"We want a better community," said Gray County Commissioner for Precinct 2 Gary Willoughby, standing alongside an abandoned International Harvester truck sans wheels on Rider Street.

Following up on an order passed in June by the Gray County Commission authorizing the abatement of public nuisances in the unincorporated areas of the county, Willoughby has launched a clean up campaign in his precinct. "I had 22 locations throughout Precinct 2," Willoughby said, "that were in dire need of clean up."

The locations include the Cole Addition; Horse Alley, and Gray County Roads 2 1/2, 5 1/2 and County Road 6, which is Price Road. "There are two or three other little roads," he said. "These range from junk yards to dead animals to years of accumulation of 'What do I do with this stuff.""

Willoughby said he wants to help people get the country road right-of-ways in front of their properties cleaned up. "It's not the county's responsibility to tell somebody to come clean up their mess," Willoughby said. "I think they should have enough decency to respect their own property."

Veterans Day Closures

With the exception of emergency services, all City of Pampa, Gray County, state and federal offices will be closed Tuesday, Nov. 11, in observance of Veterans Day. Retail business establishments will be open and schools will be in session as usual.

No mail, however, will be delivered by the U.S. Post Office.

Veterans Day is the annual American holiday honoring military veterans. The holiday is traced to Armistice Day on Nov. 11, 1919, when first proclaimed by President Woodrow Wilson. It has been called Veterans Day since 1954.

But sometimes people need little nudge, he said. Willoughby said it took about six months to get the abatement passed in the Commissioners Court.

'We worked on this March, April, May and into June before we got it passed,"he said

The problem now, he said, is that some people don't take it seriously. "This went into effect in June," Willoughby said. "I mailed out 12 certified letters."

Four of those were in the Cole Addition. Two of those locations in the Cole Addition have been cleaned up completely, he said. "That still leaves me two," Willoughby said.

Gray County Road 2 1/2 has been cleaned up. Willoughby noted that over the past couple of years the City of Pampa made a push to haul off junked cars. "I applaud those guys," Willoughby said of the city commission

The problem, however, was that a lot of the junked cars were piled in fields outside the city limits. "It helped the city," Willoughby said. "It looked good, and a lot of those places cleaned up really quickly." He said he worry was what was done with all the oil and gas and antifreeze out of those cars

Xcel Energy seeks proposals for more power for Texas and New Mexico

AMARILLO — Xcel Southwestern Energy's Public Service Company (SPS) is seeking more than 1,000 additional megawatts of power for its Texas-New Mexico electrical system to meet growing demands for electricity across the region.

In the last three months, the company has issued three separate requests for proposals (RFPs), seeking up to 800 megawatts of dispatchable power, which could come from various fuel types, including natural gas, and up to 250 megawatts of additional wind power.

when the wind is blowing. The dispatchable power sources could include simple-cycle or combined-cycle natural gas generation, power purchased from other utilities or customer on-site co-generation.

All new power would be contracted through purchased-power agreements of varying terms to meet grow-beginning in 2012 and 2013. Responses to this RFP are we seek will not only help us due in December.

The company is requesting that the wind resources be available between 2010 and 2012 at the latest, and be located in the Texas portion of the SPS service area.

Any new purchasedpower agreements would be subject to all necessary regulatory approvals, including regulatory approval in the states SPS serves.

"The new power sources meet growing demand in a cost-effective manner, they also will help us meet our goals of reducing greenhouse gas emissions over time," Eves added.

The RFPs can be viewed at www.xcelenergy.com by clicking on the "Company" tab at the top of the home-when they were eventually crushed.

"All this got started down at the TCEQ (Texas Commission on Environmental Quality)," Willoughby said. They indicated that if the county didn't deal with such problems, the state would. Willoughby said he has two days scheduled for a clean up in Horse Alley, Dec. 17 and 18. "I have talked with Pampa City Manager Trevlyn Pitner," Willoughby said, "and he will graciously work with me on this and donate the use of their rollout boxes."

The city has five of the large dumpsters on wheels. "They are also willing to wave the landfill fee," Willoughby said. Instead, the city gets all the junk steel appliances that can be sold fortheir metal content. The city's participation, Willoughby said, will save the county about $2,500.

He said he would like to give everybody he's notified until Dec. 15 to clean up their property themselves.

The rollout boxes will go out the morning of Dec. 17. "I'll be on site," Willoughby said. "My team will be on site as well as several volunteers. We've got a group of guys out there that have front end loaders, and they are willing to help."

What hasn't been cleaned up from the right-of-way, Willoughby said will be pushed to the center of the county roads. The roads will be closed and the trash burned.

"Once that's clean," he said, "then everyone is on an honor system." But he warned that if there is junk on the county right-of-way in front of somebody's property, they are the ones that, will get served citations by the Sheriff's office.

Willoughby said the clean up is a one time thing. After that, the landowners will be held responsible. "We've got 40 to 50 years worth of rubble out there," Willoughby said

Texas tales: Small cemetery home to several Rangers

said,

Except for the occasional thunder-like sound of a jet taking off or landing at Austin's Bergstrom International Airport, the small cemetery could be out in the middle of nowhere.

But while the familyowned burial ground appears isolated – the only way in is a narrow, one-lane road bordered with barbed wire fences the Hornsby Bend Cemetery is entrapped by the modern urban sprawl of Travis County. It's still out in the country in comparison with other parts of metropolitan Austin, but less and less so every year.

The oldest cemetery in the county, laid out so long ago its size is recorded in land records by the antiquated Mexican measurement of varas (200 by 300), the gravevard is the final resting place for many members of one Texas' pioneer families, the Hornsbys. Among the graves are those of 15 former Texas Rangers. The cemetery also has monuments honoring four other rangers who while not buried there are part of the Hornsby clan.

In a way, all the graves trace to Reuben Hornsby Sr. and his wife Sarah Morrison Hornsby, who on Oct. 16, 1832, received the first Mexican land grant approved for Travis County. (Texas did not have counties back then, but eventually the area became part of Bastrop County, and later Travis.)

Originally from Mississippi, the couple came to Texas in 1830. They lived briefly at Matagorda and then in Bastrop, with Hornsby helping empresario Stephen F. Austin survey the land in the upper portion of his colony. That's when Hornsby first saw a piece of land along the Colorado River he reckoned would suit him "just fine.'

In July 1832, the Hornsby family settled in a bend of the river nine miles downstream from future Austin. Three months later they received a grant of a league and a labor of land, totaling 4,604.1 acres. While the area became known as Hornsby's Bend, the wellfortified Hornsby cabin was called Hornsby Station.

The elder Hornsby not only served as a ranger and later as a volunteer soldier in the Texas Revolution, he planted the first corn ever sown in Travis County, sat on the county's first jury, helped lay out the county's earliest roads, assisted in the surveying of Austin when it became capital of the Texas republic in 1839 and fathered the first Anglo child born in the county.

In ceremonies on October 25, the Former Texas Ranger Association placed sturdy metal Ranger markers (crosses bearing a symbolic Ranger badge) on the 19 graves or monuments. "When you put on the

Ranger badge, you remember those who came before you," FTRA President Joe Davis said at the dedication. "And when somebody dies, after the last Mike song is sung Cox and prayer is the Columnist only thing left you can do for them is keep their memory alive." With its 15 rangers, the Hornsby Bend Cemetery has the third most Ranger burials of any cemetery in Texas. The largest number of Ranger graves is in the Center Point Cemetery in Kerr County. Thirty-two men who served as rangers lie in that cemetery. Coming in second is the Texas State Cemetery in Austin, which has 19 ranger graves

So far, the FTRA has placed Ranger crosses on more than 400 graves. Most of the markers are on graves in Texas, but some have been put up in other states.

How many men have been the in rances Ingmire compiled the names of more than 10,000 men who served from the 1820s to 1900. Another 1,500 to 2,000 men (and now women) have worn Ranger badges in the 20th and 21st centuries, including 134 current rangers.

"There is a peculiar fitness that here in a lonely spot among the mesquite trees, within calling distance of the spot where once stood the first house in Travis county, are buried together all the dead members of the Hornsby family. In their lives, amid these very scenes, they did much to make Texas history and pave the way for those who followed in the more secure paths of civilization. ... It is meant that they should lie here in perpetuity, the little forest of their headstone serving as a lasting memorial, not only to their own bones, but to the vivid scenes and stirring times in which they took so large a part."

Hard to come up with a better joint epitaph for a cemetery than that.

Idle American: A life full of measure

Let's "fess" up! Who among us has not attended memorial services that stretched toward eternity? Given advance warning of lengthy services, we might opt to be absent.

Or to concoct an exit strategy triggered by a coughing spell. A tribute recently held in Fort Worth was to memorial services what Lawrence of Arabia was to movies - long, but worth every second. ... ****

The tribute was to Kyle Ogle of Texas, a real-life hero to the thousand-plus mourners who crowded into McKinney Memorial Bible Church to honor the life of this 38-year-old hero.

A bold Christian who battled cancer for a dozen years, Kyle met the disease head-on with dogged determination, deep faith and a trademark smile.

Honoring Kyle's detailed directives for the service, eulogist Tommy Saxon set the tone: "Keep it light. Keep it fun. Keep it real." ...

* * * * *

Saxon and fellow eulogist Jeff Turner were "thick and thin" buddies who forged friendships from life's deepest waters. Their bonds began in childhood days of neighborhood scrapes, bicycles and BB guns.

Reflections ran the gamut, with laughter and tears in equal measure.

"Kyle died young but lived old," observed minister friend Dr. Tommy Nelson. Powerful words, videos and music stirred mourners. More than two hours passed, but no one noticed.

"More," collective souls seemed to plead, "more." Wanting to glean more lessons from this magnificent life, fully half of the crowd lingered in the foyer for the better part of another hour. "Kyle stories" abounded. ....

And there are many. Though cancer was a backdrop for a dozen of his 14 years of marriage to the former Darla Don Ward, Kyle Newbury and his bride refused to let Columnist his disease dominate their lives until recent days. They "lived large," building their dream home overlooking a lake on acreage near Weatherford. They worked hard, her at home with son Turner, 9, and daughter Katherine, 7, while Kyle earned No. 1 sales status for a worldwide medical equipment firm. The family was the picture of perseverance.

He rarely flinched in his slugfest with synovial cell sarcoma. Known far and wide for his self-effacing humor, he "laughed off" much of the grimness that typically is "part and parcel" of cancer. Intimate friends gathered for his 2002 "Farewell to Arm" party that preceded the surgery that took his shoulder and right arm. ...

It was one of many surgeries. Immediately "left-handed," he soon was driving again. To the sporting world so important in his life, he introduced a new bow-hunting technique. Pulling back arrows with his teeth, he claimed deer, wild hogs, bear, elk and turkeys.

Kyle was always "at the ready" to share his testimony. And he was featured on TV hunting shows. He reached the hearts of tens of thousands with the message of Christ just as certainly as his arrows felled

wavered. He "leaned into life's struggles," friend Jeff said, "never asking 'why me?' Instead, he asked 'why not me?"'....

Kyle was loving, giving, selling and joking, even during those final 10 days at Baylor Hospital in Dallas. He closed deals on medical equipment from his hospital bed, all the while greeting loved ones and friends who visited.

During some lucid moments on Sunday, three days before his death, he led son Turner to Christ. Fighting kidney poison that was having its way, he struggled to utter a prayer for his son. Darla finished it.

Though not a mystic, Kyle hearkened back to a vision that seemed so real to him eight months earlier when he had neurotoxicity from chemo poisoning. He told Darla about a black coat, a train, a bright figure and a voice requesting his coat. He told her how the bright figure took his coat (covered with his sin, Kyle insisted), and how he heard the words "it's not your time yet" as the train pulled away. ....

A dozen hours before his death, Kyle said, "The train's coming, and I'm getting on it."

One early morning at 1 a.m., he was restrained when he tried to get out of bed.

Who knows? Maybe he heard a train whistle. And maybe he was determined to get on board. Perhaps a bright figure handed him a coat as white as snow, in case of a chill in the morning air. ....

His one-way ticket punched, Kyle leaves a legacy of a man who squeezed life to extract the very last drop.

His stories will be re-told across the years. Hearers will smile, weep and marvel.

Sounds of the service will echo for a long time. Still resonating are Dr. Nelson's reminder: "We can dry our tears on the memory of this man's life."

And Saxon's summation: "Kyle could do everything well except quit.".

(I was in Kyle's presence just twice. I took him parasailing at Lake Brownwood just prior to his initial diagnosis. Soon after the radical surgery that took his arm, I enjoyed a two-hour lunch with him. He spoke of God's powerful words: "I am.")

Brucellosis tests still mandated by state

buying cattle? A cattle brucellosis, or "Bang's" test is still required for changing ownership of adult cattle in Texas, says Dr. Bob Hillman, Texas' state veterinarian. For many years, Texas ranchers and livestock health officials worked to eradicate cattle brucellosis, a bacterial disease that can cause cows to abort, deliver weak calves, or produce less milk "We have enjoyed 'Class-

Free' status for cattle brucellosis since February 2008, but testing is still required at livestock markets, special sales and private treaty sales, for at least two years," said Dr. Hillman. "This testing requirement is part of the national brucellosis program standard, and it assures that a state is clearly free of the disease and that we can quickly identify and deal with reintroduced or yet undetected infection."

Slaughter testing surveillance will continue across the country for an indefinite period, to ensure that the disease is completely eradicated from cattle herds in Texas and other states.

Dr. Hillman noted that cattle which are sexually intact and 18 months of age or older must be tested prior to sale. The test requires a small blood sample from the accredited veterinarian, or TAHC or USDA personnel. A chute-side test is conducted at livestock markets on sale days, with laboratory confirmation by the State-Federal laboratory.

For private treaty or special sales, an accredited, private veterinary practitioner can draw the blood sample and submit the blood sample to the State-Federal laboratory, where the test will be run

Cattle owners should allow at least four days for private testing, to allow for shipping the blood sample to the laboratory, testing of the samples and receiving the test results that will be recorded on the document

"Texas was the last state to achieve cattle brucellosis free status, but there is no guarantee we can maintain this status, if we aren't vigilant," said Dr. Hillman.

He stressed that the continued testing will identify potential cases of cattle brucellosis that weren't detected during the eradication effort. Brucellosis status can be lost, if two infected herds are detected within a two-year period.

It is essential that we continue to follow the national standards for the brucellosis program. Montana recently lost its brucellosis-free status,

DEAR ABBY: My beautiful 9-month-old daughter, "Lyric," is the result of an affair. Her father, "James," has never seen her, except in photographs. His family has no idea she exists. When I send pictures, he promises to visit "soon" -- but I'm not supposed to ask when because he "just doesn't know right now." I feel it's my fault Lyric is growing up without a father. My parents dote on her, and they are furious that James promised to make sure we were taken care of but hasn't followed through "for financial reasons." I have never taken him to court for child support (James does send a little) because I'm afraid if I do, he'll never come to see Lyric. I worry about her future because my dad was estranged from us when we were little, and his absence influenced some of the worst choices I have made in my life. Why would James promise to visit but never make the effort? Why continue the charade? I'm afraid my daughter will blame me for not having a dad when she's older. I have considered taking her to see James unexpectedly (he and his wife are currently separated) so I can tell her I did everything in my power to get him involved. My parents say I should be happy I don't have to share her, and not to take her because he has broken so many promises to me. I have been upset about this ever since Lyric was born, and my depression seems to be getting worse. The guilt and regret are eating me alive. Please help. -- DESPON-DENT IN VIRGINIA

DEAR DESPONDENT: James may not is consult your doctor and discuss the depression you have experienced since your daughter's birth. It could be caused less by the guilty conscience than a postpartum hormone imbalance. If it's the latter, it's treatable. Once that's done, consult a lawyer to ensure that Lyric will be provided for financially. Truthful people do what they say. Because James doesn't, stop listening to what he says and focus on what he does -- which is almost nothing. He may say he wants to see his daughter, but face the fact that Lyric may reach adulthood before he gets around to it. And please don't hold your breath waiting for James to stand up and act like a man, because frankly, he doesn't appear to be much of one.

DEAR ABBY: My wife accuses me of "acting pretentious" when we are dinner guests at a friend's house and I warm my plate in the microwave. What am I supposed to do when the food has gone cold or lukewarm, and I want my meal to be hot? -- SOME LIKE IT HOT, SAN JOSE, CALIF.

DEAR SOME LIKE IT HOT: Your wife may be afraid that by taking your plate into the kitchen because the food is too cold for your tastes, you are insulting your hostess. But I am with you, because I like my food hot, too. The way I would handle it would be to quietly ask the hostess if she minded me taking the food into the kitchen and "zapping it" for a minute or two. life-affirming power takes center stage in the Amarillo Symphony's Nov. 21-22 concerts.

The Symphony will perform two powerful works by Gustav Mahler, the Austrian composer whose compositions influenced much of 20th-century music.

"These concerts promise an emotional experience for our audiences, with music that will take listeners from the depths of grief to the stirrings of joy," said Kimbo Ishii-Eto, Music Director & Conductor.

Concerts begin at 8 p.m. in the Globe-News Center for the Performing Arts. Tickets normally run from $18 to $56 ($16 for students and seniors), but by taking advantage of the Fly Standby with the Symphony

"Eradicating a disease is a livestock health victory, and that makes vigilance even more important now," said Dr. Hillman. "Don't risk buying infection. Ensure that the breeding cattle you buy have been tested."

Dr. Hillman also reminds cattle owners, especially those in the eastern portions of the state, that heifers should be vaccinated against cattle brucellosis, particularly if they will be used as breeding animals. Accredited veterinarians can administer the RB-51 vaccine to heifers between the ages of four and 12 months to provide lifelong protecting against the disease.

Harvesters defeated in season finale 58-34

by Bob Ericson The Pampa News

The Pampa Harvesters traveled to Dick Bivins stadium to take on the Palo Duro (PD) Dons in the last regular season game Friday afternoon.

After several possessions were traded between the two teams resulting in punts, the score remained tied 0-0 at the end of the first quarter. The defense for both teams did not allow many yards in the opening frame.

The second quarter was however, a different story. Palo Duro drove five plays and 52 yards for a touchdown to begin the quarter 7-0. John Luke Covalt returned the kickoff to the Don 24 yard line. Pampascored on a four yard touchdown pass from Alex Clendening to Trent Carter to make the score 7-6. Palo Duro went 52 yards on three running 14-6 with 7:02 to go in the second quarter. Palo Duro went 44 yards and score again to lead 21-6 with 2:46 to go in the half. Pampa's Covalt returned another kickoff to the Don 32 yard line. Clendening swung a pass to Madison Wilson for a touchdown and the score stood at 21-12 with 1:45 left in the half. Palo Duro took over at their own 43 yard line and went 47 yards and to make a field goal and with nine seconds in the half. The score at half time was 24-12, Pampa. The game remained active.

Clendening found a wide open Heath Skinner for a 60 yard touchdown pass and Jeremy Maxwell added the extra point to shrink PD's lead to 24-19. Pampa took the second half kickoff and drove 63 yards in 10 plays for a touchdown. Clendening found Maxwell for plays and stretched the lead to a touchdown and Maxwell connected with Ryan Funderburg for the two point conversion and the Harvesters took the lead 27-24. Palo Duro took only five plays and went 65 yards and answered Pampa's touchdown with one of their own. The extra point would be good and the score stood at PD 31-27 with 6:10 remaining in the third quar-

> Pampa's next possession resulted in a quick interception and the Dons took advantage of a short field and scored another touchdown to increase the lead to 38-27 at the end of the third quarter. The next three possessions by the Harvesters garnered no points but PD's three possessions resulted in touchdowns to put the game out of reach 52-27. Palo Duro scored yet again to make the score 58-27. Pampa showed a little life and took its next drive 71 yards on seven plays. Clendening found Maxwell for a short touchdown pass and Maxwell added the extra point to leave the score 58-34.

The game ended Pampa's season with the score 58-34.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - A week ago, Texas coach Mack Brown said style points don't count.

They do now.

After losing at No. 2 Texas Tech and falling from No. 1 to No. 5, Brown's Longhorns now are left watching how the round-robin in the Big 12 South plays out and whether they will still have a shot at the Big 12 and national titles.

They also have to take care of their own business the final three games, starting Saturday with Baylor (3-6, 1-4).

Style points count because the Longhorns (8-1, 4-1) not only need to win, they need to do it in convincing fashion so the pollsters in the complicated Bowl Championship Series system like what they see. Texas is still the highestranked team with one loss in the BCS standings.

"There are a lot of games still left to be played, and a lot of things are going to pan out," Texas quarterback Colt McCoy said. "If we put ourselves in the position we need to be, and we win the rest of our games, we'll be fine."

Will they? If the Big 12 South comes down to a threeway tie, BCS standings are part of the tie-breaking formula. Any little edge will count and the next three weeks promise to be a circus of calculating wins, rankings, strength of schedules, etc.

Anybody watching Texas' schedule over the last month certainly looked at Baylor as the breather after four straight games against ranked opponents. Then the Bears nearly upset No. 13 Missouri last weekend, losing 31-28 on a field goal late in the fourth quarter.

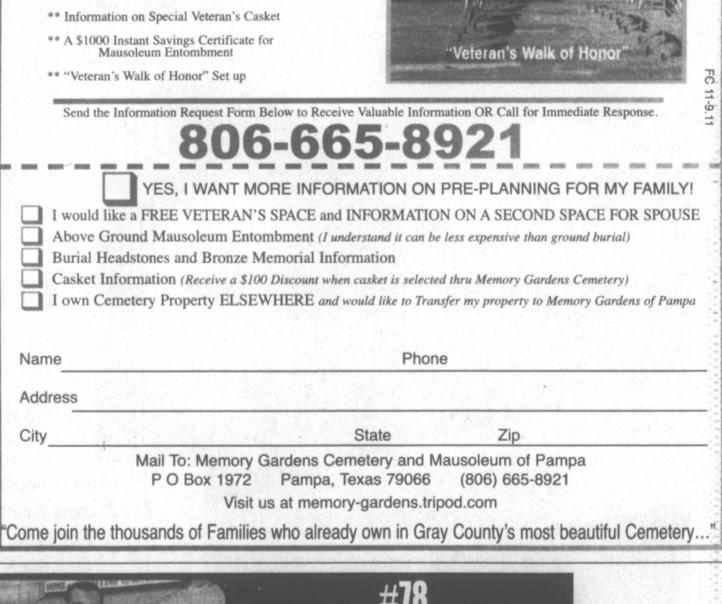

"Anybody who saw that game," Texas center Chris Hall said, "knows the 'gimme' part of this week went right out the window."

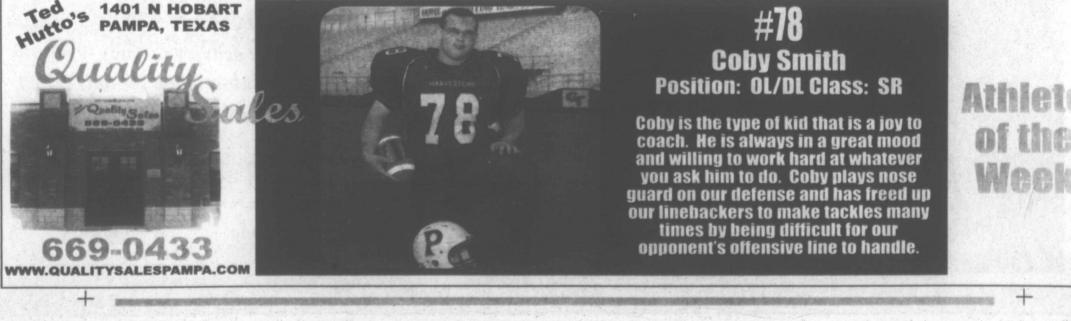

Baylor hasn't beaten Texas since 1997 and really hasn't even been competitive. But even though they are one loss away from their 13th consecutive losing season, the Bears seem to have found new energy behind first-year coach Art Briles and freshman quarterback Robert Griffin.

"If you don't believe in yourself, no one else will. And right now, we are fighting for ourselves and trying to make other people believe in us as a football team," Briles said.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Sunday, Nov. 9, 2008:

Funnel your innate creativity into all aspects of your life. Revitalize your life in this manner. You could be surprised by the alternatives and possibilities that you come up with. Your work also will respond to this infusion of energy. If you enjoy what you do more, you will notice that everything falls into place. Success will be the natural outcome. If you are single, you'll meet someone quite special in your day-to-day travels. Choose your words with care when relating, as you might come off as controlling. If you are attached, you'll discover the power of teamwork. Share more projects, or perhaps develop a common hobby. ARIES is willing to pitch in.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; Have: 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

★★★★ Though you could opt for a lazy morning, by the afternoon you are an unstoppable force. Go with the moment; This Week: Zoom in on what you want today and Tuesday. Realize anything is possible. Do some heavy thinking and research Wednesday on.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

★★★★ You might have thoughts of taking off, going for a hike or visiting a new area. You must move quickly; if you wait, you won't get going. Someone clearly needs and demands your attention. This person could be controlling. Tonight: Out and about.

This Week: You are on top of your game. Knowing that, move from one project or issue to another.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

 $\star \star \star \star \star$  Get together with a friend for brunch. If you want, go to a movie or do something that is mentally relaxing. In a new frame of mind, you will see problems much differently. Investigate new options. Tonight: Try a new restaurant. This Week: Understand that your mind needs to roam. Let it. You will see life from a different perspective as a result. Act on insights Wednesday on.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) ★★★★ Dote on a family member or roommate in the morning. You might find that by the afternoon, fun comes your way. Make plans that allow you to relax and enjoy. You will find a lot of like-minded companions. Tonight: So what if tomorrow is Monday?

This Week: Easy does it. You have a way and style that make a difference. Others respond accordingly. See what diplomacy can do.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) ★★★ Be much more in touch with what you want personally. Hanging out with family or close friends at home proves to be rewarding. Just let bygones be bygones when dealing with a difficult situation. Tonight: Don't go far.

This Week: Stay at home or work from home. You might not want to work, but events force your hand.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) ★★★★ Make sure your checkbook balances and that you have everything together financially. Meet friends for a be spontaneous. If someone makes a judgment, you are unlikely to care. Tonight: Give some thought to work tomorrow

This Week: High energy christens Monday. Become even more of a manifestor. Finances play a heavy role Wednesday on.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

★★★ Use the a.m. for key calls and catching up on news. By the afternoon, you will want to slow down and relax. Invite only those you really enjoy being with and trust. Make it OK to hang out and just chat. Tonight: Get some muchneeded R and R.

This Week: Do necessary research Monday and Tuesday. You will be like a racehorse coming out of the gate late Tuesday.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

 $\star \star \star \star \star$  Touch base with an older friend or relative in the morning. Get together with friends or family, making the most out of this moment. A discussion could be provocative. Know that you cannot win everyone's approval. Tonight: With favorite people.

son. Together you relax well and enjoy each other. A new beginning becomes possible because of this time spent together. Let your imagination come out. Tonight: Work with a partner directly. You also will want to do your own research. Find an expert if need be. This Week: Partnership is instrumental.

Be willing to break the mold and find other opinions.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

 $\star \star \star \star$  Others dominate your day, and whatever the plans evolve to, it is your pleasure. The biggest problem might be a family member or something you must do. Be innovative in solving that bump in the road. Tonight: All smiles.

This Week: Togetherness works at your job and personally. Others want to feel important to you. Let them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

★★★★ Your ability to dismiss a problem or get on top of a chore or project emerges. You accomplish a lot, and very quickly at that. A conversation might be demanding, or the other person might be controlling. Tonight: Let go and relax. This Week: Dive into Monday as if there movie or brunch, but get together with others, or at least one close friend. Catching up on news could be delightful. Tonight: Say what you want. This Week: Speak your mind Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday on, you'll do more listening, if you are wise. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

★★★ Handle an important issue in the a.m. You could be overwhelmed by everything that lands on your plate later on. Get a head start on establishing your holiday budget. You actually might want to start now. Tonight: Treat yourself too. This Week: Redo your budget with an eye to less credit. Wednesday, make an effort with a difficult person.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Monday, Nov. 10, 2008:

Listen to your inner voice more often this year. You'll be able to make headway if you allow greater give-and-take in your daily life. Communication remains instrumental this year. You could turn around a trend that's unacceptable to you when you least expect it. Tap into your creativity and other talents when feeling flustered or at a dead end. Others learn to count on your ideas and solution-finding skills. If you are single, you might not keep that status much longer. Someone quite romantic will enter your life. Enjoy every moment. If you are attached, your relationship captures the old romantic tone of the past. Lucky you. ARIES reads you cold. Don't play games with the Ram.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; Have: 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

★★★★★ You are in the thick of things, like it or not. Investigate and understand what is happening. Do you want to change directions? A sudden insight takes you down a new path, allowing you to see the situation far differently. A must appearance seems inevitable. Tonight: Personality plus.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

★★★ Read between the lines and understand what is happening behind the scenes. Observe rather than act. A friend behaves in a most unexpected manner. You certainly will have a lot to talk about. Tonight: Where the gang is. GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

★★★★★ Emphasize goals and where you are heading. You will be successful if you stay goal-oriented. Know that you can and might need to handle a quirky boss before he or she handles you. Your intuitive response is the right one. Tonight: As you like. CANCER (June 21-July 22)

★★★ All eyes turn to you. Understand that you are a leader. How you absorb unusual or shocking information could define who you are. Laughter allows greater flow and ease with others. You might be overwhelmed by your choices. Tonight: As you like.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

★★★★ Deal with someone directly. How you handle a personal matter and the choices you make could be quite different as a result. The more information you gather, the better off you will be. Express your innate buoyancy. Tonight: Take in a new view. VIRGQ (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

 $\star$   $\star$   $\star$   $\star$  Work with others as a team. Your ability to defer and listen comes through. How you deal with someone could change radically because of unexpected actions and decisions. Your high energy only adds to the moment. Tonight: Listen to an offer.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

★★★★ Others prove to be demanding and direct. Listen to news knowing there are no immediate solutions. Your resourcefulness always proves to be an asset. Your ability to break past the obvious once more determines your success. Tonight: Sort through invitations. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

★★★★ How you deal with a situation could change dramatically because of cooperation and understanding. Questions asked help you go very far and draw results. Realize what needs to happen. Tonight: Yap up a storm.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) ★★★★★ Your playfulness earmarks your interactions. Others understand far more than you realize. Come from a strong point of view and, above all, be willing to stand up for yourself. Consider your options. Tonight: Act like it's Friday, not Monday.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) **** Stay solid with your thinking, knowing which way to go. Realize what needs to happen within your inner circle, especially on the home front. How you deal with a situation could change greatly. Tonight: Hang out.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) **** You might want to understand what is going on within your immediate circle. Though you might hear what someone is saying, the words don't ring true. Follow your instincts, as you are more or less right. Tonight: Visit with a friend. Ask for this person's opinion in a difficult matter.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

★★★ Your intensity comes out when dealing with a financial matter. You are on top of your game. Carefully listen to what someone offers. If it doesn't jibe with what you want, be willing to say no. Tonight: Just for you.

The workshop is one in a series taking place across the state and focuses on real stories of Texas' involvement in

Water district accepting tree orders

Gray County Soil and Water Conservation District is currently accepting orders for windbreak and wildlife tree seedlings and shrubs now through March 4, 2009.

A wide variety of seedlings are available this year. Several species of potted conifers are available including Arborvitae, Austrian Pine, Pinyon Pine, Ponderosa Pine, Rocky Mountain Juniper, Scotch Pine and Spruce.

Bareroot hardwoods available include Aromatic Sumac, Bur Oak, Caragana, Catalpa, Chokeberry, Cotoneaster, Desert Willow, Golden Willow, Green Ash, Hackberry, Honeylocust, Hybrid Cottonwood, Lilac, Live Oak, Lombardy Poplar, Nanking Cherry, Native Plum, Pecan. Sand Cherry, Sawtooth Oak, Siberian Elm and Smooth Sumac

In addition to the tree seedlings, the district will offer a variety of larger trees including hardwoods, fruit trees, evergreens and shrubs in 1-, 3-, 5-, 10- and 15-gallon sizes.

The seedlings will arrive at the district office at the end of March. Officials urge tree orders be submitted as soon as possible as many species sell-out rather quickly.

The expected delivery date for larger trees is the end of April 2009.

The conservation tree program is designed to offer tree seedlings at a nominal cost with an eye towards controlling erosion, enhancing wildlife and protecting cropland, feedlots and buildings.

For more information of to place an order, contact the Gray County SWCD office, 12125 E. Frederic, at 665-1751, ext. 102.
