Pampa school board members continue to study effectiveness of PHS schedule

By DEE DEE LARAMORE
Editor

Pampa Independent School District's Board of Education listened to public comments and studied several areas of concern with the high school's block schedule, but made no decision at their regular meeting Thursday night.

Three Pampa High School students and one parent spoke to the board about the class schedules. Dirk Swope, a sophomore, read a letter to the editor he had written in favor of block schedules, while two other sophomores, April Laycock and Whitney Parker presented what they felt were the pros and cons. Charles Smith, a PHS parent, said the schedule had limits to his son's ability to take Latin I and Latin II. Also his son can't play football and be in choir next year because of the block schedule, he said.

Later in the meeting, Dr. Dawson Orr, school superintendent, presented data gathered by school administrators that addressed seven concerns that had surfaced regarding block schedules. The issues were drawn from a letter submitted by Dr. Jay Johnson, board member, last August. Orr told the board that he would simply submit the information and let the board make its own interpretation.

Board members studied Pampa High 2002 TAAS scores compared to other grades in the district as well as comparing PHS's performance with other schools in the state which use different types of scheduling. Also submitted were various graduation programs comparing block schedule and seven period days the students.

"Overall, seven periods per day better accommodated," Orr said. "But when you have 'I want to do it well and do it all' students, they'll have to make accommodations no matter what," he said.

PHS Principal John Kendall said many students are circumventing the scheduling limits by "credit by exam" and taking college courses.

He said that each year, school officials try to arrange classes to meet student demand. "Counselors are good at listening to what the kids want. They help the kids and the coaches are pretty good at working with the kids," Kendall said. "We try to help them all we can, but sometimes they have to make choices."

"It looks like the seven period schedule would force seniors to take more academic classes," Board President Lee Porter commented, adding, "I don't know if 'force' is the word I really want to use."

Currently, many senior students complete most required graduation courses before their senior year. If they chose to take the "senior light" route and not take any electives to fill their schedule, they only have to go to school a half day.

"There are policy solutions to 'senior light' that we could address in November or December no matter what decision the board makes about the block or seven period schedule," Orr told board members.

Board member John Curry said he felt that many students won't take electives because they can lower their weighted average. An "A" in an elective can actually lower their average if they participate in the Distinguished Achievement Program (DAP), officials explained.

Orr reiterated that this is a separate issue that board members can address through policy.

Johnson asked if Orr had the district's cost of early graduation. Orr said he would have those figures for the November meeting.

Nancy Coffee, board member and retired teacher, pointed out that in the seven period schedule, teachers class load is increased. She also handed the board a sheet listing the advantages of block scheduling she had taken from a November 2000 study by J. Allen Queen, a University of North Carolina professor and chair of the Department of Educational Administration, Research and Technology.

"If you have 150 students and you spend 10 minutes per student per day, grading and planning, that adds 25 hours a week to a teacher's work load," Coffee said. "That would probably eliminate any cost savings you might get."

"But that's not the only thing we're looking at here," Orr said. "We're looking at what's best and what's most effective. If that were the case, there's any number of ways we could save costs. It's called cutting programs."

Johnson referred to a Texas Education Agency research study on block schedules. He said that according to the study, drop out rates were higher on the accelerated block and history scores were lower.

Although he said Pampa scored higher than state averages in these areas, Johnson wondered aloud, "What could we have been? Could we have been better?"

Joe Martinez, board member, pointed out that the school district has achieved the goals set out five years ago when the block scheduling was approved.

"Maybe it's time for the board to raise the bar," Porter said. "I agree with Joe that the original goals have been met."

The board agreed to consider more information supplied by school administrators and make a decision at the November school board meeting.

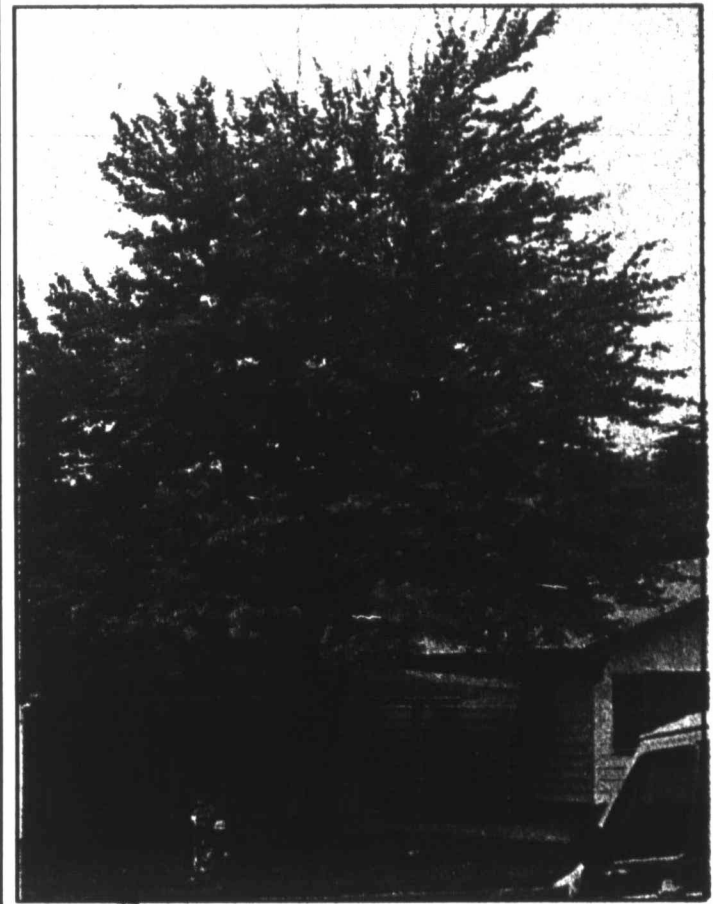

In other action Thursday, the board approved the following:

- Awarded Culberson-Stowers Inc., the bid for a maintenance department pick-up for $19,621.58;
- Texas Association of School Board Policy Update 68, including changes to local policies on interfacility mail and outside information distributed within the district; and
- Named Carrie Hubbard, Marci Welborn, Susan Parrish, Dee Babcock, and Mark Mertz to the Elementary Pre-K and social studies textbook committee; and Mary Gandy and Sherry Seaborn to the secondary social studies textbook committee.

Francine Owens was hired as a half-time English teacher at Pampa Middle School.

During a 90-minute work session prior to the meeting, the board discussed performance objectives and improvement plans with campus administrators and staff. The matter was tabled at the regular meeting so board members could review all the plans and make a decision at the November meeting.

Wheeler grand jurors hand up indictments

By NANCY YOUNG

WHEELER — Among the eight indictments returned by the Wheeler County Grand Jury were a charge of an injury to the elderly, aggravated sexual assault of a child, and felony theft.

Roy Dees, 41, Shamrock, was indicted on a charge of injury to the elderly which occurred Oct. 13. Assistant District Attorney David Holmes said the 73-year-old male victim was treated at an area hospital for bodily injury.

Holmes said Simon Garza, Jr., 31, of Oklahoma was indicted for aggravated sexual assault with a child involving an incident which occurred April 9 in Wheeler County. He said the victim was a 13-year-old female.

Terry Keith Hammond, 39, and his wife Bessie Price Hammond, 37, both of Shamrock, were each indicted for theft over $1,500 and under $20,000. Holmes said the indictment was the result of an agreement between the Hammond couple to manage the Shamrock radio station for the Shamrock Economic Development Corporation.

After the couple left the employment of the radio station, Holmes said they continued to receive payments to pay for advertising bills and were allegedly depositing the money in their private account.

Other indictments returned by the Wheeler County Grand Jury were as follows: Robert Joesahi Smith, 75, Wheeler, aggravated assault with serious bodily injury; Michael Sean Shortnancy, 38, Shamrock, burglary of a habitation; Jimmy Joe Couch, 43, Wheeler, possession of a controlled substance; and Johnny Gene Woods, Jr., 26, Chandler, Ariz., possession of marijuana.

Early voters hit the polls

By NANCY YOUNG
MANAGING EDITOR

Voters in Gray County are going to the polls in record numbers for the Nov. 5 election.

County Clerk Chief Deputy Carolyn Law said Friday morning that 946 have voted during the first week of early voting leading up to the general election.

"Voting is heavier than usual," said Law. Longtime election workers say the steady stream of voters is the heaviest they have ever seen, she said.

County voters are casting their ballots during the early voting period which began Monday and will continue through Friday, Nov. 1, at the County Clerk's temporary office, 315 N. Ballard.

For the first time, voters in Gray County will be able to cast ballots on a Saturday, Oct. 26, during the early voting. The office will be open for early voting from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow.

"We hope a lot of people take advantage of this opportunity," said County Clerk Susan Winborne. "Also, we will only be open for the purposes of voting. There will be no other county business conducted."

Three locally contested races — county judge, Precinct 2 Commissioner and Precinct 1 and 3 Justice of the Peace — are on the ballot.

The Truth.
Why Farmers is being forced to leave the Texas homeowners insurance market.

As representatives of more than 8,000 Texas-based Farmers Insurance agents and employees, we want a resolution to the current crisis and to stay in the Texas homeowners insurance market.

But, we can't do that without straight talk and meaningful and reasonable negotiations with the Governor's Office, the Attorney General, and the Texas Department of Insurance. We call upon these officials to exert their leadership, learn the facts and solve the problem.

Hundreds of thousands of real people in Texas -- voters, citizens, Farmers agents, Farmers employees and our customers -- are not being told the whole story.

The truth is Farmers has done absolutely nothing wrong. We have consistently offered an independent review of our business practices and the state has refused. The fact is our prices are competitive and, our business practices are accepted in every other state. We are being forced to leave by unfair, punitive actions, which would jeopardize our future ability to serve our customers and the financial integrity of our companies.

Time is short. Beginning in November, 2,000 customers a day, 55,000 homeowners a month, will be unable to renew homeowners insurance with Farmers. As many Texans are now discovering, affordable coverage is extremely difficult if not impossible to find. The State's inaction will harm nearly 700,000 Farmers homeowners.

For more than 50 years, Farmers agents have delivered on their commitment to help Texans get back where they belong after a home, auto, business loss or following the death of a loved one. During those years, Farmers has helped millions of Texans recover from damage and loss.

We want to get the Texas homeowners insurance market back where it belongs! We continue to remain open for all our other lines of business.

Please urge your public officials to help all Texans find an immediate and responsible solution to this statewide crisis.

RELIGION

Compromise is not for the righteous

The Lord will not allow the uncompromisingly righteous to perish.

The reality of righteousness is definitely a key to victorious living. For the word of God states in Romans 5:17 (Amplified), "... those who receive God's overflowing grace and the free gift of righteousness reign as kings in life."

We are to reign in this life as kings instead of life reigning over us. We have been made the righteousness of God and I'm not successful. The problem here is that this person has never made a quality decision to win, as the pressures of the enemy come they always give up and quit. You must realize this fact - failures are not God-made! If you follow God's instruction, you will win.

The Apostle Paul wrote these words in I Corinthians 15:34. "Awake to righteousness and sin not, for some have not the knowledge of God. I speak this to your shame."

As you awake to your right-standing with God then sin becomes a thing of the past. The greater the revelation of righteousness, the less sin

Minister's Musings

JIMMY FLYNN, PH.D.
IGLESIA BAUTISTA EMANUEL

occurs in your life. The word "sin" just simply means "to miss the mark." When you sin you miss the mark for God's best in your life. The major sin that most Christians partake of is not murder, adultery or stealing, but compromise, so many miss the mark because they refuse to stand strong on the word. When pressure comes, they begin to look for an avenue to compromise.

The place where many compromise is when they have done all and are ready to stand, but it appears that nothing is working. You should realize that, at this point, you have the best opportunity to lean hard on your right-standing with God. This is where you can excel and rise above the problems and difficult circumstances in your life (Ephesians 6:10-16).

From the Phillips Translation reads: "In conclusion be strong, not in yourselves but in the Lord. In the power of his boundless resource put on God's complete armor so that you can successfully resist all the devil's methods of attack."

We are up against the unseen power that controls this dark world and spiritual agents from the very headquarters of evil. Therefore you must wear the whole armor of God that you may be able to resist evil in its day of power and that even when you have fought to a standstill, you may still stand your ground.

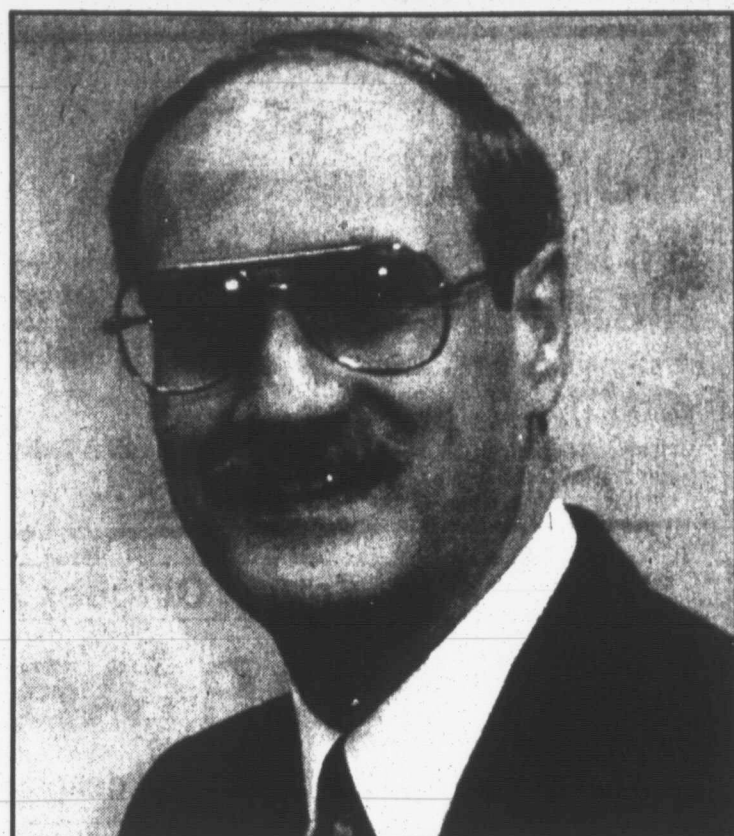

Take your stand then with truth as your belt, righteousness your breastplate, the gospel of peace firmly on your feet, salvation as your helmet, and in your hand the sword of the spirit - the word of God. Above all, be sure you take faith as your shield for it can quench every burning missile the enemy hurls at you.

As you read these scriptures, you will note that God intends for you to win. How? By taking an uncompromising stand on your rights as a child of God. God will back you! You will begin to rejoice and praise God as the psalmist and say, "I will be glad and rejoice in Thee. I will sing praise to thy name, O Thou Most High. When mine enemies are turned back, they shall fall and perish at thy presence, for thou has maintained my right, my cause. Thou seatest in the throne judging right." (Psalm 9:2-4)

Praise God. Did you notice this glorious truth? God will maintain your right and your cause. This is why the righteous do not have to compromise.

In closing, I would like to share with you the following scriptures: Proverbs 10:3, Psalm 37:25, Proverbs 10:6, Psalm 34:19, Psalm 37:39. I believe it will be most rewarding. God bless.

Chevrolet criticized after teaming with evangelical concerts

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet is linking up with an evangelical concert tour for a marketing campaign, a move criticized as crossing the line between religion and the board room.

The "Chevrolet Presents: Come Together and Worship" stage shows begin Nov. 1 in Atlanta and end at the Palace at Auburn Hills on Nov. 23.

"This is surprising — a real blurring of the lines between the commercial and the sacred," Phyllis Tickle, an expert on religious marketing for Publishers Weekly magazine, told the Detroit Free Press for a story Wednesday. "We know that church and state are never supposed to meet, and I think it's also a bad idea for church and Wall Street to be meeting like this."

Steve Betz, the General Motors Corp. division's marketing manager for the southeastern United States, said he was confident the tour will send a positive message and give dealers a boost.

"It's important that we get the message out there with regards to Chevrolet and how we're so family oriented and have great values," Betz said.

The Chevrolet tour includes a multimedia worship service with preaching by the Rev. Max Lucado, a Texas pastor and author, and a distribution of free evangelical literature. The headline musicians, Michael W. Smith and the rock band Third Day, are among popular acts in the contemporary Christian music genre.

The shows are booked into venues averaging 14,000 seats, such as the American Airlines Center in Dallas and Atlanta's Philips Arena.

"We consider this to be a breakthrough for our industry," said Frank Breeden, head of the Christian Music Trade Association in Nashville, Tenn. "A lot of corporations have had a long-standing hands-off policy on topics they consider controversial. And for a long time they've thought about religion as one of those topics."

GOLF

PINE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP) — Unlike several players in the Buick Challenge, Tim Herron doesn't have anything riding on the outcome except winning.

He's too far down on the PGA Tour money list (No. 71) to qualify for the Tour Championship next week in Atlanta, and already secured of keeping his tour card next year by finishing in the top 125.

That hasn't changed his motivation.

"There are a lot of positive things about winning," Herron said after a 9-under 63 on Thursday, his best score in three years that gave him a two-stroke lead over Phil Mickelson and six other players.

Flashback

1953: The Lubbock Westerners came from behind to beat the Pampa Harvesters 9-8 at Oiler Park.

J.T. Lamberson was a perfect 5 for 5 at the plate for Pampa.

PHS athletes are nominated for Wendy's Heisman Award

Pampa tennis players Jay Gerber and Vanessa Orr have been nominated for the Wendy's High School Heisman Award. Both Gerber and Orr are members of Pampa's District 3-4A championship team.

The High School Heisman award was established in 1944 by Wendy's Restaurant founder Dave Thomas, who wanted a way to recognize outstanding male and female high school student-athletes across the country.

In order to be eligible for the award, students must be entering their senior year, have at least a B grade point average, and participate in at least one of 32 sports officially sanctioned by the National Federation of High Schools.

The students can be nominated by their principals, teachers, guidance counselors or athletic directors.

Area students nominated for the award include Cassie Petty of White Deer, Laurissa Noack and Doug Fields of Groom, Amanda Daugherty of Lefors.

Representatives from the fields of education, business and sports, along with former collegiate Heisman Memorial Trophy Award winners and Wendy's High School Heisman recipients, will judge the entries.

On Nov. 4, the Heisman field will be narrowed to 102 state winners, one male and one female from each state. In mid-November, 12 national finalists will be selected to appear on the ESPN2 Wendy's High School Heisman Award ceremony, scheduled Dec. 15.

The two national winners will be honored the day before at the collegiate Heisman ceremony.

The two winners will receive a crystal trophy and $2,500 for their high school.

Giants one win away from title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Barry Bonds is so close to the World Series trophy, he can almost touch it.

And with one more win, the San Francisco Giants might even let him take it home.

Bonds put the Giants on the brink of the championship, lining an RBI double that sent them hurtling toward a 16-4 romp over the Anaheim Angels on Thursday night and a 3-2 edge.

"I won't feel anything until it's over," Bonds said. "It's been difficult to sleep ever since I've been in these playoffs. Playing every at-bat, every pitch in my head."

The trophy will be at Edison Field on Saturday night when Russ Ortiz tries to clinch San Francisco's first title. He'll start against Kevin Appier in Game 6.

"I want to be the guy," Ortiz said.

After the Angels cut an early six-run deficit to 6-4, the Giants blew it open.

Slumping Jeff Kent sealed it with a pair of two-run homers, managing a rare smile in the process. That got the party going full force at Pac Bell Park and put the Giants' franchise one victory from its first crown since Willie Mays & Co. won it for New York in 1954.

Rich Aurilia added the exclamation point, a three-run homer in the eighth that let the Giants tie for the second-highest run total ever in a Series game. The New York Yankees scored 18 in 1936 and had 16 in 1960.

"Everybody did a great job, up and down our lineup," Giants manager Dusty Baker said.

Aurilia's drive set off a fog horn blast and shots from water cannons on top of the right-field wall beside the Bay. The Giants tied a Series record with their 12th home run, and the total of 17 by the teams matched another mark.

Texas Tech, Colorado match opposing ideologies

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — In last week's 52-38 win over Missouri, Texas Tech's Kliff Kingsbury completed 49-of-70 passes for 510 yards and five touchdowns.

Colorado's Robert Hodge has similar stats, having completed 49-of-77 passes for 650 yards and six touchdowns. Hodge, however, amassed his totals over the last four games.

Therein lies the fundamental difference between the Red Raiders and Buffaloes, who meet Saturday at Folsom Field.

Texas Tech litters the air with footballs from a no-huddle attack operated to perfection by Kingsbury, who ranks first in the nation in passing yards (2,916) and touchdowns (28).

Colorado prefers to grind it out behind the nation's leading rusher, Chris Brown, who is averaging 165 yards per game.

Hodge, thrust into the starting role in the third game of the season after concussion-plagued Craig Ochs left school and then announced his intention to transfer, has been quietly effective, but he rarely throws more than 20 passes a game.

"This is an interesting matchup," Colorado coach Gary Barnett said.

"They're a team that throws it primarily every snap, and we're a team that runs it a lot more than we throw it. We're two ideologies here."

The Red Raiders are averaging 37.6 points per game, and over the last five games they're averaging 540 yards of total offense.

For a team that throws the ball so passionately, they do it with few mistakes. Kingsbury has been intercepted only six times in 419 attempts.

"We feel like we can score every drive," Kingsbury said. "If we don't turn it over and don't make mistakes, it's hard to stop us."

Barnett is a believer. Texas Tech (5-3, 2-1 Big 12) has scored more than 40 points in five of its games.

"I think in the eight games they've played there have been four times that they've gone three-and-out the whole year," Barnett said. "And they have tremendous conversion percentages on third and fourth down."

"The challenge for us defensively is to keep them out of the end zone somehow. We know they're going to get a lot of yards, we know he's going to get a lot of completions. Somehow we've just got to make enough plays to outscore them."

Ball control might be the key to a victory by Colorado (5-2, 3-0), the defending Big 12 champion which is riding a four-game winning streak.

And the 6-foot-3, 220-pound Brown could be the guy to do it. Brown has run for 188, 167, 309 and 167 yards in the last four games. For the year he has 1,154 yards and 13 rushing TDs.

"He's big, strong, an incredibly impressive runner," Tech coach Mike Leach said. "And he's having a great year. Lately, he's been the centerpiece of their attack. He's definitely commanding a lot of attention from us this week."

Brown departed last week's 34-0 win over Baylor with a sprained ankle in the third quarter, but he recovered quickly and missed no practice time this week.

The Buffaloes expect to get tight end Beau Williams (calf strain) back for Saturday's game, but linebackers Sean Tufts (ankle) and Drew Wahlroos (elbow) are doubtful.

Neither defense has been especially stout. Colorado ranks eighth in the conference and 56th in the country (362.0), while Texas Tech is 10th in the conference and 94th nationally (414.4).

Kingsbury honored

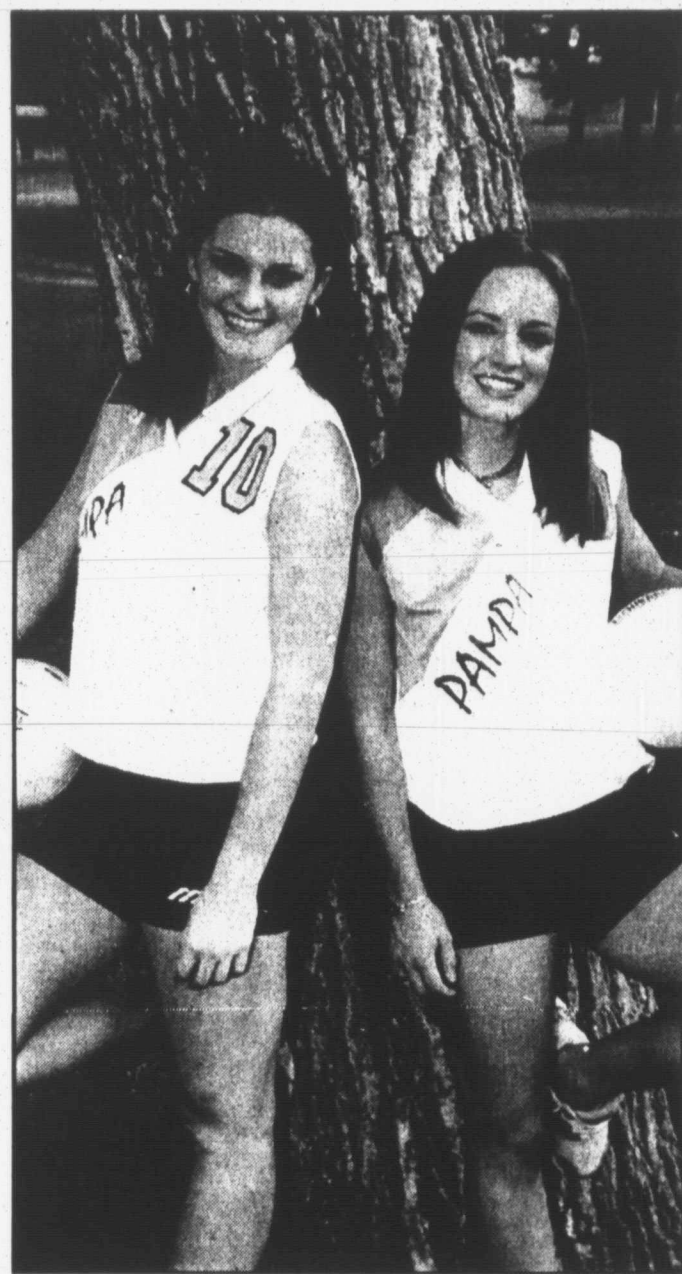

LUBBOCK — The National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame announced Thursday that Texas Tech quarterback Kliff Kingsbury has been named a member of the 2002 National Scholar-Athlete Class, which includes athletes from all NCAA divisions and NAIA.

Kingsbury is one of 14 athletes who will receive an $18,000 post-graduate scholarship.

They will be recognized at the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame's 45th Annual Awards Dinner on Dec. 10 in New York City.

Kingsbury, who holds a degree in business management, is a two-time academic All-Big 12 Conference first-team selection.

Volleyball seniors

Senior volleyball players Angie Williams (left) and Teryn Stowers were recognized at the Pampa-Amarillo High game Tuesday night. Angie is the daughter of Victor and Patti Williams and Teryn is the daughter of Dennis and Tonya Stowers. It was Seniors Night for the Lady Harvesters' team.

Making a tackle

Samuel Hillhouse of the Wheeler Colts tackles a Shamrock runner while teammates Garrett Hampton (65) and Jake Benfield move in during a recent 8th grade football game at Wheeler Field. The Colts won by the score of 50-12.

Aggies host Nebraska

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — These are bad times for the Nebraska Cornhuskers, accustomed to battling every year for national championships, Heisman trophies or whatever award there is to be won.

Yet, when the BCS rankings came out this week, it didn't matter in Lincoln. The Huskers are 5-3 overall and 1-2 in the Big 12 and even beating Texas A&M (5-2, 2-1) on Saturday wouldn't get them back into the title picture.

That's not catching A&M coach R.C. Slocum off guard.

"They look about the same to me," Slocum said. "We were watching from our end zone camera and they've got some big, wide bottoms. They've always had those. The tight end is 290-something pounds."

Nebraska lost to Oklahoma State last week for the first time in 41 years. The Cornhuskers are 1-2 in conference play for the first time since 1968. They have a five-game road losing streak. That hasn't happened since 1958.

"What happens with Nebraska is they have been so successful and so good that when they lose a game or a couple of games, everyone overreacts and overanalyzes that they, all the sudden, have problems," Slocum said.

"A lot of it is wishful thinking by a lot of people. When I see them play, they're still a very talented team."

Maybe so, but the Cornhuskers' unlikely turn has caused concern.

"Discouragement is a concern with some of the guys, especially some of the seniors who had ideas of the team having a great year," defensive backs coach George Darlington said.

"There were some indications that we could. Now the big thing is that we end the thing strong — that we play better this week than we've played yet."

Running back Darran Dierdick still likes the fire at Cornhusker practices.

"Temperatures are really flaring out there in practice just because everybody wants to get it done," Dierdick said. "We're just at that point where we have to get it done."

"The Cornhuskers still have a chance to keep two of their cherished streaks alive."

They need four wins to stretch their streak of nine-win seasons to 34 and two wins to achieve the seven victories necessary to become bowl eligible for the 34th straight year.

Both would be ongoing NCAA records.

A real steal!

Caragan Niccum (left) of the Shooting Stars steps in to steal the ball from Yesenia Soria and Casey Sark (right) of Freedom. The youngsters participate in the Under 6 Girls Division of the Pampa Soccer Association. Games are played at the Soccer Complex on South Naida St. The Shooting Stars are sponsored by Niccum Electric and Freedom is sponsored by FirstBank Southwest.

Iowa State tries to get back on track at Texas

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas knows exactly how Iowa State feels.

A crushing loss to Oklahoma left the No. 17 Cyclones hanging their heads, wondering how they could play so poorly after such a great start.

There's nothing like a big road win in the rough-and-tumble Big 12 to set things straight. Just ask Texas.

The No. 7 Longhorns rebounded from their own loss to the Sooners with a hard-fought 17-14 win last week at Kansas State.

Iowa State could bounce right back with a similar victory in Austin on Saturday.

"We're really excited about getting a chance to play again," said Cyclones coach Dan McCarney. "We're going to do all we can to try to define the legacy of this football team here the next five Saturdays."

The Longhorns would prefer to seal Iowa State's legacy as pretender rather than contender.

The Longhorns have won 16 in a row at home and another loss would end any hopes of climbing back into the national championship race. Texas (6-1, 2-1 Big 12) is No. 10 in the Bowl Championship

Stars, Flames deadlock at 3-3

CALGARY, Alberta (AP) — Jere Lehtinen scored with 2:49 left in the third period, lifting the Dallas Stars into a 3-3 tie with the Calgary Flames on Thursday night.

Nikko Kapanen worked the puck back to the blue line where Sergei Zubov's rising shot deflected off the jersey of Lehtinen as he skated through the slot. The puck changed directions and got past fooled Flames goalie Roman Turek.

Dallas led 2-1 entering the third period, but goals less than two minutes apart by Craig Conroy and Chris Clark gave the Flames their first lead.

Clark tied it at 6:22 when he held off Stars defenseman Daryl Sydor and took two hacks at Stephane Yelle's rebound and got it past goalie Ron Tugnutt.

Then at 8:19, Conroy took a pass from Chris Drury and ripped a shot over Tugnutt's glove and just under the crossbar.

Jamie Wright also scored for Calgary, winless in four home games this season. After dropping their first two games, the Flames have points in five of six games.

Rob DiMaio and Mike Modano also scored for Dallas, which began a three-game Western Canada road trip.

A brilliant rush by Modano late in the second period gave Dallas a 2-1 lead.

The Flames tied it 1-1 on a gritty play by Clark. He slipped between the Dallas defense and was hooked to the ice by Derian Hatcher. As Clark was sliding face first on his stomach, he neatly knocked the puck across to Wright who fired a perfect shot under the crossbar.

Wright had just returned to the lineup after missing all three games on the Flames road trip because of a stomach virus.

Tugnutt got his second straight start ahead of Marty Turco and turned in a stellar game finishing with 39 saves to improve to 2-0-1.

The highlight of the opening period was a rousing fight between the NHL's top two goal scorers last season.

Halfway through the period, Jarome Iginla and Bill Guerin squared off in an energetic fight. Iginla finished with the upper hand drawing a standing ovation from most of the crowd of 14,635.

Notes: Dallas' C Jason Arnott, who has missed seven games because of a sprained ankle, is expected back within the next week. ... Calgary's power-play with a one man edge is 3-for-44. Adding in the three shorthanded goals they've surrendered and playing five-against-four, they're even on the season.

Horoscope BY JACQUELINE BIGAR

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Saturday, Oct. 26, 2002:
Realize more of what you want by listening to your sixth sense. Your perspective might not always be right, but it does work for you. Follow what you feel is correct, and you'll land on your feet. Often you take a spiritual or more detached view. Choose to walk in someone else's footsteps more often. Empathy becomes your strong suit. If you are single, you won't be alone for very long. Your creativity and caring ways draw others. You might hedge on making a choice, but once you do decide, sometime next fall, you will feel good about this bond. If you are attached, your relationship will blossom because of your sense of connectedness and caring. Learn to express frustration through sharing conversations. CANCER just understands.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have:
5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
 Feelings run high. Be careful that you don't hit the dog because you're angry at the cat. You might be swallowing way too much frustration. Learn to express yourself in a more direct manner. Work with a partner. Taurus (April 20-May 20)
 Express your ideas and feelings, even if someone else might not be in the mood to listen. Somehow others could be distracted. Why not pitch in and help a partner get through a project so he or she will feel better? Reach out and help those in your life. Tonight: Use up some of that energy.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
 Try not to be the big spender in your crowd. Playing it a bit conservatively and not costing yourself unnecessary angst could make you very happy in the long run. Loosen up and enjoy yourself in a less extravagant manner. Tonight: Use your imagination.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
 Your happier side emerges with a child or loved one. Laugh and enjoy yourself with this person. Up your home could mar a close-to-perfect day—if you let it. Be smart and don't let anything take away from this special moment. Tonight: Whatever makes the moon child smile.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
 You don't have to be queen bee or kingpin every day. In fact, you'll want to pull back and relax. If you really want an easy day, let your answering machine do its work. You might be uptight about another's call or action. Tonight: Add some more mystery to your life.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
 Realize what might be going on with those around you. You could find yourself spending more than you would like to in order to make a friend or a loved one happy. Stop. Only this person can change his or her frame of mind. Tonight: You are the party.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
 Your temper could surprise even you. You might ask "What is going on here?" Laughter and happiness surround you if you can let go of judgments of what you think needs to occur. If you feel like doing some extra work or digging into a project, do so. Tonight: A must appearance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
 Pack yourself up. Go off for a day trip. You might find a drive in the fall setting refreshing. Meet up with a friend or relative for a lengthy meal and fun afternoon together. Catching up on each others' news makes down of you feel connected once more. Tonight: Continue experiencing something different.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
 Your instincts direct you with an important partnership. A discussion might force you to change your plans out of the blue. You clearly know your priorities, which helps a special person relax. You bond on a much deeper level. Tonight: Play away.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
 Your ability to laugh and enjoy yourself allows you to make a big difference in others' lives. You find that many seek you out for your perspective as well as for good fun. Pressure from an authority figure might cause you to lash out. Tonight: Say "yes."

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
 A project might be more important than a get-together, unless it somehow helps you gain a new perspective. You might want to plan to see a movie, but not much more. Allow others to share more of themselves. Tonight: "Relaxing" needs to be the theme.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
 Your sixth sense carries you through a problem with a pazner and/or a money matter. You leap over the issue and see the answer. Laugh, and another will join in. You find that good humor is contagious. Tonight: Focus on love.
