CANDIDATE GREETED—Paul Crossman, Pampa businessman and Democratic leader, extended Ralph Yarborough a High Plains handshake when the latter made a luncheon stop here on his campaign trail for the senatorial seat of John Tower. Apollo 16 Overcomes Problem

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Astronaut Thomas K. Mattingly II, with help from Mission Control, quickly overcame a guidance system problem that temporarily locked the Apollo 16 command ship in one position today. The spacemen hurtled on, meanwhile toward a Wednesday rendezvous with the moon.

Officials said the source of the problem was a mystery. They were not certain whether it would recur and experts studied data to learn the exact cause.

As Mattingly was taking star sightings on the planet Jupiter to align the spaceship, a red warning light flashed in the cabin.

Something had happened to the guidance and navigation system, preventing the spaceship from moving left or right.

"I don't know what happened," Mattingly, the command module pilot, radioed. "I was down looking at the optics and all of a sudden I just saw a warning light and I got no attitude (position) and a gimbal lock light... It looks like the platform might be frozen."

He referred to the inertial guidance system platform. There was no danger to the astronauts. The command ship has a backup guidance system that would get them home if the primary system failed.

Mission Control evaluated the trouble and sent a series of commands which Mattingly fed into the computer while John W. Young and Charles M. Duke Jr. monitored systems. The action realigned the platform and Mattingly verified it was okay by taking a series of optical sightings on the earth, moon, sun and several stars.

Church Okays Rule Against 'Gay' Minister

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Cancellation of the credentials of a Texas Conference minister who publicly stated he was a homosexual was upheld Monday by a United Methodist Church court. Its Judicial Council held that this step did not violate the due process rights of the Rev. F. Gene Leggett, a resident actor of the Dallas Theater Center who conducts what he calls an unofficial ministry in the "gay" movement.

The church court ruled that it and the Texas conference were not making any "moral judgment on homosexuality."

After the Rev. Mr. Leggett disclosed a year ago to fellow ministers that he was a homosexual, he was put on "involuntary leave." This means the church has no assignment for him in its regular ministry.

He had appealed to the church's top tribunal, which met here during the denomination's quadrennial government convention.

About 1,000 delegates are here for the two-week assembly to legislate policy and programs of the next four years for the 10.5 million-member denomination, second largest in Protestantism.

Yarborough Visits Here During Campaign Swing

By RAY BAXTER

Ralph Yarborough made a noon stop at Pampa Monday on the campaign trail he hopes will return him to the U. S. Senate.

Following a brief address at a luncheon at the Coronado Inn, a youthful-acting Yarborough held a news conference. Asked what he would do for the Panhandle area if elected to the Senate, he said he would work with those laboring now to bring more water to bolster the flagging economy of the area.

While he failed to agree with the view of a Panhandle group of ecologists presently effective in efforts to stymie certain waterway projects, he saw no assurance they would not be equally effective in possible efforts on their part against any Panhandle water project.

This particular group says all persons now living in the Panhandle area should be moved to other areas and the High Plains turned back to nature.

After 13 years in the Senate, Yarborough was defeated by Lloyd Bentsen in 1970. He must defeat "Barefoot" Sanders in the primary for a go at Republican John Tower in November.

Yarborough opened regional campaign headquarters Monday morning at Tenth and Jackson Streets, Amarillo.

Statewides Oil Allowable For May At 100% Again

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Railroad Commission answered rising demands for Texas oil today by holding the statewide oil allowable for May at 100 per cent for the second consecutive month.

The commission order followed a request by major buyers of Texas crude oil for 3,538,278 barrels a day next month, an increase of 83,312 from April.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines forecast May demand for Texas crude at 3,390,000 barrels daily, an increase of 70,000 from each day this month.

Five of 16 major purchasers asked for more oil in May than April, 10 sought the same amount and one wanted less oil next month.

Texas is operating under a 100 per cent market demand in April—the first time since 1948 that it has been that high.

Nominations by major buyers of Texas crude oil for May, in barrels per day, with any changes in parentheses:

- Amoco 310,000
- Atlantic Richfield 170,000
- Chevron-Westco 68,950
- Cities Service 110,000
- Continental 38,100
- Coastal States 98,050 (minus 16,000)
- Crown Central 37,294 (plus 10,149)
- Diamond Shamrock 30,000
- Gulf 209,000
- Humble 623,000 (plus 33,000)
- Mobil 310,000

Dog Bites Helping Hand. Please Call!

Is your brown and tan terrier missing?

This may be painful news for you but it is going to be more painful for a 17-year old Pampa youth who tried to help your pet if you don't get in touch with the Pampa police department.

Ron Darnell was at the Parkway Drive Inn on North Hobart Saturday when he witnessed a small tan and brown female terrier get run over. Proving a boy's love for a dog is live and well, Ron ran to the injured animal to get it out of the way of the other vehicles. Writing in pain, the dog bit Ron breaking the skin—placing him in jeopardy for his Good Samaritan act.

The dog was injured beyond help and authorities had to put her to sleep but...

Ron Darnell faces that long series of painful shots against rabies unless you come forward and give the police department needed information regarding the pet's inoculation.

The owner of the animal is wanted only for this information according to Police Chief Jim Connor. There are no charges in the incident.

Ron Darnell helped your dog. Won't you help him?

Bingo Game Prize Rises This Week

The Pampa Daily News announced at noon today that there were no winners on last week's game of Newspaper Bingo.

Therefore, the prize for this week's game has been increased to $100, according to Jim Casey, advertising manager.

The lack of winners breaks a seven-week run of a large number of lucky players during which $350.00 in Bingo Bucks have been awarded to twelve area residents.

Green colored cards needed for this week's game can be picked up all week from any of the 37 participating merchants. Watch for the Bingo Bugs in merchants' ads which appear during the week in The Pampa Daily News. You may win all or part of this week's $100 prize.

Pampa PTA Members Urged To Work Toward Educating Children For Future

By JANE KADINGO

"We need to re-design our curriculum," Mrs. Elaine Ledbetter, Pampa High School teacher, advised members of the 19th district of Parents and Teachers Monday night, challenging them to work toward educating children for the future.

Mrs. Ledbetter was the featured speaker at the opening banquet of the two-day annual district PTA conference in Robert E. Lee Junior High School.

"Not all children need the same competence in all courses," she stated. "We need to revolutionize the modern curriculum. The time is now. It is already later than we think."

"We dare not fail if we want our civilization to survive," she added.

"How much are our schools focusing on the future?" she asked the group, adding that one authority on education believed the focus of education today is "backward."

Mrs. Ledbetter said school children today receive "large doses of the past, a thin sliver of the present, and nothing of the future."

Food Price Controls Considered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson told Congress today the commission is considering putting price controls on food products.

And, he reported, the commission is also considering a major change in the Nixon administration's price-control strategy.

"Concentrating Price Commission manpower on the largest firms... while decontrolling large portions of the economy."

In testimony prepared for the Joint Economic Committee, Grayson did not comment further on what specific conditions would cause the new policy moves to be implemented. Nor did he indicate when decisions on them might be made.

Grayson cited possible extension of controls to food and the tightening of existing food-price controls in a list of several policy changes he said are under current analysis and evaluation.

Grayson's comments came a day after he said current controls are beginning to bite into price increases. He said in an interview Monday that a decision on tighter controls might not be made for months, if ever, and that he was willing to cast his vote in favor of stricter profit-margin controls if inflation figures showed they were needed.

Due to rapid changes in science and technology, the public began to expect miracles of science, which has led to "disenchantment," and an atmosphere that is almost anti-science, she stated.

In comparison to discoveries of the past, some of which had no practical value for 100 years, the space program has given immediate benefits to the people, she told the group, citing the Olympic sports events viewed on television in this country, via satellite.

She told of the monitoring of earth from space, with infra-red photography, which can detect blight and insect infestation at its inception; which can detect, not only thermal pollution in water, but pinpoint its source.

Due to weather satellite, the formation of hurricane Carla was detected, allowing the mass evacuation of 350,000 people from its path.

"Who can say how many lives were saved?" she asked.

Mrs. Ledbetter hit at those who criticize the cost of the space program, pointing out it costs approximately $15 per person annually while $35 per person is spent annually on alcohol, $17 on tobacco, and $16 on cosmetics.

Listing four common threads she found in a country-wide meeting of leading educators,

Mrs. Ledbetter said, "We teach as we were taught. We need a big push to design and write new courses."

She explained that today courses are taught as separate entities, instead of being what she called "trans-disciplinary," or teaching a scientific concept, then having the student apply it in the economic, political and ethical areas.

She pointed out the need of a scientifically literate populace, educated early in understanding of the fields of science and technology.

Another "common thread," she said is individualized instruction, which means "courses designed so a child, at any level, can move through them at his own pace and by various routes."

Mrs. Ledbetter is president-elect of the National Science Teachers Association and will assume the president's duties in July.

Mrs. Marjorie Gaut, who introduced the speaker, explained Mrs. Ledbetter will take a year's leave of absence to work with a staff of 30 people in Washington, D.C., at the headquarters of NSTA, a part of the National Education Association.

Mrs. C.L. Farmer, president of the Pampa PTA City Council, was master of ceremonies and introduced the guests, including Mrs. Jean Harris of Austin, state president, who spoke to the group this morning, and Mrs. W. F. Abney of Woodsboro, state safety chairman, who was to speak this afternoon.

A life membership, the highest honor awarded by the PTA, was presented to Mrs. Gladys Miller of Borger, by the Davy Crockett PTA.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Ocie Stuart of Pampa, Junior Girl Scout Troop 144, with Mrs. Charles Albus as leader, sang.

Sam Berger of Pampa, principal of Horace Mann School, presented Mrs. Farmer with a bouquet of roses from the Pampa principals for her work as city council president.

Dinner music was provided by Mrs. Sue Higdon, choir director of Lamar School, Pampa.

President Receives Red Players

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon meets Communist China's peevish table tennis team at the White House today in the highlight of a 14-day "ice-breaker mission" a year after the American team visited Peking.

The meeting in the White House Rose Garden reciprocates Premier Chou En-lai's welcome to the Americans in Peking's Forbidden City last year. Officials here consider it another step in careful efforts by both countries to warm up their relations.

Tricia Nixon Cox, the President's elder daughter, accompanied by Secretary of State and Mrs. William P. Rogers, turned out at the nearby University of Maryland Cole Field House Monday night to see the Chinese defeat the American table tennis team by a lopsided 10 matches to 2.

But the Chinese delegation leader, Chuang Tse-tung, said: "Victory and defeat are temporary, but friendships are permanent. What we are trying to do is to develop friendship, although we will compete our hardest."

University of Michigan Prof. Alexander Eckstein, head of the National Committee on U.S.-China Relations which is cosponsoring the Chinese team here, predicted that if the exhibition tour of the Chinese team "continues to go as well as it has thus far, it will be extremely significant. This is an ice-breaker mission for them."

"The Chinese did not know how they would be received, and they are finding that they are being received very warmly."

Laird Denies Halt

SAIGON (AP)—President Nixon has suspended U.S. air attacks on the Hanoi-Haiphong area to see if North Vietnam backs off from its general offensive in South Vietnam, U.S. military sources reported today.

The thrust of the American air war returned to the South, and U.S. pilots flew more than 1,000 strikes there Monday and today.

Following Sunday's heavy raids on targets around Hanoi and Haiphong, Nixon ordered all air action suspended above the 20th parallel of latitude, 60 miles south of Hanoi, the Saigon sources said.

However, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today in Washington there is "no substance" to the report of attacks being suspended north of the 20th parallel. He said air strikes were continuing in North Vietnam, but did not specify how deep the raids were.

The Saigon informants said only a handful of strikes were flown Monday and today north of the demilitarized zone and all of these were below the 19th parallel, 120 miles south of Hanoi.

Informed of Laird's remarks in Washington, the informants here who first reported the suspension reconfirmed their information and said they stuck by it.

"The President is deliberately holding off after Sunday's strikes in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas to see what North Vietnam is going to do," said one source. "But further bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong has not been ruled out. It depends on what North Vietnam does."

The sources said the raids on Hanoi and Haiphong were political in nature, intended as a warning to Hanoi to pull back its offensive in South Vietnam.

"When you knock a guy down," said one source, "you don't want to stomp on him. Nixon apparently wants to wait and see whether he is going to get up and continue to fight or walk away."

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman said he could neither confirm nor deny that the area above the 20th parallel was off limits again.

Military sources said there were no signs of any enemy withdrawals from the battlefields to which political significance could be attached.

The South Vietnamese command meanwhile claimed that nearly 700 North Vietnamese troops were killed in battles on three fronts Monday with heavy U.S. air support.

Sources claimed that this fighting resulted from actions initiated by the South Vietnamese.

Officers reported earlier that a new threat was developing north of Saigon, with North Vietnamese troops trying to move toward the key South Vietnamese base at Lai Khe, 30 miles north of the capital.

North Vietnam's chief delegate to the Paris peace talks said Monday that if the United States stopped the bombing of the North and resumed the regularly weekly meetings of the presently suspended talks, North Vietnamese Politburo member Le Duc Tho would return to Paris for more secret negotiations with the Americans.

But the chief U.S. delegate in Paris, Ambassador William J. Porter, indicated last week that the United States would not return to the table until North Vietnam called off its military offensive.

U.S. fighter-bombers flew 500 strikes against enemy positions in South Vietnam Monday and another 500 today, American military sources reported, while more than 50 B52 Stratofortresses ranged across the country from near An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon, to the demilitarized zone.

Charges And Countercharges Characterize Governor Race

By ELOY AGUILAR
Associated Press Writer

Candidates for statewide offices are beginning to anticipate some no-holds-barred fighting as the May 6 primary elections draw near.

Most of the activity in the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination race in the past two days has consisted of personal charges and countercharges.

Only Gov. Preston Smith, who is seeking re-election, held back Monday on attacks on his opponents, but he told a Brennan reception that the unpublishing of his administration surpasses those of any other.

And in Fort Worth a house, picnic candidate for governor, Tom McLeroy, said that many conservative Texans really belong in the GOP.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes was in Abilene celebrating his 34th birthday and doing some campaigning in his race for the governor's chair.

He told well-wishers that he expects a "hate campaign from his opponent, Gov. Smith, in the last days before primary day."

"Smith would almost rather defeat me than win re-election himself," Barnes said. "I predict it will be the most vicious hate campaign ever waged in a Texas governor's race."

Another candidate, Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi, attacked Barnes as the "representative of the big special interests groups," and said that Uvalde rancher Dolph Briscoe "is riding on the coattails of our reform movement."

Briscoe was also hit by a Barnes supporter, Sen. W.T. Moore of Bryan, who brought back charges that a 13-mile state road built in Dimmitt County leads only to Briscoe's hunting lodge.

Moore said that Briscoe's explanations regarding the reasons for the road "have more holes than the state maintenance crews will ever allow in that infamous highway."

Briscoe, however, came back saying that the accusations by the Barnes group was "a publicity stunt that blew up in Barnes' face like a trick cigar."

Furthermore, the rancher stated, "Barnes is so used to his own special interest deals that he cannot tell the difference between honesty and dishonesty, and perhaps does not realize that others can."

In Austin, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin rejected an offer by opponent John Hill to appear on a 30-minute television show in Corpus Christi, at Hill's expenses, to discuss the issues.

Martin dismissed the offer saying he would not give Hill a chance to get some publicity.

In the battle for the nomination for lieutenant governor

Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville announced that his brother, Treasurer and former Gov. John Connally, would campaign for him just before the primary elections.

"And no one else," he added, dismissing speculations that Connally may come back to Texas to campaign for Barnes.

Connally's opponent, Sen. Ralph Hall, lashed at him saying that he voted against the minimum wage bill "while representing an area of Texas rampant with economic poverty."

Hall also criticized another opponent, Bill Hobby of Houston, saying Hobby "shakes his fist on television saying he wants to crack down on drug users, yet he tells students at Texas University that there should be no penalty for private use of marijuana."

McLeroy told a Fort Worth luncheon audience that "the only real requirement for becoming a Republican is personal political conviction."

"I do not think the freeze has been effective," he said. "It has been enforced with a confusing and chaotic set of regulations which are very hard, if not impossible, for a businessman to understand." His opponent, former senator Ralph Yarborough, said in Pampa that the Nixon administration is holding up money for approved domestic projects to use it in Vietnam.

He added that Nixon is also holding up money for Texas projects because Texas did not vote Republican in the 1968 election.

U. S. House Unit Decides Something Improper In Wife Of Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House ethics committee has decided that there is something "improper" in the fact that the wife of Rep. John Dowdy of Athens remains on her husband's congressional payroll while campaigning for Congress.

Mrs. Dowdy, seeking the seat her husband will vacate following his bribery conviction, is a secretary on Dowdy's staff with an annual salary of $22,500.

The committee said there is nothing illegal in Mrs. Dowdy retaining her job, but that it is improper. It added it will send a letter stating so to state Sen. Charles Wilson of Lufkin who is running against Mrs. Dowdy.

Wilson had filed the complaint originally with the ethics committee. He had also asked the committee to look into the full-time campaigning of Dowdy's press aide, Gerald Yoes, for Mrs. Dowdy.

In its draft reply now being circulated to committee members, the committee told Wilson there was nothing wrong with Yoes remaining on Dowdy's payroll and campaigning for Mrs. Dowdy—on his own time.

Dowdy contends that Yoes is taking vacation for his work in Texas.

The committee, however, noted that this policy extends only to a person "working on behalf of a candidacy other than himself."

It added: "the committee feels that when a congressional employe is actively campaigning on his own behalf the he or she would be removed from the clerk-hire roles and confine his activities to the campaign."

Two other complaints by Wilson likewise were weighed by the committee.

Wilson had said that Dowdy was mailing his newsletter outside the congressman's present district into areas to be embraced by the new district which Dowdy's successor will represent—a practice he described as irregular if not illegal because Dowdy is not seeking re-election in the altered district.

The committee said postal service regulations do not prohibit this and a congressman technically can send information anywhere in the state.

C-C Sponsors Action Course At Breakfast

"It's Up to You in '72," a colored-slide presentation from the United States Chamber of Commerce, will be presented at a breakfast meeting in Coronado Inn by the Legislative and National Affairs Committee of the Pampa Chamber. The cost of the breakfast will be $2.00 per person.

The presentation will introduce the non-partisan Action Course in Practical Politics being sponsored by the Chamber Committee. Plans for the course will be made and registrations taken. The only cost of the course will be a $5 charge for a set of text books.

All interested persons, whether members of the chamber or not, are invited to attend the breakfast meeting. Reservations at $2 each may be made at the Chamber office (Box 1942, Pampa, or call 669-3241).

Wayne Stedum, manager of Pampa Cable TV, will be in Dallas tomorrow for the 1972 convention of the Texas CATV Association which opens Wednesday and runs through Friday.

More than 400 cable system owners and operators from Texas and surrounding states are expected to register for the three-day meeting.

Before leaving for Dallas today, Stedum said cable television has grown nationally from only 70 systems serving 14,000 subscribers in 1952, to an industry today with more than 2,400 cable systems and 5,000,000 subscribers.

Texas alone has more than 250 operating cable systems serving approximately 250,000 subscribers.

Pampa Cable TV was established in 1967 and now serves approximately 3,000 homes in the local area.

Former President Reported Improving

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson, who suffered a heart attack 11 days ago, was "progressing satisfactorily" late Monday night after a brief flareup earlier in the day, officials said.

Spokesmen at the Army's Brooke General Hospital said Johnson's personal heart specialist, Dr. J. Willis Hurst of Atlanta, flew here Monday evening to treat the former chief executive.

Hurst was summoned after Johnson experienced a period of "extra heart beats," a hospital statement advised.

It said the former president, who flew here last Tuesday night from Virginia after suffering a major heart attack April 7, has experienced "occasional premature (extra) heart beats since his hospitalization began."

About 2 p.m. Monday, the statement went on, "These became more frequent, and he has had a very brief episode of ventricular tachycardia (extra heart beats)."

"Because of this, an intravenous infusion has been restarted and changes have been made in his medication," the statement said, without elaboration.

The late afternoon statement said Johnson, 63, was "resting comfortably" and there had been no more episodes of extra heart beats.

Dr. Hurst, a heart specialist from Emory University in Atlanta, treated Johnson in 1955 when he suffered a near fatal heart attack. He also treated Johnson earlier this month after the latest attack sent the former president to the University of Virginia Hospital in Charlottesville, Va.

Hurst slipped into Brooke un- seen by waiting newsmen. He flew here with Johnson last week but returned home a few hours later.

Monday's medical advisory was the first since last Wednesday, when doctors said Johnson's condition was "quite good."

Mrs. Johnson accompanied her husband here from Virginia, where they had been visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Charles and Lynda Robb.

C-C Sets Membership Luncheon

Chamber of Commerce officials report reservations are coming in well for the April membership luncheon Monday in the banquet room of the new M. K. Brown Memorial Auditorium.

William Jarrel Smith, secretary-treasurer of the M. K. Brown Foundation and also a member of the board of the Gray-Pampa Foundation, will be the speaker for the first luncheon meeting to be held in the new facility.

The public is invited to attend along with members of the Chamber. Reservations will be accepted until 5 p.m. Friday afternoon, April 21, by dialing 669-3241.

The art exhibit that will be on display during the auditorium dedication Sunday will remain on display until 4 p.m. Monday following the luncheon. Tours through the auditorium facilities will also be conducted until 4 p.m.

The luncheon meal will be catered by the Coronado Inn, and the food line will open at 11:45 a.m.

A large crowd is expected, and Chamber members are reminded to include their wives.

Gray County Hwy Project Begins Today

The Texas Highway Department announced today it will start work Thursday on the re-surfacing of 6,932 miles of highway in Gray County. The project is located on U.S. 60 and will begin at the Gray-Carson county line west of Pampa and will extend easterly to the west city limits of Pampa.

Gilvin-Terrill, Inc. of Amarillo was awarded the contract. Construction engineering will be handled by the Pampa office of the Highway Department, under the supervision of T.R. Kelley, supervising resident engineer.

Officials of the Highway Department and Gilvin-Terrill, stated the work should be completed early in May.

Kelley stated traffic would be routed through the construction area. Motorists passing through are requested to use extreme caution and watch for barricades, signs and warning signals which will be prominently displayed. Every effort will be undertaken to minimize inconveniences to motorists and in the interest of safety, cooperation of the public is sincerely requested. Kelley said.

Fugate Printing Company Offers Complete Supplies

Fugate Printing Company continues to specialize in the finest of business forms and stationery.

Bob Fugate, owner, has been known in Pampa for his top quality printing and lithographing since 1951. On this reputation, he has expanded to the present large modern printing plant located at 210 N. Ward.

Regardless of the size or complexity of your printing need—whether it be business cards or an eight-part one-time carbon form, you can be sure it will be produced accurately and quickly at Fugate Printing Co.

Among the hundreds of items regularly produced in the Fugate plant are Snap-apart Forms (either one-time carbon or NCR paper), statements, invoices, letterheads, envelopes, business cards, brochures, booklets, window cards, tickets, labels and many specialty items such as calendars, schedule cards, die cut specialties, binding and folding.

Fugate's handles genuine steel die engraved wedding invitations and announcements, in addition to their more economical line of simulated engraved invitations.

The printing company also offers a complete line of office supplies, featuring these top quality brands:

Borum & Pease columnar sheets and pads, post binders, loose-leaf ring books and sheets, Smead Files and expanding wallets, Carter adhesives and marking devices.

Bic, Micro-point, Papermate ballpoint pens, Flair and Carter markers, Swingline and Bostich staples and staplers, Stecco briefcases, Scotch brand tape, Barkley file folders, Pendaflex hanging file folders and frames.

Frankel typewriter, adding machine and calculator ribbons, typewriter and pencil carbons, duplicator carbon master sets, Tempo Brand mimeograph stencils.

Fugate's stocks mimeo stencils and ink for Gestetner, Gema and Rex Rotary machines and has a good supply of mimeo and duplicator paper in both letter and legal sizes.

And yet these are only a few of the many items in stock at Fugate Printing Co.

They also have a large selection of envelopes—Krafts in all sizes, clasp envelopes, coin envelopes and regular business and commercial sizes.

Next time you need supplies for your office, call or come by Fugate's. The chances are you will find just what you need, all the way from paper clips, rubber bands, pencils, carbon paper, adding machine paper, roll labels, tags, scratch pads, legal pads to storage cabinets, chair mats and file boxes.

They also have a complete line of office furniture—desks, file cabinets, chairs, etc., available now on special order with three-day delivery.

Fugate's continues as the leader in copy work by use of their Xerox equipment. Almost any typewritten, printed or drawn copy can be reproduced in black on white, letter or legal size, by this revolutionary method.

It is known as the quickest, most economical way to reproduce form letters, charts, graphs, etc., in small or large quantities.

Fugate Printing Company offers the best in printing and office supplies. For free, prompt delivery, call 665-3431. Or come by the store at 210 N. Ward.

DIXIE PARTS HERE--Taking an order for someone's broken auto, Ed Henley refers to the many supply lists available at Dixie Parts and Supply. Two stores are located in Pampa—at 217 S. Cuyler and 1421 N. Hobart to help customers find parts and accessories for all makes and models of cars.

Gibson's Pharmacy Offers Fast Service

Gibson's Discount Pharmacy, with a full staff of registered pharmacists, is ready to continue offering service to the entire Pampa area.

Dean Copeland, head pharmacist, reports that all of the personnel in the pharmacy work together to give the customer fast and efficient service.

Helping Copeland, who became a registered pharmacist in 1957, to fill prescriptions promptly for customers are David Burns, who has been at Gibson's for about a year, and Dick Wilson, who joined Gibson's staff this year.

All three work to keep prices down while providing the finest in medicines to fit any prescription need.

The medicines are obtained from reputable pharmacy companies at less cost and without the high overhead faced by many smaller pharmacies.

Gibson's Discount Pharmacy carries approximately 15,000 medicines to more than meet most needs in illness.

To provide fast service for the customer, four clerks are also on hand to take orders and help eliminate the time a pharmacist would have to spend on paper work.

At least one pharmacist is ready 24 hours a day, seven days a week, to aid the customer obtain the medicines needed to combat illness.

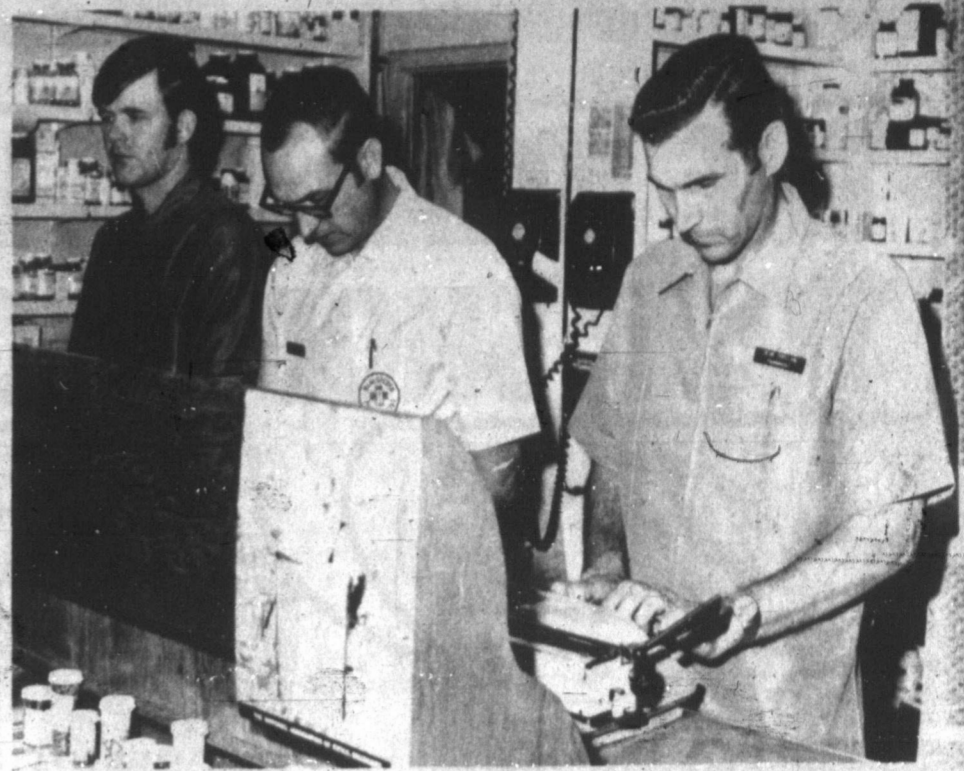

Vitamins are also a special feature at Gibson's. Many doctors believe illnesses could be cut down if people would take vitamins regularly to supplement their regular diet.

Gibson's has an outstanding supply of vitamins in stock, again at lower prices to help the customer save money.

With the allergy season coming up, customers can find a complete line of medicines to help control most allergies. For people with over-sensitive skin, a full line of Allercream Cosmetics is on hand.

And with sunburn time near, many suntan and other skin lotions are in stock to help keep the skin healthy.

Copeland asks customers to check Gibson's Discount Pharmacy and compare for quality and service—and those low prices.

WITH SERVICE IN MIND--The three registered pharmacists at Gibson's Discount Pharmacy, 2211 Perryton Parkway, are always ready to provide fast service to their customers while still offering low prices. From left are David Burns, Dick Wilson and Dean Copeland, all willing to aid the customer meet his needs in illness.

Miss Texas Teen-Ager Pageant To Attract Girls To San Antonio

Rockton, Ill. — The Miss Texas Teen-Ager Pageant will be held on July 28 and 29 at the St. Anthony Hotel in San Antonio.

All girls 13-17 are eligible to enter, if they are U.S. citizens and residents of Texas, and contestants must still be 17 on Sept. 1, 1972. There is no talent or bathing suit competition, and no entrance fee.

Girls are judged for their scholastic achievements, civic contributions, poise, personality and appearance.

Each girl is interviewed individually by a panel of judges during the day on Saturday, and again by the group at the pageant on Saturday evening.

The winner and four runners-up will receive trophies, and a Congeniality and Citizenship award will be given. Also, the winner, and first and second runner-up from each of the state contests will receive scholarships to an accredited Junior college.

Scholarships amounting to $75,000 will be given throughout the country in these state pageants. All state winners will have their food, lodging and plane flight paid to the National Finals in Atlanta, Ga., on Aug. 23-26.

Theme of the National Finals will be "What's Right About America?" Each state winner will be asked to write a 100-word theme on this subject as part of the national judging.

Miss Texas will return home and receive 100 per cent of monies received for civic appearances and events in her state. Interested girls may write for applications to Official Certification Headquarters for the state of Texas, 126 Burn Drive, Rockton, Illinois 61072.

The first judge named to the panel is Major Gen. Kenneth D. Orr, M.D., commanding officer, Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

In 1945, Soviet troops were besieging the outer defenses of Berlin.

Radcliff Helps Aid Inflation

The household head who plans to save a little money during these inflationary times by mowing the lawn himself can get very frustrated when his lawnmower fails to work.

The frustration can be shortened if he will take the equipment to Radcliff Electric Co., 519 S. Cuyler, where he can find fast repair service.

All makes of lawnmowers are serviced and repaired at Radcliff's, including Briggs and Stratton, Lawson, Tecumseh and Wisconsin.

You may have gotten a good deal on a lawnmower in a garage sale two or three years ago. It's returned its investment twice already and is getting a little tired.

Do not go to another garage sale. Instead, buy a new engine at Radcliff's and have it running like new. Glenn T. Radcliff said.

It's a great way to help beat inflation.

Services at Radcliff are not limited only to lawnmowers. The business also repairs all makes of magnetos and repairs and installs electronic ignition systems.

Complete diesel injection service is also offered. The firm specializes in the Rossmaster and American Bosch diesel units.

Radcliff's also services Robert Bosch and CAV tractor pumps. They can also service any pump for John Deere, International, Case, Minneapolis Moine, Oliver or Ford tractors.

Small engine repair service also extends to centrifugal water pumps and chain saws. A complete line of Homelite chain saws are in stock at Radcliff's.

If you're having trouble with your small motors, check with Radcliff Electric Co. at 519 S. Cuyler or call 669-3395.

LAWN MOWING TIME IS NEAR--And lawnmowers sometimes get more than they can chew, cut and handle. Radcliff Electric Co., 519 S. Cuyler, makes a specialty of repairing lawnmowers. If the rejuvenation of a lawnmower includes a new engine, Glenn T. Radcliff has a complete line of replacement engines in stock.

Six Flags Begins Season

ARLINGTON, Tex. — Six Flags Over Texas began its regular spring season schedule this weekend following an opening week described as "the most successful in the Park's history." More than 92,000 visitors passed through the theme park's gates during the holiday week preceding Easter.

Six Flags now returns to operation only on Saturdays and Sundays until May 27, when daily operation begins for the summer months.

General Manager Robert W. Freeman commented, "The turnout for our special opening week was really great. We're even more pleased with the way our visitors received the new attractions and the color and design changes which are part of our 'new look' for this season."

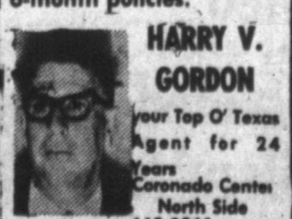

MAZURSKY TO DIRECT NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Mazursky has been signed to produce and direct his own original screenplay, "Love in Blume," a contemporary romantic story set in Los Angeles and Venice, Italy. Filming will begin later this year.

VA TRAINS WORKERS DALLAS (AP) — As part of its clinical affiliation with eight North Texas universities and colleges, the Dallas Veterans Administration trained more than 451 health workers during the 1971 fiscal year, says E. P. Whitaker, hospital director.

Included in the total were resident physicians and interns who received all or part of their post graduate education in the VA hospital. Whitaker explained.

Study Meeting Held By Circle

The Zelma Northcutt Circle of First Baptist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Rupert Orr, 404 N. Hill. Members present included Mmes. Orval Batson, Gary Clark, W.B. Franklin, Jimmy Free, Rupert Orr, Randall Phillips, Lorena Railsback, Daryl Sumpter, G.L. Wilson and Ed Langford. Mrs. Dale Butler was welcomed as a visitor.

An offering was taken for Zelma Northcutt's birthday. The needs of Sarah Beth Barrett Short, a missionary to Mexico, were discussed. It was announced that work is being done on the senior banquet each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at the church. "Fellowship" was the title of the lesson taught by Mrs. G.L. Wilson. She stated that fellowship with Christians is unique and that the beginning of fellowship is love. Next meeting will be May 10 in the home of Mrs. W.B. Franklin, 915 E. Fisher.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the daughter who didn't know how to tell her dear, sweet old mother that she had a very offensive body odor prompts this letter, and I welcome the opportunity to write it.

My own mother, age 67, was immaculate about her person, but suddenly several of us noticed a very strong, offensive body odor about her; no one wanted to tell her for fear of hurting her feelings.

Finally, a young cousin who was a registered nurse urged me to get my mother to a doctor at once. My mother had not seen a doctor for years. I finally had to tell her why I wanted her to go in order to get her there.

A physical examination disclosed that my mother had advanced cancer of the female organs. She had surgery, but it was too late to save her, because she had let it go too long. The odor was the only clue. She had had no pain whatsoever.

Abby, please urge your readers to have checkups periodically, and where a persistent body odor exists to tell the person! [Many aging people lose their sense of smell.]

If I had read this letter in your column two years ago, my mother might be alive today. FAITHFUL READER

DEAR READER: Many others wrote offering the same valuable information. Thank you for writing!

DEAR ABBY: I usually agree with you, but I couldn't go along with your advice to DANNY'S GIRL. [She said Danny wore his hair down to his shoulders, was slight and had very delicate features, so he was mistaken for a girl a lot. She suggested that Danny cut his hair, but he said he didn't want to. He did, however say he would listen to some other suggestions.]

You said, "Tell him to grow a mustache!" Well, that wouldn't work. He would look like a girl with a mustache.

If a guy wants to emasculate himself [figuratively] by wearing a feminine coiffure, he should be prepared to accept the consequences. LIKES MEN WHO LOOK LIKE MEN

DEAR LIKES: I received many interesting suggestions for Danny. Among them were: 1. Go topless. 2. Go bottomless.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for the benefit of all those poor guys who feel rejected if a girl doesn't kiss them on the first date. I used to be like that.

I met a girl a few months ago, and I asked her out. We had a great time, but when I tried to kiss her goodnight, she said, "Don't rush it." I felt like an idiot. I figured she didn't like me, so I didn't call her for a long time. Then I got to thinking that maybe it was to her credit that she didn't jump at the chance to kiss a guy she'd only known a few hours. Anyway, I called her up and asked her out again.

She accepted and we had a wonderful time. This time I didn't try to kiss her, but when we said goodnight, she gave me a hug which meant more to me than a kiss.

My advice to guys who don't get kissed on the first date is to call the girl for a second date. Don't feel rejected. It's nice to know that there are still some girls who place a high value on their kisses. I really appreciate a girl who's hard to get.

HANGING IN THERE

DEAR HANGING: And it's nice for a hard-to-get girl to know that she's appreciated.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FEELING GUILTY": You should be! To keep a pet without making every effort to find its owner is not much better than stealing it. Search your "LOST AND FOUND" ads, telephone your local Humane Society, report your find to the local Police Department. And place a "FOUND" ad in your local newspaper.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69704, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 19
 Your birthday today: The Sun enters the sign Taurus today at 6:38 p. m. E. S. T. In other years the hour is different, in most years in the early hours of the 20th. Both Arians and Taureans born today face increasing personal responsibility and more vocational activity. Emotional experiences bring maturity, require self-discipline. Today's natives encounter sudden changes. Arians are skilled in planning them.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Clear up all differences and questions remaining from yesterday before you create any new ones. There's enough to do.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Early indecision results in having too many different things to do later in the day. Get busy and keep things simple.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: The less you do to change things, the better. Enjoy whatever you have while it lasts as everything is about to change.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Nobody gets in your way, but then nobody offers much help either. Creative personal projects are favored.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Reflect on the good aspects of your life and the progress you have achieved while you untangle neglected routines.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]:

With no special problems there is a moment of tension. You may have to cope with outside distractions when somebody wants attention.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Earlier confusion clears with calm determination. This is a slow-paced day with a chance to get something heavy done.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Resign from a chance to fight early, concentrate on production. Study benefits.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Minor problems open doors for larger ideas, better long-range plans. Try to break patterns of repeated error.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: What starts demanding time and attention dwindles if attended to promptly. Give and get cooperation.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Get on the ball for early action, last-minute changes and adjustments. Creativity fills the day, even in mechanical routines.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: You may spend the day thinking over the puzzles of the morning, learning much about yourself and others as you go.

Hog Cholera Elimination Plan Still Has Tough Road Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recent outbreaks of hog cholera are signals that cooperative federal and state programs aimed at eliminating the disease still have a tough road ahead, says an Agriculture Department veterinarian.

Dr. Ernest E. Saulmon, deputy administrator of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, said recently the main cause for concern are recent outbreaks of hog cholera in New Jersey, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Texas.

All infected herds have been destroyed, Saulmon said in a statement.

"However, these states, except Texas, were without hog cholera for periods of four months up to two years before these outbreaks," Saulmon said. "This shows that the disease can remain undetected in a chronically-infected and unreported herd, or can reappear when hogs are fed raw pork scraps or uncooked garbage."

Saulmon said "great progress" has been made in cholera eradication and that 41 states now are free of the disease. But the recent outbreaks, within the past month, show much work still is required.

"Under no circumstances should a farmer send sick pigs to market—spreading the disease. And of course he should not feed uncooked garbage to his swine," Saulmon said.

'72 State 4-H Lab Set For July 31

The 1972 State 4-H Leadership Lab will be held July 31 to August 5 at Lake Brownwood, according to George McArthur, 4-H and youth specialist. Purpose of the annual event is to provide learning experiences in leadership and human relations dealing with the way people live and work together in real-life situations.

Any 4-H'er 14 years of age or older may apply at the local county Extension office. Adult 4-H leaders and county Extension agents may also apply.

RICHARD L. BARRETT
Guam—Staff Sergeant Richard L. Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Barrett of 616 N. Wells, is on temporary duty with a Strategic Air Command (SAC) unit at Andersen AFB, Guam.

Sergeant Barrett, an armament systems mechanic, is assigned to the 43rd Strategic Wing, one of three SAC wings in the Western Pacific-Southeast Asia area. He is permanently assigned at Dyess AFB, Tex.

The sergeant graduated in 1967 from Pampa High School. His wife, Mary, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Burcherts of 4805 E. Arizona, Denver.

BOBBY D. TREADWELL
Army Captain Bobby D. Treadwell (center), son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Treadwell, Wheeler, recently assumed command of Battery "A," 6th Battalion, 65th Air Defense Artillery, in ceremonies at Key West, Fla.

Pinning on his leadership are Major Cleo Drake, Battalion Executive Officer, and the Captain's wife, Betty. Capt. Treadwell entered the army in February 1968 and was last assigned with the 1st Cavalry Division in Vietnam. He holds three awards of the Bronze Star Medal and awards of the Air Medal and the Army Commendation Medal.

The Captain has a Bachelor of Science degree in mathematics from West Texas State University at Canyon, where he graduated in 1968 and received his commission through the Reserve Officer's Training Corps program.

TB Unit Plans Skin Testing In Ochiltree

The Top O' Texas TB and Respiratory Disease Association has announced preliminary plans to do TB skin testing in Ochiltree County.

The purpose of the tests is to identify those infected with tuberculosis germs so they may be referred for medical supervision for either preventive or curative measures, officials said.

The tests will be conducted at Perryton on May 12 from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the American Legion Hall.

Nursing staff of the State Health Department, assisted by volunteers, will administer and read the tests.

CARELESS BOATMEN

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Executive Director James U. Cross says 1971 statistics show that in most cases carelessness caused more boating accidents than any other factor.

The average boating accident ironically involved an operator between the ages of 26 to 50 who had more than 500 hours of experience.

In addition to 65 fatalities, 128 boating-related injuries were recorded in 1971. Damage to boats and other property totaled $276,880.

BRUSH CONTROL BEFORE AND AFTER -- The top picture shows a pasture heavily infested with sand sage and shin oak. The grass stand was only low fair condition. At the bottom one aerial spraying and growing season deferment later the grass stand is excellent. This pasture will carry 50 to 100 per cent more cattle than before brush control.

(Phot USDA - SCS)

Brush Control Increases Grazing To 100 Per Cent

Now is the time to consider brush control in our area according to Phil Richey, Range Conservationist with the SCS at Pampa. There are some 105,000 acres of brush in Gray County about 90 per cent of which is sand sage and shin oak. Some may ask why control brush of this type.

True, sage and shin oak provide good habitat for wildlife such as quail. Shin oak will produce feed for cattle in the late spring and summer. However, brush chokes out desirable grasses which also make wildlife habitat and very excellent grazing for cattle. A pasture without brush produces far more grazing than one with brush. More grass means more grazing for cattle and thus higher income. Aerial spraying is, probably, the cheapest and most beneficial method of control for sage and shin oak. Richey goes on to say, Shin oak can be controlled with 2, 4, 5-T or silvex applied late in the spring. Sand sage is susceptible to 2, 4-D applied late in the spring. Soil temperature and moisture are important considerations and the plants need to be in vigorous growth.

The SCS can provide technical assistance and cost-share help through the Great Plains Conservation Program. The ASCS also has assistance available through the Rural Environmental Assistance Program.

"We will be glad to talk to anyone about brush control on their land or here at the Courthouse Annex in our office," adds Richey. "Call 665-1751 or come by anytime."

Bentsen Urged To Back Tower's "No-Strike" Bill

WACO-Texas Farm Bureau President J. T. Woodson has asked Senator Lloyd Bentsen to support permanent legislation which would deal with what he called "crippling strikes in the transportation industry."

"Recent dock strikes, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, cost farmers and ranchers of the United States over $1 billion in terms of reduced prices for agricultural products and loss of domestic and foreign markets," Woodson said in a message to Senator Bentsen.

Senator John Tower is co-sponsor of the proposal which would be applicable to railroads, airlines, merchant marine, trucking, and longshoring. The bill (S. 3232 by Senator Robert W. Packwood of Oregon) is similar to an amendment offered to the dock strike bill which was narrowly defeated earlier this year in the Senate. Congress subsequently adopted temporary legislation to stop the West Coast dock strike.

agriculture. Some 10 percent are in production, while the remaining 90 percent work in processing, packaging, transporting, wholesaling and retailing agricultural products.

The bill in question has the following major provisions:

- (1) The 90-day injunction of the Taft-Hartley Act would be made applicable to railroads and airlines.
- (2) The 90-day injunction could be invoked where a strike imperils the national health or safety of a substantial sector of the nation.
- (3) If the dispute is not settled during the 90-day period, the President could extend the injunction for 15 days, or provide for partial operation of the industry, or provide for a three-member panel to select the "most reasonable" one of the final offers by the two parties.
- (4) Repeals the provision of the Railway Labor Act which authorizes unemployment insurance to striking railroad employees.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Tuesday, April 18, the 109th day of 1972. There are 257 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1775, Paul Revere began his famous ride in Massachusetts to warn American colonists: "The British are coming."

On this date: In 1847, U.S. Gen. Winfield Scott captured Cerro Gordo Hill in Mexico. It was the first point of resistance in Scott's march on Mexico City.

In 1906, an earthquake rocked San Francisco and touched off fires that nearly destroyed the city.

In 1942, in the Pacific war, U.S. bombers led by Lieut. Gen. James Doolittle attacked Tokyo and other cities in Japan.

In 1946, the League of Nations officially went out of existence.

In a recent letter to Senator Tower, the TFB leader expressed appreciation for Tower's co-sponsorship of S. 3232, and asked him to "make every effort toward early consideration and favorable action on the bill."

Woodson reminded Senator Bentsen that Texas agricultural producers were particularly vulnerable to dock strikes and transportation work stoppages.

The TFB president said that losses have not been to agriculture alone, but to the entire state due to the "tremendous importance" of agriculture to the total economy of the state.

"Agriculture is the largest industry in Texas, having just recently surpassed the petroleum industry in terms of dollar volume and number of people gainfully employed," Woodson said.

"Approximately 40 percent of the gainfully employed persons in Texas work in some phase of

Finn Student Wins Boston Marathon

BOSTON (AP) — Olavi Suomalainen, an engineering student in Helsinki, returned the Boston A.A. Marathon championship to Finland today in extending foreign domination of the 74-year-old distance run for a handful of prizes and a bowl of beef stew.

The 25-year-old Suomalainen, moving up to the marathon distance for the first time, surprised a starting field of 1,081 by winning the 26-mile, 385-yard Hopkinton-to-Boston test Monday in 2 hours, 15 minutes, 39 seconds.

His 18-second victory over the fast-closing Victor Manuel Mora of Colombia was Finland's first in 10 years. It also marked the 24th triumph by a foreigner since World War II, the only breaks in the string being Johnny Kelley's victory in 1957 and Abrose Burfoot's triumph four years ago.

Suomalainen, normally a 25-kilometer runner, charged into the lead with less than five miles to go and had enough to withstand Mora's belated challenge to win by slightly more than 100 yards.

Former Connecticut track star John Vitale set the early pace before Mexico's Jacinto Sabinal passed him after 14 miles.

Then came the hills, a couple of small ones and then famed "Heartbreak," leading up to Boston College.

Suomalainen caught up to the Mexican at the fifth checkpoint just below the college and 21.6 miles from the start. Then he gradually built his advantage as Sabinal faded and finished third in 2:16:10.

Mexico's Alfred Penazola and Pablo Garrido, each running in the BAA for the third time, finished fourth and fifth in 2:18:46 and 2:19:50, respectively. Bruce Mortensen of Rochester, N.Y., was the first American finisher, placing sixth in 2:19:59.

Rader Paces Astro Victory

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros gave a sneak preview in the Astrodome Monday night of what they expect of the 1972 season.

Stars of their 7-2 victory over San Francisco included Doug Rader hitting a two-run homer and two-run triple; Larry Dierker, who posted 12 victories last season, pitching four hitless innings and right fielder Jim "Toy Cannon" Wynn hitting again.

But the Astros' technicolor performance is only a teaser, according to Manager Harry Walker.

"You saw a little bit out there what this club can do," Walker said. "It's so easy to start hollering and say they can't win, but I think this team will really start to come around soon."

Rader said the Astros' hitters have a way to go.

"We were fortunate enough tonight to get some timely hits," the golden-glove third baseman said. "It's just like throwing dice right now."

Rader said the hitters' timing is still off because of the player strike. "You'd see a fast ball coming in right here (waist high) and we were fouling them off," he said.

The Giants got their only runs in the fifth when losing pitcher John Cumberland touched Dierker for a two-run single. Rader tied it with a homer in the fifth and Houston took the lead in the sixth on run-scoring singles by Lee May and Bob Watson.

Rader added the icing in the eighth with his triple.

LL Try-Outs Begin Today

Little League try-outs for the 1972 season get under way today at 5:30 in Optimist Park. Boys 9-12 years of age are eligible to play in the Little League.

Boys who participated on a team last year do not have to try-out. All others, including those who played farm team ball last year, must attend both scheduled sessions to be considered for a team.

The session today will be for boys ages nine and eleven. The other try-out for those boys will be held at the same time and place Thursday.

Boys who are ten or twelve report to Optimist Park Wednesday and Friday at 5:30.

Boys living east of Russell St. up to 23rd and Perryton Parkway will be in the National League; those living west of this section will be in the American League.

Boys in the National League section report to the south park and those in the American League report to the north park.

If anyone has a question about which league he should play in, contact Gene Bynum, President of the National League or T.V. Lowrance, president of the American League, at the try-outs.

All interested boys are invited to come and try-out for a team.

Team assignments for boys will be announced in the Pampa News, Sunday, April 23rd.

Harvester Nine Meets Amarillo

Pampa High's baseball team goes to Amarillo this afternoon in search of its second loop win. The Harvesters meet Amarillo High at 4:00.

Larry Knutson (2-3) is scheduled to take the mound for the Harvesters. Knutson was the outstanding player for Pampa in last Friday's victory over Palo Duro. In the game he collected three hits in three times at bat (including, a home-run and a double) and drove all four of Pampa's runs.

The Sandies are currently in a tie for second in the district and a win by Pampa could make the title race a bit tighter.

Wendell Smith (4-3) is the likely starting pitcher for Amarillo.

Lakers Must Win To Stay Alive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks and Los Angeles Lakers have each won the games they really had to win.

But tonight's match at the forum is a MUST game for both. The teams are tied 2-2 in the best-of-7 series for the National Basketball Association's Western Conference championship.

The nationally televised game starts at 10 p.m. EST. The Forum is a 17,500-seat sellout and, with Los Angeles blacked out for home television, five sites will carry closed-circuit telecast.

In Monday night's only pro basketball action, Utah moved out to a 2-0 lead in their West Division final series against Indiana by whipping the Pacers 117-100.

Willie Wise poured in 30 points for the Stars, including 11 in the third quarter, when Utah turned a one-point halftime deficit into a nine point lead. Zelmo Beaty, playing despite a broken finger, scored 23 points and hauled down 25 rebounds for the Stars.

George McGinnis led Indiana with 28 points, 21 of them in the second half.

The third game of the series will be played Wednesday night at Anderson, Ind.

The other ABA playoff series, between Virginia and the New York Nets for the East Division title, does not resume until April 24. The Squires hold a 2-0 edge.

In the NBA Eastern Conference finals, the New York Knicks hold a 2-0 edge over Boston. Game No. 3 will be played Wednesday night in Boston, and the Celtics need that one to climb back into contention.

Double Standard On Viet Battle

By DON OAKLEY

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., has condemned renewed U.S. bombing of North Vietnam as a major escalation of the war.

Wasn't the bombing in response to North Vietnam's massive invasion of South Vietnam?

That was our fault too, suggests the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, because the offensive was the result of the United States breaking off peace negotiations in Paris.

Thus once again black is white in Vietnam, up is down and what's sauce for the goose is a no-no for the gander.

It was wrong for the United States to have tried to bomb the North Vietnamese to the bargaining table in the first place; it is perfectly natural for them to launch an invasion of South Vietnam—on a few weeks' notice, yet—to punish us for leaving the table.

But the senator is hardly the only one who consistently observes a double standard when it comes to Vietnam. Some of the worst offenders are in the ranks of the news media.

For example, writes New York Times correspondent Anthony Lewis, the truth about the Nixon-Kissinger formula for "peace" and "stability" in Indochina is now obvious. It is perpetual war and perpetual involvement.

"Unless the war ends on our terms," he writes, "with Communist acceptance of the Thieu government, we shall keep killing the inhabitants of Indochina—from a distance." (Presumably it's O. K. for the Communists to kill them close-up.)

Now, American involvement in Vietnam may have been a strategic blunder, it may have been the greatest immorality in the history of the world, or it may simply have been none of our business. But one thing it never was, and one thing it never will be, an attempt to force the Communists to accept anything—except, perhaps, that their troops should stay on their own side of the border.

Quite the contrary, American involvement was, and is, aimed at preventing North Vietnam from imposing its form of government on South Vietnam.

All such argumentation may be academic, however. A public opinion survey by the National Observer in the wake of North Vietnam's invasion found that most people could scarcely care less.

Whatever the headlines may say, whatever the columnists may tell them, a great many Americans seem to have declared their own peace and just don't want to talk about Vietnam anymore.

But the war is still some distance from being over, by or on anybody's terms. Until it is over, we ought at least to keep certain basic facts straight.

Male Sex Is 'Libbed'

Well, women's liberation has accomplished one thing, in a backhanded sort of way.

As a result of a suit brought by a disgruntled, discriminated-against male and a court ruling sustained by the U. S. Supreme Court itself, the nation's airlines have had to abandon their traditional "women only" hiring policies for "stewardess" and are scrambling to employ men in the job.

One of them is Barry Shelby, 25, a graduate of Michigan State University, newly hired by Pan American.

Male passengers have always had somebody to flirt with," says Barry, "but that left out lots of single girls who travel. Now the women will have somebody to flirt with." Fathers, did you raise your sons to be sex objects?

McGovern May Turn The Tables

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Here's a plausible script, not of his making but of mine, by which Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota might be brought reasonably close to the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination:

My most recent canvass of the 50 states shows McGovern with a presently indicated delegate potential of 490½ votes. That includes delegates he already has locked up, and many others which informed appraisers say he is reasonably sure of, at a minimum.

A candidate this year needs 1500 votes, one more than half the convention total of 3016, to be nominated at Miami Beach in July.

Where could McGovern get enough more strength to bring himself within range?

First off, he has a good chance to win big in Massachusetts, since rival Sen. Edmund Muskie clearly is downplaying that April 25 primary in favor of another the same day against Sen. Hubert Humphrey in Pennsylvania.

Should McGovern pick up three-quarters of the 102 Massachusetts votes (not impossible), he would advance 20 votes or so over present indications.

Let's assume he doesn't go beyond very modest expectations in the Pennsylvania test and the one a week later in Ohio. Those are largely Muskie-Humphrey struggles.

Two weeks after Massachusetts, however, McGovern runs in the Nebraska primary, where he is now leading and still building against a fading Muskie. The delegate haul there is small, but a third primary victory at that state in time would impart good momentum to the McGovern campaign for the later, bigger tests.

One of those comes just seven days after, in Michigan. There a candidate gets delegates in direct proportion to the relative size of his statewide vote total, as measured against other contenders. Victories in Massachusetts and Nebraska would heighten his chance of taking at least a fourth to a third of Michigan's 132 votes May 16.

Oregon's primary on May 23 is a traditional one which is usually weighted with significance beyond the modest size of its vote total (34). Today McGovern is the clear favorite, and the winner gets all 34.

One demonstrated gain from an Oregon triumph is its lift effect on a candidate's chances in the huge California primary shortly after.

McGovern already is a rising prospect in that state. If he were to reach that big one on a fairly good winning tide, he might take it. The prize is immense: 271 votes to the winner on a take-all basis.

Again, let's say he does it. Two weeks after that comes the New York primary with 278 votes at stake, all but 10 per cent in 39 separate congressional district contests. New York sources indicate that a California win for McGovern would put him in position to score a near sweep in their primary—perhaps all but 30 or 40 of the total.

If all this conjecturing came to pass, McGovern would probably add at least 460 votes to his present suggested potential of 490½. That would give him 950, or about 300 votes short of the needed 1500.

This does not even calculate what else he might pick up along the way in various nonprimary states impressed by such a victory string.

A skin like that, including the traditional primaries of Wisconsin and Oregon, running to a total of at least six, embracing a great delegate haul and climaxing near convention time in massive California and New York, just might be enough to bowl over all opposition.

Could an "open" Democratic party deny the nomination to a man who had done that well and was coming with a rush at the end? It might, but it might have a lot of explaining to do if it did.

Primary Elections Can Give Wrong Impression

By PAUL HARVEY

Sen. Ed Muskie said it: "Winning isn't everything, but losing isn't anything."

What are the primary election results trying to tell us?

Diverse as the results appear at first glance, a pattern is becoming apparent in the political primaries.

George McGovern was the big winner in Wisconsin. However his hurt opponents question the significance. Sen. McGovern got the most votes.

In Wisconsin it's allowable to crisscross party lines in a primary so anybody displeased with the "Establishment"—anybody to either the right or left of Nixon—had an opportunity to express dissatisfaction; on the left for McGovern, on the right for George Wallace.

Meanwhile, the (What'll we call them?) moderate voters, middle-roads, the less dogmatic dissenters divided their votes among all those other fellows; thus appearing much less numerous than middle-roads always are.

Said less obliquely: When the extremists rally around any one person, they can outshout the divided majority.

But in a two-man race, they

GOING TO POT

Now comes the National Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse with a recommendation that jail terms and fines for private pot-smoking be repealed. In a hodge-podge report on its investigation of marijuana use, the panel said it would keep restrictions on the cultivation and sale of the plant. It stopped short of recommending the legalization of marijuana. Its studies, the panel said, indicated that marijuana was not harmful in most categories, including brain damage or birth defects. It found "little or no evidence" that marijuana leads to crime, but persons driving under the influence are serious threats to public safety and heavy use can cause damage to heart and lungs.

A threat to public safety is criminal in nature, regardless of what the panel says. And if private use of marijuana is not dangerous, why do cultivation and sale of the stuff fall into the category? Veteran Dallas detectives who had to track down two bandit-killers several years ago would be among the first to dispute the findings of the panel. The suspects would rob store owners and then shoot them down in cold blood. When the suspects were caught, they confessed that they smoked marijuana before each robbery so they would have the courage to kill the victims, thus eliminating witnesses.

Dallas County District Attorney Henry Wade called the panel's finding "hogwash." We would wager here that most prosecutors and police officers in this country would brand them the same. Schools and drug control centers can go a long way in helping combat pot. But the law is the ultimate protector.

Inside Washington

3,000 Russian Troops In Vietnam Offensive

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Russian troops have been directly participating in the all-out Communist invasion of South Vietnam.

From emplacements and other positions in North Vietnam, Soviet technicians and specialists are directing and manning a variety of key weapons and facilities, foremost among them:

SAM-3 and other anti-aircraft missiles and armaments being employed in profuse numbers against U. S. bombers and fighters. Some of these Russian-manned AA installations have been top U. S. targets.

Long-range artillery batteries which have duelled with U. S. warships shelling enemy supply lines and other military targets. Radar and communications installations and networks, major targets of B-2 and F-4 Phantom fighter-bomber attacks.

Intelligence estimates the number of Soviet military personnel now active in North Vietnam at "more than 3,000," of which about 10 per cent are officers.

Significantly, most of these specialist elements came from India—where they secretly assisted the Indian army in the brief but intense fighting with Pakistan. The Russians functioned there in the same way they are in North Vietnam—and just as covertly.

Direct Soviet troop participation in the warring against Pakistan came to light after the end of the fighting. India still hasn't admitted it.

One of the decisive factors that prompted President Nixon to resume air attacks in North Vietnam was the disclosure that Russians are actively taking part in the Communists' "go-for-broke" offensive to destroy the South Vietnamese army and overthrow the Thieu government.

The operations of the Soviet specialists are in addition to the immense quantities of tanks, guns, armored and other vehicles of all kinds, munitions and other combat supplies Russia has poured into North Vietnam.

The vast Communist assault on South Vietnam is virtually wholly Russian equipped and provisioned.

Intelligence estimates the cost of these huge armaments at more than $2 billion.

What Reds Are After Documents captured during the fierce fighting in the central highlands reveal that a principal aim of the Communists is to intensify U. S. disaffection and hostility against the long-drawn-out war.

One paper found on a Communist commander stressed this objective, saying "the American masses are against this immoral and illegal war. They want it stopped and U. S. troops withdrawn from Vietnam. But the capitalist and military rulers are violently resisting that and they must be overthrown. They are desperately on the defensive and this is the time for a decisive victory."

Authorities deem highly significant the fact that in this document and other Hanoi propaganda, the Communists are calling for a "decisive" victory and not "total" victory as was frenziedly done in the ferocious Tet offensive four years ago.

That cost the Reds some 80,000 casualties—mostly Vietcong.

Notably in the current fighting an insignificant role. The offensive is being waged entirely by North Vietnam units. Strikingly indicative of that is that in the first two weeks of the assault Hanoi committed all but one of its divisions.

This highly revealing fact was conclusively established by prisoners identified from these divisions and documents and other evidence found on dead and wounded enemy, a number of them officers.

The U. S. now has only seven combat battalions in Vietnam, as compared to 112 at the height of U. S. strength there in 1968.

For health reasons, Gen. Creighton Abrams has declined President Nixon's warmly pressed offer of appointment as Army Chief of Staff to succeed Gen. Westmoreland, whose term expires in June. Last year Abrams's gall bladder was removed. Fifty-seven years old, he has indicated he plans to retire when he returns from Vietnam.

Dirty Hands

Those pious denunciations by members of the United Nations Security Council of this country's resumption of imports of Rhodesian chrome ore, vital for plane and other defense production, are a revolting example of gross hypocrisy and dishonesty.

Through all the years the U. S. meticulously abided by the United Nations' punitive trade embargo against Rhodesia, a number of Security Council and other UN members were flagrantly disregarding and violating those sanctions. Publicly accused of that was Russia—which became the principal source of U. S. chrome, at high profit, when Rhodesian ore was banned.

Sen. Harry Byrd, Ind.-Va., who singlehandedly put through the legislation last year that lifted the UN embargo, caustically stressed this in hailing the renewal of the U. S. purchase of Rhodesian chrome. Under this decisively passed bill, if strategic material is imported from a Communist nation, it cannot be excluded from non-Communist countries. The State Department vigorously opposed the measure, but lost heavily in both the House and Senate.

Byrd frankly admits the new statute discards the United Nations mandate, but in effect says, "What of it?"

U. S. Ambassador Christopher Phillips stated that while this country was complying with the sanctions against trade with Rhodesia, it declares Byrd, "that at least nine nations with delegations on the Security Council, including most of the permanent members, were accused of violating the sanctions. As Ambassador Phillips succinctly pointed out, Rhodesia steadily increased its exports of chrome and other strategic materials, so obviously somebody was buying them."

Clearly, it was United Nations members who self-righteously imposed the embargo on Rhodesia, and then secretly violated it—while the U. S. at heavy expense was strictly adhering to it. And now that Congress has legally lifted that ban, these same nations are declaiming against the U. S.

Your Health

By Dr. Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

About Pregnancy

Dear Dr. Lamb—In our health class we came upon a question that our teacher was not sure of, so a group of us girls thought it would be a good idea to ask you the same question. When does a girl have the least chance of getting pregnant? We would appreciate it if you would answer this in one of your future columns.

Dear Reader—Your phrase "the least chance" is a good term because there is always the chance that a girl can get pregnant. There is some debate about whether ovulation can occur during actual menstruation, but since it does occur then in animals a number of authorities think it is possible for a woman to ovulate at this time.

In the normal cycle of events, there are about 28 days between the onset of periods, although this varies a great deal. The egg or ovum is released about 14 days before the onset of the period. This means it occurs midway between the periods and this is the time a person is most likely to get pregnant.

However, women are noted for being irregular and this is particularly true for young girls when all of these complex mechanisms are first beginning to function. When the ovum is first released, it is called ovulation and if it meets with a sperm cell a pregnancy begins. The fertilized ovum nestles down in the special tissue which lines the womb. In the preceding two weeks this tissue has grown quite a bit to provide an adequate nest for the fertilized ovum. If it implants and starts growing a pregnancy ensues.

When the ovum is not fertilized or does not embed then the extra tissue which nature has built up for the pregnancy is discarded. This dismantling process occurs about two weeks or 14 days after the ovulation. Then it is rebuilt again and gets ready for the next ovulation which should occur midway between the periods.

The rhythm method of birth control relies on the fact that ovulation occurs approximately 14 days before the onset of the period, in a woman who is regular. If this period can be identified it is known that she is most likely to get pregnant at this time, give or take a few days before or after the 14 day midpoint. If she is absolutely regular (which doesn't happen very often) by avoiding intercourse during these periods of time, pregnancy can be avoided, but I would like to emphasize to you again that there is no time that anyone is completely safe from getting pregnant. This is why so many other methods of birth control have been developed. The best, surest way to prevent an unwanted pregnancy is not to engage in any activity that can result in this unfortunate event.

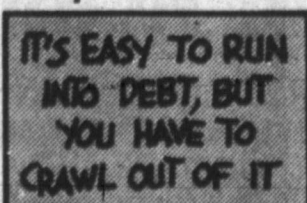

God has put something noble and good into every heart which His hand created.—Mark Twain.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will hold a stag dinner at the White House next week to honor 19 retiring members of the House and Senate.

OSHKOSH, Wis. (AP) — Carl Martin of Oshkosh likes to ride his bike.

But the times he picks for his rides and the places he goes are giving his relatives and the police some anxious moments. Martin is 81 years old.

At 3:30 p.m. Sunday, a relative called the police and listed Martin as missing. After a 12-hour search, deputies found Martin and his bike stuck in the mud in Appleton, 20 miles away.

He has been reported missing two other times. Once he rode 35 miles to Eureka and another time 40 miles to New London.

Police say Martin's relatives have asked them to take his bike away, but they can't legally do it.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Patrick O'Neill, 28, has been sentenced to 15 years in jail for possessing what a Belfast judge called "a tremendous arsenal" of arms and explosives.

Found at his father's farm were a submachine gun, 32 shotguns, 15 rifles, three revolvers, two pistols, 12,000 rounds of ammunition and a quantity of gelignite, the judge was told Monday.

OZARK, Ala. (AP) — Johnnie C. Walker has been named chairman of a committee to conduct a move to legalize the sale of alcoholic beverages in Dale County, Ala.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The two-car garage, once a symbol of affluence, will be required by law under new zoning ordinances in Green Township.

The garages must be included in all new homes in 11 of the township's precincts beginning this week.

City fathers say they want to HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Universal Studios says it will begin production of the movie version of "Jesus Christ, Superstar" in Israel Aug. 10.

The film will be directed by Norman Jewison, producer of the Oscar nominee "Fiddler on the Roof."

"We are filming 'Superstar' in the Holy Land because that's where Jesus walked, where the events took place and where such a work deserves to be filmed," Jewison told newsmen Monday.

WTSU To Name Woman Of The Year

CANYON, Tex. — Ten outstanding junior and senior students have been nominated for Woman of the Year at West Texas State University.

The award, sponsored annually by the Associated Women Students, will be presented Thursday night at the AWS banquet at Chef Luis Restaurant in Amarillo.

At the same time the $200 Ruth Cross Scholarship will be presented to an undergraduate woman student. The scholarship was named in honor of a longtime WTSU dean of women, who has retired.

Mrs. James Malone, Pampa, well-known book reviewer and wife of the superintendent of schools there, will be the banquet speaker. She is president of the El Progreso Study Club of Pampa, immediate past president of the Pampa Garden Club and a member of the executive board of the Texas Garden Club.

Nominees for Woman of the Year are:

Debra Bohlander, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Merle Bohlander, 1219 Williston, Pampa, junior social studies education major, vice president of Associated Women Students and associate justice of the student Supreme Court.

Connie Brown, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown Jr., of Olton, senior business education major, vice president and secretary Phi Gamma Nu business sorority, Pi Omega Pi honorary business education fraternity.

Mrs. Gay Lyn Cagle, 28, wife of Daryl Cagle of Amarillo, senior elementary education-music major, Alpha Chi national honor society, chairman and organizer of Mu Phi Epsilon music therapy program, alto section leader in WTSU Chorale.

Harletta Capps, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Capps of Vernon, senior English education major, Alpha Chi national honor society, Sigma Tau Delta national English honorary, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, first runnerup in Miss WTSU Pageant, former Texas Farm Bureau queen.

Lynn DeGeer, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Don DeGeer, Jr., of Phillips, junior physical education major, Alpha Chi national honor society, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, Mary E. Hudspeth Honor Society, vice president of Chi Omega social sorority.

Trudy Griffith, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Griffith of Phillips, junior elementary-education-English major, president of Hudspeth Hall, Women's Residence Hall Council, Campus Crusade for Christ.

Deborah Ann Hazelwood, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hazelwood of Spearman, senior elementary education-English major, Alpha Chi national honor society, Mary E. Hudspeth Honor Society, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, former Student Association secretary, treasurer Panhellenic Council, Campus Crusade for Christ, Buffalo Band.

Joe Meaker, 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Meaker Jr., of Panhandle, senior physical education major, president of House of Delegates, vice president of AWS last year, outstanding physical education major, Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, member of WTSU women's track team four years.

Mary Moore, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Moore of Amarillo, junior business education major, president of Delta Zeta social sorority, member of Texas Business Education Association, social chairman of Young Democrats.

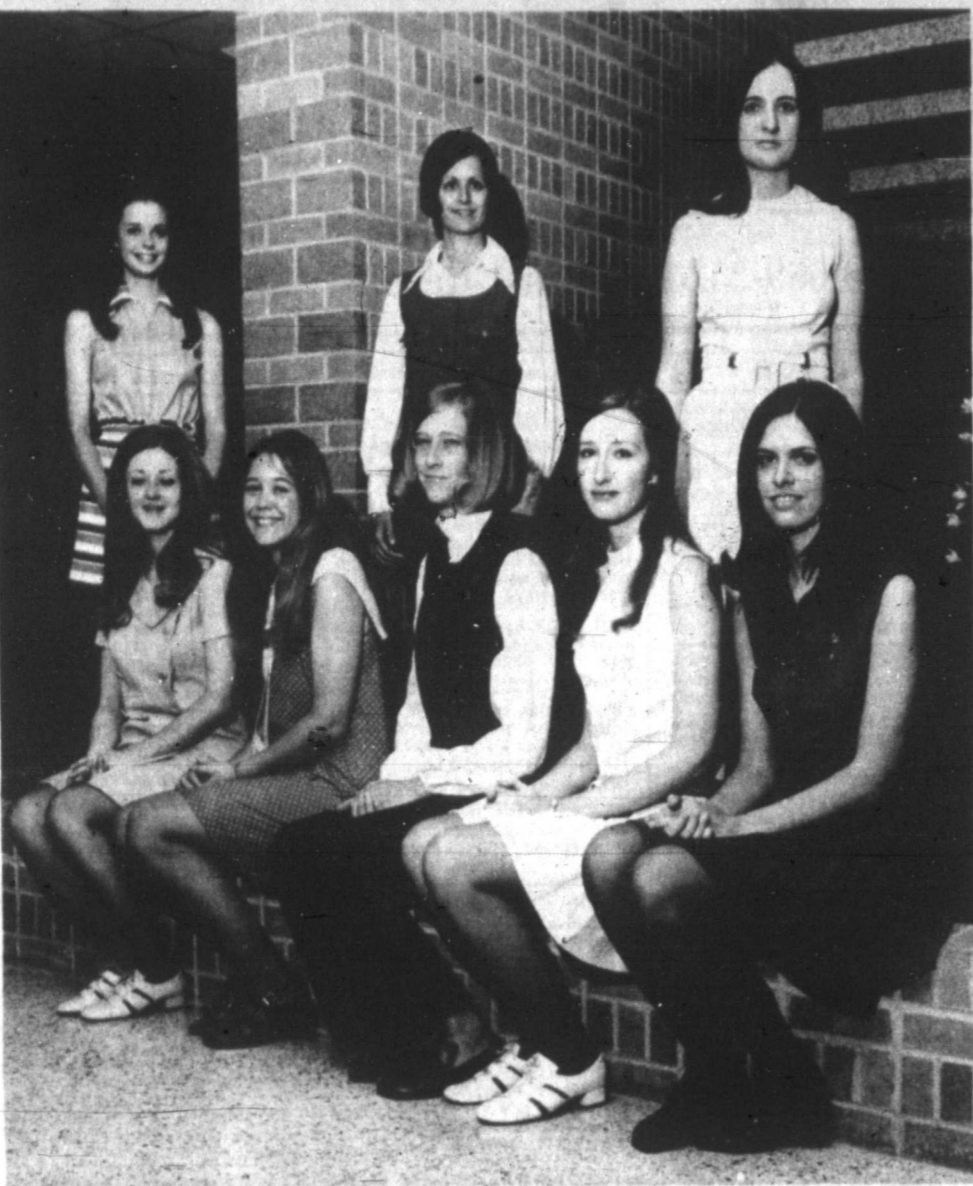

Jen Thompson, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson of El Paso, senior English education major, Alpha Chi national honor society, associate justice of student Supreme Court, secretary of Beta Beta Beta international honorary biological society.

Mobeetie Club Will Sponsor Pie Auction

Members of the Mt. View Quilting Club of Mobeetie will sponsor a pie auction at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Old Totty School four miles west of Mobeetie.

All area candidates have been invited to speak at the session. The group is attempting to raise funds to help preserve the old building, including purchasing a new roof.

NOMINEES—The Associated Women Students at West Texas State University will name its Woman of the Year at the annual AWS banquet Thursday night. Ten coeds have been nominated for the honor, including (from left, standing) Jen Thompson, El Paso; Jo Meaker, Panhandle; and Deborah Hazelwood, Spearman; (seated) Debra Bohlander, Pampa; Trudy Griffith, Phillips; Lynn DeGeer, Phillips; Connie Brown, Olton; and Mary Moore, Amarillo. Candidates not shown are Harletta Capps, Vernon, and Gay Lyn Cagle, Amarillo.

Smith OK's 3 Grants For Area

AUSTIN—Governor Preston Smith has approved three grants, totaling $50,031 for governmental units in the area served by Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, Amarillo.

The grants were approved on recommendation of the Criminal Justice Council Executive Committee. The Criminal Justice Council oversees statewide law enforcement planning and administers funds from the U. S. Department of Justice for crime control programs in Texas.

The following grants were approved:

Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, $25,320 for holding the Governor's 1972 Juvenile Justice Conference April 24-28 at Brownwood. About 150 juvenile judges are expected to participate. Tours of state boys' schools at Gatesville are included in the program. Panhandle region will coordinate the activities. In-kind match of $32,000 is required.

Hartley County Commissioner Court, $17,210 for a criminal investigator for the five counties of the 69th Judicial District. The investigator will assist District Attorney Michael P. Metcalf by investigating offenses, securing witnesses and evidence, taking statements and acting as liaison between the district attorney and local law enforcement officers in Dallam, Hartley, Sherman, Moore and Oldham counties. In-kind match of $19,070 is stipulated.

City of Amarillo, $7,501 for continued support of the police-community relations unit of the police department.

Rep. Purcell Hears Reports On Food Price

WASHINGTON—After four days of exhaustive hearings on meat prices by the Subcommittee on Livestock and Grains, the Chairman, U. S. Rep. Graham Purcell (D-Tex.) stated "The true story for the first time since the National Commission on Food Marketing is being told about beef prices."

It is clear that no other segment of the food chain does as well as the large chain stores who average 16.7 percent mark-up on their red meat sales.

Following the testimony of a parade of witnesses representing the beef industry, "No real conclusion is to be drawn except that the retailer seems primarily responsible for high meat costs," Purcell said.

"Beef producers from many areas testified that they could barely afford to continue raising cattle; one rancher stated that he could not, in all honesty, advise his own son to stay on the farm—because of the lack of opportunity to make a living; and another farmer testified that he made 90 cents an hour—for 15 and 16 hours a day, 7 days a week."

Representatives of the retail stores "failed to produce the kind of figures we want to explain the expensive cost of meat over the counter," the veteran Texas legislator continued. "Somewhere between the farmer and the consumer, someone is afraid to tell us all we need to know. In the New York area, the D. A. of Manhattan is investigating the possibility of a link with organized crime and high beef prices. Let us hope that fear of criminal elements has not sealed the mouths of those who could shed more light on meat pricing."

Rep. Price Blasts HEW For Welfare Programs

In a letter to Senator Russell Long, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Congressman Bob Price of Pampa lambasted the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for distributing misleading and inaccurate statistics dealing with welfare as contained in a recent HEW publication entitled "Welfare Myths vs. Facts."

Price questioned the credibility of HEW Department witnesses who have appeared before Senator Long's Committee in an attempt to promote the controversial Family Assistance Plan bill. Pointing to a recent General Accounting Office investigation of the "Welfare Myths vs. Facts" pamphlet made at his request, Price commented, "The General Accounting Office has uncovered not one but numerous specific examples where statements in the HEW pamphlet were found to be misleading or patently inaccurate. I am forced to ask then if this is an example of the sloppy auditing and fact-finding techniques employed by the Department of HEW which has over 100,000 employees, how dependable is the testimony of Department witnesses who have attempted to sell FAP to the Congress with the same enthusiasm of a seasoned used-car salesman."

Price further emphasized, "Such distorted and inaccurate statements as contained in 'Welfare Myths vs. Facts' only gives additional ammunition to the militaristic and well-oiled welfare rights lobby organizations who have attempted to shame and shock the Congress into underwriting new and unprecedented levels of indolence and parasitism in the United States."

BEES GET BLAMED INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Police and fire calls column in a suburban newspaper carried the following entry: "9:50 p.m. — residence call, 134 Bexhill Drive, smoking bees from woodpile caused fire in woodpile, estimated loss, $15."
