Pampa Family Home After Near Fatal Accident

By RON CROSS
News Staff Writer
Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Hobbs, 1012 E. Browning, returned from their vacation Friday, a little later than they had hoped and not as they had planned. They returned to Pampa Friday from a vacation which saw them involved in a near fatal car accident and a nine-day stay in Methodist Hospital in Memphis, Tenn.
The Hobbs, their daughter Rosa, 20, and the family pet were on their way back to Pampa after visiting another daughter, Francis, a WAC stationed in Augusta, Ga.
They were near downtown Memphis when the Hobbs' vehicle was struck broadside by another car. Hobbs swerved his car to avoid hitting a carload of children, then swerved again to avoid a telephone pole that would have struck the side of the car where his wife was a passenger. The Hobbs' vehicle came to rest against a building.
Neither Rosa, nor Mrs. Hobbs, were injured seriously enough to require hospitalization, but Hobbs swayed between life and death for the next 48 hours.
He suffered a torn spleen, bruised lung and heart, and cracked ribs.
Hobbs spent the next eight and one-half days in the hospital but Friday was flown back to Pampa in a Pioneer Natural Gas Co. private plane and then taken to Highland General Hospital where he will undergo further treatment. Pilots were Clayton Campbell and Ronnie Nelson.
Hobbs a compressor station operator, has been employed by Pioneer for 25 years.
"The people in Memphis were very nice to us," Mrs. Hobbs recalled Friday.
"Some of the business people rushed to our aid when we had the wreck to see if they could help us. One of the hostesses at the hospital took our dog home and took care of it for them. They were really very nice," she said.
Mrs. Hobbs spent the 48 hours, following the accident, by her husband's side, praying for his recovery.
"It's nice to be back in Pampa, isn't it, Mother," Hobbs commented to his wife on the ride to the hospital from Perry Lefors Airfield.
"It sure is, Dad," said Mrs. Hobbs.
Friday was a better day for the Hobbs family.

Voters Toss Out Hospital Plan

VIETNAM MORATORIUM

Protesters Urging All To Participate

By United Press International
Vietnam war protesters in Detroit Saturday passed out handbills urging all persons to "refrain from business as usual" Wednesday and join a nationwide Vietnam moratorium to demonstrate dissatisfaction with the conflict.
Across the country, other groups prepared for protests as both New Jersey senators pledged support. But the other groups urged counter demonstrations in support of fighting men in Vietnam.
Some warned the expected big show of protests could hurt the U.S. position at the Paris bargaining table and called for support of administration efforts to end the hostilities.
Veterans of Foreign Wars National Commander Ray Gallagher urged citizens to fly U.S. flags Wednesday in answer to war protests.
Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., urged motorists to turn on the headlights to show support for the Nixon administration Vietnam policy.
Sen. Clifford B. Case, R-N.J., urged support for the moratorium Saturday and called for a withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam under a "cease-cut time limit." Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., said he hoped the moratorium would help reshape U.S. policies toward an end to the war.
The Detroit Coalition to End the War Now circulated handbills with a schedule of protest activities. Both the coalition and a right wing group have asked the Detroit City Council for permission to use Kennedy Square for rallies Wednesday, but no action has been taken.
T. Harding Jones, a 19-year-old Princeton sophomore who is co-chairman of a student group opposing the moratorium, said the demonstrations "will do more to hurt the cause of peace in Vietnam than to help."

No Room For Doubt Defeat Overwhelming

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

It was rather quiet around the Gray County Courthouse Saturday even though a county-wide election was in progress. And from the total number of votes cast in the Hospital District Election, it must have been equally quiet in the county's five other polling stations.
When the ballots were tallied soon after the polls closed at 7 p.m. Saturday, it was determined Gray Counties had gone to the polls, 1,281 strong and overwhelmingly defeated the hospital districting plan with a vote of 1,004 against to 277 for.
Absentee balloting accounted for 65 of the total votes cast. And a tradition around the courthouse many elections ago was broken. The old tradition of "as absentee balloting goes, so goes the election" did not hold true Saturday night.
Absentee balloting carried the proposal by 37 votes for to 28 against.
The issue did not carry in any of the county's 44 precincts. Courthouse strategists were of the opinion that the election was ill-timed and that, perhaps, county citizens are more than a little weary of tax-structured elections.
In the days, preceding Saturday, not too much interest was evidenced in the approaching election. There were no really dedicated efforts to get the real pros and cons before the public.
And what was not fully understood in defeating the election is that taxes will still be raised with the state coming in for its share of ad valorem taxes.

Resignation Of Coronado Inn Manager Told

Jim O'Connor, manager of Coronado Inn for the last eight years, announced Saturday he has accepted a post as manager of the Nassau Inn at Princeton, N.J., and expects to leave Pampa between Nov. 15 and Dec. 1.
O'Connor's resignation was confirmed by Hugh Burdette, president of The Pampa Community Hotel Co. Burdette said the executive committee of the hotel board regretfully accepted it at a meeting late Friday afternoon.

TEA Officials To Inspect Pampa Schools For Accreditation

By WANDA MAE HUFF
News Staff Writer

For the second time in two years, Texas Education Agency officials will examine Pampa schools to determine if the district measures up to state accreditation standards.
The five-member TEA team will inspect school records, teaching methods, plant conditions, will meet with school trustees, and observe classroom instruction during the three-day visit Oct. 28, 29 and 30.
In the last accreditation visit, TEA officials defined six major areas needing correction in school district to fully meet state standards. The district's $900,000 school construction project, approved by taxpayers in March, will help the district answer plant condition improvements requested by TEA officials.
Mrs. Marjorie Gaut, director of educational services, explained the district's status during a recent school trustee meeting and stated, "We know they are coming, and are prepared for their inspection, and are not afraid our schools will not meet accreditation standards."
"We don't get ready for an evaluation team and quit. We have self-evaluation programs going on all the time and have done several things this year which will put our district in a better position," Mrs. Gaut said.
She explained to trustees, administrators have organized two special councils for and curriculum which are intended to correct any imbalances in educational opportunities in Pampa schools.

Leaders on both of these councils are Mrs. Gaut, J. R. Cronister, elementary coordinator. (See ACCREDITATION, Page 2)

Walter Kerr To Speak At Chamber Banquet

DR. WALTER KERR

Tickets are going fast for the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet in the Robert E. Lee Junior High School Cafeteria Thursday night, Oct. 30.
Approximately 50 per cent of the tickets are already gone, and a sellout is expected by the Oct. 25, according to Chamber officials.
Dr. Walter Kerr, of Tyler, director of The National Youth

Foundation and recognized as one of America's top after-dinner speakers, will speak on a subject that has made him famous, "The Thunder of Bare Feet." He will discuss frankly the unrest that exists in the nation's schools and universities today.
Dr. Kerr will bring his guitar and demonstrate various types of music associated with the many changes in society during recent years.
Delegations from neighboring towns in the Top O' Texas area have been invited to attend.
Tickets are now on sale to Chamber members and to the general public at the Chamber of Commerce office, and reservations may be made by calling 669-3241.
New officers of the Chamber will be introduced at the banquet and will assume their official duties that evening.
The new officers are Don R. Lane, president; Kay Faucher, vice president and David Fatheree, finance director. Retiring officers are G. B. Cree, Jr., president, Don R. Lane, vice president and Jim Morris, finance director.

Pope Opens Meet With Warning

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI opened a worldwide synod of bishops Saturday with a warning he would allow no tampering with his supreme authority but promising to give bishops a bigger voice in church government.
As the Pope spoke, well-informed Catholic sources reported four liberal European bishops were maneuvering behind the scenes to try to engineer a revolt against him when the synod gets down to business Monday.
They said the four cardinals have drawn up a document urging that the Vatican-prepared agenda be thrown out and the meeting be opened to a full-scale debate on controversial points of catholic dogma, priestly celibacy and other issues.
The sources said the four cardinals were "not very optimistic" they could muster the necessary support for their proposal and were dismayed their plans had leaked out prematurely.

Soviets Hurl 'Flying Machine' Into Orbit

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union hurled a "flying machine shop" carrying two cosmonauts into earth orbit Saturday. Reliable informants said it would be followed soon by one or two more manned craft and that crews would experiment in the construction of an orbital space station.
It appeared that the Russians, stung by America's Apollo 11 moonlanding last July, were trying to build an interplanetary spacecraft which could be launched from orbit on a voyage to the moon or other destinations in the solar system.
The launching of Soyuz 6 at 2:10 p.m. Saturday from the Baikonur Cosmodrome in Kazakhstan was the first manned space flight by the Soviets in nine months.
Aboard the craft were the commander, Lt. Col. Georgi Shonin, 34, of the Russian air force, and Valery Kubasov, 34, a civilian engineer. Both are space rookies.
Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said Soyuz 6 was orbiting earth at altitudes ranging from 138.5 miles to 115.5 miles, and that all systems were functioning normally.
Tass made no mention of other shots in connection with Soyuz, but space sources in Moscow said one or two more spacecraft were being readied for launch within the next few days with as many as six cosmonauts eventually taking part in the mission.

148 Guards Deployed In Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI)—A contingent of 148 Illinois National Guardsmen was deployed into downtown Chicago on patrol duty Saturday after a radical parade broke up in a window smashing rampage.
Among those arrested during the downtown outbreak was Mark Rudd, leader of the Columbia University riots in New York City in 1968. Rudd is a leader of Students for a Democratic Society's Weatherman faction.
Maj. Joseph Vecchio announced that 148 of the 2,600 National Guardsmen mobilized at four Chicago armories since Thursday were deployed to patrol downtown.

Among the scores of persons arrested was one youth seized by a manager of the Carson Pirie Scott and Co. department store, who said the prisoner attempted to set the store afire.
The first scuffle and a number of arrests occurred at the start of the march, west of the Loop, at the spot where the statue of a policeman was dynamited earlier in the week. There were a number of arrests there.
But the march appeared peaceful through the Loop, past city hall, until the estimated 300 marchers turned east onto Madison Street from La Salle Street.

At the corner of Madison and Clark, three plate glass windows of a restaurant were smashed and a demonstrator lay on the ground, cut and bleeding, handcuffed to a policeman.
Radicals in the march sponsored by the Revolutionary Youth Movement I (Weatherman) faction of Students for a Democratic Society were using lengths of pipe concealed in rolled up newspapers to smash windows and battle police.
The marchers were led by a large black flag bearing a hammer and sickle.

UP-UP AND AWAY and with the greatest of ease seems to be the expression of Pampa Youth and Community Center's director, George D. Smith, as he casually lifts weights on the mechanized barbell machine, which is part of the new health and bodybuilding program available at the Center. For additional pictures see Page 13. CURRENT MALE hair fashions have nothing on Zac, a rare Lhasa Apsos, whose ancient Tibetan ancestors probably set the trend way back in the centuries.

Lovable Lhasa Loves Winds

By DORIS E. WILSON, News Staff Writer. Zac is going to love Pampa. The rare Lhasa Apsos, whose ancestry dates back to the ancient Tibetan household, loves wind and snow.

Zac is a newcomer, but his family has recently returned to residence here at 1818 N. Zimmers, after living in Dallas for 4 years.

Even though Zac is California-born, in Bakersfield to be exact, there is enough ancestry in his psyche to make him thrive on gusty winds and despoiled snow.

30,000 Negro Residents Of LV Unable To Escape 'Humdrum'

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—To the 15 million tourists who visit this gambling center annually, Las Vegas represents an escape from the "humdrum" of their daily lives back home.

But to many of the 30,000 Negro residents, the glitter and glamor is the impossible dream they can never achieve.

While other Negro areas across the country broke out in violence during the past few years, the black section in Las Vegas remained peaceful. There were always rumors, that trouble was brewing.

The trouble came Sunday, Oct. 5, when a minor police incident triggered several days of violence that resulted in the death of two men and the arrest of more than 140 persons.

Joe "Pepper" Williams, a metal worker who was arrested for curfew violation, expressed the feeling of the black community. He said:

"It's just this simple. We're tired. We're tired of being pushed; we're tired of struggling; we're tired of not having anything."

The complaints here are similar to other communities—lack of job opportunities; police harassment, poor recreational facilities and mediocre schools.

The four-square mile area called the West Side where most Negroes live has one of the biggest crime rates in Nevada; large amounts of unemployment and a high number of persons on welfare.

The area is dingy but is not comparable to the slums of some eastern cities. About 80 per cent of Nevada Negroes live in this section, or about 14,000 persons.

Just ten blocks away, Negroes can see the sharp contrast to their plight. In downtown Las Vegas sit the multi-million dollar casinos which stand as a symbol of affluence.

"The young people are trying to get menial jobs such as carhop so they can pay to further their education and even these are not forthcoming," says Assemblyman Woodrow Wilson, the first and only Negro in the Nevada Legislature. Many of them have lost hope already.

Wilson now in his second term, complains about broken promises by city officials and lack of understanding by the Nevada Legislature of the problems of the Negro.

When racial troubles erupted in the school system last year, the city pledged to build a recreation center on the West Side. Wilson says the promise was not kept.

This year the school district started busing black students out of their neighborhood to end de facto segregation in the classroom.

In the eyes of the Las Vegas Negro, that is only a beginning.

Bookworm Finally Turns

ST. LOUIS — William Mersinger, an admitted "book worm" hopes to find more reading time.

Mersinger, 83, has retired as head of the book department at Herder Book Company where he worked for 69 years. Mersinger has read a lot of books over the years but claims he doesn't have time to read as many as he likes.

Herder specializes in religious books, but Mersinger's tastes are a little broader, and he says that books emphasizing sex are not as bad as some persons think.

"People get used to them, and the younger generation will read them and not think much about them," he said.

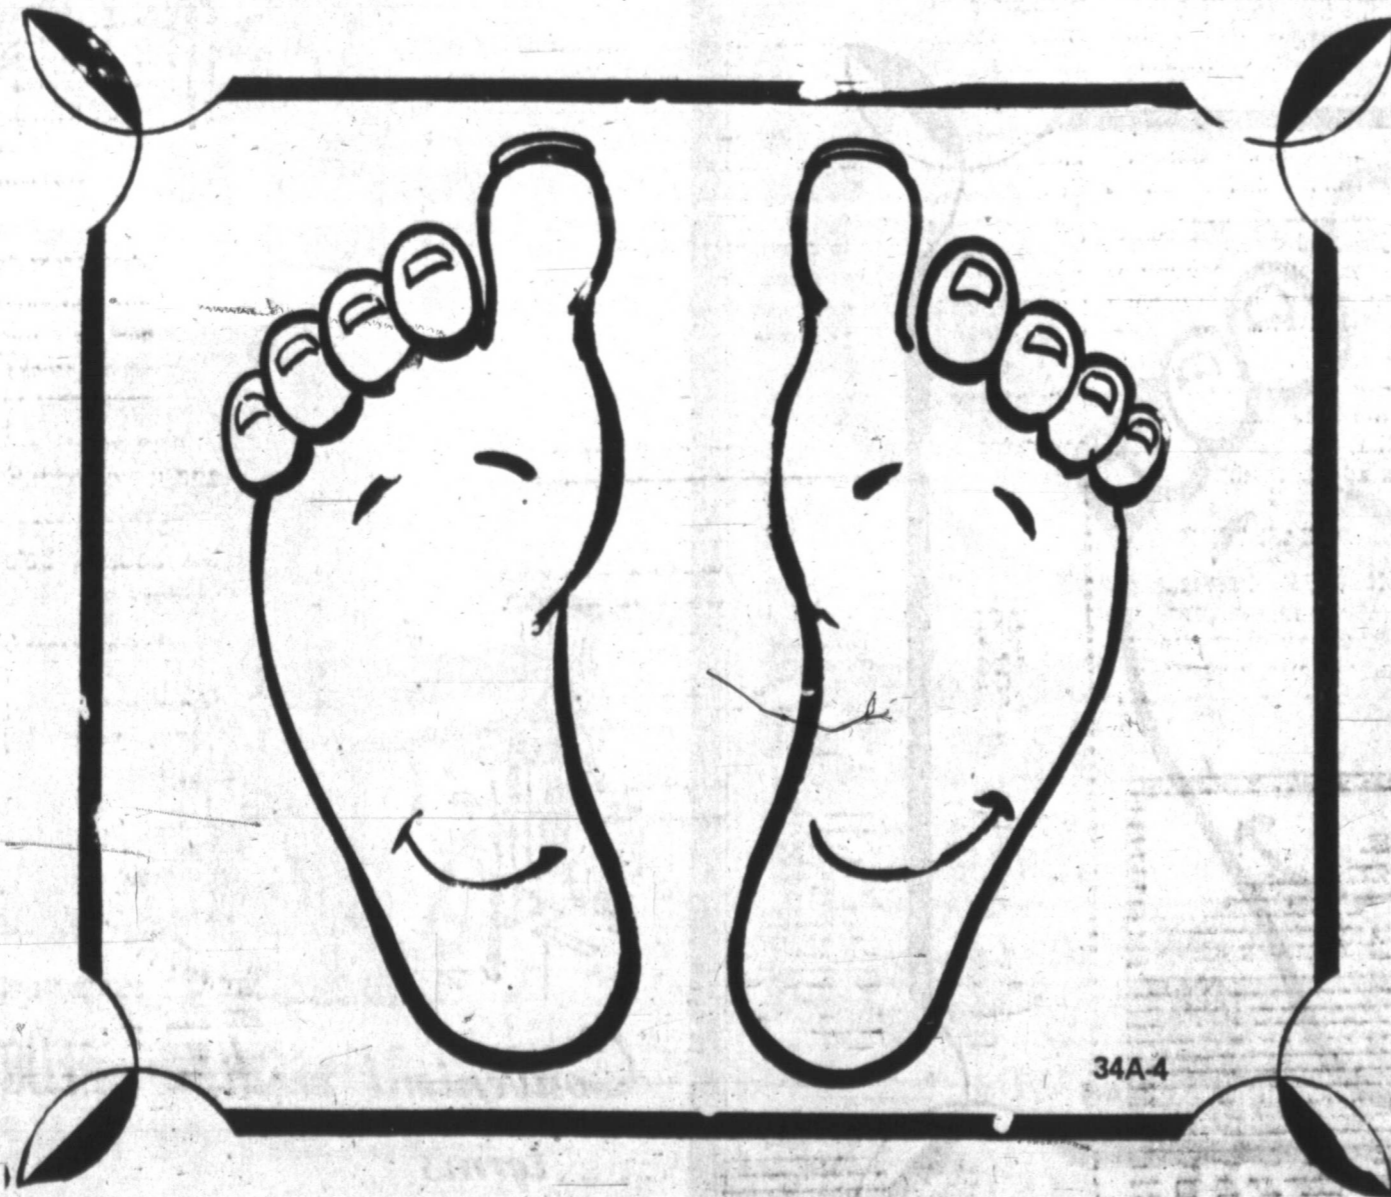

Mersinger has an age gap with almost anyone, but he is not a victim of a generation gap.

"Young people are not as bad as they are made out to be," he said. "There is one bad one in 1,000, and that bad one gets all the publicity, and no one even thinks about the other 99."

The one group that Mersinger criticizes without restraint is book reviewers.

"Reviewers are still the same," he said. "They cut the wrapping off of the book with a knife, smell the knife and write their reviews."

There are other heads of other book departments, but probably none that can make a crack like that at the age of 83.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department says it is investigating Communist China's charge that U.S. aircraft strafed Chinese fishing boats in the Gulf of Tonkin recently. Department spokesman Carl Baruch said Friday China had made similar complaints in the past. Baruch said investigation of the most recent complaint, last December, revealed an American helicopter had carried out test firing of about 100 rounds into the water several miles from the nearest fishing boat.

RAPIDLY GROWING IN PAMPA

Men Enjoy Art Of Hair Styling

By GENE SCHNEIDER
News Staff Writer

It used to be easy to spot the man who had just had a haircut. For a week afterward his head had a peculiar naked look — hair very short, ears sticking out and nape clipped in a high uncompromising line.

But all that is changing, says a local barber. There's a new breed of Pampanos who figure the right kind of haircut, or style can make just as much difference to his looks as the right hairstyle does to a woman's.

T. O. Upshaw, 1700 Chesnut, who is pictured above having his hair styled at a local shop says he feels the hairstyle is designed to bring out the most handsome features and play down the worst ones. "I really think astonishing results can come of this, whether it is for a teen-age boy, a young father or a middle-aged man. In the hands of a good stylist a man suddenly finds rugged good looks he never knew he had."

Hair styling is more popular in the larger cities. However, Pampa has joined the "hair revolution" along with other cities in the central states and according to one barber, "it is getting to be very big."

The straight edge razor is one of the more conventional aids used in styling men's hair. It is used to cut the hair in long layers which makes it easier to comb. It is also used in correcting the naturally high nape line. It reduces the bulk without affecting the look. It shapes the hair so it has no choice but to lay down.

"The blow waver is used to dry and direct the hair in a pattern flow. The hairbrush is used with the blowwaver to make waves, create new pattern flows and give the hair a light fluffy look. The large triangular hair net is used in some cases to put over the hair when drying it. This depends on the person and the type of hair they have. If the hair is easy to control, the net is not used, but with hair which is hard to control, it is used effectively.

Hair sprays are taking hold more and more because of the holding effect they have on the hair without a stickiness or greasy appearance.

Two good tips for men who plan to get a styling job for the first time are: Let the hair grow good and long so the stylist has something to work with and don't make it a one-shot visit. Unless a barber can train hair into a new combing pattern, a process which takes about three haircuts, he can't attempt a new style.

Barbering was first introduced about 6,000 years ago by the Egyptians. They discovered by taking strands of hair, encasing them in clay, and baking them in the sun, the hair could be made temporarily wavy.

Ticinus Mena, a Sicilian barber, first introduced to the Romans the act of shaving. At this time, barbers began to gain prestige. In Rome, a statue was erected in the memory of the first Roman barber.

First brought to the United States by the Romans, hair styling was not accepted. Feelings were it was a silly type thing which men could indulge in. Unknown to most was the fact since the invention of the motion picture, actors were enjoying the art of hair styling. On all Hollywood film sets, stylists were present at every break to re-comb their hair.

In the early 1960s, men found a new masculinity. They began to change their attitudes. The old idea of having to be stark, austere and as plain as a soldier to prove your manhood was replaced by more sophisticated concepts.

ART IS what beauty you see in the ordinary. For Mrs. Donald George, 2121 Dogwood, wood becomes an object of beauty under her skillful sculpturing hands. Mrs. George, who will be exhibiting at The Fair, has become well-known throughout the Panhandle for her wood carvings; some of which have earned for her top awards in Art Shows. She has also had several private showings throughout the area. (Staff Photo)

'X' Rated Movies Cause Anguish

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Sen. John L. McClellan and other concerned officials in Congress, State Houses and the Federal Communications Commission are suffering paroxysms of anguish over the televising soon of current "X" rated movies. Their fears are somewhat unfounded, according to one network executive. Today movie theaters are jammed with sex and nudity epics that hardly make for wholesome home viewing for grammar school kids. No matter how open-minded the parent, he need not insist that his offspring stay up to see the video premiere of "I Am Curious (Yellow)," "The Fox," "The Staircase," "The Graduate," "Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice," or any of the other adult pictures making the rounds. Of course, the little beggars are liable to sneak into the television room and have their lives irreparably ruined.

Artists And Gourmets To Display And Share Talent

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer
The now-empty building at 214 N. Cuyler will be transformed next weekend by the creative talents of artists and craftsmen from Pampa, Miami, Hereford, Perryton and Tucumcari, N.M., when the Pampa Fine Arts Association stages its annual Arts and Crafts Fair Oct. 18-19. For the past few weeks, artists, craftsmen and gourmet cooks have been putting final touches on their exhibits, some of which will be offered for sale. "And for those who come to see, like what they see and would like to learn to execute the same artistry themselves, there will be demonstrations given by the artists at designated hours," according to Mrs. Bill Fraser, general chairman. The date and hours of the demonstrations will be carried in a later news release. To add to the occasion, while viewers are browsing the exhibits, there will be music in the contemporary manner provided by Jay Losher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Losher, recent winner of the $50 cash award in the Pampa Fine Arts Association's "Summer Happening." Jay will be playing and singing original compositions. Demonstrations are planned in metal sculpture, wet on wet water color; making Swiss straw and MOD yarn creations; wood carving; jewelry; sponge and china painting. On display will be original paintings in tempera, oils, collages, acrylics, and jewelry. New to the fair this year will be a display of macrame, an ancient art of tying knots in

Agriculturally Speaking

We have observed several patches of resowed wheat that looks very good. We feel army worms, cut worms and grub worms have run their course. If you have wheat to replant, the time is just right as far as grain yield is concerned. It is late for wheat pasture for this year unless you have irrigation. However, wheat planted at this time will probably make better spring grazing.

CATTLE PRICES

A big guessing game is going on as to where we go from here in the cattle price cycle. Since everyone else has made a forecast, we might as well give you one more.

The market will hold steady on anything weighing less than 500 pounds except heifers. Heifers will continue to weaken. The closer they come to weighing 500 the more loss you can expect. The lighter they are the less price drop. Light weight steers are about to bottom out and after the October runs, you will see a steady rise similar to late winter this year. Fat cattle will not come out from under the present price level as quickly as some are predicting. For the last six weeks most of the finished feedlot cattle have been sold at a negative margin. This will continue for the rest of 1969. Recovery will not be as fast in 1969. You would probably be Feedlot profits will not be anything to brag about in the coffee shop throughout most of 1970. Replacement cattle will be selling for higher than justified by fat markets in early part of 1970.

Here is a real safe prediction. No one is likely to make as much profit per head in 1970 as they did on their best pen in 1969. You would probably be safe if you included all the next decade.

Now don't take this to heart. I surely would hate for someone to clip this out and bring it back to me in late 1970.

The thing that will make you the most money in 1970 is a close appraisal of all classes, sex, and weights of cattle before you buy stocks. Some will be a much better buy for both pasture and feedlot than others. A good example was about two months ago when a four hundred pound shipping-in steer could be purchased for thirty-two while six hundred and fifty pound steers cost almost the same locally. When your 400-pound steer reached 650 pounds in the feedlot, you would have thirty dollars per head less in him than the day you placed the six hundred fifty pound steer. Think this one through.

Washington Report

BOB PRICE PANHANDLE, TEXAS

BEEF PRICES

Panhandle Congressman Bob Price testified Tuesday on the price of beef before the House Government Operations Subcommittee on Special Studies.

The Texas Republican stated that, "the price of beef is more a reflection of the cost of marketing beef than it is the cost of producing beef. It's for this reason that I suggest that those complaining about the so-called 'high-price' of beef examine the problem more closely. If they do so, they will discover that the causes of the problem lie elsewhere than the farm, the ranch, or the feedlot."

Price observed that the cattle industry is meeting this cost-price squeeze head on. Cattle producers have brought in professional managers and animal-nutrition specialists to run their business; they are reacting faster to changing market conditions; and, they freely acknowledge that they must continue to update their operations if they are to survive.

He declared, "I think it is of vital importance to note that the cattle industry is meeting this challenge and altering its traditional modes of operation within the free market system. Cattlemen are not asking for price supports, they are not asking for Federal subsidies. They are willing to rely on competitive market forces to establish the price level, and they are willing to succeed or fail on that basis. This is truly the spirit of American enterprise and American ingenuity. This rugged individualism, typified by the American cattle producer, is what has helped make our country great."

Price concluded that, "Because the cattle industry operates in the free market, the price a cattleman ultimately receives for his product is determined by the price the consumer is willing and able to pay at the retail level. The consumer is presently demanding a lot of beef in terms of both quantity and quality. The American cattle industry has met this demand, and can continue to meet this demand, but only on a basis which permits the industry to realize a reasonable return on its investment. If, however, the price of beef does not continue to follow its present course in the market, the cattle industry will have no alternative but to reallocate operations and divert resources to more profitable uses. If this occurs, production will be reduced, and beef prices will be driven skyward."

processing and distributing industries, labor costs alone have increased well over 45 per cent when compared to the standard 1957-1959 averages. In addition, the cost of land, labor, equipment, and money has risen dramatically over the last few years. Finally, the modern convenient see-through packaging coupled with the increasing variety of cuts that the consumer is demanding has increased the price between the beef producer and the dinner table.

Price stated, "based on its price record, beef is a real bargain. Over the past twenty years, general inflation has brought about price increases for all goods and services of more than 40 percent. Despite this radical increase, beef today sells at a more favorable price than existed 18 years ago: Today, one hour's labor buys 3 1/2 pounds of beef; ten years ago the same labor bought less than 3 pounds of beef; and twenty years ago, the consumer purchased approximately 1 pound of beef for one hour of labor. During the past twenty years, per capita disposable income increased 50 per cent. Yet today, the average American family spends only 17 percent of its disposable income on food, as compared to the 1959 figure of 25 percent. When one considers that 23 cents out of each disposable dollar is spent on beef, the favorable position to today's consumer becomes obvious."

Price told the Subcommittee, "basically, I think that when consumers complain about the high cost of beef, they fail to realize that beef costs are more of a reflection of the cost of marketing beef than they are a reflection of the basic price of beef at the producer's level. The marketing cost of getting a choice steer from the ranch to the table has increased 15 per cent since 1961, 85 per cent since 1951, and 190 per cent since 1945. In the food

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYAL

The Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District received official notice during the past week of Public Hearings to be held on the Red River.

This announcement is of real concern and interest to West Texas, and especially the Texas Panhandle, since all forks of the Red River begin in this area. The hearing nearest to us will be in Childress on November 5.

The announcement of the Public Hearings comes from Colonel Vernon W. Pinkney, District Engineer of the Tulsa office of the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

RED RIVER AND TRIBUTARIES ABOVE DENISON DAM TEXAS, OKLAHOMA & NEW MEXICO

The District Engineer has been directed to make a study of Red River and Tributaries above Denison Dam, in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, to determine the future water resources needs of the area. The purpose of the study will be to develop an integrated water resources plan that would provide for the best use, or combination of uses, of the water and related land resources to meet the foreseeable short- & long-range water problems and needs of the area.

Authorization for this study is provided in an outstanding Resolution by the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, House of Representatives, United States, adopted 25 February 1938:

"Resolved by the Committee on Rivers and Harbors of the House of Representatives, United States, That the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors created under Section 3 of the River and Harbor Act, approved June 13, 1902, be, and is hereby, requested to review the reports on Red River, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas, submitted in House Document Numbered 378, Seventy-fourth Congress, second session, and in previous documents, with a view to determining if improvements in the interest of navigation, flood control, water, power, or irrigation-is advisable at this time, and particularly with a view to constructing dams on the upper section of the river and the tributaries.

Other outstanding resolutions studies of specific projects will be satisfied in this basin study. In order that the required report may present a fully developed integrated plan that meets the needs of the area,

INVESTIGATE BEFORE YOU BUY!

Insurance Policy Made To Appear as Investment.

Beware of those salesmen who come to you with a letter of recommendation from one of your friends and try to get you "in on the ground floor" of his fabulous company. It is bad enough that he has probably already taken your friend for a commitment or a lot of money he could invest to much greater advantage elsewhere. What the salesman is attempting to do is get you to make what he represents as a highly profitable investment which turns out to be an extremely expensive and highly concealed series of premium payments on a very limited insurance policy. Most of the "deals" include a profit sharing dividend feature with the implication that "these dividends will continually increase in size as the company grows and makes better profits, but it will in nearly every case, take years to even recover the original investment. By its very nature the special policy is difficult to understand, lends itself to misrepresentation, and defies comparisons with other insurance policies which the laymen may understand. More often than not they are sold in a highly promotional manner, represented as a one-time-only opportunity for a person to get in on the ground floor. Highly polished, canned sales presentations with exaggerated emphasis on the themes of profit investment, dividends and the like often leave buyers unaware that they have merely bought an insurance policy.

Mets Figure Chances Better Than Even To Win In Five

By MILTON RICHMAN

UPI Sports Writer Baltimore (UPI)—Incredibly, the incredible New York Mets emerged from their first World Series Saturday...

"Before the ball game started, we were all a little leery of them," Clendenon went on. "A lot of us were, me included. You know, we'd read all that baloney in the papers about how good they were..."

Isn't like that three-out-of-five series with Atlanta."

Seaver, inevitably candid, said simply: "I didn't pitch well. (Don) Buford? I thought that was the way to pitch to him. I guess not. He hit 'em right on the nose. Both of 'em."

Seaver was talking about the second pitch of the game, a fastball on the inside, which Buford whacked for a 370-foot homer over the right field fence...

"When they scored those three runs, I felt I had run out of gas," Seaver said about Baltimore's two-out rally in the fourth. "The home run (by Buford) was a home run. There's not much you can do about that. But after two were out in the fourth, the ball started to sink out of the strike zone and I just feel I had run out of gas."

Seaver started the game with six days rest since his last previous assignment. He was not inclined to blame that for his defeat so much as possibly the fact he had not got in enough running the past four days.

"I use my legs as much as I do my arm when I pitch," he said. "Look, they're a good ball club; they came up there swinging and they're aggressive, but we're not out of this by a long shot."

club; they came up there swinging and they're aggressive, but we're not out of this by a long shot."

"You bet we're not." Swoboda chimed in. "Even the fact that Seaver wasn't as sharp as he usually is and didn't go too long could help as the series goes along."

Gil Hodges, the Mets' manager, cited Baltimore third baseman Brooks Robinson as being as much responsible for the Mets' defeat as anyone else.

He spoke particularly about the superb play Robinson made on pinch hitter Rod Gaspar to throw him out and finish off a Mets' rally in the seventh.

"That was a big play," Hodges said.

The Met manager was asked whether he knew of any other third baseman who could make the same play.

"McMullen," he said, singling out the third baseman he managed when he was still at Washington.

"We've come from behind all year," Hodges added. "There's no reason we can't again."

Syracuse Wins COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI)—Rich Pancyszyn picked apart Maryland's touted pass defense for fourth-quarter touchdown passes of 15 and 22 yards to Tony Gabriel Saturday to spur Syracuse to a 20-9 victory.

Maryland's Teravapine led the nation in pass defense going into the game, having allowed only 12 completions for 154 yards in three previous games this season.

Irish Pounds Army, 45-0

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joe Theismann threw two touchdown passes and ran four yards for another score in the first half Saturday as Notre Dame romped to a 45-0 victory over Army at Yankee Stadium.

Theismann, a slender junior quarterback, passed 55 yards to Tom Gatewood in the first period for Notre Dame's first touchdown after Scott Hempel kicked a 20-yard field goal for the Irish's first score.

Theismann, who carried for 58 yards, dashed four yards for a score in the second period and threw a seven-yard pass to Gatewood later in the stanza to give Notre Dame a 24-0 halftime lead.

The fighting Irish marched for another score in the third period with Bill Barz plunging over from the one for the score. Theismann then left with Notre Dame ahead 31-0 in the third quarter.

Sophomores Andy Huff and Jim Yoder went one and 16 yards for the last two Irish TDs. Hempel kicked all six conversions for Notre Dame.

Duke in Upset WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (UPI)—Quarterback Leo Hart ran for one touchdown and passed for another Saturday to guide Duke to a 27-20 victory over Wake Forest and give the Blue Devils their first win of the season.

Hart completed 21 of 28 passes for 282 yards, including a five-yard scoring strike to Bob Helper in the final period. He also scored himself from a yard out on a keeper in the opening period.

Upsets Scarce Around State In Prep Ball

By United Press International

There were not too many upsets around Texas high school football circles Friday night, but there was one shocker that made up for the limited supply of surprises.

Refugio, No. 1 in Class AAA and state finalist last season, fell from the ranks of the unbeaten Friday night — losing 13-0 to Class AA Palacios.

Although the Bobcats' defeat was the biggest surprise of the weekend, there were a couple of more upsets and a lot of close calls.

Austin Reagan, top-ranked in Class AAAA and two-time defending state titleholder, failed to score in the first half for the first time in 23 games Thursday night against Austin Johnson, but went on to take a 13-0 victory.

That win extended Reagan's winning streak to 34 games — longest in the state.

Second-ranked Abilene Cooper — all it could handle in edging Big Spring 15-13 Friday night and Galveston (No. 4) had its hands full downing Texas City 17-7.

Sixth-rated Dallas Jefferson was not so lucky, dropping a 33-7 decision to Richardson which has knocked off members of the top 10 the past two weeks.

Odessa Permian (No. 7) breezed past Midland 30-8, Spring Branch (No. 8) whipped Smiley 37-16, Dallas Kimball (No. 9) also had a tough fight before nipping Dallas Carter 26-21 and Wichita Falls (No. 10) downed Denison 42-14.

With Regugio's downfall, Houston Elmoro and Lubbock Estacado appeared the best bets to take over the No. 1 spot.

Elmore (No. 2) defeated Class AAAA Beaumont Chariton-Pollard 28-16 and Estacado (No. 3) whipped Sweetwater 54-0.

Alvin (No. 4) edged Dickinson 14-10 and West Columbia (No. 5) defeated Beaumont French 14-0, but in one of the leading attractions of the night sixth-ranked Plano outlasted seventh-rated Bonham 21-18.

The biggest winner of the night in Texas was Ennis (No. 8) which smashed Hutchins Kennedy 88-0.

The only upset in the lower classifications came when Olton snuck up on Dimmitt (Ranked seventh in Class AA) 28-26.

Most of the top-rated teams in Class AA and Class A had little trouble.

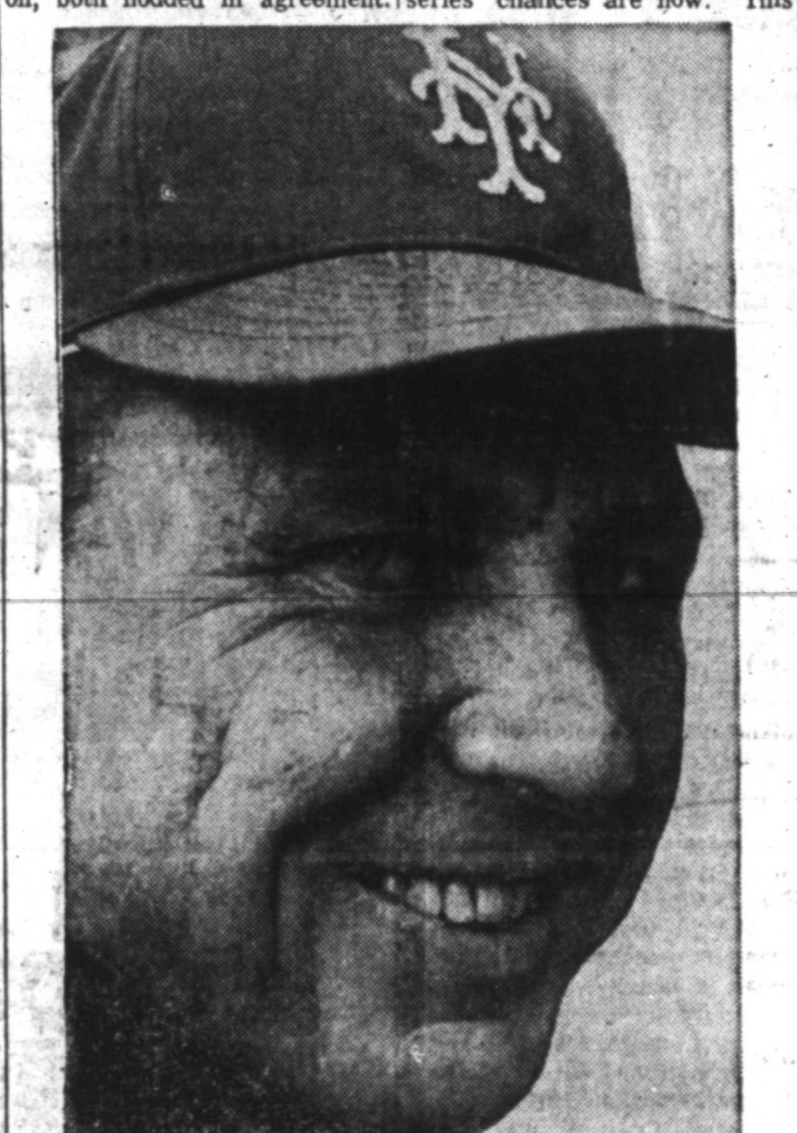

Lufkin Dunbar, No. 1 in Class AA, meets Diboll tonight while top-rated White Oak of Class A scored its fifth straight shutout — a 47-0 decision over Spring Hill.

Auburn Hits Late For 51-0 Victory

AUBURN, Ala. (UPI)—The explosive Auburn Tigers, who have now run up 171 points in four games, waited a period to get started Saturday, then routed Clemson 51-0.

Once the offensive-minded Southeastern Conference team got moving, its Atlantic Coast Conference visitors never had a chance. The defeat was the worst Clemson had suffered in 25 years.

A FULLY - Equipped health room, which features a Finnish sauna, sun lamp, exercise machines, individual showers plus other features makes it one of the finest health facilities in this area. Instructress Jackie Marlar is shown here demonstrating the advantages of the Health Walker, which allows the patron to run, walk, jog or stroll in one place. A pedometer measures the distance covered in yards. The Spa also has a red-wood paneled sauna room, where 200-Fahrenheit temperatures help flush out skin impurities and excess body moisture.

Something New . . .

. . . Has Been Added

THIS afternoon, between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m., Gray Countians are invited to attend an Open House and tour the new health spa facilities available at the Pampa Youth and Community Center, 1005 W. Harvard. In addition to a regular recreational program of swimming, gym, volleyball, basketball, trampolines, teen dances and square dancing, the Center is now equipped to offer an all-around health program of exercise for persons, both male and female, who are 21 years of age (or married) and up. CLASS sessions will start Monday. Memberships will be available this afternoon as well as information about class times and schedules. FUNDS for the $60,000 building addition and equipment were contributed by Mrs. Inez Carter, who also endowed the main building of the Youth Center, which was opened to the youth and community on May 1, 1961.

PUT TISSUE in strap; place chin in strap; press down on strap with chin and keep mouth closed, these instructions appear on the Contour Facial Machine, which is one of many health and beauty machines available at the Pampa Youth and Community Center's Health Spa. Demonstrating the use of the facial machine, strictly for the benefit of the photographer are Jackie Marlar (L) and Judy Everett.

IF USED long and often enough the leg and thigh curl machine, for strengthening muscles, is guaranteed to do just that, as Instructress Mary Nell Phillips (L) is illustrating. Other body-building and weight training machines at the Center include vibrators, barrell rollers, barbells, dumbbells, exerow, motorized exercisers, bicycles. A regulation size swimming pool is adjacent to the Health Room area.

A SIX-STATION jungle pulley machine is a compelling attraction for Pampa businessmen and athletes. Weights vary from 5 to 700 pounds. Pictured here demonstrating its use are from the left, Malcolm Denson, Wayne

Brown and De-lmar Watkins. An added attraction at the Youth Center are two indoor 20x40x20 regulation size courts for games of handball, paddleball and squash.

Vocational Nurses Earn Recognition

To honor Pampa Licensed Vocational Nurses during national LVN Week this week, registered nurses of Highland General Hospital sponsored a tea in the hospital conference room.

About 30 of the 40 LVN's employed at Highland General Hospital attended the tea which was arranged by Vermell Meador, R.N. director of nursing services. Mrs. Katherine Nichols and Mrs. Margaret Rhoton served refreshments for the party.

Highland General Hospital has graduated 32 LVN's from its school of nursing since the school was opened in 1965. Registered nurses on each floor of the hospital supervise the LVN's in their work.

LVN duties in the hospital include charge nurse, chart nurse, nursery, medication, obstetrics, bedside nursing, scrub technician in operating room, central supply and inhalation therapy. Outside the hospital, they assist physicians as office nurses and as special duty nurses.

Six of the Pampa LVN's Mrs. Dorris Hoier, Mrs. Laura Converse, Mrs. Ruby Bird, Mrs. Evelyn Reger, Mrs. Ruby Stovall, Mrs. Grace Necase and Mrs. Travis Winegeart, R.N., attended a heart seminar in Amarillo this week. Mrs. Winegeart supervises the LVN's who work in inhalation therapy and central supply and directs in-service programs.

Four Pampa LVN's will attend the state LVN convention in San Antonio Oct. 15-19. Delegates will be Mrs. Patsy Uitzman, Mrs. Converse, Mrs. Evelyn Reger, and Mrs. Joe Hoggett.

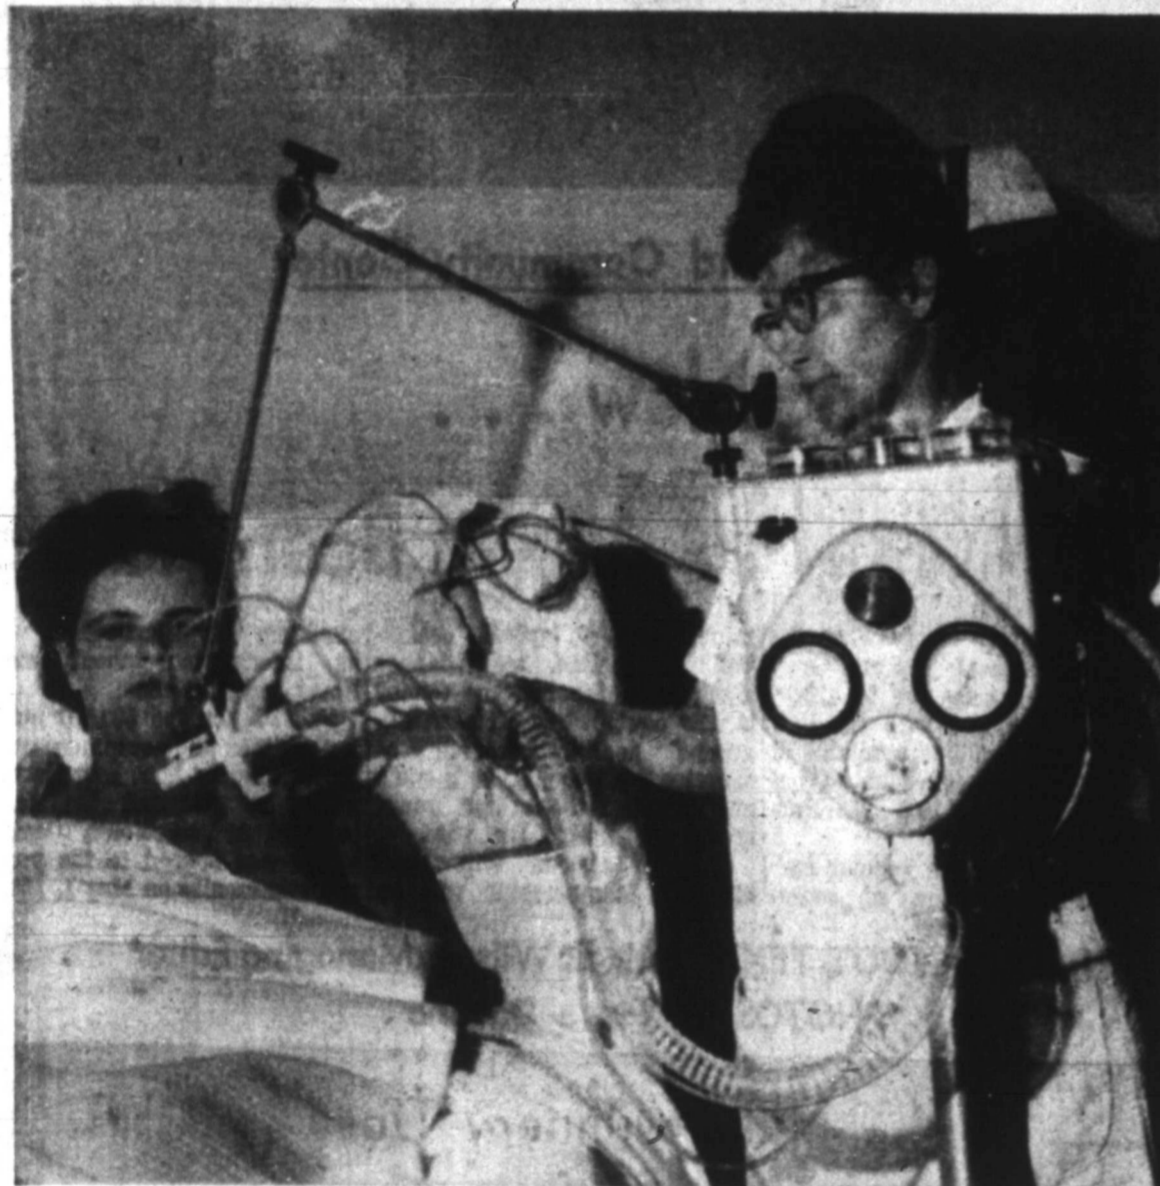

Officers of LVN Division Two for Pampa and the surrounding area are Mrs. Converse, president; Mrs. Clorise Hulsey, Shamrock, vice president; Mrs. Hoggett, secretary and Mrs. Reger, treasurer.

MEDICINE TRAY CHECK — Mrs. Evelyn Reger, LVN, a medication nurse for Highland General Hospital, checks physicians' orders for medication to be sure the proper amount has been prepared for administering to patients. ASSISTANT TO PHYSICIAN — Mrs. Dorris Heller representative of the Licensed Vocational Nurses who work with physicians in their clinics, gets instruction from Dr. J. Foster Elder for treatment of one of his patients. Mrs. Heller has been employed as a clinic nurse since she graduated from the Highland General Hospital School of Vocational Nursing in 1966.

PATIENT TREATMENT BY LVN — Mrs. Meda Hudgins, LVN, right, inhalation therapy technician for Highland General Hospital, explains the procedure for using the therapy equipment to a HGN patient, Mrs. Patrick Strickland. Mrs. Hudgins is a graduate of the LVN School of Groom-Memorial Hospital.

NURSING CARE REPORTS — Part of an LVN's duties are to record treatment and medication given to patients under their care. Mrs. Ruby J. Bird, right, and Mrs. Laura Converse, charge nurse, complete their reports at a Highland General Hospital nurses' station. Mrs. Converse is president of the Licensed Vocational Nurses Association, Division Two.

Pampans' Daughter Wins Two Trophies In Twirling Events

Rhonda Dennis, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dennis, 2119 Beech, has received two first place trophies in the New Mexico State Fair Baton Twirling Championships held in Albuquerque, N.M.

In the fair contest, she placed first in intermediate solo and basic strutting techniques. She has held the basic strutting title at the New Mexico State Fair for two years and has won 50 trophies and 110 medals in the five years she has been taking twirling lessons.

An eighth grade student at Robert E. Lee Junior High, she plays the French horn in the Lee Band.

Miss Dennis plans to enter the annual Halloween Twirling

Contest in Amarillo Nov. 1. A regional contest, it is open to all student twirlers. Divisional classifications are juveniles, up to 10 years old; juniors, 11-14, and seniors, 15 and older.

AMARILLO SPEAKER

Las Pampas DAR Sponsors Luncheon

Mrs. Ernest Brainard, Amarillo, presented the luncheon program recently for the Las Pampas Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Brainard is chairman of marshals for the National Society of DAR, historian of the Texas Society and past regent of Ester McCrory Chapter of Amarillo. For eight consecutive years she has attended DAR Continental Congress which is held in April each year in Washington, D.C. For several years, she served as page to the DAR President General.

Introduced by her cousin, Mrs. Harold Miller, Mrs. Brainard reported on the past Continental Congress which more than 2,500 DAR members attended.

"Mayor Walter E. Washington welcomed members to Washington City. Al Capp, cartoonist, was featured speaker for the opening night session, and chose for his topic 'The Second American Revolution,'" Mrs. Brainard said.

"In his speech, he compared the revolution on our campuses to the one in Germany in the early 30's when Horst Wessel and his Brown Shirts stormed the Universities of Heidelberg, Munich and Stuttgart, just as the Students for Democratic Society are storming into the universities here today — Harvard, Columbia and Brandeis. They shout exactly the same words," she said.

Mrs. Brainard said, Jeanne Dixon, noted for her future forecasts, and Edmund Harding, a "Tar Heel" humorist, were other featured speakers.

Mrs. Henry Merrick, regent, presided for the Las Pampas luncheon meeting held in Furr's Cafeteria and announced the division meeting will be held in Odessa Oct. 20 and 21. Mrs. Don Gassaway gave the defense committee report.

Guests attending were Mmes. Claire Roan, and Joe Williams, members of Ester McCrory Chapter, Amarillo; Mmes. Mabel Torvie, Mrs. Bryant Clark and Marvin Lay, Pampa, ad d

Sherry Callaway Repeats Vows With Robert Thacker In Lefors

MRS. ROBERT THACKER
nee Sherry Callaway

Sherry DaJuan Callaway became the bride of Robert Wilson Thacker in an evening nuptial service in the First Baptist Church of Lefors recently. The Rev. Gerald B. Seright officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Callaway 1801 N. Christy. The bridegroom is the son of B. J. Thacker, and Mrs. Wendell Akins, both of Lefors.

Pianist, Brenda Terry, played wedding selections of "Claire de Lune," "More," and accompanied vocalist Diane Mathis.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in a formal-length gown of imported linen which was designed with a chapel sweep, short sleeves, empire waistline and scooped neckline. She wore something, old, new, borrowed and blue and wore a lucky penny in her shoe.

Her veil of illusion was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white split carnations.

Ilene Ensey, maid of honor, was dressed in a formal-length empire gown of violet twilight chiffon over peau de sole and carried a single long-stemmed white rose. Bridesmaids Gail Akins, Lefors, and Connie Thacker, sister of the bridegroom, also of Lefors, were dressed identically to the maid of honor. Melody Thacker, flower girl is a sister of the bridegroom.

Richard McDonald, Pampa, was best man, with Ricky Callaway, the bride's brother, and O. C. Akins, Lefors, as ushers.

For the reception in the Church Fellowship Hall, the centerpiece was fashioned of a miniature bride and bridegroom surrounded by white roses.

The cake was decorated with violet roses, sugar bells, and cherubs topped with the miniature bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Ted Swinford, Borger, assisted with the punch service, as Mrs. James Todd, Lawton, Okla., the bridegroom's sister, served cake. Mrs. Robert M. Thacker, Skellytown registered guests.

For the wedding trip to Oklahoma City, Okla., the bride traveled in a forest green dress with a dropped waistline, pleated skirt and V-neckline designed with white collar and button trim. Her flowers were lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a Pampa High School student. The bridegroom is a 1967 graduate of Lefors High School and is employed by a welding and roustabout service in Lefors.

Pre-nuptial events included a bridal shower by Ilene Ensey, Gail Akins and Connie Thacker, Aug. 18, and rehearsal dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Akins.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Armstrong, and Mrs. Anna Scott, all of Amarillo; Mrs. Marion Williams, Canyon; Mrs. Ted Swinford, Borger, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Thacker, Skellytown.

Mrs. Patton Presents Report From Venice

Twentieth Century Allegro met for the first regular meeting of the 1969-70 year at the home of Mrs. Edward Maglaughlin, 2547 Duncan, recently with 10 members present.

"Venice" was the subject of Mrs. T. H. Patton's program presentation. "Foreign Panorama" is the year's theme. Mrs. Patton and her daughter Linda toured Venice three years ago.

"Venice was founded in 697 and created on 118 little islands in a sheltered lagoon" she said. "The islands are separated by 160 canals and connected by 400 bridges. Today the bridges are built of stone with steps but originally they were wooden arches without steps for horses.

No horses or cars are allowed in Venice now. One walks or takes a taxi boat, motor launch or gondola"

In describing the Piazza of St. Mark, she said, "It's like an immense drawing room, enclosed on three sides by arcades with shops, restaurants and bars on the lower floors. The sidewalk tables of the restaurants on each side of the Piazza have been the meeting place of celebrities and tourists who stay late into the night listening to the orchestra.

"In 828, two Venetian merchants brought the body of St. Mark to Venice from Alexandria, Egypt and building began on the first church. It was consecrated four years later and 144 years later the church was destroyed as was the Ducal Palace. Then in 978 the second church was started and the saint consecrated. The present church was built in the shape of the second one, the Greek Cross, and in Byzantine-Venetian style. After 1500 no changes were made in St. Marks. Work being done now is to increase the stability," she said.

"Venice has maintained her special features, unique in the world, through the centuries. Originally a group of huts were built on the islands in the fifth century by refugees fleeing from Attila's Huns. Gradually a city state developed and in the year 697, the first ruler, or Doge was elected. In 810 islands called The Rialto were chosen as the seat of government for the city state. By the end of the 15th Century the republic headed a vast colonial empire, the most powerful sea power of the Christian world. But in the same century their power decreased as a new water route was found to India. In 1801 St. Mark and the Palace became the seat of the Patriarch of Venice.

"Five hundred years ago there were 10,000 gondolas on the canals. Now there are fewer than 500," she added.

"Venice is fighting a desperate battle against the sea. One could see much evidence of unstable buildings, since many have the lower floors shored up with bricks. The islands are nothing but mud (See ALLEGRO, Page 17)

Evening Marriage Ceremony Unites Janis Wilbur, Martin A. Wasserman

Janis Adal Wilbur and Martin Alfred Wasserman were united in marriage in an 8 p.m. ceremony Saturday in Park Cities Baptist Church in Dallas. Dr. Herbert R. Howard officiated for the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Wilbur Jr., Canadian. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Maurice Wasserman, Watertown, Mass.

The church was banked with tall white tapers with swirl candelabras and tall clusters of trees grouped together in a nest of greenery. Reserved seats were marked with white satin ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in a formal-length gown of pure silk crepe fashioned with shirred waist covered buttons down the entire front. The collar, cuffs and belt were of silk satin. A silk bow fastened the belt and emphasized the natural waistline of the yoked blouse and full sleeves. Pearls worn with her gown were her grandmother's, Mrs. H. S. Wilbur Jr.

Bridal attendants were Carole Price, New York, N.Y., maid of honor; and Mrs. Frank Skillern Jr., Dallas, and Mrs. Roger B. Ledebur, Baton Rouge, La. Melinda Lee Cain, Dallas, was flower girl.

Those in the house party for the reception were Beverly Greene, Suzanne Geiss, Dorothy Manuel, Mrs. C.M. Hunt, Mrs. Harry S. Wilbur III, Dallas; Mrs. Ron Williams, Midland and Mrs. Judy Perry, Houston. The reception was held in the church parlor immediately after the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with white taffeta pleated with deep swaggs. The bridegroom's table and the guest book table were round tables covered with the white taffeta in deep swaggs. Tall candelabras and candles with smilex decorated the tables.

The couple will live in Ridgefield, Conn. and plan a wedding trip to Canada in December. The bride has a B.S. Degree from Texas Christian University in Fort Worth and University of Hawaii. She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, TCU, vice president of the Cimarron Club, treasurer of Slipper Club and Cotillion Club member. In 1968 she was listed in the edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America."

POLLY'S POINTERS

Women Offer Solutions To Curled Knitting Edges

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — This is to help L. J. R. who is having trouble with curled edges in her knitting. I solved this by knitting the first two and the last two stitches of each row in a garter stitch. This makes a straight, neat edge. When a sweater is sewed together, the seam looks quite nice.

spacing six large safety pins on a double-bed-sized sheet. It is cozy to just flop all the covers over the shoulders at one time. Easier to make up the bed each day, too. After two years, my sheets have no tears from doing this. My husband has remarked on what a dandy idea it is.

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell L. J. R. that I do not know how to remove the curl from her knitted garments but want to pass on a good German method to prevent the edges from curling. When beginning each row, slip off the first stitch (do not knit or purl it) onto your right-hand needle. There will be a flat selvage or edge. This adds a nice finish to any knitted garment.

JEANE DIXON

SUNDAY, OCT. 12
 Your birthday today: A greater freedom of choice in the coming year may move you outward from where you are, physically or symbolically. On many occasions, choices will be so subtle that the decisions seem to make themselves. Fix your mind on your goals now. A drift pattern may take you where you wouldn't have chosen consciously to go.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Your inclination to spend for fun suddenly encounters the necessity for increased outlays for serious needs. There is little room for compromise. Seek increased earnings.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Personal plans run into obstacles. Perhaps making pleasant mutual concessions is more desirable than what you had planned. Any incipient health condition is likely to show up today; take heed.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): A busy mind will help you through this Sunday of concern, vexation with your own and others' minor frustrations. Quiet pastimes and mental recreation are better than strenuous physical activity.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Expect a low mood today in yourself and others. Do what is expected of you and try not to inflict your feelings on others. Meditation is in order.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You come face to face with your own limitations, and you can see others doing something of the same. Bear up and make this a Sunday of spiritual reflection.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): You can make this a serene day of inner calm with meditation. Weaker people come to you with their anxieties — the I-told-you-so approach is not the path to follow.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): If you are misunderstood today, no corrections are available. Say exactly what you mean or keep out of the discussion.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Home life is better than public entertainment today. Even there you find some differences of mood, but with the chance to discover what has been rankling unseen.

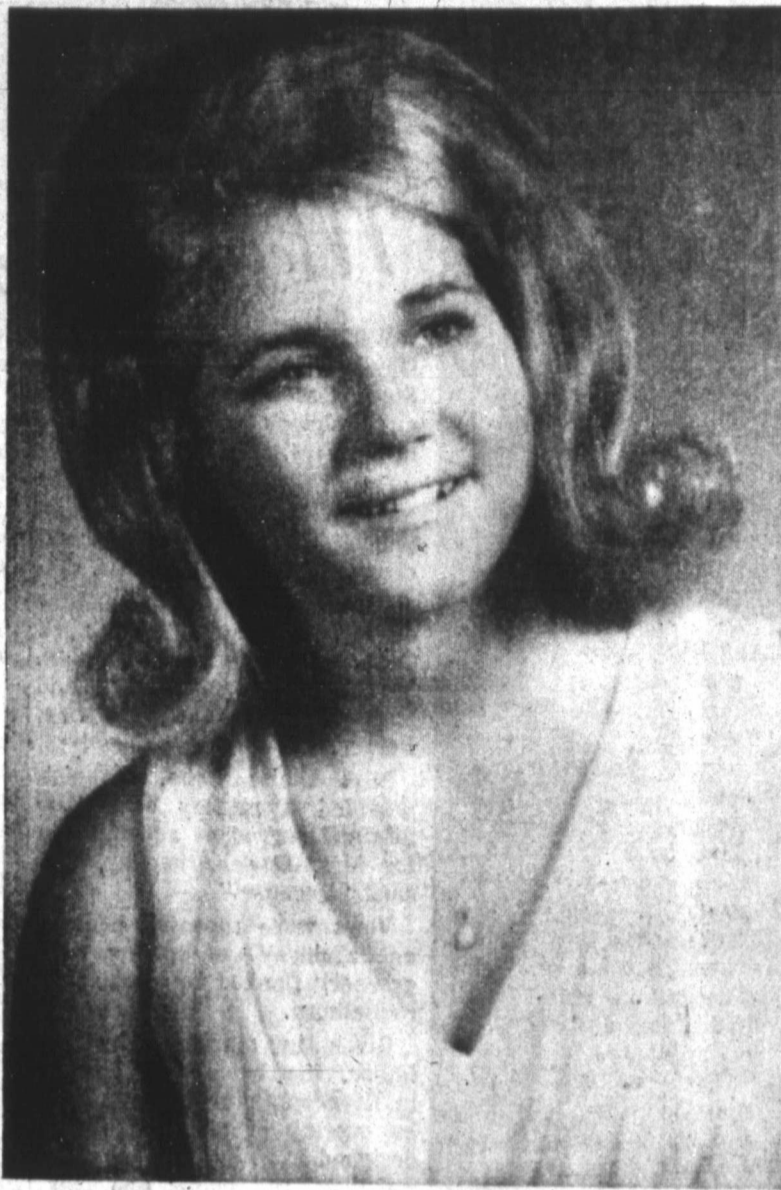

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): For once your physical energy is better conserved and built up by rest. Make it a clam Sunday of reflection and turn over a new leaf.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): This Sunday nobody seems to want to do things your way. Stop and look to see where the rest of the world is going and where you are in or out of step.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
 Once you have done what your local community expects of you, get to the core of some longstanding home inconveniences. Find out how you can improve matters.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Traveling is not favored, but if you must, go early, make sure of connections. There may be a chance to go into old records, or to hear a story firsthand.

City's Payroll System Will Be Converted To Data Processing

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second in a series of articles designed to acquaint Pampans with the transition to data processing methods of "keeping books" at City Hall.

By TEX DEWEES
News Staff Writer

Last Sunday we went through the paces of City Tax Office preparations now under way for the switch-over to the data processing system of setting up Pampa's 1970 tax roll.

Today we move into the city finance director's office for a look at what is taking place there in the way of modernizing payroll and accounting procedures.

Stanley Chittenden, city finance director, tells us the preparatory work of putting the payroll on data processing should be completed this month.

Each of the city's approximately 200 employees has been assigned a number for payroll control purposes, Chittenden stated. They also will have a Texas Municipal Retirement System number which will go into the computer because TMRS also currently is adopting a data processing system.

Under the existing setup at city hall, the payroll clerk prepares the payroll twice a month, a TMRS report once a month and a Social Security report every three months.

When data processing takes over, all of this information will be captured in the punch cards. The payroll will be cut after which reports can be made by sorting and collating these cards which already have the needed information available.

"After the payroll goes on data processing the most important factor will be keeping all personnel changes fed into the system," Chittenden said.

The payroll clerk, he added, then will be freed from cutting the payroll and can be assigned to other duties.

A key link with the payroll department at city hall is the office of City Personnel Director Ronnie Wood. All changes in employees, salaries and other pertinent personnel information is funneled to the finance director from Wood's department.

Chittenden said Pampa's city budget now is well in advance of data processing and in fact has been set up for the system for several years.

There are approximately 50 city accounts which are set up by law and maintained by the city secretary. These can be used only for certain purposes and are balanced monthly.

Funds which are not in immediate demand for placed on short-term investment so the city may receive all possible revenue.

"As we move along in data processing," the finance director said, "control numbers will be assigned to these funds."

Use of data processing equipment will provide the means for performing all phases of payroll accounting for the city. Some of these include preparation of time sheets and payroll registers, payroll checks and individual earning records, accumulative earning registers, detailed deduction registers, quarterly social security reporting, preparation of W-2 forms, automatic check reconciliation, expense distribution and Texas Municipal League reports.

The city will have more complete records and the flexibility required to meet new conditions such as changes in forms, increase in volume and procedure changes.

Chittenden pointed out data processing will give the city timely reports and up-to-date information which will provide the necessary decision-making tools to better serve tax-payers, as well as economics involved in mechanized operations.

In connection with budgetary accounting, the new system will provide vital up-to-date financial management information such as budget analysis for future planning, management financial reports, daily expenditures, status of account listings, purchase order registers and preparation of the preliminary and final budget.

There currently is a log-jam of work because the payroll and accounting department must share a 19-year-old posting machine with the tax department. It has to be shuffled back and forth between the two departments, causing much delay for both. Data processing will eliminate that killer of time and effort.

Updating of city hall methods of accounting has been recommended for several years by auditors in their annual check of city records.

The city finance director likewise had pointed out that the old system of accounting and reporting has not kept pace with present day requirements and the need for overall controls.

In his department, as in others, Chittenden stated the big advantage of data processing will be in the saving of time and labor.

In the payroll department, for instance, it now takes a week or more to get out each payroll for city employees. The figuring and check cutting all is done by hand now, but under data processing it will take about two hours to extend the payroll write the checks and post earning ledgers, etc.

In the budgetary accounting it now takes four full days to post ledgers and another four days to work up a financial statement. Data processing will cut this time considerably.

When all information is posted under data processing, Chittenden explained, it is then captured permanently and is immediately available for any needed reports or further reference.

"That's the nice thing about it," he said. "You don't have to go back and start the whole process over again."

Next week's article will deal with the work under way in the City Water Department and the changes data processing will bring in the billing of some 8,000 water customers.

Army Aids 35-City Area After Camille

The Salvation Army gave aid to Hurricane Camille victims in a 35 city area from Biloxi to Hattiesburg to New Orleans, according to a report by Colonel Paul Thornburg, the commander.

The report, compiled on the Army's relief mission in Louisiana and Mississippi since August 18th, shows 71 officers and 1200 volunteers spent 144,431 man hours in distributing food, clothing and other necessities, and in searching for missing persons whose relatives across the country were making inquiries.

Twenty mobile disaster canteens from ten states, including six from Texas dispensed 978,150 individual servings of food and beverages. An additional 350 vehicles carried food supplies, clothing and personal accessories to distribution centers.

The report lists 92,551 families served. The aggregate total includes repeat requests from families hardest hit by the hurricane, many of whom were homeless and dependent upon the Salvation Army for food.

The Army distributed 3,288 tons of canned goods, meats, bread and other staple food requiring little or no cooking or preparation. Supplies were given according to the family's capacity to store them over a two to five day period.

Salvation Army installations at Biloxi, Gulfport, Hattiesburg and New Orleans were distribution points for 1,330 tons of clothing for hurricane victims.

The report cited the dedication of many volunteer groups and individuals, particularly the military armed forces, for making the massive relief effort successful.

WHAT ABOUT ERICASSON?

Nation Pays Tribute To Columbus Today

United Press International

The nation pays honor to Christopher Columbus today—three days after a presidentially proclaimed Leif Ericsson Day, which probably is as it should be.

Latest historical findings give evidence that Viking Ericsson discovered America nearly 500 years before Columbus landed in the New World.

Researchers now credit Ericsson with putting ashore in the Cape Cod area sometime in August or September of the year 1003. And even before Columbus reached San Salvador on Oct. 12, 1492, two other Viking voyagers were firmly believed to have set foot on the American continent—Leif's son, Thorwald, and Torfinn Karlsefni, who took his long ships up Hudson's Bay and as far south as the Chesapeake Bay.

The seafaring exploit by Columbus is not to be belittled. The Italian mariner had the boldness and the geographic perception to ignore Middle Age fears that a ship would fall off the edge of the world if it sailed westward from Europe. He believed the impossible—that the earth was round.

He persuaded Queen Isabella of Spain to bankroll him in the quicker sea route to the wealth of the Orient and India by sailing beyond the Canary Islands. At age 16, the Genoese son of a woolcomber, Columbus manned three frail ships—the flagship, Santa Maria and two commandeered vessels, the Pinta and the Nina—and embarked from the port of Palos on the morning of Friday, Aug. 3, 1492.

Two brothers, Martin Alonso Pinzon and Vicente Yanez Pinzon, captained the Pinta and the Nina. Three pilots, a royal official, a physician, servants, some adventurers and 90 sailors shipped with Columbus—a band totaling 140 men.

On the night of Oct. 11, Columbus and his aides thought they spied gleams of light ahead and at two in the morning, a mariner aloft on the Pinta—Rodrigo de Triana—shouted he saw land. Columbus had his ships drop anchor, spent the pre-dawn hours donning his best regalia and at sunrise went ashore on a pleasant tropical beach to claim the new land in the name of Ferdinand and Isabella.

It had taken him and his seamen 70 days to sail from the Old World to the new on a scientific voyage that opened the American continent to European settlement.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I don't smoke myself, but I'd walk a mile to see a 1927 Bull Durham tobacco poster. And one day this week I did.

According to a press release, this "rare bit of Americana" was supposed to be presented to the Smithsonian Institution, which is practically bursting at the seams with rare bits of Americana.

Any time people have rare bits of Americana they don't know what to do with, and which are cluttering up the attic or the hall closet, they donate it to the Smithsonian.

The Smithsonian is aware that it is being used as a dumping ground for rare bits of Americana, but it has learned to be philosophical about it.

Acceptance is Policy

"Our policy is that if somebody wants to give us something, we accept it," a Smithsonian official told me.

Sometimes the donors make a ceremony of the presentation. And sometimes they simply drop it on the front steps and run. In this case, they did neither.

Whoever was supposed to give the 1927 Bull Durham tobacco poster to the Smithsonian didn't show up at all. Smithsonian officials appeared to have been delighted by this novel turn of events.

MILITARY MANEUVERS

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviets announced today that three Warsaw Pact armies have joined Soviet troops in military maneuvers on Soviet, Polish, East German and Czechoslovak territory. All four nations are taking part.

DENIES REPORT

TOKYO (UPI)—Hanoi's official news agency today denied a report that the United States and North Vietnam have been holding secret contacts to seek an end to the war.

ROBERT L. MITCHELL has been appointed executive vice president of Celanese Chemical Company. He had been vice president and general manager of operations. Mitchell will be responsible for the overall guidance and direction of the marketing, operations, management services and planning activities of the company.

EDWARD F. CHARLESWORTH has been appointed vice president, operations, of Celanese Chemical Company. Charlesworth will be responsible for the guidance and direction of the company's manufacturing, engineering and maintenance, and supply and distribution functions. He had been the company's director of planning since 1968.

Prisons Have New Image

NEW YORK — When Arthur Quentin Davis and his associates first suggested that prisons could be made to look outwardly like college campuses they ran into official skepticism.

"Rehabilitation is a hard thing to sell to political leaders," said the famous architect. "Prisoners have no vote. They don't go to the country club."

But eventually they found an enlightened penal body and their Louisiana State Penitentiary in Angola is a radical departure from the prevailing theory that prisons should be intimidating fortresses whose purpose was in no doubt.

The idea was copied years later but Davis, design coordinator of Curtis and Davis, said the original concept had now been refined for 11 new correctional institutions on which they are working at the moment, in addition to hospitals, schools, libraries, church, stadiums and hotels in five countries.

Youths Peddle Drugs In School Yards

MIAMI (UPI)—Larry, 13, used to wrap and deliver newspapers to earn a dollar for movies and ball games. Now he wraps and delivers reefers to keep himself in "pot and speed."

If you blinked you would lose Larry among the young, look-alikes, who, pressed together by sheer numbers move, like a human river along the sand. It is the evening rush hour—800 kids looking for something to turn on the night.

Larry is one of hundreds of youths peddling narcotics, to be swallowed, smoked, inhaled or injected, in Miami school yards. Five years ago, the same kind of kids got high on beer.

Larry's "burned-on" companions have found that drugs are much easier to get than beer and they are twice as kicky.

Larry isn't a product of Miami's slums. He lives in a tree-shaded suburb of a tourist-oriented city that narcotics agents say has one of the worst drug problems in the world.

One of the few things the Chamber of Commerce doesn't brag about is Miami's status in the narcotics business, or the 26 persons who have died this year from drug overdoses.

Miami is a national import center for cocaine. It's the regional distribution point for illicit barbiturates.

At the air-conditioned junior high school where he is a "B" student, Larry roams the halls between classes taking orders. If pressed, he'll deliver during the lunch hour, but he'd rather do it after school on the motor scooter his accountant dad bought him for the paper route.

Larry's business earns him $100 a week, enough to support his drug purchases and still leave him pocket money. He planned next year to take on smack—heroin—and triple his income.

Once a week, Larry rides his scooter to a wooden fishing pier wedged un a row of tourist motels at the north end of Miami Beach. Here Larry restocks his merchandise.
