Homemakers Club Initiates 25 New Members Thursday

Egg and Fork Afford Pleasure—To Others

Pampa chapter of the Future Homemakers of Texas held an impressive initiation ceremony for the new members Thursday evening in the home economics living room.

The initiation ceremony was performed by Betty Shryock, president, Dorothy Burton, Eileen Gray, Pauline Stewart, Helen Jean Shellabarger and Dorothy Jane Day.

Annabelle Lard gave a poem about clubs. Club songs were sung by La Marie Courson, Dorothy Jane Day and Lois Foster. All the girls present repeated the creed for the Future Homemakers composed by Grace Noel Crowell, poet laureate of Texas.

Jeanette Cole, secretary, told the new members the regulations they must follow and abide by. Each initiate was required to wear her pajama top to school Friday, a fork around her neck as an ornament and carry a boiled egg to which signatures were to be signed. The girls failing to do this are to be punished.

The Junior High girls admitted to the club are Helen Shirley, Edna Mae Cade, Blanche Day, Geneva Welton, Leola Hogsett, Louelle Johnson, Edna Earl Deansmore, June Rose Hodge and Jeanie Graham.

The new high school members are Louelle Stokes, Betty Sue Price, Virginia Childs, La Marie Courson, Betty Curtis, Rita Le Eller, Dorothy Jarvis, Helen Harris, Lois Foster, Helen Chandler, Carrie Anne Elkin, Catherine Cullerson, Jerry Smith and Margie Coffee.

Ribbon sandwiches and fruit punch served by Onetta Qualls, were the refreshments. Each girl did her own dishes. The meeting was closed by the singing of popular songs.

Sophs Win Over Reapers 25-22

Winding up their season last Wednesday, the Senior High sophomores beat the Junior High Reapers 25 to 22. The two teams were fighting for second place in the Junior High league but other games had to be played before the answer is known.

Leo Feltner, who was high point man in all other games, for the sophomores, was bested by Ed Terrell in this last game. Terrell made 8 points, Feltner 6 and Bob Clemmons, who fouled out in the second quarter, made 5 points.

The line-ups were as follows: Sophomores: Terrell, Clemmons, Feltner, Cox and Stennis. Junior High: Allison, Beardson, Van Houton, Mullings and Carlisle. Subs for the sophomores were Ed Dickson, For Junior High, Mounis, Shaftner, Termin and Kuehl.

Albert Ayers, an ex-Harvester star basketball player, was the referee.

Semi-Formal Dance Given in Red Brick By Student Council

A semi-formal dance was given in the red brick building by the student council Saturday, February 12. Music was furnished by the faculty orchestra. At this particular dance all boys were wearing suits and no girls were wearing gowns. No boy was admitted who had a sweater on or did not have on a tie; no girl was admitted without an evening gown.

The scheme of decoration for the building was carried out by Agnes Wright, Valentine's Day. Those on the decoration committee were: Betty Shryock, Roy Showers, Jimmy Mosley, Madge Lawrence, Katherine Barrett and Geraldine Smith.

The dance had formerly been planned for Friday, February 11, but due to the storm, it was postponed until the following evening.

Given, there are students that enjoy this type of programs. I for one would like to see Pampa High school have bigger and better assembly programs. The student council could appoint a committee to look after this.

During assembly we students are interested (this concerns the majority) in the program being presented. In the back of the auditorium, if the speaker does not speak distinctly and loud, it is impossible for the students to understand what is being said. I hope something can be done about this. A. M. Mc.

I suggest that we put a nickel-odeon in the Red Brick building, so we could dance at noon. It would keep a great many students off the streets. The money taken in could go for some good purpose. An Interested Student.

I am of the opinion that most of the students would be much better satisfied if we could have assembly at 8:45 instead of 11:00 until any time after 12:00. Just so we are late to lunch it is all right. Well, I am not of the opinion that this is the correct thing to do for there are many students that have to get home at not more than 10 or 15 minutes after 12:00 so as not to miss the bus. I hope the money taken in could go for some good purpose. A Student.

It is the opinion of the entire student body that with all the talent in our school, we should be able to have interesting assembly programs. The average student does not enjoy listening to music all the time. A good solution for the problem is to have each class in school present a program that is different. Then have an activity that wishes to perform make application for a spot during a certain week. Plays could be presented, skits

Stuttering Sam Stammers Again In Popping Question

On February 1 the boy advanced hesitantly to meet the girl who was coming down the hall. Twenty feet from her he started his stammering question, "Will you---er will you?"

"Well?" asked the mortified girl. "I; nothin'," said the twisted-tongued boy.

A week later he tried the immensely important question 50 feet from her, knowing it would take the distance for him to get the question at least started, "Will you---er, will you?" he started hesitatingly again.

"Well, What DO you want?" asked the aloof girl, becoming annoyed.

The boy's attempt to portray his question fell with the same success as the preceding week.

Desperate, the boy worked on a successful, though slightly so, on February 14 he waited at the head of the stairs for the girl to come around the end of the hall. Startling with measured tread, he advanced down the hall, brandishing like a machine gun in the China-Japan War, toward the girl.

By the time he was even with her, he managed to get the question across: "Will---you---be---my---"

"Yes?" answered the girl, greatly interested now at the possibility of a proposal.

"Be---my valentine!" finished the boy triumphantly.

"Yeah," answered the greatly set-back girl. "I guess so."

Dramatists Enact "House of Juke"

"The House of Juke," a farce in one act and telling the true story of the Juke family, was presented by a cast chosen from members of the fifth period dramatics class under the direction of Kenneth Carman, instructor, and Dona Gay Watson, student director, at White Deer last Thursday afternoon.

The members of the cast were: Jeezuhl Juke-Rovine Johnson, Sam Juke-John Henry Nelson, Jake Juke-Bert Barrett, Juke Juke-Bert Isbell, Mary Case-Ann Chisholm, Bill Kelly and A. E. Combs were the stage and property managers.

The cast, property managers and directors journeyed to White Deer with the A Cappella choir.

Reader's Guide On Valentines

When the journalism adviser sent all his students to the library to write features on Valentine's Day, all the reference books and magazines were gone like a flash. All that was left was a "Reader's Guide," January to June, 1930.

Down the row of V's the finger stole VALENTINE Marion-"Lost Spring" (poem). VALENTINE Percy Friar's-"Beyond Heredity and Environment." "Oh, what's the use," was the book seeker's remark. "Valentines are primary stuff."

The reporter went on his way and managed to rake up some kind of a feature, but learned little about St. Valentine's Day.

Flowers for Aulds

The committee to buy the flowers was appointed by Eileen Gray, president of 313. They were Fern Gable, Jack Johnson and Claude Lard.

Staff Breaks All Records as They Sell 408 Annuals

Activity Pictures To Be Taken Tomorrow

"Tomorrow the taking of activity pictures will begin," states the annual staff. Every person, even if he is sick and wants to stay at home, is requested to please come and have his picture taken.

Every group having its picture taken is asked to wear clothes they wear while in the club. For instance the volley ball team is supposed to wear gym suits.

The schedule for the remaining activities, which are not found in the schedule on this page, will soon be placed upon the bulletin board.

The annual staff broke the school record by selling approximately 408 annuals. This broke the thermometer, made by Jack Johnson, which was capable of holding only 330 annuals. The highest ever sold before was 350.

Rules concerning the popularity contest are being drawn up this week and will be posted next week. A very interesting contest is being planned; and also, flattering names for the winners are being picked.

The staff's aim is to make this year's annual the most interesting that has ever been presented to Pampa Senior High students. Many changes in each section have been made and many other ideas added.

Although the selling campaign is over, don't forget April 1 is far away. So, everybody, start saving your pennies in order that you will have your dollar by this date.

Watkins Elected Senior President For Second Term

Elmer "Red" Watkins, first semester senior president, was re-elected by the senior class for the second semester at the senior meeting Wednesday morning in room 202 of the high school. Helen Draper, who ran against several other nominees, was elected vice-president and Alberteen Schulky was re-elected by acclamation as secretary of the class for the new semester.

After the election of officers, President Watkins called the meeting to order and Helen Draper chose the following people to serve on the social committee, of which she is chairman: Leona Huxst, Roy Showers, Peggy Stephens, Dorothy Burton and Dona Gay Watson.

The students were urged to send in their order for their rings as quickly as possible. The business of the meeting included starting a baseball team for both the senior boys and girls.

A brief talk by Winston Savage, head senior sponsor, in which he briefly outlined the activities of the senior class for the second semester, the meeting was adjourned.

It was reported that the social committee met later during the day and planned a picnic for the seniors for Monday afternoon, February 14.

Twentieth Century Literature Studied

Mrs. Hol Wagner's English IV(2) classes are doing something new in outside reading reports. Each Friday the students fill out filing cards for each thing they have read.

All plays, short stories, novels, biographies, essays and poems that they have read by twentieth century English authors are accepted. All students have lists of material to be found in both Senior High library and the Pampa Public Library.

A Cappella Students Sing at White Deer

At the assembly program at White Deer last Thursday, February 10, the A Cappella choir gave several numbers. Among the songs that were sung were "Deep River," "Standing in the Need of Prayer," "The Keeper," "Gherubim Song" and "Seeing Nellie Home."

Selected members of the dramatics classes went with the choir and gave a play. A school bus carried the students to White Deer.

Concrete Studied by Agriculture II Boys

A. E. Frazier's agriculture II classes are beginning a study of concrete. Mr. Frazier reports that he has already taught the boys the fundamentals of concrete mixing.

Last semester he taught the boys how to level a foundation. This semester he will teach them how to make a foundation. They are also going to have problems in building concrete blocks.

Classes in Biology Study With Movies

Biology classes of Miss Alice Short have been studying microscopic animals for the last two weeks. Moving pictures pertaining to this subject have been shown.

The pictures are as follows: "Poor Fish," "Down at Our Pond," "Amoeba and Vorticella," "Living Cells," and "Microscopic Animal Life."

Graduates Checked

Out of the 300 seniors in line for graduation in September, approximately 150 remain. Some have dropped out because they lack grade-points and others because they have failed in some subject, according to Mrs. Lou Roberts' records. Mrs. Roberts has been busy the last two weeks checking senior records for grade points and credits.

Staff Breaks All Records as They Sell 408 Annuals

Activity Pictures To Be Taken Tomorrow

"Tomorrow the taking of activity pictures will begin," states the annual staff. Every person, even if he is sick and wants to stay at home, is requested to please come and have his picture taken.

Every group having its picture taken is asked to wear clothes they wear while in the club. For instance the volley ball team is supposed to wear gym suits.

The schedule for the remaining activities, which are not found in the schedule on this page, will soon be placed upon the bulletin board.

The annual staff broke the school record by selling approximately 408 annuals. This broke the thermometer, made by Jack Johnson, which was capable of holding only 330 annuals. The highest ever sold before was 350.

Rules concerning the popularity contest are being drawn up this week and will be posted next week. A very interesting contest is being planned; and also, flattering names for the winners are being picked.

The staff's aim is to make this year's annual the most interesting that has ever been presented to Pampa Senior High students. Many changes in each section have been made and many other ideas added.

Although the selling campaign is over, don't forget April 1 is far away. So, everybody, start saving your pennies in order that you will have your dollar by this date.

Plainview Wins "Big 5" League

With the final scores of Pampa vs. Lubbock and Amarillo vs. Plainview, Plainview won by a margin of the greatest percentage of wins in the Big Five league by winning 12 games and losing 4, thus winning the Big Five championship. Pampa, a close contestant of Plainview for first place honors in the league, lost to Lubbock. The other three teams, Lubbock, Borger and Amarillo, percentage average of wins came in the following order: Borger, Lubbock, and Amarillo--Amarillo winning only two games.

The Harvesters lost their chance to win the Plainview title for the league championship with their first game with Plainview on their four day road trip, beginning last Wednesday night in Plainview, by donating the Bulldogs a game by a score of 27 to 22.

The next night was a different climate as the Harvesters won by a margin of one point as they scored a free pitch and a field goal in the closing minutes of the game. The score was 23 to 24.

The first game with Lubbock proved to be another scorcher as the Harvesters won by a score of 20 to 21 with help of an overtime period, but only after the Westerners had led most of the game. As in the two games with Plainview, the Harvesters were able to give the Westerners a different story as the game with Lubbock closed with the Harvesters holding the advantage of a score of 31 to 24. An unusual incident of this game was that no Pampa man scored less than six points and Claude Heiskell was high point man with 7 points.

Coach Mitchell says that he thought that the road trip marked the return of the Harvesters to the win column and also said that Borger would have a hard time beating Pampa because the team had begun to function as a group with outstanding men on whom the team had to depend all the time. The individual scores of the road trip indicated this fact.

Student Council to Sponsor Baseball Clubs in Senior High

Baseball is again being started in Senior High. There will be two teams out of the sophomore, junior and senior classes.

In class meeting Wednesday, the senior boys that wanted to play signed up on the paper that was passed; the juniors put at the head of their teams Albert Kemp and Bill Stiles. The sophomores are not under way yet.

The program is being sponsored by the student council. A diamond will be made suitable for playing. The location of the ground has not yet been decided.

Agriculture Boys Study Contouring

A. E. Frazier took the first hour agriculture class on a field trip last Thursday morning. They went about a mile north of Pampa to a wheat field.

Mr. Frazier taught the boys how to level the surveying instruments and how to run contour lines. The boys stayed two hours.

Flowers for Aulds

Room 313 sent a bouquet of flowers to Doyle Aulds, who has been in the Worley hospital with double pneumonia since last Sunday.

The committee to buy the flowers was appointed by Eileen Gray, president of 313. They were Fern Gable, Jack Johnson and Claude Lard.

Graduates Checked

Out of the 300 seniors in line for graduation in September, approximately 150 remain. Some have dropped out because they lack grade-points and others because they have failed in some subject, according to Mrs. Lou Roberts' records. Mrs. Roberts has been busy the last two weeks checking senior records for grade points and credits.

Dorothy Jane Day, editor of the Little Harvester, was elected president of the Panhandle High School Press Association February 5.

Sophomore Class Elects Bob Karr As New President

Bobby Karr was elected president of the sophomore class over Aubrey Green, Annabelle Lard, Bill Kelly, Hugh Stennis and Walter Ward. Karr took charge of the meeting which elected a new vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

Grover Lee Heiskell was elected vice-president over Annabelle Lard, Joyce Jackson, Pete Dunaway and Bill Ducaie.

Walter Word was elected secretary-treasurer over Annabelle Lard, Aubrey Green and Pete Dunaway.

Sagebrush by the Sage

Last week the Sage published a letter written by a certain English teacher. About last Monday in search for more letters of the same nature the Sage hit on the idea of going to St. Valentine's land or kingdom as it is really called.

Hector, the pup, and yours truly started out to Mr. Cabel's history room to dig into old maps and to make out the route which we were to follow. Not having the knowledge of just where this country was located, we jumped from Russia to Alaska and back several times before we really found that said land was at the bottom of the Land of Mussolini. Finding this out, the Sage and Hector went to their place of abode and donned black habits, so that they would not be mistaken for foes of the Italian government.

The trip, via the magic carpet of the Sage required about 7 1/2 hours. Arriving at the outskirts of Heartland, as it is called, the Sage was very much surprised to find Miss Bruce as chief of the guards. Obtaining permission to the kingdom was an easy matter because the Sage told her he would write some dirt about her if she did not admit him.

St. Valentine was busy but he dropped everything to chat for the Little Harvester. When asked how old he was, the old gentleman replied, "Oh, about 800 years."

"Just what type of Valentines are going to be given this year?" asked the inquiring Sage.

Since Valentine's Day there have been many kinds of Valentines given. Now Miss McFarlin, for example, will get a book entitled, "30 Modern Methods to keep your Beauty." She enjoyed the first volume, or 15 very much. I might say at this time that very few people will receive the same old romance Valentines. Harold Smith will receive a book on how to read your own handwriting. (That's what the Sage needs too.) D. L. Bracken will get a Valentine from every girl in Junior High. Roy L. Tosen will get a Valentine that is big enough for him to hit. Doris Chambers will get a mat on which to wrestle. Heidi Schneider will receive a portrait of Shirley Temple. Ann Buckler, Bill Kelly, Junior Barrett, Dorothy Fletcher, Howard Jensen, Elizabeth Mullins, Dorothy Jackson, Carrie Jean Speed and D. L. Killingsworth will find romance galore before the year is over.

St. Valentine asked if the Sage cared to meet Dan Cupid himself. The answer was most emphatically yes, after all, people will receive the fellow that would probably decide the fate of the future and possibly the fate of a nation.

But when Carl Brown dressed as Dan Cupid, bow and arrow, and nothing else, that was too much for my poor heart. Taking a picture of the little rascal with my candid camera almost got yours truly thrown out of the lovely little land.

The Sage, however, managed to smuggle the only actual portrait of the little rascal out of the land when he left. The picture was rushed to country after being sent to Pampa over the lines of My Futo Service. It now heads this column. After all the shocks received in this strange land the Sage wants to retire and a few more trips like that one, he will retire by request.

Three New Plans Offered to Aid Crowded Schools

Board Plans More Room for Students

Twenty-four classrooms are needed to relieve the crowded conditions in Senior and Junior High and ward schools. This need arises from overcrowded conditions due to the increase in enrollment and because some class rooms are not in proper condition. The school's equipment is adapted to not more than 1100 students. It now is attempting to accommodate 1300, according to school officials.

The school board is attempting to cope with this problem. There are three alternatives. One is that an addition could be added to four ward schools and take the seventh grade from the central campus.

Another plan is two new junior high buildings could be built on each side of the city. The third is to build a new senior high school which is believed to be more expensive than either of the other two. Assembly auditoriums and gymnasiums would have to be built to make them available for students. Any extensive building program would take more time than is to be had until next fall when school reopens.

L. L. Sone, superintendent of schools, says that regardless of what building program is accepted, the welfare of every child in Pampa will be considered. He welcomes any ideas of the general public.

Ten Towns Strive For Championship

Ten towns representing this and near-by counties will compete for district basketball honors in the local gymnasium Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Pampa, representing Gray county, will play its first tournament game Thursday at one p. m. and if successful will play the winner of the Hutchinson-Wheeler game at two o'clock.

Saturday night at eight o'clock the decisive game to find the superior team in this district will be played.

Towns representing the various counties are not known positively. Frank Monroe, in charge of the tournament arrangements, stated.

Harvesters Gobble Up Terrible Turks

Pampa Harvesters defeated the Turkey Turks by score of 36 to 21 in the high school gymnasium here last Tuesday night, February 8.

Andis led the Harvester scoring with a total of 13 points. C. Heiskell ranked second with 10 points. Cox, center, hit the basket for 7 points. Foster and Dunaway obtained three points each and Reynolds secured one field goal.

Johnson headed the Turk score pad with 10 points. Eliot ranked second in the Turk scoring. The starting line-ups were: Turks: Arnold and Chandler, forwards; Johnson and Eliot, guards; Johnson, center. Harvesters: C. Heiskell and Andis, forwards; Dunaway and Reynolds, guards; Cox, center.

J. W. Ley of Dickinson, A. and M. college refereed the game.

Party To Be Given For New Student Council Members

A party honoring new members will be given by the student council at the home of Louella Saunders, 8 p. m., Tuesday, February 15.

New members to be initiated are those who

COMMUNITY BUILDING NEEDED

An important meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at City Hall.

It is the conference of civic club, women's group, P-TA, and Pampa AAA representatives, called with the aim of reaching some feasible plan upon which a campaign can be based for the construction of a much-needed community building in Pampa.

This is a move that calls for the deep consideration of all interested parties. It is a foregone conclusion that Pampa needs a community building, fashioned along Y. M. C. A. lines.

Pampa needs a place for convention meetings, a banquet hall, dance pavilion, theatricals, gym floor, reading rooms, and, if possible, an indoor swimming pool.

This proposal, if a reasonable plan can be worked out, should be mapped on a high scale to answer the dozen needs that such a building should fill in a city the size of Pampa.

It should be easy to raise enough money to finance a government loan on construction of such a project. If properly managed, it should be able to pay itself out in not too many years.

AHEAD OF MR. DISNEY

It is pleasant to look ahead of Walt Disney and the things he is doing with his whimsical characters in the amusement world.

Without trying to suggest to the talented Mr. Disney the stories he will bring to life on the screen through his charming make-believe characters, the thoughts of what he can do are happy.

Remember the Woodman of Oz stories, the Knights of the Round Table, the journeys of Ulysses? Think of bringing some of your favorite characters from Norse mythology to life—Thor and his magic hammer, the mischievous Loki; all the delightful Greek gods, the heroes of Thesus and Jason, the dragons and Medusa, Circe, the sirens.

Ancient literature has drawn us a thousand vivid pictures. A modern, whimsical art can bring them to life for millions of children and grown-ups. And somehow it doesn't seem probable the original authors would mind.

DOUBLE MILEAGE

Congressional secretaries are making a strenuous effort to get a 10-cent mileage rate for traveling between their homes and Washington between sessions and no doubt they feel justified. Their bosses get 20 cents a mile and often never leave Washington from one adjournment to the next.

But there is one clause a lot of people would like to see in that measure, if it passes. When the congressman's secretary is his wife or his sister, his cousin or his aunt—who normally splits his 20-cent allowance anyway, why not excuse her from the gratuity? That might even cut down a little on the nation's official nepotism.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—This is reception season at the White House; and if you never make one, you can always solace your grandchildren with the assurance that it is far less fun than fishing.

Tex's Topics

KPND announcers and entertainers get plenty of fan mail. Budding romances even threaten as a result of their "air-wave personalities." Latest to be the target of fair-sex admirers is "Cowboy Bill," who comes to the local microphone every Thursday at 2 p. m. for a half-hour program.

Cowboy Bill has received one letter that is promising. A young lady wishes to know all about it. We'll tell the lady right now, that he is a bachelor, and a very eligible one. She said in her letter that if Cowboy Bill would give the signal in the Pampa Daily News, she would send her picture to him. And, this paragraph is the signal.

First door the left of this column, there is an editorial which ought to interest every person who has the best interests of Pampa in mind. I wish you would skip over there and read it, now. But, be sure to come back and finish this column, too. You never can tell, it's likely to get good as it goes along.

Lewis Goodrich, the Panhandle's candidate for state's attorney general, is one of the most tenacious, hardest workers I ever have met. I would advise all his opponents in the Democratic primaries not to underestimate him just because he lives up here in the Panhandle.

His closest friends happen to know that Mr. Goodrich "knows his way around." Dorothy Jane Day, editor of Pampa High School's Little Harvester, has the loveliest blush. You'll find her photo on the Little Harvester page of this issue of The News, but the blush doesn't show.

You'll like her smile—it's contagious. And they do say that there is hope for the person who remains that rare accomplishment of still being able to blush in this day of sophistication. They say it's better late than never, so here's another word of congratulation to the members of the up-and-doing Pampa club who staged that splendid minstrel show last week.

It clicked in grand fashion, and unlike too many home-talent shows it was short, snappy and untiring. Director John Sturgeon, the Lions members and the very charming young ladies who assisted to make it a success are deserving of commendation. It was for a good cause—to aid the crippled children of Pampa and vicinity.

Pampa philatelists (stamp-collectors, to you), are plotting to organize a local philatelic society, and if they do, I'm going to begin (again) saving match-books. There are 28 of them who regularly apply at the postoffice for new releases. Capt. Herman Lambrecht, of the Salvation Army, has a trunkful of old stamps.

He also has a dollar bill, a legitimate one, on which the United States mint made an error and printed only one side. He has been offered $150 for it, but he'd rather have the unique bill than the extra four-bits. Dr. V. E. von Brunow has a rare silver dollar for which Capt. Lambrecht has been angling.

J. P. (Poke) Osborne, who has only lived in this country for 42 years, was in the office Saturday evening and got to talking about this and that. Mr. Osborne says this is the warmest and driest winter he can recall. The summer-like warmth last week stirred the fruit trees from their winter's lethargy, and Mr. Osborne says an apricot tree out at his place will be in full bloom tomorrow.

'Gee-Business Is Tough'

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It is a pity that so many talented and pretty girls are doomed to disappointment and defeat on Broadway. But the endless supply for a very limited demand has built up a situation that is hopeless and in some respects downright tragic.

Broadway today is filled with young girls walking the pavements looking for jobs. They can dance and sing. They are slender and pretty. But the jobs aren't there. George Hale, referring to a stack of 40 or 50 letters, shrugs and gazes out the window.

"All those letters are from young girls who want to come to New York for theatrical careers," he says. "They write me letters and describe their aspirations and ask me to help them. Yet, for all the shows I put on and the revues I create it is rare that I can use one. Their experience is too limited. To get here they must travel hundreds of miles for a job that already has applicants a dozen deep. And girls with more experience."

"Are all those letters from girls wanting careers on Broadway?" I asked this man who has just returned from a highly laudatory trek along the Broadways of Europe. Over there they call him a "czar of beauty."

"Yes," he said, "all of them, and more come by every mail. Take one, any one, and read it." He pushed the tray towards my side of the table. The stack of letters was a foot high. I chose one at random, a letter postmarked from the little town of Elyria, Ohio, and this is what it said:

"Dear Mr. Hale: As I have the opportunity to come to New York within the next two or three weeks, I am writing to ask your opinion as to whether or not it would be advantageous at this time. I have had some experience as a dancer and would like to be a chorus girl in New York City. I am 19 years old, weight 116 pounds, height 5 feet, four one-half inches without shoes; hair, light auburn; dark eyes; fair complexion.

Tony, a waiter at the exclusive Stag club, accused Borden, president of the club, of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. Palumbo's testimony: "This man Borden beat me up because he had to pay for the 21 diners served at the annual Stag club banquet. I did fix it so he had to shell out for the whole score, but all 21 diners, including Borden, really caused the trouble anyway. "They decided one of their own number should pay the entire bill. They told me I should commence counting the company around the table and every seventh man would rise from his seat until all were counted out but one. That went was to pay for the whole works. "Borden has done me a lot of dirty tricks lately, so I decided to make him the goat. He knew I counted so he would be the payoff man and after the party he beat me up."

SECURITY BOARD ASKS ACCOUNT CORRECTIONS

AMARILLO, Feb. 14.—Brides of 1937-38 who obtained social security account number cards before they were married are requested today by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the social security board, to return their account number cards with information as to their new names to his office. This procedure is necessary in order that the social security account will show the wage earner's present name and prevent confusion in the keeping of the worker's wage accounts for federal old-age insurance.

A card for this purpose, designated as "Employee's request for change in records," is now available at the local office of the board, located at 1012 Oliver-Eagle building, Amarillo.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

Just where do we stand on the matter of colds prevention? Literally on the threshold of a large promise. A specific preventive, that is, a really effective vaccine, isn't yet available. All the attempts made so far to artificially render human beings immune to colds have failed.

But Dr. A. R. Dochez, a leader in this field of research, believes the disappointing attempts do not prove that "with some future modification of technique the enterprise may not be successful."

"Resistance to colds" we mean complete protection, not merely decreasing the associated complications. In present attempts to immunize against cold, virus vaccines are used.

Bacterial vaccines, those composed of dead "cold germs," have been used for many years, and many clinicians believe they are effective, not so much in preventing colds as in making the colds milder.

Dr. Russell L. Cecil of New York recently said that the old "cocccus vaccines" which many take in winter in the hope that they will give some protection are not entirely without benefit. It is surprising how they give definite protection to some people. But the protection is partial; the colds suffered by those vaccinated may be less severe, and are less frequently followed by complications such as inflammation of the middle ear, of the mastoid, or pneumonia.

Even such partial protection is of value. Unfortunately, however, the bacterial vaccines do not benefit every one equally. Many who are vaccinated show no effects. Furthermore, from present knowledge of the common cold, it cannot be expected that bacterial vaccines should prove fully protective. All experimental findings point to a virus as the primary cause. The associated bacteria play a secondary role.

For the present then the best defenses against colds are the bacterial vaccines (for what partial protection they may afford), good nutrition, adequate rest, and much fresh air. The last three, I believe, are still the most valuable, dependable "protectives" against the common cold.

Of the vitamins this needs to be said: none is a cold preventive, but all (when abundantly present in the diet) favor resistance.

The Capitol Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Feb. 14 (AP)—The land leasing policies of Land Commissioner W. H. McDonald have resulted in a strange, if temporary, alignment of the capitol.

They put Governor James V. Allred and Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston into the same bed, so to speak. Both the governor and the chairman of the senate committee which investigated land leases sharply criticized McDonald.

Yet only a few months ago Gov. Allred and Holbrook were turning the air blue with criticism of each other. That was when the legislature was in session to consider raising the revenue.

The governor claimed Holbrook, who said additional taxes were not needed, was reactionary and standing in the path of progress. Holbrook retorted economy and efficiency were the government's greatest needs.

At the land office inquiry former employer and equity met in the roles of investigator and investigated.

Commissioner McDonald was chief deputy in the district clerk's office at Eastland for several years while Senator Wilbourne B. Collier was district clerk.

Collier, a member of the investigating committee, did not take as large a part in questioning that some of the other members did.

Tom Deberry, member of the board of control and a former state senator and representative, was riding to the second floor of the capitol in an elevator.

"How do you like your new job?" queried a woman. Deberry replied without hesitation.

"Hardest job I ever had," he said. "I'm talking just like all other state employes now. Always busy; got more work than I can do."

Appointed by Governor Allred, Deberry took office as a board of control member Jan. 1. He succeeded John Wallace.

The law applies to families of state supreme court judges as it does to anyone else.

When the wife of Judge S. H. German, member of the court's commission of appeals, went to town recently she forgot to drop a nickel in a parking meter. This despite the fact she had borrowed a nickel from her husband for that purpose.

A policeman did not forget to give her a "ticket," however, which Judge German acknowledged in mailing the Austin police traffic bureau a $1 bill, the usual fine.

Judge German, in an accompanying letter, said it was not the fine that worried him for that purpose. "The principal thing worrying me," he said, "is whether or not I will get back the nickel I loaned my wife."

Mexican border disturbances bear no attention of Governor Allred. He made this clear when asked if he had anyone looking into the recent incidents along the international line.

"It's all over in Mexico, isn't it?" he replied. "Let's keep it over there if we can."

Country people choose their legislative representatives more carefully than city people, says Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill. Hardin discussed comparative traits of rural and urban voters on a visit to Austin in the interest of his candidacy for the speakership of the next house of representatives.

"Country folks usually consider carefully qualifications of the candidates and weigh what the candidates say," he said. "City people probably would do it if they had the time and gave it the attention. They just don't take the time."

"I think a much larger percentage of city residents vote blindly." Hardin also expressed the opinion voters do not mind how old a candidate is if he is qualified and makes the right appeal to them.

"They will vote for youngsters if they think he is the man for the place," he said. "That's why you see so many young men in the legislature."

HARVESTERS PLAN TO REAP REVENGE AGAINST BORGER THURSDAY NIGHT

PAMPANS NOW IN TOP FORM TO WIN TITLE

The Harvester basketball team will feast tonight at a banquet prepared by the Harvester Mothers club, and the boys can sit down at the table confident that they will reap revenge Thursday night when they are scheduled to wallop the Borger Bulldogs in the district tournament.

Earlier in the day the Pampa quintet will play Canadian, and the local cagers are expected to defeat the Wildcats as decisively as they have already done several times this season.

Then in the evening the Borgans and the Harvesters will tangle in the feature game of the tournament. It's taken for granted that Borger will win its preliminary game, also to be played earlier in the day.

The Harvesters will be in top form by the time the tournament opens. Last week they won three out of four games at Lubbock and Plainview. Their morale, spirit and temperament are at their best now. Their plays worked better on their road trip than at any time this season.

They are fired with a burning ambition to trounce the Bulldogs who by beating them three games wrecked their chances to win the Big Five title which Plainview clinched last Saturday night by conquering Amarillo 40 to 19. If the Harvesters had won one more game they would have won the championship cup.

Even at that they finished ahead of the Borger Bulldogs who placed third in the standings. On the basis of scores made by the two teams in the last week, the Harvesters are favored to smash Catfish Smith and his Bulldogs in the district tournament. It is true that Borger doubled the score on Panhandle's Panthers who drubbed the Harvesters in the Miami tournament, but the Pampans are not even counting that game. Everything was wrong that day.

Pampa and Borger as still No. 1 and No. 2 favorites among the 11 teams to win the tournament. Some rank Wheeler's Mustangs next and some don't. Others think that the winner of the McLean-LeFors game tomorrow night will be a menace. Still other experts think that Darrouzet or Panhandle may come through.

In past tournaments the teams that have made the best records before the district meet have won and it is likely that history will be repeated in this tournament, and that Pampa or Borger will fight it out for the district crown. The first showdown will be Thursday night. The team that wins that game will have the edge.

If Borger loses, basketball fans will enjoy the circus that the Bulldogs coach, Catfish Smith, puts on at every game. If Borger wins, the show will be just as violent though somewhat different in temperament.

Here are the 11 teams which will likely compete in the three-day district tourney: Pampa, Borger, Wheeler, Canadian, Perryton, Spearman, Higgins, Hedley, Panhandle, Miami and the winner of the LeFors-McLean game.

Borger and Wheeler will tangle at 2 o'clock Thursday. Pampa and Canadian will play at 4 o'clock. Borger is favored to swamp Wheeler. If past history is repeated shocking upsets will not produce a dark horse winner.

'Exercise Boy' Keeps Her Seat

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14. (AP)—One accident; it takes more than that to scare a Texas girl out of the saddle. Marie Marorie Nichols, 19-year-old "exercise boy" from San Antonio, was back on the job today, galloping horses for the Snow-White stock farm around the track at Santa Anita park.

Last Friday a riderless thoroughbred crashed into her mount, but as Marorie tells it, the accident was distinctly minor.

"I didn't even fall off. We Texans always keep our seat."

For two years, at Epsom Downs and Arlington Downs in Texas, the brown-haired five-foot miss has been conditioning horses.

She's been crazy about horses since she was a baby.

And the reason she came to California, with her parents' consent, was the closing of the Texas racing season.

With Jockey Eddie Yeager and his wife, My addition is to own race horses of my own some day, she said.

Arkansas And Baylor To Play This Week-End

TEXAN BEATS SAM SNEAD IN COAST FINALS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14. (AP)—Jimmy Demaret, who learned his golf in Texas, took the lion's share of the purse and the title of San Francisco match play open champion back to the Lone Star State today.

The 27-year-old professional, born in Houston and connected with the Breburn Country Club defeated heavy hitting Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., 4 and 3 in the 36-hole finals yesterday.

Demaret, topping the field after five days of play in rain and wind, hauled down $1,000 for his end. It was the most important tournament he has won, although he is the present and three times Texas P. G. A. titleholder, and he outlasted some of the finest shot-makers in the country to do it.

In the finals, Demaret played steady although not spectacular golf to take the measure of Snead, 1931 Ryder cup team member and winner of three tournaments during the current winter swing.

Demaret won the first hole with a birdie 4 and maintained his lead throughout the day. He was 3 up at the ninth, 2 up at the eighteenth and 3 up at the twenty-seventh.

The thirty-third, ending the match, saw Snead concede victory after he had hooked his drive into the woods and finally reached the green in four strokes. Demaret was in two for an easy par 4.

In the opening round of match play he defeated former National Open Champion Olin Dutra, one up. In succeeding rounds, he won from Vic Ghezzi, 3 and 2; Emil Mashie, 2 and 1; Henry Picard, 4 and 3, and from Snead by the same count.

Snead qualified with an 80-75-155 and in match play won from Stanley Kertez, 5 and 3; Neil Christy, 5 and 3; Craig Wood, 6 and 5, and Tony Penna, 2 and 1.

Bulldogs Beat Panhandle 30-16

BORGER, Feb. 13.—Borger High basketball teams won two victories over the Panhandle cagers Saturday night, the Bulldogs winning 30 to 16 and the B team nosing out the Panhandle B's in an overtime game, 18 to 17. The Panthers rushed out to lead early but the Bulldogs got going and were ahead 8-4 at the end of the first period. Borger dominated the one-sided game the rest of the way.

High pointers were: Barron for Borger with 15 and Sparks for Panhandle with 5.

Eubert Allen's field goal and free shot won the preliminary tilt for the Borger B's in the three-minute overtime period after the game had ended 15-15. Allen led Borger scoring with 7 points and Beddington paced the visitors with 9.

SPORTS EDITOR BEATEN, NEWSPAPER CHARGES

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 14. (AP)—The newspaper Excelsior today charged General Tirso Hernandez, head of the Mexican government physical education department, with beating its sports editor, Manuel Seyde.

The paper credited the incident, which took place last night near an arena after both men had attended a boxing match, with criticisms excelsior published games going on now in Panama.

Excelsior especially assailed the physical education department for allegedly failing to provide proper food aboard the Mexican gunboat Durango, which transported the more than 200 athletes to Panama.

To Fort Worth

(By The Associated Press) By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

Off their home court for the first time since the opening week, Arkansas' Razorbacks risk their unquipped record and a chance at the Southwest Conference title in a pair of predicted hair-raising games against Baylor at Waco on Friday and Saturday nights.

Strangely, they'll be turning fans away from the ancient chapel gymnasium at Waco, for basketball has the citizens as ga-ga as that football team did back in October. Only 1,500 can be accommodated in the Baylor gym. Three times that number probably will be turned away.

Team records and titular chances were their drawing power in that two-game series, but three six-footers who go around filling up basketball nets also will pull them in. Deadpan Don Lockard of Arkansas, the league's leading looper at 118 points for eight games; Hub Kirkpatrick, Baylor's great center who has pushed through 112 points in six games and Jumpin' Jack Robbins, Arkansas' guard who is third in the scoring chase with 106 points, will be feuding.

Baylor dropped its first game last week, a 46-48 decision to Texas A. and M. in a daffy, overtime affair that caused consternation for 15 minutes because the timer's final gunshot failed to sound.

Arkansas whetted for the Baylor series on the University of Texas, setting a new conference scoring record for one game in a 74-38 triumph. On the next evening, however, Coach Jack Gray's lads pulled themselves together and it was all the Forkers could do to bring in a 42-37 victory.

Milling around in the background while playing second division teams is Southern Methodist, defending champions and a decided titular threat. The Methodists felled Texas Christian, 43-23, and stopped Rice, 43-22. The Methodists meet the Aggies at College Station Monday night.

On Friday night, S. M. U. bumps into Rice again at Dallas. The league's old traditional rivalry—Texas Aggies vs. Texas—crops up again at Austin Saturday night, 43-22. It's anybody's game. Texas was all set to shove off on a new deal with the addition of mid-term eligibles, but Rice came out of the dumps to cool them off, 42-41, at Houston last week.

The Aggies, after the Baylor victory, found Texas Christian easy pickings, putting a 43-26 pasting on the Frogs that marked the Christians' nineteenth consecutive defeat.

T. C. U., before playing Rice at Fort Worth on Saturday night, will pay the Insitutors a call on their Houston court Monday.

Roy Henderson of Interscholastic League Is Dead

AUSTIN, Feb. 14. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow at 10 a. m. for Roy B. Henderson, 47, athletic director of the Texas Interscholastic League, who died at the Veterans hospital at Leon, near Kerrville, yesterday.

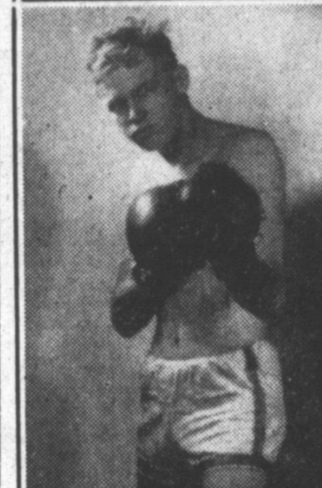

Henderson had held his position as athletic director since 1920. He had been connected with the University of Texas since 1915, starting as assistant director of physical education. During the world war he was basketball coach at the university.

He was a native of Winfield, Kans. In his interscholastic league position Henderson was called upon to make many important decisions in disputes over eligibility of players, but his work had made him widely and favorably known.

Roy Bedichek, a director of the league, lauded Henderson as an organizer and administrator, and said, "he had a keen sense of right and wrong and never flinched from his duty, no matter how hard a decision might be."

Henderson, ill since November, had been at the hospital since Feb. 1, under treatment for a liver disease.

Survivors are the widow; four children, Roy Jr., 12; Lucy Ann, 17; Mary, 20; all of Austin; Mrs. R. C. Scott of Hobbs, N. M.; his mother, Mrs. Annie E. Henderson of San Francisco; a sister, Mrs. Will Marsh of San Francisco, and three brothers, Ralph of Fort Worth, Harry of Fort Worth, and Paul of El Paso.

JOHNSON PUTS NEW LIFE INTO SPRINT SEASON

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. (AP)—Ben Johnson, who has injected new life into the indoor track season with his series of record-smashing sprint triumphs, goes to the mat with old man time twice more this week.

Johnson will be among the stars who will trek to Providence, R. I., Tuesday night for the annual night in the New York Athletic club meet, he will be back at Madison Square Garden and the track on which he twice broke the world's record for the 60-yard dash in the Millrose games.

Johnson has won nine straight races including heats and is well on the way to one of the most sensational seasons every enjoyed by an American college sprinter.

The Columbia captain won the Eriggs 50-yard dash at the Boston A. A. games Saturday night over a fast field which included Ferrin Walker, Lawrence Scanlon and Herbert Thompson. The time was 5.5.

Glen Cunningham, unbeaten at the mile, leads the entry for the Bishop Keogh mile at Providence Tuesday night and then takes another shot at his favorite, the Baxter mile, Saturday night at New York.

Cunningham returned 4:10 at Boston Saturday night after running 4:15.2 Friday night over the Seventh Regiment Armory's unbanked track. His best time for the Exater mile is the 4:09.8 he turned in in 1935 and it is extremely probable that he will approach or better this figure this week, especially if Archie San Roman has recovered sufficiently from his spike wound to push the mile king.

BOXING CZARS SEND ANOTHER FIGHT TO CHI

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. (AP)—New York state's esteemed boxing commissioners have come through again in the pinch and chased another "million-dollar" gate right out of town, no doubt to the relief of Manhattan's hotel men and tavern keepers, who wouldn't want to be bothered with a lot of extra business at the start of the summer season.

There previously had remained some slight doubt that the anticipated championship meeting between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling this coming June would be conducted at Chicago, it has been removed by the commission's masterful handling of the big Tony Galento mystery of the past week.

The commission practically relieved Promoter Mike Jacobs of the necessity of making a decision on the championship site when it socked a suspension on Joe "Yus-sell" Jacobs, the manager of Galento—and likewise the manager of Schmeling. It was a great break for Chicago, which estimates the value of the scrap at around $5,000,000 in fresh money.

Up to this time, Joe, to the writer's knowledge, had been neutral. He didn't care whether Schmeling fought here or in Chicago, just so the affair drew "plenty of cabbages," as Joe quaintly puts it. But now he's all for Chicago, and he has talked Julian Black, one of Louis' pilots of record, into the same frame of mind.

Promoter Mike Jacobs, worried about the New York Jewish boycott of Schmeling, was eager to be swayed in Chicago's favor, anyway.

Galento, if you didn't read the breathless details, had his license suspended by the indignant commission because he didn't let them know he had a damaged left hand. He was to have fought Harry Thomas at the Garden Friday night, but now Jimmy Adamic, the Detroit terror, is taking Tony's place.

Everything would have been all right, probably, if the alert commissioners had let things go at suspending Galento. It turned out that he didn't have a New York boxer's license, anyhow. Tony is a forgetful fellow. But when the solons decided to make an extra snack at the buffet for good measure, they blew the works.

The record of the commission in its effort to keep the super-fights out of its territory is remarkable. William Muldoon, the venerated father of the body, chased the two Dempsey-Tyson bouts to Harlem parts because neither Jack nor Gene would give Harry Wills a shot at the title.

It since has been pretty generally agreed that Wills wasn't anything special in the way of heavyweights, and several others, like Lefty Gomez and Bill Dickey, go to make up a total of eight individual headaches for Col. Jake Ruppert, who is a great guy for headaches.

DATE ANNOUNCED FOR MUNDAY AAU BASKETBALL TOURNEY

MUNDAY, Feb. 14.—The high school boys' division of the official Texas State A. A. U. basketball tournament will be held in this city, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 24, 25, 26.

This is the only tournament in this division scheduled by the A. A. U. this season and the winner of the meet will be the A. A. U. State Champions of 1938.

All schools desiring to enter the tournament must register in the Southwest A. A. U. with Mr. Ralph Schulze, City Hall, Waco, Texas. Then the tournament entry must be made with Dr. J. Horace Bass, Munday, Texas, not later than February 22.

Munday will furnish rooms and beds for contestants and coaches, with ten players constituting a full team. Room assignments will be made as entrants are received.

The entrance closing date has been set for Tuesday following district Interscholastic League tournaments in order that losers in the district meets may compete for the state A. A. U. title.

Large beautiful trophies made of excellent material will be awarded first and second place winners in the championship and consolation divisions. Also an all-state A. A. U. team will be selected by prominent basketball coaches with individual awards for all-state selections.

Munday has an excellent gym, reputed to be the best in this area with Medart Goals on the court. The gym has a seating capacity of 850 persons, and the tournament is being sponsored by the Munday Lions Club. Munday will welcome you.

ABOUT 40 BIG LEAGUERS NOW BELONG TO H. AND H. CLUB

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Feb. 14. (AP)—Gather 'round, boys and girls, and get an earful of the ball-players' blues. It's the annual spring festival of the holdout and howl singing society, with a current active membership of about 40 big leaguers. Generally, the fellows are all squawking the same tune. Their contracts have too many words and not enough figures—particularly in the space reserved for salaries.

Put it under the head of good clean fun. Take the New York Yankee situation. You remember the Yanks. That's the outfit here. Joe Dimaggio and Lou Gehrig are hollering box-car numbers around $40,000. Frank Crosetti has just returned his unsigned contract, and several others, like Lefty Gomez and Bill Dickey, go to make up a total of eight individual headaches for Col. A couple of powerhouses will be in the ring at the same time tonight when Dick Sampson, the strong man from Ohio, tangles with Sailor Jack 'H. P.' Moran of Bald Knob, Ark., in the main event of Promoter Cliff Chambers' weekly wrestling card. (H. P. stands for Heart Punch, Moran's favorite).

The semi-final will be no pink team affair with Wild Bill Venable, the Tuscaloosa, Ala., woodchopper, scheduled to match holds, etc., with Pasha Barlem Bey of Istanbul, Turkey. The 30-minute affair, or less, should be a wild and woolly occasion. Both are roughsters of the highest order.

Opening hostilities promptly at 8 o'clock will be Art Belcher of Amarillo and Tex Hager of Eugene, Ore. Admission will be the same as usual, 65 cents ringside reserve, tax paid, and 40 cents general admission. This battle promises to be scientific and clean.

Anything can happen in the big main event. It is a certainty that Moran will be the roughster at the offset but Sampson may finish it. Until last week Sampson was considered a "cleaner" but he showed fans that he can get rough, but not dirty like Moran, when he treated Billy Venable to more rough stuff than the stocky woodchopper had seen in some time.

A few fans were wondering today if Moran would stay nice and clean with the tough Ohioan, who really hails from Denton, Texas. Moran may start that way but he has never been known to continue along those lines for long. He has been hurling all kinds of threats for a week in an effort to get Sampson's goat but has failed.

For Love of Polly

By RACHEL MACK

Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday: Awakening after his blow in the alley, Jerry finds himself prisoner aboard a British ship.

CHAPTER X

POLLY awakened at dawn and immediately set about dressing and packing. She was pleased to think that Jerry would find her awake and profitably engaged when he came to knock on her door. It puzzled her when morning came in earnest and he had not arrived to summon her. She thought, "I must have misunderstood. Could he have told her to call him when her trunk was ready?"

She went through the long narrow tavern halls and down the stairs into the public room. There was a good deal of stir here, for guests were waiting their bills and getting ready to be picked up by one coach or another in the stable yard. She drew the tavern keeper aside and said, "Where is Jerry Whitfield, Mr. Toby. Where is my cousin?"

"Why, I couldn't say, Miss Chelsey. Come to think of it, I've not seen him this morning."

"Then he's overslept, Mr. Toby?" Polly exclaimed. "Send a boy to his room. Quick! We're catching the Dover coach!"

Mr. Toby made haste to comply for he was a kindly man and always concerned for his guests. He liked young Mr. Whitfield, for all that he had discovered him to be an American, and he thought Miss Polly Chelsey very appealing and mannerly. Though young Whitfield had spoken of Miss Chelsey as "my cousin," Mr. Toby—a sentimental man—soon saw that there was more to it than that. He had remarked to the equally sentimental Mrs. Toby, "If they're cousins, it's far distant. I look to see a wedding any time now."

"Sweethearts and Americans," Mrs. Toby had sighed, for this latter fact she, too, had discovered from certain evidence. "And they want to pass for a pair of English country cousins! Don't they know, poor dears, that a young English girl of standing wouldn't gallivant around without a maid or some other female companion?"

"Well, she seems a lady for all of it," Mr. Toby had said, and his wife had agreed. "Though there's no denying Americans have strange ways."

SINCE this romance so interested him and his good wife, the tavern keeper had taken notice of Jerry Whitfield's departure from the public room last night with the young woman in blue and the hackney driver. He did not like the looks of it, for young Whitfield said that he and Miss Chelsey would be leaving early on the Dover coach. Mr. Toby had watched for Jerry Whitfield's return until 10 o'clock when he had retired to his own candle-lit bedchamber and night-cap.

"I dare say he's gone to his room by the back stairs," he told Mrs. Toby. "No doubt he knows some folk here in London and wanted to bid them goodby."

But now here was Miss Polly Chelsey asking for him, and the coach almost due. When the boy returned to say that Mr. Whitfield was not in his room and that his bed had not been slept in, Mr. Toby and Polly looked quickly at each other. The innkeeper's expression promptly became evasive. Mr. Toby's remained blank with surprise. "But I don't understand," she said.

"Nor I, Miss. The man felt a wave of pity for the girl before him. Mr. Whitfield paid the bill last night, I will recall, and drank an ale at the table near the door. . . . Wait! I'll send the porter's boy to the stable yard. He's likely out there, looking after your dog."

"Why, Yes!" Polly exclaimed. "That's where he is, I reckon." She clung desperately to this hope until the boy returned. The dog was there, he said, as lively as could be, but not Mr. Whitfield. He's not been there since last night. The stable boy knew because Mr. Whitfield had paid him to look after the dog. He'd given him a coin last night with orders to feed and water the dog early in the morning.

Mr. Toby said kindly, "Go to your room and wait, Miss Chelsey. This is a busy time for me, as you can see. I'll send breakfast up to you. There's no knowing when something unexpected will change a man's plans."

POLLY went upstairs to her room. She tried to eat the excellent breakfast that the porter's boy brought up, but she could not. She noticed, with some fragment of her mind, that the boy was poorly dressed, as many London urchins were, but that his face was more open and appealing than most. She smiled at him absentmindedly and gave him a coin out of her knit bag, for which he thanked her eagerly.

"You can take the tray away now," she told him. He carried out the untouched breakfast, and when he was in the hall he sat down on the floor with the tray before him and disposed of sausages and coffee and wheat-bread and honey, very happily. It was a good day for the porter's boy. An hour passed. Two hours.

Polly paced the floor. She knew when the Dover coach came and went she said to herself at five-minute intervals, "I must do something!"

At noon she went down to the public room and called Mr. Toby aside. She noticed that he seemed loathe to talk to her, for her perceptions were sharpened by anxiety now, and by speculation. She said, "Mr. Toby, is there anything you know about Jerry Whitfield you've not told me? . . . Because if there is, you must tell me now. He's more than my cousin. He's my sweetheart and everything on the way to getting married."

"We figured it that way, Miss. My wife and me. It's pleasant to see young things in love right under your nose. In this tavern, now, a body sees plenty of crabbed couples discharging over the food. Plenty of business men from Liverpool and Bristol and the like. Plenty of young men coming down from Oxford and Cambridge for a fling of fun. Plenty of spinsters traveling with their nieces or their maids. Plenty of—well, of everything but sincere young sweethearts. Miss, I was saying to my wife only yesterday—"

POLLY caught the innkeeper's wandering eye and held it. "Mr. Toby, you're evading. I asked if you know anything about Jerry Whitfield that I ought to know."

"Well, there's nothing to amount to, Miss Chelsey. Things come up in a man's life, unexpected like. If I was you, now, I'd take off my bonnet and settle down for a couple of days to wait for him. If he's back like as not, as apologetic as can be for upsetting you."

"I'm more than upset," Polly said. "I'm frightened. Something" happened to him. Something terrible! Nothing else would make him desert me just when we're getting out of England. . . . You're a good man, Mr. Toby, though you ARE an Englishman, and I'm not afraid to trust you. We're Americans—"

"My wife and me knew that too, though we've not told it. Are you bound for France?" Jerry arranged it. That's why I say he'd not desert me unless he'd met foul treatment."

"No, Miss," said Mr. Toby deliberately, for he believed he saw his duty now. "You can put your mind at rest on that score. It's not that. It's something else. There was—a young lady came into the public room and talked to him last night at the table where he was sitting, near the door. They had coffee together—they and another man that had on hackney clothes. Mr. Whitfield asked the barmaid to fetch three cups of strong coffee from the kitchen, and they all drank together. After that they went out together."

Polly's face was still and white. "Did she have on a sky-blue net? And a sky-blue dress, cut square in the neck?"

"Yes, Miss Chelsey. That was her. Fair complexioned. . . . I'd not be too hard on him, Miss. I've seen men and women come and go under my roof and I know human nature. It's weak. Human nature's weak, Miss Chelsey. . . . You wait here till he comes back. He'll come. Decent men don't desert their own."

"Thank you for your information, Mr. Toby," Polly said in a voice that was much too quiet. "But never mind the advice. I'll take the next coach to Dover."

PACIFISTS OF CONGRESS ASK NAVAL PARLEY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Congress received proposals today that the United States take the lead in calling an international disarmament conference, despite hints that the administration was cool toward the idea.

Senator King, Democrat, Utah, and Rep. Maverick, Democrat, Tex., formally advocated such a conference. They said Japan and other world powers might be willing to ease the world situation by discussing curbs on world navies.

Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nev., who is close to Secretary Hull in his capacity as chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, suggested, however, the time is not ripe. "Political antagonisms" are so strong, he said, as to spoil the chances of a fruitful parley.

Maverick contended that the Japanese note of Saturday, which Hull deplored as "encouraging rather than discouraging races in armament building," did not shut the door to international agreement.

The note, replying to a request from the United States for information, refused to divulge Japan's future naval building plans.

"Let's have a naval conference, however irritated nations may be," suggested Maverick. "It may save a war."

Senator King said he was particularly interested in keeping the taxpayers of all countries from being saddled with new expenses.

Meanwhile, a bloc of Progressive-Liberal house members denounced the pending bill designed to take the profits out of war.

A statement signed by Maverick, chairman of the bloc, and Rep. Isaac, Democrat, California, said the measure would not prevent wartime profiteering and represented "a surrender by congress, in advance of war, to a dictatorship."

The bill, recently revised, would empower the President to establish a ceiling for prices in event of war.

Senator King, Democrat, Utah, and Rep. Maverick, Democrat, Tex., formally advocated such a conference. They said Japan and other world powers might be willing to ease the world situation by discussing curbs on world navies.

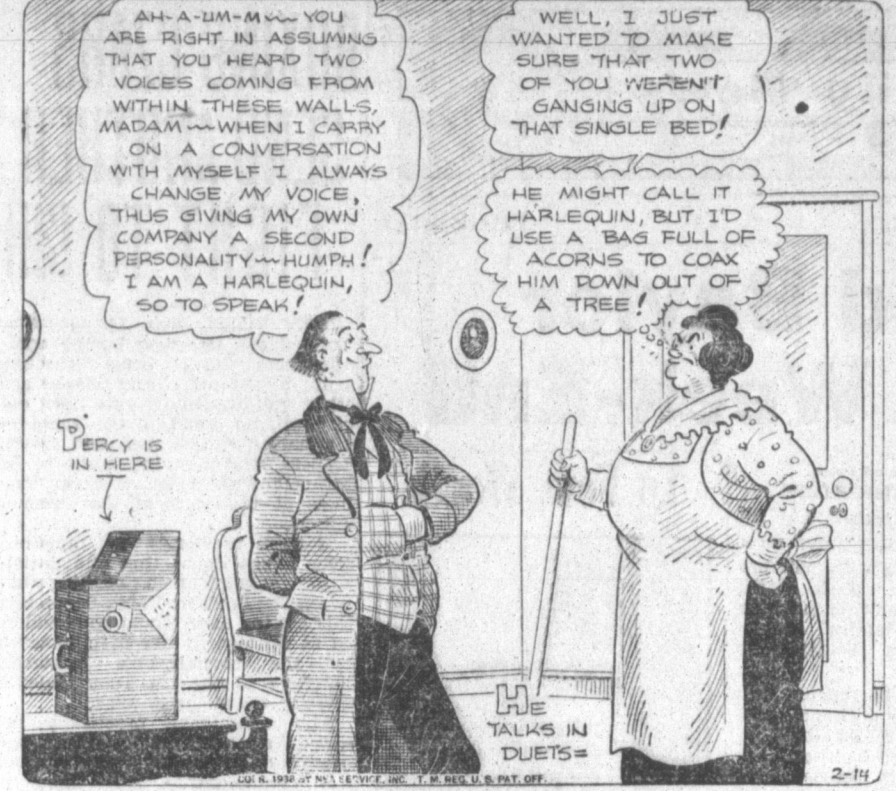

Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nev., who is close to Secretary Hull in his capacity as chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, suggested, however, the time is not ripe. "Political antagonisms" are so strong, he said, as to spoil the chances of a fruitful parley.

Maverick contended that the Japanese note of Saturday, which Hull deplored as "encouraging rather than discouraging races in armament building," did not shut the door to international agreement.

The note, replying to a request from the United States for information, refused to divulge Japan's future naval building plans.

"Let's have a naval conference, however irritated nations may be," suggested Maverick. "It may save a war."

JAPS IRKED BY UNITED STATES NAVAL POLICY

TOKYO, Feb. 14 (AP)—The Japanese foreign office spokesman intimated today that Japan might be willing to provide naval construction information if the request was made unofficially.

Saturday Japan refused to tell the United States, Great Britain and France her naval building plans.

Asked what would constitute an "official reply" on naval construction, the spokesman did not amplify his statement other than to point out that such a reply would not be "legally binding."

He answered a question on whether Japan might be willing to consider a "gentlemen's agreement" on naval building with a shake of his head and the assertion that he was not proposing anything of that nature.

The Tokyo newspaper Nichi Nichi editorially accused the United States of taking advantage of Japan's present financial burdens to "check Japan by means of naval power."

"The United States is of the opinion that at this time, when Japan is bearing heavy burdens on account of the China incident, that if the United States begins an armament expansion race with Japan or induces Japan to attend a disarmament conference, the United States will be able to lower the naval power of Japan," the paper charged.

"Moreover, there is the necessity of planning a rise in munitions and heavy industries for the solution of the unemployment issue in the United States."

Nichi Nichi described "future trends" in the United States as: "Secret" armament of Japan will be made the pretext for considerable armament expansion and the United States will attempt to guide Japan to a position where Japan will be forced to participate in a certain disarmament agreement.

"The United States will not desire to reveal cooperation with Great Britain on the surface, but as far as armament expansion is concerned will carry out expansion under a certain tacit agreement with Britain."

PACIFIC COAST LOOKS FORWARD TO MORE ICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14 (AP)—The Pacific coast, weary by a prolonged siege of rain, snow and high winds that has caused nearly a score of deaths, disrupted communications, halted rail and highway traffic and harassed shipping, looked forward today to more rain, snow and high winds.

In northern California, where the storm entered its nineteenth consecutive day, floods which had already inundated several low-lying areas threatened to spread.

From Bridgeport in east California came a report of the latest known victim of the storm. Tony Sparcevic, a miner, was crushed to death yesterday in an avalanche that sent tons of snow and rocks crashing down on the Silverado mine in the Sierra Nevada.

Heavy rains along the upper Sacramento river heightened apprehension in the Colusa-Sacramento area, where levees were weakened by saturation, and where some 25,000 acres of rich farming land already were inundated.

Train service was halted between San Francisco and Portland yesterday by what Southern Pacific officials said was the most severe blizzard in several years. The snow-storm centered in a 56-mile stretch from Dunsmuir northward to Pennsylvania.

The freighter Solano went aground off Marshfield, Coos Bay, in southern Oregon, during a blinding rain-storm last night. No vessel damage was reported, and coastguardsmen later relocated the vessel.

PANHANDLE MAN DIES HERE OF PNEUMONIA

The body of Archie D. Waters, 24, was taken to Clarendon yesterday with funeral services set for 3 o'clock this afternoon in First Methodist church conducted by the Rev. Mr. McKee, pastor of the Clarendon Presbyterian church. Burial will be in Clarendon cemetery under direction of Pampa Mortuary.

Mr. Waters died yesterday morning in a local hospital following an attack of pneumonia after an operation last week. At the time of his death he was bookkeeper for the Panhandle Lumber company at Clarendon before moving to Pampa, and was a popular member of the young set.

Survivors are the widow, his father, J. H. Waters, Clarendon; two sisters, Mrs. Harold Longdon, Clarendon; Miss Dollie Waters, Denver, Colo., and a brother, Jimmie, of Clarendon.

plained it was the most soul-trying task in the world. His regular column, written in the Samuel Peyna manner he sometimes assumed, appeared this morning.

By coincidence, the opening paragraph spoke of his beloved Gallipoli, where he never butting a fine home in the oft-repeated hope of some day "going back."

Thus he wrote: "Then palavering with Ward Morehouse about his recent stop-over in Gallipoli." Although McIntyre typified the "typical New Yorker" to his legions of readers, he never pretended to the veneer of New York sophistication. He took pride, rather, in being a "small town boy" who was forever fascinated by the passing scene of the "big city."

as the Japanese must cross the river under fire. General Chiang Kai-Shek has 400,000 troops along the north and south fronts to prevent the Japanese gobs from the huge Lungshai "corridor."

It was announced officially that Japanese victories on the Pinghang front cost the Chinese, 2,000 men killed. In the Hwai River sector, 1,500 Chinese were said to have been captured.

Strong protests were made by Chinese against alleged brutality of the Japanese troops, who were accused of machine-gunning refugees, looting stores and committing atrocities against women and girls after occupying Pengpu and Hwaiyuan.

China's reorganized air force, with Russian and other foreign fliers reported among its personnel, was said to have cut the Japanese line of communication along the northern section of the Tientsin-Pukow railway.

Chinese fliers also reported destroying large quantities of Japanese military supplies and a water-tower at Pengpu.

wild cat or panther, it certainly is a queer animal. While driving in to see the prize fights recently I saw a strange animal nearly as large as a Jersey cow, trotting down the canyon about 6:15, and when I got down the road I began to think it must have been the same animal your R. R. saw, only this one was sure large. Going back home about 11 o'clock, I saw the same animal trotting down the road ahead of me. I could see him very plain with the light on him and he was striped like a zebra.

No, Charley, that was not the beast Doyle and I saw in the canyon near Bowers City. We saw a panther. But your story just goes to show that there are several species of the big cat family roaming around here. Like the R. R. said several paragraphs back—where ever you find porcupines you will also find panthers and several of the larger and more vicious cats.
