Milo Edwin Carlson, 86

Milo Edwin Carlson, 86, died April 20, 2005, in Pampa, Texas.

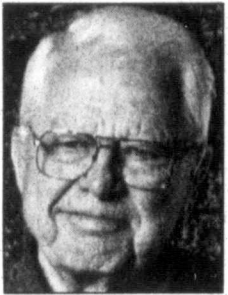

Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday, April 23, 2005, at the First Baptist Church with Dr. Johnny Funderburg, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Carmichael-Whatley Funeral Directors.

Born July 9, 1918, in Neosho County, Kansas, Milo was the only child of J.E. and Elsie Carlson, who preceded him in death. His family first came to Skellytown in 1927 and he graduated from Pampa High School in 1935. He worked afterwards in his father's construction company named J.E. Carlson, Inc. with headquarters in Pampa. He married Mary Pauline Leverett on April 2, 1939, and they recently celebrated their 66th wedding anniversary together.

Milo was a successful businessman and retired in 1986. His oldest son Jerry now owns the original construction company, now in its 68th year of continuous operation. Milo was also a faithful member and a Deacon Emeritus of the First Baptist Church, and served as Building Committee Chairman for the construction of the current sanctuary. He was also a dedicated citizen of Pampa. His civic service accomplishments include being the Mayor of Pampa from 1969 to 1972, and he served on the Pampa Zoning Board, Gray County Airport Board, and Pampa Industrial Foundation Board. During his two elected terms as Mayor, his outstanding leadership resulted in the construction of the M.K. Brown Civic Auditorium, Pampa Water Treatment Plant, upgrades to the park system, as well as many improvements in Pampa's governmental practices. Other personal accomplishments were highlighted by his 23 years of service to the Boy Scouts of America. He served as President of the Adobe Walls Council from 1970 to 1971, during which he was instrumental in the construction of Camp M.K. Brown. He was recognized for his service with the Silver Beaver Award in 1968. He is a charter member of the Senior Citizens

Board of Directors, and helped start the Senior Citizens Center. He was president of the Pampa Rotary Club in 1971-1972, and is a Paul Harris Fellow. He was honored as Man of the Year in Pampa by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in 1982.

On the personal side, Milo was an accomplished horticulturist and master of many artistic skills. As a young man, he was an avid amateur archaeologist, and a collector of plains Indian artifacts. In his middle age, he was an amateur gemologist and turned out beautiful fine jewelry work using precious stone faceting, silver- and goldsmithing, and investment casting techniques. Later in life, his artistic interests were focused on woodturning, and he created numerous art-quality pieces which won him first place awards at the Texas State Fair in 1989, and the honor of Pampa Fine Arts Association Artist of the Year for 1994-5. He was an avid outdoor sportsman and enjoyed hunting and fishing of all kinds, particularly on his family farm in Neosho County, Kansas. His love of flying, as an instrument-rated private pilot, complimented his business pursuits and recreational interests for more than 40 years. Milo was proud that all four of his sons received Mechanical Engineering degrees and achieved their own success in business. To his sons and many others he was a Mentor, Coach, Encourager, and Friend. He taught by example in living his life: Integrity, Honesty, Work Ethic, Kindheartedness, Compassion, Generosity and Love.

Milo is survived by his wife Pauline; sons and daughters-in-law, Jerry and Sherry Carlson of Pampa, John and Sue Carlson of Lindale, Texas, Jack and Karen Carlson of Houston, Texas, and Gene and Cindy Carlson of Aledo, Texas, as well as nine Grand-children, and 14 great-grandchildren.

Memorials may be to: First Baptist Church, P.O. Box 621, Pampa, Texas 79066, or Pampa Senior Citizens Center, 500 W. Francis, Pampa, Texas 79065.

evidentiary rulings of the trial court, denial of a motion for mistrial and denial of his motion for instructed verdict of not guilty. We address appellant's points four and five, in which he challenges the sufficiency of the evidence establishing the manufacture of methamphetamine," the judges stated in the appeals court document.

"The evidence presented is legally insufficient to show any of the procedures listed in the Act's definition of manufacturing," the document states. The Act referred to is the state's Controlled Substances Act, which defines "manufacture" of such substances.

"Viewed in the light most favorable to the verdict, the evidence presented at trial would not permit a rational trier of fact to find beyond a reasonable doubt that appellant manufactured methamphetamine.

"We sustain appellant's fourth and fifth points. That holding requires reversal of the judgment of the trial court and rendition of a judgment of acquittal. This disposition obviates the need to address appellant's remaining points," Campbell wrote in the court document.

"I think justice was served. I felt like he was mis-charged," said James C. Fling of Shamrock, Honeycutt's attorney for the appeal, in a telephone interview this morning.

Former 31st District Attorney Rick Roach and former Assistant 31st District Attorney David Holmes, now assistant district attorney in Hutchinson County, were the prosecuting attorneys in the 2002 trial of Honeycutt, Fling said. Roach also was the state's attorney in Honeycutt's appeal, Fling said.

Mike Hrin, an Amarillo attorney, was Honeycutt's legal counsel at the original trial in 2002, Fling said.

Telephone calls to Holmes, Hrin, and current 31st District Attorney Lynn Switzer were unsuccessful as of press time today. Switzer is out of the office today to attend a conference, according to office staff, and Holmes is in court today. Hrin was also out of his office.

Honeycutt may not be released from prison for up to another 76 days, Fling termed as a "sensitive and emotional issue."

"I really feel like it is good that all of you are here to make comments, but I think it would be unfair to each of you that came if we did not take the time to further investigate this matter," Curry said.

Before making the recommendation, Steele reported to the board that she felt the committee of elementary school principals and herself who proposed the redistricting as a solution to overcrowding in the two northern schools, Austin and Travis, "at least laid out every issue."

However, she said that the parent meetings have prompted two additions to the committee's proposal.

First, fifth grade students would be given seniority in the transfer process for the next year.

Second, for the first two weeks of school, all out of town district students would go to their quadrant school. After two weeks, they would be placed in the lottery if there was not enough room for placement of them at that quadrant school and all other transfers at the school.

After the two additions where made to the proposal, school board president, Joe Martinez, opened the meeting to public discussion by laying down ground rules and saying, "We would like to state that as a board, our goal is to provide the best education for each student in Pampa. We feel that each classroom offers an outstanding education for them."

During the public comments period, three alternative plans to redistricting were presented by citizens.

"I feel that making each campus devoted to a specific grade might be the best solution to this problem," Rev. Eric Horton, a pastor for a church in the disputed redistricting area, said.

According to Steele, this plan would affect 1,400 students next year, while the redistricting and new transfer plan would only cause 200 students to be shifted from one school to another.

Also proposed by three different speakers was the idea to hire more teachers and maintain the same boundary lines.

After it was reported by Haenisch that this would mean hiring eight new teachers for the northern schools, concerns were raised that the schools would have to pay $500,000 in payroll and they would face classroom shortages, with Austin current only having four empty classrooms and Travis holding one empty room.

"I think it would be dangerous for us to commit to more teachers at this point. It is a sad thing, but it is the reality of our budget," Johnson said.

The third option presented in public commits was to grandfather in students through the change of redistricting. This brought mixed feelings from the board members after Steele weighed the option for them.

'I think it would be dangerous for us to commit to more teachers at this point.'

— Jay Johnson
School board member

"Grandfathering is the easiest way to do this, and we would love that," she said. "But as a board, you need to know that we just don't have room for that option. I have been here for 20 years, and this is only the second time I remember discussion about changing the boundaries lines, but by the time the grandfathering is done, the overcrowding could be worse."

The public comments also brought up concerns over the transfer policies for children of district employees.

"As a taxpayer, I would like to see a preference given to the teachers for their children to be able to transfer to the school they work at. That is part of doing business, to make your employees happy," Al Ferguson, a grandfather of an out of town transfer student said as clapping and whistling erupted from the crowd gathered in the board meeting room.

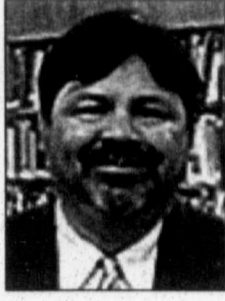

Also addressed by five speakers was the suspicion that some students in the district may be using false addresses so that they can attend the school they wish.

"My husband is in the Army. He has been gone for the past year and the next year. And you are asking me to give my daughter more change because someone lies about an address and makes her school overcrowded," Monica Vasquez, an Austin student's parent, said. After the close of public comments and almost an hour of discussion, board member Lee Porter commissioned Steele to complete a survey from the students affected by the change on how many will request to transfer back to the school they attended the previous year if the new lines were drawn.

Then Johnson added before motioning to table, "I think this is a decision we have got to make, but there might be more information. I think we have to wait on this."

SUNDAY: More action from Thursday's school board meeting.

Water

infrastructure. Satterwhite said they pretty well spent the first $55 million on the 94,000-acre purchase.

CRMWA provides water for 11 member cities, including Pampa.

In a statement issued Thursday afternoon, Pickens commended CRMWA for their purchase of water rights.

"CRMWA's and Mesa Water's combined purchases are exactly what Mesa has had in mind to create value for area water rights," Pickens said. "This is great for the ranchers to have two buyers for their water rights."

Pickens said the total purchases have brought between $75 million and $100 million to Roberts County ranchers.

Both Mesa and CRMWA this month sent offers to landowners in the region, offering to buy their water.

Pickens said Mesa is buying another 100,000 acres of water rights and plans to continue to buy water rights in Roberts, Gray and Hemphill Counties. With the additional purchase, Mesa now has 200,000 acres of water rights. He has said that he plans to increase that to 400,000 acres in Roberts, Ochiltree, Lipscomb and Hemphill Counties.

Satterwhite said he has been busy dealing with Roberts County and Carson County landowners this week. "It's been crazy," he said.

Satterwhite said he expects the majority of CRMWA's immediate water purchases to be made by next week.

'CRMWA's and Mesa Water's combined purchases are exactly what Mesa has had in mind to create value for area water rights.'

— Boone Pickens
Mesa Water Inc.

The water rights that CRMWA is buying, he said, are next to water rights owned by the City of Amarillo.

CRMWA is offering $1 per saturated thickness foot of the aquifer, Satterwhite said. The offer is only for water from the Ogallala Aquifer. "Our offer is based on price per foot," Satterwhite says. "It's a dollar a foot just like it's always been."

The amount of money a landowner can receive will depend upon the saturated thickness of the aquifer beneath his land and the amount of land involved.

Satterwhite had earlier predicted that this week would be busy. Mesa Water's offers were to expire today, Satterwhite said, so Roberts County landowners had to make some decisions.

Mesa spokesman, Jay Rosser, said Mesa Water has met its minimum purchase requirements and will now purchase all water offered by its group of interested landowners.

Mesa Water has given its group a choice of selling either 100 percent of their water at 110 percent of CRMWA's price or an undivided one-half interest in their water at prices valuing the water at an average of about $450 per surface acre.

Rosser said CRMWA's price is equal to an average of about $350 per surface acre.

said. "He has to wait until the mandate issues, which can be another 76 days," he said. Honeycutt has been incarcerated at the Texas Department of Criminal Justice's Cofield Unit at Tennessee Colony on the 75-year sentence, Fling said.

Roach is awaiting sentencing on a federal firearms charge.

He pled guilty to the charge Feb. 8 after his arrest Jan. 11 by federal agents on a charge of possession of methamphetamine.

Three charges concerning methamphetamine, cocaine, and addict or drug abuser in possession of a firearm(s) were added to Roach's indictment.

Roach resigned as 31st District Attorney on Feb. 8, the same day he pled guilty.

Voting

City Secretary Phyllis Jeffers.

"I think it's typical for the mayoral election. We seem to have a little bit higher turnout for those," she said.

Pampa Independent School District Board of Education ballots total 180 as of this morning in early voting at the administrative office, according to Kaye Roberts, school district voting clerk.

"I think it's a little heavy, which is great," she said of the number of early votes cast.

Early voting continues through Tuesday, May 3 for both elections.

Early ballots in the city election may be cast between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays in Room 205 of City Hall, 201 W. Kingsmill.

Voters in the school board elections may cast their early ballots at 321 W. Albert between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

Candidates for mayor are Lonny Robbins, incumbent; Paulette Hinkle; and Monty Danner.

Robert Dixon, incumbent, is facing Lana Miller for Ward 3 city commissioner.

Brad Pingel is challenging incumbent Jeff McCormick for Ward 1 city commissioner.

Incumbent Lance DeFever

is the only candidate in both city and school board races who is unopposed. He is running for re-election to Place 2 on the Board of Education.

Incumbent John Curry and challenger Derrel DeLoach are candidates for Place 1 on the school board.

Kenneth Cargill and Dana Terry are in a race for Place 3 on the school board. Incumbent Jay Johnson did not file for re-election.

Election Day is Saturday, May 7. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at M.K. Brown Civic Auditorium, where voters may mark ballots for both city and school board candidates.

Blame all problems on the Baby Boomers

I went to my first town hall meeting last week since my return to Pampa. It was quite interesting to meet/listen to the candidates seeking votes for political office in our fair community. To say the least, the campaigns and election will be very interesting and I look forward to expressing my opinion through the polling booth. What really caught my attention was the GOB network that was occurring during the question and answer session of the town hall meeting — that's Good Ol' Boy network for those of you not schooled in southern style politics — and to Closet Writer, certain Pampa solons know quite well how to use the GOB network. But, hey, GOB networks have always been Texas proud, and I'm not going to let Pampa's add to my already full plate — a full plate that has its share of A.D.D. moments. A.D.D. is short speak for Attention Deficit Disorder or, as a struggling student growing up in Pampa — "stupid" was the most common adjective used when someone asked me a question. Ahem. Yes, sometimes political correctness is more touchy feely, n'cest ce pas? Rather than insulting someone with "Hey, stupid."; one can just state his/her question with "Hey, you with the dysfunction." Where was I? Oh yes,

A.D.D., or, in Closet Writer speak, Always Distracted Dilemma. Once age 40 hit my calendar, always being distracted has resulted in a few dilemmas here and there.

I know I'm not the only Baby Boomer that suffers with A.D.D. After all, we Boomers had so many distractions while growing up. We Boomers are solely responsible for the thriving psychotherapy business today. Let me count the distractions for you naysayers. Before I go there, I'll agree my parents' generation had their fair share of distractions. They simply chose not to dwell/ complain/ cry about them.

We Boomers, with the Cold War; the threat of nuclear annihilation a strong possibility (can you spell P-A-N-T-E-X?); the Bay of Pigs; a president's assassination; Vietnam; the draft; etal — were able to make dwelling/ complaining/ crying an art.

Wonder why I'm so screwed up? The following was a nightmare I was forced to experience as a youth: The threat of nuclear war was so strong (have you spelled P-A-N-T-E-X, yet?) that — according to Architectural Digest — fallout shelters were the rave in the early 1960s. My family could not afford to build a fallout shelter and the closest family friend that had a fallout shelter was five blocks away. Closet Writer would have been vaporized before I had made it a block. I believe nuclear vaporization qualifies as a distraction? Don't you?

As a card-carrying member of the Baby Boomers suffering with Always Distracted Dilemma and a really, really full plate syndrome, the federal government is telling me I'm one of the reasons Social Security is going belly-up.

We Boomers have tried to minimize our psychotherapy visits and with adjunct drug therapy as an aid, we were getting close to our nirvana, but to include Baby Boomers in the bankruptcy of Social Security stiffens my hackles.

Our Congress. They haven't the hutzpah to place blame on the real culprit — Congress themselves. The downfall of Social Security was initiated with a so-called "Great Society" program called Medicare being fund-

Today in History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, April 22, the 112th day of 2005. There are 253 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On April 22, 1889, the Oklahoma Land Rush began at noon as thousands of homesteaders staked claims.

On this date:

In 1509, Henry VIII ascended the throne of England following the death of his father, Henry VII.

In 1864, Congress authorized the use of the phrase "In God We Trust" on U.S. coins.

In 1930, the United States, Britain and Japan signed the London Naval Treaty, which regulated submarine warfare and limited shipbuilding.

How shocking! A Catholic pope

Along with all those pick-and-choose American Catholics our pagan media is shocked ... shocked that the cardinals have picked a new pope who is a real, honest to goodness Catholic.

According to the current wisdom, the head of the Roman Catholic Church must conform to the customs and mores of the times — even if the times happen to be filled with such corruption as to make the decadence of ancient Rome appear virtuous by comparison.

That the 115 cardinals voting in the conclave failed to conform to the current wisdom and pick some wimpish equivocator who would bend with the winds that blow hither and yon and compromise with what the Church has taught for 2,000 years as evil proved to be incomprehensible to today's children of darkness who consider themselves to be an enlightened elite.

How, they ask, could a brilliant cleric and author of scholarly books such as Pope Benedict XVI not understand that opposition to such icons of modern thought and practice as abortion and homosexuality and militant feminism and unrestrained sexuality is an outmoded code of conduct. Get with the times, he is advised.

That he will not, because he cannot and remain faithful to his creed and his office, offends that small but vocal cadre of dissidents who call themselves Catholics yet reject the basic doctrines of the Roman Catholic Church. They remind me of those who we call RINOs — Republicans in name only, sometime-adherents of that brand of "Marxism lite," now the official creed of the Democrats.

They are the CINOs — Catholics in name only — adherents of the new religion of anything goes as long as it is acceptable to the majority. They are weeping and wailing and gnashing their teeth over the selection of Joseph Cardinal Ratzinger, unhappy with the reality of his papacy and writhing in frustration

U.S. must maintain ties with India

Long-time rivals - and occasional military adversaries - India and China recently announced the creation of a "strategic partnership" between the world's two most-populous nations. The agreement also settled some long-standing border disputes. While the U.S. government publicly welcomed closer cooperation between New Delhi and Beijing, the announcement is also a warning for this country.

The new Sino-Indian relationship partly results from Beijing's efforts to charm its neighbors - a welcome change from past belligerence.

But the underlying reason for the charm offensive is to build up China's influence in the international arena at the expense of the United States.

Chinese President Hu Jintao's triumphal tour of Latin America last November, with announcements that Beijing is investing tens of billions of dollars in the region, expanded the Middle Kingdom's influence in what Washington has long regarded as its sphere of influence.

The United States is indirectly subsidizing the expansion of China's worldwide economic influence.

Beijing's trade surplus with this country siphons off tens of billions of U.S. dollars every year.

China is investing only part of that to beef up its military forces and capabilities and to buy up U.S. government debt.

India's warmer relationship with the United States in the international war against terrorism. China also partly results from New Delhi's growing concern that the Bush administration is too close to Pakistan's military dictatorship. Although hostility between the two nuclear-equipped neighbors has eased recently, real peace remains a distant and illusive goal.

India is not pleased that Washington continues to cozy up to Gen. Pervez Musharraf, Pakistan's unelected president.

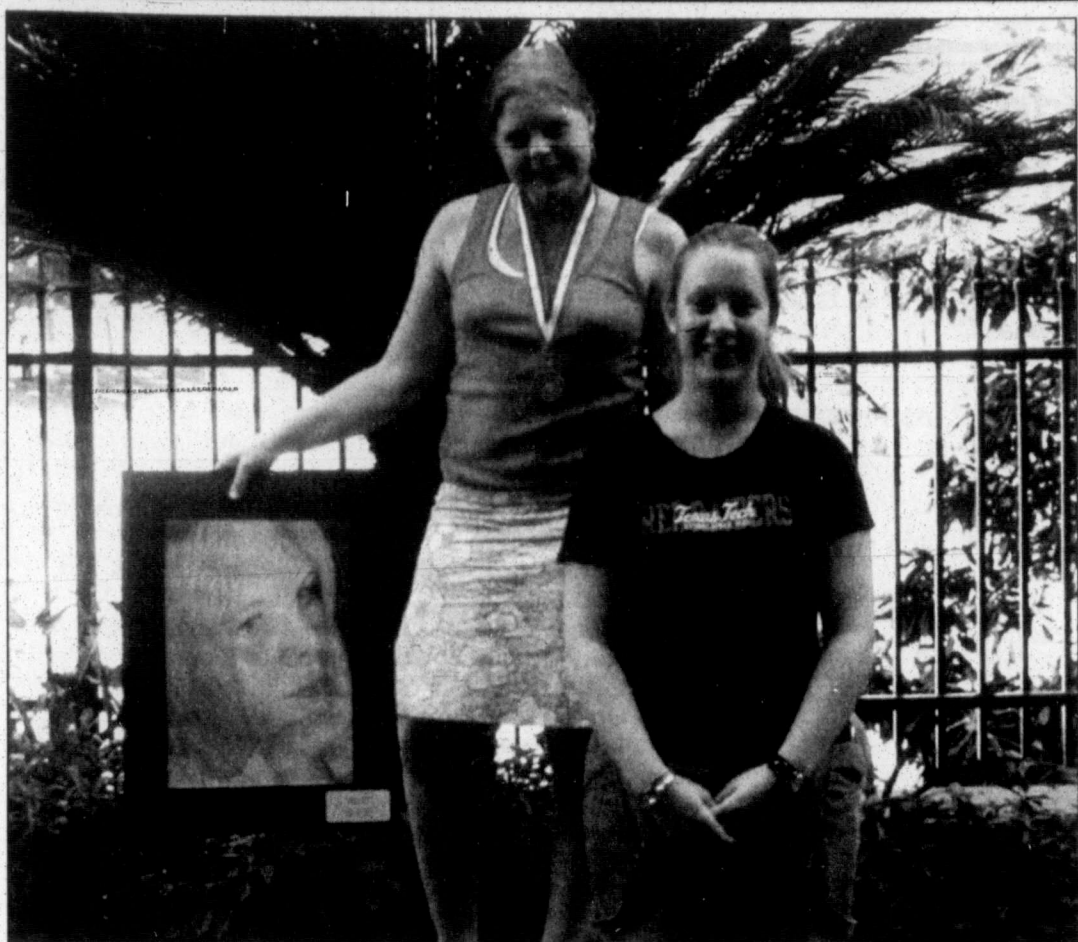

Before 9/11, Pakistan backed the Taliban regime in neighboring Afghanistan, which sheltered Osama bin Laden and some of his al-Qaida terrorist network. After 9/11, Musharraf broke with the Taliban and allied himself with the United States in the international war against terrorism.

All the while, the head of Pakistan's nuclear weapons

PHS art student earns superior at state event

Pampa High School student Christine Krobek received a superior rating at the Texas Art Education Association's Visual Arts Scholastic Event.

Krobek received a medal for being in the top 10 percent of the participating artists. Maikie Knutz was selected to participate as an alternate to the state event.

TAEA has sponsored the Visual Arts Scholastic Event (VASE) since 1992. Only academically eligible high school students in grades 9-12 from throughout Texas can participate. Regional Events are held at area high schools in February and the State Event is held in early April.

Medals were awarded to those students receiving a superior (Rating 4) rating in each division at the regional event. From among the over 10,000 entries statewide, approximately 1,400 entries that earn a superior rating were selected as finalists to go on to the state event held at the University of Houston at Clear Lake on April 16.

The art works are juried regionally by area artists, university instructors, and art educators for originality of concept, technical expertise, understanding of the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS), and the interpretation of the student's stated intent.

over their inability to force their church to make changes it cannot make and remain the Roman Catholic Church.

They needn't suffer. The answer is there and their church should help them see it and act on it. Every Catholic church in the U.S. should have maps of their area printed up showing the location of the nearest Episcopalian church with instructions on how to get there.

It's where they can find homosexual bishops, lesbian priests, sanction for abortion, the unfettered right to divorces and all those other practices the Catholic Church forbids under pain of mortal sin. It is the church that can't say no.

They'll be very comfortable there.

Actually, they have plenty of other options if they insist on affiliating with a church. There are 16,000 Protestant sects in the United States. They offer a huge variety of dos and don'ts (mostly dos). You can pick and choose.

The Catholic Church has been consistent for 2,000 years. They have been consistent for human life, and all the other doctrines handed down from the apostles.

Pope Benedict XVI is going to carry on that tradition and in world of turmoil it is good to have a church such as the Catholic Church that is steadfast.

Do they have problems? Yes, they've always had problems, but the church as a whole is the rock on which all Christianity is built.

program was running a black-market operation smuggling nuclear weapons technology to rogue nations. Musharraf and the other generals who rule Pakistan claim they did not know that was happening. India does not believe them, and with good reason.

Despite Pakistan's questionable reliability — many in the upper ranks of its military are sympathetic to or allied with Islamic fundamentalism — the Bush administration last year gave the country major non-Nato ally status, opening the door for sales of advanced weaponry. That worried India.

And it was premature because Musharraf shows little sign of returning the country to democracy. So long as a military dictatorship rules Pakistan, the United States should not arm it.

While the Bush administration pushes for democracy in the Middle East — even using that as a justification for having gone to war in Iraq — it inexplicably does not demand the same of Pakistan. This becomes yet more curious because India is the world's largest democracy, but Washington does not treat it nearly so well.

Last month's announcement that the United States would sell advanced F-16 jet fighters to Pakistan further annoyed New Delhi, which "announced new defense orders to Russia, Germany, Italy, Israel and even Qatar, worth a total of $746 million," the Asia Times online reported.

The Bush administration cannot afford to alienate India or push it into a closer alliance with China.

That is a significant loss for U.S. manufacturers of military equipment. More than that, it tells the White House that if Washington does not take India more seriously, New Delhi can manage quite well on its own, with a little help from new friend China.

India's Prime Minister Manmohan Singh is scheduled to visit the United States in July, and a senior U.S. State Department official recently said President Bush will visit India later this year or early next year.

Moving away from its Cold War-era studied neutrality, often accompanied by condescension toward the United States, India in recent years has built stronger, better ties with this country. The two democracies have many good reasons for a good relationship.

But Washington has to recognize the legitimacy of New Delhi's fears about Pakistan and the generals who run that neighboring country. The United States cannot take India or a strong relationship with it for granted.

The world's second-most-populous nation deserves greater U.S. respect and attention. The Bush administration cannot afford to alienate India or push it into a closer alliance with China.

Zion Lutheran's Creation study to begin Monday

On Monday, April 25, Zion Lutheran Church, 1200 Duncan, will sponsor the first of a series of four presentations on Creation and the significance of Genesis lead by Rev. Steven J. Misch of Borger.

This series of presentations will be covering biblical, scientific and historical references addressing the significance of Creation in the life of the church and the culture.

The first presentation will demonstrate the importance and relevance of Genesis. The second class, to be held on Monday, May 2, will address the question, "Did all of this take millions of years or just six days?"

The third class, to be held on Monday, May 9, will examine "The Flood and fossils." The final class, to be held on Monday, May 16, will address the importance of Creation Apologetics for the Christian in our culture. Each presentation will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall at Zion and will take about an hour including question-and-answer time.

As a pastor, Rev. Misch has served in The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod since 1982. Born in 1955, Steven was raised in Cloquet, Minn., as one of two children of the Rev. Ben Misch.

He received a bachelor of arts degree from Concordia College in St. Paul, Minn., after which he enrolled at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo.

During his high school years, Rev. Misch became interested in fresh water biology, astronomy and physics.

He read, researched and discussed the relationship of science and theology. Recognizing the danger of compromising the Word of God, Steven continued to read and research the debate between creation and evolution, learning the principles of each.

He has studied with Answers in Genesis and their teachers including Ken Ham, David Menton, David DeWitt, Carl Weiland, and Joseph Sarfatti.

Rev. Misch brings the perspective of Biblical languages, theology and the role of the authority of God's Word to the discussion of the relationship between faith and science.

Butterfly blessings

St. Matthew's Day School recently celebrated the miracle of life during a study of the life cycle of butterflies. Students watched as caterpillars made cocoons and eventually completed their metamorphosis into butterflies. Deacon Suzie Wilkinson blessed the butterflies before the students of St. Matthew's released them into the courtyard of the church. St. Matthew's students, Lauren Jones and Hunter Henderson, photo above, look closely at a lingering butterfly. Deacon Suzie Wilkinson, bottom left photo, holds a butterfly while Jacob Ebenkamp looks on in amazement. In the bottom right photo, Mathew Harvill holds the butterfly habitat during the blessing ceremony.

Praise God for teachers

Can you remember the teachers you had in school growing up? I'll bet you can rattle them off without hesitation and that many fond memories accompany their names.

What prompted this article was a conversation I had with a wonderful retired woman who used to teach school right here in Pampa. It was so exciting to hear/watch her still speak of those teaching days with zeal and joy and excitement.

She also shared a few personal "behind the scenes" stories that occurred during those years. I was amazed to hear of the struggles and heartaches and personal joys of many different teachers who I had known as a child, but never thought of as people with real lives.

As a child I just thought of them as teachers. One particular story reminded me of what a wonderful blessing from God most of our teachers were to our lives.

arranged for a doctor's examination, which led to an appointment with a doctor in Amarillo, which led to his admission into the hospital, which led to brain surgery. He died just a few days later.

This student was buried at one of our local cemeteries right here in Pampa. His family moved soon after. She spoke of the tears of many of the teachers over that child. I suddenly realized that as a child I just didn't ever think of teachers as "real" people with "real" feelings. She brought me to tears when she shared of how, many years later after she had retired from teaching, she was remembering that boy one day and decided to go out to his grave. When she got there she found a grave with no kind of marker. That very day she ordered and personally paid for a headstone for the boy's grave. That is the kind of teacher she was and the kind of person she is today. And she is not alone. Many of our teachers were and are awesome people who made this world a better place.

Her words this morning caused me to take a trip down memory lane with my elementary teachers. Mrs. Gibson, thanks for being my first teacher, I can still see your smile. Mrs. Barber, thanks for being my first crush on an older woman. Mrs. Treago, thanks for helping this lousy speller get a little better. Mrs. Gunn, thanks for helping me watch my speech a little closer. Mrs. Price, thanks for reading all of those books to us; I can still hear your voice and I still remember Bolgio. Mrs. Ogden, thanks for your kindness and sweet spirit with me when I certainly didn't deserve it. I also owe a debt of gratitude to many other teachers, too many to name.

All of us owe so much to magnificent teachers who loved us and loved teaching. Our lives were forever changed by their lives and their love.

May God bless with His grace and mercy each and every one of our teachers who are still living.

Thanks, we love you. God bless.

Calvary Baptist planning spring revival April 24-27

Bill Wright will be preach and Chris Crow will lead the music and youth sessions for Calvary Baptist Church's Spring Revival, April 24-27.

The revival takes place at the church, 900 E. 23rd, Sunday through Wednesday, April 24-27. Sunday services are 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Wednesday services begin at 7 p.m.

Noon meetings are scheduled from 12 noon to 1 p.m., Monday through Wednesday with Wright speaking as the audience eats an inexpensive meal - $3 for adults and $2 for children under 12. The lunch menu is as follows: Monday - lasagna, Tuesday - brisket, and Wednesday - stew.

Wright, a dynamic pastor that knows Panhandle people, has pastored many years in Texas, including the last 15 in the west Texas town of Plains.

Crow returns to his roots. He grew up in Pampa and began his music ministry at Calvary Baptist Church. He has played in bands and served in several churches.

Central Church of Christ to host gospel meeting

Members of Central Church of Christ, 500 N. Somerville, invite the public to a gospel meeting, April 24-29, featuring evangelist Chuck Durham of Mexia.

Service times are as follows: Sunday morning Bible Classes - 9:45 a.m. and Worship - 10:40 a.m.; Sunday evening - 6:30 p.m.; and week nights - 7:30 p.m.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Saturday, April 23, 2005:

You make what you want happen, especially in your daily life. You are the epitome of positive physical energy. As a result, you are quite willing to adapt and change your patterns. Friendship plays a big role this year. Either an important friend enters from left field or you find a longtime pal acting strangely. You evaluate your long-term desires and make choices that surprise even you. If you are single, you might meet someone who opens your eyes after October. This person could play an important role in your life. If you are attached, you can add to the quality of your relationship by being more nurturing. October christens a very warm period. you in your tracks. Don't permit your finances to cause a hassle either. Don't get hung up in the material world. Emphasize feelings. Tonight: Dance the night away.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

★★★ You could be causing your own problems. Someone might be pushing in a certain direction. Loosen up and honor your family values in a domestic matter. You can let go and enjoy yourself. Tonight: Get some rest before making any decisions.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

★★★★ You make an effort to deal with others. A negative thought could color your day, if you allow it to. Loosen up and permit more creativity to flow into your life. A partner or close friend surprises you. Be spontaneous. Tonight: A force to be reckoned with.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

★★★ How you structure your financial obligations could make a big difference. Expenses could be higher than you had anticipated. Think in terms of gains through accepting others. A partner could behave in a most unexpected manner. Tonight: Treat someone you care about.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

★★★★ You're all smiles, feeling as if nothing can go wrong. An authority figure might make a demand you don't feel comfortable with. Loosen up and understand what others expect. Plans change. Don't fight the inevitable. Tonight: The lead player.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

★★★★ Take in more information before declaring a situation one way or another. Use confusion as an indicator that you need to know more. A child or new friend could surprise you with his or her actions. Tonight: The later it gets, the better time you have.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

★★★★ You find happiness in groups and with others. You might look at life a lot differently because of a sudden insight or opening. Don't worry too much about someone close. You might need to work on being more flexible. Tonight: Stay with the crowds.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

★★★★ All eyes turn to you, whether as a role model or for help figuring out a problem. You're on top of your game. Be as diplomatic as possible with a difficult associate or loved one. A surprise communication charges your day with electricity. Tonight: In the limelight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

★★★★ Take an overview and detach, if possible. Your perspective could change if you become less triggered and more anchored. Walk in another's footsteps, if possible. A financial risk could pay off. Be reasonable with your risk-taking. Tonight: Follow the music.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

★★★★ Someone close to you is far more in control than you realize. Let this person do what he or she wants. You might surprise someone close with your actions. If you can, think before doing something a bit wild. Tonight: Let someone treat you to a special time.

THE PAMPA NEWS COMICS

Dear Abby...

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: I am a 24-year-old woman, married to a 44-year-old man I'll call Harlan.

The abuse didn't start until six months after we were married. It didn't happen often at first, so I felt like I deserved being hit. Three years into our marriage, Harlan kicked me until I curled up in the fetal position. Then he soaked me with lighter fluid and told me he'd be right back after he ran a tub of water so he could put me out after I burned. When he left, I jumped into my car and left for the first time.

Soon after, I met someone. He was a great guy and I wanted so badly to be happy, but after six months I returned to Harlan. Harlan had promised that things would be different and, at first, they were great -- until he started drinking again.

Then one day I got in the car with him, and he said we were going for a ride. He pulled out a pistol, pointed it at my head, and told me I'd never breathe again. He made me get on my knees and beg for my life.

Then he ordered me to get into the trunk of the car. I refused, and he fired a shot. The bullet buzzed past my head. Next, he told me to get back in the car next to him. He pointed the gun in my direction and fired. I lost the hearing in my left ear and had severe headaches for months afterward.

You would think after all that I'd leave and never come back, because each time I do it gets worse. I have reported Harlan to the police and they had evidence against him, but still refuse to do anything. My heart is aching and I feel like I am to blame. Please help me. I love my husband, Abby, but I know in my heart if I don't go I'll end up badly hurt. -- HURTING IN OKLAHOMA

DEAR HURTING: Your letter curled my hair. If you don't leave your husband you will wind up DEAD. Although you love him, you must wake up and recognize that his abuse has nothing to do with you and everything to do with him. He is sick, without the normal controls that people need to function in a healthy relationship, and he is dangerous.

When dealing with a personality like your husband's, you must be very careful about leaving. The people at the National Domestic Violence Hotline can help you formulate an escape plan. Their toll-free number is (800) 799-7233. (They also have a TTY number for the hearing-impaired: (800) 787-3224.) Once you are safely away, you will need psychological help to break this cycle, and I pray that this time you'll get it. You will have to make a new start, and mental health professionals who deal with domestic violence can help you accomplish it. I wish you luck.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago, my smart, funny and caring (then) 16-year-old son, "Will," told me he was gay. I was, and am, very supportive and told him my only wish is for him to be happy. At that time, I asked Will to tell his father, and he said he would -- when he was ready.

Two years have passed and still not a word to Dad. I have told Will that I feel his father will be supportive. My son knows that we have gay friends, and he has never heard either of us utter a derogatory word about gays. I don't feel it's my place to tell my husband, but I feel awful that I have known for so long. I'm worried that my husband will be hurt if he finds out just how long I have known without informing him. Should I go ahead and tell my husband, or wait until Will is ready? -- MOM OF A WONDERFUL GAY SON

DEAR MOM: Talk to Will and find out why he won't come out to his father. Your son may have his reasons. However, two years is a long time to carry a "secret" like this one, so tell him that the burden of silence has grown heavy for you. Offer to be with him when he talks to his dad -- but do not betray the con-

Pampa News photos by MICHAEL J. STEVENS

Pampa catcher James Coffee (foreground) has been a solid fixture behind the plate for Harvester hurlers throughout the season. Despite an early hand injury, Coffee has played a pivotal role in Pampa's march toward a District 3-4A title.

District titles within reach of both Pampa ball teams

By MICHAEL J. STEVENS
Sports Editor

Lady Harvesters

The Lady Harvesters have two huge games ahead of them over the next 24 hours. Games that will not only mark the end of the regular season, but will determine Pampa's District 3-4A playoff placement as well. The Lady Harvesters are still very much alive for a 23-win regular season and the district title.

Both the Pampa varsity baseball and Lady Harvester softball teams begin an exciting 24 hours this afternoon, in which both teams can either clinch or further advance their district title hopes and playoff positions.

Both teams have home games this afternoon, and travel to Amarillo for games tomorrow.

Varsity Boys

Pampa (18-5, 6-0) will take to Harvester Field this afternoon with its destiny firmly in its own hands. Get by Hereford today, and Palo Duro tomorrow, and the Harvesters all but sew-up the District 3-4A title and serve as the No. 1 seed in the playoffs. The Harvesters will close out the season next week against Dumas (Tuesday) and Caprock (Saturday).

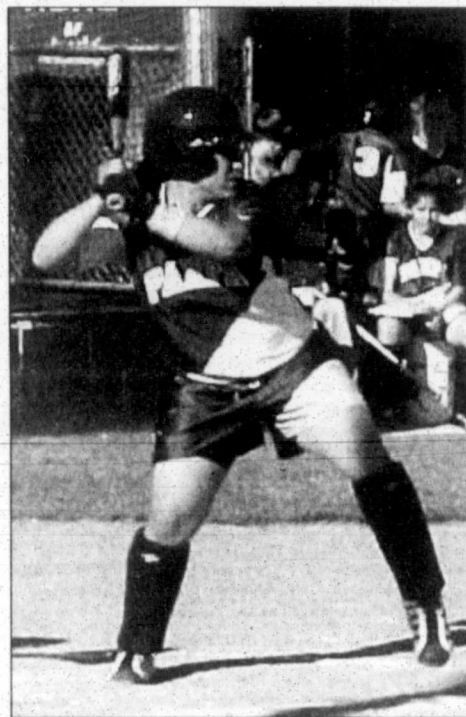

First things first. Pampa must come away with a win against Hereford today. The Whitefaces, who defeated Caprock last Saturday, can be a feisty bunch. Head Harvester, Dennis Doughty, knows this all too well.

"Twice in my career, Hereford has ended a Pampa undefeated district streak. They will come ready to play today."

Doughty notes that his team has enjoyed a great week of practice, but will still need to leave its best on the field today if the juggernaut is to continue.

Taking the hill for the Harvesters this afternoon will be Tyson Hickman (6-0).

Game time will be 4:30 p.m.

Cassidy Tice, seen in a game earlier this season, has had a solid year at the plate as well as in the pitcher's circle for the Lady Harvesters.

But in order to accomplish that feat, Coach Gill and her team will need to muster a home field win against rival Dumas this afternoon. The Demonettes and Lady Harvesters will take to the field at 4:30 p.m. with identical district marks of 7-1. Both have clinched playoff births. Today's winner will most likely claim the district title as well with but one game remaining. At the very least, today's winner will be in the driver's seat to claim the title.

Dumas has been a challenge for Pampa this season. It seems each time they have met, the Demonettes manage to sneak by the Lady Harvesters by a run or two. However, it would appear Pampa has all the elements in place to assure a victory today. The game is at Lady Harvester Field. The home crowd should be big and loud. And these girls know now what they are capable of. It should be a great game.

Cassidy Tice will start at pitcher for Pampa this afternoon.

It won't get any easier for Pampa tomorrow, as they girls will travel to Amarillo to face Caprock in a game scheduled to start at 1 p.m.

MEETINGS AND EVENTS

POYC meeting tonight

By MICHAEL J. STEVENS
Sports Editor

The Pampa Optimist Youth Club will hold a meeting at the POYC building tonight at 7 p.m. The meeting is being held to discuss the upcoming raffle ticket fund-raiser. All team moms need to attend. If a team does not have a team mom, the coach must attend. It is also important that all leagues be on had for this evening's meeting.

No more Nomar for a while, Cubs shortstop on 15-day DL

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Chicago Cubs shortstop Nomar Garciaparra will be sidelined at least two to three months because of a torn left groin.

Garciaparra was placed on the 15-day disabled list, one day after he got hurt while leaving the batter's box during a game against St. Louis. Cubs trainer Mark O'Neal said the muscle pulled away from the bone.

The Cubs, doctors and Garciaparra will decide in the next 10 days whether an operation is needed.

HOUSTON (AP) — Milwaukee Brewers pitcher Ben Sheets was hospitalized with an ear infection after complaining of nausea and dizziness.

Sheets was examined by Astros team doctor James Muntz and diagnosed with an inflamed nerve in his inner ear, or vestibular neuritis, the same ailment that caused him to miss a start last May.

Astros sneak by Brewers, 8-7 Pampa Picassos

HOUSTON (AP) — Andy Pettitte wouldn't get too excited over his first win since last July.

Pettitte pitched seven strong innings, Willy Taveras had an RBI triple and the Houston Astros held on for an 8-7 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers on Thursday night.

Pettitte (1-1), who had season-ending elbow surgery Aug. 13, scattered five hits, gave up three runs and struck out five in his fourth start of the season. He last won on July 21 against Arizona. It was also the left-hander's first home win since beating the Mets on May 15.

"Everybody else had a win so I was starting to get a little grouchy," Pettitte said. "It was nice to get the first win on the board after my surgery, but I gave up that home run to (Geoff) Jenkins on a bad pitch. I'm just still dealing with a lot of stuff with my arm. I'm not close to being there. My first few starts, I would tighten up early and then loosen up later in the game. Tonight, I tightened up later."

Pettitte originally hurt his elbow batting in his Astros debut last year, his first in Houston after nine seasons with the New York Yankees. On Thursday, he had a sacrifice fly to give the Astros a 6-1 lead.

Astros manager Phil Garner certainly had no complaints.

"Andy pitched well," Garner said. "He had better velocity this time, though perhaps his control wasn't as good. But I'm glad to see him get a win. He has been throwing well this year. He could very easily have won all of his games."

Trailing 8-3 in the ninth the Brewers rallied for four runs, highlighted by Brady Clark's three-run homer off closer Brad Lidge with two outs.

Lidge, who was called on to face Clark, then struck out Junior Spivey for his fifth save.

"As down as our team has been, there was definitely some positives," shortstop J.J. Hardy said. "To get some runs off their better pitchers, it was a great thing for Brady."

Manager Ned Yost agreed.

"There were some good signs out there tonight offensively," Yost said. "We're starting to show some signs of coming out. Not many things are going our way but you see some bright side of the tunnel with the way we came back."

Doug Davis (2-2) went 5 1-3 innings and allowed six runs — five earned — on five hits and four walks for Milwaukee. He struck out four.

Davis loaded the bases in the fourth inning with no outs before getting Chris Burke to pop out for the first out.

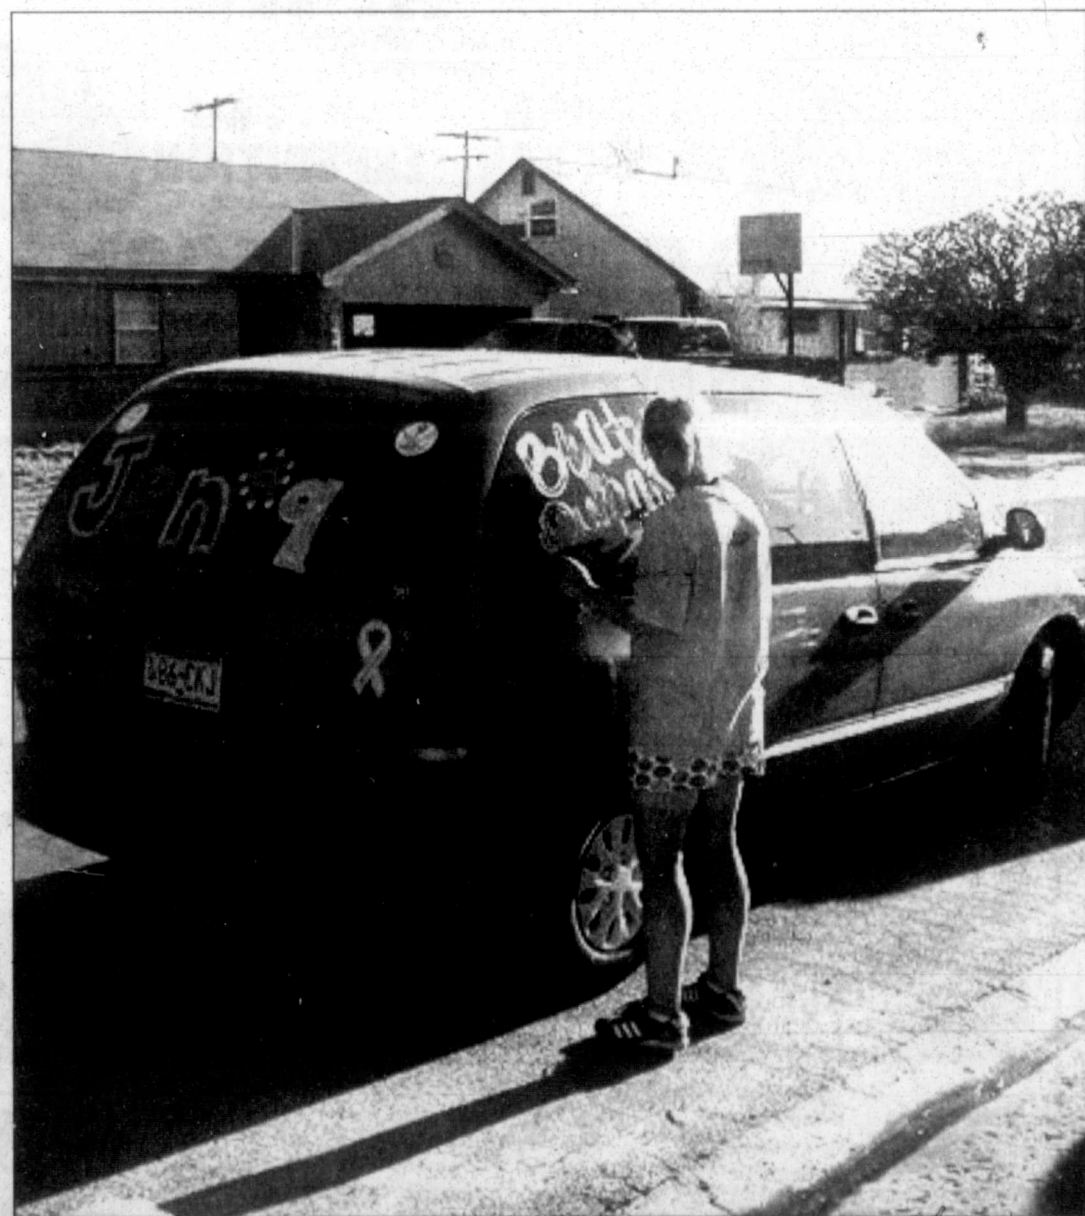

Brad Ausmus then hit an easy grounder to third baseman Wes Helms, whose throw to second went into center field for an error and gave Houston its first two runs.

Milwaukee got a run back in the fifth inning when Jenkins doubled off the center-field wall, went to third on a groundout and scored on Helms' grounder to third.

The Astros scored four in the sixth inning to go up 6-1. Burke had an RBI double, Ausmus a run-scoring single, Taveras an RBI triple that chased Davis and Pettitte added a sacrifice fly off reliever Wes Obermueller.

Jenkins hit a two-run homer into the Crawford boxes in left in the seventh inning to close it to 6-3. Jenkins finished 2-for-3 with three runs.

Ensberg's RBI single to left stretched the lead to 7-3 in the seventh and Craig Biggio was hit by a pitch from Matt Wise with the bases loaded in the eighth to make it 8-3.

Armstrong posts poor finish at Tour de Georgia time trial

ROME, Ga. (AP) — Lance Armstrong finished a disappointing ninth in a time trial at the Tour de Georgia, nearly two minutes behind the winner in a go-all-out style of cycling he usually dominates. Another American, Floyd Landis, won the third stage in 39 minutes, 58.09 seconds. The other spots on the podium also were claimed by U.S. riders — David Zabriskie in second and Christopher Baldwin third.

Manning snub still paying off for Chargers

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Chargers are still living large off Eli Manning's snub. When they use the first of their two first-round picks Saturday — assuming they don't move up or down — it will be courtesy of the quarterback who told the Chargers that he didn't want them to select him first overall last year.

Of course, these being the Chargers, they don't get all the breaks. The first-round pick they got from the Giants could have been higher, but Manning got his first career victory in the season finale, rallying New York to a last-minute win over Dallas.

Chargers general manager A.J. Smith took Manning anyway, made him squirm for about an hour, then dealt him to the New York Giants for quarterback Philip Rivers and a handful of picks, including the Giants' first-rounder this year.

So the defending AFC West champion Chargers will have the 12th pick overall, as well as their own first-rounder at No. 28.

As it turned out, the Chargers didn't even need Rivers. Drew Brees, all but tossed out on the street last off-season by his own front office, kept the starting job and led the Chargers to a 12-4 record and their first playoff berth in nine seasons. He was selected the NFL's Comeback Player of the Year and got a huge jump in pay to just more than $8 million for 2005 after being tagged as the Chargers' franchise player.

Although All-Pro tight end Antonio Gates became the Chargers' go-to guy last year with 81 catches for 964 yards and 13 touchdowns, the Chargers need a wide receiver to play opposite Keenan McCardell. They also need a defensive end to pump up their weak rush, which in turn led to the Chargers having one of the worst pass defenses in the league.

Most mock drafts have the Chargers taking either a receiver or defensive end with the 12th pick. The pokerfaced Smith is loathe to let any secrets slip.

After Singh came Australians Gavin Coles and Brendan Jones. Eight players were at 67. Six others, including John Daly, were another shot back.

Singh ties record

HUMBLE, Texas (AP) — Fresh from inclusion in the World Golf Hall of Fame, Vijay Singh tied the course record with an 8-under-par 64 for a one-shot lead after the first round of the Houston Open.

The 42-year-old Fijian, No. 2 in the world rankings, extended his streak of par or better to 56 holes at the Redstone Golf Club, where he won this event a year ago.

Singh was announced Wednesday as the latest inductee into the Hall of Fame.

MORELIA, Mexico (AP) — Natalie Gulbis shot a 6-under 66 to take a two-stroke lead in the Corona Morelia Championship, while Lorena Ochoa struggled to a 71 in her second LPGA Tour event in her homeland.

Sweden's Carin Koch was two strokes back at 68 along with Audra Burks.

1 Public Notice
TEXAS COMMISSION ON ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY NOTICE OF APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY DECISION FOR WATER QUALITY LAND APPLICATION PERMIT AMENDMENT OF MUNICIPAL WASTEWATER PERMIT NO. WQ0010354001
 APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY DECISION. City of McLean, P.O. Box 9, McLean, Texas 79057-0009, has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for a major amendment to Permit No. 10354-001, to authorize a change in the current method of disposal of treated domestic wastewater from evaporation to surface irrigation. The proposed amendment requests to authorize the disposal of treated domestic wastewater at a daily average flow not to exceed 140,000 gallons per day via surface irrigation on 55 acres of agricultural land. The current permit authorizes the disposal of treated domestic wastewater at a daily average flow not to exceed 280,000 gallons per day via evaporation on a minimum volume of 33.6 acre-feet. This permit will not authorize a discharge of pollutants into waters in the State. This application was submitted to the TCEQ on September 30, 2004. The facility and existing disposal site are located approximately 0.25 mile southeast of the city limits and one mile south of Interstate Highway 40 in Gray County, Texas. The proposed effluent disposal site will be located 3,000 feet south of the intersection of old Interstate Highway 40 and Farm-to-Market Road 3143 in Gray County, Texas. The facility and disposal site are located in the drainage basin of South Long Dry Creek in Segment No. 0200 of the Red River Basin. The TCEQ executive director has completed the technical review of the application and prepared a draft permit. If approved, would establish the conditions under which the facility must operate. The executive director has made a preliminary decision that this permit, if issued, meets all statutory and regulatory requirements. The permit application, technical summary and executive director's preliminary decision, and draft permit are available for viewing and copying at the City of McLean, City Hall, 220 North Main Street, McLean, Texas. PUBLIC COMMENT / PUBLIC MEETING. You may submit public comments or request a public meeting about this application. The purpose of a public meeting is to provide the opportunity to submit written or oral comment or to ask questions about the application. Generally, the TCEQ will hold a public meeting if the executive director determines that there is a significant degree of public interest in the application or if requested by a local legislator. A public meeting is not a contested case hearing. Written public comments and requests for a public meeting should be submitted to the Office of the Chief Clerk, MC 105, TCEQ, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, TX 78711-3087 within 30 days of the date of newspaper publication of the notice. OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING. After the deadline for public comments, the executive director will consider the comments and prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. The response to comments, along with the executive director's decision on the application, will be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments or who requested to be on a mailing list for this application. If comments are received, the mailing will also provide instructions for requesting a contested case hearing or reconsideration of the executive director's decision. A contested case hearing is a legal proceeding similar to a civil trial in a state district court. A contested case hearing will only be granted based on disputed issues of fact that are relevant and material to the Commission's decision on the application. Further, the Commission will only grant a hearing on issues that were raised during the public comment period and not withdrawn. Issues that are not raised in public comments may not be considered during a hearing. EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR ACTION. The executive director may issue final approval of the application unless a timely contested case hearing request or a timely request for reconsideration is filed. If a timely hearing request or request for reconsideration is filed, the executive director will not issue final approval of the permit and will forward the application and requests to the TCEQ Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting. MAILING LIST. In addition to submitting public comments, you may ask to be placed on a mailing list to receive future public notices mailed by the Office of the Chief Clerk. You may request to be added to: (1) the mailing list for this specific application; (2) the permanent mailing list for a specific applicant name and permit number; and / or (3) the permanent mailing list for a specific county. Clearly specify which mailing list(s) to which you wish to be added and send your request to the TCEQ Office of the Chief Clerk at the address above. Unless you otherwise specify, you will be included only on the mailing list for this specific application. INFORMATION. If you need more information about this permit application or the permitting process, please call the TCEQ Office of Public Assistance, Toll Free, at 1-800-687-4040. General information about the TCEQ can be found at www.tceq.state.tx.us. Further information may also be obtained from City of McLean at the address stated above or by calling Toni Bohlar at 806-779-2481. Issued: Apr. 13, 2005, C-12 Apr. 22, 2005
