Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 35 to 40), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worry about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells. Just get more fresh air, a hot, deep and early night's sleep, and a good diet. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women, helps restore vitality to enjoy life and assist calming jittery nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life. # HARVESTERS WILL FACE TIGHTEST FOE TO DATE FRIDAY

LAWTON TEAM BEAT GLASSEN ELEVEN 7-6

Football teams in district 1 will look ahead to tough opposition this week and try to forget the torments which struck last week-end. Another conference game will feature play when the district 1 eleven plays the Plains at Lawton on Friday night.

Pampa and Lawton lead the district in both conference and non-conference games. Each has won three and lost one and each has a conference victory chalked up, both defeating Lamesa.

Planview's win over Lamesa was impressive, 26 to 6, while the best the Harvesters could do was battle the Tornados to a scoreless tie and then win on penetrations, 3 to 0, there being no games in conference play.

Two undefeated Oklahoma teams will invade T as to try and make it a clean sweep of the season, three of their own rymen having won one-point decisions from district opponents last week.

Headline attractions will be the invasion of the Lawton Wolverines on Pampa. Next in line will be the visit of the Capitol Hill Indians of Oklahoma City to Amarillo. Lamesa will journey to El Paso while Lubbock will rest up.

Lawton will come to Pampa undefeated and with a 7 to 6 victory over Classen of Oklahoma City, the team that defeated the Amarillo Sandies 7 to 6 on Friday night in Amarillo, too.

Undefeated Capitol Hill, winner over Lubbock 14 to 13, last Friday night, will test Amarillo's strength to finish out the schedule of giving fans the dope on Pampa, Amarillo, and Lubbock.

Not a single undefeated team remains in district 1. Here is the standing after the disastrous week-end:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Pampa	3	1	.750
Planview	3	1	.750
Amarillo	2	1	.667
Lubbock	2	2	.500
Borger	1	2	.333

WRESTLING TO OPEN TONIGHT

The 1938 fall wrestling season will be ushered in tonight at the Pampa Athletic arena four blocks east and one south of the post-office when Promoter Cliff Chambers stages an all star card, beginning at 8 o'clock sharp.

Headline attraction will be the finish match between Joseph Kopecky and Sheik Mar Allah, two of the roughest, toughest hoppers in wrestling circles. It will be the first meeting of the pair and things are likely to get beyond control of Referee John Nemanic. Both maulers have been hurling open insults.

A semi-final of the top order will send Jack Hagen, the Louisiana butcher boy, to the mat with Gust Johnson, popular Swede. Hagen likes the going rough and tough while Johnson figures on winning scientifically. The Swede, however, can get tough when the occasion demands.

A couple of ace newcomers will be featured in the opener when Walter Stratton, Ohio strong man, tangles with Jack Hendricks of Fort Worth. The two come highly recommended. Their system of grappling is unknown here.

J. Smith Ferbee on golf marathon.

Bare-chested J. Smith Ferbee apparently is pretty much in a hurry as he grabs a club from Art Cascheta, his caddie, at Lakeside Golf Club, Hollywood. The rush is brought on by the fact that Ferbee, wealthy Chicago broker, has wagered close to $100,000 that he can play 600 holes of golf from coast to coast in four days. Ferbee is making his dash in a private plane. The gentleman hurrying along in the rear with him is Reuben Trans, his backer.

SOUTHWEST TEAMS TO INVADE EAST, MIDWEST, PACIFIC COAST

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Some of the more notorious teams will carry the Southwest conference torch into important intersectional games in the east on the Pacific coast next week-end. "Tugging along behind its rugged little 150-pound Dave O'Brien will be Texas Christians 197-pound average powerhouse in an invasion of Philadelphia for a date with Poo Warner's Temple Owls—tripped up by Pitt Saturday.

On the same night, Friday over at Chicago's Soldier's Field, the improving Southern Methodist Mustangs, its offense banging away, will meet Marquette in a game expected to draw some 65,000.

Out on the coast at San Francisco the Texas Aggies—perhaps the roughest, toughest hoppers in wrestling circles. It will be the first meeting of the pair and things are likely to get beyond control of Referee John Nemanic. Both maulers have been hurling open insults.

Down in Louisiana's capital, Baton Rouge the Florida Owls—knocked off again by Oklahoma in a stunning opening upset, will try to find themselves against the potent Louisiana State Bengals.

To complete the intersectional schedule, Texas' Longhorns, back in the cellar again after a flash against Kansas, run into the Oklahoma Sooners in their annual classic at Dallas.

ATLANTA STILL GAME AWAY FROM DIXIE SERIES CROWN

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
BEAUMONT, Oct. 3 (AP)—Still one game away from a Dixie baseball title, Atlanta's Crackers sent Tom Sunkel one of the minor league baseball's fastest left hand throwers against Beaumont's sporters in the fifth game here today.

Only an amazing throw-in from right field by Barney McCosky prevented the Crackers from winning the series yesterday, but as it was they were satisfied to wind up a torrid afternoon's work in gathering dusk with a 13-inning, 3-3 tie.

Manager Al Vincent, the Exporters' ravenous leader who simply bottled his boys into that yesterday after they were twice down, planned to send his eccentric right-hander, Dizzy Trout, in against the Atlantans. Trout won 23 games over the full season's route, but hasn't fared too well in the playoffs.

TOP ELEVENS USE POWER TO SWEEP AHEAD

By DRW MIDDLETON
NEW YORK, Oct. 3 (AP)—Power and passing, twin geni of offensive football, continue to make—and break—the gridiron power as the season, launched by two clamorous Saturdays, heads into a weekend filled with traditional, intersectional and conference contests.

Power alone was the deciding factor as Minnesota, Pittsburgh, Duke, Santa Clara and Cornell swept forward last Saturday at the head of the National parade. Resurgent Columbia Ohio State and North Carolina all gained stature on the forward pass, which, however, failed miserably for Rice, shaded 7-6 by Oklahoma in the day's major upset.

Sectional pictures began to take form as the results came in much as expected, with only Rice's defeat, Brown's 20-13 smothering of Harvard and Idaho's 12-12 tie with Washington to shock the selectors. Here's how the situation looks in various major sectional groups:

East: Columbia, off to a notable start in the "Ivy league" as Sid Luckman bombed Yale for a 27-14 win, takes on army, victorious over Virginia Tech 30-0 in its second warmup. Yale, due to improve, faces Penn, 31-6 winner over Lafayette, Cornell, under wraps as it beat Colgate, 15-6, plays Harvard, while Princeton and Dartmouth, still untested by real opposition, come to Navy. Navy, 26-0 winner over Virginia Military, encounters Virginia.

Pitt Duquesne
Pittsburgh, still tops in the more potent "Poison Ivy" group after a 29-6 triumph over Temple, meets its neighbor, Duquesne. Holy Cross tackles Manhattan; Colgate takes on Duke, Southern Conference co-leader, at Buffalo and Syracuse meets Maryland, beaten 33-0 by Penn State. Temple faces Texas Christian. George Washington will meet Butler and Catholic plays at Detroit in Friday intersectional tussles.

Big Ten: The oldest and most rugged conference really swings into action today. Minnesota, the power-one conference clash which saw Ohio State take the early lead with a 6-0 decision over Indiana. The Buckeyes next take on Southern California, 7-0 winner over Oregon State on the west coast. Minnesota, the powerhouse, which corqued Nebraska, 16-7, moves into conference action against Purdue, 21-6 winner over Butler, Iowa, after a week off, takes on Wisconsin, which wallopped Marquette 27-0. Michigan, 14-0 winner over Michigan State, meets the Wolverines' first game, faces Chicago's weak team, Indiana tries a comeback at the expense of Illinois, 4-1 winner over De Paul. Northwestern, after whipping Kansas State, 21-0, plays Drake.

Irish Go South
Notre Dame, back in the picture as a national power after whipping Kansas 52-0, goes south to play Georgia Tech. Marquette entertains Southern Methodist in a Friday game at Chicago. The Wisconsin team, which played its glory with a 7-6 triumph over Rice, meets twice-beaten Texas. The Big Six conference campaign opens with Nebraska encountering Iowa State and Kansas State meeting Missouri, winner over Colorado.

Southern conference: Duke and North Carolina, perennial paladins of the uneven group, whipped Davidson, 27-6, and North Carolina State, 21, respectively, to share the lead with victories against Wake Forest and Clemson this week. The Blue Devils visit Colgate this week, the Tar Heels take on Tulane, which played its third straight scoreless tie with Auburn. South Carolina lost 7-6 to Georgia and Clemson got its come-uppance, 20-6 from Tulane last week. So now they return to their own loop against Wake Forest and V. M. I. respectively.

Southeastern conference: Alabama, although untested in the conference, remains the outstanding team in the circuit. The Crimson passed off with a 34-0 win over Auburn and face N. C. State next. Auburn-Tennessee, Vanderbilt-Kentucky and Sewanee-Florida are the main conference pairings. Louisiana State, 20-0 winner over Texas, again invades the Southwest to tackle Rice.

Tech Vs. Temple
Southwest conference: Davy O'Brien pitched Texas Christian right into the conference lead when his aerial acrobatics beat Arkansas 21-14. The Razorbacks have their chance to stage a comeback when they meet Baylor, 20-6 victor over Oklahoma Aggies Friday. In this week's only circuit clash, Intersectional games still are in order. With 5-1, after a 29-7 win over Arizona, meeting Marquette, T. C. U. playing Temple, and Texas A. & M. going west to meet Santa Clara.

Pacific Coast: Oregon, rather surprisingly, heads the conference standing after downing U. C. L. A. 14-12 for its second triumph and has an open date ahead. Meanwhile, he rather discredited favorites, Washington and Southern California, hit the comeback road. Washington, tied by Idaho, plays U. C. L. A. and South in California, hard pressed to beat Oregon State. Ed, visits Ohio State. Stanford, thumped by Santa Clara, takes on Washington State, 27-3 victim of California's Bears.

Gloom Shrouds Baseball Fans In Pittsburgh
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 3 (AP)—Gloom that shrouded Pittsburgh's baseball fans today was "hicker" than the autumn fog which rolled into this valley at the headwaters of the Ohio river.

In hotel lobbies, barber shops, street corners and offices—where only a few days ago world series visions had been seen and discussed in excited ton-talk about the Pirates collapse was conducted in whispers.

UNIQUE HORSE RACES THRILL LOCAL CROWD

Steady cow ponies from this section vied in old time races yesterday afternoon at Recreation park with young Bob Ward taking first honors in two wins, a second and a third place. Tuke Salsbury and Roy McMurry placed second in an exciting polo game. Planview swamped Perry on 11 to 3.

The races and polo game were sponsored by the Pampa American Legion post and 40 and 8. About 350 persons witnessed the event.

Only two snails were chalked up against contestants. Bob Ward's mount stumbled as it reached the finish line in the can race by Ward successfully dropping his can in the box. Tuke Salsbury's horse ran into the can and knocked it over but Salsbury also hit the mark for second place.

Roy McMurry capped the opening event, the tournament race, when he appeared three times in 7 1/2 seconds. Next was Hub Burrow who split two things in 7 seconds. This place went to Turner Kirby with two rings in 7 1/2 seconds.

Tuke Salsbury won the clear race in 27 seconds with Charles Warren second, with a time of 30 seconds. Next was Hub Burrow who split two things in 7 seconds. This place went to Turner Kirby with two rings in 7 1/2 seconds.

A special 300-yard race was won by Alvin Reeves with Hub Burrow second and Bob Ward, third. Bob Ward won the can race in 2 seconds followed by Tuke Salsbury in 24 seconds and Bill Stockstill in 28 1/2 seconds.

Planview Wins Easy.
Led by Vernon Bradley, number 2 man, the Planview polo team scored an easy victory over Perry 11-0. Bradley scored six times as he appeared almost faultless. Norris, hard-riding number 1, added 4 goals with Captain Phillips an Marvin Sherbert scoring once each.

Mr. Murphy made two goals for Perry with the other going to H. Murphy, C. Roach, Otto Barbe and Ralph Barbe rounded out the team. Each team scored in the first half. H. Murphy making the goal for Perry with Phillips the other. Again in the second half, chucker each team scored. Mr. Murphy and B. adley placing the ball between the goal posts. Planview added one in the third, two in the fourth and then went on a scoring spree with four goals in the fifth half.

Each team rode hard but during the dry field hampered play the ball disappeared in the cloud of dust. At that the players showed inaccuracy in their shots. Officials were Bill Harwell, referee; Hub Burrow, field judge; Frank A. Fee and Roy McMurry, flagmen, master of Planview, timekeeper.

World Series To Begin In Chicago Wednesday

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The baseball world took a deep breath today and wondered just how some semblance of sanity at the windup of as whacky a season as the game ever has worked its way through.

There was still the problem of getting the world series out of the way, but that was up to the New York Yankees and Cubs, who begin the classic in Chicago Wednesday. The rest of the fellows are just along for the ride now. They finished their work yesterday, saving for the finale the silliest situation of all—Master Bobby Feller fanning 18 batters in one game for a new major league record, and losing the game.

Of course there was no question of sanity involved when it came to the magnates' turn to count the profits. You can't laugh off more than 10,000,000 paid attendance for a season, a new all-time high for one campaign.

Hardly any doubt existed that the two pennant races were the cause of the big payoff. In the American league, the Yankees made it interesting by letting the other fellows make a fight of it through the entire first half. But when the Cleveland Indians went into their annual mid-summer night's dream, and the Boston Red Sox lost their one and only game, the Yankees, the Yanks started to roll and rolled right in with their third straight pennant.

But for the tops in whacky up-and-downs, the National league race had it. First, the Giants seemed to be on the way to a third straight flag. But the injury jinx finished them. Then Pittsburgh went out in front, but, like the Indians, the Pirates "choked up" when the going got tough. So it was up to Gabby Hartnett and his crew to gamble on it. Gabby took over the reins from Jolly Cholly Grimm in July and the Cubs didn't seem to be headed anywhere. Down through the stretch they had it however, winning 21 and tying two of their last 27 games, sweeping the last six series from the Pirates' last week, and clinching Saturday.

Surprise of the year, though, were the Cincinnati Reds under the name's No. 1 tactician and magician, Bill McKechnie. He took the 1938 cellar occupants, put in a rookie here and an old timer there, and wound up in fourth place. They even put on a fancy finale yesterday by trouncing the Pirates, 5-4, while St. Louis Cardinals, a dismal disappointment in sixth place, whipped the Cubs, 7-5. The Cincinnati pitcher in the windup was Johnny Vander Meer, who turned in the greatest hurling job of the year with two straight no-hit, no-run games, something never done before.

Detroit Fourth
In the American league, the fourth place finishers were the Detroit Tigers, who wound up under Del Baker after a surprising dismissal for Mickey Cochrane in mid-season. They ended the campaign on the upbeat, taking the Indians twice, 4-1 and 10-8. It was in the opening game that Feller fanned his 18 for a new all-time high. Hank Greenberg went thru the afternoon without a homer and thus failed in his chase after Babe Ruth's 60-for-a-season record. Greenberg was stopped at 58. Perhaps the outstanding development of the year was the epidemic of sore arms that struck the star pitchers. Dizzy Dean, after costing the Cubs $185,000—a record price for a pitcher—hurled only 75 innings. Carl Hubbell and Lefty Grove, certainly the two greatest left-handers of this generation, were stricken. Paul Dean and Schoolboy Rowe were returned to the minors. Van Lingle Mungo wasn't any more use to Brooklyn than their doubleheader win over the Phillies yesterday, 7-3 and 7-2.

Managers Blamed
Two other managers, besides Grimm and Cochrane, "got the bounce" during the season. Gabby Street was let out by the St. Louis Browns, although he, with the help of Buck Newsom, one of the year's four 20-game pitching winners, pulled the Browns out of the cellar. The Cards and Frankie Frisch came to the parting of the way. Another was added to the ranks of unemployed when Jimmy Wilson, wily pilot of the Phillies, resigned over the final week-end.

By way of adding a few parting shots: Jimmy Foss came back, signed and all, to win the American league batting championship. Ernie Lombardi did it in the National. Lou Gehrig and Paul Waner finished under .300 for the first time in their careers. . . . Phillies and Athletics couldn't be beat for the cellar. . . . Casey Stengel, jinxed all the way, did a neat job of master-minding the Bees into fifth place in the National. Under Lou's final 3-2, to the Giants yesterday, with Vince DiMaggio fanning four times for an unofficial season total of 129—a new big league record. . . . Joe DiMaggio's 32nd homer gave the Yanks a 6-1 windup win over the Red Sox. . . . A's and Senators split the finish—Washington 5-2 in the opener; Philadelphia 4-2 in the afterpiece. . . . Browns did the same with the White Sox; Buck Newsom clicking 4-3 in the first; the White Sox 3-0 in the second.

How To See Football

NO. 2—THE DOUBLE WING.
By JERRY BRONDFIELD,
NEA Service Sports Writer.
Glenn Scooby Warner isn't called the Old Fox for nothing. Warner's right to the title is based on his inventive mind, which gave the game many of its more tricky maneuvers—most notably of which is the double wing offense.

Because the double wing is best suited for only a certain type of material, it is not used as much as the single wing. The system calls for extremely fast linemen who are able to pull out and block, and a fullback who can crack a line wide open from close up.

Here, too, the spectator will find the unbalanced formation, with the left tackle going into the right, or strong side of the line. The number 1 back, or right wing, is stationed a yard back of and just outside his end. The number 4, or left wing, is in the same approximate position on the other side. The bucking, or number 2 back, takes a position about two yards in back of and slightly to the right of his right guard, and the tail back, or number 3, is about five yards directly behind center.

One disadvantage to note instantly is that on a w-m-n—the tail and the bucking backs—are in position to take a direct pass from center. The fan will notice that the bucking back storms through on a lot of spinner plays, and that both he and the tail back do a lot of straight hitting inside the tackles.

This opens the way for a lot of reverses—both single and double—as might well be imagined, on the part of the wing backs, who often raise nob with the defense by skirting wide around their opposite ends. The double wing is a strong passing formation, with either of the wings—provided they are good passers—being in position to drop back and take the ball from either the bucking or tail back, and heave it downward.

Both guards and the outside tackle, pulling out of the line, are the men who perform the chief blocking chores. Description is the keynote of the double wing. A glance at the Temple offense should be convincing proof.

HUNGARY WILL GET SLICE OF CZECH NATION

PRAGUE, Oct. 3 (AP) — Czechoslovakia today tried to lay the foundation for a new economic life in the narrow borders of this once-prosperous realm, which had yielded to German and Polish territorial claims and agreed to negotiate the demands of Hungary.

Foreign Minister Kamil Krofa answered a new Hungarian note which asserted the right of self-determination for the Hungarian minority with the suggestion that a Czechoslovak-Hungarian commission be named to settle the dispute.

Although the new borders have not been determined, the nation knew it had lost almost all of its textile industry, which ranks fifth in the world.

MURDER TO MUSIC

BY NARD JONES

CHAPTER I

IT was Wednesday night in the Golden Bowl of the Pacific-Plaza, the city's smartest hotel—and leading The Swingateers was Ludden Dombey. Ludden Dombey, acknowledged "tom of the swing cats."

Tall, slender, undeniably charming, Lud Dombey held his baton almost carelessly. His arm seemed to move but little, his wrist only a little more. And yet a rhythm emanated from the figure of Lud Dombey as surely as if he himself were an instrument.

He was leading The Swingateers in what he called "a warm-up number." Nobody was dancing—yet. The tables just below him were crowded with young people. Wednesday night was their night in the Golden Bowl. Wednesday night was when Lud Dombey cut loose with swing for those who appreciated it, when he added such touches as this "warm-up number" and let go of his best wisecracks.

No one watched the attractive Lud Dombey more closely than Myrna Rogers. To Myrna it wasn't just Wednesday night—it was her wedding night. And the man she was going to marry was Ludden Dombey!

To Myrna herself it was fantastic, almost unbelievable. How, she asked herself for the hundredth time, had it happened? Here was she, a stenographer—"Miss Rogers" in the firm of Kelly, Clarke and Kelly. And there stood Dombey, idolized by thousands, at the crest of his fame, with looks and money and, seemingly, everything. There were at least a dozen girls in the town who would give much more than Myrna Rogers had given to be Mrs. Ludden Dombey. They were girls of position and wealth, girls who could have really helped him on his way—or retired him until the end of his days.

Yet Myrna believed in his love for her, and in her love for him. It had happened so swiftly, and so completely, that she was certain of its truth. She would never forget the night she sat at a table in the Golden Bowl, and Lud Dombey had looked down at her with that smile. It hadn't been his professional smile. It was a special smile; and Lud Dombey had done something no one had ever seen him do before. He had stepped down from the platform and asked a girl to dance with him. From that moment it was all over for Myrna.

"You're in love with his music," her friend, Anne Lester, had chided. "Like a million other girls. You're a dyed-in-the-wool jitterbug, that's what. When Lud and his outfit are in the groove, and you're shagging it down, it's his music—not Dombey—that gets you."

BUT Anne Lester loved Myrna too much not to hope it was the real thing. With Myrna's marriage she'd lose a roommate, and possibly a close friend, but she was all for Myrna's happiness. It was strange that tonight, as she sat at the table with Myrna, waiting to act as her maid of honor, she should have this feeling of something impending. Something queer and strange and awfully wrong.

Suddenly, every light in the Golden Bowl flashed on again. Lud Dombey lay face down in front of his swing band!

Wisely, she kept her premonition from Myrna. She tried to stifle it within herself, afraid that somehow it might transfer itself to Myrna. Myrna was too happy, sitting there watching Lud Dombey, and it shouldn't be spoiled. Myrna had no living relatives, but the jovial Lud had quickly solved the wedding problem.

"We'll have it on a Wednesday night in the Blue Room at the Pacific-Plaza," he said. "That's the night when my best fans are in the Bowl. We can have the ceremony during the intermission—and then I'll introduce you as Mrs. Ludden Dombey!"

That was the way it was planned. That was the way things were when you were with Lud Dombey. You whirled along with him. You let him do it his way, even if it was your own wedding. And it happened smoothly, top, as everything happened where Lud Dombey was concerned. After a few introductory numbers, Lud turned The Swingateers over to "Torchy" Stephens and sat at the table with Myrna and Anne.

When the intermission was near, the three slid unobtrusively to the Blue Room at the Pacific-Plaza's mezzanine.

It went off so quickly that Anne had to hold herself to keep from crying out. That terrible premonition was swelling larger in her breast. She stood trembling beside Myrna, watched through tear-glazed eyes as Harris Rogers, manager of The Swingateers, found the ring and handed it to Dombey. As in a dream she heard Myrna's "I do" spoken softly, and Dombey's sound out clear and self-assured. Then the pleased murmur in the room as the minister pronounced the final words which made Myrna and Ludden man and wife.

THEY hurried back to the table almost as soon as the ceremony was over. "You girls stay here a moment with Harris," he whispered. "I'm going to have them turn the golden spot on you, darling."

"Oh, Lud—no!" "Sure thing, honey. They'll all want to see you!" And then he was gone. Myrna watched him, sliding toward his band. She felt Harris Rogers rise beside her. "Hello, there, Tait."

he said. "Myrna, this is a friend of mine. Bob Tait. Think he's an expert newspaper photographer." He introduced Anne, invited the young man to sit down. "Don't run away, Bob. You'll have a surprise."

"I need one," Tait said dolefully. "The boss gave me the exit this morning. Thought I'd drift over and get a few candid shots and maybe sell myself to him again."

Anne Lester smiled. "You're a cinch, Mr. Tait. You don't know it, but you're about to get a photographic scoop. Sit tight."

Genuinely intrigued, young Tait leaned toward the platform they were all watching. Between him and Lud Dombey there drifted entranced dancers, caught up in the tide of music. The band was in the groove, all right. Old Lud was sending it out of the world tonight. And were the boys and girls peeling the apple! Were they shagging it down! Tait unbraced his miniature camera, raised it to his cheek. But he did not snap the shutter, for just then Lud Dombey brought down his baton and the music cut into a silence more surprising than sound.

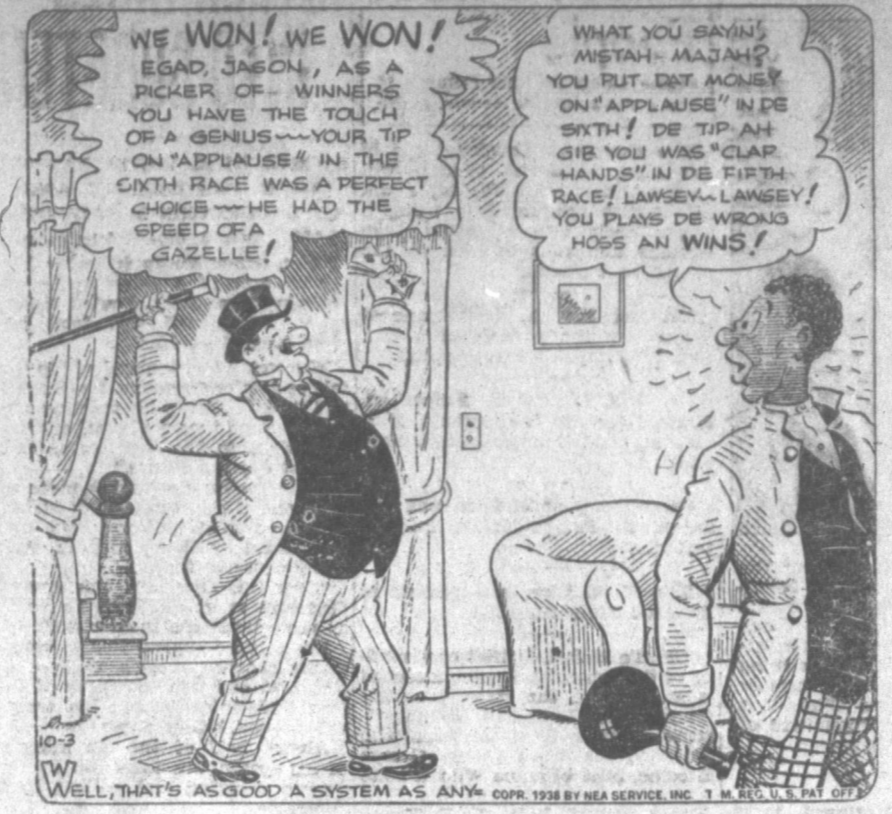

"Boys and girls," he said, smiling as only Lud Dombey could smile. "Don't move from where you are. The lights are going out for a moment—and then the golden spotlight of this Golden Bowl is going to shine on . . . Mrs. Ludden Dombey!"

The jitterbugs gasped, grew quiet. Even the hardened Tait found himself interested. He sat poised, his miniature camera ready to catch the girl who had won the great Dombey. Excitedly he imagined the shot. A beautiful goddess, bathed in a golden glow, receiving the homage of all these lovers of swing. Because if Lud Dombey was a king of swing, then she would be queen.

The lights went out. Every last light in the glamorous Golden Bowl. But instead of a golden spotlight, instead of a shaft of light, there was a sickening roar of sound. At the shot a woman screamed. A drunk let out a hilarious, baffled yell. Then silence. Tait stood up, straining, waiting. Suddenly every light in the Golden Bowl flashed on again. Lud Dombey lay face down in front of his swing band!

Prison Committee Assails 'Handling,' Changes Personnel

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 3. (AP)—Lax conditions, but no malicious acts, were uncovered in the Texas prison board's investigation of the death of a negro convict, Joseph Wearden of Victoria, chairman of the board, announced yesterday.

"There has been a lack of good judgment, in fact, the poorest kind of judgment was used," said Wearden after a committee had found that K. C. Morris, 21, the convict, died from natural causes.

The negro, who had been in a tiny cell for 11 days on a bread and water diet with a solid meal every 36th hour, gorged himself upon rice from the cell. This, rather than whipping administered after his release, was responsible for his death, Wearden said. A "cardiac condition" also contributed to the cause of death, he explained.

"Bad handling of the men" at the Eastham farm, Wearden said, called for changes in personnel. He explained also that the farm is regarded as Texas' Alcatraz and the problems of management are difficult. Wearden said that Capt. Albert N. Owen, who had been in charge at the Mariem state farm at Richmond, was moved to the Eastham farm. Capt. J. P. Hamilton, who had been in charge at Eastham, was moved to the Darrington farm at Sandy Point.

HIGHEST COURT OPENS TODAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—The Supreme Court, reassembling at noon, Eastern Standard Time today for a new eight-month term...

The first session after a summer recess is limited to admitting attorneys to practice and hearing motions. For the next week, however, the eight justices will be busy passing on approximately 350 petitions for review of lower court decisions...

At that time arguments also will begin on cases the court agreed last spring to review. These include an attack by private power companies on the constitutionality of the Tennessee Valley Authority act.

Among the petitions awaiting action is an appeal by Thomas J. Mooney, serving a life sentence in San Quentin penitentiary for complicity in the 1916 preparedness day parade bombing in San Francisco. He lost his fight for freedom before the California Supreme Court.

There also are several controversies growing out of interpretations of the national labor relations act, including the Ford Motor Company case.

Speculation was renewed as the court convened over when President Roosevelt is likely to fill the vacancy caused by the death last July 9 of Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo. The belief was widespread that he would wait until Congress meets next January. The Senate must confirm any nomination to be a member of the court.

Headquarters will be maintained in the city commission room of the city hall where workers are asked to report on their progress daily between 5 and 6 p. m.

Workers were given cards and names of persons upon whom they have been asked to call. The campaign will continue through this week. Officials of the advisory board hope to end it Friday.

HITLER RIDES INTO SUDETEN

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER. WITH THE GERMAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION IN SUDETENLAND, Oct. 3 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler, triumphantly followed by his armor across the newest border of crowing Germany, shouted today that "never will this land be torn from the Reich."

Welcoming Sudetenland within the fold of greater Germany, the fuhrer told its inhabitants his greeting was "at the same time a pledge" and invited them to join "our march into a great German future."

He spoke in the market place of Eser, one of the "capitals" of Sudetenland, from a platform colorfully surrounded by flower girls in their picturesque costumes.

"Over this Germany, this greater Germany is its shield, its sword as protection," the fuhrer declared. He stepped unexpectedly and madly cheering crowds at Eser, in the third and most populous of the four Sudetenland zones his troops will occupy before Saturday.

"I greet not only you, but the entire Sudetenland, which in a few days will belong to the Reich," he told them.

"We'll do together in unity we must stand together. All must support each other. "Deutschland is happy over these days. "Not only you—the whole nation is experiencing these days with you."

"The whole nation rejoices with you. "Your happiness is that of the 75,000,000 in the Reich that was hitherto."

The fuhrer evidently was referring to the fact that Germany's population will be almost 80,000,000. "Similarly your sufferings of the past period were also our sufferings," he exclaimed.

"In this solemn hour let us thank Almighty God that on our way thus far He has blessed us and pray that under His guidance our steps in the future may also be guided right."

Crowd urged delay until tomorrow, asserting the case was of such magnitude, time to consider the compromise was needed.

Judge Moore also based his suggestion upon new rules for United States district courts regarding pretrial procedure to speed litigation. Although not binding upon state courts, he said the rules of procedure might well be adopted here.

Charles Francis of Houston, representing the American Petroleum Institute since the "essential basis of this law suit has gone out the window."

McCrow told the court he probably would confer with those who filed the suit, presumably Governor Allred. The attorney general said he considered it a "courtesy" to discuss the court's suggestion with those from whom he inherited the litigation.

Organization of a woman's club and a children's club within the Pampa Townsend Association is planned to be made at the next meeting of the Pampa Townsend Club, to be held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night in the county courtroom.

Recreation, music, and instruction on topics that will be of benefit are contemplated in the program for the two new clubs. Trips to Skellytown and to White Deer next week are planned by members of the local Townsend association.

Light Company's Luke Thomas Not Arrested Here

In a story in Sunday's NEWS concerning the payment of fines and costs by 10 men charged with tampering, one of those named was Luke Thomas. The Luke Thomas mentioned was not the Luke Thomas who is an employee of the Central States Power and Light Corporation. The NEWS has been informed.

Names of those arrested in the raid were taken by the Pampa, and one of those arrested appeared before the justice of the peace, submitted the names, and paid the fines, for all.

Officers asked about the matter today said they did not hold those arrested in raids of this kind long enough to make proof of identification.

Only the name, case number, and "habeas corpus" appear on justice dockets along with brief information as to disposition of the case. The form does not furnish any listing for address, age, occupation, or other data that would definitely identify those charged.

While the NEWS was correct in giving the names listed, it sincerely regrets that the Mr. Thomas who was not charged was mentioned with the case.

A county official, asked about the matter today, said it was likely that the man charged had exactly the same name. He pointed out that a half-dozen persons had a name identical with his own.

Academy Appointees Advised to Report

Candidates who have been designated by the senator or congressman of this section for admittance to the United States Naval Academy or the United States Military Academy are asked to report at the civil service room in the post office in Pampa for preliminary examination on Oct. 8.

The examination, conducted by Assistant Postmaster O. K. Gaylor, will begin at 9 a. m. To date, Mr. Gaylor has not been informed as to whether there are any appointees.

If there are, he would like to contact them immediately.

Experts Hunting Way To Lessen Cotton Surplus

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—Government farm experts are studying possible ways to increase domestic cotton consumption as a means of cutting down the nation's enormous surplus of the commodity.

It was reported authoritatively one of the proposals under consideration contemplates subsidies for textile manufacturers who agree to turn out cotton goods for sale at reduced prices to relief and low-income families.

Meanwhile, with an estimated surplus of more than 13,000,000 bales in existence, cotton belt senators have been clamoring for the government to increase its present cotton loan rate of 8.5 cents a pound to 11.5 cents, the maximum allowed under the farm law.

Chairman Smith, Democrat, S. C. of the Senate agriculture committee, leading the fight for bigger loans, contends the south will go bankrupt unless its cotton income is boosted. Production control programs, under which the federal government pays farmers for holding down their cotton acreage, have not prevented accumulation of the huge price-depressing surplus.

Administration leaders contend solution of the cotton problem depends largely upon a greater use of the staple in this country. They have opposed any increase in the loan rate on the ground it would hold domestic prices above the world level and thus discourage exports.

Confronted with possible loss of American markets for wheat abroad, the administration recently inaugurated an export subsidy program for that grain. No similar action has been undertaken, however, for cotton.

Officials said that subsidized processing of cotton for relief and low income groups, might provide an outlet for some of the 7,000,000 bales of cotton the government is holding as collateral for loans to producers. Sale of this cotton to manufacturers at less than the market price would subsidize them indirectly, it was explained, and permit distribution of the finished products to the needy at low prices.

Officials said adoption of the subsidy program also would benefit idle textile workers.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take.

Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation, and by aiding in loosening and expelling germ-laden phlegm.

The Medical Profession has for generations recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a good dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and may be taken frequently by both adults and children.

Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—have on set a bottle of Creomulsion from your drugstore, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the drugstore is authorized to refund your money.
