

HUGE SCHOOL PARADE TO BE TONIGHT

Allred Believes Writ That Saved Vaughn Is Void

CONVICT FOILS TEXAS CHAIR SECOND TIME

HUNTSVILLE, April 29 (AP)—The 24-hour lease on life granted John W. Vaughn, condemned killer who twice within eight days has escaped execution was nearly half gone today while his attorneys planned further legal steps to stop his execution.

At San Antonio, Attorney William Hagan said if injunction papers issued by District Judge Poyam Kirby at Groesbeck yesterday did not reach San Antonio, he would file duplicate papers with District Judge W. W. McCrory. Kirby's injunction, restraining prison officials from executing Vaughn until a writ hearing is held, was returnable at San Antonio.

Judge Kirby at Groesbeck said so far as he knew, no effort had been made today to send the papers to Judge McCrory at San Antonio. He said he believed the papers were in the district clerk's office at Groesbeck.

Execution Indefinite. Governor James V. Allred last night granted Vaughn a 24-hour reprieve shortly before he was to make his second trip to the death chamber and after the Groesbeck injunction was issued. Judge Kirby today reiterated an opinion that the court order was void, but said he had not decided whether Vaughn would be executed just after midnight tonight as scheduled.

Vaughn, convicted of killing A. A. "Bill" Edwards, San Antonio policeman, first escaped the chair over a week ago when the generator failed. Last night's stay of execution was recommended by the Board of Pardons and Paroles, which told the governor it was inclined to believe the injunction was "absolutely void" because Judge Kirby had no jurisdiction in the case. Commenting on that today, Judge Kirby said: "You know it is hard to get lawyers to agree."

Although Vaughn was reprieved, Johnny Banks, negro killer who also won a week's delay in the chair, said his generator failed to function on schedule. Humming a spiritual, he was strapped in the chair shortly after midnight and was pronounced dead a few minutes later. Seven minutes before midnight when he was to start the short walk to the chair, Vaughn—his head shaved a second time—was given the news of his reprieve by Prison Manager O. J. S. Ellingson.

"Thank God," he murmured. A few moments after Banks had gone to the chair, Vaughn said "I hope the people of our beloved state can believe now in a man who is honest and believes in God. Anytime they execute me they will be executing me."

100-Year-Old Man to Ride In Huge Parade Before Party Tonight

TROOP SEEKS SCOUT ROOM

A building to serve as a meeting place for Boy Scouts of troop 16 sponsored by the Lions club and troop 20, sponsored by the Rotary club, is contemplated by the joint scouting committee of both clubs.

Mr. Wagner and Lee Bowden were guests of the Lions club at their regular meeting at noon yesterday and later conferred with members of the Lions club scouting committee, composed of Ewing Lerch, chairman, Dr. H. L. Wilber, Howard Neath and Arthur Teed.

In addition to being a meeting place for the two scout troops, use of the building as a recreational center for south Pampa youths is planned. The building would be located in the south side of town and would have a gymnasium and other recreational equipment.

Aron Meek was in charge of the Lions club program yesterday. Clowns of both the B. M. Baker school, of which Mr. Meek is principal, and of the Horace Mann school, sang. The cast of Horace Mann school's safety play, "Snow White, the Cautious One," enacted their play, which had been presented in the third school safety play contest held Monday night at the Pampa high school.

SAGINAW, Mich., April 29 (AP)—Five persons were killed and three injured severely in an ahead-on collision of automobiles today on the Dixie highway eight miles south of Saginaw.

The dead: Theodore Napieralski, Bay City; George Raveloch, Flint; J. B. Hammond, Flint. An unidentified man and woman Napieralski's body was jammed behind the steering wheel of one car. All the others had been thrown clear of the wreckage.

That the boys down at the fire station would like to get up a soft-ball team but because of their profession they would be unable to make trips. Then some smart guy had an idea. "Why not rope off the street in front of the fire station and lay out a diamond with the home plate in front of the station and the outfield on the city hall lawn."

10 Day Sale on Federal Tires. No money down—Motor Inn.

War Admiral? Ha! Ha!

If you watch tonight's parade of six high school bands and cheer clubs at 7 o'clock you will see J. T. Lovelace, McLean, centurion, who will ride in the parade right behind Winston Savage's high-stepping Harvester green and gold band.

Mr. Lovelace will ride in a decorated open car and you will be able to see him if it isn't raining, and if it rains there probably won't be any parade anyway. Don't look now Mr. Savage, just on the q. t. that's one reason they're having the parade.

Mr. Lovelace will go directly from the parade to the Pampa athletic arena, four blocks east and one south of the post office, where he will be special guest of honor at a mammoth birthday party for all Pampans born in April. This function will begin at 7:30 o'clock with silver-tongued Walter Rogers, popular speaker and city attorney in charge.

Mr. Rogers who has a reputation for quick wit and gentle words when necessary will be master of ceremonies. The one thing that is worrying the Roving Reporter is the fear that he won't have enough ice cream, but he will have enough to serve 800. He hopes no "trickers" will run in on him. He hopes that he'll have enough ice cream, but if he don't please don't blame him—he's spent all the money he has for that ice cream and 100-pound cake, and 300 roses for the first 300 women and decorations. So don't go blaming the Ice cream in seven different colors will be served tonight at the ice cream supper to be given at the red brick school building, starting at 7 o'clock. Both ice cream and cake will be sold at 5 cents each. Money received from the sale will be used to defray the cost of the annual banquet of the Harvesters next autumn. The event is sponsored by the Harvesters Mothers club of which Mrs. W. J. Brown is president. Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Roy Jones, Mrs. Roy Showers and other club members will be in charge of the affair.

Fleet-foot Seabiscuit, arriving in New York for his $100,000 Memorial Day match with War Admiral, said "Neigh, neigh" to a request for a pre-race statement, but the mere idea of losing to the Admiral elicited the hearty horse laugh pictured above.

100-Year-Old M'Lean Man Fought Through Civil War

McLEAN, April 29—"I'll be there if I have to walk," said Dad Lovelace, 100 years of age, last March 24, in commenting on the huge birthday party to be held by the Pampa Daily News tonight. Mr. Lovelace spoke from his bed where he was "resting" after indulging in too much cake Tuesday evening, perhaps in preparation for his feast on cake tonight. Now he thinks he may cut the cake—but not eat it at the birthday party.

J. T. Lovelace was born March 24, 1838 in Monroe county, east Tennessee. From here he joined the infantry of the Confederate Army and was later transferred to the Cavalry. He was a private in company D, under the direction of Col. Bob Byrd and Gen. Shelby. Two skirmishes he remembers vividly were at Athens, Tenn. and Greenville, N. C.

"I was never scratched," said the old man, reminiscing, "but a bullet marked my hat band once." After the war Mr. Lovelace moved to Hot Springs, Ark. where he was married in the 80s to Miss Katie White with whom he lived for 40 years until her death. Eleven children were born to the couple, six of whom are still living: Bill Lovelace, Hammond, Okla.; Fred Lovelace, Hedley, Ed Lovelace, California; Mrs. Edna Smith, Hammond, Okla.; Mrs. Maudie Johnson, Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. Beulah Whittington, Shamrock.

Mr. Lovelace reared two grandchildren. They are Grant Pierce, Monticane, Miss. Dorothy Haddock, Shinnock. He has 24 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren. "The happiest moment of my life was when I was converted at a camp meeting in east Tennessee. The saddest moment?—There's been the many to pick out a definite one. But some how I've managed to live over 100 years. The first hundred years was the hardest," they say. Mr. Lovelace is a member of the Nazarene church and gets most happiness out of church services. For recreation he walks to town twice a week from the J. R. Lanford home on the Pampa-McLean Highway and plays dominos with the "boys."

Wheat Insurance Plan Meeting Will Be Held At Amarillo Monday

THIRD PARTY ORGANIZED BY LA FOLLETTE

MADISON, Wis., April 29 (AP)—A new party pledged to the goals of ensuring freedom and security for the people stood forth today upon the national political scene. The National Progressive Party of America, dedicated to those ideals, was formed in the nation last night by Phillip F. LaFollette, governor of Wisconsin, who widened beyond repair a breach with President Roosevelt, junked political theories of other parties and set a new course in this direction.

"Definitely and irrevocably we are in the lists to stay until the American people recapture their heritage. This heritage was defined as the right of every American to earn his living by the sweat of his brow; security founded on a definite, decent annual income for all; and freedom of conscience and control. To attain these ends, LaFollette declared for public and not private control and ownership of money and credit, without qualification or reservation, a staunch defense of the "basic concepts of American government and, in particular, that grants of power should always be safeguarded against abuse."

Flatly the governor opposed "every form of co'iding, or spoon-feeding the American people," declaring that "whatever it may cost—so help us God—we shall use the power of these United States to restore to every American the opportunity to help himself." After that said LaFollette, "he can sink or swim."

This was born the second political party to be conceived and nurtured in Wisconsin. In 1854 the Republican party was born.

A new board of directors was elected by the Pampa Rotary club at its regular meeting Wednesday. From the new board a president will be chosen. Other officers will be elected from the club membership at large. The election will occur probably within the next two weeks.

Members of the board of directors serve one-year terms, going into office July 1. The new board is composed of Dr. R. M. Bellamy, and R. G. Hughes, new members, and Travis Lively, DeLoe Vickers, Claude Motley, Charlie Burton, Parris Oden, re-elected directors. Retiring directors are C. P. Buckler and Dan Grignon.

Merchants Donate Fine Prizes For Birthday Party. "Diamond" Sam Fenbure of the Diamond shoppe will give a silver set—knives, spoons, forks, etc.—to the woman born in April who has the most children at the party at the athletic arena tonight.

Machinery Moved To McClellan Dam Site. Moving in of machinery on the McClellan lake dam project is under way and actual construction is scheduled to start within a couple of weeks according to Postmaster C. H. Walker, chairman of the Gray County Lake committee, who visited the site yesterday afternoon. Two large steam shovels, several large trucks and other equipment are now on the spot, some of it reaching the site yesterday. Construction of the conduit to carry off natural water during construction of the dam and clearing away of trees, etc., is now under way. First work on the project will probably be construction of a spillway, Mr. Walker said.

700 CHILDREN IN UNIFORM WILL MARCH

All the high-stepping pomp, brilliant color and martial music of Pampa high school's spectacular musical organizations will be on display here tonight at 7 o'clock when the biggest parade of musicians in Pampa history will take place. Route of the parade will be south on Cuyler to Atchison, from Atchison to Russell, Russell to Foster to Ballard, Ballard to Kingsmill to Russell, and from Russell to Francis.

The once-a-year pageants of the high school's green and gold, Junior High's vivid blue and white, Woodrow Wilson's red and white, Horace Mann's purple and gold, Sam Houston's blue and gold, and B. M. Baker's silver and black, will form a pattern of glittering uniforms which will pulsate with rousing joyousness as the children march with singing hearts down the streets. Pampans will get a vivid and impressive view of the part music has in the Pampa school system. They will see 750 uniformed students—400 in the bands and 300 in the six glee clubs and a Capella choir. Those who have suspected that football is everything should see this exhibition. It will dwarf any athletic show ever put on here, as far as the participants are concerned.

Pampa high school, famous all over the state for its bands, and singing groups, is sponsoring the parade. It is the school's own show, and it probably will be the best of all time, because right now the singing groups of Pampa high school are better than larger, better-informed and more enthusiastic than ever before. After the parade the A. Capella choir and the glee clubs from the high school, junior high and six ward schools will give a concert in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock. The public is invited. The parade will have another attraction. As a gesture of respect and There'll be many Pampans among the crowds who will attend the old-fashioned dance to be given tonight at the A. J. Montgomery building in Miami. Many Pampans are included in the list of hosts and hostesses for the evening. Music of the dance will be played by Homer Ratliff and his orchestra. No modern dances will be featured. Funds received will benefit the Parent-Teacher association lunch room of the Miami school.

Temperatures In Pampa. City Manager C. L. Stine turned engineer this morning and began surveying 12 blocks of streets in north Pampa for paving, scheduled to begin Monday. The 12 blocks, on West Somerville, Gray Cook and Georgia streets will be 6-inch caliche base with 1 1/2-inch asphalt top. The work will be done as a WP. Approved at a total cost exceeding $29,000. Citizens residing on other unpaved streets desiring paving have been asked by the city commission to get together and file application for a project.

I SAW. Believe it or not, a full dress suit in the display window of a local store this morning. Getting classy, eh? Billy Hunter ordered it. Speaking of Billy, Bill Kelley is the new manager of the Harvester football team, replacing Nevin Johnston. Speaking of football, if you didn't see that football game yesterday, you missed something. The Aulds-to-Andis passing act was a terrific natural. "Dunkin' Doyle" and "Big Hands Bob" how's that? This corner has seen only one person whose birthday is on April 29.

Albanian King Weds Half-American

As all Albania put aside factional feuds to celebrate the occasion, King Zog, the Moslem ruler, was married to 21-year-old, Roman-Catholic Countess Geraldine Apponyi, daughter of Hungarian Count Anton Apponyi and the former Gladys Virginia Stewart of New York, in a simple civil ceremony at the Royal Palace in Tirana. The radiophoto above shows, at left, the best man, Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister; King Zog, garbed in a general's uniform; and, at right, the new Queen, in a white satin lace gown embroidered with precious stones.

JAPS RAID HANKOW ON EMPEROR'S BIRTHDAY

HANKOW, April 29 (AP)—Forty Japanese planes raided the Hankow area today, Japanese Emperor Hirohito's 37th birthday, but more than a score of Chinese planes counter-attacked and tonight Chinese headquarters announced its great aerial victory. The headquarters said the defending airmen brought down 20 Japanese planes, including eight bombers, during the spectacular afternoon battle.

Air headquarters reported finding the wreckage of 13 Japanese planes and admitted loss of three of their own craft, in addition to one which made a forced landing and four missing planes. (The Japanese also claimed victory. A navy communique, issued at Shanghai, said there were 50 planes in the raiding fleet and that these shot down 51 of 80 counterattacking planes. The communique added that only two of the Japanese craft failed to return to their base.

PAMPA SELECTED AS CONVENTION CITY FOR FEDERATION

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND SEVENTH DISTRICT MEET

Pampa was named the next convention city for the seventh district of Texas Federation of Women's clubs in the closing business session of the two-day convention which closed at Childress Thursday evening.

Officers Elected
Mrs. J. W. Rutherford of Childress was named president. Other officers chosen were Mrs. Harry Willis of Burger, vice president; Mrs. Homer Buhmley of Hereford, second vice president; and Mrs. William V. Baker of Childress, secretary. They will begin their duties in November.

Texas is heading into the greatest industrial development that the state has ever known, Ernest O. Thompson, state railroad commissioner, declared in a non-political address this afternoon. His subject was "Where Are We Heading?" Hundreds of millions of dollars worth of new industries will come to Texas to use its products and to employ its people in the future.

NEWS OF SOCIETY

PAGE TWO FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 29, 1938.

Thompson said "Why," he said, "should we ship our cotton, cattle and other products to far off places to be made into manufactured articles and returned to Texas to be sold?"

Encouragement Urged
The speaker urged the women to encourage new industrial development in Texas. "We cannot have prosperity in America again until we have stability for industry and security for labor," he urged that all citizens take an interest in their government and take a part in making it more efficient and less costly.

Mr. Thompson stressed the need of improving the educational system and lauded the encouragement the club women have given toward bringing parks, libraries and fine arts to more people.

The women passed a resolution endorsing the people's library movement to help secure more adequate library service for the state. The district organization also went on record as authorizing the movement to have the state highway department maintain and beautify highways running through towns of less than ten thousand and more than three thousand population. A resolution to insist the legislature provide funds for the care of dependent and destitute children was also passed.

Chorus Get Prizes
The junior chorus from Childress and the senior chorus from Clarendon received prizes in the choral contests.

An impressive memorial service honoring members who have passed away during the past year was given during this afternoon's meeting.

Approximately 500 delegates and visitors attended the business session and address by Mr. Thompson in the afternoon.

Mrs. Richard J. Turentine of Denton, state president, brought greetings from the state federation. Pampans Attend

Among the Pampa women who represented the local clubs at the convention were Mrs. J. P. Wetmore and Garnet Reeves. Twentieth Century Culture club; L. C. Neely, Dave Pope, and Claude Ledrick, El Progresso club; Sherman White, Child Study club; Ivy Duncan, Twentieth Century club; and H. H. Isbell, Civic Culture club.

The seven deadly sins in medieval Christian ethics were anger, uncharity, pride, vainglory, gullibility, envy and avarice.

Hike Will Be Week-End Event for Girl Scout Troop One

The regular Thursday afternoon meeting of troop one of the Girl Scouts was opened by giving the pledge to the flag preceding the minutes which were read.

The roll call was answered by 25 Girl Scouts and four adult leaders, Mrs. Ralph Thomas, A. A. Day, C. C. Matheny, and R. K. Douglas.

This troop will go on a hike Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

During the remainder of the meeting, the girls studied on badges, finished their wood studies, and cleaned up their portion of the little house.

Joyce Adams Given Party on Birthday

SKELLYTOWN, April 29.—Mrs. Bill Adams honored her daughter, Billie Joyce, on her fifth birthday with a lovely party given recently at her home in the Skelly camp.

Various games were played and the guests were seated around a table from which vari-colored balloons hung from ribbon streamers. The table was centered with the birthday cake on which burned five candles.

At the close of the party the honoree opened the many lovely gifts she received and passed them for inspection.

Cake and ice cream were served to the following: the honoree, Mary Kathryn Edwards, Marillis Crawford, June Shipley, Peggy Covey, Jerry Sloan, Kathryn May Johnson, Lonia Mae Hughes, Barbara Jean Hughes, Jerry Lee, Lynn Johnson, Dickie Shipley, Phillips Edwards, and X. L. Fulton.

B-PW Club Dinner And Program Given For Bosses-Friends

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club entertained their bosses and friends with a covered dish dinner and interesting program at the club rooms this week with Mildred Overall, president, presiding at the dinner and Christine Cecil giving the club collect.

After the dinner was served an interesting panel discussion on various civic problems was given by the guests. Johnnie Griffin presented a brief resume of the programs which have been presented by the club members during the year with the theme of these programs on "Our Town's Business" and a study with the various industries, recreational programs, educational facilities, family budgets and other subjects from a local standpoint. Miss Griffin introduced the speakers taking part in the discussion.

Ernest W. Cabe, who discussed the advantages of a study with the system and of the teachers and outlined the vocational training given by the school. The local school co-operates with the government in securing part time work for pupils wishing to complete their school work. Mr. Cabe also said that commercial training has an important place in the school work and he stressed the importance of the community co-operating with the teachers in working with the pupils. Mr. Cabe's talk gave those present an insight on the duties of the teachers and the responsibilities of the parents.

Judge Sherman White told of the work which Gray county has done in regard to the health of the underprivileged. He also told of the work that Dr. R. A. Wayne, county health officer, has been doing in connection with the American Legion in making tests for social diseases. Salvation Army Plans Recreation

Captain Herman Lembrecht spoke on the recreational program which the Salvation Army hopes to carry out in Pampa. He secured a site in south Pampa and hope to have a recreational center for the youth of that section, which will be supervised by his organization. He pointed out the fact that a number of children did not have homes which were inviting, consequently, they find their amusement in places where they form bad associations. The Salvation Army, which plans to have a gymnasium and has organized recreational programs, has asked for the co-operation of the community in this work.

Mrs. J. W. Garman, president of the council of clubs, told of the recreational work that has been carried on in Pampa in the past through the co-operation of the city of Pampa, Board of City Development, and the schools. She also said she had a definite recreational plan would be worked out before next year.

Mrs. L. J. McCarty, girl scout leader, spoke on the work being done with the Girl Scouts and emphasized the crying need for Scout leaders. She said there were 136 girl scouts in Pampa and they could have a membership of 500 if they could secure the leaders to direct them. The Girl Scouts in Pampa are sponsored by the Kiwanis club which has furnished them their club house.

Katherine Barrett, a high school student was asked what the students would like in the way of recreation.

Pianist

Mrs. Roy W. Reeder, who is pianist for the Trebble Ciel club, will play the accompaniment for the singers on the program to be presented Tuesday evening as the club's contribution to the observance of National Music week.

creation. She brought out the fact that since the school dances have been discontinued, the students have only the picture shows for amusement. She said the students have musical activities during the school months, but during the summer no effort is made to furnish them recreation. She felt Pampa needed to furnish amusement for the young people of the town.

Gene Finkbeiner, another high school student, thought the students had plenty of recreation during the school months. Miss Griffin brought out the fact that Gene had unusual ability in a musical way, hence, he would have more activities than these not so musical.

Mack Graham spoke of the Boy Scout activities in Pampa, saying it was vital as nature does not provide many advantages in this country. He spoke of the lack of trees to climb and the absence of the old swimming hole. Mr. Graham told of the excellent work being done in Amarillo through the Maverick club. He felt that the Boy Scout work was essential in Pampa and that Pampa should provide recreation for the youth of the town.

Archer Fullingim wished everyone a happy birthday in lieu of a speech. The supper and program were arranged by the social committee, with Vera Lard as chairman, assisted by Gladys Robinson, Audrey Fowler, Maurine Jones, Christine Cecil, Myrtle Simmons, and Ruba McConnell.

Guests of the club were: Mesdames Dave Finkelstein, W. C. Mitchell, J. W. Garman, L. J. McCarty, J. M. Hatfield, Lillian McNutt; Messrs. H. B. Thompson, Walter Daugherty, A. L. Patrick, Travis Lively, E. J. Lewis, L. L. Sene, D. F. Osborne, Ralph Dunbar, Tom Aldridge, John V. Osborne, Glen Pool, L. C. McConnell, Bob Robinson, Bob Cecil, Geo. Walstad, Jr., Ernest Greer, Sherman White, Frank Lard, Mack Graham, Archer Fullingim, Gene Finkbeiner and Scottie Garrison.

Skelly Library To Open Saturday

SKELLYTOWN, April 29.—A formal opening of the Skellytown branch library of Carson county will be held tomorrow with a tea at the community church, from 1 until 5 o'clock, stated Mrs. Earl J. New, member of the county library board who is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Letha Gremer of Panhandle is the county librarian, with J. H. Barnes of Skellytown as assistant here.

The Skellytown library will be in the Community church building and will be open on week days from 2 until 6 p. m. Two hundred books will be sent here.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend the tea and to bring an old magazine or book for the library.

Cheerful Challis
Flowered challis will bring spring and gawdy right into your bedroom. A quilted bed jacket with bright flowers running all over the white background could not help but cheer up the invalid. For your dresser drawers, try little carnation sachet hearts, scented set cases for stockings and handkerchiefs, all in the same gay challis.

Clara Hill Class Members Feted at Picnic Yesterday

Mmes. Fred Radcliff, A. B. Ottinger, W. V. McArthur, and Chester Nicholson were hostesses to the members and their families of the Clara Hill class of the First Methodist church Thursday evening at a wieners roast in Hoover Canyon.

Upon arriving, everyone played soft ball and other out-door games preceding the roasting of wieners, which were served with buns, pickles, cookies, marshmallows, and coffee.

After eating, the group sat around the camp fire singing songs and telling stories.

Those attending were Messrs. and Mrs. H. P. Snyder and family, Tom Lasher and family, Glen Radcliff and family, Clifford Sheilbarger and family, Bessie Sims and family, A. B. Ottinger and family, Fred Radcliff; Mmes. C. R. Rice, H. M. Proper, Roy Kilgore, and Miss Barbara Kilgore.

The average male elephant weighs five tons or more.

PREJEANMEN COMPLETE 20 OF 25 PASSES IN LAST HALF FOR 6-6 TIE

AUDS TOSSES 16 TIMES INTO ANDIS' HANDS

An aerial circus that had the customers tearing up their seats and pounding each other's backs in their intense excitement waxed as hot as any thrilling football battle ever seen at Harvester field yesterday afternoon as the Prejeanmen and Mitchellmen fought to a 6 to 6 draw.

The result was an upset that favored the Prejeanmen. "Slingshot" Sammy' Baugh's ghost seemed to be running rampant in the backfield of the Prejean team as "Dunkin' Doyle" Auds put on exhibition one of the most glittering passing demonstrations ever seen here.

Bobby "Big Hand's" Andis caught the passes and the Mitchellmen couldn't stop him. Auds tossed the pigskin right down Bobby's throat, and his huge bony hands snatched 16 passes in the last half. But that ain't all. The Prejeanmen completed the amazing total of 20 out of 25 passes. Those present are still trying to get their breath.

Graham was Difference. The game started out like all intra-squad games. It showed signs early of being one of those spring training games you are supposed to watch, but which you know you are not going to get much kick out of. Furthermore, it looked like a walk-away for the Mitchellmen.

Captain J. W. Graham began to tear off long runs, using that stiff arm and side-stepping. He slashed through center, off guard and off second unobtainable. Every now and then he let Grover Lee Heiskell and Bobby Karr carry the ball, and they burned up the ground, shook off tacklers. Once Grover Lee side-stepped, cut back and slipped through nine Prejeanmen as he returned a punt about 30 yards. The Mitchellmen monopolized the public eye in the first half of the game. Frankly, it looked like a slaughter.

The Mitchellmen threatened once or twice in the first quarter which was scoreless. The Prejeanmen didn't get near the goal, although they had the ball about as much as their opponents. In the second quarter the sad thing about the game took place. Karr injured.

Bobby Karr injured his knee; it was dislocated. He had to be carried off the field, and later was taken to a doctor's office. He was on crutches this morning when he left for Dallas to take treatment from a bone specialist. Norman Conover will take treatment from the same specialist. Bobby's injury appeared similar to Norman's. The only consolation for that injury was the Auds-to-Andis passing act.

Walter Word replaced Bobby and he began to slice the white-clad Prejeanmen for gains. Then the Mitchellmen by dent of long end runs by J. W. Graham, the ball to the two-way line. On the fourth down they took it over for a touchdown. The pass was bad from center in the attempt to make the extra point, and J. W. was tackled with the pigskin on the 20-yard line.

Auds Calls Signals. In the second quarter, Assistant Coach Prejean switched Auds from halfback to fullback and Pete Dunaway who played a fiery, beautiful game, to halfback. Prejean had given them the word to start calling passes.

The second half was the Prejeanmen's party. The Mitchellmen scarcely smelled the ball. Then the passes started flying. The Prejeanmen got on the Mitchellmen's one-yard line and were held for downs, but Auds kept pitching the passes right in Andis' Kyle's and Dunaway's teeth. The Prejeanmen piled up an advantage in first downs, yardage and penalties. Not once during the second half did the Mitchellmen threaten the Prejeanmen's goal.

Passes For Touchdown. A minute before the game ended Doyle Auds stood on the 30-yard line and poised to pass. He took his time. He was heedless of the tacklers rushing him. Finally Bobby Andis got behind the goal line and Doyle threw the ball—a 30-yard pass. The Mitchellmen smothered the big-handed Bobby but that laid caught it.

The pass-crazy Prejeanmen then tried to pass to the extra point, but somebody grabbed Andis' hand and he didn't catch it; he would have otherwise because it went right down his throat.

Dunaway, Andis, Kemp and Auds were the firebugs of the Prejean team, and J. W. Graham looked like a million dollars as he led the Mitchellmen.

Parish Stands Out. In the Mitchell line, Welby Parish, Rumble, guards, Ripple and Montgomery shone, with the emphasis on Parish who seemed to be always snaking through to get somebody. Those boys Ripple and Montgomery are going to make some kittermen hustle more than they ever have hustled. It wouldn't be surprising to see them beating those certain boys out of certain positions.

Kemp Stars. In the Prejean team's line, Bill Stone continued to play the sizzling, paralyzing brand of football he has played all spring. Giddens and Bailey were the other boys that shone like a new silver dollar.

Now a word about Albert Kemp: He played in the Prejean backfield

Seconds Take Hand in Wrestling

Here are a couple of seconds who take their rassing seriously. When Bronko Nagurski, extreme left, lost his second fall to Vincent Lopez in Los Angeles, Lee Henning, his second, right, climbed into the ring to give him aid. All of which peeved Billy Grubb, Lopez' handler, very greatly, for some reason or other, and into the ring he popped also, and attempted to tackle Henning. (Henning, shown on his feet, received the fans' unofficial decision in the melee that followed.)

Young Grover Austin Shoots 62 For Record

Grover Austin Jr. yesterday afternoon set a new 18-hole record for the Pampa Country club course when he carded a 62 for the 18 holes. In his record-breaking performance, young Austin bagged four birdies in the first nine holes and five on the second nine, of the 71 par course.

The 62 broke young Austin's previous course record of 63 set on August 11, 1937. Playing with him yesterday afternoon were Floyd Ward, Jet Brumley, Jimmy Richeson and C. F. Conover.

The game was one of the first few played by Austin this season. He was getting long drives, accurate approaches and his putts were hitting the cup. The course is in the best spring condition in recent years following spring rains and constant attention of Del Love, club professional.

Austin's card read:
Out 442 443 344—32
In 343 334 433—30—62

PHILADELPHIA, April 29 (AP)—Bigger, better and maybe faster than ever, the forty-fourth renewal of that great intercollegiate relay carnival, the Penn Relays, opened today at Franklin field.

Headed by the invitation 120-yard high hurdles, 29 events were scheduled to be run off this afternoon, with the remainder of the special events and relays set for Saturday afternoon. Attendance was expected to surpass the 30,000 of last year.

Ten Day, of Yale, and John Donavan, of Dartmouth, head the field in the hurdle event, won last year by Forrest Towns, of Georgia in 14 6/10 seconds.

With Olympic Coach Lawson Robertson, of Penn, predicting the track stars about a second faster than at this time last year, interest centered on what North Texas State Teachers would do.

The North Texas Teachers, led by the Brown and Rideout twins, hope to repeat their feat of last year in winning the 440-yard relay and the class B mile. The Brown twins, Elmer and Delmer, and the Rideouts, Wayne and Blaine, have been working out since their arrival here early in the week and are in good shape.

LEFORS ORANGE MEN DEFEAT WHITE TEAM IN 18 - 6 BATTLE

LEFORS, April 29—Coaches Francis Smith and John Rankin looked on the smoothest bunch of LeFors First football prospects in recent years yesterday afternoon when the Orange eleven captained by Caruth defeated a smoother-working White team led by Fite 18 to 6.

The two teams will clash again Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at Shaw field. The teams are battling in a series which will end when one has won two games. Then the losers will give the winners a picnic.

Ellington opened the scoring for the Whites when he smashed off tackle and raced to the 8-yard line from where he went over.

Taylor evened the count for the Orange eleven when he bucked the ball over. Caruth went 30 yards to put the Orange boys in front, and Johnson finished the scoring when he intercepted a pass and raced 50 yards.

Both teams tackled fiercely. Blocking was good for this early in the season and plays worked out smoothly. Most of the time, especially for the White eleven, changed to Jackson, a backfield man expected to tackle, played an outstanding game in the line and make take the assignment away from a regular, W. L. Ferguson, a newcomer to the backfield, showed great promise.

Penn Relays Open With Texas Twins Holding Spotlight

PHILADELPHIA, April 29 (AP)—Bigger, better and maybe faster than ever, the forty-fourth renewal of that great intercollegiate relay carnival, the Penn Relays, opened today at Franklin field.

COUNTRY CLUB WILL SPONSOR OPEN TOURNEY

The Pampa Country club will sponsor a Panhandle Open tournament as one of its principal activities this year it was decided at a meeting of the tournament committee composed of Charlie Thaut, chairman, Joe Gordon and Dan McGrew, Wednesday night.

Plans were laid for one of the most active years in the club's history. Besides the Panhandle Open, there will be city, inter-city, handicapped, chicken and bean, and other tournaments.

The course is in excellent condition for this time of the year and Del Love, club professional, is still working on it from dawn to dark.

First activity of the season will begin Sunday when qualifying for the inter-city team will begin. The low 50 will be named to represent Pampa Country club in inter-city matches. Plans are to meet clubs from Amarillo, Borger, Shamrock, McLean and other Panhandle cities. Players are urged to file their scores with Mr. Love at the clubhouse.

All boys desiring to act as caddies during the summer months are urged to report to Mr. Love at the Country club tomorrow morning. Qualifications will be 13 years of age or older and weighing more than 85 pounds.

First inter-city match will be with Shamrock on May 15 or 22, on the local course.

A chicken and bean tournament will be held on May 8. Two captains will be selected and they will dine sumptuously on beans while the winners will tug at chicken and all the trimmings.

Qualifying for the city championship tournament will begin on June 5. Tournament play will start June 12. Second round of play will be between 13 and 18 with semi-final play on June 19. Finals will be the week of June 20.

Prizes will be given winner and runner up in each flight and winner of consolation play in each flight.

Entry fee will be $2 and players will receive a minimum of $2.50 in green fees alone.

More golf interest has been aroused this year than in several seasons.

Two-Horse Race In Kentucky's Derby Foreseen

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—The Kentucky Derby will be a two-horse race between Staghound and Fighting Fox in the opinion of a jury of 12 prominent trainers who were asked today to forecast a verdict on the three-year-old classic at Churchill Downs May 7.

Staghound and Fighting Fox, first and second choices, respectively, in the future books, received five votes each. The other two were cast for Eull Lea, hope of Warren Wright's Calumet farm.

Earl Sande, trainer of Staghound, naturally supported his own horse and was joined by George Odom, Moses Goldblatt, J. P. (Doc) Jones and Roscoe Gozette.

LEFTY GROVE WHIPS YANKS IN 6-1 ROUT

By GAYLE TALBOT Associated Press Sports Writer Robert Moses Grove is getting gray around the temple and he no longer can rear back and fog his fast ball past the batters for inning after inning, but the tall southpaw at 33 still is one of baseball's master craftsmen.

It's a treat to watch him work now, particularly if you happen to have been away from the big league ball yards for five years. The last time you saw him he was with the Athletics, blinding the batters with his speed. Now he is with the Boston Red Sox, his phenomenal smoke ball all but a thing of the past, yet he is in some ways a greater figure on the mound.

Watching him throttle the Yankees yesterday, 6 to 1, with five hits, it occurred that he had been forced to learn to pitch all over again. Only a half-dozen times did he cut loose with the remnant of his fast one. The rest of the time Lefty was baffling the Yanks with a sweeping curve, immaculate control and a change of pace he would have spurned in the days when he was blowing men down.

He held Lou Gehrig hitless in three official times at bat, running the highest-salaried player's total to three hits in 34 batters at the plate. Lefty perhaps for the first time in his life is getting a chorus of Bronx cheers (the authentic variety) every time he shows at the rubber.

Four Innings Count While the veteran Grove was doing all this to the Yanks and knocking them out of the first division, his teammates piled into Lefty Gomez for all their runs in the first four innings.

Hank Leiber, the season's outstanding comeback, propelled the Giants into undisputed possession of the National league lead with a first inning home run at Boston that scored two ahead of him. The Giants won by 4 to 2. Hal Schumacher, who barely missed a no-hitter his last time out, limited the Bees to five hits.

Ducky Medwick returned to the St. Louis Cardinals' lineup, after having lost a stinging vocal blast at his former teammate, Dizzy Dean, and drove across two runs with a triple to help give the Pittsburgh Pirates their second setback, 5 to 3.

That dropped the Pirates into second notch, and the Chicago Cubs took over third place by blasting the Cincinnati Reds, 12 to 5, as Eill Lee held the Reds helpless until the ninth.

Although outbit, Brooklyn was able to bunch its blows and shove the Phillies a little deeper into the cellar, 6 to 3.

Buddy Lewis drove in six runs with a homer and two singles as the Washington Nationals won their fourth straight from the Athletics, 7 to 2.

Home runs by Ken Keltner, Lyn Lary and Geoffrey Heath helped Cleveland beat the St. Louis Browns, 11 to 6, in a free-hitting game.

Detroit was leading the Chicago White Sox, 2 to 0, when rain caused their game to be postponed in the fourth.

Hitting was well divided among players on both teams.

Despite the fact that she has been in retirement for the last year, lovely Edith Mottridge, former Pacific Coast backstroke queen, will be one of the favorites in the National A. A. U. women's events at Los Angeles, April 28. The shapely miss seen entering the pool above will compete for the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

King Oil Downs Skelly 8 to 7

King Oil company yesterday evening downed Skelly Oil 8 to 7 in a well-played softball game considering the earliness of the season. It was the same score over which King defeated Danciger Tuesday night.

Manager E. M. Dean of King used Grover Lee Heiskell, Jameson and Sharp on the mound with Sheridan and Mangell receiving. Mayo went the distance for Skelly and although a little wild, pitched good ball.

Hitting was well divided among players on both teams.

JOE JACOBS PREDICTS SCHMELING VICTORY

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—Joe Jacobs returned from Germany today and predicted Max Schmeling would knock out Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis in the Yankee stadium June 22.

Jacobs, Schmeling's American representative, saw the German stop Steve Dudas in five rounds at Hamburg April 16 and declared he "never looked better in his life."

Jacobs said he had wanted to attend services at a synagogue in Berlin during the passover holidays and was surprised to find there were several from which to choose. He attended one, he said, and found many other Jews worshipping there.

CAR DRIVING HABITS WILL BE REPORTED

As one of their regular homework assignments, high school students in Gray County are being asked to take a part in a statewide highway planning survey now being made by the Texas State Highway Department, according to N. K. Woerner, a district supervisor for the Highway Planning Survey, who was in Pampa this week.

Mr. Woerner states that each student will be instructed how to interview his parents about the driving of the family car in order that reliable information can be obtained concerning the types of trips made and kinds of roads used during the previous year. Driving on each type of road will be considered. This will include state highways, county roads, city streets, and private roads.

The information assembled in Gray County through the schools and through other sources is to be used in the preparation of a statewide rational and factual road plan for future use. With active cooperation indicated from state and local school officials and particularly the teachers, parents will be requested to assist their children in preparing these assignments so as to increase the amount and reliability of data from Gray county.

L. L. Ledger and J. A. Gordon, field instructors for the Highway Planning survey, are expected to begin their work in Pampa High School next Thursday and Friday. This work is purposely being done through the schools for two reasons, according to Mr. Woerner. The students learn civic duty thru helping their government and information hitherto unattainable may be collected and put into practical application at a very low cost.

Jimmy Gets Coaster And Baby Brother

PITTSFIELD, Mass., April 29 (AP)—Six-year-old Jimmy Dwyer prayed for a baby brother and got one. He also got a new coaster wagon bearing the inscription, "Jimmy Dwyer special," although he hadn't asked for that.

A mail order house, unable to fill Jimmy's request for a baby brother, sent the wagon along with a message, which said:

"We are just a little bit afraid we will have to disappoint you. You see, Jimmy, baby brothers are made to order, because they are just a little bit delicate to carry in stock. Some day, though, you may be able to get a brother if you wish hard for one. In the meantime we are sending you another gift."

The coaster had hardly arrived when Jimmy's mother went to St. Luke's hospital and gave birth to the brother Jimmy had prayed for.

MAILS GOES THROUGH —ALMOST

GARDEN CITY, Kas. (AP)—When speedy Santa Fe trains passed through Garden City at 75 miles an hour, mail clerks complained they were having trouble picking up the mail bags at that speed. Engineers were ordered to cut down on the throttle.

Revolutionary struggles in 1842 completely destroyed the effectiveness of the Holy Alliance, formed 33 year earlier.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE WILL POOL STRENGTH

LONDON, April 29 (AP)—Britain and France, agreed on a pooling of their vast armed strength in the world's great defensive alliance, today mapped an economic-diplomatic campaign to prevent Germany from starving Czechoslovakia into submission.

When the premier and foreign ministers of the two democracies suspended their momentous conference for lunch it was known that plans for relieving economic pressure on Germany's smaller neighbors was taking form. Previously they had drafted main outlines of plans to link their army, navy and airforce resources against any threat of invasion to either.

The moral force of this combination strengthened their hands as they turned to the question of safe-guards against war dangers in central Europe, where Nazi expansion imperils Czechoslovakia, France's ally.

OLD GUNS POP UP

DALHART, Tex. (AP)—W. O. Culbertson, manager of the 150,000 acre Coon and Culbertson ranch, recently found three guns, identified as a Belgian flintlock rifle of a type which hasn't been manufactured since 1870 and an English cap and ball gun dated 1855 and a Blisley model Colt that still contained six bullets.

FRESH-WATER FISHING WILL BEGIN SUNDAY

By RAY NEUMANN. AUSTIN, April 29 (AP)—All good fishermen today hauled out tackle, dug worms and brought minnows and otherwise laid plans to outwit wary denizens of the deep in the general opening of the fresh-water season Sunday.

Banks of streams and lakes in Texas probably will be overcrowded this year since the season opens promptly in permitting anglers to "get set" at their favorite "holes" tomorrow afternoon. The lid pops off officially at midnight. It was estimated more than 200,000 people, from youngsters just old enough to hold a line to oldsters still able to watch a cork, would be on hand to try for the bass, crappie, and in some places catfish which have sported about unmolested the past two months during breeding season.

The game department reported over 3,300,000 fingerling size fish had been released into public waters over the state last fall. However, no official could be persuaded to predict how they'd be biting Sunday.

Among spots expected to entertain large crowds were lakes Caddo, Buchanan, Inks, Medina, Brownwood, Kemp, Dallas, Waco, Worth, Bridgeport, Eagle Mountain, Red Bluff, Nasworthy, Corpus Christi, and others. Streams recently swelled by floods probably will not lure as many as in times past.

Department officials said restrictions prohibiting catching of bass and crappie and the use of artificial bait would be lifted in all but 24

Panhandle counties where the season is delayed until June 1. A warning was sounded, however, that 218 special county laws have precedence over general statutes. Digests of the regulations can be obtained from game wardens and sporting goods stores. Officials said there were no exceptions of the law requiring resident Texans using artificial lures to obtain a license for that purpose.

SHEEP HERDERS OF SAN ANGELO MEETS HUBER

BORGER, April 28—After having shown their true mettle by coming back to beat the Lubbock Hubbers after trailing in the early inning by 14 runs, the Huber Carbons of Borger are waiting eagerly to pit their skill against the strongest opposition they have faced this season Sunday afternoon when they meet the famed Black Sheep Herders of San Angelo at Huber Stadium in Borger.

The Huber team has lost only one game thus far, that to Lubbock last Sunday when they were forced by injuries to play with a makeshift team and have counted victories over the Pittsburgh Pirates, Ponca City, and Clovis. The injured players, Smith, catcher; Huffman, first baseman; and Littrell, left fielder, are improving rapidly and barring further accidents Manager Roy Story expects the team to be at full strength against the Negro nine.

The Sheep Herders this year boast a stonewall infield. An infield that is made up of a galaxy of stars from other Negro teams. Among those stars is Flowers, the third baseman who played last year with the Negro All-Stars and considered one of the best third sackers in the game; Brown, the sensational shortstop who formerly played with the Kansas City Monarchs; Franklin, first baseman, another member of the All-Stars; and McGowan, second baseman who was the stand-out member of the Cuban All-Stars that played thru this country two years ago. Thus, collectively and individually, this infield is rightly called a stonewall.

The Sheep Herders are managed by Ruben Jones, long a familiar figure in Negro ball, who says that his team this year is one of the strongest colored teams he has ever been connected with.

The Borger team has announced the addition of Herman Drefs to its pitching staff. Drefs pitched last year for the Pampa Oilers of Pampa and was the chief reason that that team was able to bring back a tie for 3rd place in the Denver Post tournament. Drefs, a left-hander, is rapidly rounding into shape and says that his arm will be in fine condition to start the game Sunday.

Besides the game Sunday afternoon which starts at 3:00 o'clock, the teams will play a return engagement on the same field Monday night starting at 8:30 o'clock. The admission will be 40 and 25 cents.

Canyon Swimmers Going to Roswell

CANYON, April 29—A West Texas State College swimming team of twelve men will go into action against New Mexico Military Institute in a dual meet May 2 at Roswell.

Last year N. M. M. I. won most of the events over the West Texans. This year, however, Coach Mitchell Jones reports that with several swimmers hustling for each position, the team should be stronger.

The meet will be held under three divisions, swimming, diving, and water polo. The West Texas team will be chosen from the following: Raymond Wagner, Groom; Lawrence Adkins, Big Spring; Bertram Jack, Friona; Melton Crow, Amarillo; Newton Smith, Howard; Medlin, Aberrathy; Dan Hemphill, Littlefield; Gayle Hemphill, Littlefield; Lewis Ellison, Shamrock; Bob Linder, Pollett; Jack Jennings, Tulla; Louis Cole, Hoover; Harley Goetteche, Higgins; E. C. Carver, Borger; Vernon Johnson, Childress; Grob Hoover, Amarillo; and Meredith Kendrick, Groom.

Feeding American Army From Sky

How the U. S. Army can feed its men, even though they be far from sources of supply, is shown in these pictures, taken during maneuvers of the first cavalry division platoon near Fort Bliss, Tex. A big bombing plane is sent aloft loaded with provisions. Locating the platoon on the river, the flyers (1) release a parachute carrying food supplies. Drifting slowly earthward, (2) the parachute carries its burden to the cavalrymen. They remove the bundle (3) from the chute, find (4) that even eggs are not broken in the drop. This method of provisioning an army unit is especially effective where topography makes land travel difficult.

MRS. HURY FACES MRS. FRANK GOLDTHWAITE IN SEMI-FINALS

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
HOUSTON, April 29 (AP)—Jinxed by a complex that has kept her from full women's golf fame, blonde Mrs. E. R. Hury set out today in the Texas Women's Golf Association tournament with a prime chance to overhaul honors that have been passing her by.

A comparative newcomer at tournament golf, the San Antonio distance hitter with a bag full of championship shots found herself in the semi-finals with her game at its peak.

To reach the finals Mrs. Hury—one of those "always a threat but never a winner" players—had to hurdle one of the stiffest barriers in American women's golf in Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth, former Texas and Southern champion and member of the United States Curtis cup team.

Mrs. Hury simply powered her way to the semi-finals, climaxing four days of fine play yesterday with a shower of men's par golf to eliminate Mrs. Harry Scott of Houston, 6 and 5. Long woods and irons gave her a two-under-par 38 on the first nine. A putter that refused on occasions could have given her two shots less.

Mrs. Goldthwaite fought off a bad hook and shot remarkable sub-par golf in the first seven holes of her match with Mrs. C. Johnson of Houston, but she fell into trouble again on the back nine and finally pulled through to a 5 and 3 victory after carding three successive sixes on par four holes.

Undisturbed by the flurry of par golf being clocked out by the remaining contestants seeking a title she has won the past two years, 18-year-old Betty Jameson of San Antonio continued her man-sized game to brush away Miss Jo Henson of Paris, 4 and 2. Miss Jameson, with eight men's pars and a bogie, finished the first nine with a 37 but acted carelessly around the greens on the back nine and got a scrap from the North Texas youngster before winning. Miss Henson's putter was the only weak spot in a game the critics believe will some day be extremely dangerous.

Only a shade of an edge laid with Miss Jameson today in her match against Mrs. R. E. Winger of Fort Worth—a veteran of many tournaments who has suddenly become a sensation of the tourney. She carded three natural birdies and conceded one from a distance of 10 feet to defeat Mrs. George Rohrer of Galveston, 2 and 1, and make the semi-finals in all Fort Worth-San Antonio affair. Playing brilliantly.

'HOPPERS WILL INFEST AREA AGAIN THIS YEAR

Mrs. Winger twice in succession has posted scores in the 70's and was expected to push Miss Jameson into her best game.

Grayhoppers are on the increase now in Gray county, but whether or not the infestation this year will affect 30 per cent of Gray county crops as predicted early this year by R. R. Reppert, state entomologist, was doubtful judging from the few calls farmers have made to secure poison bran used in fighting the pests.

Gray county has on hand an ample supply of bran and poison left over from last year, County Farm Agent Ralph R. Thomas said, there being a supply of 40,000 pounds of bran and five barrels of poison. Several other counties have had to supplement their supply recently.

Countries are required to furnish supplies equal to the amount of bran, which is supplied by the United States Department of Agriculture. Last year, cottonseed hulls was Gray county's matching supply, obtained from Shamrock. The bran, supplied by the federal department, was shipped into Pampa from the north last year, Mr. Thomas said.

The first convict settlements in Siberia were established in 1710 when Peter the Great began exiling political opponents there. Salama, a Mohammedan salutation, means "Peace with you."

MEDWICK SAYS DIZZY'LL RUN FROM A FIGHT

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP)—The spring, the reformed Dizzy, who all year has been trying to keep his mouth shut, has gone loquacious again—virtually forced to.

And even if Joe Medwick, his former St. Louis Cardinal teammate, calls him the king to "crawlfish" out of a fight and leave the battle to his mates, Dizzy wasn't pulling any verbal piques today.

"That Medwick is dumb... saying when I dust off anybody, it's always a little guy... that I run from a fight. Say if that guy would show any sort of hustle at all, the Cards would have a helluva lot better ball club than they get now."

Yesir, it was a former gas houser forsaking his role of mild mannered Chicago Cub to slap back at another gas houser.

Medwick began the feud yesterday by taking a healthy cut at a recent published story of a row Dean was supposed to have had in Tampa, Fla. a year ago with Sports Writers Irv Kupcinet of Chicago, and Jack Miley of New York.

Dean said he was not in the fight, that there was no fighting unit Joe and other players came on the scene and that Medwick did the hitting.

Medwick's written statement to Chicago newspapers said in part: "He's right in one respect. He wasn't in the fight after fistis started to fly. He usually does a crowd but he can't take it... If he ever throws at anybody, it will be some little guy, and then he will hide behind Hartnett (Cubs' catcher) and cry that he didn't do anything."

For verification, Dean telephoned Medwick at Pittsburgh. And Medwick admitted it.

Dizzy still was in a forgiving mood as he related that Joe told him he "was on the spot and had to do it... that Sam Breadon (Cardinal president) called him in and told him "Dizzy Dean is starting trouble, but he can't take it... If he ever throws at anybody, it will be some little guy, and then he will hide behind Hartnett (Cubs' catcher) and cry that he didn't do anything."

For verification, Dean telephoned Medwick at Pittsburgh. And Medwick admitted it.

EIGHTH OF ACRE YIELDS $137

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A return of $137 from an eighth of an acre, making the soil yield at the rate of more than $1,000 an acre, sounds more like some kind of mining operation than farming.

L. E. Hopper, East Baton Rouge parish, did it with tomatoes. He picked one of the hottest months of the year, planted a heat-resistant variety, fertilized well, irrigated his rows, sprayed to keep down insect pests, reaped a bumper harvest and sold it at a fancy price.

As Anglo-Italian Peace Pact Was Signed

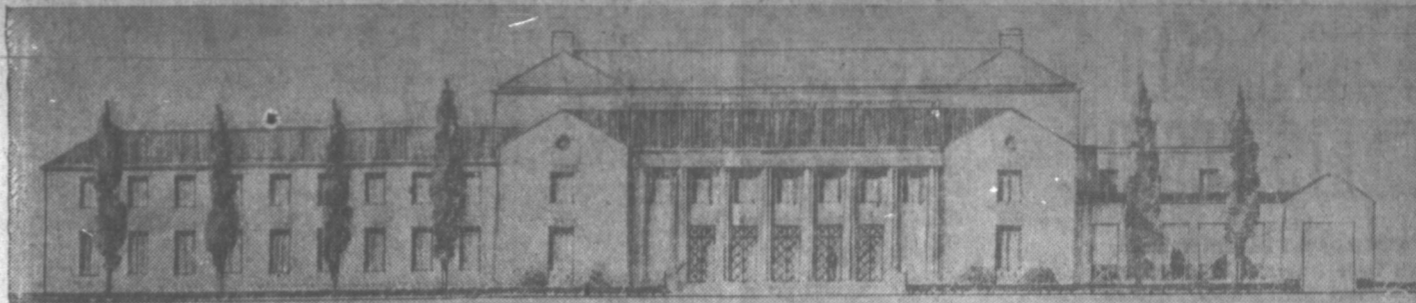

With her hand extended in apparent benediction, a statue of Victory looks on while Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian Foreign Minister, signs the agreement on future Anglo-Italian relations which was hailed the world over as the greatest step taken to insure the peace of Europe. Standing in the center, next to Count Ciano, during the ceremony in the Victory Room of Rome's ancient Chigi Palace, is the Earl of Perth, British Ambassador to Italy and co-negotiator with Count Ciano of the pact.

'Step' Figure

A fast-moving aerial staircase was formed by these Curtiss SBC-3 planes of the Navy as they flew in a unique "step" formation during recent maneuvers. Generally based on aircraft carriers, they are combination scouting and bombing planes.

Philippine 'Palaces' Start Congress Battle Royal

A $750,000 appropriation for a new winter "palace" and one for the summer, to be occupied by the High Commissioner to the Philippines, aroused a storm of protest in Washington and was denounced as "lavish extravagance" by Rep. Albert Engel, of Michigan. The winter "palace," sketched above, was described by him as being 33 feet longer than the White House and 49 feet wider. Its 76 rooms on three floors include 19 lounges and lobbies, 18 baths, a two-story ballroom 40 by 65 feet and a two-story banquet hall 20 by 40 feet.

Ford Arrives to Talk With FDR

May Have June Wedding

Although no date has been set for the wedding of Marshall Field, Jr., and Miss Joanne Bass, pictured above, whose long rumored engagement was recently officially confirmed by Miss Bass' parents, it is understood that it will take place in June after commencement at Harvard, where Mr. Field is a senior. Miss Bass is the daughter of former Governor Robert Perkins Bass and Mrs. Bass of Peterborough, N. H. Her fiancé is a great-grandson of Marshall Field, founder of the famous Chicago dry-goods firm.

Star Divorced

Twice-wed. Ethel Ralston, former movie star, is single once again after winning a divorce in Los Angeles from Will Morgan, her actor husband. Miss Ralston testified that Morgan was intemperate, cruel, often abusive and sometimes choked her. They were married in 1935.

Swims in Icy Lake Michigan

Here's what happens when publicity stunts cease to be stunts and almost result in death. Mona Leslie, Chicago dancer, put on a swimming act in icy Lake Michigan and by the time help reached her she was authentically exhausted. Above is the rescue scene, with a husky coast guardsman carrying the unconscious but still lovely Mona to safety.

Resigns

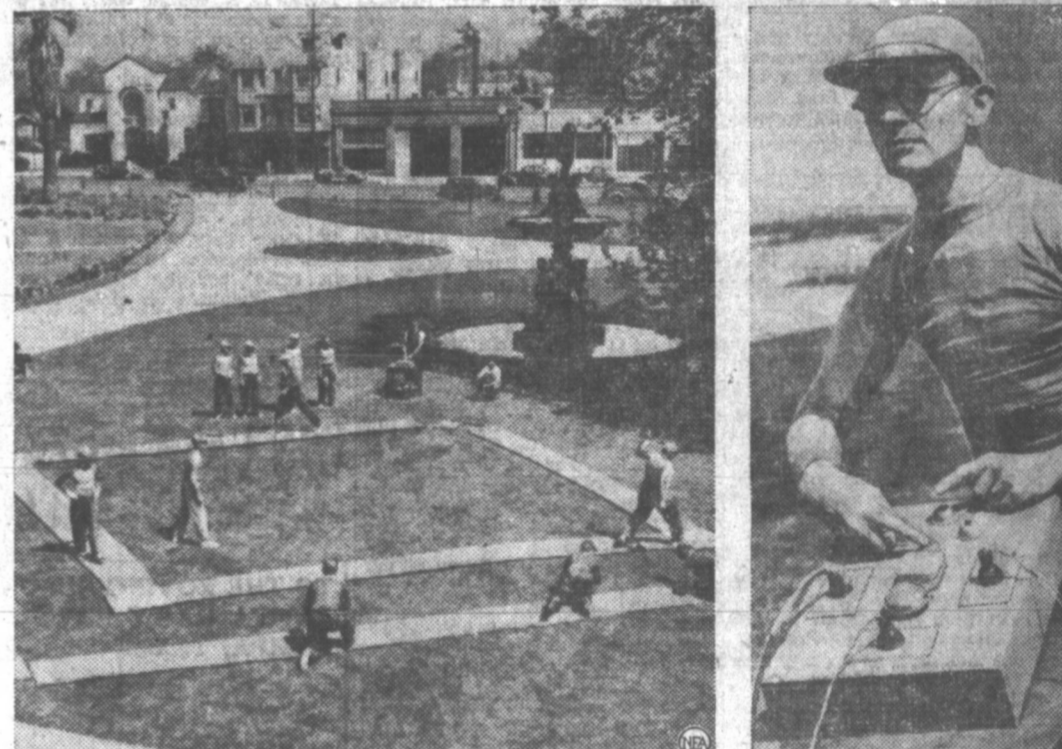

Under fire on the House floor because he allegedly wrote a letter soliciting legal business for a former associate, Horace Russell, above, has resigned as general counsel to the Home Owners Loan Corporation. Russell admitted writing a letter "subject to criticism," but denied any improper intent.

Stricken with a heart attack on the eve of his 82d anniversary, John M. Landon, above, father of Ait M. Landon, was rushed to a Kansas City hospital and placed in an oxygen tent. Physicians reported he was "very ill." Scheduled to address a Topeka audience, the 1936 Republican presidential nominee turned over his address to be read and hurried to his father's side.

How Blind Men Play Baseball

Playing baseball by sound is the method by which inmates of the Industrial Home for the Adult Blind in Oakland, Calif., enjoy the sport. Above left, is an action scene from a game played on a regulation-size softball diamond equipped with yard-square bases and yard-wide carpeted base lines. The ball is rolled to the batter, who swings at it with an outdoor hockey stick. Right, is the umpire, who acts as the eyes for both teams. He guides all the players by a system of bells and buzzers. The batter feels his way around the bases on the carpeting, while the fielders, on hands and knees, attempt to locate the ball and roll it in front of the runner's path to score the putout.

Legionnaires Injured in Fight With Nazis

Man Behind News in Mexico

The man behind today's big news in Mexico—President Lazaro Cardenas, whose vigorous nationalistic program has brought a new unity to his country. The sketch shows Cardenas as he took the oath of office with a Fascist salute against a background of the colorful Mexican coat of arms.

Eight Feet off the Ground

The camera caught high-flying hoots in this unusual photo of horses so perfectly matched in running rhythm that each had all four feet in the air at the same instant. The racers are William S. Kilmer's Kentucky Derby candidate Neddy and, nearest rail, his running mate Sun Alexandria, in a workout at Jamaica Race Track, L. I.

BISHOPS CAN'T GET TOGETHER IN UNIFICATION

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 29 (AP)—Union with north Methodists, described by opponents as likely of church destruction was "commended" today by the Methodist Episcopal church, south, in a historic address from the college of bishops.

Read by Bishop Hoyt H. Dobbs of Shreveport, La., the Episcopal address embodied recommendation of the bishops to the general conference and "commended" the unification plan to be formally presented tomorrow as worthy of "thorough consideration and such action as is befitting the most important matter before the church since its organization" followed the split in 1844 over slavery.

Two retired bishops, Collins Denny of Richmond, Va., and Warren A. Candler of Atlanta, Ga., did not agree with the plan of union, and did not sign the Episcopal address. In a supplementary statement they termed the unification plan a "dangerous arrangement" and challenged the legal right of this conference to act on it.

The racial question also was one of the objections raised by opponents. Senator Carter Glass of Virginia said simply the proposal "would bring the Negro into our southern churches."

Unification advocates included Bishop John M. Moore, presiding today who said "the racial question is not involved."

Votes of the individual conferences were read, showing, 7,650 ayes, and 1,247 noes and the address pointed out the affirmative vote was about 86 per cent of the total vote cast adding:

Bishops Denny and Candler in their dissenting opinion said:

"We cannot subscribe to those portions of the address which indicate that this general conference has power to complete the adoption of the plan (of Union)."

"We cannot subscribe to those portions of the address which are tantamount to a recommendation that this particular plan be adopted."

Alcoholic beverages were discussed at length in a chapter of the Episcopal address on "public evils."

"It is now a little more than four years since the repeal of national prohibition of the beverage liquor traffic," the address said, "the results are apparent on every hand. The administration that stabbed the temperance of a century is doing nothing to curb the beast that it let loose upon the land."

"The nation will not forget the solemn pledge of the president of the United States in proposing repeal 'that no possibility at any time or under any conditions, at any place or under any circumstances shall that institution, the saloon, or its equivalent, be allowed to return to American life.'"

Turning to other "evils," the address said: "Divergence in America has become a national scandal, other states now vie with Nevada in their contempt of the martial laws of God. The Sabbath is all but absolute. Millions have forgotten that righteousness exalteth a nation and the righteous God will wither the best of civilization of any people that renounce his judgments."

CARDENAS SAYS CRISIS REPORTS ARE FICTION

MEXICO CITY, April 29 (AP)—President Lazaro Cardenas wishes to assure his people that reports his administration faces an economic crisis, disorders and armed revolt as a result of oil expropriation are "alarmist versions."

The Mexican president declared yesterday at the celebration of "Soldiers' Day," the Mexican people could view such reports with "serenity."

The gist of the reports he summed up as follows: "That the stagnation of our agricultural production attributed to the lack of responsibility and ability of our farmers, will lead us to a crisis of serious consequences; that the release of funds to pay the petroleum debt will make money scarce; that direct participation in the administration of the petroleum (industry) by the workers will bring it to anarchy and failure because of their lack of preparation; that the poverty of the people and the reduced resources of the public treasury will not permit the meeting of the obligations contracted in the expropriation of the 17 foreign oil companies (March 18)."

The president criticized the oil companies "for attempting to bring foreign powers into an affair of domestic nature."

Although it was officially indicated in London a boycott of Mexican oil by British buyers was advocated by Britain, President Cardenas received representatives of the Mexican-British distributing concern, Centramerica Corp., backed by Harrison, Ltd., of London, one of several firms seeking to buy Mexican oil.

'ONE-ARMED' DRIVER DENIES HE 'NEGTAR'

NEWARK, N. J., April 29 (AP)—Samuel Rothfleders denied in traffic court a charge of "one-armed" driving.

"I didn't know the girl well enough, your honor," he told Judge William McEnroe last night.

It's spring, I know," acknowledged the judge, "but you should do a thing right or not at all."

"Five dollars fine."

Paris Calls Audacious Dresses "Modern"

Splashed white flowers embroidered on the skirt make the black net evening frock at left interestingly dramatic. It's shown with a knee-length cape in plain black net. Catherine Farel created it. For a slim, utterly flattering evening gown, Roseviene uses printed silk crepe showing broad stripes in red, yellow, green and pink with a stylized white flower design shown at right. The panned drapery, massed at the front, leaving the back perfectly straight, preserves the straight lines even when the wearer is dancing or walking. A spray of multi-colored flowers in the tones of the print trims the décolleté.

NEA WRITER PENS TRUE STORY OF CONDITIONS IN OLD MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, April 23.—After a trip through Mexico in which he made an exhaustive investigation of conditions under the new nationalistic program, Willis Thornton, NEA staff correspondent, returned to Mexico City today to begin writing a series of stories to acquaint American readers with the true situation below the Rio Grande.

Thornton, known throughout the United States for his lucid, interesting writing style and his ability to make even the most complex situation understandable to lay readers, revealed that his first story will cover the national campaign for popular subscriptions to repay the oil companies for properties recently expropriated.

Thornton's stories will be distributed by NEA Service to more than 750 newspapers, giving readers all over the nation the benefits of his keenly analytical writings and his ability to ferret out facts, no matter how they may be hidden behind a screen of secrecy.

In addition to exploring the situation arising from the oil expropriations, Thornton also has investigated the political, economic and military aspects of the present Mexican scene, and will write comprehensive stories about them.

(Editor's note: The Pampa Daily News is an NEA client, and Thornton's articles on Mexico are appearing in these columns from time to time.)

Thornton has a well-founded background of reporting and writing which has made his name familiar to newspaper readers everywhere through NEA Service, the world's greatest newspaper feature organization.

In his years with NEA, Thornton's beat has really been the entire North American continent. He has covered many important stories in Canada, including the birth and subsequent development of the Dionne Quintuplets.

He has written the life stories of such notables as Henry Ford, John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Mellon, J. P. Morgan—and Mae West. He has proved his versatility by writing—with equal candor, accuracy and impartiality—about big business and organized labor.

His most recent investigations, before coming to Mexico, were of the U. S. Navy and the vast Tennessee Valley Authority, on both of which he wrote interesting and informative stories giving readers the true background picture of situations in which the spot news reporters only scratched the surface.

Teaches Second Grade In the names of Skellytown school teachers re-elected for another year, recently published in a story in the Pampa Daily News, the name of Miss Margaret Harvey was not included. Miss Harvey has been re-elected as teacher of the second grade at Skellytown.

PILLOW'S HARD—BUT MIGHTY ASSURING

EMMETTSBURG, Ia. (AP)—Mat Zeimet's pillow may be hard and bumpy but he's determined that robbers shall not get the profits of his country oil station.

The station was robbed six times in six months before he bought the place recently.

Zeimet sleeps with a shotgun and a pistol, both loaded, under his pillow.

EXPLORER CLAIMS HE HAS SURE PROOF THAT REDFERN IS NOW DEAD

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, April 29 (AP)—Theodore J. Waldeck, New York explorer, returning from four months of perilous search for trace of Paul Redfern, missing American aviator, declared today that Redfern was dead.

"I found the place where the plane crashed and definite proof that the gallant airman is dead," Waldeck said.

He gave no further details of his discovery, saying first he must forward a report to Dr. Frederick C. Redfern of Columbia, S. C., father of the flier.

Redfern disappeared in August, 1927, in an attempt to fly non-stop from Brunswick, Ga., to Brazil. Strange tales have come out of the steaming jungle of British Guiana since then—one saying that Redfern had become the "great white god" of a jungle tribe.

Waldeck reported his expedition had reached the border of Venezuela.

"But we almost gave up after the death of Dr. Fox and Chandler's illness," he said, referring to Dr. Frederick J. Fox and William Astor Chandler, members of the party.

(Dr. Fox, 59, dermatologist with offices in New York, died Jan. 6 on Devil's Hole Island far up the Guyuni river. Chandler, a New York aviator, returned to Georgetown Feb. 18, suffering from exposure and fever.)

"We suffered terrible hardships," Waldeck added, "but we are satisfied we have at least cleared up the mystery of Paul Redfern."

Waldeck returned to Georgetown with his wife, also a member of the expedition.

TRAIL LEAVES OWN INSIGNIA

(By The Associated Press)

Texas has spent hundreds of dollars putting up markers at historical spots, but one trail herd, chuck wagon and all, left its own markers.

Charlie Holman of Booker, Tex., a trail driver who worked with Billy Dixon, noted scout and buffalo hunter on the high plains of Texas, tells this story about a lost herd and the permanent monuments it left as it disappeared in the quicksand:

"West of the spot where Billy Dixon's store used to be, up in Hutchinson county, there are three hills—75 to 100 feet high. Just south of the old store was the Turkey Track ranch meadow of about 110 acres.

"Just south of the store, between it and the northeast corner of the meadow, was an old wagon road over which we used to haul freight to and from Panhandle. There was another road like it south of the meadow and used for the same purpose. The roads met at Dixon's Point—a high pinnacle on the south side of the Canadian river that points to the mouth of Dixon creek. They're still there—unless WPA has been cooling with them.

"In the southwest corner of the Turkey Track meadow was a two-acre grove of big cottonwoods and just north and a little east of the trees was a small lake. Now we're getting down to the important part.

"I don't know much about it, but here is how it was told to me.

"A herd was being driven south—about a thousand head in all—and the whole herd bogged down. When the cattle went down water came up to the surface to form the lake.

"There is a small oblong patch of grass, just north of the lake where the chuck wagon was last seen. And on the east are two mounds—permanent markers of two cowboys who were riding on that side. On the opposite side of the lake are two more. There were two cowboys on that side, too.

"Directly west is a long strip of grass that marks the spot where one steer broke ranks and headed west. Fate overtook the contestants just as the rope tightened on the steer's neck. The strip of grass is as long as the average saddle rope. It is bigger at each end to mark the steer and the rider and his mount.

"That's what I call a good system of historical marking."

Sake, the national beverage of Japan, contains 12 to 15 per cent alcohol, and has a flavor similar to that of sherry.

COVER CROPS WAY OUT FOR 26-ACRE FARM

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—J. R. Puckett has found cover crops and land conservation the way to a good living from a 26-acre farm. His cotton land is covered with burr clover; his pasture is well seeded with grass and legumes, and he uses lespedeza, small grain and Austrian peas as winter covers. His land is all terraced and the steeper slopes are strip-cropped to halt erosion.

FORD REFUSES TO CRITICIZE THE PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, April 29 (P)—Henry Ford, fresh from his White House conference with President Roosevelt, told interviewers today the President "is trying to do the best he can like everybody else."
The remark was prompted when someone commented that Ford had never appeared to be in such a genial mood. Was it because he came away from the White House with new optimism?
"Well, you never heard me say anything about the President, did you?" the automobile manufacturer smiled. "What's the use? He's trying to do the best he can like everybody else."

But of the conference itself Ford would say nothing. Conditions generally are going to change, he said, and change for the better. And, he said, he doubts if there will be war in Europe in spite of gloomy dispatches from abroad.

Ford's son, Edsel, and W. J. Cameron, Ford Motor Company executive, sat with Ford during the interview in a small private dining room of the Ritz Carlton hotel.

Edsel said nothing, save when his father asked him the precise location of their big co-operative farm in England where the Fords are "teaching England she can feed herself."
"Where is the farm, Edsel?" Henry asked.

"It's in Essex county at Borham."
Ford thought it was two or three thousand acres in size. Edsel said 4,000 would be closer to fact. Henry Ford is going over for a visit to the farm this summer. It's run, he said, chiefly by teamsters, drivers and other workers.

Denies Favoring Garner.
Ford was asked about a report he favored Vice President John Nance Garner for the 1940 Democratic nomination. He declined to comment. He said a printed report to that effect was untrue. He grunted another denial.

"What was that you said, Mr. Ford?" someone asked.
Ford craned his neck, narrowed his eyes slightly and made a whistling noise.

"Try to spell that," he grinned.
People generally, he said, have got to "wake up and go to work."

"Too many people try to live off money," he said. "Money isn't wealth. It's just a token of wealth. We must create wealth and we must do it by doing something. People should be their own leaders."

"Too many people are half asleep. They're looking for security instead of making it for themselves. And so they are easily fooled by their leaders."
He mentioned no one by name, and in reply to a specific question as to whether he meant labor leaders, said:

"No."

Conditions will change, and change for the better, he said, when industries are approved.

Ford On "Hardships."
"There's plenty to be done and it ought to be done now. Forty years ago people could not foresee all the work the invention and manufacture of automobiles was to bring. Now it's the same with other things. Everything, railroads, manufacturing, and things like that ought to be overhauled and improved."

"Mr. Ford," one of his interviewers said, "do you think hardships strengthen character?"
"What do you think?" Ford asked.
"I'm asking you," the interviewer replied.

"Well, yes they do," the manufacturer responded.
"Do you think the hardship of unemployment does that to a man?"
"That's the worst hardship in the world," Ford said, shaking his head slightly. He began explaining that it would still strengthen a man's character, but seemed to have slight difficulty in finding the exact words he wanted to use.

Then Cameron broke in to say:
"If it hurts a man hard enough he'll get out of it."
Ford nodded.

UNIFICATION SURE TO PASS OPINES BISHOP

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 29 (P)—Unification of the three branches of Methodism, long and bitterly debated, reached the quadrennial convention of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today.

Already approved by the Methodist Episcopal (Northern) and the Methodist Protestant branches, the question of union will be considered and a final decision reached before the convention adjourns.

Opponents of the proposed merger announced plans for a "last ditch" fight "to save the Southern Methodists in part on the racial question, which separated the Northern and Southern branches in 1844."

Bishop John M. Moore, presiding today by virtue of his seniority over the active College of Bishops, was confident, however, that unification would be approved by an overwhelming vote.

"There is not the slightest doubt in my mind," Bishop Moore said, "that we are on the verge of perfecting the greatest union of Christians that has ever been accomplished since Christianity began."

The merged church would have approximately 8,000,000 members, including some 360,000 negroes to be segregated in a central conference.

The University of Oklahoma press has published a book by Grant Foreman, historian, which contains new information about Sequoyah, inventor of the Cherokee Indian alphabet.

Seized in Bogus Check Plot

As police all over America searched for 35 additional members of an underworld ring that plotted to pass $200,000 in fraudulent travelers' checks, the five men pictured above were arrested and held for questioning. They are, top, George (Bugs) Moran, left, and Frankie Parker; and, lower left to right, Frank Quigley, Daniel Kelly and Robert Sexton. Arrested in Pittsburgh, Quigley, Kelly and Sexton allegedly had $21,800 of the counterfeit checks in their possession. Moran and Parker were arrested in Chicago. Moran headed the old Chicago gang which was largely wiped out in the St. Valentine's Day massacre of 1929. Parker is a one-time whisky runner.

Marco Polo Sea Lion Hemmed Up In Flatbush Tank

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—Amos, the errant sea lion of Prospect Park zoo, can flippantly flee no more. But he basked happily today under a coping erected to prevent a fifth escape over the barred wall of his tank—for he is famous in Flatbush.

For one thing, he was the subject of an editorial yesterday in a local paper which called him the "Marco Polo of Flatbush." For another, his picture was featured in a 2-column display add of a fur-storage company which boasted no seals wandered from its warehouse.

Amos' escapades have paled even the exploits of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

First he was found waiting for a street car on Flatbush avenue, next thumbing a Manhattan-bound taxicab, then frightening an amazed woman—and finally eloping.

Yes, eloping with Andy—a girl sea lion who shares his tank. Andy was quickly caught and returned, but Amos waddled on down the avenue and was overtaken some time later, on his fourth and last escape, at the door of a tavern.

Siam was opened to western influence in 1612 by British explorers.

FORD REFUSES TO CRITICIZE THE PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP)—Henry Ford, fresh from his White House conference with President Roosevelt, told interviewers today the President "is trying to do the best he can like everybody else."
The remark was prompted when someone commented that Ford had never appeared to be in such a genial mood. Was it because he came away from the White House with new optimism?
"Well, you never heard me say anything about the President, did you?" the automobile manufacturer smiled. "What's the use? He's trying to do the best he can like everybody else."
But of the conference itself Ford would say nothing. Conditions generally are going to change, he said, and change for the better. And, he said, he doubts if there will be war in Europe in spite of gloomy dispatches from abroad.
Ford's son, Edsel, and W. J. Cameron, Ford Motor Company executive, sat with Ford during the interview in a small private dining room of the Ritz Carlton hotel.
Edsel said nothing, save when his father asked him the precise location of their big co-operative farm in England where the Fords are "teaching England she can feed herself."
"Where is the farm, Edsel?" Henry asked.
"It's in Essex county at Borham."
Ford thought it was two or three thousand acres in size. Edsel said 4,000 would be closer to fact. Henry Ford is going over for a visit to the farm this summer. It's run, he said, chiefly by teamsters, drivers and other workers.
Denies Favoring Garner.
Ford was asked about a report he favored Vice President John Nance Garner for the 1940 Democratic nomination. He declined to comment. He said a printed report to that effect was untrue. He grunted another denial.
"What was that you said, Mr. Ford?" someone asked.
Ford craned his neck, narrowed his eyes slightly and made a whistling noise.
"Try to spell that," he grinned.
People generally, he said, have got to "wake up and go to work."
"Too many people try to live off money," he said. "Money isn't wealth. It's just a token of wealth. We must create wealth and we must do it by doing something. People should be their own leaders."
"Too many people are half asleep. They're looking for themselves instead of making it for themselves. And so they are easily fooled by their leaders."
He mentioned no one by name, and in reply to a specific question as to whether he meant labor leaders, said:

"No."
Conditions will change, and change for the better, he said, when industries are approved.
Ford on 'Hardships.'
"There's plenty to be done and it ought to be done now. Forty years ago people could not foresee all the work the invention and manufacture of automobiles was to bring. Now it's the same with other things. Everything, railroads, manufacturing, and things like that ought to be overhauled and improved."
"Mr. Ford," one of his interviewers said, "do you think hardships strengthen character?"
"What do you think?" Ford asked.
"I'm asking you," the interviewer replied.
"Well, yes they do," the manufacturer responded.
"Do you think the hardship of unemployment does that to a man?"
"That's the worst hardship in the world," Ford said, shaking his head slightly. He began explaining that it would still strengthen a man's character, but seemed to have slight difficulty in finding the exact words he wanted to use.
Then Cameron broke in to say:
"If it hurts a man hard enough he'll get out of it."
Ford nodded.

UNIFICATION SURE TO PASS OPINES BISHOP

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 29 (AP)—Unification of the three branches of Methodism, long and bitterly debated, reached the quadrennial convention of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today.
Already approved by the Methodist Episcopal (Northern) and the Methodist Protestant branches, the question of union will be considered and a final decision reached before the convention adjourns.
Opponents of the proposed merger announced plans for a "last ditch" fight "to save the Southern Methodists in part on the racial question, which separated the Northern and Southern branches in 1844."
Bishop John M. Moore, presiding today by virtue of his seniority over the active College of Bishops, was confident, however, that unification would be approved by an overwhelming vote.
"There is not the slightest doubt in my mind," Bishop Moore said, "that we are on the verge of perfecting the greatest union of Christians that has ever been accomplished since Christianity began."
The merged church would have approximately 8,000,000 members, including some 360,000 negroes to be segregated in a central conference.
The University of Oklahoma press has published a book by Grant Foreman, historian, which contains new information about Sequoyah, inventor of the Cherokee Indian alphabet.

"QUAKER OATS" is the breakfast I bank on!

says Great American All-Star Quarterback, VERNE HUFFMAN, pilot of the 1937 winning All-Star Football team!

Mothers by the millions give this wonderful whole-grain cereal to children because it's so rich in food energy, so rich in flavor. Yet costs but 1/2 cent per portion. There is no other oatmeal like Quaker Oats! And Quaker Oats has the extra value of Nature's Vitamin B—the precious vitamin you need daily to combat nervousness, constipation, poor appetite... Lay in a supply today! It's a way to save money!

STANDS THE OVEN TEST

Easter Cruise

Yesterday Mrs. O'Hara accuses Joyce of the theft of her jewels and Joyce is summoned by the Captain. She goes fearfully.

CHAPTER XX
CAPTAIN BOYER'S voice was kindly. "Remember, Miss Milner," he said, "I'm not accusing. I want you to explain, if you can. Your steward found this clip, which Mrs. O'Hara has identified, in your stateroom. It was caught in some of your clothing in your closet."

Joyce huddled in the big chair alongside the captain's desk. Her eyes were wide and terrified and stared in dumb fascination at the glittering accusation before her. She recognized the elaborate diamond-and-ruby clip instantly. She had seen it that first night, half hidden by the enormous mink collar of the woman's coat; she had watched it for three long hours, seated opposite her at the bridge table. And now it had been found in her stateroom!

The fact beat upon her brain until her head spun. Mrs. O'Hara's jewels had been stolen—thirty thousand dollars of jewels—and of them all, this clip had been found in her room. It was unbelievable, impossible!

But there it was.

"How did it get there, Miss Milner?" the captain persisted.

She shook her head despairingly. In a pitifully small voice, she replied: "I don't know, Captain. I do not know how it got there."

"After you came up to dance this evening, did you return to your cabin at all?"

"No."

"You do remember passing Mrs. O'Hara in the hall?"

"Yes, I passed her, as I explained, on the way to the ladies' room."

"What cabin was she coming out of?"

She tried to recall. Then wondering why she had noticed at the time, she observed quickly: "Why, she was coming out of the same cabin as mine, except that it was an 'A' deck."

The captain nodded. "That is her cabin, A-14. And yours is C-214."

Through the open window of Mrs. O'Hara's stateroom, as he could, and looked into the lounge. She was sitting on a settee, a light coat thrown over her flowery finery, her hair tied up in a more prepossessing arrangement, and she was discussing the robbery dramatically with a group of wide-eyed women sitting in a close circle about her.

"I just saw her coming down from the captain's quarters," she was saying with smug satisfaction. "And if I ever saw a guilty expression, it was on that girl's face."

An eager young woman, her eyes brightened by this thrill of scandal in their midst, edged her way closer. "Do you really believe she did it?" she asked breathlessly.

"I'm positive," Mrs. O'Hara declared, with an emphatic nod.

"Oh, I don't know," a meek little woman in a blue-ruffled Goldilocks dress spoke up. "She's a nice sort of girl. The first day out my husband said to me, 'Now take that Miss Milner; she's what I call a well-bred young woman...'" She looked up artfully. Her words were just fuel to Mrs. O'Hara's fire, and she knew it.

"Yes," agreed the eager young woman. "All the men like her."

Mrs. O'Hara flared. "She's the kind that does attract men. Flashy and brazen!"

Outside the window, Dick's hands itched to choke her. This coarse, loud-mouthed burlesque queen could care to call Joyce flashy!

"I STILL say," the blue-ruffled one put in hastily. "I still say we can't be sure that she did it. So many people were running about the ship... In her subtle fashion, she baited Mrs. O'Hara to tell them something more definite. And with the stewards, in and out of your room all the time. You really can't prove anything!"

At last Mrs. O'Hara jumped to the challenge.

"Oh, can't I? Well, don't be too sure!"

Quickly they pressed her for details. "You mean—somebody actually saw her do it?"

Reluctantly, at length, Mrs. O'Hara explained. She leaned forward confidentially, and lowered her voice to a hoarse whisper, so low that Dick had to press close to the window in order not to miss a word of what she was saying.

"The captain asked me not to say anything about it yet, not until everything has been located. But one of my clips was found in her closet!"

"It was?" Her listeners gasped in quick amazement, entranced by the delicious thrill of it.

"Yes," Mrs. O'Hara confessed in one of her dashes. She must have dropped it, in her hurry to dispose of the case."

For one staggering moment Dick stood there, every vestige of color drawn from his face. Then, without further hesitation, he turned about an hastened to the captain's quarters.

MEXICAN OIL PROBLEM NOT SOLVED, CLAIM

DALLAS, April 29 (AP)—Dr. George W. Stocking, professor of economics at the University of Texas, said here today that "nationalization of Mexican oil does not solve the Mexican oil problem."

In an address prepared for delivery before the Dallas Salesmanship club, Stocking said the expropriation by the Mexican government "raised perhaps as many questions as it answered."

Somewhat less than 40 per cent of the Mexican production was accounted for by American companies, he said, most of the balance of the production having been by the subsidiaries of the British-controlled Royal Dutch Shell.

"With British control of the Mediterranean less secure, direct access via the Atlantic to British-controlled oil properties has become of increased importance," Doctor Stocking said. "There remain important holdings in Venezuela, of course, but the Mexican precedent may well render them less secure."

"The political importance of the properties is intangible and cannot be measured in pecuniary terms. As for the economic value, currently quoted figures place the total at from $400,000,000 to $450,000,000, about three-fifths of which is said to represent British investments, two-fifths American. The Mexican valuation will undoubtedly be much less than this figure.

Stocking questioned Mexico's ability to administer the oil properties efficiently and to compensate the companies.

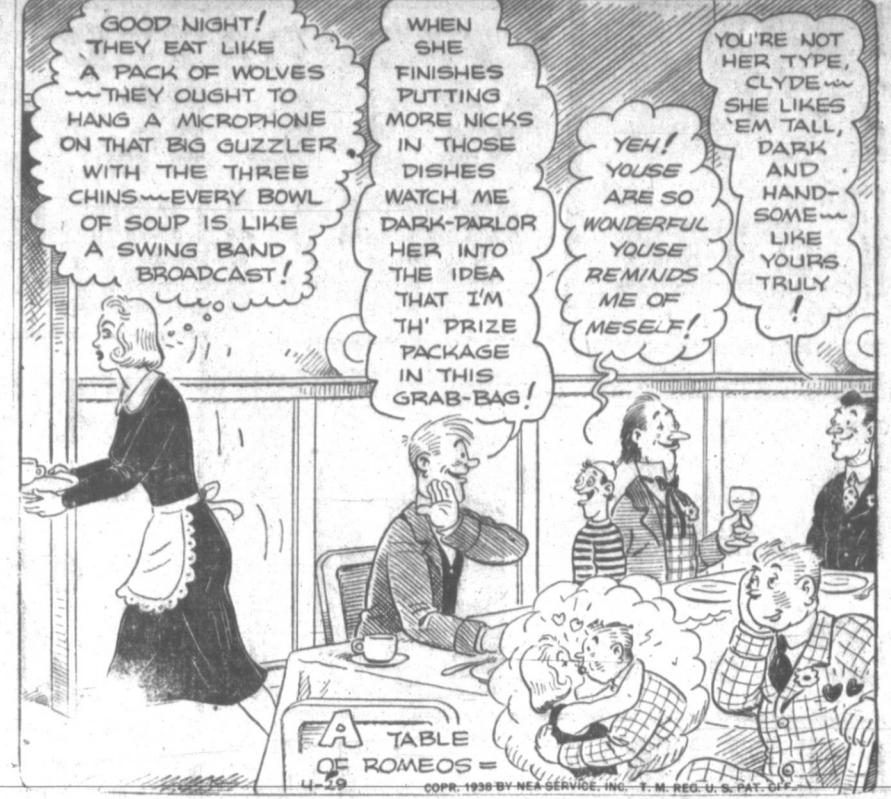

"It will be necessary that the properties be effectively administered if the government is to replace the substantial revenue which the industry has yielded through taxes and still meet the demands of laborers."

Mexico's record for paying for expropriated lands is not a good one, the speaker said, and the National Petroleum administration's record is not impressive.

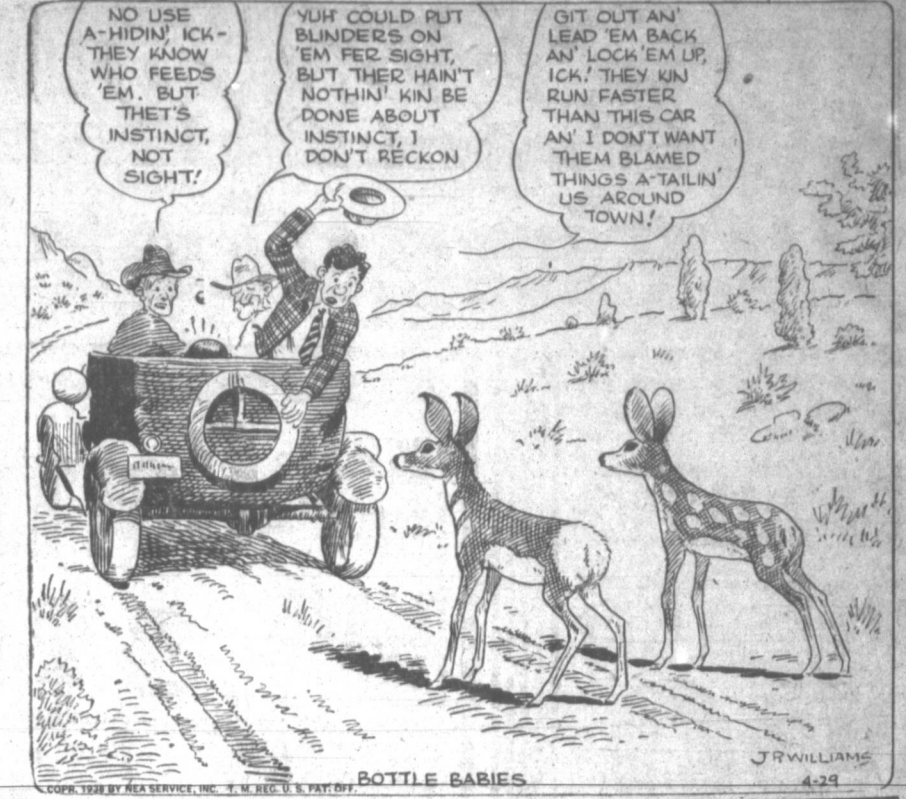

Stocking, formerly an economist for the National Industrial Conference board, addressed the club as part of the program of the institute of public affairs, sponsored by the Arnold foundation and the Carnegie endowment for international peace.

Vasco da Gama, Portuguese navigator, was appointed viceroy of India 20 years after his retirement as an explorer.

Oil Seizures Climax 20-Year Strife Over 'Black Gold' In Old Mexico

By NEA Service
 Mexican oil has been more or less of an international headache for more than 20 years. With the government rapidly moving to take over American oil properties and interests valued at around $200,000,000, a crisis has been produced which is the latest of a long series centered on the rich Mexican oil fields.

American oil interests in Mexico, considerable more valuable than British, have been decreasing for more than a decade. But they are still extensive.

Three great American companies, Standard of New Jersey, Standard of California, and Sinclair have interests in nearly 5,000,000 acres of Mexican oil lands, and maintain refineries, pipe lines, storage tanks, railroads and other equipment. They are the survivors of many companies which crowded into Mexico from the United States when the oil boom came to that country 25 years ago.

American Discoveries
 The Mexican oil fields were discovered, for practical purposes, by Americans. In 1909, E. L. Doherty and Charles A. Canfield began exploration, and blew in their first practical well in 1904, near Tampico. Lord Cowdray and his Dutch Shell interests were close on their heels.

Wild scenes such as that pictured above in the capital were staged in cities and towns all over the nation after President Cardenas announced the decree expropriating all foreign-owned oil properties. The crowds carried banners denouncing "foreign imperialism" and shouted exultant approval of the government action. More than 250,000 persons participated in the demonstration in Mexico City.

The present phase of the problem began in 1917 when a new constitution was adopted by Mexico, declaring for the nationalization of petroleum resources.

The World War had dislocated world oil markets by withdrawing the Russian fields from production, and the rush for oil that followed the war boosted the importance of the Mexican fields until at one time they were producing 25 per cent of the world's supply.

"Black Gold"
 There was a rush for Mexican oil lands and concessions. There was violence, and many a "rags to riches" tale. Tampico grew from a row of mud huts on the Gulf to a prosperous "boom town" around 1921-1922 was one of the maddest whirlwinds in the world.

There was big money to be had, and sometimes it was not without influence on the rapid changes in government which became a byword in the United States as "Mexican Revolutions."

But always the basic principals of the popular revolution of 1911 when Madero displaced Diaz, kept impressing themselves by popular demand in successive presidents. Beginning with 1917 and the new constitution, the nose began to tighten against foreign oil and other interests, and it has been tightening by fits and starts ever since.

In 1924 and again in 1927 confiscation was imminently expected under Obregon and Calles, but negotiations arrived at compromises.

Mexican labor, growing more aggressive and better organized, kept making higher and higher demands, taxes mounted. While the fields were still profitable the cream of the "old days" under Diaz was off.

In 1928 Ambassador Morrow arranged with President Calles settlement of the difficulties. This, generally speaking, guaranteed to pre-1917 operators the properties developed up to then, and conceded close government supervision over those developed since.

But President Cardenas succeeded Calles, the country swung still farther leftward, union workers' demands grew more peremptory. Cardenas claimed government royalties on all oil lands, whether public or private, whether pre or post-1917.

A long series of strikes and labor disputes culminated in the present policy of the Mexican government to take over the holdings, promising later indemnity, and operating them as a government enterprise.

One of the difficulties facing the Mexican government, now that it is obtaining the oil, is of finding a market for it. One proposal already made is to extend westward to the Pacific coast a pipe line leading from the oil fields to Mexico City. This would give Japan an opportunity to purchase Mexican oil without sending her ships through the Panama Canal.

What U. S. Interests Own
 The principal American interests are those of the Pan-American Foreign Corporation, controlled by the Standard of New Jersey. Through a long list of subsidiaries like American Petroleum Company, Tuxpan Petroleum company, Cia. Petroleo Ulises, and several others, Standard has (or had, one can not be sure at the moment) extensive Mexican properties.

They include 1,400,000 acres owned or leased in the Tampico area. It operates 750 miles of pipe line, a refinery at Tampico, storage tanks at Vera Cruz, 65 miles of railroad, pumping stations, shops, warehouses, and an extensive distributing system.

Continental Oil in Mexico, the Harry Sinclair (Consolidated) interest which had its origin in Maryland oil, controls 160,000 acres near Vera Cruz and has a railroad and pipe line from the Alama fields to Tuxpan, Penn-Mex Fuel Co. is its operating company.

Standard of California, through its Richmond Petroleum Co. of Mexico, owns (or owned) nearly a half-million acres. All these companies and also Cities Service Transportation company and others operate tanker fleets carrying Mexican oil from Gulf Coast ports.

With smaller companies, American firms are believed to have had control of about 5,000,000 acres of oil lands. The seizure by the government of these lands began last year with expropriation of 350,000 acres from Richmond Petroleum in Tabasco, Comanche and Chiapas.

Mexican oil production is now around 40,000,000 barrels of crude a year, scarcely more than a fifth of the 1921 figure of 193,397,000. Of this current production, 97 per cent is produced by foreign interests. Of this, British interests (chiefly Messrs. Esso, or Dutch Shell) produced 60 per cent. American firms, 37 per cent.

JIM FERGUSON SILENT ON WIFE'S CANDIDACY

AUSTIN, April 29 (AP)—Aside from reprinting a news story telling about the start of a "draft Ferguson movement," former Gov. James E. Ferguson maintained silence in his weekly publication today on the revived question of whether his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, will run for governor.

"If Bill McCraw and Ernest O. Thompson don't look out," he said in an editorial, "Tom Hunter or Karl Crewey or some of the other candidates will be putting out a platform directly opposed to what theirs are, and divide the vote and it will surely edge one of them out of the race—just which one, we can't tell just now."

"But if we concede for the sake of argument that McCraw and Thompson now are the two leading candidates of the eleven in the race then it is doubtful which one will finally win out. It would appear that McCraw being the best speaker and the best looking, the platform being the same, would win out in the last heat. This though would not offer much satisfaction to the people."

HOSPITAL COSTS LOWER AS DRUGS SHOW RISE

A decrease in hospitalization costs and an increase in drug costs were revealed in a speech made by County Justice Sherman White at a banquet of the Business and Professional Women's club here Tuesday night.

The hospitalization and drug costs represented money spent by Gray county for indigents, and indicated that it was cheaper to spend money for drugs than hospitalization.

Costs of drugs and hospitalization respectively for the period 1933-37 were: $241.14, $4,758.51; $117.80, $5,498.54; $396.88, $6,186.60; $952.99, $4,746.07; $1,526.87; $3,701.37.

HENS YIELD NO PROFIT
 BRISTOW, Okla. (AP)—The average Oklahoma hen lays 64 eggs a year doesn't pay for her keep.

Poultrymen of the Creek County Poultry Federation say a hen must lay at least 70 eggs a year before the farmer can make a profit on her.

The federation is attempting to find a way to do something about the low production average.

WILLINGNESS TO HELP.
 Text: Mark 7:14-29.
 By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.,
 Editor of Advance.

It is of no use to have vision for service unless one really serves; so it is fitting that a lesson on Receiving Vision for Service should be succeeded by a lesson on Following Vision With Service.

There has always been plenty of need in the world for those who could see it and were willing to meet it, and there is always plenty to do for those who have the vision of tasks that they are willing to perform.

Jesus commended with His disciples, taught them, and discussed various matters with them, but always they came back to the multitude, and always He enforced by His words and His example the fact that His religion was one of service. Here in our lesson we have a story of Jesus miraculously helping a young man who had been dumb from a child. In addition to his dumbness, he was afflicted with some form of insanity, and his sufferings were intense and pitiful.

The father of the young man, hearing of the fame of Jesus and His disciples, had brought the young man to the disciples in the hope that they were not able, Jesus rebuked their lack of faith, but there was a mildness in His rebuke at the end of the story where He says that the miracle could have been accomplished by nothing save by prayer.

those attributed to miraculous intervention, with the additional fact that these modern wonders are workable in every instance where the facts and conditions are the same.

We are living in a world of law, through faith and devotion leads us often to a higher law. The great teacher of a lesson like this, as of all the wonder-working miracles of Jesus, is regarding what can be accomplished if we are willing to use the means at our disposal. If, in our modern world with all who profess the name of Christ, there were the willingness to help and heal which Jesus displayed in His earthly life, what remarkable things might be accomplished in bringing health and restoration to millions in a suffering world!

All speculation and all controversy regarding such matters of faith healing—ancient and modern—become insignificant in the light of this great solid fact. If we could turn the minds and interests of all Christians toward this positive possibility of accomplishment if Christian peoples and churches were consecrated to do all in their power to strengthen and apply the healing agencies of a modern world, we should attain the highest practical result from studying a lesson like this.

MINERALS REQUISITE FOR HEALTHY TEETH

SAN ANTONIO, April 29 (AP)—Prevention of tooth ailments through protection of the teeth continued to be stressed by speakers at the fifty-eighth annual convention of the Texas State Dental society here today.

"Give children plenty of good plain food, and all good garden vegetables and they will have a good start toward developing strong, healthy teeth," Dr. Len W. Morrey of Chicago, director of educational service for the American Dental association, declared.

"A growing child needs plenty of minerals to produce good healthy teeth and vegetables are one of the finest sources," he added.

A course food which requires chewing should be added to each meal, Dr. Morrey said, adding that simple foods rather than highly seasoned foods are most healthful.

A NEW BRASSIERE GIRDLE with COMBINATION TALON and HOOK and EYE CLOSING

This closing is unique inasmuch as the Talon extends from the waistline down. Above the Talon fastener the brassiere section is closed with hooks and eyes. This prevents the possibility of the Talon buckling and insures smoothness and perfect comfort.

Henderson Style 12675

It is designed for the taller figure. The back sections are made of two-way stretch Lastex webbing; the front sections are Peach, Freshrunk Brocade-Bastine; bust sections of Alencon lace, cable net lined. The shoulder straps are adjustable.

Unusual Value $495

Style 12695, same model for shorter figures.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES
 901 North Frost Street
 "Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 1.

The Golden Text is: "Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?" (Ezekiel 18:23).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He taketh the wise in their own craftiness; and the counsel of the forward is carried headlong" (Job 5:13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mark Baker Eddy: "Truth bestows no pardon upon error, but wipes it out in the most effectual manner" (page 11).

The reading room in the church edifice is open Tuesday and Friday 2 to 4 o'clock.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and to use the reading room.

HEART DISEASE TAKES TEXAS PROFESSOR, 65

AUSTIN, April 29 (AP)—Jacob Lorenz Neu, 65, English instructor at the University of Texas, died of heart disease while eating breakfast today.

He is survived by a daughter, Lucille Mary Neu, instructor in Seguin high school, and two sons, Loren Jacob and Ernest George Neu. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Neu was a native of Breinham and had been instructor and president of Blinn Memorial college at Brenham before coming to the university in 1924. He held the B. A. and M. A. degrees from the university and had written several books on English and composition.

PHONOGRAPH RECORDS HELP 'SPEED-UP'

GLASGOW (AP)—They're rubbing the spots out of Scott's shirts these days to the martial strains of the "Grenadier Guards."

What they're doing to the buttons is not on record, but it's a fact that phonographs are blaring in Glasgow laundries and other such industrial plants as a novel phase of the "speed-up."

"Good-by" is a contraction of "God be with ye."
