

Chicago Wheat Prices Skyrocket Five Cents Bushel CITY PLANS $200,000 WATER PROJECT

HARVEST WILL OPEN IN ABOUT 2 WEEKS HERE

Local grain dealers, basing statements on present conditions, say the 1938 wheat yield in Gray county should greatly exceed that of last year, without adverse developments. Only dry, hot winds or hail can damage the wheat, grasshoppers holding little peril since they will not develop wings early enough to do much damage. Elevator men of the county estimate the Gray county yield for this year between 450,000 and 500,000 bushels or double that of the 1937 crop which hardly reached the quarter million bushel mark. Moisture in the ground is believed sufficient to carry the wheat to maturity in this area. Given cool ripening weather heads are expected to fill out and the yield exceed early predictions. Top yield is estimated at 20 bushels to the acre for some fields with some so badly damaged from hail that it will not be cut. The conservative estimated average is between 8 and 10 bushels to the acre. The Pampa area has sufficient moisture for planting a row crop. The grasshopper menace to feed crop is great, however. Given favorable ripening weather, cutting of wheat is not expected to begin here for at least two weeks, according to elevator men. Grain authorities say the 1939 wheat yield in the Panhandle, that is from Lubbock north and from Childress west, will approximate

'Animals' and Floats Feature Fiesta Parade

Here are more than a dozen shots of the most colorful street pageant ever to move through Pampa streets as one of the high spots of the Top O' Texas Fiesta which came to a climax here last night. Included in the above photographs are: Top row, across—McLean float, two of the giant balloon heads, Old Mobeetic float, Second row—Guymon float, balloon figure, Pampa's accorcon band, Third row—Giant figures of the Jean Gros balloon circus, and Old Timers Square Dance float, Fourth row—Clarendon float with two pretty girls, ghost grasshopper, and float from Miami. Bottom row—Moore county float from Dumas, Hemphill county float from Canadian, and the giant dragon that caused tiny children to hide behind parents as it wriggled through the street. Additional Fiesta pictures, snapped by Photographer Foster Fletcher, will be found on Page 2 or the Sunday News.

FHA OFFICIAL TO SPEAK AT C-C MEETING

P. S. Luttrell of Dallas, State Production manager of the Federal Housing Administration will be the principal speaker at the monthly membership luncheon of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in the basement of the First Methodist church at noon Tuesday. Reservations may be made by telephoning 384. Accompanying Mr. Luttrell will be W. W. Ryan, chief underwriter from the Fort Worth office of the FHA. The advantages of home ownership and the methods of financing will be discussed by the speakers. Mr. Luttrell is the contact man between the builder and the FHA. "We believe the citizenry of Pampa is interested in a continued healthy building program, realizing that a large percentage of home ownership is beneficial to us," President Reno Stinson of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce stated in urging as many as possible to make reservations for the luncheon. "The FHA is interested in the same program and is cooperating with local builders in fostering that policy." On Tuesday at 7:30 o'clock in the city auditorium, the two FHA men will explain the FHA program to lumbermen, contractor, architects, representatives of lending institutions and other interested persons of the North Panhandle.

PWA GRANT TO BE ASKED FOR NEW SYSTEM

The Pampa city commission in called session Friday night voted to ask for a Public Works Administration grant with which to drill additional water wells, lay more feeder lines, install more fire plugs and generally give citizens better water service and more fire protection. H. W. Roberts of Lubbock, municipal water engineer, was employed to make a survey and prepare the application to be submitted to the Fort Worth office of the PWA by next Friday. Although no definite cost can be given, the commission figured the maximum at $200,000. The water engineer was authorized to make a thorough survey of the city's needs and cost of the enlarged system. Of the amount, PWA would furnish 65 per cent with the city contributing 35 per cent through revenue bonds or tax bonds voted by the citizens of Pampa. The commission has not yet determined which would be the more beneficial method of procedure. The revenue bond would be a lien on the revenue from water and the tax bond a lien on property. Mr. Roberts and two engineers began work yesterday morning, although the chief engineer made a preliminary survey the latter part of the week.

WILLIAM M'GRAW WILL SPEAK HERE JUNE 17

Attorney General William McGraw, candidate for governor, will be in Pampa Friday, June 17, during a four-day tour of the Panhandle plains country. He will speak in the interest of his candidacy at 2 p. m., on Cuyler street in front of the La-Nora Theater. A radio broadcast of his talk over KPDN has been arranged. McGraw begins his west Texas trip at Floydada Thursday morning, he speaks in Paducah later and he is to be the guest of the Lions Club luncheon. His talk that night will be given in Childress, and en route to Pampa Friday he will stop in Shamrock and Wheeler, where he is to talk before an assembly of Legionnaires. After leaving Pampa, he will talk in Amarillo at 8:15 p. m., and he goes on south the next day, ending his vote-getting activities of the present trip with a speech in Lubbock Saturday night. He has been invited to Post the next morning to address a joint meeting of Sunday school classes from several churches.

MURPHREE ANNOUNCES FOR COMMISSIONER

C. F. "Shorty" Murphree authorized The News to announce his candidacy for the office of county commissioner, precinct No. 1, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, July 23. Mr. Murphree in making his announcement, said it was not through a spirit of pride, but his aim only would be to serve the people of his district to the very best of his ability, devoting his entire time to the duties of the office, if elected. Mr. Murphree has been a citizen of Gray County the past 34 years and a resident of LeFors almost 10 years. He is well known and highly appreciated by all. It will be the purpose of Mr. Murphree to see every voter of this precinct before the primary, but if he should fail he will appreciate your influence and support.

Panhandle Oil Field Shows New Activity

Staking of new locations in the Panhandle field showed a come-back last week when Oldifferent companies announced one location each. It was the first time in more than a month that locations passed completions. Carson County led in new locations with five, followed by Hutchinson with four and Gray with one. The new locations were in six different pools of the field. Intentions to drill: Haze and McGill E. 'THANK YOU!' SAY JAYCEES

Members of the Top O' Texas Fiesta general committee, on behalf of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, last night issued a statement in which they pronounced the seventh annual celebration a success and expressed the entire organization's appreciation for the cooperation and assistance given to them by neighboring cities and towns, various organizations and individuals. The statement follows: "The Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, through its Fiesta com-

FORRESTER OF WHEELER ANNOUNCES FOR JUDGE

R. H. Forrester, a resident of Wheeler county, last night authorized the News to announce his candidacy for judge in the 31st judicial district of Texas. A brief history of his career and life in the Panhandle is contained in the following statement released by Mr. Morrison: "I came to Wheeler county in 1916, which by the way, was the year you first elected the present incumbent to the office of District Judge, to teach school in Wheeler, Texas. HOW TO GET JOBS ON DAM

Correct procedure in obtaining jobs on the McClellan Creek Water Conservation project was outlined today by Earl L. Bradshaw, project manager, who stated that many applications are being made improperly. With much of the preliminary work at the damsite completed, it is expected that employment on the project will be increased materially, according to the method discussed by Bradshaw. Unless the individual is certified on the relief rolls, the first step to

Couple Charged With Killing Adopted Boy For Insurance Money

ALPINE, June 11 (AP)—Youthful Mr. and Mrs. Francis Elmer, San Antonio couple who ten months ago took toward, 15-year-old Marvin Dale Noblett from his widowed mother to "give him a good home," today were accused of tumbing him off a 400-foot mountain precipice in a purported insurance scam plot. Murder charges were filed by District Attorney Alan Fraser after an all-night sifting of circumstances surrounding the tragic drop of the lad into a rock-filled canyon.

RAINS STIFLE 'HOPPER HORDE'

While 599 men waged war with poison against the grasshopper scourge in Dallam, Hartley, Sherman and Moore counties, Gray county had a respite from the grasshopper invasion by reason of recent rains. County Farm Agent Ralph R. Thomas said reports from farmers were encouraging and that the situation here seemed to be under control. He said that the areas that were poisoned the year were not so much affected by hoppers as were areas that had not been poisoned in 1937. Rains make spreading of the compound practically useless, as the hoppers will not eat the wet mixture, Mr. Thomas said. Temperatures of from 70 to 80 degrees are the best for spreading. Up to Saturday, a total of 124.254

Pampans Open Drive To Line Up Panhandle For Ernest Thompson

Thompson-for-Governor supporters held a caucus in city hall auditorium here Friday afternoon and mapped a campaign to put the Texas Panhandle across solidly for Col. Ernest O. Thompson in the Texas gubernatorial race. Friends of the railroad commissioner from Gray and many surrounding counties were among the 100 men who attended the session which followed Colonel Thompson's appearance here on the second day program of the Top O' Texas Fiesta. Speakers at the informal session which was presided over by Mel B. Davis, Gray County rancher, included Judge Curtis Douglas, of Panhandle; Judge H. E. Hoover, of Canadian; R. E. Underwood, Amarillo; Senator Clint C. Small, of Amarillo; Gene Howe, publisher of the Amarillo News; John Sturgeon, Pampa, and Judge Newton F. Willis, of Pampa, who introduced Col. Thompson. The vigorous Mr. Thompson launched into a fiery address in which he promised to "raise the roof" on Texas governmental affairs before the campaign is over. "You are in this race to win," he said, "and I'm sure you all feel the way I do about it—there's no use

SOUTHERNERS WIN FLEXIBLE WAGE DEMAND

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—A thoroughly compromised wage-hour bill, including pay differentials within a given industry, passed unanimously after a long congressional committee today.

Chairman Thomas (D. Utah) said the bill would draft a formal report tomorrow, so it could be taken up in the House Monday. Advocates predicted the bill would be approved quickly and sent to the Senate, early in the week.

A filibuster threat by southern senators, who fought for a geographical wage differential, appeared eliminated by the compromise.

The committee, capitulating to Senators Ellender (D. Ala.) and Pepper (D. Fla.) in writing the wage section, inserted a clause that went far toward meeting the southern objective of lower wage rates in the south than in industrial north.

Under this section, boards set up for each industry will be empowered to classify the units of that industry as to size and other factors and set a varying scale of minimum wages which such classification must pay.

In arriving at these minima the boards will not be permitted to fix the pay rate solely on the geographical basis, but must consider also transportation costs, prevailing wages, taxes, operating costs and other economic factors.

There were hints the American Federation of Labor might not be agreeable to the wage section and might provoke a fight on it later.

The wage controversy in the committee was settled by an agreement on the following formula:

A "bedrock" wage of 26 cents an hour in all interstate commerce, effective the first year and advancing the first year and advancing to 39 cents the second.

Thereafter an administrator in the labor department would appoint boards for each industry to increase the minimum wage to 40 cents an hour as rapidly as possible.

The boards would classify each industry and fix minima for each classification.

At the end of seven years, existing wage orders will be wiped out and a minimum scale of 40 cents an hour would go into effect.

To obtain exceptions industries would have to show they could not pay employees 40 cents an hour without curtailing seriously opportunities for employment.

The hour maximum for the first year of the law would be 44 a week. Most interstate industries would be forced to pay time and a half for overtime. The following year the maximum week decline to 42 hours, and the third year to the limit of 40 hours.

Exemptions to cover collective bargaining contracts where the hours might be longer but the pay much higher were drafted into the bill.

The committee made provision for industries which guarantee an annual wage by permitting them to fix "reasonable" work weeks if they stayed within 2,000 hours a year.

It also excluded seasonal industries, which work 12 weeks or less a year, from the terms of the bill, but provided that workers handling perishable foods could not work more than 56 hours a week.

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP)—The soiled wheat pit was flooded today with buying orders that skyrocketed prices almost five cents a bushel back to 80 cents, the highest in five weeks. Trading rules prohibit a jump or decline of more than five cents in one session.

Claiming by its sharpest spurt of the year the attention of farmers, grain dealers and shippers throughout the world, the sensitive market, mirrored highly important trade developments.

The past few days have brought to light evidence of crop damage done a month or two ago by frost and cold weather in the southwest. Ravages of rust also have been reported. Excessive rainfall has slowed the harvest.

This development, coupled with the fact that domestic prices have risen about 2 cents a bushel from the five year low level of ten days ago, brought into play still another important bullish factor. Frightened by the crop reports and by the high prices, European importing nations bought more American wheat than they have purchased in weeks.

The official government crop report for June, released after the wheat market closed yesterday, forecast the biggest domestic production in history by traders noticed one surprising item. The government's winter crop forecast was 760,623,000 bushels. Scarcely ten days ago six private experts had predicted a crop of 810,000,000 bushels.

The government's forecast was followed today by an order from President Roosevelt for a federal survey of world wheat supply conditions. Comment of the crop reporting board which released the forecast indicated prospects were declining in some winter wheat areas since data for the report was compiled.

Committee wishes to take this means of expressing its appreciation to surrounding towns and cities, the merchants and people of Pampa, and the various organizations and individuals who made possible the successful Fiesta which closed last night in Pampa.

"Especially do we wish to extend thanks of the organizations and of the city as a whole for the splendid cooperation received from our neighboring towns and cities for the historical exhibits and for entering the floats and bands which made the seventh annual Fiesta parades the greatest of any of our previous celebration pageants. We are deeply indebted to the old timers among our neighbors for the fine support they gave the Fiesta program. Without them it could not have been the splendid spectacle that it was.

"To the various committee chairmen and committee workers do we also wish to express our gratitude for their efforts in carrying out their tasks and sacrificing their time to make the Fiesta program a success.

"Likewise, we are not unmindful of the splendid cooperation received from the weekly and daily newspapers in the city and towns of the Top O' Texas area, and to Radio Station KPDN for presenting the story of the Fiesta programs to readers and listeners.

Without the support of all these, the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce realizes its efforts would have been in vain—and this expression of appreciation extends to everyone who had any part in making of the plans and to the people of the Top O' Texas area for their patronage of the Fiesta rodeo and dances.

The statement is signed by W. B. Weathered, president, R. B. Alcorn, general secretary, J. W. B. Parker, Tom Johnson, Otis Humphrey, and C. E. Kennedy, other members of the general committee, on behalf of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

At the close of that term of school, May 11, 1917, I entered the army and served in the Philippines for two years. I returned in 1919 to teach in the second term. I remained at the head of that school at Mobeetie, Texas, until I entered politics in 1922. My political career can be told in a few words: County clerk, District Clerk and County Judge of Wheeler county, in 1930, I returned to private practice without offering myself as a candidate for second term as county judge.

"It is my opinion that the citizens of the 31st Judicial District (desire, as democratic minded people, that our men are not perpetually in office and that they are ready, after these TWENTY TWO years to make a change, rather than fight four more years, in the same office, to the same man. It is also my opinion that these same voters are willing and anxious to see one, whose past experience speaks for ability climb the ladder in public trusts rather than remain stationary; to give the office to one who has the energy of youth and maturity that comes with experience and one who is young enough to look forward, not backward.

be made in obtaining a job is to register with the Texas State Re-employment service at the local office in Pampa. Many persons are going directly to Bradshaw, and he emphasized that such procedure can be of no benefit to the applicant.

The only part of the project manager is in the employment of men for the project is to reclassification of certain number of workers of a certain classification and occupation. This reclassification is forwarded to the district Works Progress Administration office in Amarillo.

Upon receipt of this requisition the W. P. A. may assign certified workers to the job. If the requisition for workers is to be filled by non-certified workers, the W. P. A. division of employment authorizes the reemployment office in Pampa to refer names of workers to them. This reference is made by the reemployment office of W. P. A. The individual named on the requisition is then notified by mail as to the date they are to begin work and the job to which they will be assigned.

The only irregularity in this procedure, according to Bradshaw, occurs when the local authorities in Pampa do not have men available as designated in the requisition. In such instances, men may be acquired through the proper channels in surrounding counties.

getting into a race unless you intend to win it."

Mr. Thompson said that it does not matter about the name of any candidate in the race.

"The name of Ernest Thompson or any other candidate in this race," he said, "is unimportant." But what a candidate plans to do for Texas and the question of whether he has the intestinal fortitude and the mental capacities to get it done are the things that really count.

"The race for governor really is being made by you men here and others just like you all around the state," he added. "It depends upon you to carry the message of the sad state of governmental affairs to your friends and your neighbors and to inform them of the plans Ernest Thompson has mapped out to correct a sorry situation."

No other candidates for governor, Mr. Thompson said, has yet announced any plan for correcting the evils of what he termed governmental extravagance as Austin.

Sturgeon Boosts Candidate. "There are too many men on our state payrolls who aren't doing a damn thing!" he declared.

Men who have lived and worked with Col. Thompson in the Panhandle paid him a high tribute as a man and as an energetic, capable public official who as chairman and member of the Texas Railroad Commission has held one of the highest and most responsible jobs in state affairs.

It was the consensus of those gathered at the Pampa meeting that the Panhandle should get solidly behind Col. Thompson in the voting.

Said John Sturgeon, of Pampa: "We now have for the first time the greatest opportunity ever offered to us of electing a Panhandle resident to the office of governor. If we give our united support to Ernest Thompson and elect him governor the time will have come when the Panhandle of Texas will get recognition down at Austin other than just for taxation purposes."

Judge "Bob" Underwood, of Amarillo, veteran Panhandle lawyer, also paid a tribute to the Panhandle candidate.

WERNER THOMPSON MAY IGNORE VOTE SUMMONS

DALLAS, June 11 (AP)—James Wright, campaign manager for gubernatorial candidate, Werner O. Thompson today indicated, but did not say definitely, that Thompson would ignore a summons to show cause before the State Democratic Executive Committee why his name should not be stricken from the ballot.

Wright said the voting system "as indulged in by the citizens of the United States is primarily to allow the said citizens to manifest their satisfaction or dissatisfaction on any candidate. The Texas statute governing the candidacy of governorship has been complied with."

Wright protested in a statement that "V. O. Thompson is in no position to trade favor, pull strings, or bear pressure—his opponent is in that position and is taking full advantage of the situation."

Wright accused committeemen of backing the candidacy of Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commissioner. The similarity of their names caused Everett L. Looney of Austin, committee member, to protest that Ver-ner O. Thompson's application for a place on the ballot raised a question whether such a person existed and whether the application was filed in good faith.

ALFRED OPENS WAR AGAINST MOTOR DEATHS

Editor's note: In connection with Traffic Safety Week in Texas, which begins tomorrow, Governor James V. Alfred has written this article exclusively for the Associated Press. By James V. Alfred, Governor of Texas.

AUSTIN, June 11 (AP)—Texas is in a war!

Not a war of shrapnel and bullets but one equally as deadly to some 2,000 Texans whose life blood is spilled just as quickly and thoroughly as though bombs had dropped their destruction from the skies.

A war in keeping with the modern trend where innocent noncombatants—the pedestrians and cautious drivers—must go about their daily lives, as long as they live, in the zone of the no man's land known as our streets and highways.

It is a war where human lives are sacrificed heedlessly as those of a battalion ordered to take the enemy's position at any cost.

And that cost is plain! To Texas—2,000 lives annually. To the nation—more than 37,000 human beings. In property damage, a toll approximating 20 million dollars!

Startling as these figures may seem, equally surprising has been the attitude until recently of the majority of citizens who somewhat fatalistically felt that the one-sided war would come to an end somehow—and anyway, "It won't happen to me."

The governor's traffic committee of 100 public spirited citizens, together with official law enforcement agencies and civic clubs, has attempted to end this one-sided war by arousing the citizenship to its traffic safety responsibilities.

One hundred state organizations have joined with this committee to sponsor a significant traffic safety mobilization in Fort Worth, Wednesday, June 15th. The week beginning Sunday, June 12th, has been declared by me as Traffic Safety Week in Texas and the citizens have been asked to mobilize for the war on sudden death.

National speakers and state authorities will head the one-day session outlining the tried-and-proven methods of safety defence against the onslaughts of traffic accidents. Recommendations will be drawn up for consideration by the legislature at its regular session in order that law enforcement bodies will not be lacking for "martial law" on the streets and highways of Texas during the safety war.

DEATH TAKES DR. KNAPP OF TEXAS TECH

LUBBOCK, June 11 (AP)—Dr. Bradford Knapp, 67, President of Texas Technological College and outstanding in agricultural education circles, died today of heart disease. The educator had been in ill health for several months. He was the son of the late Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, known as the "Father of Extension Work" in the United States.

Dr. Knapp became president of Texas Technological College in 1932, when he resigned the presidency of Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, where he had been chief executive for four years. Previously, he had been president of Oklahoma A. and M. College at Stillwater from 1923 to 1928, and dean of the College of Agriculture at the University of Arkansas.

1,000 Old Timers Register at Gym

It was auld lang syne for the old timers in Pampa last night. To the strains of old time music the crowds danced in the high school gymnasium, as another "Top O' Texas" Fiesta was concluded. As in past celebrations, the old timers had an important place on the program of the three-day fiesta. There was an old fiddlers contest, French harp contest, and an old time dance contest, and a big barbecue, prepared by John Snider, famed Panhandle chef.

Registration of the old timers at the high school gymnasium totaled 1,000 for the two days. Out-of-town registrants, in addition to those whose names have previously appeared in the News are: Alannred: W. E. James, 1897; Mrs. W. E. James, 1899; E. R. Sherrod, 1909; W. H. Craig, 1910; Robert Crisp, 1904; Paul M. Bruce, 1902; Foreman Stubbs, 1902; Fiddle Stubbs, 1888; Trilby McCracken Biberback, 1908; Beryl Stubbs Halbert, 1907; J. C. Oakley, 1912; G. E. Castleberry, 1902; D. E. Heasey, 1903.

From Amarillo: Mrs. Alice Wynne Crawford, 1891; Gertrude Essel, 1894; Hugh Roden, 1908; J. L. Nunn, 1903; Gilmore N. Nunn, 1910; Mrs. Mayme Campbell, 1907; Mrs. Billy Dixon, 1908; Mrs. W. R. Hill, 1905.

12 KILLED IN CLYDE STORM

CLYDE, June 11 (AP)—Swelling donations of money and supplies poured into storm relief headquarters here today while Red Cross officials announced they did not believe the death toll would exceed 12. At least 40 persons were injured, several seriously, and 23 homes were smashed when the tornado sucked a narrow, destructive course through the western edge of this West Texas town late yesterday. The whirling windstorm missed the business district, but tore a freight train asunder and apparently lifted as it moved from the city limits.

The dead: Mrs. J. B. Easterling, about 60; J. P. Bonner, 75; J. E. Graham, 55; Mrs. J. E. Graham, 55; Jess Rutledge, 25; Mrs. Jess Rutledge, 24; Melvin Kniffen, 17; James Johnson, 18; M. E. Sullivan, about 65; Mrs. Margaret Rose, 35; William James De Spain, four; an unidentified man found crushed to death in a box car.

Most seriously injured were: Ward De Spain, 35; Mrs. Ward De Spain, 30; Joe Ross, 17; Jimmy Ross, 10; Mrs. T. W. Briscoe, 30; Mrs. J. G. Baxter, 75; J. D. Easterling; Mrs. M. E. Sullivan; Caryl Rutledge; Jess Donald Rutledge; T. W. Briscoe.

of the week. Mr. Roberts has an exception record as a water engineer. He was in charge of the five million dollar Spavinaw program for the City of Tulsa, the $800,000 Sweetwater construction, the million five-hundred thousand dollar Lubbock water works system and other huge projects.

Following his preliminary survey, Mr. Roberts startled the commission by providing figures showing that Pampa's peak daily water consumption is only a few thousand gallons less than that of Lubbock, a city of 26,000 population. He estimated that Pampa citizens will use 3,000,000 gallons daily during peak consumption and that the present maximum production is 2,500,000 gallons.

Additional overhead storage should be erected which would mean a reduction in fire rate, according to the engineer. Pampa, he said, has more ground storage than any city its size in the state but that fire rate is considered on overhead storage.

The city's plan for a more adequate water system calls for the drilling of two wells besides the one for which bids will be received this week. The wells would be drilled south of Pampa, according to the plan which would give greater protection to that section of the city.

If additional overhead storage can be erected, it would be east of the city or at the highest possible elevation. Additional feeder lines to points of maximum present construction and potential additions, enlargement of lines now carrying heavy loads, installing of sectional fire plugs and many other projects will be included in the outlined program.

If the city's application is approved in the Fort Worth office of the PWA it will be forwarded to Washington. If final approval is given the commission will have to call a city election for the purpose of voting bonds, which would require until September. Allowing 60 days for final approval and letting of contracts, work could start by December and be completed by peak period in 1939. Mr. Roberts pointed out.

All PWA projects are contract jobs. PWA furnishes an engineer who has charge, pays for preliminary work, supplies legal talent, machinery, equipment, etc., on such projects. Construction of the Pampa high school auditorium and enlargement of school buildings here was through PWA connections.

WHEAT BEING HARVESTED ON SOUTH PLAINS

PORT WORTH, June 11 (AP)—Empty grain cars by the unprecedented thousand banged along railroad tracks in north and west Texas today to expedite movement of the current wheat crop. Combines were at work as far north as Amarillo, center of the Panhandle-Plains production of an unofficially estimated 30,000,000 bushels.

An unofficial survey of the state indicated generally good condition of the wheat crop. Most sections harvested bumper oat yields, and the condition of corn was mostly good. Wheat was the grain to be shipped principally. Many farmers held oats for feed, or for possible better prices.

Wichita Falls reported wheat and oat crops good. Harvest was delayed ten days by rain which had caused little damage. Lubbock reported the wheat crop already moving. The crop was expected to yield more than was first anticipated. Plainview prospects were for a wheat crop less than half as large as that harvested last year in that section. Most of the wheat and oat crop had been gathered in the Temple area, with a bumper yield of the latter. Wheat was hurt by the late freeze and rains.

Harvesting of an unexpected greatest feed crop in the coastal bend section was underway near Corpus Christi. The market was weak; much was expected to be stored. Vernon reported wheat prospects in Wilbarger, Foard and Cottle counties hit by varied adverse weather. Oats were damaged in Wilbarger county. Corn was delayed by rains. Wheat in eastern Hardeman county was good. The western part was hurt by drought. In the Paria area, where there was no wheat crop, a fair stand of oats had been harvested. Insects had damaged a promising corn outlook.

pounds of grasshopper poison compound had been sold from the Pampa and McLean mixing stations. At McLean, sales are averaging from 3,000 to 5,000 pounds a day. The stations were opened May 27. Spearhead of the attack north of Gray was in west Hartley County, called the "black spot" of the battle area. The 599 men took the field Friday under plans perfected by Tom Houghton, Hartley ranchman and co-ordinator and federal entomologist, aided in their fight against the threat to crops by the national guard and Texas Highway Department.

Leaders estimated their "troops" would spread 250,000 pounds of lethal mash in breeding areas in Dallas, Hartley, Sherman and Moore counties, where the long-winged, migratory "hopper" will shortly develop wings unless killed.

WELLINGTON PUBLISHER SELECTED PRESIDENT

PORT ARTHUR, June 11 (AP)—Delegates closing the Texas Press Association convention here today selected Lubbock as the next convention city and elected Deskin Wells, publisher of the Wellington Leader, president.

They named Ben Harigel of Langrange treasurer; Walter Buckner of San Marcos, vice-president, and re-elected Sam Harben of Richardson secretary for the 27th term. The beard award for the "Best All-Round Weekly" went to Mrs. W. A. Salter, editor of the Kerrville Mountain Sun for the second time. The Mission Times drew the prize for the "Best Set Ads."

A resolution advocating regulation of the "so called publicity" which has developed into "business" to the extent it has become detrimental to legitimate advertising, was adopted by the convention. Other resolutions adopted demanded prohibition of lottery advertising over the radio, as in newspapers; urged Texas legislation supporting full publicity to proceedings of tax collection and spending agencies of district, county and city governments; re-affirmed opposition to the diversion of gasoline taxes for anything except highway work, and urged congressional policies which would revive export trade.

GUIDE TO PUBLIC SAFETY

Police department undertaking the vitally important problem of traffic engineering, now have a guide to standard procedure. A new handbook, entitled "Traffic Engineering and the Police," has been published jointly by the National Conservation Bureau and the Safety Division of the International Association of Police Chiefs. Its publication rounds out another section of the bureau's comprehensive traffic control program undertaken on behalf of the nation's leading stock casualty insurance companies.

Much of the handbook is devoted to the use of traffic engineering methods to reduce hazard at accident-prone locations or those spots in a community where accidents occur most frequently. An exhaustive system for analyzing danger spots is explained and the correct use of traffic engineering devices and methods to remove hazards is detailed.

Other sections of the handbook deal with stop signs of various types, the proper control of traffic on business streets and also residential streets. An appendix explains in detail how to make traffic engineering field studies. The materials and illustrations presented never have appeared in print.

THE RIGHT TO FIDDLE

Chalk up a credit mark for the New York state judge who allowed a woman juror to do her crocheting in court!

He recognized that it would actually help her in her thinking, and every schoolboy knows that one of the things the world sorely needs is more jurors who can think.

Of course, this may lead to some pretty odd-looking court room scenes if the idea is carried out to its logical conclusion. There would be jurors whirling in swivel chairs, jurors making paper chains, jurors filing their nails, even pacing back and forth in the jury box.

But why not? Anybody who has spent a little time around courtrooms knows that a great many attorneys seem to save up a year's fiddling for their court appearances. And often when the judge appears to be playing statue he's actually producing stars and curlicues on a scratch pad.

If there's one place where Equality Before the Law ought to be maintained, it's certainly in court. And what's sauce for the jurist is sauce for the jury.

ON EXCHANGING JOBS

Merry times ahead, friends. It has been proposed, as a means of developing a more "cosmopolitan citizenship" throughout the nation, that annual swaps of young students be made between the country and the city. Eventually, under this plan, five million young city slickers and five million young farmers would have traded places, for at least a month.

Well, there hasn't been sufficient time since the proposition was submitted to worry it all out the way it should be, but a brief preliminary study brings these convictions:

The farm boys would find the city just about what they thought it was. The idea that the farm boy is cut off from that funny thing called civilization these days is one of those ideas that are born and raised in Manhattan and never get off the island.

The city boys, on the other hand, would probably find that farming was not at all what they thought it was. But they would practically be forced to stay on the farm.

For somebody would have to do the work. And the farm boys would probably have got themselves white collar jobs. And all the farmers would have been taken off to the madhouse by the time the new farm hands' visits were supposed to be over.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY. Contract for a bridge across the North Fork about 2 1/2 miles southeast of LePors was awarded to the Austin Bridge Company by the county commissioners.

George Briggs, manager of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, and secretaries of other Panhandle towns, met with the Panhandle Development Association in Amarillo and discussed proposed plans for development of the Panhandle territory.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY. Neighboring towns were contributing many trippers on the Pampa Daily News excursion train to Chicago.

Farmers wishing to make application for wheat loans were reminded of the deadline for such applications on June 15.

Tex's Topics

We like the friendship that is engendered in a little town. We like the free and easy-going mannerisms of the people. We like the pleasant "good morning" or "nice afternoon" directed at us as we go down the street and we like to say something in return. We like the home-talent plays if they are really home-talent and are not "put on" by a producing company a thousand miles away. We like to listen to the concert of the home-town bands.

We like to pick up odds and ends of life, such as Jim Smith has a brand, "spanking new" automobile; Mrs. Quibble-Quibble gave a party for Patsy Lou on the occasion of her seventh birthday and little William Wickietree ate so much ice cream, he contracted a first class case of the "tummy-ache"; we enjoy getting invitations to weddings even though we never attend and, when the grim reaper causes a vacancy in the community, we feel, with the rest of our citizens, a deep sense of loss.

We like the conversations that come to a little town. We like to "show off" our places of interest to strangers and to recount certain historical facts about the town in which we live. We enjoy boasting that so many people attended such and such an event or happening, and when one of the home town boys or girls wins a promotion or honor, we are almost inclined to believe that we had a part in the success, for we knew the boy or girl "away back when."

We like the quiet of a little town. The rumble of the subway, the insistent "get-out-of-my-way" commands of surface cars and taxicabs, and the roar of the elevated, have no charms for us. We much prefer to get a good night's sleep, even though we "turn in with the chickens" than to be confronted with and have a part in an artificial night life. The neon signs up and down our own "main stem" represent enough bright lights for us. Like as not, we are "old fashioned" and "old foxy," but at that, we would not share our contentment and peace of mind with any "city slicker" for all his poise, his sophistication and his imagined superiority.—Dalhart Texan.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The babel of post-mortems on the Iowa primary, which can't conceal the fact that the New Deal took a bad beating, boils down partly to a question of how far Mr. Roosevelt and his entourage will go in entering future Democratic primaries. Advisers who tried to nominate Congressman Otha Wearin over Senator Guy Gillette, who won overwhelmingly, urge F. D. R. to wade in personally and strike harder in contests where he wants New Dealers to win.

More cautious, conservative Democrats tell him intervention is dangerous to presidential prestige, certain to boomerang through voter resentment and harmful to party chances in November.

But the G. O. P. Paired the Votes.

Actually, of course, the highly-publicized Democratic fight was overshadowed by the tremendous show of voting strength exhibited by the Iowa Republicans.

They nominated an arch enemy to the New Deal, former Senator Lester Dickinson, for the Senate race, and while doing so they rolled up a primary vote more than twice the size of the Democratic total.

And administration leaders who were already worried about the party split caused by the Gillette-Wearin fight now have a new reason—and a more potent one—for lying awake at night.

Roosevelt will continue to exert influence on primaries to varying degrees. He may look twice, however, before duplicating the Wearin fiasco, in which a candidate of no great talent was backed against an incumbent Senator supported by a strong state machine—with little more than public statements and propaganda from New Dealers.

Hoping For the Future.

Glee among conservatives and gloom among New Dealers is tempered by the fact that there will be future primaries.

It was, and is all very curious, Jimmy Roosevelt, Harry Hopkins and Tommy Corcoran, the three men closest to the President, struck their necks out and took a bad licking. So did F. D. R., who was behind them despite professions of neutrality.

AAA and WPA organizations, the latter loaded with appointees of the state Democratic machine, apparently kept hands-off. That's in contrast with Kentucky, where the WPA organization is up to its neck in a campaign for Senator Barkley against Governor Chandler.

Iowa Democrats include many Catholics and Gillette had important formal Catholic support. The more you consider all the factors in Iowa, the more you wonder what the New Deal "elimination committee" thought it had to work with there beyond great self-confidence in its ability to pray for, and thereby produce rain.

Just Another Random Remark

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Those who would compile an anthology of spicy fragments from old drinking songs would do well to consult the wine stewards of New York. These are the fellows with golden keys on silken cords who are dressed like ambassadors at the Court of St. James—satin knee breeches and white stockings, scarlet coats and a wise and knowing air.

They are always at your back and call in the polite restaurants and hotels in Gotham, and if you ask them they will place before you elegantly embossed wine lists, with a history of all the vintages, the good and the bad, from wines and brandies that are a hundred years old.

But I must confess the thing that intrigues me most is the presence of these fragments of verse which somehow adorn all wine lists. They are the utterances of wits, sages and philosophers who, down through the centuries, have hymned a song for the grape.

And from time to time I have been copying down various bits of verse. On page three of the wine list at one Fifth avenue hotel is a refrain from our old pal Rabelais:

"Small sense has he, he's surely mad
Who doth so drink and is not glad."

Another, from a Broadway restaurant, are these lines from the Scot, Robert Burns:

"A man may drink and not be drunk;
A man may fight and not be slain;
A man may kiss a bonny lass
And say, be welcome back again."

It is on Lexington avenue that you find this frank little utterance from Cervantes, the imaginative old corder who wrote "Don Quixote":

"I drink when I have the occasion,
And sometimes when I have no occasion."

And from a tavern in the Village, this from Chiabrera:

"Come, let us drink; there's nothing bad
In being just a little mad."
And then there's Lord Byron, echoed from the wine list of a Sussex tavern, near Sheridan Square:

"Long life to the grape,
For when Summer is flown,
The age of our nectar
Shall gladden our own."

Most wine lists give a short history of the various vintages, or perhaps a listing of the years which are available. But there is one, written by a frank, honest fellow, which is so candid as to astonish guests. "This wine is very poor and not recommended," is one extract from it. Of another vintage it says:

"Said to be very good with fowl, but, in our opinion, overrated." Of another: "I have found this less than satisfactory."

The pay off is a description of a sparkling burgundy which, in the added comment of the owner, is tagged: "P. S. He means sparkling dish wine."

Of course, the people who go there, refusing to take anything seriously, regard this advice to the wine-lover as a gag. But it isn't a gag. He really means it.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM.

Many an old-timer left the pioneer roundup at the gym Friday night with their hearts overflowing with happy experiences, but sad with the knowledge that some of them would not be here for another Fiesta. Death, they knew, would see to that, and while they enjoyed the living they enjoyed the dead, and it seemed that they could not get enough of making round after round of final hand-shaking.

They would look deep into each other's eyes as if to say, "some of us may never see the other again." Death has taken a heavy toll since the first pioneer roundup. The men and women who had the courage to come here and live here in the early days are seldom met—and that's why we honor them each year. . . .

Mrs. E. A. Shackleton banded the following in memoriam to this one of the first day of the Fiesta and this one is hard to print: "Each year we meet and recall from the past the memories that bring a smile to the lips, or a tear from the eye, we are reminded as we look about of vacancies that were filled by those who have been outstanding in the development of the Panhandle, and so it is with deepest sorrows and regret that the old-timers of Pampa must record the passing of these old friends. Let us pause for a moment to pay loving tribute to those who have gone down that sunset trail of life and have crossed the great divide. 'Fading away like the stars at morning, losing their lights in the glorious sun, thus would we pass from earth and its toiling, only remembered by what we have done.'"

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M. D.

The emotion of fear is deep-rooted in man. Its function is especially protective. In one sense, fear is the anticipation of painful or unpleasant consequences; hence it acts as a brake on immature action. The fearless animal is not the one most likely to survive. On the other hand, the animal entirely dominated by fear is not likely to advance his development. Fear and acute perception are roughly proportionate to each other. In normal human beings, the emotion of fear is compounded of other emotional and instinctive drives, such as curiosity, aggressiveness and acquisitiveness. Out of this compound there issues what we recognize as normal and effective behavior.

Therefore fear is basically beneficial, but in its exaggerated form it may prove malignant. Certain fears are instinctive—that is, we are born with them. Most of our fears are acquired. Some of the acquired fears are gained by experience, others are fixed upon us by other humans.

Fear is communicable. Everyone who has seen the lightning speed with which panic spreads through a mass of humans or animals. Fear is an easy instrument with which to impose discipline, and many parents are inclined to use it indiscriminately. It is desirable that child be taught to fear sharp objects, falling from heights, fire, poisons and the like, but even in

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Every day or so there comes to this desk an elegantly engraved invitation: "You and your guest are invited to a Press Preview of ..... at ..... Theater, etc."

Scarcely a day passes that the same invitation for some other press preview does not come by telephone. The "press preview" is a Hollywood institution, and a strange one. The idea behind it is this. The studios have a picture ready for the public. The studios would like the correspondents of Hollywood to see it and tell the public about it, especially if it's a good picture. If it's too bad a picture, they skip the preview. If it's fair to middling, they hope for the best. (Which goes for the previewers too.)

Different studios handle "press previews" different ways. Most of them have lights outside the theater, all of them attract hordes of autograph-bunters and sightseers. The press-and remember this is a "press preview" we're talking about—gets inside by bucking the line and battling its way through the ranks of glamour-on-the-roof.

Location Troubles. Now we're in the theater. We find all the choice seats (reserved by the studio for the press) roped off. Then the fun begins. Ushers, with orders from above, take us in tow. "No, you can sit there." Well, we're peaceful folk, so these choice seats will do. "No, you can't sit there—here are your seats." We are getting irritated. We have come early especially to get seats far in the rear and center for the sake of much abused eyes. We don't propose to sit off to the side, where the actors look like horses, or down front, where the actors look like giants swimming in our tears. So we go to bat, we call in the management, and we get seats from which we suffer only the pains inflicted by that particular film.

If not, then like Garbo, we tank we go home. But we haven't had to go home—yet. The secret is if you hate to admit it, not our powers of persuasion, our personal charm, or force in intimidating managers, it is CIRCULATION. The studios want us to see their picture—even if they have to give us good seats.

Big Name Press. For whom, then, are these choice seats reserved at out Press Previews? For such able, conscientious, widely-read reporters as—I mention only a few noted previews—Constance Bennett, Mariene Dietrich, the Countess di Frasso (who isn't in pictures except socially), Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Rouben Mamoulian, Michael Curtiz, and Ebb Merrill, none of them connected in any way with the picture being previewed, except by invitation of the producer who is showing his latest work to the Press.

these instances the child's fear should not be excessive. Desired behavior, exacted by threats likely to induce vague and abstract fears in a child, is acquired at too great a cost.

The child who is assured that he will never amount to anything unless he does so and so, that he is likely to prove a failure, will never get on in the world and never be loved by anyone, is the child in whom fear is likely to develop, in a gross and malignant form.

The young child is in no position to discount the words of his elders. Impressed as he is with their superior factual knowledge, he is likely to believe their predictions fully.

Texans In Washington

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—A descendant of one of Texas' greatest heroes, David Crockett, is mayor of Yankton, S. D. He is Ernest A. Crockett.

Several months ago he visited Washington and met a number of the Texas Congressional delegation. When he returned home he made a gavel party of wood from an original Davey Crockett moment and gave it to Vice President John Nance Garner.

Rep. Patton of Crockett received the following letter from the South Dakota mayor: "Believe it or not, Nat, it was one of my happiest days in my life when I read the Associated Press article that John Nance Garner had made the Senate with the gavel I made. To others this was just another gavel, but to me and the members of my family this was an important event. It isn't every man who is privileged to prove the instrument that calls the great United States to attention.

"You have suggested I make one for Speaker Barkhead and offer to present it yourself to Congress where Davey Crockett served. Following your suggestion, I have turned out three more gavels, one for the speaker, one for you and one for the city of Crockett.

"Two of these gavels are birch and gibbon ebony without finish, save for a little wax. The longer and more they are used and handled, the more beautiful and finished they become.

"The third gavel needs a little word of explanation. The gavel part is birch taken from the sounding board of the first piano ever in the Dakotas. The inlay is South Dakota black walnut. The handle is from a log which I personally took from the old Crockett home near Rogersville, Tenn., where David's father was born, and where we believe David first saw the light of day."

Few delegations to Washington have exceeded in size and zeal the one which came to push Texas' claim for the federal research cotton laboratory.

Forty-five men made up the group and the few days they were here they presented the merits of their state to every government official who could possibly have anything to do with the selection of the site of the proposed station.

Most of the delegates, availing themselves of the opportunity, discussed various other departmental issues of especial interest to their respective localities with proper officials.

The East Texas Chamber of Commerce group led Washington know their section produces plenty of black-eyed peas and tomatoes.

Under the direction of Elmore Torn of Longview, "Cousin Nat" Patton and Rep. Morgan Sanders, the capitol chefs were supplied with an abundance of the two vegetables sent up by every government official who served them liberally to all House restaurant customers. The official menu announced the special offering.

Senator Connally turned down the fried chicken dinner to eat an extra helping of the black-eyed peas, and ordered buttermilk to go with them. Torn saw to it that plenty of cornbread also adorned the tables.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life ...

By R. C. HOILES

REPUBLICAN LEADERSHIP GUIDING US.

This column has repeatedly said that the Republican party has not had a constructive idea for 48 years, or since the Sherman Anti-Trust Law was passed.

As to the misguidance of the Republican party, Glenn Frank, chairman of the Republican program committee, is a striking example. He seems to be an economic moron. And, yet, the Republicans have chosen him to guide their program.

In his syndicated article, he makes the same kind of a misleading statement that he has been making for years. He says, "There is one situation in which business might find government pretty completely out of the economic picture, and that is a situation in which private enterprise succeeded, as nearly as may ever be humanly possible, in giving an universal and abundant standard of wages and under satisfactory working conditions."

Frank, like Roosevelt, seems to have the conception that it is the purpose of a people, or a government, or a country, to devote its energy to raising the minimum wages. This is certainly not even an aspiration. But, instead, the purpose of industry is to raise the wages of EVERY unit of expenditure of human energy and to show no discrimination whatsoever in rewarding the more efficient workers. The only way ever discovered, in all history, to do this is to allow tools and equipment to be accumulated. They have never been accumulated in the past when they were taken from those who produced them and given to those who did not produce them.

And this improved condition makes it possible for people of less ability, less facilities, to survive. So there is no chance of any society ever progressing to such a degree that will make it possible for people with the least possible natural faculties to have anything but a subsistence. It is this misguided idea of society, that this should be an aspiration of government that has largely brought us to the present conditions and it is thoughtless leaders, like Glenn Frank, who have preached from colleges and from the press this kind of conception that has done as much to bring about our present catastrophe as any other factor.

It is absurd on the face of it to think that the energies of a people as a whole should be directed at attempting to pay a decent wage to those who cannot produce it. And when this is attempted, it invariably is done by taking from the great middle class of people the wages they produce and earn. And it so discourages this great middle class that they have a tendency to ertail their off-spring. But the class about which Glenn Frank is so perturbed consists of individuals who are not thought of their responsibility to their off-spring or to the public interest and their class multiplies as rapidly as they are supplied with the means of subsistence by artificial wage or dolo.

It should be repeated that the purpose is to make it possible for every individual, not the least, fit alone, to receive more than a given amount of work. To do otherwise is not democracy, it is not Christianity, but it is tyranny; and we are having plenty of it as a result of men like Glenn Frank.

100 GOLFERS DUE TO TEE OFF TODAY IN ANNUAL CITY TOURNAMENT

PRIZES READY TO BE GIVEN WINNERS

The largest number of golfers ever to tee off in a City Golf Tournament will begin play today over the Pampa Country Club course. The entry list had passed the 100 mark last night when Del Love, club professional, and the tournament committee, Joe Gordon and Charlie Thut, paired the players.

Officially play will begin at 1 o'clock this afternoon but those who can play during the morning are urged to do so. Four courses will tee off from holes 1, 3, 10, and 12 at the same time with the second and third flights leaving first, the second flight from the No. 1 tee box and the third from the No. 10 tee box.

The players will battle for the outstanding prize list of any tournament which will include golf bags, wrist watches, golf shoes, gladstone bags, belt and pencil sets, golf balls in dozen lots and other prizes.

With the exception of a few players, the first round must be completed today, the second round during the week and the third round next Sunday.

Players who draw Grover Austin and George Clemmons are asked to play this morning. John Austin will play his opponent on Tuesday afternoon and Lefty Cox will meet his opponent on Monday afternoon by special permission of the tournament committee.

John Austin and Grover Austin Jr., tied for low qualifying honors with a 72 each.

Two Practice Softball Games Scheduled Today

Two crack softball games will be played this afternoon, the first called for 3:30 p. m., between the Mack & Paul Barbers and the Supply Boys, City League teams, and the other between Phillips, Industrial League entry, and the Diamond Shop, City League team, at 4 o'clock. Both will be exhibitions.

Guldahl Wins National Open Golf Championship

By ALAN GOULD
DENVER, June 11 (AP)—Ralph Guldahl, burly Texas-born professional from the Brauburn club of Madison, N. J., today won the American Open Golf championship for the second straight year with a smashing last-round come-back. He spread-eagled the field with a final 69, two under Cherry Hills par for a 72-hole total of 294 to become the first repeater since Bob Jones did it in 1930.

WIGHTMAN CUP WON BY U. S.

WIMELETON, Eng., June 11 (AP)—The United States exerted its monopoly on the Wightman cup for the eighth consecutive year today, when merciful Helen Wills Moody froze out Kay Stammers in the deciding match of the two-day international tennis series, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3. The final score was 5 to 2. But after Mrs. Sarah Paley Fabyan of Boston had defeated Margaret Lumb, 5-7, 6-2, 6-3, and Helen had beaten Miss Stammers, the last two matches merely were exhibitions.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

Lawson Wins First
WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Detroit made the most of eight hits by Dutch Leonard here today, defeating Washington 7-2. Roxie Lawson, pitching the route for Detroit, registered his first victory of the season.

Single Wins Game
PHILADELPHIA, June 11 (AP)—Wayne Ambler's single with two on and two out in the ninth inning scored Bob Johnson from second to give the Athletics a 5 to 4 victory over St. Louis today. Johnson hit his 12th and 13th homers for the year. A. S. Kross and McQuinn of the Browns also hit for the circuit.

LUCE WINS TITLE
FORT WORTH, June 11 (AP)—Buck Luce, Austin, won River Crest's twentieth annual invitation golf tournament here today when he defeated Bill Skeeters, Fort Worth, 4-3. Skeeters, 1936 champion, had defeated Billy Coffey, last year's winner, in the semi-finals.

3 OUT OF 12 RIDE STEERS FRIDAY NIGHT

Customarily, the cowboy gets the better of the stock as a rodeo progresses but the opposite happened Friday night at the Top O' Texas Fiesta rodeo at Road Runner park when only three steer riders out of 12 stuck aboard their charges, only four bronc riders stayed the limit, and it took more than 12 seconds for the winner to rope and tie his calf.

The Goodspeed brothers of Okemah, Okla., continued their uncanny roping by taking first and second place in the calf roping event. Buck roping and tying his calf in 12 6/10 seconds or six-tenths of second faster than his brother.

Shorty Ricker of Ranger handles a huge Brahma steer like a calf, dropping it to the arena floor in 7 seconds which was two seconds slower than the record set Thursday afternoon by Norman Person of Comanches. At that, Ricker was only eight-tenths of second ahead of Bill Van Vactor of Carter, Okla., in throwing the bull.

Of the 12 top hands who tried the steer riding only three remained aboard the required time. They were Ken Hargis of Uteville, Colo., Jonas DeArmond of Sayre, Okla., and George Yardley of Pampa.

First casualty of the rodeo came in the bronc riding contest when Frankie Campbell of Mullen, Neb., was unseated three jumps out of the chute and was trampled. He was rushed to Worley hospital in an ambulance where examination showed three fractured ribs and several bruises. He was resting as well as could be expected last night.

Leo Murry of Benson, Ariz., led the four bronc riders out of eight who left the chutes and stuck the required eight seconds.

The Ramsey family gave another startling exhibition of riding and roping while John Lindsey, the clown, and his mule, Hoover, the difference being on the long cars on the mule, were admitted, kept the large crowd in an uproar.

Results of the Friday night program were:
Calf Roping
Buck Goodspeed, Okemah, Okla., 12 6/10 sec., Jess Goodspeed, Okemah, Okla., 12 7/10 sec., Jack Skipton, Fort Worth, Ft. Sumner, N. M., 13 8/10 sec., Jim Strively, Pampa, Okla., 16 2/10 seconds.

Steer Riding
Ken Hargis, Uteville, Colo., Jonas DeArmond, Sayre, Okla., George Yardley, Pampa.

Bronc Riding
Shorty Ricker, Ranger, 7 sec., Bill Van Vactor, Carter, Okla., 7 8/10 sec., Dick Truitt, Stonevale, Okla., 9 8/10 sec., Bruce Ross, Sayre Okla., 10 6/10 sec.

Breast Riding

All Aggies Pass Semester Exams

COLLEGE STATION, June 11—That semi-annual storm, semester final examinations, wracked of coaches' hopes for strong athletic teams, passed over Texas A. & M. college early this month and left no varsity athletes as casualties in its wake.

All members of the Aggie football squad and other class work are eligible for the team next fall, and the players who were ineligible last season are now in good standing. All members of the undefeated freshman grid team of 1937 came through the storm to give the Aggies their first team since 1933.

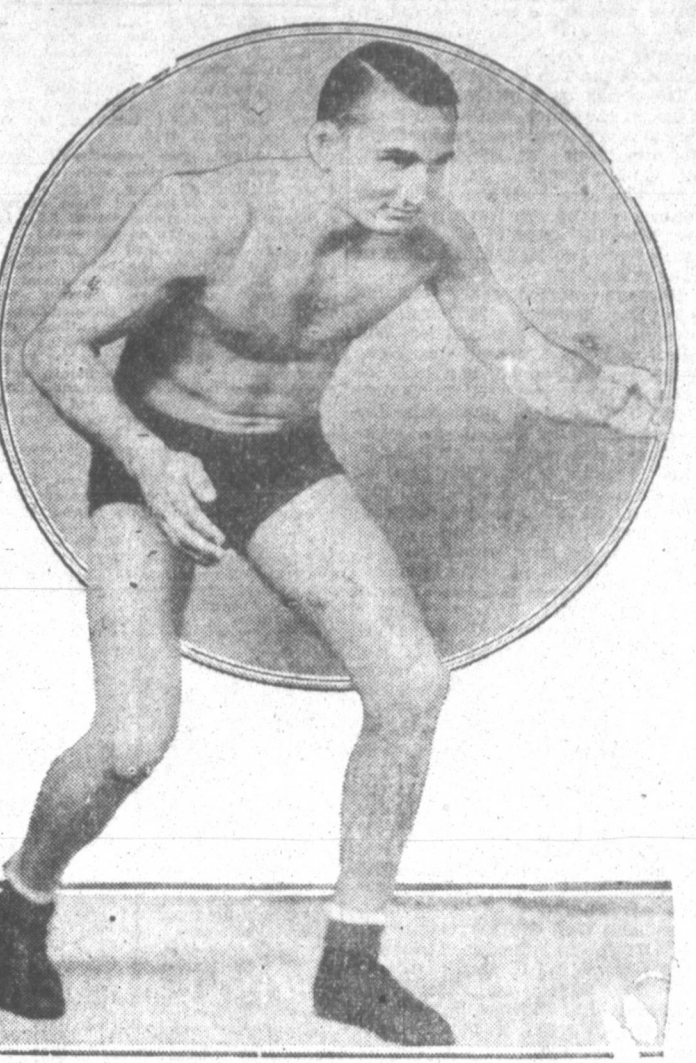

Athletes in all other sports likewise passed their studies and will be available for their respective teams next year. Among those returning to eligibility is William (Red) Cecil, the "Freeport Flash," holder of the 100-yard dash high school record. Cecil is not expected to participate in football but will be a member of the Aggie track team which was hard hit by graduation.

Budge Completes Tennis Grand Slam
AUTEUIL, France, June 11 (AP)—Don Budge completed his tennis "grand slam" today.

The red-headed Californian crushed Roderick Menzel, huge Czech, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, to add the French hard courts championship to his American, British and Australian singles titles and became the first player in history to hold all four at the same time.

All Kinds Of Torture Promised For Johnson

Don Hill Returns to Local Mat

He's just as capable as he looks, is Don Hill, above, who will return to the local wrestling mat Monday night after an absence of about three years. He is one of the most popular grapplers ever to appear here. His opponent will be Andy Tremaine, another clean, scientific wrestler and a Pampa favorite. The card will be headlined by Gust Johnson and Dilley Davis with Soldier Thomas and Blacksmith Pedigo in the opener at 8:30 o'clock sharp. Reserve seat tickets are now on sale at Cretney Drug at 65 cents, tax paid.

Attending the Top O' Texas together were Mrs. G. C. Springer of Miami, Mrs. J. T. Cantrell of Miami, Mrs. J. A. Thompson of Mobeetie, and Mrs. W. M. Daughte of Pampa, all daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Totty of Mobeetie, who visited together.

Mrs. J. R. de Cordova and grandson, Kenneth, of Washington, Oklahoma, left Friday for Claypool, Arizona, after visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. de Cordova for several days. They were accompanied to Claypool by Clarence de Cordova, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. de Cordova.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Price left Friday for Ft. Worth where he will attend the executive board meeting of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association of which he is an executive.

Margaret Nix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nix of Canadian, was a guest of Edna Mae Oade during the Top O' Texas Fiesta.

Albert Cooper, editor and publisher of the Shamrock Texan, was elected president of the young editors' division at the Friday session of the Texas Press Association convention in Fort Arthur. Mr. Cooper also is an ex-president and member of the board of directors of the Pampa Press Association.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the First National Bank in Pampa, Miss Bernice Chapman was appointed an assistant cashier. She has been connected with the bank for the past 12 years.

Avis Thompson, deputy district clerk, will return this evening from Tulsa, where she has been visiting her parents and friends during the week-end.

Mrs. A. A. Love of Sherman, 83, is visiting in the home of her nephew, M. P. Downs.

PRELIMINARY
Blacksmith Pedigo, Louisville, Ky., vs. Soldier Thomas, Vancouver, Wash.

Scientific wrestling will be paramount at the Pampa Athletic arena tomorrow night although there will be one rough battle for the boys who like that type of mauling. Hostilities will begin at 8:30 with Blacksmith Pedigo meeting Soldier Thomas in a 20-minute time limit affair, or one fall to win.

Next in order will be a 30-minute time limit affair between the returning Don Hill and Andy Tremaine. Finally will come Gust Johnson and Sterling "Dizzy Ropes" Davis in a rip-roaring main event.

The main event will be wide open. Davis has threatened all there will be torture for the Swede who is specifically a scientific grappler but who has been seen to lose his head when the opposition got too raw. That was against Buck Lucecomb, in whose footsteps Davis is trying to follow.

Don Hill and Andy Tremaine are without a doubt two of the greatest wrestlers in the middleweight ranks today. Both are fast, clean and scientific, that is unless Hill has changed since his last appearance in the local ring nearly three years ago. At that time he was the only grappler who could hold his own with Otis Clingman. Tremaine has shown recently that he is also tops.

PATTY BERG TAKES TITLE

TULSA, Okla., June 11 (AP)—Little Patty Berg of Minneapolis has her championship at last.

Today the red-haired stylist, often a runner-up, played her smartest golf over the sooty fairways of Cakhurst country club to beat decisively one of the most famous play ers in women's golf, Mrs. Opal Hill of Kansas City, in the 36-hole final of the Trans-Mississippi tourney, six to five.

Patty Hill made a great battle of it in the morning round, playing a steady game on the fairways and rolling her putts dead to the cup to match the advantage. Patty's longer wood chips gave her. The first eighteen ended with Miss Berg one up.

It was a different story in the afternoon. Patty kept her skill on the fairways and found her putting touch.

Finally they came to the thirteenth with Patty five up.

Both made the slanting green in three. Mrs. Hill's putt from 15 feet barely missed and the ball lay a few feet from the cup, and Patty's ball nearly was stopped.

Patty firmly stroked in her 10-footer for a par four, winning the hole, the match and the championship.

"Well," beamed Patty when they handed her the big championship cup, "they say everything comes to those who wait."

HUGE CROWDS ATTEND RODEO FIESTA DANCES

A final rodeo performance at Roadrunner park, and three dances last night concluded the program of the seventh annual Top O' Texas Fiesta, which started Thursday.

Pampa's big annual party this year attracted more attention over the Panhandle than ever before. R. B. Allen, chairman of the executive committee of the Fiesta, estimated that a total of 35,000 people were in Pampa for the three days.

Dances, a barbecue for old timers, old timers dance contest, two big parades, four rodeo performances, and rodeo queen, historical exhibits, advance ticket sale contests, were included in the three-day celebration.

Crowds were pleased with the parades, held at 10:30 a. m. Thursday and 11 o'clock Friday morning, and featured by the Jean Gros figure balloons, 15 floats, 13 of them from other towns, and more than a dozen bands, including Pampa High school and Pampa Junior High school. A crowd of 10,000 persons saw the parade on Thursday and again on Friday.

Dances drew big crowds. At the Southern club, 500 persons attended the dance held there at 10 o'clock Thursday night and 900 the following night. An even larger crowd was present last night. Music was by Billy Hunter and his orchestra.

There were 700 present at the first of the three old timers dances, held at 8:15 o'clock Thursday night in the high school gymnasium, and 800 attended Friday night. The concluding old timers dance was held last night. Sons of the Saddle and Homer Ratliff's orchestra provided the music.

In the building on North Cuyler formerly occupied by the Pampa Fruit and Vegetable market, a series of dances were held during the afternoon and evenings of the Fiesta. Dances were held from 2:30 to 6 p. m. and from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. with Sons of the Saddle and Curley Nee's orchestra alternating in furnishing the music.

88 Entered in Rodeo

As a result of the heavy rain Thursday evening, the rodeo performance scheduled for Thursday night was postponed until last night. Performances were held Thursday and Friday afternoons, Friday night, and last night.

There were 80 contestants, including such top rodeo stars as Vic Schwarz of Wichita Falls, who to date has scored more points toward the all-around cowboy championship title than anyone else in the Rodeo Association of America.

Stock for the rodeo was furnished by Beutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla., with Lynn Beutler acting as arena director. A crowd of 3,000 persons saw the first rodeo performance.

For the old timers there was plenty of activity, with the barbecue prepared by John Snider at Harvester park Friday noon, French harp and old time dance contests at the high school gym, Thursday and Friday. The French harp and preliminaries in the dance contest were held Thursday afternoon, while the finals in the dance contest occurring during the dance Friday night. There were 1,000 old timers registered.

A speech by Col. Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, member of the Texas Railroad commission and candidate for governor, was a highlight of Friday morning's program.

A meeting of the executive committee to complete its business for the 1938 Fiesta will be called some time this week. R. B. Allen, chairman, said Saturday, but the exact day has not been determined.

Mr. Allen has asked that all persons having any bills due to mail them immediately to the office of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, in advance of the time of the executive committee meeting.

Roy Mathers and Wife of Miami Win Grand Prize In Oldtime Dance Event

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mathers of Miami were the winners of the grand prize in the old time dance contest, a feature of the old timers dance at the high school gymnasium, Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Mather were also winners in the new dance.

Their prizes were returned by them to the committee as a contribution to the Top O' Texas Fiesta.

The grand prize was $10 and the prizes in the other contests $5 each, except in the square dance, in which the award was $8, divided among the eight persons.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Via of Pampa, winners of the rye waltz, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lard of Miami, winners of the two-step, also turned in their prizes.

Winners in the other contests were: Dave Turcotte and Donnie Lee Stroupe, Pampa, scottische; Will Lewis of Canadian and Mrs. Gene Shackleton of Pampa, heel and toe polka; Mr. and Mrs. George Hodges, Canadian, pop goes the weasel; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Crawford of old timers waltz; square dance, Mack Harmon, Edna Turcotte, Jack Brewster, Mrs. Letha Kelley, Duane Turcotte, Kate Heiskell, Dave Turcotte, Mrs. Lillian Treece.

35 Couples Entered.

There were 35 couples participating in the dance contests. Entries were: Mack Harmon, Mrs. Lillian Treece, Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Heiskell, Pampa; Frank Lard, Mrs. Elsie Hall, Pampa; Dave Turcotte, Donnie Lee Stroupe, Pampa; Robert and Lillian Hollis, Pampa; A. C. and Doris Crawford, Pampa; R. H. Elkins, Pampa; and Mrs. C. Y. Johnson Clarendon; Leo and Thelma Paris, Miami; W. W. Lewis Canadian, and Mrs. Gene Shackleton, Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Via, Pampa; Jack Brewster, Mrs. Letha Kelley, Pampa; Duane and Edna Turcotte, Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mathers, Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Foreman, Pampa; H. C. and Beulah McDowell, White Deer; W. L. Harris, Gruver; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cohn, Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Vincent, Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sewell, Pampa; J. A. Poch, Mrs. Husted, Pampa; Clayton Stokes, White Deer, Claudia Otts, Pampa.

At entrance at the dance Friday night was estimated at 800. More than 400 tickets were taken in during the first hour of the dance, which began at 8:15 o'clock and ended shortly after midnight.

Homer Ratliff's orchestra, playing for the dance last night, played for the Friday night dance, with the Sons of the Saddle playing for the first of the three old timers dances Thursday night.

The old time dance contest was held at 10 o'clock, following a program at 9:30, which was a memorial to John Isaacs, Canadian; Mrs. Phoebe Worley, Sheriff Earl Talley, and H. L. Polley. All present stood in silent tribute to the memory of the four persons identified with fiestas of past years.

Live-speaking equipment was used in the high school gymnasium as a courtesy of R. E. Smith of the Phillips camp, and of the Gray County Thompson - For - Governor Club.

CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—Butter 1-546,055 lb. firmer; creamery extra firsts (88 score) 25 1/4-25 3/4; extra firsts (86-88) 24-24 1/4; second 24-24 1/4; standards (90 centralized carlots 24 1/2; sizes 15,242, steady; prices unchanged.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, June 11. (AP)—The heaviest buying in months poured into the wheat pit today and prices skyrocketed almost five cents a bushel, the limit on daily fluctuations.

Less optimistic prospects for a bumper winter wheat crop, strong revival of foreign demand for American wheat and a bullish trade interpretation of the latest official crop forecast stimulated the wave of buying.

Today's upturn which carried July wheat here to a high of 79c and September to 69c, put the market about 12 cents a bushel above the five-year low level reached ten days ago.

After wheat touched the day's high in the final hour heavy profit taking developed but caused only slight reaction.

Wheat closed 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 above yesterday's finish, July 79 1/4-79 3/4; Sept. 69 1/4-69 3/4; corn 1 to 1 1/4 up, July 55 1/2-55 3/4; soybean 13 1/4-13 1/2; cotton 15 1/4-15 1/2; oats 5 1/4-5 1/2; higher, July 26 1/2; rye 1 1/4-1 1/2 up, July 55 1/2; hard 10 to 12 up.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, June 11. (AP)—Foreign purchasing, inflationary scares and unfavorable weather sent cotton prices approximately 50 cents a bale higher on the exchange today.

The market closed steady, up 7 to 9 points from yesterday's close, with July contracts at 8.29, Oct. at 8.31, Dec. at 8.35, Jan. at 8.34, March at 8.39 and May at 8.42. Spots closed quiet with middling 3 points higher at 8.34 on sales of 98 bales.

Biggest gains were made in the early trading of today's short session. A few points were lost near the close on profit taking.

MRS. MALONE DIES AT AGE OF 74 IN PAMPA

Mrs. Laura Modena Malone, 74, died suddenly of a heart attack at 8:15 a. m. yesterday in her home, 211 East Francis avenue. Although she had been in failing health for some time her death was unexpected.

The body was taken overland to Hillsboro yesterday where burial will be by the side of her husband following services at 5 o'clock this afternoon in Hillsboro Baptist church. The Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home of Pampa will have charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Malone's death came less than two months following that of a son, G. G. Malone. She had resided in Pampa for three years, coming here from Hillsboro, her lifelong home.

Surviving Mrs. Malone are five daughters, Mrs. Lillian Hartsfield and Mrs. Heck Mosley, both of Pampa, Mrs. Alma Mosley, Lubbock, Mrs. P. M. Jones, Waxahchie, Mrs. Sam Deer, Hillsboro, a son, J. Porter Malone, Lubbock, seven sisters and one brother.

5 EUROPEAN NATIONS JOLTED BY EARTHQUAKE

LONDON, June 11 (AP)—An earthquake born in the North Sea jolted five nations today, rumbling over a 40-mile front from England to the Rhineland.

There was scattered damage, surprise, alarm and even panic among the countryfolk in Belgium and northern France, who dropped to their knees in prayer as chimneys toppled, walls cracked, windows broke and furniture jumped.

Three capitals—London, Paris, and Brussels—felt the shocks, which some seismographs recorded as having a duration of ten minutes.

In several continental towns people were injured by falling bricks, but there were no reports of fatalities.

Damage was minor but extensive, apparently most serious in Belgium, where it was estimated the damage might reach a million dollars.

Arrows, Heads, Axes, Mounds Found Near Pampa Tell Of Early Peoples

Written Exclusively for the Pampa Daily News
By RAY E. COLTON.

Writers Note: Primitive man with his various forms of cultural advancement was a contributing factor to the prehistoric past of what is today the geographical areas of Gray and Roberts counties. Many relics of the Indian races have been found around Pampa, LeFlore, and Miami. In this article which closes this series, the writer discusses these finds. Republishing of any of the wording of this article by any but affiliated newspapers is prohibited.—RAY E. COLTON.

Mound Builders First Home.
Millions of years after the sea had receded, the dinosaurs and the tropical jungles had passed into oblivion, and the mammoths had deposited their remains in the spots where they are found today, the came to what is today Gray and Roberts counties a strange race of men who have been named the Mound Builders by archaeologists.

The mound builders were of Asiatic racial origin, and it is believed that this race of primitive man migrated to the North American continent by way of the Bering Strait from the Asiatic mainland. The probable time of their arrival in what is today the Red river area of the Texas Panhandle is placed at about 2,000 years before the white pioneers. The mound builders, killed in the arts and sciences of their time, and they brought to this continent a knowledge of the entombment of the dead which was practiced in Asia centuries before the time of Confucius. This art consisted of the erecting of earth mounds and other artificial earth "tumuli," remains of which can still be found in many parts of this area. Other mounds which were erected by this race are the ceremonial, effigy and fortification types of mounds.

Arrow Heads and Other Artifacts Found Around Pampa and Miami.
Of the artifacts of this race which have been found in the areas north from Pampa and Miami near the south bank of the Red river, the most notable are those of the arrow heads. These little relics, some of the battle or warheads down to slender fish and hunting point types. An examination of these arrow heads in comparison with similar works of later day Indian races, shows a marked degree of similarity in favor of the mound builders. In the arrow heads of the culture which is known to have been the mound builders, the symmetry and design as well as the balance is perfect. While those which are recognized as being of later day Indian races, appear to be poor samples of workmanship and certainly fail to exemplify any degree of cultural knowledge on the part of their manufacturers.

Stone axes which have been found around White Deer and Roxana in adjoining Carson County, compare similarly with works of the ancient Norsemen, yet it is highly improbable that these Viking adventurers ever got this far inland in the United States.

Indian Descended From Mound Builders

The theory of the ancestry of the Indian races which inhabited Texas and other states in the dim past, is well established, namely; that the Indian is a direct descendant of the Mongolian mound builders and that he himself is an Asiatic. A study of the skeletal remains of both the mound builders and Indians which have been taken from their burial grounds, reveals to anthropologists that many Asiatic characteristics are in evidence especially in the skull formations of both races. The pronounced supra-orbital ridge which appears over the eye arch of the skull is distinctly Mongoloid, while the zygomatic arch which forces up the cheek bones, is another feature which can be traced to Oriental ancestry.

While the Indian is beyond any doubt the direct descendant of the Mongolian hordes which were here in the Texas Panhandle centuries before the White Man, there is little evidence on hand to show that he, the Indian assimilated and perpetuated the culture which his ancestors bequeathed to him.

Gray and Roberts counties along with Carson County, appear to have been one of the seats of government for the primitive races of the dim Panhandle history.

In the articles which you have read, the findings of geologists, paleontologists and archaeologists in the Pampa area have been revealed to you. It is hoped that this information has been of interest and of educational value.

Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

A brilliant wedding cake is a beautiful symbol. It is the first food the bride and groom share together, surrounded by well-wishing relatives and friends.

Wedding Cake (14 pounds)
One pound almonds, 3 pounds currants, 3 pounds raisins, 1 pound mixed sliced peels, 2 cups cognac brandy, 4 cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons baking soda, 3 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon cloves, 1-2 nutmeg grated, 1 pound shortening, 1-2 cups firmly packed brown sugar, 16 eggs, 3 drops wintergreen, 1 cup New Orleans molasses, 1 cup sour cream.

Blanch and shred almonds; mix with fruits, peel and brandy, and let stand in closely covered jar 2 days. Mix and sift flour, soda and spices.

Cream shortening until soft and smooth. Gradually add sugar creaming until fluffy. Beat in thoroughly 1 egg at a time, then wintergreen and molasses.

Add flour mixture alternately with sour cream, mixing well after each addition. Stir in branched fruits and nuts.

Turn into greased loaf pans, lined with waxed paper and again greased, filling them about 3-4 full. Cover tightly with waxed or greased paper and steam 2 hours. Then bake in very slow oven (250 degrees F.) about 2 hours, removing paper the last 1-2 hour to dry surface.

For a decorative two layer cake use frosted sticks of cardboard to support the upper layer. Tie little bells on the sticks, which look like marble columns, and on each corner of the lower layer stick small bows of "wedding" veil. The frosted roses and scroll work which are so definite a part of a wedding cake can be bought in a five and ten store and applied to your own glistening white frosting.

If you are not quite sure of your skill as a cake decorator, you can pay your local baker to decorate it for you in his best professional manner.

BROKEN WINDOW PANES NEVER BOTHER HILL FOLK

SPRUCE PINE, N. C. (AP)—If a window pane gets broken, folks in this mica-bearing mountain section don't have to go to the store and buy a new one.

They can go out and find a large piece of mica—or insulating—peel it off to the right thickness, cut it to the correct size and use it. Mica is found in chunk-like layers of thin transparent sheets, which bend and do not break easily.

Many mountain families have window panes made of it but glass is generally preferred for the purpose since it is former and stronger.

KPDD BRINGS DRAMA OF AIR SUNDAY NOON

"Desirable," the drama of the air which will be presented under the sponsorship of McCaskey's Jewelry Store over station KPDD today at 12:30, was a tremendous hit as a motion picture when it was released by Warner Bros. a couple of years ago.

The story is about a famous stage star who doesn't want her admiring world to know that she is the mother of a 19-year-old daughter, and therefore keeps the girl hidden in the background of her life. But she is obliged, eventually, to take the daughter into her home. And the daughter becomes the successful rival for the affections of her mother's handsome and wealthy suitor.

In the screen play, Verne Teasdale was the mother, Jean Muir the girl, and George Brent the man. In McCaskey's air drama, these parts will be played by Rosella Towne, Dorothy Gouingore and John Ricgely, who are all members of the Warner Bros. Studio Academy of Acting. Allen Jenkins, one of the stars of "Goldiggers in Paris," will also come to the microphone.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART.

You'll be more comfortable and more attractive during hot summer months if you—

Carry one of those new compacts of cleansing pads in your purse and clean your face with them several times a day. Saturated with non-oily preparations, these cool as they cleanse.

Brush your hair with a clean hairbrush every single night. And have a shampoo even oftener than you did during winter months.

Use a fairly hard, fairly indelible lipstick. If you intend to cling to your city, soft lipstick, then be sure to "set" the color with cleansing tissues after each application.

Use a bit of special foot powder on your feet before putting on stockings.

Put on clean underwear and clean stockings each and every morning.

Wear washable dresses in the country or suburbs. Furthermore, if your budget won't stand the strain of pretty large dry cleaning bills, buy wear washables in town, too.

Dress as simply as possible. Ruffles and other frill touches, flowing yells and extremely fancy shoes aren't likely to be flattering when the thermometer is hovering around ninety-nine.

Comb your hair off your neckline.

If you don't want to part with your long bob, find a hair-dresser who will design a coiffure which can be worn up or down.

Spend even more time grooming yourself to perfection. (Taking the time trimming off a dark dress and then neglecting to wash and sew it back on, going without a girdle or a slip or going without a hat to places where a hat certainly should be worn honestly won't make so very much difference in the way you feel but a tremendous amount in the way you look.)

Remember Dad Sunday—It's Father's Day! Dad is a good old scout—he goes to bat for you every day in the week, so why not turn the tables and show your appreciation with a gift? Give him something he would not ordinarily buy, but choose it carefully from this list of gift tips—then, you're sure of giving him something he will like. Select Dad's gift right away . . . we will gladly wrap it for you.

Married Career Woman Lacks Time To "Be Alone"

By RUTH MILLETT

Holding down two jobs—marriage and a career—isn't easy for a woman. Even the smart young wife who is obviously making a success of both without any noticeable strain will tell you that the combination has its drawbacks.

If she has children she will, of course, regret that their childhood is slipping by without her having much of a part in it.

But children or no, the woman who works all day and goes home to a husband at night finds that she has no time that she can count her own. She may be advised to take an hour or two for herself each evening, but she doesn't quite dare let her husband know she needs it.

She much prefers to have him think that working is no added strain and that she is quite as capable of being a gay companion and an eager listener in the evening as the wife who makes marriage her whole concern.

She finds that there is no time when she can think quietly about her problems and work them out. No time to settle last night's quarrel in her own mind and decide how to meet the situation the next time it arises. For when she leaves her husband, she is facing another day's work with its own set of problems.

She wishes that there were time to give to friends, but there is very little. The friends she does have must of necessity be people that her husband also enjoys.

And when vacation time rolls around she thinks how nice it would be if she could go away somewhere alone and catch up with the life that has gone by too quickly for her.

But there again is a touchy subject. The wife who has all day to herself is anxious to share her vacation with her husband, to have two whole weeks of companionship after quite enough of being alone. And so the working wife must pretend to feel the same way.

The whole difficulty seems to be in the fundamental attitude of the working wife, which she phrases, "I can't let my job make any difference in my marriage."

She doesn't—but it isn't easy.

Evangelist

Evangelist N. B. Hardeman, above, of Henderson, Tenn., will begin a 10-day meeting at the Francis Avenue Church of Christ today. He is known throughout the world as one of the greatest of preachers.

Mr. Hardeman has been president of Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Tenn., for many years. His work has taken him into all sections of America and the Old World as well. He is one of the outstanding men in public life today in Tennessee.

The Evangelist is not only a man of unusual Bible knowledge, but one of the most pleasing speakers you have had the pleasure to hear. We urge you to hear him during this meeting.

Services at 10 a. m. and 8:15 daily.

Hostesses Named For Dinner-Dance At Country Club

A regular monthly dinner and dance will be held Thursday evening, June 16, at 7:30 o'clock at the Country Club.

Hostesses for the event will be Mrs. F. E. Hoffman, Jim Collins, J. M. Hatfield, and R. S. McConnell.

Those planning to attend are urged to telephone their reservations as early as possible to Mrs. Hoffman at 379, Mrs. Collins, 499; Mrs. Hatfield, 895-W, or Mrs. McConnell at 9022-F-S.

ENGAGEMENT OF LOCAL TEACHER REVEALED HERE

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Lucille Persons of Quitaque and F. Winston Savage, local high school band director. The marriage will be solemnized Wednesday, June 15, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Amos Persons, at Quitaque. The Rev. Draper of Lorenzo will officiate.

The bride-elect was graduated from West Texas State College at Canyon and later attended North Texas State College at Denton.

Mr. Savage, who was graduated from West Texas State College also, has attended the University of Texas. He is a popular teacher in the local high school and is director of the summer band.

Local Women To Be Hostesses At Institutes Soon

Mrs. Ewing Leech, president of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union of the Palo Duro Association, has received word that the state leader of mission study of the Baptist women, Mrs. R. L. Brown, will be in district 10 conducting mission study institutes on June 21.

Mrs. D. A. Grundy of Memphis, district president, will accompany Mrs. Brown of College Station on this tour.

The Palo Duro Institute will be held with the local First Baptist Church with an all-day meeting.

Two annual institutes have been conducted in Amarillo, but this is the first meeting of this association to be held in Pampa. Details of the meeting will be published later.

The great-grandfather of William Russell Adams, pioneer resident of Trenton, Fannin county, fought in the Revolutionary War, and his father in the Confederate army in the Civil War. He went to school at Lick Skillet, later Pilot Grove in Grayson county. On his 87th birthday recently, Adams said one of his teachers carried a double-barreled shotgun daily because of the roughness of his pupils, and taught the multiplication table by song.

Cooper Seen As World's First Traveling Salesman

"MARCO POLO" TALE OF GAY ADVENTURER

LA NORA

Today, tomorrow and Tuesday: "The adventures of Marco Polo." (United Artists). Directed by Archie Mayo. Screenplay by Robert E. Sherwood. Gary Cooper, Basil Rathbone, and Sigrid Gurie, new film discovery, and cast of 5,000.

Marco Polo—telling the oft-repeated story of the world's first traveling salesman in an amusingly satiric manner, in a glamorous comedy of high adventure in the thirteenth century. Magnificent settings, notable photoplay and Gary Cooper's characterization of the Venetian explorer are highlights.

Sophisticated, tongue-in-cheek treatment intended to divert rather than inform. A best of the month selection of the West Coast Preview committee.

Wednesday and Thursday: "Women Are Like That" (Warner Brothers). Directed by Stanley Logan. Kay Francis, Pat O'Brien. From the Saturday Evening Post story by A. H. Z. Carr.

A new co-starring team makes its screen debut in this story revolving about the colorful and exciting advertising business. Pat uses his staccato patter to sell advertisements and Kay yields her feminine charms for the same purpose.

Friday and Saturday: "College Swing" (Paramount). Directed by Raoul Walsh. George Burns, Gracie Allen, Martha Raye, Bob Hope. An elaborately staged, farcical melange of music, both tuneful and swing, lovely settings, some graceful dancing, all interspersed with raucous slapstick comedy and burlesque. The plot has to do with the efforts of Gracie Allen to pass the graduation examination at Alden College in order to retain control of the institution.

REX

Today, tomorrow and Tuesday: "Hold That Kiss" (Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer). Directed by Edwin L. Martin. Maureen O'Sullivan, Dennis O'Keefe and Mickey Rooney.

Romantic comedy with O'Keefe as a travel agency clerk and Miss O'Sullivan as a shopgirl, who thru an accident mistake each other for social celebrities.

Wednesday and Thursday: "International Settlement" (20th Century-Fox). Directed by Eugene Forde. Dolores Del Rio, George Sanders, June Lang.

Interesting melodrama showing horrors of war with actual scenes of the bombing of Shanghai during the present conflict. Intrigue, danger, and adventure come to a soldier of fortune when he attempts to deliver ammunition for an infamous munitions dealer.

Friday and Saturday: "Gun Law" (RKO Radio). Directed by David Howard. George O'Brien, Rita Oshman, Ray Whitley.

George O'Brien as a United States marshal posing as the notorious Egan to combat bandit politicians of Arizona in the '70's.

STATE

Today and tomorrow: "A Slight Case of Murder" (Warner Brothers). Directed by Lloyd Bacon. From a play by Damon Runyon and Howard Lindsay. Edward G. Robinson, Ruth Donnelly, Jane Bryan, Edward Brophy, Allen Jenkins.

Free and easy comedy with clever, slangy lines. Amusing travesty on racketeering concerning an underworld leader who goes into the legitimate brewing business following the repeal of prohibition, only to find it more difficult to deal with the so-called "honest" business man than with his own kind.

Tuesday: "52nd Street" (United Artists). Directed by Harold Young. Ian Hunter, Pat Patterson.

Musical based on a story which ranges from the springtime of 1912 to the swingtime of the present. Action unfolds along Manhattan's night-club thoroughfare and dramatizes its world famous personalities.

Wednesday and Thursday: "Ebb Tide" (Paramount). Directed by James Hogan. From a story by Robert Louis Stevenson. Oscar Homolka, Frances Farmer, Ray Milland.

First story of the South Seas to be filmed in technicolor. Story of a pair of young lovers who meet under unfavorable circumstances in the South Seas, who through perilous adventures, including a typhoon, and who finally work out their destiny on an island dominated by a madman.

The United States consumes more than 800,000,000 tons of coal annually.

Adventure Story Hero

Gary Cooper has the leading role in Samuel Goldwyn's romance of the world's greatest adventurer, "The Adventures of Marco Polo." The film introduces Sigrid Gurie, Norwegian discovery. There are 5,000 in the cast. Showing today, tomorrow, and Tuesday at the LaNora.

Timely Drama

20th Century-Fox's picture "International Settlement" is a timely picture of the hour about Americans in the danger zone in China. Dolores Del Rio and George Sanders have the leading roles. Showing Wednesday and Thursday at the Rex.

LOW-VOLTAGE WAVES GIVEN OFF BY BRAIN

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11 (AP)—New light on the human brain, in the form of long, low-voltage waves of direct electric current flowing from gray matter was discussed by the American Psychiatric Association here today.

This direct current is positive during consciousness, negative in unconsciousness and apparently the forerunner of death when it lasts too long.

Its discovery amazed the brain specialists for two reasons. The brain gives off the direct current simultaneously with alternating current. One wave of the direct current lasts ten to thirty minutes while the "A. C." pulsates at an average of ten a second.

The dynamism in the brain appear to be the individual cells of gray matter. According to the discussion here, these brain dynamisms are capable of linking up like the stations of a super-power system. They combine into networks which change their size and their voltage in tune with the physical changes in gray matter during health and disease.

The direct current was discovered by Robert Cohn, M. D., and Carl Langenstrass, M. D., of St. Elizabeth's hospital, Wash. It was detected while giving the new insulin shock treatment to patients suffering from schizophrenia. Under insulin shock, a patient usually becomes unconscious. While the St. Elizabeth patients were conscious, the long waves of direct current were positive electricity. When they became unconscious the electric current was negative. The change from positive to negative was not abrupt. The current would swing back and forth, gradually becoming more uniformly negative.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. On personal letter paper, should the return address be put on the front or flap of the envelope?
2. When using letter paper which is incorporated in the name of more than one woman, would it be correct to use "Dear Madams?"
3. Is it good taste to use green ink for either social or business letters?
4. Should an office girl say "Good morning" to her employer as he goes by into his own office? What would you do if—
(a) You are a secretary who happens to be dancing in a restaurant when you see your employer and his wife at a nearby table?
(b) Go up to speak to them when the music stops?
(c) Smile and speak to them when you dance by if you happen to catch the eye of either of them?

Answers
1. Flap, but omitted entirely on paper for formal notes.
2. No.
3. Yes.
4. No.
5. Yes, if she happens to catch his eye.
Best "What Would You Do" solution—(c). Let them make any further advances.

MOUNTAINEER RIGS UP GEM-CUTTING SHOP

HAWK, N. C. (AP)—Roby Buchanan, mountaineer miller, kept finding glistening pieces of semi-precious stones—garnet, amethyst and others—in creek beds and elsewhere near his mill.

Nobody seemed to value the uncut gems enough to buy them and they were of no use as jewelry in the rough. Others might have let it go at that but this mountaineer did not.

He rigged up a home-made apparatus to cut and polish the stones, getting his power from a belt to the overshot waterwheel of his mill. Now, he has what may be the only waterpower gem-cutting shop in America.

McKinney boys may have to avoid the old swimmin' hole—Wilson creek on the south and west of the city—this summer on account of alligators. Threeigators were found early this month, each 17 inches long, and it was reported a fourth, about four feet long, had been seen.

NINE INDIANS CARRY ON TRIBE'S TRADITIONS

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—There are just nine Oklahomans left to carry on the traditions of a once strong Indian tribe, the Painkashaws.

The tribal lore started centuries ago with the banding together on mid-western plains of a group of sturdy aborigines.

Last chieftain of the Painkashaws George Washington Finley, died in 1933. Those left to tell the story of the tribe are his daughter, Mrs. C. C. Barnard of Tulsa, and her children, Oletha, Lecta and Charles; his son, Leo Finley; his grandchildren, Carol Jeanne, Dixie Dean, John and Jim Finley, who live in Miami, Okla. A Tulsa artist, Frank Vonder Lancken, painted the chief's portrait a short time before his death, called it "The Last Painkashaw." But now he plans a portrait of another Painkashaw, Carol Jeanne Finley.

One hundred and thirty students are candidates for degrees at the 65th annual commencement of Texas Christian University May 30. Charles Mosshart of Ennis is president of the 1938 class.

This Man, Joe Murray

BY WILLIAM CORCORAN Copyright, 1938, by William Corcoran; NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JOE MURRAY—like new place, new job, new girl.
TERRY MALLOW—found love and kept it!
Yesterday: The climax comes when Terry denies her relatives at home, tells them she and Joe are going to be married. Joe is shocked! But it is too late.

CHAPTER XI

HE moistened his lips, rocking a little on the seat, looking at her. She watched his face, fascinated. He did not say anything.

"Joe!" she said suddenly. "Let's get out of here!" he snapped, and got up abruptly.

She followed him outside the shop. She stood in uncertainty on the sidewalk beside him while he looked up the street and down the street, rocking a little, ominously rocking, his face unreadable.

Then he heard her make a queer sound, and he looked at her sharply. She was crying as she stood there, quietly, almost soundlessly crying. He did not make a move, staring at her. She did not look at him, but she slowly turned and walked off down the street, alone.

He had never seen her cry. She looked forlorn and alone to an intensity of loneliness such as he had never seen either. He knew what loneliness was. He knew what happiness was. He knew what it was to have happiness snatched from your grasp, wantonly, by heedless life.

Loneliness was creeping over him as he stood there and she drew farther and farther away, not looking back. Once he would not have recognized it; now he knew it all too well, clammy and cold. The anger drained out of him, down through his very feet into the insensate earth.

He set out after her at a quick pace. When he caught up with her and fell into stride he gripped her hand hard. "Cut it!" he told her. "Stop that."

Obediently, abruptly, the sobbing ceased. She walked by his side, very still. He went on, holding the hand hard. "All right," he said. "I think you're nuts and I'm no better. I'll take it on."

The small hand in his gave a convulsive start and gripped him hard in return. "You mean you'll marry me?"

"I think we're out of our heads. So we might as well get married."

And there was a sudden quivering breathless radiance in the dusk beside him.

IT was late when they arrived at her home. All was dark and quiet, and they entered the front room stealthily. They listened, and there was no sound; Joe broodingly, Terry inscrutably. Terry lighted the lamp, and then she extinguished the lamp. They sat together in the stillness, listening. Terry put out a hand in the darkness. And then abruptly, brutally and darkly and hungrily, they turned to one another and swept into each other's arms. Joe was drunk with sensation and Terry with ecstasy, and they listened no longer, for there was a roaring as of a mighty and omniscient surf on an endless ocean, and it drowned out all the world.

They were married in the chapel of the municipal building downtown by the city clerk at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Now do not think for a minute that disposes of Terry and Joe and my story about love. Marriage is an incident in life, and life goes on. It goes weaving and winding, deviously hiding and wantonly flaunting its always inscrutable purpose, undaunted even by death. Terrible and beautiful it goes, spilling all plans and provisions, constant to one thing only: the certainty of change. The very magnificence of life is its completely sublime disdain.

There was something wan and disdantful about this marriage of Joe and Terry. No inevitability was in it at all, but much chance and fortuity. Precarious indeed is any marriage, but here was a marriage with no foreordained compulsion about it, with no fond benediction of families and friends, with nothing, practically, but that small and intense persistence of Terry Mallow. And she was young, knowing neither life nor the world sufficiently, where Joe knew both all too well.

It was a marriage sustained only by that small and intense persistence, and by it to stand or fall.

THEY told no one about their intentions when they met early and went downtown together. They got busy immediately afterward and selected a small flat, a four-room box flat three stories up on a side street in their own neighborhood. Joe drew his money from the bank and let Terry select a bed, a table, utensils, furnishings. They bought with frugal care, having none too much money for their wholesale needs, and they bought right in the neighborhood, so that the things might be delivered and installed that very day. Long past say proper meal time Terry prepared their first meal together that night in their own home.

Terry went about all that day in a kind of calm, bated entrancement, full of wonder and joy and yet unquestioningly sure of herself. She had no experience to guide her, and was at no time flustered by the demands of the day. It was as if she selected, ordered, instructed things and people out of unwavering instinct. Terry possessed a rare directness of mind: she knew always without confusion what she most wanted, and her energies went wholly and solely into the acquiring of it.

"It feels good," she told Joe spontaneously in the midst of the confusion that was their home. She smiled. "So good! Feel it? In here where my heart is? Do you feel the same thing I do?"

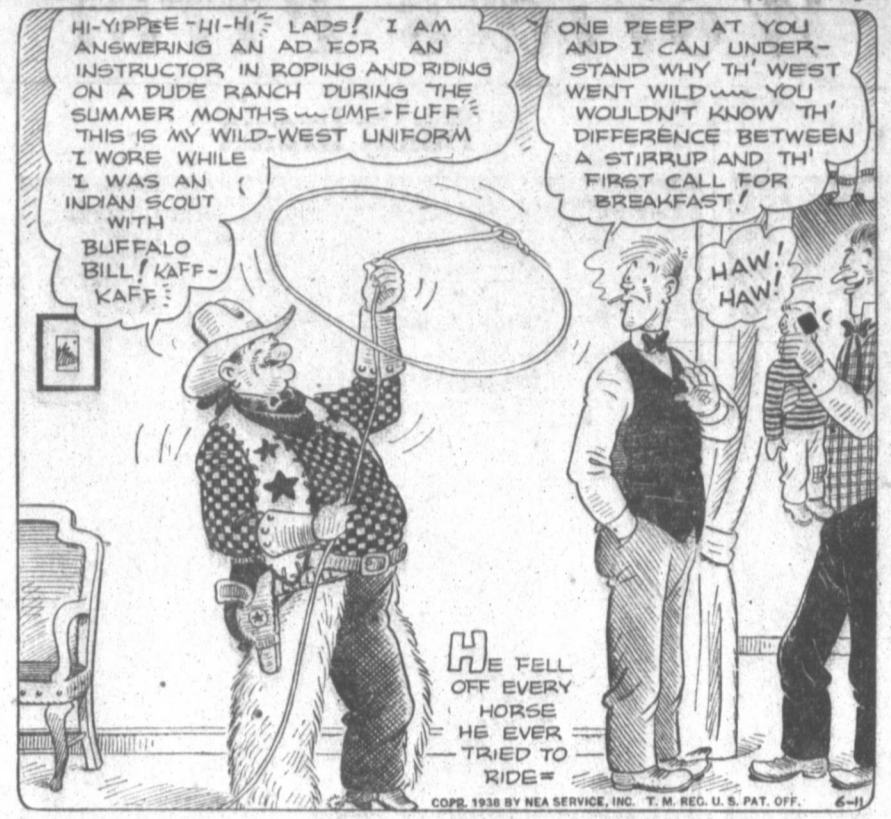

He felt the sturdy, steady beating of her heart, and he smiled. He looked at her a long moment, while sober thought played in the pupils of his brown eyes, and then he said with a shade of huskiness in the tone, a touch of difficulty, "Baby... I guess I do love you, baby!"

It was the first time. She made a quick sound without words, saying something inexpressible. That was all had been lacking, the last thing needed... and life was in fullest flower.

It flowered for Terry. But for Joe there had once before been a time like that, and then there was a blight, and no second blooming came. There was a survival and a continuity, similar to that of the arid uprooted tumbleweed drifting on its vague and inscrutable journey before the winds that prevail, but there was no flower, no color, no perfume of life. He had committed his love to this small one whom it made so happy. He lied, knowing so. He accepted this, deliberately. Last night late, after he had gone home and to bed, there was a long hour when sleep would not come; but instead a relentless parade of phantoms out of the past. Even then, on such a night, against his will and despite his will, he had kept a bleak rendezvous with a figure poignant and accusing and mute, come in final farewell.

ALCATRAZ WARDEN DEPICTS HOW VARIOUS CRIMINALS 'CRACKED'

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11 (AP)—James A. Johnson, warden of Alcatraz, the federal island penitentiary here which houses Al Capone, Machine Gun Kelly and other desperate men, today pictured criminality as it looks to him and said it is "overlapped by insanity."

The warden, who seldom talks, presented a 6,000-word paper to the American Psychiatric Association. He gave 10 cases of prisoners, but no names. The 10 appeared not to be among Alcatraz' notorious band. He drew a word picture of what the warden looks at as he sits waiting for a criminal who has cracked to enter his office for medical examination.

"As hospital attendants or guards bring the patient to the doctor," he said, "sometimes it makes a rather pathetic procession."

"Some are quiet and clean, others are untidy, unclean and violent, some of them out capers and if it happens to provoke a laugh, they laugh at themselves as if they were happy in their tragic foolishness. Those with delusions of persecution are often difficult to handle."

The prison gets the drainings of society. These men, Warden Johnson said, include "latent, unrecognized, insane, borderline cases and numerous variants, deviates, defectives, abnormals, subnormals, neurotics, epileptics and psychopaths."

"Then, too," he went on, "there are special types who germinate and flourish in cells and prison surroundings. In this class are some lifers and long-timers, who crack from going lame. Circumscribed existence may cause them to stagnate or develop and deepen an increasing attitude from constant feeding on main population of the prison. Those inclined to flare up when crowded are housed in cell blocks where they can get some exercise as orderlies and at the same time have supervision and protection of cellulose guards.

"Psychiatrists and wardens working together in utmost candor and whole-hearted cooperation," he concluded, "is one of the most encouraging features in present-day study of the penal problem."

Wildcat Near Pampa Given Potential Of 484 Barrels

10 LOCATIONS IN PANHANDLE FIELD FILED

The Northern Natural Gas Company's wildcat well 10 miles southwest of Pampa in Carson county was given an official potential of 484 barrels on Texas Railroad Commission test last week to be the most interesting test in the Panhandle field.

For the first time in several weeks new locations passed completions, 10 first intentions being filed against seven completions, six for oil and one for gas. New oil amounted to 2,264 barrels with Gray, Carson and Hutchinson counties each reporting two new wells. The gas well was in Carson county.

Carson county, which has been consistently active this spring, led in new locations with five, followed by Hutchinson with four and Gray with one. The locations were staked by 10 different companies.

The Northern Natural Gas Company's well is located in section 237, block B-2, H&GN survey in Carson county. First pay was topped at 3069 feet with a bad cave-in. Despeining continued after a liner had been run and a second pay was found between 3,100 and 3,115 feet. A half million feet higher up increased to a million cubic feet and the test flowed natural at the rate of 15 barrels an hour on an 11 hour test. After storage had been erected the well was placed on test.

Nearest oil production to the wildcat is nine miles northeast in the pool southwest of Pampa. Several gas wells are in the area.

An immediate drilling campaign in the vicinity of the new well is not anticipated but when conditions become more favorable great activity is expected. No leasing has been reported, most of the land in the immediate vicinity having already been under lease, mostly to gas companies, however.

Completions by counties follow:

In Gray County
Cities Service Oil Co., No. 11 Bender, section 164, block 3, I&GN survey, gauged 243 barrels with the lime formation between 3,180 and 3,265 feet.

In Carson County
Danciger Oil & Refining Co., No. 6 Block, block 4, I & G L survey, gauged 283 barrels with lime pay from 3,060 to 3,105 feet.

In Hutchinson County
The Texas Co., No. 8 E. J. Moore, section 21, block M-21, TCRR survey, gauged 466 barrels. Lime pay was between 2,989 and 3,100 feet.

Southern Petroleum Co., No. 3 Hille, section 5, block M-21, TCRR survey, tested 392 barrels with pay between 3,016 and 3,039 feet in lime.

Gas wells tested:

Texoma Gas Co., No. 41G Burnett, section 31, block 5, I&GN survey, gauged 31,905,000 cubic feet.

McCULLOUGH-HARRAH SCHOOLS WILL BEGIN

Plans have been completed for Vacation Church schools to be held simultaneously at Harrah Chapel 713 B. Barnes street, and at McCullough Memorial, 910 W. Alcock street, beginning Monday morning, June 13, at 9 o'clock. Teachers and pupils alike are looking forward to the opening of the school, which is the first to be held by these churches.

The schools, which will be open to all children between the ages of four and 16, will consist of a devotional and class period, recreation period and work period. For the two-week period, beginning June 13 and running through June 24, the schools will begin the daily schedule at 9 o'clock and close at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. D. S. Buckner, director of the Harrah Chapel group, will be assisted by Mrs. J. E. Beard. Departments will be in charge of the following: Intermediate, Mrs. Henry English; juniors, Mrs. J. R. Combs; primary, Mrs. D. S. Buckner; and beginners, Mrs. J. M. Nichols.

Mrs. A. N. Rogers will be in charge of the McCullough Memorial school, assisted by Mrs. B. C. LaParade, who will have charge of the music. The following will have charge of the different departments: Intermediate, Mrs. Kit Autry; juniors, Mrs. V. N. Osborne; primary, Mrs. Thos. Clayton; and beginners, Mrs. A. N. Rogers.

6 MARRIAGE LICENSES GRANTED DURING WEEK

Six marriage licenses were issued from the office of the county clerk here during the past week. Yesterday, a marriage license was granted Winston Savage and Lucille Persons, and another license was issued to Jack Mullins and Lola Bradstreet.

Friday, a license was granted Loyd A. Taylor and Betty Jane Curtis. Marquis L. Smith and Hazel Burage were granted a license on Thursday.

O. J. Ersser and Johnnie Oleta Wilson were granted a marriage license Wednesday. On Tuesday, a license was issued to John B. Zuerker and Madge L. Tiemann.

Garner Struck a Pose for Her

Although Vice-President John N. Garner habitually shies from portrait painters, a plea from a decorative woman artist is something else again. So when Miss Azadia Newman, above, arrived in Los Angeles to exhibit her paintings at local galleries, she proudly brought along the picture she had painted of the vice president.

GAS COMPANY MAY BE GOAT IN CAMPAIGN

By HARRELL E. LEE

AUSTIN June 11 (AP)—This was "Lone Star Gas Company" week in the warming Texas political campaign.

The large public utilities concern, one of the better known of the "big corporations" frequently castigated by politicians, was set up as a target in three important state races.

Attorney General William McCraw, one of 14 candidates for Governor, seized upon the company's latest move in its controversy with state rate-regulation agencies as the theme for campaign talks in widely scattered sections.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, who aspires to the Governor's chair, likewise vigorously attacked the Lone Star's action. Other criticism of the gas company came from C. V. Terrell, State Railroad Commissioner seeking renomination, and Ralph Yarborough of Austin, campaigning for Attorney General.

The Lone Star made its last quarterly payment of the gas company regulation tax under protest. Campaigners claimed it hoped to avoid rate reductions by depriving gas regulatory bodies of the funds necessary for their operation. Taxes paid under protest must be refunded if the levy is held invalid.

Regulation of gas utilities bears a relation to both the Railroad Commission and Attorney General's races in addition to that for Governor. The next Attorney General probably will defend in the courts attempts to reduce the Lone Star's wholesale charges. The Railroad Commission exercises considerable authority over gas rates. W. Lee O'Daniel, Fort Worth flour merchant and highly respected "dark horse" in the gubernatorial derby, will open his stump speaking campaign at Waco Monday night. He will be accompanied there by his Hillbilly string orchestra, a favorite with thousands of radio listeners.

Less Johnson grass and politicians; more smokestacks and business men" is O'Daniel's slogan.

James A. Ferguson, 69-year-old Belton farmer and real estate man and possessor of the powerful Ferguson name, will take his black horse and favorite hounds with him to Corsicana for a formal opening there tomorrow. Friends said he would wage an active campaign.

Candidates Pay Fee

Two persons who had not been considered likely candidates for Governor qualified by paying the required $100 filing fee before the deadline last Monday midnight, while several others who had announced did not file. The two "surprise" entrants were Clarence R. Miller, Dallas textile manufacturer, and Thomas Self, 68-year-old Crockett grain dealer.

Self looks younger than 68, a fact he attributes at least partly to careful habits. He does not drink or smoke and eats very few sweets.

One of his proposals is that secondary state officials be appointed instead of elected.

When the state democratic executive committee assemblies here Monday to make up the statewide ballot, a large question before it will be whether to permit V. O. Thompson, Dallas garage operator, to run for Governor. Some persons contend the committee would be justified in barring Thompson, who is hardly known outside his home city, because his candidacy would

Survives Bullet Meant for FDR

Five years after she was shot in the head by a bullet intended for President Roosevelt, Miss Margaret Krus, pictured above with her pet dog, Fluffy, still suffers headaches but holds a position with the Bituminous Coal Commission in Washington, D. C. The shot which struck Miss Krus was fired by Joseph Zangara at Miami on Feb. 15, 1933. Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, who was with the President at the time, was killed.

LEE BANKS BACKS UP PRAISE WITH MONEY

When it comes to boosting, Lee R. Banks of Pampa probably wins the medal as the No. 1 booster for the Top O' Texas Fiesta.

Preceding the parade Friday morning, Mr. Banks met Joe Gordon, chairman of the old timers committee, in the 100 block on West Kingmill.

"You're putting on a great show," Mr. Banks complimented. "I know it takes money to put on these fiestas and I want to make a contribution," and he then proceeded to write a check for $5 and handed it to Mr. Gordon.

Twenty-one guns is the international salute. Previous to 1875, when the United States adopted the 21-gun salute, it used a national salute of one gun for each state in the Union.

They complimented Surgeon General Thomas Parran's efforts to combat this disease and the "many constructive measures" undertaken "as a reactionary by-product of this work," they stated, "there has developed through power of suggestion and perhaps over-emphasis, a definite state of apprehension, even to precipitation of nervousness in many people on the basis of the apparent frequency of syphilis."

"Newspapers, magazines and other sources of information have

ONLY ONE PER CENT OF U. S. POPULATION HAVE SYPHILIS CLAIM DOCTORS IN REPORT

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11—Rainbow-chasing ambitions which cause men to kill themselves at the moment of success were described to the American Psychiatric Association today.

They are secret, usually high-minded, and when worldly success fails to fulfill them, they act explosively, bringing depressed spirits, dementia or suicide. Five life histories which brought them to light were reported by Chester L. Carlisle, M. D., veterans administration, Palo Alto, Calif.

"The depressions," he said, "followed life when to the casual observer all should be roses. When suicide follows the newspaper story reads:

"No motive is known. His accounts were all in order. His family life seemed ideal. His relatives are quite unable to explain his act."

The five cases were attempted suicides, who recovered. Afterward in hospitals the psychiatrist found in their life histories the secret "dynamite." Three were executives. One failed to find satisfaction in his business success. Another wanted to be big enough for his job. The third wanted to keep down all ridicule.

Unworthy Of Wife

A salesman making $13,000 a year tried to end his life because he felt himself unworthy of his wife. Another salesman tried it because he felt he "had to be 100 per cent" in everything.

"Even with worldly success within grasp," said Dr. Carlisle, "primitive wishes may still remain unsatisfied due to deficiencies."

Paradoxically success produces depression, rather than elation, because certain wish-trends never were realized.

Nervous breakdowns he said are frequently in this class. Family and acquaintances usually place the blame on events in the immediate environment. But these, said Dr. Carlisle, are only a minor part in the cause.

The people of the United States were declared to be freer of syphilis than some of the generally accepted estimates in a report by Baldwin L. Keyes, M. D., and Kenneth M. Corrin, M. D., of Philadelphia.

spread far and wide the erroneous statement that 20 to 25 per cent of the American people are syphilitic.

"This state of alarm has permitted many cults to reap substantial gains through false diagnoses and fake cures. Unfortunately many of our medical groups have accepted these astonishing figures without question."

They cited statistics which themselves gathered from sample cities and institutions which gave an apparent correct syphilis estimate but which they said are nevertheless far too high because they come from places where syphilis congregates.

Other statistics which they considered giving a fairer count were taken from medical practice. "These they said showed there is not more than one per cent of the general population affected by the disease. It runs to a percent and a half, they found, among the mentally ill.
