$2,300 Fund Goal Of Red Cross Campaign Which Opened Today

Republicans To Try To Amend New Deal Laws

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Republicans in the 1939 Congress, it appeared today, will concentrate on trying to modify a half dozen New Deal laws rather than advancing many new proposals of their own.

Republicans To Try To Amend New Deal Laws

The augmented minority, probably aided by anti-administration Democrats, is expected to center its amendment campaign on the Wagner labor act and the crop control program.

Republicans To Try To Amend New Deal Laws

Various opposition members also have expressed a desire to revise the social security, wage-hour, tax and neutrality legislation. Although administration forces may agree to some minor changes, they are certain to fight any demands for general rewriting of these statutes.

Republicans To Try To Amend New Deal Laws

The Labor Relations Board already has insisted that no revision of the Wagner act is necessary. Business men, on the other hand, generally have contended the law is one-sided in favor of labor.

Republicans To Try To Amend New Deal Laws

Administration leaders strategically hold the upper hand on this and other issues, because the President could veto any amendments of which he disapproved and two-thirds majority then would be necessary to enact them.

Republicans To Try To Amend New Deal Laws

Suggestions for changes in the farm law have been numerous, and several undoubtedly will be submitted to the next Congress.

Suitcase And Owner Held In City Jail

A man, arrested by Traffic Officer George Pope yesterday afternoon, is being held in city jail for investigation when he was unable to explain the contents of a suitcase found in his possession, officers reported today.

Suitcase And Owner Held In City Jail

The man said the clothing, mostly expensive women's dresses and other garments, belonged to his estranged wife but names on labels on some of the garments were not those of the man or his estranged wife, officers reported.

Suitcase And Owner Held In City Jail

Anyone having lost articles of clothing are asked to call at the police station and describe them to officers.

Red Cross flags hoisted on staffs at each of the four corners of Albert Square this morning signaled the opening of the 1938 roll call of the Red Cross in Pampa, as the first group of workers started their solicitation at 9 o'clock.

Goal of the campaign is 1,350 members and an income goal of $2,300. The drive will continue through Thanksgiving day, under the direction of Rev. Robert Boshen, roll call chairman.

Miss Dorothy Maiken, stenographer, in the office of the Adobe Walls Area council of the Boy Scouts of America, has been designated to receive money and reports submitted by campaign workers. Reports are to be made daily. The Boy Scout office is located next door to the BCD committee room, from which supplies to workers were issued this morning by Mrs. W. H. Davis, secretary of the Pampa chapter of the Red Cross, and by Rev. Robert Boshen.

Japs Reject British And U. S. Protests

Yanatzte River Will Be Closed To All But Jap Vessels

TOKYO, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Japanese government today rejected the protests of the United States, Great Britain and France against the closing of the Yanatzte River to all but Japanese vessels.

In separate notes handed to ambassadors of the three powers, the government declared military operations still made navigation of the Yanatzte dangerous and for that reason foreign vessels must be barred.

A foreign office statement summarizing the notes said: Although Japan has no intention of deliberately hampering commerce and navigation of third powers in the Yanatzte, the Japanese government holds the view that the time has not yet arrived to warrant a general opening.

The summary listed five reasons for Japan's refusal to open the river:

1—The blockade at Kiangyin, 80 miles up the Yanatzte from Shanghai, is still in effect.

2—Large-scale military operations are in progress in the Hankow area.

3—Continued presence of Chinese guerrillas along the river.

4—Continued mining of the river by the Chinese.

5—Some time will be required before the river is cleared of mines. The three powers delivered their representations to Japan November 7, protesting that their vessels were being barred from the Yanatzte while Japanese vessels were allowed to pass.

Borger Clubmen Want To Play 'Pros' Of Pampa

Football fans of the Panhandle may see a "professional" game this fall. Arrangements are being made for a battle between the civic clubs of Borger and Phillips who want to combine and play the civic clubs of Pampa.

The game was tentatively arranged Saturday afternoon when clubmen from Pampa, Borger, Phillips, Pando, Sanford and Spearman gathered north of the Canadian river for a barbecue.

Borger-Phillips issued the challenge to President Frank Culbertson, Odus Mitchell, and J. B. Massa of the Pampa clubs who were guests at the barbecue.

"The four of us will take you on but we won't talk for the rest of the gang," replied the Pampans and Borger clubmen announced that they would personally visit each of the Pampa clubs this week and formally issue the challenge.

So, the Rotary club will be visited on Wednesday, the Lions club on Thursday and the Kiwanis club on Friday by Borger and Phillips leaders and the final plans will probably be arranged during those meetings.

Proceeds from the game, to be played at a site yet to be selected, will be divided among the clubs for whatever worthwhile enterprise they desire to sponsor.

Local civic club presidents are now looking over their membership lists in an effort to pick a roster for the big game.

French Socialists Fight New Program

PARIS, Nov. 14 (AP)—The powerful Socialist and Communist parties declared war today on Finance Minister Paul Reynaud's financial and economic program, which they said favored capital at the expense of labor.

The official newspapers of both parties called for a "fight to the finish" against the Daladier government and declared the general confederation of labor, with 5,000,000 members, would join them.

Reynaud's program, embodied in 32 decree laws, was ordered promulgated in today's official Journal. Among other things it abolished in effect the 40-hour work week and increased the price of sugar, tobacco, bus and subway fares, and increased income taxes.

The finance minister announced two additional decrees would be published Tuesday, one requiring foreign merchants doing business in France to obtain a special license and the other permitting groups of public employes and semi-public organizations to organize cooperatives for wholesale purchases of household necessities.

"It is not my desire to retain the high office to which I have been elevated if my opponent can establish that he is in fact chosen, but I have the right to insist that the issue be decided by an investigation before the body established to decide the controversy."

Lewis Flays Oppression Of Jews At Convention

100 Jews In Berlin Fined $60,000 Each

(By The Associated Press)
German Jewry, in face of violence and anti-semitic decrees since Jewish youth killed a German diplomat in Paris last week, wondered today in fear and desperation what would be its fate.

A special bill of up to $60,000 each has been levied on about 100 of Berlin's wealthiest Jews in addition to the fine of 400,000 marks to be exacted from all Germany's Jews. Jews have been forbidden to own or direct businesses or to attend public entertainments and thousands who have escaped arrest have been driven into hiding.

The assassination provoked the Thursday demonstrations, and rising resentment inspired government decrees compelling Jews to sell their shops and stores by Jan. 1 and barring them from retail, mail order, commission and handicraft businesses.

Male Jews were arrested in general raids throughout Germany but today the arrest period apparently had ended. Many who had been jailed were released, if they were over 30.

Others who had escaped arrest over fear emerged cautiously from places of hiding. Friends advised them to keep out of sight for a few days more.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels in a speech Sunday gave an indication there would be further action.

The Jewish problem would be solved very shortly, he told 500 social workers at a barbeque and beef stew dinner for the winter relief fund, "in a manner satisfactory to the nation's sense of what is right and just. The people will do so. And we are only executors of their will."

Labor Leader Robert Ley told a similar gathering at Koblenz that "our methods may be rough, but they are thorough. We have been

Licenses May Be Renewed In Advance

Officers of the Texas Highway patrol have announced that license examiners may issue renewals of chauffeurs' licenses three weeks before old licenses expire.

This issuance is for the convenience of drivers in order that chauffeurs may not be delayed after April 1, 1939, when licenses now in effect, expire.

The new ruling enables the driver to continue operating without an invalid chauffeur's license and the new license begins the day of the expiration of the old.

Last year, a thousand chauffeur's licenses were issued in Gray county alone, this county having the largest percentage of such licenses issued of any in the territory served by J. L. Pingenot Jr. and W. C. Wilkinson, who are stations at Shamrock.

Parties At Work On Indiana Vote Puzzle

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Republicans and Democrats marshaled respective forces today in Indiana's jigsaw puzzle political scramble—the G. O. P. seeking to extend its comeback by calling for recounts in at least six counties and the cohorts of the roster planning measures to protect slim margins of victory in the U. S. senate and some state races.

Senator Frederick Van Nuys, who on the basis of unofficial tabulation leads Raymond E. Willis, his Republican opponent, by only 5,922 votes, said, in part, in a prepared statement:

"It is not my desire to retain the high office to which I have been elevated if my opponent can establish that he is in fact chosen, but I have the right to insist that the issue be decided by an investigation before the body established to decide the controversy."

An 11-year-old boy who was missed, frate owners telephoned police and a few minutes later Officers W. C. Dillman and George Pope found the boy.

He was taken to the police station and later given in to the custody of his father, who told officers he would pay for the damage.

The boy said he was not the only one throwing ice picks at the car tires but officers have not apprehended anyone else.

Arrest In Kidnaping Of West Texas Co-ed Promised By Sheriff

AMARILLO, Nov. 14 (AP)—Sheriff Bob Barnett of Randall county said today he had information which he believed would lead to the identity of a man wanted in connection with the asserted abduction of a West Texas State College co-ed Saturday night.

The co-ed, Thelma Claunch, a sophomore from Santa Rosa, N. M., is still under the care of a physician and has been unable to give officers all the details of the incident.

She told officers she was forced to ride in a car with a man who drove about eight miles into the country. The student said she escaped by leaping from the car and climbing a fence. She was skinned and bruised.

Sheriff Barnett said he believed the case would be cleared within a few days.

Maverick Tells Demos Election Lesson Needed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Representative Maury Maverick, who was defeated in the Texas Democratic primary, told reporters after a White House visit today that the Democrats received in last week's election would do them "a lot of good."

He added that it was "a little beating" and that "the reason most of us got defeated was that we have got crooked Democratic political machines over the country."

Maverick said he had no intention of affiliating with any third party movement and he believed the best chances for continuing liberal government lay with the Democratic party.

He said, too, he had no desire for a government appointment.

"I'm going back home and get something in my head," he asserted. "I figure I'll come back."

"I'll stick it out in San Antonio. They can't run me out just because I was defeated. Better Congressmen than I have been beaten."

Johanna Hofmann Says Former FBI Head 'Framed' Her

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Johanna ("Jenni") Hofmann, 26, alleged German spy, testified at her trial for espionage today that a former FBI agent "framed" her into silence before a grand jury's inquiry into Nazi espionage plots in this country.

The witness, speaking through an interpreter, said Leon G. Turrou, former head of the FBI spy investigation, planned to get her to "keep her mouth shut" before the federal grand jury.

She said that last May 2, shortly after her arrest, Turrou gave her a $100 bill and told her the money came from Dr. Ignatz T. Griebel, an indicted fugitive.

She said Turrou explained to her that Dr. Griebel wanted her to remain silent when she went before the grand jury, and that she could regard the money as "a tip." She repeatedly charged that Turrou "lied to her" after she was taken into custody.

Labor Leader Also Assails Unionism Foes

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14 (AP)—John L. Lewis, militant leader of the C. I. O., greeted with thunderous cheering and the fanfare of bands, opened the first constitutional convention of C. I. O. today with a slashing attack on foes of industrial unionism and European oppression of the Jews.

For several minutes the 500 delegates and C. I. O. followers massed in the convention hall stood and cheered the C. I. O. chairman, A. J. Brown, who said "Happy Days Are Here Again" and the stern visage of C. I. O. leader finally grinned and waved his enthusiastic followers to the seats.

In his opening address, broken frequently by tumultuous applause, Lewis said the C. I. O., in its first step toward the formation of a permanent organization to rival the American Federation of Labor, offered "a program of rational procedure and orderly conduct."

Striking out at criticism and slander which he said had been leveled against his industrial union movement, Lewis said the CIO stood for "the protection of the privileges of all Americans whether they be gentiles or Jews, or any creed or religion, or of any school of thought that maintains respect for our institutions."

"I say to my fellow countrymen," he shouted, "to the rich and influential Jews, and to the rich and influential gentiles, as well, you can't strike down in this country a powerful movement of the workers like the C. I. O. which stands for equality and for the protection of any group, minority or religion that exists in our country."

Lewis wove into his address a bitter attack on the Nazi regime in Germany, characterized the oppression of the Jews as "appalling" and declared "20,000,000 C. I. O. members and their dependents" would support the government if the American State Department would protest "these atrocities on the Jewish people."

Lewis praised his report with a plea for "a fair judgment" of the aims and methods of CIO, adding that CIO has brought body and substance to the idea of progressive democracy and economic stability.

Reviewing the development of CIO in organizing workers in such industries as steel, auto, textiles, lumber, rubber, and oil, Lewis said the membership had grown to 4,637,877 as compared to about 1,600,000 in 1935. After his report was prepared, CIO lost 250,000 in the garment industry when the International Ladies Garment Union merged with the CIO.

States Asked To File Objections In Green Case

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Supreme Court directed today that states taking exception to today's master's finding that Massachusetts was the legal domicile for tax purposes of Colonel Edward H. R. Green when he died in 1936 should file their objections by December 12.

Briefs are to be presented by January 15 and oral argument will be held February 6.

Col Green left a net estate of $36,137,335. The federal government collected $17,520,987 in taxes.

Texas, contending Green was a resident there, brought suit against Massachusetts, New York and Florida to assure collection of $4,665,057 in inheritance taxes. Massachusetts sought to levy $4,475,000; New York, $5,910,301, and Florida, $4,665,857.

Should the recommendations of Special Master John E. Flannery be accepted ultimately by the high tribunal, Massachusetts alone will be permitted to exact the state inheritance levy.

Girls Smoke Pipes At Fashionable Newcomb College

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14 (AP)—One Newcomb college girl bought a pipe in a drug store "just for fun" and now it's serious.

Jane Irwin of Mount Pleasant, Tenn., bought the pipe and some tobacco, took them back to her room, and had a tryout. Soon the pipe passed from hand to hand.

In no time the drug store sold out to the college girls its entire supply of tobacco and pipes, round, square, straight and droopy.

It was estimated today that every girl on the second floor of the Josephine Louise house had her own pipe. Some of the sorority rooms were borrowing pipes for tryouts.

After some nearly disastrous results the girls decided not to inhale.

Protest Cites Nazi Attacks On British Leaders

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—A strong British protest to Germany against recent Nazi press attacks on British political leaders in connection with the killing of a German diplomat in Paris was disclosed in the House of Commons today by Prime Minister Chamberlain.

Der Angriff, organ of Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, said Friday "it is no coincidence" that the 17-year-old Polish-German Jew who killed Ernst vom Rath in Paris "took the same line" as Winston Churchill, Anthony Eden and Alfred Duff Cooper.

Eden resigned as foreign secretary and Duff Cooper as first lord of the admiralty because they disagreed with Chamberlain's foreign policies, of which Churchill also has been an outspoken critic.

Chamberlain spoke in reply to questions on the wave of anti-Jewish violence and anti-Jewish decrees in Germany following the Paris shooting. He said no one in Britain would seek to defend the killing of

MODERN MENUS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Service Staff Writer.

Have you wondered what radio people eat? Three of them tell me they often enjoy this joint dinner. So let's dial in.

Benay Venuta likes this quick and simple soup.

Onion Pea Soup.
(Serves 4 to 6.)
Two onions, thinly sliced (raw), 2 tablespoons butter, melted, 1 10-oz. can bouillon (condensed), 1 10-oz. can pea soup (condensed), 1 cup milk, ¼ teaspoon salt, small dash of pepper.

Saute onions in butter until golden. Combine milk and soups, add to onion and simmer over very low for about 10 minutes. Season and serve with a garnish of coarsely minced parsley. Serve with Melba toast.

Sea Food Casserole.
(Serves 4 to 6.)
Ben Gratter, the announcer, favors this Friday dish:
One 18-oz. loaf bread, 2/3 cup butter, salt and cayenne, ½ lb. shrimp (raw), ½ lb. scallops (raw), ½ lemon, 1 small onion, grated, ¾ cup thin cream, paprika.

Trim crusts from bread and cut loaf into ¼ inch cubes. Saute in butter until crisp and golden brown. Season with salt and cayenne. Cover bottom of casserole with layer of bread cubes, place a layer of sea food on top, sprinkle with salt and cayenne, few drops of lemon juice until all cubes and sea food are used, finishing with cubes. Pour cream over all, sprinkle with paprika. Bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees F.) for about 35 minutes.

Even an orchestra leader stirs up a dessert. This is Sammy Kaye's idea:

Swing Pudding.
(Serves 4 to 6.)
Two cups boiled rice, 1 cup shredded pineapple, 2 dozen marshmallows (cut up), 1 cup chopped apples, ½ cup granulated sugar, few grains salt, 1 cup cream (whipped).
Mix all ingredients but cream. Whip cream fold into mixture. Chill and serve in sherbet glasses. Garnish with few shreds of cocoanut sprinkled over top.

U. S. Control Castigated By State Banker

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS

HOUSTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—HARRY A. Brinkman of Chicago, president of the State Bank division of the American Bankers' Association, today warned of a growing trend toward federal centralization of banking in his annual address, which opened the first preliminary meeting of the national convention.

"In public life," he said, "there are patriotic and well meaning citizens who believe the future well being of the country demands that all financial institutions be brought under one control, regardless of state lines.

"With these misguided individuals, I can not agree," he thundered. "It is clear that if the efforts of these gentlemen to secure control of the banks are successful, state sovereignty, as we know it, will receive an irreparable blow and we shall be witnessing a complete change from the conception which our forefathers had of the United States of America."

Referring to the general business situation, Brinkman asserted "it is the duty of bankers at every opportunity to call to the attention of the public the dangerous road which our country is traveling.

"Politicians have no place in an organization of this kind," he said. "Proper economics have. It has been popular to say that the bankers did not warn the nation of the approaching crash before 1929. Let it not be said in 1948 that the bankers, in this present decade, did not warn of the danger of reckless spending of borrowed money."

As an example of what he termed, "growing propaganda for further centralization of all banking in the federal government," the state division president cited the proposal that banks be required to maintain 100 per cent reserves against inter-bank deposits.

"It is obvious if non-member state banks were required to carry their reserves with the federal reserve bank, and the city correspondents could hold inter-bank deposits only if they carried 100 per cent reserves against them, such business would have to be handled on a service charge basis if handled at all," he explained.

"The net result would be, to all intents and purposes, compulsory membership in the federal reserve system," Brinkman concluded.

Many of the bankers predicted Republican gains in last week's election would bolster confidence of the nation's business men.

Take Calotabs to Help Nature Throw off Colds

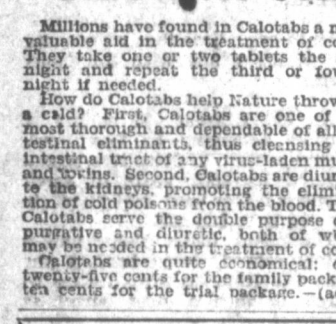

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal stimulants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of any virus-laden mucus and toxins. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are quite essential. Only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (adv.)

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—The stock market encountered profit taking reverses today and, despite individual strength among specialists, recent industrial leaders retreated fractions to 2 or more points.

An opening dip put the ticker tape behind for a brief interval. Slow dealings accompanied a subsequent come-back and the pace again quickened as further offerings hit the market. Liquidation dried up at the last. Transfers approximated 1,600,000 shares.

Steady and strong, main elements of the past week, were among the first to give ground.

tributing, sustaining, supporting, life, patron, at $1, $5, $10, $25, $50, and $100, respectively, with firm memberships being any amount contributing by a firm as a whole.

All firm memberships go directly to the local chapter, none of the amounts being sent to national headquarters. On memberships between $1 and $25, 50 cents of each membership is sent to national headquarters, the balance remaining in the fund of the local chapter.

In explanation of sums sent to national headquarters, Rev. Boshen said that communities received many times over the benefit of such sums and cited the floods in West Texas recently as an example of a disaster in which the value of the Red Cross service was many times the amount contributed by the West Texas counties affected. He gave the total amount contributed by the Red Cross as $50,000; roll call $7,000 from these counties.

Mrs. W. H. Davis asked that anyone soliciting funds in the local campaign secure an official workers card, to guard against any possibility of fraudulent collections, as occurred in other cities. She also asked that workers return any surplus supplies they had remaining when the campaign was concluded.

Roll Calls Contrasted

The roll call chairman contrasted the figures of last year's roll call with that of 1938, saying that in 1937 thirteen men obtained 526 memberships from the business and industrial district. This year there are 45 men workers.

C. E. McGrew is in charge of industrial plant solicitation. Last year 458 memberships were obtained from industrial plants, and 106 from the schools, and 169 from LeFors.

There were 11 women workers in the 1937 campaign. They secured 65 members. This year there are 35 women workers.

The radio song shop accounted for 50 memberships last year. Rev. Boshen said. The same plan is to be used this year and is expected to net even more memberships. Under the plan November 23 radio listeners pay to have certain requested songs broadcast, the money going into Red Cross memberships.

Workers who started promptly at 9 o'clock this morning were John I. Bradley, Jesse Wynne, Charlie Thut, C. E. McGrew, Mrs. L. C. Neely, Mrs. Charles Ward, Mrs. E. V. Ward, Mrs. Will Moore, Mrs. M. M. Andrews, Mrs. Loshier, and W. A. Bratton.

Japan still has not answered the note of Secretary of State Cordell Hull, October 6 demanding continuation of the "open door" in China.

Meanwhile, Japan and Germany were preparing to conclude a cultural pact designed to bring the people of the two nations closer together.

The plan, which still is pending before the privy council, provides for mutual recognition of the respective "racial principles" of the two countries and mutual cooperation in sports, literature, the arts, music, plays and radio.

Two Days A Week Shutdowns Due To Continue Through December

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—Strong indications that the Railroad Commission probably will continue two-day a week oil production shutdowns through December were given here today. A hearing to obtain testimony on which to base the December production order will be held Friday.

Purchasers of East Texas crude notified the commission they would cooperate in efforts to furnish outlets for the approximately 500 wells without connections provided the five-day producing week is maintained.

Ernest O. Thompson, commission chairman, said it appeared a five-day week throughout the state would continue sufficient in December to supply purchasers with more oil than their current needs. He pointed out, however, that a decision would not be reached until after Friday's hearing.

Typical of the replies received by Thompson is his urging that unconnected wells be given pipe line outlets were the following:

Sun Oil Company—"Our connections in East Texas on a six-day producing basis are approximately 52,000 barrels daily while the rated capacity of our line out of East Texas is around 49,000. With production of four connections limited to five days, however, we have space in our line for additional connections and furthermore are in need of additional East Texas crude."

Standard—"We now are purchasing approximately seven thousand barrels of East Texas crude daily in excess of our demand. However, in order to cooperate, we will purchase the allowable from 15 additional wells in the district understanding we can handle this only so long as production is based on a five-day week."

Thompson said the reason for the East Texas situation was that several independent refineries now are filling their needs either with contracted hot oil or cheaper oil from the Schuler, Ark., field.

Cereal Firm Claim Denied By High Court

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today the National Biscuit company was not entitled to the exclusive use of the words "shredded wheat" and did not have the exclusive right to sell breakfast cereal in the pillow-shaped form employed.

Justices McReynolds and Butler dissented. They contended that "it seems sufficiently clear that the Kellogg company is fraudulently seeking to appropriate to itself the benefits of a good-will built up at great cost by the National Biscuit company and its predecessors."

This was the only decision delivered by the court. It postponed at least until next Monday action on litigation involving the authority of the National Labor Relations Board and the right of states to ratify the child labor constitutional amendments.

The court refused to reconsider its recent action declining to review Thomas J. Mooney's conviction of complicity in the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing in San Francisco.

Justices Black and Reed did not participate.

The Shredded Wheat suit was brought in the federal court Delaware by the National Biscuit Company against Kellogg company to enjoin alleged unfair competition in the manufacture and sale of the breakfast food company commonly known as Shredded Wheat.

Litigation awaiting decision a week from today or on a subsequent Monday involves:

1. The right of the National Labor Relations Board to regulate a company which operates in only one state but which sells its products to other concerns engaging in interstate commerce. The controversy directly affected the Consolidated Edison company of New York, Inc.
2. Whether Kansas and Kentucky may ratify the proposed constitutional amendment to abolish child labor after once rejecting it.
3. Whether a patent holder may extend his control over the product after manufacture and sale. Patents owned by the Western Electric company and others for use in making talking pictures were in dispute.

Adolf And Autos

Adolf Hitler is a bum auto salesman. German engineers with a great mechanical tradition behind them have developed an automobile which it is hoped may be sold on the installment plan to Germans for less than $400.

But the police are doing much to cure whatever automotive appetite there may be in the residents of Berlin. Drivers of automobiles who violate minor laws are subject to cruel discipline.

The offender is not arrested. But his tires are deflated and he is left to his own devices and the mercy of the gathering crowd to get his tires pumped up again. While pumping the tire up or changing it, he must dodge traffic in order to save his life and limbs.

The joys of motoring are manifold, but pumping up tires on Adolf Hitler Platz while a crowd of jeering patriots look on is not one of them. Adolf's auto boom will die on his doorstep if motorists have this sort of regulation to look forward to.

Two Much-Abused Words

Those pleasant little Martians that came jumping out of a 40-year-old book and began shooting rainbows at mosquitos in the Jersey meadows one fine Sunday night have accomplished one thing for the general good.

The public caught by both ears in the invasion suddenly realizes that "flash" and "bulletin" have been badly shop-worn.

News simulation is an old trick, antedating the radio as applied to hackneyed ideas grown jaded in service. Now the heads of the three largest broadcasting companies have met with Chairman McNinch of the Federal Communications Commission and agree the two words should be used with great discretion in broadcasts.

The public is entitled to more than that. Both words have earned a long rest and it is hoped they will again return to the dignity they once enjoyed.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER Pampa News Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Joe Kennedy-for-president-in-1940 movement suffered somewhat from the Munich settlement in Europe.

Kennedy is being made to bear some of the onus of his close association with Chamberlain, who is not a popular figure in Washington at the moment.

But certain top men at the State Department insist Kennedy did a first-class job reporting London developments during the crisis.

If Kennedy seemed always at Chamberlain's elbow, that was the best place to be, they argue, in a situation in which Chamberlain was certainly the key man.

Kennedy was sure England and France were going to war, and the best State Department judgment now is that he was right—up to the time Hitler agreed to a last-minute conference before marching.

Secretary Hull and his aides don't know just what was in the latter part of Chamberlain's speech to Parliament which was interrupted by the Hitler message. But they know enough to be convinced Chamberlain was about to say the next development would be war.

If that view is correct, it refutes the contention that it was "a frameup" between Hitler and Chamberlain, in which the latter never had any thought of fighting.

The semi-official Washington conception now is that Chamberlain was originally willing to sell the Czechs a long way down the river, suddenly became appalled at new and greater demands, and was ready at the end to promise war if Hitler marched. But in the meantime, until Kennedy gives fresh proof that he has not been taken into camp by Chamberlain or the Tory social set, the Kennedy-in-1940 boom has returned to the moth balls.

CO-OPERATIVE UTILITIES

Two billion dollars, the amount involved in the program to expand power facilities for national defense, is a lot of money. Nobody knows whether the utilities will actually spend that much. The administration is urging them on with an eye to business recovery as well as defense. Power experts think the utilities would have spent a billion on expansion in the next two years anyway.

One reason utilities executives are promising co-operation in the program, which offers low-rate RFC loans, is that otherwise the government might itself establish great power plants in the principal northeastern cities. Utilities want no more PWA subsidies for building public-owned power plants. And they realize that such a program for new publicly-owned plants to expand facilities might have easy sailing in Congress when hitched to obvious necessities of national defense.

At the same time, they hope their co-operation will please Mr. Roosevelt and serve as a trading point in other negotiations with the government.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

HOOPER'S IDEA OF FREE ENTERPRISE. When I listen to Herbert Hoover make a political speech and discuss free enterprise, I am amazed at his contradictions and inconsistencies. He advocates the return to free enterprise, yet, at the same time, he advocates many customs and laws that absolutely make free enterprise impossible.

In spite of the fact that nearly 1000 leading economists in the United States petitioned Mr. Hoover in 1932, urging him to veto the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Bill, he proceeded to sign it. This discriminatory law that compelled those farmers who export their products to sell abroad for less than they would if we did not have this artificial interference with imports, certainly is the very antithesis of the free enterprise system that Hoover proclaims he so cherishes.

He advocates a monopoly in labor by advocating collective bargaining. Yet he fails to explain how collective bargaining can fit in with free enterprise. It is the very antithesis of free enterprise. He says that "some got too much of the productive pie for the service they performed. This was, in a way corrected through inheritance taxes." But he does not explain how he can take inheritance taxes from the man who gets too much, and at the same time not take it from the man who produced what he gets. He is perfectly willing to stifle and cripple business and make it impossible for a man with vision to train his successors, simply to take from those who get what they do not deserve. This is a strange form of justice to stifle and interfere with free enterprise in order to get those who, by chicanery and abuse of bank credit, get wealth, they do not produce.

He was in office when the bankers were misusing bank credit and he made no move to correct this most serious interference with free enterprise. Instead of doing this, he attempted to buy up commodities that were produced out of proportion with monopoly produced goods, due almost entirely to collective bargaining which he advocates, and the misuse of bank credit and the bad taxing system which he also advocates.

It is hard to determine whether Hoover is a moral economist and does not understand his inconsistencies of whether he is a demagogue and trying to outdo Roosevelt in his popular appeal to the crowd. It looks as if he were trying to build up a record to be a candidate again.

Hoover is so egotistic and satisfied with his own wisdom and foresight that he uses generalities and will not explain how he proposes to work out the free enterprise which he claims to advocate.

Hoover could have a great opportunity to be of service to humanity by really advocating free enterprise, if only he would do it. Instead of that, he refuses the people who have confidence in him because of the great honor and trust that was imposed on him when he was President.

When the Republican leaders, like Hoover, continue to advocate generalities and popular moves without explaining them, and have no real program, the Republican party is indeed bankrupt, as far as leadership is concerned.

The Nation's Press

THE COMMUNISTS COME TO TOWN (Chicago Tribune)

The communist party in Chicago has grown to be a big boy. A few years ago a national convention of the party could have been held in any one of the small assembly halls and few people would have known that the comrades were in town. All is different now.

Earl Browder, general secretary and Stalin representative in America, comes to Chicago Friday night. The comrades have hired the Stadium for the meeting at which he will speak. The stadium is the largest indoor assembly place in town. It only five or six thousand people gathered there they would rattle around. No politician would undertake to have a meeting in the stadium unless they were assured they could fill the place.

Mr. Browder is a good politician. He has to be, even with Mr. Roosevelt's encouragement, to carry the red banner here while Stalin is murdering all the old Bolsheviks in Russia.

Mr. Browder keeps the Stalin banner back of the Roosevelt banner. He does not turn the Moscow standard but he keeps it in the background. If there is a full display of communist decorations in the Stadium there will be pictures of Mr. Stalin and of Mr. Roosevelt. There may also be pictures of Jefferson and Lincoln. Mr. Browder gave Jefferson and Lincoln to the Bolsheviks which Stalin purged by killing at the Founding Fathers of the soviet state. He added Stalin to the American gallery. It will be interesting to see whether the communists put their punches Friday night or display themselves in the positions they have taken.

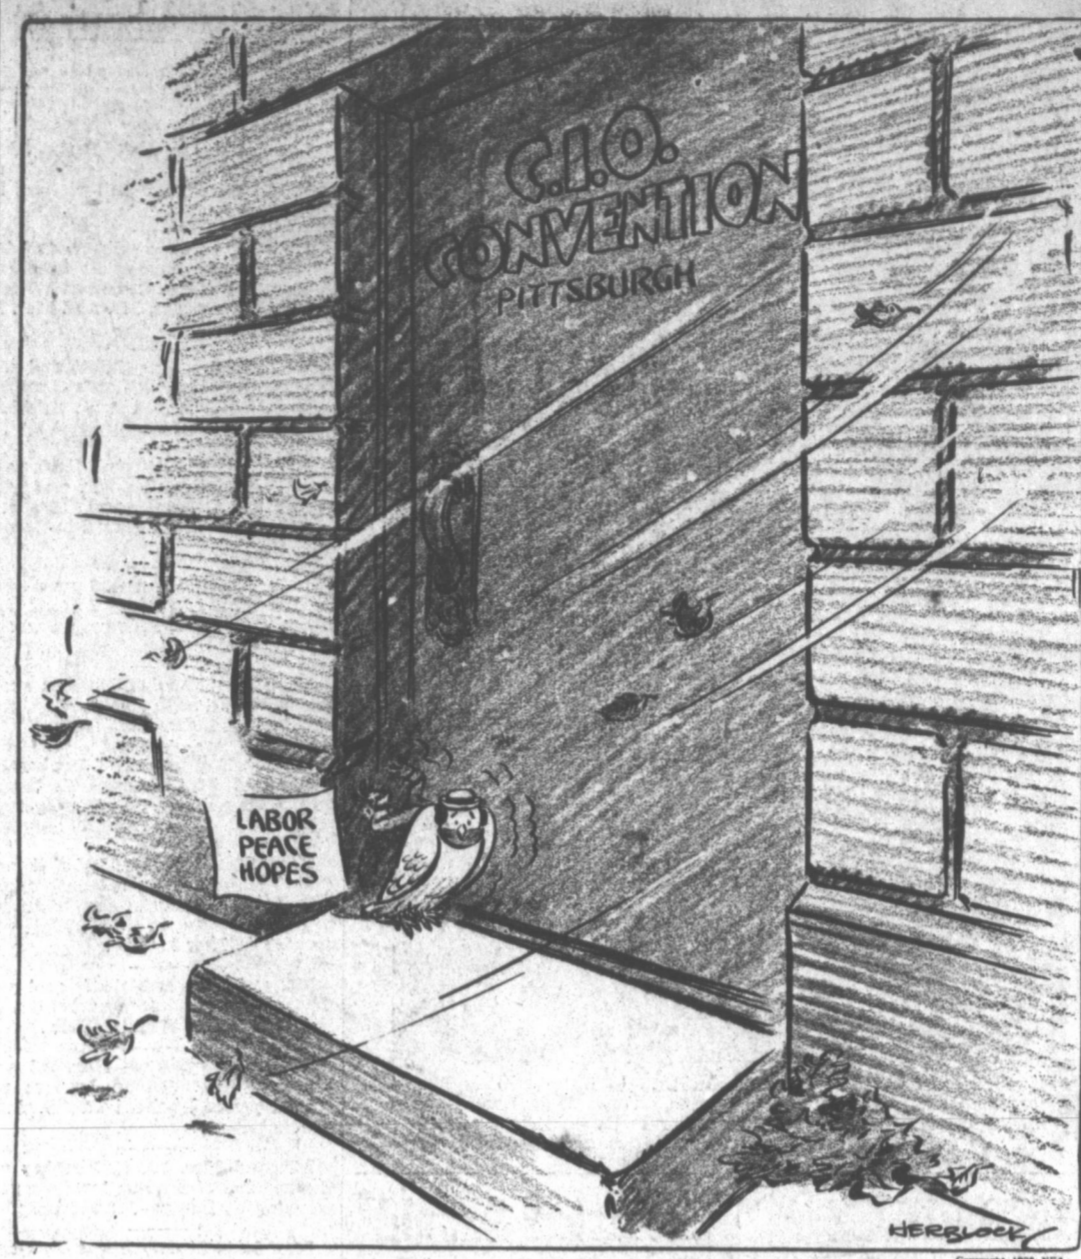

They are for the New Deal. Scott Lucas, the Illinois Democratic candidate for the United States senate, has tried to get them off his coat, but they won't get off. They are on Mr. Roosevelt's coat. He gets mad only at the people who see what they see. Mr. Browder has just returned from Europe. He made a speech last week in New York. He said that the duty of the American democracy was to ally itself with the liberal forces, principally the liberal democracy in Russia, to fight the consequences of the Munich agreement, to fight Germany, Japan, and Italy, to overthrow Chamberlain and Dollfus, to save Spain, to save China, and to protect Russia. Under Roosevelt and Stalin world democracy could win its battle.

When Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Hull, and other federal officials issue warnings to Germany, Italy, and Japan, the communists applaud. That is their foreign policy. They demand the repeal of the neutrality laws and the giving of active aid in Spain and China. That is in the line of foreign policy. Mr. Browder will probably speak at length here on this subject. Their domestic policy is represented for the present by the New Deal. They favor the New Deal because it is a direct attack upon private enterprise and private capital. It produces the conditions favorable to revolution. It creates the necessary destination and disorder.

The communist party relies upon the New Deal to increase the number of unemployed, to obstruct private industry from making a recovery, to absorb more of the capital resources of the country to spread state socialism, and promote industrial strife. It relies upon the New Deal to create class consciousness and incite class antagonism. The communists claim the Republicans all together and each individually. They recognize the right now. Mr. Browder views them Mr. Stalin and the New Deal candidates as their friends.

Mr. Browder will explain all this to his audience Friday night. The Chicago comrades believe they can fill the Stadium and overflow into the streets if their New Deal allies will help them out they should have no trouble. The Democratic candidate should be on the platform. They are out right now. Mr. Browder views them Mr. Stalin they give him Mr. Roosevelt.

ANY CHANCE TO PICK UP A FEW CRUMBS THERE?

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Miliza Korjus is going to stay in paradise. She thinks Hollywood is her paradise.

When the bosses saw Miliza in "The Great Waltz," they cheered. When they heard Miliza's great golden voice, they did a snake dance. They began counting. A producer is never so happy as when he is counting. Miliza will stay in Paradise...

And let me say right here that Hollywood will be more like Paradise because she is here. Miliza Korjus (Metro wants you to pronounce it Gor-geous) is different.

She is different because she is a glamorous girl—and she hasn't any glamour. She may have it on the screen, which is all to the good.

Off-screen, she's got something better. It's vitality, good health, a big cheerfulness and a big, girlish laughter. She doesn't look as if she'll swoon if you breathe too hard. She doesn't sink, and she doesn't pose. She's pretty, but she's no orchid. More the sunflower type. Big and blonde.

Miliza is a big girl still. She was much bigger when she arrived two years ago. How much she lost thru diet and exercise is not for us to know. I have been told it was about 80 pounds, which seems incredible. I have been told it is only 30 pounds, which is still pretty good.

Miliza will "give" about that diet. But DON'T try it. She was under medical supervision the whole time.

"Ya, I come here and I am just like in prison," she said. "I take juice, and water, and you know WHAT? VEGETABLES! . . ."

"And meat. Raw hamburger, one-half pound a day, on tomato slice. Next week, raw calf's liver, ground up with raw carrot to kill taste. I tell you, any American woman who take it this way will find she stay young, beautiful, not nervous or anemic. One-quarter pound. For single or one-half pound because singer need power. It is AWFUL, but you must imagine it is 'chuck' cut, eat very fast as can. It looks like 'chuck' but pudding, ya!"

For dinner she has lamb chop or steak, but cooked. Once a week, on Sunday, she is permitted to eat anything she pleases. (By Sunday evening she isn't the least bit hungry.) Invariably, rising at 6, she must retire by 9 p. m. She is used to that, too, by now. Three hours daily, she sings. After lunch, she walks a half hour. Two hours daily she studies English. One hour she swims—in ocean and pool, good weather and bad. She sings while she swims—"people hear but they think it's radio some place."

One hour before retiring she has a phonograph concert — symphonies from her collection of 2,000 records. Near the ocean with her husband, Kuno Folsch, mathematician, astronomer and writer, and their 5-year-old daughter.

Fame on European concert stages brought her here. Swedish-Russian by descent, she was born in Warsaw.

She volunteered the information that Ferdinand Gravel is her favorite actor, but I had to ask about the favorite dish of a lady on a diet. "American Liberty pie," she exclaimed with ecstasy. "I get it at a hotel downtown. The recipe is secret. But it is white—with whipped cream and 'chuck' cut inside—and everything!"

People You Know

And speaking of hobbies, Irene Pooles, cashier at a local cafe, has one that is in a class by itself. She doesn't even know that it's a hobby, but it keeps her amused and on the lookout.

Since January she has been collecting feathers out of men's hats. No, little Mary, she does not run along the streets snatching feathers out of men's hats, nor does she make a pass for a man's chapeau as soon as he comes into the cafe. If the feather strikes her fancy, and if she feels that she will have any luck, she brings up the subject of her hat-feather collection which she shows to the customer. This collection is pinned on a white cloth back of the counter. The feathers are of all colors and you have no idea how many men go in for color in feathers for their hats. Miss Pooles first attempted to get feathers of all colors, the collection indicates. Some men don't like to part with their feathers.

Miss Pooles can tell that by not asking. She is very subtle about acquiring the feathers. So she keeps her collection small but select. . . . But at that if you don't mind a feather in your hat is likely to be a feather in Miss Pooles' exhibit.

HAZARDS IN THE HOME. It appears that the home is a particularly hazardous place for men. Figures announced by Dr. Louis I. Dublin show that men are the chief victims of fatal accidents in the home.

In the broad age group ranging from 15 to 64 years, the fatalities from accidents are about one and a half times as frequent among males as among females.

We find that deaths due to falls are about one-third more frequent among men. This may often result from the excessive venturesomeness of the male. Falls from roofs, ladders, porches and balconies are much more frequent among men. This suggests that the accidents occur while men are attempting to do things which they are not trained to perform.

Jews Ousted From Schools

BERLIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—Minister of Education Bernhard Rust today expelled Jewish students from all universities, technical schools and other institutions of higher learning in the latest move toward separation of Jews and Germans.

The Minister of Education telegraphed the rectors of all Jewish students immediately and not to permit any more to enter even for lectures which do not involve examination for degrees.

He said a decree embodying that order was being prepared and would be issued soon.

This means final elimination of Jews of all ages from the German school system. Lower grade pupils from six to 14 years old were taken from German schools in 1936 and put into Jewish private schools. Jewish professors had previously been ousted.

Since 1935 admittance to higher institutions had been on a quota based on the population of Jews in the various university districts. Also Jews already enrolled had been permitted to continue their studies.

Now these students are thrown out with no prospects of completing their education, since no purely Jewish universities exist in Germany.

Rust's order follows Saturday's decrees by Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering and Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels eliminating Jews from the nation's economic life, forbidding them to attend theaters and other public entertainments, and placing heavy fines on their wealth.

Special bills up to $60,000 each were presented to about 100 of the wealthiest Jews of Berlin, payable today to repair damage done to Jewish shops by angry crowds in a wave of violence last Thursday.

These bills were in addition to the 1,000,000,000 mark ($400,000,000) penalty decreed upon Jews in general for the slaying in Paris of Ernst Vom Rath, embassy secretary, by a Jewish youth who once lived in Germany.

We're still receiving mail on that "Best Salesman" and "Best Saleslady" idea. . . . For instance, in today's mail comes this letter all the way from New Orleans, La.:

"As requested in your column of recent date, allow me to come to the front and say that salesmanship is a feat, or accomplishment very few people fail to recognize. First, I want to commend you on your plan to gain public recognition for leading salesman and saleslady in your community. I think it is a very novel contest and one that is worthy of spirited competition.

"Traveling around the country as I do and being a fairly good judge of selling ability and initiative—it is needless to say what you have fostered there in Pampa caught my fancy the last day I was in your city. So for the local contest, let me nominate one of your own hometown boys who I regard as one possessing rare selling ability as well as a most pleasing personality. This same lad has attracted the attention of other salesman besides myself, and he is being considered right now for a post with one of the largest business concerns in the South, as an addition to their sales force.

"I regret to say that my acquaintance with this young man is so slight that I do not even know his last name. You, no doubt, will be able to ascertain just who I have in mind. I do know that everyone calls him 'Tiny,' although he stands six feet, some inches tall, has a small moustache and coal-black hair. He works behind a meat counter in a market place south of the tracks.

"I am sure that those whom he has waited upon will instantly recognize him by this description and second the nomination. He is most certainly a polished and attentive, as well as courteous, salesman. Sincerely yours, James P. Parker, New Orleans, La."

That's a very fine tribute. . . . I suspect that everyone has guessed by this time that the letter relates to Tiny Farha, who already has been nominated for the post of "best salesman" . . . The bars are still down, and here's hoping for more nominations in the next mail. . . . Today's letter puts Mr. Farha out in front.

The Capital Jigsaw

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—Travis county sheriff's deputies spend much of their time serving citations on state officials in the wide variety of law suits to which the state is party.

Deputy Sheriff Sam Rogers says he sometimes leaves the courthouse with so many citations to distribute in the numerous and scattered state offices that it looks like he has an "armful of cordwood."

He recalled one occasion when he had 58 citations for R. L. Daniel, chairman of the insurance commission. Daniel lets a secretary accept citations for him, but deputies must search for other state officials in person. That is quite a task because many officials are out of town much of the time.

So many cases by or against the state are filed in the three district courts here that litigants in non-state suits find it difficult to obtain speedy trials.

Gov. James V. Allred said the trouble necessitated by the required citation of officials could be rectified by the legislature. He suggested a law stipulating service is needed only on the attorney general. That would suffice, he said, since the attorney general represents the state in law suits.

Allred doubtless will step from the governor's office to the new South Texas federal judgeship Jan. 17 with mingled feelings of joy and sorrow but the fact he no longer will have to worry about job seekers' most certainly will be "on the joy side."

The chief executive said at a recent press conference the biggest handicap to government was that public officials had to spend so much of their time answering job applicants. He added he might advocate some action to reduce this evil in his final message to the legislature which will be delivered about Jan. 11.

An incoming governor, as Governor-elect W. Lee O'Daniel already has found out, doesn't have nearly as many jobs with which to reward the faithful as the average person may believe. All of the large commissions are overlapping, that is, only one-third of their members are appointed each two years. The jobs are handed out by the commission majority, not the governor.

The Livestock Sanitary Commission is the latest addition to the list of overlapping agencies. A law enacted at the last regular session of the legislature changed its status. Other overlapping bodies include such important ones as the Highway Commission, Board of Control, Pardon Board, Unemployment Compensation Commission, Insurance Commission, Liquor Control Board and Board of Education.

About the best story going around the capitol city is on Coach D. K. Ebb's of the University of Texas, who has had trouble bagging football victories in the tough Southwest conference.

The bald coach got a haircut in an Austin barber shop and then bought ten-cent cigars for every barber in the establishment. Pressed for an explanation of this generosity, he replied:

"Well, it's the first place I've been in some time that no one asked me what's wrong with the football team."

An old frontier 45 caliber six-shooter belonging to Rex Fowler, Austin captain of detectives, recently entered its 66th year of service. Fowler's father used it 34 years, then handed it to his son.

Monopoly In Radio Industry Probed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission began an inquiry today to determine whether monopolistic practices exist in the radio industry.

The commission called on the National Broadcasting Company to present its witness first—David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America; Lenox Lohr, president of NBC; Walter Sarnosch, noted conductor, and others.

Officials of the Columbia Broadcasting System and the Mutual Broadcasting System will appear later. Some persons predicted the inquiry might run far into next year.

The monopoly investigation, Chairman Frank McNinch said, is expected to "provide a comprehensive factual basis for the formulation of special regulations applicable to chain broadcasting and, possibly, to revision of the commission's regulations governing broadcasting generally."

Dallas Grid Team First To Win Title

By HAROLD V. RATTIFF, Associated Press Staff.

Sunday's (Dallas) district champion to be crowned in Texas schoolboy football, looked toward Mesquite Home of Fort Worth today as its opponent in the opening round of the state play-off.

Unless Poly, Masonic Home's city rival, starts an upset Friday night, the Masons will meet Sunset the week after Thanksgiving for bi-district honors. Poly, with two ties on its record, must win to remain in the race. The Masons can tie Poly and take the district 7 championship.

Following upsets all other districts will wait until next week to decide standard-bearers.

The Oil Belt determines division winners. San Angelo clashing with Sweetwater in the western section and Cisco meeting Breckenridge for the eastern title. The winners play next week for the district 3 pennant.

Thirty-nine games are on the week's schedule, 33 of them of conference import.

Nine teams remain undefeated in the state. They are: Gainesville, Tyler, Lufkin, Waco, Wichita Falls, Cisco, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, and Sunset. All but Gainesville, Tyler, Lufkin, and Waco have been tied, however.

Tyler further enhanced its record by taking out the defending champion Longview Lobos, 20-0, last week. It left Tyler with 204 points to 19 for the opposition in nine games, the best record in the state. Waco ranked second with 284 against 19 in eight games with Lufkin close behind with 262 to 20 in the same number of contests. Gainesville had 280 points to 21 for the opposition in nine games.

Livingston's defeat at the hands of Palestine, 14-6, was the big upset of the past week. Livingston had been undefeated and untied until that game.

Nine Teams Undeclared In Schoolboy Race

Rice And SMU Keyed Up To Halt Mad Christians

Tex Watkins And Stratton To Meet In Finals Tonight

Those tangles are here again! Yea, look at 'em. There's Sailor Tex Watkins, the roughest, toughest mauler ever to graduate from Uncle Sam's navy and he will meet the world's strongest little man, Walter Stratton of Ohio, in the main event of Promoter Cliff Chambers' wrestling card tonight at the Pampa Athletic arena. The first bout set for 8 o'clock sharp.

Not only will the navy be represented tonight but the army will also be on the rampage when Soldier Thomas of Vancouver, Wash., tangles with Blacksmith Pedigo, the wilder of hammers from Louisville, Ky., in the semi-final.

Opening the battle of little giants will be Sheik Marallah, Persia's gift to the mad Christians. Slow at the start, Southern Methodist has thrashed down the stretch with three straight conference victories and looks better each time out.

Against Arkansas Saturday the Methodist line held fast while its backs were passing and romping to a 19-6 victory. The line that trotted the Texas Aggies the week before did the same to Arkansas—could do the same to Texas Christian's powerhouse runners.

Sophomore John Clement and Ray Mallouf, who don't seem to mind the pressure, took care of Arkansas. Next Saturday they will be thrown against Bill Patterson, Baylor's magnificent triple threat, at Waco.

Rice Keyed Up

Another impressive Methodist appearance against Waco and they'll turn fans away from Dallas for the TCU game.

The Christians, four regulars out of the game with minor injuries, put their business in O'Brien's hands Saturday against Texas and the little fellow responded with an incredible performance that saw 17 of 24 passes completed for 236 yards. Those passes scored one touchdown, set up three others that smothered Texas, 28-6. The Christian running game suffered with Johnny Hall and Earl Clark absent, but they'll be ready against Rice next Saturday.

Rice, battered by the Texas Aggies, 27-0, in a stunning rout, was not certain if Ernie Lain and Olie Cordell, fine stars of 1937, would be ready for the Christians' invasion. They, along with several other key men, didn't even get in the Aggie massacre, led by Sophomores John Kimbrough and Jim Thomason.

Nevertheless, some 38,000 were expected to hike Rice's new stadium at Houston when the TCU machine rolls in. Rice has been keyed for this game—seeking the first victory over TCU in 14 years.

Arkansas will play ole Miss in an inter-sectional game at Little Rock and the Aggies and Texas will remain idle while cooking up their best cunning for the Thanksgiving Day classic at Austin.

St. Mary Beats Santa Clara

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14 (AP)—St. Mary's Gaels, using a deadly aerial attack, pushed the Santa Clara Broncos out of the hitherto undefeated class with a 7 to 0 white-washing yesterday.

In September, 1938, Illinois produced 2,631,016 gallons of whiskey; Kentucky, 837,809 gallons; Indiana, 812,149; Maryland, 466,209; and Pennsylvania 199,579.

Panther Kittens Will Play LeFors

PANHANDLE, Nov. 14.—The Panther Kittens of Coach Ashley Little will go to LeFors Tuesday afternoon for a game with the LeFors Pirate Midgets at 3:30 o'clock.

The Kitts will be without Joe Bill Little, Kitten ace, who broke the large bone in his right arm when his team lost a 7 to 6 game to LeFors Thursday afternoon here.

Both teams are from grade school.

Mama Joins Coach When Son Is Hurt

PORTSMOUTH, Va., Nov. 14 (AP)—Charles Brown, end of the Waco-Fort Worth high school football team, scarcely recovered from a play that knocked him out before he was tugged again in a game here Saturday.

Struck on the field, his coach examined him. Brown opened his eyes and yelled:

"Mama! what in the world are you doing here?"

"Mama," a spectator, had hurded a sideline fence and joined the coach.

"Mama loves me, I know," said Wingman Brown, "but if she does it again I'm going to take away her football pass."

Irish To Hold Attention On Grid Program

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—There's a lull in the football storm this week, just before the final Thanksgiving Day blast, and the teams that retained their championship aspirations over the weekend appear in good positions to keep them another week.

Only Dartmouth, beaten 14-7 by Cornell, Iowa State, tied 13-13 by Kansas State, and Santa Clara, nipped 7-0 by St. Mary's, were removed by the list of undefeated and until "major" teams over the weekend.

The survivors were:

East — Georgetown, Villanova (tied), Boston College (tied).

Midwest — Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Western Reserve, Iowa State (tied).

South — Tennessee, Duke (also unscored on).

Southwest — Texas Christian, Texas Tech.

Far West—Utah (tied twice).

All but Tennessee's Western Reserve play next Saturday, but so many of their beaten but still mighty opponents will be idle that no clear picture of the national title situation will emerge until after Thanksgiving. Up for definite decision, however, are the Big Ten and Big Six Conference championships and the deadlocked Pacific coast race may be settled.

The traditionally great Yale-Harvard game, which bears only upon the big three title, is this week's eastern headline. Pitt's Panthers take on an ancient enemy, Penn State. Army returns to major action against Princeton.

Headline Games

From the national viewpoint, Northwestern-Notre Dame is the biggest game in the midwest but the battle between Wisconsin and Minnesota is the Big Ten headline. If they tie, Ohio State, victorious over Illinois 32-14, can take the crown by beating Michigan, which battled Northwestern to a scoreless draw, Purdue-Indiana and Chicago-Illinois are other Big Ten pairings. Iowa plays Nebraska.

Oklahoma virtually sewed up the Big Six title by whipping Missouri, 21-0, while Iowa State was being tied by Kansas State, but the situation can be altered suddenly if Iowa State should win their wind-up game Saturday. Kansas State plays Washburn while Missouri meets St. Louis.

Michigan State meets Temple, and Detroit plays Tulsa in inter-sectional tilts.

In the Southwest Texas Christian, which trimmed Texas, 28-6, for its fourth straight conference victory, and Rice, joined out of a contention position when it lost 27-0 to Texas A. and M., meet in one big Southwest Conference tilt, while Southern Methodist, whose third straight was a 19-6 decision over Arkansas, taken on Baylor, 35-2 winner over Loyola of Los Angeles, unbeaten Texas Tech plays New Mexico.

Duke finally gets back to Southern Conference competition, playing North Carolina State, and should clinch the title without further ado. Tennessee and Alabama, which tied Georgia Tech, remain idle at the head of the standing line.

Auburn and Georgia clash in the best Southeastern Conference game, Georgia Tech plays Florida, and Tulane faces Sewanee. Ole Miss takes on Arkansas at Memphis Wednesday and Centenary plays De Paul of Chicago.

The race for the Coast Conference title and the Rose Bowl nomination was jumbled again when Southern California fell victim to Washington, 7-6, while California re-asserted its power by beating Oregon, 20-0. Each has five victories and one defeat. California plays Stanford Saturday while the Trojans remain idle until they meet U. C. L. A. Thanksgiving, Oregon State and U. C. L. A. are tied for third place.

Galento And Thomas Will Fight Tonight

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—A beer-swilling New Jersey saloon keeper and a Minnesota locomotive engineer meet at Convention hall tonight in a 12-round battle that should be a go-to exhibition of brawn against brawn if not of fistic finesse.

The invitation is open to every boy from the Guerrillas down to the youngsters of pre-school age who play football on the front lawn.

"We expect to have between 200 and 300 football players lined up along the sidelines during the game," says Galento, "and I'm sure that Galento look like the Wreck of Old 97."

It will be Tony's first fight since "dat bum Ammonia" put him with in a few strokes of life's final 10-count and forced cancellation of his scheduled July 26 fight with John Henry Lewis, the high-weight champion. Manager Joe Jacobs says all the pneumonia siege did to Tony was drain a little color from his menacing jaws.

U. S. exports of farm products in the past 16 years has averaged $1,320,000,000 annually, and since 1929 have fallen 35 per cent below the 16-year average.

Harvesters Face Another Struggle Next Friday

DOG DIVES FOR HOOKED FISH

Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Pringle and their Pampa Harvesters find themselves in the position of whoever was meant in the old saying "out of the frying pan into the furnace" this week. They battled the Lubbock Westerners last Friday and this Friday meet the equal as tough Plainview Bulldogs at 2:30 o'clock at Harvester field.

Plainview, always the team to give the Harvesters one of their toughest battles of the season despite comparison of other games, has its strongest team in many years. Plainview has won two and lost two conference games, defeating Lamesa and Borger and losing to Amarillo and Lubbock, by one touchdown each game.

Plainview has rung up 57 points while holding their opponents to 33. The Pampa Harvesters have failed to register offensively but have presented an outstanding defense in holding Lamesa, Amarillo and Lubbock to 20 points.

The visiting Bulldogs of Coach Vernon Hilliard, held the Amarillo Sandies 14 to 7 Saturday afternoon with Amarillo having to come from behind. The Bulldogs outplayed the champions for three quarters with a smart brand of football. The Bulldogs also have a rugged defense. Once they held the Sandies for four downs on their one-yard line.

A battle of Graham and Graham has been projected for this week. Plainview, like the Harvesters, has a ball totter named Graham and he is fast and tricky like the Pampa captain. In Schneider the Bulldogs have another swiftpilled ball totter. It was Schneider who ran the yardage through the Sandies team for a touchdown.

Bob Karr, Wayne Giddens and Pete Dunaway, injured in the Lubbock game, reported to school this morning sore and stiff but ready to workout. All three were removed from the game Saturday afternoon following Jumbo Webster, powerhouse brouting back for the Westerners.

This week will be spent largely in polishing up the offense which has failed to produce touchdowns in three conference games.

Lubbock Has Best Record

The mighty Lubbock Westerners have the best conference record in District 1 which may or may not mean anything when Lubbock and Amarillo play Thanksgiving Day in Lubbock for the district title. No other team has a chance for the championship.

Each team has won four games and lost none. Lubbock has rolled up 93 points while holding the opposition to 13. Amarillo has scored 61 points and has had 21 scored against them.

Only game scheduled this week will see Plainview at Pampa.

Uniformed Boys To Be Admitted To Football Game

Every boy in Pampa who has a football uniform—jersey and pants—regardless of color or size will be admitted free to the Pampa Harvesters-Plainview Bulldog football game here Friday afternoon providing he wears a football uniform. The invitation was extended by Supt. L. L. Sone this morning and approved by the superintendent of the Plainview schools.

The invitation is open to every boy from the Guerrillas down to the youngsters of pre-school age who play football on the front lawn.

"We expect to have between 200 and 300 football players lined up along the sidelines during the game," says Galento, "and I'm sure that Galento look like the Wreck of Old 97."

BY BETTY WALLACE

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JUDY ALCOTT—daughter of a wealthy family...

CHAPTER VII

JUDY ALCOTT jumped between the two men. "Jack!" she implored. "Dwight! Please don't..."

"I'm sorry I blew up. But he made me so cussed mad." He kicked at the rug. Then he said, "He's blind... not to know what he's doing to you..."

But Judy only said, trying to smile brightly, "No. He's just madly in love with Marvel." Jack grabbed her hands with sudden passion. "And you're madly in love with him. Aren't you?"

BUT Marvel did come back. Dwight told Judy about a few nights later. He had driven to Los Angeles, gone to the house of the wealthy friends she had fled to, in high anger and jealousy.

mother. And the exec's wife... Putting his best foot forward, thought Judy. But she recognized the necessity. If Marvel was to marry into the navy, live on naval stations and among naval people, there was a certain amount expected of her.

JUDY, who knew she'd been a fool to work so hard on a party for Dwight's girl, tried her best to be nice to Marvel. But the other girl had evidently not forgotten that scene in the hotel, for her eyes danced knowingly, and she almost patronized her hostess.

AT last the party broke up. Mrs. Hanrahan gave the signal, by thanking Judy's mother for a delightful evening, and sending the admiral a significant look.

she's going to be the kind who goes in for outside society, and who cultivates the wealthiest and hardest drinking crowd in each city where they're stationed. She's got money enough for that." Judy was tired. She sank down on the sofa, pushing the coffee table with its overflowing ashtrays to one side.

THE touch of his big fingers was soothing. She said, "Go on, talk," and smiled at him. "Judy, I know you're unhappy. I know you gave this party for him. Listen—try to forget it." She could feel his hands tremble on hers. "I love you, Judy. Won't you marry me?"

Almost without her own volition, her hands were pushing at his chest, and she was moving away from the circle of his arms. "No, Jack," she said. "I—I think you're a swell guy, you know that. But I don't love you."
