C. E. HERNDON FATALEY HURT IN CAR CRASH

Pavement made slippery by recent rain and snow is believed responsible for the accident yesterday afternoon which caused the death in an Amarillo hospital early this morning of C. E. "Shang" Herndon, 38, of Panhandle, a former Pampian.

The accident occurred between White Deer and Panhandle yesterday afternoon when Herndon's car left the slippery pavement and overturned. With Herndon in the car was Gary Simms of Panhandle who suffered only minor injuries. Herndon was rushed to Panhandle and later taken to Amarillo where he died in a hospital at 6 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Herndon moved to Pampa with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Herndon, in 1912 settling on the Herndon ranch northwest of Pampa. He attended high school here and was a star football player. He went to Lawton, Okla., after attending school here for several years and it was from Lawton high school that he graduated.

In 1923 young Herndon moved to a farm north of Panhandle where he has made his home.

Survivors are the widow, the former Fay Roberts of Pampa, two sons, Wayne and Joe, at home, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Herndon, Pampa, two sisters, Mrs. Foy Sloan, Pampa, and Mrs. Clifford Hawkins, Panhandle, and two brothers, Clifford Herndon and Walter "Food" Herndon, both of Perryton.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Panhandle Methodist church. Burial will be in Panhandle cemetery under direction of O'Neal Funeral home.

SENATE APPROVES U. S. WAR AGAINST SYPHILIS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—A far-flung federal campaign against venereal diseases, backed with $9,000,000 in government funds, won approval of the senate commerce committee today.

The committee asked the senate to enact legislation permitting a nationwide drive against syphilis and gonorrhea under the public health service.

Chairman Copeland, Democrat, N. Y., of the commerce committee, a physician, said the "war against these diseases must be fought on 48 fronts" in order to avoid the present waste of funds through "sporadic, uncoordinated local action."

The bill provides federal aid for "states, counties, health units and other public subdivisions of the states in establishing and maintaining adequate measures for control of venereal diseases."

The senate committee recommended expenditure of $3,000,000 and $6,000,000, respectively, in the next two fiscal years. Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Mich., objected to a provision authorizing $12,000,000 for the third fiscal year and $25,000,000 annually for the 12 years following, and this was stricken from a tentative draft of the bill.

MOBILIZATION BILL OPPOSED BY JAPANESE

TOKYO, Feb. 24 (AP)—The national mobilization bill which would give the government broad wartime control of business, finance and the private lives and property of the citizens brought bitter, uproarious rebellion in parliament today.

Members of the lower house howled for Foreign Minister Koki Hirota to answer questions put by Tawso Saito, a legal expert. Members opposing the bill argued it was unconstitutional.

Hirota attempted to have Masao Taki, president of the planning board, answer the questions but members of the house shouted him down. The speaker recessed the house to quell the disorder.

Water Justice Minister Suehiko Shiono replied for the government and a new disturbance developed before the house adjourned overnight.

Under the proposed law, the government would have wide, wartime control over business, finance and the lives of private citizens.

Mack Graham grumbling about his lumber, rheumatism, neuritis or whatever ails him. Questioning revealed that he played golf Saturday afternoon with John Moyser in Fort Worth and it was anything but dry. "I'd know better than that," declared F. A. Peck, without sympathy.

Kiss of Man Enslaving, Women Say

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 24 (AP)—A "vampire man" with a narcotic kiss, was sought by San Francisco police on charges of grand theft and bigamy.

The man is Jesse Mowery, 37, who police inspector Charles Iredale said served a term in Washington State penitentiary for bigamy.

In swearing to a complaint before Municipal Judge Frank W. Dunn yesterday Mrs. Vivian Korth Mowery, 32, and Mrs. Laura Virginia Smith Mowery, 41, asserted "their" husband's kisses left them slaves to his slightest wishes.

Inspector Iredale said Mrs. Laura Mowery told him she believed he administered some sort of narcotic through his caresses.

"All I know," he quoted her as saying, "is that it acted with terrifying speed and power. Almost at once, I would become weak, my knees would tremble, I would have strange desires and seem to be hypnotized. It always left me sick and in a highly nervous state."

Mrs. Vivian Mowery agreed: "His kisses were powerful. They seemed to drug me with a strange

SNOW MELTS AS IT FALLS

General snow, ranging from seven inches at Amarillo, was reported while over the Panhandle today. Pampa received only a light snow which melted as it fell.

Locally, the snowfall bordered on rain, and an estimated .05-inch of precipitation accompanied it. After remaining around 32 degrees all night, the mercury climbed into the late thirties by mid-day in Pampa. The snowfall was reported moving slowly into the South Plains area this afternoon.

Mist began turning to snow at Lubbock in mid-morning. A light snow covered the ground at Borger early, with still falling at noon.

The Red river in the Paris area kept falling steadily, leaving heavy damage to lowland farm lands, livestock and homes. No illness or epidemics were reported and few calls were made for Red Cross commodities.

The forecast for West Texas is "cloudy, rain or snow tonight and Friday in north portion, with not much change in temperature."

REMOVAL OF 'FOREIGN' VOLUNTEERS AGREED TO

LONDON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain's "realistic" program for bargaining with the Fascist powers for the peace of Europe today was reported advanced by German acceptance of the British plan for withdrawal of foreign "volunteers" from the Spanish civil war.

Italy's acceptance in principle already has been indicated, paving the way for Anglo-Italian friendship talks to open shortly in Rome.

Dr. Ernst Woermann, German charge d'affaires, visited the Earl of Plymouth, British undersecretary for foreign affairs, and informed sources said he agreed to the British "volunteer" proposals.

This would indicate that Reichsfuehrer Hitler was but one step behind Premier Mussolini in conciliatory gestures toward the government from which Anthony Eden, whom both disliked, has withdrawn as foreign secretary.

Further Anglo-German negotiations are expected when Joachim von Ribbentrop, Hitler's new foreign minister and retiring ambassador to London, returns here to take his formal leave of King George.

CARS BENT, BANGED UP DURING WET WEATHER

Although many minor accidents have occurred on Pampa streets during the "wet" spell, no serious crashes have been reported to police according to Chief Art Hurst. Today the chief was a witness in a trial at Stinnett.

Bent fenders, bumpers, lights, and a few body dents have been reported as participants were unable to iron out their difficulties, the chief said. Most of the participants have been able to reach agreements, however.

Parking has been a problem because of the slippery streets and many accidents have occurred backing out from the curb. Chief Hurst urges every care in driving until the streets dry off.

'Miracle Girl' With Christ's Bleeding Wounds Has Lived 12 Years Without Food Or Water

"A modern miracle!" cry thousands who have seen Theresese Neumann, German peasant girl, as she appears above with streams of blood trickling down her face in such a manner as to suggest the wounds of Christ at His crucifixion. In more than 10 years of the periodic manifestation of these "stigmata," all attempts to prove them other than genuine have failed.

Starting from the back of Theresese's hand in this picture may be seen the blood from the wounds which never heal, in the same positions on her body as those inflicted on Jesus Christ at His crucifixion. When the seizures come, Fraulein Theresese becomes weak and scarcely able to walk. Hence she is accompanied by a nun and a priest, Father Joseph Naber, en route to the convent.

Panhandle Oil Flow Raised

Col. Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Texas Railroad commission, at noon today informed the Pampa Daily NEWS in a long distance telephone message that the allowable of the Panhandle oilfield had been increased 6,000 barrels daily, effective March 1. The hike will place the daily output at 74,578 barrels.

An increase in the allowable had been requested by many Panhandle oil operators and producers. The Panhandle Producers Royalty Owners association, of which E. J. Dunigan of Pampa is president, has been active in securing the raise.

Col. Thompson recently assured producers that he would make every effort to have the field allowable raised. Col. Thompson met with producers both in meetings and individually and discussed at length the Panhandle oil problems. He felt that the Panhandle was due to receive consideration and the commission's action today proved his belief.

Col. Thompson also said that the Sunday shutdown of all fields in Texas would continue through March. The first order called for a shutdown on six consecutive Sundays which would be until Feb. 27. Because of the cooperation of operators and benefits of the shutdown, the order of continuance was made.

LATE NEWS

FULTON, Ark., Feb. 24 (AP)—Veteran riverman claimed a victory today over Red river as the stream started falling here and a temporary levee of 30,000 sandbags continued to protect the town. T. J. Logan, U. S. river observer here, said the stage this morning was 36.1 feet, a decline of one-tenth foot since midnight. "We've got it whipped," he said.

CHINESE PLAN AIR RAIDS ON JAPAN COAST

(By The Associated Press) The efforts of China's reinvigorated air force to carry war to Japan's homeland and the 18th birthday of German National socialism, with its demand for self-determination of German peoples, were pivots of today's developments in a war scourged world, haunted by fears of more wars to come.

The struggle in the Orient had taken a new turn with Chinese aerial retaliation for Japanese bombardment of countless cities and villages in Nippon's "pacification" of eastern Asia.

Twelve big Chinese bombers, escorted by a swarm of pursuit ships, had been reported en route over the China sea to strike at Japan proper in a follow-up of yesterday's bombardment of Formosa.

This raid failed to materialize but it did not fail to strike terror to the hearts of millions of Japanese in densely-populated Kyushu, nearest to China of the Japanese string of islands.

The Chinese aerial offensive was an extension of the resistance with which Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's land forces have been slowing up and even throwing back the northern and southern thrusts of Japanese armies at the Lunghai railway corridor of eastern central China.

Letter To R. R. Calls Grandstand 'Disgrace'

By THE ROVING REPORTER. The Roving Reporter got a letter today that did not poke sarcasm at his panther story, and he is so happy about it that he's going to publish it. This letter has nothing at all to do with any kind of animal, instead the author whose initials are C. R. P., gives his opinion on the grandstand in "Recreation" park and discusses the recreation problem here.

The Roving Reporter in his rambles hither and yon and in his talks with Pampans has discovered that sooner or later all conversations wind up with long or short, violent or non-violent, heated or cold, orations and speeches that deal with the grandstand and recreation situation here. They are the No. 1 and No. 2 conversational topics in Pampa—barring the weather, of course.

Here is C. R. P.'s letter to the R. R.: "In tonight's issue of my paper I see where the grandstand at the fairground is to be replaced by one of steel. Can't we build a bird roost cheaper than that? The fairground and its improvement is a disgrace to the civilized, intelligent citizens, and if you or anyone else can give just one good reason for a grandstand out there I will be forever silent on the case.

"The money that it would take to erect a steel grandstand would build a building large enough to house a YMCA and if you as a newspaper have the interest of Pampa and her youth at heart you might advocate a move to provide some place of amusement and exercise for Pampa boys and girls—instead of a prodigal waste of money for a grandstand that at best would be used only two or three days in a year.

"You have my permission to publish this. An interested citizen.—C. R. P."

C. R. P. evidently did not read the editorial published in the Pampa NEWS Feb. 14, which stated: "... It is a foregone conclusion that Pampa needs a community building, fashioned along YMCA lines. Pampa needs a place for convention meetings, a banquet hall, dance pavilion, theatricals, gym floor, reading rooms and if possible an indoor swimming pool."

All letters to the R. R. should be signed by the author, though only the initials will be used when the letters are published, unless desired otherwise. Unsigned letters will not be published.

Lake To Be 9 Miles Southwest of Beaver Dam On South Fork

Abandonment of the Beaver Dam site for location of Gray county's proposed lake, and the approval of a new site on the Johnson ranch nine miles southwest of Beaver Dam on the south fork of McClellan creek, was announced today by C. H. Walker, of Pampa, chairman of the county lake committee.

Two reasons were given for the change in lake sites. The first was that the Farm Security Administration ran into engineering troubles when they found quicksand under the proposed site of the Beaver dam. The second reason for recommending a change was the prohibitive cost of the original project.

Too Expensive Engineers found that the original dam site would run into a total cost of approximately $450,000. The administration in Washington agreed to spend not more than $300,000 on a Gray county lake.

The estimated cost of the dam on the Johnson ranch, which is listed on a map as Rockwall county school land, is $276,000. Mr. Walker stated today.

Two crews of surveyors, one employed on the dam and the other on the watershed, have completed their work and all estimates and necessary papers now are in Washington for approval of WPA and FSA officials.

Garnet Reeves, secretary of the Pampa Board of City Development, is in Washington in behalf of the general Panhandle Water Conservation program, and is expecting to receive word of final approval there within the next few days.

Mr. Walker said that the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Farm Security Administration has taken entire responsibility for the change in sites and that full recommendations of engineers and James E. Felt, FSA regional director at Amarillo, accompanied the papers and estimates to Washington.

Out of Question Mr. Walker quoted Mr. Foster as saying that the Beaver Dam location is entirely out of question, and that the new site is much more adaptable for recreational purposes than the original suggested site.

"The quicksand problem under the Beaver Dam site is reason enough, alone, to abandon that site," Mr. Foster said.

Mr. Walker stated today that options have been taken on all but 80 acres of the new site, and that these are expected to be closed in a very short time.

BRITAIN DEFENDED AND ASSAILED AT HEARING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Representative Koppelman (D., Conn.) asserted today Great Britain had "double-crossed" the United States by "going along with dictatorships."

Testifying against the proposed $150,000,000 naval expansion program before the House naval committee, Koppelman said Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's action looking toward an agreement with Italy had made it impossible for this country to depend on Britain.

Another witness — Representative McGrath (D., Calif.) — suggested England was not to be blamed for looking beyond the United States for cooperation in view of the feeling in this country against entangling foreign alliances.

Mother Sells Hair For Dollar Then Asks for Relief

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The story of a Texas farm family exhausted by government family benefits before applying for governmental assistance came to Farm Security Administration officials today.

A report from a local official at Carthage, Texas, said Mrs. John W. Thomas, a farmer's wife near there, cut off her two-foot braid of dark brown hair and sold it for $1 to buy clothing for her children.

It was only then, the report said, that the Thomas family sought relief from the government until better times.

Home Work Topic Of Discussion at School Study Club

Mrs. T. H. Henry, leader, who gave the program at the Horace Mann Study club meeting Tuesday afternoon in the school auditorium, was assisted by Mrs. W. A. York.

In the round table discussion on "Home Work" Mrs. Henry said, "The teachers know their jobs better than the parents know theirs."
The first question to be discussed was "How much time should be spent on home work?" The main thought in teaching is that the teacher sees that learning is taking place.

A survey made Monday covering 100 pupils showed that two-thirds of the group did some home work. At least one-half of this group studied under some type of confusion, the survey showed.

"Most homes are not equipped for home work but schools are established for such work," Mrs. York stated and continued by quoting that "Home work promotes character. Small children do not need as much home work as older ones, and that junior and senior grade students are given too much work to do was the general idea of all."

Mrs. M. K. Griffith said that home work should be completing unfinished tasks of the day or in the lower grades unlearned multiplication tables should be done at home.

The average child should relax at 3 or 4 o'clock when school is out and forget school for the rest of the day. Each child should be reading before the end of the second grade and should show interest in reading and read for pleasure.

A question raised was "Has education swung too far toward meeting academic requirements instead of fitting the individual for every day living?"

Mrs. Henry quoted Mrs. F. M. Culbertson as saying, "Most decisions of life are not made in a quiet corner but under stress or strain."

It was generally agreed upon that the school should let the child know that it is a place to work. I want school to be secondary in my child's memory. I want home to be a pleasant memory and first," a mother quoted.

Mrs. Henry pointed out that P-T-A study groups can make the world a much better place in which to live. We need better leaders.

Kenneth Bennett, band director of the Horace Mann school, played and sang two selections. Refreshments of red, white, and blue cake and tea were served with little hatchers to Mmes. P. H. Henry, Katie Zachry, C. E. Cary, T. A. Cox, C. W. Ford, George Clark, F. E. Sifton, O. W. Hoy, A. D. Robinson, H. H. Boynton, A. F. Johnston, George Alden, C. J. Cox, M. K. Griffith, C. W. Hays, W. ## Reputation of Successful Hostess Cooked Up Affair

By RUTH MILLETT
Along with wanting to look smarter than their sisters most women want to rate as good hostesses.

The reason more of them don't succeed is because they think "hostessing" is some mysterious business. Well, it's no more of a mystery than good food and a warm smile.

A good hostess is—or employs—a good cook. Guests being what they usually are, hungry humans, the woman who feeds them well. Fed them first may not be a rule of etiquette, but it is one rule for a successful party. It's a wonderful thing what good food does for conversation and dispositions. Our grandmothers knew well enough.

Then, too, the woman who wants her guests to relax and be themselves has to set them an example. If she worries and frets about the way things are going, she's going to have uncomfortable guests. If she seems unconcerned about delays and late arrivals, no one else is going to care or even notice.

Every woman ought to know the importance of making her guests welcome at the door. You remember the story of the famous hostess who is credited with having won her laurels with four words. When she greeted a guest she said "At last!" and when she told them goodbye she said "So soon?" That's the attitude every successful hostess takes.

It's a cliché that one bore can, without half trying, ruin any hostess' party. So it's a good idea to invite to a party only people who speak the same "language."

Just one other word about the business of entertaining. You're always hearing nice sounding advice about, "All you need to have a party is the spirit." Well, it's not true. You've got to make your guests comfortable and happy. If you don't your charm is going to be wasted, and so is your gesture of hospitality.

Supper and Dance To Entertain Group At Country Club

Incorrect posture invariably is the cause of an unattractive lump on the back of a woman's neck. The moment you hold your head, shoulders and back correctly, the lump disappears. If you continue to hold them as you should, it will be permanently eliminated.

Whenever you sit down to read for an hour, do one exercise before you open the book. Simply place fingertips behind ears, let your head fall backward as far as it will go then pull it slowly upward until head is high, neck straight.

After you have done the exercise once or twice a day for a few weeks, try it without placing fingertips behind ears. Make the muscles at the sides of your neck instead of your hands do the work.

If you have a roll of fat between your shoulder blades, try the "walking up the wall" exercise. Lie on your back on the floor with base of your spine against the baseboard and legs up the wall. Supporting hips with hands, walk slowly—very slowly—upward until weight of the body rests on the fatty spot between your shoulders. Hold the position ten seconds, then walk slowly downward. Relax for a moment or two. Repeat only five times.

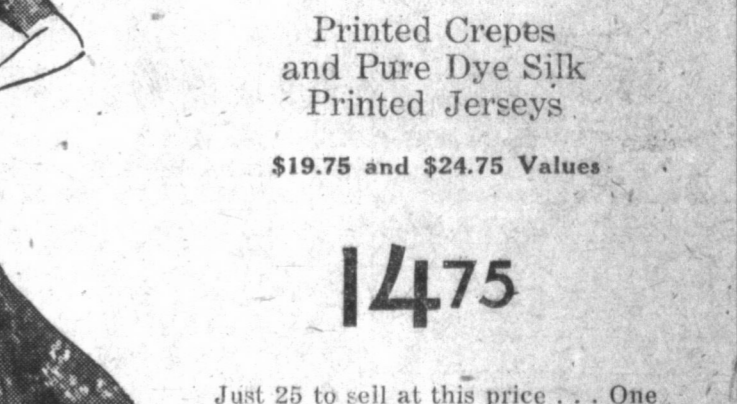

Always give your throat and the back of your neck the same kindly attention you allot your face. Pin a towel or a strip of gauze around your head to protect your hair, then apply cleansing cream or whatever cream you happen to be using, from the base of the throat up over forehead, around behind ears and on the back of the neck.

And don't let foundation lotion and powder stop at your chinline. No matter how attractive she is, no woman looks her very best if her neck doesn't match her face. And an unpowdered neck simply does not match a carefully powdered face.

Ever go to a sugaring off party in Vermont? It takes place in a maple grove when the air is promising with the feel of spring and the ground moist with snow. The syrup is boiled down to just the right consistency and then served to guests who transfer it to pans of snow. It turns waxy and hardens enough to eat. Raised uncooked doughnuts and packages accompany this feast in a maple grove and of course there are quarts and quarts of strong pungent coffee.

Maple sugar and butternuts seem to be a Vermont "natural."
Vermont Butternut-Maple Sugar Cake

One-half cup butter, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 cup maple syrup, 2 eggs, 2½ cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 3-4 teaspoon soda and 1-4 teaspoon ginger. 1-2 cup hot water, 1-2 cup butternut meats.

Cream butter and sugar. Gradually blend in the maple syrup. Beat eggs and add. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and ginger. Add butternut mixture alternately with hot water. Stir in butternuts. Bake in buttered loaf pan. Frost with maple cream frosting.

Maple Cream Frosting
Two cups shaved maple sugar, 1 cup cream, 2-3 cup butternut meats. Combine maple sugar and cream. Roll to soft ball stage. Add butternuts and stir until creamy.

From the above you'd naturally believe the Green Mountain Boys are cake eaters. But they love apples too.
Vermont Baked Apples
Eight apples, 1-4 cups maple syrup, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-3-4 cups water.
Cut apples in half. Core. Place in baking dish, flat side up. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until apples are tender and syrup grows thick. Bake frequently.
Try these. Apples with bread and milk, all mixed together. It's an old Vermont custom.

M'CRAW WILL BE GRANTED 'SHOWDOWN'

DALLAS, Feb. 24 (AP)—William McCraw, attorney general and candidate for governor, apparently will be granted his requested "showdown" with certain members of the Senate general investigating committee next Wednesday at Austin.

Before concluding the Dallas phase of an investigation of McCraw, the committee officially invited Mr. and Mrs. McCraw to testify at its next meeting if they desired.

The committee's demand for complete records on Dallas bank accounts of both the attorney general and his wife led to a hot protest from McCraw against what he termed the dragging of his wife into a political controversy.

Aiming his fire at T. J. Holbrook of Cleveland, dean of the Senate, and Sen. L. Hill of Henderson, McCraw urged that he be permitted to make personal reply to insinuations which he said had been made before the committee.

The investigators did not say when they would ask for presentation of the accounts. Both the state official and Mrs. McCraw waived any objection to their delivery by the banks.

The committee was in a quandary as to what, if anything, it could do to get a look at the accounts of McCraw's one-time law partner, Tom C. Clark, and the former Dallas law firm of McCraw and Clark.

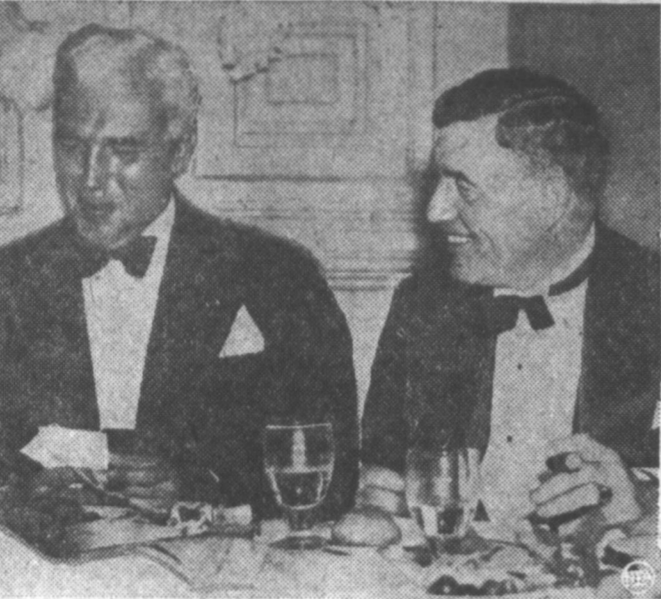

Clark, now an assistant United States attorney general, remained firm in the position that he would not voluntarily turn over all of the records on the accounts for use in fishing expeditions and political campaign thunder. He said he would supply the records on any specific transactions named by the committee.

Most of the Dallas hearing was consumed in interrogation of Clark about the admittedly substantial increase in his earnings after McCraw took office. Clark maintained he did not exert improper influence on McCraw or any other public official.

Although the investigation of Land Commissioner William H. McDonald was overshadowed by the inquiry into McCraw's affairs, considerable progress was made toward its completion. J. R. Prince of Burkburnett and J. T. Dawson of Houston, regarded as important witnesses in the McDonald investigation, presented their testimony here.

As Hoosiers Pushed McNutt Boom

HUNGARY SEEKS TO PAY DEBT BUT NO INTEREST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Hungary revived the whole question of war debts today by announcing a proposal for settling her obligation to the United States. She offered to pay "one hundred cents on the dollar" of her original indebtedness, but minus interest.

Payments would total $1,207,000, divided into 30 annual non-interest-bearing installments of about $39,000. The original debt was $1,685,000, from which Hungary would subtract the amount she already has paid on interest and principal—$478,000.

Hungarian Minister John Pelenyi in a statement, said the proposal: "Has nothing to do with debts of any other country toward the United States; Has nothing to do with any trade agreement with the United States, which Hungary does not contemplate at present, and Has nothing to do with the Johnson act, since Hungary does not desire further loans in the United States. The act forbids further loans to delinquent nations, Hungary's debt to this country arose through the purchase on credit of 13,890 tons of flour in the famine year of 1920.

Her proposal was discussed by President Roosevelt with Secretaries Hull and Morgenthau and congressional leaders last Thursday. It brought opposition from some congressmen on the ground that it could be used as a precedent by other and bigger debtors.

Under the present debt-funding arrangement Hungary would pay $77,000 for another 50 years.

ALLRED SAYS STATES OWN OIL IN OCEAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The house judiciary committee asked for help today in establishing ownership of submerged oil lands in the three-mile limit off the nation's shores.

If it finds no claimant, members said today it probably would approve a senate resolution authorizing the federal government to take title and use valuable petroleum resources to build up the navy's oil reserves to build up the navy's oil.

Representatives of the justice and interior departments, sponsoring the legislation with the navy, frankly told the committee yesterday they didn't know the titleholder, if any.

But, Governor James V. Allred of Texas insisted that title rests with the states, in most instances. He said Texas claims mineral rights for 10 1/2 miles off the Lone Star gulf coast.

He cited supreme court decisions intended to show each state holds title to these off-shore lands, as did the original 13 colonies and states.

Allred appeared in opposition to the legislation, introduced by Senator Nye, Republican, N. D., on the ground that it would deprive Texas of considerable income from oil resources off the gulf coast.

Secretary Swanson told the committee in a letter congress had never asserted a policy that the government has the "national and paramount" right to use the submerged lands.

He urged approval of the measure quickly because, he said, preservation of petroleum deposits in these areas, "is of vital public importance" for maintenance of the navy.

Later, Capt. H. A. Stuart, director of naval petroleum reserves, told the committee he believed the government "should take every precaution to safeguard its interests and to insure an adequate supply of petroleum products against the day when such supply may be sorely needed."

I would like to emphasize the need for these reserves, particularly on the west coast, because there is little or no coal available there from which a substitute petroleum can be manufactured."

TODAY'S SERMONETTE

The woman who worships God finds commendation of all with whom she comes in contact, because she attends unto the things spoken by Christ and His apostles, and it is not surprising that after Lydia had listened to the sermons of Paul "she with her household was baptized" and then she ministered to the needs of the disciples.—Chivers.

THE ODD JUSTICE OF ENGLISH LAW

England's method of law enforcement has often been held up to the United States as a fine example which we do not follow in this country. A recent case in London's Mayfair demonstrates so perfectly the manner of administering the law and the public reaction that administration found.

Four young men, all members of exceptionally "good" families, graduates of the best schools and all with rich relatives, were found guilty of robbery with violence. The crime itself was enough to shock the English public and press, for the four enticed a representative of a jewelry firm to a small hotel, beat him and robbed him of gems valued at $3,000 pounds.

The lord chief justice who heard their case listened to testimony of their backgrounds, their schools, their families and their surrounding of wealth and position—and then handed down sentences that haven't been equalled for severity in years in the British Isles.

He not only sentenced them to terms ranging from nine years to 18 months at hard labor, but he added penalties of from 15 to 20 strokes of the cat-o-nine tails for three of them.

For, said the lord chief justice, the upbringing and the fine training these young men had received made their crime greater than if it had been committed by some warp-brained child of the slums. The fact that these four young men knew better and had been fitted by their rearing to become good citizens instead of thugs, made their conduct all the more inexcusable.

In the United States the very things which the English jurist held against the four youths would have bulked large in their favor. For we in this country have a way of excusing personable young men of good talent and upbringing. It may be to give them another chance to make good. Or it may be the influence which those "good" families bring to bear.

The English public opinion, carefully noted, was solidly with the court in the severity of its penalties. Americans might approve such sentences too. But they don't get much chance. They're too busy approving leniency and probation.

THE CASUAL AGE

One of the most amazing things about the present generation, or age, is the casual way we accept the most magical of miracles.

Some one announces: "Television is here." So we accept television as being here. Actually we know it isn't exactly here, but we feel quite sure it is just around the corner for this is the age when anything, little matter how wondrous, can be perfected once conceived or begun.

Six "flying fortresses" of the United States Army Air Corps carrying 9 men hop off casually from Miami, fly 2695 miles to Lima, Peru, nonstop, land for six hours and continue the flight to Buenos Aires. The trip is a matter of hours and of small comment in this country.

Why not, other airplanes hop around, here and there, across land and sea. We were told several years ago that big bombers would eventually be able to cruise thousands of miles in war or peace, without difficulty. The time has arrived unnoticed, that's all.

Tex's Topics

Vignette of a man trying to figure out whether to accept an invitation to deliver the main address (on short notice) at the annual meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Loose Buttons on Overcoats: He has been approached on the subject by the janitor of the hall where the society meets, and has just been told that, all of the good speakers have engagements for that night, so the janitor has been delegated to call on him as a last resort.

That makes a swell start. . . Why, er, ahem, of course, I'd be glad to—but let me see, isn't there something that I have to do tomorrow night? Yes, yes, there must be. Well, he's in a jam and can't think of anything that he has to do tomorrow night, but he'll look in his date-book, and if it's okay he'll tell the janitor by mid-afternoon of the next day. . . Thanks a lot old man for choosing me for this high honor. . . I only hope I can do justice to the subject. . . Oh, yes—by the way, what subject did you wish me to speak on? . . . "The Curse of the Mediterranean?" . . . Why, I didn't even know the Mediterranean could swear. . . Of all things, it sure beats all what's going on right under your nose and you wouldn't know a thing about it. . . Well, okay—I'll let you know tomorrow afternoon.

The janitor exits, mumbling. . . This leaves the man to his thoughts and, naturally, they will not be reproduced here in polite society. . . Let's see, I can tell 'em my grandma in Ardmore is sick. . . But, that means I'll have to hide in the garage all tomorrow night, and it's too cold to hide in a garage. . . Or, I could dig out that Fourth of July speech I made at the Longhorn Breeders' picnic in 1929. . . The Mediterranean sure would curse at that one. . . Not so hot. . . Let's see, isn't there something else I could use for an alibi? . . . I could come down with bronchitis or something. . . That's not a bad idea—or is it?

Well, it's 2 o'clock in the afternoon, now. . . If I write a speech this afternoon and study it all night and all day tomorrow, maybe I can make a stab at the thing tomorrow night. . . What in Sam Hill is the sense of such a society anyhow? . . . Who ever heard of such a thing! . . . What's their purpose in life? . . . There's an idea, I could go down there and tell them how useless they are in the world's scheme of things. . . That might not work, either. . . Somebody might get up and tell me the same thing right back. . . Guess I might as well take it on the chin. . . So, he accepts the invitation, writes the speech and studies it all night. . . Goes to sleep about 5 a. m., moans and groans and gets up at 7 a. m. and begins studying again, taking ten minutes out at noon for a sandwich which doesn't taste good. At 5:30 p. m. he feels he has mastered it enough to be able to go through with the ordeal. . . Breathes a sigh of relief. . . At 6 the telephone rings. . . It's the janitor. . . Says the janitor: "Just called to let you know the meeting tonight has been called off. Thanks, old man." . . Says the man: "(Censored)".

WHEN THE SWING OF PUBLIC OPINION?

For a quarter of a century now public opinion has been swinging to the belief that wealth can be created by artificial methods. One artificial law leads to another and that leads to another.

We, in the United States, during this time have increased or public debt to 60 billion dollars from practically nothing.

A quarter of a century ago, we began to believe that labor was not a commodity; that it did not have to compete; that wages could be established by wish, or by law, or by force.

We have had the cumulative effects of these beliefs in the last six months. We have had a more rapid decline in employment than any time in our history. Every indication is that unemployment and a lower standard of living will continue just so long as public opinion believes in these artificial methods of producing wealth. Under a democratic form of government, people are permitted to learn by suffering.

In the United States, during the past nine years, we probably have been obliged to do without at least 500 billion dollars worth of production because our political educators and our reformers have been sowing seed of discontent and teaching the people to believe that wealth can be created by the majority rule instead of by private initiative. And we will continue to suffer even more till we correct our beliefs. Both the Republican and Democratic parties have been teaching practically the same foolish doctrines. How long will we have to continue trying these dreams and how long will we have to go before the pendulum will begin to swing the other way, is what people now are beginning to wonder.

It is evident that the only way we will learn is by suffering. The question is how much suffering we will all have to do before we begin to think. Twenty-five years is a long time for the pendulum to swing one way, but we have been a great country and it takes a long time to move big bodies. They move slowly.

Eventually, of course, the people will come to know that we cannot have more by limiting production; that we cannot decide important things by counting noses; that every government which prospers must permit the individual to have the right to use his talents in the way he believes best to create wealth, so long as he does not destroy other people's wealth or rights to do likewise.

When we learn that the Universal Rule is the Golden Rule, then the pendulum will begin to swing the other way and not until then!

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Yesterday I went down to Trinity churchyard and strolled for an hour among the crumbling tombs of departed heroes!

Time has meant little to this Abeyon-Hudson, where Peter Stuyvesant once nursed his gout and listened to interminable sermons in Dutch. It still retains an aura of Queen Anne, despite an ever encroaching acropolis of modern skyscrapers, and one may still catch the brooding spirit of those times by passing quietly among the blackened slabs and taking note of the fading epitaphs, which, occasionally, were recorded in an English that goes clear back to Chaucer.

For Trinity was a burial tract even before it became the richest church in the world. The oldest grave in it is that of a 5-year-old child who died in 1681.

Close at hand "lies the body of Jonathan Edwards, who departed the Transcendental Life Sept. 14th, 1747." And a step beyond is the grave of a British army officer, Sydney Bresse, who composed this epitaph for his tombstone: "Ha, Sydney, Sydney! Layest Thou here? I have lye. 'Til Time is flown to its extremity."

Here, too, is buried Alexander Hamilton, killed in a duel by Aaron Burr, and at his side, under a time-yellowed slab, Hamilton's widow, "the daughter of a soldier of the revolution."

If shades may be said to be restless, then Hamilton's bones must have turned over ceaselessly, for a few feet away lies Matthew David, "the last friend that Aaron Burr possessed on earth." Countless biographers have attacked Burr for killing Hamilton, but probably the truth is, Hamilton grossly insulted Burr and, according to the code of the day, Burr had every right to his satisfaction.

THE NEWS, Buler Rufenedy and Minnye Archer have a rival in ture to start here is published

The newest journalistic venture published here is published at the home of Guy McTaggart at 516 East Browning by two nine year olds, Jackie Rains and Jimmy McTaggart, who became step-brothers recently when Mrs. Hazel Rains and Guy got married. The journal is called the Daily Foc and the copy this one has was typewritten on yellow paper. The boys have 21 subscribers, and the subscription price varies. Some days it is five thumb tacks because the boys need thumb tacks to tack things on the walls of their room. Other days it may be something else—depending on whatever their friends have that the two boys want. The members of "Our Staff" are given as "Mr. Foo (who must be Jackie Rains), Mr. McTaggart, Mr. Hatcher and Miss Nelson." Regular features of the Daily Foc are "I Saw" and "I Heard." Mr. Foo "heard" that "Doris is trying to run us out of business." There is a 100-word serial entitled "The Death Valley Murder." The next item in the paper states that "we are very sorry but Hatcher's fannies cannot come out in this issue as Mr. Hatcher is ill." The jokes department poses this question: "Are many great men born here?" No. Only babies are born here. The gossip column "heard that Delemor got 5 whippings!" Next week, says the Daily Foc will start "Lightening Ed and his horse in Death Valley." A story that makes your blood run cold. Don't miss it!

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 24—While Paramount's expeditionary director, Clyde Elliott, was preparing to leave for the Malay Peninsula several months ago to film "Boo!oo" in the jungles, he told me of a beautiful half-caste girl whom he had engaged by cable to play the lead.

Now Elliott writes that the girl, Saratna Asmara, has turned out better than he'd dared hope. A natural actress, and she can sing, too. He asked how she'd like to come to Hollywood, and she said that would be all right—but only if her family could come along, too. Elliott thought that could be arranged—until he happened to inquire about the size of the family. Saratna named them over; there were exactly 40.

An Idea at its Worst

A case of attempted extortion about a year ago—in which a movie star's head was superimposed photographically on the body of a nude—evidently provided an idea for some of Hollywood's curstome merchants. For the town is flooded with atrocious composites employing the likenesses of famous film folk.

Only now, instead of being offered to the victims for huge sums, the posters are peddled to male tourists. It's a scheme that even the furtive, sleeve-tugging street vendors of Paris wouldn't dare attempt.

Can't Hold Hands Still

Microphone fright is a curious thing, and screen as well as stage players often are stricken by it. Alice Brady, now, is a veteran trouper who scarcely can be feazed by any incident or accident around a sound stage or theater, but she gets the jumping jitters the minute she enters a radio station.

In front of the mike her hands tremble so much that the sheets of her script have to be pasted on cardboard. That's to keep the paper from rattling.

Bassoon Blunder

Another mix-up in names occurred late one night when a harassed executive decided that a new picture required the insertion of a smash tune. He decided to call Rudolf Friml, but his sleepy secretary and the switchboard girl routed out of bed a much less distinguished musician named Rudolph Fromel.

The conversation hadn't got very far before Fromel, a bassoon player or something, realized that Friml was the man for whom the proposition was intended. But whenever he tried to interrupt, his stutters were mistaken for objections to the producer's request for the hasty composition of a song. Every time he's begin, "But I'm not—" the high-powered executive would add a thousand dollars to his offer and go on talking.

The producer finally halted, breathless, and the other man imparted the crushing news that he was Fromel, not Friml, a bassoonist and not a famous composer.

The venereal-disease problem is gigantic. It can hardly be solved solely by means of treatment and drugs. The attack upon this plague must be reinforced with education on the meaning and significance of social hygiene.

Social hygiene is not preaching and threat. It is more than sex education. It offers a modern, forthright, intelligent answer to a very old problem.

The American Social Hygiene Association, 50 West 50th St., New York, will supply literature.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

By ROBBIN RUTCHER, Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Roosevelt, with more curiosity than confidence, is now sitting back to see whether business gets the cue which he attempted to give it when he beat drums and asserted that the price level should advance.

He is just as thoroughly aware as anyone else that if business conditions do not improve within the next two or three months the administration will be compelled—or impelled—to promote a large new spending program in order to stimulate consumer purchasing power and achieve the same ends which are now being sought by minor encouragements as his own recent assurances as to what ought to happen next.

Official but highly confidential figures are showing that since August the number of persons unemployed had increased by about 3,600,000 persons on Feb. 1. There is ample assurance that this number will have been increased by 300,000 to 400,000 by the end of February.

RFC, PWA Still Around

This means a relatively terrific drain on the national purchasing power and in the face of it not many officials see how any one can expect an improvement in the demand for or the price level of farm products and manufactured consumer goods.

It is a situation calculated to absorb $250,000,000 of new PWA money without a ripple, to thwart aims of the new housing act and to discourage resort by industry to the newly available RFC loan money.

Resumption of RFC loans calls attention to the fact that the RFC machinery has been kept intact all along so that such a resumption might be effected promptly if and when deemed necessary. The same thing is true of the PWA machinery, which the administration "spenders" believe will be used again before long.

Proposals for $8,000,000,000 dollar highways and other "self-liquidating" programs are worth watching.

The traffic officer told Cohen, out driving with his wife, to pull over to the curb.

"Where do you think you're going?" asked the officer. "I think I'll just give you a ticket for speeding."

The frightened Cohen paled and said nothing.

"And," said the cop, "here's another ticket for passing that red light back there. I also think I'll slip you a ticket for obstructing traffic."

Cohen was still speechless, but not Mrs. Cohen. She spoke up from the back seat:

"Yah, Mr. Policeman, don't pay no attention to heem. Hizz drunk."

There is an old, old story, which you have probably heard, of the salesman who was demonstrating a meat slicer to an old German market man. Everything seemed to be going smoothly. The market man emitted encouraging clucks of pleasure as each new feature was explained.

Finally the salesman, out of breath, paused to wipe a perspiring brow. "Pretty slick, eh?" he asked.

"Sure, Best I ever seen."

"Then why don't you buy it?"

"Well, why don't you ask me?"

More than one salesman has made the fatal error of neglecting to ask for an order—and ask repeatedly.

John Barrymore, the story goes, visited a haberdashery in Hollywood, selected a number of things, ordered them sent out, and started to leave.

"And your name?" asked the clerk.

"Barrymore," was the cold reply.

"Which Barrymore, please?"

John looked at the fellow disdainfully. "Ethel," he barked.

An old Arkansas hillbilly stopped the rural mail carrier and said, "Got 'ary letter for me?"

"No," replied the carrier.

"Better have one next time you go by."

"What's your name?"

"Never mind the name. Bub, but have that letter or you won't do no more mail carryin'."

After the following episode a certain lawyer decided never to try irony on a jury again. He was prosecuting a man who had been caught rehanding on the roof of a house, obviously a guilty burglar, and wound up his speech to the jury as follows:

"If you consider, gentlemen, that the accused was on the roof for the purpose of enjoying the mid-night breeze and by pure accident happened to have about him the necessary tools of a house-breaker, with no dishonest intention of employing them, you will, of course, acquit him."

And the jury did.

Officer Tom Sheldon, crouched over his motorcycle parked in a secluded spot just off the highway, debated whether it would be pork chops or steak for dinner. A gleaming new sedan suddenly cut short his day-dreaming by roaring past him.

"That gent is due for a surprise," he murmured as he started in pursuit. Four miles later Sheldon moved up alongside the speeder, glanced automatically at the dirty rear license plate and waved the driver to the side of the road. "I know, you got an alibi," he said.

"Well, I was stepping on it a little," the driver confessed.

"But it's really my fault," his companion said. "I'm afraid I'll have to explain. You see, my husband hasn't driven in years. Long ago he was in a bad accident while driving a friend's car. After that he wouldn't even own one and hated to ride in one. But that seemed so senseless to me I pleaded with him to overcome this phobia. He did. So last week we bought this car. It was delivered today and this is our first ride in it," she concluded.

"Save the gab, lady, you talk are coming with me," Sheldon barked.

"For speeding?" the wife inquired.

"Can't you just give us a ticket and let us go on?"

"For suspicion of driving a stolen car," Sheldon retorted.

How's Your Health?

The number of days named to celebrate this and that is becoming something of a mental hazard. But the newest one, Social Hygiene Day, has my complete approval. Here is a theme worth celebrating, one that lends balance to the great stir about the venereal diseases.

Some people call them social diseases, but syphilis and gonorrhea are really the anti-social diseases. More significant than the damage these diseases do to the infected individuals is the damage they inflict on society.

The ultimate business of mankind is to perpetuate the race by raising sturdy children, to carry on and possibly to improve its affairs. Home, children and society—what else indeed?—give meaning and significance to human existence. The venereal diseases, more than most others, strike at all of these.

There is little hope of "catching up" with the venereal disease by limiting our efforts to curing infected individuals. Each day sees many more new cases develop than can be treated.

At present it is estimated that every tenth adult is infected with syphilis at some time during his life. A quarter of all cases are found in persons under 20. In 75 per cent of the cases, syphilis strikes young persons under 30. One in every 12 women examined in prenatal clinics is found to be infected. Sixty thousand syphilitic babies are born each year to die

To Konnersreuth in Bavaria, throngs have been coming for years to see the most widely-known modern instance of "stigmata." Here the cars of visitors are seen in ranks near the village church, where Therese worships, and where an altar has been dedicated to Saint Therese of Lisieux, namesake of the girl who is providing the most baffling religious phenomenon of today.

By thousands they come to the convent where nuns have taken charge of the strange young woman. Almost all are convinced that they have seen a miracle; only a few mutter of self-hypnosis, hysteria, and other naturalistic explanations. Almost none at all suggest fraud of any kind on the part of Fraulein Therese, who accepts no money from pious ones who wish to give it.

NO. 1-- Continued From Page One

for observation. He refused. Thereupon the Catholic church officially dropped the case. In short, the official church attitude is simply: "not proven."

But the phenomenon has continued for nearly 12 years, and many of the faithful insist that here is a modern miracle.

Collapse Follows Seizures

Each Thursday at midnight, Therese lapses into her abnormal state, visions dominating her consciousness until 1:30 Friday afternoon. Then she collapses in a state of exhaustion, but soon becomes normal again. Weight lost during the period is rapidly regained.

Learned men brought to Konnersreuth are said to have verified that while in this state, Fraulein Neumann speaks fluently in Aramaic, a long-dead dialect language of ancient Palestine, and also in Latin and Hebrew, languages of which in her normal state she is utterly ignorant.

The wounds, which have not healed nor changed materially in 12 years, are red marks the size of a nickel on the palms and back of her hands, on her feet, below her heart, and hidden below her hair on the upper forehead. They speedily become dormant after bleeding, but scar tissue does not form.

And, according to high and reputable authority, Therese has taken no food since 1926.

Fasts Since 1926

The Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrems, Bishop of the Cleveland diocese of the Catholic church, who visited Therese in 1928, and who has heard definitely of her in 1937, describes her fasting.

"On Christmas Day, 1926," says Bishop Schrems, "she ceased entirely taking any food or any drink, except to receive Holy Communion every morning. And in receiving this the priests gave her just the tiniest particle of the Sacred Host, which he moistened in a little water. She had the greatest difficulty in swallowing even this."

Bishop Schrems asserts her fasting has been absolutely certified. The church has sent four hospital sisters, placed under oath, to watch Therese night and day. During one 15-day period the sisters swore that the girl took neither water nor food.

Doctors in the University of Berlin, from Leipzig, Prague and from Munich, according to Bishop Schrems, have agreed that "deception and fraud are absolutely out of the question in the case of Teresa Neumann."

First Saw "Glimmer"

Teresa's first manifestations of unusual power or condition came, she has related, when she saw a "glimmer" of strange light before her eyes. That was during her paralysis.

Then she lost her appetite for food. From 1923 she took no solid food, merely a little water or a her side from her heart. She continued her prayers. That night Teresa Neumann discovered a deep wound in her side. It is there today.

Wounds Are Large

On the next Friday of that 1926 Lenten season Teresa Neumann told of seeing the Lord in the remaining incidents of His Passion. He was crowned with thorns. He was mocked and kicked and cursed by the soldiers. His knees bent under the weight of the great cross He bore.

And then appeared the stigmata on Teresa's body. On her feet and hands were formed the marks of the wounds of Christ, suffered during the Crucifixion. They came gradually, appearing at last on her forehead.

Bishop Schrems graphically describes the miracle of this pious peasant girl.

"They are big wounds," says the Bishop, "somewhat larger than a nickel-piece. In the beginning the wounds bled heavily, but now the imprints are simply there glowing in their redness and passing through her hands to the inner side where there is another large mark. The same is true of her feet."

Always Keeps Weight

Bishop Schrems saw Teresa during her vision of the Passion, which comes to her only on Thursday midnight and lasts until 1:30 the following Friday afternoon. When this is over she crumples back, as in death, but a few hours after returns to normal condition.

She regularly loses about six or eight pounds during this vision, but six hours later she has regained her normal weight of 110 pounds.

The wounds on Teresa's body never change. Some of Germany's best doctors have applied salves and other ministrations but in vain. The wounds do not fester nor heal. Neither does the girl's weight change, church officials say, despite her fast.

News Clearing House

Editor, The NEWS: Dear Sir:

I have read many articles in your paper in behalf of a community hall or recreation center and I am fully in accord with the idea but differ somewhat.

I think what Pampa needs more is an up-to-date Y. M. C. A. building. One with a large gym, indoor swimming pool, ample dressing rooms for both men and women, a club room large enough to accommodate the "Lions club," "Rotary," etc., with a kitchen, with two large lobbies, one for men, with dominoes and magazines, papers, etc.; one for the boys, with ping pong, pool tables, dominoes, checkers, library, etc.

Then the building should have one floor (top) with rooms for young men. Besides furnishing nice rooms, it would help a great deal to make the Y. M. C. A. self-supporting.

A Y. M. C. A. would not only create a place for the youths of Pampa, but also for girls, young business women and men, as a plan could be worked out to make time for everyone to share the gym and pool.

The membership fee should be small enough to encourage members. persons found deserving but unable to pay could be given some small task to cover this, or better still, people who are able, churches, clubs, etc., could donate membership fees.

Yours sincerely, M. L. Davis, Route 2, Pampa, Texas.

LETTERS ON CUBAN LOTTERY CONFISCATED

Pampa is being flooded with letters containing order blanks and circulars on the Cuban National lottery, according to Postmaster C. H. Walker. The practice is against the law and all letters are being confiscated.

"We have confiscated more than 200 letters up to noon today," Postmaster Walker said. "The letters contain circulars and blanks for ordering books of tickets. A few of the letters may have gotten by but we believe most of them have been taken up."

It is against the law to send anything through the United States mails even pertaining to a lottery. Postmaster Walker pointed out. The lottery may be "on the level" but it is against the law to sell or buy lottery tickets in the United States, he said.

CHECKS SENT TO DEAD MEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Oklahoma social security officials promised drastic reform today in the administration of the state's old age pension plan.

Testifying at a social security board hearing, John Eddleman, chairman of the state's welfare commission, and Henry J. Denton, state welfare director, admitted "irregularities" in the past, but said they were rapidly eliminating these.

The social security board has threatened to cut off federal funds as a result of irregularities board investigators testified they had uncovered.

Yesterday investigators said pension checks had gone to dead men that a bullet greeted an investigator who called at the home of a pensioner and that, in all, $385,000 had been paid out irregularly.

As a result of yesterday's session, Rep. Gomer Smith, Democrat, Okla., proposed that congress inquire into the administration of the social security program.

Neither Eddleman nor Denton denied any of the specific charges by the federal board investigators, but they said the state board already had remedied a number of irregular cases.

Eddleman blamed hard times, limited administrative funds, and a general impression that anyone over 65 years old was entitled to a pension for most of the trouble.

The state received 90,000 pension applications as soon as the pension act was passed, he said, and the board attempted to take care of these as fast as possible with limited funds.

"We were bound to make mistakes," Eddleman said. The federal board's investigators also testified the mother of a $14,000-year baseball player was on the pension rolls. The ball player refused to contribute to her support.

BAKER PARENTS AGREE TO TUBERCULIN TESTS

Aaron Meek, principal of B. M. Baker school, reported today that approximately 350 tuberculosis test slips had been returned to the school today in which parents granted permission for tests to be made of children attending the school.

A total of 507 slips were sent to homes of Baker school children yesterday, Mr. Meek stated, as part of a city-wide health campaign to have children tested for tuberculosis.

Tests at the Baker school are to be made by physicians next week, the school principal said.

JOE LOUIS' LETHAL FISTS KNOCK OUT NATIE MANN IN THIRD ROUND

NATIE DOWNED 4 TIMES AND OUT ON FEET

By GAYLE TALBOT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 (AP)—Standing up courageously and slugging it out like a basket of wildcats with Joe Louis still is one of the surest methods known of getting knocked all out of shape, as Natie Mann was telling his Connecticut friends between cut lips today.

Natie wanted to know, and he found out to the lasting satisfaction of himself and 19,490 paying fans in the Garden last night, when the brown-skinned champion gave him a sickening beating and left him on the floor, with not a thought in his head, in 1:56 of the third round.

Making the second defense of the title he won only last June, the big negro looked like a composite of all those superlatives lavished on him two winters ago as he cut down and tore apart the fattener kid who thought he could slug it out with him. If the Bomber ever went anywhere, he's back among us.

Unmarked, not even blowing from the brief workout, he sat later and said he would like one more tune-up before his monumental encounter with Max Schmeling in June. Promoter Mike Jacobs promised to pick an opponent for Joe today, and the betting was it would be Harry Thomas, at Chicago, with Jimmy Adamic an outside choice.

Whoever draws the assignment of giving Louis another testing is not to be congratulated. There are easier ways of making money than being on the receiving end of the brutal lefts and rights that spilled Mann four times last night and left his brain added for 20 minutes after he was counted out.

"If I had it to do over again, I'd never try to fight him like that," said Natie sadly. "I guess he's a terrible hitter. I didn't know a thing after he tagged me the first time early in the second round."

It was a left hook to Natie's jaw. He didn't go down, only drifted against the ropes for a space and neither Louis nor the yelling crowd, including 6,000 extra-loud Connecticut, knew Natie was out on his feet. He was knocked down for a nine count later in the round, and in the fatal third fought Louis all over the ring and was down three times without having a glimmer of what was going on.

"I haven't the least idea what happened after that first lick," he insisted. "I don't even remember the rest period between rounds. If

Clingman And Cummings To Tangle Monday Night

A couple of real favorites will meet in Promoter Cliff Chambers' main event wrestling match on Monday night when Sailor Otis Clingman and Bob Cummings tangle. The match has been arranged for fans who want to see a lightning fast clean, scientific bout.

The "other guy" will also be served on the same card. Those desiring the rough stuff will be accommodated with the appearance of Sailor Jack "H. P." Moran and Gorilla Pogi in the semi-final.

Opening the card at 8 o'clock will be a "mixed" bout between Tex Hager and Jerry Hollis.

Clingman was given a rest last week after his tough battle with Dick Sampson the previous week. With the return of Cummings who has been on a road trip, Clingman is being brought back to headline the big card which is being classed as a natural.

Pogi, new in these parts, is fast becoming acclimated and soon will be demanding a main event. "I've taken these preliminaries so as to be in good shape when the tough boys want to take me the whole distance," remarked Pogi, through his interpreter, Dutch Mantell, who in turn had the remark translated by Promoter Chambers, who understands Dutch's language.

Moran didn't need an interpreter, only a censor, when he made his remarks about Pogi.

I did any fighting in the third round it must have been instinct alone. I came to a little bit just as Arthur Donovan yelled 'ten' in my ear."

Which gives a hint, however hazy, of the lethal power in Louis's fists. Mann never had been knocked out before. The boxer who wants to bob and weave and play it cute still can't make the champion look less gaudy than he did last evening, no doubt, but no fighter could have stood up under the barrage that assailed Mann.

On the strength of his superb showing Louis's stock probably will rise sharply against Schmeling.

To Mann's credit, it can be said he was true to his word. Fool-hardy as it looked in retrospect, he went after Louis and threw his right. He even made the opening round fairly close by banging Joe's jaw with a couple while the champ remained impassive behind his long left jab. In the second Natie sailed in and put across some thumpers as his home town roared raved. Suddenly, Louis began fighting back viciously, and in the first real mixup he planned the left hook that engulfed Mann's senses. A moment later he slugged him to the canvas for nine, and only the bell saved Natie for another round.

Louis was without mercy when they came out again. Two lefts crashed his befogged rival to the floor for short counts before a final right, packing all of Joe's 200 pounds behind it, put the game kid down for good. He was counted out on one knee as he stared glassily at the referee.

Despite the abandon with which he threw punches, Louis's fists came out of it in perfect condition. His camp, secretly, had been a little worried about the knuckles he knocked down against Tommy Farr's head last summer.

Louis, at 200, outweighed Mann by 6½ pounds.

SIX COWGIRLS SIGNED TO RIDE BUCKING NAGS

FORT WORTH, Feb. 24.—Six cowgirls have signed on the dotted line to ride bucking broncs in the rodeo at the Southwestern Exposition and Pat Stock Show, March 11 to 20, Rodeo Manager Verne Elliott of Johnstown, Colo., announced today.

They are: Vivian White, Redwood, Okla., last year's champion; Peggy Long, Cresson; Lucille Richards, San Angelo; Vaughn Krog, Fort Towson, Okla.; Mary Keen, Houston, and Rose Davis, Hicktown, Okla.

Crisler Maps War Plans

Fritz Crisler, left, who resigned from his job at Princeton to take over the head football coaching position at Michigan, lists one of the points in his program to bring the Wolverines back into the gridiron spotlight, as Fielding Yost, director of athletics, listens and smilingly approves.

BOXING TO BE NEW SPORT IN HIGH SCHOOL

Boxing will be made available for students in Pampa high school. Supt. L. L. Some announced today following a meeting of school officials and several boys last night. Tom Herod, business manager of Harvester athletic activities, will be in charge of the new sport.

A call has been issued for all boys interested in boxing to report to the gymnasium at 4 o'clock this afternoon to receive trunks and shoes. The first few practice sessions will be devoted to the calisthenics and conditioning after which the boys will "take to the gloves." Plans call for two weeks of training before an elimination tournament is held among sophomores and juniors when eight winners will be selected in eight weight divisions. They in turn will meet a team of seniors, selected in training, for the school championship, according to present plans.

Should the boys show enough promise and ability, an invitation tournament will be held late in the season, Coach Herod said today.

"This is something new for us and we are going at it slowly," Coach Herod said. "We have received an invitation to join a boxing league that has been organized in this section of the Panhandle but we feel that our boys would not be experienced enough to compete this year but we hope to be invited to join the league next season after we have had more experience."

The weight classes will range from 112 pounds to the heavyweight division.

Dooley Released By Judge Landis

CHICAGO, Feb. 24 (AP)—Joe Dooley, outfielder last year with Galveston of the Texas league who maintained he had been "kept covered" for three years by Dallas of the same league, was a free agent today.

Leslie O'Connor, secretary to Baseball Commissioner Judge K. M. Landis, announced the latter had granted Dooley's petition after it had been denied earlier by the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues on the basis of official records.

It was disclosed, O'Connor said,

GOODMAN WILL FACE REIGEL IN GOLF MEET

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

HOUSTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Wobly in his opening tournament appearance of the season, Johnny Goodman, the national amateur champion, today faced a nifty youngster who some figured could blast him right out of the Houston country club's invitational meet.

Grimacing, straight-shooting Bobby Riegel, former southern amateur champion and Walker cup player, was his first round opponent and a picked harder could have given him a much harder foe.

Riegel, Beaumont, Tex., player, stormed in with a flat 70 to miss stroke, while Goodman, uncertain with his distance clubs, struggled with par on the closing holes to gain a championship flight berth. His 76 was just inside the borderline.

Out in 35 and apparently a threat for medalist, Goodman suddenly went to pieces and slipped six over par on the first six holes of the last nine. Only some good recovery shots from off the green saved him. Riegel, meanwhile, was giving par a methodical trimming.

Goodman, who admittedly has played but four rounds of golf in the past four months, couldn't get all his shots working at the same time.

White of Houston, former national intercollegiate champion and Walker Cup star, made a last minute decision to enter the tournament and came off the medalist. Burdened with work, White was undecided about entering but was finally persuaded after he negotiated the course in 72 on a practice trip.

He cut a stroke from par and finished with a 69 for the low medal.

Another hot first round match found Johnny Dawson of Chicago, who played erratically for a qualifying round 75, pitted against burly Bill Skeeters, one-time Southern Methodist football star who whipped Dawson in the 27. Worst-ever tournament two seasons ago.

Railbirds were putting their approval on David (Spec) Goldman of Dallas, who, since his trip to the finals of the national amateur in 1934 has not played any tournament golf. Months of practice behind him, Goldman stepped out yesterday and fired a 34 on the first nine but let his putter go bad on the incoming nine and finished with a 75.

Two places in the championship flight were still open today, darkness halting a swiftest last night. Deadlocked at 77, Walter Emery, national amateur finalist of 1935 and former Walker cup player; and Lewis Crisman, dark horse of Selma, Ala., and Jack Chambers, Houston youth, were scheduled to continue their playoff today to decide which one of the trio will be dropped out of play.

Paul Revere became a lieutenant colonel in the Massachusetts militia.

that Dallas, which originally signed Dooley in 1935, later sent the association notice of his release, but did not inform the player. Instead, O'Connor said, he was sent to Rayne, La., and then Portsmouth and Dayton, O., under the assumption he still was the property of Dallas before coming to Galveston.

Heiskell, Star Cager, Sick In Bed With Cold

Coach Odus Mitchell and rabid Harvester basketball fans began walking the floor this morning when they heard that Claude Heiskell, captain, was ill in bed with the "flu."

Claude's mother, Mrs. H. H. Heiskell, denied that her athletic son was seriously ill, but conceded that he did have a bad cold. She was keeping him in today, she said, so he would be all right tomorrow.

"He couldn't be very sick if he ate a half of pie, could he?" she said. But nevertheless, fans were concerned that the Harvester hot-shot would not be in top condition tomorrow at 2 o'clock when Pampa and Abernathy open the regional tournament at Canyon. Abernathy is ranked by Coach Mickey Pool of Plainview as the strongest team in the tournament. Pool's Bulldogs Monday night defeated the Canyon Eagles 37 to 31, but this victory was not regarded because the Eagles had not yet recovered from the tiring effects of winning the district tournament.

Plainview, disqualified because they failed to pay the Interscholastic League fee of $1, did not compete in the Lubbock tournament. Plainview led the Eagles 12 to 2 at the end of the first quarter. Coach Pool whose team has played both Abernathy and Canyon several times ranked the Antelopes far above the Eagles.

The Associated Press named Carey's Cardinals, last year's state champions, as the favorite to win the regional but observers feel that Pampa, if the Harvesters have a Claude Heiskell who is in A-1 condition, has the best chance to win; that Abernathy has the next strongest team, and that Carey and Canyon are next in line. The truth of the matter is that the strength of the four teams is probably about the same. However, it is probable that Abernathy is the strongest team in the tournament except the Harvesters.

The Harvesters would have an exceedingly difficult time of winning without Heiskell, and they would have almost as hard a time winning if Heiskell were not in top condition. If he is still weak from the effects of a day in bed and from the effects of medicine or is still suffering from a cold, he probably could not put out his best, although he were able to play.

Leave in Morning. Mrs. Heiskell said she was "doctoring him up" and declared that he would be able to play. She minimized the star forward's condition. The coach and the entire team will leave tomorrow morning. Whether they win or lose they will play again tomorrow night. If they win they will play the winner of the 3:15 p. m. game, either Canyon or Carey, and if they lose they will play the loser. The first night game

10 SCHOOLS IN DISTRICT 1, CLASS B, ARRANGE SCHEDULES

WHITE DEER, Feb. 24 (Special)—Superintendents and coaches of ten schools in district 1 of the Interscholastic League football, conference B, met at White Deer to organize and to arrange the schedules for next season.

Supt. George A. Heath, White Deer, was elected chairman. Supt. Roger Burges, Perryton, and Supt. J. M. Carpenter, Canadian, were chosen as members of the executive committee, and Eugene McCollum, White Deer, coach, as secretary.

Schedules were made for the 11 schools in the conference, and plans were discussed for regulating awards so that the same methods of making such awards and the same time of presentation might be observed in all schools.

Higgins was the only school participating in conference play that was not represented.

Representatives present were J. M. Carpenter, Toby Waggoner, Canadian; Charles R. Douglas, Bill McGibson, Claude; Dalton Ford, "Butch" Clark, Groom; Lewis Hill, Pollet; M. F. Stevens, Claude Daniels, Miami; R. E. Vaughn, "Lefty" Fowler, Panhandle; J. L. Mizell, R. F. Newman, Phillips; Roger Burges, Odus Burks, Perryton; W. R. Finley, Coach Wilkins, Spearman; George A. Heath, Eugene McCollum, White Deer.

starts at 7 o'clock and the second at 8:15.

Cunningham will replace Heiskell if Claude is unable to play. Members of the squad include Bobby Andis, forward; Jack Cunningham, center-forward; Norman Cox, center; A. C. Miller, center-forward; Tippy Reynolds, guard; Pete Dunaway, guard; Jim Brown, guard; Junior Foster, guard; Claude Heiskell, forward; Glenn Dull, guard; Grover Lee Heiskell, forward.

11 GUERRILLAS GET SWEATERS

Eleven members of the Guerilla football squad were given football sweaters in chapel yesterday. A couple of boys failed to hurdle scottish barriers and others did not play enough to be lettered.

Presentation of the awards was made by Coach Bob Curry who lauded the courage of the boys. The Guerillas last season battled the Harvesters and teams much stronger than they but never did they let down.

Many of the Guerillas will be Harvester prospects for this year. Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean of the Harvesters are looking to the Guerilla ranks for several replacements in the senior ranks.

The sweaters presented were lightweight. Coach Curry said he believed the lighter sweaters more practical in this country than the heavy ones. The sweaters were gold with a large letter "P" on the front and the word "Guerilla" in fold on the green letter.

Boys receiving sweaters were: Lester Clemmons, Robert Clemmons, Wayne Giddons, L. C. Bailey, Carl Ripple, R. C. Chandler, Walter Word, Doyle Auld, Willard Salsbury, A. C. Miller, Grover Lee Heiskell.

AUTHOR TELLS OF PERILOUS BOAT JOURNEY

SANTA FE, N. M., Feb. 24 (AP)-Perils of a rowboat journey through rock-studded Santa Helena canyon on the Big Bend of the Rio Grande in Texas were described today by Dr. Walter Prescott Webb, University of Texas historian.

Dr. Webb headed a party of three whose metal boats banged their way through Santa Helena's dangerous rapids last summer. Details of his report were made public today for the first time by the national park service. Santa Helena canyon is in the proposed Big Bend national park.

Dr. Webb cautioned against inexperienced persons endeavoring to make the passage. There is constant danger in the rapids, he said, and there is always a possibility of being trapped by a rising river, or injured by blocks of stone falling from the canyon walls that rise, in places, nearly 2,000 feet above the river.

Approaching the head of Santa Helena, they were "picked up" by four heron, which Webb said "actually led us through the canyon." "Occasionally," his report related, "we would see some cattle or horses, all wild and of low breed, on the Texas side."
