"We went through three chefs before Chris came," said his supervisor, Country Club Manager Janet Stone. "He doesn²t have the same attitude that they did. He is open to a lot of things and can take care of everything. The kitchen has really improved since he's been here."

Diners have given Lewis's pork chops and beef tips rave reviews, as meats, sauces and "good ol' home-cookin'," are among his specialties.

Stone noted that the new chef also values the presentation of food.

"Presentation key," the chef said. "That's why they call it the 'culinary arts.' People eat with their eyes."

workers compensation.

Bridges said that the savings could be even greater depending upon rebates from the workers compensation program.

The Duncan, Frazer and Bridges agency was the only company to bid on the insurance contract.

The commission also approved a bid by Swanson Commissary Services for a five-year contract to serve the Gray County Jail's commissary.

Sheriff Don Copeland said the company would provide supplies to the jail commissary.

"We tack on our own percentage," Copeland said.

He said the county does not pay the company for its services.

Swanson was the only company to bid on the commissary contract.

The commission also approved, pending typographical errors in the contract, an oil and gas lease offered by David Logan on the county's school lands in Gaines County, southwest of Lubbock.

The three-year lease for between 3,000 and 4,000 acres will pay school districts in Gray County $150 an acre with a 20 percent royalty if oil is discovered.

Commissioner Gerald Wright explained that when the state redrew

PRPC has purchased licenses for the information systems for each county in the region, said Kiehl, and most of the region's hospiits constitution in 1876, it set aside acres for the benefit of school districts in the state. Part of the acreage for Gray County is in Gaines County. Gray County also has acreage in Rockwall County.

County Judge Richard Peet noted that the county would not receive any money from the oil and gas leases. Any funds generated from the school lands would go to the school districts in the county including McLean, Grandview-Hopkins as well as Pampa

Gray County Treasurer Scott Hahn told commissioners that the county's investments in certificates of deposits and in Texpool, the state pool of investments, were generally in good shape in the third quarter.

The beginning balance of the investment funds was $5.87 million in July. The market value by the end of September was $4.32 million.

The only difficulty he saw was $500,000 that was budgeted to be used for payroll in January but is in a certificate of deposit that will not mature until February. He said money would have to be taken out of the general fund to make payroll, but that would be reimbursed when the CD matured.

The Gray County Juvenile Probation Department presented the commission with a check for $35,518 in funds that had been appropriated it but not used during the past year.

The commission approved the sale of a Caterpillar 150 motor grader for $40,500 to Warren Caterpillar. The company had the second highest bid out of five bids. Jerry Carlson bid $41,800, but Elaine Morris, county auditor, said that if the county sold the motor grader to an individual it might have to charge sales tax and a fuel surcharge.

"I don't want to get into the sales tax collection business," Morris said. "It's a headache," Commissioner James Hefley agreed.

A representative from Warren Caterpillar, after talking by phone to Carlson, said his company would buy the motor grader and resell it to Carlson for the same price and save the county from having to collect taxes for the state.

Morris said it would have probably cost the county more than $1,000 to set up a system for selling such equipment and collecting sales and fuel taxes and remitting them to the state.

The county also sold a 1994 Chevrolet pickup to Alton Stokes for $850. He was the only bidder.

Commissioners approved a resolution applying for an indigent defense grant. Judge Peet said the county had applied and received the grant for several years now. Normally, the grant provided between $17,000 and $20,000 to the county for payment of lawyers' fees for indigent defendants. He said it helped, but it didn't come close to offsetting the $300,000 budgeted each year by the county for indigent defense fees.

The commission adopted a resolution proclaiming November as Home Care and Hospice Month.

Lewis said his styles are different also in the small things, like his "giant" cobb salad and pasta dishes with specialty meatballs. Lewis has also added some non-traditional items to the menu like a seafood trio and a cheesy trio.

The new chef was greatly influenced by one of his teachers in culinary school who played a part in landing him the position at the country club.

"I know I can still call Chef Vornel for help. When I was working at Taco Bell, I felt the need to be creative. I called my school and heard about this job. I had an interview and was hired. It all happened really quickly," he said.

Lewis supervises a kitchen staff of seven people. The team has worked on kitchen reorganization and serving patrons faster, better meals. Lewis believes that three of the most important elements in the kitchen are being organized, being prepared and making sure everyone is well trained.

"The club is helping me get my career off the ground, and I am very appreciative for that," he said. "This is a real nice place to work.'

Both the new chef and his daughter, Crystal, who attends Pampa High School, are adapting to Pampa and feel "settled in." He is sometimes surprised that he is getting paid to do what he loves to do.

"They pay me to cook," he explained. "What can be so hard about that?"

He has at least one unfulfilled ambition: To appear on Fox Network's reality kitchen show "Hell's Kitchen."

"I know I can win it, I would just have to put up with (Chef Ramsey's) attitude," Lewis laughed.

North Texas experiencing aftershocks

DALLAS (AP) - Rare earth tremors continued in the Dallas-Fort Worth area Saturday, one day after several minor earthquakes made Halloween memorable for some North Texans.

Two almost simultaneous earthquakes were detected in northern Grand Prairie and northern Irving just before 7 a.m. Saturday. The Grand Prairie quake measured 2.5 magnitude, while the Irving quake came in at 2.7, according to the U.S. Geological Survey Web site.

The ground shook in the same general areas as on Friday, when tremors of 2.5 magnitude set off car alarms. Most of the Dallas area didn't feel the shocks, but they caused 911 switchboards to light up with calls from the quakes' immediate vicinity. The 911 operators said no damage was reported.

So far, she's "so-so" on encounters with Arabic numerals. That is, she's scoring A's in two-digit counting and simple arithmetic. Another plus is that Brittin counts effortlessly up to 20 in Spanish.

She may be a train wreck in the making, though. Her curiosity was piqued recently when she heard references to "20th and 21st centuries." She understands that a century is the name for 100 years.

But she finds the "th"

we do when she encounters "rd's" as well, or are asked to decipher the Roman numerals denoting dates of Olympic games?

If the latter should happen within the next few months, "Pre-K meltdown" looms. ... * * * * *

On her ride home, she was still grappling with lesson #1, the one about "th."

She attempted to make a practical application of this new truth with a question to her mother. "I never can remember, Mom," she confessed. "Were you born on July ONE(th) or TWO(th)? So far, logic has been elusive for Brittin. A few days back, a nose piece broke off of her eyeglasses. As if determined to keep things even, she chewed off the other one. ...

She will "fit right in" when kindergarten beckons next fall.

Texas Thoughts

By The Associated Press

A sample of editorial opinion around Texas:

Oct. 24

The Dallas Morning News on Mexico's need:

Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice got an earful last week in Mexico. Oh, her counterparts there still are pleased that Congress approved $400 million to help them fight a raging drug war, but, hey, they could stand to see some cold cash muy pronto.

They're right.

The sooner the money can work its way through Washington bureaucracy, the quicker Mexico can use it for helicopters and other tools to fight the cartels. Dr. Rice understands their worries, so hopefully this problem gets resolved quickly.

Even so, the next U.S. president faces a major test south of our border. everybody. Pretty soon the only one left will be Santa Claus!"... * * * * *

Still another kindergarten class was discussing names.

The teacher mentioned that some children have middle names, and some don't. One wondered about middle names.

Another piped up, "We have middle names so when our parents use all three, we know we're REALLY in trouble."... * * * * :

Candace Fulton, a veteran newspaper reporter, has but one grandchild. She enjoys "unvarnished" conversations with 7-year-old Kristena, as well as other children who gather for "story time" every week at Sunday school. At work, Candace is accustomed to long, convoluted interviews and serious digging for nuggets of truth. Not so with the kids; they hit "bottom line pay dirt" in warp speed.

Finally, how about the youngster who learned that voters legalized both horse racing and dog racing in the community?

He thought it was really stupid. "The horses will win every time," he predicted. "Their legs are longer."...

One sage observation is provided by one who reeks of geezer status.

He says, "One of the many things no one tells you about aging is that it is such a nice change from being young."

Whenever I wish to return to my youth, I chill the thought with one word: "Algebra."...

land that's driving out middle-class Mexicans. Already, about 14,000 of the 19,000 Mexicans with doctoral degrees live in the U.S.

The next U.S. president also will have about 18 months to work with President Felipe Calderón to stop the bleeding. By 2011, the race to succeed Mr. Calderón will make it harder for him to keep pressing the drug battle.

Not all is lost. Legislators appear close to granting foreign oil companies an unprecedented role in exploring Mexico's energy reserves. The foreign cash would help Mexico develop its anemic oil industry, plus put more supply into world markets.

Simply, Mexico needs far more attention than our candidates have shown it. We're not talking about unrest across an ocean. This is dramatic unrest right at our border. URL: http://www.dallasnews.com

During the eight-week program, Collins completed a variety of training which included physical fitness, classroom study and practical instruction on naval customs, first aid, firefighting, water safety and survival and shipboard and aircraft safety.

man scheduled to be executed in January for the 2000 robbery and strangulation of his stepmother has been tied through DNA to a 1991 double killing

Fort Worth homicide Sgt. J.D. Thornton said a second DNA test has confirmed the link between 53-year-old Reginald W. Perkins and the strangulation deaths of Shirley Douglas, 44, and her aunt, 79-year-old Hattie Wilson.

In June, police said a DNA database first linked Perkins to semen found inside the bodies of the women.

Cold case Detective Manny Reyes said Perkins had dated Wilson's granddaughter, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported in Saturday editions.

At the time of the killings, Perkins was on parole from an Ohio prison, where he had served nine years for the rape and attempted rape of two 12-year-old girls.

Part of the answer to the challenges we face is really pretty simple... Focus on doing what's best for the country and never take for granted how incredibly blessed we are to be Americans.

Working together, we can and will have a more secure and hopeful future.

BOSS'S POLITICAL PONTIFICATING WEARS OUT THOSE AROUND HIM

DEAR ABBY: I work for a small, familyowned business. The owner has strong political views and insists on listening to a political talk show during the afternoon, with the volume turned up quite loud. My boss assumes that his views are everyone else's and talks to customers as if his opinion is gospel. I have watched them roll their eyes and try to get away. I have worked here for three years, and I can't take it anymore. My co-workers say I can't say anything because he owns the business, and he can do whatever he wants. I have looked for another job, but this is a small town and jobs are scarce. I think it's inappropriate to force one's political views on anyone, especially employees and customers. What's your take on this? -- FED UP IN NEW YORK

DEAR FED UP: I agree with you. However, all too often, zealous members of both parties are unable to resist the temptation to spout off -- especially during an election year. I don't know what business your employer is in, but if anyone else in your town performs the same service without the political arm-twisting, it could cost him some customers.

DEAR ABBY: My ex-boyfriend has cerebral palsy. I have loved him for more than a year, regardless of his condition. He broke up with me because he didn't think he could love someone if he didn't love himself. We are still good friends and care be to stop focusing on his disability and concentrate instead on his abilities. I'm sure he possesses many unique qualities that make him special -- and you can list them if you like. But until he is willing to recognize that he has those qualities, he won't accept it. Counseling could help him tear down the barriers he is building around himself. Independent-living centers provide help for people with disabilities, and I'm sure one in your area could put him in touch with someone who is qualified to talk to him -- including a peer.

DEAR ABBY: I have had an on-again, offagain relationship with this guy, "Dustin," for more than five years. We are now "off" again, but I can't stop thinking about him. I dream about Dustin quite often. It was my decision to end the relationship because I was tired of wasting my time. We get along well, but he lies and cheats. He calls and hangs up and texts me periodically, but I haven't spoken with him in more than two months. I love Dustin dearly, and the love I feel for him never changes. Even though I am living without him, I can't help but wonder if he is really my soul mate. Is there really such a thing as a soul mate? -- LOST IN LOVE IN RIVERDALE, ILL.

DEAR LOST: The American Heritage College Dictionary (Fourth Edition) defines "soul mate" as "one of two persons compatible with each other in disposition, point of view or sensitivity" -- and, yes, Because you can't get him out of your head, soul mate.

veterans skills upgrades that employers identify as necessary forfuture Texas economic growth.

Private Texas employers can apply to TWC fortraining grants by partnering with established training providers such ascommunity colleges, apprenticeship training programs or community-basedtraining programs with demonstrated experience. Active duty service members exiting the military may face challengestransitioning to civilian life and the workplace. To assist those veterans, TWC established the Texas Veterans Leadership Program (TVLP), modeled on thesuccessful Vietnam Veterans Leadership Program which TWC Chairman Tom Pauken, himself a Vietnam veteran, established during the Reagan administration.

Twenty-eight Veterans Resource and Referral Specialists (VRRSs) are based inlocal workforce development areas across Texas to assist their fellow veteranswith job-search activities, training opportunities and other resources.

"Veterans deserve our utmost appreciation, and we should honor their serviceby easing their reentry into the Texas workforce," said Pauken. "Through thesetraining funds, veterans - particularly those who have been deployed to Iraqor Afghanistan - will receive important skills training to meet the demands of Texas employers."

Retired U.S. Marine Corps Gunnery Sgt. Jason K. Doran leads TVLP. During his 20-year career, Doran earned the Silver Star, Navy Commendation Medal, Navy Achievement Medal with Combat "V," and two Combat Action ribbons. His service included Operation Iraqi Freedom, Desert Shield/Storm in the Middle East, and Operation Noble Obelisk and Guardian Retrieval in Africa, JTF-6 Counter Drug Operations and service in the Philippines and Korea.

Youth program serves community

The following article was provided by The Salvation Army and is one in a series of articles of profiles on the agencies and organizations supported by Pampa United Way. This information was submitted by Pampa United Way as part of its 2008 "Pampa United Way, Let's Rev It Up" fund-raising campaign.

The past summer's day camp was a great success. The 10week program ran from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Club members were able to participate in pottery, painting, daily Bible study, craft projects, swimming, numerous field trips and horseback riding.

The summer camp started out with 13 children and ended with up to 34! The camp focused on sportsmanship, manners and treating our friends kindly.

The kids got to visit Amarillo's Discovery Center, Pampa's own Freedom Museum USA, Panhandle's Square House Museum and Amarillo College's Natural History Museum.

They also got to participate in weekly group games, nature hikes around area lakes, and enjoyed many afternoons in our favorite sandbox.

The directors' favorite outing was taking the kids to the rodeo grounds and watching them ride and learn about horses. For most of them, it was their first time to be around horses!

A special treat was offered to all 9-13 year olds - to spend a week at The Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle in Midlothian, Texas.

The Salvation Army thanks those who made that trip possible through their sponsorship. Thank you to everyone who contributed to making this first summer day camp a great experience for the children in our community, and thanks to Pampa United Way for the extra funding it provides.

AgriLife Extension starts livestock labor education pilot project

by Kay Ledbetter Extension News

HEREFORD – The Texas AgriLife Extension Service has created the Agricultural Workforce and Community Development Program to address one of the key issues identified at the High Plains Livestock 2027 Conference.

Worker retention through communications and training, as well as the ability of employees and their families to become active participants in the local communities, are absolutely crucial to the vitality and continued growth of High Plains livestock production, said Dr. Gibbs, AgriLife Pete Extension associate director for Agriculture, Natural Resources and Community Economic Development.

"The livestock industry's labor issue is multi-faceted," said Robert Devin, AgriLife Extension program coordi-Agricultural nator. Workforce and Community Development. "Employers are concerned with finding and retaining qualified workers. Among the barriers are language, technical skills and education.

"Our project's goal is to address not only the employee and job-related issues, but also the family and life-related issues," Devin said.

The conference held in late 2007 brought together representation from all confined livestock operations to identify and address the issues that would affect their operation over the next 20 years, Gibbs said.

The size and scope of High Plains livestock production, and the economic impact of beef, dairy and swine production on local communities is the driving force behind the workforce initiative, he said.

This major initiative will directly contribute to a safe, affordable and consistent supply of food for citizens across the nation, Gibbs said.

AgriLife Extension is

Hartley, Sherman counties and a dairy in Lamb County. The pilot will continue through August, at which time it will be evaluated for widespread application.

In addition to Devin, AgriLife Extension has hired Amalia Mata, AgriLife Extension family and consumer sciences program assistant, to work with family issue programming in Hereford, and ?Genaro Lucio, AgriLife Extension animal science program assistant, to work with employee training at all locations.

The pilot program has five basic components:

-- An executive management program to develop confined livestock operation management expertise in and areas related to retention, human-resource recruitment and management of a diverse workforce.

-- On-site workforce training programs by AgriLife Extension specialists that provide workers with targeted training opportunities to enhance skills based on employer needs.

-- A longer-term vocational workforce program conducted with agriculture science teachers and/or community colleges to prepare individuals to enter the workforce.

-- A family and youth educational program designed and conducted by AgriLife Extension agents to assist workers and their families become more integrated intothe community.

-- Analysis and support related to community impacts.

Lucio said because of the language barrier in some cases, there is a lot of knowledge that the Hispanic workers are not getting.

"By going out to them, we are able to help the employee understand better why they have to do what they were asked to do," he said. "It's making a difference, working with major industry because now they are looking for us when we show up. Basic understanding is what they are looking for." He said both on-the-job and life issues are coming up. Workers may question why they have to sign off on some things and doublecheck others. Lucio said he explains to them how what pilot project aimed at the one employee does affects the next employee. Dr. Ted McCollum, Hansford and AgriLife Extension beef cattle specialist in Amarillo, developed a five-part program that helps the employees understand how their job and the work they do is important to beef safety and quality assurance, Devin said.

> "Once we complete this initial module, we'll evaluate its success with the managers and develop other onsite training modules," he said.

Other issues initially identified by managers include cattle handling, mill management, equipment maintenance and recognition of health issues in cattle in the feedlots, Devin said.

Issues identified in dairies are recognizing calving difficulties, injection-site issues cattle handling. Oversight of these issues is being handled by Dr. Ellen Jordan, AgriLife Extension dairy specialist in Dallas.

"In the long run, we hope it will show them how important they are for whatever they do and that their job matters to that company," Lucio said. "Keeping the employee happy helps the overall company.

Other events for employees and their family members include a series of educational program events associated with financial literacy and management, as well as college - either for themselves or their children - health issues, computers, school and budgeting.

"We did a survey with general subjects we thought might be issues," Mata said. "We found they want computer knowledge. Also, in talking to managers, we thought budgeting would be high, but the employees said education for themselves and their children was most important."

The families want to know more about high school programs that could enhance their children's education toward college or a technical program, she said. That includes planning when the children are in junior high so they know what classes to take entering into high school.

Mata said because participation in the educational programs is key, and the idea is still foreign to most of the families, she's started a "bonus bucks" program. Individuals attending classes will earn bucks that later can be used to purchase items donated to the program.

Dawn Watson, AgriLife

Extension family and consumer science agent in Deaf Smith, said one of the needs the program has brought to light is the services offered by the school may not be understood by the Spanishspeaking families.

"They don't know how to access the services," Watson said. "In many cases, the kids are the translators for them and sometimes they don't tell them everything or they don't understand.

"We've also found that even though things are offered, it may be the location that keeps them from accessing them," she said. "They may be intimidated by going to the library, but would be more comfortable attending a meeting on their own turf."

Harversters lose to Caprock 33-22

by Bob Ericson The Pampa News

The Pampa Harvester Football Team fell to Caprock Longhorns Friday night for the last home game of the season, 33-22.

Pampa and Caprock traded possessions during the first quarter, punting back and forth. Pampa took the ball at its own 3-yard line and punted to Caprock. On the next play, Caprock scored on a 44-yard touchdown pass and made the extra point to take the lead 7-0 with 3:09 left in the first quarter. The score remained at 7-0 after the first quarter.

The Longhorns took over after a Pampa punt, and the first pass was picked off by Brett Powell. Alex Clendenning fumbled the ball and Caprock recovered the ball. Caprock drove and scored a TD on a short run and missed the extra point, leaving the score 13-0. Pampa took over. The Harvesters' drive stalled again, and the team had to punt. Caprock punted after the Harvester defense held strong. Pampa took the ball with 21 seconds to go in the half. A pass by Clendenning was intercepted, and the half ended 13-0 with Caprock leading.

Pampa's first drive of the second half resulted in one yard gained and a punt. Caprock threw a pass deep in Pampa territory and Madison Wilson intercepted and returned the ball to the Pampa 28 yard line. A pass to Jeremy Maxwell set up the Harvesters at the Longhorn seven yard line. Clendenning scored a TD on a one yard sneak. Maxwell added the extra point, and with 5:27 left in the third quarter the Longhorn lead shrunk to 13-7. The third quarter expired and the score remained 13-7.

Caprock scored a TD with 11:22 to go in the game and missed the extra point, leaving the score 19-7. Pampa drove down the field and scored on a 10-yard pass to Heath Skinner, and Maxwell added the extra point to narrow the score to 19-14. The Harvester defense held and forced a Caprock punt. Powell blocked the punt and Pampa took over at the Longhorn 16-yard line. Wilson took a pitch around left end and scored a TD. Maxwell converted the two-point conversion, and with 6:17 to go, Pampa took the lead for the first time in the game, 22-19.

The Harvester defense held on a fourth down and four at the Caprock 44 with 4:26 to go in the game. Pampa's drive stalled and the ball went to Caprock at the Longhorn 21 with 3:03 to go. Caprock completed a 45-yard TD pass and with 30 seconds to go to take the lead again, 26-22. After the kickoff, Clendenning completed a pass to Skinner and was intercepted for a TD, and with 6 seconds to go Caprock led 33-22, which ended the game for the Harvesters and the opportunity for a chance at the playoffs.

sponsored by WTAMU's Office of Career and Counseling Services and gives education majors and prospective teachers an opportunity to learn more about different school districts, personnel needs and the career paths offered. School districts from across the state will be represented at the event. Job openings range from special education to math and science.

WTAMU students and certified educators are invited to attend. Underclassmen also are encouraged to attend to see what prospective employers are looking for and what the various school districts have to offer.

"This is the first time we've hosted an Educator's EXPO in the fall," Kim Muller, assistant director of career and counseling services, said. "We host one every spring, but have found that many of our students and recruiters wanted a fall event, too. The response has been great and will provide students with the information and resources they need in their job search."

Those attending are encouraged to bring multiple copies of their résumés and an official transcript. Some districts will be conducting interviews on-site after the job fair, and others will do on-the-spot interviews during the EXPO for openings in their school districts.

most gifted playwrights," Merritt said. "The nine characters in this play are so tightly knit that no amount of jokes and wisecracks can break their bond."

"Laughter on the 23rd Floor" takes the audience behind the scenes of a weekly variety program and exposes them to the mayhem and antics of the show's writing team and their ongoing battle with television executives. The play is set in 1953 in an office building in New York City.

"The biggest challenge was finding the truth in these hilarious characters," Merritt said. "It is clear from the start of the play that they are comical, but we had to dig deeper to find the foundation of each character's being, otherwise they are just people in an office who say funny things."

Merritt earned the right to direct the play after completing courses on directing with Royal Brantley, professor of theatre and head of the Department of Art, Dance. Theatre and Students who pass the courses can apply for independent study directing opportunities.

"I have thoroughly enjoyed working with the actors in 'Laughter," Merritt said. "There is so much talent in this cast and a true camaraderie that is felt in every performance. I am so thankful to Mr. Brantley and the WTAMU theatre faculty for this opportunity."

Tickets for WTAMU theatre productions are priced at $10 each for reserved seating and $7 each for senior citizens and children 12 and under. Season tickets are available and offer ticket holders convenience and savings. Group rates also are available. "It will be a great honor to have the first lady on campus to participate in an event to support WTAMU nursing scholarships," Dr. J. Patrick O'Brien, University president, said. "There is a great need for nurses here and across the country and to have one of our own distinguished graduates here to help us meet that need will benefit both our students and our University."

In 1974, 22-year-old Thigpen (Perry), received her . bachelor of science degree in nursing from WTAMU and began a 17year career in the healthcare profession that included numerous professional roles: supervisor of surgery, instructor and pediatric coordinator, staff nurse in an intensive care unit, instructor in medical surgical nursing, in-service director and childbirth education instructor, area supervisor of a home health agency, RN consultant and hospital director of nurses. She received her master's degree in nursing from the University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio in 1977.

U.S. Representative Tired of the Same Old Politics?

Full-time Alexandria, Virginia resident Mac Thornberry, voted for the borrow-and-spend policies of George W. Bush over 91% of the time. We've been there-done that, and what did it get us? We don't need more deregulation, job losses, higher prices, endless costly war, government bailouts, increasing national debt, and the lack of Congressional oversight, do we?

*HOROSCOPES

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Sunday, Nov. 2, 2008

Your ability to present yourself and your ideas remains strong this year. If used properly, it could expand your security base and financial acumen. You need to bring better understanding and stability to your personal and domestic life. Take a hard look at real estate investments. Family secrets also might be revealed that are shocking to you. Learning when to disclose and when not to disclose could become a key topic. If you are single, you meet people with ease. You might decide to nestle in quite quickly with one special person. If you are attached, the two of you might often hold back in order not to hurt each other's feelings. Recognize that swallowed feelings have an interesting way of coming out - careful. CAPRICORN enjoys sharing with you.

Understand where others are coming from. CANCER (June 21-July 22)

* Others seek you out. If you stop and listen, you might be surprised by the change in conversation and attitude. Someone is transforming right in front of your very eyes. Let it happen. Tonight: Just don't be alone.

This Week: Realize what needs to happen, but also recognize that you aren't the chief. Structure a plan. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

★★★ Try to even out and be more steady. Use today as a day of rest. If you must, complete a project, but don't allow any high stress in the door. Let go of tension, perhaps through a favorite sport or hobby. Tonight: Early to bed. This Week: Relax, and you'll come up smelling like roses. Others are cantankerous. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

This Week: Speak your mind, and others will listen.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) ★★★ Deal with your finances, especially if you want to buy a new item or OK an expenditure. You don't need to decide today. Your sixth sense kicks in with communication. You seem to know when something is about to happen. Tonight: Gather your bills.

This Week: Extremes hit. Be sensible, especially as others aren't.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) ★★★★ You are able to make a big difference wherever you go and with whomever you want to deal with. You pull the wild card financially. Your luck could swing either way in the next few days. Tonight: Enjoy the moment. This Week: Claim your power. Move a money matter carefully.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)  Know when to take a much-needed timeout. You could be very tired. Understand what is going on and what needs to happen. You also need to take a break from your life. Go for a walk or relax with a friend. Tonight: Do for yourself.

instruction at the undergraduate level in chemistry, mathematics and physics. In addition, the department participates in a cooperative, dual-degree engineering program with Texas Tech University.

This year's scholarship recipients are . Garnett and Schafer Kevan Athanasiou. Garnett is an engineering major from Pampa, and Kevan is biology major from Amarillo.

Jack McCrery, who passed away in 1997, was an engineer with Cabot, Inc., for 27 years, retiring in 1970. He was born and raised in Pennsylvania and graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a degree in mechanical engineering. He married Louise Woodcock in 1941. At the time he was with Cramp Shipbuilding Company in Philadelphia.

In March of 1943 after having severe health problems, he wrote a letter of application to Godfrey Cabot, Inc., in Boston, Mass. stating, "For the past two winters I have lost time from work, due to pneumonia and sinus trouble, and my physician recommends another climate such as exists in the southwestern part of the country.'

Cabot had several offices and plants around the globe, one being in Pampa that fit the climate Jack was searching for. In May of 1943, Jack and Louise moved to Pampa, which became their home until 1984 when they moved to the Canyon/Amarillo area to a retirement village.

In 1957, Cabot was recruiting engineering students from Texas Tech University, and Al Smith was one of those students. He had grown up in Lockney, which is 60 miles northeast of Lubbock, so going to Pampa wasn't a big adjustment, but beyond West Texas was a different world for Smith. Smith recalls fondly that "he was a farm boy" who Jack educated in the differences of culture in the United States and beyond, such as eating fresh oysters in the New England area of Cabot's home-base, Boston.

was impressed with the company and Jack McCrery, who he would be working under. Smith stated, "Having the opportunity to work with an engineer from MIT was the ultimate."

Smith worked in Pampa until 1979 and was with Cabot until 1989. Cabot's office in Pampa had a small group of employees, and they encouraged a familyoriented atmosphere in getting their employees and their families connected with one another. It was challenging for employees to be involved in community things because the company did global business and would detail their employees to various places, usually other countries, for several weeks or sometimes even months.

It was through this working atmosphere that Smith said he and his wife, Pat, got to know the McCrery's on a personal level. After leaving Pampa, the Smiths somewhat stayed in touch with the McCrerys but in 1987 the Smiths relocated to Amarillo. This is when the two couples really reconnected again.

While the Smiths were developing a relationship with the McCrerys, they were also learning about Christian Lubbock University. Whenever their preacher would be gone in Pampa, a visiting preacher would be sent from LCU. The Smiths have three boys and their middle son attended LCU for a year. When Pat's parents, Vernon and Katharyne Pylant, passed away, the Smiths decided to establish a scholarship in their name. Over the years, their love for LCU has grown, and they continue to support the university through different endeavors.

Diabetes to be topic of upcoming seminar

AMARILLO — More than 10.3 percent of Texans 18 years and older have been diagnosed with diabetes, slightly above the national average of 9 percent. But the number of senior Texans (65 years and above) is more than double that at 23.2 percent, a Texas AgriLife Extension Service agent said.

"With diabetes affecting such a high number of seniors, it's important they be made aware of the community resources available," said Sue Church, AgriLife Extension family and consumer sciences agent for Potter County.

Kay Lackey, program director for the Diabetes Center at Northwest Texas Healthcare System, will share information about local and state services and organizations for individuals with diabetes during the Senior Seminar on Nov. 13.

The seminar, entitled "Take Action Now: Diabetes Care, Treatment and Services," will begin at 11 a.m. at the Amarillo Senior Citizens Center, 1217 S. Tyler, Room 115. Other topics Lackey will address include prescription assistance programs and new care and treatment options.

The Senior Seminars are open to the public free of charge. For more information, contact the AgriLife Extension office in Potter County at 373-0713.

Door prizes will be donated by Scott's Flowers and the Potter Coalition on Aging.
