ITALO-BRITISH PACT DUE TO BE CONCLUDED

(By The Associated Press) The world's wars surged on today but Europe's rumor of new wars slackened. Predictions of an early British-Italian accord became a splash of cheerful color on the European panorama after two hectic weeks of anxious, somber retouching and repainting. Informed persons in Rome predicted the British-Italian accord would be concluded by Saturday to include these provisions: British support for League of Nations recognition of the Italian conquests of Ethiopia; withdrawal of all Italian combatants from the Spanish civil war; absolute withdrawal of Italian forces from the Balearic Islands. Poland and Lithuania, near armed conflict last week, planned to patch up an old railway line so they could resume friendly communication, non-existent for nearly 18 years. There were rumblings of discord in Lithuania, however, with two cabinet members tendering resignations and students calling a 10-day period of mourning over the capitulation to Poland's army-backed demand for normal diplomatic and commercial relations. Germany, still digesting Austria, informed the League of Nations that her new province "no longer is considered" a member of the league. A mysterious roundup of Soviet citizens was underway in Russia—apparently an effort to insulate the suspicious regime from unwanted foreign contacts. Recent disappearances and arrests included a secretary of the Moscow office of the New York Times and several Russian employees of the United States embassy. ONE DEAD, 4 MISSING IN MOTORBOAT MISHAP

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21 (AP)—The twin motorboats Mistake and Misfortune started with six occupants on a cruise of wind-lashed San Francisco bay yesterday. Today four of their occupants were missing. A fifth was drowned. The sixth, rescued after five hours in the water, was recovering in a hospital. The drowned man was George Conrad, 25. His body was recovered by two bay ferry boats that saved Robert G. Ashworth, 19, Conrad's brother-in-law from the water. Ashworth, supported by a life preserver, held the body of Conrad in his arms during hours he was awaiting rescue. Nello Nertolotti, 25, was believed drowned. He, Ashworth and Conrad were the three occupants of the small outboard speedboat, Mistake. The second boat, Misfortune, with Walter Rosa, 28; Walter Rosa, 25, cousins of the same name, and Raymond Nichols, 29, was seen last heading toward the Alameda county shore. Searching police and coast guard boats reported no trace of them had been found today. Ashworth was semi-conscious when he was picked up. After he was given restoratives, Ashworth said his boat shipped water and overturned half way between San Francisco and Oakland.

STOLEN CAR ABANDONED ON WEST BROWN STREET

A 1937 Chevrolet coupe belonging to F. A. Riley of the Independent Torpedo company was recovered by city police officers at 3 o'clock this morning parked in the 200 block on West Brown street. It had not been damaged. The car was stolen about 11 o'clock last night from where it had been parked in the 100 block on East Foster avenue, Mr. Riley reported to city officers. While cruising in the police car, Officers Weldon Wilson and Spence Crossman spotted the car abandoned on Brown street.

BAND LEADER BADLY BEATEN

A fine of $23 was assessed this morning against Hubert Stewart, who with his brother, Chubby Stewart, had been charged with assault in connection with an attack early Sunday morning on W. F. Hunter, orchestra leader, as the latter was leaving the Southern club. Stewart pleaded guilty. Hunter was arrested yesterday by Deputies O. T. Lindsey and George Innman and placed in the county jail. His brother had not been apprehended up to noon today. A badly-injured right eye, cut lip, and broken nose were suffered by Hunter, who said he was unexpectedly assaulted when a man approached him, saying "Don't you remember me?" Hunter could give no reason for the attack. He said he had never seen the man before, and that Saturday was the first time he had been in Pampa since the time he and his orchestra played here a year ago. Hunter's eye was so seriously hurt that he may lose his sight in that eye, the orchestra leader said. In which case other charges might be filed against Hubert Stewart.

CITY CANDIDATES HAVE 4 MORE FILING DAYS

Candidates for city offices have until midnight Friday to file and have their names on the ballot. On April 5 qualified voters of the city will elect a mayor and two city commissioners, only elective offices. To file, names of E. S. Carr and W. A. Bratton, incumbent, have been filed for mayor; Lynn Boyd and W. T. Fraser, incumbent, commissioner No. 1; Dave Osborne and Marvin Lewis, incumbent, commissioner No. 2. P. M. Culbertson has been named election judge. His clerks have not yet been appointed.

FIRE AT RESIDENCE ON BARNES EXTINGUISHED

A fire at 720 South Barnes street this morning at 9:30 o'clock was confined to one room when firemen arrived in time to snuff out the blaze with water from the booster tank before it had time to spread. The fire started in the kitchen, burning a hole in the wall and damaging some of the furniture. Cause has not been determined by Fire Chief Ben White. Damage was light, he said.

Not So Fast, Soldier, That's U. S. Ground

Japanese troops may be in control of most of Shanghai, but when they try to walk past American marines and carry their arms into the International Settlement, they find the situation reversed, as pictured above. Under municipal rules, Japanese can enter the settlement—but not armed. The photo shows a Yankee marine officer as he waves a Japanese patrol back from the line. The soldiers, even the one trying a "flank movement" at the right, took their rifles back where they came from.

TVA CHAIRMAN WILL DECLINE TO QUIT POST

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt gave Chairman Arthur E. Morgan of the Tennessee Valley Authority today the alternative of withdrawing charges against his TVA colleagues or tendering his resignation. The President, at the third White House hearing on TVA inter controversies, gave Morgan until 1:30 p. m. tomorrow to state any reason he thought the President should not take executive action.

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—Declarations that TVA Chairman Arthur E. Morgan would reject any presidential demand for his resignation came today from his friends, shortly before a white house show down on the three-year old feud among TVA directors. Associates said Morgan had determined to stand pat on his refusal to document charges against his colleagues outside of a congressional inquiry. This refusal, they predicted, might lead President Roosevelt to demand his resignation or to seek his ouster. The President, who had asked the three TVA directors to back up their charges and counter charges against each other, gave chairman Morgan until 12:30 p. m., Central Standard Time, to answer "yes or no" as to whether he was willing to proceed in the inquiry.

MAN HELD FOR WRITING THREATS TO PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—A 35-year-old self-styled "educator," father of two children, was held in $5,000 bail today on charges of writing threatening letters to President Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt and several cabinet members. The prisoner, Lester David O'Dell, was denounced by Magistrate Irving Ben Cooper yesterday as "a clever, shrewd, cunning type, vicious to the extreme." He was held for a hearing March 30. Magistrate Cooper said O'Dell, apparently well educated, had written a series of annoying letters to Mayor or Fiorello Laguardia two years ago but the mayor had declined to prosecute in the belief the man was a crank.

LOCAL NURSE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Miss Mary Lois Barrett, local nurse, was brought to Pampa-Jarrait hospital yesterday afternoon for treatment of injuries received in an automobile crash Saturday night near Guthrie. Injuries suffered by Miss Barrett includes several bruises and lacerations, a broken rib and possible other injuries. X-ray pictures have been taken. Miss Barrett was en route to San Antonio when the accident happened.

The R. R. Can't Find Site of County Lake

W. S. Burge of Amarillo, department judge advocate of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, represented the state at yesterday's meeting of the ninth district here. Other state officers scheduled on the program were called to Houston where the national president held a caucus. Borger was selected as the next meeting place with the date tentatively set for May 5 when the national and state commanders are scheduled to be present. Election of a junior vice commander to succeed W. A. Bartlett who has moved from Pampa, was delayed until the next meeting when district officers for the following year will be named. J. E. Deen of Tulsa, district commander, was presented by Commander L. L. McCain of the Pampa post and he presided at the business session. Amarillo's degree team initiated five new members into the order. J. E. Boyd, commander of the Amarillo post, flew to Pampa in his plane and was in charge. The district delegates went on record as not recognizing the magazine "Fidels," published in Amarillo, as the official organization of the district. Records failed to show where the magazine had ever been approved. Several veterans will go to Lubbock Wednesday when Scott P. Squires, national commander, will address a meeting of West Texas V. F. W. members. More than 100 delegates attended the meeting of the V. F. W. and auxiliary. Refreshments were served at the Legion hut at the close of the business sessions.

Others Got Lost But the R. R. is not the only one who failed to find any rhyme or reason out of the maze of canyons, cow-trails, dim roads, ravines, etc. It is reported that Garnet Reeves got lost five times the third trip he made to the dam site. One day Al Doucette, Mr. Walker, Clinton Henry (who should have known better) and Tex DeWeese set out for the dam-site and they got lost twice. Sunday as a week ago, the R. R. instructed Miss Helen Martin and a group of other local teachers how to drive there. He repeated directions given by members of the lake committee, and Miss Martin and her friends wound up at McLean! Many others have had similar luck. Well, at Alameda yesterday, the R. R. met up with W. J. Ball, the king fish of Alameda. Then Mr. Ball began giving us directions. When he got through directing we thought we'd had a drink. Then the idea of going back to find the dam site was abandoned. Mr. Ball admitted that you ought to have a map to find it. So take a tip. Well, the R. R. and the boys took

GENTLE ZEPHYRS WAFT SPRING INTO PAMPA

Ab, 'tis Spring! The new season came in ever so gently at 12:43 a. m. today and shortly after dawn there came a bright sun which spread a glow over the land all day. With Spring came gentle zephyrs which, combined with the Texas sun, sent the mercury into summer brackets. The thermometer registered in the eighties beginning at noon today and by 4 p. m. unless there was a sudden change, the mercury was expected to be shooting toward the 90s for the first time this year. The lowest reading today was 48 degrees at 6 o'clock this morning. The weatherman predicts it will be cooler tonight and Tuesday.

CITY WAGES CAMPAIGN AGAINST TRANSIENTS

City police officers Saturday night and last night continued their drive to rid the city of transients and loafers. They arrested seven over the week-end and charged them with vagrancy. The men were unable to pay fines and rather than keep them in jail and feed them, officers escorted the men to the city limits and told them to "keep going," which they did. On Wednesday the officers arrested seven men in their drive.

6 Believed Drowned In 'Last Raft' Collision

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., March 21 (AP)—Old rafting tradition was cast into the discard today as police and volunteer searchers dragged the murky waters of the Susquehanna river for the bodies of six men drowned in the crash of the "Last Raft" against a bridge pier. One man was dead. He was W. C. Van Scoyoc 66, of Philadelphia, a "joy-rider." Missing were Thomas Proffitt, Chester, a news reel cameraman; Dr. C. F. Taylor, Burgess of Montgomery Borough; H. C. Conner, chief pilot of the raft, of Burnside; Harry Berringer, of Tyrone; Malcolm MacFarland, of New York, and W. W. Holly, of Bradford. Proffitt was recording the reenactment of old rafting practices when the 11-2-foot craft, made up of 51 huge white pine "sticks" hurled all but one of its 48 passengers into the river. In the "old days," which a small group of elderly former rivermen and descendants of lumbermen and raftsmen were trying to recreate by a 200-mile voyage to Harrisburg, the death of a member of the crew never halted the voyage.

FAIRBANKS FIRE RAGING IN FAIRBANKS

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, March 21 (AP)—A fire which started shortly after midnight in the heart of the business district was raging out of control early this morning, thwarting efforts of fire fighters who worked with the temperature two degrees above zero. The blaze was discovered in the McIntosh block and spread rapidly to an adjoining building. Volunteers were aiding members of the regular fire department. Loss of the two structures which housed several stores was estimated at $100,000.

18 Killed And Many Injured In Week-End

(By The Associated Press) At least 18 persons died in automobile accidents, fires, drownings and shootings in Texas during the last week-end. The dead: W. O. McIntosh, 63, of Denison victim of an automobile accident north of Richardson. Mrs. Lena Keller, 60, of Seguin, fatally injured in a truck-automobile collision on the new Seguin highway, 17 miles west of San Antonio. Dr. and Mrs. H. K. Hinde of San Angelo, killed in an auto crash near Fort Worth. H. W. Owens, 20, and L. E. Tennison, 25, McCamey, injured fatally when their automobiles crashed into a bridge six miles west of Mertzon on highway 10. Miss Sarah Cowan, 20, Temple, a student at the Texas State College for Women, Denton, injured fatally when the automobile in which she rode struck a bridge near Greenville. Elayne Thorenson, 16, of McAllen, killed in an auto-truck collision at a street intersection there. Jessie L. Patrick, 44, San Antonio

LETTER PICKED UP AT SEA FINALLY ARRIVES

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—Miss Letta Barber, Tully teacher had a letter today delivered part of the way by the Gulf Stream. The letter from a seaman friend of the Barber family, was mailed somewhere between Philadelphia and Port Arthur, Texas, between which ports the boat plies. Missing a mail boat off West Palm Beach, Fla., the seaman placed the letter in a corked bottle and tossed it overboard. Six days later it was delivered at her home in Tully. On the back of the letter was written that it had been picked up at sea by C. B. Paxon of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

HOUSE SENDS DISPUTED ACT TO SENATORS

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—The House approved overwhelmingly today the administration's billion-dollar naval expansion bill. Final passage came after defeat of a Republican attempt to send the bill back to the house naval committee with instructions to eliminate the provision for three new battleships. The bill now goes to the senate. The measure authorizes construction of 46 new warships, 22 auxiliary vessels and 950 airplanes which President Roosevelt said were needed "specifically and solely because of the piling up of additional land and sea armaments in other countries."

BOBBITT HITS AT CAR LICENSE 'RACKETEERS'

AUSTIN, March 21 (AP)—Chairman R. L. Bobbitt prefaced a Highway Commission hearing today with an assertion the department could not make needed highway improvements if public tax money goes into the pockets of racketeers. Referring to alleged improper sales of license plates to non-residents of some counties, he said the Highway Department last year lost about $700,000 rightfully belonging to the state highway fund and stood to lose $1,000,000 this year if the practice was not checked. The commission has restrained Madison county from registering cars and is involved in litigation in San Jacinto county which obtained an injunction restraining the state from interfering with registrations there. Bobbitt said the commissioner's action was in accordance with laws laid down by the legislature and its only interest was to obtain for state highway funds all money belonging to it and to citizens generally. He pointed out Bexar, Harris, Tarrant, Dallas, Jefferson and a few additional counties with large populations contribute about 182 counties paying nothing. Smaller counties retain the first $50,000 from registration of motor vehicles, which means they contribute nothing to state road building.

Orchids to Losers

It takes a real sport to be a good loser—to stand up and grin and bear it when he wants to crawl off in a corner and cry.

Last week after the final one-act play tryouts, the losers walked up to the victors, shook their hands, shakily smiled and walked off.

The popularity contest closed last Tuesday and there were eight students that felt pretty good about the rest of the week.

The student council delegates for the convention at Waco were chosen last week. Out of all these members in the council only five were elected to go.

Art Contest Will Be Held March 16 Says Mr. Kelley

Because there is no district meet in the art contests, the preliminaries to decide who will represent the school at the regional meet will be held here Saturday, March 26.

Lately some of the students in the art classes have been practicing on their favorite mediums. There will be three separate divisions in the contest: color, black and white and three dimensional material such as clay, wood, etc.

Every eligible person in high school is invited to enter this contest, says Mr. Kelley.

H. D. Keys talks to Secretarial Class H. D. Keys of J. C. Penny company gave a talk to Miss Zenobia McFarlin's first hour secretarial training class concerning the conduct of the employee to the employer.

Surrealism is a new phase of art that is quite often misunderstood. Surrealism is really. As an interesting example of the new trend in art, Harry Kelley, head of the art department, presents 'Soft Construction With Boiled Beans-1936' by Salvador Dali.

It is what Salvador Dali calls his interpretation of the conflict which is rendering his native Spain. The bowed figure at the left is a grotesque looking piece of meat, some earth and a few 's'.

In the picture the reporter saw only a pretty blue and yellow sky, a horrible looking face in the throes of agony, some bloody something or other, a hand or two, some stray bones, a box supporting a quivering looking piece of meat, some earth and a few 's'.

Harry Kelley states, 'Surrealism is the painting of the thoughts of the subconscious mind. It does not have and definite technique. A painter can be a Surrealist and use any technique, but it is the thought that's conveyed.'

Our 'Soft Construction With Boiled Beans' is a view into the subconsciousness of Dali himself over the terrible condition his country is in. The artist wishes to express complete destruction, morbidity and a sometimes ignored to obtain a result. The artist may feel that a person has two left feet if it suits the construction, he may have been unable to see both arms; hence there is only need for painting what he did see—probably one arm.

This reporter thought that he would see how Senior High reacts to surrealism; so he hustled around and gathered several impressions concerning 'Soft Construction with Boiled Beans.'

Mrs. Roberts: 'I think it's silly. I can't find any figure to the left of it. I don't see any clarity of refinement of detail. Oh, that's a foot, in delighted tone. It could have no influence on anything because there's nothing to it.' This reporter has a sneaking suspicion that Mrs. Roberts has something there.

Ernest Cabe's sociology class is studying the mentally disabled at present, so this reporter joined them and felt very much at home with that masterpiece in his mind.

Mr. Cabe: 'Pretty good example of current discussion. Have you seen that conflict in the district contest? Looks like a bad dream to me.'

The creation was passed around the room to the sociology students and was greeted with quizzical looks, puzzled looks, lifted eyebrows, tolerant looks, and just plain old laughs. 'He must be crazy!' 'Looks more like a conflict in his mind than in Spain!' 'Boiled Beans' 'res all things!' 'Maybe in crazy—but oh!' 'I've had nightmares but never one like that.' 'The conflict must be pretty terrible!' 'I guess I don't have a mind—I just don't get it.' Those were only a few of the more caustic comments greeting 'Soft Construction with boiled beans' by Salvador Dali.

Anyone interested in seeing this masterpiece is cordially invited to visit Mr. Kelley's art room at any time and view it to his heart's content.

'Rich Man, Poor Man' Cast Selected By Elimination

'Rich Man, Poor Man,' 1938 one-act play, rehearsals are in full swing. All characters of the play have been chosen, according to Kenneth Carman, director.

Characters chosen by process of elimination are: Peter..... Jimmy Moeley Emma..... Jeanette Cole Mrs. Haggerty..... Anna Stein Mrs. MacPherson..... Jerry Smith Mrs. Smythe..... Betty Vaughn Largo Johnson..... Bill Kelley Mrs. Olson..... Catherine Culberson Yetta..... Carolyn Surratt Tommy..... Howard Jensen Mr. Carman will direct the play.

The setting of 'Rich Man, Poor Man' is in a thrift shop where goods are distributed to the poor. Emma is the keeper of the shop. Peter has been away for a month, during which he has secured a job providing he is married. Complications arise when Peter returns and attempts to persuade Emma to marry him.

The dramatics department of Pampa High school originated with Miss Vilora Reed. The early dramatists presented several plays for public entertainment but did not compete in the one-act play contests.

Miss Arliss O'Keefe became dramatics instructor of Senior High school in 1930. This was the first year the dramatics department entered the one-act play contest. The play chosen for the contest that year was 'The Valiant.' 'The Valiant' won first place in the district contest and second place in the regional.

The next year Miss O'Keefe chose 'Die' to be the contest play. 'Mansions' was the one-act play chosen by Miss O'Keefe in 1932. The deep sea tragedy, 'Submerged,' was chosen as the one-act play in 1933.

Ben Guill became the dramatics instructor of Senior High in 1934. 'Smokescreen' was chosen for the one-act play contest, its cast and production carried Pampa High school to state one-act play contest for the first time in its history and won for it the state one-act play championship.

Each contestant must pay a fee of 50 cents upon registration for his event or events except volley ball, which is one dollar and fifty cents per team.

Wieners and Buns To Feature Picnic

Seniors are preparing their digestive systems for a field picnic as a class picnic is planned for this week. The exact day for the picnic has not been determined at the present time but will be announced very soon. It will probably be either Tuesday or Wednesday, according to Helen Draper, vice president of the club.

All seniors are urged to go because as Winston Savage says, 'A few undignified seniors will have a terrible time eating enough dogs to wear to gorge all seniors. Enough wieners will be bought to do just that and the rest will be a terrible waste if only a few came.'

Student Council Delegation Chosen

Five members of the student council classes have been selected to attend the student council convention at Waco, April 8 and 9.

Jerry Smith was elected from the sophomore class; Bob Anils from the junior class and Elmer Watkins from the senior class. The president of the student council, Ernest Watkins, will complete the group, along with the council sponsor, Ernest Watkins.

Dr. L. A. Woods Speaks to Student Body in Assembly

'We do not have to fight for our freedom, but we do have to retain it,' declared Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public schools, in his talk to the student body last Wednesday morning in assembly.

'Therefore,' he continued, 'it is necessary to redouble your efforts to make preparation to defend your liberty.' Dr. Woods said education's threefold purpose is teaching a child to live, teaching him how to support himself and maintain a representative government.

In losing he remarked, 'Our task is to carry on the fight with as much courage and foresight as did George Washington.'

With Dr. Woods was Miss Nell Parmelee, state director of public school music, who sang three Irish songs; J. B. Soper, Canyon, deputy state superintendent; and W. E. Weathered, Gray county superintendent of schools.

The girls' glee club and the A Cappella choir sang under the direction of Miss Helen Martin.

Sagebrush by the Sage

To the young ladies who have acquired such an art for climbing in windows: Next be sure no one is looking.

Someone once said that the people of today could not live because they worried about living tomorrow.

The seniors rather 'put it over' on the other two classes when they elected all of their candidates.

The school sounds like Ellis Island when the members of the one-act play cast start saying their lines. There are several different dialects in the play. By the way, the name is 'Rich Man, Poor Man.'

So far the Sage hasn't a problem from anyone.

A certain young Miss called the interscholastic league the elastic league. (Kinda stretching things, don't you think?)

WHAT PEOPLE ARE WORRYING ABOUT

Mrs. Roberts' about the seniors, and the seniors about getting out of Pampa High school.

Bob Randall: how he is going to make 100 in spelling when Miss McFarlin took away his book.

Johnny Johnson about ducking Larry's right the next time.

Norman Cox the same about J. P. Mathews.

Dona Gay Watson about reducing Chester Hunky to her own size.

Jack Cunningham, the basketball player, about dodging the slaps of Jean Gillispie.

Betty Bell about growing about two feet so she can laugh at some of the giants that make fun of her height.

Miss Brannon about receiving a letter from Robert Taylor. You know she wrote her name on the board at the LaBora and then gave her phone number.

The Sage enjoyed the music of the A Cappella choir very much, that is one organization in Pampa High school this year that has really accomplished a job. Following and not far behind is the girls' glee club.

Borger Commercial Team Visits Pampa

A commercial contest was held with Borger last Monday.

The sports and entertainers from Pampa were Dorothy Jackson, Ruth Keenan and Freda Dowell. Ruth Keenan won second place and Dorothy Jackson tied for third.

Typing contestants from Pampa were: Mary Lynn Schoolfield, Wyn-dall La Case, Madge Sirmen, Kirk Duran, Betty Shryock and Mary Elizabeth Seeds.

In typing, Mary Lynn Schoolfield won first making a score of 1461. Wyn-dall La Case, second and Madge Sirmen, third.

Favorite Section To Be Dominated By Five Seniors

All procedure was broken last Tuesday when the senior class elected all four of their candidates as the school favorites by the 'penny-a-vote' method. The senior candidates and their campaign managers held out an appreciable amount of money until the last minute and then swamped the sophomores and juniors.

Roy Showers won the title of the most popular boy in Senior High school for the second time in two years. His full-page picture will again grace the favorites' section of the annual this year. He defeated Jimmy Mosley, junior, and Walter Word, sophomore.

Alberten Schulkey, most popular junior girl last year, brought home the bacon this year as the most popular girl in P. H. S. Alberten is noted for her beautiful voice and winning disposition. She defeated Tommy Lee Close, junior, and Jerry Smith, sophomore.

Dona Gay Watson won the title of the most beautiful girl in Senior High over Mary Jean Hill, junior, and Hazel Claxton, sophomore. Dona Gay has an olive complexion and very dark eyes and hair. She was chosen as Pampa's Irish colleen for the Shamrock celebration last week.

Junior Williams won over Bob Andis, junior, in the closest and most exciting race in the whole contest for the title of best all-around boy. He also defeated Grover Hells-Kell, sophomore.

As the days stand now, all five favorites in the annual are seniors. Along with the four already mentioned, the Harvester football queen, Katherine Barrett, is a senior.

The annual staff states that the full-page pictures of the favorites will be in even more attractive this year than the previous last year.

Total profit realized from the contests was $106.90.

Annual Deposits Due April First

April 1 is the last day for the final deposits on all annuals, according to Mrs. Hol Wagner. If the deposits are not paid by this time, the annuals left over will be resold and the first deposits will be lost.

According to Jimmy Mosley, staff member, the annual this year is going to be a 'honey.'

Pictures made last Tuesday were all class officers and sponsors, student council, sophomore chorus and the girls' glee club.

Today is the last day for snapshot entries in the annual. The annual must reach the engravers by April 1.

Pictures remaining to be made are: National Honor Society, Valedictorian and salutatorian, Track team.

Tennis teams, both boys and girls, Boxers, F. E. A., Latin teams, Commercial teams, Interscholastic league literary contestants.

Spelling, Extemporaneous speaking, Debate.

Only the winners will be pictured in the interscholastic league literary pictures, states Mrs. Wagner.

One-act play, Junior play.

The favorites' pictures are being taken this week.

25 Girls Sing in Chorus at Canyon

Twenty-five girls selected from the Senior High girls' glee club sang in the massed chorus at Canyon last Saturday morning.

Miss Nell Parmelee, state director of music, directed the group which was composed of 200 girls from various schools of the Panhandle. They sang before the assembly of teachers present at the educational convention.

The girls wore their new suits of green skirts and gold-colored blouses. Although only 25 girls sang, all members of the club journeyed to Canyon in school buses.

Senior High girls who sang at Canyon were: sopranos, Sanny Barnard, Bernice Knapp, Donna Lee, Dezzern Lois Enloe, Virginia Simmons, Katherine Barrett, Teresa Campbell, Catherine Culberson, Lee Fender, Bonnie Lee Rose, Vera Sackett, Vernis Springer, Betty Jane Sperry, Betty Stockton and Nettie Lee Vaughn; altos, Hazel Claxton, Ariene Elliott, Helen Chandler, Rita Lee Eller, Nannie Lee Epperson, Helen Harris, Jean Lively, Louella Saunders, Geneva Lou Stephens and Helen Stephenson.

Seniors' Kid Day Set for April 1

Dates for most of the senior activities have been set for this semester, according to Mrs. Lou Roberts. The following are the activities that have been set for a definite date.

Kid Day..... April 1 Carlsbad Trip..... May 6-7-8 Junior-Senior Banquet..... May 14 Baccalaureate Service..... May 22 Vesper Service..... May 22

Principal D. F. Osborne has written two camps in New Mexico for rooms for the 200 people that will be going to Carlsbad, however, no reply has been received. This is the reason for the delay in announcing the cost of the whole trip.

Approximately 41 seniors profited by the selling of the senior play tickets. Out of these students 17 sold enough to go to Carlsbad by car and 24 to go by bus. Betty Elkins Bell sold the most tickets for any one individual. Altogether 470 dollars was brought in by the play.

Tennis Boys Go To Oklahoma City

Several members of the boys' tennis squad are going to Oklahoma City, Sunday, March 27, to see several national tennis players in action.

Those to make the trip are Hugh Stennis, Bobby Childress, Jim Brown, Roy Lackey and Bill Kelley.

Judging Teams to Compete April 7

The Pampa F. F. A. judging teams will journey to Lubbock to compete in the annual judging contest held there on April 7. Pampa will be represented by the four teams: livestock, dairy cattle, poultry and dairy products.

A E. Frazier states that he had a very difficult time selecting the dairy cattle team. He added that the boys have a great competition worked up between themselves and that there were 12 of them.

The livestock division will probably be composed of A. P. Coombes, Dudley West, Tom Hambleton and Billie Stockstill.

The poultry team will be made up of Roland Cole, Robert Hogan, Billy Taylor and Leo Moore.

Charles Shelton, Barnes Kinger, Norman Grossman and John Henry Nelson will make up the dairy products team.

The instructors state that they expect better results from these boys than from last year's teams, although last year's results were very good.

Invitations Chosen By Senior Class

Senior announcements of graduation are now on sale at McCarty's jewelry store. In book form, at the top of the page there is an impression of the entrance of the building.

The Senior High school seal, the name, Pampa Senior High school, is engraved in attractive print. They are seven and one half cents each. An especially nice invitation, leather bound, is 40 cents.

The last order which can be made for senior rings will be sent out April 7. Those wanting rings must order them before that time. A dollar deposit at McCarty's is necessary.

Seniors are urged to pay their dues of one dollar as soon as possible. Dues must all be paid before the time of the Carlsbad trip during the first week of May.

WTSC Compliments A Cappella Choir

A very high compliment has been received from the West Texas State college at Canyon by the A Cappella choir and their director, Miss Helen Martin. Below is quoted a letter from the college sent to school officials after the choir had presented a program for them.

'Congratulations upon your high school A Cappella choir! We have never heard better singing by high school boys and girls. The music you are helping them learn will have an influence which will go far beyond the hours that they spend upon it. It is indeed a fine thing that Pampa has someone who knows how to direct this type of work so profitably. I hope your group will come back and sing for us again.'

Glorifying Yourself BY ALICIA HART.

Real beauty, the variety which lasts through the years, comes from relaxed poise as well as from cleanliness and glowing health. One who does not have to substitute nervous energy (at least not often) for real physical energy and who manages to get her daily tasks done—and done well—without confusion, is sure to be more beautiful than the girl who seems always to be at loose ends.

Some kind of plan for day in and day out living usually is what the woman without poise needs most. Even though it sounds pretty elementary she might, for a time, write down a schedule for the following day before she goes to bed at night. Then follow the schedule as closely as possible. If it's a well thought out one, it will allow time for emergencies that arise as well as for what she knows must be done.

One of the most poised business women I have ever known says she simply could not do her work in an energy-saving relaxed manner without a definite plan. For instance, she always answers the morning's mail as soon as she has read it. Letters that come in during the day are put aside and answered with the next morning's batch. This way, she doesn't have letters on her mind when she begins writing advertising copy.

Also she doesn't make lunch dates, except with people in her own office. More often than not she lunches alone and uses the hour for quiet, calm thinking as well as for eating. She comes back ready to do a full afternoon's work instead of rushing from one end of town to the other trying to meet someone for lunch and get back on time. Allowing time enough for everything makes for poise and a more-to-live-with disposition. Arrive at the station 10 minutes before the train is due to leave, have a few minutes left after you've bought your ticket and a newspaper and see how much pleasanter the first few hours of the trip are. Get up 15 minutes earlier so that you can walk instead of run to work and you'll notice how much more work you can do that day. It's so poise-breaking to be always in a nervous, jittery hurry as it is to be so listless that your posture is of the slumping variety.

Faithful Workers' Class Will Fete Husbands Tuesday: Members of the Faithful Workers' class of the First Baptist church will entertain their husbands at a party to be given Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church. All members and members in service are invited to attend with their husbands. In South Carolina the law does not allow divorce for any cause.

James Weir's Modernistic Barber Shop Watch For Opening: The meeting was opened by selecting designs for wood carving. June Matheny's design was considered the easiest made and the most comical. The remainder of the meeting was spent in carving designs. The meeting was closed by repeating the Girl Scout promise in unison. Twenty-seven girls, four adults, and two visitors, Rosemary Deering and Norma Jean Frost were present.

Mrs. Kelley Leads Lesson at Priscilla H. D. Club Meeting

"For a wind break, plant shrubs or bushes adaptable to this country that will be both pleasing to the family and passersby." Mrs. Julia E. Kelley told members of the Priscilla club at a meeting in the home of Mrs. J. L. Stroope and Miss Donnie Lee Stroope Friday afternoon. After the business session which was conducted by the president, Mrs. Kelley discussed tomato growing and wind breaks. Each member told of her success or failure in growing gardens. Mrs. J. M. Daugherty entertained with a musical selection. Refreshments of fruit punch, cake, pineapple salad, cream, and gum drop daisies in spring colors with yellow predominating, were served to nine members and three guests, Mrs. Ben Talley, Mrs. Elizabeth Lockhart of Amarillo, and Miss Edna Turcotte.

Modern Menus BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Service Staff Writer: Mold your hospitality into a large gelatin salad, then call the neighbors in. Mayonnaise Ring (Serves 8 to 10): One envelope plain gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 1/2 cup boiling water, juice 1 lemon, 2 cups mayonnaise, 1 cup whipped cream, 1/2 teaspoon chopped chives, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 1 teaspoon minced celery leaves, 1 teaspoon capers, 1 tablespoon chopped canned pimientos. Soak gelatin in cold water for five minutes, then add boiling water and lemon juice. Cool. Add mayonnaise, whipped cream, and all the other ingredients. Rinse ring mold in cold water. Then fill with mixture. Chill until firm. Unmold on bed of lettuce and fill with chicken or lobster salad. Serve Louis sauce in separate bowl. Louis Sauce (1 cup): Two tablespoons cream, 2 tablespoons dry mustard, 2 teaspoons dry grated horseradish, 4 teaspoons vinegar, salt, paprika, cayenne. Soak horseradish in vinegar for five minutes. Whip cream, beat in mayonnaise and mustard. Gradually add soaked horseradish. Season to taste. It's grand. Easter Egg Salad: One envelope plain gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 cup mayonnaise, 4 hard-cooked eggs, 1 cup chopped celery, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons pickle relish, 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento, 3/4 teaspoon salt. Soak gelatin in cold water about five minutes. Place bowl over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Cool, and beat into the mayonnaise. Add other ingredients and mix thoroughly. Turn into loaf pan that has been rinsed in cold water. Chill. When firm, unmold and serve with juice. Arrange slice of Easter Egg salad on lettuce and garnish with slices of tomato, cucumbers and radish roses.

CANDIDATES GLAD THAT ALLRED WILL NOT RUN

AUSTIN, March 21 (AP)—Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, Attorney William McCraw and other gubernatorial candidates stepped up their campaign planning today in the wake of Governor James V. Allred's announcement he would not try for a third term. Thompson's friends said he would open state headquarters here this week. McCraw was expected to release his platform around April 1. Both men already were making frequent semi-political speeches. Mayor P. D. Renfro of Beaumont, who promises the state a sound business administration if elected governor, and Rep. Clarence E. Farmer of Fort Worth, liberal old age pension advocate, likewise were active. The chief remaining questions were what party Allred and former governor James E. Ferguson would play in the campaign and whether Harry Hines of Dallas, Allred appointee on the Highway Commission, would run. Some observers expected Ferguson to disclose his plans in whole or part later this week. They likewise believed Hines would make an early statement. Allred's decision to quit public office at least temporarily, created happiness among many persons in the camps of all candidates. Numerous supporters of the various candidates believe it will be less difficult for their respective standard bearers to reach the run-off now that the Governor is out of the race. Presented in Piano Festival

Four Auxiliaries Represented Here

At the district meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary held here yesterday afternoon, it was announced that the next meeting of this kind will be held in Borger on June 5. Approximately 40 women from Tulia, Amarillo, Borger, and Pampa were present at the meeting which was presided over by the district president, Mrs. T. H. Rogers. After the meeting, the group went to the American Legion hall where refreshments were served to the members of the V. F. W. and to the auxiliary members. Because of other business, the state president was unable to attend the local meeting.

Central Baptist Men to Meet This Evening at Church

All men of the Central Baptist church are urged to be present at a called meeting at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the church. The church closed another successful day yesterday with 310 in Sunday school and a large crowd for both preaching services. Nine new members were taken in the church, six by baptism and three by letter. One person confessed Christ but did not join the church, six rebaptisms were made, and 31 were baptized. More than 100 persons attended the prayer meeting on Wednesday day evening last week and a larger group than this is expected this Wednesday evening. The average height of English boys of 13 has increased one inch, and girls one and one eighth inches since 1914.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys: Many of those gnawing, aching, painful backaches people blame on colds or flu are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when they take the right medicine. The kidneys are Nature's chief waste-eliminating organs. They filter out of the blood the waste products of the body's metabolism. If they become tired, they cannot do their job properly. The result is a build-up of waste in the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day of about 3 pounds of waste. The 12 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic twinges, dizziness, energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and diarrhea. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills. They give happy relief and will help the 12 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

TODAY'S SERMONETTE

The rebuke which the Savior gave to the false teachers of His day possibly needs to be given today to those who would substitute men's teachings for those of God. "Howbeit," said the Savior, "in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men."—Chivers.

IT AIN'T SO!

Mashpee, Mass., is a town of 200 on Cape Cod and its officials would have us believe that no boy there has "kind, good manners." It just ain't so. It can't be.

Back in 1930 a man named Samuel G. Davis died, leaving a $50,000 trust fund, the income from which was to go to boys with "kind, good manners." Pleading now that they are unable to find such model youth within the confines of their community the village officials have asked the town meeting to divert the fund to school maintenance.

Forgetting the impossible situation where all the lads in a town of 200 were rude and ill-mannered, consider that the worst brats in the world can fool the grownups. The prevalence of kind and good manners during the Christmas season proves that.

But if there really are no kind and well-mannered boys in Mashpee (and that doesn't mean sissies) the citizens just might as well divide up the trust fund and move to other parts, for Mashpee has no future.

FAMILY TERRORS

Chance put a husband and wife on the same jury in Pittsburgh recently. Apparently the lawyers in the case didn't mind. But the husband himself objected.

The judge decided the man was wise. If the husband and wife could not agree about things, the judge said, it would be useless to try the case. Their disagreement would make a verdict impossible. On the other hand, if the husband and wife proved to be one in thought and expression, "We would have an illegal jury."

The story neglects to say which juror the judge dismissed, the wife or the husband. A few years ago doubtless it would have been the wife, because domestic duties would have loomed large and also because women on juries were not highly regarded. But time and attitudes change.

MINOR'S READING

"Tom Sawyer" and "Little Women" remain the most popular books among readers under 21, according to the editor of a popular magazine after a survey of its readers. It is not a bad selection, altho critics would not class the two on the same literary level. But it raises a lot of questions in the Missourian mind.

Who reported on the popularity of those books—their actual readers, or the parents, teachers and librarians? And what of "Huckleberry Finn" and "Treasure Island"? What is meant by "most popular"—best liked of all books read, or books read by the most persons?

In spite of carping questions, it is pleasant to find young people reading something more than the comic strips and fan magazines.

HIGHWAY SIDEWALKS

The state of Virginia plans to cut down the toll of pedestrian deaths on the open highway seems altogether sensible. Under a bill passed unanimously by both houses of the general assembly and signed by Gov. James H. Price, the state highway commission will build sidewalks along the most heavily traveled roads.

The walkways are to be built at request of county boards of commissioners and each county must bear half the cost of construction within its borders. Henry G. Shirley, state highway commissioner, estimates that the walks will cost between $7000 and $8000 per mile.

That expense will be well justified if the new walkways bring a drop in the number of persons killed by cars on the open highway. Such accidents claimed more than 550 lives during the last three years.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
 Dr. R. A. Webb, local physician, was elected commander of the Pampa American Legion Post No. 334 at the largest meeting held here since the opening of the post.

Blowing the tools out of the hole and smashing the crown block, the Danziger Oil and Refining company's No. 10 Jackson in section 88, block B-2, of the Bowers pool, hit pay and flowed wild for eight hours.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY
 O. H. Walker, chairman of the Gray county federal relief committee, received the second quarter allotment of $2,000 on the $8,000 given the county for relief for the month.

Plans were being made for an all-Pampa banquet for men of the city interested in civic enterprises.

Tex's Topics

If you have ever been a candidate for office—if you ever expect to be a candidate—or if you are interested in candidates, you will probably enjoy knowing the qualifications that are almost necessary before you can be elected to office, especially if it is of a state or national nature. The following qualifications were compiled by the State Observer, a newspaper at Austin, after careful study of a number of sources of information on this political subject. You can take the list and check your favorite candidate thereon against his opponent and the winner will be a two to one shot to win in the election.

1. Background. The ideal candidate should have been born on a Texas farm, preferably in a log cabin. The bigger his family, the better. . . . 2. Struggles. He must have sold newspapers when a boy; he must have worked his way through college—preferably a Texas college. We're a bit suspicious of the candidate who got enough railroad fare ahead to go to some other college, even if he did work after getting there. Wasn't Texas schools good enough for him, the dope!

3. Beginners. For best results, he should have been taught or taught school during or immediately after his college term, the meanwhile working for a law license. The school should be a country school and if our candidate was born in East Texas, the school teaching should have been in West Texas. Then, after getting his law license, he should have set up practice in some Big City with which he thereafter be identified. ("Jones is well acquainted with the problems of all sections of our great state, having been a native of East Texas and having lived in West Texas as a young man where he taught school in remote country district before moving to this metropolitan." How many times have you read that?)

4. Personal. Under this heading we place name, appearance, etc. The first name, preferably is one-syllable, or capable of being shortened to one syllable. An ingratiating and homely nickname is a distinct asset. There must be no foreign accent to it. . . . He must be an in-between handshaker—not a bone-crusher nor a fish barrel shaker, but a good, steady, firm handclasp, the while looking you squarely in the eye with the corners of the mouth turned slightly upwards. . . . He must be at least 5 feet 10 inches tall (we'll compromise on 5 feet 9) and weigh at least 160 pounds. This is to make a commanding platform appearance. . . . Charley Lockhart is the exception to prove the rule.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

WASHINGTON, March 21—This country is going to have to produce more big-time public enemies among the women if Bureau of Prisons Director Jim Bennett is to get that new federal penitentiary for women which he has urged Congress to provide.

Bennett and Attorney General Cummings asked for funds to start three new prisons, one of them to be "another Alcatraz" for hard-boiled women convicts. They complained that the federal women's reformatory was neither big enough to hold all their women prisoners nor strong enough to keep gentlemen friends from busting in and rescuing some of the inmates. Furthermore, they said, there was need of a place where all the tough ones could be segregated.

But a checkup shows that American womanhood has produced almost no public enemies of note and that among the small handful who have had their photographs in other than hometown papers, each lady has achieved fame in crime only through association with a more celebrated husband or boy friend.

Kathryn Kelly, wife of Machine Gun Kelly, and according to some theories the brains of the Urshel kidnaping gang, unquestionably is the star boarder among Bennett's lambs. But Kathryn comes far from being a feminine Al Capone, even though she is a permanent guest.

There's also Dolores Delaney, who figured in whatever tender moments Alvin Karpis may have had. And Sylvia Sieber Bird, serving a long term because she and her sister Barbara—who is still out—helped spring the bank-robbing Birds from the Cleveland jail last year.

But that's about the list and the only other lady celebrity whom Bennett has to keep is Mme. Mae Scheible of New York, who used to operate certain houses of questionable character.

Evelyn Prechette, who spent a couple of years as a federal prisoner because of the aid and comfort she gave her bad boy friend John Dillinger, emerged to join a traveling show and now travels around the country telling small crowds all about the late John and how crime doesn't pay.

So the hard-boiled House Appropriations Committee looked the situation over and decided that Mr. Bennett, for the time being, could have only one new $1,350,000 prison, not three. That probably will have to be used for men, although the women probably will get theirs sooner or later because hundreds of them are now farmed out to state institutions.

Federal prisons never do get the real fancy murderers, even when they're convicted. Federal crimes for which women are most often convicted are, in order of frequency, violations of the narcotics act, bootlegging, violation of the immigration act, counterfeiting and forgery. In most cases the women are only accomplices or accessories after the fact, often harboring or aiding some man who's the cause of it all.

The Arrival of Spring

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—When Xavier Cugat is with musicians, he says he's an artist; when he's with artists, he says he is a musician.

The truth is, he's both.

As maestro of a rumba-tango orchestra, he has been providing dance rhythms for society's belles and dons for a good many years.

As caricaturist, he has done everything from magazine covers to the "Curtain of Stars" in Grauman's Chinese theater in Hollywood. His latest achievements are the caricature murals in the MCA building in Chicago and those which cover four walls of the Lounge Restaurant in the Waldorf.

The little conceit of pretending he's neither fish nor fowl is, Cugat says, merely a convenience. It saves argument. Since he makes no pretension of being an artist, artists don't bother him with whys and wherefores. When he protests he is no musician, musicians find the props for argument knocked out from under them.

"The cartoonists think I should stick to my baton, the musicians that I should stick to pen and brush," he explains. "I stick to both and everybody's happy."

Born in Barcelona, Spain (he's an uncle of Margie, the actress who was playing the violin concert in Europe before he was well in his teens. When he was 14 years old (in 1915) he came to the United States as accompanist for Enrico Caruso.

It was while touring with the great tenor that young Xavier first got-ink on his bow fingers. Caruso's hobby was cartooning so hero-worshipping Xavier started drawing, too.

His enthusiasm for it almost wrecked his musical career. He gave up the latter once to join the art staff of the Los Angeles Times, doing Sunday magazine covers, but he couldn't stay away from his violin longer than that.

He thinks a dance floor is the caricaturist's most fertile field. "When politicians afflict with formalities and society dowagers afflicted with obesity swing into a hot rumba; or when a tough guy tries to look comfortable doing a sweet tango," he says, "you have caricatures in the flesh."

Cugat's drawings frequently are spiced with a caustic wit that is more than mere cartoon exaggeration. It is illustrated best by one in the "Lounge" Restaurant showing Charlie McCarthy, with "Dummy" Edgar Bergen on his lap.

That sort of thing almost got the best of him once. A Los Angeles society matron sued him for $20,000.

The result, Cugat says, was somewhat similar to the finding of the Texas judge in the case of the man charged with murder: "Not guilty, but not ever do it again."

Lowell Thomas is paid $500 a day for his news broadcast. He has written more books than he can remember and lives on a farm in Dutchess county, near President Roosevelt's estate, 70 miles from New York.

PORT DODGE, Ia.—Peter Grell, 72, who married fifty years ago, is celebrating his golden wedding anniversary this year by asking for a divorce. His suit charged his wife, Susan, 72, with cruel and inhuman treatment and desertion.

A nine-year-old boy, C. E. J. Bishop, is the champion piano player in the world. He is a member of the Grand National Player of Great Britain. He won the title in a London tournament, competing with more than 1,000 players.

People You Know Around Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD—Life goes on more or less serenely in Hollywood and then, all of a sudden, there is somebody to whom Hollywood wants to attest its deathless affection.

Time was when messages of the sort could be conveyed simply. A godly bonus, a nicely dictated letter, or a telegram of love, gratitude, and all that—and that would get over the idea.

No more. Nothing short of a testimonial banquet will do. That means Hollywood must drop what it's doing that evening, put on its glad rags, and assemble to do honor to One Who.

The test, bang, Hollywood style, by now has settled down into a comfortable formula. Like this: "Everybody who is anybody—and couldn't think up an excuse—is on hand. This includes the guest of honor.

The cloak-room girls are in a cither of proximity to fame. (Quote: "Girls, girls! This silver fox cape belongs to—Jennette MacDonald—feel! And did you see Gene Raymond— isn't he DARLING!")

Food, Too
 Dinner, of course—and in courses. The usual things. Chicken or squab, always. And ice cream shaped like Leo the Lion, or the Great Seal of Warner Bros., or the Goldwyn Touch—something significant.

And then—at long last and too soon—the speeches.

Joe Schenk (or somebody else) arises, clears his throat, and with quite a few well-chosen words presents the toastmaster, who is always George Jessel (never anybody else).

Mr. Jessel, if it was Mr. Schenck, remarks jovially that he and Mr. Schenck have the same tastes in some things. This brings a big laugh because everybody knows that Mr. Jessel's wife was first Mr. Schenck's wife. Then Mr. Jessel makes other remarks by way of introducing various people who need no introduction, and at length "Invariably—he gets around to Mr. Will H. Hays.

Mr. Hays starts in at the genesis of the motion picture, briefly outlines the course of human events from Adam to the present.

Some Listen
 By this time occasion is offered to observe the famous in the throes of listening to a speech. Over there sit Frank Borzage and Rudy Vallee covertly exchanging (you suspect) wisecracks: "Mrs. Borzage, with her eyes closed, may be listening intently but you suspect she's catching 40 winks; Gloria Youngblood, with Rudy, is looking dorkily beautiful. Ilona Massey is looking beautiful.

At last the guest of honor has his innings—and the game already has taken 15. If he is Eddie Cantor, he arises humbly and says he owes it all to Ida; if he is Louis B. Mayer, he arises humbly and says he owes it all to loyal friends—and takes up where Mr. Hays left off.

After all this, of course, there is entertainment. And then—along past midnight—the party's over until—until next time.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life ...

TARIFFS AND WAGES.
 If there ever was contradiction and inconsistency in any administration, it is the present administration under Hull's trade agreement and the Wagner labor relations act. Hull has been making new trade agreements.

Workers in foreign lands are permitted to work for what they can get and sell their services to the highest bidder, but in the United States, under the Wagner act, workers are not permitted to sell their services to the highest bidder. They are obliged to be idle, if they cannot get wages established under the Wagner act.

It certainly is inconsistent to permit the workers in Europe to ship goods into the United States, produced on a competitive basis, and supply the demand and refuse to allow employers in the United States to hire people on any other basis than what the voting majority may establish wages to be.

How many thinking men can believe that these contradictions and this discrimination against American consumers and workers, will do anything but cause more and more unemployment, is more than any man with practical experience in employment can comprehend.

The Capitol Jigsaw

AUSTIN, March 21 (AP)—Rep. Geo. Moffett of Chillochee, running for the senate, comes forward with a novel suggestion to aid the cotton industry.

"If all the candidates would use cotton stationery," he writes, "it would help."

Moffett, seeking to unseat Senator Ben G. O'Neal of Wichita Falls, gives a practical demonstration of his theory.

His letter, urging development of new uses for cotton, was neatly typed on standard-sized "sheets" of cotton cloth.

Moffett hopes a federal laboratory to conduct researches into possible new uses for cotton authorized by congress, will be located in Texas.

He was author of a bill last year to provide state funds to match federal money for a laboratory, but the measure was vetoed by Governor James V. Alfred on grounds of economy.

State headquarters of Rep. Clarence E. Farmer, candidate for governor, will be located at Waco and his campaign directed from there.

Farmer's new political paper, Farmer's Texas Forum, is being published at Waco. Incidentally, it is the second political "Forum" in Texas, the first being that of former Governor James E. Ferguson.

For several months, Governor Alfred has been writing a column for weekly newspapers, called "The Rest of the Record."

Capitol circles were not greatly surprised when Mayor C. K. Quin of San Antonio announced he would not run for governor.

Despite the fact he had intimated he would make the race if former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson was not a candidate, few in Austin took his possible candidacy seriously.

Asked if Quin's withdrawal meant Mrs. Ferguson would get into the contest, former Governor James E. Ferguson said the situation was unchanged.

The latest previous statement on the Ferguson situation was that Mrs. Ferguson was receiving many letters urging her to run and she hadn't made up her mind.

A San Antonio paper quoted Quin as saying, when he announced he was out of the gubernatorial race, he might run for congress.

Congressman Maury Maxerick, present representative from the San Antonio district, is a bitter political foe of Quin.

"There are enough ex-senators in this race to conduct an investigation which would mean absolutely nothing."

It was G. A. Jerry Sadler, Longview candidate for the railroad commission, speaking.

Sadler wants to oust Commissioner C. V. Terrell, up for re-election. Terrell was a senator from Wise county for three terms, from 1897 to 1901 and 1911 to 1913.

Other former senators running for the commission are Will Martin of Hillsboro and R. A. Stuart of Fort Worth.

The "handwriting on the wall" spells Morris for railroad commissioner. "This is the slogan of a broadside by Frank Morris, another candidate, not a former senator.

Meter the pipelines.
 Oppose corruption, chiselers, extravagant expenditures.
 Remove the tax-eaters and prosperity is here.

Relief must come to royalty owner. Inviting graft and greed we invite destruction.
 Serve the tax-payers and not the tax eaters.

These and other platforms, depicted on a dead wall give Morris' platform.

Commissioner Terrell, commonly known as Judge Terrell, looks with much regret on difficulties of the League of Nations.

"I always was a believer in the league," he said. "It is an effort to settle troubles of the world by constitutional and judicial process. It is a pity events have turned as they have in recent years."

Rep. G. C. Morris of Greenville said in Austin, Senator Claud M. Isbell of Rockwall so far had no

How's Your Health?

STAMMERING
 Estimates show that one child in every hundred stammers, and in every girl who stammers there are four boys who do.

The fact that the stammerer can speak fluently at times indicates that there is more than a mechanical disability at the root of his speech difficulty. It suggests also that the emotional factor in his disability is both large and important.

Stammering shows itself usually in two forms: (1) The "clonic," commonly known as the stutter, in which the sound to be produced is repeated several times. (2) The "tonic" in which a silent period, long or short, precedes the utterances of such sounds as give difficulty.

The "tonic" sufferer is apt to contract the muscles of his face, lips, larynx or even of his arms and legs.

Essentially, stammering represents an interference with the coordination of the muscles involved in breathing and speaking. So the stammerer has been treated by various forms of speech and breathing exercises.

But in recent years the mechanism of stammering has been traced further back to its emotional roots. Speech re-education is now usually coupled with some form of psychotherapy.

Many stammerers are excitable and irritable, are mastered by abnormal fears, frequently suffer from bed-wetting and night terrors, or one who has experienced emotional disturbance incidental to the arrival of a new member in the family, great fright, loss of a parent or family disharmony. Unlike the normal child the stammerer appears unable to adjust properly to taxing experiences.

The cure frequently necessitates the emotional readjustments of the child even more than re-education in speech, though the latter often helps because many stammerers develop careless speech habits.

Cranium Crackers

Smith and Sands were competitive furniture men and undertakers in a country town. Smith, knowing Mrs. Voss was near death, mailed to Mr. Voss a short letter stating "Remember our embalming department. Absolute satisfaction guaranteed or your money back." And Smith signed "Sands" name to the letter. The letter accomplished its purpose and Smith got Voss' business when his wife died shortly thereafter. Some time later Sands heard of the letter and brought action for damages on the theory that the sending of the letter was libel. The lower court sustained a demurrer to the petition, holding that it did not state an action against Smith.

opposition for re-election and probably would have none.

For a time last winter Morris had considered opposing Isbell but finally decided to seek return to the House, where he is chairman of the committee on highways and motor traffic.

Isbell is running for his first full term of four years. At present he is serving the unexpired term of Senator Wallace Hightson of McKinney, resigned.

Says Rep. Augustine Celaya of Brownsville:
 "A campaign manager sometimes hurts a candidate more than he helps him. He does this by making promises the candidate, if successful, can't live up to."

WRESTLERS BEGN TRAINING FOR TRACK MEET THREE WEEKS AWAY

GRID PRACTICE TO CONTINUE AT SAME TIME

Coach Odus Mitchell looked at the calendar this morning and let out a yell that could be heard a block away when he realized that the district track and field meet was less than three weeks away. The coach has been concentrating on spring football and didn't realize that today was the opening of spring.

"All boys wanting to go out for track and field, not already out for football, report this afternoon," Coach Mitchell yelled as he marched down the school corridors.

Boys out for football will be allowed to concentrate on track and field next week with others continuing at spring football training. Coach Mitchell, after thinking hard for a few minutes, couldn't remember how many lettermen track and field stars he would have back from last season. "I'll have to look up the list of last year's entries," remarked the coach.

Because of his many duties—football, basketball and track and field—Coach Mitchell doesn't have much time to concentrate on each of the "subjects" so he takes to the major ones. "I need to be three different persons at the same time, I guess," smiled the genial Mitchell.

IN THE TEXAS LEAGUE

FORT WORTH, March 21 (AP)—The Fort Worth Cats of the Texas League defeated Lake Charles of the Evangeline circuit 15 to 11 here yesterday in an exhibition tilt, after more than two hours of uphill slugfests.

MARSHALL, March 21 (AP)—The Texas League's Dallas Steers pounced on three St. Paul (American Association) pitchers here yesterday and trended up a two-game exhibition series with the Saints, winning 12 to 9.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 21 (AP)—The Shreveport Sports, newcomers to the Texas League this season, split a double header with the Oklahoma City Indians here yesterday to gain the edge in a three game series. Shreveport won 13 to 8 and the Indians won 10 to 2. The Sports were victors in a Saturday game.

LAREDO, March 21 (AP)—The San Antonio Missions of the Texas League, playing their first exhibition games of the season here where they are training, yesterday defeated the Laredo Stars 4 to 3 and 13 to 3 in morning and afternoon tilts.

Cubs, Browns and Tigers Unbeaten in Citrus Loop

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—Grapefruit league, citrus circuit or lemon loop, whatever you call it, the annual spring scramble of the 16 big league clubs, is underway with the Chicago Cubs, St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers setting the pace.

Each of the three teams has a spotless record, but there are extenuating circumstances. The Cubs have played only three times and the Browns and Tigers, while the Browns are enjoying the rare atmosphere of first place on the strength of four victories, three of them scored over Tulsa of the Texas league and one over a semi-pro outfit.

The New York Giants are second. They have won all but one of their eight games and have scored 76 runs, more than any other National League team. The Cincinnati Reds, morning glories of the southern circuit in 1937, are third with five victories and one defeat.

The Giants and Reds have had great success with National League teams. Each club has won all three of its games against National League teams and the Giants have also taken three out of four from American League rivals.

The Philadelphia Athletics have played the most games (11), scored the most runs (88) and had the most runs scored against them (101). They have won only six of their games.

Mystery Men in First Place in Bowling Tourney

CHICAGO, March 21 (AP)—The mystery men of St. Louis rolled up a score of 3035 last night as a target for other teams in the American Bowling Congress to shoot at.

The mystery men were in first place by the margin of 45 pins over the Nabor A. C. of Chicago. Their score won the championship in two years, but it took 3.18 last time and probably will take more this year as the scoring continues at a rapid clip.

Records at the tournament are reaching a ceiling that may not be hit by many of the contestants. It is probable that the high individual series has already been set. Certainly Knute Anderson's 746 will require a lot of beating. The all-events leader, Don Beatty of Jackson, Mich., is as yet unchallenged and might conceivably remain on top.

Idaho Pilot Kills Coyotes From Plane

Lamoine Stevens, Twin Falls, Ida., transport pilot, didn't find business so very good, so he decided to scare up something on the side. ## Grayson Says Landis To Smash Cards 'Syndicate'

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, PDA Service
BELLELAIR, Fla., March 18—The most important decision in the history of baseball is about to be made here.

Within the next several days, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, the supreme dictator, may declare at least 100 ball players free agents. If Landis goes through with this declaration, it means that the 100-or-more players will be able to sign with whatever clubs they please. Leslie M. O'Connor, secretary-treasurer of baseball, as Judge Landis is pleased to call his office, says that the number of athletes involved will be closer to 500 than 100. O'Connor personally conducted the investigation for Landis, working on it for two years. There are 500 pages of evidence.

If Landis goes the way that he intends to go at this moment, at least $300,000 worth of baseball talent will be thrown on the open market.

This action will be based on charges that the Cardinals have violated one of the strictest rules in baseball, which says that no major league club may have a working or trading agreement with two clubs in the same minor league.

It seems that the Cedar Rapids Club in the Western League had a working agreement with Rochester, a St. Louis affiliate, in 1935. In 1936 and 1937, this relationship appeared to have been severed. Thereupon, Cedar Rapids entered into working agreements with a large number of clubs of lower classification. These various clubs were in leagues with which the St. Louis Club or some of its affiliates had working agreements.

Landis tells me that the testimony in the St. Louis-Cedar Rapids hearing in Chicago, Feb. 8, which no newspaper reporter gave a tumble, developed that all—or most—all—of the players on the Cedar Rapids Club, and the various clubs with which it had working agreements, received all of their players—or approximately all—out of the Cardinal-conducted Springfield, Mo., training camps run by Branch Rickey and the Red Bird organization in the springs of 1936 and 1937.

Judge Landis also told me that some of these players were placed under contract with the Springfield Club, but that their contracts were destroyed, and not sent to the National Association offices for recording and promulgation as the rules of baseball required. It is alleged that these players were then shooed into the various camps of clubs having working agreements with the Cedar Rapids Club, the players being under the impression that they had to be shooed there.

"They," says Landis, "sincerely believed that they were under the domination of the Cardinals' Springfield Club."

It now develops that the severance of relationship between the Cardinals and the Cedar Rapids Club was a mythical severance, due to the close relationship of Branch Rickey and Harry Johnson, the Cedar Rapids owner. Landis and Judge William Gibbons Branham, president of the National Association, original signatures were eradicated, and questionable methods were resorted to in frenzied attempts to cover up when the jig was discovered.

But Landis traced original letters and communications to their points of delivery, and at the Chicago hearing asked: "How come these phony duplicates?"

"I never before saw Branch Rickey stopped," says Branham, "but Judge Landis knew more than Rickey suspected."

"Judge Landis has an open and shut case that would stand up in any court in the land."

I asked Landis if he had definitely made up his mind that there was fraud in the case.

"Fraud, young man, is a tough word," he replied. "But there was deception. And there will be no deception in baseball as long as I am the commissioner, and my contract runs through 1941."

Landis gets $85,000 a year for being in town, by the way.

I asked Landis if he would punish the higher-ups, as well as the pawns or little fellows who might have some of those stray ball players. "Declaring ball players free agents is punishment enough, according to the howls that I've heard when I've declared one a free agent," replied the silvery-haired commis-

PHILLIPS FIVE WINS THIRD IN CAGE TOURNEY

DENVER, March 21 (AP)—From the mile-high mountain country to the plains of the midwest, went the national A. A. U. basketball championship today, carried there by the victorious Healey Motors team of Kansas City, Kas.

The Kansans won America's most glittering basketball title from the giant Safeways, the team that brought it to Denver last year. They won it Saturday night in one of the most nerve-jarring championship contests caddis' No. 1 show ever has seen.

The 40-38 decision left more than 7,000 spectators who jammed the city auditorium to the roof screaming in near-hysterics, so swift and furious was the pace.

Whatever basketball the Safeway players play next season will be in different colors. Their sponsors announced that mainly because of chain store taxes they were giving up the team.

In Saturday's championship tussle, two "freshmen" in tournament play fired the final shots. With 30 seconds to play, Ralph Bishop, Safeway's new forward from the University of Washington, leaped up and hurled the ball through the netting to tie the score at 36-36.

Ten seconds later, Fred Praile, Healey's all-Big Six guard from Kansas, dribbled across the corner of the court, dodged the Safeway guards and, going at full speed, whipped in a one-hander that earned the victory.

Sports writers voted Praile the most valuable player.

In the consolation game for third place the Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips defeated the Wichita, Kas., Gridleys 45 to 32.

Out-of-State Horses Win in Cowtown Show

FORT WORTH, March 21 (AP)—Out-of-state entries captured two of three prizes at closing performances of the horse show at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show here last night.

June Choice, 5-year-old-bay mare owned by Walter H. Gant, of Ardmore, Okla., took the $1,000 first prize. Sterling Silver, Gray Gelding of the George Brandy stables, Omaha, Neb., the $1,000 three-gaited saddle stake, and Kalama Price, property of Sundial stables of Houston, the $250 fine harness stake.

"Innocent purchasers will be recommended."

Landis always has been against the so-called "farm" system.

His contention is that baseball will support itself where it is worth being played.

"Don't let major league owners tell you that they are subsidizing minor league clubs just to keep little leagues going," he asserts. "They're doing it for their own selfish motives, and they know that I know it."

I asked Judge Branham if, on the evidence, Landis had grounds to bar Branch Rickey from baseball.

"Landis once sentenced a minor league owner to five years on evidence that he schemed to take his old manager from a club he had sold to one that he had purchased," explained Judge Branham. "I can't see how Judge Landis can penalize minor league owners without doing something about the director of the Octopus."

Rule Forbids Syndicate Control
Sometime back, Landis heard a complaint unofficially made by George Weiss, director of the New York Yankee chain. Cedar Rapids of the Western League had drafted a player from the Norfolk, Va., outfit, a Yankee subsidiary.

Weiss immediately got in touch with Rickey. He asked why the Cardinals were fooling with future Yankees. It seems that Rickey partially straightened the situation out, but Weiss paid $500 for a ball player who originally belonged to Col. Jacob Ruppert, and who had been drafted for $2500.

Anyway, Landis got wind of what was going on. And such a fine authority as that able North Carolina lawyer, Judge Branham, tells me that Landis finally has Rickey and the Cardinals dead to right.

Landis frankly tells me that he simply is exposing the syndicate baseball operations of the St. Louis Cardinals.

They're all trying to square it, but Landis' neck is bowed.

This is his turn at bat.

Tremaine And Venable Meet In Finals Tonight

ALLISON GIRLS WILL PLAY IN NATIONAL MEET TONIGHT

WICHITA, Kas., March 21 (AP)—Powder puffs invaded the locker room today mingling delicate scent with the strong odor of liniment as 30 "queens of the court" prepared for their week-long battle to win the women's national A. A. U. basketball crown.

Brunets, blonds and red heads, representing the nation's best in feminine court talent, tonight will begin their colorful annual effort to show the world that women have successfully bridged the gap from hoop skirts to basketball hoops.

The staccato rhythm of "warmup" sessions will take on a steady beat at 6 p. m. (CST) when the Meriden, Conn., high school girls and the experienced Des Moines, Iowa, A. I. B. team clash in the opening game.

The defending champion Flyers of Little Rock, Ark., will meet the Mulvane, Kas., Merchantettes at 7 p. m.

The Tulsa, Okla., Stenos meet the Allison, Texas, high school at 11 p. m.

All the girls were giving thoughtful consideration to the Anicos of Galveston, Texas, whose string of 25 victories without a defeat this season marked them dangerous contenders.

Irish 'Sweeps' Reaches Total Of $13,730,010

DUBLIN, Mar. 21 (AP)—The 23rd Irish hospitals sweepstakes lottery, on which the drawing of winning tickets started today, reaped a total of $13,730,010.

Of this amount paid in by ticket holders $8,857,800 will be returned to the lucky in prizes ranging from $800 to $150,000.

Probably half of the winners will be Americans, who play the "sweeps" heavily.

Irish nurses today and tomorrow will draw approximately 4,000 winning tickets from an spinning cylinder containing 5,500,000 numbers.

The prize fund is divisible into 16 units of $500,000 each. The balance, $57,600, is divisible into 50 residuals of $1,152 each.

The first horse drawn was Royal Daniell.

The first ticket was drawn by "Zol Zein, Mit Mazel" (Shall Be With Luck), 770 Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Eight Americans and one Canadian drew Royal Daniell.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

By The Associated Press
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—All that the New York Yankees have found out thus far about Joe Gordon, their new second-sacker, is that he is a pretty fair batsman. The shortstops, Frank Proseetti and Bill Knickerbocker have been out of the lineup and Babe Dahlgren, the present incumbent, is not a shortstop. No one will know how good Gordon is until he plays regularly with the same shortstop.

BATON ROUGE, La.—Hank Leiber's show of hitting power has the New York Giants talking. The big fellow, out most of last season after Bob Feller beamed him in an exhibition game, collected two doubles yesterday and crashed a tremendous fly off Feller which Roy Weatherly went far back to catch.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Larry MacPhail, the Brooklyn Dodger's general manager, has no intention of trading Buddy Hassett, ex-first sacker who is now trying for an outfield post. "I have no idea of sacrificing Hassett's hitting ability," said MacPhail, who added that Buddy would be given another full

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., March 21 (AP)—Cecil Smith's Texas Rangers claimed the Pacific high goal polo championship today.

With Smith tallying seven goals, the Rangers defeated Santa Barbara 14 to 8 in the finals here yesterday. The local team was given a five-goal handicap.

FRISCH SAYS SAMMY WILL COME THROUGH

By GAYLE TALBOT
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 21 (AP)—It looks a little as though Paul Dean might be back in there fogging 'em across for the St. Louis Cardinals within another month. That's important tidings to seven other National League clubs.

Paul, younger and slightly less voluble brother of the Great Diz, has been off the firing line for the better part of two seasons with a "catch" in his money arm. It's gone now, he says. Manager Frank Frisch is dubious, but hopes Diz is right.

"I'm almost sure she's all right," said Paul. "I haven't felt even a twinge so far, and I've been cuttin' loose pretty hard. There isn't much stuff on it yet, but that will come."

"Boy, wouldn't it be great if Old Diz and I got going together again? I wonder how Bill Terry would like that. We're going to do it, too. That Diz is better and smarter than he ever was."

Paul has got himself into surprisingly good shape. A few months ago he was hog-fat, up to 220 pounds, and now he's down to 190. During 1934 and '35 when he was turning in 19 victories a season his weight was around 185.

The exemplary behavior of the Brothers Dean thus far is making Frisch look years younger. There's an improved spirit in the Cardinals since Diz calmed down, and everybody is hoping it will last.

Sammy Baugh is the club's big new attraction. Spectators at the exhibition games now point out the lithe football star instead of the Deans and Joe Medwick and Pepper Martin. Frisch really thinks Sammy has the makings.

"All he needs is to learn to hit," said the old Fordham Flash. "He's a better player right now than I was at the same stage. As far as his fielding is concerned, he could step into third base on any club. He simply hasn't been taught how to hit properly, but it won't take him long to pick that up. It's just a question of showing him how to use his feet at the plate."

Whether the Cards are going to be a better club than last year, when they finished a weak third, is difficult to say. There are too many "ifs" the principal one being, of course, Dizzy Dean. If Dizzy does return to the 25-game class, it goes without saying that the Red Birds will be flag contenders. If Daffy comes back they'll be in the world series.

month to make the grade in the garden.

LOS ANGELES—Al Todd, husky Pittsburgh Pirate backstop, had his sights trained for National League fences. With five home runs notched on his big bat already, he's hopeful of getting a bumper crop of long-distance blows in the regular season.

SAN ANTONIO—The St. Louis Browns took their ease today after having won the first four games of their training camp schedule. They leave tomorrow for Laredo to engage their farm club "cousins," the San Antonio Missions.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., March 21 (AP)—Cecil Smith's Texas Rangers claimed the Pacific high goal polo championship today.

With Smith tallying seven goals, the Rangers defeated Santa Barbara 14 to 8 in the finals here yesterday. The local team was given a five-goal handicap.

Likeable Andy Tremaine is coming back.

In fact, Andy will be here tonight and will be featured in the main event of Promoter Cliff Chambers' wrestling card—an all-star card too. Andy will be given the tough assignment of trying to eliminate Wild Bill Venable from the picture and that's a job for any grappler.

Hostilities will open promptly at 8 o'clock with one of the strangest matches of the year. It will see Slim Hall and Jack Mandell in action. The two reach far in the air and are as limber as a slice of bamboo and as pliable as rubber. No one has been able to tie the Hollywood Rubber man, Slim Hall, in knots yet. Mandell is of the same type and fans wonder if he can get out of Hall's freak holds. Well, we'll see tonight.

A semi-final that is liable to steal the works tonight will be the match between George Hartay of Hungary and Dick Simpson of Ohio. They are a pair of the classiest scientific grapplers to appear this season.

Speed, science, ability and strength will feature the semi-final. Both grapplers work like lightning and if there is a dull moment in the match, it will be shock enough to last the rest of the night.

Tremaine is as popular a grappler as has appeared here in many moons. He's a clean battler by nature but if pressed too hard can get tough and tonight he will be pressed mighty hard. Venable has turned a tough cookie since downing Gordia Foggi and Jack Mandell. In fact, his chest almost protrudes through the ropes when he struts around.

Six New Champs Crowned in Fat Stock Show Rodeo

FORT WORTH, March 21 (AP)—Six titles changed hands last night as the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show rodeo rang down the curtain on 1938 and bestowed its laurels in 10 world's champion cowboys and cowgirls.

Champion all-round cowboy of the show was Hugh Bennett of Fort Thomas, Ariz., who won $1,156 in day and final money for calf roping and steer wrestling and won a point toward the all-round title for each dollar earned.

Other champions for 1938 are as follows:

Bareback bronc riding—Pete Girub of Blackfoot, Idaho.

Cowgirl's bronc riding—Rose Davis Breen of Tucson, Ariz.

Calf roping—Jess Goodspeed of Okemah, Okla.

Steer wrestling—Rusty McGinty of Plains, Texas.

Brahma bull riding—Ken Roberts of Strong City, Kansas.

Bronc riding—Burel Mulkey of Salmon, Idaho.

Cowboys—trick and fancy roping—Chester A. Byers of Fort Worth.

Cowgirls—trick and fancy riding—Dick Griffith of Fort Worth.

Cowgirl's trick and fancy riding—Pauline Nesbitt of Nowata, Okla.

LOVE LAUGHS AT THE DOCTOR

BY ELLINORE COWAN STONE

Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday, Connie gets her first letter from Derek and stated she wonders if the people at Bartlett's are interested in her. She was to learn just how much later!

CHAPTER X

AT Bartlett's next day things got off to a bad start.

Miss Letts, for whose customers Constance sometimes modeled gowns, was the saleswoman who, so short a time ago, had sold her many of the lovely things now hanging unused at home. Although the woman never gave any sign of remembering that Constance could not escape a feeling that Miss Letts did not like to work with her. She put this down to the fact, which everyone knew, that the red-haired Pauline was Miss Letts' favorite model.

The trouble began while Constance was showing some gowns before a customer for Miss Letts. Another customer, whose stocky ankles and sofa-pillow torso suggested an unwise devotion to cream dressings, insisted on trying on several slim models Constance had been displaying.

A good saleswoman, as Constance understood by this time, should have been resourceful enough to prevent the contretemps. The figure the woman saw reflected in the mirror was so great a shock to her vanity, that her self-esteem demanded a victim. Miss Letts was the victim, Miss Letts, in her turn, vented her chagrin on Constance.

It was Elsa O'Dare who rescued Constance and smoothed down the ruffled customer with a few tactful words.

To the saleswoman, who showed an inclination to sulk after the customer had gone, soothed and flattered, Elsa said crisply, "You must expect trouble if you don't know yet how to talk baby elephants like that out of trying on debutante models, Miss Letts."

Then she turned to Constance, "I'm sending you to Chester tomorrow," she went on, "We're having a preview at the Metropole Hotel there. . . . Just you and Gertrude. She will be in charge."

Bartlett's, Constance knew, was making a campaign to advertise its designing department in small outlying cities. Assignments to such work paid a little extra.

Pauline, who had just come into the room, turned upon Elsa, her eyes flashing.

"Listen," she cried, "It's been understood that I was to have this out-of-town work. You haven't any right—"

"We'll not discuss my rights, Pauline," Elsa O'Dare answered silkily. "The last time I let you go, you weren't fit for work for three days afterwards."

"I don't know what Gertrude's been telling you," the girl blazed, "but—"

"Gertrude," Elsa's green eyes were dangerously bright, "told me nothing, I am capable of drawing my own conclusions from obvious signs. . . . And it's no use running to Mr. Anton this time. He and I have gone into this pretty thoroughly."

Pauline shrugged and turned away; but after Elsa had gone out, Constance heard her talking with Miss Letts in angry whispers.

LATER in the day, Pauline approached Constance.

"I hear the gray coat was part of the rousseau kid," she began, and behind her sultry lashes something avid and cruel lurked. "I suppose you won't be with us long?"

"I'm only standing in for Lucille, you know," Constance replied as evenly as she could. . . . So Miss Letts had not forgotten.

"Sure," said the girl, "I know all about it," and she laughed provocatively.

It was just at closing-time that Constance was summoned again to display some garments for a late customer of Miss Letts. When she went into the show room, she found the plump elderly woman who had inquired about the gray coat that first day at Daimler's. With her was the man who had been with her. He was tall, Constance thought, in the least like the type of sleek, super-sophisticated men who most often came to the shop. Yet he showed none of the discomfort of the mere male who finds himself in an utterly feminine setting.

Constance resented the quietly amused curiosity with which he was looking about him. As if this were a flea circus, she thought. He was older than she had supposed, with a deep line between his alert brown eyes, and a fine web of wrinkles at the corners.

The woman was voluble and friendly.

"I'm afraid we're keeping you after hours," she smiled apologetically to Constance.

Miss Letts—perhaps reflecting that she, too, was being kept after hours, and nothing said about it—shrugged faintly.

"But I'm going away tomorrow," the lady went on, "and my son and I want to select some things for a young niece who's stranded in a small town."

a letter from Derek waiting for her at home.

"You are tired, aren't you?" he said in an entirely new tone, glancing sidewise at her. "If I were you, I'd get to bed as early as possible. There's nothing like—" "I'm so tired," Constance cut in, "that if you turn on your best bedside manner I'll probably spoil your vacation by yawning on your shoulder. . . . That's my house—the third on the right. . . . And thanks a lot."

The first person Constance talked to when she went back to the store after the showing in Chester was Miss Letts.

"Miss O'Dare asked to see you as soon as you came in," Miss Letts told her with a furtive satisfaction in her manner that made Constance vaguely uneasy.

Flashes of LIFE

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 21 (AP)—A depression is over the cigar stubs get longer. Joe Zombiro, self-described walking delegate of the International Cigars Association, told police after his arrest for vagrancy.

"The depression is over. How can I tell? Why, when you can pick up big cigar and cigar stubs on the streets, that's the test of prosperity in any country," he said.

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—The Smithsonian Institution wants to take a census of the nation's bigheads.

Believing that the "thinking muscles" of the brain develop like muscles of the arms and legs, Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, Smithsonian anthropologist, sent out a call today for reports from any man or woman who has noticed a recent increase in head size.

There is evidence, he said, that the heads of persons doing intense mental exercise increase more rapidly than others.

He went to the railroad tracks with schoolmate Lawrence Fiesler to take a head-on shot of an on-coming train.

The train rushed by and Fiesler, busy taking a side view snapshot, heard a scream. Carter had fallen to leap aside in time.

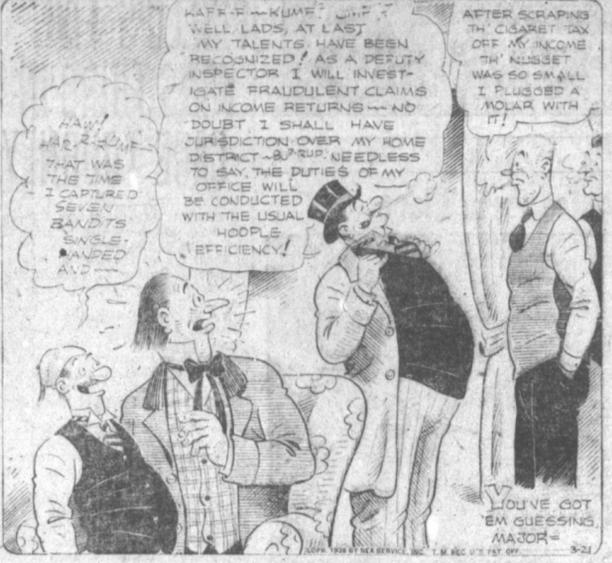

The area of the State of Vatican City is 107.7 acres.

HEARST GIVES UP MANAGING HIS JOURNALS

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—William Randolph Hearst, 75 and "conscious of the uncertainties of life," is relinquishing active business management of his vast publishing and financial holdings.

The publisher has appointed Clarence J. Shearn, former New York supreme court justice and for years his personal attorney and political protégé, to reorganize and consolidate his ramified business interests.

In his new post Shearn will act as voting trustee of the publisher's stock in American Newspapers, Inc., parent holding company for the Hearst enterprises.

T. J. White, chairman of the executive committee of American Newspapers, Inc., said that Shearn and a committee of Hearst executives chosen by the publisher last October would carry out Hearst's wish "to place on a more permanent basis a comprehensive plan of management for all of his varied enterprises—newspapers, magazines, art objects, mines, ranches and real estate."

Hearst, according to Poor's manual for 1937, owns 95 per cent of the stock of his chief holding company and is trustee for the rest. Under the reorganization plans, a statement by White said, the publisher and his family "retain their beneficial interest in the stock."

White said the Hearst publications employed 27,000 persons and consisted of 23 newspapers, "The American Weekly," nine magazines in this country and three in England.

He said the executive committee would direct its primary attention of the publication of newspapers and magazines and follow "a policy of gradual liquidation" as to the

HEARST PREVENTS CONSOLIDATION OF RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—Several large "ifs" spike the track that leads to national railroad consolidation, observers of the White House railroad studies said today.

Although government officials and railroad executives who favor consolidation believe $600,000,000 could be saved every year through combining routes and systems, they admit the job would be difficult.

Personal pride—an intangible factor—is not the least obstacle to working out the solution, observers said.

Veteran rail executives would be unlikely to take kindly to losing their jobs or being absorbed into larger networks.

Another stumbling block would be providing work for rail employees who would lose jobs through consolidations.

The Association of American Railroads estimates operating and non-operating workers at about 1,000,000. Government estimates indicate 200,000 to 400,000 might be forced out of work.

A third problem would be working out valuations of properties so that each system would get a fair return. And more difficult than working out ratios, some observers say, would be the job of getting interested parties to agree on the financial details of consolidation.

Regardless of all these difficulties, some government analysts think consolidation will be pushed through, though not at this session of congress.

President Roosevelt has asked three members of the Interstate Commerce Commission to tell him Thursday what action congress should take immediately to help the railroads meet their financial problems.

WHITNEY LENT MILLION BY PARTNER OF MORGAN

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—Richard Whitney, 48, expelled former president of the New York Stock Exchange, disclosed at a public hearing today that he was in serious financial straits in November, 1937, and that his brother, George Whitney, a partner in J. P. Morgan & Company, came to his aid with a personal loan of $1,000,000.

The gray-haired defendant, who has pleaded guilty to two grand larceny indictments, denied that he was "shielding" any of his associates in the investigation of the collapse of Richard Whitney & Company, Wall Street brokerage firm. He insisted he alone was responsible for the crash.

Assistant Attorney General Ambrose V. McCall, conducting the hearing, brought out that the purpose of the million dollar loan guaranteed by Whitney's brother was to enable Richard Whitney to redeem securities originally in the New York Stock Exchange guaranty fund.

Whitney testified he had misappropriated these securities and pledged them to the Corn Exchange Bank for a loan.

He said the guaranty fund committee made a demand upon him last November for the return of the securities, and that his brother came to his aid. The guaranty fund amounted to about $2,000,000. Richard Whitney was custodian of the fund.

TENNIS MAY BE ONLY SPORT AT TOURNAMENT

Tennis may be the only sport at the Gray County Interscholastic tennis tournament, which is to be held in LeFors, March 27-April 2.

No track and field events are listed on the program of the meet, and Eupt. F. L. Mize of LeFors said no definite arrangements had been made for these events.

Typing, rural, ward, and high school declamations, 3-R, band, stonor, telling and tennis are the events scheduled.

Tennis matches are to be arranged to the convenience of the players. C. M. Brown is in charge of entries. R. E. Paige, LeFors high school principal, is director-general of the tourney.

PEAKE CHILD IMPROVES IN LOCAL HOSPITAL

Condition of Jerry Peake, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Peake, was improved in Pampa-Jarvis hospital this afternoon. The child suffered a ruptured spleen in a fall from a bicycle Friday morning.

Mr. Peake arrived in Pampa at midnight Saturday from Tulsa, Okla., where he chartered a plane. Mr. Peake was en route from Bradford, Pa., when he accident happened and it was not until he reached Tulsa that he learned his son was in the hospital. He chartered a plane and flew here, landing at the local airport.

4,000 ITALIAN TROOPS BACK FROM AFRICA

ROME, March 21 (AP)—The first detachment of Italian troops withdrawn from Libya as a concession to Britain came home today, and informed sources predicted that a British-Italian friendship accord would be concluded by Saturday.

Almost 4,000 officers and men which had helped garrison Italy's North African colony disembarked at Naples.

Informed persons said the accord would provide for British support of recognition for Premier Mussolini's Ethiopian conquest through the League of Nations and withdrawal of all Italian combatants from the Spanish civil war through the 27-nation non-intervention committee.

These sources said Italy would discontinue construction of certain fortifications in Eritrea which might threaten Red sea traffic and therefore menace the Suez canal "lifeline" of the British empire.

Both nations would exchange Mediterranean and Red sea military information.

Italy expected the accord to open the way for long term loans from British private capital for development of Italian empire.

Informed sources said the final serious hurdle for the negotiations involved the Balearic islands, in the Mediterranean off Spain. The largest, Mallorca, is an air and naval base for the Spanish Insurgents.

It was said Italy had agreed to withdraw her soldiers from the Balearics but insisted on a provision for reentering if her interests were threatened. Britain, probably because of French pressure, insisted on an agreement for absolute withdrawal and it was understood Italy finally yielded.

STATE CHILD HEALTH DAY CHAIRMAN NAMED

Announcement of the appointment of Dr. J. M. Coleman, Austin, director of the division of maternal and child health, Texas Department of Health, as state May Day chairman and child health, Texas Department of Health, as state May Day chairman was contained in a pamphlet received today by County Supt. W. B. Weatherford.

May Day is Child Health Day, and was so recognized by a congressional resolution of May 18, 1928. The event is sponsored by state and provincial health authorities of North America.

No plans for observance of the day in Gray county has yet been arranged.

A convention of the American Association for Health and Physical Education is to be held April 20-23, in Atlanta, Ga., at which meeting Child Health Day will likely be discussed.

Appointment of Dr. Coleman as state chairman was by George W. Cox, state health officer, at the request of Miss Katherine Lenroot, chief of the children's bureau.

REPORTS ON SCHOOL CENSUS DUE APRIL 1

Work of school census enumerators continued today in Gray county. No reports have yet been made on the census, as these are not due until April 1.

There are 17 enumerators, one for each of the school district in the county.

There are 228 teachers, 23 schools, of which 12 are common schools, 66 trustees, and 5,837 pupils in Gray county, according to the latest available information.

Commission Takes Highway Request Under Advisement

Delegates of 88-18 North-South Highway association appeared before the state highway commission this morning and requested that improvement of the highway between Pampa and Clarendon be made and extension of the road from Clarendon to Turkey; also consolidation of Highways 88, 18, 70, and 30 from Turkey to Del Rio.

The commission took the request under advisement.

County commissioners of Gray county are in Austin to request designation of the Pampa-McLean road.

TEXANS LURED TO LAKES AS SPRING BEGINS

AUSTIN, March 21 (AP)—Birth of spring today will accentuate the lure of the great outdoors and the state parks board estimated more than 1,000,000 persons will visit the verdant acreages under their care between now and autumn.

W. H. Lawson, board secretary, said inviting picnic grounds, fireplaces and firewood, swimming, horseback riding and other types of recreation can be had at one or another of 19 parks covering nearly 80,000 acres.

Cabins, affording overnight accommodations, have been built by civilian conservation corps workers in a number of the parks, Lawson said. He pointed out all were game sanctuaries with no hunting and only restricted fishing permitted.

The only type of expense visitors can expect, Lawson said, is that for services rendered—such as cabin rent. He said a charge would be made for a tour through Longhorn cavern, 11 miles southwest of Burnet on U. S. highway 281, a similar but smaller cave than that at Garfield, N. M.

Bastrop park, one mile east of Bastrop, probably will do a booming business again this season Lawson said, calling attention to a count of more than 1,100 visitors on a weekend some time ago. The 3,830-acre tract, with its swimming pool, fishing and camp grounds, opened last year.

Caddo Lake. Caddo lake park, largest of all with 35,432 acres, boats, overnight cabins and attractions for the angler. Located in Harrison county one mile west of Karnack on highway 43, the park borders a lake separating Texas and Louisiana.

Boating is one of the numerous attractions at Dalingfield park in Morris county on highway 49, while the Davis mountains park, three miles west of Fort Davis, is popular because of its "Indian village," where visitors may enjoy the convenience of modern apartments in the heart of Texas' biggest mountain range.

Camping, swimming and fishing are on the menu for Fort Parker park visitors. The site embraces 1,496 acres and is located six miles north of Groesbeck on highway 14 in Limestone county.

Cooper Island park, 12 miles northeast of Rockport on highway 25, is the only state park on the gulf coast. Fishing, swimming and camping occupy visitors. The same diversions apply to Garner park in Uvalde county, 26 miles north of the city of Uvalde on highway 83.

West Texas outdoor enthusiasts will flock to Lake Abilene park in Taylor county near Buffalo Gap on highway 158, while those in the heart of the state will take advantage of Lake Brownwood park's cabins. The latter is 24 miles northwest of Brownwood on a county road.

One of the best, in the opinion of park officials, is Lake Olin, near Christl park, 12,831 acres rambling over Jim Wells, Live Oak, and San Patricio counties. The entrance is on U. S. 96 four miles southwest of Mathis.

Lake at Lubbock. McKenize park, at Lubbock, has one of the finest swimming pools and is looked upon by the local as something of a model for new sites it may receive. In Bosque county three miles southwest of Meridian is Meridian park, regarded by experts as an angler's paradise.

Wild flowers and a great variety of shrubs and grasses attract nature-lovers to Palmetto park's semi-swamp regions, 12 miles northwest of Gonzales on highway 29, while Mother Neff park in Coryell county, eight miles southwest of McGregor and widely known as a Baptist church meeting ground, is ideal for camping and fishing.

The board is contemplating a lake at Tyler park in Smith county where 985 acres afford ample space for hikes and horseback tours.

Palo Duro canyon, where an entrance fee is charged, is a gem in the earth's surface similar to but smaller than Grand Canyon. Lawson says the same variegated coloration as that in the famed Colorado canyon abounds. It may be reached on highway 217, 12 miles east of Canyon.

Other state parks where the city-dweller may disport himself include Balmorhea, four miles southwest of the city of Balmorhea on U. S. highway 299; Bonham, 3 1/2 miles southeast of Bonham, on highway 227; Big Spring, two miles south of Big Spring on U. S. highway 81, and Blanco, in the City of Blanco on U. S. highway 381.

LITHUANIA-TOPOLAND RAIL LIVE ORDERED

WARSAW, Poland, March 21 (AP)—Poland and Lithuania, deciding not to go to war, made plans today to fix up an old railway line so they could resume friendly communication.

The Polish railways ordered work begun at once on repairing the right-of-way of the Wilno-Kaunas line.

The turn from war to peace was accomplished on Saturday by Lithuania's acceptance of Polish demands that communications be resumed and that the two countries exchange diplomatic envoys.

Side by side, the two nations had been at odds since Poland took Wilno, the old Lithuanian capital, 18 years ago.

Meanwhile, Polish newspapers reported that Martin Kosciolkowski, Polish minister of social welfare, would be named minister to Kaunas, Lithuania, as part of the friendship agreement. He is a Lithuanian by birth.

The war scare over most newspaper comment centered around Jews, who were blamed for rioting on Saturday because they assertedly started a run on banks.

The students' association of Warsaw by resolution demanded that all persons who withdrew their savings should be deprived of citizenship and that the frontier should be closed to Jewish refugees from Austria.

The association's youthful chairman, Boleslaw Jablonski, and 28 other students were taken into cus-

ONLY FEE SHERIFFS TO RECEIVE CERTIFICATES

A warning to district clerks that certificates to sheriffs for summoning out-of-county witnesses should be issued only to the sheriffs of counties not operating on the salary plan, was contained in a letter received here this morning by Mirna Wilson, district clerk from George H. Shepard, Texas, comptroller.

A list of 89 counties operating on the salary plan for peace officers accompanied the letter, and clerks were advised to consult this list before issuing certificates.

Gray and Potter were the only Panhandle counties on the list.
