'DOOM' Days Arrive; Committee Ready

"DOOM" days have arrived, and many local people are hustling about helping DOOM days along. Just in case you were not at a meeting Thursday night, and many, many people were not, DOOM is a diminutive for Drugs Out of Muleshoe, a division established after a joint meeting hosted by the Muleshoe PTA and the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

It was a lively, interesting, and despite the seriousness of the very critical drug situation, presented in a humorous manner by Miss Holly Dean, representative of Texans Against Durgs, a division created by Texas Governor Bill Clements.

Miss Dean, a native of Amarillo, now of Dallas, was introduced by Doris Palmer, president of the Muleshoe PTA. Mrs. Palmer introduced the more than 20 persons at the meeting in the Tri County Savings and Loan Association meeting room and told Miss Dean, "We do have a drug problem here and we are looking the other way."

She went on to say that parents need to get involved, acquaint themselves with their children's friends and know what they are doing and where they are.

The speaker told the group she represented an organization who proposes stronger drug laws. Miss Dean showed many items of drug paraphernalia and explained how easy it is to purchase such paraphernalia in a 'head shop'. A head shop is a store, often pretending to be a record shop or book store, which

Air Force Extends MX Comment Period

Wednesday the Air Force extended the period in which it will accept public comments on a draft environmental impact statement dealing with proposed deployment of 200 advanced MX mobile missiles in the Far West and in the Texas-New Mexico region, which includes a portion of Bailey County.

Four additional weeks were added, and the period for comments will now end May 1.

The Air Force indicated that the additional time is being allowed because of delays in distributing the huge nine-volume environmental statement, which includes some 1,900 pages. Citizens are encouraged to make comment to the handles drug paraphernalia. One of the particular items mentioned by the speaker was a 'beginner's kit' which sells for approximately $1. The kit includes a 'how-to-do' book, with step-by-step instructions on how to roll cigarettes, how to smoke marijuana for the most effect, and other information, all drug related.

However, emphasized the speaker, one of the main culprits is the home medicine cabinet, where large amounts of tranquilizers, sleeping pills and other addictive medications are found.

"We are a pill taking society," she warned, "and our children are becoming a pill-oriented group also."

She told of a large amount of marijuana taken the day of the meeting, Thursday, by city police from a group of Muleshoe Junior High School students. "And, if that is not enough to scare you," she added, "think about the drugs taken by officers just last week from the students at Mary DeShazo Elementary School. Remember, those are third, fourth and fifth grade students, and already familiar with drug use."

The former high school teacher told statistic after statistic which emphasized the extreme danger of drug use. She, too, advised learning more about your children, where they go and what they do, and most important, who they are with.

She told of signs to watch for, including coughs, colds, red eyes, among other physical symptoms. Three medical methods can be used with

Plains Cotton Growers Plan For Election

Bailey County cotton producers and agribusinessmen will elect a producer director to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at a 7:30 p.m. meeting on Monday, February 9 in the City Council Chamber at the Muleshoe City Hall.

Announcement of the election comes from Bennie Claunch of Bula, Bailey County businessman director to the 25 county cotton organization, and Guy Austin of Farwell, current producer director. Each of the counties has two directors, one a businessman and the other a cotton producer. They are elected on alternate years for two year terms. Each is eligible for re-election every second year.

All producers and businessmen are invited to the meeting. However, under PCG by-laws, only current due-paying members of PCG will be eligible to be elected to a director or to vote in the election. This provision of the by-laws will be fully explained at the meeting, according to Claunch.

He said a member of the PCG staff will conduct the election, give a review of

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

We would like a subscription for the Muleshoe Journal. Please let us know by return mail how much a year's subscription will be and we will return the remittance.

Last May, we got together for a weekend with the Ardell Robertsons, (she was Mary Katherine Hammons), the Pete Jenkins (she was Jean Witte), and Lester and Young Hammons. We thought how very nice it would be to have a ten year reunion for Muleshoe High School graduates (or people who attended High School in Muleshoe) from 1940 through 1950.

In July, we talked with James B. (Sugar) Glaze who is President of the Alumnus Association and he thought that July 4, 1981 would be a good time for the reunion since it would bring more people to Muleshoe for the annual July 4th celebration.

We would really like to get something started for a reunion this year. Mary Katherine (Katie), Jean and I will do what we can to help get this reunion started. (Mail letters, phone alumni and whatever is necessary.)

If any readers have any suggestions or whatever... let's please get something started and a reunion planned for July, 1981, okay?

Hopefully,

Meat Production Up Substantially in 1980- Brown

AUSTIN—Although final figures are not in yet, meat production both in Texas and nationwide will be substantially up from a year earlier, reports Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

"Unlike consumers in the Soviet Union and some other countries, the last thing Americans should worry about is a meat shortage," Brown added.

He noted that for the January-November period, production of red meat in Texas was up 8 percent from 1979. This takes into account a 7-percent decline for the month of November, and another expected decline in December. Total red meat production for the state during this period amounted to 3.65 billion pounds, just over 10 percent of the nation's total red meat production for the first eleven months of 1980.

"It should be pointed out that, ironic as it seems, the drought had much to do with the increased supply of meat in 1980," Brown stated. "As the drought destroyed pastures and rangeland, many ranchers had no choice but to sell much of their stock. This put many animals onto the market which probably would not have been there if the weather had been kinder. In this case, consumers benefited while many ranchers suffered."

Very often it's the seller rather than the buyer who gets the "gain" in some bargain.

The Western Cotton Production Conference to be staged in Lubbock's Hilton Inn February 17, 18 and 19 offers an excellent opportunity for High Plains cotton producers to "get a headstart on planning for profit in 1981 and the rest of the decade," according to Joe D. Unfred of New Home.

Unfred, current President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has been named General Chairman of the conference and is impressed with the scheduled subjects for discussion and the quality of speakers. Theme for the two-and-a-half day, four-state meeting is "Cotton's Challenge for the 80's."

Opening the Tuesday, February 17 session will be a presentation on the "Worldwide Cotton Outlook" by Dr. Arlie Bowling, Senior Economist with the National Cotton Council (NCC), Memphis, Tennessee. The remainder of the morning will include discussions of farm programs for the 80's, textile trends, the byssinosis problem, and farm financing.

Two cotton production factors of immediate and perpetual concern to producers, irrigation and water use efficiency and weed control, will occupy the afternoon. The irrigation and water use session will emphasize irrigation cost reduction, getting the most out of limited irrigation water, and the prospects for increasing water use efficiency with varieties and growth regulators.

On weeds, discussion will center on controlling hard-to-kill annual and perennial weeds, plus successful on-the-farm weed control practices used by one producer each from the High Plains and Eastern New Mexico.

Wednesday morning sessions will be devoted to cottonseed and lint quality and trends in cotton improvement. Cottonseed and lint quality discussion will cover the quality control aspects of modulating, ways to minimize lint contamination, planting seed vigor and seed quality testing in Texas.

"Trends in cotton improvement" will feature addresses entitled "Update on Cotton Hybrids," and "Trends in Future Cotton Varieties."

Wednesday afternoon will begin with a producer panel on production planning and cost projection, after which there will be a report on recent and planned activities of the Texas Pest Management Association, a pest management panel, and two speakers on controlling bollworms, the newest threat to High Plains cotton production.

Conference activities will conclude with an 8:30 a.m. tour of the Textile Research Center at Texas Tech University hosted by James Parker, Director.

Copies of the complete Conference Schedule, including speakers and panel members, may be obtained from TAES at Lubbock or from PCG.

"Please respond as to how you plan to vote on the legislation."

Miss Dean advocates 'people power' and going back to the old ways to raise their children.

Also speaking briefly were Sgt. Wayne Holmes, the Muleshoe City Police Department's acknowledged drug expert, who spends on duty and off duty giving drug programs to all interested problems.

He said that since December 1, there have been five cases of overdose of drugs in Muleshoe, almost all from barbituates or amphetamines.

He also told the background of much of the drug problem in Muleshoe.

Deputy Sheriff James Williams, who is also minister of Calvary Baptist Church, told of chemical reactions derived from mixing two different problems and warned, "Kids know more about drugs and what they will do than we know. If the demand for drugs is not there, we can move the dealers out of Muleshoe, then out of Bailey County, then out of Texas."

He also said drugs are not restricted to any ethnic group, or any social group, or any financial Muleshoe School Superintendent Harold Horne spoke about the 'medicine cabinet' drugs and especially the tranquilizer, valium. He said that is the most confiscated drug from students in Muleshoe schools.

Deputy Williams added, "There is a bunch of broken homes in this city. It doesn't mean the parents are divorced, it means the parents and children are divorced."

Soil Test Helps Decide Fertilizers

If you are considering using fertilizer and limestone for crop or pasture land, then soil tests can be a valuable source of information and a profitable investment contends Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

A soil test is a chemical laboratory analysis designed to provide an index of the available nutrients in a soil. Soil tests for pH (acidity), calcium, and magnesium are needed as a basis for lime. The soil test report also include levels of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. In addition, suitable methods have been developed for determining levels of the micronutrients, zinc, iron and manganese.

Even though soil tests can be made for other nutrients, results have limited value where deficiencies have not been detected in research studies, notes Tanksley.

He lists two important requirements for getting valid information from soil

Municipal Judge Linda Huckaby.

As a result of the meeting, DOOM was formed. Drugs Out Of Muleshoe will be scheduling future meetings in an attempt to educate the entire area on the dangerous effects of drugs. James Williams was named chairman and Doris Palmer assistant chairman.

Winter months can also mean tornado troubles

COLLEGE STATION — The winter months not only mean cold weather for Texas, but they also carry the threat of tornadoes, widely believed to be only a warm weather phenomenon.

Since 1951, nearly 100 twisters have touched ground in Texas during January and February, according to figures compiled by the State Climatologist's Office at Texas A&M University.

Over the last three decades of record-keeping, February has had a slight edge over January in number of tornadoes spotted.

With energy costs zooming just any center pivot won't do.

The whole equation changes. The few hundred you can save buying a cheaper pivot can be eaten up in the first year by rising energy costs alone. That's why the right match-up of power, pipe sizes and pressure can make all the difference in the world.

At Valley, we have the latest technology. We'd like to talk to you and show you before you buy any center pivot. Because just any center pivot won't do, especially if rising energy costs are a concern.

Jr.'s Win Coke Party

The Student Council of Muleshoe High School sponsored the attendance class competition at the Muleshoe-Dimmitt basketball game Tuesday night. The class with the largest number of students present will be treated to a coke party given by the Student Council, Monday at 10 a.m.

The Juniors had 50 percent of their class to attend the game, making the third year for the Juniors to win. The Sophomores came in second with 45 percent of their class in attendance. The Seniors and Freshmen both had 37 percent attending the game.

Congratulations to the Junior class for winning the coke party, and the Student Council appreciates the support of all students who attended the games.

Journalism Workshop

Friday, January 23, members of the Mule's Tale staff attended a University of Interscholastic League Journalism workshop. David Stevens and Lee Campbell from West Texas State University explained the four areas of competition.

In News Writing competition, the competitors are given a list of events and facts to use in writing a news story in good form.

In Editorial Writing competition, information is given from which a student injects his opinion into straight news presentations.

In Feature Writing competition, students write an informal news story that provides information and enjoyment.

In Headline Writing competition, students are provided with a short news story and must fit it with a headline. This area of competition is the most difficult because each letter has a certain count, and the headline must be made to fit over the copy.

UIL Journalism competition will be held Monday, April 4, in Littlefield. The Mule's Tale staff appreciates the help of Mr. Stevens and Mr. Campbell and the WT Journalism Department and Mr. Kerry Moore, UIL Director, for arranging the workshop.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Republican Gov. Bill Clements delivered his "State of the State" address to a primarily Democratic Legislature last week, beginning the second quarter of Texas' new political ballgame called "I can cut state spending better than you can."

The same governor who called the Legislature "a bunch of idiots" at an El Paso campaign blowout last spring was less caustic during his speech in the House chamber. He even went so far as to praise legislators for laying the groundwork for the present growth and prosperity.

Unfortunately for the taxpayers, Clements seems to have given up on providing any sort of tax relief to taxpayers . . . and he is by no means alone.

Clements did not say a single word about returning $1 billion to the taxpayers, a previous promise. And House Speaker Bill Clayton has also hinted there may not be much tax relief this session. Both Clements and Clayton want to use at least parts of state surplus funds to finance other state projects. Clayton wants money to find more water for Texas, particularly farmers and ranchers, and Clements wants to boost small businesses here.

Omitting any reference to reducing the number of state employees, Clements also called for:

- creation of a Texas Department of Commerce
- initiative and referendum

—guaranteed loans for small businesses

—fuel tax exemption for gasohol

—wiretapping

—a regional presidential primary

Clements also called for a state water trust fund, which is Clayton's brain-child project.

Battle of the Budget

Political trends come and go, but the basic legislative duty of providing a budget for spending tax money always remains. This season it is a prime issue.

The battle of the budget has already begun. It has, and will continue to make, strange political bedfellows.

The Legislative Budget Board which draws up the preliminary budget has gone too far, according to some displeased state officials.

Clements last week submitted his own executive budget proposal which is some $500 million less than LBB.

And State Comptroller Bob Bullock blew his stack at LBB, saying they went into the red by some $210 million.

Real conflict comes when the legislators begin to make the cuts, first in appropriations committees, then in floor fights.

Campaign Promises

It's in those heated hours that most campaign promises are forgotten, but a few legislators try to keep their word.

Ironically, almost every legislator now in Austin ran on a recent campaign pledge to provide tax relief, especially property tax relief. But if the Big Three leadership (Clements, Clayton and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby) set aside that priority, the lesser lawmakers are at a disadvantage to make tax relief a reality. The next few months will tell.

Feds Step In

Two weeks ago the House made a historical first when it voted to void the election of Alan Schoolcraft versus Al Brown in a San Antonio district. Republican Schoolcraft won that race narrowly, and Democrat Brown charged absentee balloting fraud. By some 20 votes, the House agreed to hold a new election.

Now the U.S. Justice Department is looking into whether the Legislature must submit that decision to federal approval.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—It may seem a bit strange for this time of year but one of the biggest consumer frauds sweeping the nation now involves vacations. Some promoters are offering "vacation certificates." Some of these certificates are genuine, some are not. But the most popular form of vacation fraud purports to offer "Las Vegas Vacation Certificates."

Just this past week we obtained a temporary injunction restraining the activities of a company offering this kind of promotion and so it seems appropriate that we spend a few moments recalling why some of these promotions are frauds.

The Las Vegas vacation schemes are normally run in a "boiler room" full of telephones and fast talking salespersons. A well run boiler room can contact literally tens of thousands of potential victims in a matter of days. If only a small percentage "bites" is then the boiler room makes its money.

The vacation schemes normally offer a three-day, two night trip to Las Vegas. Area merchants are pressured to purchase the certificates at $15 to $25 each for advertising purposes. The merchants then offer the certificates to unsuspecting customers.

Supposedly, the customer who receives the certificate "wins" a free Las Vegas vacation, including bag hotel, with the customer only having to pay transportation. The customer also receives "gaming packages" amounting to several hundred dollars of free slot machine play, free gaming on tables, free meals and so on.

Some customers who have tried to use their certificates find that the glamorous hotel at which they were to stay is in reality a third class motel located far off the beaten track. Other customers found that they had to sit through an extended high-pressure sales pitch for real estate, products, or services before they were given their room keys.

Still others have complained that the "lavish, full-course buffets and meals" and "complete package of gaming materials" were only available at three a.m. or other outlandish hours.

Others found that when they attempted to make reservations for their vacations, there were severe restrictions on what days and months they could be accommodated.

All of these difficulties mean that instead of generating good will by offering the Las Vegas certificates, unsuspecting local merchants instead found themselves confronted with a group of angry customers looking for a nearby target on which to vent their rage.

Some of the Las Vegas vacation promoters attempt to sell directly to consumers, again over the telephone. One ploy used is to request a customer's credit card number under the guise of determining whether the consumer is "qualified." The cost of the Las Vegas packet is then billed to the consumer's account whether or not the consumer agreed to buy.

There are a number of ways to protect yourself against vacation frauds of this type.

1. Demand to see a brochure on the hotel or motel being offered.

2. Ask for references from the company selling you the packet.

3. Ask questions before you buy, such as: will you be required to listen to a sales pitch; is a deposit required; how much notice do you have to give if you decide to cancel; when are the meals and other services available; and is there a restriction on when you can use the vacation certificates?

If you need more information or have a complaint about vacation certificates, contact the Consumer Protection Division office nearest you.

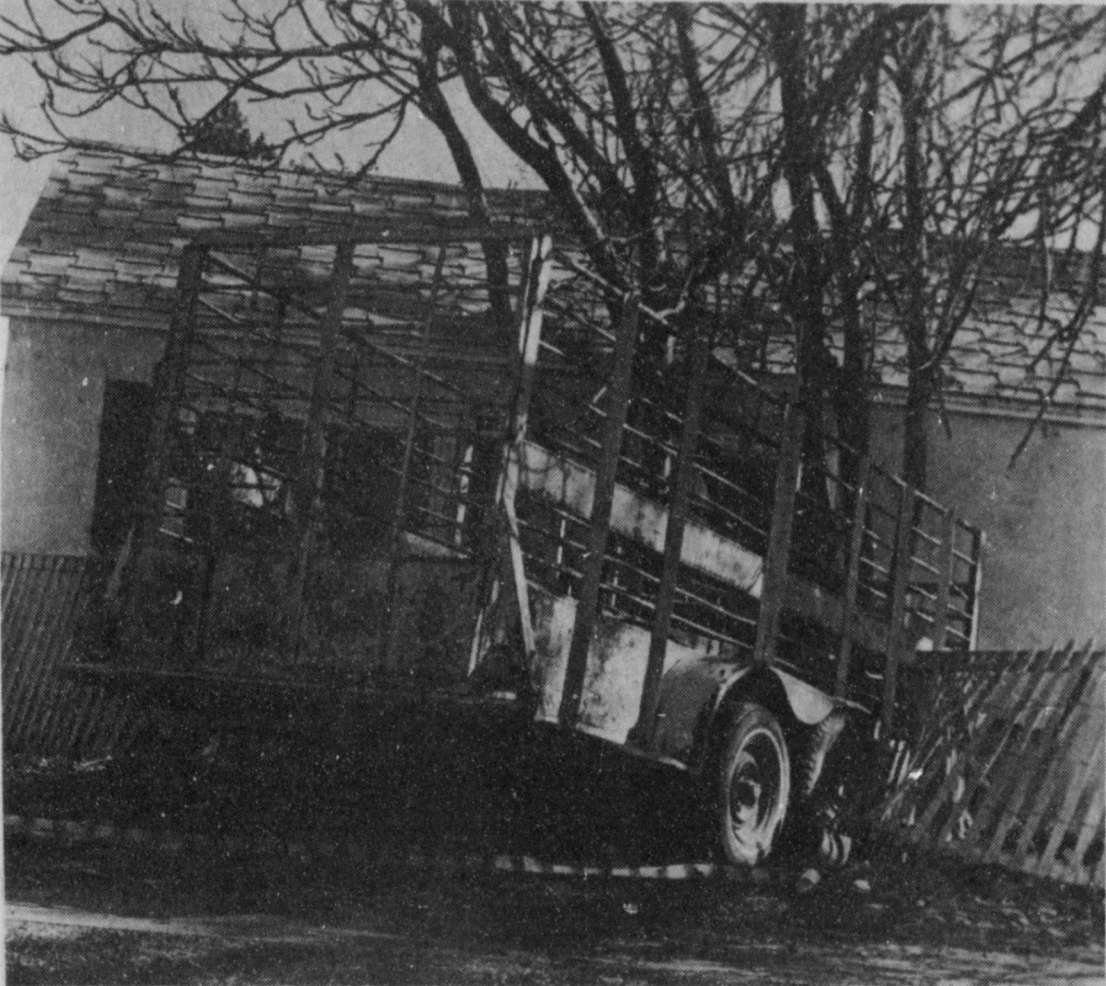

Here's An Idea

"So that new cook of yours is lazy?"

"Lazy! Why, the other morning I caught her putting popcorn into the pancakes to make them turn themselves."

ACCIDENTS & ENERGY

PARIS — A mysterious fire at a nuclear reprocessing plant has ignited a new controversy over France's ambitious drive to harness the power of the atom.

A FREAK ACCIDENT. A surprised driver of a pickup from Earth was surprised to see his metal stock trailer passing him Tuesday afternoon on South First Street. The trailer, which broke loose from the pickup, jumped a curb and slammed into a house at South First Street and Avenue H. No one was injured, except the fence, and the tree that stopped the trailer before it hit the house in the background.

IF YOU WERE AROUND DURING WWII you'll remember posters asking the war effort question: "Is This Trip Really Necessary?" Well, there's a war on to conserve fuel, and as one tactic in waging that war, the modern farmer has to ask himself the same question. Of course, trips to town are important to the question of every farm business, but there are some things you can do to cut down the costs. First, maintain a good supply of routine maintenance and operation items on the farm. Use the off season to thoroughly check, repair and maintain equipment to avoid emergency runs. Whenever possible, use the vehicle with the lowest fuel consumption to get to town. To keep total mileage to a minimum, plan to accomplish as much as possible with each trip.

Device may help doctors in testing condition of heart

COLLEGE STATION — Medical equipment that could make it possible for a doctor to test the soundness of a patient's heart during a routine office visit may result from the research of a Texas A&M University bioengineering student.
 Thomas J. Brosnan, a senior from Waco, is conducting studies on heart electrical activity with bioengineering professor Dr. Walter Kuklinski.
 If the research proves successful, a patient's heart condition might be determined through an electrocardiogram-type analysis, without surgery or extensive hospital tests.

SPS Trio Elected Company Officers

Southwestern Public Service Company's board of directors elected Sam R. Hunter and Larry S. Milner as vice presidents, and Mary L. Pullum as assistant secretary, in action following the company's annual stockholders meeting.
 The three also were elected officers of the company.
 Hunter, who becomes vice president, rates and economic research, was director, rates and economic research. He joined the company as a groundsman in 1948, and holds a master's degree in business administration from Texas Tech.
 Milner, promoted to vice president, communication and public affairs, formerly served as director, communication and public affairs. He was first employed by SPS as manager of industrial development in 1966, and earned a bachelor of arts degree at the University of Texas.

Pullum moves to her new position as assistant secretary from duties as secretary in the corporate financial office. She began her career with the electric utility as a clerk-typist during 1963, and attended Amarillo College.
 In other board action, the present corporate officers were re-elected.
 At the annual meeting, stockholders voted to amend the company's articles of incorporation to increase the total authorized capital stock from $180 million to $330 million. This increases the number of common stock shares from 30 million to continue financing its ongoing construction program.
 Also, the board declared a regular quarterly divi-idend of 3 1/2 cents per share of common stock, payable March 2, 1981, to holders of record at the close of business on February 13, 1981. Regular dividends were also declared on preferred stock, payable May 1, 1981, to holders of record at the $5 million and the preferred shares from 3 million to 5 million. This amendment was necessary to allow the company to close of business on April 20, 1981.

 The stockholders re-elected the incumbent board of directors for 1981.
 Roy Tolk, SPS chief executive officer and chairman of the board, presided at the meeting, which was held at the company's headquarters in Amarillo.

Who is at the Helm?
 Who guides our lives? Are we a ship without a helmsman? Are we adrift, going no place?
 Thanks be to God, who loves us so, He is willing to guide us, to show us the way over all manner of seas. How glorious to know there is such a One! All of us follow someone, some standard, but the true standard is God and His Word.
 Let Him take over the wheel. He doesn't promise smooth sailing all the time, but He promises to guide us through the storm, and show us the way over calm and sweet but sometimes marker-less seas.
