Muleshoe Blanks Morton 9-0 Here

The Galileans Will Perform In Program

Glenda Harlan Named Homecoming Queen

The Muleshoe Mules claimed their third victory of the year by blanking the Morton Indians 9-0. The game was Homecoming for Muleshoe and the Mules' team seemed to be up for the occasion as their defense took the fire to Morton the whole game and gradually wore the Morton team down which allowed a nine point fourth quarter for the Mules.

In the first quarter, Morton was threatening at the Mules' 12 yard line, but were unsuccessful after four downs in getting the ball across for a touchdown. But after Muleshoe took over possession, Morton recovered a Mule fumble at the latter's 13 yard line. Quarterback Ralph Mason for the Indians completed a six yard pass to wingback Mart Fluit who was immediately hit by Doug Crawford. The hardkick caused Fluit to cough up the ball at the seven yard line where Muleshoe recovered. This ended Morton's last serious threat.

Neither team threatened in the second or third quarters, but the third quarter seemed to be the turning point of the game as the Mule's defense suddenly became an impenetrable object, delivering blow after blow to the Morton defense.

One series of downs seemed particularly impressive as Morton, pushed back by a series of penalties, started passing to get out of a hole. On one completed pass by Morton, the receiver turned to run and was immediately dealt a crushing blow by Don Long. The Morton player had to be helped from the field. During this series and for the rest of the game, the Morton quarterback was left standing very few times. In the fourth quarter, Muleshoe

Stocker Cattle Management Symposium Set

"Fresh stocker cattle can turn into headaches if cattlemen fall short on management," states Bobby G. Brunson, County Extension Agent.

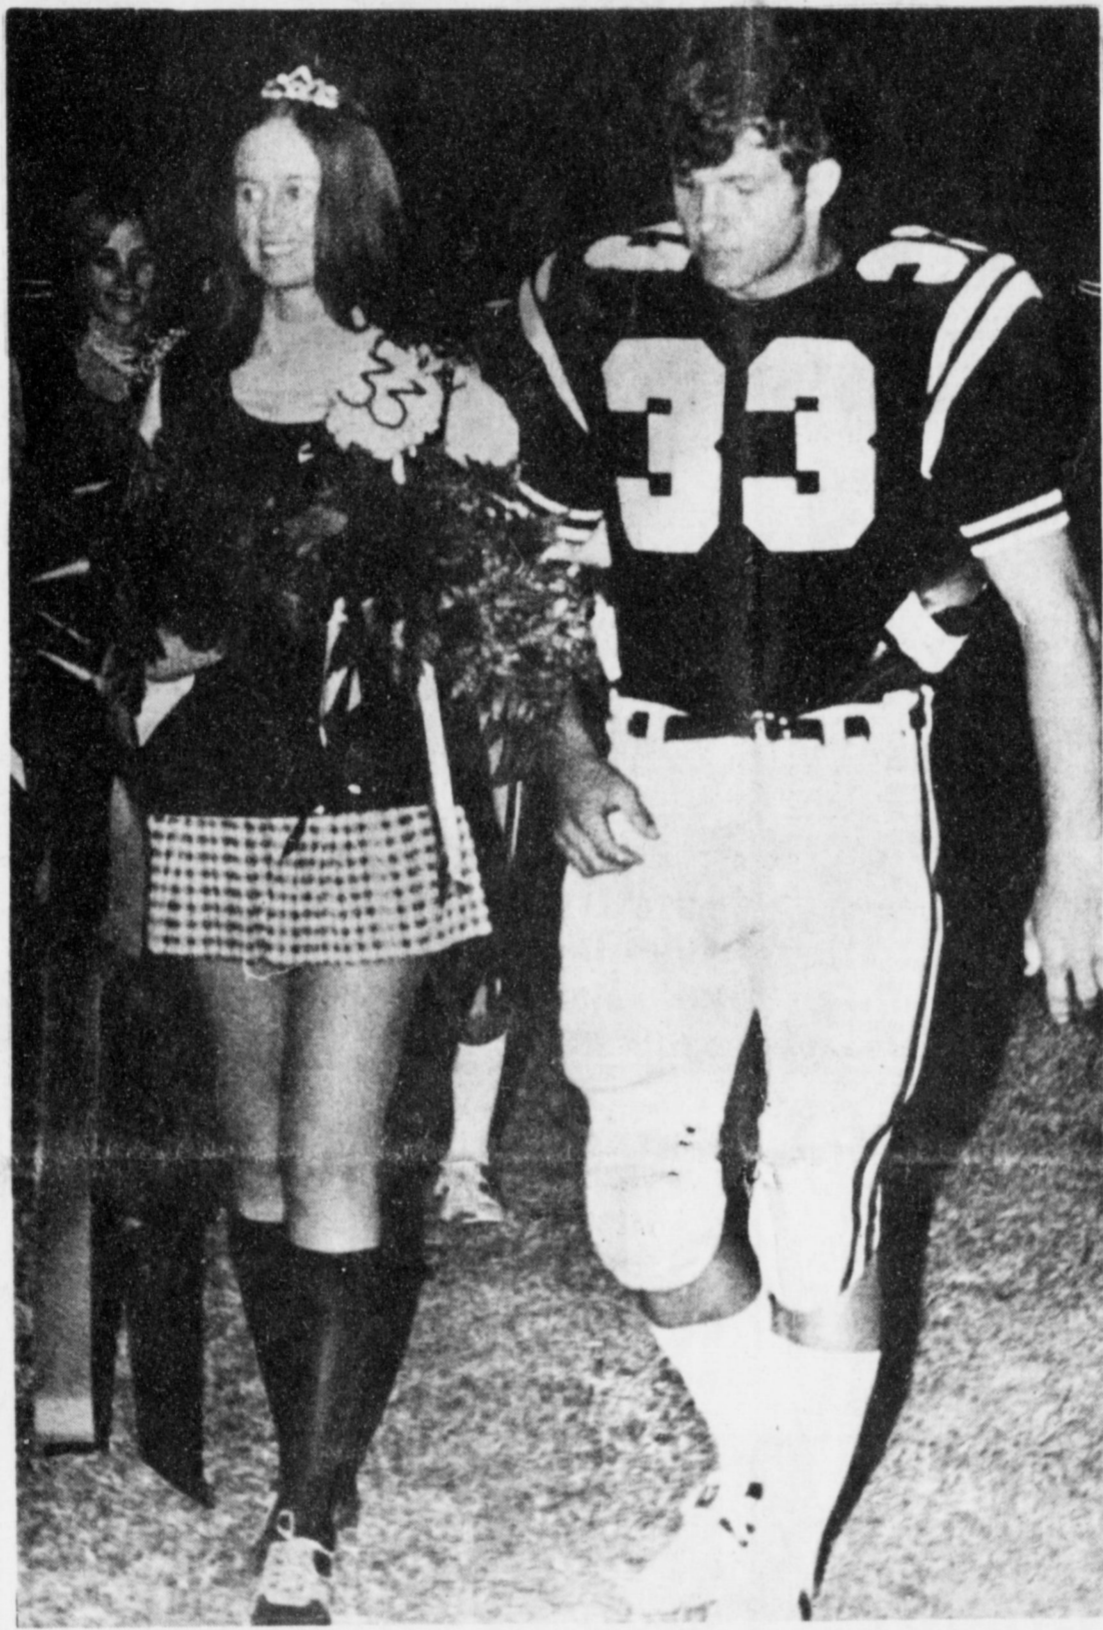

Cattlemen might be able to save themselves hundreds of dollars by taking advantage of information to be offered at a Stocker Cattle Management Symposium at the Lion's Club Building in Springlake at 7:30 p.m., October 16, Brunson advised.

Specialists with the Extension Service from Amarillo, Dr. Gene Cope, will discuss Diagnosis and Treatment of Stocker Illness, and Dr. Cal Parrott will talk on Nutrition of Incoming Cattle, Implants, and Stubble Grazing.

Accompanying the specialists will be District Extension Agent, Billy C. Gunter, who will give introductions and opening comments and Program Chairman, Buddy C. Logsdon, County Extension Agent, Lamb County. The meeting is sponsored by the South Plains Development Program and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. SPED is a volunteer organization composed of citizens interested in the economic and social growth of the South Plains.

School Board Agenda For Monday Night

The Muleshoe Independent School District Board of Trustees will have a regular meeting Monday night, October 15. On the agenda for the meeting is the current financial report and the board will consider the approval of the Preliminary Application Foundation Funds from the Texas Education Agency for 1973-74.

Muleshoe Refuge Funding Uncertain

by Gordon Zeigler
Lubbock Avalanche-Journal Staff

Future staffing for the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge still remains uncertain although a new federal funding bill for refuges was signed into law by President Nixon October 4.

When interpreted by Interior Department staff specialists in Washington, the bill is expected to hold a kernel of hope that the refuge will continue to be managed locally, rather than from near Roswell, N.M., as earlier announced by refuge officials. For the Interior Department's Region II, Mark Nelson, manager of refuges for the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife in Albuquerque, said his regional office is still in the dark as to how much money, if any, will be available for Muleshoe management.

"We don't have all the figures," said Nelson. "And we have yet to interpret back to individual field stations," he added.

Nelson was not too optimistic that the Muleshoe facility's current $36,000 annual budget would be reinstated fully next year, but indicated it still remains a possibility.

The Albuquerque refuge supervisor indicated Congressmen and Senators had received a barrage of reaction from naturalists and residents in various refuge areas to be affected by budgetary cutbacks.

Nelson hinted that pressure from localities put the issue "in the spotlight" and may have spurred an additional $1.1 million.

While the group was still called the New Californians, they were chosen from over 2000 professional acts auditioned by CBS to appear on the CBS Newcomers Show, a summer replacement for the Carol Burnett Show in 1971. They spent the summer singing with Nelson Riddle's Orchestra and being hosted by Dave Garraway on CBS Network. In 1972 the group made many television appearances in several cities throughout the United States. While in our Nation's Capitol they performed a special concert in the Pentagon's auditorium for the military personnel.

The group has performed over 1500 concerts, logging more than 250,000 miles across the United States and Europe. They began their third ten month tour of the States in September 1973, singing in colleges, high schools, civic clubs, and churches as well as numerous television appearances. In June 1973, the group presented concerts in many churches of West Germany sponsored by World Evangelism Foundation.

One of the unique features of the Renaissance concerts is their puppet show. The puppets present humorous musical

Dr. C.L. Kay Speaks To Lions Club

Muleshoe Lions Club met for its regular noon luncheon Wednesday, October 10. Following the invocation and lunch Don Harmon introduced the program.

Present to present the program was Dr. C.L. Kay, assistant to the president of Lubbock Christian College. Dr. Kay recently returned from a 25,000 mile tour of Asia. During this month long tour he had the opportunity of meeting with government leaders in South Vietnam, Thailand, Laos, Korea, Taiwan, and Hong Kong. In addition to visiting with the leaders of these countries, he also toured military installations. The slides he presented of his trip were enjoyed by the Lions as they were earlier in the day by the student body of Muleshoe High School.

His message commended the job being done by our service men abroad. He closed with a word of commendation for the appearance and attitudes displayed earlier by the students at Muleshoe High School.

The next meeting of the Lions Club will be held October 17 at the XII Steak House.

This year the annual Fall Show, sponsored by the Businessmen's Activities Committee of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, will be "Gospel Sing Time".

The two hour program will feature several recording artists, including the Galileans, a popular gospel group.

The program was arranged by Rev. H.D. Hunter and Gil Lamb.

Lamb stated that "besides the Galileans, there will be 17 year old Bruce Ford, a sensational young singer of gospel songs, and the Assembly Singers, a surprise group."

The program is held each year to raise money for Muleshoe's Christmas Tree, Christmas Parade, Fourth of July Activities and other activities during the year.

Tickets are priced at $1.75 for adults and one dollar for students. The BAC will also hold their annual Candy Sale during the program. Prizes have been furnished by local merchants.

This year's Fall Show will be held on Thursday, Oct. 25, at 8 p.m. in the Muleshoe High School auditorium. Tickets are available from members of the Llano Estacado Civic Club.

In the world of gospel music, the Galileans are unique. Mexican - Americans singing gospel songs was unheard of until a 19 year old rock band performer named Paul De La Torre, searching for some means of expressing his newfound Christianity, asked himself, "Why not?"

From this early inspiration, The Galileans were brought together, evolving gradually from a nucleus group that had been known as The King's Three when DeLa Torre founded the vocal team in 1961 in Mexico City. In 1969, the three guitar-playing Mexican-American vocalists were pressed by more and more requests for their performance in churches.

The group, relatively unknown until the advent of their fulltime career in gospel music, sprang into the limelight with their lively recording of "Thank God I'm Free". The number ranked as one of the Top Ten songs of 1970 in gospel music, even though the song itself had been Thirty-five students from the radio and television servicing classes at South Plains College toured KCBD-TV in Lubbock on Wednesday, October 10.

They were accompanied by Louis Hernandez and Odus Hawkins, both instructors in radio and television servicing at SPC. Attending from Muleshoe were Ramon M. Guzman and Alfredo Toscano.

Bailey County Purchases Land

Bailey County Judge Glen Williams has announced that the county has entered into a contract to buy approximately 18 acres of land from Rnieil Williams.

The land is located between the new location of Town and Country Oldsmobile-Buick and Johnson Furniture. The land is to the north of the highway, but comes to the highway in two places.

Judge Williams said that this land would be available for the proposed Agriculture and Community Center if and when it is funded.

The county thought that this would be a good investment for the county and a good location for the proposed building.

The county is paying for the land out of Revenue Sharing Funds.

MAKING YARDAGE Although the football game Friday night with Muleshoe playing Morton here was not a high scoring game, lots of yardage was gained by the Mules and the Morton Indians lost a little yardage. The defensive game was finally won the fourth quarter by Muleshoe, 9-0. Shown carrying the ball is Number 40, Eddie Waggoner. The Mules will start district competition next Friday when they play Dumas there.

WASHINGTON REPORT BY Lloyd Bentsen,
United States Senator

TEXANS CONCERNED ABOUT GOVERNMENT, INFLATION

A recent survey which I commissioned reveals that the two most important issues of concern to Texans today involve the honesty, responsiveness and effectiveness of government, and the cost of living.

Other problems disturbing citizens of our State are the environment, the energy crisis, taxes, drug abuse, crime and welfare.

But confidence in government and inflation far overshadow all other issues at this time.

The mood of Texans seems to be one of mistrust and discontent, not unlike the mood of all Americans. Concern about government has risen sharply and is now seen as the most serious problem facing the United States, where 17 months ago it was considered only the fourth most important issue.

The hard fact is that many people believe government has lost its capacity for action. Of the great issues before us, none is more compelling than the issue of public confidence.

It is easy to point the finger of blame at Watergate. And this is probably the number one reason for the continuing loss of faith in politics. But Watergate and its related sins are not the only culprits. They were merely the climax of what the public most assuredly believes to be a steady slide into the swamps of unhealthy politics.

Who is to blame, then? I am always wary of assessing mass guilt for the acts of a few. Yet it is my inescapable conclusion that all of us in responsible political positions must share at least part of the blame -- because our natural inclination is to recognize a problem only when it hits us, in the face, and to close the barn door only after the horse is gone.

Sometimes we have not exercised our powers and responsibilities as wisely as we could have. Sometimes we have dilly-dallied in the face of urgent need. Sometimes we have looked the other way to avoid a controversy or an unpleasant task.

WE HAVE REASON FOR CONCERN

As Texans, you have reason to wonder what is going on when inflation destroys your wages and takes food from your table.

You have reason to wonder when you can't get mortgage money, and when you pay exorbitant interest rates when you are forced to borrow, just to make ends meet.

You have reason to wonder why some of your elected leaders talk about tax increases when the cost of living already has you strapped.

You have reason to wonder why our affluent and all-powerful nation has not developed enough energy sources to meet its needs.

In many respects, it is amazing that the people have not lost more faith than they have -- because some of the happenings of the past few years have raised serious questions about the effectiveness of representative government.

I believe you have not lost faith because you basically believe that in the long run in spite of the shortcomings of some of our leadership, the system will prevail. You know the difference between good government and bad politics. You know that leadership has its limitations, and that the destiny of democracy is somewhere in between the demands for instant solutions and the counter-demands for caution and resistance to change.

NEED TO FACE PROBLEMS SQUARELY

I have been listening through countless personal conversations with Texans, and reading thousands of their letters, in an effort to determine what the people are trying to say. And I think the message is simple: you want us to get on with the important issues of national security and national well-being.

I have heard no one say he expects miracles. But I have heard many calls for action. No one expects saintliness. But everyone expects honesty.

No one demands the absence of politics. But everyone has a right to expect restraints on vicious partisanship.

No one thinks government should do all things for all people. But all of us demand that government do its best and that it do it fairly.

All of these things together are not too much to ask or expect. But they are something that we in government must get on with in order to restore faith in government and to end the crisis in confidence.

 lion in Interior Department funds, added by the House just prior to passage, and earmarked for wildlife recreation and management.
 Mahon's office also confirmed Tuesday that the bill signed last Thursday retained a $1.1 million appropriation for "general wildlife" which may be applicable to the Muleshoe refuge. But at this time, it is not known how much, if any, is available specifically for Muleshoe's facility.
 Nelson confirmed the agency's current efforts to phase out recreational and non-water fowl use and return to the original purpose of simply supporting wildlife.

 But local groups have come out in opposition to the philosophy, citing that areas such as the Muleshoe refuge and Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge have become popular summer recreation areas for West Texans.

Active in local efforts, Mrs. Michael Menaul of Lubbock cited attendance figures at the Muleshoe refuge that indicated 8,400 visitors at the facility through the month.

The directors of the South Plains Association of Governments joined the opposition to elimination of the Muleshoe Refuge operating budget, voting August 3 to protest it.

Since the early summer announcement of proposed shifts in personnel due to budget cuts, Lubbock naturalist and Audubon groups especially have been protesting the Muleshoe action. Mrs. Menaul indicated that U.S. Rep. Mahon has been actively involved in the matter.

The refuge is the home of an estimated 90,000 sandhill cranes that annually winter here after returning from their arctic breeding grounds.

Nelson said he knew of considerable effort on the part of people locally to transfer management into "Other hands" to insure full time staffing, and solution of the summer recreational needs.

shoe started to drive the ball, but was stopped when Morton recovered a fumble at the 15. Quickly, though, the Mules got the ball on a spectacular leaping interception by Don Long.

Then after a running play netted nothing for the Mules, quarterback Don Long on a play-action pass completed a 30 yard bomb to tight end Perry Stockard. David Wheat kicked the extra point.

On Morton's next possession, their quarterback, Rand Keuhler, was dropped for losses two successive times with Mule's noseguard Robert Stovall getting the Indian quarterback for a safety. The Mules then ran out the clock and preserved a 9-0 victory.

The whole defense played an exceptional game but Robert Stovall, Don Long, Max Buhrman and Danny Vela played outstanding game for the Mules as they were the spearheads to the Muleshoe defense which held Morton to minus 23 yards in rushing in the second half.

At halftime, Glenda Harlin was crowned Homecoming Queen before an audience of about 4,000. She was escorted by David Wheat and her attendants were Brenda St. Clair, Pam Lloyd and Terri Crane.

around for quite a while. Partly on the strength of that recording's popularity. The Galileans received a Dove Award in 1970 as "the most promising new gospel talent", a citation made annually by the Gospel Music Association.

Originality of style, combined with professional performing talents, has been a hallmark for The Galileans, who make their home in Dallas, Texas. All had a taste of the entertainment business in earlier years and, like Paul, found it "empty".

De La Torre had been leader of a rock band before his conversion in 1960 and had, at one time, played with singer Trini Lopez, Joel Perales, pianist and vocalist, had a tremendous talent for writing and composing. Rose Perales is Joel's wife. She sings harmony, lead and plays tamborine. Tony and plays tamborine. Tony Gonzales rounds out the four-some singing lead and baritone. Tony is also a dedicated minister of the Gospel.

The bilingual group is the only gospel singing team that combines a concert repertoire of their own arrangements of old and contemporary religious songs along with selections in Spanish lyrics, often in an instrumental setting that has a distinctly Latin American flavor.

In addition to their work in the states, The Galileans travel extensively on concert tours in Central and South America, including Peru, Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Panama and Costa Rica.

Miss Flowers Wed To Henderson

Miss Debra Lynn Flowers became the bride of Michael Monroe Henderson October 6 at 2:00 p.m. in the home of the bride's parents. Rev. Carl DeFreece of Kansas City, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Flowers and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Henderson.

The ceremony was performed between twin candelabras holding deep rose tapers and accented with pink gladiolus and deep pink bows. Musical selections were "The Twelfth of Never", "Whether Thou Goest" and "Walk Hand in Hand," performed by Miss Debra Swearingen.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a formal gown of white imported organdy. The gown featured a scoop neckline with an empire waist, and long full sleeves gathered at the wrists. A large bow accented the back waistline, followed by layers of ruffles that gave a bustle effect. Her veil was shoulder length, and trimmed in English lace.

The bridal bouquet was white carnations and pink rosebuds atop a white Bible. Following wedding tradition, she wore pennies in her shoes minted in the years of the couple's births. For something old, she wore a string of pearls that her mother had worn at her wedding, something new was her dress and borrowed was her veil, belonging to her cousin and something blue was her garter.

Mrs. Zane Francis attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a floor length pink and white checked dress, with scoop neckline and short puffed sleeves. The dress had a wide flounce on the bottom of the skirt. The empire waist and flounce were trimmed with white embroidered lace. She carried a white basket filled with pink carnations.

Candlelighter was John Henderson, the groom's brother, with Kelly Shinn as ring bearer. Mike Flowers served as the usher.

Marlin Hammond of Eldon was best man.

A reception followed the ceremony in the bride's parent's home. The table was laid with a white lace cloth over a pink cloth. The three tiered cake featured cascades of pink roses topped with a bride and groom. The cake punch, mints and nuts were served from crystal appointments. Serving at the table were Miss Zane Francis, Miss Debra Swearingen and Miss Zeritta Crable.

For the wedding trip points of interest in southern Missouri and Arkansas the bride chose a cranberry and pink pantsuit with pink carnation corsage. The couple will be home at 11426 Blue Ridge Blvd., apt. 47, Ruskin Place after October 14.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Partin Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Austin, Osceola, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kelly, Earth; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodburn, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Flowers, Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Shinn, Kansas City; Mrs. Homer Henderson, Cross Timbers, Mo.

Christian Women's Fellowship Meets

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church met Tuesday, October 9, 1973 at 4:00 p.m. in the home of Sena Stevens.

The president, Mrs. White, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Pitts called the roll which was answered with "What the Beatitude, Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth means to me?"

Mrs. Stevens presented the program. She discussed the Beatitudes, Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth. "We like to think of ourselves as being courageous and strong. We want to be conquerors, and meekness sounds too much like surrender, but not surrender to men around us, not surrender to ourselves, not surrender to the circumstances to our lives.

"For the true meaning of meekness turn to the thirty-seventh Psalm. There you find it stated, "The meek shall inherit the earth." The Hebrew word which is translated "meek" really means "to be molded." The Psalmist says, "Fret not thyself because of evil-doers," do not be envious of the prosperity of the wicked. Instead "Commit thy way unto the Lord." That is, let yourself become as putty in God's hand, be molded by Him, yield your life to the purposes of God, and eventually real success will be your reward."

Mrs. White gave the worship. She read Matthew 8: 5-13 and discussed the importance of faith.

Members attending were Mrs. R.T. White, Mrs. Charles Long, Mrs. Walter Bartholf, Sr., Mrs. LeVina Pitts, Mrs. Joe Costen, Mrs. R.F. Wright, and Mrs. Sena Stevens.

unlocking the door

The key, to unlocking the door to the future, is electricity.

That's because we can make electricity in several ways . . . using several different "fuels" in our power plants. We're now using natural gas, but our next plant, now under construction, will use low-sulphur western coal. In addition, we've been researching nuclear fuel sources. For over 15 years, we've been part of the Texas Atomic Energy Foundation — a group of Texas companies researching the fusion process. Unlike the fission approach, the fusion process using common, abundant seawater, will be able to supply unlimited electric power.

It's in the future . . . and that's our job . . . unlocking the door to the kind of future you want . . . with the electric kilowatt. After all, you get 100% use out of every kilowatt that's delivered to your home, business, farm, or ranch.

Your future is ELECTRIC!

An investment in Your Future

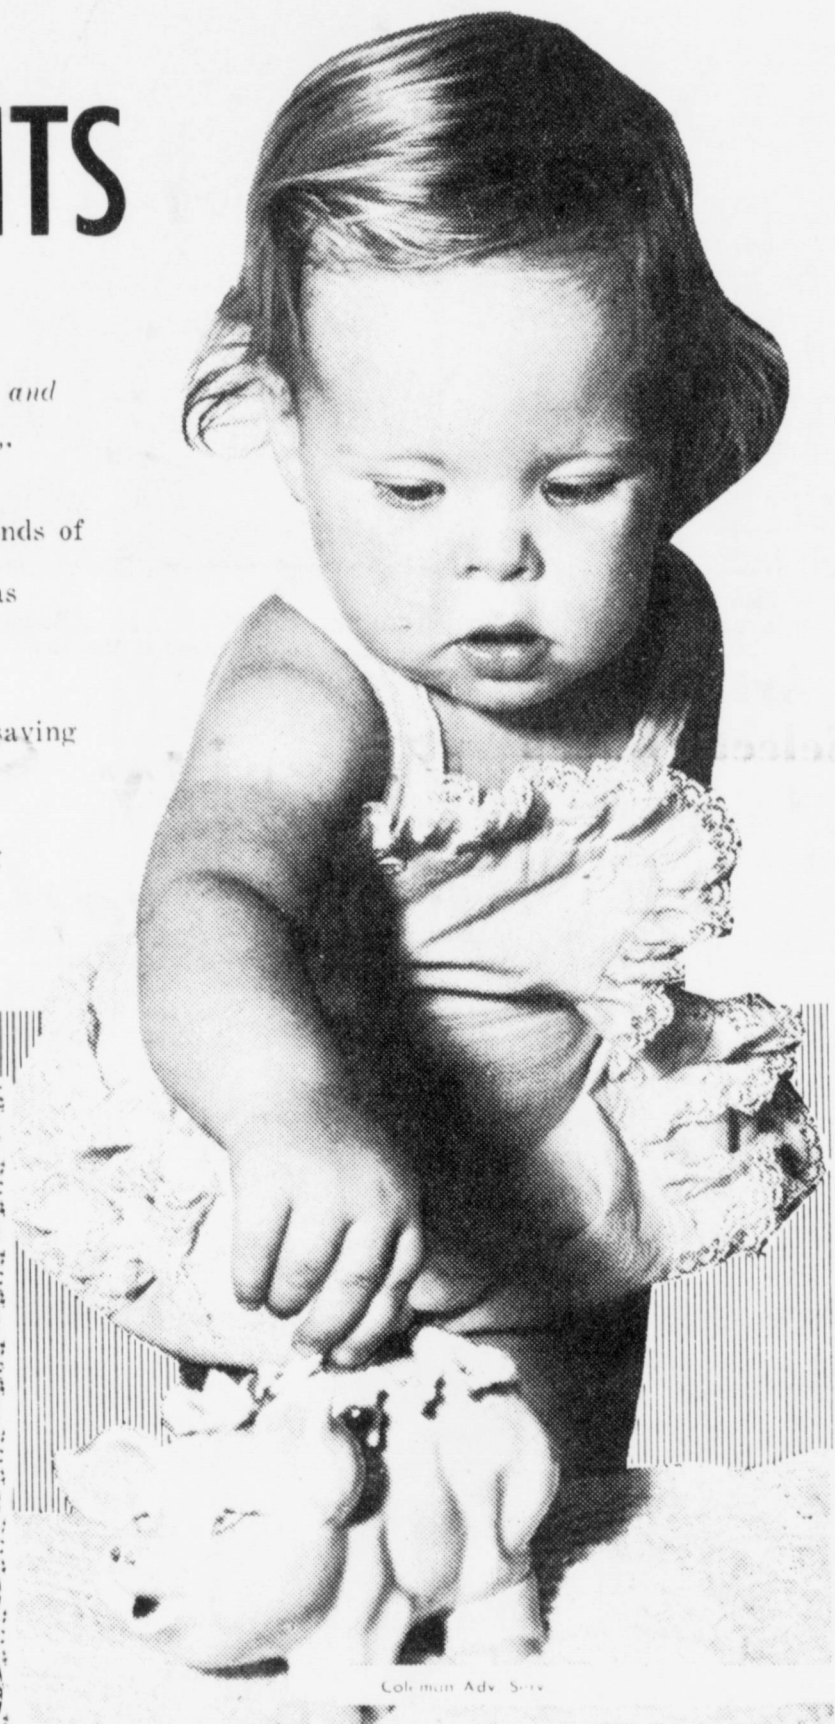

ATTEND CHURCH

LEARNING GOOD HABITS EARLY

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

This statement (made by Solomon, thousands of years ago) is just as true and vital today as it was then.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

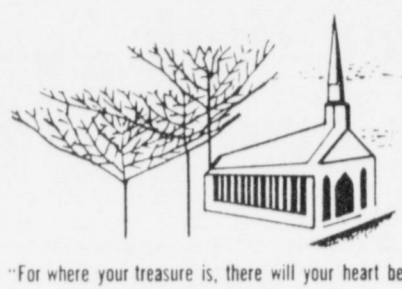

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

John Tower
United States Senate COMMITTEE ON ARMED SERVICES

For many years a number of us in the United States Congress have been waving a red flag danger signal for all who would listen regarding the growing shortages of petroleum products. Until this year, very few, seemingly, listened. Finally, the United States Senate has taken note of this crisis, and for the first time, a Senate Committee will conduct public hearings on a bill designed to lead to greater supplies of natural gas -- the cleanest burning fuel that is available in massive amounts. The Senate Commerce Committee on Wednesday, October

10, will open hearings on its bill to deregulate the price of gas at the wellhead. For years now, many members of Congress -- primarily from Northern and Eastern states -- have successfully blocked any type of Congressional action on this much-needed legislation. They have generally acted under the guise of protecting the consumer. Ironically, their actions have in fact harmed consumers, for, through the imposition of unreasonably low prices on natural gas and crude oil, exploration for new discoveries has been discouraged. Such governmental regulation has gone hand-in-hand with accelerating demand to create the current shortages of fuel and petroleum products. We have proven time and again that the consumer benefits best in this country when prices are allowed to seek their own level through the competition of the free market with little or no government interference. We need only look back a few weeks to rigid price controls on food products to illustrate this fact of life. When the Administration imposed price controls on meats and other foods this summer, the producer in most cases was caught in a squeeze which resulted in greater shortages and higher prices. After the ceilings were lifted, we saw the supply-demand situation improve, resulting in lower prices. The same holds true in the energy business. American "know-how" combined with open competition should keep prices lower than could governmental regulation. The Supreme Court in 1954 ruled that the Federal Power Commission was to regulate the price of gas sold in interstate commerce. As a result of this ruling, the Commission imposed rigid prices on gas, which, at that time, did allow the producer to make a small profit. But these prices were not sufficient to attract the large amount of investments required in the exploration for new supplies of gas. As a result, we have stumbled through 19 years of confusion through regulation, and now we simply cannot meet our demands for this fuel. I have long believed that one of the quickest and best ways to alleviate our domestic energy problems is to reactivate the 10,000 independent oil and gas producers. This segment of the industry has historically drilled about 80 per cent of the exploratory wells each year.

Given the proper climate, these independents possess the capacity to find and develop significant quantities of our vast reserves of oil and gas. The fact that we now have a very serious energy crisis should not surprise too many I have been among the few who have tried to alert the nation to this problem for years. In August of 1970, at a press conference, and later the same day on the Senate floor, I made a statement which started out with these words: "Today this nation faces a dangerous energy crisis." That was three and one-half years ago, when I introduced legislation designed to increase incentives for the discovery of new supplies of energy in this country. Again this year, I have submitted such a proposal. This bill would remove by legislation the Federal Power Commission from the job of setting or reviewing the price at which a producer may sell his gas into interstate commerce. Natural gas shortages are upon us, and the situation can only worsen. These shortages will continue to increase in the near term no matter what actions are taken by government. This is due to the unavoidable lag which results in the time spent in performing the necessary geological, geophysical, leasing, drilling, developing, processing and transport activities that are necessary before the gas can actually be delivered to the consumer. This is why we must act, now. Once again, I foresee the renewal of cries that we must protect the consumer from the oil and gas interests of Texas and Louisiana. But surely these people must see that what government has been doing works against the consumer. If there are no supplies of natural gas to regulate, what then? TU-144 crash expected to delay supersonic era.
