Austria Listens To 'Master's Voice'

A significant moment in Europe's post-war history. The photo shows Adolf Hitler addressing the Viennese, after his triumphant arrival as the conqueror of Austria. Standing (back to camera, before rostrum) on a balcony of the Imperial Palace of the Hapsburgs, facing the packed multitude of 200,000 who came to hear him, Hitler cried out: "I declare to history the entrance of my native land into the German Reich. Hall, victory!"

Shakespeare is coming to Pampa for the first time on April 19.

The first presentation of Shakespeare ever to be given in this city by any group will be sponsored by the high school at the auditorium. "The Merchant of Venice" will be presented in a matinee performance at 1:45 p. m., and Shakespeare's greatest tragedy "Hamlet," will be the night attraction at 8 o'clock.

The plays will be presented by the well-known stock company of James Hendrickson, Claire Bruce and group of Shakespearean players, New York. The Hendrickson, Bruce company was organized 11 years ago and has successfully toured the north and east since that time.

The cast includes many names that are familiar to New York playgoers, and includes the following players: John Burke, Vincent Copeland, Jeanne Lester, Nathaniel Weyen, Athena Lord, Chris Lang, Edward Kandel, Robert Gale and Martin Wells.

The company will present Shakespeare plays at Wichita Falls high school, Amarillo Junior college, Hardin-Simmons university, and at no other town in the Panhandle or West Texas.

Admission prices for the matinee will be 35 cents for adults and 25 cents for students; for "Hamlet," 50 cents for students and $1 for adults. Students of Pampa high school and surrounding high schools may buy combination tickets good for both performances at 60 cents each.

BORGAN CHARGED WITH PERJURY AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN, March 24 (AP)—C. E. Ruby of Borger stood charged with perjury in a justice of the peace court here today in a complaint brought by C. A. Paxton, chief supervisor for the state liquor control board.

The complaint alleged Ruby swore falsely in application for beer dealers' permits. The matter probably will be acted on by a Travis county grand jury in April.

PROFITS LEVY KNOCKED OUT

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—The Senate Finance committee eliminated the undistributed profits tax today from the house-approved tax revision bill and substituted a flat rate of 18 percent on corporation incomes.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the committee said treasury estimates showed the change would provide almost $100,000,000 more revenue than the house bill.

A committee vote to strike out the controversial undistributed profits levy was 17 to 4, with Senators Barkley (D-KY), Connally (D-Tex), Bulkey (D-Ohio) and LaFollette (P-Wis) voting in opposition.

Harrison and all the remainder of the committee lined up in favor of repeal.

Under the senate-approved plan, the house provision for a four percent undistributed profits levy on corporations with annual net incomes of more than $25,000 would be eliminated and a flat 18 percent rate on corporation income substituted.

The house provided a sliding scale of rates from 16 to 20 percent, the

$5,100 RAISED IN BOY SCOUT MONEY DRIVE

The Boy Scout movement will live, and on a much larger scale than ever before, Pampans have assured its leaders by oversubscribing the Pampa quota, more than $1,000. Up to this morning cash and pledges received totaled $5,100 and pledges are still being received.

That amount of money has been raised by workers since January 1. The drive proper lasted a little more than two weeks and the quota was raised. R. G. Hughes and M. A. Graham were directors of the drive with nearly 100 local men working.

Of the amount subscribed, nearly $4,000 was received in cash, the balance in pledges. The wonderful response will mean an even greater program than outlined which was the increased number of Scouts and an advanced program.

During the past three weeks, six new troops have been organized in the council. Several cubbing packs have been started and the Boy Scout program is away to a good start.

PETER LEVINE ADDED TO 'MISSING PERSONS'

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Metropolitan New York, "The Port of Missing Men," today had added the name of a 12-year-old boy to its sinister roster of those who can be called neither the dead nor the living—only the "missing."

Four weeks to a day have elapsed since Peter Levine, full of boyish zest for life, waved a casual goodbye to a schoolmate on the streets of suburban New Rochelle and said:

"I'm going to the hardware across the street."

Nothing has been seen publicly of him since.

It was like that, less than a year ago, when Mrs. Alice McDonnell Parsons, 38-year-old Long Island society woman, was kidnaped from her Stony Brook home.

Victims of the most poignant of human tragedies, their families may never know what happened to them.

Murray Levine, father of the New Rochelle boy, is convinced his son was snatched by kidnapers and he is prepared—desperately eager, in fact—to pay $30,000 for his return.

HUMBLE STATIONS AT CORPUS BEING PICKETED

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 24 (AP)—All service stations of the Humble Oil & Refining company, in Corpus Christi were being picketed today as the result of the refinery at Ingleside letting a contract to an out of state building firm which Barney Medus, spokesman for the Corpus Christi Trades council, said was not paying union wages.

Picketing started this morning and Medus said building trades unions in Houston and other Texas cities had been requested to picket Humble property.

A National Labor Relations board now sitting at Baytown will be asked to conduct an investigation at Ingleside.

HIT-AND-RUN DRIVER DAMAGES THREE CARS

Three cars, parked in the 300 block of West Foster avenue, were damaged this morning about 7 o'clock when a machine, driven by an unknown person who failed to stop, crashed into one of the parked cars, causing it to skid into another which in turn crashed into a third parked car.

Bent fenders, bent and locked bumpers resulted from the crash and it was more than an hour before cars could be untangled. Police, called to investigate, had found no eye witnesses up to early afternoon.

Policeman Shoots Wrong Guy—Again; The Thief Escapes

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 24 (AP)—Paperhanger Albert Muthler, 25, has two arms, but, he said today, he couldn't have had a busier or more breathless night if he'd been the one-armed hanger with the hives.

Muthler was hanging paper by a light on an electric extension cord when a fleeing automobile thief, pursued by two pistol shooting policemen, burst into the house and tripped over the extension cord.

The light bulb smashed, plunging the room into darkness. Its explosion sounded like another shot to Muthler, and he broke into a sprint he couldn't stop even after the policemen cried halt and fired twice at his shadowy figure.

Muthler had a .38 calibre bullet in his left knee when the pursuing officers found him hiding under a bed in a nearby second-hand furniture store.

The thief escaped.

JAP PREDICTS NAVY CONFLICT

TOKYO, March 24 (AP)—A Japanese navy spokesman said today he believed the U. S. navy's $1,121,000,000 expansion bill shows the United States is considering naval operations against Japan.

The spokesman, speaking at a press conference, said "my own view is that if Americans are not thinking of overseas operations they would not need a fleet of that size. Nor do I believe the object of American operations could be any other than Japan."

Self defense still is the basic principle underlying Japan's plans, he added, but he noted "with increasing interest in the U. S. Subsequently he asserted the United States has no alliances, foreign commitments or understandings regarding assistance to be given or received in defending the United States or defending any other nation.

Admiral Leahy chief of naval operations, told the house naval committee February 4 that the navy at present was incapable of defending both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts at the same time. Subsequently he asserted the United States has no alliances, foreign commitments or understandings regarding assistance to be given or received in defending the United States or defending any other nation.

Credence was placed in American denials that cooperation exists between the United States and Great Britain, but the spokesman added:

"Personally, I think they have something like a common understanding which does not go to the extent of cooperation."

Reports that 1938 U. S. navy war games would extend to near the borders of Japanese mandated islands in the Pacific, drew from the naval representative the remark:

"It is unbelievable the Americans would come so near."

PLANS FOR GRANDSTAND SENT TO SAN ANTONIO

Plans for a steel grandstand at Recreational park, recently submitted to Works Progress Administration headquarters in San Angelo, have been returned, revised and re-submitted, according to City Manager C. L. Stine.

Yesterday A. A. Meredith, district supervisor of WPA out of Amarillo, George Lader, director of operations, and Engineer Caldwell visited here, bringing with them the rejected plans. Disagreement in plans was the bracing which was changed to comply with the WPA recommendation, City Manager Stine said.

The revised plans were mailed to San Antonio this morning and a favorable report is expected soon.

Mayor's Cage For Drunks Will Be Used Saturday

WOBURN, Mass., March 24 (AP)—A trailer license and Mayor William Kane's long-planned "lion's cage for drunks" will be ready to tow Woburn inebriates through the streets on exhibition.

The crash of a bottle of mineral water against the steel sides of the mayor's tippers' taxi christened the red-wheeled chariot last night.

Mayor Kane, a former marine, announced he was ready to stage his projected Saturday night display of inebriates as soon as the cage is licensed by the Massachusetts motor vehicle registry.

600 Delegates Here As District Baptist Convention Convenes

Christianity's dual nature and the type of Christianity that means the most to the individual and to the world, was stressed in an address by Dr. T. C. Gardner of Dallas, state director of the Baptist Training Union, as a two-day District 10 Baptist convention opened this morning at the First Baptist church.

A check revealed 600 out-of-town delegates had registered early this morning. The morning session was a general meeting with J. William Mason of Memphis presiding. W. M. U. conferences were the main part of the afternoon's program, with B. T. U. conferences scheduled for this evening.

Dr. Gardner's address was delivered at 10:10 a. m. and was broadcast over KPDM.

"There are two sides to Christianity," Dr. Gardner said in his introductory remarks. "Christianity has two sides one to get, one to give, one to receive, the other to reflect, one to save and one to share."

"Texas Baptists numbering 650,000 believe that there are not two ways, but one way to be saved and that one way is to believe on our Lord Jesus Christ with all our hearts, minds, and souls.

What Baptist Believe "Texas Baptists believe in what is often heartfelt religion; that one must be born again in order to be genuinely saved."

"We believe that the Christians who love Christ most will seek all along the way to learn of him and

J. C. McKenzie of Amarillo, district missionary, one of the district officials attending the District 10 Baptist convention in Pampa, which opened today, will deliver an address at 11:25 a. m. tomorrow. Sessions are being held at the First Baptist church.

Mexican Gold Reputed to Be Buried Near Dam Site

Will prospectors' songs be sung as workers build a dam eight miles northwest of Alamogordo?

Lyrics of the seekers of hidden treasure may not be inappropriate for news that a dam is to be built on the location has revived stories here on a great amount of money buried along the banks of McClellan creek.

Back in 1910-15, there were several straggling prospectors who dug along the banks and in the creek bed in the vicinity of the present dam.

Each claimed to have a map that would lead them right to the hidden gold, and each was cautious in saying much of what they were doing to anyone who inquired.

The hidden treasure, according to legend, is supposed to have come from one of three sources: from a group of Mexican soldiers who buried the gold taken from Mexico; by train robbers; or even by some of Coronado's men in the sixteenth century.

John B. Hessey of Pampa recalls that as a boy he was often on the site of the dam. He remembered that Marvin Hill had found five or six pesos, in that locality. The Hill home is in the vicinity of the proposed dam, and Mr. Hessey said Mr. Hill, he believed, might still have possession of the coins he found as a boy.

Mr. Hessey said he did not remember finding any Indian burial ground, although Judge J. A. Mead has in his museum at Miami, the skeleton of an Indian dug up near the dam head, and presented to Judge Mead by C. E. Cary.

The skeleton of the Indian indicates that the redman was one who

ENGLAND WILL HELP FRANCE BRITON SAYS

LONDON, March 24 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today refused to give Czechoslovakia "a prior guarantee" of immediate armed help against German aggression, but he warned Adolf Hitler that a middle European war would drag in other powers.

"Where peace and war are concerned," he told a packed, intent house of commons, "legal obligations are not alone involved, and if war broke out it would be unlikely to be confined to those who have assumed such obligations."

"It would be impossible to say where it would end and what governments might become involved."

"This is especially true of two countries like Britain and France . . . devoted to the same ideals of democratic liberty and determined to uphold them."

Chamberlain spoke 57 minutes in presenting his anxiously awaited statement of foreign policy, the most important such declaration by a British prime minister since the world war.

During most of his speech Chamberlain leaned his left elbow on the famous dispatch box used by Disraeli, Gladstone and other prime ministers.

To Uphold Treaties He promised Britain would send the new arms she was forging into battle to uphold the treaties she already has, notably those for aid to France and Belgium, and to protect her vital interests.

He urged solution of the problems between Hitler's expanded Germany and Czechoslovakia. He insisted there still were prospects for success in his bargaining with Italy's Mussolini.

But he said Britain must strive for peace, "because we know that in war there are no winners."

Voicing the views of the Labor party and others in the opposition that Britain should take a firmer line against Europe's dictators, Clement R. Attlee, opposition leader, followed Chamberlain.

"Chamberlain has yielded to force," he declared. "He has left us and the world in the 1914 situation."

"There is nothing so dangerous as a policy of weakness, drift and uncertainty."

"The prime minister does not seem to realize the full gravity of the situation and the need for positive, not mere negative action."

Attlee said he was shocked by

CITY ORDERS 50 ELMS FOR PARKS, BOULEVARDS

The city has ordered 50 Chinese elm trees to replace those broken or destroyed in city parks and boulevards, City Manager C. L. Stine reported today. Also, 1,000 seedlings have been purchased and will be set out.

"In a couple of years the seedlings will be large enough to set out which will mean a great saving," the city manager said.

Work on the city water wells is progressing rapidly and all wells will be back in operation soon after being treated with acid, cleaned out and new bowls installed. The elevated storage tank at the rear of the city fire station will be ready for use in a few days after being cleaned, scraped, repaired and painted.

COURTHOUSE LAWN IS FISHERMAN'S PARADISE

Bringing out his sure proof of spring, Lee Harris this morning dug up several bucketfuls of worms while he was at work on the courthouse lawn.

It wasn't long before Sheriff Earl Talley, Deputies Buford Reed and O. T. Lindsey were gathering around the sidewalk edge into buckets.

Worms not only came forth from the fresh-turned earth, but were also seen crawling through the grass.

15TH U. S. INFANTRY HOME AFTER 26 YEARS

TACOMA, Wash., March 24 (AP)—The fifteenth United States infantry regiment was on American soil today for the first time since 1911.

The regiment came home from its 26 years of patrol duty in China yesterday on the army transport U. S. Grant. The 800 officers and men and nearly that many women and children commenced early today taking prized Oriental possessions through customs in preparation for a permanent stay at nearby Ft. Lewis.

The first question asked by returning soldiers came from a crowded deck.

"How much," said a husky voice, "do they get for beer in this town?"

FDR SEEKS PLANS TO FINANCE BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today President Roosevelt had asked a committee of high federal officials to prepare a program of financial aid to business.

The treasury head, who is chairman of the committee, said the group would "go over various suggestions for loans to industry, including small business, and try to put something together that is constructive."

He added that he felt there was a real need for expanded financing, particularly of small business, but added he did not know whether the government could do anything about it.

One of the first things that the committee will study, he said, is the ability of private institutions to furnish such financing.

With Morgenthau on the committee are James Roosevelt, son and secretary of the President; Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction finance corporation; Vice Chairman Ronald Ransom of the Federal Reserve board, and Chairman O. Douglas, chairman of the securities commission.

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Stocks regained some of their recent losses in today's market after an early dip had landed many leaders in new low territory for the past two years or longer.

Closing advances were largely confined to fractions, although a few dismally managed to work higher at the finish. Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

COTTON PRODUCTION IN CHINA WORRIES U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Bureau of agricultural economics officials said today a continuation of China's policy of encouraging her farmers to expand their cotton acreages might make further inroads on the Oriental market for American cotton.

In an analysis of the cotton industry in China, the bureau reported that production had increased more than a million bales during the past five years.

Pointing out that China formerly imported raw cotton to supply domestic needs, the bureau said that during the last two years shipments of cotton, cloth and raw cotton into the Oriental nation had virtually ceased.

"A continuation of the government's cotton improvement work appears likely, once the current conflict in China is ended," the bureau said.

The bureau said increased production of Chinese cotton would supplement a certain amount of American cotton and possibly a larger amount of Indian cotton.

SENATE FACES CRUCIAL TEST

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—A stubbornly-fought administration proposal for a new federal accounting system provided the final test of strength today in the senate's long battle over government reorganization.

Other ways must be found to solve the problem of mob violence.

Mr. Roosevelt's speech yesterday at Gainesville, Ga., in which he said wages in the South were "far too low," was acclaimed by his supporters as presaging a new campaign for enactment of a wage-hour bill. A house subcommittee is studying a substitute for the measure sidetracked last winter.

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) said he could agree with the President's statement that a "selfish minority" was retarding progress, but he added:

"I would identify these few as the topmost managers of the Roosevelt administration, who decline to recognize their own mistakes and persist in trying to treat a sore head with a hammer."

The opposing factions agreed to vote today on killing a provision that would divide the comptroller general's duties between the budget director and a new auditor general.

Supporters of the present system, who termed the comptroller general a "watchdog" for congress, conceded they had little chance of victory.

Foes of the legislation, however, forecast last-minute support from some southern senators. The President told his press conference Tuesday that if the senate would not act on the anti-lynching legislation,

FOR READS EDITORIALS ON WAGE HIKE SPEECH

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt, established at a vacation retreat here, today read editorial and congressional reaction to his outspoken "enemy stronghold" plea for higher wages in southern industries.

Seated in his White House cottage among the trees on Pine mountain, he called for newspapers of the "lower south," where opposition to his wage-hour bill has centered and whose industries, he declared at Gainesville, Ga., yesterday, are paying their workers wages that are "far too low."

He placed his opponents in and out of congress in the same category with "feudal" overlords and inferentially prophesied those who "opposed progress" would fail to meet the test in the fall elections.

To a throng massed in Gainesville's new civic center and in congressional wage bill opponents seated on the same platform with him he said bluntly:

"To those in and out of public office, who still believe in the feudal system—and believe in it honestly—the people of the United States and in every section of the United States are going to say 'we are sorry, but we want people to represent us whose minds are cast in the 1938 mould and not in the 1899 mould!'"

NORRIS URGES SENATE INVESTIGATION OF TVA

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—Senator Norris, Independent, Neb., insisted today on immediate approval of a senate investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority, but both administration leaders and TVA critics were opposing his procedure.

Democratic Leader Barkley declared the inquiry should be continued until $50,000 for expenses is available.

Senators King, Democrat, Utah, and Bridges, Republican, N. H., outspoken critics of the TVA, wanted to write into the resolution a long list of specific charges against TVA administration.

The senate audit committee approved the Norris resolution, which would provide $50,000 for expenses of the investigating committee. Its presentation to the senate this afternoon was expected to precipitate a new round of hot debate over President Roosevelt's ouster of TVA Chairman A. E. Morgan.

This was the subject of two resolutions drawn, but not yet introduced, by Bridges. One proposed that the senate censure the chief executive, and the other called for the removal of Directors H. A. Morgan, the new chairman, and David E. Lilienthal.

Bridges said he was undecided whether to put the resolutions before the senate, although yesterday he told the senate that Morgan's removal amounted to "convicting an innocent man without a fair trial."

"To be fair," he said, "congress should proceed at once to remove the other directors or suspend them."

Blizzards Ravage California Region

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24 (AP)—Northern California's highest storm interfered with rail and highway travel and communications today and threatened to isolate the counties of the redwood empire region from the rest of the state.

Blizzards reared in the mountains. Rain fell in the lowlands. Great winds battered the coast.

Sixty-five miles of the redwood highway between San Francisco and Eureka were closed last night by slides and fallen trees.

A continuous series of storms during the past 60 days have brought Eureka's seasonal rainfall to more than 53 inches. The normal at this date is 32.53.

The Sacramento, San Joaquin, and Eel rivers threatened floods in northern California.

BLADDERWORT MAY BE NEMESIS FOR SKEETERS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 24 (AP)—Meet Mr. Bladderwort! He comes from the Chicago district.

He is a plant. You know, like spinach. Only he grows under water, has tender green foliage, and shoots out little yellow flowers to the surface.

Mr. Bladderwort has no roots. He doesn't need them. He eats whirligig beetles, dragon fly nymphs, the predacious diving beetle—and mosquito larvae.

That sounds awful, but he's only living up to his family name—urticularia vulgaris.

J. Lyell Clarke, sanitary engineer of Oak Park, Ill., told the New Jersey Mosquito Control Association today that Mr. Bladderwort might be the great white hope of New Jersey, whose tri-motored, double-acting, compound skeeters have made it famous the world over.

He placed a bladderwort plant in a glass bowl containing 1,800 small mosquito larvae, and Mr. Bladderwort permitted only three to escape alive.

The baby mosquitos dive down to the plant for a bite to eat and get caught in Mr. Bladderwort's clutches.

FLOCK OF MOVIE STARS BECOME SUDDENLY ILL

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 24 (AP)—Illness suddenly cut a swath in movietown today.

No. 1 victim was John Barrymore, who collapsed at Balboa during the filming of "Spawn of the North."

Ann Sheridan, petite actress, suffered a relapse from a recent tonsillectomy and was ordered home from her studio to rest for at least two weeks.

Joseph Schildkraut, who has a character role in "Marie Antoinette," was confined to his home by an attack of influenza.

Blond Joan Bennett's health remained at par but she nursed today a facial cut she suffered in a movie mob scene. She was being carried out of a fight in "The Texans" by Hero Randolph Scott when a soldier-extra's bayonet grazed her face.

FARMER WHO PREACHED OWN FUNERAL, BRASS

COATESVILLE, Ind., March 24 (AP)—Wade Millman, 89-year-old farmer who "preached" his own funeral sermon to a curious crowd of 5,000 last spring, is "just too darned busy to die," he said today.

"I'm still a game old devil," he told a reporter who found him busily reading a pile of fan mail in the shade of an elm tree on his farm near Coatesville.

"I ain't dead yet. I'm just too darned busy to die."

A lot of his mail comes from women, he explained.

"They either want to marry me, or work for me," he said.

Millman's wife died shortly before he gave his funeral sermon. Lately he has been doing his own housework, making his bed, cooking his meals and doing the "straightenin' up."

Variouly shaping his home-made walking stick, the grizzled old farmer declared:

"Why, young feller, I ain't agoin' to die no long time. My old dad lived to be 102. My sister is 96. I weigh 182 pounds. I'm never sick. Never felt better for years. My hearing may be bad, my right eye may not be so good, but I ain't no fool by a long ways."

BUSINESS MAP SHOWS ENCOURAGING GAINS

AUSTIN, March 24 (AP)—The Texas business map exhibited some encouraging spots in February.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported today employment and payroll, electric power consumption, dairy products and department store sales continued encouraging trends.

Employment dropped 9 per cent under January but the 107,644 workers were 2.3 per cent more than in February last year. They received $2,657,394 weekly, or 2 per cent more than in February, 1937.

Amarillo, Austin, El Paso, Galveston and Houston showed greater than average gains.

Butter, cheese and ice cream production made substantial gains over February, 1937. No comparison with January was reported.

Ablene, Houston, Lubbock and Fort Arthur exceeded the state average in department store sales which slumped 5.8 under January but were 3.6 per cent above February, 1937.

TODAY'S SERMONETTE

The hardest virtue for man to exercise is forgiveness, complete forgiveness. Often you hear men say, "I can forgive but not forget; or again, I forgive him once but he persists, and I can forgive him no more. But the Savior, when asked how often to forgive, said, "I say not unto thee, until seven times, but until seventy times seven."—Chivers.

WELCOME BAPTISTS

Pampa, through its First Baptist church is happy to be host today and tomorrow to visiting Baptists from District 10 in the Panhandle. Pampa wishes the visitors to make themselves at home and to accept the hospitality of The Friendly City.

Much credit is due to the Rev. C. Gordon Bayless, pastor of the Pampa church, and to workers of the church who have spent many days and nights recently working on plans for the convention which today had attracted a total attendance of 1,000 persons.

The city as a whole derives many moral and religious benefits from conventions of this type. The Baptist district convention here is a distinct contribution to Pampa's church life.

ADDING MORE FUEL TO A HOT ARGUMENT

One of the controversies people can become rather bitter about these days is whether women should hold jobs that otherwise might go to unemployed men. The so-called recession has fed the arguments and the ultimate of something or other was reached when Mrs. Elsie Fern, a mid-western housewife, filed incorporation papers for her "Employment Reform Association."

The city as a whole derives many moral and religious benefits from conventions of this type. The Baptist district convention here is a distinct contribution to Pampa's church life.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

WASHINGTON, Marc 24—Some Washingtonians with long memories have no trouble recalling the time a few years ago when Mr. Richard Whitney was telling congressional committees about the New York Stock Exchange's right to self-regulation and its ability to protect investors from dishonest practices.

That was when Mr. Whitney was president of the exchange, long before he had been fingerprinted and had pleaded guilty to charges of first degree larceny. Congress disregarded Mr. Whitney and created the Securities and Exchange Commission with powers much larger than Mr. Whitney and his associates desired it to have.

"We have brought this country to its standing in the world by speculation," testified Mr. Whitney before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee. "I claim that this country has been built by speculation, and further progress must be in that line."

It was Mr. Whitney's unfortunate speculations which led him to the hoosegow door.

The major political parties have no hand book on "How to Organize and Conduct a Local Political Campaign." Their politicians know all about that from experiences. Labor's Non-partisan League is in the nature of a new political party and it has just published such a pamphlet as a necessity for local groups.

Learning a lesson from such defeats as that of the C. I. O. municipal ticket in Detroit, labor political strategists emphasize necessity of "winning a majority of the electorate to an understanding that labor is genuinely interested in the welfare of the community as a whole."

Since organized labor is seldom a numerical majority in any community, to win it must have support from other elements in the population. It is not difficult to demonstrate that the interests of the so-called middle class voters: professionals, small merchants, etc., are, on analysis, identical with those of organized labor. The issue in broad terms, should be stated in terms of progressive and efficient government."

The leagues gives specifications for questionnaires for candidates, publicity campaigns, radio arrangements, speakers' bureaus, literature, advertising, organization of ward and precinct workers with card index systems of voters, electioneering, rallies and parades. Automobiles to take workers to polls and light meals to be served by women for polling booth watchers are among the many items recommended.

"Make your calls at convenient hours for householders," house-to-house canvassers are advised. "Never bother housewives early in the morning. For women, the best hours are from 1:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. and for men, 6:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. Avoid meal times. Use women as well as men canvassers for this work."

Several Pampa citizens who rose early were startled by a meteor which turned darkness into blue-white illumination.

Three sections of the athletic department of Gray County Interscholastic meet were to be held in Pampa when playgrounds, and volleyball were to be played here.

Tex's Topics

I like this little yarn, taken from the Winston-Salem, N. C. Twin City Sentinel:

"How can I stop my daughter from wearing slacks?" asks a distressed mother. (1) Have her face north. (2) Stamp several paces south of her with a candid camera. (3) Take her picture. (4) Have the film developed. (5) Show her the picture—and, if that doesn't get results, nothing will."

Out at the house, we have just found out how to fool the Boy Wonder into eating even the most distasteful, but necessary, foods for youngsters. All that is necessary is for his mother or me to make a general inference that whatever is on his dish at the table, looks powerfully like candy. Mind you, now—we do not, come right out and say that it's candy, we just drop the hint that it looks like candy—and he licks the platter clean, nine time out of ten. There is no charge to parents for this tip, and the idea is not patented nor copyrighted.

Department of Agriculture officials, directing the plans for beginning of work at Gray county's dam site on McClellan Creek, make it very, very definite that there will be absolutely no applications for jobs taken on the scene of the project. I'm making this note here in the hope that it will save would-be applicants from a useless trip out to the scene of operations. It will be a rigid rule to which there will be no exceptions. You cannot get a job by applying at the dam site. In fact it will hinder your chances to go out there, for in the time that you lose that way, you can get your application in at the proper place.

Incidentally, persons who are on relief will get the first calls on this job. Names of eligible workers will be certified to the job from WPA district offices in Amarillo. Gray county residents, of course, will get the first chance to work on the project. When relief rolls are exhausted, it will be necessary then to turn to the non-relief applicants' names listed with the proper authorities.

Lonnie Hood, SES manager in Pampa, and his office staff were swamped plenty yesterday when between 200 and 300 persons made applications for jobs at City Hall and were then told to register with the State office.

The traffic got so heavy in Hood's office that it became necessary to make appointments to interview the applicants and the interviewing time for the rest of this week and three or four days of next week already has been taken up. However, don't forget—you can't get a job on the Gray county lake project by going down to the lake site.

National Self-Sufficiency In Russia

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Without any wish to be unfair to Hawaiian dancers now in New York I must express the opinion that the hula is not the same since Meymo Holt went back to Honolulu.

Meymo had a lot to do with New York's fetish for softly twanging steel guitars, frosted drinks in coconut shells, and swaying grass-skirts. It took her just one performance to become a sensation in New York. Rival impresarios, catching a glimpse of her languorous dancing and seeing what she did to her bewitched audiences, hurried back to their offices with plans for entertainment of a similar nature.

But while there were plenty of palm leaves to go around, there was only one Meymo. And so none of the rival Hawaiian pleases "caught on," as they say on the Rialto. All of us attended each opening with the proper enthusiasm, perfectly willing to be shown, but after a few minutes we usually retrieved our bonnets and wandered back over to the Lexington.

What was it that Meymo had? Don't ask me I know little about the finer points of any type of dancing. But I can tell you this: a dancer's first duty to her public is to bewitch and to fascinate. And to Meymo this was like eating her favorite kind of pie.

She had, after all, a languorous grace that comes with 88 pounds of "island girl." When you went to other places you heard people say: "This girl is nice, she is pretty—but I prefer Meymo."

It has been this way ever since Meymo went back to Honolulu. And I suppose it is unfair. There are other good dancers here. But once you've seen Meymo dance you get choosy. After Ina Claire or Helen Hayes it isn't easy to sit in on a production with anything less and come away satisfied.

One undeniable advantage Meymo enjoyed was the presence of Ray Kennedy, a marvelous baritone who sang the native songs which Meymo translated with her dancing. Ray was one of those rare entertainers, a star unaffected by temperament and he was as much fun in a poker game as at the "mike." He has kissed the Blarney stone, for something of County Slingo is fused with his island blood.

As for Meymo, whose name rambles on and on for 23 syllables, and means freely translated, something like "The sweet-spirit-of-the-Heavly-Rains-in-high-bowers." She is a college lass, has a noted football-playing brother, and speaks English with the meticulous perfection. She too, is but part "Island," the rest of her genealogy having to do, like the Seven Years War with the English and the French.

Meanwhile the French are still strutting and the little grass skirt remains the symbol of Manhattan's after dark entertainment. But New York won't be Hawaii until Meymo, a sprig of ginger between her teeth, deserts her island in the Pacific for the one we call Manhattan.

HAIR-LINE ACCURACY

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—The weather bureau office here is having blond trouble.

Charles D. Reed, government meteorologist, said a hydro-thermograph, whose mechanism includes a hair from the head of a blond woman, has been none too accurate.

He explained that science had found nothing more effective for measuring humidity than a blond hair.

"This one is too fickle," Reed complained.

People You Know

By JANE ROBINSON

(One of the theme assignments in Mr. Anna Louise Jones' English classes this semester was a "People You Know," written in this one's style. I wish to thank Miss Jones for the opportunity of publishing the best of them in this space. I especially appreciate the vacation. The young authors range from first-half sophomores to last-half juniors. The themes will not appear in the order of their ranking.)

A neighbor of mine (Yes, one of the jolliest, best-natured and most sincere women I think it has been my pleasure to meet. Her brown eyes fairly sparkle with humor and happiness. She is sympathetic at all times and always ready to lend a helping hand; but most of all she never fails to give you a boost upward with her merry jokes.

Whenever I go, and I never fail to come away feeling much better than when I went.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M. D.

Your Money's Worth

During April the National Tuberculosis association and its 2,000 state and local branches will conduct an early-diagnosis campaign against tuberculosis.

The public responded generously to the association's Christmas seal fund campaign. Now it will reap the benefit.

In many communities the lessons of good health will be taught to practically all age groups, in ways most suitable for each. In addition, an intensified effort will be made to discover and bring under treatment unsuspected cases of tuberculosis.

Many people consider tuberculosis a conquered plague. Mastered it is, but not conquered. Tuberculosis remains one of the most important causes of disability and death among those of the 25-40 age group. Socially and economically it is the most costly disease.

Apart however from the great good to be gained in the discovery of cases of early tuberculosis there is an even wider benefit to be derived from the early diagnosis campaign. It will teach hundreds of thousands how they may, and why they should, conserve their health.

For good health is important in the prevention of tuberculosis.

In some diseases the responsible germ appears to be the major, if not the only significant factor. In syphilis, for example, so far as we know, the state of health of the exposed individual does not affect the issue of the infection.

In tuberculosis however we do know that an individual may become infected, that is, may harbor

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The colony's getting to be a real family-minded place, even on the screen.

Several studios, after looking at what "The Jones Family" has done for 20th Century-Fox, already have chimed in with parallel fire-side groups. And before long we expect all the lots to have their individual version of those versatile, problem-bet-Joneses.

M-G-M is offering the Hardys, who made their bow in "A Family Affair," continued their adventures in "You're Only Young Once," and currently are in the throes of a new one called "Judge Hardy's Children." Like the Joneses, the Hardys "just growed" as a film perennial.

The first one was intended to be a program-filler, but it clicked, and the second did better. Now the studio plans a series of 12 features with the same characters—Lewis Stone as the judge, and Mickey Rooney, Cecilia Parker, Janet Beecher, Ann Rutherford, et al.

R-K-O is projecting a series of a slightly different type—what might be called a pre-family saga. Theirs will concern the adventures of a young married couple, but the possibilities of a future "family cycle" are obvious.

The Joneses, as a movie family, date from Christmas, 1935. On Christmas eve the first one, called "Every Saturday Night," was completed after 13 days' shooting—a genuine quickie, costing next to nothing. It was based on a little theater play by Katharine Cavanaugh, prolific playwright who worked on this film and the next, then sold the characters for other movie writers to work on. So far there have been nine Jones adventures, with comparatively few changes in cast. Shirley Deane replaced June Lang as the daughter—when June stepped up to the "A" class—and there have been additional cast members such as Russell Gleason, son-in-law, and Marvin Stephens, adopted son. At last reports the players, through long association, were actually beginning to develop a family resemblance.

The screen's "family tradition" dates back a long way to the first two-reelers of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, but the Joneses set off the present interest in movie family life.

Those studios which haven't inaugurated regular families have substitutes of one kind or another. The "Gold Diggers" of Warner Bros. constitute a family of sorts, although the members have changed through the years. Paramount works off its family spirit on its annual "Big Broadcast" and "college" series—every year a "broadcast" and every year a collegiate musical like "College Swing."

The detective "families" are in a class by themselves. Charlie Chan, of course, is the real family man among sleuths.

the germs of tuberculosis in his body, and despite that may not develop the disease. Between the germs of tuberculosis (provided they are not too numerous) and active disease there seems to stand the barrier of good health. When that barrier breaks down, active disease may develop, even years after the infection was contracted.

Hence the campaign against tuberculosis is being conducted along two lines: to reduce the risk of becoming infected with tuberculosis germs, and to maintain a high and strong barrier of good health against the active disease.

But good health also offers effective protection against many other disease conditions. And that makes the tuberculosis campaign especially worthwhile.

The Capitol Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, March 24. (AP)—Former Governor James E. Ferguson calls attention to a striking resemblance between facial features of Rep. Coke Stevenson of Junction, the only man in recent years twice speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, and those of Abraham Lincoln.

"If he would let his whiskers grow like old honest 'Abe,' Ferguson says in his weekly newspaper, 'he would be a striking double of the great emancipator. Though he never went to school a day in his life, again like old 'Abe,' he is perhaps the best example of self-education in Texas or any other state."

Stevenson is a candidate for lieutenant-governor.

A number of auditors representing the federal social security board have been examining accounts of the Texas old age assistance organization, but officials of the latter say the inspection is routine and not connected with the emergency audits being conducted in other states.

While the auditors will report only to the social security board, probably some time in May, it is understood that at least one of them has said "ol' mixer" with his business in efficiency and integrity of administration the Texas setup was one of the "cleanest jobs" they had found.

Claude Teer, chairman of the board of control which supervises old age assistance in Texas, said he had held the auditors' "sky is the limit" in cooperation with them.

"They have been very busy and I understand their work has been very thorough," Teer said.

In some states auditors are checking up to determine the honesty and effectiveness of the social security program. One of the states is Oklahoma.

Gov. James V. Allred said the other day he had taken great pains to insure his personal telephone calls were not mixed with his business ones, and that since he had been governor the former had amounted to between $30 and $50 a month.

He also said that although the legislature appropriated $1,000 a year for his traveling expenses since he had been in the office he had never spent half the amount.

"I have never lost a lot of money by traveling," he said, "but I never lost any sleep over expense accounts."

G. A. Jerry Sadler of Longview, candidate for the railroad commission in opposition to C. V. Terrell, seeking re-election, breezed into the capitol press room.

He shook hands here and there, passing out cigars of the 10-cent variety.

"Jerry," protested a press correspondent, "you'll never get home giving away those cigars. If you want to finish the campaign, better make them five for a nickel."

"Nothing but the best, nothing but the best," cried Sadler, whisking out of the room.

Not long ago Gov. Allred received the gift of a fine dress hat from Gov. Clyde Tingley of New Mexico. It must have cost at least $10.

Soon afterward he received another—a bright green hat of pasteboard with very high crown, which cost much less than the $10 probably, but which the governor may keep longer than the more expensive one. The green hat was presented by friends of Shamrock in connection with a celebration there March 17, St. Patrick's day. A white clay pipe also was presented.

A short time previously the governor had been made an honorary member of the Shamrock Donagil Club, regular members of which were obligated to grow beards for the celebration.

Being only an honorary member, he didn't have to produce whiskers.

A distinguished gallery looked on final proceedings of the Senate committee which investigated the land office and Attorney General William McCraw.

The last hearing was held in a corner of the Senate chamber where portraits of the following men were standing nearby on racks or hanging on the wall:

Vice President John N. Garner;

Sharing the Comforts Of Life ...

By R. C. HOLLES

"I HAVE QUIT."

A news dispatch from Hammond, Indiana, quotes Maxwell W. Nowak, 53, as declaring he is a fugitive from a chain of taxes.

He says, "I have been driven out of business by taxation. They pulled so many taxes on me—about 50 varieties—there wasn't any use in going any further. I've quit."

His concern, the Nowak Milling Corporation, of Hammond, took in $1,500,000 last year from sales of livestock feed, etc.

He says, "Taxes took the major portion of profits from that business. Why should I keep on working from the benefit of the tax collector?"

He was working not only for the tax collector but to support the myriad of people who are working for the government at jobs that do not produce an equivalent to what they get.

Every dollar that goes to support non-productive salaries for office-holders lowers the real wages of every worker. He knew that. What would you do in Mr. Nowak's place?"

Cranium Crackers

Joe King owned a lumber yard. He sold certain specified lumber in the yard to Sam Collins at an agreed price, it being understood, however, that Collins could remove the lumber at any time during the next six months provided he had first paid the purchase price. The next night a fire destroyed the lumber. Collins claimed that King had to bear the loss because King still owned the lumber and that the title to it was not to pass to Collins until he took the lumber and paid for it. Of course King claimed that title to the lumber had passed to Collins and that it was Collins' lumber which had burned and that therefore Collins had to pay King the agreed purchase price.

Want to Know Why You're Constipated?

Would you give a million to shake off that dull, dopey, played-out feeling that comes with common constipation? Then stop a minute and think.

What have you had to eat this week? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? Probably the reason you're constipated is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean how much you eat. It means a kind of food that isn't entirely digested, but leaves a soft, bulky mass in the intestines which helps a bowel movement.

What to do? Eat some Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day. This crunchy toasted cereal is not only rich in "bulk"—it also contains both the intestinal tonic vitamin B, and iron.

Eat All-Bran every day and drink plenty of water. See if you don't get off your heels and on your toes! Kellogg's All-Bran is sold by every grocer.

GALA PARADES CELEBRATE OIL EXPROPRIATION

MEOICK CITY, March 24 (AP)—Vicente Cortes Herrera, undersecretary for communications, today was appointed general manager of the new national petroleum council to administer the $400,000,000 oil industry taken over by the government.

As the nation recovered from a series of gala celebrations in major cities, there were first indications of a national subscription campaign to pay the 17 British and American oil companies for loss of their property.

President Cardenas pledged his government to pay indemnity in a speech yesterday during Mexico City's parade of laborers to signify their support of the expropriation.

"It is opportune to assert in these solemn moments, Cardenas said, 'so that all the world may know it, that Mexico will honor her debt with the foreigner.'

"We must get ourselves ready to begin immediate indemnification for the expropriated (properties) for it would not be just to leave this debt to future generations."

Answering Cardenas' appeal for economic sacrifices, without which he said "we cannot obtain the economic independence that our people demand," Alfonso Gomez Morentin, director general of mails and telegraphs, sent the president a contribution of $212, the equivalent of a month's salary.

Here and in every major city throughout the country, hundreds of thousands paraded yesterday, carrying signs hailing the "death of imperialism," or urging the expropriation of other foreign industries.

Mexico City trolley car workers, for example, asked for elimination of the British-Belgian owned street railway company.

Some estimates were that 200,000 marched in the parade here, swinging along to the cry "one, two, three, three, two, one; los gringos see van" (the foreigners are getting out).

STATE VICTOR IN OIL SUIT

AUSTIN, March 24 (AP)—The state finally was victor today in the famous Brown vs. Humble case involving the right of the railroad commission to permit drilling of oil wells on certain sub-divided tracts of land.

The supreme court dismissed application for writ of error by the Humble Oil & Refining Company, which claimed the commission, administrator of oil and gas conservation in Texas, should not have authorized a well on a one and one-half acre tract in Gregg county.

The tract had been formed by dividing a three-acre area after one well had been drilled. The Humble did not dispute the right to the one well but claimed the subdivision precluded a second.

Assistant Attorney General Harry Pollard, who represented the commission, said the supreme court action, which in effect upheld decisions of the lower courts, sustained the state's position the commission could consider the sub-divided tract as a part of the whole in determining the need for a well.

In other words, he said, the commission's action in permitting a second well on the one and one-half acre tract was justified on the theory it was needed to prevent waste of oil from the three acres.

In the opinion of the court of civil appeals, which the supreme court allowed to stand, it was emphasized that orders of the commission were presumed to be valid unless evidence clearly showed them unreasonable and unjust.

The case acted on today was styled Humble vs. Railroad Commission but it was an outgrowth of the original proceedings entitled Brown vs. Humble.

Brown vs. Humble first reached the supreme court on application for a temporary injunction by the Humble Company, which was granted.

Today's action was the appeal by Humble from adverse decisions in lower courts following the hearing on merits.

In another case involving application of rule 37, the supreme court dismissed for want of jurisdiction appeal of the Deep Rock Oil Company and others from a lower court decision upholding the commission in granting permit for a well on a tract in East Texas.

PROCEEDS OF PIE SUPPER TO BENEFIT SKELLY SOFTBALLERS

The boarding house at the Skelly-Schafer gasoline plant northwest of Pampa will be the location of a big get-together tomorrow night at 8 o'clock when there will be MUSIC, DRAMA, SPEECHES and PIE. No, Fred Allen won't be there but everyone else will because proceeds from the sale of the pies will be used to put the Skelly softball team in shape for this season.

Musicians from the plant, from Skellytown and from Pampa will perform. The Drama will be short and snappy unless the actors are thrown out early. The speeches will be short and snappy, even though candidates from Gray, Carson and Hutchinson counties want to tell all about themselves. The three counties meet just about at the camp.

Then will come the pie sale. Those who want to enjoy the home-cooked pies "on the spot" will be able to enjoy coffee served free by the ladies.

Pampa has been invited to send a large delegation to the gathering. Managers of all softball teams in the Pampa area are especially invited to a brief get-together at which they will decide some matters about a league this season.

The best way for Pampans to make the trip is to drive to a point two miles beyond the end of the paving on the Berger road and then turn north, winding northwest to the camp, about 10 miles from the city. The beautifully lighted plant can be seen miles before it is reached.

STRIKES BREAK OUT IN PARIS

PARIS, March 24 (AP)—A sudden outbreak of new strikes in the Paris district and the Lille region in northern France was added today to the financial and political difficulties of Premier Leon Blum's government.

The strikes came in the metallurgical, chemical and other industries and included several nationalized factories, where workers sought to force employers to sign new collective contracts.

In parliament the chamber, debating a measure for "total mobilization" of the nation in wartime, approved a new governmental department for civilian defense; Blum faced senate opposition to his financial proposals; Socialists warned of a plot to set up a dictatorial "public safety" cabinet.

The strikes, which embraced the Citroen and other large factories in the Paris district, were limited chiefly to "symbolic" movement, with work halted for only a few hours. Almost all the strikers sought a clause in their collective contracts pegging wages automatically to any rise in the cost of living.

The lower house resumed debate on the "total mobilization" bill and voted to place organization of defense against air raids and gas attacks under Defense Minister Edouard Daladier.

Deputies said all civilians would be provided with gas masks, and estimated total cost of the measure at 300,000,000 francs ($9,000,000).

ARMY DESIRES SUM EQUAL TO NAVY'S QUOTA

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—General Malin Craig, army chief of staff, has advised the house appropriations committee that an expenditure of $1,000,000,000 will be necessary to bring the army into parity with the navy in a defense system where both forces are vital.

Testifying at hearings on the military appropriation bill, approved today by the appropriations committee, Craig said the $1,000,000,000 would be needed to "provide for the shortage in standard essential items of equipment, including clothing, weapons, transportation, and ammunition for a force of 1,000,000 men."

By using wartime substitutes and by eliminating many semi-necessary items, he declared the "critical items" obtainable only by slow manufacturing processes could be purchased for $440,000,000.

Craig explained the war department has a "protective mobilization plan" which involves the accumulation of essential items to meet the requirements of two field armies of 500,000 men each.

The first objective of the plan is the immediate mobilization of 400,000 men. They would include the regular army now 162,000 men, and national guard, plus a limited number of recruits.

The second objective is the addition of 330,000 men assigned to individual units and 270,000 unassigned enlisted men to be used as replacements or for formation of additional units.

The "critical items" for the initial 400,000 force will cost $160,000,000, Craig said.

"In the present world situation," he said, "the war department feels it is most urgent to immediately inaugurate an appreciable part of the $160,000,000 program for unforeseen contingencies and to partially balance and support the national defense program of the navy."

As a part, President Roosevelt has recommended that, in addition to amounts already in the budget, congress provide $8,800,000 for anti-aircraft equipment and armament, $6,000,000 for gauges, dies and aids to manufacturers, and $2,000,000 for ammunition.

Craig disclosed speed will be sacrificed to heavier armor in tanks awaiting delivery to the army and that the army expects to start buying anti-tank guns for use by infantry regiments.

Military operations in Spain have shown such anti-tank weapons have notably restricted the scope and effectiveness of tanks, he said.

Has Glamorous Greta Garbo Found Lasting Love In Stowkowski's Arms?

By PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD, March 24.—Has true love come to Greta Garbo—and will it last?

These are the questions being asked by movie fans the world over as Greta wanders along the rocky paths that skirt the Bay of Naples, arm in arm with Leopold Stowkowski, world-famed musician and symphony conductor.

Rumors from the Villa Cimbrone, Ravello, where Greta is enjoying an idyllic holiday with Stowkowski, insist that the two artists are to be married within two weeks, probably at Turin, Italy.

But similar and no less forceful rumors have circled about the head of Greta Garbo before. In a Hollywood where most stars marry early and often, Miss Garbo, unmarried at 32, has stood out as unique.

Her magic name has been romantically connected with practically every leading man with whom she has appeared, and even to be seen frequently in company with ships' officers during a trans-Atlantic voyage has been enough to set linotype machines clanking.

Should Garbo find fulfillment in her present attachment to Stowkowski it would be for the first time in her life. Not that she has had no romances. She has. But always fate, or death, or circumstance, came between and prevented the complete unfolding of romance.

Idyllic Spot Chosen
Now, in company with the brilliant Stowkowski, musician, conductor, composer, scientific experimenter, whose alert mind and forceful personality mark him out in any company, Garbo may be forgetting her long devotion to Mauritz Stiller, and her ill-fated romance with John Gilbert.

Ravello, the tiny town where Stowkowski has rented the ancient Villa Cimbrone, is fertile soil for romance. Near famous Amalfi on the Gulf of Salerno, it is picturequely nestled in the hills high above the blue bay. Together the two have walked over the Isle of Capri, where the ruins of Tiberius' 14 villas molder in the grass, where Norman Douglas' South Wind sighs through the cypress trees, and Axel Munthe meditates his Story of a Doctor.

Major General Archibald Sunderland, coast artillery chief, declared fortified sea-coast cities in the United States have little to fear from attacks by sea.

Even if battleships carried 18-inch guns in the future, instead of 16-inch guns, he said, "the tremendous advantages that seacoast fortifications have" will continue.

Major General Oscar Westover, chief of the air corps, told the committee his division was experimenting with new bombers which could fly so high as to be out of range of present-day anti-aircraft guns.

The loves of Greta Garbo, passing in review. Film fans still are wondering what happened to the romance of the Swedish-born star and handsome John Gilbert pictured at upper left in a scene from "Flesh and the Devil" in which they produced some of the most torrid love scenes ever filmed. And nothing ever effaced from Garbo's mind the memory of Mauritz Stiller, with whom she is shown at lower left as they arrived in America to crash the movie. Rouben Mamoulian, upper right, Garbo's director, figured strongly in her life at below Mamoulian, is believed to have been a girlhood idol. But now it is the artistic arms of Leopold Stowkowski, lower right, which beckon to the Sphinx Woman of the screen.

'DAN-YELL DARE-YOUS' LEGS CAUSE FURORE

HOLLYWOOD, March 24 (AP)—Two highbrow film writers canvassed the field of literature today for an excuse to put Danielle Darrieux into a bathing suit.

If you've seen "Dan-yell Dare-you," you know why.

Not since Dietrich burned up the sands in "Morocco" has feminine underpinning caused such furore hereabouts. An on the theory that as Hollywood goes, so goes the nation, Universal is budgeting Miss Darrieux's first American picture for a million dollars.

Miss Darrieux is a 20-year old French girl. She is tall and slender—like Ziegfeld's ideal chorus beauty. She is naturally at home in a bathing suit. She likes to swim.

She finally started work this week after collecting better than $60.00 and waiting more than four months while Universal got a story ready for her.

The story isn't quite ready. But it has a title, "The Rage of Paris," and it is expected to have a bathing suit sequence soon.

Fifty seamstresses have toiled on Miss Darrieux's costumes. There is not a pair of slacks in the lot.

JOHNSON WILL RULING OVERTURNED

AUSTIN, March 24 (AP)—The Austin court of civil appeals today reversed and remanded a Bell county district court ruling which bequeathed certain properties of Cone Johnson, former highway commissioner who died in 1933, to Mary Celesta and Sophia Elizabeth Durst.

The Durst sisters were nieces of Johnson's first wife, who died in 1926.

The appellate court reversed the trial court's findings on grounds that argument to the jury was improper and harmful.

The case originated in a suit by the Durst sisters to establish an equitable title and trust in Johnson's properties predicated upon an allegedly lost contract.

The appellate court said evidence was submitted to the effect Johnson agreed with his first wife, Mrs. Birdie Robertson Johnson, to leave all their properties, except certain bequests, to the nieces.

Numerous Cattle Buyers at Market

HIGGINS, March 24 (AP)—Out of town cattle buyers have been numerous here the past week buying good quality cattle. The list of interested parties includes the following:

Ralph McCormick shipped four car loads of cattle, consisting mostly of good yearlings, to Kansas City. There were 194 head of these steers.

T. B. Howlett loaded thirty-five head of mixed cattle to Atlanta, Kansas.

Smith and Post, Fowler, Kas., shipped out forty-one head of white face yearlings. Included in this shipment was a pair of oxen weighing 3100 pounds, purchased from J. N. Peterson, northwest of Higgins.

R. B. Tyson received one hundred thirty-one head of mixed steers and heifers to be grazed on his ranch northwest of Higgins.

Oscar Kennedy, ranchman southeast of Higgins, and will move from his present location, with his family, to his new home in the near future.

SPANISH LOYALISTS NOT REDS, STATES WRITER

Calling Spanish Loyalists "Reds" makes their American friends "see red."

A letter from Jay Allen, 21 Washington Square North, New York, informs the Pampa Daily NEWS that it is important to know the truth on this point.

"Are the Loyalists Reds?" Mr. Allen asks. "The British press generally is unsympathetic to the Loyalists, as it was favorable to Hitler up to the recent awakening."

Mr. Allen enclosed a clipping from the London Economist, British financial organ. Gist of the clipping (a dispatch from the Barcelona correspondent) is:

In Spain the republican constitution has never been suspended during the war. The central government has complete powers over public order, food supply, and regulation of trade and banking. No dictatorship is being set up, however.

Russell Funeral Held at Higgins

HIGGINS, March 24—Funeral services for Thomas Henry Russell, 74 years old, long time resident of Higgins, were conducted recently at the Methodist Church here with Rev. Jim Burkman, Baptist pastor, assisted by Rev. H. W. Barnett, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating.

Born in 1863 in Linn county, Mo., where he grew to manhood, Mr. Russell came to Glazier in 1887, where he was employed by the Santa Fe Railway Co. He also resided for a time at Canadian.

In 1893 he was married to Miss Eva Bailey and for twelve years they homesteaded near Little Robe in Ellis county. For thirty-one years he has been a resident of Higgins where for the past 19 years he has been associated in the grain business with Walter Berry.

Surviving him are his widow; one son, Jack of Denver, Colo.; two brothers, B. F. Russell, St. Joseph, Mo. and Clarence Russell, Kansas City, Mo. and one sister, Mrs. Josie Jones of Browning, Mo.

ALLRED COULD SEEK OFFICE OF CONNALLY

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL.

AUSTIN, March 24 (AP)—It's a long time until 1940 and longer until 1942 but already there is some discussion as to who will oppose Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard for re-election.

Announcement by Senator Sheppard that he will run again, although at election time he will be 67 years old, and reports Connally likewise is again a definite entry have stimulated the speculation.

The names of Governor James V. Allred, Attorney General William McCraw, Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commissioner, Congressman Maury Maverick of San Antonio and Wright Patman of Texas, as well as former Governor Dan Moody, are heard most frequently.

Friends of Allred say the day is too far removed for any potential candidate to know what he will do, but, nevertheless, the talk is going the rounds. Much of it centers on Governor Allred.

When the governor announced a few days ago he would not seek re-election it was noted that he stood ready to serve the state again if the need developed.

It is regarded as significant that in the Biblical quotation at the end of his address he omitted one portion. Quoting St. Paul, he said, "I have fought a good fight; I have kept the faith." He omitted the words, "I have finished my course."

Although he said later that at this time he plans no active participation in any campaign this year he did not say he was retiring from politics, and his friends aver his address is so reacting he will be stronger politically than ever.

It is pointed out further that as Governor Allred goes out of office many members of important bodies whom he appointed will remain to give him the nucleus of an organization.

Some think he is by no means removing himself from Texas' political picture, as most other governors have done when they finished their second terms.

May Follow Moody.
On the other hand, it is suggested that if he does well in the private practice of law, as former Governor Moody reputedly has done, he may trace Moody's course and have little to do with state politics hereafter.

The governor is only 38 years old—he will be 39 March 29—and would still be a very young man should he decide to try for the senate against Connally.

It is believed that he would not run against Sheppard, whom he admires greatly and with whom he agrees on most public issues.

If McCraw or Thompson should be elected governor, the winner would be regarded by many as a potential candidate to oppose Connally or Sheppard.

Thompson and McCraw both say they are concerned only with getting elected to the governorship, which, of course, is what they are expected to say.

It was suggested Moody has accumulated an independent fortune since he retired from public office and now is in a position to run for the senate.

Moody 45.

Moody is 45 years old. When Connally is up again, he will be only 47, and when Sheppard's term expires he will be 49.

"Moody is still interested in good government and in the senate he could give expression to this interest," said one enthusiast. "He is one of the few Texans known all over the state, and if he were to seek office again you would find he could pick up very well where he left off."

If re-elected this year, Maverick, known as a liberal and a great friend of the New Deal, by 1940 will have served three terms. Patman, who came into national prominence by championing the soldiers bonus, is serving his fifth term.

Former Governor James E. Ferguson, who keeps up with political goings-on of all sorts, was asked what he thought of senatorial prospects in 1940 and 1942.

"Get out," he laughed. "We've got enough problems today without investigating that far in the future."

DO THEY THANK YOU? NO, THEY'RE CO-EDS

DALLAS, Texas, March 24 (AP)—An inquisitive student conducted a simple experiment recently to put the yardstick of good manners upon faculty and students at Southern Methodist University.

He stood at the entrance of the administration building and opened the door for each person entering. Eleven of 12 faculty members responded with "Thank you," but only 17 of 81 co-eds passing through expressed appreciation for the courtesy.

Stiller Never Forgotten
But Mauritz Stiller, the Swedish director who turned the chunky little Gustavson girl from a hat model into a movie actress, was a far greater influence in Garbo's life — an influence that will probably be life-long. It was Stiller who taught her all she knew about acting. It was Stiller who gave her that first picture break. It was Stiller who insisted on taking her along to Hollywood when he had his chance there.

Stiller was a man old enough to be father of the 19-year-old girl who went after a Hollywood career with such determination. It is unlikely there was any romantic attachment between them in the ordinary movie sense. But for many years, until his death in 1928, Greta Garbo held a deep affection, tinged with admiration and gratitude, for the man whom she rightfully regarded as the master from whom she had learned her craft. In earlier years her dog-like devotion to Stiller and her eagerness to obey his slightest command were noted throughout Hollywood.

Fate Steps In
Here fate stepped in. Stiller, who brought Garbo to Hollywood as a mere appendage of his own directorial genius, failed as a director of American pictures. But Garbo, his protegee, went on to greater and greater success.

When Stiller died in 1928, the news was brought to Garbo on the set. She went dead white, then pulled herself together and played out the scene. But her association with Stiller was not forgotten.

World Hails Romance
For him she cast aside her dislike for society and "glamour" clothes, and appeared at premieres, large social gatherings and public events with evident pleasure so long as she was with "Jack."

There were various crashes of temperament, however, for Gilbert was in love with life, fun-loving and irresponsible. He wooed her in the grand manner, and few doubted that here was to be the Romance of the Century.

Then the affair came to a climax. Garbo actually went to a little Mexican town below the border to meet Gilbert there and setting the seal of marriage on the romance of which a world was talking.

TOWN'S NAME DERIVED FROM PRIMITIVE ART

PAINT ROCK, Concho County, Texas, March 24 (AP)—Paint Rock, seat of Concho county since it was organized March 11, 1879, was named for the painted rocks on the north cliffs of the Concho river. The rocks, visible since discovery of the country, are believed to have been painted by Indians who inhabited the region in primitive days.

Concho county, named for the river of the same name that runs through it, was created 80 years ago, although not organized until 31 years later. It is one of the principal ranching sections of West Texas, has 891 farms and ranches, with a valuation upon land and improvements of nearly $13,000,000. Its population is 7,645, divided among 1,746 families.

LOVE LAUGHS AT THE DOCTOR

BY ELINORE COWAN STONE

Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday: Facing an incredible assignment, Connie is about to depart by plane for California with Dr. Rogers to stand in for Camilla Wynne. The time is getting short.

CHAPTER XIII

CONSTANCE said in a moment of recklessness, at which she was to wonder later, "I still have no reason to think you're not insane, but—well, it will take me a half hour to pack."

Before she got out of the car in front of her own house, Dr. Rogers took a wallet from his pocket. "Since this is a business arrangement, Miss Maidwell," he said, "and since I don't imagine you habitually carry airplane fare to California around in your purse, I'd better give you something on account."

He stripped some bills from a roll and handed them to her. "Here's enough to buy a round-trip fare—I don't want you to imagine you're being shanghaied—and a little for incidental expenses. You'll find a ticket waiting for you in your own name. I'll meet you in the plane."

He might, Constance thought, have been instructing a nurse in the operating room, in full confidence that every command would be implicitly obeyed. "Aren't you taking a rather long chance?" she asked.

"If I thought so," he said with a short unimpassioned laugh, "I'd bundle you up in a sack and carry you along as excess baggage." And he looked for an instant grimly capable of doing it. "You needn't be concerned about taking the money," he added a little impatiently as Constance looked uncertainly at the bills in her hands. "The boy's father will make it good, and he only too glad to pay you for any inconvenience this may cause you. Now you'd better run along. Allow at least a half hour to get to the flying field. . . . And, oh yes! Better take along some lightweight clothing. It will be much warmer there than here."

WELL, well, Constance thought, I'm getting ahead in life—from substitute for a clothes model to stand-in for a screen star—or am I?

She ran upstairs, her thoughts racing ahead of her. . . . Light-weight clothing. . . . But all of her lighter clothing were still stowed away in the basement locker—except, of course, for a few things for her wedding journey. She and Derek had been going south.

Well, she had bought them and paid for them, hadn't she? And this was the only journey she seemed likely to make for some time. . . . There wasn't much time to choose with discrimination. Better take some sport things, anyhow. . . . In the end, she put in any number of things she would probably never need, just because she had room.

She would wear the dark tailored suit with the silver fur hat and the cherry hat and bag. As she settled the hat over her hair, she smiled a little wryly at her reflection in the mirror, remembering that other occasion, in Derek's studio, when she had planned in a moment of happy delusion, "I'll wear the tailored suit on the plane. I'm so glad I got the hat and bag."

She was in her seat in the plane when Dr. Rogers came in. He greeted her very much as if he had unexpectedly recognized a pleasant acquaintance, chatted impersonally for a few moments, and then he went on with an air of finality back to his own seat.

Constance, who had never flown before, and who was in that phase of excitement that craves companionship and self-expression, felt piqued and defrauded. "I suppose he's afraid someone will think he's begining with me," she thought maliciously. "But no, I don't believe that man really cares what anyone is going to think."

Then she saw that he had taken a telegram from his pocket and was studying it with bent brows, the line between his eyes deepening as he read. He wrote a reply and settled down in his seat, quite as if he had forgotten her.

PRESENTLY, however with an air of sudden remembering as duty that should be attended to, he came over and took a vacant seat opposite her.

"Do you know," he began with a rueful grin, "I don't believe it's occurred to me yet to say 'Thanks,' I—"

"Don't!" Constance cut in. "I'm just beginning to realize that you're staking a good deal on me. I'm not an actress, you know. I'm only a clothes model—an amateur at that."

"You're an unusually adaptable young woman, if I'm any judge of human nature." . . . "He'd be the last to deny that he is," Constance thought with a flutter of irritation. "Elsa O'Dare, in whose judgment those first few moments with Derek. There was a car waiting for them when they landed. The chauffeur, who seemed to know Dr. Rogers well, said: "I am to take you directly to the ranch, sir. Miss Thorwald asked me to say she was sorry not to—"

"Miss Thorwald?" Constance said faintly. "Does he mean—is it the Thorwald ranch we're going to?" . . . "But I can't do that."

TEXAS FIDDLERS TO COMPETE AT ATHENS

ATHENS, March 24—Texas fiddle bands and harmonica players are preparing for their first state-wide convention to be held here on May 20. They will celebrate their seventh annual reunion which is expected to attract 40,000 persons.

Featured in the night program will be 25 Texas fiddle bands. Thousands will dance in the street to old time waltz tunes. Modern sound equipment will be used.

At the conclusion of the night program, the eight state champions will "draw" for the prize money. Twenty-three cash prizes will be awarded by the association.

There will be three classes of fiddlers: those 60 years and over, those between 40 and 60 years, those under 40 years. The state contest will include "doubles champions," making a total of six state champions.

Harmonica players, regardless of age, will compete in one group. Two of the best players will be awarded state honors.

LAW PROVIDES FURTHER CONSUMER PROTECTION

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed today legislation giving the Federal Trade Commission jurisdiction over the control of false advertising of food, drugs, cosmetics and devices.

The measure also increases the commission's power by permitting it to intervene to protect the consumer against unfair and deceptive acts in commerce.

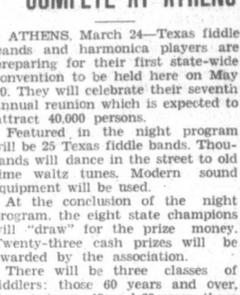

The new law defines false advertising as any which is misleading in any material respect, either by statements, or suggestions, that a product will accomplish certain things, or through failure to disclose any material fact bearing on the claims made for a product.

Under the existing law, the commission must show that a competitor is injured before it can issue cease and desist order against products it believes unfairly promoted.

The new statute allows the agency to issue complaints against unfair behavior of the consumer is affected. Civil penalties up to $5,000 for each violation is provided.

'BACK DOOR' ATTACK FEARED BY ARIZONIAN

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—The United States-Mexican boundary before the El Paso and the Pacific ocean has been described by Rep. Murdock, Democrat Arizona, as the "back door" through which this country might be attacked.

Murdock's concern was disclosed today with publication of testimony before a house appropriations subcommittee considering military establishments appropriations.

Supporting funds for Fort Huachuca, Ariz., he told the committee. "It behooves us to see that that particular post, which is the only military post between El Paso and the Pacific ocean, is kept in a high state of efficiency."

"I hate to think of a possible Asiatic war, but if we should be invaded by an enemy from the other side of the Pacific, I believe they would strike at this country through that back door rather than at San Francisco or at Seattle."

73 OIL LEASES TO BE AUCTIONED OFF FRIDAY

AUSTIN, March 24 (AP)—Leases to 73 tracts of University of Texas land in Andrews, Crane, Crockett, and Ward counties, in or adjacent to oil production, will be auctioned here tomorrow.

The auction will be in charge of Col. E. Walters of Skedee, Okla., booming-volced veteran who has conducted five previous sales for the university.

Of the more than 11,600 acres, 46 tracts are out of a block of 294,000 acres owned by the university in Andrews county; 20 are in Crane, five in Crockett, and two in Ward. They range from 153 to 168 acres in size.

The last auction, in October, 1937, brought $621,900 for oil and gas rights to 10,896 acres of West Texas land, setting a new high of $57.07 average per acre. The lowest average was $29.84 on lands auctioned in June last year.

The ashes of W. E. Milton Bode, a horse and dog fancier, were buried at his request in an English dog cemetery.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT JOBLESS COMPENSATION LEVY

QUESTION: How much does the contributing employer now pay to the Unemployment Trust Fund?

ANSWER: He pays two and seven-tenths per cent of his payroll. Payments are made monthly on wages of employees protected by unemployment compensation. This rate of taxation will continue until 1941 when the employer will be taxed according to his record for discharging employees.

QUESTION: Must the unemployed worker take any job offered him?

ANSWER: No. He will not lose his benefits if he refuses to take a job for any of these reasons: If he would have to join a company union, or not join or belong to a trade or other union, or if the job is open because of a labor dispute.

If the wages, hours, or other working conditions are not so good as the general standard for that sort of work in the locality.

MACPHAIL FORTIFIES DODGERS BY SIGNING MUNGO, BUYING CAMILLI

DUROCHER TO AID DEFENSE OF BROOKLYN

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service
CLEARWATER, Fla., March 24
—The most important addition to the Brooklyn boys this spring? Leo Durocher?

"No, sir-ee," says Burleigh Grimes. "The biggest improvement in the Brooklyn club this trip is Larry MacPhail."

Now, Larry MacPhail can't hit, run, or throw strikes from center field, nor is Burleigh Grimes simply flatterer his new general manager. Bolling Bolly is fully as tactful as Dizzy Dean. Old Wire Whiskers always has said exactly what he meant, no matter how painful.

"MacPhail gives a guy something to work with," asserts Grimes.

The Dodger director refers to MacPhail's so quickly satisfying the great right-hander. Van Lingle Mungo, and obtaining Camilli from the Phillies.

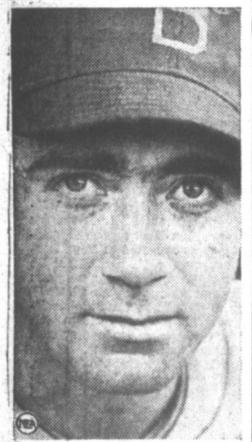

Kiki Cuyler

The sum paid the Philadelphia outfit for the first baseman was variously estimated at $20,000 being the lowest figure and $75,000 the highest. The Brooklyn club is so hard pressed financially that it is suspected that it shortly will be sold. I asked Grimes where MacPhail got the money.

"He's a Houdini," replied Bolling Bolly.

Counts on Durocher
Brooklyn finished sixth last term with the poorest kind of a defense. A bad arm rendered Mungo useless after July. Buddy Hassett, Cookie Lavagetto, Al Butcher, and Joe Stripp were out for protracted periods.

Van Mungo

Grimes gave the St. Louis Cardinals four athletes who weren't doing him any good—Stripp, Johnny Cooney, Jimmy Bucher, and Roy Henshaw—for one he believes will make his infield—Durocher.

Leo Durocher still is the finest fielding shortstop in the business, despite a miserable year at bat in 1937. Durocher hit .286 in 1936, and has having another such year easily might take the Dodgers a long, long way.

His success with the veteran Heinie Manush in 1937 prompted Grimes to sign another oldtimer, Kiki Cuyler, who is to start in center field. As he schooled Augie Galan in Chicago, Cuyler now is instructing Hassett in leftfielding, to which the agile first baseman of the Bronx has been forced by the acquisition of Camilli.

Lavagetto found himself at third base at the far end of last season, and with young Pete Coscarat, a flossy fielder from the Portland

250,000 Fans Will See Steeplechase Tomorrow

BACK IN 1921 HARVESTERS DID NOT TRAIN IN SPRING

There was no spring training for Pampa's football team back in 1921.

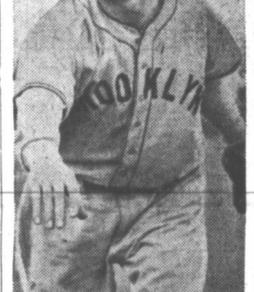

About this time of year, Pampa athletes were beginning to think of baseball, and grid training was unknown.

Posedel Looks Promising
With the soreness out of his arm, Mungo is the perfect bellwether. Luke Hamlin, Max Butcher, and George Jeeffcoat round out the Big Four at the moment, with wide old heads, Waite Hoyt, Freddie Fitzsimmons, and Fred Frankhouse ready to step in.

Others on the staff are Bill Posedel, Forrest Pressnell, Walt Signer, Charley Marrow, Jack Kimball, and Alta Cohen, the only left-hander.

Posedel bagged 45 games for the Portland Coasters in two campaigns. Pressnell, Signer, Marrow, who stands six feet four, and Cohen are out of the American Association. Signer, hurt in 1937, led the New York-Pennsylvania League in effectiveness in 1936. Kimball had a good year with Elmira.

Helmets were of varied type, as might be expected for the individual choice. Some closely resembled football helmets of today, while others were of the flat-top variety, some were similar to the shape of the metal helmets worn by Czechoslovakian soldiers.

Bill Posedel

The giant Babe Phelps' hitting would cover a multitude of sins behind the bat, but the truth is that the mighty Marylander is a fair sort of backstop. Poy Spencer is an excellent handler of pitchers, and there are worse catchers than Paul Chervinko, the former Illinois footballer.

Camilli was the slickest fielding first baseman in the National League last season, and 11 of his 27 home runs were swatted away from the handy right field wall of Baker Bowl.

Because he is the only extra hand who can play second base, Woody English is assured the infield utility role. Red Brown and Johnny Hudson, who hit .292 for Louisville, will fight it out for the other extra infield position. George Fallon, up from Elmira, and Berthold Haas, brought in from Clinton, require further seasoning.

Holds Hopes for Winsett
Grimes hopes to have six fellows hitting 300 or more in his batting order at all times, and intends to switch his outfielders to meet the opposition's pitching. He has the left-hand hitters, Manush, Hassett, Jack Winsett, and Goodwin Rosen, who hit .312 for Louisville, and the right-hand batters, Cuyler, and Gil Brack.

George Cisar, up from Clinton, and Art Parks, in from Elmira, have yet to establish themselves as major league hitters.

So has Winsett, the $40,000 bust of 1937, but Grimes hasn't given up the big Tennessean who manufactured 50 home runs for Columbus in 1936.

"Winsett could bat us into the first division," remarked Old Wire Whiskers, as Long Jack smacker the sphere 500 feet over the center field wall at Brooklyn Park here.

Winsett took too many good pitches last season, and may yet live up to his AA reputation if Grimes can convince him that a ball player can't get a hit with his bat on his shoulder.

AINTREE, England, March 24 (AP)—The Grand National steeplechase, Britain's annual lapse from sanity, will be run for the hundredth time tomorrow—and even if no horse finishes the course it'll be an historic event.

All the trimmings have been arranged. Champagne has been reduced to six shillings a swig. Dafodils are down to a penny a bunch. And if most of the 250,000 persons here choose their daffodils, it'll establish a new all-time Grand National record.

These 250,000 have been congesting Liverpool for 24 hours now. They have evidently been at Grand Nationals before, because they all look as if they're expecting something to happen.

That something will start happening at 3:15 p. m. (9:15 a. m. CST) when 36 of the world's greatest leapers start down "Suicide Lane." Last year 33 started out; seven got home. There have been 17 years ago considered themselves lucky that the school provided football pants.

All the rest of the suit was up to the players; helmets, pads, jersey, shoes. The latter problem was sometimes solved by the boys attaching cleats to an ordinary pair of work shoes.

Blue and white were the customary colors on Pampa jerseys in those days, as these were always in stock by the athletic supply companies, and the green and gold jerseys, being special, cost more.

When a player came to Pampa from some other school, he usually brought along and wore the jersey from that school.

Helmets were of varied type, as might be expected for the individual choice. Some closely resembled football helmets of today, while others were of the flat-top variety, some were similar to the shape of the metal helmets worn by Czechoslovakian soldiers.

Tomorrow the horses must do everything but jump the canal. They must leap 30 fences, four brooks, and dig ditches and stay on their feet for four miles and 856 yards if they want to win.

The horse favored to do this better than the others is Arthur Sainsbury's Blue Shirt, wild little chestnut gelding which won his last year at four miles and has been knocked down to odds of 100 to 12 for the National.

Exes May Make It Tough Today For Harvesters

Harvester field this afternoon will rebound to the call of the quarterback, the thud of pigskin on toe and the yell of fans as the first spring scrimmage for the Harvesters gets under way at 4 o'clock. The Harvester prospects will be meeting the exes still in school with the public invited to attend and no admission charged.

Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean have been working nearly 60 prospects for about three weeks but interruptions have delayed holding the first scrimmage.

Tomorrow all football prospects who desire to enter track and field competition will be allowed to do so, the rest of the boys continuing their work at football.

With the exception of Glen Nichols, all Harvesters will be on hand for this afternoon's scrimmage. Nichols is seriously ill in Pampa-Jarratt hospital. His condition today was slightly improved, attending physicians reported.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

(By The Associated Press)

BATON ROUGE, La.—Johnny McCarthy, firmly installed at first base for the New York Giants, is the Giants' leading hitter. He has hit safely in every exhibition game and added "three for five" against the Athletics yesterday to boost his average to well above the .500 mark.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Atley Donald, the ex-Newark Bear pitcher who is trying for a place on the New York Yankees' staff, strengthened his bid considerably yesterday against the Boston Bees. Donald yielded five hits in an many innings but only one run.

LAKELAND, Fla.—Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons thinks Bill Terry made a mistake when he traded him to the Brooklyn Dodgers. The knuckleball master claims his arm is looser than it has been in five years and that he will be able to convince Bill of his mistake when he takes the mound against the Giants in the regular season.

Caras Wins Pocket Billiards Crown

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—Jimmy Caras, the youthful pocket billiards star from Wilmington, Del., is back on top of the world in his favorite game—but Ralph Greenleaf is still around.

Caras regained the world championship last night by defeating the veteran Andrew Ponzel, of Philadelphia, 125 to 22, in the final game of the second playoff series, a game that went 16 innings.

Tommy Farr, British heavyweight, and his lovely bride-to-be, Eileen Wenzel, former member of the Ziegfeld Follies, are shown above at Chicago airport, en route from New York to Los Angeles. The couple have announced they probably will be married within the next few months.

WICHITA, Kas., March 24 (AP)—Queen Ludene Duke's Tupelo, Miss., Lassies and seven seeded sextets barged into quarterfinals of the women's national A. A. U. basketball tournament today with her royal highness' cohorts decidedly on the spot.

Tupelo and Miss Duke, the tournament's beauty queen, spilled the seeded Lambuth Collegians of Jackson, Tenn., last night 26-23. Tonight they must prove, against the highly-regarded Wichita entry, whether they belong in feminine basketball's select set.

The favored Galveston, Texas, Anicos rallied sensationally in the fourth quarter to come from behind and eliminate Topeka, Kas., 18-11 and the defending champion Little Rock Flyers easily disposed of Bremerton, Wash., 38-12.

Galveston's quarterfinal opponent is Wamego, Kas., which turned back Tampa, Fla., 24-19. Little Rock meets Nashville, conqueror of Baltimore university 32-13.

Wichita was hard pressed to defeat Wafle City, Texas, high school in the other second round game, 17-14.

PLAYERS OF 2 CLUBS DECREE FREE AGENTS

BELLELAIR, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Judge K. M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, today announced he had made free agents all but one of the members of the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, club and all members of the Monett, Mo., club.

He also fined the Springfield, Ill., club of the Western Association $1,000.

His order, a nine-page typewritten document, was based on his investigation into reports that the St. Louis Cardinals of the National league had extended its farming system into minor league clubs not formally listed as Cardinal farms.

Cedar Rapids is in the Three-I league. Monett is in the Arkansas-Missouri league.

Landis said a list of the players declared free agents would be made public later.

There are approximately 12,000 extras registered at Central Casting in Hollywood.

CHICAGO CUBS SEETHING WITH FIGHT SPIRIT

LOS ANGELES, March 24 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs, to all appearances, have taken a jigger of the old bromide commonly labeled "the fighting spirit" and seem ready to do or die for the home town. P. K. Wrigley and a fat bonus at the end of the 1938 baseball war.

The club reached the mainland from its training camp at Catalina Island in condition far ahead of schedule, and has proceeded to chew all opposition to bits. The Cubs look so good that many experts have already selected limbs to crawl out on to pick them for the top spot in the National league.

Casualties, which wrecked the Cub pennant hopes last year, have appeared but nothing serious has occurred to mar the club's hopes.

Rangy Tex Carlton twisted an ankle the first day on the island, and for two weeks it looked like the knob on one of Harry Lauder's canes.

But old Tex stepped out to the mound, for the first time here, without benefit of even an intra-cub game, and pitched the White Sox into scoreless submission for four innings and allowed but one hit and fanned three.

Bill Lee, the big, burly one from Louisiana, shapes up as one of the Cub's best pitching bets, and high hopes are pinned on young Clay Bryant, who was used mainly for relief work last year.

On July 8 Mrs. Moody will play in the German championships, and later take part in tournaments in Poland.

She will return to the United States in September to prepare for the national championship, following which she will undertake a seven-week lecture tour of this country.

Mrs. Moody predicted the United States would retain the Wightman Cup, pointing out that England would be without the services of one of its finest players, Mrs. Douglas Leigh Little, the former Miss Dorothy Round.

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—With Helen Wills Moody, one-time queen of the courts, back in the lineup, the United States will present this summer one of the strongest Wightman Cup teams in the history of the competition.

The squad, in addition to Mrs. Moody, includes Alice Marble, Helen Jacobs, Dorothy Bundy and Gracyn Wheeler, all of California, and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Payban, of Brookline, Mass. Miss Wheeler was chosen as alternate on the team, which includes five of the six top-ranking singles players.

Cardinals Lose Players On Six Mid-West Clubs

By GALE TALBOT

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 24 (AP)—The citrus circuit wondered today whether Branch Rickey, the "David Harum" of baseball and addict of "gentlemen's agreements," was going to take lying down the whacking around he and the St. Louis Cardinals got from Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis yesterday.

Up to a late hour last night Rickey still was studying the judges' lengthy tome and declining to make a statement of any kind. He would not even enter a plea of "not guilty because of getting caught," but there was a feeling that he would have something to say today about all those lovely young players the czar turned loose and the fines he imposed.

The judge, if you were not listening when he emerged from his hibernation at nearby Belleair yesterday, made free agents out of practically all the players on six mid-west clubs, including Cedar Rapids of the three-year league, because he said the Cardinals had been consorting clandestinely with Cedar Rapids for the last two seasons.

Rickey, as head of the Cards' farm system, was the principal target. It has been fairly common knowledge for a long time that Landis wanted to "catch" the St. Louis slicker, and the surprise was that he didn't crack down harder when he got the evidence. The judge said, though, that he desired to take only the "remedial and preventive action" required to end the situation.

As a matter of fact, all the Cards lose are their strings on about 100 young players, most of them of class D calibre. Only one is being given a tryout by the Cards here this spring. He is Jimmy Webb, a shortstop who was at Cedar Rapids in 1936.

The Cards, of course, will have to pay $2,176 in fines imposed on three of their clubs, but that is not enough to bother Rickey. More sympathy was felt for the 17 members of the Monett, club of the Arkansas-Missouri league who must find new jobs at this late date. Those declared free agents on the other teams will be permitted to sign back for 1938 if they don't receive better offers.

There was some question whether the big league clubs who are on the lookout for promising material for their farm teams would go after the cream of those turned loose by Landis. They might not regard it as cricket to take advantage of Rickey's slip-up, and so leave the cards in a predicament to sign right back into the chain gang.

Some regarded the decision as the most important and far reaching delivered by Judge Landis in his many years of baseball's highest bench. They saw in it a death blow to "gentlemen's agreements" between major and minor league clubs, and predicted that those who have been skirting the law would sign the pledge.

Tupelo Sextet To Play Wichita Entry Tonight

WICHITA, Kas., March 24 (AP)—Queen Ludene Duke's Tupelo, Miss., Lassies and seven seeded sextets barged into quarterfinals of the women's national A. A. U. basketball tournament today with her royal highness' cohorts decidedly on the spot.

FRANKIE PARKER, 22, SAYS HE AND BRIDE, 42, ARE HAPPY

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., March 24 (AP)—In a honeymoon cottage unfolded today the love story of a young American tennis ace and a bride 20 years his senior.

The youth was Frankie Parker, born Franciszek A. Pajowski, one-time Milwaukee ball boy and at 22 the nation's No. 3 tennis player.

The woman was Audrey Browne Beasley Parker, mother of two children, whom Parker married three days after she divorced Mercer Beasley, his tennis coach and benefactor. They exchanged warm glances and Parker spoke:

"Our marriage was quite the opposite of disloyalty and ingratitude. As soon as we were sure of our love, we told Mercer.

"It was lost February—in Bermuda. I had been fond of Audrey and she of me for three years before that.

"How did he take it? Well, Mercer is a sportsman. I guess the whole world knows that now. He said:

"I've learned in tennis that it isn't how you win—it's how you lose that counts."

"It was all arranged on the very best terms. Mercer will always be our very best friend."

The Beasleys were married before Parker was born—23 years ago. A daughter, Katherine, is a year younger than Parker, and a son, James, is 14 and in his father's custody.

"We will live in this furnished cottage until June, when we leave on our summer's tennis campaign," the bridegroom said.

"We are very happy, and because our tastes are so alike in work and play, we are sure we shall always be so."

MANDELL AND HARTAY WILL BE IN FINALS

Promoter Cliff B. Chambers is going to give Pampa wrestling fans the match they want—George Hartay of Bucharest, Hungary, and Jack Mandell, the Australian Kangaroo Man, for the main event Monday night.

The s'reaks of greased lightning have been making real hits here and a main event is not a bit too good for them. The supporting card is equally as impressive with Slim Hall, the elongated rubber man, being elevated to a semi-final when he will meet Prince Omar, the Persian protege of Shiek Ben Ali Mar Allah, who will be making his first appearance on a local mat.

The opening match is a main event in itself. It will see Dick Sampson, the strong man from Ohio, tangling with Wild Bill Venable, the Alabama woodchopper, who was knocked from his high perch by Andy Tremaine last Monday night.

Tremaine has to leave to fill an engagement next week and cannot appear. Hostilities will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Speed, science, strength, cunning and every other necessity to make up a great wrestler will be seen in the main event. Hartay probably will have strength on his side with plenty of scientific knowledge and speed. Mandell is the cunning type with lots of speed and ability to give and take.

Some fans desire the going rough and tough, and they'll get it in the preliminary because Bill Venable is in fact, he's so mad that he won't even speak to himself. "I'll get back to the top and then let any newcomer, old timer or anybody get me down," yelled Venable after losing to Tremaine.

The concrete roofs of San Francisco's reservoirs are to be used for tennis, basketball and handball courts and softball diamonds.
