

Recreation Called A Function Of City Government WAGE-HOUR BILL NEAR VOTE IN HOUSE

FUNDS SHOULD EQUAL POLICE, SAYS EXPERT

Expert opinion of Pampa's recreation problem was given a group of local citizens at two meetings yesterday by Eugene Lies, south-western representative of the National Recreation Association, New York.

At a public meeting held at 8:15 o'clock last night in the city commissioners room in the city hall building, Mr. Lies further amplified the talk he made at a luncheon yesterday at the Schneider hotel.

Mr. Lies saw the grouping of the buildings on the Pampa High school campus as an excellent nucleus for a community center.

He praised Pampans for the work they had already done in providing recreation, such as the summer program, and mentioned the number of available sites for playgrounds.

"There is already in Pampa the existing interest in recreation," Mr. Lies said at the luncheon yesterday. "The need is to channelize that interest and secure the results you want."

"Cities of the first and second class were forced long ago to do something about recreation, and now the smaller cities are coming forward with the Macedonian cry, 'Come over and help us.'"

Play Not Forderol "There comes a time when there is a need of pooling experience, of joint planning, and concentrated effort."

"A generation ago there was not so much leisure. Some go on in the old way of thinking, that play is simply waste, forderol. This is not so. Play is an important part in our lives today, in living a full, complete life, in making worthwhile citizens."

"Wrong use of leisure labels a town, gives it a 'bad name.' When we think of play we think of the most important thing in a balanced order of living. Children can't grow up right with the wrong kind of recreation."

Cities Milwaukee Milwaukee was cited by the speaker as a splendid example of how important recreation is to a municipality. The Milwaukee program is for the children, youths, adults, and the aged. There are activities for all, from "jackstones to drama in three-acts from jackstones for children to radio listening, singing and sewing for the oldersters."

That recreation was just as much a function of city government as

TWO KILLED, 3 HURT IN CRASH NEAR PECOS

PECOS, May 24 (AP)—Two persons were killed and three injured in an automobile collision eleven miles east of here last night.

The dead were Novice Louise Everett, 2, and J. C. Jackson, 19, both of Madill, Okla.

Mrs. Joe Everett, about 50, mother of Novice, was critically injured about her head, and her recovery was held doubtful. Winston Everett, 25, and Francis Rawlings, 25, also were injured. Everett seriously. All were in Pecos hospital.

State highway patrolmen prepared charges of driving while intoxicated for filing against the driver of the automobile in collision with the machine of the Oklahoma party. The driver and a companion were being held in Reeves county jail.

The Oklahoma party was traveling westward from Madill to Carlsbad, N. M., on a trip arranged as a graduation treat for J. C. Jackson. The cars collided in the middle of the highway, the Oklahoma vehicle overturning and pinning its occupants beneath.

San Luis Potosi Uprising Stirs Mexico

Representative of the great class of Mexican communal farmers who shoulder rifles as they go about each day's work are these ejidatarios of San Luis Potosi state, seat of the newest plotting against the Cardenas regime in Mexico. Fighting between "bandits" and government air forces occurred in San Luis Potosi after President Cardenas move to suppress recent uprisings. Reports to Mexico City said the "bandits" were armed by Gen. Saturnino Cedillo, head of this central Mexican state.

Here is the scene of Mexico's latest unrest, San Luis Potosi state, only a few hours ride north from Mexico City. War lord of the state is Gen. Saturnino Cedillo, inset. As Cardenas moved 10,000 troops into the state to restore "tranquility," members of Cedillo's family fled across the U. S. border to Laredo, Texas. Cedillo was reported ready to follow, possibly to confer in San Diego with Plutarco Elias Calles, former Mexican "strong man."

Officials of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics were visitors in Pampa yesterday afternoon when they met with Chamber of Commerce and Scout leaders regarding plans for camps, etc., at Lake McClellan. BROWN YOUTH ON PROBATION

A five-year suspended sentence was assessed James Brown, 15-year-old Pampa youth, in U. S. District Court at Amarillo yesterday, by Judge C. C. Wilson. The Pampa boy will be subject to a probation officer of the court.

Brown was charged with extortion in connection with letters written to F. S. Brown, owner of the Standard Food stores, demanding payment of $1,000, to be left at Harvester park. F. S. Brown and the youth are not related.

The youth was shot three times at Harvester park on the night of April 2, when he ran as officers closed in on him after the boy had been given possession of a dummy packet, which he thought contained the money he demanded.

He was taken to a local hospital, where he later recovered, was charged, and posted bond.

Completion of Brown's school work was emphasized in the talk Judge Wilson made to the youth, county officers said.

SURVIVOR OF SUICIDE PACT MAY ESCAPE CHAIR

NEW YORK, May 24 (AP)—Pale and solemn, 16-year-old Donald Carroll today escaped possible death in an electric chair when the state called for a "fair and just verdict without meaning the death penalty," in connection with the slaying of his stenographer sweetheart, Charlotte Mathison, 18.

Prosecutor Joseph V. Loscalzo, in a 12-minute opening address, told the all-male jury: "I realize you men are weighed down by sympathy, and frankly I say to you I am of the same feeling."

The mother of the slain girl, sitting with Donald's parents in the courtroom, wept as Loscalzo reviewed the events of the night of March 24, when he said Donald shot his sweetheart with his father's army revolver in an unfulfilled suicide pact "because we decided death was the only way out for us both."

They decided on the death pact, Loscalzo said, when they discovered that Charlotte was pregnant and they were caught up in despair at their poverty and youth.

Donald drooped in his chair, leaning his head against his hands and staring at the floor as the prosecutor, Loscalzo said, when they discovered that Charlotte was pregnant and they were caught up in despair at their poverty and youth.

"The people expect to prove that the defendant willfully, feloniously and with forethought shot his sweetheart."

TENSION OVER MEXICO EASES, SAY OFFICERS

MEXICO CITY, May 24 (AP)—A competent neutral military observer said today the Lazaro Cardenas government apparently was not "taking very seriously" Gen. Saturnino Cedillo's uprising in San Luis Potosi.

Defense ministry officials—the first not on vacation—showed only desultory interest in dispatches from the war zone, this source said, and were described as feeling President Cardenas was merely "playing safe" in concentrating six infantry battalions, seven cavalry regiments, 18 warplanes and assorted units of specialists in the state.

Dispatches filtering through military channels yesterday indicated General Genovevo Rivas Guillen, state military commander, was using planes for the first time to bomb rebel concentrations operating in scattered areas.

But the effects of the bombardments about Cardenas, Las Tablas and Canas were not revealed.

Persons familiar with the geography of San Luis Potosi and adjoining states expressed the belief Cedillo reported yesterday to have set up headquarters at Montebello, about eight miles east of his captured estate Las Palomas, would move slowly eastward toward the wider country around Morelos Highway to the Mexico-Laredo highway.

Wheat, cattle and gums are to be had there in abundance, it was said, and with the rainy season approaching, Cedillo might hold out for months—as he did for years against Carranza.

Meanwhile, Rufillo Alamilla Valdes, secretary of state of San Luis Potosi, who fled the capital of that state Saturday night, was arrested here when police gained access to the house where he was hiding by posing as a mailman.

Alamilla served under Gov. Mateo Hernandez, Negro, who also fled Saturday night.

Government soldiers sprawled on the front porch of the Cedillo estate revealed the handful of Cedillistas

UN-AMERICAN DOINGS SHOCKING, SAYS DIES

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Rep. Dies, Democrat, Texas, said today a proposed House investigation of un-American propaganda would "result in disclosures that will shock the nation."

His resolution for an inquiry probably will come before the House Thursday. Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas predicted it's adoption.

"We are going to have a thorough inquiry not only in Washington, but in New York and Philadelphia," Dies said.

While the resolution mentions no specific groups, its proponents have said it would center attention on Nazi, Fascist and Communist organizations which might be carrying on un-American activities.

This Cat Story Makes Up For That One Trout

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 24 (AP)—W. Artesan Scott and James Bell were back from a Maine fishing trip today, loaded with trout and one very tall tale.

"The story has to do with a cat," said Scott, "a cat, with a wooden leg. Listen."

"We stayed at a fisherman's cabin and were startled by a series of sharp, slaccato taps on the ceiling.

"The owner of the cabin told us the noise was made by his cat. 'He has a wooden leg,'" Scott said the owner explained. "Last winter he got caught in a trap and before I found him his right front paw had frozen stiff. I amputated it with a knife. I whittled a wooden leg for it out of a piece of hardwood."

"So," said Scott, "the fellow called the animal downstairs and sure enough it had a wooden leg—fastened to its shoulder by a splint.

"Just then a big rat appeared and the cat leaped into action. 'The cat suddenly dived at the rodent. Holding the rat down with its left shoulder that cat, eyes, sir, this is the truth—brought up his wooden leg and just literally pounded the rat to death.' Bell nodded assent.

Thomas Will Start Friday Distributing Poison For 'Hoppers

Gray County's initial step in the war against the grasshopper invasion this year will be taken Friday when mixing of the bran and poison compound will begin.

County Farm Agent Ralph R. Thomas secured the vocational agriculture building on the high school campus for mixing purposes, after conferring with Supt. L. L. Sone and J. L. Lester, vocational agriculture instructor.

A price of 30 cents a hundred pounds has been set for the compound to farmers. Prices for local residents will be set later.

Many calls are being received at the county farm agent's office for the compound.

Farmers and other citizens are anxious to secure the compound so they can begin preparations against the grasshopper infestation at once, before the hordes of insects sweep down from the counties to the north.

In connection with sales of the compound to urbanites, the farm agent has pointed out that five pounds of the compound is a sufficient amount to poison one acre against grasshoppers. Three or four persons together may purchase at one time a sufficient amount for all their lots, thereby guarding against wasting the compound. Citizens put out too much poison last year.

While Dellam, Hartley, Moore and Sherman Counties now have

FLOOD IN OKLAHOMA CLAIMS THIRD LIFE

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 24 (AP)—Murky flood waters had claimed three lives in Oklahoma today and a fourth person owed his life to his ability to ride a rushing mass of driftwood five miles downstream.

A. C. Smith, 30, Fairland section hand, was drowned when debris which had piled against the piers of a Kansas, Oklahoma and Gulf railroad bridge near Miami collapsed and hurled him into the churning current of the Neosho River.

Bill Huddleston, 60, also of Fairland, rode driftwood and a log until a farmer in a rowboat rescued him five miles downstream.

At Altus, two members of a CCG camp were drowned in the Red River's North Fork, one of them in an heroic effort to rescue his companion.

Calvin Martin, 19, of Altus, was swept under the surface when he dived into the river just above the Lage Altus dam. Leland W. Wilhelm, 19, of Gould, went in after his companion but both drowned.

THEFT OF CHICKENS BEING INVESTIGATED

The officers and Joe Gordzelik, from whom 36 hens were stolen during the past three weeks, identified some of the poultry at a local market where the officers received every assistance, Sheriff Harris reported.

Chicken thieves stole a dozen hens on the first visit and two dozen last Thursday night.

SANTA FE CARS MOVING INTO GRAIN BELT

Preparing for what may be America's biggest wheat crop, the Santa Fe railway is moving thousands of empty grain cars into the wheat belt to aid farmers with the 1938 harvest.

Locomotive power and train crews, some of them from as far as the Pacific coast, will be moved into the wheat area during the next few weeks to handle the peak wheat movement. Careful survey of the needs in this respect has been made and the Santa Fe expects to have upwards of 10,000 cars available when the combines start.

Not only are there great numbers of cars in storage awaiting the harvest, but plans have been worked out for speedy handling after they have been loaded. Last year's figures show how well this job can be done. At the start of the 1937 harvest, the Santa Fe had 9,213 cars stored at local points. During the 30-day peak, 33,079 cars were loaded and the number of cars in storage had been built up to 10,541.

Cooperation Required. All this requires the closest cooperation between the country elevators, the railroads and the terminal elevators. The Santa Fe's peak wheat loading was in 1931 when 38,123 cars were loaded in 30 days.

In addition to the Santa Fe cars that will be used in wheat handling, foreign line cars are pressed into service as the demands for cars increase. Last year, 2,558 foreign cars were used—some of them being moved as much as 1,000 miles. All cars moving into storage for the wheat movement undergo rigid inspection to be sure they are suitable for transportation of edible wheat and are cleaned after they move into local storage.

Cars of modern 100,000-pound capacity has increased the Santa Fe's carrying capacity by 148,370,000 pounds with but small increase in the number of cars to be handled. The average annual wheat production in Kansas is about 177,000,000 bushels. Oklahoma, 55,000,000, and Texas, 41,000,000 bushels. As of December 1, 1937, these states had the largest wheat acreage on record, 28,720,000 acres or fifty per cent of the total planted in the United States. With conditions 75 to 85 per cent normal, one of the largest crops in history will be harvested in this territory.

Revolutionary Changes. Revolutionary changes resulted with the advent of combines and farm trucks wherein grain is loaded on railroad cars almost within the same hour that it is cut. Thus creating an emergency in mass grain transportation that is complex and difficult for the carriers to gauge and handle.

No railroad owns sufficient box cars with which to meet these demands. Santa Fe loadings during the peak last year ran between 1,650 and 1,900 cars daily. It was necessary to call on eastern roads for additional cars and between July 13 and 22, 1937, 2,358 such cars were received at Chicago. Movement of 500 of these cars each day from Chicago to Dodge City, a distance of 780 miles, in 100-car lots required the use of 35 train and engine crews. Movement of empty cars is more important to the farmer than the handling of loaded cars since failure to place empties for loading each day results in wheat being piled on the ground with consequent loss from rehandling, dirt and foreign material. However, wheat is handled with the same precision as is scheduled arrival at terminal markets as other traffic. Wheat loaded today on branch lines is delivered to terminal markets in time for inspection and sale tomorrow.

Man Sees With Borrowed Eye

Blind since childhood, Richard L. Willis of Nashville, Tenn., now looks forward to the day when he will be able to see, after receiving a corneal transplant in his left eye in an operation at Memphis. Doctors are hopeful that the sight of the one eye will be nearly normal. Willis is shown above with his nurse; the inset shows the donor of the cornea, Mrs. J. B. ESCAPE PLOT FAILS--'ROCK' LIFER SLAIN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24 (AP)—A life-term convict was fatally shot, another wounded and a prison guard viciously beaten in the second attempt within six months to escape from the grim Alcatraz Island federal penitentiary.

A third convict, who fled when a guard opened fire with his rifle yesterday, was locked in solitary confinement today.

Thomas R. Limerick, a Midwest bank robber, died late last night from a bullet wound in his head. Another bullet fired by an alert, unnamed guard, cut down Rufus Franklin, Alabama robber and killer, with a wound in the shoulder.

In their daring bid for freedom the three prisoners had brutally beaten E. C. Clines, unarmed senior custodian officer. He was unconscious in the Marine Hospital in San Francisco today in an "extremely critical condition" from head and shoulder wounds.

The third prisoner, James C. Lucas, who stabbed "Scarface" Al Capone in the back with a pair of shears two years ago, fled before the guard's fire, was captured and placed in dreaded solitary.

The convict trio made their desperate try for freedom shortly after 2 p. m. yesterday. Warden James A. Johnston reported.

Warden Johnston said the men apparently had planned to capture the guard of at least one guard, and then attempt to disarm other guards. "They probably figured they could seize the prison boat and make their getaway from the island," the warden declared. However, the alertness of the guard on the roof and of other guards who joined him prevented what may have developed into a major disturbance, with possible heavy loss of life.

"Our men were too fast for them." Last December Ralph Roe and Theodore Cole, two long-term convicts, disappeared from the rock-bound San Francisco bay island in a heavy fog. They were believed to have drowned in the swift currents swirling around the island.

Headlined in Harlan Trial

Principals in the tense court drama at London, Ky., as the federal government prosecutes 69 defendants charged with terrorism against coal miners in "bloody Harlan county," are the persons pictured above. The top photo shows M. A. Musick with his family. Musick, organizer for the United Mine Workers and former minister, claims that he has been shot at more than 100 times since he began his union activities in 1933. Last year terrorists riddled the Musick home, killing one son, Bennet, 19, and wounding another son, Bert, 10. With Musick in the picture are his wife, their son Jennings and daughter Pauline. At lower left is Federal Judge H. Church Ford, who is hearing the case. At lower right is Hugh Taylor, one of the defendants who was brought into court by FBI agents who found him hiding with his wife's relatives in Virginia. Taylor exhibits scars on his wrists and hands, put there, he claims, by bullets fired in Harlan county's long mine war.

UTILITY FIGHT RETARDS VOTE ON RELIEF ACT

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Growing opposition to a proposal to ban PWA loans to publicly-owned utilities which compete with private concerns retarded a Senate vote today on the $3,000,000,000 relief and public works bill.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, at first indicated he would offer a compromise, but said later he personally favored elimination of the provision.

The amendment was placed in the bill by the Senate appropriations committee after utility representatives said it would restore confidence of their investors and enable them to go ahead with construction programs.

Barkley's original compromise would permit the PWA to lend money to municipalities to construct public plants where competing private firms rejected "fair" offers for the purchase of their plants. The Public Works Administrator would determine the future of the plants to determine the fairness of the offer.

That compromise, however, found no favor with Senator Norris, Independent, Neb., who advocated elimination of the section.

Senator Adams, Democrat, Colorado manager of the bill, predicted the Senate would kill the amendment. Senators from agricultural states concentrated on attempts to obtain final approval of an additional $212,000,000 for farm benefit payments. The appropriations committee voted to increase the benefit payments on cotton, wheat and corn by transferring $100,000,000 in PWA funds for that purpose and adding $112,000,000. These payments would be in addition to the $500,000,000 provided in the 1938 farm act.

Senator Adams said he understood amendments would be offered to include other basic farm crops.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MEMPHIS

Memphis, Tennessee, deserves the nation's congratulations. It has been declared winner in the National Safety Council's Sixth Annual Traffic Safety Contest. Six other cities also won prizes in their population groups: Milwaukee, Hartford; Beaumont, Texas; Everett, Washington; and Des Plaines, Illinois. The grand prize for states went to Massachusetts.

Memphis won the major prize for cities by carrying out a comprehensive, continuous safety program. There was outstanding activity in the field of traffic enforcement and the Commissioner of Public Safety offers $100 to anyone who can prove that a traffic ticket was "fixed." Many street improvements were made, in order to correct danger points. Many miles of pavement were clearly marked, in order to keep vehicles in their proper lanes. A city law requires each motor vehicle in Memphis to be inspected three times a year.

Equally important, the city pursues steady, effective educational work, to acquaint local residents with traffic dangers and how to eliminate them. The result of all this was a substantial reduction in the city's accident, death and injury rates.

What Memphis and the other winning cities did, any community can do. In smaller towns the safety program will naturally be less complicated and expensive, but similar results can be achieved. Sad experience has proven that sporadic safety drives, no matter how enthusiastic or sincere their sponsors, are next to worthless—continuity of effort is absolutely vital. Public education, plus the correction of accident-prone locations, plus rigorous, non-flexible law enforcement, are the great essentials of any accident reduction campaign that gets results.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE BALL

The second slowest market session in 20 years was recently recorded on the New York Stock Exchange. The lethargic condition of business and industry, and the chaotic political situation, are, of course, the primary factors in this situation. But there are other factors such as the piling up of new regulations, new administrative orders, and new laws affecting trading in stocks and bonds.

No one argues, least of all business and financial leaders, against adequately protecting the public against sharpers and crooks. But there is always danger of a "reform" movement going too far and creating conditions which discourage legitimate business. In other words, there is a real possibility that public regulation in its application to the security business may go to such an extreme that stock exchanges' essential qualities of flexibility and quick responsiveness to changing economic trends will be lost. Once that happens, the exchanges' great value to individual investors and industries will be substantially lessened—and perhaps destroyed.

It must not be forgotten that the principal service of a stock exchange is not to Wall Street, but to ten thousand Main Streets—not to a handful of wealthy financiers, but to the hundreds of thousands of small investors who must have a market place where they can buy or sell their holdings without delay, for cash, and at a price honestly reflecting current conditions.

By all means punish and deter the financial sharper—but in doing that, don't lose sight of the immense public interest in the maintenance of efficient and flexible security markets.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

George W. Briggs, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, accompanied by Mrs. Briggs and son, Burnham, arrived here to move into their new home in the Country club addition.

Miss Lucille Mooney and Verde Dickey, coach of the Harvester athletic team, were married at LeFors during a picnic which was given honoring them.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Subjects of city-wide interest and importance were discussed by Henry W. Stanley, economist of Dallas, in two lectures at the city hall in closing the Business Institute held under the auspices of the News and the Board of City Development.

Three new teachers were employed by the board of education of the Pampa independent school district. They were Ray Wallbransen, Ernest W. Cabe, and Miss Lena Jane Butcher.

Tex's Topics

If the family pocketbook won't stand the strain of a Scandinavian cruise this summer, and you can't even find a way to go to the mountains or seashore for two weeks, you have lots of company.

A vast proportion of Pampa's 15,000 and America's 130,000,000 inhabitants are in the same plight, as usual, and what are they going to do about it? . . . If they are intelligent people, they will arrange "at-home" vacations. They will plan outings that cost little more than the sandwiches. And even if it's a long, hot summer, they'll have fun.

Summer is a grand sports time. You can't afford to join a golf club? It costs money to play tennis? Well, it doesn't cost more than the price of the roller skates to do a little fancy work on a smooth bit of pavement. Bicycling is another cheap sport. You can take your lunch along, and stay away all Sunday afternoon. . . . The more you can be outdoors the better, as long as you don't get yourself burned to a crisp during the intense noonday heat. Buy a beach umbrella—even if you are here in the Panhandle, miles from the ocean—and prop it up in the backyard. The baby can play under it, and you can lurk in its shade and regulate your sun tan.

If you can find any place to swim—a two by four pond is better than nothing, get in for a daily dip. You'll be cool for hours afterward, though the thermometer stays up. And if there just isn't any body of water around, rig up the garden hose, and let everybody get under it in their bathing suits. . . . The summer was made for picnics. Often the supper hour is the best time for them—it's cooler. If your children are old enough, let them take turns planning the menu. The sandwich diet may wear after a time, but you can always take hot soup along in a thermos, salads may be made at home and transported in a deep bowl, and supper cooked outdoors is the best of all—if fire warden don't object.

If you're lucky enough to have a gardener for a husband, part of the summer vacation problem is already solved. There's something about grubbing in the soil that calms the jagged nerves of a tired business man. . . . Probably he'll like to putter around in it a bit before dinner. If you can delay the dinner hour—though it means feeding the children separately in advance—do it. You'll feel more like eating when the sun has gone down away from the gas stove. She can substitute brainwork for handwork, and think up easily prepared, easily digested meals. She'll find the manufacturers of prepared foods a great help.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 24 — Although officials of 14 of the largest corporations affected by the public utility holding company act have jointly offered "co-operation" to SEC in enforcing the act, both sides seem to have their fingers crossed.

The point on which the holding companies managed to be specific was that the "fundamental principle of diversity of investment" represented here by both geographical location of operating properties and character of the business served by them. . . . should be preserved in the public interest.

The act says holding companies must be geographically integrated. SEC officials, believing the words "diversified" and "integrated" are antonyms, suspect the big power companies may be trying to win with SEC the fight against the "death sentence" they lost in Congress and before the Supreme Court.

Holding companies point to the advantage of diversified risk and claim geographical diversification is needed if they are to raise new capital. SEC Chairman William O. Douglas assures them SEC intends to carry out the act's aim of promoting efficiency of operation, lower electricity rates and stabilization of investment.

"There will be no 'death sentence' where a holding company can justify its terms of service to operating companies," Douglas says. "On the contrary, it holds the promise of a long life and a happy one."

Book on Kansas

President Roosevelt, Secretary Ickes and other officials have been reading a new novel called "What People Said," by W. L. White. Roosevelt recently begged a copy from the author's father, William Allen White of the Emporia Gazette, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Recently listed as a best seller in New York, White's novel was quickly grabbed up by Kansas and other politicians in Washington because it so obviously was a close-up narrative of personal and political events in Kansas in the years just before Gov. Alf Landon was nominated for President.

W. L. White was a member of the state legislature and his story goes heavily into the exciting days of the Finney bond scandal which had Kansas on its ear a few years ago.

Several nationally famous Kansans are to be recognized among the characters. Literary critics have been comparing White's book with the work of Dreiser, Sinclair Lewis and other portrayals of the American scene.

Serenade In The Night

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD, May 23.—William K. Howard recently returned to Hollywood, but for what reason he is not quite sure. If he directs any more pictures he is determined that they shall be "about something," yet he has not discerned any great eagerness on the part of the movie business to make stories of timely significance.

There's always the stage to fall back on, anyway. This season Howard has been the co-producer, with Jed Harris, of Pulitzer Prize-winning "Our Town," and the two are up to their necks in scripts. One of the plays that Howard would like to do is Ernest Hemingway's "The Fifth Column," which concerns espionage in Spain. It's "about something."

When the director mentioned his association with the former Wonder Boy of Broadway in a conversation with Walter Wanger, the latter said, "Well, you ought to make a good team. Jed is the most disagreeable Jew in the world, and you are the most disagreeable Irishman."

Whether that is quite true or not, the two have certain defiant and rebellious qualities in common. Nearly five years ago Harris came out here to talk to Metro about a job which had been urged upon him. Asked how much salary he wanted, he said, "You've got a producer here named So-and-So (mentioning a little-respected executive). I don't know how much he's getting, but no matter what it is, I want three times as much." Harris didn't get the job, but he and Howard became friends at that time.

No Man's Flunkey.

Off and on for some 18 years, Howard has been a star boarder in the Hollywood doghouse. He had an historic run-in with Fox which reached an impasse when, for punishment, he was put into a windowless office and made to read ancient scripts—but for $3,500 a week! He re-established himself, though, by writing and making "Good Intentions," which he still believes was his best picture. "Thundering Herd," "The Power and the Glory," "The Cat and the Fiddle," "Mary Burns Fugitive," and "Transatlantic" were a few other distinguished ones of the dozens he has directed.

While directing "The Princess Comes Across," Howard quarreled with Producer Arthur Hornblow. In London he made "Fire Over England," "The Squeaker," "Over the Moon." At least he was making "Over the Moon" when he walked out on it. Howard just can't get along with Alexander Korda.

Here is a contribution from "BB" who wrote: "This is just a prayer for a very small boy from his mother."

Dear God, sometimes he cries in his crib. They tell me not to spoil him, but I must know: Were babies meant to cry? Would just a little loving ruin him? Somehow I feel you meant us to keep their little hearts from pain as well as other things. And doesn't his baby heart ache when he cries? So God, please look the other way. He's not sick enough today. He likes for me to hold him next my heart, and if he's spooled to love, who cares?"

Sharing the Comforts Of Life . . .

By R. C. HOILES

Youth and Public Opinion. Inasmuch as our laws, and customs are a result of public opinion, the part each individual plays in helping bring about an intelligent public opinion is of the utmost importance.

In talking with a group of politicians the other day, they held up their hands and proclaimed they were helpless in the face of public opinion. It seems to us that it did not occur to these gentlemen that they, as office-holders, had a very grave responsibility in attempting to help create public opinion that would reconcile liberty with government. It seemed that their only thought was to measure public opinion so that they could continue to hold their jobs and get their salaries. They were not at all willing to make any sacrifices to stand up and be counted for fundamental principles of liberty, which, during the final third of the last century, were nearer brought about in the United States than any other country in all the world in all history.

So when you use your influence by word of mouth, in public office, in church, in the press, in the market place, in school or college, to help bring about public opinion that will harmonize government with liberty, you are performing as great a service to all your fellowmen as it is possible to perform.

On the other hand, if you use your influence, intentionally or ignorantly, to help create public opinion that puts liberty and government out of harmony, you are doing as much harm to your fellowman as it is possible to do.

So, if you are advocating things that you cannot explain and about which you cannot be consistent and you are not willing to defend publicly it might be well for you to take stock whether your influence is good or bad in bringing about a reconciliation of liberty with government.

The Capital Jigsaw

AUSTIN, May 24 (AP)—Operation of illegal slot machines in Texas, says Col. H. Carmichael, chief of the Department of Public Safety, has been curbed sharply as a result of recent warnings by Rangers.

Acting on instructions from Gov. James V. Allred, Carmichael had the Rangers informed peace officers in all sections of the state that if the law banning certain machines was not enforced the state police would move in and do the job. Complaints of illegal operations had emanated chiefly from the larger cities.

"We have had a good response from local officers and our information is law violations now are very few," Carmichael said. "Of course, they crop out here and there, but the order has been carried out as well as it ever can be in such cases."

Gov. Allred has quit writing a column for weekly newspapers but may soon prepare a series of articles intended to inform the public of the importance of appointments the governor makes.

"You have to sit in my chair for a while to understand just how important some appointments are," he said. "I didn't realize it myself for a long time. Examples are the secretary of state and the tax commissioner. There are others."

"If the secretary of state's office is the securities commissioner, who protects the public against swindling, bogus stock selling and other forms of swindling. Why, a bad man in that place could turn the state over to gangsters and swindlers!"

The governor praised the work of the present securities commissioner, D. Leon Harp. Rep. Coke Stevenson of Junction, candidate for lieutenant governor, has opened state headquarters in the same room of an Austin hotel from which he conducted his two successful campaigns for the speakership of the House of Representatives.

The only man twice to be speaker Stevenson postponed opening headquarters until the room he wanted was available. He claims that of candidates for various offices who since the days of Gov. O. B. Colquitt have used the room for headquarters only one failed to attain the goal he sought.

Shortly before leaving for Los Angeles to attend the wedding of two nieces, Gov. Allred accepted an invitation to be guest of honor at a dinner tendered by Texans now living in California. It was understood a number of movie actors would be present.

"Governor," suggested a press correspondent, "suppose you name your favorite actor and actress for us?" Gov. Allred laughed loudly. "No, sir," he cried.

At same press conference, the governor picked up his telephone and called Lieut.-Gov. Walter F. Woodul at Houston. Woodul was acting governor in Allred's absence from Texas.

He told Woodul how long he would be out of the state and suggested the latter hurry over to Austin. He said the capital correspondents were eager to ask Woodul some questions, such as how Woodul stood on the new truck law.

"Aw, they don't really want to know that, do they?" the governor quipped Woodul as replying. Woodul is a candidate for attorney general. The truck law is a very controversial matter.

A friend of Gerald A. Mann, another candidate for attorney general, argues Mann has one big advantage over the other candidates, who in addition to Woodul, are District Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin and District Attorney Lewis Goodrich of Sherman.

"You can't escape the fact that Jerry was a football star at Southern Methodist university," said the friend. "While you don't need to have been a football star to make a good attorney general, if you were one the public and friends you made won't hurt you in getting to be attorney general."

"Without any great effort Jerry has an organization. All over the state there are folks he knew at S. M. U. and who rooted for him. Some of them now in the ministry, who

Dale Harrison's New York

NEW YORK—Week moments:

Monday: Looks like rain. Guess I won't go out. (Who cares whether you go out or not, you Dope?) Guess I'll read a book. If I like it, I'll write something about it like the other columnists do; something like this: "Get a load of Joe Doakesky's smash novel, 'Mama's Out.' It's four-star, triple A, silk-lined, and so hot you get asbestos gloves with each copy. This sort of comment will make the publishers happy, and then they'll send me another book, and then I'll have two books, which ought to help me win Friends and Influence People."

Guess it ain't going to rain after all. I hate weather that can't make up its mind. I'll bet they don't stand for such meteorological nonsense in the Dicta countries. (Don't go into that, Harrison.)

Tuesday: My assistant (By Jove, the Dope's got an assistant! That makes two guys who don't do anything) just burst in and cried: "Gimme two dollars or I shall tell all." I looked up from my reading of Caesar's Commentaries in the original Latin, and inquired: "Why should I give you two bucks? It ain't the end of the month yet." He said: "Sahib, I gotta hunch. There's a horse named Bit-by-Bit running today. You know that down in Birmingham the News runs your writings under the heading 'Bit by Bit.' It's a natural, Sahib. It's a perfect hunch to wager two bucks on Bit-by-Bit."

I sneer and decline to give him two bucks. I do not believe in hunches.

Wednesday: Hand me the smelling salts, Sweetheart. Both bottles, please. One for each nostril. Bit-by-Bit won't win, he's always needed. If he doesn't win, he goes to bed without any caviar on his dog biscuit, the bum!

Thursday: Just consummated a very smart deal. I entered Rusty, my beautiful but dumb Cooker, in the Jackson Heights Dog Show. If he will only resist the temptation to chew the shoes of the judges, he's bound to win first prize. With the prize money I shall buy Rusty a set of left handed golf clubs, which is just what he's always needed. If he doesn't win, he goes to bed without any caviar on his dog biscuit, the bum!

Friday: I heard the silliest conversation today. No sense to it. Two taxicabs collided at 50th St. and Fifth Avenue. Both cabs stopped. Two drivers got out. They shouted at each other as follows:

Driver A: "Why don't you watch where you're going?" Driver B: "Why don't YOU watch where YOU'RE going?" Driver A: "You go down yourself!" Driver B: "YOU go down YOURSELF!"

Whereupon both drivers climbed back into their cabs and drove away. It was the silliest thing I ever saw. No sense to it.

Saturday: Dear Diary—Every time I start an entry in the book I have an urge to write: "Up he-times," just like dear old Sam Peppys. "Up he-times" has a classy sound, don't you think, Dear Diary? So today I looked up to see what it meant. The dictionary says: "Be-times—adverb; before it is too late. In view of that I think everybody certainly should be up 'be-times,' don't you, Dear Diary?"

Sunday: Up before-it-is-too-late, and found Sherman Billingsley, proprietor of the Stork Club, in a dither. "I am supposed to go on the radio tonight," he whispered, wringing his hands wthal, "and I am agog with agony. . . ."

Thus my whole evening was ruined. Whenever anyone else is in a dither, I get in a dither, too. I asked a doctor about it once. He said I had dither-ia. (Now listen, Harrison. You are going too far.)

Suddenly Mr. Billingsley's face lighted. "I know what I'll do," he said. "I will not go on the radio tonight!" Instantly he was happy again, and I was happy, too, though I would be the last person in the world even to hint at such a thing, Mr. Billingsley.

are pulling for him. He has organization that the other fellows don't have."

Galveston Boxers Will Travel Longest Distance

When Pampa and Galveston amateur boxers meet in the Pampa Athletic arena on the night of June 3, it will mark the longest distance ever traveled by one amateur boxing team to meet another in the state, or possibly in any other state because none is larger than Texas.

Pampa's champions will return the engagement sometime in July. Trainer Cliff B. Chambers expects to line up two or three matches for his boys on the trip.

Reserve seat tickets for the matches are now on sale at the Daily News and at Creney Drug. Admission will be $1, tax included. Only 200 of the duets will be available. Telephone orders will be held until the morning of the bouts.

Pampa representatives will begin final training for their bouts this afternoon at the Pampa Athletic arena where Trainer Chambers will work on weaknesses which appeared in previous bouts. Also, the little trainer has a couple of new boys he expects to steal the show. He is keeping them under cover until they have proven themselves.

Out-of-town boys who will box on the card—Frankie Bills and Benny Moore of Shamrock, Jake Bible of Almar and Franklin White of White Deer—have also been instructed by the trainer to start polishing off their training.

In Pampa the Drake brothers, Bob and Cleve, Arvol Hix, J. P. Mathews, Jap Gillis, Ed Casada, the middle, and several new boys will battle for starting assignments. Galveston will bring a couple of Golden Gloves state finalists, a couple of A. A. U. champions and other top boys to Pampa.

Yates and Haas Advance to 2nd Round at Troon

TROON, Scotland, May 24 (AP)—Charley Yates of Atlanta, scoring at the expense of one of his American Walker Cup teammates, and Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans today joined six of their fellow cup-pursers in the second round of the British Amateur Golf Championship.

Yates, wearing the "lucky red flannels" given him by Bobby Jones, beat Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati with a stymie on the nineteenth green. Haas, wearing his Louisiana State University sweater with a big black "L" which baffled the Scots in the gallery, routed A. J. Ashworth of Scotland, 7 and 6. Haas reached the turn in 34 to be 5 up, and closed out his rival three holes later.

Out in 33 to be three up at the turn, after four up after the tenth hole, Yates wobbled in the face of Fischer's magnificent fight on the back nine and lost his lead on the home green, where he sliced into the sand.

At the nineteenth both were well on in two, Fischer ten feet from the cup and Yates nine. Putting first, Fischer rolled a foot and a half past. Yates then missed, his ball stopping directly in front of Fischer's.

Johnny took out his old, cracked-sharred nibble and tried to jump the stymie, but his ball hit Charley's and stayed out of the cup.

"Well, it's better to be lucky than good," said Yates. "I'm sorry it had to end like that, Johnny."

Fischer waved it away and said, "After all, it was a simple stymie and I should have made it."

At Tyler, Charles Cuellar, rookie right-hander, turned in a 7-6 victory over the Jacksonville Jax. With the bases loaded and two outs in the eleventh inning, Cuellar slapped a single to score Denny Phillips for the winning run.

"Lefty" Bob Thomas kept Marshall's 11 hits fairly well scattered to give the Henderson Oilers a 10-6 triumph over the Marshallites.

ROOKIE HONORS THIS SEASON GO TO REDS' BUCK M'COORMICK

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. Associated Press Sports Writer. While there may be quite a race for the National League's "rookie" honors this season, you could look a long way and still do worse than to pick Cincinnati's Frank (Buck) McCormick as the best young cloutier of the year.

Strictly speaking, this six-foot, four-inch giant who took over the Reds' first basing duties this spring, isn't quite a rookie. He played most of the 1937 season with Syracuse after hopping from the Piedmont League to double a company.

Buck's .353 batting average, third best in the league, is one important reason why the Reds are up in third place. He has made 48 hits, 14 of them doubles, to lead the circuit in those two departments of swatting.

His 14th double came at an important moment in yesterday's five-run third inning rally that enabled the Reds to beat Brooklyn, 6-4. Coming with two on base and two runs already in, it brought in another and ended Bill Poseel's pitching efforts. McCormick scored the fifth tally on base by forcing Ival Goodman, who made four of Cincinnati's 12 blows.

The victory put the Reds in third place, a half game ahead of the Bees, whose seven-game winning streak was ended by Bill Lee of the Chicago Cubs. Lee beat Lou Fette 4-1 in a smart mound duel and put Chicago only 2 1/2 games behind the league leading New York Giants, who, for the first time this season, lost to Pittsburgh, 4 to 3.

In the day's only other game, "losing pitcher" Hugh Mulcahy of the Phillies belted his nickname by beating the Cardinals 7-6. He not only pitched effectively after allowing five runs in the first two innings, but scored the winning counter himself in the eighth. All four American League games were rained out in the West.

APRIL FARM MARKET INCOME TAKES CUT

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Farmers' cash income from marketings in April totaled $489,000,000 compared with $583,000,000 in the same month last year, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today.

The April total represented a 16 per cent decline from that of April, 1937, and a reduction of 4 per cent from the March, 1938, estimated income of $512,000,000.

Government benefit payments to farmers in April were $60,000,000, the same amount as in March but $3,000,000 less than in April, 1937. Cash income and benefit payments combined amounted to $549,000,000 compared with $648,000,000 in the corresponding month of 1937.

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Dorothy Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., a member of the American Nightman Cup tennis team, reached the third round of the Middlesex championships today when she defeated Miss B. M. Smith of England, 8-6, 6-3.

BAKER SCHOOL SOFT BALLERS SWEEP LEAGUE

Softball teams of Baker school won both the girls and boys division of the Grade School League. The Baker girls were undefeated and the boys lost only one game.

The Baker boys ran up a total of 86 runs to their opponent's 29. The girls scored 134 runs while holding their foes to 32.

Closest games of the series were with Sam Houston. Baker taking the first game 4 to 1 but losing the second 3 to 2. Woodrow Wilson, however, upset Sam Houston to give Baker the title.

Record of the Baker boys team was: Baker 4, Sam Houston 1. Baker 27, Horace Mann 8. Baker 17, Woodrow Wilson 4. Baker 2, Sam Houston 3. Baker 25, Horace Mann 7. Baker 11, Woodrow Wilson 6. The girls scores were: Baker 21, Sam Houston 11. Baker 29, Horace Mann 8. Baker 30, Woodrow Wilson 1. Baker 26, Sam Houston 19. Baker 28, Horace Mann 8. Baker won by default from Woodrow Wilson.

Cochman Herman Jones coached the teams. His boys' lineup was: Hancel Boyles, catcher; Raymond Cox, pitcher; Martine Gonzalez, first base; Ferrell Yearwood, second base; Gonzales Loza, third base; W. L. Roberts, first short; Olan Riley, second short; Hilroy Eldridge, right field; Winfred Bowerman, center field; Milton Stanford, left field; L. J. Barnes, Bill Wilkinson, Jack Ironmonger, John Hyatt, Pete Simmerman, Billy Elder, William Houston, Tommy J. Adkins, Wallace Crane, Dewey Bond, substitutes.

Girls playing for Baker school were: Leta Youngman, Opal Moore, Juanita Nice, Clara Sargent, Betty Jo Holt, Fanny Fleming, Betty Jo Casada, Mary Austin, Donna Henson, Lucille Swain, Florence Stone, Gwena Blackman.

BARNEY ROSS FAVORITE TO LAMBAST FOE

By GAYLE TALBOT. NEW YORK, May 24 (AP)—Like the handsome hero who saves the old homestead just before the lights come on, Barney Ross dashed into town overnight to see what he could do about stirring up some cash interest in his 15-round bout with Henry Armstrong Thursday night in Madison Square Garden bowl.

The welterweight champion is a pronounced favorite to keep his crown, but it became evident some days ago that the fight wasn't going to inflate his bank account much unless the fans' appetites were whetted, very strenuously.

He's working out today and tomorrow at Stillman's gymnasium, where the boxing writers as well as the ticket-buyers can put the old eagle-eye on him without having to inhale a lot of fresh air, as they did up at Grossinger lake.

Barney is a lot more worried about the financial situation than is either his opponent, Armstrong, or promoter Mike Jacobs. Henry is getting only a very thin slice of the net proceeds anyway, so he's going to stay out at Pompton Lakes until Thursday.

Jacobs can afford to relax, because the large money is rolling in for the Louis-Schmeling bout on June 22.

Ross, like Armstrong, gave evidence he had reached fighting form a little too quickly in his final workout in the mountains. He eased through a session of calisthenics and shadow-boxing. He looked in the pink and said he felt the same way. He is down to 141, the weight at which he intends to enter the ring.

Armstrong snapped out of his restlessness to fight three stiff rounds with Frankie Genovese, the Canadian welterweight who is supposed to have a left that is a dead ringer for Ross.

Baugh Returned To Cardinals by Columbus Farm

CHICAGO, May 24 (AP)—All the major league clubs except those storming St. Louis Cardinals were down to their midsummer player limit of 25 men today.

The Cardinals, forced to retain 23 pitchers originally destined for the minors, still were three over the limit as the deadline passed last midnight, despite an 11th hour barrage of waivers.

The Cards released Pitchers Si Johnson and Roy Henshaw to Rochester of the International League, but the hurlers appealed to Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis who ordered them retained on the grounds they "hadn't had enough opportunity to show whether they had major league ability." Landis then extended until Saturday the player time limit for the Cards.

Owner Sam Breadon of the Cardinals refused to name players for whom waivers had been asked with the exception of Sammy Baugh, professional football star. Tried at third base and shortstop, Baugh was returned to the Cards last week by their Columbus farm.

Meanwhile, the New York Yankees got under the wire yesterday when they optioned Southpaw pitcher Tommy Wood, who was with Newark most of the 1937 season, to Kansas City.

Detroit sent outfielder Roy Culberson to Toledo. Chicago's White Sox optioned infielder Jesse Landrum to St. Paul and released pitcher Bob Uhle outright to Dallas.

Dallas Defeats Indians 4 to 3

(By The Associated Press). The Dallas Steers tackle the Tulsa Oilers, runners-up in the Texas League race, tonight (Tuesday) after staging a ninth-inning rally that defeated the Oklahoma City Indians, 4-3.

Jack Grossman did the trick with a long drive when the bases were loaded. The blow brought in two runs.

Pampan to Sail Boat in Fort Worth Contest

Frank Pemberton, recently moved to Pampa from Wichita Falls, returned to his former home town and won a place on the Wichita Falls Sailing Club's snipe team to represent that city in a dual meet in Fort Worth next Sunday.

Taking a first place, one third and a fifth, Pemberton qualified with Cleo Payne for the team event. Pemberton won the first race by his boat, Dark Nite, with Mrs. Cleo Payne as crew. He finished third in the second race and had the misfortune of breaking a job in the final heat. He pulled up from last to place, however, to give him enough points for second place on the team.

Sailboating with the trim little crafts has become an enthusiastic sport at Lake Wichita.

George Hartay Blasts Bromberg From Picture

French Celebrities Fight Duel

Rushed rehearsals of a new French drama resulted in the bit of sword-play pictured in the above radiophoto from Paris. Dramatist Henri Bernstein, right, thought Edouard Bourdet, left, director of the Comedie Francaise, had treated his play "Judith" unfairly. So he challenged Bourdet to a duel and managed to wound him. Nursing a bandaged right arm, Bourdet complained that wet grounds robbed him of victory. He refused reconciliation and said he wanted a chance for revenge.

TRICKY TROON LINKS TOUGHER THAN ANY IN UNITED STATES

By SCOTTY RESTON. TROON, Scotland, May 24 (AP)—Johnny Goodman says Troon is the finest course in the Scottish coast. Hal Pierce, manager of the United States Walker Cup team says "it's tougher than Pine Valley" (the sandy New Jersey course where international matches have been played). A lot of other people say things about it that can't be printed.

One thing's certain—whatever wins the British Amateur on it this week will have to be accurate, rainproof, windproof and full of courage.

Laid out on a sandy arm of land extending into the fifth of Clyde the Troon course is one vast, windy chess board where the penalties of hell punish every wrong move.

There is nothing like it in the United States. For example, bent grass, which is used mainly for putting greens in America is the rough here and it grows waist high just off the fairway.

Fairways, which are flat in America, roll and dip here on the theory that championship players should be able to hit their shots from any stance. And the greens, which tilt to face the American player, are flat here, sometimes blind, and always glass fast.

The Americans in this tournament swing the clubs better than the British boys, but technically they must change many of their shots, and their strategy must be changed completely. The driver is the most dangerous club in the bag on this course. Tee shots must be hit to a spot and not lashed for distance. It is significant that the west of Scotland players many times use irons and lofted woods from the tee.

CATCHER BREAKS THUMB

BOSTON, May 24 (AP)—An enforced vacation of "six or seven weeks" was in prospect today for Catcher Al Lopez of the Boston Bees, whose right thumb was fractured yesterday by a foul tip off the bat of Second Baseman Bill Herman of the Chicago Cubs. The forecast was made by Dr. Edward J. O'Brien after treating Lopez.

Wrestling fans who stayed away from the Pampa Athletic arena last night missed one of rip-roaringest cards of the year when George Hartay subdued Count von Bromberg in a three-fall main event and the other two matches went to punishing draws.

The main event was one of the old time killer type of bouts with Hartay losing his temper a few times as the German used everything but the corner posts in an effort to subdue the flashy Hungarian. Bromberg choked, gouged eyes, slung and pulled hair whenever he got Referee John Nemanic busy out of sight, but it wasn't very often as Nemanic refereed another great card.

Hartay opened by showing almost unbelievable speed in breaking from holds and coming up with punches. After receiving a short jab to his ear from Nemanic's left, von Bromberg was cautious with his dirty work, waiting until he had the referee watching Hartay's shoulders before breaking loose.

The going got faster and faster until Hartay came out of a bad choke hold with one of his famous flying hip locks which subdued the German in 29 minutes.

Von Bromberg went wild for the second fall. With nothing to lose and everything to gain, the German wrestled and roughed his way to an 18-minute victory with a crucifix hold after Hartay had missed several opportunities to get his man. Hartay worked too fast, however, and let the opportunity slip.

The German had Hartay in a bad way several times during the last fall but the Hungarian weathered the storm and came up with a beautiful reverse body pin off the corner ropes in 11 minutes. Von Bromberg was swinging Hartay, getting ready for another of his well-known crucifix holds when he got too close to the ropes and Hartay used them for leverage to swing back hurling Bromberg to the canvas for the pin.

Soldier Thomas gave the best exhibition of grappling since coming to the Panhandle when he held Andy Tremaine to a 30-minute draw in the semi-final. In fact, Thomas had a slight advantage in the wrestling department although getting in several punishing holds.

If you expect to pay above $1000 for your next car—READ THIS!

SOMETIME WITHIN the next twelve months, 300,000 people are going to buy cars in or above the LaSalle price group—and still not get LaSalle!

Many of these people, we suspect, will do this simply because of a misconception as to LaSalle's price. They believe that because LaSalle is so high in quality, it is probably also high in price.

This is decidedly not true! Actually more than half of all motor car manufacturers have models selling at or above the price of a new LaSalle V-8!

Remember this when you buy your next car. It's only common sense to do this—because a Cadillac-built LaSalle will give you far more performance, far more comfort, and far more safety—as well as far more prestige and general satisfaction.

True Flight

BY ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES COPYRIGHT, 1938, BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS JACKIE DUNN—heroine; she wanted to fly. BOGER, HUCKNER—hero; he wanted to test the stratosphere. BERYL, MELROSE—heroine; she wanted Roger. EVELYN, LA FARGE—Jackie's mother; she wanted a son-in-law.

Yesterday heartbroken, Jackie decided to leave, tells Roger. But she is to have a chance to prove her love for Roger sooner than she had ever hoped.

CHAPTER XX "ROGER, I have something to tell you," Jackie said that next morning when she arrived at the hospital. Roger looked so bright and cheerful today, so much more like himself. His head was no longer swathed in bandages; he wore his gamin-grin, his blue eyes were lighted up as she came into his room. "I decided—yesterday—that I had better go home today."

"That's why you didn't come to see me then?" Roger asked. If her sudden announcement was a surprise—or disappointment—he did not give any sign of either. He smiled at her now, so that his eyes crinkled at their corners in the old way; he motioned toward a chair. "Aren't you going to sit down?" he asked, as though he would tease her a little. "Aren't you going to take off your hat so I may see your pretty hair? You aren't going to run away this minute, are you, Jackie?"

"No," she answered, though in her heart she wished that that were possible. If only she could have run away without having to say goodbye. A goodbye that was the most difficult one she had ever had to say. That might be forever. But even that was not the something she had to do. That was going to be the hardest of all. This thing that she had decided she must do.

She sat down obediently, taking off her hat, as he had asked her to. The sunlight streaming through the window blazed across her hair, making a golden halo of her flushed, young face. The same warm sunshine that only yesterday had caressed the bent dark head of Beryl, kneeling at Roger's side.

"I'm sorry you have to go," Roger said now; the same phrase that Beryl had used when Jackie had told her she was going home. Then, amazingly, he added almost the same words, too. "But maybe, after all, it is best, my love."

Jackie's heart gave a little twinge at the old familiar, mocking words. How often she had told Roger in reply that she was not his love—and now she never could be. Now it was indeed a mockery. "That wasn't what I wanted to tell you," Jackie said. She must get this over as quickly, as painlessly as possible. "What is it?" Roger asked. "You may tell me anything. I guess I can take it—now." He still wore his gay grin, but his blue eyes were serious.

"Just—that you are free," she answered, hurrying on quickly. "Free—of our ridiculous trial engagement, I mean. It really isn't necessary to go on with it any longer, Roger. She and I understand each other better now. And she is going to marry Mr. Scott, anyway."

"And you still feel that you don't want to marry anyone—at least not until you're old and bored and feeble?" "Maybe not even then," Jackie forced another little laugh. So Roger was not even going to protest, or try to hold her to his idea. He wanted to be free, then. There could be no doubt of that. Jackie had tried to tell herself that she must expect this, but it was not any easier to accept for all that.

"I see," Roger said. He turned his head away a moment, as though the sunlight were too strong for his eyes. But when he looked at her again his eyes were smiling. "That's all right, Jackie; I understand. It didn't turn out so hot, did it—my swell idea? Though there was a little while—just before I went away—after that night in the garden—remember?—when I thought . . ."

But Jackie remembered. As though she ever could forget! And because remembrance was so sweet, and yet so sad, she said, "Of course it was an act! You see I had an idea, too, Roger. I thought I'd see if I couldn't even put it over on you—our engagement, I mean. I thought I'd turn the laugh on you, since I knew you'd been laughing at me. I was angry—and silly—and I . . . well, I guess I didn't know what I was doing." Oh, she was telling him this very badly; she must make him believe her, make him believe that she had never meant anything at all—no, not even that night in the garden, not even that short while before he went away, when she had accepted his pin. . . .

"I must go, Roger," she said. She spoke jerkily. "I must go right away. Or I'll miss my train. I want to say once more—thank you, oh! so much—for everything—and . . . and goodbye, Roger. That was the hardest word of all, the most difficult to say."

Having said it, Jackie turned and almost ran from the room. She did run down the long gloomy narrow hall, as though she could not escape quickly enough, as though she were afraid if she did not keep on running she would turn back to Roger, tell him the truth—that this was the end of everything for her.

ATLANTA GRAFT TRIAL TO OPEN

ATLANTA, May 24 (AP)—A new chapter in this community's efforts to yank out graft by the roots will open June 1 when trial of the first of several officers accused of accepting bribes is scheduled.

True bills have been returned against six former Fulton county (Atlanta) deputy sheriffs, eleven Atlanta policemen, a convict camp clerk and the clerk's helper.

Special Prosecutor E. E. Andrews says "that's only the beginning. The youthful, dynamic Andrews, who has conducted the anti-graft campaign since last fall, credits a routine divorce case by the original tip-off on certain under-cover activities.

The prosecutor said the case was filed by the wife of a convicted bootlegger, "Pee Wee" Burns. She asked a property settlement and brought into court papers showing that Burns has bought property under other names.

"In these papers," said Andrews, "some slips turned up showing fairly regular payments of $25 and upward for 'ice' to individuals represented by initials.

"That set us figuring. 'Ice' is the last three letters of the word 'police.' Some of the 'ice' payments were to 'bicycle boys' and we got to thinking that might be motorcycle politicians.

"We called in certain officers under suspicion, promised them immunity, and finally broke the case."

JAPS MOVE TO CHOKO ALL CHINA RAILWAYS

SHANGHAI, May 24 (AP)—The Japanese offensive to choke all China's railways today rolled toward Kaifeng, ancient capital of Honan province and 40 miles east of the important junction at Chengchow.

In a morning attack and claimed destruction of ten trains and considerable trackage. Japanese artillery, tanks and cavalry were moving toward Kaifeng, followed by infantry which captured the old city's key defenses at Lafeng.

The nearest Japanese column was fighting its way along the Lunghai about Chaotaoying, 15 miles east of Kaifeng. (Hankow dispatches said several were killed at Kaifeng by aerial bombardment, and that the fighting a few miles east could be heard within the city.)

By their capture of Suchow last week the Japanese broke the great east-west Lanchow railway at its junction with the north-south Tientsin-Puzow railroad.

The Japanese plan appeared to be to straddle the Peiping-Hankow and coordinate a southward drive against Lankow with flanking offensives through Anhwei and Honan provinces.

AGE GROUP GRANTS BENEFITS MAY BE EXTENDED

WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—The advisory council on social security recommended today extension of the federal old-age insurance program to employes of private non-profit religious, charitable and educational institutions.

The council also suggested, in a letter to Chairman Arthur J. Altmeyer of the Social Security Board, that the program "be extended as rapidly as feasible to include additional groups now excluded."

The 22-member group asked assistance of the board in gathering information by September 15 on possible methods of including farm, labor, domestic employes and self-employed workers.

It opposed any reduction at this time in the two per cent payroll tax shared by employer and employee because of lack of information on the operation of some phases of the plan.

The council asked for information on the "social, financial and administrative problems" involved in possible extension of protection to aged wives, widows and dependent children, explaining that it believed such a program had "sufficient merit to warrant further intensive investigation."

The council was created a year ago to study the advisability of amending the social security act. J. Douglas Brown of Princeton University is chairman of the group, which is composed of representatives of employers, and the public.

FEEBLE VETS UNABLE TO DECORATE GRAVES

GETTYSBURG, Pa., May 24 (AP)—Old soldiers who for years have decorated the graves of those who fell on the nation's most famous battlefield called today for younger men to carry on the duty grown too strenuous for them.

Disdainful of advancing age, the handful of surviving veterans who remain in the section of south-central Pennsylvania 75 years ago proudly handled the work of keeping forever green the graves of fallen comrades.

This year, however, the gray-haired and enfeebled veterans were obliged to delegate the task to younger and sturdier hands. They called upon sons and grandsons to take up preservation of the 3,000 graves.

Nevertheless, the veterans still will have a part in the Memorial day ceremonies next Monday. Donning again their faded blue uniforms, they will motor in the annual parade that attracts thousands to this historical observance.

Once again the immortal words of Lincoln will ring out over the field he dedicated to "a new nation, conceived in liberty." Judge W. C. Sheely of the Common Pleas Court of Adams and Fulton counties will recite the famous Gettysburg address. Another speaker will be Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan.

A feature of the ceremonies will be music by a citizens' band which calls itself "the blue and the gray" in tribute to the Union and Confederate forces that clashed in the decisive three-day engagement.

NO. 1—Continued From Page One

was its fire or police department was another idea expressed by the association representative.

"The amount of money a city spends on recreation should be at least as much as it spends for its police department."

"After all of the line or the pay at one end of the line or the other. Why not pay at the beginning? It simmers down to a question of health and efficiency vs. prison and reformatory."

A department of parks and recreation, with an administrative board of from five to seven members, was recommended, as a plan for cities.

Talk To Commission

Early this afternoon, Mr. Lies and a group of interested citizens appeared at the regular meeting of the city commission in furtherance of plans for recreation here.

There were 40 present at the meeting held last night, including members of the Pampa Recreation committee, composed of representatives of 11 civic clubs, and interested citizens.

Present at the luncheon yesterday at the Schnorr hotel were the following: Charlie Malsel, committee chairman, Hol Wagner, committee secretary, H. P. Lusby, Mrs. J. W. German, J. M. Collins, Paul D. Hill, Howard Neath, L. L. Sone, John S. Miller, minister of the First Christian Church, Garret Reeves, W. Post-James, B. Massa, Rev. Joseph S. Worderly, Mrs. Audrey M. Fowler, Mrs. Ross Cornelius, Mrs. Roy Waltraubstein.

Mr. Lies will go to Oklahoma City, following his two-day visit here, to come to Pampa at no expense to the local committee, after arriving at 6:55 p. m. Sunday in Amarillo from Wichita Falls.

ASK LEGION CEMETERY. WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Rep. South, Democrat, Texas, is preparing a bill to authorize the Veterans Administration to transfer 6 acres of land at its Legion, Texas, hospital, to the American Legion for expansion of the veterans' cemetery there. South said the present cemetery consists of only 3.5 acres and that more than half of it is already in use, with the rate of interest progressively increasing each year.

WILCOX RECOMMENDED THAT PROPOSAL BE DRAFTED OUTLINING THE NEEDS OF WORTHY ORGANIZATIONS AT THE LAKE SITE. POSTMASTER WALKER WILL ACCEPT PROPOSALS FOR A FEW DAYS AFTER WHICH PLANS WILL BE DRAFTED.

TOURIST WARNING ISSUED WASHINGTON, May 24 (AP)—Mexico-bound tourists are being advised by the American consul at the border city of Nuevo Laredo to delay their trip for a few days "because of conflicting rumors" regarding reported movements against President Cardenas at San Luis Potosi, the state department said today.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, May 24 (AP)—Fleebly rallying attempts were short-lived in today's stock market and selling in the final hour put leaders down fractions to more than a point at the close.

Scattered offerings throughout the greater part of the proceedings was a mildly encouraging factor for some speculators, but it was observed activity expanded a little on the finishing lap when the trend was downward. At that time, transfers approximated only 400,000 shares.

Steels dropped the list at the start, but these soon ran out of advancing lead. Alcoa took a turn on the upside, along with selected utilities, copper, rails and specialties. The majority canceled or reduced improvement at the finish.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS AT PRAHA DISRUPTED

PRAHA, May 24 (AP)—Reports of new troop movements on the German side of Czechoslovakia's southern frontier combined with interruption of the Hodza-Henlein peace talks here today to discourage any optimism as had developed after Central Europe's critical weekend.

In official quarters reports circulated that yesterday's withdrawal of German troops from the border took place only in Saxony and that they fell back only about 20 miles.

On Czechoslovakia's frontier with Austria it was said the concentration of German troops actually had increased.

The sudden departure from Praha of Konrad Henlein caused suspension of his negotiations with Premier Milan Hodza on the dangerous issues between his Sudeten German party and the Czechoslovak government.

This coincided with reports the Sudeten Germans were demanding withdrawal of Czechoslovak troops from the week-end in the Sudeten districts as a condition to continuation of peace talks—a condition Praha officials indicated it would be difficult to meet.

The official explanation emphasized that Henlein had gone to Berlin on private business and that conversations would be resumed later, but private reports said there had been a break over the basis for starting the discussions.

Glenn says cut-rate swimming rates will go into effect as soon as the Pampa pool opens, but that profiteering is the order of things now.

Both Mrs. Alford and Mr. Culverhouse warned the R. R. not to take them too seriously. "All this is a joke except that lake," she said.

HITLER WILL PROBABLY NOT FIGHT CZECHS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer

NEW YORK, May 24 (AP)—Europe's week-end war-scare and its very decided hang-over presupposed that Nazi Chief of Staff Hitler was about to invade Czechoslovakia with military force.

That is a supposition which might have materialized and may still do so, but actually found little support in such concrete facts as were made available to the watching world.

Fear was the chief impulse back of the speculation. When troops are moved in Europe, the war-khost starts to rattle his chains and chancelleries begin glancing over their shoulders uneasily.

This is not to say that Fuehrer Hitler hasn't designs affecting Czechoslovakia. He has made it quite clear that he has. Up to this point, however, he has given many indications that he intends to achieve his absorption of the Czechoslovakian Nazis by indirection.

That is to say, he apparently planned to take the course of least resistance, and least danger, by letting his big following in that country do the job for him, rather than by making a direct military assault from without. Germany meantime could exercise tremendous pressure on the small republic.

Hitler has fair promise that if he attacks Czechoslovakia he will force a European war.

He has equally fair promise that if he is able to carry out his program indirectly he will be allowed by France, Britain et al, to get away with it.

Seeks Dry Track

The Nazi war-steed has been conditioned for a dry track. It might not prove to be a good mud-horse.

Hitler doesn't want war, if all the signs read that he doesn't want any general war. The German military machine is keyed up to high-pitch according to all accounts, but the fatherland is in a bad way economically and not set for a big conflict.

Britain's Prime Minister Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons that both Berlin and Praha had assured England they desired peace. Undoubtedly they do, but Czechoslovakia is being asked to pay for peace at the price of independence.

Actually, while the situation has eased off a bit, there is perhaps more danger of a clash between the two than there was four days ago. Now we have troops glaring at each other across the border, and that's always bad for peace.

Wants To Bet

Even at that, it would be a long shot to bet there would be war.

A lot of people are remarking that Czechoslovakia could see somebody's bluff when she rushed troops to the border, giving her half a million or more effective opposite German territory. That sounds all right at first blush, but it doesn't make sense.

Hitler undoul edly was attempting to frighten Czechoslovakia by his own troop movement, but he also was carrying out his scheme of putting the squeeze on a country which lies almost half within German territory. That would be in accordance with his program of working by indirection—he squeezes from without by cutting off transportation, and that sort of thing, while his Nazi supporters inside Czechoslovakia do their work.

It would be unwise and unsafe to gamble that Hitler is bluffing. He has made some big bluffs in the past, and he doesn't want war now, but it would take a lot to stop him, if Europe thought he was bluffing, there wouldn't have been such a scurrying of premiers and cabinets over the week-end.

Hitler will go ahead with his expansion program, and whether there will be war or peace will depend on what methods he employs. He is an opportunist and will strike in the way which seems most likely to succeed, but the consensus seems to be that he will do all he can to avoid a general war.

mobile accident at Santa Fe, N. M., August 31, 1935.

Ikkes, who works mostly in his coat sleeves and is known for his blurted speech, appeared last in public before a Senate appropriations sub-committee on May 16. Two days after that discussion of President Roosevelt's spending and lending program, he sailed for Europe.

A few days earlier he was in the midst of a controversy over whether the United States should sell helium gas to Germany. A meeting of the Federal Munitions Board to decide that question was postponed until he and other cabinet officers could attend.

The secretary will return to Washington in a week, he cabled friends, and will be at home at his newly purchased estate, Headwater Farms near Olney, Md., a Washington suburb.

Ikkes, one of the most prominent figures in the administration, was the surprise member of the cabinet when Mr. Roosevelt announced his chief aides in 1933.

Noted For Bluntness

Correspondents were sent scurrying for reference books for background on his early career. They found that he currently was listed as a Republican but had been a Teddy Roosevelt Bull Moose.

He was a Chicago lawyer with a record of having been a hard-working behind-the-scenes politician.

Since 1933, he has gained a national reputation for saying and doing what he thinks. One of his most debated statements was that this country was facing a fight to the finish between 60 wealthy families and the rest of the population.

He added to his reputation for directness recently by discharging or transferring all of the employes in the office of Under Secretary Charles West, the President's congressional contact. West later resigned.

Mrs. Ikkes has been employed for some time in the National Park Service, a bureau of Ikkes' Interior Department.

The secretary's office said that the friendship that resulted in today's romance began at a White House party. At a later time, this source asserted, the secretary took Miss Dahlman to other White House functions.

Mrs. Roosevelt, told of the wedding, said she did not know the bride "personally" but assumed they had met formally.

"I hope they will be very happy," she commented.

amendment stage late yesterday after five hours of general debate. They predicted it would pass by a substantial margin before adjournment tonight.

They based their optimistic forecast partly on the overwhelming vote of 222 to 73 by which the membership forced the bill to the floor.

Fight To Continue

Ramspeck said that defeat of his substitute would not halt the campaign to make the bill more flexible. He drafted an amendment to make the proposed annual increases in the minimum wage discretionary.

"This bill is never going to become a law," Ramspeck asserted. "It will pass the House all right, but I don't think the Senate will accept it."

Because the Senate passed a much different version last summer, the House bill will have to go to a joint Senate-House committee for adjustment of differences.

"When it gets to conference," Ramspeck said, "we may be able to work out a compromise that will be acceptable."

He pointed out that Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) of the Senate Labor committee, who probably would be one of the conferees, favors a flexible bill.

Chairman Norton (D-NJ) of the House Labor committee, who appealed to the membership to resist all "emasculating" amendments, said his committee had agreed to accept one which would exempt dairymaking, canning and other industries engaged in seasonal handling of fresh fish and perishable fruits and vegetables.

Mrs. Vance had been a resident of Pampa for 12 years. Mr. Vance is a moving and trucking contractor.

FLOATS TO BE BUILT FREE

The parade during the Top O' Texas Fiesta here June 9, 10, and 11, will be the largest ever held, according to advances plans. Response to invitations of the parade committee, headed by W. B. Weathered, for bands and floats has been gratifying.

To date nine bands have registered and five towns have made application to place floats in the parade. The floats will be constructed here at no cost to the town. Towns not yet entered are urged to contact Mr. Weathered immediately because materials for constructing the floats have to be ordered from Chicago, Ill., and Miami, Fla. Each town entering a float will furnish the design they desire and the citizens to ride on the float.

Entered already are Perryton, Clarendon, Wheeler, Miami and Borger.

Besides the six Pampa bands, the famous Guyton Cowboy band, the Panhandle high school band under direction of C. W. Beene, and the Clarendon band under direction of Ray Robbins will be in the parade.

Several other bands made tentative arrangements for accommodations. Today the parade committee learned that besides the 16 huge rubber "animals" and nine giant heads already contracted for, the firm will send a big pre-historic animal that will require 16 men to operate.

At a meeting of the committee last night, individual assignments were "passed out" by Chairman Weathered. O. K. Gaylor and Howard Armburg have the job of signing 103 men or "big" boys to handle the giant rubber animals which will include dragon, rabbits, cats, bugs, monkeys, etc. So large are they that it will require five hours to inflate them, and not by hand either. SHIPPERS BLAMED FOR LABOR TROUBLES

CHICAGO, May 24 (AP)—Responsibility for troubled labor relations in the merchant marine was placed today by Max O'Reil Trout, United States maritime commission member, largely upon "certain shipowners who permitted unsatisfactory conditions to continue and repressed their men to the point where an explosion was bound to occur."

"I am afraid some shipowners, while giving lip service to the principle of collective bargaining, are at the same time doing much to disrupt the employer-employee relationship," he told the "Traffic club and the Ocean Freight & Passenger Agents Association in a prepared address.

"Playing one union against another will not solve the present situation. Such a course only aggravates the factionalism now existing in the maritime field, about which shipowners themselves have so bitterly complained.

"Those shipowners who are being subsidized by the American taxpayers are especially obligated to treat fairly with their men. . . . The American taxpayer . . . is the silent partner in every voyage of every subsidized vessel. He will not continue to pour out money if his expenditure is to be nullified by a recalcitrant attitude on the part of either management or men."
