Local Hospital Board Increases Room Rate

The board of directors of Muleshoe Area Medical Center met at 7 p.m. Thursday in the yellow dining room of the hospital.

Following the reading and approval of the minutes of the previous meeting, Richard Murphy, administrator, gave a financial statement of the hospital. The report showed an operational gain for the hospital the past three months. Murphy reported that there was a good occupancy rate for the hospital the past month.

A financial report was also given on Muleshoe Health Care Center. It was reported that there were two vacancies at the present time.

Representatives from Durbin Co. Auditors gave a complete audit report and stated that the hospital has a total of $1,250,000 total assets, up some from the same time a year ago. The board voted unanimously to accept the audit.

Murphy recommended to the board that they continue with Durbin and Co. to do their audit work. The board also approved this recommendation unanimously.

Murphy also recommended increasing the daily room rate of both the hospital and nursing home. "Using Blue Cross Blue Shield as a structure, the hospital charges below what Blue Cross Blue Shield's approved rate for both room rate and lab work," Murphy said.

"In 1990 we had a 20 percent increase in room rates, in 1991 and 1992 there was no increase," Murphy continued. "I recommend that we raise the rates up to Blue Cross Blue Shield's level. I feel that we supply superior medical coverage and we should charge accordingly."

Following a discussion the group unanimously voted to accept Murphy's recommendation.

With no further business, the group went into executive session.

Rotary Hears Program On Cotton Production

"The world cotton market looks good, our biggest competition is India and Pakistan," Gene McGuire said, when speaking to the Rotary Club at noon Tuesday. "We have a strong lobby in Washington and a good loan efficiency program. The good news for the cotton farmers is that a good grade of cotton should bring about 60 cents per pound."

"Last year was a bad year for cotton, with the heavy rains, etc., about as bad as it has ever been. But, with the farm programs working quite well, and the replanting of alternate crops, the farmers came out pretty good," McGuire continued.

McGuire also talked about a cotton conference he attended recently in New Orleans, LA and ways to increase cotton production. He also showed slides of farms in Western Gains County.

The slides showed rye being planted in February 1992. The rye, planted in with cotton served as a protection for young plants increasing production by as much as 25 percent. The rye was terminated at 32 inches. It helps to increase heat units and enables the cotton to grow off faster. The cotton is also planted on more narrow rows.

When asked about the cost per acre, McGuire stated, "Its more time consuming, but in most cases it is less expensive."

David Tipps, president, called the regular Rotary meeting to order. Following the singing of two songs, visitors were recognized. Those visiting included: Darlene Henry, Cindy Purdy, Carolyn Johnson, Gary Montgomery, Mary Hicks, Evelene Harris, with the Journals; and several members of the Texico/Farwell Rotary Club.

Terry Hutto spoke briefly on the thousands of people freezing to death in Bosmea. He stated that the First Baptist Church is collecting blankets, to send to Bosmea, and asked that anyone who had any old blankets they wished to donate to take them by the church.

He also stated that they had found a place where they could purchase blankets for $3.00 each and stated that the church would also accept contributions to this needy project.

SELLING POINTS?--Looking for a bargain in higher education? Try Texas.

According to Money Magazine, seven of the 100 best buys in higher education today are in Texas.

Money rated Rice University number one nationally in offering the best buy, with the University of Texas at Austin ranked 14th. Texas A&M University was 33rd, Baylor University 35th, Trinity University 38th, St. Mary's of San Antonio 81st and Austin College in Sherman 93rd.

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?--Today's increasingly noisy world is more deafening than you think!

Time was when early hearing loss caused by noise was limited to workers in some industries and war veterans, say researchers at the University of Texas Southwest Medical Center in Dallas. Not any more.

Now specialists at both UT

Southwestern and the Baylor College of Medicine in Houston report that they're seeing an increasing amount of hearing loss among people in their 20's.

The causes are many. They include the big sound at live concerts, the whir of a motor on a boat, the convenience of a stereo headset and more. Hearing loss develops so gradually that by the time it's noticed it's usually to late to treat it.

LEGACY--Prairie View A&M University is one of 17 historically black land grant universities that are benefitting from a 102 year old federal law.

Prairie View will share in a $2.8 million scholarship fund from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is the largest federal scholarship program in the nation's history.

It will provide at least 34 scholarships annually to the 17 institutions for a total of more than 136 grants over four years. The awards will be $15,000 to $22,000 per student each year.

All but one of the schools were established in 1890 under the Second Morrill Act to give blacks access to higher education.

Dr. Stephen F. Duncan In Faculty Recital Tuesday

The Eastern New Mexico University School of Music will present Dr. Stephen F. Duncan in a faculty recital Tuesday, January 26 at 8 p.m. in Buchanan Hall. Duncan, an assistant professor of music at ENMU, teaches double reeds, saxophone, music history and electronic music.

The recital will include visual and audio explanations of various Northern Indian instruments and forms of music. The recital also will include a slide presentation of the instruments and of their use in religious services in India.

"The music of Northern India is different enough from our own to be a fascinating and similar enough to be enjoyable," Duncan said. "Western musicians from Yehudi Menuhin to the Beatles have travelled to India to study with the masters of Indian music. The recital should give the average listener a more direct access to music with which Western musicians have been intrigued since Western civilization crossed the Hindu Kush (the British frontier of India)," he said.

Duncan holds a Bachelor of the Arts degree in Sacred Music, a Bachelor of Music Education in Instrumental Music, a Master of Music in Music Education Combined Instrumental Vocal, and a Doctor of Musical Arts in Sacred Music.

He studied in Bombay, India, at the Sangeet Abhinay Academy, with Father Dr. Charles Vas, SVD, D. Mus. Duncan studied in the manner of an Indian student, living in the culture and working with both his guru (teacher) and fellow students.

"You don't have to be an ethnomusicologist to enjoy this recital," Duncan said. "The music I've selected is the people's music in India today. It's light music, it's easy on the ear, it's pretty, it's fun to listen to. Come with an open ear and have a good time."

Duncan's recital is open to the public and free of charge. More information is available by calling the Fine Arts Hotline, 562-ARTS.

Children And Elderly Have Something In Common

Children and the elderly have something in common. Both are prone to nosebleeds, a condition that can be easily treated, says a Baylor College of Medicine ear, nose and throat specialist.

Nosebleeds are one of those annoying problems that many people are not sure how to treat says Dr. John K. Jones, a clinical assistant professor of otorhinolaryngology at Baylor.

"Most of the time, people really don't think of their noses," said Jones. "When a nosebleed occurs, however, it is all they can focus on. Nosebleeds can really be a nuisance. The problem is people are not sure of what to do."

Nosebleeds are most common in childhood, when they are relatively harmless and easily stopped. They do not frequently occur in healthy young adults, but become more common and more serious in the elderly.

"In children, nosebleeds are commonly caused by a blow to the nose, fragile blood vessels, or by dislodging crusts that form in the mucous membrane that lines the nose. Colds or other viral infections can exacerbate the problem," Jones said. "In older people, recurring nosebleeds could signal other problems, such as high blood pressure and anemia. In both teenagers and the elderly, it could be a sign of a tumor of the nose or sinuses."

Most nosebleeds can be controlled by simple first-aid. If this fails to stop the bleeding within 20 minutes, consult a physician. The nose bleed may need to be firmly packed with gauze to apply pressure. In more severe cases, the wound may need to be cauterized, or surgery may be necessary to stop the bleeding.

Jones recommends the following first aid measures:

* Apply pressure to the soft part of the nose for several minutes--not the hard bony portion.

* If bleeding does not stop, soak a piece of cotton in nasal drops such as Neosinephron. Wring the cotton until damp and pack in the nose, squeezing the cotton gently.

* Place a humidifier in the room, especially during winter when heaters can dry out the air. Dry nasal passages are more likely to bleed.

* If your child has a cold or viral infection, use an ointment in the nose such as Meosporine.

* Encourage young children not to place their fingers in their nose, since this is the leading reason for nosebleeds in children. Most outgrow this habit by around age 8 or 10 and nosebleeds should be less of a problem by then.

"Nosebleeds are not something that people like to think about," says Jones. "But knowing what causes them and how to stop them is useful information."

Child Care Is A 1990's Priority

Child care will be a priority for the 1990's as an increasing number of women enter the work force, said Texas Christian University Dean of Students Elizabeth Proffer.

Past President of the Day Care Association of Tarrant County, Proffer noted that women traditionally have been the care givers for children, and, with fewer mothers at home, alternative provisions for child care will be a key focus for families.

Child care solutions include in-home care, registered day homes, profit and not-for-profit child care facilities.

Proffer warned that registered day homes are not regulated by the state and do not necessarily guarantee quality supervision of children. "Some of them are operated under agencies that do attempt to control quality, but it's very difficult to make sure that you are getting good care," she said.

When choosing a day care facility, an open invitation to visit at any time topped Proffer's list of considerations. She cautioned that scheduled visiting hours may result in some centers being lax about cleanliness.

During an initial evaluation of a child care service, Proffer urged parents to check the ratio of children to staff, visit with staff members who regularly deal with children and inquire about the rate of staff turnover.

Broccoli and Turkey Salad With Orange Vinaigrette

1 large bunch fresh broccoli
 1 large red bell pepper, cut into julienne strips
 1 cup sliced celery
 8 ounces smoked (or roasted) turkey breast, cut into julienne strips
 1 cup Orange Vinaigrette (recipe follows)
 Crisp lettuce leaves
 Thinly sliced orange and parsley sprigs, for garnish
 Wash the broccoli and cut the flowerlets away from the stems. Trim tough ends from the large stems and discard. Peel the tender portion of the stems with a vegetable peeler. Slice into 1/4" crosswise slices. Blanch in lightly salted boiling water and drain well. Toss together the broccoli, pepper strips, and sliced celery. Gently toss in turkey strips and dressing. Arrange lettuce leaves on a platter or in a large bowl. Spoon the salad onto the lettuce. Chill until serving time. Garnish with orange slices and parsley sprigs. Serves 8 to 10.

Orange Vinaigrette

2/3 cup Crisco Oil
 1/3 cup cider vinegar
 2 tablespoons freshly squeezed orange juice
 1 teaspoon fresh orange zest
 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
 2 teaspoons honey
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper
 Whisk together until smooth or blend in blender or food processor until well mixed. Makes about 1 1/4 cups.

Farm Crisis-Brought To Stage

The farm crisis and its effects on rural America will be brought to the stage in February, as South Plains College Theatre Department presents "The Rivers and Ravines". The two-act drama will be performed Feb. 11-15 in SPC's Theatre for the Performing Arts. Performances will be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 11-14, with a 2 p.m. matinee on Feb. 15. Admission will be $3 for adults and $2 for children, with tickets to go on sale Feb. 1. "It's a heart-tugging play" said director Jay Brown, who's in his second year as a theatre director at South Plains College. "I picked it because of our close proximity to the farming community. I think it's very typical, and it's very realistic." Adding to the realism of the multi-media production will be slides and footage of farms in and around the Levelland area that will be interwoven with the live action. "What we've seen in working with this play is how the loss of jobs affects more than just the worker who lost his job and his family." Brown said. "It affects an entire community." Written by Heather McDonald in 1988, "The Rivers and Ravines" features a 20-member cast, and also will be performed as SPC's entry in the Texas Junior College Speech and Theatre Association Play Festival to be held in March at Tarleton State University in Stephenville. "I always try to choose shows that are different for my students," said Brown, who selected Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" as the year's first production in the fall. "Some of the kids in the show have been raised on farms, and one of the girls had her farm foreclosed on when she was younger. We also have some city kids. The loss of jobs and the loss of employment happens to everybody. People are out of work everywhere, and not everyone in the play is a farmer." The envious will die, but envy never. -J.B. Moliere.

Newspapers everywhere are now commenting pro and con on "technocracy". We have already read considerable about it, both for and against. Perhaps their is even a norm of virtue in the proposed system. Some of the changes would be revolutionary and unacceptable in a democratic government. American people are not going to lose their names and accept numbers, they are not going to be robbed of their ideals.

Danger Signs Of Troubled Teens

By Lindsey Clifford

(NU) - Adolescence is a turbulent time.

At Hope Community, a spiritually directed treatment center, we are often asked about problems ranging from teen suicide to developmental difficulties, behavioral conflicts, experimentation with alcohol or drugs, and life-threatening depression.

Here's the sort of question we often hear:

Q: My child's behavior has suddenly changed dramatically. Is this normal or should I get help?

A: While some moodiness and rebelliousness are to be expected as a child grows to adulthood, parents, teachers and youth group workers should recognize danger signals of grave emotional problems.

Be alert if your child's grades drop suddenly, if he isolates himself, is angry or violent, or has a new group of undesirable friends. Other troubling indications are truancy, school suspensions, signs of drug or alcohol use, depression, sexual activity, and constant family fights.

These behaviors may be signs of substance abuse, suicidal symptoms, cult involvement, attention deficit disorder, obsessive/compulsive disorders, and troubled peer and family relationships.

At Hope Community, boys and girls from ages 3 to 17 are diagnosed and treated individually, in groups, and with their families to help them lead mentally sound, physically healthy, balanced Christian lives. Our counselors help troubled teens find their own spiritual paths, develop healthy coping mechanisms and good communication skills. Teens learn to take responsibility for their actions and get in touch with their feelings.

Call us at 1-800-333-HOPE (4673) and ask about a free confidential assessment. Don't lose your young one forever.

A Demagogue
"Father," said a small boy, "what is a demagogue?"
A demagogue, my son, is a man who can rock the boat himself and persuade everybody else that there is a terrible storm at sea."

Area Retired Teachers Meet

On Friday, January 15, 1993 at 3:00 p.m. the Muleshoe Area Retired Teachers met in the fellowship hall of the 16th and Ave. D. Church of Christ.

Refreshments of sandwiches, pralines, and hot cider were served by the hostesses, Jean Moore and Lucy Faye Smith.

Ann Oyler introduced the speaker, Pearlle Fluellen, mother of six children all graduates of Muleshoe High School. Pearlle began her entertaining by thanking each and every one present for their role models as teachers and the planting of seeds that molds the lifestyle of our young people. She gave a quote, "You are retired, not expired," and in our golden age we must ask God to help us grow mentally, maintain self-esteem, and always to be grateful. In closing she sang, "Jesus Remembers, When All Others Forget".

Wilma Smith led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the American and Texas Flags.

Minutes were read and approved and Joyeline Costen gave a Legislative report.

Muleshoe Advisory Board Meets

The Muleshoe area has done it again... "Muleshoe had a fantastic year in 1992," said Jana Belew, with the United Blood Services at Lubbock, during the Muleshoe Advisory meeting held Thursday.

Meeting at the Carousel Restaurant at noon, Ms. Belew gave a report on Muleshoe's 1992 drives. Six drives were held in Muleshoe during 1992 and all with the exception of one surpassed their goal.

The people in Muleshoe donated 360 units of blood last year and had a goal of 320.

In 1992, donors in Muleshoe donated more units of blood than they had in any one year since 1989. In 1989-246 units were donated; 1990-366 units; and in 1991, 248 units of blood was donated.

Muleshoe Area Medical Center used a total of 95 units of red blood cells and 20 units of fresh frozen plasma for a total of 115 units. Ms. Leblew reminded the board members that not all patients requiring transfusions completed their treatment in Muleshoe, a number of these people were transferred to either Lubbock or Amarillo.

A total of 27,422 units were used in the entire service area in 1992, with 29,127 being used.

Drive dates were tentatively set for the coming year.

United Blood Services began serving the Lubbock area in 1954, at the request of the local medical society. Today, they serve 35 hospitals in a 45,000 square mile area spanning west in Texas and eastern New Mexico. More than 600,000 people depended on United Blood Services and volunteer donors for blood and blood components they may need.

United Blood Services collects blood from donors in two ways. For donor convenience, blood drives are conducted on-site in communities, businesses, churches, high schools, and colleges. Also, recruiters phone donors to invite them to donate at the blood center. More than 600 donations are needed each week to meet area patient needs.

Ms. Belew presented a plaque to Carol Cox, in appreciation of her work with the Advisory Board last year.

Thank You

Death has had its say,
 And took our Dad away.
 But because you were there,
 Our burden seemed less to bear.

To all who sent flowers, sent cards, made phone calls, brought food gave memorials, or made expressions of kindness, and to those who came to pay tribute to our Dad and Granddad, we wish to express our whole hearted thanks.

Words can't tell you how we feel.

WORD POWER!

One of our popular publications, encourages the learning of new words, and in each edition prints a few words that we can add to our vocabulary.

Words have swayed thousands, even changed the course of history. It is through the use of words that men are saved.

"For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe..." "Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men."

ATTEND CHURCH... HEAR GOD'S WORD

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Coleman Adv. Serv.
