Eighteen Men Are Believed Killed in Arkansas Mine

LITTLE HOPE IS HELD BY THEIR SHIFT MATES

Explosion Is at Jenny Lind, Near Fort Smith

ONE HUNDRED EFFECT ESCAPE

Rescue Crews Trying to Reach All Remaining Below the Ground

FORT SMITH, Ark., Feb. 24.—(P)—Fifteen to eighteen men are believed to have been killed by an explosion in mine No. 3 of the Mama Coal company at Jenny Lind, Ark., near here at 8:30 a. m., today. Approximately 125 men were in this and connecting mines at the time of the blast but more than 100 of them are believed to have escaped.

Rescue crews were organized by Claude Spiegel, state mine inspector W. E. Fendleton, president of the company, and were sent into the mine immediately.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

Ambulances and doctors from this and other nearby points have been rushed to the scene.

The blast came from the back section of Mine Number 18, which with Mine No. 20, connects with Mine No. 3.

Those who escaped were said to have worked their way through mine No. 20.

It was not definitely determined how many escaped but mine officials estimated that at least fifteen and possibly eighteen men still were in the mine.

Those who escaped held little hope that any of those remaining in the mine are still alive.

Operations in nearby mines were suspended immediately and all efforts directed to rescue of the trapped miners.

Farce Comedy to Be Presented by Pupils Tonight

"The Whole Town's Talking" will be presented by the Players club of the high school at 8 o'clock tonight. It is a farce comedy with an interesting plot, each part being suitably played by members of the club.

On account of weather conditions, the play was postponed from last Friday evening. The high school orchestra will be in attendance and will play before the curtain rises and between acts.

The receipts from the play will be added to the Annual fund. This is the first annual to be produced in the local school, and the students are trying to make it a success.

To this union were born nine children, five boys and four girls, of whom four have preceded him in death. These are Julia Hardy Christopher, Mrs. T. B. Cobb and James Christopher. G. and Edwin McConnell, Lela Mae and Julia Marie Belle, and Alice Marie McConnell of Pampa. A brother, M. D. McConnell, of Palacios, and a sister, Mrs. M. J. Price of Brownfield, also survive him.

Mr. McConnell came to Pampa in December of 1907 with his family to make his home, and he has led a very active and successful life here.

His many friends today heard of his death with deep regret, and declared that in losing this pioneer citizen the Pampa community has lost one of its most highly respected men.

The man was injured so badly that he died six hours after the accident. He was riding on the back end of a truck and was hurled from it when the driver swerved suddenly to avoid striking a car.

Farris was an employe of the Henry L. Lemons, Pampa contractor, and had been working for him about eighteen months. The body likely will be taken to Vernon for burial.

L. E. Binkley of Timewell, Ill., owner of the Binkley lease in the Wilcox pool, is visiting here this week.

Paul I. Hoefler, who has been here for more than a week taking moving pictures of the city and surrounding territory, left this morning for Denver to prepare his films to send to Hollywood.

ST. LOUIS AND KANSAS CITY INSTITUTIONS ARE LOOTED OF $45,000 EARLY TODAY

TEN ROBBERS ARMED WITH MACHINE GUNS AND AUTOMATIC PISTOLS OVERWHELM FIFTY ARMED EMPLOYEES, SHOOT AT EVERY MOVE AND ESCAPE IN TWO AUTOMOBILES.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. Bandits who almost simultaneously robbed banks in Kansas City and St. Louis today obtained more than $45,000, according to partial check-ups by officials of the institutions.

The Wellston Trust company of a St. Louis suburb suffered most heavily early today when three robbers entered the building during the night, met the employes as they came to work, compelled the opening of a time vault and escaped with approximately $30,000.

Doing what was considered the impossible, ten bandits cowed 50 armed employes of the City Bank of Kansas City and escaped with $15,000, using machine guns to cover their retreat.

St. Louis Kansas City

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—(P)—The Wellston Trust company of Wellston, a suburb, was robbed of approximately $30,000 in currency today by three men who entered during the night from an office upstairs, made prisoners of eight employes as they reported for work, and compelled them to open a time vault. The robbers passed up $6,000 in coins.

It was the fourth robbery of the bank and its employes in four years, with total loot of about $100,000.

In escaping, the robbers commandeered a taxicab, later transferring to an automobile in which several accomplices made a belated appearance.

Knew the Setting The robbers showed familiarity with the two-story bank building and the vault containing money. Indications were they went up a bank stairway and climbed through a window to a dentist's office.

They left behind a brace and bit, a small saw and a pair of tinners shears with which they apparently had cut a hole in the office floor and descended into the bank.

Crouching behind desks and customers' booths in the rear of the bank the robbers awaited the arrival of the employes.

Clarence McGuffrey, negro porter, the first to enter, was seized by the robbers. He offered resistance, and was cracked on the skull with the revolver which the robbers carried. He was then taken down a stairway into the basement, and tied with towels and ropes.

Oscar H. Hentsche, the trust company's treasurer, and Leroy Lane, assistant treasurer, were made to kneel behind their desks while other employes were marched to the basement, tied up and made to lie on the floor beside the porter.

Florida Bank Robbed JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 24.—(P)—While C. A. Perry, cashier of the bank of Kingsland, Ga., lay in a local hospital with three bullet wounds, police sought a trio of men who spirited the cashier away from his bank shot him thrice when he rebelled, took him back, forced him to deliver them the contents of a vault, then later left him helpless with their wrecked automobile on the road near here late yesterday.

Perry's account said the three men approached him in Kingsland, asking that he show them some property he had for sale. Arrived at the parcel of land, he was faced with a pistol. Resisting, he was shot in the hand. Fleeing, one bullet struck him in the leg and a third stopped him.

Foiled By Ruse Then he said, he was taken back to Kingsland and made to deliver the vault's contents, following which, said Perry, the bandits declared they were bringing him to a hospital here. On the way, the car in which they were riding was wrecked. The bandits left Perry with the wrecked car, where he was picked up later by motorists.

A second car of the bandits, which Perry said accompanied them in which he was taken, was also wrecked, and near it was found over $2,800 in cash.

BANDIT REWARD APPROVED. WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 24.—(P)—Endorsement of the $5,000 reward for slain bank robbers, as offered by the Texas Bankers association, was given by the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Peace Officers association here Friday. The vote on the motion, which was offered and urged by Tom Hickman, state ranger captain, was 41 for and 11 against.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 24.—(P)—Ten bandits, armed with two machine guns, sawed-off shot guns and automatic pistols, today shot up and robbed the City Bank at Eighteenth street and Grand avenue of about $15,000 in cash. They escaped in two motor cars, which went in different directions.

The robbery, apparently well planned, accomplished what bank officials believed impossible—the successful looting of an open bank with 50 employes, most of whom were prepared for a holdup.

Seven of the bandits entered the bank with a flourish, one firing point blank at R. C. Kemper, president, and commanded the 50 employes and a dozen customers to lie on the floor. Two men carried sub-machine guns and two others with sawed-off shot guns guarded the two doors.

At first the bandits forced tellers to toss money boxes over the tops of the cages. Then two of the men went behind cages and scooped up money themselves.

R. H. Rheem, cashier, estimated the amount of loot at $15,000 on the basis of an incomplete check. First reports were that about $50,000 had been taken.

Mr. Kemper said that many of the boxes tossed over to the bandits by tellers contained supplies instead of money.

Used Six Minutes The robbers were in the bank six minutes. Every time anyone moved a shot was fired, and one pillar, from behind which an employe apparently attempted to fire at the bandits, was marked by six bullets. The machine guns were believed not to have been fired.

Mr. Kemper said he had believed it impossible to rob the city bank. All employes are in the open and most of them equipped with revolvers, and in each cage is a burglar alarm.

The robbers entered with such a flourish, Mr. Kemper said, that apparently no one had a chance to set off an alarm or fire a revolver.

Mr. Kemper described the robbery as "like a trench raid." He said the bandits cursed everyone and threatened them with the guns. Apparently, he said, no attempt was made to cover any individual, but that the guns were kept sweeping the bank.

BOY REPORTS ROBBERY KANSAS CITY, Feb. 24.—(P)—Raymond Benz, 19, Associated Press check boy, set newspaper offices in a temporary whirl this morning when he rushed into the A. P. office and breathlessly gave the first report of the robbery of the City bank here.

Raymond had started for the post office. As he passed the bank he heard some one shout and saw men dash from the bank and into a motor car and speed away. Realizing he had walked into a robbery, he ran back to the office, less than half a block away and set reporters in motion.

But Raymond was disappointed. He didn't get in on the shooting.

Tom Rose Speaks On Classification at Rotary Luncheon

Tom Rose, chairman of the classification committee, was in charge of the program at the Rotary Club luncheon this week at the Schneider hotel. Mr. Rose gave an interesting talk. Men selected to fill certain classifications could probably hold their positions in spite of competition or as long as they remain in that business of profession and conduct themselves properly; therefore, the obligation is to learn the ideals and principles of Rotary and do all possible toward a better understanding among the men of this classification. Mr. Rose stated. In the absence of President Charles C. Cook, Lynn Boyd acted as chairman and DeLes Vicars led the singing in the absence of M. E. Green.

THE "CANARY" MURDER CASE

By S. S. VAN DINE AUTHOR OF THE BENSON MURDER CASE

Charles Scribner's Sons

CHARACTERS

- PHILO VANCE
- JOHN F.-X. MARKHAM, District Attorney of New York County.
- MARGARET ODELL (The "CANARY")
- CHARLES CLEAVER, a man about town
- BENNETH SPOTSWOOD, a manufacturer
- LOUIS MANNIX, an importer
- DE-AMBROSE LINDQUIST, a fashionable neurologist
- TONY SKELL, a professional burglar
- WILLIAM ELMER JESSUP, telephone operator
- HARRY SPIVELY, telephone operator
- HERBERT HEATH, Sergeant of the Homicide Bureau.

THE STORY THUS FAR

Vance believes Skell innocent of the murder of Margaret Odell and that he lay hidden in a closet while the strangler did his work. Markham ridicules the theory but Vance is unshaken. He shatters Cleaver's alibi of being out of the city the night of the murder and urges Markham to call Mannix in for questioning again. "You know" a Miss Frisbee," Vance said to Mannix. "When did you see her last? Take your time about answering. You may want to think it over."

CHAPTER XXXIV

Mannix took his time. It was full minutes before he spoke, and then it was to put another question.

"Haven't I got a right to call on a lady—haven't I?"

"Certainly. Therefore, why should a question about so obviously correct and irrefragable an episode make you uneasy?"

"Me uneasy?" Mannix, with considerable effort, produced a grin. "I'm just wondering what you got in your mind, asking me about my private affairs."

"I'll tell you, Miss Odell was murdered at about midnight Monday. No one came or went through the front door of the house and the side door was locked. The only way any one could have entered her apartment was by way of Apartment 2; and nobody who knew Miss Odell ever visited Apartment 2 except yourself."

At these words Mannix leaned over the table, grasping the edge of it with both hands for support. His eyes were wide and his sensual lips hung open.

"But it was not fear that one read in his attitude; it was sheer amazement. He sat for a moment staring at Vance, stunned and incredulous.

"That's what you think, is it? No one could've got in or out except by Apartment 2, because the side door was locked?" "If that side door didn't happen to be locked Monday night, where'd I stand then—huh? Where'd I stand?"

"I rather think you'd stand with us—with the district attorney," Vance was watching him like a cat.

"Sure I would!" spat Mannix. "And let me tell you something, my friend; that's just where I stand—absolutely!" He swung heavily about and faced Markham. "I'm a good fellow, y' understand, but I've kept my mouth shut long enough. That side door wasn't locked Monday night. And I know who snaked out of it five minutes to twelve!"

"Ca marche!" murmured Vance, re-seating himself and calmly lighting a cigarette.

Markham was too astonished to speak at once; and Heath sat stock-still, his cigar half-way to his mouth. At length Markham leaned back and folded his arms.

"I think you'd better tell us the whole story, Mr. Mannix." His voice held a quality which made the request an imperative.

Mannix too, settled back in his chair.

"Oh, I'm going to tell it—believe me. I'm going to tell it.—You had the right idea. I spent the evening with Miss Frisbee. No harm in that, though."

"What time did you go there?"

"After office hours—half past five quarter to six. Came up in the subway, got off at 72nd, and walked over."

"And you entered the house through the front door?"

"No. I walked down the alleyway and went in the side door—like I generally do. It's nobody's business who I call on, and what the telephone operator in the front hall don't know don't hurt him."

"That's all right so far," observed Heath. "The janitor didn't bolt the side door until after six."

"And did you stay the entire evening, Mr. Mannix?" asked Markham.

"Sure—till just before midnight. Miss Frisbee cooked the dinner, and I'd brought along a bottle of wine. Social little party—just me two of us. And I didn't go outside the apartment, understand, until five minutes to twelve. You can get the lady down here and ask her. I'll call her up now and tell her to explain the exact situation about Monday night. I'm not asking you to take my word for it—positively not."

Markham made a gesture dismissing the suggestion.

"What took place at five minutes to twelve?"

Mannix hesitated, as if loath to come to the point.

"I'm a good fellow, y' understand. And a friend's a friend. But—I ask you—is that any reason why I should get

DAILY NEWS' 1928 PROGRAM FOR PAMPA

- List of program items: One or more new railroads, New city hall-auditorium, County agricultural agent, Additional street paving, Oil Exchange building, Expedite road paving work, Encourage existing industries, Invite new industries, Complete water, sewer systems, More and better homes, Extend Pampa trade territory, Develop dairying industry, Municipal band, Municipal airport, Pampa Fair, Associated Charities, County home demonstration agent, High school gymnasium.

MAJOR ISSUES—Geographically, Pampa is only ten miles from the present county seat of Gray county—a distance in terms of modern transportation which amounts to but a few minutes. Three-fourths of the population of the county is closer to Pampa than LeFors.

To quote a prominent visitor, there is one obvious fact which should be accepted as the basis for argument: that a new court house must be built in the near future. Court work has become very heavy, so heavy that scores of cases are piling up for lack of time to consider them.

without conveniences of any kind. In cold weather there is actual discomfort.

Furthermore, the highly valuable oil, property, and personal papers and county financial records are in acute danger from fire. The wooden structure is apt to be destroyed at any time. It is non-insurable, having no protection acceptable to fire underwriters.

And since a new courthouse must be built, and will be built, and real issue arises as to its location. Pampa has already stated her claim to the county seat. Only Pampa has an opportunity to move it. She now offers Gray county the only opportunity the people will have for the next two years to step forward with neighboring counties and provide more comfortable, dignified conveniences for law enforcement and county government.

Let's vote for PROGRESS IN GRAY COUNTY by moving the county seat to Pampa March 9.

FOR THE MOTHERS—Motherhood without pain or danger is now possible, says Prof. Paul Delmas of a Paris maternity hospital. No more welcome scientific achievement could be announced.

Medical science, hampered by prejudices, has made slow strides along this line. The use of anaesthesia has necessarily been cautious. The rapidity and ease of the new method have been amply demonstrated, according to the Associated Press.

There are even yet scores, even thousands, who oppose every form of maternity bill. It will be recalled that Jim Ferguson has ridiculed the idea of maternity aid. He cannot scoff, however, at the vital statistics of motherhood—an appalling death rate. Anything which will make safer the function basic in human existence is worthwhile.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — About every tenth intelligent person in this great gossip mart with whom your correspondent exchanges gossip on dull afternoons expresses the emphatic opinion that President Coolidge will be renominated by the Republicans at Kansas City.

Another tenth believes that "some dark horse" will get it, the rest are divided between Hoover and Dawes, with Mr. Hoover in something of a majority. These divisions are not representative of personal desires and have no particular importance, although your correspondent undertakes to gossip with such persons as are most likely to know what's going on.

There has been a mild revival recently of the "draft Coolidge" talk and that may well be a significant item in the current fanning.

Mr. Coolidge, of course, is not a candidate. Neither is Vice President Dawes, but if Hoover fails to win a majority of delegates the choice is likely to lie between them. In case of a deadlock, Dawes has been considered the most logical compromise, but if the forthcoming struggle becomes bitter enough, the Hoover crowd, already considering the vice president the one big threat in Hoover's path, may turn to Coolidge if only to keep the nomination from Dawes.

It is to be remembered, of course, that politicians will turn about face just as often and as quickly as they think they stand to get something out of it, but that fact might cut either way, as between Dawes and Coolidge.

The point just now is, however, disregarding Hoover's apparently excellent chances of victory, that Coolidge hasn't promised to refuse the nomination any more than has Dawes. Both of them are non-running candidates until one or both make it clear that they would not take the job if offered.

That the "Coolidge threat" is considered very real by some politicians was adequately proved by Senator La Follette's insistence on the passage of his anti-third term resolution—and by the vigorous opposition of such of Cal's pals as Senators Bingham and Fess. Such gents as these, and Waterman of Colorado, another friend, have tried to make it clear all along that the president hadn't said he wouldn't take it if it were handed to him on a platter.

This is the sort of a situation, furthermore, wherein the presidential silence on the point tends strongly to indicate that he would be willing to run again if the honor were forced upon him. No one can deny that the president came clean when he had the chance to effect his own renomination and all kinds of chances to block Hoover's nomination.

There is no indication whatever that he hasn't kpt his hands off, honestly and sincerely. But it is quite understandable that a man who could have served a full eight years if he had been elected in the ordinary manner might feel that he was being cheated only permitted to serve five and a half. With circumstances thus militating against him, it appears as if Coolidge agreed with his close friends that another election wouldn't really violate the third term tradition.

A New England newspaper says "suckers are coming in better and being shipped to New York." Why not ship a few of them west? New York seems to have plenty.

Modern Conveniences of Sewer and Water Are Provided for Larger City

Shown above is an engineer's plat of the Pampa sewer extension now under way. The small lines down the streets indicate the sewer mains, and the dimensions are indicated.

At this time, construction of the disposal plant is under way, and the contractor is ready to rush work on the 12-inch line to serve the south portion of the city. This will be 8,116 feet long, fed by 10-inch, 8-inch, and 6-inch lines. The construction company likely will add another ditching machine to rush the work.

Bids on the big project were received November 7, and on December 3 a contract was let to the Jordan Construction company of Plainview and mains by January 7. The 10-inch line to the alley west of Hobart street was completed February 11.

When completed, the sewer extensions will have carried modern conveniences to every part of the city, and by minor connections can be made to serve a city of 20,000. Water extensions completed a few months ago.

THE CANARY MURDER CASE

"In wrong for something I didn't have absolutely nothing to do with?"

He waited for an answer, but receiving none, continued.

"Sure, I'm right—Anyway, here's what happened. As I said, I was calling on the lady. But I had another date for later that night; so a few minutes before midnight I said good-bye and started to go.

"Just as I opened the door I saw some one sneaking away from the Canary's apartment down the little back hall to the side door. There was a light in the hall, and the door of Apartment 2 faces that side door. I saw the fellow as plain as I see you—positively as plain."

"Who was it?"

"Well, if you got to know, it was Pop Cleaver."

Markham's head jerked slightly.

"What did you do then?"

"Nothing, Mr. Markham—nothing at all. I didn't think much about it, y' understand. I knew Pop was chasing after the Canary, and I just supposed he'd been calling on her. But I didn't want Pop to see me—none of his business where I spend my time. So I waited quietly till he went out—"

"By the side door?"

"Sure. Then I went out the same way. I was going to leave by the front door, because I knew the side door was always locked at night. But when I saw Pop go out that way, I said to myself I'd do the same. No sense giving your business away to a telephone operator if you haven't got to—no sense at all. So I went out the same way I came in. Picked up a taxi on Broadway, and went—"

"That's enough!" Again Vance's command cut him short.

"Oh, all right—all right," Mannix seemed content to end his statement at this point. "Only, y' understand, I don't want you to think—"

"We don't."

Markham was puzzled at these interruptions, but made no comment.

"When you read of Miss Odell's death," he said, "why didn't you come to the police with this highly important information?"

"I should get mixed up in it!" exclaimed Mannix in surprise. "I got enough trouble without looking for it—plenty."

"An exigent course," commented Markham with open disgust. "But you nevertheless suggested to me, after you knew of the murder, that Cleaver was being blackmailed by Miss Odell."

"Sure I did. Don't that go to show I wanted to do the right thing by you—giving you a valuable tip?"

"Did you see any one else that night in the hall or alleyway?"

"Nobody—absolutely nobody."

"Did you hear any one in the Odell apartment—any one speaking or moving about, perhaps?"

"Didn't hear a thing," Mannix shook his head emphatically.

"And you're certain of the time you saw Cleaver go out—five minutes to twelve?"

"Positively. I looked at my watch, and I said to the lady: 'I'm leaving the same way I came; it won't be tomorrow for five minutes yet.'"

Markham went over his story point by point, attempting by various means to make him admit more than he had already told. But Mannix neither added to his statement nor modified it in any detail; and after half an hour's cross-examination he was permitted to go.

"We've found one missing piece of the puzzle, at any rate," commented Vance. "I don't see now just how it fits into the complete pattern, but it's helpful and suggestive. And, I say, how beautifully my intuition about Mannix was verified, don't y' know!"

"Yes, of course—your precious intuition," Markham looked at him skeptically. "Why did you shut his up twice when he was trying to tell me something?"

"I simply can't tell you, old dear. Awfully sorry, and all that."

"His manner was whimsical, but Markham knew that at such times Vance was at heart most serious, and he did not press the question. I could not help wondering if Miss La Posse realized just how secure she had been in putting her faith in Vance's integrity.

Heath had been considerably shaken by Mannix's story.

"I don't savvy that side door being unlocked," he complained. "How the hell did it get bolted again on the inside after Mannix went out? And who unbolted it after six o'clock?"

"In God's good time, my sergeant all things will be revealed," said Vance.

"Maybe—and maybe not. But if we do find out, you can take it from me that the answer'll be Skeel. He's the bird we gotta get the goods on. Cleaver is no expert jimmy artist; and neither is Mannix."

"Just the same, there was a very capable technician on hand that night, and it wasn't your friend the Dude—though he was probably the Donatello who sculptured open the jewel-case."

"A pair of 'em, was there? That's your theory, is it, Mr. Vance? You said that once before; and I'm not saying you're wrong. But if we can hang any part of it on Skeel, well make him come across as to who his pal was."

"It wasn't a pal, Sergeant," said Vance. "It was more likely a stranger."

IMPORTANCE OF CITY LIBRARY.

A city library is a very useful asset to a town. It is far more important and may be operated at less cost than many entertainments such as the theatre affords. A public library furnishes amusement for a much longer period of time than does the theatre. For example, one may go to a show and the entertainment may last for a period of several hours, whereas, for the same amount paid for this amusement one may pay this small fee to belong to the public library and have access to many books that furnish more amusement for most people than does a show. A show is soon over, while a library admits one to secure any book at any time. Who does not enjoy a good book on a cold winter evening before a warm fire in a cozy parlor? I do and I am sure you do also.

Another advantage of such a library is that only the best of literature is put into it. Nothing is put into a library that is not among the best literature, such as history, classics, dramas, humorous literature and all kinds of selected poetry. All literature is judged by some one who really knows the value of good reading material before it is placed in the library at the disposal of the public.

Every town or community should maintain a public library if for no other reason than to put good reading material into the hands of those who are unable to buy books they wish to read. Some people may be able to have all the reading material they desire while many are not, and unless there is a public library in the town or unless some friend is kind enough to lend them the desirable book, they will not be able to have what they want to read. A good book will cost from one dollar to two and three dollars and such people as those working for daily salaries are not able to afford such books.

Therefore, they are deprived of this luxury, whereas a library affords it for them. Why not do your part in building a city library for such people as these?

Should one be fortunate enough to be able to buy all the reading material desired, why not let this person donate a small sum or a few good books to a public library here they will benefit someone besides himself.

If one should buy all the books he wanted, the small homes of today do not have the surplus room for libraries as did the home of yesterday. The public library takes the place of the libraries that our ancestors had in their homes filled with books read once put into the bookcase, and forgotten for very few people care to read a book the second time. Why not, instead of buying a book, reading it once and discarding it in the attic where it will benefit no one, put it in a public library where many may reap the benefit of it?

A public library furnishes a variety for one who reads. For example one may have the habit of reading nothing but fiction, but after a few visits to the library he begins to inquire about other books he sees. In a short time he finds that the classics and dramas are also interesting, and he seems to enjoy the decided difference from the fiction he has been reading, thus his education becomes broader.

Every one knows that good books are educational, and that no one may be educated until he knows something of the literature of our ancestors and

How we should thank you o'er and o'er,

For you with all our secrets we go.

To you with our troubles thru sleet and snow;

To you with our joys thru sun and rain.

Yes, to you always, again and again.

You know the seniors, so haughty and proud.

You're able to pick them from among the crowd.

You know the freshmen, so timid and shy;

And you watch them with interest as they go by.

For they all come to you thru sun and rain.

Yes, to you always, again and again.

You know our losses; you know our gains.

You know the scores of all our games.

You know why we go, and when and where.

You know when we get back and when we get there;

For its all told to you during sun and rain.

Yes, to you always, again and again.

Oh, silent friend, by our high school door;

How we should love you more and more,

For you know all our secrets, good and bad.

You know our trials and the troubles we've had,

For we all come to you thru sun and rain.

the literature of today. A public library strives to give these two varieties. For many reasons besides these beneficial to a town, city, or community and may be maintained at a very small cost, by progressive class of people who wish to build up their city.

Pampa is a progressive city with progressive people living in it, therefore she too may maintain a public library. So let your slogan be a "PUBLIC LIBRARY FOR THE PEOPLE OF PAMPA."

WE ARE FRESHMEN

We have dumb freshman (they predominate the class) who think they are smart. (But they really aren't.)

We have silly freshmen (they think they're funny) that makes people think the school is an insane asylum.

We have innocent freshmen (take it or leave it) that have big, round blue eyes.

We have idiotic freshmen (similar to the silly ones, only worse) who act like maniacs on a vacation.

We have brave freshmen (they hit seniors with snowballs) who never flinch in the face of danger. (They run.)

Then we have shiek freshmen (they vamp the senior girls) who court their mother's dress dummy around the house.

QUAKER STATE TRACTOR OIL

Cuts repair bills
Eliminates breakdowns
GIVES FULL SEASON EFFICIENCY

Why?

Because Quaker State is derived exclusively from Pennsylvania Crude—the highest-grade crude oil in the world. And the quality of the crude is all important in lubricating efficiency.

Poor oil means poor lubrication, disaster and expense. Specify Quaker State. Costs a little more, but it's worth it.

Quaker State is super-refined. It forms a perfect film which no heat or wear can dissipate and maintains an even viscosity (very important) through a wide range of temperature.

Terris to Fight McLarnin for Crack at Sammy Mandell

CHAMP WINS OVER FIELDS

Coast Lad Is Defeated By Lunging Left to the Head

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Sid Terris, idol of New York's East Side, and Jimmy McLarnin of Los Angeles will meet over the ten-round distance in Madison Square Garden tonight with prospects of the winner gaining an opportunity to challenge Sammy Mandell for lightweight honors.

The Pacific Coast battler is reputed to be a heavy puncher and many enthusiasts have switched allegiance from Terris to McLarnin for this tussle. Nevertheless, the Ghetto flash rules an 8 to 5 favorite to whip McLarnin, who will be making his initial bow in the East.

McLarnin's most recent outstanding achievement was a knockout registered against Louis (Kid) Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., former world's featherweight champion, in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Fighting himself into condition to defend the lightweight championship, Sammy Mandell has evened the score with Jackie Fields, California junior welterweight, by a decisive victory. Fields won a newspaper decision over Sammy last May in Los Angeles; Mandell turned the tables before a packed coliseum last night.

For two rounds it seemed that Fields was due to repeat his victory, for Sammy was receiving considerably body bombardment. Mandell began to get the range in the third, and his long lunging left foot had one headlight dimmed for the coast lad.

Haskell Indian Is Pitching Prospect of Philadelphia A's.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—(AP)—An Oklahoma Indian whom manager Connie Mack hopes will develop into a star pitcher has joined the Philadelphia Athletics squad at Fort Myers, Fla.

He is Lee Daney, a product of Haskell Institute. Known as Chief Whitehorn, he is 22 years old, nearly six feet tall and weighs 172 pounds. He pitched for three years at Haskell and started his semi-professional career in 1925 with the Nebraska Indians. Last year he pitched for several semi-pro teams in Kansas City. Mack says he looks like a comer.

The squad now comprises 16 pitchers, four catchers and two fielders. The full squad arrives next week.

At the southern camp of the Philadelphia Nationals at Winter Haven, Fla., pitchers and catchers are working out the winter kinks. Other players will arrive Tuesday.

Basque Is Ready for Negro Giant

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Paolino Uzcundun, Basque entry in the heavyweight fistie race, today appeared to be almost ready for his bout with George Godfrey, giant negro opponent, in a ten-round battle here next Tuesday night. Godfrey, however, was confronted with the prospect of several more days of tough conditioning.

Boston Reds Have 3 Bespectacled Hurlers

BOSTON, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Pitchers Pete Traynor and Charles Small have reported to Manager Carrigan at the Red Sox headquarters at Bradenton, Fla., and brought his hurling staff up to 17. Both the newcomers are recruits and both wear glasses, giving the Sox three bespectacled hurlers. Traynor came from Portland, Ore., while Small claims Gloucester, Me., his home town.

At St. Petersburg, the Braves, training squad was augmented by Eddie Farrell, the Binghamton dentist. His arrival gave Manager Jack Slattery his first chance to get a real infield combination at work. Ed Brown was, at first, Rogers Hornsby at second, and Doc Gautreaux at third, while Farrell took short.

Basketball Results

At SHERMAN: St. Edwards university 16, Austin college 13.
At Huntsville: Sam Houston State Teachers college 46, McMurry college 24.

Granite to Tackle Monte Again Here on Monday Night

Monday night at the Pampa Athletic club the battle that has long been looked for in Pampa and Amarillo will take place here. Kid Granite, the 135-pound boy, will meet Wildcat Monte, 135-pound claimant of the lightweight championship of the Southwest, in the main event of one of the best cards of the season.

The semi-final will feature Art Valation, the Mexico boy who has been making a home for himself and Duff Stanley, Amarillo one of the fastest in his class. This bout is due to be a second headliner as both are fast clean boys.

Frankie Farrell, another home talent boy who has been showing worlds of ability and speed, meets Jerry Haley in the six round special event. The fighting newboy will meet a flyweight from the Pacific coast in the preliminary.

Following recent victories over Field and Murdock, the fighting Granite is all ready to take a crack at Wildcat Monte in an effort to get to Mandell sometimes this summer. Granite beat Murdock in Berger last week and Monday night Murdock got a draw with

Our Helen Dislikes Rough Slugging Bouts

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Miss Helen Willis, women's tennis champion, who attended the Mickey Walker-Jack Willis prize fight here Wednesday made known today that she never wanted to see another ring battle.

"Unless," she added, "I might have the opportunity to see Mr. Tunney some day. I understand he boxes and does not fight. I think I might like that."

Miss Willis attended the bout after she received the approval of her parents that it was "perfectly all right for women to attend prize fights if they wanted to."

Monte, and now the wise boys are looking for Granite to beat Monte. Ed Gober has been appointed matchmaker for the American Legion in the place of Jim Bolen, who has had to retire on account of ill health. The boxing fans of the city will miss the jovial matchmaker who has brought some of the best boys in the States to Pampa.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank those who so kindly remembered us during our recent bereavement.

Yanks to Start to Florida Tonight for Spring Work

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Headed by the famous homerun combination of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, the first contingent of the world champion Yankees will depart for the southern training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., tonight. Other members of the band which will leave at 6:40 o'clock are catchers John Grabowski and Bill Eversmann and infielder Leo Durocher. Pitcher Myles Thomas will join the party at Washington.

The vanguard of the Brooklyn Robins started for Clearwater, Fla., yesterday, four players making the journey. They were Harry Emonds, Overton Trumper, Charlie Hargraves, and Del Bissonette.

Cleveland Indians Try Out Pitchers

CLEVELAND, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Roger Peckinpaugh's Cleveland Indians have begun their American League baseball campaign at their New Orleans training camp. An auspicious start was made yesterday with a short throwing

Giants Are Halted by Bad Weather

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—(AP)—The New York Giants awaited action by the weather man today to allow a resumption of baseball practice at Hot Springs, Ark.

A cold spell blocked workouts yesterday so the players hiked in the mountains and then put on some light entertainment for Catcher "Shanty" Hogan who was confined in bed with a severe cold.

Leo Mangum supplied some banjo numbers while Pitcher Jack Levy came through with a fiddling act.

session after two days of steady rain. Eighteen pitchers took an easy workout, eight of them being veterans who are practically certain to make the grade. Billy Payne, former St. Louis Brown who was recently drafted from Toronto, will compete with nine recruits for the two remaining places among the ten men Peckinpaugh plans to carry.

Texas Board Will Consider Mrs. Field's Ouster February 27

DALLAS, Feb. 24.—(AP)—Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell, deposed state chairman of the committee for arrangements for the Biennial of the Federation of Women's clubs at San Antonio in May, announced today that she intends to attend a meeting here of the Texas board on Feb. 27 to consider her ouster.

The meeting, called by Mrs. W. R. Potter of Bowie, president of the Texas Federation probably will decide problems which originated when Mrs. Fields was relieved by the National Board of her chairmanship of the state committee on the grounds that her position and that of Mrs. Henry Drought of San Antonio, local chairman on arrangements, conflicted. The executive board meeting to be held here Monday was called as a result of the demand of other board members that such a session be held, Mrs. Potter declared.
