New passport laws cause bottleneck in clerk's office

By MARILYN POWERS Staff Writer

New passport laws have increased the work load for Clerk District Gaye Honderich's office and prompted her to ask Gray County commissioners for a permanent part-time employee just to handle passport applications. "We did 240 last year, all year," Honderich said. "As of Monday, we had done 105, just for January."

The new passport requirements have caused the explosion in demand. As of Jan. 23, U.S. citizens traveling by air between the United States and Canada, Mexico, Central and South America, the Caribbean, and Bermuda are required to present a valid U.S. passport, air NEXUS card, or U.S. Coast Guard Merchant Document. Mariner Previously, the traveler could present either a valid passport or a birth certificate and valid photo I.D. such as a driver's license.

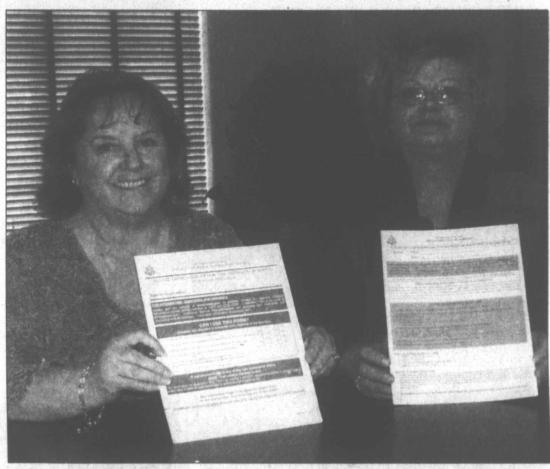

The passport is not required to leave the United States, but it will be required in order to return to the United States from those countries, Honderich said. The new rules do not apply to U.S. citizens traveling directly to and from U.S. territories, including Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, and American Samoa, according to a fact sheet from the U.S. Department of State, the federal agency which issues passports.

Further changes in the rules are to be implemented in future months. The new requirement which went into effect Jan. 23 applies only to persons traveling by air.

"As early as Jan. 1, 2008, U.S. citizens traveling between the U.S. and Canada, Mexico, Central and South America, the Caribbean, and Bermuda by land or sea (including ferries), may be required to present a valid U.S. passport or other documents as determined by the Department of Homeland Security," the fact sheet states. "While recent legislative changes permit a later deadline, the Departments of State and Homeland Security are

Basketball exhibition first of events to boost economy

By KERRI SMITH Staff Writer

Greater Pampa Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a basketball game between the Harlem Ambassadors and the Pampa Thrashers at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Clifton McNeely Field House at Pampa High School. This is one of many events that the chamber and the tourism committee hope to bring to Pampa for residents to enjoy and to help boost the economy for restaurants, hotels and other Pampa retailers

Executive Director for the Greater Pampa Area Chamber of Commerce Pat Vanderpool said he was excited to be able to bring the Harlem Ambassadors to Pampa. He said it should be a fun game, because of the members they have recruited for the Thrasher team, but people should also be amazed by the high quality of basketball skills of the Harlem Ambassadors.

"Not only is the team going to play in the game on Saturday night, but they are also going to conduct two school assemblies to help encourage kids to stay in school and get an education," Vanderpool said. "They will be at the middle school and at Wilson Elementary on Friday afternoon.

"The elementary schools all wanted the team to come to their school but time wouldn't allow that, so we had all of the elementary schools draw straws to see who would win and Wilson was the lucky school." He said the team will also appear at the boys' basketball game on Friday night.

Vanderpool is going to play on the Thrasher team along with some other well known Pampa residents. Mayor Lonnie Robbins, City Commissioner Brad Pingel, Kevin Hunt from the Crews automatically clear snow for customers. Losoya said that anyone can get an estimate, which is based on the size of the area being cleared. They also shovel snow from walkways and put out ice melt.

Fund-raisers not from DPS

Private organizations claiming to be with the Texas Department of Public Safety have been calling Texas residents in various parts of the state, claiming to be raising funds to help the families of a Texas State Trooper recently killed in the line of duty.

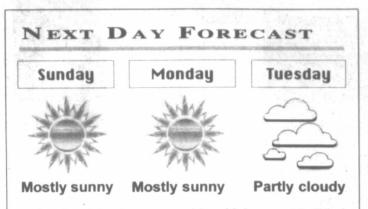

Texas residents should know that the Texas Department of Public Safety never solicits financial contributions from private residents. DPS is funded from tax dollars. The DPS will never call you at your home or business to solicit cash donations.

DPS advises you not to give money to these groups, as the funds are not likely to go to the causes that are claimed. DPS does not receive any of these funds, even if the telemarketers say that DPS does.

Some groups include in their names the terms "Texas Rangers," "State Troopers," "Texas Highway Patrol" or "Department of Public Safety." While some officers may be members of some of these associations on See DPS, Page 3

Nelson to head up fund-raiser

DALLAS (AP) - The soup is intriguing to me," unusual recipe calls for mixing country music icon Nelson's longtime tour man-Willie Nelson with the Fort Worth Symphony.

If that's not spicy enough, add Jessica Simpson, performances by the Dallas Black Dance Theater and a touch of Kinky Friedman.

"And Cirque du Soleil," deadpanned Friedman, "whatever the hell that is."

Throw it all together, and it's anybody's guess what will be served up Feb. 10 during "An Artclectic Evening" at Nokia Theatre in Grand Prairie.

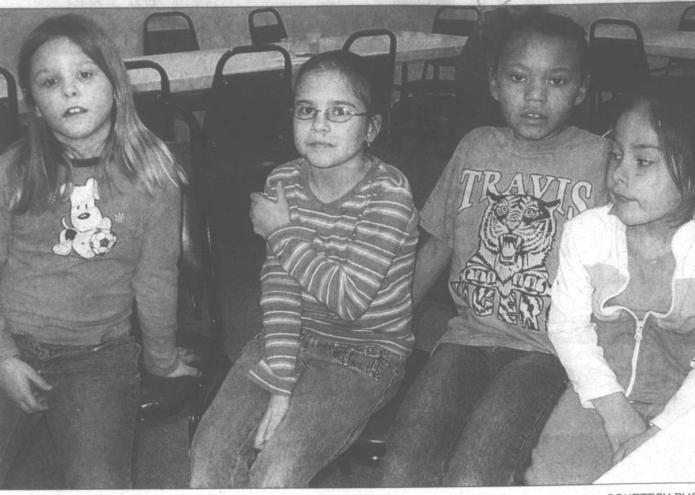

"Some call it garlic soup. I like garlic soup; garlic Haggard to Kid Rock.

said David Anderson, ager and an organizer of the event, which raises money to fund college scholarships for artistically gifted students in Dallas-Fort Worth.

"You may be a redneck Willie fan and you never gave opera or ballet a second thought," Anderson said. "Our hopes are to entertain you ... and you say, 'That's pretty good.' That was the thought behind the concept.'

Nelson is no stranger to seemingly odd musical pairings, having collaborated with everyone from Merle

Supreme Court clinics let students take their cases to highest forum

AUSTIN (AP) - Sitting through opportunities to apply that." another boring lecture on contracts or torts, some law students may daydream about taking a case all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court.

University of Texas law student Benjamin Wallfisch doesn't have time to let his imagination wander. He's busy preparing part of a brief in a case the nation's highest court will consider next month.

Wallfisch is a member of UT's new Supreme Court clinic, an intense program that lets students act as junior attorneys as they try to persuade the justices to hear their case and, ultimately, rule in their favor.

The Texas clinic is representing a Florida company in a case involving federal transportation law. Six federal appellate courts have considered the legal question, with four ruling one way and two ruling the other, said professor Michael Sturley, who directs the clinic with a Washington attorney.

Farmer charged after nabbing thief

CAMBRIDGE, Minn. (AP) — A farmer who chased down a thief and held him at gunpoint until authorities arrived now faces a more serious charge than the thief himself.

Kenneth Englund, 74, was charged with second-degree assault, a felony. The thief, who the sheriff said admitted stealing about $5 worth of gasoline from Englund's neighbor, was charged with misdemeanor theft.

Sheriff Mike Ammend said people can't take the law into their own hands, and that Englund's actions were "an invitation to a shootout. There's so many things that could have gone wrong here."

On Oct. 15, Englund pointed a gun at Christian Harris Smith, 28, and a woman at the vacant farm next to Englund's place in Bradford Township. He then chased their vehicle at speeds of 70 mph, according to the criminal complaint. A 3-year-old child was in the vehicle.

During the chase, Englund used a cell phone to call the sheriff's office and asked if he should "blow them away," according to the complaint. His shotgun turned out to be unloaded.

Englund, a Township Board member for 37 years, pleaded not guilty, was released without having to post bail and is to return to court Feb. 22.

Smith was charged with another theft and was held in the county jail on a felony warrant from another state.

Prosecutor Dan Conlin said no one is looking to put Englund in jail. He said the charge fits the facts, but the case doesn't need to be resolved as a felony.

Next on the travel horizon is a passport card, to be created no later than June 1, 2009. The card will be like a credit or I.D. card in size and shape and will have a microchip or other embedded feature which 'contains information on its owner and which can be read by swiping the card through a machine, Honderich said.

"Travelers entering the U.S. at a land or sea border will be able to use the Passport Card as an alternative to a passport. All travelers entering by air will have to use a passport," states the fact sheet.

The flood of passport requests which has resulted from the new laws is not expected to decrease anytime soon.

"The Department of State says the increase in business will go on for two to three years, until everyone gets their passport," Honderich said. "It has really hit us hard."

The increased activity has forced Honderich to curtail the hours her office will accept passport requests.

office which processes passports, such as the Gray County District Clerk's office.

The form asks for personal identifying information, travel plans, and emergency contact information. It must be accompanied by proof of U.S. citizenship, proof of identity, two recent color photographs, and fees. The cost of applying is $97, of which Gray County is allowed to keep $30 per passport processed.

An instruction sheet provided by Honderich's office suggests applicants bring a current driver's license, original or certified copy of birth certificate, their Social Security number, the two passport photos, and a check or money order for the fee. Cash is acceptable for the $30 to be retained by the county; the remaining portion of the fee must be paid by check or money order and payable to the U.S. Department of State.

Persons who were issued a passport less than 15 years ago and were at least 16 when their most recent passport was issued may qualify to fill out a different application, which may be mailed as well as returned in person.

> The cause of the changes in travel laws can be traced to 9/11, Honderich said.

"The Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act of 2004 requires the Department of Homeland Security and Department of State to develop and implement a plan to require all travelers, U.S. citizens and foreign nationals alike, to present a passport or other document, or a combination of documents, that denote identity and citizenship when entering the United States," the fact sheet states. "Congress amended portions of the Act in 2006. The Western Hemisphere Travel Initiative is the Administration's proposed plan to implement this mandate."

National Bank of Commerce and Donnie Hooper are a few of the players. Stuart Smith, athletic director, has also convinced 12 of the middle and high school coaches to play, including Andy Cavalier.

"We may be at a little bit of a disadvantage because they will have two players that are 6 feet 8 inches tall," Vanderpool said. "And they are also bringing their own referee."

The Harlem Ambassadors professional show basketball team has been around since 1998, Majic" when "Lade' Prophete was the first person to sign and is now the lead show player and head coach for the team. Prophete attended the University of Missouri and has coached on the high school, college and professional levels. She has been invited to the WMBA camp and has been featured in magazines and on television commercials. She holds a master's degree in counseling and works extensively with at-risk youth.

The organization now consists of two squads which performed in more than 200 events during the 2004-2005 season. They perform overseas in Europe and Asia and have also toured in Hawaii and Canada's Northwest and Yukon territories. The team decided to become a "green team" by touring in a diesel powered bus converted to run on cleanburning, renewable vegetable oil, rather than petroleum from foreign sources.

This type of event is what the Chamber of the Commerce and tourism committee are trying to bring more of to Pampa. Vanderpool said the chamber is working closely with the city on ways to market Pampa and what it has to offer. He said the increase in the number of hotel rooms has really helped out this cause.

Vanderpool and Smith are distributing brochures to communities in the Panhandle to invite them to bring their basketball playoff games to McNeely Field House. Both the boys and girls will start the playoff process in the next few weeks.

"We've been told by a lot of people that they like the wood floor in the field house," Vanderpool said. "It seems to give the right amount of bounce that helps the players."

One event that has been scheduled for the summer is a junior rodeo which will be a two-day event. Vanderpool would also like to attract events in the areas of golf, folk music or military history.

"We used to take them whenever they'd walk in. We had to cut our time on it to 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays," she said.

It takes Honderich's staff an average of 20 minutes to handle each passport application. Her clerks must verify the information written on the application, collect the fees, make copies of submitted documents, and send the applications to the Department of State.

The accepted applications are forwarded to the Department of State, and it usually takes six weeks from the time it arrives there until the passport is processed and returned, Honderich said.

Citizens who have never had a passport or whose passport expired 15 or more years ago and they were over age 16 at the time of cally the same information as the form for new passports. If the renewal is mailed in by the applicant to the Department of State, the fee is $67. If expedited service is requested, the total fee is $127. Passports must be renewed every 10 years, Honderich said.

Passports for children under age 14 must be accompanied by evidence of the child's U.S. citizenship, evidence of the child's relationship to parents or guardian(s), and parental identification. Both parents the child's legal or guardian(s) must appear in person to submit the application.

If only one parent submits the child's passport application, they must provide the above documentation plus the absent parent's notarized written statement

The goal of the Western Hemisphere Travel Initiative is to strengthen border security, according to the fact sheet.

Honderich's request for a permanent part-time employee was tabled by county commissioners at their Thursday morning meeting, with the promise that the request would be revisited in a couple of months to see if the increased workload had continued.

"We're not getting recording and scanning done to get records back into the courtroom," Honderich told commissioners. "We have three judges now, which is an increase in the workload."

The demand for passports will help ensure that that increase in workload doesn't ease up anytime soon.

Bureaucracy all too often wastes money, resources

This illegal immigration issue problem is getting really weird.

How strange is this? Gov. Rick Perry rewards illegals by allowing them to attend college in Texas without paying out-of-state tuition.

So a deserving student in Clovis, N.M., who might want to attend West Texas A&M University in Canyon because they have a great agriculture determine immigration status program would have to pay out-of-state tuition. But an illegal alien could attend WTA&MU by paying in-state tuition.

There was a story on the Associated Press wire last week about a Mexican consulate official complaining because police rounded up a group of illegals in North and East Texas.

His complaint? Police, he said, overstepped their authority by profiling and checking on the residency status of those they picked up.

Eduardo Rea Falcon, the consulate spokesman, said 33 men, women and children held over the weekend at a federal immigration center in Dallas were profiled by police.

The immigrants were stopped on traffic violations. Police asked to see immigration papers, and Rea said that is illegal.

"The only ones who can are immigration officials," he said. free.

Jean Dark, a spokeswoman for the Texas Department of Public Safety in Tyler, said that? state troopers referred the group to immigration officials, according to the AP.

Dark said a state trooper can use information obtained during a traffic stop as probable cause to call immigration officials to the scene.

Gov. Perry has instituted "Operation Wrangler" to crack down on drug and human smuggling on the Mexican border crime and not illegal immigration.

So it is apparently not a crime to come into America illegally. Just what is it about the word illegal that people do not understand?

The agency did say it would do away with other costs those applicants pay while they are waiting for the finalization of their permanent residency.

The new fees are supposed to reduce application processing times by September 2009, and will raise $2 billion over two years for improvement of immigration offices, technology, background checks of immigrants and speeding up completing applications.

Applicants now pay a $70 fingerprinting fee, and the agency wants to increase that to $80. Other fees are paid for work permits, replacing lost green cards and petitions to adopt orphans from other countries.

Is there a diplomatic solution? Probably not since Mexican officials urge their poor, unskilled peons to go north, young man, go north.

I suppose the politicians will have to work it out. And, since they seldom do anything productive, it will not get done.

State politicians say it is the federal government's problem. U.S. senators and representatives are too concerned with coddling voting blocs so they can be re-elected.

So we will be here next year and the next with the same

Idle American: As the world spins

The perfect musical composition has never been written, the perfect game never played, the perfect sermon never preached and the perfect life never lived. Not by mere mortals, anyway. Across the ages, though, lots of folks keep trying.

These thoughts came to mind upon the retirement of Dallas Cowboys' Coach Bill most Parcells. Here's a man guaranteed a place among the best coaches in history, yet ers sadly one who seemed frustrated and/or unhappy during his four years in Dallas. He'd tackled the job relentlessly and with unquestionable passion. I pondered a preacher friend's observation about passionate work. Dr. Richard Jackson should know, having been a pastor for more than 40 years. He handled well the challenges and frustrations not unlike those faced by coaches. Hanging in the balance were eternal consequences, not mere trophies.

My friend started out in

The Dallas Morning News on border justice:

The U.S. Border Patrol, on the front lines of America's immigration crisis, is understaffed and overwhelmed. The operation and its agents deserve every American's full support. But they don't deserve it unconditionally. No law enforcement officers do, because they are bound by the same laws that they enforce.

This is the difficult but necessary thing to remember amid the controversy over two ex-Border Patrol agents convicted of shooting an illegal immigrant whom they later discovered was a drug smuggler. A passionate grassroots campaign urging a presidential pardon for Jose Compean and Ignacio Ramos has caught bipartisan traction in Congress, and President Bush is reportedly considering it.

Absent substantial new information coming to light, the president should not pardon these agents. It's heartbreaking to think that mandatory minimum sentencing laws require them to spend over a decade in jail for putting a bullet into the rear end of a no-account drug smuggler. But the rule of law must be upheld.

In February 2005, Mr. Compean and Mr. Ramos opened fire on a drug-trafficking Mexican 'national named Osvaldo Aldrete-Davila as he ran for schedule and a smattering of prayers ascend that succesthe demands of such a pastorate.

"Life's work is a lot like spinning a ball," he said. "If we are passionate and growing, the ball seems to get > bigger and bigger, and gradually more difficult spin." "We feel that it must

to be done and that we must continue to do it, however, so we spin continuously. If the ball were square, we could put it down, like a suitcase, thus resting from time to time."

He also pointed out that it is round, and has no handles.

* * * * *

"Finally, the ball seems too big, and we don't feel equal to maintaining the spin," Richard said.

He talked about difficulty in letting go, and how many sors will take care of the ball, putting their unique spin on it.

"Keep in mind that Parcells' ball was oblong, making spinning even tougher," Dr. Jackson reminded. ...

With Super Bowl XLI fast approaching, I find myself thinking not about the trophy, but vignettes that don't make the sports pages accomplishments that don't show up on transcripts or resumes.

I can think of tens of thousands of other coaches who never reach the big stage, but still manage to touch untold numbers of lives along the way the border near El Paso. He was not armed. Though the defense would later claim that the agents thought Mr. Aldrete-Davila had a gun, seven Border Patrol agents who responded to the scene testified that neither Mr. Ramos nor Mr. Compean mentioned that at the time. Furthermore, if the two believed the shooting was justified, why did they take measures to cover up their action?

One such man is Steve Chevreaux, a high school coach for some three decades. ...

U.S. officials would later grant Mr. Aldrete-Davila immunity from prosecution for his drug run in exchange for his testimony. This has caused understandable public outrage, but far worse for us all if cops got away with this shooting simply because the victim is a Qaeda recently, that if we leave them alone, they will leave us alone.

We need to recall some things like the bombings at the World Trade Center, the Twin Towers, our foreign embassies, ships and planes. These things happened before President Bush went on the offensive and sent troops to their habitats.

We need to heap praise on these troops and their families along with deep sympathies for their sacrifice and should reward them greatly.

It hurts me deeply to read and hear about the deaths and casualties after having witnessed a lot of this in combat during World War II, which was also forced upon us by two terrorist nations

We also have had some harsh criticism of our bombing Hiroshima and Bangladesh, but it might have saved my life and thousands of others, since my army division was scheduled to be one of the assault units to go into Japan's mainland.

came upon a prime example of why I don't do this unless I have no choice.

I was looking for a battery for my pickup, and I wanted to put in an Optima Yellow Top. I went to four parts stores in Pampa and found that the prices were all within $2 of each other, and about $50 higher than what I could buy the same battery for in Amarillo.

I have since found that I can order this battery online, from a store in Houston, pay shipping (on a 50pound battery) and still save $30.

Call me a nut, but there is no way that I will believe that it is coincidence that the prices are so much higher, and so close, here in Pampa. In one parts store I was informed that the battery I wanted only came in one amperage, you had to buy them from Optima, and $188 is what they would cost.

The end result of this is that I will either drive to Amarillo, or order my battery online. If merchants want me to shop in Pampa, don't try to make all of your profit for the day off of me, and be competitive in your pricing. Before I close, I am not claiming that all businesses are like this. There are several who give excellent service and competitive pricing, and I do my business with them. But the ones who set their prices on what others are charging, lie about it, and talk to me like I am in the third grade can sell their stuff to someone else. Red Williams

CANYON - "JA: The Paloduro Ranch," a major exhibit about the history of an operation that has borne the livelihood of many managers, cowboys, cattle, horses and buffalo, will open Feb. 17 in the Harrington Changing Gallery of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

The exhibit will spotlight JA Ranch founder Charles Goodnight and his business partner John George Adair. Adair's wife Cornelia Wadsworth Ritchie Adair, who took a leading role in operating the ranch from 1888 until she died in 1921, will also be featured.

Photographs, maps, ranch records, the JA chuck wagon and a Sharps rifle carried by Goodnight will help interpret his career at the JA.

In addition, the display will feature ranch managers who left the ranch to pursue other interests, after Goodnight departed in 1888 to operate his own ranch at Goodnight, Texas. These include Richard Walsh, who managed the JA from 1894

Groundhog Day

In 1723, the Delaware Indians settled Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania as a campsite halfway between the Allegheny and the Susquehanna Rivers. The town is 90 miles northeast of Pittsburgh, at the intersection of Route 36 and Route 119. The Delawares considered groundhogs honorable ancestors. According to the original creation beliefs of the Delaware Indians, their forebears began life as animals in "Mother Earth" and emerged centuries later to hunt and live as men.

The name Punxsutawney comes from the Indian name for the location "ponksad-uteney" which means "the town of the sandflies." The name woodchuck comes from the Indian legend of "Wojak, the to be their ancestral grandfather.

groundhog" considered by them to be their ancestral grandfather.

When German settlers arrived in the 1700s, they brought a tradition known as Candlemas Day, which has an early origin in the pagan celebration of Imbolc. It came at the mid-point between the Winter Solstice and the Spring Equinox. Superstition held that if the weather was fair, the second half of Winter would be stormy and cold. For the early Christians in Europe, it was the custom on Candlemas Day for clergy to bless candles and distribute them to the people in the dark of Winter. A lighted candle was placed in each window of the home.

The day's weather continued to be important. If the sun came out February 2, halfway between Winter and Spring, it meant six more weeks of wintry weather.

The earliest American reference to Groundhog Day can be found at the Pennsylvania Dutch Folklore Center at Franklin and Marshall College: February 4, 1841 - from Morgantown, Berks County (Pennsylvania) storekeeper James Morris' diary..."Last Tuesday, the 2nd, was Candlemas day, the day on which, according to the Germans, the Groundhog peeps out of his winter quarters and if he sees his shadow he pops back for another six weeks nap, but if the day be cloudy he remains out, as the weather is to be moderate."

According to the old English saying: If Candlemas be fair and bright, Winter has another flight. If Candlemas brings clouds and rain, Winter will not come again.

From Scotland: If Candlemas Day is bright and clear, There'll be two winters in the

From Germany: For as the sun shines on Candlemas Day, So far will the snow swirl until May. For as the snow blows on Candlemas Day, So far will the sun shine before May.

And from America: If the sun shines on Groundhog Day; Half the fuel and half the hay.

If the sun made an appearance on Candlemas Day, an animal would cast a shadow, thus predicting six more weeks of Winter. Germans watched a badger for the shadow. In Pennsylvania, the groundhog, upon waking from mid-Winter hibernation, was selected as the replacement.

Pennsylvania's official celebration of Groundhog Day began on February 2nd, 1886 with a proclamation in The Punxsutawney Spirit by the newspaper's editor, Clymer Freas: "Today is groundhog day and up to the time of going to press the beast has not seen its shadow." The groundhog was given the name "Punxsutawney Phil, Seer of Seers, Sage of Sages, Prognosticator of Prognosticators, and Weather Prophet Extraordinary'' and his hometown thus called the "Weather Capital of the World.'' His debut performance: no shadow - early Spring.

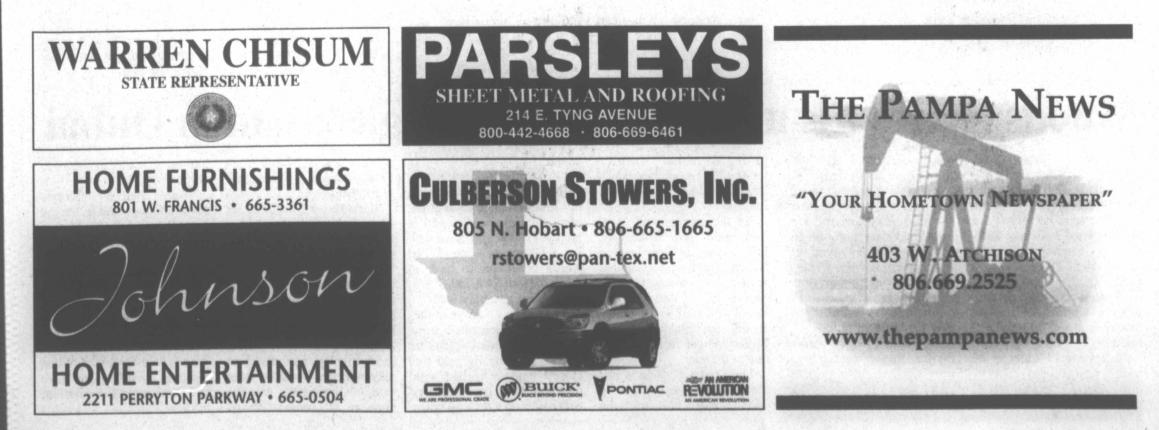

The legendary first trip to Gobbler's Knob was made the following year.

According to handler Bill Deeley, a local funeral director, Phil weighs 15 pounds and thrives on dog food and ice cream in his climate-controlled home at the Punxsutawney Library.

Up on Gobbler's Knob, Phil is placed in a heated burrow underneath a simulated tree stump on stage before being pulled out at 7:25 a.m. to make his prediction.

During Friday night's game against the Hereford Whitefaces, the Pampa Harvesters unveiled their secret weapon - teamwork.

Allowing everybody some playtime turned out to be a good move as nearly every member of the team contributed points to the scoreboard as everyone worked together to keep Hereford from catching up again.

Starting the game ahead 5-0, the Harvesters kept the same strong lead over Hereford, ending the quarter 23 - 17.

During the second quarter, Hereford began to come back, getting as close as 3 points to catching up, but with the help of Andrew Winton, who led the quarter with 5 points, and a 3-pointer in the end by sophomore Blake Sieck, Pampa went into half-time with an even stronger lead than before at 43-36.

In the third quarter, Matt Smith got in the game, bringing in 9 points for the Harvesters as Trent Harris sank 2 3-pointers to put Pampa ahead 67-50 going into the fourth quarter.

Smith led the fourth quarter as well, scoring 6 points with the help of Tyler Hall and Bradley Johnson, scoring 5 each.

With two black coaches taking teams to the Super Bowl, many black fans confront a welcome quandary two black coaches in the Super Bowl for the first time, the historic accomplishment presents a welcome dilemma for many black fans: For whom to root?

Many are not picking sides in Sunday's game ---they see Indianapolis Colts Coach Tony Dungy and Chicago Bears Coach Lovie Smith's presence in the NFL's biggest game as a win-win situation.

"We can't lose," said New York University history professor Jeffrey Sammons, who studies sports and race.

the four teams that reached topic has been on the minds

ATLANTA (AP) — With the NFL's conference title games, so the odds were good that one would make history and become the first black coach in the Super Bowl. Many black fans without team allegiances prepared to root for either Dungy or Smith over a white rival.

> But with Dungy and Smith set to oppose one another in the NFL's championship game, many black fans are deciding who to pull for on even more trivial criteria.

In Atlanta — a city often regarded as a bellwether for Black coaches led two of black popular culture - the

"He was a black man that was very successful when I was growing up as a kid. And he was fat and I was fat. It was something I could relate to," Xmaz said.

Xmaz showed off a T-shirt that read "Soul Bowl: The First African American Super Bowl Coaches" with photos of Dungy and Smith. Andre Wiggins, an accountant, has rooted for hoping the black coach would finally get his chance. Wiggins said he had the same feeling of pride when Redskins quarterback Doug Williams led his team to win SuperBowl XXII, becoming the first black quarterback to do so nearly 20 years ago.

Wiggins, 38, said he likes Dungy because he has helped other black coaches break into the field, including Smith, who was an assistant to Dungy when he coached at Tampa Bay.

"I like to see black people do well," Wiggins said. Colleague Mike Holley have a reason to root," said

> Radio personality Ryan Cameron brought up the topic on Atlanta's V-103 last week after hearing two black women discussing the issue in an elevator. On the show, Cameron said the callers ---mostly black women --were very passionate about the subject, whether or not they were football fans.

"For somebody who's not a sports fan, they've got to Cameron, host of the Ryan

Cameron Show. "In today's society, race is still an issue, even though we try to say it's not as big a deal anymore."

Reggie Green, a 30-yearold architect, said he will cheer for Chicago, but said he's just out for a good name for blacks.

"It's always a black thing for me, even if it's ice skating," he said.

Tyrone Buckner, a 37year-old accountant in Atlanta, said the issue in this year's Super Bowl is one of black pride.

"We know that a black man's gonna win the Super Bowl," he said.

DUBAI, United Arab on the Emirates Golf Club's Emirates (AP) — Ernie Els birdied the 18th hole of his delayed second round Saturday to move within one shot of Ross Fisher, a littleknown Englishman who leads the Dubai Desert Classic.

Tiger Woods, the defendchampion, finished ing Friday with a 67 to stand at 9 under.

Fisher was 14 under as the tournament moves into its third round. Fisher, Woods and Els were due to tee off front nine later Saturday. Els, a three-time winner of the Desert Classic, climbed within a stroke of the lead Friday with an eagle on the 13th hole. But his round was interrupted twice Friday: once by a rare thunderstorm and then by darkness. Els returned early Saturday to play his last four holes.

"I didn't have good rhythm this morning, so I was happy to make no mistakes and just the one birdie," Els said after completing his round. "There's a lot of golf left out there and a lot of birdies still to play for."

As the tournament's second half got underway, Fisher and Els were leading Henrik Stenson at 12 under, with Peter Hanson, Graeme McDowell and Jyoti Randhawa tied at 10 under. Woods and playing partner Miguel Angel Jimenez were tied at 9 under.

The Desert Classic is just the second tournament in which Fisher has been the a teenager on a driving range

"I'm hitting the ball probably as good as I've ever hit it," said Fisher, who shot an identical eight birdies and a bogey Friday and Saturday for a 65 in each round. "It would be tough to have a third 65, but you know it's out there if you play well."

The 26-year-old Englishman described how he'd spent his early years in awe of Woods. He said the closest contact he had with him was when he worked as at the World Match Play him because he's expected to Championship at Wentworth in England.

"I've never met him or spoke to him," Fisher said.

Now Fisher faces the possibility of playing alongside Woods on Sunday if they are the top two heading into the final round. On Saturday, Fisher was to play alongside Els and Stenson.

"It would be an absolute thrill to play with the best player in the world," Fisher said. "Obviously, all the pressure is going to be on win."

Woods had five birdies and no bogeys Friday. On the 13th, Woods fell to his knees and bashed the ground with his club in frustration after a chip for an eagle dribbled a few inches from the hole. He settled for a birdie.

"I've got to go practice first of all and get organized and be ready for tomorrow," Woods said Friday. "It's just a matter of going out there and making a bunch of birdies."

The Boston Celtics have never been this bad, this long. And for one night, Jason Kidd was lousy, too.

The Celtics lost their franchise-record 14th straight game Friday night, falling 100-89 to the Los Angeles Clippers.

And if the NBA's most storied franchise no longer looks recognizable, neither did Kidd in one of the worst performances of his career. One night after being selected to the All-Star game, the Nets guard was scoreless for the first time this season in New Jersey's 119-86 loss to the Orlando Magic.

"I don't know if I've ever been involved in a game, competing against or coaching Jason Kidd, where he came out of it with no points," Magic coach Brian Hill said. "No points and three rebounds and five assists with the way he's been playing, I thought our guys really did a good job with him tonight."

Kidd will probably bounce back when the Nets host Atlanta on Sunday, but there's no telling when Boston's woes will end. The once-proud franchise has not won since beating Memphis on Jan. 5.

"It's just another loss that just keeps adding up,' Boston forward Ryan Gomes said. "It's a tough challenge because you come into this locker room and it's the same result over the last 14 games. It's hard to keep high spirits because it's not working out the way we want it to.

In other games, it was: Indiana 95, the Los Angeles Lakers 84; Golden State 102, 103, Atlanta 91; Cleveland 101, Charlotte 81; Detroit 96, Milwaukee 86; New Orleans 90, Minnesota 83; Denver 114, Portland 107 in overtime; and Chicago 107, Seattle 101.

'Any time you're playing somebody who is ready to set a record of any kind of futility, you know they have a lot of pride."

Mike Dunleavy Los Angeles Clippers Coach

In addition to their overall streak, the Celtics have lost a franchise-record 11 consecutive home games and are a league-worst 4-19 at home. Boston is 2-20 since Paul Pierce went out with a stress reaction in his left foot.

The 16-time NBA champions kept it close into the fourth quarter while trying to avoid surpassing their 13 consecutive losses in 1993-94 and 1996-97.

"Any time you're playing somebody who is ready to set a record of any kind of futility ... you know they have a lot of pride," Clippers coach Mike Dunleavy said.

"They are going to be coming with everything they have. They're young, but they are going to play hard. No one wants to go down in any kind of record book."

Elton Brand had 26 points, 19 rebounds and four blocks, and Cuttino Mobley added 20 points for the Clippers, who have won seven of eight.

At Orlando, Fla., Jameer

Philadelphia 101; Toronto Nelson got most of the credit for the defensive performance on Kidd, who was 0for-5 from the field in 26 minutes. But Kidd's was hardly the only poor performance among the Nets.

"You guys can describe it the way you want it, but it is unacceptable," Nets coach Lawrence Frank said. "That is not the way we are going to win, that is not the way we are going to play."

Nuggets 114, Trail Blazers 107, OT

At Denver, Carmelo Anthony scored 33 points and Nene added a seasonhigh 20 as Denver snapped a four-game skid while playing without the injured Allen Iverson.

The Trail Blazers lost their seventh straight at the Pepsi Center despite getting 25 points from Zach Randolph, 22 from Brandon Roy and 21 from Juan Dixon.

Bulls 107, SuperSonics 101

At Seattle, Luol Deng had 27 points and 12 rebounds, Andres Nocioni supplied the pivotal scoring down the stretch, and Chicago won for the fourth time in five games. Kirk Hinrich had 20 points and nine assists for the Bulls.

Ray Allen had 29 points despite a 9-for-28 shooting night for the Sonics, who lost for the fifth time in six games. Emerging center Nick Collison added 20 points and 12 rebounds for his eighth double-double in 11 games.

Cavaliers 101, Bobcats 81

James scored 18 points, 13 after halftime, and the Cavaliers bounced back from a tough loss at Miami the previous night.

Gerald Wallace, coming off a franchise-record 42point game Wednesday night against New York, led Charlotte with 16 points.

alentine's Day is the perfect time to spend with the ones you love, especially the ones who love you unconditionally all year long. That's why, according to a national Purina PetLover survey of 1,000 U.S. pet owners, 61 percent of people who own one or more pets plan to include their pet in their Valentine's Day celebration. In fact, 30 percent of women who said they prefer to spend the holiday with just their pet think that their pet is more in tune with their feelings than anyone else. Of the men who said they prefer to have a pet date for Valentine's Day, 43 percent said it's because their pet lowers their stress rather than adding to it, making their pet the perfect loving companion.

"Valentine's Day is one day when we embrace love whole-heartedly and spend time with those we care for," said Dr. Dan Christian, executive director of the Purina Pet Institute. "What better way to spend Valentine's Day than with your pet, who almost always provides you with unconditional love and attention."

Although some pet owners are opting for a quiet Valentine's Day — 57 percent of them said they will spend time snuggling on the couch with their pet and watching a movie — others will continue to show their love in a more public way. In fact, 41 percent of women with pets said they engage in public displays of affection with their pet more than with their significant other. This truly gives new meaning to the term "puppy love."

How to Pick Your Perfect Match for Valentine's Day

Choosing the right pet for you and your family is a very important decision. Pets can be a 10- to 20year commitment, so make sure you do your research and carefully soul-search before choosing your new companion. Your new pet will require lots of care including daily feeding, yearly vet visits and proper training so they continue to be happy and healthy members of the family.

Below are some tips for choosing the right pet for you and your family:

Think about why you want the pet. It is very important to identify your reasons for adopting a pet because they can often tell you what type of furry companion could be the best fit.

Consider your lifestyle and how a pet would fit into your daily routine. Certain pets require more maintenance than others, so if you work long hours or travel frequently, then a cat may be a better choice than a dog.

Evaluate your activity level and find a pet that matches it. If you are very active, then consider a pet that may have above-average exercise requirements.

Assess your home environment to determine the ideal size and physical features of your new pet. Would a large or small dog work better in your home? Does a long or shorthaired cat strike

Finding Your Heart's Desire

Looking for love in all the wrong places? This Valentine's Day, there's no need to look further than your local shelter or rescue group where plenty of pets are waiting to find their perfect match. Pet lovers can adopt a loving furry friend, who is sure to leave a paw print on their heart, just in time for the holiday.

In celebration of their fourlegged Valentines, pet owners will receive some very special savings, which is great news for the 53 percent of pet owners planning to forego the traditional roses and chocolate and give their pet a special meal and treat to show their affection. On Feb.11, pet owners across the country will be able to utilize PetLover coupons appearing in local newspapers for savings on dog and cat treats for their pets this Valentine's Day. For details on the Purina PetLover coupon campaign or to find your four-legged love of a lifetime at a shelter in your area, visit www.purinapetlover.com.

The "Bow-Wowing" Benefits of Pet Ownership

Beyond the ample supply of love and attention, pet ownership can also yield a number of potential physical and emotional benefits. One study indicates pet owners can have significantly lower blood pressure and cholesterol levels than non-pet owners. Additionally, many pets encourage their owners to get out and exercise, whether it's taking them for a walk or playing in the park. Walking with your pet may help to sooth nerves and can offer instant relaxation, which can help lead to a reduction in stress levels.

Pets can also have a positive impact on a person's social life. By simply having a pet with them while they are out and about, pet owners may seem more approachable and give that potential "special someone" a reason to stop and talk.

Sisters bring comedy to BIT stage in 'Nunsense'

CANYON — Laughter will be "habit" forming when a cast of five presents the musical comedy "Nunsense" at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 14-17 and Feb. 21-24 on the stage of the new Branding Iron Theatre (BIT) in West Texas A&M University's Sybil B. Harrington Fine Arts Complex.

The musical, written by Dan Goggin, is a hilarious romp about the Sisters of Hoboken and their attempts to raise funds for several burials after an unfortunate cooking incident in the convent kitchen. The cast of characters include a spotlight-loving Reverend Mother, a street-wise Sister Robert Anne and the competitive Sister Mary Hubert. Sister Mary Amnesia suffers from memory loss and adds another dimension to the comedy along with Sister Mary Leo, who dreams of being the first nun ballerina.

"This musical is very hard to direct," Royal Brantley, interim dean of the Sybil B. Harrington College of Fine Arts and Humanities and director of the production, said. "It's so difficult because you have to work very hard to keep from laughing. It is, without a doubt, one of the most humorous and entertaining musicals ever written." "Nunsense" holds the distinction of being the all-time box office smash of the old BIT stage. It returns for a shot in the new theatre and follows the five sisters as they take the audience on a hilarious, pun-filled journey and their attempt to raise the needed funds through a talent show. Singing, dancing and funny misadventures are sure to delight audiences of all ages.

Dr. Joe Ella Cansler, professor of music, is the production's music director. Leslie Williams, assistant professor of dance, is the choreographer, and Jan Walser, part-time instructor of music, is the orchestra leader. James Kemmerling, professor of speech communication and theatre, is responsible for the scenic design, and Frank Garcia, a senior technical theatre major from Gruver, is the lighting designer.

Tickets for the production are priced $15 each for reserved seating and $7 to $9 each for senior citizens and children 12 and under. Season tickets also are available and offer ticket holders convenience and savings. Group rates also are available. Tickets for "Nunsense" will go on sale Monday, Feb. 5. For more information, call the BIT box office at 806-651-2804.

By Pauline & Jeanne Phillips

DEAR ABBY: My 19-year-old daughter is in her sophomore year of college and doing well. The problem is, I believe that she is a "binge" drinker and going downhill. I am trying to make her go to counseling and AA, but I'm not sure she will. She is currently attending a local junior college, but will finish in May. She wants me to send her to a university about two hours away from home. I just do not think I should, because even though she's under my supervision right now, she still gets into trouble with drinking. I can't imagine what she would do without any adult supervision. She says she needs to get away from the "bad influence" of her friends here. I believe that if she goes, she will find new "bad influence" friends and still not have the common sense to not drink so much. I am not being an overprotective mother. I just spent the night in the emergency room with her because she had alcohol poison--- WORRIED ABOUT MY ing. DAUGHTER IN TEXAS

DEAR WORRIED: It appears you are worried about your daughter for good reason. However, it's time to face up to the fact that a parent can protect her child for only so long. If a near-death experience from alcohol poisoning hasn't taught her that she should not have more than two drinks in an evening, there is little more you can do. I do have a suggestion, however. Make a deal with her. If she gets a job and goes to AA for one year, you will then allow her to go away to finish her education. By then, she will understand what a serious problem drinking can be -- and have some tools to avoid it. I can't guarantee that it will keep her sober, but it would be a start.

DEAR ABBY: I am currently married to a separately. man I was married to for 10 years. We were divorced for about seven months and decided we wanted to semanty. We have been remarried for a year, and there are a lot of trust issues -- not on my part, but on his. He says I cheated on our last marriage, which I did not, but changing his mind was impossible and that's the reason he's insecure. However, our latest issue is just too crazy. I recently started writing to a stepcousin who is incarcerated. The cousin made the comment in one of his letters that he didn't know if it was because we were writing each other so often or what, but he found himself dreaming of smelling my perfume and rubbing against my skin. My husband is now asking for a divorce. Am I being irrational in saying this man is incarcerated, and it would be foolish to want someone who will not be "free" for the next 12 to 15 years? -- INNOCENT IN BELLEVUE, NEB.

Tracing Association and Association and and

DEAR INNOCENT: You appear to be both kindhearted and naive. When your step-cousin said what he did in his letter, he was telling you that he was having fantasies of a sexual nature that involve you. He was also trying to initiate a similar kind of re_ponse from you. Regardless of the fact that your "pen" pal is behind bars, your husband finds this upsetting -- and frankly, I can see his point. My advice is to work on salvaging your marriage and forgo the correspondence.

DEAR ABBY: Is it improper to wash kitchen cloths with the rest of your personal items and towels? -- INQUISITIVE MOTHER IN GEORGIA

DEAR INQUISITIVE MOTHER: As far as I'm concerned, a wash is a wash is a wash. That is, unless the items are white or "linty," in which they should be washed separately.

Woodworker has odd collection including 100 model outhouses

By JIM SUHR

Associated Press Writer CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — George Borum readily acknowledges he has too much time on his 93-year-old hands. Step inside the widower's garage, and you'll see why.

The unattached structure is packed, floorto-ceiling in places, with an odd assortment of wooden handiwork created by Borum over more than a half century.

By Borum's count, there are more than 100 model outhouses — some as tiny as thimbles, others 3 feet tall — including a "flying" one with airplane wings and a pintsized privy doubling as a lamp hundreds of things, and they're all different. No two things are alike."

George Borum considers the handiwork his calling. It began when he was 14 years old, dropped out of school after eighth grade and launched what would become his livelihood: painting commercial signs, often the Pepsi logo, on buildings for clients.

In his spare time, Borum dabbled in quirky creations, namely the replica outhouses.

"It was just fun to do it," he says, figuring his fixation with outhouses stems from his childhood, when he tipped over the real things as pranks.

On her blockbuster debut, "Come Away With Me," the alluring singer penned three tunes, two of which she wrote all on her own. But it was the Texas native's interpretation of others' music that really drew listeners her breakthrough Grammy-winning song, "Don't Know Why," was written by pal Jesse Harris.

Harris returns on Jones' new CD, "Not Too Late" — but as a guitar player. There was no need for another lyricist: Jones wrote or co-wrote each song on the 13-track CD, and has become a seasoned songwriter in her own right.

"If you asked me (to describe her) four years ago, I would have said, 'Great singerpianist," Harris said recently. "Now you can't really say that she's just that. She's a lot of things now. There's another element that has come in — there's different sides to her now."

Jones reveals her many facets on "Not Too Late," her most adventurous — and arguably finest — CD to date. Though she still croons the kind of slow, melodic tunes that turned her into a surprise multiplatinum sensation, the issues behind the songs have become more complex, and in some instances, biting and political.

The album's first track, "Wish I Could," invokes a soldier killed in war; the second assails the captain of a rudderless ship, with allusions to today's commander in chief. While that song is a bit subdued, "My Dear Country" is defiant and obvious, as she warbles about the past election day: "Who knows maybe it's all a dream, who knows if I'll wake up and scream."

Jones, who turns 28 in March, says the increasingly troublesome political climate and her own maturation have made her more aware of the world around her — and willing to sing about it.

"The most obviously political song on this album kind of sums it up for me. I really try

There are "knot people" fashioned from the imperfections of wood slabs, wooden spears, walking staffs with fake shrunken heads and walking canes bearing the likenesses of former U.S. presidents.

Looking for a crosscut saw made entirely of wood? You'll find it here, along with ornately painted V-shaped projectiles Borum calls "Borum-o-rangs."

He's made more than 150 wooden steamboats — spanning from a yard to 10 feet and a couple hundred wooden knives, many resembling the kind Aladdin might have favored.

"His imagination is what floors me," Borum's 57-year-old son, Art, said recently while guiding a reporter and photographer through the garage's trove. "He just does

"He was always out piddling around," Art Borum says of his dad, whose work has been featured over the years in the local newspaper and television stations as far away as St. Louis, about 60 miles to the west.

Through it all, George Borum's wife was the picture of patience, putting up with the ever-growing collection of stuff for decades until her death a year ago — just days after the couple's 70th wedding anniversary. Sarah Borum was buried on her 89th birthday.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Monday, Feb. 5, 2007: Count on encountering your share of obstacles this year, so much so that you might question your goals. This process is a necessary one, as choices made a few years ago might no longer suit you. Sometimes one needs events to point the way or illuminate issues. Your immediate circle of friends might change as well, but by your next birthday year, you will be quite happy with the adjustments. You will find one-on-one relating much more fulfilling. A relationship becomes a higher priority. If you are single, you could meet someone quite special. A friendship might be instrumental in the forming of this bond. If you are attached, you might need to revamp your relationship, as you certainly have changed, and so has your sweetie.
