Jacky Burris New Paramedic On Ambulance

Jackey Wayne Burris, who was born here and grew up in Muleshoe, is Bailey County's newest paramedic.

Burris has been attending paramedic classes for the past few months. He was notified Thursday evening that he had passed the tests, attaining a grade of 90.166.

He graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1981 and married Staci Kirby of the Maple-Goodland community.

They are the parents of Brandon, age six and Amy, three years of age. Mrs. Burris is a teacher's aide at DeShazo Elementary School.

In January, 1987, Burris received his Basic EMT certification and became a volunteer with the Bailey County EMS. In January, 1989, he received his EMT-SS (Special Skills) certification and went to work full time for the Bailey County Ambulance Service.

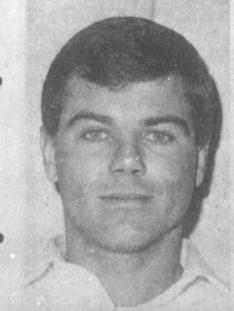

He was named assistant director of the service in October, 1989 and on June 1, 1990 was named director of the service.

He said he was motivated by Curby Brantley, Jr. to join the ambulance service as a volunteer in 1987, after Brantley told Burris' wife he should "check into it."

He said he became involved with the volunteer service, but at the time, had no intention of making a career of emergency service. "I just wanted to be a volunteer," he said.

But, then he stayed "because I saw what a difference a trained medical emergency person could make in pre-hospital care."

Burris said it just takes a few dedicated, trained persons, willing to put the time and effort into it to make a difference between life and death of the citizens of the area.

Neal Caswell, member of the Two bids were received for elective surgeries. Board of Directors of the Muleshoe Area Hospital District, submitted his resignation to the board Thursday, August 23.

After accepting his resignation, the board named Alfred Hicks of Lazbuddie, as director, to serve until the elections for new officers in May, 1991.

Also, in conjunction with the elections coming up next year, the hospital district administrator, Richard Murphy, was instructed to contact an attorney. and have "Single member" voting districts worked out prior to the elections.

For the five member board, even numbered directors elected will serve for two years, and odd number district directors will serve one year terms.

"This will ward off any possible election problems just as we are getting ready to hold the elections," said board secre-

MISD Okays Senior Citizen Local Passes

Tom Jinks, interim superintendent of the Muleshoe Independent School District said this week, "It is the intent of the Muleshoe Independent School District to support the senior citizens of our community as they support the activities of our students.

"Therefore, the MISD Board of Trustees has elected to present a MISD Local Pass to any senior citizen who wishes to receive one. The pass will allow the holder to attend locally sponsored school events at NO COST.

Eligible to receive the MISD Local Pass are A. All school employees; B. School Board members; C. Senior Citizens; and D. Local News Media.

Limitations of the MISD Local Pass include:

A. Good only for events sponsored by the Muleshoe Independent School District. (This includes district and non-district athletic events.)

B. Certain District 2-AAA or Regional UIL activities, even though they may be held in Muleshoe, are not covered by this pass. (e.g.-district 2AAA One Act Plays.)

C. The MISD Local Pass is not acceptable for activities such as dinner theater productions, suppers, etc.

D. The MISD Local Pass covers only one admittance and is non-transferable.

E. The MISD Local Pass is not acceptable for department activities (such as speech/drama, home economics, etc.) used as fund raisers unless approved by the sponsor and/or principal. Senior Citizens wishing to obtain a pass may go by the

Dillman Has New Schedule For Students

Barbara Finney, principal of Dillman Elementary School, has announced several changes in scheduling for the school this School will start at 8:20 a.m. with breakfast being served at 8 a.m. Students will be counted tardy at 8:30 and absent after 10 a.m. Dismissal time will be 3:20 p.m. This later dismissal will allow all students to participate in either tutoring or enrichment classes, Mrs. Finney explained.

Bus students will load the buses at 3:30 at Dillman, to go to high school and then leave on the route at approximately 3:50

Parents who plan to pick up on 19th street. Mrs. Finney said please inform your child's teacher as to which location you will be parked so the teacher can direct your child to you.

Also, a written note or phone call is required for changes in routine for your child and changes in bus numbers.

Parking is not allowed on Ave. E (north of the school) between 3:15 p.m. and 3:45 p.m. and between 7:45 and 8:30 a.m. Those times are reserved for bus loading and unloading.

Parents are asked to drop students off at Dillman Elementary in the mornings on Ave. E (north of the school) at the side walk between the gym and the school building.

"With your cooperation in the change in parking in the afternoon and dropping students off in the morning, we hope to alleviate some of the congestion in traffic," explained the princi-

She also said she needed to ask for additional help with the rent for her offices.

Initially, she had asked for assistance of $75 per month, but since that time, her rent has gone from $200 per month to $350. She asked for an additional $75 per month subsidy, and she would pay the difference between $150 and the rent of

The commissioners took her request (as well as all other requests) under advisement.

Jackey Wayne Burris, director of the Bailey County Ambulance Service requested that the $12,000 for a medical director for the ambulance service be re-instated in the new budget.

Dr. Bruce Purdy receives $12,000 per year as medical director, and this had been deleted as the judge prepared the budget. "I have talked to Bruce Purdy," said Burris, "and this figure will not change. I would like to have the item put back in the budget."

Bailey County Judge Jim Watson said he still advocates an outside contractor to operate the ambulance, as he said 14 percent of the county's revenue is set aside for the ambulance

"We can't afford the luxury of $1,000 per month for a medical director," said the judge. "To me, this is ridiculous."

Commissioner Joey Kindle reminded that the people want the ambulance service as it is, with advanced life support. "We committed ourselves to it," he said.

Judge Watson replied, "If the people want Dr. Purdy to be medical director, let the people go out and hold fund raisers."

Again, Commissioner Kindle interjected, "Being so far from a big hospital, it's been comforting for the people to have advanced life support. We need to keep it running like it is."

The ambulance director asked why $6,000 is shown in the budget for rent when no rent is paid to the hospital for the building housing the ambulance service behind the hospital and commented, "We want to

Quality Science Education Prepares Students For Future

As school doors reopen this fall, Texas Medical Association urges parents, teachers, school administrators and students to push for quality science education programs.

Parmer Stams Gramms Vote On Honoaria

State Senator Hugh Parmer. Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate, attacked Phil Gramm's recent vote against campaign finance reform.

"Phil Gramm voted with 22 other senators against an amendment that would end the longtime practice of hustling special interest goups for speaking fees," Parmer said.

"Unlike Phil Gramm, Senator Lloyd Bentsen has never accepted honoraria and voted to end the practice of accepting honoraria. Gramm, however collected a total of $39,775 in honoraria in 1989 alone. He kept $35,800 and donated $3,-975 to charity when he began to approach the $36,000 limit on the amount individual members can receive in given year," Parmer continued.

"Through 1989 Gramm took in $154,289 in speaking fees from special interest groups. If we are to restore the public's faith in our elected officials, we must move and move quickly to limit the undue influence of big money interests," Parmer said.

"In my eight year career as a State Senator I have accepted exactly $550.00 in honoraria. The only time I have accepted such honoraria is to cover the

"The honorarium system is a form of influence buying and should be abolished. I want voters to know and understand that in this time of growing skepticism about our leadership, Phil Gramm voted against ending this highly questionable practice," Parmer said.

Students who expect to enter said Dr. Tingley. A minister for example, will have to work with computers in managing financial records and planning church construction and maintenance.

A science background will be important in everyday living as people begin to use electronic banking, mail, and other hightech services in the home. That knowledge also will prepare students for voting on issues involving the environment, energy, and the economy.

A good science education begins before a child starts school, Dr. Tingley said, when parents encourage a child's natural curiosity. "Science is basically a question of how things work," he said.

"Children's interest in science is not the problem," said Michael Hoke, recent recipient of TMA's Award for Excellence in Science Teaching. The underlying problem is low-priority status of science education in communities, said Hoke, a 7th and 8th grade science teacher of Orange.

A January 1990 survey of 20 school districts in Hoke's region found that the average elementary school teacher has only $55 just science, for the entire year. "Many science classrooms are still using 1958 equipment." he said. "Some don't even have a sink to get water they need for experiments."

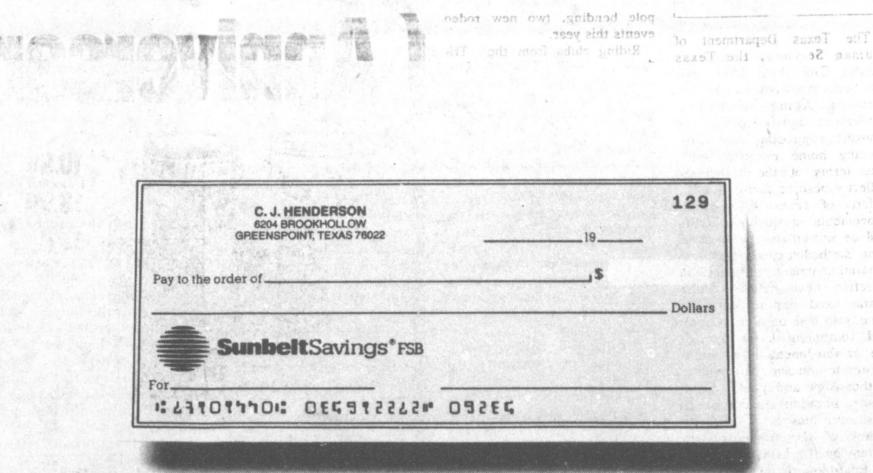

Many parents and business leaders have a positive attitude toward science, but fail to take action. Hoke said he encouraged parents to demand quality science programs.

Such a program requires well-trained teachers, proper equipment, adequate supplies, and a sound curriculum. Students must learn process skills. such as observing, classifying, sequencing and controlling variables, rather than simply memorizing facts and figures.

"If we want to turn America toward the future, then we've got to start here," Hoke said.

Health News

The Texas Department of Human Services, the Texas Health Care Association, and the Texas Association of Homes for the Aging reached a settlement agreement in the lawsuit regarding Medicaid nursing home reimbursement. The terms of the settlement reflect a positive change for the elderly of Texas. Certain improvements in quality of care will be immediate due to short term methodology changes and a reimbursement rate increase effective next month. Major change and improvement has been provided on a long term and continuing basis through the establishment of a mechanism to resolve outstanding methodology and public policy issues. In addition, the mechanism provides for a complete review of the reimbursement system by the Legislative Budget Board and the Legislature.

The negotiating process proved to be long and difficult, and it is to the credit of all those involved that settlement was reached before the designated court date. The settlement process made clear that the issues involved in reimbursement and the provision of patient care, through complex and sometimes technical, can and should be worked out through cooperation of state agencies and provider groups rather than through the arduous and costly process of litigation.

Cal Farley's Boys Ranch Rodeo Set

Approaching at a gallop is the 46th Annual Cal Farley's Boys Ranch Rodeo, a favorite event for thousands of people who attend the Labor Day weekend extravaganza.

The chutes will open Sunday, September 2, and Monday September 3 at Boys Ranch, 36 miles northwest of Amarillo. In hopes of winning belt buckles or All-Around Cowboy honors, boys of all ages will ride calves, bulls, broncs and steers. Representing Girlstown, U.S.A. will be young cowgirls competing for top awards in barrel racing and pole bending, two new rodeo events this year.

Riding clubs from the State area will join the youths during grand entries both days. Among the spectators will be many of the Ranch graduates who return with their families for an annual reunion. Since 1939, more than 4000 boys have called the Ranch "home," and some travel great distances to attend the rodeo and meeting of the Boys Ranch Alumni Association.

Up to 10,000 people are expected to fill the arena grandstands, most which are covered. Tickets for children (6-12)are $1.00; general admission, $2.50; and reserved bleacher seats, $3.50. Rodeo action begins at 2:30 both days. Further information and reservations are available by calling the Boys Ranch office in Amarillo, 372-2341.

Approximately 13,000 persons enjoyed performances by the division's seven groups which traveled in seven states and two nations last year.

"We are proud to represent and promote Wayland in our division and we expect to lead the way as the most active recruiting division in the university because of the public relations nature of music," said Dr. Carl Moman, chairman of the Division of Music.

The musical groups Spirit and Rejoice recorded the most travel in 1989-90. Spirit performed 23 times in Texas and New Mexico before ending its season by accompanying a Wayland Baptist Student Union group on a two-week summer mission trip to Germany.

GARDEN SPOT OF THE WEEK--These brightly colored petunias in the front yard of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fox, 1709 W. Ave. D was chosen for this week's Garden Spot by the Jennyslipper judges. There are still a few more weeks left for the garden spot, so call the Chamber of Commerce office and make your nomination.

Miss Campbell, Franklin United In Marriage

The celebration and blessing Ann, was "Something new". Lynn Campbell and Robert Kirk Franklin was held August 18th at 7:00 p.m. in the sanctuary of uncle of the bride.

The couple wrote the vows they exchanged in front of the sanctuary.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Campbell of Muleshoe. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Billie Franklin of Midland and the late Arther Franklin.

Cathedral tapers were placed on the alter and the alter held a mixed bouquet of summer flowers. Flanking the alter were two brass seven branch candelabras. A candle symbolizing the uniting of the families, completed the setting. Pews were marked down the entrance aisle.

The support and caring of the joining of the bride and groom to create a new family was given by the parents.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin and Alencon lace. The bodice, beaded with sequins and pearls, featured a bateau neckline, lantern sleeves, and a basque waistline. The full skirt, trimmed with Alencon lace, flowed into a floor length hemline. To complete her attire, the bride chose a formal wreath accented with pearl sprays, highlighted with a silk illusion pouf and a double layer waist-length veil.

Her bouquet was a cascade of star gazer lilies, stephanotis, sweetheart roses and astimeria lilies. For "something old", the bride wore a strand of pearls which were given to her Grandmother from her Papa Don on their wedding day. "Something borrowed", were a pair of earrings which belonged to her Aunt Jan. A gold and pearl bracelet, given to the

Creative Living

By Sheryl Borden

Information on selecting toys, combining cherries and hazelnuts, and effectively marketing ones professional image will be the featured topics on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, August 28 at 12 noon and Saturday, September 1 at 2 p.m. (All times are Mountain.)

Diane Creston, representative of Playmobil, is going to discuss how to select good quality toys, talk about what toys stimulate intellectual curiosity in children and share which toys foster the development of motor and cognitive skills. Play is important work for children, and it's important for parents to help children put this work to good use and one way is by selecting proper toys. Ms. Creston is the president of Creston & Associates in New York.

Oregon ranks first in U.S. production of hazelnuts (or filberts) and second in the production of maraschino cherries. Cathi McLain, representative of the Oregon Department of Agriculture, is going to combine these two taste treats into delicious dessert called cherry-hazelaut dreams. She'll talk about the versatility of cherries, and discuss how to select hazelnuts as well as how to store them. Ms. McLain is from Salem, OR.

Judi Moreo conducts "image power" lectures and seminars throughout the U.S. and several foreign countries and is going to share some of her tips about the power of professional images. Ms. Moreo believes that people need to learn to market themselves better and she explains how to go about doing this. Ms. Moreo lives in Las Vegas, NV.

On Tuesday, August 28 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, August 30 at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will present information on selecting frames and mats, adding new flavors to barbecue, and garment fitting through darts. Cathy Crane, nationally-recognized interior design expert, author, and lecturer, is currently representing Deck the Walls in New York. Ms. Crane will explain and demonstrate how to select frames and mats which are appropriate for particular pieces of art. Ms. Crane will also talk about things to consider when framing, including how to determine the right frames and mats for different pictures. Betty Hughes, representing Weber-Stephen Products in Palatine, IL, will explain how to select different woods for barbecue cooking, explain which ones compliment which foods, and also explain the how-to's of grilling. According to Ms. Hughes, the delightful taste of hickory-smoked turkey or mesquite-grilled steak can be easily duplicated on your outdoor covered grill.

Virginia Nastuik, owner of Personal Patterns in Bothell, WA, will discuss the role that darts have in fitting. The shaping and placement of darts is the key of achieving success when sewing apparel.

"Creative living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. Viewers can request copies of materials offered on the show by sending one 25 cent stamp for each handout requested. Send the stamps, along with your name,

Tops Club

TOPS chapter No. 34 met at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, August 23 in the Heritage Thrift Shop.

Laverne James, leader, called the meeting to order with the TOPS pledge. The TOPS fellowship song was led by Alma Robertson and Mrs. James led the group in prayer.

Betty Jo Davis called the roll with 17 members responding with the amount she had lost or gained. One visitor, Carolyn Stancell was welcomed.

Best loser for the week was Charlotte Campbell. First runner-up was Joy Radford and second was Alma Robertson.

Mrs. Campbell removed a wrapping from the mystery package. Each week the best loser gets to do this and the person who removes the last wrapping gets to keep the gift.

Another contest closed with Jewel Peeler the winner. Each member took a gift at the beginning of the contest. If you lost weight and weren't absent more than one time, you could stay in the contest. The one who lost the most got all the gifts.

Next week, the group will start a new contest.

The members reported progress of their "Challenge Pal."

Mrs. Radford received a gift for losing following the week that she was the best loser. Orvdie Burris received a birthday gift from the chapter and Alma Robertson received an anniversary gift from her secret cases where the agent, representing a company that I never heard of, had pressured certain individuals to buy the coverage, getting them to pay a year's premium in advance, and then virtually disappear. They never issued the policy, nor did they return the money, until forced to do so by the State Board of Insurance.

Two ladies, for example, paid nearly $1,200 each for a year's coverage, but as stated, heard nothing more from the agent. We reported it to the State Board of Insurance, and they ordered the company to refund the premium. But the company had the use of their money for several months. And during that time, the ladies had no coverage. The State Board of Insurance is very cooperative; they want to help, and any irregularities that you know of should be reported to them without delay.

You can do so by writing: State Board of Insurance, 1110 San Jacinto, Austin, TX 78710-1998. Phone: 512/463--6169.

People should remember that, with few exceptions, the companies underwrite the health condition of the applicant, so even though payment is made, there is no coverage until the policy is issued, and there is no assurance that it will be issued. There are therefore a number of precautions that people should take regarding unsolicited calls about insurance, investments, or other matters:

1. Never buy insurance on the first call, but give yourself time to think about it.

2. Demand that the agent furnish you with a complete documentation of what the Muleshoe ISD offers vocational programs in Vocational Agriculture, Consumer and Gainful Homemaking, Industrial Education, and Distributive Education. Admission to these programs is based on enrollment in appropriate grade level in Muleshoe High School.

It is the policy of Muleshoe ISD not to discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, or handicap in its vocational programs, services, or activities as required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended.

Muleshoe ISD will take steps to assure that lack of English language skills will not be a barrier to admission and participation in all educational and vocational programs.

policy will do and what it will not do. It will do what it says, and that's all it will do, any statement to the contrary not withstanding. If you have questions, get them answered before you part with your moeny.

3. Never buy from an agent until you have determined his credibility and the credibility of the company he represents.

4. Never make a check payable to the agent; always make it payable to the company.

5. Do not pay more than one month's premium at the time of the initial purchase. Pay on a monthly basis until you have determined whether or not you want to continue. At that point, you can pay on the long term if you so desire.

6. Do not allow an agent to twist off coverage that you now have. That is, don't let him cancel your present policy on the promise that he will write you a better one.

7. Do business with people you know, people that are dependable and that will be available when you need ser-

Those "official looking" mailouts you receive that speak of policies that pay should be immediately thrown in the wastepaper basket. DO NOT ANSWER ANY OF THEM. That is simply a process for building mailing lists. If you answer one, they sell your name to insurance companies for $20 to $30, and you start getting telephone calls.

So I would not respond to the mail, and I would not respond to the calls. That way you will not get hurt.

When you need insurance coverage, do as you would if you were buying groceries -- go to a reliable agent, and he will sell you what you need. We have good agents in Muleshoe, who represent good companies, and can serve your needs. Why not see them?

He also questioned why an EMT director was paid a salary of $21,600 per year, and budgeted for a paramedic director is only $18,000. He said he wasn't downgrading the director who made the larger salary, adding, "she earned every penny of it."

He did say he could live with the smaller amount if necessary. Under the new regulations, he is scheduled to work 104 hours per week as paramedic-director.

School Buses Start Routes Comorrow

Tom Alvis, assistant superintendent, would like to caution everyone relative to safety measures to protect children riding school buses and also children walking to school.

All drivers of school buses have completed a 20 hour refresher course taught by David Gray, a high school instructor, therefore the drivers are certified by the Texas Education

In general these are the laws that should be obeyed to assure protection of all students:

1. Obey speed limits, especially in the school zones - the limit is 15 miles per hour.

2. Drivers stop completely for unloading students when flashing red lights on the bus are in operation.

3. Watch out for small children on their way to and from school.

4. Make complete stops, especially where crosswalks are 5. Drive as if your child were a pedestrian or a school bus rider. 6. Parents should have their children at the assigned pick-up points on time or a little ahead supervise your children at loading or unloading zones and at your pick-up or drop-off points. Please don't let these children cross a highway by themselves.

8. Please do not park in loading zones at Dillman Elementary, Mary DeShazo Elementary, High School, and Watson Junior High Schools. Traffic would flow smoother if parents would load and unload students on the north side of Watson Junior High. This would eliminate the congestion.

9. Drive as if YOUR child's life depended on it -- it does!! The Muleshoe School District operates 14 buses and covers 1100 miles in the area each day. This is a big operation and every measure has been taken to have maximum security, but the cooperation of everyone is needed to provide safer transportation of school children.

Sheriff Jerry Hicks noted that no increase was shown for fuel for the sheriff's office cars. With fuel increasing, we need an additional $1,500-2,000 per year, he said. Also, he said the office would need a budget of amendment of $300-$500 just to finish the current year, which has just over a month to go.

He also requested an addititional $300 for deputies, to pay a female reserve deputy for transporting female prisoners and female mental patients.

Also, a new patrol car had been deleted from the budget for the sheriff's office. Sheriff Hicks reminded that one of the patrol cars would have at least 100,000 miles on it if they had to wait for another year to trade.

The sheriff also said he needed the jail relief fund to be raised from the budgeted $6,800 for the new year to the same it was last year, $9,180.

He noted that the funds for meals for prisoners was cut

Budget, Tax Rate On School Board Meeting Agenda

Members of the Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District will again meet in back-to-back sessions Monday, August 27.

The first meeting will be a budget hearing at 7 p.m., followed by a regular meeting of the board at 7:30 p.m.

Items under business include to discuss local policy EA to establish a district wide Educational Improvement Council; discuss junior high school building plan and take appropriate action; hear update on Strategic Planning; and adopt 1990-91 school budget.

Informational reports will be given and the board will meet in executive session on personnel considerations.

from $15,500 to $12,500. We need the increase put back to $15,500, noting, "We still have to feed the prisoners, you know."

County Clerk Barbara Mc-Camish asked for funding for her office to include going back to microfilming county records, as the present system used is not adequate. Some of the records are already "chipping off" said the county clerk, and they are having to fill them in by hand. "If we should have to take any of our records into court, they will say we altered the records," said Mrs. Mc-

She estimated it would cost some $6,200 per year to have the records microfilmed.

She also asked for her travel fund to increase from $925 to $1,200, the same amount that is allocated for other offices, and what she had budgeted for last

Judge Watson referred numerous times to the county 'reserve fund' and how the commissioners did not want to 'dip into' the reserve fund that is nearly $1 million.

He also did not want a tax increase. The county tax rate has not been increased since it was lowered in 1985, and is at $.36.05. Judge Watson said he wanted to keep the tax rate the same, saying the county had lost some valuation, which will cost around $2,000 in taxes per year, and predicted that population would be lost in the county.

Other department hearings were continuing in mid-afternoon on Friday.

Commissioners were expected to consider the additional budget requests for equipment or replacement of funding before a final budget was approved.

Veterans Land Board Takes Step Toward Making Dreams Come True grandchildren.

The Texas Veterans Land Board (VLB), chaired by Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, took another major step today toward helping make dreams come true for thousands of Texas children.

today from the Texas Bond Review Board to sell an additional $5 million in college education bonds.

This marks the second time within the past year that the VLB has initiated such a program. The VLB is responsible for the first program of this kind in the state. Last fall, investors bought out the entire issue of $4 million worth of bonds within 45 days.

"These bonds proved so popular that we decided a second issue was a must, particularly in light of the fact that in 18 years estimates for a college education range between $88,000 and $187,000," Mauro

He noted that although the bonds are available to anyone interested, the VLB is especially encouraging Texas Veterans to buy them for their children and

Money from the sale of the bonds will help finance the Veterans Land Program, which provides low-interest loans to veterans for the purchase of

Because the bonds are sold as capital appreciation bonds, many middle income consumers wanting to invest in their children's and grandchildren's college educations find them particularly attractive. With capital appreciation bonds, the difference between the bond's purchase price and the maturity value is exempt from federal taxes. For example, a person might spend $250 for a $1,000 bond which matures in 20 years.

$750 difference would be tax exempt.

"Basically the yield on the security was as high as I could get at the time with the tax benefit," said Gary Bounds, as Austin CPA who purchased bonds for his daughter. "The bonds are secured by the state of Texas and it goes for a good cause--Texas veterans."

The bonds are expected to be offered at investment prices ranging from about $250 to $400, depending on the maturity date and interest rates. The bonds will mature at $1,000 in periods between 15 and 20 years. The interest rate will be determined by market conditions at the time of the sale, which is expected in mid September.

Under the program an individual can purchase up to $10,000 in college savings bonds without endangering a student's elegibility for financial assistance such as loans and scholarships provided by the state.

For more information on the bond sale or the Texas Veterans Land Board Programs, call toll-free 1-800-252-VETS. Individuals interested in purchasing college savings bonds should contact their broker of Dean Witter Reynolds Inc. at 1-800-366-9194.

AUSTIN - Top candidates on the Democrat ticket called for annual state budgets and sessions of the Legislature, while too Republicans called for an oil moort fee to stabilize the Texas gonomy and a better oil spill response plan here.

Scattered amidst the token dismustion of issues were the usual acmearions and barbs which have so far marked this campaign season.

Speaking for the Democrats, mbernatorial candidate Ann Richards proposed annual budgets over the current two-year budget whedule because of the difficulties of planning ahead.

Her Republican opponent, Clayon Williams, said annual budgers would only translate into more bureaucracy and more bureaucrats", but he might support Democrat Bob Builock's proposai for a one-time, one-year budget to ger a grip on state finances.

Bullock proposed writing a oneyear budget next year along with performance audits and reviews of the tax system in order to minimize an expected tax increase.

His proposal, endorsed by House Speaker Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth. would need a special session later to write the second year budget.

Bullock, Mosbacher

Bullock's opponent in the lieuenant governor race, Robert Mostacher, supported annual budgets written in sessions limited only to finances, but criticized Bullock for grandstanding.

"If Bullock were serious about reform, you'd think he would lave done something in the 30 wars he's been in Austin." his ampaign spokesman jibed.

Meanwhile, Bullock did someting that no one else has done in a ing time: return campaign confributions to two powerful law firms which play both horses in a cam-

President Reagan will campaign for him this fall.

Campaign Barbs

Richards continued to paint Williams as the "junk bond" king of Texas and predicted he would be "dictator" over state government.

Democrat National Chairman Ron Brown of Massachusetts predicted Richards will overtake Williams because of his "19th Century views".

Last month, Brown painted Williams as racist, anti-feminist, and anti-semetic, a charge which flared Williams supporters.

This time, Williams said simply that Democrats in Texas and Washington, D.C. are abandoning that party's "sinking ship."

Williams called on Richards to resign her post as state treasurer, and distributed her 1982 campaign statements quoting her saying, "For me (Richards) it's a personal choice - you have to resign from your office to run for another one. You can't do any credit to either one of them if you don't."

Other Highlights. Texas Attorney Gen. Jim Mattox said he would review the assassination files of President John F. Kennedy after the bizarre claim of a Midland man that Any trade agreement (with Rushis father, an ex-policeman, was sia) we sign will be an agreepart of a three-man hit team and ment that's good for the Amerifired two shots which killed the can farmer."

 Mattox also asked for an audit of the state's contract with National Heritage Insurance Co., which cut off Medicaid payments because state welfare agency funds ran out. He offered his fraud probe team to do the audit.

■ The brother of late Texas Racing Commission director David Joost, found shot to death with his wife and children last March, said he disagrees with the initial murder-suicide ruling and believes his brother was killed because he learned something about the racing industry.

Last week, a Hays County justice of the peace tried to undo her initial ruling by calling for an inquest, but gave up because of a blocking AG opinion.

In an unusual statement, JP Orlena Hehl said, "Somebody somewhere doesn't want it (the truth) to come out. I don't know who it is."

■ U.S. Senate candidate Hugh Parmer dropped his request that the Public Utility Commission act against Southwestern Bell after the phone company agreed to use his loss of $2.4 billion dollars in federal funds per year, will be 900 number to bill contributions for his campaign against GOP incumbent Phil Gramm.

 A recent Gallup poll indicates 77 percent of Texans favor drug testing at the workplace and 25 percent responded that they have seen co-workers use illegal He also announced former drugs on the job. The poll was commissioned by the Institute for a Drug Free Workplace.

 Bill Kenyon, a campaign strategist for Clayton Williams, was hospitalized last week in Austin after suffering a heart

 Chuck McDonald, former editor of the Graham Leader, a semi-weekly in West Texas, has joined the Richards campaign staff as a press spokesman. He will coordinate all press relations with rural and suburban publications.

 James Crouch, a retired Air Force brigadier general, was appointed executive director of the Public Utility Commission, a position which pays $61,500 to oversee 200 employees and a $9 million budget.

· Former state Rep. Ben Reyes, now a Houston city councilman, owes more than $2.7 million according to records in his bankruptcy case.

• The state hired Ben Nix and Associates of Arlington to probe allegations of racism and sexism against the Capitol police chief.

One of the definitions for a net is a trap or a snare. A net is used to catch a fish. There are times in every man's life when, like Job, he feels that God has trapped him in a net. Job 19:6 reads, "Know now that God hath overthrown me, and hath compassed me with his net."

But our troubles and afflictions are never caused by our God. Moreover, His Word says He is ever faithfut to deliver His people. The Psalmist asserts: "Mine eyes are ever toward the Lord; for he shall pluck my feet out of the net."

How wonderful are His promises. These promises are proclaimed from the pulpit by your pastor each week for the blessing and edifying of God's people. Won't you attend church this week and partake of this blessing?

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Texas Business Men Conference Back By Demand

"I am overwhelmed by the response," Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers of the Texas Employment Commission said today in announcing the fall schedule of Texas Business Council meetings. "Fifteen state agencies have agreed to participate in the conference designed to assist business men and women. This will be the most versatile program ever offered to Texas Taxpayers," Nabers said.

According to Commissioner Nabers, there has never been a joint effort of this magnitude by state government. Conferences will be held throughout the state and taxpayers can receive all types of assistants from agency experts and government officials. "The objective is to provide information on new laws and state regulatory procedures while attempting to show taxpayers how to save money, time and frustration in dealing with government. State officials will be on hand throughout the day to talk to business men and women in an effort to help them be more successful," Nabers

"When business prospers, there are more jobs and a better standard of living for everyone" said Price Arredondo of the Department of Commerce. "Some of the programs we will be explaining have the potential to save employers thousands of dollars in the coming year," according to John Baker of the Private Industry Council.

Participating in this season's statewide tour will be the Texas Employment Commission, Texas Association of Private Industry Councils, Texas Rehabilitation Commission, Worker's Compensation Commission, Comptroller of Public Accounts, State Board of Insurance, State Purchasing and General Services Commission, Texas General Land Office, Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation, Texas Department of Commerce, Texas Department of Agriculture, Governor's Committee for Disabled Persons, and the Texas State Technical Institute System. Businesses desiring to have representatives attend the conference should make registration arrangements early because capacity crowds are expected according to Joanne Brown, Conference Coordinator. Invitation/registration forms will be mailed to area employers prior to meeting dates. Although registration cannot be accepted by telephone, further information is available at 1-800-TEC-MARY.

Beautiful Country family home. Room for

Grandparent's Day -How It All Started

Marian McQuade, the Oak Hill, West Virginia woman who almost singlehandedly inspired the creation of National Grandparents Day, remembered her own grandmother this way:

"She looked just like Granny Clampett-the same size, dressed the same way, everything the same. She worked all day on her farm, milking cows, feeding chickens, fixing breakfast, doing the washing by hand.

"Then she'd put on a clean apron, or turn her apron around, and we'd take a glass of jelly and go see somebody who was sick a couple of miles down the road. She always had time to do that. That's the main thing I remember about her."

It was just such memories that drove McQuade, a mother of 15, to work with the elderly in nursing homes and to be a delegate to the White House Conference on Aging, as well as serving on a variety of state foundations and commissions for the elderly.

Through her work with the elderly, McQuade conceived the idea of setting aside a special day for honoring people like her grandmother.

"I worked in nursing homes for so long, and it seemed there was so much loneliness," Mc-Quade said. "Grandparents Day provides the opportunity for such a wonderful reunion to keep families together and give youngsters a sense of curiosity about their roots."

McQuade's crusade to have a special day declared nationally began in 1973, when she started writing letters to the governors of all 50 states, as well as many other national elected officials. At the time, she had five children still at home, and they did all the envelope-stuffing. Her husband, Joe, financed the project.

Former West Virginia Governor Arch Moore declared a state Grandparents Day soon after receiving McQuade's letter, as did many other governors.

"Nearly every one of them sent a beautifully worded proclamation," McQuade said.

That same year, U.S. Senator Jennings Randolph of West Virginia introduced a bill in the Senate to establish a National Grandparents Day. The bill failed to pass the House, though.

The undaunted McQuade made repeated trips to Washington, D.C. and elsewhere to lobby in support of a National Grandparents Day. At the 1976 Republican National Convention, she made a personal appeal to President Gerald Ford, to whom she had written earlier.

Ford's reply was, "Well, since you asked me twice, I'll just have to do it."

But Ford was defeated in the 1976 presidential elections, so it was back to Congress for Marian McQuade. This time, she was joined in her efforts by Atlanta businessman Michael Goldgar. By 1978, the pair had sold congress on their idea.

The lawmakers passed a bill, which was signed by President Jimmy Carter, declaring the first Sunday after Labor Day as National Grandparents Day.

"When I started out, I was thinking about May, springtime," said McQuade. "But there are already so many holidays in May, and then weddings and graduations."

As she considered other possible dates, McQuade said the idea of the September date began to appeal more and more to her.
