Knorpp and Hopkins Communities for Pampa March 9

BIG AUDIENCES HEAR TALKS ON REMOVAL

Local Speakers Applauded and Asked to Come Again

MEETING IS SET FOR NEXT TUESDAY

McLean Men Present Stress "Fairness for All"—Girls Sing

That the residents of the Knorpp and Hopkins communities are practically 100 per cent for Pampa in the court house removal election is the word brought back by local men who attended a mass meeting held at the Grandview school house last night.

Both the McLean and Pampa viewpoints were presented to a packed auditorium of people. McLean speakers who made short talks included M. D. Bentley, T. A. Landers, L. V. Lonsdale, D. M. Massey, and C. S. Rice. Their principal theme was "fairness for all, special privileges to none," in that the county seat be retained at LeFors.

When J. B. Hessey, superintendent of the Grandview school asked for the Pampa viewpoint, there was a roar of applause. Both Ivy Duncan and J. N. Duncan, who made strong arguments for removal to Pampa, were heartily applauded. They dealt at length with the facts that the need for a new court house is recognized, that a 25-cent tax is being levied for a new building, and that the only issue is where the new facilities will be located.

The Pampa men enjoyed the hospitality of the people present, and passed out cigars after the meeting. The local delegation included Ewing Leech, C. B. Barnard, C. T. Huntpillar, J. E. Murfee, Tom Rose, J. D. Sugg, C. P. Buckler, Joe Smith, DeLea Vicars, Siler Faulkner, W. A. Taylor, B. W. Rose, Tom Lane, A. B. Keahey, J. L. Noel, Paul Hawthorne, J. N. Duncan Ivy Duncan, and Mr. Erwin. Entertainment was furnished by a girl's glee club from Alanreed, which gave such songs as "LeFors will shine after the election."

Pampa folks were invited to visit the Grandview people again next week and Tuesday evening was set for a fraternity gathering. Entertainment will be provided by the local people at that time.

It was learned at the meeting that there are Pampa supporters in the communities fighting removal. While the principal argument against removal is geographical, there are many residents who have realized the inadequacy of accommodations at LeFors and who are laying aside old jealousies in the interest of modern Gray county. They also assert that Pampa is not alone in the desire to move the county seat, and that until the center of government is placed in a location in keeping with modern growth, there can be no real county cooperation. They are going to vote for Pampa in the interest of Gray county progress and future harmony, realizing that the only way to settle the matter is to vote for removal March 9.

Hawaiian Slayer Dies of Wounds

AMARILLO, Feb. 29.—(AP)—A little more than two weeks after he had shot and killed his wife, wounded Miss Vesta Jorgenson of Salt Lake City, Utah, in the ear, and fired a bullet into his own head, James J. Kekahalo, native Hawaiian musician, died at a hospital here last night.

His daughter, age 14 months, and the body of his wife, formerly Lillian Clayton of Salt Lake City, were taken to the Utah city last week by Miss Jorgenson, where Mrs. Lillian Liddell, mother of the slain woman, resides.

Bad Bank Bandits Better Beware

Bank employees in Los Angeles, California, will prove unpleasant hosts to hold-up men who visit them in the future. Police officers are teaching bank tellers how to be quick on the draw. Here is Chief of Police Davis showing Miss Madelyne Morneau how to treat a hypothetical bandit, who is represented by the target. Note the revolver holster just below the counter of the "prop" bank window.

RAILROAD PLAN DOMINANT TODAY

Citizens Enjoy Opening of Legion Remodeled Home

More than 200 enthusiastic citizens attended the grand opening of the New Legion Home last night, and the splendid entertainment featured by home artists was enjoyed by the large audience. Members of the American Legion have remodeled and decorated the Legion hall and made it into a club house and recreation home which includes a large reception room, beautifully furnished and equipped with piano and large radio, and a recreation room with billiard and domino tables.

The Rev. W. L. Evans, chaplain of the local post, gave the invocation, which was followed by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

P. E. Boyd, chairman of the entertainment committee of the local post made the address of welcome and in a few well chosen words thanked the residents of Pampa for their support of the American Legion, a body which is 100 per cent behind Pampa and for the making of a bigger and better city.

"The American Legion upholds the constitution of the United States and helps maintain law and order," Mr. Boyd stated, "and further, the Legion trust fund is enabling thousands of disabled soldiers to learn a vocation, and is sending thousands of soldiers' children through school and college. The trust fund of the Legion supports vocational schools for all."

F. M. Gwin, city manager, stated that although he is not an ex-serviceman, through no fault of his, he is behind the American Legion and often it is his pleasure to call on that organization for advice and assistance. He mentioned the county seat election and how the local post in a body is behind the move and working for removal to Pampa. He also stressed the work of the Legion members during the poll tax drive here.

"In closing," Mr. Gwin said, "I want to thank the members of the American Legion for their support and influence and to state that I am at all times willing to aid them and assist them in doing their great work."

M. K. Brown, as president of the Chamber of Commerce, thanked the Legion for support of that organization. "Nothing made me more happy the night I took office as president of the Chamber of Commerce than to see the local post of the American Legion walk into the Chamber of Commerce rooms in a body and tell me that they are an organization and individually were behind me and the Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Brown said.

He also spoke of the Kell railroad needs and the coming court house removal election. In closing, Mr. Brown congratulated the boys on the new home and said that he remembered when the boys built the home with the little money they had. He also paid a high tribute to George Kerley and Abe Crossman, the two boys for whom the local post was named.

The Rev. James Todd, Jr., spoke at length on the price paid to win the war and how the American Legion is

Post Office Goes 100 Per Cent Today for Project

Setting the pace for subscriptions in the Kell railroad project, the Pampa post office today announced that it stood 100 per cent and, moreover, has funds contributed by every member of the staff, although only two had been assessed.

A total of $110 is the post office contribution. Individual employees gave an average of more than $10 each. Some of them are not even permanent residents. They challenge other businesses of the city to do likewise, declaring such a step would raise the amount needed in a very short time.

Determined to make the best report possible at the big mass meeting to be held at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, the Kell railroad finance committee is working hard today to boost the total of subscriptions.

With not more than $20,000 of the required $50,000 raised, and with Frank Kell requiring an answer on his proposition next Tuesday, Pampa must finish the campaign with a rush to land the railroad. Fair progress is reported by the right-of-way committee.

Unless Pampa raises a fund large enough to enable her committee to sign an agreement to provide terminal facilities, about 30 miles of right-of-way east from the city, and $5,000 in cash, the road likely will pass Pampa to the south and connect with the Santa Fe west of here. That outcome would be a menace to Pampa's future, it is pointed out, and local citizens are determined to prevent it by meeting Mr. Kell's reasonable requirements.

"Closed Until the Kell Road Is Assured" is a sign on the Lavender & Lavender office today. J. H. Lavender already has the distinction of having subscriptions from every person on his assessment list.

Sheriff Doubts Student's Story

NACOGDOCHES, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Oscar (Red) Wilkerson, student at Stephen F. Austin college here, today signed, in the presence of college authorities, a statement that he had executed and planned a reported attack on himself here early Tuesday. He gave no reason for his action.

NACOGDOCHES, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Sheriff Tom Lambert said today that he had dropped his investigation into reported attack by three men and O. J. (Red) Wilkerson, freshman student at Stephen F. Austin college, who was found bound and blindfolded early Tuesday.

The investigation was dropped, the sheriff said, when he was convinced that Wilkerson could have freed his hands, and when he found no signs of a scuffle.

Wilkerson had fully recovered today, Lambert said, adding that he had obtained no statement from the student.

Mrs. Ted White, who has been seriously ill, is reported improving.

Grand Jury Report Shows 18 Bills of Indictment Returned

Eighteen indictments, of which seventeen are of felony grade, were returned by the grand jury in 84th district court at LeFors this week. The report follows.

We, the grand jurors, duly convened for the February Term of the 84th Judicial district court, submit to your honor the following report: We have inquired into the many law violations presented to us. In each case, where we thought the law had been violated and where a probability of a conviction existed, we have returned true bills of indictment therein.

Our investigations reveal that Gray county, like all other oil counties, has its law violations, but we feel that through the efforts of our law enforcement machinery that crime has been reduced to a minimum. We wish to thank you, the judges of this court for the service you have rendered us during our deliberations and we further wish to thank our sheriff, Mr. E. S. Graves, our county attorney Mr. John Studer, and our district attorney, Mr. Curtis Douglas, for the assistance rendered us while in session.

We have endeavored to do our duty as officials of Gray County and have at all times tried to view every law violation presented before us from a standpoint of fairness and impartiality. With no further business before us, we beg leave of your honor for final adjournment for the term.

Respectfully submitted J. M. Noel, Foreman.

Prince of Wales Learns the Yale Without Knowing It

DARTFORD, England, Feb. 29.—(AP)—The Prince of Wales danced with two attractive young dressmakers, one blonde, the other brunette, last night at the Workingmen's club here.

It was "terribly thrilling" to dance with the prince, said Ivy Nesbit, the blonde. To Ivy Bentley, brunette, it was "dreadfully embarrassing."

Both came through the experience with blushes and smiles, however. The blonde Ivy declared that the prince was a wonderful dancer but that she managed to keep step with him and "after the dance he gave me his armchair of honor and asked me to have a cigarette."

The brunette Ivy was very shy at the outset but soon got the laugh on the prince when he told her he couldn't dance the Yale because he was too old. "But, you are doing the Yale steps now," tittered brunette Ivy.

"Am I really? Well, I didn't know it," replied the prince. The brunette Ivy then confessed that she hated being stared at and said "of course, you are used to being stared at because you are a prince."

The prince laughed and said, "well, if I came here often people would soon get used to seeing me and wouldn't stare."

Accident Victim Is Buried Here

James Arthur Rice, 42 years old, who died in the hospital here Friday afternoon following an accident in which he suffered fatal internal injuries that morning was buried here yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Rice was born in Marshall county, Ala., where he resided until 1922, when he moved to Colorado. He had been a resident of Pampa for the last six months as an employe of the Smith Trucking and Contracting company.

Besides his father, T. R. Rice of Albertville, Ala., he leaves one son Joe, six sisters, and three brothers.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday by the Rev. James Todd, Jr., pastor of the Christian church.

Steers Bring Best Price Since War

FORT WORTH, Feb. 29.—(AP)—The highest price for steers on the Fort Worth market since the World War was paid Wednesday when seventeen head, shipped by Robert Reel of Kerrville, brought 14.25 cents per pound, or an average of $215.60 each.

Average weight of the steers was 1,513 pounds. Younger Cockerell, and brother, Gerrett Cockerell, returned Tuesday from Denton.

KANSAS TOWN ALSO VICTIM

Robbers at Poplar Bluff Yesterday Escape Many Bullets

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Three men held up and robbed the Old Orchard State bank at Webster Groves, a suburb, and obtained approximately $3,000 at 12:15 p. m. today.

COFFEYVILLE, Kans., Feb. 29.—(AP)—Two men held up and robbed the Niota State bank at Niota, Kans., 30 miles west of here, shortly after 9 o'clock today and escaped in a motor car with $2,500.

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Feb. 29.—(AP)—After engaging in a half dozen gun fights with officers of Stoddard and Butler counties, three men who late yesterday held up and robbed the bank of Quin, 15 miles south of here, of $2,500, apparently made good their escape in a red automobile.

The robbers exchanged bullets with a posse at Junland, near here, at Bloomfield, where the window in the rear of the robbers' car was shot out, and at Bell City. Sheriff Ray McCown and Deputy Jack Harper fired at the robbers when they came upon them in the swamps between Puxico and Bloomfield, but the sheriff's car was wrecked on a sharp curve and the robbers sped on.

Los Angeles Fights Wind Back Home

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—(AP)—With her blunt nose buffeting stiff northeast trade winds that helped her or the southward journey, the dirigible Los Angeles was sailing slowly homeward today after a 2,265-mile non-stop flight to the Canal Zone.

The trip back will not be made without a stop. Lieutenant Commander Charles E. Paschen planned to moor to the tender Patoka, anchored in Guacanabo bay, Cuba, about 750 miles from Panama, take on fuel and perhaps make a few latera excursions over Cuba before starting up the coast for the 1,500-mile journey to Lakehurst. A flight over Havana was regarded as probable.

With the wind against her over the Caribbean, the airship will require a much longer time for the homeward voyage than the 40 hour needed on the trip southward. The commander thought she would not reach the Patoka until noon today, nearly 26 hours after her departure from France field, in the Canal Zone.

Colby Is Refused Divorce in France

VERSAILLES, France, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Bainbridge Colby, former America secretary of state, has been refused divorce from the former Natalie Sedgwick by the Versailles Tribunal.

The court refused to grant the decree on the grounds that the residence of Mr. Colby in France had not been sufficiently established in accordance with French law.

G. C. Malone—"The court house move to Pampa because the old one at LeFors is inadequate in every respect."

Brownwood Woman Is Answered "Yes"

BROWNWOOD, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Attracted by the Brownwood Bulletin's Leap Year day offer to pay for the license and provide a $5 bill to pay the preacher, Mrs. C. W. Whisenant, 35, Tuesday night asked J. W. Peacock, 50, of Peacock, Stonewall county, to marry her, was rewarded with a "yes," bought the license with her own money and will be married this afternoon.

THE "CANARY" MURDER CASE

By S. S. VAN DINE AUTHOR OF THE BENSON MURDER CASE

CHARACTERS

- PHILO VANCE
- JOHN F-X. MARKHAM, District Attorney of New York County.
- MARGARET ODELL (The "CANARY")
- CHARLES CLEAVER, a man about town.
- KENNETH SPOTSWOOD, a manufacturer.
- LOUIS MANNIX, an importer.
- DEAMBROSE LINDQUIST, a fashionable neurologist.
- TONY SKEEL, a professional burglar.
- WILLIAM ELMER JESSUP, telephone operator.
- HARRY SPIVELY, telephone operator.
- ERNEST HEATH, Sergeant of the Homicide Bureau.

THE STORY THUS FAR

Skeel's finger prints were found in the apartment of the murdered Margaret Odell, but Vance does not believe him guilty. It is proved later that Mannix, Cleaver and Dr. Lindquist all had been lying about their whereabouts on the night of the murder. The truth comes out that Mannix had been calling on a Miss Frisbee in an apartment adjoining the "Canary's"; that Cleaver had been in the building around midnight and that Dr. Lindquist, knowing that Spotswoode was calling on Margaret Odell, had planned in a jealous fit to kill him and had been waiting in the alley outside.

CHAPTER XXXVIII

As Lindquist talked he became more and more agitated. The nerves about his eyes had begun to twitch, and his shoulders jerked like those of a man attempting vainly to control a chill. "Remember, sir, I was suffering agonies, and my hatred of Spotswoode seemed to cloud my reason. Scarcely realizing what I was doing and yet operating under an irresistible determination, I put my automatic in my pocket and hurried out of the house. "I thought Miss Odell and Spotswoode would be returning from the theatre soon, and I intended to force my way into the apartment and perform the act I had planned. . . . From across the street I saw them enter the house—it was about eleven then—but when I came face to face with the actuality, I hesitated. I delayed my revenge; I—I played with the idea, getting a kind of insane satisfaction out of it—knowing they were now at my mercy. . . . His hands were shaking as with a coarse tremor; and the twitching about his eyes had increased. "For half an hour I waited, gloating. Then, as I was about to go in and have it over with, a man named Cleaver came along and saw me. The stopped and spoke. "I thought he might be going to call on Miss Odell, so I told him she already had a visitor. He then went on toward Broadway, and while I was waiting for him to turn the corner, Spotswoode came out of the house and jumped into a taxicab that had just driven up. . . . My plan had been thwarted—I had waited too long. Suddenly I seemed to awake as from some terrible nightmare. I was almost in a state of collapse, but I managed to get home. . . . That's what happened—so help me God!"

He sank back weakly in his chair. The suppressed nervous excitement that had fired him while he spoke had died out, and he appeared listless and indifferent. He sat several minutes breathing stentorously, and twice he passed his hand vaguely across his forehead. He was in no condition to be questioned, and finally Markham sent for Tracy and gave orders that he was to be taken to his home. "Temporary exhaustion from hysteria," commented Vance indifferently. "All these paranoia lads are hyper-neurasthenic. He'll be in a psychopathic ward in another year." "That's as may be, Mr. Vance," said Heath, with an impatience that repudiated all enthusiasm for the subject of abnormal psychology. "What interests me just now is the way all these fellows' stories hang together." "Yes," nodded Markham. "There is undeniably a groundwork of truth in their statements." "But please observe," Vance pointed out, "that their stories do not eliminate any one of them as a possible culprit. Their tales, as you say, synchronize perfectly; and yet, despite all that neat co-ordination, any one of the three could have got into the Odell apartment that night. "For instance; Mannix could have entered from apartment 2 before Cleaver came along and listened; and he could have seen Cleaver going away when he himself was leaving the Odell apartment—Cleaver could have spoken to the doctor at half past eleven, walked to the Ansonia, returned a little before twelve, gone into the lady's apartment, and come out just as Mannix opened Miss Frisbee's door. "Again, the excitable doctor may have gone in after Spotswoode came out at half past eleven, stayed twenty minutes or so, and departed before Cleaver returned from the Ansonia. . . . No; the fact that their stories dovetail doesn't in the least tend to exculpate any one of them."

"And," supplemented Markham, "that cry of 'Oh, my God!' might have been made by either Mannix or Lindquist—provided Cleaver really heard it." "He heard it unquestionably," said Vance. "Some one in the apartment was invoking the Deity around midnight. Cleaver hasn't sufficient sense of dramatic to fabricate such a thrill-in' tale."

"But if Cleaver actually heard that voice," protested Markham, "then he is automatically eliminated as a suspect." "Not at all, old dear. He may have heard it after he had come out of the apartment, and realized then, for the first time, that some one had been hidden in the place during his visit."

"Your man in the clothes-closet, I presume you mean." "Yes—of course. . . . You know, Markham, it might have been the horrified Skeel, emerging from his hiding-place upon a scene of tragic wreckage, who let out that evangelical invocation."

"Except," commented Markham, with sarcasm, "Skeel doesn't impress me as particularly religious." "Oh, that?" Vance shrugged. "A point in substantiation. Irreligious persons call on God much more than Christians. The only true and consistent theologians, don't y' know, are the atheists."

Heath, who had been sitting in gloomy meditation, took his cigar from his mouth and heaved a heavy sigh. "Yes," he rumbled, "I'm willing to admit somebody besides Skeel got into Odell's apartment, and that the Dude hid in the clothes-closet. But if that's so, then this other fellow didn't see Skeel; and it's not going to do us a whole lot of good even if we identify him."

"Don't fret on that point, Sergeant," Vance counseled his cheerfully. "When you've identified this other mysterious visitor you'll be positively amazed how black care will desert

you. You'll rubricate the hour you find him. You'll leap gladly into the air. You'll sing a roundelay."

"The hell I will!" said Heath. Swacked came in with a typewritten memorandum and put it on the district attorney's desk. "The architect just phoned in this report." Markham glanced it over; it was very brief. "No help here," he said. "Walls solid. No waste space. No hidden entrances."

"Too bad Sergeant," sighed Vance. "You'll have to drop the cinema idea. . . . Sad." Heath grunted and looked disconsolate. "Even without no other way of getting in or out except that side door," he said to Markham, "couldn't we get an indictment against Skeel, now that we know the door was unlocked Monday night?"

"We might Sergeant. But our chief snag would be to show how it was originally unlocked and then relocked after Skeel left. And Abe Rubin would concentrate on that point—No, we'd better wait a while and see what develops."

Something "developed" at once. Swacker entered and informed the Sergeant that Smitkin wanted to see him immediately. Smitkin came in, visibly agitated, accompanied by a wizened, shabbily dressed little man of about sixty, who appeared awed and terrified, in the detective's hand was a small parcel wrapped in newspaper, which he laid on the district attorney's desk with an air of triumph.

"The Canary's jewelry," he announced. "I've checked it up from the list the maid gave me, and it's all there." Heath sprang forward, but Markham was already untying the package with nervous fingers. When the paper had been opened, there lay before us a small heap of dazzling trinkets—several rings of exquisite workmanship, three magnificent bracelets, a sparkling sunburst, and a delicately wrought locket. The stones were all large and of unconventional cut.

Markham looked up from them inquisitively, and Smitkin, not waiting for the inevitable question, explained. "This man Potts found 'em. He's a street-cleaner, and he says they were in one of the D. S. C. cans at 23d Street near the Flatiron Building. He found 'em yesterday afternoon, so he says, and took 'em home. Then he got scared and brought 'em to Police Headquarters this morning." Mr. Potts, the "white-wing," was trembling visibly.

"That's all right, Potts," Markham told him in a kindly voice. Then to Smitkin: "Let the man go—only get his full name and address."

Vance had been studying the newspaper in which the jewels had been wrapped. "I say, my man," he asked, "is this the original paper you found them in?"

"Yes, sir—the same. I ain't touched nothin'." "Right-o."

Mr. Potts, greatly relieved shambled out, followed by Smitkin. "The Flatiron Building is directly across Madison Square from the Stuyvesant Club," observed Markham, frowning.

"So it is," Vance then pointed to the left-hand margin of the newspaper that held the jewels. "And you'll notice that this Herald of yesterday has three punctures evidently made by the pins of a wooden holder such as is generally used in a club's reading-room."

"You got a good eye, Mr. Vance," nodded Heath, inspecting the newspaper.

"I'll see about this," Markham viciously pressed a button. "They keep their papers on file for a week at the Stuyvesant Club."

THIS RAILROAD — Frank Kell is known as a man of his word. We see no danger of losing the Pampa-to-Cheyenne railroad if Pampa meets his very reasonable requirements by next Tuesday morning.

There is a very real danger in losing the railroad. First, there is the loss of the railroad itself; second, the menace which would arise if the road goes anywhere else.

It is no secret that surveys for several different big railroad companies have been made through Gray county. The roads are going to be built, and Pampa is but one of the points at which they could connect in this vicinity.

On account of the rough country to be crossed, it is not possible to come here from every given point.

The thing to do is to cinch the Kell railroad, and thus lay the beginning of a North Plains railroad center. This opportunity may be the turning point in North Panhandle development, and, considering Pampa's ability to meet the Kell requirements, it would be nothing short of civic suicide to pass it up. Let's sign the dotted line Tuesday for the Future Pampa.

COURTHOUSE TAX—It is news to most people to know that a courthouse tax is levied in Gray county; although the money is not being so used. The funds derived from the tax have been diverted to other uses, although the legality of the procedure may be seriously questioned.

This year, owing to the $10,000,000 property assessment in the county, the courthouse tax will amount to $25,000. What is to be done with the money? Taxpayers will insist that it be used for the purpose levied—which means holding it to help build the courthouse which this yearly income will construct in a few years' time.

The real issue in the coming election, then, is where a new Gray county courthouse—which can be built with the 25-cent tax already being levied—will be built?

McLean, Alanreed, and Pampa would like to have the courthouse, and McLean has a plot of ground reserved for the good day when, it is hoped by her citizens, she may be big enough to obtain the county seat.

A new courthouse is a vital necessity in modern Gray county. Pampa is the only city which has an opportunity to move the county seat to a railroad and to a place where conveniences may be had for trial attendants. Her claim, therefore, is logical and timely.

Oil valuations will build the new courthouse in less than ten years. Let's let them build it in a fitting place—Pampa. What is half an hour's drive on to Pampa from LeFors, when modern conveniences may be had here? And three-fourths of the property and people would be centered around the new county seat.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Those of us who managed to make out our own income tax returns unaided last year ought to be able to do it again.

The rules remain the same. In fact, one of the very best tips for a taxpayer is the suggestion that he retain duplicate of his return for reference next year. The figures will be larger, it is to be hoped, but any forgotten kinks of procedure will be there to refresh one's memory.

First, get your return blank. Incidentally, you will find plenty of valuable information attached to the return.

If you're a single man earning less than $1500 net income you're fortunate for two reasons. The second one is that you needn't file any return. Married persons of less than $3500 net income are well off in the same respect, buy anybody whose gross income is more than $5000 must fill the blank.

The tiny 1040A blanks are for net incomes not above $5000 when derived chiefly from salaries and wages. The 1040 blanks are for all other individual taxpayers. Net income is gross income minus deductions for such matters as business expenses, losses, interest paid, bad debts, depreciation of business property and taxes other than federal income tax.

Probably most of us are especially interested in the deductions we can take off to lower our taxable or net income. No one should have trouble entering his items of gross income.

Interest which has been paid or accrued on indebtedness comes first. The only exception is when one pays interest on another's debt.

Taxes on personal property and real estate paid in 1927 are deductible and so are state income tax payments. So are customs duties. Admission taxes, too, but the government insists that you must have kept an account of them all year long, which is generally too much bother.

Losses are deductible when incurred in a transaction entered into for profit or in case of fire, storm, shipwreck, flood, frost, other casualty or theft, whether connected with business or not, insofar as they are not covered by insurance. Loss on a house or automobile purchased for other than business use, for instance, may not be deducted. Jewelry stolen may be counted in, but jewelry merely lost may not.

Bad debts, if incurred on money loaned with expectation of repayment, may be deducted. The Bureau of Internal Revenue asks for an explanation of these with the return. Contributions to charitable, religious, scientific, literary, educational or humane organizations may be deducted up to 15 per cent of net income exclusive of them, but anyone who deducts 15 per cent for contributions had better be prepared to prove them. It is necessary to list such contributions on the return, of course, and gifts to individuals don't count.

World War bonuses, pensions and allowances are generally non-taxable. Strike benefit payments aren't. The value of goods or board and lodging received in payment for services is taxable. Traveling expenses when on business are deductible, except for commuters, but full statements of these should be attached to the return. Depreciation may be claimed on business property for exhaustion, wear and tear and obsolescence.

TWINKLES

Asked what steps he would take if one of his ferocious lions should escape, a circus owner remarked:

"Damned long ones." Pampa should do the same thing about this railroad proposition, say our mayor, who, after begging your pardon, can get picturesque in his expressions when the occasion demands.

We should say that his correctness is considerably over par.

Frankly folks, whether we can stay here, and whether many of you will be here a few years from now, depends Pampa's answer to Mr. Kell's proposition. And it is not merely what the city will gain, but what it will lose if the project fails that makes it serious.

We may be accused of going bug-house over the Kell railroad and county seat removal, but we are more apt to get that way if they fail. Forward!

Seminole did the trick; now let's see if West Texas can hold the lid on her oil flood. And we too, if we have to do so, although our oil isn't going to storage now.

Optometrists say the well dressed man must have at least four pairs of spectacles. And we suppose that if one isn't in need of them he ought to be.

THE SEARCH
Some men grow old in their search for gold.
Nor from it ever digress.
And the toll of years yields naught but tears;
And this they call Success.
And others give every day they live.
Every ounce of their strength in strife,
But only to find, as they look behind
That they've missed the best in life.
Still on they go, giving blow for blow
In the fight for power and might
Every muscle strained 'til their end
They've gained.
And then—at last—comes night.
And what reward—what pleasure stored.
Can they cherish day by day?
For the power of gold life's joy they've sold;
A price too dear to pay!
But the friendship formed and the hearts we've warmed
In our journeys here and there.
Are the priceless gems in the diadem.
That every man can wear.

Music Festival Offers Trio of Greatest Artists

Reports from Amarillo are that tickets for the Panhandle Music Festival concerts are selling fast, with orders pouring in from all parts of the Panhandle. Pampa will send a large number of people to hear Mme. Schumann-Heink, Gottfried Galston, and John McCormack, who will appear on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, respectively, of next week.
Mme. Schumann-Heink, in what is generally believed to be her farewell concert tour of this section, will open the Festival. Few queens of the stage have reigned so long with the complete sway she has done with her great voice art, and personality. After taking a complete rest, she is reported to be in excellent health and standing well her schedule of seventy-five cities.
Mr. Galston, heralded as one of the finest pianists and teachers of the day, was born in Vienna of a Hungarian father and Polish mother. His education has included work under many of the renowned masters of our time. He has appeared as soloist with most of the important symphony orchestras of the world, and in the United States has done considerable teaching, including that with the piano department of the Progressive Series Teachers college of St. Louis.
Only 42, John McCormack is at the height of his art and popularity. He has been called the master singer, one who has earned the title gallantly and carries it proudly and with honor. Perhaps no other singer has so tried for perfect enunciation, and the linguist can follow him perfectly in any language that he uses. His personality, emotional powers, and musicianship enable him to delight all types of music lovers.
Music contests held under the auspices of the Panhandle Music Teachers' association will be a part of the festival program, and there will be a special Children's matinee by Galston on the afternoon of the opening day.
The Festival is held annually at the Municipal auditorium, and is under the direction of Emil F. Myers of the Amarillo College of Music.

Meet Mr. Televox! Here he is standing beside R. J. Wensley, who devised him. Obeying a telephoned command, Televox unveiled a portrait of George Washington at a gathering of New York Masons. He is so rigged up that he responds at once to certain tones transmitted by telephone. Eventually, Wensley thinks, Televox will be capable of talking.

Council of Texas Women Telegraph Dissatisfaction

DALLAS, Feb. 29.—(P)—The council of Texas Women, organized here Monday night by friends of Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell, ousted Biennial chairman, as its first official act sent a telegram to Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the General Federation of Womens clubs, expressing dissatisfaction with the action of the general board in declaring Mrs. Henry Drought of San Antonio sole Biennial chairman. The Texas Federation board here Monday upheld the action of the General Federation by a vote of 64 to 11.
The council was formed by some 50 club women, representing many others throughout the state, who had come to Dallas to seek information from the state board at its meetings here. Not having been admitted to the board session except to state its cause, which it did through its chairman, Mrs. J. C. A. Guest of Wichita Falls, the members felt they had not received the desired information or consideration of the board.
Mrs. J. W. Fincher of Houston was elected chairman of the council, it was announced. The object of the council, it was stated is to promote Democratic principles among the women of Texas.

GASOLINE RATE SET. AUSTIN, Feb. 29.—(P)—The state railroad commission Monday authorized a rate of $36 a car on tank car gasoline shipped from Lorena to Waco with the proviso that terminal switching charges at other lines at Waco be added and paid by the shipper or consignee. Application for the rate was by the "Katy" railroad.

New York Will See "Mile of the Century" Run Tonight

RECORD IS APT TO BE BROKEN

Hahn, Dr. Peltzer, and Conger Are Primed for Event

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Lloyd Hahn, Ray Conger, and Dr. Otto Peltzer will try to mark in Madison Square Garden tonight for the "mile of the Century."

Hahn, best of the current American milers, must be at top form to beat not only the German ace, but Conger as well. The Illinois A. C. flash, in fact, may prove to be the man that both Peltzer and Hahn must beat. At the shorter distances—1,000-yards and 1,000 meters—Conger holds victories over both his rivals.

Regardless of the outcome, one fact seems definitely established—that the indoor record for the mile of four minutes, twelve seconds will be seriously threatened. Hahn's whole campaign this year has been designed to peak him for an attempt tonight to shatter the record held jointly by Jole Ray and Paavo Nurmi.

Detroit Manager Has Ambitions for Fast Harry Rice

DETROIT, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Manager George Moriarty of the Detroit Tigers has set for himself the task of attempting to make Harry Rice the greatest base runner in the American League.

Moriarty's hopes were confined to scribes at the Tiger training camp in San Antonio with the added information that Rice is proving an apt pupil.

Rice, who with Elam Vangilder, was obtained from the St. Louis Browns for Lou Blue and Heinie Manush, was on the field yesterday long after the finish of regular practice, drilling in starts and slides while Moriarty coached.

Chicago Teams Warm Up Under Southern Climate Influence

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Both major league entries of Chicago were in the training clime today. The Sox scheduled to begin their spring toil a few hours after arrival in Shreveport. All but six of the roster of 42 were to be gathered in Shreveport before nightfall, and these six will join the squad next week.

The Cubs cut practice, short both yesterday and today as owner Wrighley was host at the Uzundun-Godfrey boxing match at Los Angeles. All but one of the Cub squad accepted the invitation. Guy Bush said he would rather bag a few Catalina Island mountain goats.

Two teams of the Cubs went through a full battling practice before some June pitching yesterday, and "Kiki" Cuyler showed the greatest yardage of any of the sluggers.

HARGRAVE AGAIN MADE CAPTAIN OF THE REDS

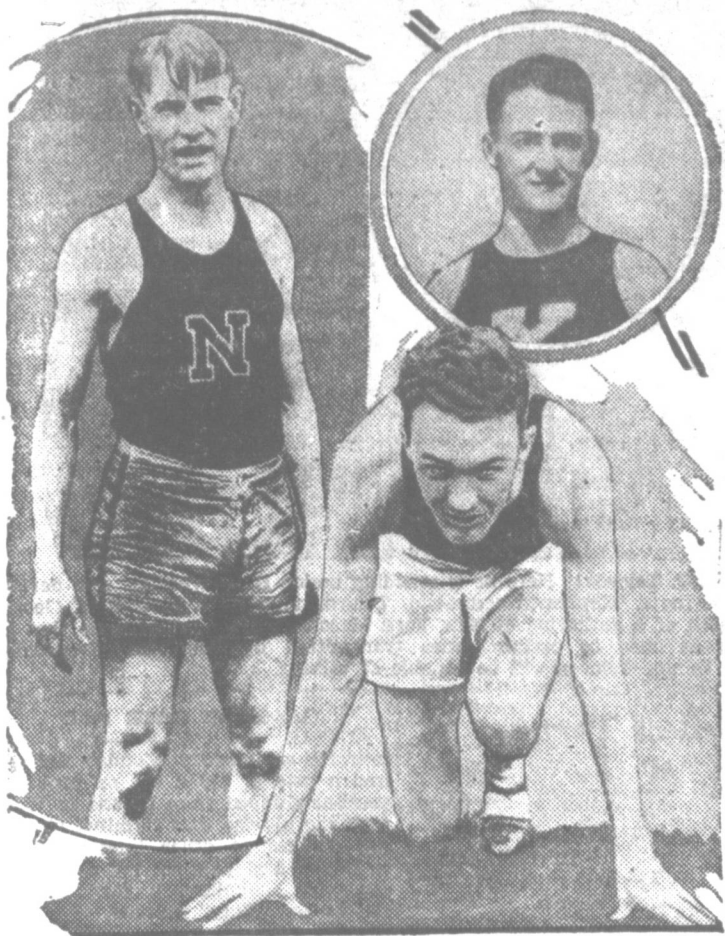

CINCINNATI, Feb. 29.—(AP)—As a reward for his good work as field leader of the Cincinnati Reds last year, Catcher Bubbles Hargrave has been reappointed captain of the team.

Manager Jack Hendricks announced Hargrave's appointment at the Reds spring training grounds at Orlando, Fla.

R. B. Yardon, with the Bank of Woodward, Woodward, Okla., was here on business Monday.

H. W. Johns left Monday for Clayton, N. M., where he will transact business.

Illinois-New York A. C. Rivalry To Be Renewed in National Title Meet

Roland Locke (left), brilliant Nebraska sprinter, will not be able to represent his new club, the New York A. C., in the indoor championships at New York, February 25, because he has not yet satisfied A. A. U. requirements as to residence. He will run unattached. Ray Conger (right), who recently defeated Peltzer, is one of the chief hopes of the Illinois A. C. which hopes to wrest the team title from the New York club. Sabin Carr (inset), of Yale, holder of the world's record for the pole vault, is one of many great athletes to be seen in action.

NEW YORK.—(AP)—With all the frill incident to a turnout of Olympic talent from the East and Middle West the old track and field feud between the Illinois and New York Athletic Clubs will flare up anew in the National A. A. U. indoor Championships in Madison Square Garden February 25.

Last year the New Yorkers wrested the team championship from the Illinois A. C. after the Chicago clan had won the title four successive years. Out to establish a winning streak or their own account as well as to settle a few additional scores with old rivals, the Mercury Footers have strengthened their squad of talent for the 1928 point struggle.

Roland Locke, famous Nebraska sprinter and world's record-holder in the 220-yard dash, is the latest to join the New York A. C., but he will not be eligible to represent the club because of a rule requiring four months residence in the district first. Locke who recently came east to train, will run unattached. If he finds the 160-yard sprint too short for his style, he may turn his attention with better results to the 300-yard dash. Such speed merchants as Frank Hussey and Jackson Scholz, the Olympic 200-meter champion, already are in the N. Y. A. C. fold.

Jole Ray's come-back, if he is in shape, may add spice to the indoor title battle, recalling some of the spirited struggles in the past between the New York and Chicago rivals.

Ray Conger, the National mile champion and conqueror of Dr. Otto Peltzer, is among the stars of the Illinois A. C. squad, while Harold Osborne, the Olympic high jump and decathlon champion, is just four years ago that he marks another step in his come-back.

Sabin Carr, of Yale, holder of the world's record for the pole vault, is expected to defend his indoor title, but participation of Lloyd Hahn, indoor champion at 1,000 yards, appears unlikely. Hahn planned to compete instead in the New England champion-

Three times, says Miss Elsie Pearl Trussett, livestock commission dealer of Kansas City, she has bought a seat in the Kansas City Livestock Exchange. ships in Boston the same day.

It was just four years ago that the Illinois and New York Athletic Clubs staged one of their bitterest battles for the indoor crown. The meet was not decided in the I. A. C.'s favor until the final event, the medley relay and in this the Chicagoans entered two teams, one of which was out-classed and served only to provide a row over alleged interference with the New York A. C. runners, while the other, anchored by Jole Ray, was triumphant. Ray Buker, a minister and later national mile champion, was the anchor on the second-string I. A. C. quartet and also the "goat," being accused of blocking the New York runner at a crucial stage of the race. Buker denied any ill-intent.

This particular meet ended in a near-riot among competitors and spectators and realized in A. A. U. legislation to prevent any club from entering thereafter more than one-team in a relay race.

Strangler Lewis to Meet Malcewicz in Title Match

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Ed (Strangler) Lewis will carry his world's heavyweight wrestling crown into a finish match here tonight with Joe Malcewicz of Utica.

In their last meeting at Tulsa, two years ago, the Utica panther lost to Lewis on a foul when he threw the Strangler out of the ring.

Tonight's match was arranged in conformity to a promise by the managers of Joe Stecher and Lewis that the winner of the recent St. Louis match would meet Malcewicz here. Immediately after defeating Stecher, Lewis went into training at his home here and will enter the ring weighing about 226 pounds, approximately 30 more than Malcewicz. Two falls out of three will decide the match.

Sam Jones Returns Contract; Gets One for less Money

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—(AP)—The annual last-minute contracts are trickling in to Clark Griffith at the Washington Senators' training quarters at Tampa, Fla., as the rookies go through limbering up exercises waiting for the ball field to be made ready.

"Sad Sam" Jones, veteran pitcher, has finally sent word that he is on the way to camp after having refused, it is said, a $10,000 offer and received in return a contract calling for less money. "Goose" Goslin, veteran left fielder, is said to have signed a one year contract representing a raise of $1,000 over his present salary, said to be $14,000.

This leaves only Joe Judge, first baseman, and Tommy Taylor, rookie outfielder, out of the fold. All regulars are due in Tampa Friday.

ZACH CHEERS TEAM

BOSTON, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Zach Taylor is on his way back to his old job as first string catcher of the Braves. That news cheered the spring training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., for Zach, although not the best catcher in the League, is a good steady player and a valuable man to handle young pitchers.

WALTER JOHNSON ILL

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 29.—(AP)—Advices have been received here that Walter Johnson, manager of the Newark International league team, will not be able to attend spring practice of the team at St. Augustine, Fla., for several days. Ill with influenza, he suffered a relapse two days ago and his physician had ordered him to stay away from the training grounds.

Charlie Todd "almost" did the impossible of the golf game Monday on the local course. On one shot he made the green and placed the ball within three feet of the hole. Andrews and Baldridge vouch for the statement, and then it took him two more puts to sink his shot. He is going out to the course all alone one of the days and practice "putting."

HUNTING PARTY CROSSES TEXAS-MEXICO BORDER

AUSTIN, Feb. 29.—(AP)—Telegrams of assurance that a hunting party which crossed the Texas-Mexico border will have no difficulties when it returns to this country were received Monday by Gov. Moody from Mexican Consul General Santibanez and Consul Penza.

The messages declared unfounded certain published reports about the affair.

Mr. Moody had wired the Mexican officials that the men who went across had invited him to attend but that he found himself unable to do so.

Dispatches from the border said the hunters were given official courtesies on the understanding that the governor would be among them.

George Godfrey Is Entitled to Claim Status as Heavy

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 29.—(AP)—George Godfrey today was established more firmly in the status that long has been claimed for him by his backers and admirers—a leading menace of the heavyweight division.

The giant negro last night clubbed and mauled his way to a referee's decision over Paulino Uzudun, the wood-chopping basque, here. But it was only after the squatty Spaniard, fighting for a shot at Gene Tunney's crown, had forced the big negro into giving his best to win.

It was a one-sided affair insofar as physical measurements were concerned. Godfrey, at 236 1-2 pounds, outweighed his stocky adversary by 44 pounds, towered over him by several inches, and outreached him by several more.

There were no knockdowns and at no time did either of the battlers appear in danger of a knockout.

The attendance at the fight set new marks in western boxing history. Official figures showed that 36,605 persons paid $125,191 to see the fight.

Paulino will receive $40,544.81 as his share of the gate, while $21,623.71 will go to Godfrey.

Monte's Manager Reports a Decision for Wildcat Monte

A story in the Amarillo Daily News yesterday morning headed "Monte Wins" and written under a "special" to the Amarillo Daily News" from Pampa, in which it stated that Wildcat Monte won a decision over Kid Granite in Pampa Monday night, was not sent to the News from Pampa nor by a representative of the Pampa Daily News.

The story in the Amarillo paper was given by Red Andrews, Wildcat Monte's manager, who was dissatisfied with the popular decision rendered here.

Broad Shoulders and Narrow Hips Return in Men's Clothing

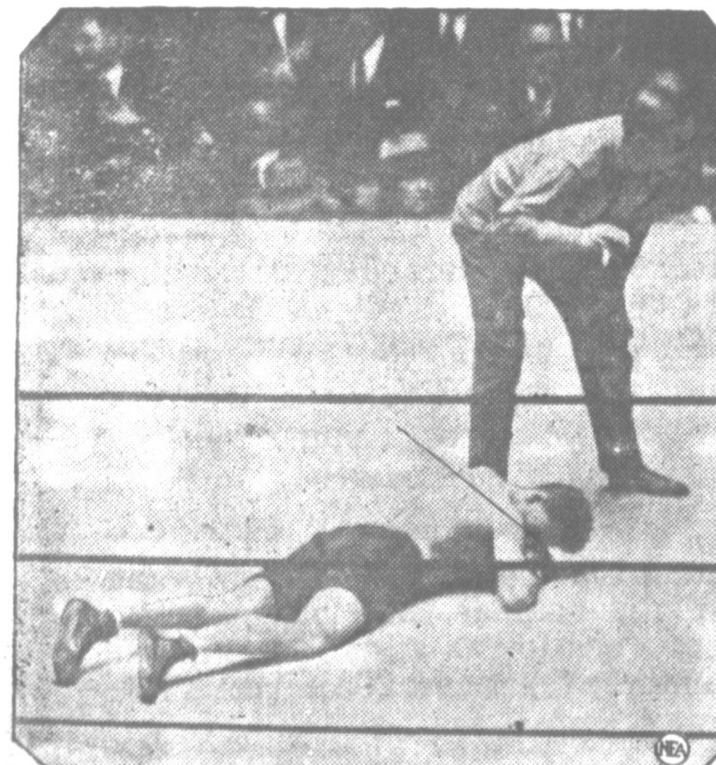

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—(AP)—That athletic-looking American of a decade ago, with broad shoulders and narrow hips, is about to return.

The New York Custom Cutters' club at its annual style show at the Hotel Commodore displayed the newest creations in men's apparel, featuring broad chests, narrow hips, wide lapels, longer coats and wider and shorter sleeves. Trousers, however, will hang straight with little change in width. The popular colors were grey and brown.

S. F. Hameed, owner of Hameed's Dry Goods Store here, returned Monday from Lamesa where he made arrangements to close his store and move the stock to his large Pampa store. Mr. Hameed will conduct an extensive sale here immediately to make room for his Lamesa stock.

Mrs. O. K. Baker left Monday for a visit with her parents in Woodward, Okla.

One Round, One Right, One Requiem

It didn't take long when Jimmy McLarnin, Irish lightweight, got to work on Sid Terris in their scheduled 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden, New York. A minute and 47 seconds after the fight started a right to Terris' jaw called forth Referee Jack O'Sullivan's requiem count, as pictured here.

Pyle's Marathon Runners Prepare for Start

This ought to convince the most skeptical that Mr. C. C. Pyle's go-as-you-can run from Los Angeles to New York, 3400 miles, will get started as planned on March 4. All entries in the race are given physical examinations, and our lower panel shows Promoter Pyle an interested spectator to the examination being given William C. Hart, a 65-year-old British veteran, by the camp doctor. The central panel gives a view of the runners hurrying out of their tents where they are living to the rigid training given daily. The top panel shows the runners at gymnastic drill. At the extreme right is shown Harold L. Johnson who walked from Detroit to Los Angeles to enter the race. Surely, it must be a great racket, this cross-country stuff!

Baptist Laymen Are Doing Good Work

The Laymen's Union of the Local Baptist church is making good headway, according to reports of the members. They have organized their men into groups with group captains for each. Each man has charge of ten men. The men have been and will continue to meet each week on Monday nights at 7:30 p. m. All the men of the church are members of the organization and are urged to attend these meetings and be fully acquainted with the work of the church. All men who attend the church services and the men's organization and are not members of the church may become associate members of the Laymen's organization.

The management of the "Crescent" theatre is announcing the engagement of the Pierce-Murdoch Players for next week.

This company is something more than a travelling road show; it is a dramatic stock company composed of stock players who have played long engagements in all of the larger cities of Texas. The comedian, Bobby Warren, holds the house record in Galveston of one hundred and twenty-nine consecutive weeks. The leading lady, Miss Bee Harris, has played three straight seasons in Austin. The leading man, Russell Murdoch, has played a season in Fort Worth, Austin and El Paso. The character comedian Al Pierce, has played a season in Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, and Austin.

Miss Sylvia Summers, the second business woman, played three years at Cycle Park, Dallas. The younger members of the company also have had city stock experience, the juvenile man, Ford Lane having just completed a season in Beaumont, which followed a long run at Waco. The ingenue, Miss Gladys Fry has played a season in Austin and one in Houston. The general business man, L. Werner Johnson, played San Antonio last winter.

This company is unusual in the fact that all are native Texans, with the exception of Mr. Murdoch, a graduate of Colorado Aggies. Mr. Murdoch says that two states claim him, Texas and Colorado. He says Texas claims that he came from Colorado and Colorado claims that he came from Texas. However, he is a Texan by adoption as he is buying a home in San Antonio. The company is presenting absolutely new, royalty plays, never before used in Pampa. They carry special scenery for some of their plays. The show also has a four-piece jazz band which works on the stage as a vaudeville act. The company uses plenty of singing, dancing, talking, and musical specialties between the acts. The opening play, "Polecat Perkins," is a semi-western classic comedy which is a laugh from start to finish. Two cowboys leave Arizona and journey to Chicago to mix in society and claim a fortune left to a man by the name of Perkins. This opening play is a sure cure for the blues as it averages hearty laughter a minute throughout the play. The Pierce-Murdoch Players open their stay in Pampa Monday March 5, changing the play every day and playing two shows a day, a matinee at 3:30 and the night show at 8:30.

against war but at the first call of Old Glory they would be the first to answer the call. He also paid a tribute to Florence Nightingale and the high ideals of the American Legion.

"In this new home I do not see a recreation room but an ideal and one which should be looked up to," Rev. Todd said. He touched on the Nicaraguan question, declaring that the Marines should be withdrawn and that pressure should be brought to bear upon the Congressmen of the United States to have them withdrawn.

Mayor T. D. Hobart spoke of his appreciation of the American Legion and the good work the organization does in a city. He stated that he remembered when the Blue and the Gray met and then gave way to the khaki.

The musical program included violin solos by Mrs. J. T. Morrow and by Prof. Otto Schick, who featured "Felix" composed by Hugh McSkimming, who was at the piano for Prof. Schick. Mrs. R. A. Webb, Mrs. R. R. Fisher the vocal soloists, featured the new Schick songs.

On arriving at LeFors it was found that an error had been made in some of the papers, and I had to motor back to Pampa, have the error corrected, and return to the county seat for my tags. If that isn't reason enough to move the court house to Pampa you have to show me."
