PIE SUPPER TO BE HELD AT GROOM HIGH SCHOOL

Representatives of the Federal Housing Administration will visit Pampa Wednesday to arrange a regular meeting later to be held in Pampa for interested people in Pampa and the Top O Texas territory, according to a letter to the Chamber of Commerce from P. S. Luttrell, production manager of the FHA at Dallas.

Work on the 117 mile strip on Highway 152, east of Pampa, extending from the pavement east of the Wheeler county line was being done exclusively by Texas Highway department workers today, as WPA labor has been withdrawn following the final load of caliche being placed Thursday.

The steering committee of the Top O Texas Fiesta of which R. B. Allen is chairman, will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the chamber of commerce rooms to further discuss plans for the celebration here June 9, 10 and 11.

Friends here learned yesterday of the death of Bob Gaston, former Pampian, in an automobile accident near Hays, Kan., Saturday night. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Newkirk, Okla., his home town.

Police were kept busy yesterday investigating accidents which occurred over the week-end. No deaths resulted although several persons were taken to hospital for emergency treatment.

Chiff Chambers at 2 o'clock this afternoon and he was simply burning to get something in the paper. He says Frankie Bills will take Rusty White's place Wednesday night at the Wichita Falls-Pampa matches.

Rome, May 9 (AP)—Germany's Fuehrer Hitler carried away from Rome today fresh assurances of Italian friendship and high Fascist indicated this included a pledge by Premier Mussolini to let him have a free hand in Czechoslovakia, so far as Italy is concerned.

A pie supper will be given at the Groom high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, May 10, at 8 o'clock. Carson county candidates will be present together with a string band and a radio star, Lizzie Lish.

COMMITTEE TO DECIDE FATE OF BABY GIRL

CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—A council of medical specialists decided an immediate operation should be performed on baby Helaine (Cohn) whose parents face the dilemma of letting her live in at least partial blindness or eventually of a cancerous tumor.

The decision was announced by Attorney Samuel Hoffman, spokesman for the family, after the medical experts met in secret conference with the infant's father, Dr. Herman Colon, 30, a dentist.

Two rabbits were present in advisory capacities, at the insistence of the mother. The maternal grandfather, Dr. Morris L. Hersheyman, appeared to supply the medical history of the case.

On a little steel marker above the grave, tended carefully and covered with flowers by a grieving mother, was a card inscribed "Donald Fiore, died April 26, 1937."

JAPAN CLAIMS VICTORIES IN FIERCE DRIVES

SHANGHAI, May 9 (AP)—Stalled in their desperate and costly efforts to reach Suichow from the north, the Japanese today reported rapid progress for the second time in the southward drive toward that nerve center of the Central China battle area.

Invitations of acceptance to attend the luncheon were received at chamber of commerce headquarters this morning from Judge W. O. Pust of Wheeler county, who will be accompanied by Harry Wofford, A. B. Crump, and Commissioner D. P. Simmons.

Tips for May 14

For a perfect evening at the luncheon-senior banquet, you should brush up on your "Emily Post." Don't get the banquet bit because there are plenty of references in the library to inform you concerning the proper ways to act and dress at semi-formal affairs.

Among the most common errors found at the table are placing elbows on the table, leaning too far to food while eating, and taking your partner's floor space with your feet. As for dressing for formal occasions, the girl should wear an evening dress which is neither too gaudy and yet not so dull that it isn't attractive in some way. Boys should dress in full suit for a high school affair of the kind.

At the dance immediately following the banquet, the girls should make a happy appearance by carrying themselves gracefully and politely to the boys. This type of girl won't miss many dances.

The boys should dance the first and last dances with their dates; they should also make it their responsibility to see that the same girls aren't wallflowers all during the dance. A boy cuts in on a girl, it isn't proper for the first boy to cut in on that girl during the same dance.

The boy should never under any circumstance leave a girl standing in the middle of the floor after a dance but escort her to the place she indicates. If a boy is introduced to a girl at a dance he should dance with her.

Boys, do "the correct thing" because your girl friends say "it's more fun when you know the rules."

A Cappella Choir Presents Program

Students of Senior High were entertained Wednesday morning, May 4, in assembly with a musical program presented by the A Cappella choir. Miss Helen Martin directed.

The first group of songs included "The Keeper," "Sunup," and "A Melody."

Helen Pecha, entertained with her violin with selections from the film "Snow White" and the Seven Dwarfs. She was accompanied by Gene Finkbeiner.

The choir then sang two sacred songs, "God is in the West" and "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones."

An instrumental sextet composed of Dwight Bobbit, Lucille Carlock, Clarabelle Jones, Bill Andis, J. I. Howard and Vernon Casey, entertained with their rendition of "The Parade."

The choir then sang "I'll Be Happy Again" and "The Lord's Prayer." He was aided by the other members of the quartet who are Lena, Muriel, Colleen and Mahon and Gene Finkbeiner.

Football Captain Elected Junior Rotarian for May

J. W. Graham met with the Rotary club for the first time last Wednesday, May 4, after being elected Junior Rotarian for this month by the student body.

Graham doesn't talk much, but Coach Mitchell seems to think he has made up for it during the three years that he has tossed the old "pigskin" around. Graham was captain of the Harvester squad last year, and at the Harvester banquet he was elected captain for next fall, with every vote for his favor except his own.

"It is very unusual for a boy to be football captain twice," says Coach Mitchell, "and it certainly shows his popularity with the boys on the team." When Coach Mitchell said that, the reporter noticed he was wearing a "proud grin" and imagined that the coach either slipped in a vote for Graham himself, or was just glad that the squad had such good judgment.

During his freshman year, Graham was president of his class and was junior president the first semester of the year. He has been among the leading scholars of Senior High, and at present he is secretary for the Spanish II club.

Graham was elected by the faculty to the National Honor society, which is considered one of the highest honors a student can receive in Senior High school.

Since Graham is a boy of few words, the reporter had to be content with the information from Coach Mitchell and the cute little blond, Jeanette Cole, who just giggled and said, "He says lots of funny things."

Sagebrush by Sage

Mildred Martin could not wait for her kid day to roll around again, so she gets her little jacks out and plays with the neighbors on the sidewalk.

Has anyone noticed that Helen Pecha closes her eyes while playing her violin?

Ethel Wilder just got over a case of the chicken pox. They ought to keep them things locked up or something.

In answer to the question about whether or not the Sage was serious about every boy taking a girl to the banquet, the answer is definitely yes.

This old world is so fast that we, the youth, do not stop long enough to think of the person that has guided our actions thus far in our lives. We do not give that person enough credit. When we see a man who has achieved something to be proud of, we think of that man as a great one, no of the one who guided him.

Someone has said that a mother is a man's best friend. Who is it that will stick by you through thick and thin besides a mother? The very person whom you think is your friend may turn you down in trouble, but go to your mother and see if she would do the same. A mother's love is supposed to be the purest kind of love, but the love of sons and daughters for their mother is just as pure.

Sunday was Mother's day. Everyone paid tribute to their mother, whether living or dead.

Lincoln once said, "All I am, or will be, I owe to my mother," true words every man should remember. It is the mother that has guided our youth, the foundation of our lives.

The Sage for one, and in behalf of all the youth of today, pays tribute to the mothers all over the world for the splendid job that they have done of raising their offspring. Things may change but here will always be one never changing force, the force of motherhood.

This column, the Sage would like to dedicate to his and other mothers.

Mothers Give Picnic For Band Members

Harvester band musicians became "harvest hands" when eating time of the band picnic sponsored by the band mothers at Hoover last Wednesday. Such delicacies as cake, rolls, doughnuts, sandwiches, pickled peaches, olives, marshmallows and wieners were the cause of the feast.

The band mothers brought enough food to feed a band three times as large as the one attending the picnic. Soon after the members had eaten twice as much as a thrasher, the mothers had to put much of the food back in baskets and take it home.

Football and baseball were played by the boys, and baseball, gossip and red rover were played by the girls.

According to everyone who attended, the picnic was a huge success and enjoyed immensely by everyone.

Teacher's Sister Wins Scholarship

Wilma Warren, sister of Miss Louise Warren, English teacher in Senior High, won big league honors when she was awarded a scholarship to an art school in New York City. She is now a senior at T. S. C. W. at Denton.

Although she has had only two years of art work, Miss Warren won the scholarship on submitted art work, two oil paintings, several sketch books, life drawings and water colors.

Publicans To Be Served by Slaves

Students of both Latin classes will attend the Roman banquet at the school cafeteria tomorrow evening.

Each student read something concerning Roman food and clothing and from suggestions made by them plans of costumes and the menu are being made.

Members of the Latin I class will be the slaves of the Latin II students who will be the publicans. The first year class will be divided into three groups—one group will plan the program, one will serve and one will clear the table after the banquet.

The program will be rather brief and a Latin car tournament will afford most of the evening's entertainment.

Thirty-seven students of the Spanish classes attended the Spanish banquet at the school cafeteria last Monday evening at seven o'clock.

All were dressed in Spanish costume and the Spanish idea was used in the decorations with Spanish senorita favors and scenes of Spanish life found on the place cards and menu folders.

Entertainment included a dance by Betty Sue Price and Elaine Murphy, songs by some second year students and the group and Spanish games played by all.

Futures and Exes Tie Score 0 to 0

Future Harvesters battled the ex-Harvesters for a 0 to 0 tie last Thursday night at Harvester stadium. When time-keeper Cliff Chambliss shot the gun signaling the end of the game, the exes were threatening to score, being approximately three yards from the future Harvesters' goal.

The starting lineups featured Andis, Graham, Danaway, Parish, Stiles, Bailey, Rippe, Solomon, Andis and Brown as future Harvesters and Woodridge, Brown, Drake, Gilles, Showers, Heiskell, Noblitt, Reynolds, Mathews, Nelson and Co-shaw as ex-Harvesters.

Coaches O'us Mitchell and J. C. Freeman state that they are well pleased with the outlook of next year's Harvesters.

State Fire Inspector Visits Pampa Schools

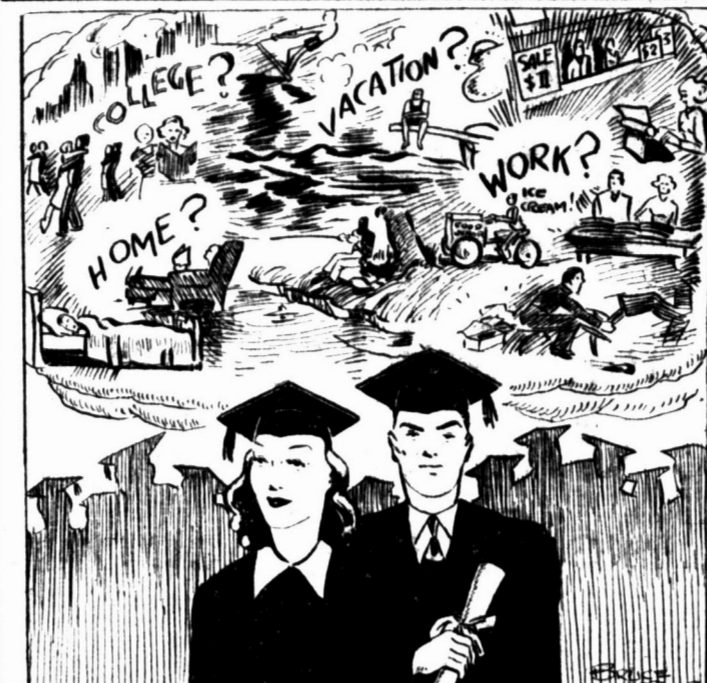

Miss Olga Juniger, state fire inspector, visited schools in Pampa last Tuesday.

After the fire drill in Junior and Senior High, Miss Juniger made the suggestion that students file down the sidewalks east and west instead of crossing the street as has been practiced in the past. If the building was really on fire, some student might get frightened and run out in front of a car, she said.

While here she took several senior and sophomore fire prevention themes, which were written last semester in English classes. She also complimented the school on the fact that the students connected their themes with subjects taught in the school, such as chemistry and sociology.

Picnic Plans Made For Council Group

A picnic has been planned for all members of the student council tomorrow afternoon. The picnic was planned in a meeting last Monday. The group also planned the assembly program for this week. Ernest Cabe reports that the program is going to be a good one.

Caps and Gowns Dismiss 'What to Wear' Problem

Senior boys and girls have an immense problem. What will they wear to the vesper and commencement services?

The girls are making arrangements this far in advance for those "foreign" style hair-jobs. Now, a girl's hair must pronounce her personality. Shall she "fool 'em" with a false representation or shall she present the real McCoy? And those shoes; on this last occasion they must be smart and stylish. What model box-car shall the big-footed one use? Now that dress has just got to be spring personified. They must dolefully recognize the fact that the winter outfit won't do. What shall she do?

Now the boy is faced with the same immense problem, especially as the girl. If he gets the new white boots now, the girls will trample them on the dance floor and they would be black before commencement. And the suit; what color will make him stand out, so as to cinch the summer (ates)? He is afraid to get that new hat because he might have to leave it in the car and since girls seldom sit on the car seat, it would not look so good on the radiator cap. What shall he do?

Mr. Savage throws a bombshell into some "real speculation" on the part of the seniors when he says: "You may as well wear a bathing suit to the service because it will be sizzling hot by then, and besides, these caps and gowns will cover up all the 'finery' you can stack on. No matter what you wear, you will look like an Indian in a teepee with his head sticking out at the top; the cap looking like a ventilator!"

Twenty-One Cars, Two Buses Take 184 to Carlsbad

One hundred and forty-nine seniors left for Carlsbad, New Mexico, last Friday morning at six o'clock. Two buses and 21 cars transported the seniors and sponsors to and from Carlsbad. Teachers going were Principal D. F. Osborne, Ernest Cabe, Winslow Savage, Tom Herod, E. R. Nuckolls, Miss Anne Louise Jones, Miss Margaret Jones, Miss Arlene Pattison and Mrs. R. H. Sanford.

Leaving Pampa at six o'clock in the morning, the last bus arrived in Carlsbad about five-thirty.

Friday evening at six o'clock the group left for the picnic grounds and some of the group went in swimming. Mr. Herod had in charge of the swimming. All lights had to be out by ten-thirty Friday night.

Saturday morning found all seniors rising at seven o'clock and at seven-thirty all met in the court of Camp Hermosa. Cars and buses left for the cavern at eight and at ten the trip through the cavern started.

At four p. m. the group was out of the cavern and at five-thirty arrived back in Carlsbad.

A special party was held at eight-thirty Saturday night and at 12:00 a.m. the seniors left for home.

Sunday morning again found the seniors up at seven and at eight o'clock all left for home. All cabins were checked for damages and shortages before leaving.

Miss Martin Goes To State Meeting

Accepting an invitation from Miss Nell Parnley, state director of music, Miss Helen Martin left for Austin to attend a state committee meeting last Thursday afternoon.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the reorganization of music in Texas schools.

Miss Martin also took Bobby Childers, Albert Kemp, Wyndall LaCasse, Roy Ray, Kenneth Brown and A. C. Miller to the state meet held in Austin last week-end.

New Handbooks To Be Published

Mr. Lou Roberts, registrar, has begun work on the Senior High handbook for next term. It will contain the material it has had in the past plus any changes and the attendance regulations, the grade points required, which will probably be 112 instead of 100 which is required this year.

According to Principal D. F. Osborne, beginning with the term 1939 and 1940 students will be required to have 17 credits in order to graduate. In previous years 16 credits have been required.

Reverend Boshen To Be Commencement Speaker

Instead of drawing circles, triangles, diagrams and such, as most people do when answering the telephone or writing away leisure time, Reverend Robert Boshen of the Presbyterian church, Senior High's commencement speaker, draws houses. Before becoming a minister, Reverend Boshen studied architecture at the Armour Institute in Chicago. He is one of those men who pick a hobby—architecture in this case—that he knows something about. Reverend Boshen, as a "hobby" side-line, so to speak, collects old coins rather half-heartedly, he admits. His oldest coin is an 1854 quarter.

Reverend Boshen has a deep clear voice and speaks with the native ease and grace of the Easterner—Chicago is his home. He has a magnetic personality that draws people to him; and is fond of flowers and classical music. When he was a boy, he liked blue marbles—he wears blue shirts now.

Reverend Boshen likes the West because the people are so cordial, friendly and everything is to "easy going." After dropping architecture as a profession and leaving Armour Institute, Reverend Boshen attended college at Lake Forest, Illinois (north of Chicago) and McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, preparing for his work as a minister of the gospel. He held his first position as church pastor in South Dakota.

Since Reverend Boshen arrived in Pampa six months ago, many material improvements have been made in the Presbyterian church. Game nights, men's dinners and such things have also been organized. "Improvements are still being made in the church," states Reverend Boshen.

"High school seniors think they are having the best times in life, but great friendships, school spirit and deep associations are magnified a great deal at college," says Rev. Boshen to the seniors. Boshen thinks that every graduate should have his mind made what he is going to do, but should not get "too set" in his ways—there should be a reservation. One should usually choose what he can do best as his vocation.

"Don't be at sea or up in the air!" The entire Senior High school is looking forward to Boshen's commencement address in the High school auditorium May 27.

"Jane Eyre" and "Evelina," two girls from "Huntingtower," set out on the "Broad Highway" to go see "Expectations" of some many novel things of interest to them. But when they had just passed the "Old Curiosity Shop," they met "David Copperfield" and "John Halifax, Gentleman," and decided they also wanted to see the "Vanity Fair" and off they went together. It was a little while the night began to settle and "The Wind in the Willows" frightened the girls as they passed "The Haunted Bookshop." The group came to a house called "Bleak House," and decided to rest a few hours until morning. They then heard the "Pickwick Papers" they found on a desk there. By this time "Another Day" had dawned and the group continued their journey. On the way the girls picked a "Blue Flower." By the end of the day they reached "The Temple." When they arrived and saw all the beautiful sights the girls felt like "Alice in Wonderland." The first thing they saw was "Parnassus on Wheels."

Then they entered a tent and heard "Jeremy" tell the story of "The Old Wives' Tale." They then heard the "Trumpeter of Krakow" and "Sentimental Tommy" gave a talk on "In Freedoms Cause."

Then they started home and spent the night in "Lillicras Home." Before they reached home they met "Huckleberry Finn" and "Tom Sawyer," and after the boys heard the "Vanity Fair" they set out on their long, long journey and left the boys and girls to go on to their homes.

Annuals Will Be Distributed Next Monday Morning

The Harvester annual will be distributed next Monday morning. The book making along and all the staff beginning at 8:00. The staff consisting of Betty Shryock, Teresa Campbell, Leona Hurst, Jimmy Moseley, Ruby Eldridge, Anna Belle Lari and Hugh Stennis will be there to help the students in getting their annuals. It is very important that students bring their last receipts if possible. Those having their last receipt showing that their annual is paid for will be served first. Those having lost or destroyed their receipts will be served later on after a check up has been made.

Annuals will be distributed only to their owners and not their friends or pals who have come in to get it for them.

The staff believes that this is the High school. They have been watching the progress of the annual. The book making along and all the staff beginning at 8:00. Tickets for Junior Play Now on Sale

Tickets for the junior play "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary," went on sale Friday, May 6, according to Miss Loraine Bruce, who is in charge of ticket sales.

Prices for the tickets are 25 cents for students, 35 cents for adults and ten cents extra for reserved seats. Students wishing to sell tickets to pay their way to the banquet will receive half the price of the tickets which they sell.

Students who attended the banquet last year and who will be in high school another year, may attend the banquet three years, states D. F. Osborne, principal.

Students to Play At Commencement

Band students who will form an orchestra to play for the graduation exercises have been named by Winslow Savage, director.

They are: Mildred Martin, Donna Jo Berry, Bill Puckett, James Evans, Anna Belle Lari, Arlene Sanders, Russell Roof, Douglas Stark, Helen Poolas, Thomas Blevin, Walden Frantz, Joe Nelson, Billy Jones, Meri-belle Hazard, Clarabelle Jones, Lucille Carlock, Harold Gillespie, Junior Zimmerman, Jack Andrews, J. Remington on Trial

The typing department is trying a semi-noiseless Remington typewriter for two weeks. The typewriter is modern in every detail. Miss Zabolna McFarlin, instructor of typing and head of the commercial department, says it is not known whether the machine will be purchased or not.

Play and Banquet Features of May Activity Schedule

Plans Completed for Senior Examinations

With the Carlsbad trip over, closing activities are in full swing. The junior play, "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary," will be presented in the high school auditorium, opening Thursday, May 12 and closing Friday, May 13.

Seniors will be guests of the junior class at the annual junior-senior banquet in the gym at 8:00 p. m. May 14.

Examinations for the seniors are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, May 18 and 19, and their grades will be given out at 4 o'clock on Friday, following which the seniors will practice in the auditorium at 4:30.

On May 21 at 10:00 a. m. caps and gowns will be given to the seniors. Vesper services will be held Sunday, May 22 at 5:00 p. m. in the auditorium.

A tea honoring the senior girls will be given by the A. A. U. W. at 2:00 p. m. Monday, May 23.

Sophomores and juniors will take their exams on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 24-25.

Seniors again practice in the auditorium at 4:30 both Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

No school Thursday, May 26. Sophomores and juniors will receive report cards at 11:00 a. m. Friday.

Commencement exercises are at 8:00 p. m. May 27 in the auditorium.

Not only is the school providing entertainment for the senior class, but local churches as well.

Annual Banquet Plans Under Way

Plans are well under way for the annual junior-senior banquet, according to reports received from the various committees in charge. The committees promise the best banquet in the history of Pampa High. The secretive air of the juniors is giving the seniors plenty of trouble.

The decorating committee under Eugene Mann is starting decorating the gym behind closed doors today. The program is complete and favors have been received from a Chicago company.

Miss Arlene Pattison and Mrs. Bob Sanford have picked the girls to serve at the banquet. All of them are sophomores and are members of the home making classes.

Pennington Visits Soph Home Rooms

E. C. Pennington, coordinator of diversified occupations in Senior High, made a tour of the sophomore home rooms last week explaining his program, cooperative part-time training to the students who will be juniors next year.

He explained the opportunities the course offered; the main one being the opportunity of getting actual training along with the technical knowledge.

He gave the students application blanks for themselves and their parents. The blanks were for general information on the occupation they would like to enter. Students who were interested in this type of work were asked to fill out the blank and return it to him. He will get in touch with them and their parents and plans will be made to place the student in the occupation of his or her choice so as to be in line for next year's work.

Mr. Pennington hopes to have at least 30 students lined up and on the jobs by the beginning of school next year.

Kelley's Biologists Visit Blossom Shop

Harry Kelley's first period biology class visited the Pampa Blossom shop last Monday.

The class saw 15 different varieties of flowers with the big attraction being an orchid.

D. L. Parker, owner, gave a talk on what flowers to use on different occasions, the expense of flowers and the kind of soil in which they are grown.

Sophs Forfeit Game

Last Tuesday the juniors and sophomores were supposed to play baseball. The sophomore team did not show up; therefore the game was forfeited to the juniors.

On Thursday of last week the junior girls were supposed to play the junior greens. Similar to Tuesday's game, they could not get organized. So the group reporting had a "duke's mixture" baseball game.

GETTING AND SPENDING

Women are entirely too conservative when it comes to spending money... Women's Voters convention. It set the delegates to pondering a bigger and better budget. Well, times certainly change. Or is the chairman's statement not an observation of a new truth, but a correction of an old error in the male conception of the female spending habit?

Individual galaxies, according to the report, are parts of a super-system of super-galaxies, which in turn are mere cogs in a more all-embracing system.

Behind the Scenes In Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON--May 9--If and when the administration's spending-lending program aimed at recovery gets going, it won't be handicapped by the old feud between WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins and PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes.

These two New Dealers are buddies again, drawn together at a time when the prestige of the administration in which they have played such important roles has reached its lowest ebb.

Hopkins was in for a long siege at a Minnesota hospital at the time Ickes was out in front defending administration policies and tilting lances at Fascism, "tories" and monopoly last winter. But after the WPA administrator's recent return to Washington, the realization of a series of administration reverses, the seeming need for the small group of simon-pure-higher-up New Dealers to stand together while others deserted and the efforts of mutual friends soon brought the two men together in an alliance which seems likely to stick at least for duration of the depression.

Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri, during Navy Bill debate: "Does the senator understand that when American sailors and marines landed at Vera Cruz they were defending the United States?"

Senator Tom Connally of Texas: "No, I did not say anything about that."

Senator Clark: "Does the senator agree that--?"

Senator Connally: "No, I do not agree."

Forty Years in White House Rudolph Forster, White House executive clerk who was invited along by President Roosevelt on his deep sea fishing cruise, has been enjoying one of his few vacations in more than 40 years of service under eight presidents.

"I know of no public servant of whom there is so universal admiration," Herbert Hoover once wrote. And Reed College at Portland, Ore., awarded Forster an honorary degree with the comment, "The value of a man's service to his country is not always measured by repeated mention in the press."

A quiet, slender, bespectacled widower in his middle sixties, Forster has charge of the President's files, the room through which the chief executive's correspondence clears and the White House messenger service, disbursing department, telegraph and telephone systems. While the President is in his office on the executive wing, Forster never leaves his own adjoining office. He is there nearly all the time, usually, even when the President is out of town. All sorts of people consult him about an endless variety of problem related to White House procedure.

Each day Forster walks to his job from Wardman Park Hotel more than two miles away. His longest vacation was on the trip he took with Roosevelt to the Hawaiian Islands in 1934. He entered White House service as a stenographer in 1897 after McKinley's election. Then the White House executive staff numbered a dozen persons, including messengers. Today it includes 107.

No-lesse majeste is permitted to appear in the Congressional Record. The other day when Senator J. Ham Lewis was making a speech on the Navy bill and observed Vice President Garner in the rear chamber talking with Senator Lundeen of Minnesota, those in the galleries distinctly heard Lewis say: "If the vice president will please come to order..." Garner heard it and slipped into a cloakroom. But the Senate reporter, taking stenographic notes for the Record on everything else, decided to skip it.

Book A Day

In all of American history there is no story more tragic than that of the Indian, beaten back successively from frontier to frontier and segregated finally as a mere government ward on barren undesirable tracts of the vast land he once ruled. --The Indian character thoroughly analyzed. It is important, therefore, to lay hands on such a book as Albert Britt's "Great Indian Chiefs" (Whittlesey House: $2.50), tracing the story of the American Indian in his struggles with the white man from 1675 through 1890. Mr. Britt sees the Indian through the leaders of his great tribes: King Philip, Joseph Brant, Pontiac, Tecumseh, Black Hawk, Sitting Bull, Captain Jack and Chief Joseph. Certainly here was a masterful parade down through the years, representing every shade of intelligence.

Some More Radical Stuff, Chief

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

THE MCCARTHY IS STEPPING OUT WITH THE STARS

HOLLYWOOD--Unreal parade: It will break your heart, but Charlie McCarthy's high hat really fits now. The little upstart has taken to appearing at previews behind dark glasses, like any movie star! Efficiency experts, periodically with us, flourished in the old days too. One pried around the old Universal lot--I believe the story has never been told--cutting this cost and that. Finally he got to the back lot where dozens of animals were kept for the studio's specialties, animal serials. It was cheaper to own the elephants and tigers and lions than to rent them.

"Look at all these men loafing," said the E. E., observing the keepers and guards lounging near the cages. "Why, these animals don't need guards. They're as docile as babies! Tame as fish! In fact, harmless!" He stuck his finger into a cage, pointing at a harmless lion.

Quicker than that, the lion got that forefinger, snapping it off at the third joint. The expert left the animals to their guards and keepers.

Col. W. S. Van Dyke has all sorts of decorations and is an adventurous fellow, but he confesses an abiding fear of high places. Most harrowing experience he can recall was the time he found himself, after directing some scenes on a San Francisco bay bridge, walking back to shore--and meeting an incomplete section where he had to creep over bare rails. Except for the aerial stuff up north for "Eskimo," where he had to steel himself and take it, he couldn't be bribed into an airplane.

John Payne, who went to the same college as James Stewart but five years later, resembles no other actor more closely than James Stewart.

By George Clark The story of Pontiac alone, who single-handedly marshaled the great Indian nation in a six-months' siege of Detroit in 1763, is one of the classics of our history. And in the light of historic justice it can be said Pontiac had true cause. But Pontiac's life was sold finally for a barrel of whisky; Sitting Bull died at the hands of his own people; the others met similar fates. And today the Indian has long since become the vanishing American. He comes to life again temporarily, in Mr. Britt's book. The story should take its place on any good shelf of Americana.--P. G. F.

People You Know

Members of the Penwomen's club have been invited to write this column. Mrs. C. C. Wilson, 921 N. Somerville, a capable writer who has had several stories and articles published in magazines, accepted the invitation, and below you will find her contribution. This one likes it so well she hopes Mrs. Wilson will contribute often.--A. F. I was sitting in my car in front of the City drug store trying to remember a list of groceries that I had left at home when I saw two kids parked on each side of the drug store entrance. They were a further business between these two boys. One winked at the other, and at intervals they peeped inside at three other boys. One of the boys inside was drinking a coke. It was not his but his companion who impressed me. I saw fear written on this boy's face. He was perhaps 11 or 12 years old. Suddenly there was a commotion among the boys and from across the street a signal from five or six other boys. Then a gang was filing down the alley back of Johnson's Hardware store. This gang picked up five or six followers--on, including your observer, the only woman. Yes, it was a fight. Half of the gang were yelling for one boy, half for the other. I don't know what they were fighting about. Whatever it was, it must have been a minor issue. They were fighting because the boys and adults present wanted to see them fight. When one boy went down with a chance of having his face pummeled into the gravel, I yanked them apart, and shamed them. Then the boy who had been on top, cursed. And someone said, "Here you so and so, don't you know better than to curse before a woman!" Another said, "Fush, or we'll beat the tar out of you!" I put my arm around the kid who had been on the bottom and when we were out in the open alley again, the crowd dispersed. And so far as I could tell, the boys were no longer mad at each other. I'm not the heroine of this story. There was no heroine or hero. Such a one is represented today in organizations like the Boy Scouts. These people help youngsters work off excess energy in constructive play and work, thus eliminating the bad boy and the bully. It does not eliminate the villain, that curious, malicious looker-on who is always anxious to see but never participate in a fight.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M. D.

Unless milk is certified, it is wisest to pasteurize or boil it before use. Certified milk is derived from cows thoroughly tested and known to be free of communicable infection, and it is bottled and distributed with all possible precautions against contamination. But certified milk is not widely available and it costs appreciably more than the other grades of milk, which are pasteurized before being distributed. Raw milk is dangerous. Even if the cows which supply it are in perfect health, the milk may become contaminated in handling. Milk is an excellent culture medium for numerous disease-producing germs. To be safe, one should drink only pasteurized or boiled milk. One of the diseases traceable to raw milk is undulant fever. This is a germ-caused disease affecting cattle and man. It may be contracted in several ways, but the most common is by drinking infected milk. Undulant fever usually develops in from 5 to 20 days after infection. The early symptoms may be marked tiredness, loss of appetite, headache, joint and muscle pains, sore throat and digestive disturbances. An outstanding symptom of the disease is a fever which "undulates," that is, rises and falls daily. The high point in the fever is usually reached about 6 p. m. The fever may be as high as 103 or 104 degrees sometimes even higher. As it declines, the patient usually swears profusely. The fever lasts from one to four weeks. The temperature may then drop to normal and remain so for some days, after which the fever is likely to re-appear. This cycle may repeat itself for months. Undulant fever frequently presents many odd combinations of symptoms suggestive of other diseases, making it hard to diagnose. The treatment of the disease is chiefly symptomatic. Immense serum, derived from the blood of individuals who had been sick and had recovered from undulant fever, is believed useful by some. Reports coming lately from England suggest that undulant fever can be effectively treated with sulfanilamide.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life...

A contributor contends that he objects to people criticizing the President; that he can find fault with his neighbors but it will do no good. This is not a parallel case. The President is our servant and is spending our money and is working for us. It is the duty of any employer to point out to any of his employes things that he is doing which the employer believes is detrimental to everyone. When these college professors criticize the acts done by the President, they are automatically telling the President to do exactly the opposite from what they are criticizing. When any supporter of the President says that government pump priming increases purchasing power he is saying, in reality, that the wealth of the country can be increased by the government paying out to individuals more than the individuals contribute to society. But instead of it increasing purchasing power he is saying, in reality, that everybody poorer, lowering the real wages of every worker, diminishing the supply of tools and equipment and, consequently, is objectionable. The constructive alternative is that the government permit this capital to remain in the hands of people who have demonstrated in the past they can produce and conserve wealth and allow them to use their best judgment to trade it to workers who will produce more, and not less, than what they are paid for their labor. In this way, the tools and equipment of the country can be increased and only by using better tools and better equipment can the rewards for labor be constantly increased. To criticize a neighbor who is under no legal or moral obligation to report to the critic, is entirely different from criticizing a servant such as the President whom we have hired to manage and sanction laws that will add to the general welfare, when we feel that he is doing exactly opposite from what we want done.

The Capital Jigsaw

AUSTIN, May 8 (AP)--Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York, in the opinion of this correspondent who observed "Hiziner" for several days recently, has platform "it."

This also was the opinion of other persons who heard the mayor's speech at the convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Wichita Falls and noted the warm response he received. LaGuardia is short in stature--a guess of five feet four inches would not be far wrong. He is rotund and plainly shows his Italian ancestry in his lineaments. To this Texan, at least, he looks "foreign," which is not intended to be derogatory. Despite his appearance, however, he demonstrated he has what it takes to get hold of an audience and keep it. LaGuardia sat beside Gov. James V. Allred on the rostrum of the municipal auditorium until introductory speeches were completed. The audience numbered possibly 2,500. When he stood up he was given the customary round of applause, but when he started talking, the audience immediately was for him. He spoke extemporaneously and the speech was not broadcast. He also had not handed anything in advance to press correspondents. It was explained reading from manuscript worried him and bored his audience and he long has found himself most effective when talking extemporaneously. For similar reasons he does not like to speak over the radio. His voice is pitched rather highly, like Gov. Allred's, but probably does not have quite the carrying qualities. He uses short sentences and he seems to watch the effect on his listeners. If a point is well received, he drives it farther home with another sentence. The long, rounded oratorical phrases which flourish of, say, Tom Connally, who spoke the next day, are not for him. He skips around quite a bit, talking a little on one subject, going to another, and perhaps referring to the first again. Perhaps the most effective thing about him is his apparent sincerity. He has the ability to make his audience think he believes what he is saying. LaGuardia was addressing an organization of a sectional nature. It is the purpose of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to pull for West Texas. He made a very anti-sectional speech, appealing for a broad understanding of national problems and asserting it was possible for one part of the country to be prosperous and another to be in despair. The audience applauded again and again. LaGuardia told a number of jokes during his speech, which, for the most part, was of very serious nature. One of those Jesse Jones. After discussing relief problems and governmental spending, LaGuardia interjected that some assistance, of course, could be obtained from Jones, chairman of the reconstruction finance corporation. "I might take your watch and chain and everything else you have for security," he grinned, while the audience laughed. One of the features of LaGuardia's administration in New York has been his ability to get federal financial aid for various projects. The thousands who lined Wichita Falls' streets for the chamber parade gave the stock mayor a big hand as he rode on a float with Gov. Allred. An exact account of the mayor's reception in the parade wouldn't jibe, however, with that telegraphed to his paper by a New York reporter. This reporter showed Texas correspondents his story which described huge crowds of cowboys throwing their 10-gallon hats into the air, firing six-shooters and giving "yipes" for the mayor, who was wearing a cowboy hat. There were cowboys, about 50 of whom looked suspiciously like Wichita Falls business men--led the parade in traditional regalia. This writer didn't see any of the sidelines. everyone in Texas is a cowboy," he said. He seemed to imply it was a good joke on New York. This question was asked repeatedly in Wichita Falls and elsewhere just why LaGuardia came to Texas? He told correspondents he was paying a visit to an old war-days friend, Dr. O. B. Kiel of Wichita Falls. Dr. Kiel, a surgeon-saved LaGuardia's life when the latter was wounded on the Italian front. He also said it was the first vacation he had had in several years. A Wichita Falls business man remarked the mayor came to the convention because influential people go busy and brought him down as a big drawing card. The question was raised persistently, however, whether politics didn't have something to do with it. It was suggested LaGuardia, regarded as a presidential possibility, wanted to sound out sentiment in the Democratic southwest on national issues, to get acquainted with this part of the country and to make it possible for this section to be better acquainted with him.

SHAMROCK, May 9--The Rev. William H. Joyner, D. D., evangelist, for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, is conducting a revival at the First Baptist church here. Dr. Joyner, who was once a skeptic, will preach while here on "Why I Am Not An Infidel." There have been 75 professions and additions to the church. The Rev. E. T. Smith is pastor of the church. strategy, inspiration, implacable hate. The story of Pontiac alone, who single-handedly marshaled the great Indian nation in a six-months' siege of Detroit in 1763, is one of the classics of our history. And in the light of historic justice it can be said Pontiac had true cause. But Pontiac's life was sold finally for a barrel of whisky; Sitting Bull died at the hands of his own people; the others met similar fates. And today the Indian has long since become the vanishing American. He comes to life again temporarily, in Mr. Britt's book. The story should take its place on any good shelf of Americana.--P. G. F.

MOTHERS HONORED AT BREAKFAST BY B-PW SUNDAY MORNING

CLUB MEMBERS HOSTESSES AT ANNUAL AFFAIR

Complimenting mothers of the members of the Business and Professional Women's club and their friends, a breakfast was given yesterday morning by the organization in the city club rooms.

Following the invocation by Christine Cecil, Mildred Overall, club president, welcomed the mothers. A toast to the mothers was given by Kathryn Chesnut, Sarah De Woody, Mildred Lafferty, Hazel Wilson, Myrtle Simmons, and Miriam Wilson.

A feature of the event was a number "Memories of a Mother," in which Mrs. D. D. McKimling enacted the roll of the mother and Leora Kinard was the bride. As Mrs. R. C. Wilson played the piano a quartet, composed of Louise Smith, Mary Douglas, Howard Zimmerman, Tommy Jean Hawkins, B. E. Reynolds, and Leora Kinard was the bride. As Mrs. R. C. Wilson played the piano a quartet, composed of Louise Smith, Mary Douglas, Howard Zimmerman, Tommy Jean Hawkins, B. E. Reynolds, and Leora Kinard was the bride.

Children taking part in the presentation were Carolyn Sue Lipshy, Tommy Jean Hawkins, B. E. Reynolds, Holmes, Jack Spear, Jimmie Spear, and Billie McNutt.

Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, club mother, presented the club with a gavel whose history dates back to 1897 when Mrs. Alice McClelland Burney founded the organization known then as the Mothers' Congress. The gavel was handed over from a limp of an oak tree which grew in the back yard of Mrs. Burney's home on Atlanta, Georgia. Both Mrs. Fatheree's and Mrs. Burney's names are carved on the gavel.

Members of the club in charge of the arrangements for the breakfast were Johnnie Griffin, Ruth Walstad, Vera Lerd, Gladys Robinson, Maureen Jones, Christine Cecil, Leora Kinard, Audrey Fowler, Ruba McConnell, and Mable Greig.

Guests for the morning were Mmes. H. A. Overall, E. E. Reynolds, J. L. Nance, Stella Baslin, Lottie Williams, J. E. Gilbert, M. D. Townsend, F. C. Cullum, Dean Murray, Annie Mullins, A. A. Canady, D. Yesterday: Roger tells Jackie for the first time of Mrs. Beryl Melrose, but the name did not mean anything to Jackie then.

CHAPTER VII

SEVERAL days after the evening when Roger had told Jackie about his important news and about the Mrs. Santa Claus he had found, Jackie received what she might have called the shock of her young life. Evelyn and Jackie had gone into town for the day's shopping in spite of Jackie's continued protest that she did not want to shop for a trousseau. They were lunching at the smart Colony Restaurant, famous not only for its food, but for the certain tables always identified with well-known personalities.

Evelyn, of course, had her special table reserved for her. She was dressed for the occasion—and for the craning of necks she knew her entrance would cause—in a new Schiaparelli spring suit of beige wool, with wide fox trimmings all the way down its front. A Suzy sailor with a capricious—and most becoming—well, Jackie, following in her wake, wore her same sport suit, a Dobbs swaggar hat, since the Colony called for the convention of headgear—and a decidedly sulky look.

"This last was the only thing that was not recorded in the gossip columns the next day. For, naturally, what Evelyn La Farge wore, off the stage as well as on, was always news. "Don't look so cross, Darlings," Evelyn said, after she had spent a 15-minute conference with the waiter as to what to order that would be appetizing, but not the least bit fattening. "Anyone would think I had been putting through some terrific ordeal, instead of buying you all these pretty new clothes."

"If trying on clothes isn't an ordeal I don't know what is," Jackie murmured darkly. "I'd rather go through most anything else. And I tell you it's too ridiculous, Mother. Your buying me a trousseau. When goodness knows when I'll get married—if I ever do—with Roger planning this new trial flight and everything."

EVELYN sighed. "I can't understand you, darling," she said. "The way you talk. One would think you were in hopes something would happen to the dear boy, so you could not marry."

"Of course nothing will happen to him! I never hoped for any such dreadful thing, Mother!" "Just the same you act most unnatural for a girl who has just become engaged," Evelyn said. "You are too, from the ordeal of shopping. She could be quite so patient as she tried to be in her role of unselfish mother. She looked around, with her bright gaze, to see who else of importance was lunching at the Colony. She nodded to one or two groups at various tables, giving each the benefit of her sweet smile. Then her expression changed.

"Why, darling!" she exclaimed. "Isn't that Roger—over there, that small table, against the wall of course it's Roger!" But who on earth is he with?"

Jackie's glance traveled in the direction her mother had indicated. She had not known Roger was coming into the city today. He had not mentioned it when she had told him yesterday that she would be able to come out to the field for her lesson. But it was Roger. Looking exceedingly well-groomed and tailored, quite in keeping with the Colony's smart clientele. Sitting opposite him, her head bent, deeply absorbed in conversation—or in Roger, was a girl. An exceptionally attractive girl, even in this gathering of famous, well-dressed, beautiful women.

Jackie experienced the first twinge of the shock she was to receive. At least she supposed the tenseness that suddenly took hold of her was surprise. "I don't know who he is with," she answered her mother's question.

"You don't!" Evelyn looked at her daughter sharply. This was a fine state of affairs, for Jackie's fiancée to be lunching with another girl—and such a decidedly pretty girl!—when if he lunched with any member of the opposite sex surely it ought to be Jackie. "Well, we must find out then! Not to him, Jacqueline. He's looking this way now."

"He isn't looking at me," Jackie said. For a moment she had almost then he had looked away again. Or could be that Roger had seen her and looked away purposely?

"We could tell Henri to invite them to our table," Henri was Evelyn's waiter. She started to beckon him now.

Jackie said sharply, "Mother, if you do, I'll get up and leave—honestly, I will!"

"I would merely ask them to join us for coffee, or something like that," her mother said. But the storm gathering in Jackie's young face must have stopped her for once from carrying any such idea. It did not defer her from her main objective, however. She managed to signal Henri with her bright glance. "You see that young lady in the far corner, Henri," she said. "The young one, all in black with the silver fox scarfs. I wonder if you would see if you could learn her name for me, please."

"But certainly, Madame," Henri replied promptly. He held a brief conference with the head waiter, returned to their table. "The young name is well known, Madame," he bowed elaborately. "Especially in our capital city—Washington. She is the widow of the late Charles Melrose!"

"Charles Melrose!" Evelyn gasped.

Even then that name held no significance for Jackie. She was only half listening anyway. She was wondering if Roger possibly could have seen her and pretended not to, though why on earth he should do such a thing...

"Yes, Madame," Henri mowed again. "She was famous for her beauty when she was Miss Beryl Davidson. And for other things. She was the young lady who won the long-distance trophy at the Cleveland air show. I believe Mrs. Melrose is exceedingly interested in aviation, Madame."

THAT was when the full force of the shock hit Jackie. Naturally she was called to attention by any mention of flying. Then she put two and two together rapidly. Why, that attractive young girl was Roger's Mrs. Santa Claus!

"Thank you very much, Henri," Evelyn dismissed him with a gracious, smiling smile. "Did you hear that, darling?" she addressed Jackie. "Why, Charles Melrose was one of the wealthiest men in the world! I believe this was his second wife—though I presumed she received all his money, as the first was a divorce and settlement. He must have been much older than his young widow. But how on earth do you suppose Roger got to know her?"

"Henri gave you enough of a

THOMAS SEEKS JERSEY CITY TALK PERMIT

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 9. (AP)—Two new efforts to hold open meetings in Jersey City were planned today as the most highly publicized in a recent series of attempts to defy Mayor Frank Hague's ban on unauthorized public speeches spluttered and died.

One of two congressmen, whose appearance was called off within a 20 minute tube train ride from a crowd estimated by police at 65,000, announced he would be back, with even more congressmen if possible, a week from Saturday.

Representative Jerry J. O'Connell (D., Mont.) expressed disappointment and disgust that his sponsors had cancelled speeches by him and Representative John T. Bernard (F.-L., Minn.) Saturday night, but said it had averted a riot in which Hague's foes would have been "beat up."

An earlier attempt to hold another meeting was announced by Norman Thomas, Socialist party chairman, who said he had applied for a permit to speak a week from tomorrow.

Both O'Connell and Thomas, called for Hague's removal as vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee, a position he had held since 1924.

Declaring "Hague's violation of constitutional rights is a disgrace to the Democratic party," O'Connell said he would ask President Roosevelt to see him personally about it.

Saturday night's last-minute cancellation brought an anti-climax to a controversy which had worked itself in some sections to a fever pitch. A week earlier Thomas was hustled out of town when he tried to speak without a permit.

War veterans and other groups warned O'Connell and Bernard to stay out of Jersey City. Daily they reiterated nothing could prevent their appearance. Veterans and others paraded in the jammed squares for three hours while the International Labor Defense committee conferred with the congressmen in New York before calling the meeting off.

clow," Jackie said. Instead of losing that tense feeling it had apparently settled upon her even firmer. She could not imagine why Roger had not told her Mrs. Melrose was so young and pretty. Jackie had taken it for granted because he had said she was a wealthy widow that she would have hennaed hair and false teeth, or something like that.

"Mrs. Melrose is going to finance Roger's stratosphere flight. That is if Roger is lucky enough to get his chance. Which I suppose he will, if she is as important as Henri says she is," Jackie's tone sounded as though she hoped that Roger would not get his big opportunity.

"Henri always knows how important the people are who come to the Colony," Evelyn replied. "That's the reason I reserve this table, my dear." She turned around deliberately in order to look again at Roger's companion. Then she leaned toward her daughter, lowering her voice. "Well, I only have one thing to say, darling. If Roger was my young man, and I was engaged to him, I would not allow him to make any such flight. Not if such an attractive young woman was going to back him! Mark my word, Jacqueline, unless you put a stop to it now, you may regret it all the rest of your life!"

'DIPPY' NORMAN, LOCAL FAVORITE TO FIGHT HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

STATE CHAMP WILL BATTLE PAMPA YOUTH

The thud of leather on flesh will resound again at the Pampa Athletic arena Wednesday night, beginning at 8:30 o'clock sharp, when Wichita Falls Golden Gloves champions will come to Pampa for a dual meet. Admission will be 65 cents, ringside reserve, with tickets available at the Pampa Daily News and Cretney drug, and 40 cents general admission.

Pampa boxes will be the best obtainable for the occasion. Where champions are not available or have been nudged out by up-and-coming boys who have been training hard and making a better showing, the top battler in the weight will be on hand.

Cleve "Red" Drake, the boy who kept a left in the face of his Abilene opponent last month, will be the choice in his class. Arvol Hix, who made such a hit in the Abilene battle, will again represent Pampa in the meet. J. P. Mathews, Benny Moore, the Shamrock sensation, Frankie Bills, also from Shamrock, will all be on the card.

In addition, Bob Drake, battling brother of the redhead, will make his initial appearance on the card. Ray "Dippy" Norman, the favorite of local fans in the local Golden Gloves tournament, will return to the leather-slugging game. Norman injured a shoulder and had to withdraw from the tournament.

Several exhibition bouts will be staged preceding the meeting of the Pampa and Wichita Falls battlers.

No Wichita Falls opponent could be secured for Benny Moore. Like Abilene, Wichita Falls couldn't find a boy who would stand up to the Shamrock flash. However, Jake Lightfoot, a Pampa boy, has challenged Moore and the meeting will be staged.

A letter received from Alex Parish, state Golden Gloves champion, today, by Cliff Chambers, follows: "I read your letter to Mr. Wakefield and was planning on not making the trip, on account of school. After seeing your position I felt that I should make the trip even though I have all to lose and nothing to gain. I am a senior and am to graduate this month, so you can understand my position.

"I wish to congratulate you on your splendid team of young fighters, especially Benny Moore and Frank Bills for their splendid showing here." Signed Alex Parish.

Stagehand May Race Saturday In Preakness

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—The unexpected victory of Herbert M. Woolf's Lawrin in the Kentucky derby Saturday did little to settle the three-year-old turf situation.

The lanky, Kansas City-owned son of Insko-Margaret Lawrence is not eligible for another important stake until the $30,000 Arlington park classic July 23. And that, there still is the alling Stagehand to be reckoned with.

Stagehand, if sufficiently recovered from the sore throat that forced his withdrawal from the derby two days before the race, will start in the renewal of the $75,000 Preakness at Pimlico next Saturday. But even the star trained by Sande is not in the $50,000 Belmont stakes June 4.

All of this means that as far as the 3-year-old situation is concerned, the Preakness and Belmont will be just two more rich takes. The classic figures to be the race to settle matters.

Although Lawrin ran a game race under Eddie Arcaro's guidance to give the Kansas City, Mo., merchant and trainer Ben Jones their first derby victory in their initial try, the performance was far short of those turned in by the last two winners—War Admiral and Bold Venture.

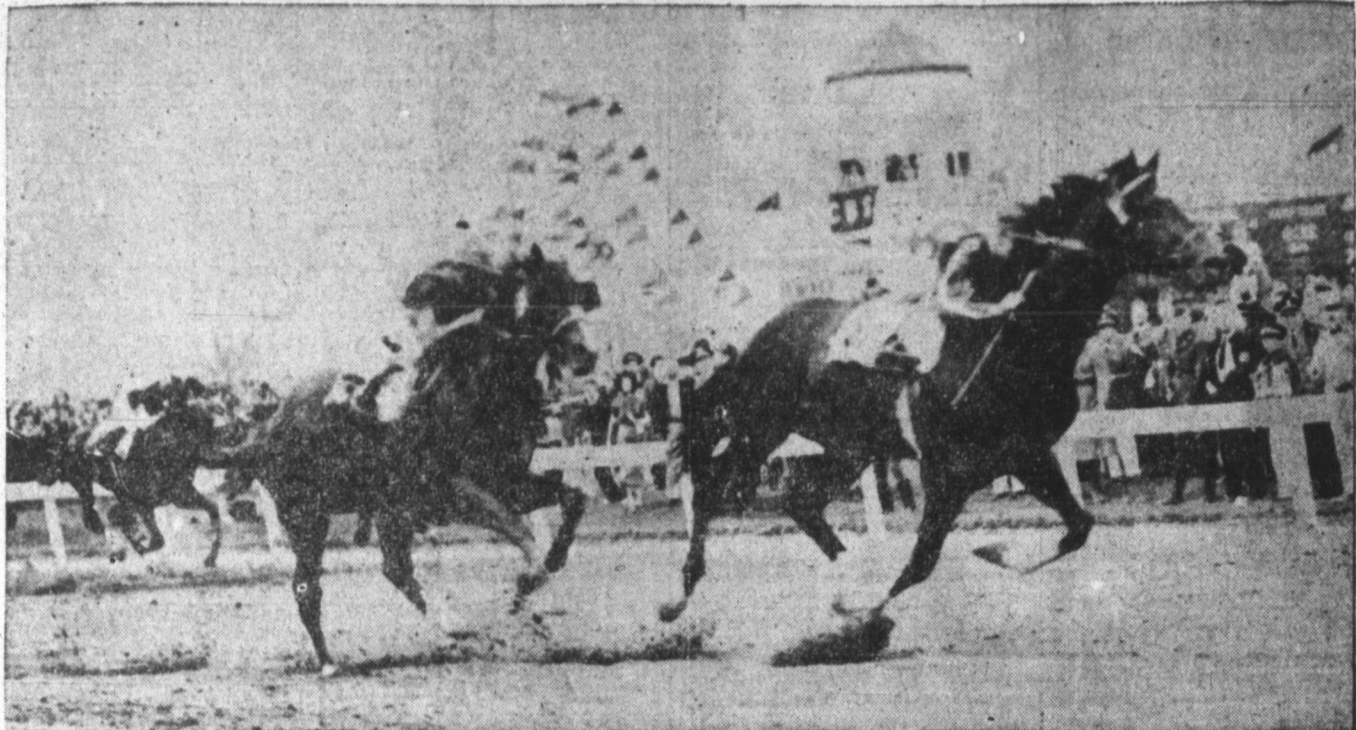

Lawrin was clocked in 2:04 4/5 for the mile and was as he came from behind, took the lead in stretch and then turned back the challenge of William DuPont Jr.'s Dauber to register by a length. War Admiral's time last year was 2:03 1/5 and Bold Venture's 2:03 3/5.

Lawrin Driving to Victory in Kentucky Derby

Lawrin, bay colt owned by Herbert G. Woolf of Kansas City, Mo., winning the 64th Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs after coming from behind in a stretch drive. A length in back of him was Dauber, while Can't Wait is third. Although his time was slow, 2:04 4/5 for the mile and a quarter, Lawrin ran a strong race under Eddie Arcaro's expert handling.

HARVESTERS AND EXES WILL NOT MEET AGAIN THIS SPRING

Pampa Harvesters of 1938 and the ex-Harvesters will not meet on the gridiron again this spring it was announced by Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters this morning.

"Most of the boys were eager for a return game but some thought they should stick to studies so we decided not to play again this spring," Coach Mitchell said. "Many of the exes are seniors in high school and will graduate this spring and their school studies are more important than football too."

The Harvesters and exes battled to a scoreless tie here Thursday night in the final scrimmage game of the spring training period. Both teams played bang-up ball all the way.

Two casualties among the exes were reported. Roy Showers Jr., was kicked on the head in the first quarter but returned to the game after the help to do some nice passing and running. W. J. Brown, who led the exes in ground work, received a leg injury on the final play of the game when he carried the ball to the Harvester four-yard line.

Brownfield, the metropolis of Terry county, has a population of 4,796, a census made by W. B. Toone shows. He took a census two years ago and counted 3,555 citizens. The town is shooting at 5,000 by fall.

Main Event
Andy Tremaine, Phoenix, Ariz., vs. Sterling "Dilly" Davis, Houston.

Semi-Final
Count von Bromberg, Berlin, Germany, vs. Buzz Reynolds, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Preliminary
Soldier Thomas, Portland, Ore., vs. Pasha Bariem Bey, Istanbul, Turkey.

Above is the classy wrestling card promoter Cliff B. Chambers will present at the Pampa Athletic arena four blocks east and one south of the postoffice, tonight beginning at 8 o'clock. The card is packed with celebrities and an even more spectacular one than last week.

Andy Tremaine is naturally the main event favorite since his sensational victory over George Hartay last week. In that battle Tremaine showed that he is not the frail grappler he appears to be but a real wrestler. With Davis in the ring with him, Tremaine will need to be more than a wrestler, he'll have to be rough and tough because Davis likes the going that way.

The Houston mauler is the sneaky type who takes advantage of the ropes or anything that comes his way for added leverage to holds. Davis is a finished wrestler but he has that rough inclination which always gets the better of him. There was a rumor about town this morning that Tremaine would meet Davis at his own game to see if he can take it.

Bromberg, the German army officer, will get a rough and tough welcome to the Panhandle when he tangles with Buzz Reynolds, who unlike his cousin Champion Jack Reynolds, goes rough when he can't win the scientific way. Bromberg recently came to this country after doing his regular hitch in Hitler's army. His advance reputation as a grappler is anything but savory when it comes to scientific mauling. Reynolds showed fans more speed and scientific knowledge than most newcomers last Monday night.

TULSANS TAKE DOUBLEHEADER FROM BISON

(By The Associated Press)

Tulsa's Oilers, Texas league leaders by a comfortable margin, but hot after a tenth straight win, clash with the Houston Buffs at Tulsa again tonight. The Oilers were victors by scores of 2-1 over the Buffs in a double-header yesterday.

The Texans were affected by unexpected turns early in each game. Pitcher George Munger was sent to the hospital with an injury in the second inning of the opener after they protested a decision in the first frame of the nightcap.

A line drive struck Munger just above the head.

The Oilers were able to grab only five hits off Munger and John Gendrick, who replaced him, while the Buffs amassed nine in the first game, but the Oilers' blows were bunched and Parker's single drove in two Tulsa runs for the victory.

Pitcher George Milstead barely shaded the Buffs Jim Winford in a pitcher's duel in the second game.

The San Antonio Missions downed the Dallas Steers 13-1, and 7-1 in another twin bill to climb to third place above Houston in standings. Shreveport beat Oklahoma City 4-3 and 3-1, and Fort Worth trounced the second place Beaumont 2-1 in an opener, but dropped the nightcap 8-6.

Phillips Scores 25 Runs in Three Innings Friday

A Phillips softball team that had its eye on the ball crashed out 25 runs in three innings while Poe held Skelly to two runs Friday evening in a league game. Skelly was without several regulars and the game was called off at the end of the third inning.

Eight of the Phillips runs were the result of home runs when the oilmen got to Comley, Skelly pitcher who was on the mound in the absence of Mayo.

Supplymen and News to Play

Two teams entered in the City Softball league, the Pampa Daily News and the Supplymen, will tangle for their first game of the season at 6 o'clock this evening on the Cabot diamond south of Road Runner park.

The News Hawks have practiced three times while the Supplymen will be making their first diamond appearance. They have not named a battery for tonight. The Newsmen will send Ralph Walker to the mound with Edward Hamilton receiving.

League play will begin on May 23 with six teams competing unless other teams sign up for the season.

months to meet a heavier opponent in Soldier Thomas. The two will meet head on at 8:30 o'clock sharp. Admission will be the same as usual, 65 cents ringside reserve, tax paid, and 40 cents general admission.

Giants Beat Cubs 4 to 2 To Win Twelfth Straight

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

Safely past the barriers that threatened difficulties, Bill Terry's New York Giants appear to be riding high along the National league pennant road—if they can escape the injury plague that has been afflicting a large number of the other major league clubs.

When the Giants were winning these eleven straight from eastern rivals, they were warned: "Wait until you meet those Cubs. It won't be so easy then."

They met the Cubs yesterday and beat them just like everybody else. The Cubs were coming off a three-man performance as you'd see anywhere. Carl Hubbell took care of the Chicago batters, scattering nine hits, fanning seven and pulling out of his one bad inning, while Mel Ott and Jimmy Ripple handled the job of securing four times on six hits off Larry French. Ott hit two home runs, each with Ripple on base, and that was all there was to increasing New York's lead to 3½ games.

While they got past that first and hardest game in Chicago safely, the Giants with as many as three-man performance as you'd see anywhere. Carl Hubbell took care of the Chicago batters, scattering nine hits, fanning seven and pulling out of his one bad inning, while Mel Ott and Jimmy Ripple handled the job of securing four times on six hits off Larry French. Ott hit two home runs, each with Ripple on base, and that was all there was to increasing New York's lead to 3½ games.

They got off easy compared to the Chicago White Sox and a few other teams, however. The Pale Hose lost first baseman Joe Kuhel for a week or so in addition to dropping a 7-3 game to the New York Yankees yesterday. Kuhel caught his spikes on the bag sliding to second and was carried off with a broken leg. Saturday, Clint Brown, veteran relief pitcher, discovered a chipped bone in his elbow. Shortstop Luke Appling has been out with a broken leg since the training season.

With a makeshift lineup, the Sox couldn't do much when Red Ruffing fanned nine of them and Lou Gehrig, Joe DiMaggio and Tommy Henrich belted homers.

The Yanks, however, failed to break their tie with Washington for second place, as Cecil Travis knocked in five runs with a home run and singles to pace the Senators to a 9-7 victory over the St. Louis Browns. These two teams, with Boston's aid, cut the Cleveland Indian's lead to a half game. With Jack Wilson pitching four-hit ball and fanning 12, the Red Sox blanked the Indians 5-0. A triple by Jimmie Fox with two on and manager Joe Cronin's homer were too much for Bob Feller.

Home runs and hurt players marked the day's other games as well. Bill Werber, who had not pitched in ten days, pitched a double header in the tenth to give Philadelphia's Athletics two runs and a 7-6 decision over Detroit after Hank Greenberg had hit for the circuit in the same frame.

Al Todd of Pittsburgh belted Lou Fette's first pitch of the 12th inning out of the park and beat the Boston Bees, 2-1. Johnny Mize, with two homers and a double, and Lon Warneke, who pitched seven-hit ball, accounted for the St. Louis Cardinals' 4-2 triumph over Brooklyn. Warneke was hit on the hip and by Cookie Lavagetto's liner in the sixth but continued to pitch.

Without the aid of homers, the Phillies downed the Cincinnati Reds, 2-0 as Bucky Walters bested Johnny Vandermeer in a mound duel. But to keep the record intact, Ernie Lombard, Cincinnati catcher, went out with a split finger in the first inning.

Tyler Back at Top of League

(By The Associated Press)

Tyler's Trojans, swept back from third place to the top of the East Texas league by victories of 10-8 and 6-5 over Marshall's Tigers yesterday, engage the Kilgore Rangers tonight.

While the Trojans went up, Longview plummeted down from first place to third, its 11-game winning streak stopped 3-2 and 6-5 by the Texasiana Liners, who moved up from fourth to second place, supplanting Henderson.

The Jacksonville Jax took Henderson into camp 12-10 and 9-6 while Kilgore split a double bill with Palestine, losing the first 4-2 and taking the second 14-8.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Al Todd, Pirates: His twelfth-inning homer gave Pirates 2-1 win over Bees.

Mel Ott, Giants: Hit two homers to whip Cubs, 4-2.

Bill Werber, Athletics: Hit homer with one on and singled with bases

NO FAVORITES IN SIGHT FOR TWO BIG FIGHTS AND RACE

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—Those who dwell in this thriving town-ship are beginning now to feel sad about all the unfortunates not similarly endowed. They wouldn't trade, sight unseen, their expectations of the next two months for all that sunshine they heard rumors about in California and Florida the past winter.

It isn't going to be hard to take, at that: the Barney Ross-Henry Armstrong bout and the Seabiscuit-War Admiral race within a few days of each other the latter part of this month, and then on June 22 the gaudiest heavyweight championship in a decade between Max Schmeling and Joe Louis.

Only the imminent arrival of Herr Schmeling from Germany is needed to set the ballyhoo drums to thumping earnestly. The former champion is expected to pitch his camp at Spectacular, N. Y., and settle down to his customary long, methodical get-ready. Louis will begin limbering up his left jab a little later, probably at Pompton Lakes, N. J.

Ross, the welterweight king, and Armstrong, his sturdy challenger, already are hard at it. Their scrap, incidentally, could have high-lighted any normal summer. It is certain to be a savage thing—one of those spectacles that makes the heart try to climb out of its socket.

The Admiral and Seabiscuit, who match strides for a tidy prize of $100,000 on May 30 at Belmont park, are up and out on the track at dawn each day, slowly rounding to what their trainers hope will be top form for the big day.

Right now opinion on each event is so sharply divided that there isn't anything approaching a real favorite in the lot. Practically all bets between individuals are being made on an even-money basis and the arguments are hot.

Reigel, Martin Will Be Named On Cup Team

DALLAS, May 9 (AP)—Texas' brightest golfing satellites of the moment—Bobby Reigel and Iverson Martin, champion and runner-up of the State Golf Association tournament—are almost certain to be named within the next few days to the Texas Cup team.

The cream of the state's amateurs will meet a picked professional team in the Texas Cup matches at Tyler June 19.

Other prominent candidates are Don Schumacher of Dallas, Trans-Mississippi titleist, Walter Emery of Houston; Jack Munger of Dallas; Morris Norton, West Texas champion from Wichita Falls; Dave Goldman, former National Amateur runner-up from Dallas; Lonnie Wendler of San Antonio; Dennis Lavenor of Dallas, state public link champion; Billy Bob Coffey of Fort Worth, and a representative of the East Texas section.

Reynolds Smith of Dallas, Walker Cup player, will return from the European golf wars June 15 and may be able to participate in the matches if he is selected.

Also considered are Harry Todd, O'Hara Watts and Jamie Gough of Dallas; Willie Maguire Jr. of Houston; Hack Willford of San Antonio, and W. R. Long of Austin.

A committee of the Texas Golf Association will name the team, probably this week.

Reigel and Martin came through the toughest field in the history of the association to win their honors at Fort Worth last week.

Reigel took the title with his deadly iron shots. On the thirty-five green he shoved in a 20-foot side hill putt for a birdie and a 3 and 1 victory over Martin, Fort Worth youngster.

Reigel, Beaumont's best, formerly was southern champion.

loaded in tenth inning for 7-6 win over Tigers.

Jackie Wilson, Red Sox: Blanked Indians, 5-0, with four hits, fanning 12.

Red Ruffing, Yankees: Fanned nine in ten-hit pitching performance for 7-3 victory over White Sox.

JOHN AUSTIN'S GOLFERS BEAT GROVER'S BOYS

Little John Austin and his golf team today were chuckling long and loud because yesterday they downed a team captained by Grover Austin, Jr. in a chicken and bean tournament played over the County club course.

Not only did the "Johnnymen" win the tournament but John defeated Brother Grover to start his team off on the right foot. The going was tough all the way with John's team finally winning 12 matches to 10.

The losing team will eat beans while the winning team eats chicken at a date to be announced soon by the tournament committee. The time will be announced in The News.

Outstanding battles of the day were between Dan McGrew and Grover Austin sr., won by Austin; Ray Hagard and Gus Howard, won by Howard after a titanic struggle; Ivy Duncan and Bert Curry with Curry the winner; Sam Penberg and Bob Wright, won by Penberg by a nose.

The outcome by matches, Grover Austin's team listed first:

Grover Austin lost to John Austin; Floyd Ward lost to H. C. Foy; C. F. McClain lost to Chinch Baker; Mark Heath beat Ray Radcliff; Floyd Hoffman beat Mack Graham; Mike Hanna lost to Russ Allen.

Art Swanson beat Jack Goldston; Don Donovan won from Gene Green; Jim Hatfield beat Tom Perkins; Lynn Boyd lost to Clyde Fatheree; Ted Halbig beat Blaine Doherty; Dan McGrew lost to Grover Austin sr.; Jet Brumley lost to Fred Thompson; Ray Hagard lost to Gus Howard.

Sam Penberg beat Bob Wright; Bill Jarratt beat H. C. Pickett; T. C. Pennington beat Bill Miskimins; A. G. Peeler beat R. C. DeWoody; Frank Shotwell beat Paul Hawthorne; Ivy Duncan lost to Bert Curry; John Haggard lost to Hamp Brown; Joe Gordon beat Gene Fatheree in a handicap affair.

Kingsmill Downs Magnolia 12 to 0

Kingsmill's baseball nine won its fifth straight game of the season yesterday afternoon at Kingsmill by subduing the Magnolia Construction Company team 12 to 0.

Bones allowed the slugging Oilmen only two scattered hits and fanned 16. Lefty Harvey was behind the plate.

Barham and Acklam toiled for the oil crew with Bailey doing the receiving.
