TRUSTEES TO MEET TONIGHT

Judge Grants Malone New Trial In Lubbock

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

Lubbock County Judge Denzil Bevers today said he would grant Dr. James F. Malone a new trial on charges of vagrancy by lawlessness.

Today's proceedings in Lubbock County Court-At-Law No. 2 took one minute 15 seconds with only County Attorney Tom Purdon, Defense Attorney Travis Sholtan, also of Lubbock, and news media in attendance.

Dr. Malone awaited the decision at his home here.

No trial date has been set but Judge Bevers indicated "it would be soon."

The county judge said the motion for a new trial had raised enough questions sufficiently to merit granting the motion request, which must set a new precedent in re-hearing a misdemeanor case.

Judge Bevers stated there was also a question regarding payment of fine under duress.

Contacted at his home today, Dr. Malone said, "The case has been re-opened. An innocent plea has been entered. I am most grateful for the new trial."

Informed of the Lubbock decision, Pampa school board president John Spearman said he had contacted the other four school trustees by telephone and that the four would go into executive session tonight to discuss the situation in light of the granting of a new trial.

Dr. Malone will not be asked to the meeting, Spearman said.

Dr. Malone wants a new trial to overturn a plea of no contest raised, enough questions sufficiently to merit granting the motion request, which must set it may have the privilege of cross-examining witnesses to Malone's arrest on Sept. 17 in the Texas Tech Administration Bldg.

Malone, has steadily maintained he did not understand his plea of "no contest."

The judge, county and defense attorneys have stated the case was different from the run of the mill "cases."

'Friendship Forever' Ends In Three Weeks

U.S., Mexico Have Cold Relationship

By United Press International

President Nixon met President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz of Mexico Sept. 8 near the border town of Del Rio, Tex., to dedicate the Amistad Friendship Dam which spanned the river border between their two nations.

"Mexico-United States, friends forever," Nixon said at the time.

Forever lasted three weeks.

U.S. attempts to curb the flow of marijuana from Mexico into the United States, resulted in "Operation Intercept," led to the coldest relationship between the two countries since the Mexican-American War.

Diaz Ordaz, who at the dedication ceremonies, said, "Our relations are the best they have been in history," told at a banquet honoring the Apollo 11 astronauts the Intercept was a "bureaucratic error that raised a wall of suspicion between our people."

PAMPA'S TOP gardeners continue to carry out Texas' tradition by "growing 'em big." Lewis E. Henderson, 507 N. Doyle, stopped by The News' office today with a 16-pound Banana squash and a 40-pound garden variety squash plucked from his garden fence. Fortunate friends are often the recipients of Henderson's crop. He said the squash grew in ordinary soil. Henderson's reputation is fast growing that "all he has to do is throw a seed down and it will grow."

GET THREATENING NOTES

Jury In Chicago Riot Trial Stay Locked Up

CHICAGO (UPI)—The jury hearing the trial of eight persons accused of inciting riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention has been ordered locked up for the remainder of the trial because two jurors received threatening notes.

U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman was to rule today whether the two jurors, both women, should be disqualified because of the threats.

Hoffman ordered the jury of 10 women and two men sequestered Tuesday after he was told two of the jury's 10 women had received letters that read: "We are watching you. The Black Panthers."

However, when defense attorney William A. Kunstler told Judge Hoffman the defendants thought the threatening notes were a "government trick," Hoffman challenged them to "prove that right now."

When Kunstler replied, "We obviously can't prove it," Hoffman said, "Then don't say it, sir. We've never had in my memory in this district such an irresponsible statement."

Hoffman scheduled a hearing today to determine whether the two threatened jurors should continue to serve. He directed the trial to continue in any case since the jurors could be replaced by two of the four alternates.

The remainder of Tuesday's session was taken up with continuing efforts by Kunstler to have Hoffman disqualify himself from hearing the trial. Hoffman, as he has done on previous occasions, rejected the motion.

Smoking People Have Higher Price To Pay

Smoking Pampans today are faced with a choice.

To smoke or not to smoke. They can take determined steps to kick the nicotine habit. Or, they can be prepared to shell out more shekels to keep their increasingly expensive habit going.

Cigarette Taxes jumped from 11 to 15 cents a package today causing the price of cigarettes to increase at least five cents in vending machine and across the counter sales.

Canvassing local grocery stores, super markets, drug stores and confectionery stores, it was determined locally the cigarette pack increase will vary from 42 cents to 45 cents depending upon the cigarette.

Those who pull a lever for their favorite brand must first deposit 50-cents.

By the carton sales will depend upon how much profit the store owner is willing to pass along to the huffing-puffing customer.

Beginning today, the average Texas taxpayer will give the government about $35 more per year in direct taxes. Cigarette smokers and drinkers will be hit hardest by the tax, but the bill reaches all Texans through a 25 per cent increase in the state sales tax.

The tax measure, which went into effect midnight Tuesday, was passed by the legislature Sept. 5 to raise the $348 million needed to balance the state's spending plans for the next biennium.

Apollo 12 Men To Walk One-Half Mile On Moon

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The Apollo 12 astronauts expect to walk up to a half-mile from their spaceship on the moon if necessary next month to retrieve four parts of the Surveyor 3 lunar robot that landed there in 1967.

Mission commander Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr. rehearsed part of the excursion with Alan L. Bean Tuesday and afterwards said the changes were 50-50 they would land with walking distance of the Surveyor.

"We'll either land alongside of it, or it's going to be so far away it's not worth messing with," Conrad predicted.

Conrad, Bean and Richard F. Gordon, all Navy commanders, are scheduled to begin the nation's second moon landing expedition with a blastoff on a Saturn 5 rocket at 10:22 a.m. CST Nov. 14.

Their moonship and its booster took a major step toward launch date Tuesday by passing a flight readiness test last overall check of the space machine's flight systems.

Seven Green Berets Home After Being Cleared Of Murder

TRAVIS AFB, Calif. (UPI)—Seven men involved in the Green Berets case in Vietnam came home today. Their commander said "our honor has been cleared."

Col. Robert B. Rheault, 43, Vineyard Haven, Mass., former commander of all the Special Forces in Vietnam, spoke for the group during a brief news conference.

While most of the newsmen's questions drew a crisp "no comment" from the colonel, he did deny that there had ever been a killing. He referred several times to the "alleged victim" and pointed out no body had been found.

Asked why he thought the charges had been dropped, Rheault commented that "because of the classified information, a trial would not be in the best interests of the nation. Our honor has been cleared."

He said he felt that he and his comrades had not suffered any damage to their careers.

"In the American system of justice, a person is innocent until proven guilty," he added.

The men arrived at 1:40 a.m. PDT aboard a DCB. As they were going through customs, the dozens of random servicemen in transit at the big base rushed to see them and applauded them warmly. The Berets wore fatigues and their famed green caps as they stood in a row and listened to their commander field newsmen's questions.

After processing today, the men will go on 30 day leaves.

Traveling with Rheault were Capt. Robert F. Marasco, 27, of Bloomfield, N.J., who had been named by the Army as the triggerman in the slaying of a suspected double agent; Capt. Budge E. Williams, 28, of Athens, Ga.; Capt. Leland J. Brumley, 27, of Duncan, Okla.; Maj. David E. Crew, 33, of today, is Sic Alvin Smith, 41, of Naples, Fla.

Mao Ends Four Month Seclusion In Peking

HONG KONG (UPI)—Mao Tse-tung ended four months' seclusion in Peking today and heard his heir apparent celebrate Communist China's 20th birthday by warning the United States and Soviet Union against "nuclear blackmail."

Peking Radio said in a broadcast heard here that Mao and Defense Minister Lin Biao appeared in "excellent health" at a huge anniversary rally. The Kremlin telegraphed unusually warm greetings to the celebration proposing "negotiations and consultations" to overcome Sino-Soviet disputes.

It was the first appearance either leader had made in public since May 19. During their absence, East European sources said Mao, 75, had suffered a stroke and a Hong Kong newspaper said Lin, 68, was dying of cancer.

Lin delivered the keynote speech of the anniversary celebration. He appeared extremely concerned about nuclear threats from the United States and the Soviet Union. No mention was made of China's two recent nuclear tests.

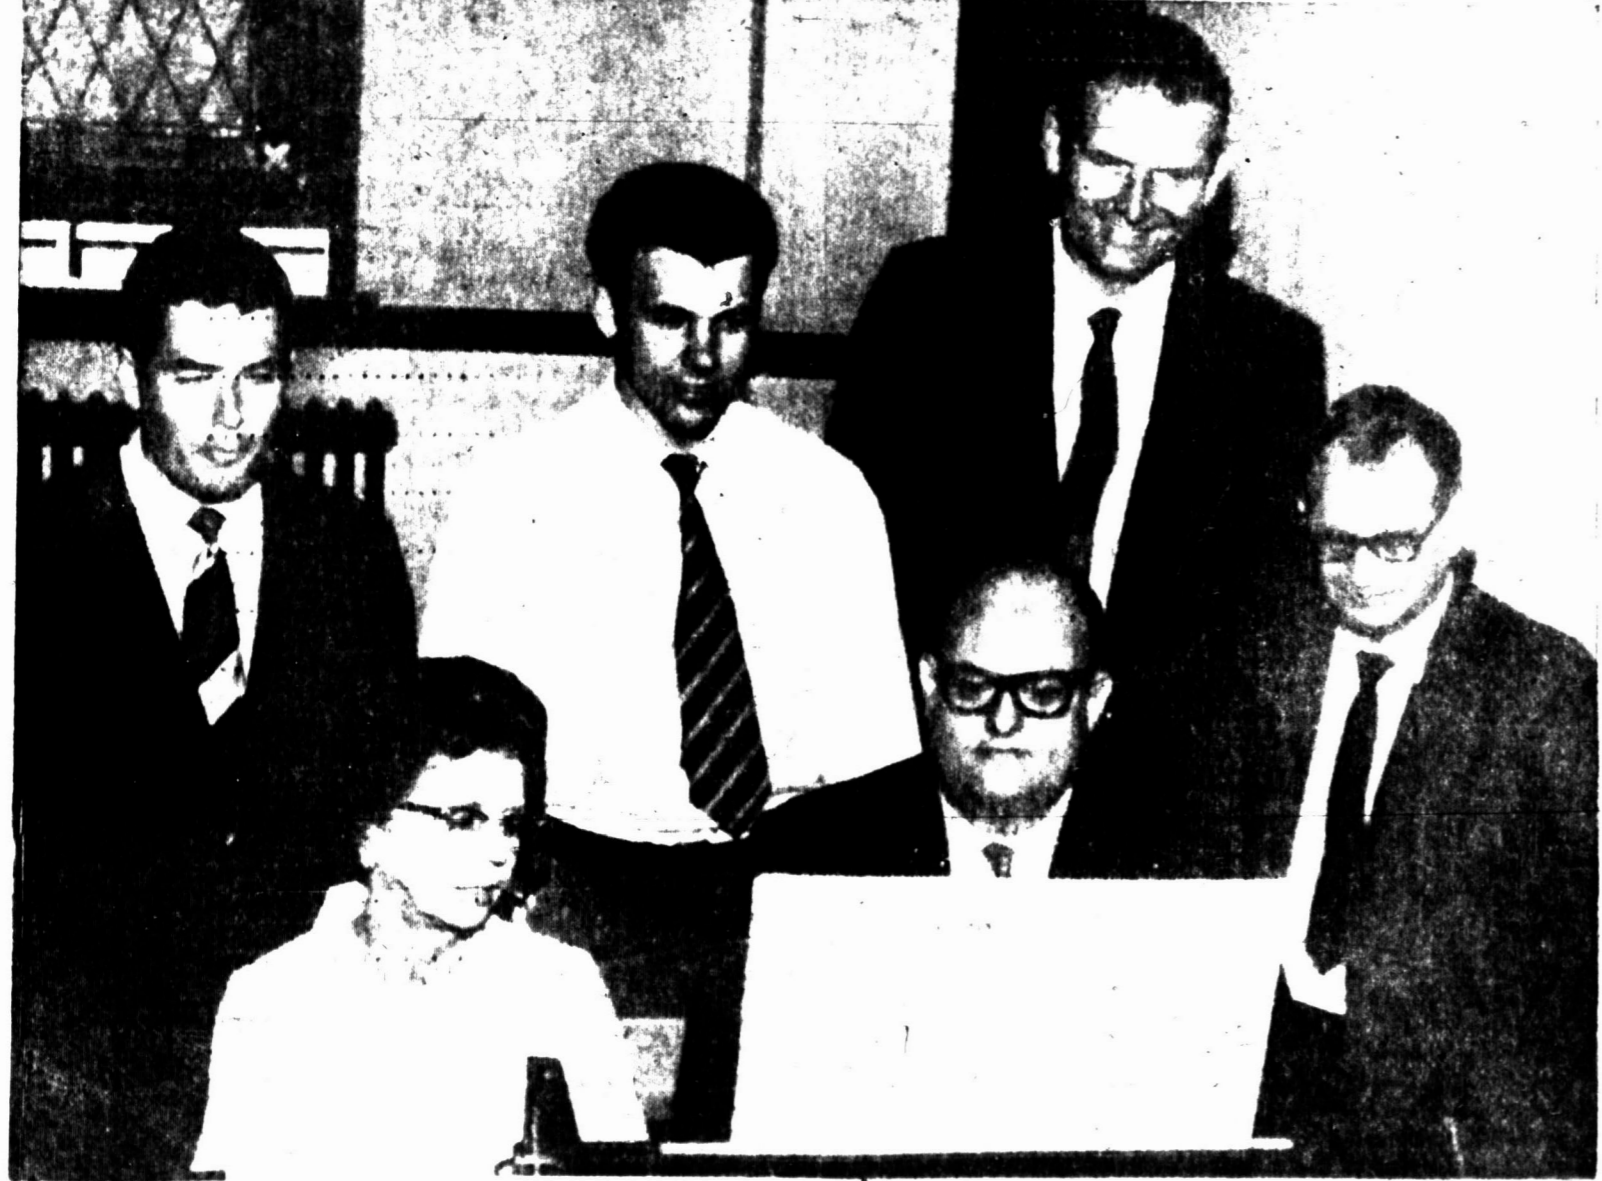

The Peking Radio commentator, in a live broadcast, said Mao moved about actively on the reviewing stand and waved repeatedly to the cheering throng of more than 100,000 persons gathered in Peking's Gate of Heavenly Peace Square.

Mao walked back and forth, shaking hands with other Chinese leaders, foreign visitors and diplomats who were invited to sit on the rostrum, the broadcast said, and also "cordially chatted" with some of them.

The Kremlin's telegram said the basic interests of the Soviet and Chinese peoples coincide and this guarantees creation of a solid basis for the safeguarding and development of friendship between our people and states.

Lin made no mention of China's latest nuclear tests, carried out Sept. 22 and 29. Up to the rally's end, there still had been no announcement in Peking of the tests, which diplomats believed were timed to coincide with the celebrations.

Marines Begin Withdrawal

SAIGON (UPI)—The withdrawal of 4,900 more Marines from Vietnam began today, to be completed next Monday when all will have departed for the United States.

Some of the Leathernecks, all combat troops, boarded planes and other took to ships in the northern war zone for the trip home as part of President Nixon's cutback of 35,000 more troops by Dec. 15.

They followed 1,000 men of the 3rd Marine Division who left Tuesday for Okinawa—the first combat troops to have departed under the second phase of the U.S. pullout.

All 18,000 Marines in the division are scheduled for withdrawal under the plan. One regiment of the division, the 9th, left in the initial cutback in July.

The goal in the U.S. cutback is to leave South Vietnamese ground troops with the brunt of the fighting, supported by U.S. air power, and supply forces.

to 4 1/2 per cent in cities which have the city sales tax and to 3 1/2 per cent in areas where there is no city levy.

Pampans will have a brief respite from the 1 per cent increase, since the city sales tax, passed Sept. 24 does not go into effect until next Jan. 1.

Alcoholic beverages were hit a double blow. For the first time, all alcoholic beverages will be subject to both the state and city sales taxes. And a separate 5 per cent serving levy was placed on all drinks served in private clubs and in airlines in the state.

The tax bill also includes a 50 cent increase in the corporate franchise tax rate, and a new tax on out-of-state corporations doing business in Texas. The latter provision will not go into effect until May 1, 1970, however.

A 5 per cent increase in the natural gas tax also takes effect today.

In its publication, the AFL-CIO predicted the sales tax increase will cost the average Texan $9.50 per year, the sales tax on beer and liquor $5.20 a year, the cigarette tax $13.75 a year and the private club tax $6.50 a year.

The biggest headache Texans will face probably will be in computing the tax in cities that have the city sales tax. Items costing 12 cents or more will be taxable, while the tax begins at 16 times in areas where there is no city sales tax.

Dead Sheriff's Wife Fills Unexpired Term

HALLETTSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. Ronnie Dadds, widow of the Lavaca County sheriff, was sworn in today to fill her husband's unexpired term.

Dadds was shot to death Sunday while escorting two prisoners to the county jail. Deputy Sheriff Albert Jackouby, also shot in the incident, was still unconscious today in a San Antonio hospital.

Britain Turns 312-Year-Old Postal System Into Profit Making Deal

LONDON (UPI)—Britain today turned over its 312-year-old postal system to a profit-making corporation—something President Nixon has proposed for the U.S. mail.

Lord George Henry Hall, chairman of the new corporation, took full page advertisements in newspapers to caution the public not to expect miracles immediately. The corporation is now Britain's biggest business.

"Changes will not happen overnight," Lord Hall said. But he expressed enthusiasm. "Excitement lies ahead," said Lord Hall. "There is room for everyone worth his salt."

Concern for customers will be our first priority as we meet the challenge of the future with speed and efficiency. For the time being, the only noticeable changes will be that:—Though the former government Post Office Department will continue as a monopoly, it will be a public corporation with responsibility for showing a profit and return on capital investment.

—The government no longer will be responsible for details of its operations, though a minister will still answer to parliament on broad questions of policy.

—Unlike a ministry of the crown which cannot be sued, the new post office corporation will be open to legal process for loss or damage.

Nixon has asked the U.S. Congress to turn the U.S. postal system over to a public corporation but the proposal has been bogged down for months in the House Post Office Committee.

With 400,000 employees, the new post office corporation instantly became Britain's biggest business. It is the nation's largest civilian employer with 2 per cent of the total working population of the country.

The day-to-day headache of labor problems, government sources said, will now be transferred from the government to the new corporation. For instance, it will have to negotiate with six different labor unions each with five figure memberships.

Parliament approved the change because it said there was a growing feeling the post office needed a new look. The new British Postal Corporation began life better off than it could have in many countries in that it is financially in the black.

The real profit-making part of the Post Office Department has been its telecommunication department, which controls teletypes, cables and other type networks. The mail service, as in the United States, is a money loser.

Army Probes Alleged Service Club Scandal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—As the Army moved to sharpen internal investigative procedures, a Senate subcommittee sought to find out today why the name of the Army's top enlisted man vanished from a report on the alleged service club scandal.

The Senate permanent investigations subcommittee moved into the second day of what may be weeks of hearings on alleged massive thefts and kickbacks at U.S. service clubs in Georgia, Germany and Vietnam.

Late Monday Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor announced creation of the Army Criminal Investigations Division Agency to provide central direction for Army investigators. Resor said that as a result of premature investigations in the service clubs matter, "improper and possibly illegal behavior was allowed to continue for too long a time."

Rex Harding, an Army Criminal Intelligence Division (CID) agent, was called to tell the subcommittee about his investigation of the Ft. Benning operations, and the manner in which his report was squelched. Subcommittee sources said Ft. Benning was the midway station for a clique of apparently crooked career sergeants between their allegedly massive thefts from U.S. service clubs in Germany and Vietnam.

William O. Woodruff, 47, first to be given the rank of sergeant major of the Army and top enlisted man, was accused by another CID agent Tuesday of masterminding a "criminal conspiracy" of kickbacks and slot machine "skims" and "rakeoffs" from 11 service clubs in Germany.

Railroads May Shut Down Operations

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's major railroads, in an apparent attempt to force President Nixon to declare a strike-stopping national emergency, have threatened to shut down operations throughout the country Saturday if four unions carry out a selective strike.

The National Railway Labor Conference said it decided on the unprecedented action "both in the long range interest, and as a matter of self survival."

Four shopcraft unions have scheduled a strike against seven railroads on Saturday. The unions decided on the selective strike tactic, also unprecedented for them, in order to skirt the federal law which provides for a 60-day strike delay when the government feels a strike would be a national emergency.

LEFORS (Staff) — Gray County deputies investigated today a burglary at Cut Rate Grocery, 110 N. Court, which occurred sometime between 8 p.m. Tuesday and 7:30 a.m. today.

Mrs. Spencer Presley, wife of store owner, said a lock on the front door was pried off to gain entry into the building.

Mrs. Presley said cigarettes, gloves, men's under clothing, sheets, towels, shirts and razor blades were found missing.

She estimated the items taken would total $130.

High Ranking Czech Defects 'Down Under'

SYDNEY (UPI)—The highest ranking Czechoslovak diplomat to Australia, who had been recalled to Prague where a purge of liberal forces is underway, defected today and was granted political asylum with his wife and three sons.

A government spokesman said Karel Franc, 46, Czechoslovakia's consul general to Australia since 1963, applied for political asylum with his family on Tuesday. He said the appeal was granted today.

Prime Minister John Gorton extended his sympathy to Franc "for his not being able to return to his homeland because of the Russian occupation and the suppression of those liberal techniques which Czechoslovakia was beginning to evince. I hope he will be happy in Australia."

The Czech mission said Franc had been recalled to Prague along with several members of the consulate staff who left Prague today.

Efforts to reach the Franc family were unsuccessful. Their home near Sydney harbor appeared deserted and Australian officials refused to disclose their whereabouts.

Franc was a close friend of Alexander Dubcek, the Czechoslovak reformist who was purged from the Communist party's presidium in Prague during the weekend.

The diplomat had made no secret of his displeasure with the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia Aug. 21, 1968, and the crackdown on Dubcek's "experiment in freedom" that followed.

An official of the Czechoslovak consul general's office said Franc had been given orders to return home following the weekend purges in his nation's capital. He refused further comment.

It was reported Franc sent his resignation to the consulate early today and went into hiding with his wife, Geraslav, and three sons—Peter, Paul and Charles.

Australian government spokesmen refused to answer questions about the Francs' whereabouts.

Boy In Satisfactory Condition After Being Hit By Car

Thirteen-year-old Curtis Orr, 908 E. Fisher, was listed in satisfactory condition in Highland General Hospital today where he was taken Tuesday night after being struck by a car.

According to a Pampa police report Orr was running across Hobart St. in the 1800 block, when he tripped and fell. He was struck by a car driven by Donald Wayne Smeeth, 17, of 533 Ballard.

He was taken to the hospital by Duenkel ambulance.

Woman Stabbed At Local Club

A Pampa woman, Doris Nel Jowers, 728 S. Somerville, was treated and released from Highland General Hospital last night after being stabbed in the arm and hand.

According to the police report Mrs. Jowers was stabbed by another woman in front of the Satellite Club but refused to file charges against her assailant. She was stabbed in the back of the upper left arm and on right hand.

for marijuana or dangerous drugs.

Roughly, that means every 6,000 person crossing the border was found to be carrying marijuana or some dangerous drugs. These figures, however, could be misleading since attempts to smuggle may be down because of the "threat of intercept."

But a reporter for a Brownsville newspaper said he drove along 12 miles of the Texas-Mexico border and a companion even swam across once without seeing any "Operation Intercept" agents or being stopped. The reporter, Chuck Schwanitz, said he stopped five times along the riverbank and "at each point marijuana or narcotics could easily have been brought across on rafts."

U. S. State Department press officer Carl Bartz said the United States formally apologized for the detention and search of the Mexican Consul General Roberto Urrea in El Paso.

Urrea was detained and subjected to a body search last week by U. S. Customs agents when he crossed the border from Juarez into El Paso.

Francisco Cano Escalante, president of the Mexican National Chamber of Commerce, said most border towns planned to have Operation Dignity in full effect today.

"Avoid congesting traffic, nuisances and annoyance by doing your shopping and seeking the services available to you in your city," said a notice printed for distribution.

Some U. S. business leaders said a boycott like "Dignity" could hurt border economy.

"It will continue 24 hours a day until the United States changes its operation," Escalante said of the counter offensive.

Brownsville officials already named Jorge Perez Y Bouras director general of Aeronaves de Mexico, as this year's "Mr. Amigo." A celebration official said it was decided to cancel the event because "it would have been embarrassing to subject Mr. Perez and his wife and other dignitaries to inspections on the bridge."

Officials in Ciudad Acuna, Mexico, across from El Rio, are considering cancelling this year's "Friendship Festival."

UPI Appoints New Political Editor

DALLAS (UPI)—The appointment of Kyle O. Thompson as Texas political editor and manager of the Austin bureau of United Press International was announced today by Robert E. Crennen, Southwest Division manager.

Thompson, 47, succeeded David Anderson who resigned to enter law school. Thompson previously served with UPI for 17 years, including six years as Austin manager.

A native of Arkansas, Thompson was reared on a farm in north-central Texas and educated in public schools at Wichita Falls. He joined the 36th Texas National Guard Division which was mobilized in 1940 and spent six years in the Army during World War II.

For 3 1/2 years, Thompson was a prisoner of war in Japanese camps in Burma and Thailand. He was with a small group of Army field artillerymen who became known as the Lost Battalion of the Texas 36th until it was learned of their capture by the Japanese in Java.

Opti-Mrs. Fete Optimist Cub

LEFORS (Sp)—The Lefors Optimist Club members, wives and guests enjoyed food and fellowship Saturday night at the Harvester Bar-B-Que, when the Opti-Mrs. Club was hostess.
 In a short business meeting, president Bob Klein presented Floyd Cotham with a plaque for outstanding service with the boys athletic program of the Lefors Optimists. Others were given honorable mention.
 Mrs. Bob Klein stated that the banquet was given in appreciation for what the Optimist Club is doing to provide boys and girls with wholesome recreation.

All of last week's selections didn't make it in so we'll just count the ones that did and wind up 10-4-2 for the week which is progressing even further. The season record is 39-21-4, which isn't bad either.

SHOCKERS 21, AMARILLO 8 — The Shockers are gunning for their fourth in a row and Amarillo should furnish some tough opposition. But the attitude on this team is great. They think they're unbeatable. Maybe they are.

LEFORS 21, PERRYTON 12 — The Pirates hook up Thursday and are coming off a 42-0 victory which should give them enough "go power" to go against Perryton.

PAMPA 14, PLAINVIEW 6 — This could turn into one of the best defensive battles of the season. Plainview has a powerful offense but Pampa's defense should rise to the occasion. Watch the running of Monroe Woods.

DUMAS 16, BORGER 10 — We look for an upset in this one. The Bulldogs might feel about now they are better than they are. Dumas appears to get better every week.

CAPROCK 12, PERRYTON 7 — The Longhorns should win their first and last of the season. Perryton will be down after last week when they were thoroughly whipped in every way.

CORONADO 14, MONTEREY 10 — This could go the other way. Coronado is hurt after the Berger loss while Monterey keeps surprising everybody. But the Mustangs would rather beat Monterey than anybody. Hope they do.

PALO DURO 42, WFRIDER 14 — The Dons get better and Rider won't offer them much opposition. The Palo Duro express appears likely to run over anybody that gets in its way. Who can stop 'em.

AMARILLO 35, TASCOSA 14 — It could be worse. I doubt Tascosa can score twice against the Sandies, who when well, could be the class of the north zone. They took care of Lubbock rather handsily.

LUBBOCK 21, BIG SPRING 6 — The Westeners must rebound from the loss to Amarillo to have any kind of a season. They apparently have the stuff since Big Spring doesn't.

WHITE DEER 14,

McLEAN 7 — The Bucks have been beaten and shutout twice in a row. It doesn't happen often in White Deer. McLean has the defense but not the offense.

CLARENDON 35, CANADIAN 7 — Clarendon rolls to its fourth win in as many games against unclassified Canadian. The Wildcats will have it easier next week.

WHEELER 13, GROOM 8 — This could go either way but Wheeler is a good class A-team while Groom is still in class B. The Tigers could make the Mustangs their fourth straight class A victory.

MIAMI 7, BALKO 0 — The Warriors got surprised last week now it's their turn to do the surprising.

OTHER GAMES — Spearman 21, Stratford 0; Gruver 22, Booker 12; Sunray 19, Keyes 0; Panhandle 33, Sanford-Fritch 16; Stinnett 14, Claude 6; Boys Ranch 12, Silverton 6; Happy 10, Kress 7; Alamo Catholic 10, Textline 6; Follett 7, Shattuck 0.

Groom, McLean Backs Lead Area In Scoring

Scoring among area 'Top O' Texas football teams have been low during the first three weeks of play with White Deer and Canadian shutout twice, Lefors and McLean once each.

Danny Blackwell of Groom is the leading area scorer with five touchdowns and 30 points. In leading Groom to a spotless, 3-0, record Blackwell has also passed for three other touchdowns.

After Blackwell no area team has a player with as much as 20 points although David Brown of McLean, who scored his team's tying touchdown last week, has 18 on three touchdowns.

David Gunn of White Deer has two scores and a two-point conversion for 14 points, and five other players have two touchdowns, including Roy Chick, David Britt and Roy Simmons, all of Wheeler and Harkcom and Crutcher, both of Lefors.

Groom and Lefors have both had six different players score points with the Pirates really breaking loose last week with a 42-point outburst against Turkey.

The most accurate point after touchdown kicker has been David Seawright of Lefors who has booted home seven of eight. Seawright is out for football for the first time.

Three big games highlight this week's area card with Groom's winning streak going on the line in the Tigers' toughest contest of the season. Wheeler (2-1) journeys to Groom for the top prep attraction in the area.

The Mustangs have lost only to Wellington (38-12) while stopping Lefors (19-0) and Stinnett (20-0) in its three outings.

Groom will be meeting its fourth straight class A opponent while warming up for the District 5-B race: The Tigers have handled Vega, 27-12; Claude, 7-0, and Silverton, 26-6.

Another big game sends McLean of District 2-A to White Deer of District 1-A.

Both teams have found the going rough and have had trouble getting their offenses moving.

White Deer opened the season with an impressive 31-0 victory over Silverton but has been dropped in its last two outings by Clarendon, 19-0, and Panhandle, 14-0.

McLean opened by losing to Shamrock, 25-0, then bounced Lefors, 26-7 before being tied by Boys Ranch, 6-6, last week.

Canadian was blanked in its first two outings, by Booker, 15-0 and Spearman, 34-0, before rousing from the dead to blank Follett, 20-0, last week.

But the Wildcats of District 1-A have a real tiger by the tail Friday night when they host unbeaten and unstopable Clarendon of District 2-A.

The Bronchos have scored 113 points in three games while giving up 38 and rank as the cream of the crop among area teams.

Lefors (1-2) will try to even its season record Thursday by playing host to Perryton's B team.

The Pirates got its offense and defense in working order last week and trounced Turkey, 42-0.

Miami will be on the road in an eight-man contest, The Warriors (0-1-1) play at Balko, Okla.

In other games Spearman hosts Stratford, Gruver is at Booker, unbeaten Sunray plays at Keys, Panhandle hosts Sanford-Fritch, Stinnett plays at Claude, Silverton at Boys Ranch, Happy at Kress, Shattuck, Okla. at Follett, and Textline at Alamo Catholic.

Atlanta Cops Western Division, Open Playoff With Mets Friday

By United Press International

The new Braves are Dixie's first baseball champions today thanks primarily to an old pitcher whose season ended the moment his teammates started their great adventure.

The Atlanta Braves, transplanted from Milwaukee four years ago, clinched the National League's Western Division title Tuesday night and the right to play the New York Mets for the pennant with a 3-2 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

There were wall-to-wall heroes when the Braves celebrated in an ocean of champagne, but the player "toasted the most" was 46-year-old knuckleballing reliever Hoyt Wilhelm.

Not Eligible For Series

Wilhelm, who is not eligible for the NL playoffs or the World Series shepherded the Braves to the clinching victory with two hitless, three-strikeout innings of relief.

Trailing 2-1, the Braves scored two runs in the seventh. They tied the score on singles by Mike Lum and Tony Gonzalez sandwiched around a walk and scored the tie-breaking run on a sacrifice fly by Carly.

The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, the San Francisco Giants topped the San Diego Padres, 6-1, and Houston beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 6-3, in other NL games.

In the American League, Minnesota nipped Chicago, 4-3. Detroit edged out Baltimore, 4-3. Washington downed Boston, 7-2. New York whipped Cleveland, 8-2. Kansas City topped California, 8-5, and Oakland downed Seattle, 8-4.

Scores Winning Run

John Briggs hit a home run and two doubles and scored the winning run on John Callison's single in the eighth inning to give the Phillies' Rick Wise his 15th victory against 13 losses.

Tony Taylor also homered for the Phillies while Joe Torre hit a two-run triple for the Cardinals.

Baylor, Tigers Collide Saturday

By United Press International

Like a caged tiger and a bear circling each other, trying to figure how the other will strike, Baylor coach Bill Beall and LSU skipper Charlie McClendon are planning their first head-to-head meeting after a long partnership.

Beall, in his first season at the Baylor helm, came to the Waco campus after serving as McClendon's assistant for a number of years.

Baylor, winless in two starts, meets LSU, undefeated after two outings, Saturday.

Beall "is the first man off my coaching staff to go to a head job and return to meet me," McClendon said.

Plainview Boosts Experienced 11 Against Harvesters On Friday

Pampa has, starting when the two first played in 1930, enjoyed more success against Plainview on the gridiron than any other team they've played.

The Harvesters and Bulldogs will be meeting for the 35th time Friday night and Pampa stands, 22-12 against Plainview. None of the games have ended in a tie.

But the Bulldogs, who will be 12 point favorites when the two meet in a non-conference game in Plainview Friday night, have won for the past two years and last year whipped Pampa, 30-0, after leading only, 7-0, at halftime.

The last Pampa victory was in 1966 when the Harvesters strolled to a 34-20 win after leading 21-0 at halftime. Pampa has also won scores of, 72-0, 69-6 and 60-0. The Harvesters have put together six, five and four game winning streaks against the Bulldogs, who will be out to make it three in a row Friday. In the past 15 years Pampa has won eight of the games.

Plainview coach Bill Davis has an experienced squad this season and the Bulldogs have stumbled to an 2-0-1 record, having been tied, 16-16 by Vernon last week.

All five players who scored in last season's win over Pampa are back, including halfback Albert Hill, fullback David Wooley, Buster Watson, end Dale Mouser, quarterback Mart Hanna and kicker Ragdy replace King and the fleet scabbard rushed for 89 yards last week and ran a kickoff back 70 yards. With Woods in the backfield will be Don Willis, who saw limited duty against Perryton but still managed to rush for over 20 yards on six carries.

Tommy Hawkins, who caught a touchdown pass, will be at flanker and Steve Scott and Denny Johnson, both of whom caught TD passes will be at ends.

Through three games Don Pickard of Amarillo High has scored six times for 36 points to lead all district players in scoring. Right behind Pickard is Ralph Scott of Palo Duro with five touchdowns and Cole Fraley of Borger with five.

Thus far in running up 138 points Palo Duro has had 10 players cross the goal line.

In other district games Friday Dumas hosts Borger, Perryton is at Caprock, Monterey at Coronado and Palo Duro a Wichita Falls Rider. Saturday Amarillo and Tascosa meet and Big Spring is at Lubbock.

Hanna's favorite targets are senior halfback Larry McCutcheon and flanker Ronnie Fudge, both of whom have caught two aeriels for scores.

Pampa finally got both its offense and defense untracked last week in blistering Perryton, 27-6, but the Harvesters may have lost the services of their leading scorer and rusher, senior halfback Scotty King.

King suffered a bad bruise on his shoulder in the Perryton contest and will not workout this week.

But the Harvesters still can rely on the passing arm of senior quarterback John Jenkins who sunk the Rangers for 248 yards through the air on 12 of 24 completions.

Junior Monroe Woods will

Judo Meet Set Here Saturday

Tickets are on sale for the first judo tournament ever held in Pampa. The tournament is slated for a 10 a.m. start Saturday in the high school fieldhouse.

Invitations have been sent to clubs and schools in four states, Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado. The tournament is being conducted under the direction of the West Texas Judo Association.

Pampa Jaycees are sponsoring the tournament.

Tim Joe, who holds a second degree black belt in the sport and Joe Carpenter, holder of a first degree black belt, are head referees. Dale Elliott, president of the Board of Directors of the Amarillo Community Center will seed and score for the competition.

Tickets for the event are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and may be obtained from local judo students of Paul Moot.

Moot is Pampa judo instructor at Pampa Youth and Community Center on Monday and Thursday from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Shockers Shoot For Fourth Victory Thursday

Amarillo Junior Varsity will provide the opposition at 7:30 p.m. Thursday when the Pampa Shockers shoot for their fourth straight victory of the season.

The Shockers should get their sternest test thus far from the Amarillo JV's, who sport a 3-1 record including a 16-0 shutout over Coronado, the Shockers foe last week.

In other games involving Pampa teams Thursday Pampa Reeper 9th (0-1-1) hosts Perryton at 4 p.m. at Harvester Stadium; Pampa 8th (0-2) plays at Perryton at Lee 8th (2-0) plays at Dumas.

Police Continue Search For Tunney's 30-Year-Old Ken

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—Police said today they were seeking the help of Interpol, the international police organization, in the search for the 30-year-old daughter of former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney, missing in Europe for more than a month.

The police said it is "not to be excluded" that Mrs. Joan Tunney Wilkinson of Milwaukee, Wis., traveled on to Spain for a vacation while en route from Bergen, Norway, to join her husband and two small children in Hamburg.

Mrs. Wilkinson had intended to vacation in Spain as part of her European trip, a police spokesman said. He said the federal police bureau in Wiesbaden had been asked to contact Interpol headquarters in Paris to request help from police in Spain.

All West German police forces border guards were alerted Monday to watch for the missing woman, the spokesman said.

Mrs. Wilkinson's disappearance was disclosed Monday night by her father from his hospital bed in Boston where he is recovering from surgery to correct a back ailment. He appealed to the public for help in locating his daughter.

Interpol said Mrs. Wilkinson was reported missing by her family after she vanished in Bergen, Norway, Aug. 28.

She was identified from a photograph by an officer of the Stanger, Norway, ferry "Vikingfjord" as a passenger aboard the ship when it arrived in Cuxhaven, Germany, Sept. 3, according to Hamburg police.

Police in Stavanger said Mrs. Wilkinson asked for a ticket to Hannover, Germany, before she bought a ticket to Cuxhaven. She reportedly planned to travel from Norway to Hamburg via Denmark and Sweden.

Tunney was admitted to the hospital about three weeks ago. His wife, Mary, also is in the hospital. Their home is Stamford, Conn.

A spokesman said Tunney's son, Gene Jr., was in Europe in connection with the search for Mrs. Wilkinson. He has two other sons—John, a congressman from California, and Jay, who lives in California.

Mrs. Wilkinson is Tunney's only daughter.

Witnesses Testify Convention Demonstrators Wanted To Avoid Any Violence

CHICAGO (UPI)—The government's first witness in the trial of eight persons accused of inciting riots during the Democratic National Convention has testified one demonstration leader said in pre-convention meetings protesters "wanted to avoid violence in every way."

Chicago corporation counsel Raymond F. Simon said, however, that Rennie Davis had promised there would be violence if demonstrators were not allowed to use Lincoln Park, the site of some of the worst convention week violence, after the 11 p.m. curfew.

Simon, during cross-examination Monday by defense attorney William M. Kunstler, said the city did not seriously consider letting the protesters use the park because "it would not have been safe for them."

He said the city "made honest judgments" in dealing with the demonstrators. "We can't afford the liberalisms of government permissiveness. We did not want another Robert Kennedy assassination," he said.

Most of the action in Monday's trial proceedings centered around allegations tossed back and forth between defense lawyers and U.S. District Court Judge Julius J. Hoffman.

Hoffman, who ordered four defense attorneys jailed Friday because they did not appear in court at the opening of the trial last Wednesday, vacated the contempt citations when the lawyers appeared in court. After Hoffman lifted the contempt citations, Kunstler moved the judge either declare a mistrial or disqualify himself because he had "continually harassed, humiliated, degraded and maligned the defense attorneys in this case."

Hoffman denied the motion and ordered a written copy of it impounded for further consideration during or after the trial. He said he did so "because of the magnitude of the charges it contains."

Solons' Travel Funds Are For District Only

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas House members, who voted themselves $875 a month in expenses before adjourning Sept. 9, can use the travel funds only for trips within their districts or to Austin, Speaker Gus F. Mutscher said today.

Guidelines regarding use of the travel money were mailed to each of the 150 members by Rep. Tommy Shannon, D-Fort Worth, chairman of the House Administration Committee and Mutscher's chief administrative lieutenant.

Mutscher said the guidelines "may be somewhat restrictive, but are in the best interest of handling the taxpayer's money."

The speaker said the regulations on travel reimbursements were reached after consultations with the state comptroller and the chairman of the House Ethics Committee.

In previous years, House members have allotted themselves $450 a month interim expenses. But this session they upped that amount to $875, even though Texas voters turned down a proposed legislative salary increase while the lawmakers were in session.

Pipeline Employee Plans Retirement

John C. Roberts, who has completed 36 years of service with The Texas Pipe Line Co., will retire from the Wichita Falls Division of the company at Lefors effective Nov. 1, it was announced by C. T. Matthews, division manager.

Roberts is a native of Ada, Okla., and attended public schools there. He joined The Texas Pipe Line Company at Electra in 1933 as a laborer.

Subsequently, he served on pump stations at Electra and Henrietta, transferring to the Panhandle Area in 1946. He has worked on pump stations at Kingsmill and Lefors. He became a regular district gauger at Lefors in 1967, the position from which he is retiring.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts have been living east of Lefors but plan to move to Ada shortly after retirement. They have two sons, Jimmy C. of Bellville and John David, a student at Texas Tech.

"WE TAKE PRIDE IN OUR QUALITY, FASHIONS AND PERSONAL SERVICE!"

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Your answers to other people's problems are so wise, maybe you can help me with mine, though I believe it's hopeless.

My husband and I have been married for 27 years, raised three children, and now we have grandchildren. He traveled for a living and made little effort to hide his cheating. He calmly told me (when I caught him) that it meant "nothing."

I have offered him his freedom a dozen times, but he always refused it, saying he loved only me.

He has never wanted friends. Never knew a neighbor. I have raised the children alone, covering up for him, helping him in his office. We are financially well off, but what good is the money?

I am 5 feet tall and weigh 105 pounds and am told repeatedly that I look like a sister to my daughters. My husband has gained 50 pounds since our wedding and doesn't even think of dieting.

He keeps talking about how crazy he is about blonde hair. My hair is as dark as yours, Abby. In fact people say we look alike.

Please don't tell me I've been a doormat. I know that. What else have I been doing wrong?

HAVE BEEN MISERABLE: DEAR MISERABLE: You may not have tried hard enough to improve your miserable lot. No man will give up his cake if he can have it, too. And for 27 years yours has been having a ball in a bakery.

DEAR ABBY: Never in my whole life have I been so confused about a problem, as I am now.

A few weeks ago, my roommate came home from the hospital after minor surgery, and was sleeping peacefully after having taken pain pills and a sedative. Her boyfriend of long standing was just about to leave when I got the shock of my life!

He tried to get involved with me in a very private way. Need I say anything more?

Should I tell my sick, but recovering friend? It would hurt her beyond words, yet I think she ought to know what kind of "man" he is.

Maybe ignorance is bliss, but for me to have such knowledge is a very painful burden. Help!

CONFUSED: DEAR CONFUSED: The word from here is "Mum." The best will probably confess it to his girl friend fearing that you might tell on him. But even if he doesn't, this is not the kind of information one passes on to a friend.

DEAR ABBY: I recently learned that my husband's grandmother was very much offended by the letter I wrote thanking her for our wedding gift. It seems that everyone in the family calls her "Nanna" but not being aware of this, I addressed her as "Mrs. Smith" in the salutation, and twice again in the body of the letter!

Abby, she never asked me to call her "Nanna." In fact, I don't recall that she ever asked me to call her anything.

Quite frankly, since I have seen her only a few times I thought the formal "Mrs. Smith" would be more appropriate—and anything more familiar would be a bit presumptuous.

Why can't people read a "thank you" letter and appreciate its sincerity and promptness without trying to find something wrong with it?

CAN'T WIN: DEAR CANT: Some can. But not Nanna.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MOTHER OF FOUR DAUGHTERS: Yes, I tell mothers to teach their daughters how to cook, iron, and keep a neat house. But I tell them also that there is something even more important in marriage. Girls should know how to cuddle a man, entertain him, listen to him, laugh with him, forgive him, and make his home a "happy" place to come home to. I have heard from hundreds of divorced women who write, "But I always kept a spotless home, and I was an excellent cook, and the dirty rat left me."

to prefer large groups of people. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Everybody has a second thought Thursday. Sudden differences of opinion arise. Go along with change of plans, at least until you figure out why. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Things and people at far distances look much more attractive than the near-at-hand Thursday. Be tactful with those around you while you focus on your own planning. Take a broad view for the future; search for improvement. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Interruptions in work habits are par for the course today. Watch to see that your remarks and your letters mean exactly what you intend them to mean, as people now tend to seek controversy. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Your feelings are more volatile Thursday. Be moderate in spending. Older people are helpful on how to economize. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Group affairs run into sudden snags. Other people have unclear plans and need time to fill in details. To provide perspective, make a survey of what you have. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Check details as you go. For you may be interrupted and unable to get back to routine. Opposition comes from sources you hadn't thought about. It is an error-prone day. PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Aside from some confusion and the need to improve routines, it is a passable day. Your intuitive faculty leads you away from accidents. Try to consolidate and hold, rather than expand.

Your birthday Thursday: As somebody once said: today is the first day of the rest of your life so act accordingly. Your coming year is one of discovery. Things now beyond your reach may become commonplace as you try for new opportunity. Personal development is the main factor. Healthy self-interest comes alive. Thursday's natives have distinguished themselves by courage and spontaneous initiative.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Matters you thought settled at home now need redoing. You must take time to get them back to normal. Patience pays off more promptly than usual. Don't push business matters any harder than you must. TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Early starts make the difference Thursday. Haste makes errors probable. Do not expect other people to be overly cooperative, as many will be reacting to unfamiliar experience.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Consideration of money matters becomes confused Thursday. Your ideas are not in line with what is expected of you; perhaps you have not stated them properly. Everybody needs time to clarify matters before pushing ahead.

Patchwork Squares Make Party Skirts

It all began with grandma Grace Cole originals offer who used up her dressmaking leftovers to make patchwork quilts. Now patchwork has hit the fashion world, and the smartest outfit a party-bound lady can wear is a floor-length patchwork skirt, teamed with a solid shade shirt in soft lawn voile.

Though patchwork is very, very in, don't get so carried away that you cut up the family heirlooms. Make your own patchwork from contemporary materials — it's easy and fun. The Fall-winter issue of Basic Fashion, available exclusively to readers of this newspaper, features instructions for making your own patchwork skirt:

1. Select pieces of similar weight, texture and fiber content—plain and printed cottons for a square-dance look; silks, satins and velvets for a dressier skirt.
2. Determine the size of the square and make a cardboard pattern, allowing 1/2-inch seam allowance all around. (A 9-inch cut square will make a 4-inch patch piece.)
3. Cut plenty of patches on the straight of the goods, and arrange for best effect.
4. Join squares to make horizontal strips, and press seams open.
5. Join strips to make fabric lengths, pin-basting to be sure seams align accurately. Press crosswise seams open. If desired, top stitch with straight stitching 1/4-inch from seamlines, or cover seamlines with decorative stitching.

Top stitching may be used to attach lining to patchwork. Baste it into position first.

To make a dirndl skirt such as the one pictured today, figure skirt width for about 2 1/2 times your waist measure, plus 3-inch hem allowance. A 24-inch waist would require a piece of patchwork about 60 inches wide, or 15 of the 6-inch squares.

The new issue of Basic Fashion features approximately 100 pattern designs, each with the exclusive Photo-Guide for easy sewing. The Young Originals grouping represents the best styles from the Fashion Design Department of the School of the Art Institute of Chicago, with a fresh, young fashion outlook and a helpful Co-ordinator which suggests colors, fabrics, costume variations and accessories. The

Not for fashion squares is this patchwork skirt, stitched of prettily contrasting fabric patches and belted to make one of the most appealing fashions for the fall and winter season. To vary the basic patchwork square, compose sections of different shapes. Just remember to provide for 1/2-inch seam allowance before cutting; press seams before joining into larger sections.

AFS Student Likes Life In America

WHITE DEER (Sp) — The students and faculty of the White Deer High School welcomed into the school system this year, American Field Service student, Rebecca Miron. Rebecca arrived at the Amarillo Airport on Aug. 22, and is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wheeley.

She came to America from Guatemala City, Guatemala, where she has a brother, Carlos Javier, 19 years old, and two sisters, Dora Estila, 16 years old and Ann Maria who is 23 years old.

She was surprised when she saw so many people in the airport, but relieved to find someone from White Deer awaiting her arrival.

Rebecca found several differences in the school here from her school in Guatemala. The school months in Guatemala are from January through October. In Guatemala she attended classes from eight A.M. to four p.m. however, each day there was a two hour lunch break. In Rebecca's school all of the girls wear uniforms.

Her plans after returning to her home are to attend the University of San Carlos, and study economics. At the present time she is studying accounting, after returning to Guatemala she will finish high school in three months.

Rebecca's favorite classes this year are speech and Spanish, and her favorite foods are cucumbers, corn, and chicken.

When asked about her favorite pastime, her reply was "I like to ride around on the drag in the afternoon after school, and listen to records with Jan and Nina." She was also asked her opinion of American football, and answered, "Its different to the football of Guatemala. "The American football is more hard, and more abrupt; but I like it," she said.

Rebecca said that she has never before seen snow. "I don't know if I want to see it or not, because I hear it is cold." Rebecca says that she likes America.

Former Pampan Named A&M Associate Dean

The appointment of W. Cecil Steward to Associate Dean of Texas A&M University's newly formed College of Architecture and Environmental Design has been announced by Dean Edward J. Romieniec.

A graduate of Pampa High School, and a former drum major of the Pampa Harvester Band, Steward received a Bachelor's of Architecture degree from Texas A&M and a MS in architecture from Columbia University. He also holds a diploma from Ecole des Beaux Arts, Fontainebleau, France.

Prior to his studies at Columbia University he served with the U.S. Air Force in Harlingen, Texas and holds the rank of captain in the USAF Reserves.

Steward joined the A&M architecture faculty in 1962 as assistant professor, was appointed associate professor in 1967 and named Associate Chairman of the School of Architecture in 1968. The College of Architecture and Environmental Design was formed with the opening of the 1969 fall term.

A licensed architect, he is a corporate member of both the American Institute of Architects and the Texas Society of Architects, and is a faculty member of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture. He is currently serving as president of the Brazos Chapter, AIA, and has had numerous articles published. One of which is entitled, "Architectural Education - 1990."

In the College of Architecture he serves as chairman of the Curriculum Committee, chairman of the Student Progress Committee and chairman of the Alumni Committee. He also serves on the board of directors of the Texas Aggie Band Alumni Association.

Significant building designs to his credit are First Bank & Trust, Bryan, Texas; Citizens State Bank, Somerville, Texas; First National Bank, Taylor, Texas; Quinnipiac Elementary School, New Haven, Connecticut; New City Jr. High School, New City, N.Y.

He designed the graphics and color scheme for the new Kyle Field Stadium at Texas A&M University.

Smith Says COG 'Gives Tools For Future'

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. Preston Smith has said regional planning councils can provide practical tools to plan for the future — as we should have planned for the present.

Smith praised the regional council movement at a statewide workshop on intergovernmental relations and said the local planning groups, with assistance from state and federal government, are best equipped to handle local problems.

"The soundest decisions and the wisest plans are made by those most directly affected by those decisions and plans," Smith said.

The governor hailed the fourth annual meeting of officials of the state's 20 regional councils as the "beginning of a new era — an era in which new solutions to old problems will be formulated, an era in which local citizens will co-operate to solve their local problems."

Smith said the state has invested more than $2 million in regional councils since the first was created in 1966. He said the investment already is paying off. The governor pointed out that the planning groups now serve nearly 77 per cent of the people of Texas.

But the governor warned officials at the workshop that in addition to planning, work is needed to "inspire creative action to resolve problems."

"Reports can go unread, gathering dust on some lonely shelf," Smith said. "And planning can go unheeded, as we plod along from day to day and hour to hour, creating additional problems while we should be seeking innovative solutions."

"Our society today is hungry for solutions," Smith said.

FRIENDLY SKIES

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. Weather Bureau's New York area teletype wire dispatched the following report after the New York Mets clinched the Eastern Division title in the National League Wednesday and hour to hour, creating night beating the St. Louis Cardinals 6-0:

News paperability

Tailor-made to sell men's wear.

The revolution is already going on in men's clothing, anyway. The traditionally drab old bird has sprouted peacock feathers. Suddenly, men's wear is news. And when men want the news, they reach for newspapers.

That's why you need ads in the papers, if you want to sell men's wear. Your competitors use them. Men's specialty stores put 75 percent of their ad budgets into newspapers. And during the first half of last year, men's specialty stores upped sales a full seven percent. A recent survey found that when men look for help before shopping for clothes, nine out of ten turn to the ads in their papers. Newspapers are working for men's wear.

Each year, the average American family spends $190 on men's and boys' clothing. This adds up to a $17-billion-a-year business. But to get your share of that $17 billion, you must reach most of the men in your area. How? With ads in the paper—the one medium that almost everyone sees, every day. Including those affluent trend-setting young people. During a five-day span, 74 percent of all 18 to 24-year olds read the paper.

Like to see your men's wear making news? And selling? Tell your story in the medium perfectly tailored to help you—your own local paper. That's what we mean by Newspaperability.

Washington Window

WASHINGTON (UPI)—At a recent national meeting of news and advertising executives in New York, deep interest was evident in a recent public opinion poll showing many people are less than fully convinced of the accuracy of Washington news stories.

The survey was conducted by the opinion analyst Louis Harris for Time Inc. One of the basic findings in the Harris survey was that nearly three out of four college-educated persons contacted believed the real story in Washington "is behind the scenes and only a small part gets in the news."

The survey also concluded "the public is ready to believe that the real decision-making at the highest level takes place without public scrutiny."

Among the college educated people, the Harris pollsters also found for the most part a belief that Washington news coverage was not "a free press operating at its best."

Washington news coverage, regardless of the medium, obviously has many faults but the fact still remains: no world capital is covered by reporters as openly and extensively and with as little actual government control.

Much of the news from Washington, whether from the White House or Capitol Hill, the Pentagon or the State Department, frequently is quite unpleasant, dealing as it must with unpleasant subjects — taxes, inflation, war, war protest, crop failures or surpluses, and natural disasters.

Could it be that many educated people believe much of the Washington news, but because it is so often painful and upsetting, that they prefer to pretend as long as possible that it is untrue?

Then, there are the politicians themselves and government leaders who for years have attacked the press regularly for printing items embarrassing, annoying or out of agreement in causes dear to these particular figures.

And the press itself, using the term generically, often brings criticism down on itself justifiably because of inexcusable omnipotence which can slide even the best journalist into inaccuracy, as well as other shoddy, sloppy practices.

MONUMENT TO MANKIND

'The Rock' To Be Dedicated To Moonwalk

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Alcatraz Island once loomed as a symbol of fear to the nation's most dangerous criminals who called it "The Rock." But now the 22 acres of desolate cliffs and crumbling prison buildings will be turned into a monument to mankind's finest hours—the Apollo moonwalk.

Texas millionaire Lamar Hunt's plan for the one-time military bastion, including open space and a moonshot museum, was approved Monday by the board of supervisors on a close 6-5 vote.

The board's vote authorized city officials to enter into negotiations with the oil heir from Dallas over the island, which was abandoned by the federal government in 1963 because it was falling to pieces and cost too much to maintain.

Hunt pointed out before a long debate by the supervisors that his plan was almost the same as one he submitted last July, except for the elimination of a space tower and revolving restaurant.

"I call it a plan for controlled open space," he said. "We intend to maintain 70 per cent of the island as open space."

The main feature of the plan

EXCESSIVE WASTE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Robert H. Finch says Americans are throwing things away so fast they may eventually have to live in their own garbage piles. Finch, secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, told the Senate's air and water pollution subcommittee Tuesday Americans produced an average of 5.3 pounds of garbage per person last year. But Finch said he opposed a Democratic bill to grant federal funds to communities to develop new systems of waste disposal because "the financial burden . . . should fall primarily on those who produce wastes," not the taxpayers at large.

The Poor American Male

Any woman who complains that "it's a man's world" these days just isn't aware of the true facts of the matter. The allegedly stronger sex is not only physically inferior but, in the opinion of some commentators, is close to the point of psychological demoralization—especially the male species Americans.

Biologists have long been aware that the female of most animals is basically stronger than the male, and life insurance actuaries have long known that the average woman outlives the average man. The present figures are 73 years for the former and only 68 for the latter.

The alarming thing, however, is that the gap is widening. Last year, for the first time since statistics have been kept, life expectancy of American males decreased—by four months.

happen to human beings and that the decline in male life expectancy may be a sign that it is starting.

There is something very wrong in a country that has 8 million fathers who have deserted their families; 500,000 divorces a year; 9 million widows; 20 million mentally ill persons; 60 million alcoholics; 8 million homosexuals; 44,000 suicides a year; a plague of juvenile delinquency and drug addiction.

Such problems don't exist or are far less common in patriarchies, says SEAM. Thus the solution is to restore the American patriarchy, return the male to his rightful place, free him from discriminatory divorce and alimony laws and generally lift from his frail shoulders the burden of feminine tyranny.

It had better be done quickly, for if the good doctor is right, the mere American male does not have much longer even to contemplate such heady power.

H. L. Hunt Writes

FREEDOM'S INTERESTS FIRST!

While our State Department devotes its efforts to achieving a settlement of the Vietnam conflict that will be tolerated by the American public, the communist aggressors are planning new wars of enslavement. Our mistaken, entrenched civil service planners wait until a crisis develops, watch it without taking action, hope it will go away, and eventually negotiate away the freedom of some innocent victims to appease the communists. After that the cycle starts again. We need only to look at what has happened in China, Cuba, Egypt and Laos to appreciate what the future has in store.

It is regrettable that what astute former F.B.I. agents, military intelligence and MacArthur-school officers know from positions outside the government our inside people cannot or will not understand. Conversation with these knowledgeable people indicates that the communist strategy is to always choose the time and place of aggression against freedom-loving people. They know our side will fail to act decisively. Their espionage network operates practically without hindrance from embassies and delegations as per the latest testimony of J. Edgar Hoover.

The communists can be expected to heat up the Middle East, consolidate their gains out of a Vietnam peace settlement and immediately move into Laos and invade Thailand, the only obstacle to their complete control of all of Southeast Asia. How can this be prevented? Simple as it sounds, we need to remove those who formulate policy and those who carry out policy and replace them with common-sense, loyal Americans. Only when we demand it, will we succeed in getting people in government who put freedom's interests first.

Hats Off To Over-30s For Selfless Help To Deprived

By RAY GRIMLEY
WASHINGTON Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—A recent newspaper headline announced, "Rothschild to Quit Post with Abraham and Straus."

The article quoted Walter N. Rothschild Jr., who had been president of the prestigious firm for nine years and with the company for 24, as saying, "As president of Abraham and Straus, I have become increasingly concerned with community problems to the extent that I don't think I am able to do justice to the company."

Rothschild is 49. In an age when we read that anyone past 30 is "over the hill," this is a heartwarming example of the fact that, all over the country, there are "old" (past 45) men and women who are devoting so much of their time aiding their fellowmen for free that their own work (for which they are paid) suffers. Rothschild noted that he could not do the two jobs. So he quit the one to "explore some of the urgent problems of urban life."

in every neighborhood today—rich or poor—for it is not only the slums and among the other economically deprived that desperation exists.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANSTADT

Dishrags Spread Bacteria

Many handbooks and leaflets have given advice on kitchen sanitation. Although they are beamed at restaurants, much of what they have to say applies to your home kitchen as well but few housewives have read them. One thing all the books agree on is the ease with which the dishrag and dish towel can spread bacteria from one utensil to another. Dishrags have been found to contain more bacteria per square inch than the towels. The wetter they are, the higher the bacteria count. Most of these bacteria are harmless but staphylococci, streptococci, tubercle bacilli and others can be transmitted by contaminated cloths.

After rinsing off all the large dabs of unclean food and washing in warm soapy water, the dishes should be placed in rinse water at 160 to 180 degrees for four or five minutes, then air-dried in a dish rack. Mechanical dishwashers have been shown to be very sanitary but not every kitchen has one. Where this is the case, paper towels that are discarded after each washing provide the answer. Another would be the use of disposable dishes. A dry cloth used to polish the glasses after they are dry is not likely to spread germs.

Q—Am I right in believing that Chloromycetin has harmful effects on the blood if taken over a long period?
A—Yes. This antibiotic (chloramphenicol) has now largely been replaced by safer drugs because it may destroy the white blood cells and thereby interfere with the body's defense against those germs not affected by this drug.

Q—My husband has a brain infection due to the Cryptococcus. Is there any cure for this? He is taking amphotericin B. Is this the best drug?
A—The Cryptococcus is a fungus that may affect the skin, lungs or brain where it causes a severe meningitis. Amphotericin B is the standard treatment. It does not cure the disease but, when given early in the course, it holds it in check until the body can build up its own resistance. Recent reports indicate that a new drug, 5-fluorocytosine, is also effective against this disease.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

WIT AND WHIMSY

The wife asked her husband to take the stray cat off somewhere and lose it. So, he put the cat in a basket and drove off into the country.
Mrs. Jones (asked when he returned)—Did you lose the cat?
Mr. Jones—Lose the cat! If I hadn't followed her, I'd never have made it back home!

Blacks in Building Trades—Court Test for Plan?

JOHN GOLDSMITH

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON—The Labor Department's campaign to employ more skilled Negroes on federally-financed construction projects has provoked an embarrassing intra-government wrangle.

Congress may be asked to take a hand. In the meantime, however, the controversy could wind up in the federal courts.

At issue is the so-called "Philadelphia Plan" under which federal contractors are required to set goals for minority hiring so that their work force accurately reflects the availability of minority workmen in a given area. It is aimed at pushing more black workmen into the building trades.

The plan has been ruled illegal by Comptroller General Elmer E. Staats on grounds that it is, in essence, a quota system which amounts to racial discrimination in reverse. Such plans, he says, violate the 1964 civil rights law.

Staats' General Accounting Office rides herd on the spending of funds appropriated by Congress. His ruling suggests, therefore, that federally financed contractors cannot be required to establish the goals imposed by the Philadelphia Plan.

However, Attorney General John N. Mitchell has issued a 20-page opinion which upholds the legality of the plan. As originally developed, it applies to large federally assisted construction projects in the Philadelphia area.

Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz expects to adapt the plan to prevailing circumstances in other areas as soon as possible. His position, now supported by the attorney general, is that the plan does not set quotas but simply requires "good faith" attempts to meet hiring goals.

Contractor groups oppose the plan. Last week the convention of the AFL-CIO Construction and Building Trades Department applauded the statement of department President C. J. Haggerty that the building trades unions are 100 per cent opposed to quota systems, whatever they are called.

Skilled jobs, as plumbers, steamfitters, electricians and the like, are at the heart of the controversy. The unions representing such workers have long been criticized on grounds that they discriminate against minority groups, often through lily-white apprentice programs.

In Philadelphia the Labor Department contends that six skilled construction trades have minority employes amounting to about one per cent, while minorities comprise about 30 per cent of the work force in the area's construction industry.

The plan may well be tested in the courts when a contractor declines to abide by the goal procedure. At least one Navy contractor in the Philadelphia area has indicated that he may act to force a court test.

With the Justice Department supporting the legality of the plan, some members of the House and Senate are urging that Congress act to support the GAO. One proposal has already been drafted which would bar the use of federal funds on projects which ignore the comptroller general's ruling on the Philadelphia Plan.

However, Attorney General John N. Mitchell has issued a 20-page opinion which upholds the legality of the plan. As originally developed, it applies to large federally assisted construction projects in the Philadelphia area.

Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz expects to adapt the plan to prevailing circumstances in other areas as soon as possible. His position, now supported by the attorney general, is that the plan does not set quotas but simply requires "good faith" attempts to meet hiring goals.

LEGISLATIVE VS. EXECUTIVE, AGAIN — The GAO is the auditing arm of Congress. Mitchell's Justice Department is the law office of the government's executive branch. The controversy is, therefore, one of legislative vs. executive all over again.

Such power would be provided in a draft bill submitted by Kennedy. The measure would also give Secret Service agents power to act against anyone who interferes with their activities while they are protecting the President and his family.

The powers requested by Kennedy are rather broad. They would, for example, authorize agents to act against "loud, threatening or abusive language" near a vacation White House.

THE GLOBAL VIEW

Student Revolt Follows Down Road Of Fascism

By LEON DENNEB

NEW YORK (NEA)—Many American draft evaders and deserters who have taken refuge in Europe now find themselves lonely kids in an alien world, their only solace the monthly checks they receive from their parents in the United States.

Once they were heroes of the French leftists because they had revolted against the war in Vietnam. The change began when Moscow signaled that Red China, not the United States, is now Red enemy No. 1. Vietnam no longer was the glamor issue.

During a recent visit to France I heard French students question American expatriates sharply about the motives behind campus violence in the United States.

"What do your students really want?" demanded a young Frenchman in a left bank cafe. "Personal freedom," the American proclaimed. "We are fighting against a repressive democratic establishment."

The Frenchman shrugged. The American, a member of the militant wing of the Students for a Democratic Society, castigated the United States as an "overdeveloped and repressive country" with an "uncontrollable bureaucracy" and universities that have made an "accommodation" with business and government.

The Frenchman, like many Europeans interviewed by this writer, did not agree. He had visited American universities and found them to be "100 years ahead" of the universities in France, Italy, Germany and Britain.

Students in France and elsewhere in Europe are protesting against an archaic educational system that has not changed much since the Middle Ages, he said. They revolt against physical conditions that would not be tolerated in the United States even by die-hard conservatives.

For instance, there are still many classrooms in France in which less than a third of the enrolled students can be seated and biology laboratories in which there is one microscope for 20 students. Nor is there much contact between professors and students.

Conditions of this sort, young Europeans feel, have nothing to do with the grievances of American students.

To be sure, even critics of the "irrational destructiveness" of the SDS were of the view that some of the "problems" which the American militant student minority reflects are genuine. Most believed that the Negroes especially have just grievances and that their revolt is not merely a "conflict of generations" but part of a wider movement for social emancipation.

But whatever sympathy Europeans have for the grievances and idealism of the American students, black and white, they have none for their "irrational acts" and irresponsible tactics.

Many who still remember Hitler's rise to power and the ravages of World War II are disturbed by the parallel between the SDS and the fascist youth movement that mushroomed in Europe in the 1930s.

Taxpayers Have Some Rights Too

(Industrial News Review)

Any failure on the part of law enforcement officers to follow proper procedures in informing lawbreakers of their legal rights can result in light penalties or no punishment for perpetrators of the most vicious acts. It now appears, at long last, that the poor, battered taxpayer is to be accorded a little more official concern for his rights under the law.

The Internal Revenue Service has announced that an agent investigating alleged tax evasion must now advise the taxpayer at their first meeting that anything he says may be used against him, that he can't be compelled to incriminate himself by answering questions or producing documents and that he has the right to seek assistance of an attorney before responding. Certainly, taxpayers should receive as much or more official consideration of their legal rights as do lawbreakers apprehended by the police. The Internal Revenue Service is to be commended for its action.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functioning of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: — Why is the welfare state bound to fail and degrade any nation that adopts it?
ANSWER: The reason is simply this: It violates nature's laws and the laws of God. It seems to adopt the idea that the well being of mankind can be improved by practicing socialism and communism and the welfare state is just a form of socialism and communism and violates the laws of nature. Nature always takes her penalty for violating her laws.

QUESTION: — Why is the welfare state bound to fail and degrade any nation that adopts it?
ANSWER: The reason is simply this: It violates nature's laws and the laws of God. It seems to adopt the idea that the well being of mankind can be improved by practicing socialism and communism and the welfare state is just a form of socialism and communism and violates the laws of nature. Nature always takes her penalty for violating her laws.

Laying It On The Line

Man bit dog the other day. Or more accurately, a teacher lectured students on how they should conduct themselves academically — which is something of a switch.

The task of students is to learn and to be instructed, not to decide what courses will be taught and who will teach them, and not to invest the university's money," says philosopher Ernest van den Haag of New York University, addressing a freshman convocation at DePauw University in Indiana.

Other blunt advice offered by van den Haag: "Students are not in a position to know what they should be taught; if they do know what they should be taught, then they have what they came for and they should leave the university."

"The proper task of a university is teaching you to reflect, to analyze and see what actions and alternatives are available and should be taken. The place is not committed to action, but to prepare you to make future commitments."

"The way to learn about poverty is not to be indignant but to study economics. If you're interested in preventing war, it does not mean a thing to 'make love, not war,' but it does mean something to learn how to prevent war by studying in political science and history."

Perhaps the bluntest statement of all is van den Haag's contention that the reason higher education is irrelevant to so many college students today is because "so many students themselves are irrelevant to college."

Americans are in the midst of an "educational escalation," he says. They erroneously believe that you can do anything better if you have more and more academic preparation. Hence the new waves of college students, half of whom should not be in college.

Van den Haag says he favors a law that not only outlaw discrimination on the basis of sex, race and religion, but also on the amount of one's education.

"Discrimination on the basis of educational degree should be prohibited unless it can be shown it is relevant to the work required to be done."

Interestingly enough, the professor was not jeered but was, in fact, enthusiastically applauded by his student listeners.

Law And Crash Helmets

Like most states, Illinois has witnessed a motorcycle population explosion, the number of registrations having doubled in Illinois from 50,000 to 100,000 since 1965.

And like most states, Illinois had a law requiring motorcyclists to wear crash helmets. It had a law, until motorcyclists successfully challenged it. The law has now been declared unconstitutional on the grounds that an individual can't be forced to protect himself.

The ruling could open up a rather interesting legal Pandora's box, especially if it is repeated in other states or is applied to automobile drivers as well.

For instance, it could call into question the practice of some judges suspending portions of fines or sentences of traffic violators who were wearing seat belts or, conversely, being a little harder on those who were not wearing their belts.

contributory negligence has been alleged against persons who were injured in accidents because they didn't have their seat or shoulder belts fastened?

The whole issue revolves around the question of where one's own safety ends and the rights of others begin. It may not be constitutional to force a motorcyclist to protect himself. But it would seem that a second party who may run into or over him deserves some protection from the undue consequences of an accident, entirely regardless of who may cause the accident.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Federal Reserve policy is knocking the economy down into a minor recession that will have a sobering effect on the profits of many companies in coming months, Watson & Co. observes. There is one cushion, however. "The controversial 10 per cent tax surcharge is probably slated to cup to five per cent or even less in the first half of 1970, then fall to zero," the firm points out.

The stock market shows an encouraging ability to bear up under gathering signs the business boom is topping out, according to Standard & Poor's Corp. The firm says no quick breakout from the trading range of the past two months indicated, but commitment of a portion of reserves in reasonably valued and promising stocks "should be rewarding over the next six months to a year."

Recession and inflation will grip the economy in 1970, Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis says. The degree of recession will be determined by the length of the Federal Reserve's "overstay" in terms of economic restraint, the firm adds. Paine, Webber also predicts the wage-price spiral will continue its economic pull even after demand has subsided, posing the risk of a substantial decline in the growth rate of total dollar income.

Spear and Staff Inc. advises THE MOANING MONSTER SHELDFORD, England (UPI)—They called it the Moaning Monster of Webster's Wood. The wheezing sound in the darkness frightened women and children.

After years of searching, the monster was discovered Tuesday. It was a crow with bronchitis. A truck driver, Charles Beavis, found, and captured the crow while ghost-hunting.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY LONDON (UPI)—Ripping away a board in a shop demolition workers, Rick Ward saw what he thought was a crocodile-skin bag Tuesday. He bent down to pick it up and the "bag began hissing and spitting. Ward ran out screaming.

It was a boa constrictor that had escaped from the pet shop next door.

WRONG-WAY CLOCK NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI)—The clock at the bus station has confused many passengers and drivers lately—it has been running backwards. It loses two hours every 60 minutes, so is always wrong except for the six times a day it catches up with itself.

Bus company officials promised to have it fixed soon. BIG FIND MARION, Iowa (UPI)—There is quite a bone to pick on a farm near here. Geologists from the University of Iowa said Tuesday they are digging up the fossil remains of an ice age bison, an animal bigger than the modern American bison.

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 884 PASSED AND APPROVED BY THE CITY OF PAMPA, TEXAS, ON THE 24TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 1968, CONCERNING THE REGULATION OF THE BUSINESS OF HAIRDRESSING AND BARBERSHIP, AS AMENDED BY ORDINANCE NO. 889 PASSED AND APPROVED ON THE 25TH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 1968.

The Texas Highway Department is planning to proceed with the development of the proposed highway improvements on State Highway 722 by the city of Pampa from 1.26 to 2.26 miles south of Crawford Street. Since the Administration of the Highway Department has approved the route and design proposed for development of this project, work will begin on the next phase of the project.

The proposed improvement will consist of expanding the present two-lane roadway to a four-lane facility plus two lanes for parallel parking. The roadway right-of-way will be 60 feet for the proposed facility as shown on the attached plat.

Fame, Aggravation Follow Kennedy's July Tragedy

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (NEA)—A couple of middle-aged tourists from Boston stopped the chief of police on the street here the other morning.

"Are you Dominick Arena?" they warned.

A nod.

"We recognized you from TV."

A smile.

"Can we take a picture?"

Another nod.

"Bet you get a lot of this, huh?"

Another smile—and a long, helpless shrug. Indeed, Edgartown's top cop does get a lot of this. Lately, anyway. It used to be that Dominick Arena was mistaken for a local skating rink. But since July 18, when Sen. Edward Kennedy's late-night drive on nearby Chappaquiddick Island ended in disaster and confusion, the town lawman has become a celebrity.

Even now, months after the accident, Chief Arena is being questioned, studied, measured, followed and beseeched like a cinema star.

His mailbox is stuffed with more than 1,000 letters. His phone often rings in the middle of the morning. England wants an interview. France needs a statement. And two German writers shadow him night and day.

The officer's life has been altered. So much so, he thinks, "I doubt it'll ever be the same as before."

At least, he adds, he hopes not.

Sitting in his boxy, untidy office at city hall, Chief Arena—39 years old, 6-foot-3, 225 pounds, former Marine, father of four—confesses he has not only learned to cope with fame, he has learned to like it.

Says he:

"At the beginning of summer, who was I? Just another small-town police chief, way out here on Martha's Vineyard. Now people I do not know stop me. Old friends I'd forgotten write me. And famous people ask me for opinions. It's really been exciting. I'd be a liar if I said

I wasn't impressed. And, to tell the truth, I've enjoyed it a great deal."

Not that it has all been a piece of cake, he adds. The pressures have led to some "bad times." For one thing, early in the case, he got so nervous he "began having some squabbles with the wife." For another, all through the case, he has never been able to swallow personal criticism "especially from the crackpots, or all those editors who have never even come here to see what happened for themselves."

But, in the main, Arena feels the good of the national glare has outweighed the bad. He says the spotlights are hot, but they are also intoxicating. And he's not particularly anxious for the acres to dim.

"Like most people, I wish the Kennedy thing had not happened. But since it did happen, I can't say I'm not pleased to be involved. Anybody likes to see his name in the papers, I'm no different.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—I've invented a new adult parlor game which I hope to get on the market in time for the Christmas buying season. The name of the game is "inflation."

There are five players. Each player draws a marker designating him as "labor leader," "industrialist," "banker," "president" or "consumer."

The markers are placed on the space labeled "go." The players cast lots to see which one moves first. Then they take turns drawing cards that determine their progress around the board.

A typical game goes like this: "Labor leader" wins the toss and draws a card that says: "The consumer price index rises 5 per cent. You offset the cost-of-living increase by demanding a 10 per cent wage boost. Advance 5 spaces."

Now "industrialist" draws a card that says: "Your employees have obtained a 10 per cent wage increase. To offset this increase in your overhead costs you raise prices 25 per cent. Advance 15 spaces."

The next card is drawn by "banker." It says: "Inflation has gotten out of hand. As the nation's chief inflation fighter, it is your patriotic duty to raise prime interest rates 1½ per cent. Advance 40 spaces."

The card drawn by "president" says: "The chairman of your council of economic advisers reports that the economy is cooling off. Advance 10 spaces."

The first round ends with the card drawn by "consumer." It says: "This is the day you do your marketing. Go back 30 spaces."

Assuming that everyone now understands how the game is played, let us move on to the second round:

"Labor leader" draws a card that says: "You make a speech in which you warn that unless inflation is checked, the government may have to impose some form of price controls. Advance 15 spaces."

"Industrialist's" second card says: "You make a speech in which you warn that unless inflations is checked, the government may have to impose some form of wage controls. Advance 15 spaces."

When it comes his turn, "banker" draws a card that says: "Inflation is still out of hand. As the nation's chief inflation fighter, it is your patriotic duty to raise prime interest rates another 1½ per cent. Advance 40 spaces."

The next card drawn by "president" says: "Your Treasury secretary reports the economy is still heating up on the same day the chairman of your council of economic advisers reports the economy is cooling off. Remain in place."

"Consumer" ends the second round by drawing card that says: "It is time to do your marketing again. Go back 50 spaces."

This may go on for years.

Twenty-One Pianists Compete For Van Cliburn Recognition

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Four pianists from the U.S. and Japan opened the program of the Van Cliburn International Piano Competition Monday.

The musicians lead a list of 21 pianists competing in the two-week competition.

William McLeod Frampton III, son of an Orangeburg, S.C., Presbyterian minister, began the day with required pieces from Schumann and Dello Joio.

All the contestants are required to play Schumann's Etude Symphonique and Dello Joio's Capriccio on the Enterval of a Second. Minoru Nojima, 24, of Yokosuka, Japan; Thomas Hrynkiw, 28, of Greensburg, Pa.; and Mark Wescott, 21, of Portland, Ore., followed Frampton.

Nojima, who played in the morning, and Wescott, who performed in the afternoon, got the most reaction, but audience approval does not necessarily figure in the contest.

Twelve semifinalists will play

Oct. 6-8 and the six finalists will perform Oct. 10-11. The winner will be named that day.

Donald J. Moore of Interlochen, Mich.; William Westney of Forest Hills, N. Y.; Diane Walsh of New York City and Michiko Rujinuma will lead the competition today.
