EYES OF PLAINS ON BIG GAME

NO FLASH IN PAN

Roger Babson

Business is definitely on the way back, and the upswing for recovery just ahead is no flash in the pan, says Roger Babson, one of the nation's foremost economists, whose accompanying article sounds a note of real optimism for the country in the months coming up this fall winter and spring. Mr. Babson's business analyses will appear regularly in The Pampa News every Friday.

Mexico Begins Drive To Regain Her Oil Markets

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Mexican government today began a drive to regain world oil markets and predicted an Italian order was the first of "large sales in that country and its colonies."

Azienda Generale Italiana Petroli of Rome contracted to buy several million dollars worth of oil, the government announced. The agreement was signed last week in Rome. Representatives were named to promote sales also in the United States and Brazil. The delivery also was announced of the first 500 tons of quantity of asphalt purchased by Costa Rica.

Oil has pressed the capacity of storage tanks since Mexico expropriated 17 American and British oil properties on March 18 in the interests of a program of socialization.

The oil companies controlled sea-going tankers and refused to transport oil from the expropriated wells for which Mexico has not yet paid and over which litigation still is in progress.

President Cardenas at first said Mexico would sell oil only to the democratic nations, but later asserted refusal by the democracies to buy would force the nation to seek other markets.

A small quantity was sold to Japan which paid with beans. A New York oil man, W. R. Davis, was reported to have agreed to peddle 10,000,000 barrels in the United States and Europe, partly for cash and partly for credits in Germany.

Shamrock Will Get Highway Station

AUSTIN, Oct. 28 (AP)—Highway engineers said today the Highway Commission had appropriated $9,990 for operation through the winter of courtesy and information stations at Texasana, Wichita Falls, Shamrock, El Paso and Laredo.

The commission also reassigned G. G. Wickling as engineer for the department, effective Nov. 1. Wickling has been supervising engineer on the Fort Arthur-Orange bridge which is completed except for painting. He will replace Herbert Eldridge who has been acting bridge engineer in Wickling's absence. Eldridge will resume his former duties as special resident bridge engineer.

That John Hesse hasn't been seen much since last Friday night. At least a dozen malted milk drinkers are looking for him. Young Siler Faulkner remarking that Cliff "Bring-Em-Back" Brady bows like he referees football. Ruey Morgan, the only man besides the coaches who sits on the Harvester bench at games, said this corner could quote him as saying that he is "optimistic" about the game.

American Business Ready For New Boom, Says Babson; Expert Sees No Doubt About Recovery

BABSON PARK, Mass., Oct. 28.—Business in the United States is surging ahead. There is no longer any doubt about the present recovery. Furthermore, this upswing is no mere flash in the pan. We are in the midst of a real forward drive that should exceed the 1937 highs in many lines. This is the most optimistic report I have been able to give readers in a long time!

Since my return from Europe, I have carefully been checking up on what has been going on here while I was away. I find that general business in the United States has increased five per cent since I sailed in mid-September. Moreover, industry and trade have skyrocketed 17 per cent above the June low. We are now in the sharpest advance since the spring of 1933. By Christmas, business will probably have recovered two-thirds of its recession losses.

Franco-Russian Break May Follow Daladier's Action

MARSEILLE, Oct. 28 (AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier completed his break with the Communist party today and warned Parliament that if it failed to approve reforms the government contemplates he would carry the issue direct to the voters.

At his request, the committee on general policy of his Radical Socialist party approved a resolution, to be submitted to the party congress here Saturday, saying the Communist party "has excluded itself" from the people's front of Radical Socialists, Socialists and Communists.

In Paris, meanwhile, a foreign office spokesman disclosed that France and Germany were considering a declaration renouncing war between them, similar to the agreement signed by Adolf Hitler and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain at Munich.

Political observers said the leading of Daladier's party had split over his violent attack on Communists in his keynote address.

These observers declared that although the convention shouted and cheered for the premier, a strong group of party leaders, including members of his cabinet, not only were surprised but disturbed at the bitterness with which Daladier changed the direction of the party's political front.

Among this group were mentioned such cabinet ministers as Naval Minister Cesar Campinchi, Minister of Education Jean Zay and Minister of Interior Albert Sarraut, besides Edouard Herriot, president of the Chamber of Deputies.

Radical Socialist deputies were faced with the cold political fact that 86 per cent of them owe their seats in the chamber to hundreds of thousands of Communist and Socialist votes.

Many observers viewed the attack on Communism as an attack on Russia which might foreshadow a definite rupture with France's Soviet ally.

German Air Force Described As Best

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Daniel W. Tomlinson of Kansas City, assistant vice president of Transcontinental and Western Airlines, said today Germany would have had complete control of the air within two weeks had war resulted from the Czechoslovakian crisis.

"The United States is definitely inferior to Germany in the number and performance of military airplanes, while I should say individual fliers are about on a par. The German factories are organized on a scale beyond anything even considered in the United States."

"The German air force is without equal in the world," Tomlinson said, "in respect to the number and performance of aircraft. It is important to mention that their manufacturing facilities could easily produce 3,000 to 5,000 planes a month."

"The United States is definitely inferior to Germany in the number and performance of military airplanes, while I should say individual fliers are about on a par. The German factories are organized on a scale beyond anything even considered in the United States."

"I hope there are men in Pampa who will visit Mr. Roberts in his office in the city hall and volunteer to take over the troops and to assist with other troops."

"Every week we, the men of Pampa, are giving many more times the amount necessary to conduct a Boy Scout campaign in much lesser endeavors."

Raining Good News

Last week business men from all over the country held a conference here in Babson Park. The question was asked of me: "What particular factor in the outlook, Mr. Babson, makes you so optimistic?" My reply was: "The exploding, all at once, of so much cheerful news in all industries is the reason why I am so bullish today. No matter to what major industrial or financial barometer you turn, it is pointing upward."

Let's glance at a few of the significant items from the business front: 1. Prices of industrial raw materials are being kept at attractive levels. For years, economists have urged business men to keep down prices in the early stages of recovery. This induces greater demand for goods, provides more jobs, and speeds up the wheels of all industry. It is being done now. For instance, steel companies, in holding down prices, are giving recovery added impetus in many lines.

2. The new armament program outlined ten days ago will mean, of course, a new high figure for American expenditures on defense. Readers may get some idea of what this sum to be spent on armaments means when I tell them that the armament industry next year may reach a third the size of the building industry—one of our five biggest businesses.

3. The failure of President Roosevelt's "purge" means that the voters are beginning to think again. Coming on top of the defeat of the Supreme Court bill, the purge fiasco is giving business men new hope. It has shown President Roosevelt that he must run the New Deal on a more friendly basis to American industry.

4. Prospects for peace in the utility industry are bright at the moment. This industry has before it deferred repair and expansion needs amounting to $3,000,000,000. Now, with a better feeling between the utilities and Washington, I expect to see a start made on this huge building program. Furthermore, I hope this power peace will mark the end

SHOCKS COURT

When a Yankee feels like "gabbing" with the King of England, he just does it. So when Robert J. Watt, above, American labor delegate attending a royal audience in Buckingham Palace, strolled up to King George VI and, hands in pockets, engaged Britain's ruler in conversation he couldn't see why etiquette-bound courtiers gaped in dismay. Watt, who is Secretary of the Massachusetts State Federation for Labor, said he and the King "just gabbed." Later, he chatted with Queen Elizabeth and reported "that she is a most beautiful and intelligent woman."

2,000 Attend Carnival On Opening Night

With 2,000 persons attending, many from McLean and Miami as well as from Pampa, members of the Pampa Lions club today were gratified with the response given to the carnival on its opening Thursday night.

The carnival is to be held in a tent pitched on the Santa Fe right of way on West Atchison street. Proceeds of the carnival, which will continue through Saturday night, go into the Lions club fund for underprivileged children.

Bingo and the hamburger, hot dog, drinks, and confection stands were the biggest attractions at the carnival opening. The bingo table is located in the center of the tent, and directed by John Hesse, while Roy Bourland is in charge of the "eats" stand.

Tonight the carnival will open at the same time with free entertainment to follow a half hour later. Entertainment is provided by the committee headed by Ken Bennett and John Sturgeon.

Fiddle music had the thousands of visitors stepping merrily yesterday. Nearly a hundred fiddlers participated in a contest in which Oscar Harper of Dallas took first prize.

German Consul Heckled And Booed At Norman

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 28 (AP)—A German consul's explanation of Adolf Hitler's middle European policy brought a storm of heckling from Jewish students, anti-Nazis and their sympathizers at a University of Oklahoma forum last night.

"Twice Prof. Royden J. Dangerfield, program chairman, tried to adjourn the meeting and end the tumult, but the audience continued to fire questions at the speaker, Dr. Herbert Dietl, German consul at St. Louis, who appeared willing to answer them.

Small Animal Circus Will Be Presented

Ponies, Dogs, Bear, Birds, Monkeys Will Appear In Show

A miniature circus will be the show presented on the night of November 22 in the city hall auditorium, under the sponsorship of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce. The show is Bible's Animal circus and will include three ponies, four monkeys, five Eskimo dogs, a bear and performing birds.

Acts include the King Lear pony troupe in military drills, pedestal formations, jumps, and Cate, the pony with the human mind; trick and fancy riding with monkey and dog jockies, monkey walk-walkers; a bear in a variety of tricks and a comedy feeding stunt; the Red, White and Blue canine revue; with Eskimo dogs in 20 acrobatic acts.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Bible are the owners of the circus, which is a complete one ring animal show that can be shown in any auditorium with a stage that will carry an 18 foot ring. The show was presented by the Goodrich Tire company to its employees and families last Christmas at Akron, Ohio, and the Bible circus was also chosen by the Tavern club of Chicago for its annual children's party.

Use of the city hall auditorium for the show was asked by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce of the city commission at the group's meeting Tuesday night. The question was referred to the city manager, who Thursday afternoon gave permission for its use by the Jaycees.

Proceeds of the animal circus will be used by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce for their Top O'-Texas Fiesta fund.

Executives Honored At Oil Convention

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Charles F. Roesser of Fort Worth, who played quarterback on the same football team with Alf Landon, and Gen. Walter Pyron of Houston, a major oil company executive who started work in the industry as a roughneck, were given distinguished service awards today by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Gen. Pyron, vice president of the Gulf Oil Corporation, chosen by Texas independent oil men as the most outstanding major oil company executive in Texas, was presented with a handsome clock by J. C. Hunter of Abilene, a vice president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Roesser, vice president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, was awarded a clock by Harry C. Wiess, president of the Humble Oil and Refining Company of Houston.

Gen. Pyron was transferred to Texas from California a few years ago. He served as vice president of the Gulf Oil Corporation of California for several years but maintained his rank in the Texas National Guard and served as a colonel in East Texas when martial law was declared to enforce state prororation in the oil industry.

Baylor School Of Medicine In Need Of Funds Quickly

DALLAS, Oct. 28 (AP)—The board of trustees of the Baylor University medical college in Dallas studied a report today from Dr. Justin F. Kimball, executive vice president of the university, in which he warned that lack of funds might bring a class B rating, or possible abandonment of the medical unit.

The trustees in Dallas discussed the report yesterday, but took no official action, Early B. Smyth, vice president of the board, said.

Another member, who would not allow his name to be used, said the group was at least individually agreed to ask the Baptist General convention here Nov. 6-11 for aid.

U. S. Child Killed In Jap Air Attack

HANKOW, Oct. 28 (AP)—An American child was killed and her mother and sister wounded in a Japanese air attack Oct. 24 on a Lutheran Brethren mission, belated reports were discovered today.

Phoebé Olive Nyhus, 3, was killed and her sister, Ruth, 8, and her mother were wounded, the report said, when Japanese planes destroyed the mission at Tumpel, in southern Honan province, despite American flags marking the building.

The report came from the father, Arthur Nyhus of Fertile, Iowa, the only member of the family unscathed in the bombardment.

Secretary Perkins Talks At Gainesville College

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 28 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Francis Perkins, advised the student body of the Gainesville Junior college last night, said industrial relations in the U. S. are being put more and more on a stable and practical basis.

She said there were probably in existence today more voluntary contracts between employers and their workers than at any time in the history of the nation.

COACHES ALSO READY FOR AMARILLO

Odus Mitchell

J. C. Prejean

"The boys are ready" was the only statement issued by Harvester Coach: Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean, above, as their coaches tapered off for the invasion of Amarillo Saturday afternoon. Coach Mitchell is in his tenth year as head coach of the Harvesters while Coach Prejean has been here four seasons. Mitchell is a graduate of West Texas State at Canyon and Prejean of University of Texas. The coaches manner seemed more optimistic than usual. The Harvesters have won two decisions from the Sandies in the last eight games, one on the field of play and the second after Amarillo was declared ineligible.

Japan Considers U. S. Demands 'Unsuitable'

By BELMAN MORIN

TOKYO, Oct. 28 (AP)—The newspaper Asahi said today that the Japanese government considered "unsuitable" American insistence on a continued open door to trade in China.

A new situation existed in the far east because of Japanese advances in China, said the large Independent Liberal newspaper. It predicted Japan would seek to induce the United States government to accept this thesis.

"A 3,000-word protest against 'unwarranted interference' with American rights in China, made public in Washington yesterday, was not published here but Asahi, nevertheless, dealt with the subject of the open door policy generally.

The foreign office spokesman said the date of replying to the United States note, presented Oct. 6 by Ambassador Joseph C. Grew, was indefinite but belief grew here that the reply would be soon.

"Japan will no doubt fully respect the powers' rights and interests in the Far East," the note stated.

"That shall not kill."

O'Daniel, here for the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association convention, admitted freely his opposition to the extreme penalty and indicated he may ask the legislature to abolish the electric chair in Texas.

He admitted he had no plans regarding the abolishment of the law in Texas.

"I didn't say anything about capital punishment in my campaign," O'Daniel said here, "but I think the ten commandments fully cover my stand on it."

Girl, 10, Weds Kentucky Miner

PRESTONSBURG, Ky., Oct. 28 (AP)—Rosie Columbus has changed her playthings for a husband. Dr. L. B. Sheppard, Johnson county health officer, said today records in his office showed the girl is 10 years old. She was married Monday to 34-year-old Fleming Tackett, a widowed coal miner.

The marriage license was obtained at the Floyd county courthouse here by the girl's mother, Mrs. Grace Columbus, who gave Rosie's age as fifteen.

The Rev. W. G. Ratliff, employed as a coal mine blacksmith, said he pronounced the marriage vows in a simple Hill county ceremony in front of a newly-constructed log cabin near where the couple will live. Coal-blackened miners looked on silently during the ceremony.

The two-room cabin is located on Abbott creek three miles north of Prestonsburg in an isolated section of rugged Eastern Kentucky mountain country. In it, with Rosie and her "Flem," will live the girl's mother and father, Jim, two younger brothers, an older sister and some in-laws.

Jaos Warn France To Quit Supplying Chinese With Arms

TOKYO, Oct. 28 (AP)—A foreign office statement today said Premier Prince Konohe had warned France that Japan "might be compelled to take massin action" if the French continue to supply China with arms.

It was believed this meant possible Japanese occupation of Hainan island, just off the South China coast, one of the points of the French sphere of influence and a strategic dagger aimed at the heart of the vast French oriental possessions.

Tokyo said today the Japanese ambassador to Paris, presented in Pamp, and the statement today said, Premier Konohe told French Ambassador Charles Arsene Henry that Japan was "gravely concerned with a possible development in the situation."

Dies Probers Will Question Californians

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Two members of the House Committee investigating un-Americanism will go to California in mid-November to question 150 witnesses about Communist activities in the state. Chairman Dies, Democrat, Texas, making the announcement before today's hearing, said the subcommittee probably would consist of Representatives Starnes, Democrat, Ala., and Mosler, Democrat, Ohio. The committee already has heard considerable testimony about Communism in California. Harper Knowles, a Legionnaire, testified Wednesday that three Democratic candidates in the state had Communist sympathies—an assertion which brought several denials. Henry G. Watters, California commander of the American Legion, disclaimed responsibility for Knowles' testimony in a statement at San Francisco last night. Watters said Knowles might even have listed the Legion among organizations having radicals on its rolls. "I realize," he added, "that it probably would be impossible for any organization to be able to boast of the fact that they were entirely free of radical members."

President Roosevelt's criticism of the committee and the reply of Chairman Dies still were producing repercussions. One of the witnesses—John M. Barringer, former Florida City manager—wrote the President last night: "It is regrettable that you did not concern yourself with the one-sided, un-American manner in which the LaFollette (civil liberties) Committee conducted its hearings." Secretary Perkins, stopping last night at Galveston, Texas, denied Dies' comment that cabinet members had ridiculed the committee. negw.

Punishment Subject Of Lesson-Sermon

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 30.

The Golden Text is: "Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, the Lord shall be a light unto me" (Micah 7:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "This shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel: After those days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people" (Jeremiah 31:33). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Thru generation, mortals put off their repentance, spiritual baptism, and regeneration; mortals put off their material beliefs and false individuality. It is only a question of time when 'they shall know Me (God), from the least of them unto the greatest'" (page 242).

Correct Eating As Important As Heredity In Resisting Disease

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 28 (AP)—A Rockefeller Foundation scientist declared today that correct eating is as important as heredity in the ability of a person to resist disease. Many persons have a natural resistance to infection acquired from their parents, Dr. Charles F. Church, director of the Foundation's nutrition fund declare, while others succumb readily to tuberculosis, colds, measles, diphtheria, pneumonia, and a host of other diseases.

It is becoming apparent, however, that the right diet for both mother and child is just as important, if not more so, than the factor of heredity in building up disease resistance, Dr. Church, who is also a children's specialist at the University of Pennsylvania medical school, told the American Public Health Association.

In a series of experiments on mice infected with the bacteria salmonella enteritidis, which causes food poisoning, it was found that an optimum diet would protect both the mother mouse and her children to a high degree, even to the third and fourth generations if the diet was continued, he reported.

"The protection thus afforded lasted at least until maturity was reached in all the experiments, and progressive improvement took place for at least three generations on the same diet," Dr. Church said, adding that "the influence of diet upon resistance may thus be on a par with the influence of heredity."

The inclusion of mineral salts in the diet is apparently just as important as including vitamins, he added.

Cutting down the amount of vitamins A and D and fat, considered heretofore as the principal factors in disease resistance, did not produce the same results, indicating that the mineral salts are just as important, or more important, than the vitamins, Dr. Church said. Representatives of the organization's 6,000 members agreed without a dissenting vote to give every assistance to federal and state authorities and the American Medical Association in putting into effect a medical plan which will eventually call for the expenditure of $850,000.00 in tax funds, half of which would be provided by the federal government and the other half by state and local governments.

Army Experts Claim New Pursuit Ship Is Now Fastest In World

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—A six-mile-a-minute war plane is the army's immediate answer to European rivalry for speed supremacy in the air.

A 360-mile flight in 61 minutes from Dayton, Ohio, to Buffalo, N. Y., yesterday by Lieut. Benjamin S. Kelsey lifted the wraps from a pursuit ship about which the air corps previously had little to say. The plane, the Curtiss P-37, already has passed the experimental stage. An initial squadron of 13 ordered last December soon will be delivered, officials said.

Without halting to gloat over the P-37, the army intends to announce in a few days another and presumably even faster plane. Designated the P-40, it is an experimental job and most details will not be disclosed for the present.

Both Germany and Great Britain have combat plans for which they have boasted even greater speed than that attained by the P-37. But the air corps has a ready answer.

Lieut. Kelsey's flight and earlier trials, which were kept secret, were made with full military equipment. Germany claimed some 380 miles an hour for its Messerschmitt, but reports here are that it was stripped for racing. Although Britain's Spitfire exceeded 400 miles an hour, it was aided by a 75-mile tailwind. American officials contended.

Officials took particular satisfaction in the performance of the American plane because high powered bombers, both here and abroad, have been threatening to outspeed the pursuit ships, whose primary function is to intercept the bombers. The army also has ordered a squadron of fighting planes of another type, the Bell "Airacuda," which has two motors, propellers in the rear, six guns, including two aircraft cannon and a crew of five. Its speed has not been announced but the war department said it was believed sufficient to overhaul and vanquish any modern bomber now in production.

Why Recovery Lags

The Federal Reserve Board reports that there is 40 percent more money in circulation at the present time than in 1929 at the height of the boom; that we have 25 percent more money in bank accounts and 200 percent more gold than we had in the most active financial year in history; that bank deposits are close to the all time high.

Apparently we have plenty of money, but it is not working, for the Reserve Boards adds that the turnover of bank deposits is at the lowest rate on record. It is pretty easy to understand why our money won't go to work when we consider that owners of money—yes, even those of us with a dollar or two in our pockets—hesitate to take a chance. Money will not take a chance in face of threats of more business regimentation by government, mounting government debts and higher taxes. To properly work, money must have confidence.

As the Knoxville (Tova) Journal puts it: "Active business, prosperity and unemployment all await the restoration of confidence in the minds of the people. What is needed is not more experimentation, planned economy, and more new fangled schemes from Professor Balderdash, but a return to American sanity and common sense."

Behind The Scenes In Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—Election of 32 governors, 37 senators and 432 members of the House of Representatives on Nov. 8 may be expected to produce a net Republican gain for the first time since the Hoover landslide of 1928.

Democrats, holding 39 of the 48 governorships, 76 of 96 Senate seats and 328 of the 435 House seats, admittedly are on the defensive, although party control of Congress isn't even remotely threatened and they will keep control of most state capitals. They expect certain losses and are fighting to keep them as few as possible.

The 1940 presidential nominations and election are on many political minds. Recovery of a few large states lost in the last 10 years would boost G. O. P. hopes of a national comeback two years hence. Several candidates in senatorial and gubernatorial contests already are embryo presidential candidates and will be regarded as 1940 "possibilities" if they win. BIG STAKES, BIG NAMES

In some states President Roosevelt and the New Dealers particularly, as well as the Democratic party in general, have much at stake. The list of "doubtful" states this year is a long one, as Republicans see it. Great states such as New York, Pennsylvania, California, Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Kansas and Wisconsin are ringing with the cries of battle and charges and countercharges which increase in vigor—sometimes in viciousness—as election day nears.

Nationally familiar names and political fates of outstanding leaders figure in some of the warmest contests—Bob Wagner, Herbert Lehman, Frank Murphy, Fred Van Nuys, Phil LaFollette, Gerald Rye, George Earle, Elmer Benson and John O'Connor.

Hard-hitting newcomers have popped up on the national scene—among them Tom Dewey, Sheridan Downey, Harold Stassen, Leverett Saltonstall, Clyde Reed and Robert A. Taft. Some of them may be sent back to political oblivion. Others may win and go on to fame. In some states such men have brought new life and more liberalism to the Republican party.

The New Deal is an issue here and there, but not importantly so everywhere. Many Democratic candidates hope to benefit from Roosevelt popularity and their opponents bank on a backswing against parts of the Roosevelt program, if not against the President himself. There is nothing resembling the 1934 rush of Democratic and Republican candidates alike to ride Roosevelt coat-tails. On the other hand, there's no general Republican onslaught against the President and issues vary from state to state.

G. O. P. COUNTS ON NATURAL SWING Primarily Republicans are counting on a natural mid-term swing away from the party in power such as failed to appear in 1934. Further, G. O. P. experts figure:

Although the sharp 1937-38 depression which they once counted on for a major campaign issue appears to have ended and business is improving, a substantial group of voters is impressed with the idea that Roosevelt has no magic wand for maintaining a recovery trend. Especially this is true among farmers, whose resentment against present low prices endangers several Democratic candidates.

Although admitting Roosevelt popularity, G. O. P. candidates learned from the "purge" primary results that political capital can be made by attacking "yes men," "one-man government" trends and such measures as the President's Supreme Court plan and reorganization bill. Most of them are following that line.

They believe the administration has been hurt by John L. Lewis, its 1936 political alliance with him and subsequent prejudice which has arisen against C. I. O. Farmers especially oppose C. I. O. and shrink at the thought of hired hands going on strike. Secretary Hull's trade treaties and their alleged harm is being used by Republicans in some districts.

"Reckless expenditure" as an issue doesn't get much of a rise out of voters. Republicans say, but in several states they are hitting hard at alleged corruption of Democratic machines, WPA scandals and graft, pointing out that the New Deal depends on such machines for election victories.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles "RUSSIA'S GREAT PLAN BOGS DOWN" There has been many conflicting reports about the progress of Russia. I recently read a book by William Baxter, published in August of this year, in which Baxter contended that Russia was making great progress. He used the statistics of J. H. Lewis, statesman, distinguished military leader, envoy and author, to show increase in production of steel ingots and castings in Russia and other countries. The figures indicate that Russia's steel ingots and castings had increased better than three times from 1929 to 1937.

Now, I have just read an article in Barron's Weekly, by an English-born newspaper correspondent who lived for 30 years within, or close to, Russia. This tells quite a different story. The Barron's article points out that there had been a purge in the Chief Department of Statistics in Russia about a year ago. The statistics produced and presented to the government during the last few years have been found unsatisfactory.

As to steel production, the Barron writer contends that the quality is very poor. As an illustration, he says: "Kaganovich, holding the double post of Minister of Heavy Industry and Minister of Railroads, stated in Gudok, his official journal, on August 23 that on the 800-mile Krasnoyarsk railroad track there had been 913 cases of rails breaking during traffic in the first half of 1938."

This English writer points out that there is less grain produced now than there was in the past. He says, "The official statistics—unlike to err on the side of pessimism—show that since 1929 the total of horses in the Soviet Union has been reduced by more than half, to 16,200,000 from 34,637,000; that the Soviet Union has supplied 400,000 tractors but the failure to deliver spare parts, general mishandling and the haphazard distribution of fuel and oil, have produced an indescribable muddle which cannot be corrected by the GPU's system of terrorizing culprits and scapegoats. The result is that to satisfy the bare needs of the people Russia should be an importer, not an exporter of grain this year and for some years to come. Production is less both in area and yield even than it was three years ago, though the population is estimated to have increased by 10,000,000 in this period."

The author says that the total amount of cotton goods produced today is only about half the quantity per head of the population of that produced by pre-war Russian industry in 1913.

Oil Scarc

The contributor has the following to say about oil: "It is certain, that if the Soviet Government adheres to the main lines of its present economic and military structure it will have to import vast quantities of oil—the distribution of which will further strain the inefficient transport system. For the output of oil in Russia in the near future cannot cope with the needs of mechanized agriculture and the mechanized army. The mistake of making both dependent on oil fuel in advance of adequate supplies must already be gravely disquieting to the more sober brains among Soviet leaders, for, in case of war, the fighting forces must quickly run short of fuel; or agriculture, which is already limping badly, be reduced to crippledness, crying out for the 17,000,000 horses so rashly destroyed during the first delirium of collectivization and mechanization."

Judging from this writer, the conditions in Russia have not improved as many other writers have claimed. It is extremely difficult to get the facts, but Mr. R. O. G. Urch, the contributor to Barron's who lived in Russia, should be fairly authentic.

"IT WOULD BE TOO BAD"

Elmer F. Andrews, Wage and Hour Administrator, in an interview is quoted as saying that "if they should make a mistake, it would be too bad." This is referring to whether an employer is covered by the new so-called fair labor standards act that goes into effect October 24. When the Administrator makes a statement like this, it sounds as if we were in Russia rather than in the United States.

Administrator Andrews will not tell in advance whether an employer is covered by the law or not and the employer is to guess. It sounds as if Hugh Johnson were again cracking down on employers. We are drifting more and more to the totalitarian and we have lost so much of our liberty that we do not even recognize any more what liberty means.

The Nation's Press

DEVELOPING "NORMAL YOUTH" (Hartford Courant) Harvard university is undertaking a study of "the forces that have produced normal young men." "Normal youth" in this case are those who enjoy that combination of sentiments and physiological factors that in toto make for a successful living. Reversing the established practice of attempting to cure illness after it has occurred, the university will try to determine through a study of constitution, heredity, family, and general environment "how people keep well and do well." Thus if the information it obtains is complete and substantial, it might conceivably be useful in the guidance of individuals to a successful life.

How "normal" are Harvard graduates? Two years ago Mr. John Tunis managed to assemble data on his class when it celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of its graduation, and his article in Scribner's indicated that his class was "normal," only in its lack of distinction. They had developed into a satisfactory, but by no means impressive group of citizens, had these graduates of 1911. Could they be rated as "successful"? Or to use what should be a synonym for success, were they happy? Mr. Tunis' answer was "no." If happiness is active exercise of man's powers along the line of excellence. Mr. Tunis seemed to believe that perhaps it was expecting too much of American education to ask it to make scholars of dullards, to produce statesmen, artists and leaders from a set of average humans. This may indeed be calling for miracles, but certainly it is not too much to ask education to try to help as many youths as possible to a "normal" satisfactory life.

Brilliant educational opportunities for the five-year-old selected to play the Junior Tarzan in the jungle epics will have personal instruction from Johnny Weissmuller. Papa's pedagogical vocabulary will be limited as usual to grunts and the well-known yell.

Herbert Hoover, Alf Landon and National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton have been emitting the chief national Republican campaign blasts. Democratic Chairman Jim Farley and other cabinet members have been joining off for the Democrats. The campaign speech of the year presumably will be a radio address by Roosevelt the night of Nov. 4, when the President speaks "as a citizen of New York" while the nation listens in.

One state election has been held, Maine, in September, elected a Republican governor and three Republican congressmen. Teachers schemes are issues in some states—espoused by Republicans, Democrats or both. And any candidate favored by C. I. O. or Labor's Non-Partisan League is likely to be dubbed "Communist" by his opponent.

SOUTH FOR THE WINTER

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—If it surprised you, Joan Crawford fans that she actually sought to play in something called "Ice Follies," the explanation is simple; The role gives the girl a chance to sing; and "Ice Follies," despite its name, is a very good script.

It was a good script when it was filmed before, and it should be good still. It's the stage play, "Excess Baggage," made in the silents with William Haines and Josephine Dunn, and a darn good movie it was. All about a vaudeville trouper whose wife wasn't helping much with the act, and was being "carried along" in kindness until the tables turned. Then the trouper's wife became the real star and the husband became the superfluous freight. They've adapted the story to ice—and Joan's the girl whose singing doesn't click in an ice circus but gets her a movie contract.

Reason enough for Joan to want it, but it may seem odd that Metro should take to the ice when that commodity already has been worn thin for movie purposes by Sonja Henie, whose need for stronger stories is so great that her next film is being postponed. Metro figures, however, that it has a strong story in "Excess Baggage," and it figures also that the "Ice Follies" troupe will offer something different from the work familiarized by Sonja. The difference will lie in the work of skating comedians—the comedy in Sonja's films has never been on the ice.

Working in the picture by day, the "Follies" troupe is performing for the public here by night. Opening night the rinkside looked like a Hollywood convention—with Joan Crawford there with Cesar Romero, Janet Gaynor with Gilbert Adrian, the designer, the Richard Barthelmesses, the Harold Loyds, Virginia Bruce and husband J. Walter Ruben.

They saw a good show—beauty, speed, skill, and comedy. Metro is hopeful of Bess Ehrhardt, as a screen acting possibility, all kidding aside. In the comedy department—where they look to be different from Sonja—there's Heinie Brock, whose "drunk act" on skates has a Chaplinish quality that might mean something in pictures; and there's Les Hamilton and Eddie Shipstad and Oscar Johnson.

But if you see the "Follies" on tour, don't expect to see the same show in the movie. You can count on Metro to lavish things up. Those two tents in the Indian number will multiply, and they'll have gigantic totem poles, and a real campfire that sings the soundstage rafter.

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

I dare not say that no October ever will be more gold of leaf and air and plain than this, but surely afterwards have never hung quite so goldenly in the trees by the high school and in the cottonwood trees on the creeks. We pluck the yellow leaf and walk as effortlessly as we speak, forgetting care and work and sense of time, forgetting that presently, perhaps next week, the magic flame must flutter, and grow gray. You who would take October to your breast, now is the hour come for the winter will soon come to the high plains, to White Deer creek and Sweetwater creek, and the gossamer forest in the bottoms of the Washita will grow still. The winter will come though the birds protest, and the snow will sift where the dahlias and violets grew, where the wheat waved green, and the last leaf will go. An crimson bird, October flies.

The air is as golden as the leaf that drifts slowly and gracefully down from the top of the cottonwood tree, and settles tenderly on the brown head of the boy, Dick Marry, who, unaware, is shouting to his play-mates. And I myself am exuberantly happy because of the golden afternoon and the leaves, but I am deeply grateful that the shining head of the boy is not as evanescent as the the shining leaf.

THE NATURE OF FEAR

Fear is the emotion which a person feels in anticipation of painful situations. When the emotion of fear is warranted by the circumstances and is proportionate to the hazard, the fear is normal and usually protective. When the fear, however, is groundless, or when it is disproportionate to the gravity of the menace, it is abnormal and pathological.

Abnormal or pathological fear may be caused by a variety of circumstances. Ignorance of all that is involved in the situation is a common cause of abnormal fear. The child, for example, traveling for the first time on a ship may fear the experience. Presumably the strangeness of the experience or a knowledge that ships do sometimes sink, may produce the fear in the child.

There is a case on record of a youngster who had a morbid fear of boats. The boy's exaggerated anxiety was traced to his having seen a vivid picture of the Slocum disaster. The picture of the burning boat and the numerous children struggling in the water so "conditioned" the child against boats that even years thereafter he dreaded setting foot on a ship.

The average person's abnormal fear of a surgical operation is due to inadequate knowledge of what is involved. Many of the child's fears and those of young adults are rooted in relative ignorance.

Another and even more significant cause of pathological fears is the transference of the fear emotion from a dreaded situation to one that is not fearful. When an adult, who is otherwise of average courage, dreads the presence of a cat, it cannot be assumed that the dread is based upon any untoward experience with the cat.

To such a person a cat has an unconscious symbolic function. The dread which he shows in the presence of a cat had its origin in some other source which the patient finds it convenient to forget.

Fears arising from ignorance are dissipated by instruction and experience. Those that are transferred usually require psychiatric treatment.

Tex's Topics

By Tex DeWesse

In the mail: "Dear Tex: 'Anent your column in Monday's issue... the 'friendliness of the small town that was once all but universal in America.'"

"Not all the progress, all the science, and business improvement that has occurred since 1920 can compensate for the loss of the old America. For it was simple, kindly land, filled with the homely virtues you describe and above all else, with faith one in another."

"That faith is pretty well gone, now, and as you say, 'we must remind ourselves that it is every man for himself. This, I believe, as much as anything else led to the chaos of October, 1929. Blind with progress, we discarded all the homely, wholesome, human attributes that make mankind something of which to be proud and in its place erected a business robot.'"

"So seriously did we take the new show that it required magazines of the type of Ballyhoop to snap us out of taking ourselves so pompously. We were a bunch of stuffed shirts, so keen to be the graph and chart and straight line per cent efficiency models that we forgot we were only human after all."

"One 'sermon in stone' of the panic of 1929 has been a decided trend toward the old true Americanism. When the stock market crash was really felt all over the nation, 'twas then we saw how ridiculous we had become in our mad pursuit of this and that medium toward getting the better of someone else."

"Maybe we're drifting back into the synthetic mode of the late '20s, but I think the memory of 1929-1935 was too deeply seared into our consciousness for that. Not that we're out of the woods, yet; there's a mammoth public debt and no financier is wise enough to tell how it can be paid."

"There's a thousand problems to be solved in our public affairs, but the more we get back to sound American fundamentals, the more easily shall we solve them. After all, the problems that arose after the American Revolution were no more insurmountable, comparatively speaking than all those today. They solved them then—but not with salesman patter of the late golden twenties type."

"In all talk of wholesome American virtues, there's always someone who labels a bilge, just as they label anything above the dollar sign, which they pretend not to understand."

"Yet one man who typified true Americanism, who possessed all the wholesome, homely traits, rose to be a rich man without calling 'bilge' without hurting anyone, without taking himself and the world with the pomposity that those who cry 'bilge' affect."

"An Oklahoman, no less—Will Rogers. He was so truly American, so warmly human, that his success has faded and his wealth must continually remain a puzzle to those who regard getting the better of someone else as a religious duty and amassing a vast fortune the highest goal to which man can aspire."

"One who has a fond recollection of the hazy, ante-bellum days before 1917, I would like again to see American life back to fundamentals of the sound Americanism that made us a great nation."

"We have so much complexity in our living today, we've forgotten how to live. We go through the motions like a bunch of trained monkeys, and like monkeys, we don't know why we go through the act, except everyone else is doing it and it seems a good idea at the time."

"Synthetic thinking, and synthetic living never developed any nation. The Egyptian, Greek, Roman, and all the other ancient civilizations remained great only so long as they were natural."

When they became synthetic they were conquered by the unsynthetic 'barbarians.' "If the cry is raised we cannot build a nation on emotion, it must be remembered neither can we build it on synthetic thinking. Clean living engenders clean thinking, straight thinking, efficient thinking. When we become a nation of ultra ultra efficiency, no keen that we shun an honest fight, an honest smile, or an honest tear, we're ripe to be whipped by some nation that we regard as 'unprogressive' and 'barbarian.' "E. B. E."

Dayton Schools May Close Until 1940

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 28 (AP)—Thirty-four thousand boys and girls—from kindergarten children who didn't know what it was all about to high school seniors worried about their June diplomas—went to school today for the last time before a holiday which may last until the new year.

Parents and school officials admitted there was no way to prevent closing of schools after today's sessions because the city school treasury is empty and there is, besides, a $61,000 deficit.

Mexican Executed In Chair At Huntsville

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 28 (AP)—Stelano Canedo, reprieved from the electric chair three times—once after the machinery broke down—was executed early today at the state penitentiary.

Reciting a Mexican prayer and telling Warden W. W. Wald "you've been mighty nice to me," Canedo went to his death for the murder of Joseph W. Daly in a robbery two years ago at San Antonio.

Mexican consular officials previously had obtained stays, but the board of pardons and paroles yesterday decided the San Antonio Mexican was not entitled to further consideration. The electricity was turned on at 12:04 a. m. and Canedo was pronounced dead eight minutes later.

BIDS for SMILES

The Communist hobo was bewailing his fate. "These hogish capitalists!" he said. "If I had my rights I'd be ridin' in my own carriage as I did before."

"Yes," said his Irish companion, "but your own mither couldn't push you now."

"I've no sympathy for a man who beats his wife," a big, red-faced traveling salesman announced in the Pullman smoker. "Well," said a timid little husband, "a man who can beat his wife doesn't need sympathy."

A chorus girl vigorously refused an actor who had proposed to her for the 20th time. "Look here, I wouldn't marry you if you was the last man on earth. I don't want nothing to do with you. Is that plain English?"

"We have so much complexity in our living today, we've forgotten how to live. We go through the motions like a bunch of trained monkeys, and like monkeys, we don't know why we go through the act, except everyone else is doing it and it seems a good idea at the time."

Nation's Affairs

Our Absurd Gold Policy

By WALTER E. SPAHR

Professor of Economics, New York University

Our gold problem and the relation of the dollar to gold to it are clearly mysteries to most people. It is generally known that our gold stock has now reached the unprecedented amount of 13.7 billion dollars—about $6 per ounce—more than twice the world's monetary gold stock.

The recent war scare caused an unusual flight of gold from this country, but quite apart from the influx of gold for this reason and others, the big, steady pulling force has been our excessively high price for gold. We are offering more dollars for gold than we would offer for our own commodities on the average!

How did this come about? It is the result of the adoption of the Warren gold-buying scheme, which our government employed from October 25, 1933, to January 31, 1934.

When the present government came into power in March, 1933, the price of gold (that is, the index of gold prices) stood at 60 per cent of the average for 1928. The New Dealers wished to restore the 1928 price level, and adopted the Warren monetary theory to the effect that the paper money price of gold could be made to control the price level. Warren was given authority to raise the paper money price of gold. The theory was simple—naively simple. It was so simple and appalling that monetary economists were shocked when they discovered that our government had actually committed itself to trying out this childish notion.

Here is the principle. To raise the price level from 60 per cent to the 100 per cent of 1928 would require that it be bought at a higher and higher price—on January 16, 1934—he had raised the price of an ounce of fine gold to $34.45 which was just about 67 per cent above the old $20.67 which prevailed before we left the gold standard on March 6, 1933. On January 31, 1934, Congress passed the Gold Reserve Act, empowering the President to fix the weight of the dollar at 50 to 60 per cent of its old value. On January 31, he fixed the price of gold at $35.00 per ounce, which meant that our gold now had a value in terms of gold of 59 plus per cent above the old $20.67.

According to the Warren theory the price level should have risen in proportion to 59 per cent. But instead, it had risen only 20 per cent during the same period of time. Thus the value of our dollar in terms of our goods was much greater than it was in terms of gold—due to the simple reason that it had risen only 20 per cent during the same period of time. Thus the value of our dollar in terms of our goods was much greater than it was in terms of gold—and this is the price of the Warren experiment made our dollar buy less abroad than at home. Had it been made to buy the same in both places, the price of our dollar would have been fixed at $24.80 instead of $35.00.

This big difference between the foreign and domestic purchasing power of our dollar caused gold to flow here, for the simple reason that it would buy more in our domestic markets than elsewhere—that is, the difference between $35.00 and $24.80 was gain—and the gain became a price of $35.00 per ounce was so far above the cost of mining gold that it poured in from the mines throughout the world. Today the price level is only 30 per cent above the level of March, 1933, while the price of gold and foreign exchange is up 60 per cent!

This did foolish pursuit of an absurd theory lead us into the situation in which we find ourselves—a dollar with little buying power abroad, and a huge pile of gold buried at Fort Knox, Kentucky!

6. The railroads have weathered another crisis. Carloadings are back to within 15 per cent of where they were a year ago.

7. The farm situation is not so bad as current prices for wheat, cotton and corn indicate.

8. All of the country's five major industries—building, motor, textile, mining, steel—are on their way upward.

9. Financial news is mostly good. Credit reserves, the largest in our history, could allow credit expansion of $25,000,000,000 compared with an actual figure of $55,000,000,000 at the '29 peak.

10. Increased security prices, in themselves, are adding momentum to the upward surge.

W. Lee Warns Oil Industry

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Texas Continental Oil and Gas association, warned yesterday by governor-nominate W. Lee O'Daniel the industry may have to pay a heavy portion of his old age pensions, today looked forward to a speech by Dr. Gus W. Dyer of Nashville, Tenn., economist.

Dr. Dyer was to speak after Harry Wiess of Houston and J. C. Hunter of Abilene, present a distinguished service award to independent and major company oil men for work during the past year.

O'Daniel pledged himself to try to reduce the cost of government but added the pension money had to come for "those who have it, and I, for one, am going to let the chips fall where they may."

His statement came but a few minutes after Harold G. Neely, chairman of the association's tax committee, had reported the industry was carrying the burden of state taxes.

"Neely's speech tore my heart to pieces," O'Daniel said "and I wish I could say to the oil industry that it will not have to pay this tax. One thing is certain, we do not want to burden oil or agriculture or any industry with it, but wherever the money comes from is up to the legislature."

O'Daniel said his threat to reduce the cost of government meant that state jobs would be abolished and salaries would be cut.

"That is against the principles of all politicians," he said, "but I am not going into the governor's office with any thought of building up a machine for my re-election. If I am elected Governor of Texas it will be because I have done something for Texas and deserve the office."

China. But, in the light of the fact that the new situation, resulting from the fall of the Chiang regime (Generalissimo of the China government) and the birth of a new Chinese regime—had modified the nine-power pact system, the American government's insistence on an open door and equal opportunity in China on the basis of the former status in the far east is unsuitable in the present situation.

An authoritative spokesman agreed with the editorial's intimation the nine-power pact "must be modified in consideration of the greatly changed situation in China" since the fall of Hankow and Canton.

BIG GAME

More than 3,000 Pampans are expected to see the big game, and hundreds from Panhandle towns will try to get into Butler Field bleachers. Thousands of others will have their ears glued to the radio to hear KPDM's broadcast of the traditional battle that has become the No. 1 sports event of the Panhandle.

Nine out of ten Pampa fans feel that this is "The Year"—90 per cent of the curb stone coaches believe that Pampa will lick Amarillo Saturday, and they want to be present at the killing. They believe that Pampa has the best chance she ever had to humble the Sandies on their "sacred turf."

The Harvesters themselves are a startling illustration of the feeling that is abroad. They are calm, determined, unexcited—they are not afraid of Amarillo; they feel that if they play their best ball they'll sock the Sandies. They know they will have to play over their heads and they are determined to do that.

Sandies Won 7 Times Eight times the Pampa Harvesters and the Amarillo Sandies have met on the gridiron in Class A competition and seven times the Sandies have been victorious, but never by more than two touchdowns. Tomorrow a band of out-weighted but determined Harvesters will try to break the Butler Field tradition of a Texas high school football team never having defeated the Sandies on Butler Field.

Oklahoma has trampled the tradition twice, once two years ago when Norman won a game and this year when the Harvesters of Oklahoma City downed the Sandies. The Pampa Harvesters have been a cool band of warriors as they prepared for the big battle and the calm has made fans feel that "this is the year."

Harvesters Unusually Calm On Battle Eve

'We're Ready For Sandies' Say Coaches

"We're ready," announced Coach Odus Mitchell and J. C. Frejau last night about 6 o'clock as the Harvesters football squad left the field after a long practice of smoothing plays and tightening defense. It marked the last intensive practice before the Harvesters invade Amarillo Saturday afternoon for their annual clash with the Amarillo Sandies, traditional foe.

"The boys are in pretty fair shape, their spirit is fine and they are more calm than any Harvester team ever to prepare for a meeting with Amarillo," the coaches announced.

Immediately following the practice Coach Mitchell left for Childress where this morning he attended funeral services for Mrs. Mitchell's father who passed away Wednesday afternoon of a heart ailment.

The Harvesters stepped through a long practice of smoothing out plays and tightening of defense as though they were preparing for any ordinary game instead of the crucial tilt with the Sandies. Their invasion of Amarillo will resemble a home game more than anything.

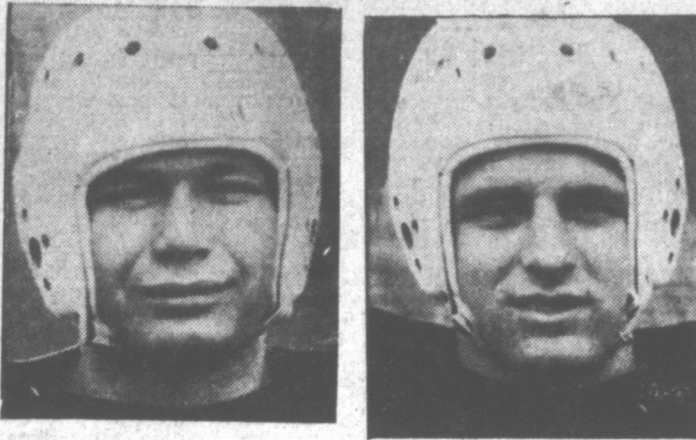

The boys will eat dinner in the high school cafeteria at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and leave for Butler Field, not even going downtown.

The injured Welby Parish, light-weight guard, said he felt fine although he showed a slight limp from a hip injury. Glen Nichols also reported ready to go after an attack of appendicitis. Leonard Dull was still unable to work because of a bad knee and Herbert Maynard was absent following a recent stomach ailment. Otherwise the squad was fit and ready for action.

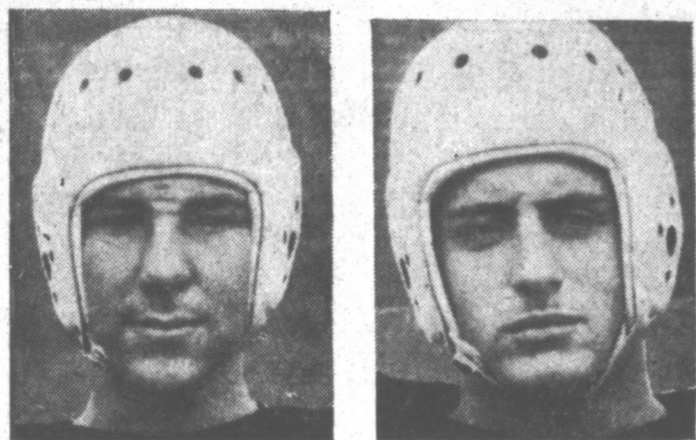

The team that three weeks ago played Lawton, Okla., to a 21 to 21 tie and two weeks ago defeated Fort Arthur 13 to 0 will get the call tomorrow afternoon unless something happens, coaches announced. That lineup will be Solomon and Andis, ends; Hesse and Nichols, tackles; Parish and Giddens, guards; Chandler, center; Graham, quarter; Dunway and Kemp, halves; Karr, full.

Texas Christian Picked As Winner Over Baylor

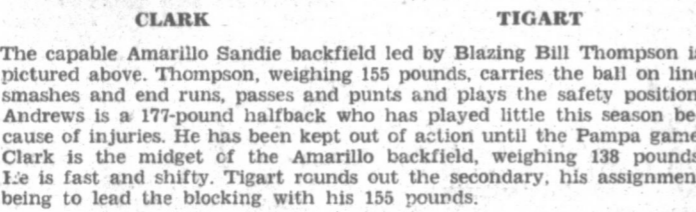

AMARILLO SANDIE BALL TOTERS

THOMPSON

TIGART

The capable Amarillo Sandie backfield led by blazing Bill Thompson is pictured above. Thompson, weighing 155 pounds, carries the ball on line smashes and end runs, passes and punts and plays the safety position. Andrews is a 175-pound halfback who has played little this season because of injuries. He has been kept out of action until the Pampa game. Clark is the midjet of the Amarillo backfield, weighing 138 pounds. He is fast and shifty. Tigart rounds out the secondary, his assignment being to lead the blocking with his 155 pounds.

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT, - Associate Press Sports Writer.

Only unbeaten survivors of the Southwest Texas Christian College and Baylor tomorrow drop their futures in the magic hands of two forward passers who thrive on pressure.

Not since the historic "Rose Bowl" invitation game T. C. U. and Southern Methodist put on has Fort Worth readied for such a dogfight—the duel between Davey O'Brien and Bill Patterson.

O'Brien, with his 782 yards and ten touchdowns gained via the air, shades Patterson in statistics only. Patterson is the pay-off man at Baylor, both with hand and foot. His takes care of the scores; his spindly right leg that has averaged 41 yards on 33 kicks keeps the enemy off balance.

But behind O'Brien and his aerial legdemain are two important factors that made T. C. U. the favorite—a crushing running game and a defensive barricade no team has been able to effectively penetrate.

John Hall, Earl Clark and the big Cornelis Sparks, the running sophomores fullback, take longer to get there but do almost as much damage as O'Brien's passes. And the little fellow is a respected runner.

After Patterson, Baylor has only a fair running game and a barrel of courage. Where Texas Christian can feed excellent line reserves to tiring first stringers, Baylor must goad its stringers to keep going.

The Christians, one of the most versatile and potent teams in conference history, prepared for the game in top physical condition. Baylor had its first and second string centers aligned, the entire line bruised from the Texas Aggie battering of a week ago.

Its Texas Christian from any angle; by two touchdowns, at least, on dry ground. No such happening in the 27 games when T. C. U. showed Baylor ground and lost, 0-7, will occur this time.

Still vulnerable to forward passing, the Texas Aggies, on their College Station field, meet the Arkansas Razorbacks, a giant machine that has fired 154 times through the air in five games. But the Aggies have unloaded a fresh shipment of yardage themselves in a power-house ground attack featuring John Kimbrough, a rumbler son of West Texas who cut Baylor's line to shreds last week. So damaging is this 210-pounder's thrusts that he sent three in five games. Baylor's sidearm are in the balance.

The 80,000 alumni who scheme and scrap for the privilege of paying $4.40 to see the game are not to be confused with the calmer type of alumnus who actually attended classes at one of the two institutions. The latter is comparatively rare and has become scattered all over the world, while the Notre Dame football alumni is concentrated right here in New York.

There are estimated to be about 300,000 of them in the greater city, men who for years have suffered agonies every time the Army threatens to score on their alma mater. Some of them have been loyal Notre Dame old grads ever since the days when Knute Rockne and Gus Dorais first came to the plains and forward passing the Cadets into a state of collapse.

Buffalo Fish Will Take On Jackrabbits

CANYON, Oct. 28.—Buffalo third stringers who have been gridiron fodder for the powerful freshman eleven this week could tell the Wayland College Jackrabbits a lot about the crushing game the Yearlings are developing for their battle with the Plainview boys here Friday night.

After nearly two hours of hard work against the varsity starters and first string reserves, the Yearlings are far from ready to call it a day. Instead, they are turned loose against varsity third stringers to give them an opportunity to develop their own style of play. Freshman Coach Jack Curcio then takes over direction of hostilities, and the fur flies—usually the fur of the third string men.

Barker Picks Irish, Pitt

By HERBERT W. BARKER
NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—If the best offense is a sharp attack, there's no use wasting any words before moving into action against this week's football program. So...
Pitt-Fordham: The fourth chapter in the "battle of goose eggs" is the Panther and the ram hit hitherto have held such respect for one another that they have neglected to score any points in three successive meetings—Pitt.

Army-Notre Dame: It is only by painfully applied will power that this corner ignores a strong hunch on the Co-Eds and casts the customary ballot for Notre Dame.

Northwestern - Minnesota: This really is becoming a prognosticator's nightmare. Harold Van Every earns Minnesota now.

Tennessee-Louisiana State: A teetering ballot for Tennessee.

Texas Christian-Baylor: Baylor's tie with Texas A. and M. may have been misleading, but Christians must be picked on the records.

Oklahoma-Tulsa, Oklahoma, but the Sooners will be looking at a flock of passes all day.

Vanderbilt - Georgia Tech: With utmost trepidation, Vanderbilt.

Texas A. and M.-Arkansas: One of the toughest of all. The Aggies.

Rice-Auburn: Rice has lost Ernie Lain temporarily. Therefore Auburn.

Texas-Southern Methodist: Picking S. M. U.

John Henry Louis To Defend Title In Fight Tonight

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 28 (AP)—John Henry Lewis of Phoenix, Ariz., world's light-heavyweight champion, will put his coveted crown, which he has not defended for two years, on the block tonight in a 15-rounder against Al Nelson Gainer, New Haven's persistent contender.

As the hour for the twice-postponed battle—the first title bout in the light-heavy division between two negroes—drew near betting circles made Lewis a 7 to 5 favorite to retain the championship he won three years ago from Bob Olin in St. Louis.

Lewis, announcing "I beat him once and can do it again," was given the slight edge because of the 12-round decision he won from Gainer in a non-title scrap in Pittsburgh in the summer of 1936.

About 300,000 Notre Dame Alumni Concentrated In New York Alone

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—It is the McCoy that Dana Bible served up 99 players (or thereabouts) for future U. of Texas use by using 'em in the first Longhorn freshman game this fall? ... Seems there's a Southwestern conference rule that if a frosh plays even one minute for a school down there, he can't be accepted by another. So Dana (according to the story) just wanted insurance... And it's a neat trick, even if he did not do it... Tony Canzaneri wasn't any too fast in outpointing Howie Scott in Jersey City the other night... But insists that'll all be fixed by another half-dozen starts under his belt... Frank Milani, touted by scouts as a successor to Lou Gehrig in the not-too-distant future, takes the first step up the Yankee's farm chain next year, moving from Wenatchee (Wash.) to the Class A... It's costing Al Johnson's radio show ten grand to move to New York for next week's broadcast, so that the mammy man can take in the Armstrong-Garcia welterweight party... Incidentally, Carola hit one Seabiscuit, a sparmate, with his pet polo punch yesterday and knocked him clean out of the ring... Have the Big Ten's football officials taken to wearing striped jackets for self-preservation? ... Seems too many teams turning up with white sweaters, and was getting so bad the boys were taking body blocks and tackles out of the refs and umps... We pick (but won't bet on it) Texas Christian to settle the Southwest fuss by beating Baylor... Wants special? ... Well, how's for underdog Arkansas to pass Texas A. & M. slightly dizzy?

IF GASOLINE Were Face Cream

Romance in the moonlight... the picture of happy young love... For that we can't employ both to woo and win your attention as easily as the face-cream ads.
Too bad for you, too, because you may therefore have missed the money-saving fact about a most remarkable motor fuel—Phillips 66 Poly Gas.
It's different! And you can feel that difference; otherwise sales of Phillips 66 Poly Gas would have grown from 393,000 gallons a year to 592,000,000 in ten short years. Car owners don't buy five or ten or a hundred times as much in 1937 as in 1927. They actually purchased 1500 times as much!
Phillips 66 Poly Gas is the outstanding custom-tailored gasoline. Continuous laboratory surveys prove that no other gasoline is so accurately matched to the month-by-month changes in your weather. Hence it protects engine performance against changes in climate. Gives you cooler power in summer. Faster starting in winter. And livelier throttle response, faster acceleration, all year round.
Remember, Phillips 66 Poly Gas is higher test without higher price because Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline. Find out what this means in economy and performance by scooping for a trial tankful at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Claude Post Reorganized

Wartime memories of the Salvation Army lasses who served in France were revived for the World War Veterans of Armstrong county when coffee and doughnuts were served by three women of the local Salvation Army at a reorganization meeting of the Harold Gist post 344 at Claude last night. The servers were Mrs. H. G. Lambrecht, Mrs. M. S. Jenkins, and Mrs. M. E. Rochelle.

At the meeting, held in the district courtroom, new officers of the post were elected and installed. The installation was conducted by District Commander Charlie Maise. New officers of the post are: Fred Church, commander; J. E. Johnson, vice commander; C. L. Renfro, adjutant; C. L. Alexander, service officer; Clarence Hudson, chaplain; Carl Appling, finance officer, and Gordon Lauderdale, sergeant-at-arms.

Each of the officers followed a talk by Floyd L. Sloan of Amarillo, state veterans service officer, who explained benefits of legion membership, in connection with hospitalization.

The post at Claude is the first in the 18th district to make its new membership quota. These were announced by the district commander. There are 18 members in the post at Claude.

Visitors at the meeting, at which the district commander presided, were John Deaver, who gave the invocation, and Mrs. John Deaver, his wife, president of the local district. Other guests included Mrs. Brown of American Legion Auxiliary, of Memphis; Zane Smith, commander of Kit Carson post 441, Panhandle; and Joe Roche, adjutant of the Kerley-Crossman post 334, Pampa.

Cattlemen Offer Cash Rewards To Rustler Captors

AMARILLO, Oct. 28.—The cattle rustling business has increased to the point where the cattlemen of the plains are protecting themselves by offering large cash rewards for the conviction of cattle thieves. Several members of the Panhandle Livestock Association have combined in offering a $500 reward for the conviction of any person stealing cattle from them.

In several parts of Texas rewards are being offered for the conviction of rustlers. George West, a veteran rancher of Zavala county, offers $500 reward for the conviction of any person stealing cattle from him and $100 in case of goats and hogs.

Inspectors for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Inc. and Texas Rangers say a 20 year high in livestock stealing has been experienced the past six months in West Texas. The association is the rustler's greatest enemy, keeping inspectors on the range and at shipping and receiving points in Texas, Kansas, Colorado and Missouri.

Charges of cattle theft have been filed in dozens of Texas counties the past few months and several persons have been convicted. The truck method—in which a few cattle are picked up and hauled as far as 300 miles in one night—is used by the present-day rustlers.

Hutchinson Convict Pardoned by Governor

U. S. Engineers Start Survey On Pease River Dam

VERNON, Oct. 28.—United States Army engineers have started a survey to determine the feasibility of erecting a $3,000,000 dam near Crowell, Texas, for control of flood waters of the Pease River, tributary of the Red River.

Offices have been established in Vernon by C. L. Newson, army engineer in charge, and a crew of 23 workers engaged and the work is expected to require six months. Information will be compiled by Lieutenant Colonel S. L. Scott of Little Rock, district army engineer, for consideration by Washington officials.

A previous examination of the proposal resulted in an unfavorable report. Engineers, however, agreed to a more thorough investigation. The Pease River flood control district directors include E. Brown of Electra; Harry Koch of Quanah; J. H. Allison of Wichita Falls; W. C. Jones of Paducah; C. E. Carllock of Chillicothe; M. S. Henry and Dr. Hines Clark of Crowell; and R. H. Nichols and W. H. Wright of Vernon.

Shoot Indians If They Chase You—it's Legal! DALLAS, Oct. 28.—Texans may still carry pistols and use them if they are being chased by wild Indians, says Judge Grover Adams of the Dallas County Criminal District Court.

Judge Adams explained this ancient statute, written in the '60's, really did no harm as there were no wild Indians in Texas, but the fact the ancient law remains in force illustrated the oddities of Texas' criminal regulations. He said this, and scores of other worn-out codes should be repealed and the statutes modernized to relieve Texas law books of acts long out of date.

'Cactus Wells' Gave Water For Cowboys

AMARILLO, Oct. 28.—L. D. Heyser, who has lived in the Panhandle many years, says cowboys used to count on 'cactus wells' for drinking water.

"The cowboys," he said, "learned that hollowed out from the top and left with the roots in the ground, the cactus soon filled with water, which, in many instances, was the only water available for miles. The cactus plant takes water from the air, feeds it to the roots. That is the reason a cactus plant can grow in stony or poor soil." The ball type cactus was used.

VERNON, Oct. 28.—Have you seen Dr. Bull? If you know where he is you can do a lot to relieve the suffering of a fractious Mississippian.

Police Chief D. J. Lewis of Vernon was puzzled when he received a letter from Winona, Miss., asking for help in search for the doctor. The letter said:

"I have been trying to find Dr. J. D. Bull, since Sept. 19 and have been told he is in Vernon. He has a good three-minute corn remedy. I want some of the medicine if there is any chance of finding him. Your kindness

SERIAL STORY

MURDER TO MUSIC

BY NARD JONES

COPYRIGHT, 1938, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
MYRNA DOMBEY—heroine, wife of the sensational swing band leader.
ROBERT TAIT—hero, newspaper photographer.
ANNIE LESTER—Myrna's close friend.
DANNIE FEELEY—officer assigned to investigate Ludden Dombey's murder.

Yesterday, Nelda Starr invited Tait to her apartment to hear a recording of "The Cat's Meow" and Tait is expected to see Harris Rogers waiting there.

CHAPTER XXIII
Harris Rogers' presence in her apartment was a surprise to Nelda Starr she disguised her astonishment splendidly.

"How are you, Harris?" she called. Then she turned in the hallway to Tait. "It appears we have an unexpected visitor. Do you know Mr. Rogers, Mr. Tait?"

Tait nodded. "Yes, indeed." He walked toward the ex-manager of The Swingers, resolved to make the best of an embarrassing situation.

"You do get around," Tait said. He took Rogers' hand, wondering the meaning of the man's apparent willingness to let bygones be bygones.

Nelda went to the tall phonograph cabinet, started a record already on its table. "I was down at the Golden Bowl, Harris. 'Torchy' never plays 'The Cat's Meow' and I simply had to hear it. Been here long?"

"Nonsense, Harris. Mr. Tait came up for a cocktail and to hear 'The Cat's Meow.'" She turned from the phonograph as the haunting strains of the song drifted into the room.

ROGERS and Tait agreed that a Martini would be a suitable accompaniment to "The Cat's Meow." Warily Tait sat himself down, careful to keep himself between Harris Rogers and the door.

"Of course," Tait said. He would have given considerable thought to the last time he met. I acted the last time we met. I deserved the sock on the jaw. But getting fired so suddenly was a shock.

Rogers rubbed his jaw thoughtfully. "I'm afraid you weren't," he said with a smile.

Tait was grateful for the reappearance of Nelda, bearing three Martinis and a shaker on a tray. She held them before Tait. "I have coasters somewhere," she said.

"No, thanks," Tait said. "I've really got to be running along."

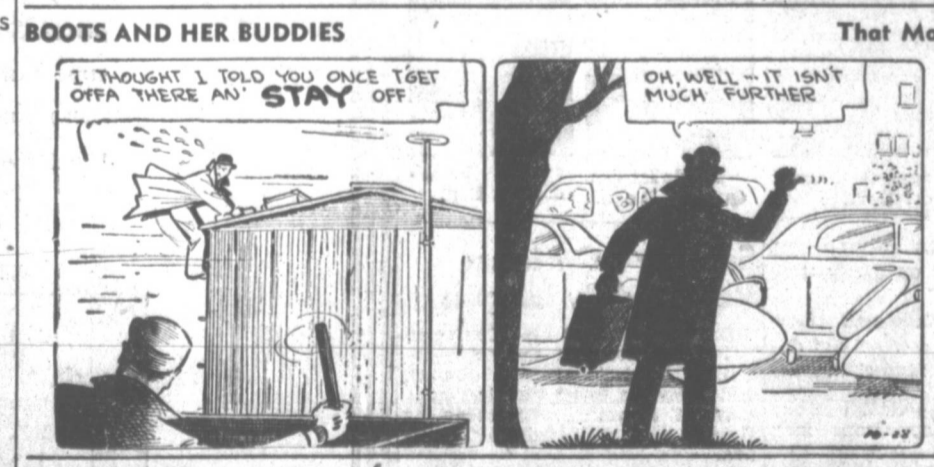

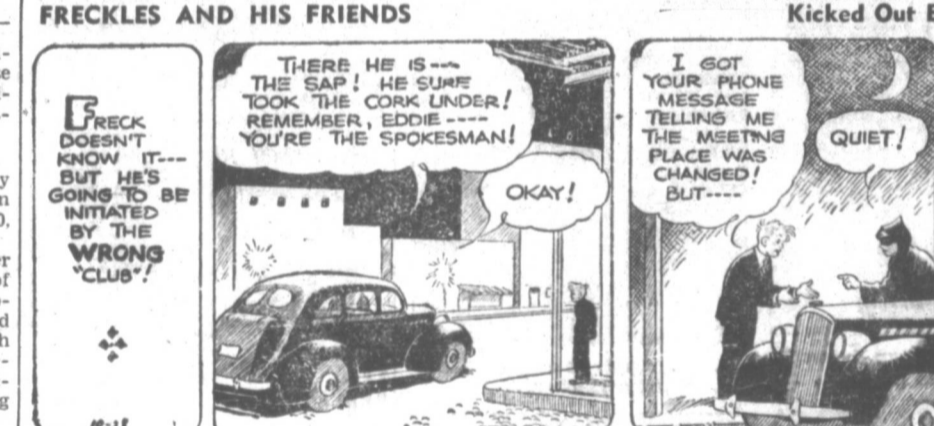

door he half expected a shot—or a knife—in the back. But there was nothing more dangerous behind him than Nelda Starr. At the door she took his hand again. Looking at her, Tait caught his breath a little.

A month ago Bob Tait would have been intrigued. But tonight as he left the apartment he was thinking of Myrna rather than Nelda Starr and Harris Rogers. As the date for the trial drew nearer, Tait was becoming increasingly frantic.

HE looked at his watch, decided that it might not be too late to telephone Myrna. Anne Lester had said that she was feeling blue—not at her own plight, apparently, but at what Lud Dombey's records had revealed.

"Bob? Oh, Bob—Myrna's disappeared." "Disappeared? What do you mean, Anne?"

Outside he hailed a cab and gave the driver the address of the Claremont. It would, he told himself, be one sweet mess if Myrna didn't show up for Barkley.

Oil Industry Urges Cut In State Taxes

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS.
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28 (AP)—The cry of unjust and confiscatory taxes against the oil industry was raised today at the annual convention of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Charles P. McGaha of Wichita Falls, president of the association, and Raymond M. Myers of Dallas, chairman of the Social Security Committee of the organization, led the fight for a reduction in taxes imposed on the rich industry in Texas.

W. Lee O'Daniel, gubernatorial nominee, arrived early in the morning and was to address the convention during the afternoon. The delegates looked forward to O'Daniel's speech in the hope he would explain how and where he hopes to get money for the $30 a month pensions he promised the aged in July.

The industry fears it will be called upon to foot most of the bill. President McGaha asked state and national lawmakers not to burden the industry with unwise legislation and heavier taxes.

The Wichita Falls oil man, in his report to the association's nineteenth annual convention, claimed the petroleum industry pays a Texas oil tax of 84 cents a barrel while Illinois collects two cents a barrel. Additional taxes by state political subdivisions will drive the oil companies to the wall and force new capital from the state, he said.

"Our association must accept responsibility for the legislative problems which confront us in Texas and in Washington," he said. "The depletion allowance, for example, is a matter of vital importance and concern to every oil operator."

"Laws affecting the pollution problem are on the legislative calendar and it is vital to our industry that they be fair in their application," he continued. "The Connolly hot oil law will be before Congress for re-enactment; approval of the continuation of the oil states compact will be considered, but the basic problem facing us is taxation."

McGaha said Texas collects 16.5 per cent of the petroleum industry's gross receipts in taxes. He said 12.71 per cent of the industry's payroll went for compensation insurance.

"For every dollar we spend in wages in Texas," he said, "we spend 56 cents in taxes."

Commenting on the tax trend in Texas today, he said: "The trend is to increase levies on the oil industry and decrease..."

those on other industries. As a result our industry has had to gradually absorb an increasing proportion of the local tax burden.

Ad valorem taxes levied on Texas oil properties last year, he said, increased 73,000,000 over 1936 and taxes levied on all other properties decreased 1,000,000.

Because Texas oil must be sold in competition with the oil of other states, McGaha said, operators are not able to pass on tax costs to consumers.

"Texas Bright Spot." "That means," he explained, "that Texas operators must absorb the difference in cost which the heavy taxes create."

The association president said the oil industry had made Texas the bright business spot in the nation during the past seven years, when he claimed, half of the 5,000,000,000 (billions) barrels of oil produced in Texas thus far came out of the ground.

"The success of any state industrialization program," he said, depends on the encouragement of new capital and the incentive to reinvest returns from invested capital.

"Yet our industry has been made the target of repeated attempts to tax it out of existence," he claimed. "In addition to its tax burden, the association leader said, the industry has dumped $1,000,000,000 in non-productive wells."

The industry in Texas alone, he asserted, is operating on $646,376,000 borrowed money, including bonded indebtedness.

"The glamour of big oil strikes, wide open flow and quick riches are things of the past in this business," McGaha concluded. "These have been replaced by orderly business-like development and production of oil pools."

Large Taxes Paid. Last year he said the industry poured $755,000,000 into production of oil and recovered $750,000,000, losing $5,000,000.

Chairman Myers asked for greater economy in the administration of unemployment insurance, development of methods for calculating and paying benefits understood by both workers and employers, and a reduction of the volume of detail required of employers in complying with social security legislation.

State Comptroller Geo. H. Shepard said the oil industry has paid a total of $126,006,176 in direct state taxes during the past few years. This included $116,431,706 in gross reduction levies, $5,552,948 in so-called regulating pipeline taxes and $1,021,522 on the intangible values of pipelines.

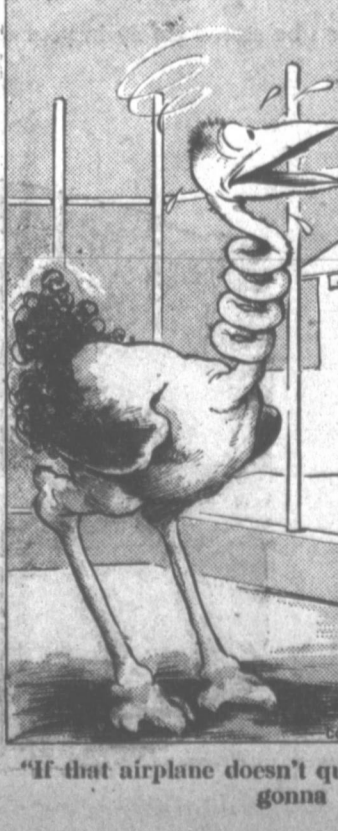

Shepard paid tribute to the oil men for their co-operation in paying their taxes.
