New law will affect tax rate when buying, selling cars

By MARILYN POWERS Staff Writer

Vehicle owners who visit the county tax assessor-collector's office on or after Oct. 1 to get the vehicle's title registered in their name may be in for a surprise under a new state law that goes into effect on that date.

House Bill 4, authored by Rep. David Swinford, who represents Sherman, Moore, Potter, and Carson counties, was enacted by the 79th State Legislature, Third Called Session. It provides that a standard presumptive value be used to determine the tax base for calculating used motor vehicle sales tax.

The new law means that no longer will a vehicle buyer be able to use the purchase price they paid for a vehicle as the determination for the sales tax they pay on the purchase. The sales tax will be calculated on a minimum value of 80 percent of the assigned value of the vehicle, if the amount declared by the buyer is less than that assigned value.

Only private party sales of used vehicles are affected by the new law, which does not apply to sales involving a dealer. The only vehicles currently to be affected by the new law are passenger cars, motorcycles, and light, medium, and heavy duty trucks.

Recreational vehicles, private buses, travel trailers, and trailers are not included but will be requested as part of a Request for Proposal next year, said Gray County Tax Assessor-Collector Gaye Whitehead.

Also excluded at this time from the new method of calculating the tax are private party transactions with a sale date prior to Oct. 1, 2006.

The date must already be filled in at the time the buyer visits the tax assessor-collector's Whitehead said.

Other exceptions to the new rule are vehicles eligible for "classic" license plates, vehicles sold through storage or mechanic's liens, abandoned vehicles, salvage vehicles, gifts, and even trades.

The expected increase in sales tax to be collected is earmarked to go to public education funding, she said.

By MARILYN POWERS Staff Writer Gray County commissioners adopted a proposed county tax rate and budget for fiscal 2007 at their 9 a.m. meeting Friday in the secondfloor courtroom at the county courthouse, 205 N. Russell.

A county tax rate of .445623 per $100 valuation was passed. The rate consists of .399421 for the county general fund, .037536 for the road and bridge fund, and .008666 for indebtedness. A fiscal 2007 budget totaling $10,082,482 was also adopted. The new budget is $954,548 more than the 2006 total of $9,127,934.

The budget had been estimated at $50,519. $10,078,024. The $4,458 difference consists of raises in the amounts budgeted for the county auditor, from $131,981 to $134,318; 31st District Court, from $44,532 to $44,704; 223rd District Court, from $178,663 to $179,612; and Precinct 1 Constable, from $49,519 to

Methodist church to celebrate 100th birthday

By DARLENE BIRKES Special to The News

Members of the First United Methodist Church in Pampa have planned several events for their 100th birthday celebration Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 23-24. A banquet at M.K. Brown Auditorium Heritage Room will start the celebration at 6 p.m. Saturday. Former speaker. Bishop Max Whitfield of the Northwest Texas Conference will be speaker at the Sunday morning services, 10:30 a.m. A noon luncheon will feature historical remembrances and include filling a time pastor Ken Metzger will be the capsule. The celebration will end with birthday cake and a balloon launch. An open house will follow.

Numerous exhibits chaired by Thelma Bray will be on display. Special items for the centennial prepared by members include a history booklet, brass medallions of the church buildings, and the United Methodist Women's cookbook featuring 800 recipes.

On Sept. 29, 1906, a group of five Methodists signed the charter for the first denominational church organized in Pampa. The charter members were Oscar and Gertrude Cousins and W.W. (Wesley) and Ella Harrah with son. They met with the organizing minister, Rev. J.A. Laney, in a building at the corner of Cuyler and Foster Streets, 105 N. Cuyler. The church was recorded as the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Worship services were held in the school. "In 1908 we decided to purchase a lot at the southeast corner of Foster and Starkweather Streets for our own church building," said Lee Harrah in a recorded, oral history interview in 1976. White Deer Land Co. donated a second lot, as they did with denominational churches chartered later.

Current Building Site

A one-room, white church about 30 by 40 was built with a steeple above the entrance. The arched windows were of flowered opaque glass, and the walls midway up had wainscoting of grooved lumber varnished in natural pine. The worshipers depended on a large, coalburning stove for heat and cardboard fans for "cooling." Charter member Lee Harrah, who served the church faithfully until his death in 1990, helped his father put up hail screens on the windows and a hitching rack for the horses.

The Wesley Harrahs had homesteaded a place nine miles north-

Dallas woman poised for space

DALLAS (AP) — Since long before leaving her native Iran as a teenager in 1984, Anousheh Ansari stared at the stars and dreamed of traveling closer to them.

Now at age 40, after an improbable journey that's included learning a new language, earning an engineering degree and starting a telecommunications company that made her rich, this Dallas businesswoman will become the first female space tourist on a Soyuz spacecraft that lifts off Monday.

"I've always been fascinated with space and always wondered about the mysteries of space and wanted to be able to experience it firsthand," the Texas woman said in a telephone interview from the launch site at the Baikonur Cosmodrome in Kazakhstan.

She says she is eager to see Iran from space — she hasn't been back since emigrating to the United States and hopes to inspire girls in her homeland to study science. Ansari says she's received e-mail messages from many of them, although her flight has received scant attention in Iran. She is, after all, an American citizen.

By MARILYN POWERS Staff Writer

Rhonda Kidd of Gray County Sheriff's Office and Randy Dunham of Pampa Fire Department were named the Law Enforcement Officer and Firefighter of the Year for 2006 at Pampa Kiwanis Club's noon meeting Friday at First United Methodist Church.

The March 11 wildfires were mentioned in the presentation to each honoree by John Warner.

Kidd, a GCSO dispatcher, helped coordinate the efforts of 10 fire departments and a number of law enforcement agencies.

"In the middle of it, news agencies call seeking updates, and some guy out of state wants to know if a house he lived in 15 years ago was involved in the fire," Warner said.

Kidd coordinated efforts by radio with law enforcement officers and by cell phone with volunteers, and remained after her shift was over, Warner said.

Her work on the morning of Sept. 30, 2005, when the murders of four family members at the Brian Conrad residence south of Pampa occurred, was also cited.

Conrad, his wife Michell, her son Zach Doan, and her unborn child were killed.

Robin Doan, then age 11, was the only survivor of the multiple homicide. She called GCSO to report the deaths, and Kidd kept her on the telephone for 20 minutes until deputies arrived at the home.

"In a place where the humdrum can suddenly be replaced by terror, where stress is a daily factor, and where controlled chaos is a daily factor, you can always count on her to get things done," Warner quoted Sheriff Don Copeland as saying of Kidd.

Kidd has worked for GCSO for 14 years. Her responsibilities include documenting and maintaining warrant files, keeping up with jail visits, and operating the National and State Law Teletype Enforcement System.

Chief Kim Powell of Pampa Fire Department was out of town at the time of the March 11 wildfires, Warner said, and Dunham, who is deputy chief of fire operations for the department, took command of PFD's firefighting efforts that day.

Dunham worked 36 hours straight in PFD's Emergency Operations Center, coordinating efforts of PFD, Texas Forestry Service and fire departments from Amarillo, McLean, Lefors and other areas, Warner said. Dunham is a grant writer, computer technician, call screener, disciplinarian, organizer and "all-around fix-it man," Warner said. He has been a member of PFD for 15 years.

"When Kim Powell became our fire chief seven years ago, she prayed about the selection of someone in her department who could help her with management responsibility," Warner said. "She believes the Firefighter of the Year is the answer to those prayers."

A Gray County Hazard Mitigation Plan was passed. Such a plan is required before some federal grant funds can be obtained, said representatives of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, who were at Friday's meeting to answer questions about such plans.

The speed limit on Gray County Road 12 1/2 was decreased from 55 mph to 45 mph, and slow truck turning signs were approved for placement on that road, at the request of Halliburton Energy Services, which has a facility on that road.

Commissioners approved a discretionary exemption from requiring bids for professional computer services, citing Local Government Code 262.024(a)(4).

A Caterpillar 120 in Precinct 2 was declared surplus property, and bills of $208,182.13 and salaries of $235,950.82 were approved for payment.

Taxes

Whitehead attended a county tax assessor-collector's meeting last week on the subject of the new law. She said she asked how the values of the vehicles were to be determined, and was told by one Texas Department

Transportation representative that the NADA Blue Book values would be used.

If the buyer paid 80 percent or more of the new law's designated value, called the private party transaction value (PPTV). of the vehicle, the quoted value will be used to determine amount of tax due. If the sales price is less than 80 percent of the PPTV, the amount equal to that 80 percent will be used. If the buyer paid less than 80 percent of the PPTV and wishes to provide a certified appraised value, they may do so.

Only a licensed motor vehicle dealer or licensed insurance adjuster may provide the certified appraisal, which involves completion of a one-page form. Dealer fees for appraisals are set by law and State Comptroller rules. A dealer may charge from $100 to no more than $300 for a certified appraisal for most vehicles. A dealer's certified appraisal of a motorcycle can cost from $40 to $300.

The law allows licensed insurance adjusters to determine the fees they charge for certified appraisals.

The Application for Texas Certificate of Title has been revised to reflect the new rules concerning the value of the vehicle. The new form will be distributed after current forms are depleted. An individual who wishes to get a certified appraisal must do so within 20 county working days after the purchase date, or within 20 county working days after bringing the vehicle into Texas if from out of state. A certified appraisal submitted after this time limit will not be used as the taxable value.

Individuals who elect to pay the 80 percent PPTV and later decide to get a certified appraisal that is lower than the 80 percent may apply for a refund of excess tax paid through the Comptroller of Public Accounts.

The vehicle values to be used for calculating tax due will be accessed by tax assessor-collector's office staff using a computer program. The program requires the year, make, body style, VIN number, odometer reading, empty weight, carrying capacity, gross weight, tonnage, and registration information of the vehicle. No information on the vehicle's condition or other details such as the model (whether it is a Ford Focus or Ford Mustang, for example), accessories, trim and type of upholstery are considered or included.

It seems as if the automobile industry keeps growing every year, and I have always thought the popularity of personal transportation got its start in the old west when cowboys had their horses to go from place to place.

Spreading urban legends in news ...

Urban legends are stories, told as the truth and plausible enough to be the truth, that are told to explain embarrassing, horrific, or exasperating things that supposedly happen to

In your Wednesday evening paper (9/6/06) you related an urban legend that is currently circulating in our community. The caption under a front page picture states, "The school budget did not include money for the band to travel to the first out-of-town game ...". The statement is incorrect! No Pampa ISD administrator asked the band to remain at home nor does the band's budget for travel to games lack the necessary funds to have made the trip.

The school district's administration is aware of the role school spirit plays in a good, well-rounded high school education, and opportunities for students to support each other in their activities are encouraged. Department budgets provide the necessary resources for students to realize their academic and extracurricular goals and dreams.

Strong budgeting policies by the Pampa ISD Board of Education and sound fiscal practices on the campuses and at the central administration level help all of the students in Pampa's schools to gain an excellent and appropriate educa-

Life on the 'Taylor side of the street' ...

Changing the mind of a West Texan is like trying to out-stare a calf at a new gate. It's not impossible, but it hasn't been done yet.

This is introduction enough for a colorful West Texan who graced the halls of academe for nigh onto 50 years before hangin, 'em up a few months back. When Texas State Technical College-Sweetwater opened more than 35 years ago, the second person hired was Homer K. Taylor. He's filled numerous slots there, including the presidency. The native of Zion Hill is believed to be the only West Texas educator who remembers Absorbine Sr.

They "hung him high" with toasts and roasts to signal the end of his educational journey. Taylor, as common as a lariat rope and West Texas cactus, took it all stoically. His response was reminiscent of the fellow interviewed after he'd been tarred, feathered and ridden out of town on a rail: "Except for the honor of the thing, I'd just as soon it hadn't happened," the guy said.

Originally from the tiniest of dots on the map of Callahan County, Taylor yearned to go further west, so he did. He picked up a couple of university degrees Hardin-Simmons in neighboring Taylor County. For the past 48 years, he has hung his hat in Sweetwater, in yet another county west-it." Taylor is a beloved figure in Nolan County. He can discuss anything you'd like - and does so during most waking moments. He took it in stride when they decided to give him a hard time rather than a gold watch, figuring he is light years ahead in the ribbing department.

One person mentioned that when TSTC brass changed the name of the college's main thoroughfare from "College Drive" to "Homer K. Taylor Drive" it marked the first time a fellow had ever been twicehonored for the same piece of pavement. "Before the change, 300 College Drive honored his SAT score," the friend claims.

Before joining TSTC, Taylor was a decorated teacher at Sweetwater High School, where his students excelled in journalism for a dozen semi-weekly newsletter also

Don't get the idea that Taylor's "fading away." He and his wife, Beth, have plenty of "get up and go," and they do. They visit various spots on the globe each year. He's always on the look-out for deals, with a weakness for sporty cars. "Red" and "convertible" are pluses.

When they're in town, Taylor can usually be found in his downtown office, where he still wears several hats. He's president of the Nolan County Foundation and of the West Texas Wind Consortium. (TSTC's newest program is designed for the area's newest economic stimulus, wind energy.) On top of that, he's big the Chamber Commerce, and is a member of one of the few organizations in the community older than he is: The Sweetwater Chuck Wagon Gang. The gang has been serving up flank steak dinners in the community since 1930.

"Homer had best keep a hat on at all times," a friend said. "His old bald head needs all the help it can get."

Taylor is by no means flustered, no matter what is See TAYLOR, Page 8

Bond issues must be decided on facts

Ginger Craig's letter in the Sept. 3 issue of The Pampa News needs to be addressed. The upcoming bond issue for facility improvements for Pampa schools must be decided upon facts and not on rumors and speculation.

First, there is a need for these improvements. This project has spanned almost two years with two separate assessments of the facilities. Horace Mann houses the Pampa Learning Center, technology center, central stores and other related services. The roof has caved in as well as other problems. Carver Center, where the administrative offices are located, has too many problems to name. The high school needs substantial electrical and plumbing improvements, an upgraded media center (library), and more science labs as well as other improvements. To continue the current junior high for educational purposes will require a 10,000-square-foot addition plus other renovations. You are encouraged to see for yourself why there is a need for our school facilities to be improved. The school board is working on a plan to demolish the abandoned school buildings.

Secondly, costs have always been a concern. It is estimated that the renovations to Pampa High should extend its life 25 to 30 years. After considering all of the alternatives, it was determined the most cost effective, long range plan was to renovate the high school, build a new junior high and con-

Texas Thoughts

By The Associated Press

A sample of editorial opinion around Texas:

■ Sept. 11

The Dallas Morning News on five years after the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attacks:

Where were you five years ago this morning, when the 21st century the real one, not the calendar one arrived on four hijacked jetliners out of the clear blue September sky?

That hateful day ushered in a new era in history, a century in which small bands of stateless fanatics can use modern technology to commit spectacular acts of murder and mayhem, and not even the oceans can keep America safe. We were all scattered when the news broke, but by day's end, we were all in the same place: standing together, shoulder to shoulder and heart to heart. One nation, indivisible.

It came at a terrible cost, of course, a price that none of us would willingly pay and one that, God willing, will never be exacted from the American people again. But thinking back on it five years later, in a season of discouragement, confusion and partisan rancor, that sense of patriotism and solidarity looks can we say this about a disaster? pretty appealing. You hear it a lot these days, when people talk about 9/11 and its meaning, this wistful longing for those horrible, wonderful days in the shadow of the catastrophe.

Everything was so clear back then, remember? We all knew, or thought we did, the right thing to do. People helped each other, were kind to each other, put aside petty grievances for the sake of the common good. Hui Smith, who arrived in Dallas as an immigrant from Shanghai only a few months before 9/11, told this newspaper that seeing how Americans responded in the aftermath of that day overwhelmed her with love and admiration for her new country and its people.

Well, that was then. It couldn't last. We all knew that. It was inevitable that as soon as decisions began to be made to respond to the mass murder, America would split.

vert the current junior high to administrative offices, central stores, Pampa Learning Center and related services. The gyms and auditorium at the junior high will remain.

Third, under the city's current ordinances and regulations, a developer must pay the cost to extend city provided utilities. If the extension of utilities is done by the city, there are ways whereby these costs can be collected from the landowners served by them.

Fourth, and most importantly, there will be no tax increase. The recent session of the state Legislature made changes in the funding of public schools which will allow the school tax rate of 2006 to remain the same. In fact, through such legislation, based on current law, taxes will go down in 2008 even with the bond issue.

We care about the education of our kids. There is no better investment than in our kids' education. We urge a YES vote on he bond issue on Nov. 7.

Don Lane, chair Pampa Citizens for Pampa Children

Board meeting not well attended by local citizens

The school board meeting (Aug. 29) was interesting, informative and disappointing. Lee Porter did a fine job of conducting the meeting and the architectural firm conducted an informative explanation of the proposed project. The disappointing aspect came from the lack of participation from the residents of Pampa.

There were only about 30 souls present, but if you discount school board members, school staff and representatives from the city, there were only a handful of residents like myself. I thought that a meeting discussing the school system would have stimulated more interest, especially with a vote on a $40 million + bond issue to be voted on Nov. 7.

These are my thoughts.

1) The existing bond for the elementary remodeling is a 30-year (I assume) bond which would pay out around 2026, but we are told that by 2021 we will have to consider major renovations or replacement of the elementary schools. My math says that we will have five years left on the bond to pay.

2) The recommendation for the high school is to spend $17.8 million to remodel/repair the facility which will give us 15 more years left on the proposed bond issue (2021) and the bonds won't pay off until 2036. Why not wait to replace it later and use the $17.8 million on a new facility which will have to be built anyway, according to the studies.

3) The middle school replacement does make sense if our administration utilizes it to consolidate all administrative/miscellaneous functions.

4) The donation of two 100-acre plots of of land is a wonderful offer. One is on the west side of town, not in the city limits, and the other on the north side of town, partially in the city limits. The kicker about the north location is that a sewer lift station will have to be built to handle the new school. Developers and city management have been pushing for a lift station on the north side of town for the past two years for development.

5) Another area I wonder about are the old buildings - Sam Houston, Baker, Carver and possibly Horace Mann — that need to be taken down. The figures in the studies said approximately $700,000 for each one, close to $3 million. Since the bond issue doesn't include the repairs recommended by the architects which are needed on existing buildings I wonder if we will have the cash to handle the repairs plus needed leveling of old facilities. Dealing with asbestos is an expensive process and what most folks don't know is that PISD will own this wonderful stuff for eternity. If the federal regulators change their minds about the storage site in Oklahoma, we will foot the bill for moving it to whatever new site that is EPA approved.

When you study this complex issue remember that the school staff, school board and a lot of volunteers have spent hour after hour studying buildings, reports and listening to every resident who would offer an opinion. They are just trying to correct years and years of improper or nonexistent maintenance that past administrations have failed to deal with in the interest of keeping taxes low. Give them a lot of respect for the outstanding work they have done and thank them for their efforts.

After spending hours reading the reports, I would look for a bigger site, preferably more centrally located, which would house all elementary, middle and high school functions into one controlled, closed campus. I would also only move the middle school at the present time. The high school could follow at a later date with the elementary schools coming last. This gives us time to adjust our building projects to coincide with our needs. It also gives us more control over when and how much money is spent.

Remember to gather facts, discuss the issue with others and make sure to vote your feelings on Nov. 7. If you don't take the time to vote, then you lose the right to complain.

Unfortunately, there is no reset button for reality

In the first few days after 9/11, flags seem to come out of nowhere and patriotism soared higher than any single event in the past several decades. All the civilized countries in the world shed tears for us and gave us our moments of silence, while a few others danced in the streets and celebrated with glee.

As would be expected, after the initial reaction, the dark crevices yielded those who became offended by our patriotism. We have to be careful not to hurt their feelings.

The War on Terrorism moved to include Iraq and soon the public questioned the move. Many jumped on the noisy band wagon for 15 minutes of fame, or to express their hatred for the Administration. I fear we have forgotten

We entered a war without determining the true foe. The fighting in both Afghanistan and Iraq would have taken less than a year, without the intervention of Iran.

The Israeli/Hezbollah War took place without Israel determining the true foe. The war would not have taken place, without Iran nurturing the Hezbollah.

We are fighting the War on Terror in Afghanistan and Iraq, while the true enemy is sitting on the sidelines, smiling and waiting; with the liberal media unknowingly doing their bidding. They are using those who hate the President to spew their sewage and inflict us with their poison.

The attack on 9/11 was destined to take place, as will those in the future. Crawling into the corner and whimpering won't protect us. Sticking an iPod in our ears and going about our business will not fix the problem. Rose colored glasses will not do it. Spouting hatred for the President and the War will not correct the situation. We are against a foe that is using our own society. There is no "reset" button to click on to start over again. This is reality. Soon, the true enemy is going to have to be dealt with, whether we support the President or not.

Dwaine Nolte FOB Salerno, Afghanistan

Disrespect for country, anthem terrible to witness

I was one of many proud Pampans at the game last Friday night when the Harvesters took the field. However, I had a very unsettling experience just prior to the beginning of the game. I was standing on the ground near the band as the National Anthem was being played, and there were two boys standing beside me.

While everybody else had their hands over their hearts, hats off, and looking at the United States flag, these two boys were talking and laughing, with their ball caps on their heads, just being generally disrespectful. As they continued, they got louder and laughed more. I finally told them that it is proper to take their hats off during the National Anthem and to be quiet out of respect. They both just laughed at this, and one of them made a comment I won't put in this letter, and you would not print.

At that, I had enough. I informed both of them that my son is in Afghanistan right now fighting for this country, laying his life on the line, and a little respect would be very much appreciated by all the people around them.

Do you think they stopped talking or laughing? Of course they didn't, they just became louder! I have to wonder what we, as parents, are teaching, or not teaching, our children? My son is overseas fighting for this? Laying his life on the line every minute so that these kids can laugh and make a joke out of our National Anthem- something that most Americans take as sacred?

What is wrong with this picture? I can only be thankful that Jeremy is not here to see this total disregard for what he and thousands of other men and women are doing every day!

CASA served 152 children last year

CASA served 152 children last year that captures data about how many children were abused and neglected in Gray County last year. This number tells how many, but doesn't tell the story of the children who were victims.

This number doesn't show the faces of the children who were hurt at the hands of the people who were supposed to care for them. These children were abused physically, sexually and emotionally. Some of these children went without the food and medical care they desperately needed.

Some were left to wonder the streets until a stranger found them and took them to the police. Some precious newborn babies were born with drugs in their system and had to endure the pain of withdrawal symptoms. All 152 of these children were confirmed to be the victims of child abuse or neglect, but these are just the cases that were reported.

CASA of the High Plains served these children last year. CASA volunteers visited these children, advocated for these children in court and worked tirelessly to make sure that these children were on track to find a safe, permanent home. Many of these children are in those homes today because of their CASA volunteer.

Mark and Mary are now living with One hundred and fifty-two is a number their aunt in another state and are happier than they have ever been. Sarah is with her aunt and her sister now and finally feels like she is home. Jason is home with his mom, who worked very hard to correct the problems that caused him to be taken away and is full of smiles and giggles.

Three sisters are in their adoptive home today because their CASA volunteer refused to settle for them returning to their abusive family. All of these children are facing a brighter future today because they had a CASA volunteer.

Without United Way funding, some of these children might have missed the opportunity to have CASA advocating for them. Fewer volunteers would be available and every case could not receive a CASA.

Please support the United Way, so a choice does not have to be made about which child gets a chance at a brighter tomorrow.

open with "Lend Me a Tenor", a farce by Ken Ludwig. Performances are at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 9-11 and Nov. 16-18. "Lend Me a Tenor" will keep the audience laughing as one of the funniest plays to hit the BIT boards in more than 20 years. It involves a mistaken death, a sold-out performance and the total panic that Humor will welcome the spring semester when the BIT presents the musical comedy "Nunsense" at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 14-17 and Feb. 21-24. This comical romp, written by Dan Goggin, tells the story of the Sisters of Hoboken as they try to raise song and dance.

The 59th season will close with Sherman L. Sergel's drama "Twelve Angry Jurors" on the BIT stage. Performances are at 7:30 p.m. April 18-21. The play explores guilt and innocence as 12 jurors decide the fate of a 19-year-old on trial for murder. "Twelve Angry Jurors" is a play adapted from the television show by Reginald Rose.

Tickets for the WTAMU theatre productions are priced at $10 to $15 each for reserved seating and $7 to $9 each for senior citizens and children 12 and under. Season tickets also are available and offer ticket holders convenience and savings. Group rates also are available. Tickets for "Marfa Lights"" will go on sale Monday, Sept. 25. TDA reminds producers of linked deposit program

Commissioner Susan Combs announced that farmers and ranchers in primary disasterdeclared counties who suffered crop and livestock losses from drought may be eligible to apply for the Texas Department of Agriculture's Linked Deposit Program for assistance.

"The Linked Deposit Program is available to help producers who lost livestock or other agricultural commodities," Combs said. "Eligible producers can work with their local lender to refinance existing debt or help re-establish their operation at a reduced interest rate through the program.' Producers eligible for the Linked Deposit Program must have suffered an agricultural loss in a county that has received a primary Presidential or Secretarial Disaster Declaration from a natural disaster. Eligible producers must have a loan approved by an eligible lender who then will submit www.agr.state.tx.us.

AUSTIN - Agriculture the completed application to the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority for approval. If approved, the bank's loan rate would be reduced to an interest rate that is established at the time of closing.

The maximum loan amount financed for disaster relief under the Linked Deposit Program is $250,000 per applicant. Linked Deposit loans under the natural disaster category are eligible for the lower interest rate for a maximum of 15 months.

Linked Deposit funds may be used for agriculture-related operating expenses or expenses related to replacing or repairing assets damaged by the drought. A loan under the natural disaster category may be applied to existing debt. This is the only circumstance where a Linked Deposit loan can be used to refinance existing debt.

Megan Mullally is on her own in new talk show

NEW YORK (AP) — She got the itch at David Letterman's desk.

Megan Mullally, long an audience fave on "Will & Grace," had already moonlighted once or twice as a guest host on other talk shows. But subbing for a laidup Dave in March 2003 — and feeling comfortable, relaxed and in her element — Mullally had a revelation, right there on "Late Show"!

"It had never occurred to me that hosting a talk show was a job that you could actually have," she says, chuckling that such a truth could somehow have eluded her. "It had seemed like a very far-fetched profession. Like being an astronaut."

'We're gonna get away from the celebrity culture a little bit. We want to remind people that everybody's special and has a story to tell."

— Megan Mullally Entertainer

Now she's about to blast off with her own weekday talk-variety "The hour, Megan Mullally Show," premiering Monday (check local listings for time and station). Her first guest: Will Ferrell, which is not a bad get.

But the show will be more than star chat. Mullally also promises comedy and music. And, as a singer who starred on Broadway in the musicals "Grease" and "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" and who fronts her own band, Supreme Music Program, she will occasionally favor viewers with a

"We're gonna get away from the celebrity culture a little bit," she adds, explaining that regular folks will be an important part of the guest mix. "We want to remind people that everybody's special and has a story to tell.

Launching in tandem with the show will be a Web site where viewers are invited to upload short films and other self-expression that could possibly appear

"We want to encourage people to explore their creativity," she says.

Monday will mark the end of a lengthy process for Mullally that began with pondering what to do with her life once "Will & Grace" (and her dream collaboration with co-stars Eric McCormack, Debra Messing and Sean Hayes) had run its course.

said. He's seen his share of goat-ropings, county fairs and rodeos, and made friends at every stop. He figures that friends will kid you only if they care about you.

And he's right. This guy's still at the top of his game, busy trading cars, talking turkey about boosting technical education and jawing about a plethora of other topics concerning his beloved West Texas. If you happen to need some rattlesnakes rounded up, he's even an authority on slithery serpents. They've got the biggest rattlesnake round-up in the world right there in town. Last year, they flushed out more than eight tons of the crawly creatures.

Even now, Homer's trying to leverage some national publicity for Sweetwater. He's on the phone with Hollywood, trying to get them to change spelling on the movie title just a bit. He thinks it should be called Snakes on the P-l-a-i-n. He just might get it done.

Progress slow in fighting childhood obesity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ride a bike or hop on a skateboard. Any physical activity is cool — and a plus in the fight against childhood obesity.

That was the straightforward message from an expensive and heavily promoted federal program that claimed it led to a 30 percent increase in exercise among the pre-teenagers it reached.

Despite the apparent success, the Bush administration killed the program this year through budget cuts. That was a shortsighted decision in the view of an organization that advises the government on health mat-

One in five children is predicted to be obese by 2010. Efforts to turn that tide are scattershot, given too few dollars and lacking the national leadership needed to speed real change, the report found.

The demise of the program, known as VERB, "calls into question the commitment to obesity prevention within government," an Institute of Medicine expert panel recently reported.

Dr. Jeffrey Koplan of Emory University, who led the panel, was more blunt, saying it was a waste of public money to develop a program that works and then to dismantle it.

One in five children is predicted to be obese by 2010. Efforts to turn that tide are scattershot, given too few dollars and lacking the national leadership needed to speed real change, the report found. No one knows how many of these programs to trim kids' growing waistlines actually work, the panel said.

"Is this as important as stockpiling antibiotics or buying vaccines? I think it is," Koplan said. "This is a major health problem. It's of a different nature than acute infectious threats, but it needs to be taken just as seriously."

To reinforce that point, the report spotlighted VERB, a campaign by the federal Centers for Disease Control that encouraged 9- to 13year-olds to participate in physical activities.

nation made after 9/11 was to wage war against Iraq. We now know that Iraq did not have weapons of mass destruction, obviating the chief justification for the war. We now know, too, that the Iraqis did not welcome us with open arms. That war, and the mistakes America has made there, renders this anniversary a most melancholy one, despite the heavy blows our military has inflicted on al-Qaeda.

America also made important decisions regarding what came to be known as "homeland security." The government has increased domestic surveillance and spent billions to upgrade material defenses against terrorist acts. This continues to be quite controversial, but it can't be denied that half a decade has passed without a repeat of 9/11. Americans would expected that.

Shared sacrifice What's striking today is how little really changed in the lives of ordinary Americans, aside from those in the military and their families. We are told that we are engaged in a great war against an implacable and bloodthirsty foe, which is true, but for most of us, life undone. It didn't have to be this way. Five years ago on this day, we stood together as one people, angry over our losses but determined to claim our dead, tend our wounded and prepare to destroy the people who had done this to us. We squandered an opportunity to unite in a shared mission, a common cause, a national sacri-

Another day

Will it come again, absent another 9/11? Hard to say. But those who remember where they were on this day in 2001, and what it felt like to be an American that agonizing autumn, will not have forgotten the experience of that season of sorrow and solidarity. If we remember what the enemy is capable of and we must we also remember what we the people are capable of, what we showed ourselves to be when put to the test.

We who survived 9/11 were granted another day to make things right; another day to strive to live bravely, nobly and truthfully; another day to seek justice, to show mercy and to become the men and women we ought to be. The kind of men and women we were five years ago today, when we were shocked and awed out of our illusions.

The future belongs to a new generation of American leaders who can avenge the villainy of that day while also redeeming its promise.

Fall enrollment tops 7,400 at WT

West Texas A&M University's preliminary 12th-class-day (Sept. 13) fall enrollment exceeds the 7,400 mark for the first time in 35 years.

Today's enrollment of 7,417 students is the largest since 1970, when the University had 7,905 students, war still raged in Vietnam and conscription was an American fact of life.

West Texas A&M had 7,273 students enrolled on the 12th class day a year ago, so the University has 144 more students today than in 2005. That makes it a modest increase, but it's one sparked by a bevy of important new faces - freshmen.

West Texas A&M has 1,434 today, 204 more than on the 12th class day of 2005, a 16.6-percent increase.

"Our increase among freshmen is most gratifying," Dr. Brian R. Chapman, provost/vice president for academic affairs, said. "Freshmen are the lifeblood of any university; they are our future, and the future here looks bright indeed."

Chapman said new and improved academic programs, campus renovations and affordability all contributed to the influx of new stu-

Today's 12th-class-day enrollment is preliminary and will be finalized later in the month. Twelfth-class-day numbers are what Texas' public universities report to the state.

Sandies scorch Pampa, 40-14

By MICHAEL J. STEVENS Sports Editor

Pampa started the game at it's own 20-yard line. Miscues and dropped balls forced them into an early third-and-17 when Amarillo High was flagged for pass interference. The Harvesters were out near their own 30 and seemed to be on the move. Again, mistakes forced Pampa into a fourth-and-17 from it's own 18-yard line and James Coffee was sent in to punt the ball away into a stiff wind.

The Sandies set up shop near midfield. Two plays and a 51-yard TD pass from Kyler Hill to Josh Squyres later, Amarillo High was up 7-0 with 8:06 to play in the first quarter (extra point attempt was good).

The Pampa option went to Marcos Campos twice on the following possession. Though Campos gained yards, the Harvesters were again forced to punt. This time, the ball appeared to come off the side of Coffee's foot and was downed at the Harvester 48-yard line.

Moments later, Amarillo High hit pay dirt again after a long Jacob Reinbold run. A penalty however, negated the TD and Pampa held from there, taking over on downs at its own 30-yard line with 3:42 to play in the first.

Pampa was stung by an illegal shift penalty that negated a Casey Trimble run. Moments later, the Harvesters put the ball on the ground and the Sandies recovered it. Two plays later, Reinbold sprinted 24 yards for another TD.

And so went the first half as Pampa tried to find its legs on offense, while the defense looked for an answer as to how to stop the potent Sandie air and ground attack.

The Harvesters were down 30-0 as the second half began. Zac Ammons took the Sandie kickoff, hesitated for a moment in the Pampa end zone then ran the ball out to the 37-yard line. Amarillo High held the Harvesters, forcing a punt with 10:38 to go in the third. Two plays later, Reinbold had another Sandie touchdown. The extra point attempt was good and Amarillo High was out to a 37-0 advantage.

First year Amarillo High head coach Brad Thiessen than began inserting his second team.

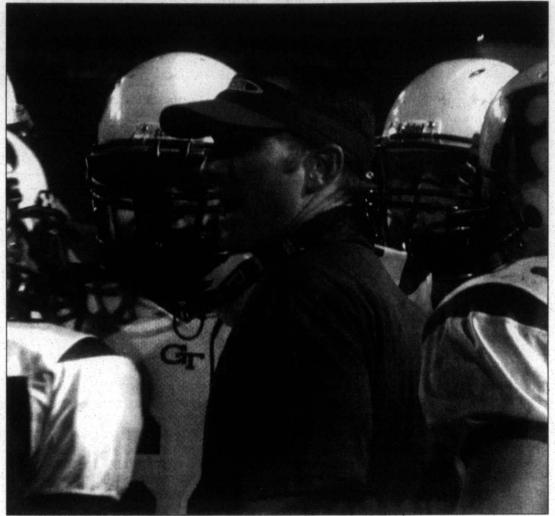

The Harvesters found the end zone twice in the third quarter by way of a 20-yard Casey Trimble run and a 10-yard push through the middle by Chase Harris. Dock Mackie was true on both extra point attempts.

Amarillo High would end the scoring with a 23-yard field goal in the fourth.

Pampa finished the night with just 57 yards of total offense, all on the ground. The Sandies racked up 422 total yards of offense, 237 on the ground, 185 in the air. Reinbold rushed for 148 yards while Hill passed for 120. Pampa's Harris added 59 yards to his season rushing total.

Pampa (1-2) is at Borger to face the Bulldogs Friday night. Game time is 7:30.

Reggie Bush denies any wrongdoing

(AP) - New Orleans Saints running back Reggie Bush insisted Friday he and his family have done nothing wrong, responding to allegations that they accepted gifts, money and other benefits worth more than $100,000 from two marketing agents during his career at Southern California.

"I'm not worried about any of these allegations or anything like that, because I know what the truth is, like I said from day one," Bush said after a Saints practice. "Once the smoke clears, everybody's going to see we did nothing wrong."

Yahoo.com reported Thursday that Michael Michaels, a marketing agency investor who wanted to represent the Heisman Trophy winner, and current Bush marketing agent Mike Ornstein supplied Bush and his family with gifts while he was still at USC.

Each hoped to represent Bush once he left school. Bush eventually chose Ornstein, which caused a falling out between Michaels and Bush's family.

Michaels' attorney, Brian Watkins, said his client was traveling Friday and unavailable for comment, but Watkins claimed the Yahoo.com report was "very accurate."

"We've known what (Bush) was doing. This article proves fraud on his part and his family's part. He never intended to go forward with my clients. He was always taking money from Mike Ornstein and then representing with my clients that he was going to go forward with this business venture," Watkins said, referring to Michaels' company, New Era.

"It was fine for him to go with the other venture, but his job was to notify my clients that he was on the payroll with Ornstein. But he said the opposite. He continued to do that and took money from my client."

Neither Ornstein nor Bush's attorney, David Cornwell, returned phone messages from The Associated Press left late Thursday and Friday.

The NCAA prohibits student-athletes and their families from receiving extra benefits from agents or their representatives. Any improper benefits could lead to NCAA sanctions against USC and retroactively cost Bush his college eligibility and Heisman Trophy.

On Friday, Bush responded to questions about the report much the same as he did when the allegations of improper benefits first were reported earlier this year.

"Obviously it does affect you just because it is out there," Bush said. "But at the same time, I know there's nothing to worry about. It makes you want to go out there right away and tell your side of the story. Show everybody the facts, the truth. But you can't do that. That wouldn't be the right way to do it."

Yahoo.com reported earlier this year that Bush's mother and stepfather lived rent free last year in a house in the San Diego area owned by Michaels. He later said the family promised to repay him the $54,000 in rent once Bush went pro.

Bush, the second overall pick in the NFL draft last April, said he has been in touch with USC officials.

"I told them the same thing, 'Don't worry about anything,'" he said. "If there was something to worry about, than I would tell you. But there's nothing to worry about."

Yahoo's latest report was based on an eight-month investigation that cited documents and interviews with on-the-record sources close to the situation. It lists several instances in which Bush and his family appear to have received financial benefits.

The NCAA and Pac-10 are investigating whether rules were broken when Bush's family lived in the home owned by Michaels.

USC counsel Kelly Bendell said the school is cooperating but "cannot comment on any matter that is the subject of an ongoing NCAA and Pac-10 investigation." NCAA spokesman Erik Christianson said via e-mail Friday from Indianapolis that it's generally NCAA policy not to comment on investigations, but added: "Now that certain individuals have spoken publicly, we hope they will now speak with the NCAA."

In Walnut Creek, Calif., Pac-10 commissioner Tom Hansen said that to his knowledge, the conference did not have information regarding Yahoo's latest report.

Gibbs: Portis won't play against rival Cowboys

ASHBURN, Va. (AP) — Washington Redskins coach Joe Gibbs ruled Clinton Portis out for Sunday's game against the Dallas Cowboys, an announcement that surprised Portis and created yet another twist in the running back's injury saga.

"He didn't practice today. ... If a guy doesn't practice, he's not going to play," Gibbs said.

Gibbs said Ladell Betts, T.J. Duckett and Rock Cartwright will be the running backs against the Cowboys. Portis was downgraded from questionable to doubtful on the injury report, with Gibbs citing the pounding Portis took in the Monday night season opener against Minnesota.

"It's really just because of soreness," Gibbs said. "Actually, it's in a different spot in his shoulder. He's got some soreness there that lingered and kept him from practicing this week."

When told what Gibbs had said, Portis didn't know the decision already had been made.

"I thought it was a game-time decision," he said. "As of now, my bag's packed and ready to go to Dallas, unless they come and tap me on the shoulder in the near future and tell me I ain't going."

Last week, it was just the opposite. Portis spent several days downplaying his chances to make the season opener, saying he was not in football shape and had yet to recover from a partially dislocated left shoulder that caused him to miss nearly all of preseason. But after the final practice, Gibbs sprung a surprise, saying Portis had tested the shoulder sufficiently and would play as a backup to Betts.

Portis carried 10 times for 39 yards in the 19-16 loss to the Vikings, but he has complained of soreness all week.

"I can't do nothing but tell you to wait until Sunday. This bag is going to Dallas," said Portis, pointing at the equipment bag in front of his locker. "We have seen some miracle days happen. This ain't no situation for me not to be playing in."

As usual, Portis wavered from serious to playful, making it difficult to discern whether he really feels he can play. At one point, he said: "I eat gunpowder twice a day now. As long as I'm on this gunpowder, I think I'm going to be all right."

He took a more serious tone when he expressed frustration over the week-to-week drama his injury has become.

"I'm be happy when I'm healthy," Portis said. "Hopefully we can get this over with real soon and I can join my teammates and be on the field and it's not an issue," Portis said. "I don't like this being an issue going into the weekend. Am I up or down? Playing or not? Whatever's best for the team."

Portis wore pads and said he "ran a few routes" during Friday's practice, but apparently that wasn't enough.

"He'll probably tell me he can play on game day, but he didn't practice so we'll move him down accordingly," Gibbs said. "Hopefully he's going to be back next week, that would be my hope."

Prep player hospitalized

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — An Austin Westlake football player collapsed on the sideline Friday night and was taken to a hospital after being revived by paramedics.

Matt Nader, one of the state's top offensive linemen, was in stable condition at College Station Medical Center after collapsing early in the second quarter.

Nader's mother, a doctor, administered CPR to her son as he lay on his back on the track surrounding the field at A&M Consolidated, the Bryan College-Station Eagle reported.

Westlake offensive lineman Dusty Davidson told the Austin American-Stateman he was seated next to Nader when he fell backward and that "nothing out of the ordinary" preceded the collapse.

Nader is a 6-foot-6, 300-pound senior who has orally committed to play football at Texas.

School officials canceled the game

School officials canceled the game between Austin Westlake, ranked No. 7 in the Class 5A Associated Press poll, and No. 4 A&M Consolidated after Nader was hospitalized. The game was tied 7-7.

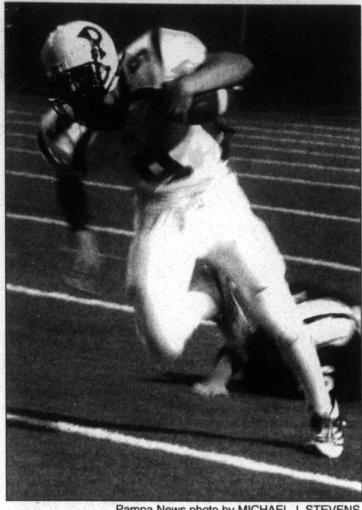

Cundiff to resign at season's end

KINGSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M-Kingsville football coach Richard Cundiff said Friday that he will resign at the end of the season.

Cundiff, in his seventh season, has a career record of 50-21. His teams won four Lone Star Conference championships and he won conference coach of the year honors twice. The team is 1-1 heading into its game Saturday at Western Oregon.

Cundiff said he has no job lined up after this season but felt this was the right time to announce his resignation.

"There's always speculation when a head coach resigns," he said in a statement. "Let me make it clear that I made the decision to step down this way because it will create the least disruption for everyone involved, including our players and fans."

Angels 2, Rangers 1, 11 innings

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - The Texas Rangers couldn't shut down Vladimir Guerrero for two straight games.

Guerrero homered leading off the 11th inning Friday night to give the Los Angeles Angels a 2-1 victory over the Rangers.

Texas held Guerrero to a rare 0-for-4 in the series opener on Thursday night, snapping the outfielder's streak of hitting safely in his first 24 career road games against the Rangers.

But with the game tied at 1 on Friday night, Guerrero lofted an 0-1 changeup from Frank Francisco (0-1) into the left field seats for his 29th homer of the season and 100th in his three years with the Angels.

"Vlad gave us a huge lift tonight with his home run," Angels manager Mike Scioscia said.

Guerrero, who went 2for-5, has 18 of his 334 career homers against Texas. Guerrero does not speak to the media.

"We held him in check for most of two nights, but he hurt us there at the end," Rangers manager Buck Showalter said. "There's no one way to pitch him.'

Brendan Donnelly (5-0), returning after a four-game suspension, pitched two perfect innings for the victory. Donnelly was one of five players suspended for their parts in on-field beanball incidents in games between the Angels and Rangers on Aug. 15-16.

The Angels moved within 6 1/2 games of Minnesota in the AL wild-card race as the Twins lost 5-4 to Cleveland in 10 innings.

Guerrero's homer was the only hit Francisco allowed in his one inning.

Adam Kennedy went 3for-4 for the Angels and broke up a scoreless game with a ninth-inning RBI single off reliever Akinori Otsuka.

The Rangers tied it in the bottom of the inning on Hank Blalock's RBI double. Carlos Lee doubled with two outs off Francisco Rodriguez, the major league saves leader with 42. Blalock's double handed Rodriguez his fourth blown save of the season.

Rodriguez had a streak of scoreless innings snapped.

"It's going to happen," Angels rookie starter Jered Weaver said of Rodriguez's blown save. "He's human. But he'll bounce back."

Weaver took a no-hitter into the sixth inning but Gary Matthews Jr. broke it up with a one-out double.

FARMINGTON, (AP) - She was playing in the 84 Lumber Classic and, for a while Friday, it appeared Michelle Wie might shoot an 84.

Wie's drives constantly landed short of the big-hitting pros, forcing her to use long irons on her second shots when the men were pulling out 7-irons. Her putts wouldn't drop, either, during a second-round 81 even those routine 4- to 6footers.

Wie, who turns 17 next month, tried and failed for a sixth time in her short career to make the cut in PGA Tour event, something no woman has done since Babe Didrikson Zaharias in 1945. But while Wie came close a couple of times, she looked badly out of place Friday during her second last-place finish in as many weeks against men.

Her rounds of 77 and 81 left her 13 shots away from making the cut and a whopping 23 shots behind coleaders Ryan Moore and Ben Curtis, who were at 9under 135.

Wie also finished last a week ago in the European Masters, with scores of 77 and 78. She had all of one birdie in 72 holes the last two weeks, that coming Friday on the par-4 16th during a round that included a double bogey and eight bogeys.

Championship WATER, VIRGINIA

England (AP) - Shaun Micheel saved his best golf for Luke Donald.

One day after ending Tiger Woods' five-tournament winning streak by knocking him out of the World Match Play Championship, Micheel buried Donald with a barrage of birdies to build a 7-up lead before holding on for a 4-and-2 victory.

Joining him in the semifinals was one-fourth of the European Ryder Cup team, led by Colin Montgomerie. The ironman of this tournament, Montgomerie again had to go all 36 holes to win his match, a 1-up victory over defending champion Michael Campbell.

Paul Casey knocked off another major champion, going 22 holes before taking the lead and pulling away from former Masters champion Mike Weir when the Canadian struggled with recurring back and neck problems. Casey won 5 and

Robert Karlsson of Sweden, who will make his Ryder Cup debut next week, played even par over 33 holes but still had no trouble with Angel Cabrera, winning 4 and 3.

Montgomerie will face Casey, and Micheel will play Karlsson.

At stake for the winner of the HSBC World Match Play Championship is $1.87 million, the richest prize in golf among official events.

Constellation Energy Classic

HUNT VALLEY, Md. (AP) - Jim Thorpe hit a 3wood about 238 yards to 3 feet to set up an eagle on the par-5 fifth hole and finished with a 6-under 66 to take a two-shot lead in the World Match Play rain-delayed first round of the Constellation Energy Classic.

> Play in the Champions Tour event was suspended after 43 of the 79 players completed 18 holes. Massy Kuramoto, Tom Jenkins and Walter Hall finished at 68, and Brad Bryant, Mark Johnson and Hajime Meshiai also were 4 under when play was halted.

Phillies 4, Astros 3

Philadelphia Phillies needed an unlikely hero and a late escape Friday night to keep their slim NL East title hopes alive.

Pat Burrell hit a grand slam in the first inning off Roger Clemens and the Phillies survived a nervous ninth to beat the Houston Astros 4-3.

The New York Mets' magic number to clinch the division remained at one with their 5-3 loss to Pittsburgh on Friday and the second-place Phillies' win. Philadelphia also closed within 1 1/2 games of San Diego, the NL wildcard leader.

The Astros had a chance to win it in the bottom of the ninth against Tom a double down the right field line that first baseman Ryan Howard couldn't handle. One out later, pinchhitter Chris Burke beat out an infield single to third and pinch-hitter Jason Lane then hit the fly ball that left fielder Jeff Conine dropped to load the bases.

Gordon got pinch-hitter Humberto Quintero to ground into a double play for his 30th save.

"We wanted to make sure Gordon gets tested good, see if he can pitch when the fire's on," Phillies manager Charlie Manuel said with a smile. "And we had a big fire going.'

Philadelphia starter Brett Myers (11-6) allowed three runs and five hits in seven innings to win for the third time in five starts.

He was flying to Jacksonville, Fla. on Saturday morning to attend the funeral of his grandfather, who died earlier this week.

"Nothing was going to hurt me tonight," Myers said. "I was out there pitching for my grandpa. I didn't care if I was in pain or what. I had to go out there and do it, not only for him, but for the team.'

The Astros' offense again sputtered with Clemens on the mound, mustering four runs or fewer for the ninth

HOUSTON (AP) - The time in his 16 starts this season.

> "We're having a tough, tough time," Houston manager Phil Garner said. 'They tried every way in the world to give it to us and we couldn't punch across a run." Clemens (6-5) lasted five innings in his first start since straining his right groin in the Astros' 3-2 loss to Philadelphia on Sept. 4. He allowed three hits and struck out four, but walked a season-high five. Clemens admitted later that the injury bothered

"I prepared myself as well as I should have, but the ball was running a lot on me," Clemens said. "Tonight, it was me against me. It's very disheartening, Aubrey Huff led off with regardless of how my body

> Morgan Ensberg and Luke Scott homered for the Astros, who have lost four of five as they fade from the wild-card chase.

"We're way behind the 8ball," Clemens said, "and the clip we would have to play at now is incredible." With two outs in the first,

Clemens walked Chase Utley, Ryan Howard (intentionally) and David Dellucci to load the bases for Burrell, who was hitless in his last 22 at-bats against Houston.

Burrell ripped a 3-2 fastball into the porch in left, his fifth career grand slam and the Phillies' fourth this season.

Burrell was 3-for-16 on the Phillies' current road trip and was 2-for-33 in his previous 11 games against Houston.

"We need him to get hot to win this thing," Myers said of Burrell.

With the one swing, Clemens gave up more than three runs for just the second time this season.

Clemens escaped more trouble in the fourth after Burrell singled and Mike Lieberthal doubled down left-field line. Lieberthal was back in the lineup after missing 11 games with back spasms.

"We will make inquiries as part of our investigation of this matter," he said. "It's something we're continuing to look at to see if there are future developments."

He said there was no timeline for the Pac-10's investigation.

"It's impossible to say because of threats of litigation, which we understand have been exchanged among the parties," he said. "Therefore, the presence of legal counsel advising the parties to not discuss the situation makes it impossible to say when an investigation might be completed."

The "Small Works, Great

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — The National Cowboy & Western Heritage Museum® in Oklahoma City announces a new, art event, the "Small Works, Great Wonders" Winter Art Sale, Nov. 30.

Hosted by the Persimmon Hill Associates, a local Museum volunteer support organization, the social event is a benefit for the nonprofit National Cowboy Museum. It represents an opportunity for beginning and experienced collectors to purchase smaller, more affordable works of original Western and Native American art.

More than 80 artists have been invited to participate in the extraordinary, one-night event.

The subject matter of many of the paintings and sculptures will relate to the fall and winter seasons. Works of art will line the Museum's great hallway during the preview reception that begins at 6 p.m. Attendees will receive a ballot book enabling them to enter the fixed-price draw for each piece of art that commences at 7:30 p.m. After the draw, remaining works will be available for purchase throughout the evening.

"We already are receiving such a positive response about this new Museum event," said Charles P. Schroeder, the Museum's executive director. "Patrons are clamoring at the chance to take home these smaller works of original art from quality artists. We already anticipate that the investments people make during this special evening will become beloved additions to homes and offices for generations."

The Museum's presti-Prix de West gious Invitational Art Exhibition and Sale held each summer provides a rich pool of artists upon which to draw. An aspect of this new event is that it features other top quality invited painters and sculptors as well. Merlin Little Thunder, Tulsa, Okla.; J. Chris Morel, Vadito, N.M.; Gary Yazzie, Oklahoma City; Howard Post. Oueen's Creek, Ariz.; Kyle Sims, Bozeman, Mont.; and M. J. "Skip" Whitcomb, Fort Collins, Colo., will participate.

Among the list of participating Prix de West artists are Curt Walters of Sedona, Arizona; William Acheff of Taos, New Mexico; Joe Bohler of Monument, Colo.; Gerald Balciar of Parker. Colo.; Ken Carlson of Kerrville, Texas; Luke Frazier of Logan, Utah; George Hallmark Meridian, Texas; David Mann of Wellsville, Utah; and Jim Wilcox of Jackson, Wyo.; Shirley Thomson-Smith, Oklahoma City; and Robert "Shoofly" Shufelt.

Don Reed, center, recently won a $100 gift certificate to Wal-Mart from the local chapter of the American Business Women's Association. The fund-raiser was held to benefit the association's scholarship fund. Reed is flanked by Evelyn Boyd, left, ABWA chapter treasurer, and Glenda Malone, vice president.

Amarillo Museum of Art names new director

AMARILLO — In a unanimous decision, the board of trustees of the Amarillo Museum of Art recently selected Dr. Graziella Marchicelli, curator of the Southern Alleghenies Museum of Art in Loretto, Pa., to be the new director/curator of the museum.

Marchicelli, 42, will begin her duties Oct. 9. She replaces Tom Toperzer who retired in March.

"Dr. Marchicelli was far and above our top choice out of a pool of 22 candidates that applied for the position," said Dr. Neal Nossaman, president of the board. "Graziella's enthusiasm and passion for art is contagious, and her knowledge of 20th century American art and vast experience in curating exhibitions cinched the deal with us."

Marchicelli was born in Sardinia, off the coast of Italy. She emigrated to the United States with her family as a teen. She holds degrees in art history from the University of Iowa's School of Art and Art History.

Her doctoral area of study was 19th and 20th century European art.

From 1997 until 2001, Marchicelli was assistant curator of education at the Birmingham Museum of Art. She has been curator for Southern Alleghenies since 2001.

Marchicelli's curatorial experience includes regional, state and national exhibitions including "A Symphony of Color: The Lyrical Paintings of Joseph Holston;" "Between Heaven and Earth: The Paintings of Martha Mayer Erlebacher"; and "A Glass Triumvirate: The Art of William Morris, Henry L. Hillman, Jr., and Howard Ben Tre'."

In 2005-2006, she curated the "International Regional Artists Sacred Art Biennial VI," an international exhibition that showcased American modernism's influence upon European art as well as America's aesthetic and cultural ties to other countries.

Marchicelli is married to Joel Santaquilani, a photographer and furniture designer.

west of Cantonment Creek, part of which became the southeastern portion of the Pampa Air Base during WWII. Their first home was a half dugout. They built an Ohiostyled, two-story home so their first child would not be born in a dugout. "They had to prop two-by-sixes, spliced together in pairs, against the house to keep it from swaying when the wind blew hard," Lee said.

Big dinners followed the Sunday School classes held in their home or Uncle Joe Harrah's brush arbor meetings held near his famous rock house at Cantonment Creek. "Uncle Joe was well known for his apple orchard and some black walnut trees. He had a very durable fence row of cottonwood posts that took root," Lee said.

In 1905 the Harrahs bought two sections of land four miles west of Pampa on the Borger highway. It was during that time they attended the Union Church services, which were nondenominational and were held at the school building.

One of the two mission churches organized by the members of First Methodist during the ministry of Gaston Foote was named for Wesley Harrah as was a current Sunday School class begun in 1940.

Charter member Oscar Cousins was the first Sunday School superintendent. The Cousins lived a few miles east of Pampa on a farm. After Oscar died, probably in the early 1920s, his wife Gertrude and their son Aubrey lived in Amarillo but continued to visit the farm.

By 1913 with increased growth in Pampa, an addition was made to the small church, making it L-shaped, another architectural trend of that time. "By 1916 more room was needed, and we filled in the open area, making the church building square," Lee said.

A temporary tabernacle for a two-week revival was constructed in 1923 at the corner of Cuyler and Francis Streets, and the event pointed out the need for a larger building.

Current Building Site The present church site was purchased in 1924, just before the population boom with the oil discovery in 1925. A five-room cottage on the property served as story brick home was built in 1938. This home was converted into a youth building in 1957, when a home at 1201 Williston was purchased for the parsonage. The current parsonage is now at 2704 Aspen.

The first construction on the new property at Ballard and Foster Streets was a basement church, also typical on the frontier. Wilburn Mullinax drew the building plans and was the contractor. He, Joe Shelton and Lee Harrah were among those helping to dig the basement. Services and classes were held in the basement for three years until the sanctuary was completed in 1928 at a cost of $100,000.

On moving day Irene Harrah (Mrs. Lee) helped load the last box of dishes before she went home to have her baby. Baby James Harrah had the honor of being the youngest baby ever enrolled in the nursery because Irene made out the enrollment certificate before he was born, and Lee filled it in when James was only a few minutes old.

In 1950, the Educational Building and Chapel were completed. The stained glass windows in the Chapel depict Christian symbols.

A major remodeling project was begun in 1973 to modernize the Church, redesigning the front entrance stairs and adding the north ramp entrance to aid those with handicaps. The exterior was bricked in studies have always been an important part of the Methodist Church program. Mission trips are sponsored in the summer for the youth, and several summer camp programs are scheduled at the Methodist campsite at Ceta Canyon. Several college scholarships are awarded annually, and donations are made to the Wesley Foundations at area colleges.

The Church membership has helped finance the work of missionary Boyd Reedy in Japan for 30 years and missionaries world-wide, including Pampa Methodist missionary Sonja West to Haiti, before her death in 1991.

Morning church services have been broadcast over radio since the 1950s and are at KOMX FM 100.3 as a service to shut-ins and the community. The FUMC has been a catalyst for keeping activities in downtown Pampa. The first Pampa library was housed in the basement church and consisted of only a shelf of books with volunteer librarians. The Pampa Lions and Pampa Kiwanis service organizations have held their weekly noon meetings in the church basement since the late 1930s. Altrusa, Int. service club members now hold their luncheon/dinner meetings in Lively Hall. Mother's Day Out, begun in 1970, is open on Wednesdays and Fridays and offers a variety of activities for babies to pre-school children in the community. Several members assist in the Kairos Prison Ministry and the Walk to Emmaus program. At one time, 180 Pampans were receiving hot meals five days a week through Meals on Wheels, which operated in the Church kitchen from 1980 until 2004, when they moved to their new build-

DEAR ABBY: My older sister, "Alia," is being married in November at a fancy resort. Her fiance manages the place, so they are getting a reception for next to nothing. Because it is a nighttime, black-tie affair, Alia prefers to have no children at the reception. Children will be welcome at the church, and baby sitters will be provided during the reception afterward. Furthermore, the children will be treated to a pizza party, games and movies. Alia has never related well to children, but she doesn't want to offend anyone. However, my "Aunt Julia" (who has three small children) has gotten wind of this, called Alia and chewed her out, and said her children go "everywhere" with her and that excluding them is an "insult." (These are the same kids who ran wild at our cousin's wedding last month, and one of them spilled red wine on Alia's bridesmaid dress.) Is my sister being rude by excluding children from the reception? Our little sister, "Emily," is 9, and she will be in the children's room and not at the main reception. (And frankly, she's more excited about that than anything.) Please advise, because Alia is sensitive and doesn't want to offend people. -- CARING SISTER, KENT-WOOD, MICH.

DEAR CARING SISTER: If your sister wants an adults-only wedding reception, then she's entitled to have one. Aunt Julia was out of line to criticize. The bride is being more than gracious, and providing generously for the children's supervision and entertainment after the ceremony. And if Aunt Julia feels she cannot be separated from her little angels for even a few hours, then she should attend the children's reception with them.

A couple of times when I was young, my mother attempted suicide (to get attention) and blamed her attempts on me. I will never forget the time she told me, "I tried to kill myself because you are such a horrible daughter." I am still in my mother's life. (I am 47.) I do not wish to see her very much, but I feel responsible for her. I would prefer never to see her again because of all the years of abuse, guilt and inappropriateness she heaped on me. Is this possible? I have had therapy and have come to terms with my past. I guess I am looking for "permission" not to see her. Thank you in advance. - CHRIS IN NAPA, CALIF.

RATLIFF PLEADS CHANGE OF VENUE

Alleges That Trial So Far Shows Prejudice

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN. Jan. 20-Governor Moody's requisition for Ray Terrill, wanted for killing Coke Buchanan at Borger, has been refused by the Oklahoma governor because Terrill is serving an Oklahoma prison term the executive department was notified today

Terrill, whose operations in the Panhandle resulted in man hunts for him following the robbery of the First National bank at Pampa, is alleged to have slain Buchanan, a po liceman, a few weeks prior to the robbery. He was named in confessions later obtained from gunmen

(By Associated Press)

EASTLAND, Jan. 20-Alleging that exhaustion of the venire of 150 ssible to secure a jury to try Marshall Ratliff for robbery with firearms in connection with the hold-up of the bank at Cisco, attorneys for Ratliff today filed a renewed motion for a change of venue.

The venire was exhausted as court recessed last night.

Judge George Davenport, however, refused a second plea for a change of venue.

MARCH 19, 1925 Pampa Has Chance If

Record Total Can Be Cast

Gray county's fourth county seat election probably will be written into 1928 history, in much as this old question. acutely new because of the beavier business incident to o.: a relopment, has been received by a Supreme Court decision making another vote possible.

Poll tax drives are in progress over the county, and the prospective county seat removal election is being frankly used as one of the reasons why a full vote should be made possible. The isolated location of the ounty seat has caused much inconvenience, and a majority of the people of the county would like to see the seat of government moved. Candidates for a new location will numher at least two, however--Pumps jority will be difficult to obtain. Pampa is regarded as the only city with a chance to obtain the county seat, but her vote will have to break The Pampa Harvesters left early all records to be decisive.

The history of Gray county gov rnment dates back to the original election locating the county seat This was held on March 17, 1908, when LeFor. won. The vote was: Le-Fors, 245: Alanreed, 63: McLean, Pampa, then a new town, was not in the running. This town grew steadily, however, and on June 10 1919, it made a bid for the county seat, but lost. The poll showed 187 votes for Pampa, 312 for LeFors, and one vote for Alanreed. McLoun voting to block removal.

The issue came up again March 19, 1925 in the last election. By narrow margin, other parts of the county defeated Pampa's effort to move the county seat here. Pampa polled 1,221 votes, and the rest of the county gave LeFors 775 votes ups, made in the form of basket- to defeat the two-thirds majority. An election could now be called by petition and held in slightly Visiting coaches will pick the five more than a month. If this election should fail, it would be two years before another vote could be called. With this and many other votes approaching, everyone is being urged to pay his poll tax before January 31 in order that he may have a voice to Wharton County in the big issues.

Cemetery tradition keeps couples apart Dead trees

ST. ROSE, Ill. (AP) — Elsie and Louis Holtgrave were inseparable, married more than four decades before Louis died in November 1981. Elsie went to her grave this

While so together in life, the two are far apart in death, buried eight rows from each other in a tiny parish cemetery in this southern Illinois township where loved ones spending eternity side by side are the exception, not the norm.

In St. Rose Cemetery, tradition spanning several generations holds that the dead are buried in the order that they die.

"If something happened to me tomorrow and my wife would die three weeks later, there'd be somebody between us. That's just the way it is, and I don't see that changing in the foreseeable future," says Tim Rehkemper, a member of the church committee that helps tend to the graveyard.

Family plots? Forget it, unless married couples happen to die the same day, assuring their spots next to each other in this graveyard of one-time parishioners of the 138year-old St. Rose Catholic Church. In a few cases, a person's cremated remains have been scattered or interred in their loved one's

The cemetery has a striking uniformity. Crafted by a monument maker in nearby Breese, tombstones are white and waisthigh, topped by a carved-out cross and, increasingly in recent decades, featuring small, oval portraits of the people laid to rest there

Some in the parish have politely suggested that the rules be changed so they could be buried next to their spouse someday. But around this community about 50 miles east of St. Louis, old traditions die hard.

"It's really kind of neat that everybody is buried in chronological order. It's been fine, really," says Dennis Holtgrave, the 65-yearold son of the late Holtgraves. Before their deaths, he says, his parents also were fine with the arrangement.

It's unclear how many cemeteries in Illinois and elsewhere are laid out by dates of death rather than relations.

The Illinois Cemetery and Funeral Home Association says it has no such details statewide, where most of the some 6,600 graveyards are family or religiously held. And of the 3,500 or so graveyards his International Cemetery and Funeral Association represents nationwide, Bob Fells says he's never heard of chronological burials denying someone the opportunity to be buried next to a spouse.

"I'd have to think it's fairly rare where you'd deliberately split up a married couple in grave spaces," said Fells, the trade group's external chief operating officer and general

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Sunday, Sept. 17, 2006

You are very much the personality kid, even more so than in recent years. It is often hard to stop you once you get on a roll. You are unusually creative and dynamic this year. Do test your ideas on others if you really want them to be tight or to work. You have a strong verbal style that sometimes draws a negative reaction. Work with others, emphasizing sympathy and caring. If you are single, you are extremely desirable to the opposite sex. Your job is to choose the right sweetie from the many potential suitors. If you are attached, you need to allow your sweetie to become his or her own person. Not everything can be your way. LEO can push you too far

Conducter Ishii-Eto to make Amarillo Symphony audition

Internationally acclaimed conductor Kimbo Ishii-Eto takes the podium with the Amarillo Symphony on Sept. 22 and 23 as the first finalist in the Symphony's search for a new music director.

Ishii-Eto (EE-she AY-toe) arrives in Amarillo on Monday to guide the Symphony through a week's worth of rehearsals before making his concert debut in the Globe-News Center for the Performing Arts. The program features a lineup of rich classical works by Mozart, Liszt and Dvorak, with a performance by Van Cliburn-winning pianist Davide Cabassi.

Ishii-Eto's audition kicks off the final round in the process of finding a successor for Music Director and Conductor James Setapen, who announced in April 2005 that he would step down at the end of this season, his 19th with the Symphony. Three other finalists will also take the baton in hopes of being named to the position in Amarillo: Eduardo Espinel on Oct. 27-28, Byung-Hyun Rhee on Nov. 17-18 and Joel Smirnoff on Jan. 19-20.

"We're thrilled to host the first of these four exciting candidates as we kick off our historic 82nd season," said Nathan Newbrough, the Symphony's executive director. "And that excitement has spread to our audience, as well, because we have had another remarkably successful subscription campaign."

For a second year running, the seven-concert subscription series is officially sold out, but seats should be available at every concert. For information, call the Symphony office or visit any panhandletickets outlet. Best-available seating also will be available at the Globe-News Center for the Performing Arts box office before concerts.

Music entered the Taiwan-born Ishii-Eto's life at a remarkably early stage. "My father used to own LP recordings of various pipe-organ works that he played over and over when I was still in my mother's tummy," Ishii-Eto said. "My mother used to sing in the choir around that time, too. These may be the reasons that I somehow feel nostalgic whenever I hear the sound of an organ and choir."

His mother, in fact, was a member of the extension chorus at the Vienna State Opera. And music continues to run in his family: His youngest sister – Rie Eto, who performs with the Americanized name Amber - is a well-known pop singer in Japan.

Ishii-Eto had planned to be a performing musician himself, until he developed a neurological condition known as focal dystonia, in which misfiring neurons cause unwanted muscle contractions. That left his goal of becoming a concert violinist an impossibili-

"It was one of the most painful periods in my life, but I learned so many things during that time," Ishii-Eto said.

He studied with Maestro Seiji Ozawa, the world-renowned conductor of Boston Symphony Orchestra fame, then later met Sir Simon Rattle, principal conductor of the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, who became a close friend and influence.

"He (Rattle) has changed my vision of music and life. He reminded me of the appreciation of music-making, the joy of conducting and the pleasure of performing. He has reopened my musical life much wider than before," Ishii-Eto said.

Ishii-Eto has appeared at the helm of orchestras throughout Asia, Europe and the Americas. Now the music director of the Cayuga Chamber Orchestra in Ithaca, N.Y., and resident conductor of the Berlin Comic Opera, Ishii-Eto has decided to advance his career by applying to become the music director and conductor of a larger orchestra.

"I have been waiting to be mature enough to look for an orchestra that will appreciate my potential, so we can prosper together," Ishii-Eto said.

A decision on who will be the Amarillo Symphony's new Music Director and Conductor will be made as quickly as possible by the 13-member committee that has led the search since May 2005. About 200 applications were received before the top four candidates were chosen.

Since 1924, the Amarillo Symphony has been filling audiences with an unbridled enthusiasm for the performance and discovery of great orchestral music. As the only professional orchestra in the Panhandle area, the Symphony employs 85 skilled musicians to perform for more than 2,300 subscribers each year. In addition to its regular concerts, the Symphony offers an array of successful education programs, from youth orchestras to specialized music programs for underprivileged children, bringing the gift of music to thousands of young people throughout the Texas Panhandle each year. For more information, please contact Nathan Newbrough, executive director, at 376-8782 or via e-mail at nathan@amarillosymphony.org.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Monday, Sept.

Solutions are hard to find when you don't add that special touch of idealism. Practicality -- which is one of your best needs a sprinkling of the 'impossible dream." Learn to create your reality and not be bound by self-imposed limits. Great success stems from the ability to mix the two. Unexpected events add to your life's excitement and vitality. You will discover how much good can flow into your life if you open up. If you are single, you will meet many more people than in the past. You could date quite bit. If you are attached, you learn to anderstand each other even better. adding to the warmth of your bond. LEO adores you.

might need to be clarified, not so much

* You might want to think before you leap into action. Without intending to, you could cause yourself a lot of problems. Why do that? You discover other alternatives with fewer hassles. Follow that path. Tonight: All

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) * You do the right thing, whether you are choosing words or taking action. Despite someone's nebulous actions and perhaps touchy behavior, you are on the right track. Smile and share more of yourself. Tonight: As you would VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)  Step back with the full knowledge that your time will come. Sometimes others push you way too hard or you misconstrue what they are saying. You need to know when to push back, say no or simply take a walk to think. Tonight: As

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

 Speak the words you feel, not what you should say. You could be overwhelmed by the many different options you have. Sometimes you would like to understand others better. Ask the right questions, and you'll get the right answers. Tonight: Smile away.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)  Understand what your limits are and what must be done. Sometimes you are not as sure of yourself as you would like to be. A brave front actually might work, convincing you that you are more in control. Tonight: Don't count on making this an early night

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)  You might assume that others are in the same mental camp as you, but you could be surprised. You will find out otherwise. You will see how people who are alike can manifest totally different points of view. You could be most uncomfortable. Tonight: Take a different

West Nile cases outpace last year

DALLAS (AP) Eighteen people have died of West Nile virus so far this year in Texas, with 123 developing the more serious neuroinvasive form of the illness, the Department of State Health Services said Friday.

Last year ended with 11 deaths and 128 neuroinvasive cases, the more serious form of the virus with symptoms including a stiff neck, visual problems, altered taste, body tremors, mental confusion and seizures.

"It's not something to become panicked about, but it's one of the risks in our lives like so many that we need to be aware of," said Tom Sidwa, manager of the zoonosis control branch for the health department.

After first appearing in New York in 1999, West Nile virus spread over the rest of the United States over a three-year period, said Dr. Roy Campbell, a medical epidemiologist with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

The virus was first identified in Texas in 2002, when there were 202 neuroinvasive cases and 13 deaths. In 2003 there were 439 cases and 38 deaths. The next year there were 119 cases and eight deaths.

West Nile virus usually begins appearing in late spring, peaks in early August and then tapers off during the fall as the weather cools, said health department spokeswoman Carrie Williams. But just because the weather is getting cooler, experts say it is no time to stop being vigilant.

There are steps people can take to prevent getting bitten by mosquitoes, which get the virus from feeding on infected birds. Experts advise wearing insect repellent and keeping in mind that mosquitoes are most active from dawn to dusk.
