longer periods of time, but would consider using it for future restrictor plate races at Talladega and Daytona, possibly with some small changes.

"As it turned out, fuel mileage became a critical issue today and maybe we can tweak it a little bit."

Earnhardt ran the last 38 laps — 101.08 miles — on his last tank of gas and ran out as he drove down pit road to the victory celebration.

"That was close. I think the guys worked real hard figuring gas mileage," Earnhardt said.

"I was having a good time," said Earnhardt, who has two wins this season — both at Talladega — and seven in his career. "The car wasn't doing everything I wanted it to do, but it did enough."

No rematch

NEW YORK (AP) — There will be no rematch of last year's thrilling World Series: The Arizona Diamondbacks and New York Yankees were both sent home long before the Fall Classic.

The wild-card Anaheim Angels roughed up Yankees starters Andy Pettitte, Mike Mussina and David Wells in succession to win the AL division series 3-1 and end New York's four-year run as league champions.

The World Series will be without the free-spending Yankees for the first time since 1997.

Randy Johnson, Curt Schilling and the Diamondbacks were swept by St. Louis in three games.

The Cardinals will play either Atlanta or San Francisco in the next round.

DEAR ABBY

written by Pauline Phillips and daughter Jeanna Phillips

Focus on Fire Prevention Helps Families Save Lives

DEAR ABBY: I have a quick pop quiz for you and your readers: You are at greater risk from fire in:

- (a) a high-rise hotel.
 - (b) a single-family house.
 - (c) an elementary school.
- If you answered hotel or school, you are not only incorrect, but by not recognizing the potential for fire, you may also be dangerously ill-prepared to deal with a home fire if it strikes.

Although news coverage of high-rise and other public occupancy fires tends to be more widespread, the fact is eight out of 10 fire deaths occur in the home. Although the number of fire fatalities has dropped significantly over the past decade, the percentage of fires that occur in the home has remained steady.

Fire can happen to anyone. But no one has to be a victim. This week is Fire Prevention Week. As its official sponsor for 80 years, the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) is urging Dear Abby readers to log onto www.firepreventionweek.org to download free fire safety information and a home escape worksheet. Your local fire department is working with NFPA as part of the "Team Up for Fire Safety" educational campaign. They need you on their team. Please download the free information now. It could save your life.

JAMES M. SHANNON, CEO, NFPA

DEAR JAMES AND DEAR READERS: I'm sure I speak for everyone in voicing gratitude for your timely and important letter.

We all need to be aware of three simple steps that can be taken right now to make our homes safer from fire. Every household must have working smoke alarms on each level, and they should be tested once a month to assure that they're working properly. Smoke alarms provide an early warning, giving families time to escape.

To make that escape as quick and safe as possible, it is vital that a plan be made in advance — with two possible exits out of every room. It is essential to practice a home fire drill regularly so each family member is familiar with it. It should be practiced in order to identify obstacles or difficulties that could slow your escape.

Finally, remember that the best protection from fire is to prevent it in the first place. Conduct a hunt for home hazards, such as unattended lighted candles, space heaters too close to combustibles and overflowing ashtrays. Correcting such hazards will go a long way in protecting you and your families from fires.

living before) to eat breakfast and get ready for work.

He eats dinner at his mom's every night and stays there overnight on Friday and Saturday.

This is becoming exasperating because I rarely see him, and he isn't paying his share of our bills.

Please help me, Abby. I'm going broke.

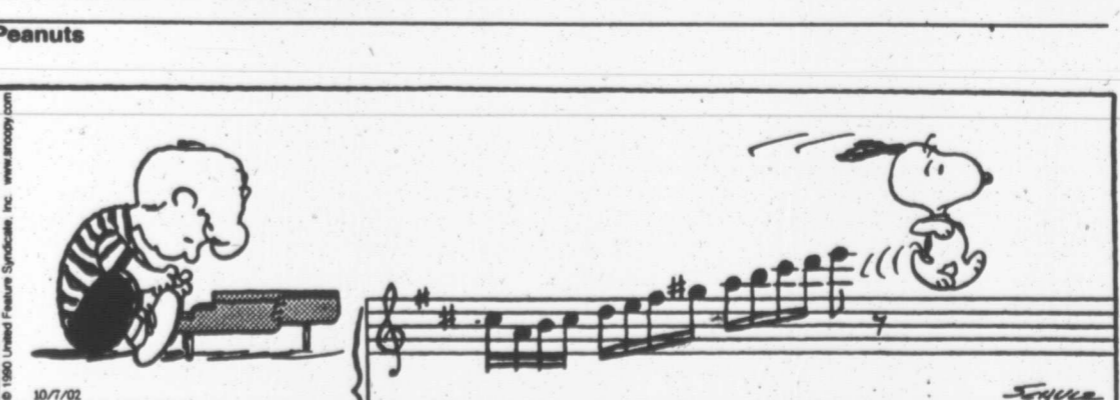

BRIDE ON THE BRINK
IN MECHANICSVILLE, MD

DEAR BRIDE: You married a man who wasn't ready to leave his mother — and hasn't. Tell him that when a man marries, he is expected to eat his meals with his wife — not his mother. If he refuses, speak to a lawyer about an annulment.

Dear Abby is written by Abigail Van Buren, also known as Jeanna Phillips, and was founded by her mother, Pauline Phillips. Write Dear Abby at www.DearAbby.com or P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, CA 90089.
