America, Saigon Slate Meetings

PARIS (UPI)—American and South Vietnamese negotiators called a high-level meeting today to work out a common position on procedural differences with the Communists which are delaying the broadened Paris peace talks on Vietnam.

Police Interrupt Burglary Attempt Of Two Youths

Pampa policeman Stanley Brown interrupted an attempted burglary by two city teenagers early this morning. The pair are lodged in the Pampa jail.

Brown was on routine patrol about 1:45 a.m. when he noticed a rear window at Jay's Lounge, 619 W. Foster, had been pried open. Brown radioed for help and officers Roy Denman, Dan Humnic and Lt. Jess Goad arrived on the scene.

Officers determined that someone was still inside the building and called the owner to come down and open the front door.

When the officers went inside the building, they found two boys, age 15 and 16, lying on the floor. Officers immediately put the pair under arrest.

The policemen found several cases of beer stacked by the rear window where the youths apparently entered the building.

Very Cold Weather Strikes the Nation

By United Press International
About the only havens from winter's fury today could be found in the nation's extreme Southeast and Southwest. The worst weather was in the extreme Northwest and Northeast.

In between, it was very cold at the zero mark in much of the nation and near or below freezing elsewhere.

Snow fell from the Great Lakes to western New York and northwestern Pennsylvania and from the Pacific Coast to the Northern Rockies. Southern Texas got rain.

Travelers warnings were up in the Northwest and Northeast. Extreme northeastern Ohio reported blizzard conditions Wednesday evening as high winds whipped the snows into two-foot drifts. More than half a foot of snow fell on the area, closing many roads, including Interstate 90 along the shore of Lake Erie.

Israeli Jets Use Napalm In New Attack on Jordan

SWEARING IN — Oaths of office were administered here for public officials in informal swearing-in ceremonies this morning in district courtroom. Shown here are new District Attorney Guy Hardin, extreme right, and Gray County officials being administered their oaths of office by District Judge Grainger McIlhenny. All of the officials will serve four-year terms, which begin officially today.

Great Dane Out For Walk Finds Slain Girl's Body

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A great Dane out for a walk with his master Wednesday led the man to the body of the 14-year-old daughter of a distinguished screenwriter.

Marina Elizabeth Haba had been the object of a wide search since she apparently was abducted Monday from in front of her mother's home.

Sheriff's detectives said the girl, who was found fully clothed, had been the victim of a sexual attack. Authoritative reports said she died of multiple stab wounds.

The girl was the daughter of screenwriter Hans Haba and actress Eloise Hardt. Miss Hardt divorced Haba 10 years ago.

SAIGON (UPI)—American combat losses in 1968 nearly equaled the number of GIs killed and wounded in the first seven years of the Vietnam war, U.S. headquarters said today.

Official figures, not including the last three days of the year, showed 12,321 U.S. servicemen dead and 92,564 wounded in the last three days of the year, 1968. The year saw heavy fighting in Communist offensives into Saigon and other major cities in February and May.

From Jan. 1, 1961 through Dec. 28, 1968, military spokesmen said, 30,543 Americans have died and 192,372 have been wounded in Vietnam. Another 1,243 are missing in action or captured.

County Officials Take Oaths As They Prepare for Duties

IN COURTROOM CEREMONY
Nine county officials and a new district attorney were sworn into office this morning in ceremonies in 31st Judicial District courtroom here.

District Judge Grainger McIlhenny also administered oaths of office to Gray County auditor Ray Wilson, seven deputies from the tax assessor-collector's office, and six deputies from the Gray County sheriff's office.

The ceremonies got underway shortly after 10 a.m. when County Clerk Charlie Thut presented the surety bonds — which public officials are required to post — to Judge McIlhenny.

U.S. Combat Losses Rise Greatly in 1968

SAIGON (UPI)—American combat losses in 1968 nearly equaled the number of GIs killed and wounded in the first seven years of the Vietnam war, U.S. headquarters said today.

Official figures, not including the last three days of the year, showed 12,321 U.S. servicemen dead and 92,564 wounded in the last three days of the year, 1968. The year saw heavy fighting in Communist offensives into Saigon and other major cities in February and May.

In fighting tempered by Communist and allied holiday standstills last week, U.S. forces lost 113 men killed—the third lowest weekly death toll of the year. Spokesmen said 1,021 Americans were wounded.

Chances for Conflict Threaten Peace Tries

By WILLIAM F. WRIGHT
United Press International
Jordan said Israeli jet fighter-bombers attacked Arab positions in two parts of the Jordan River Valley with rockets and napalm today after attacking first with machinegun and tank fire. Lebanon reported an Israeli threat to its borders.

New peace moves were reported underway today in the Middle East, but Gen. Haim Bar-Lev, chief of the Israeli general staff, said in a prepared statement in Jerusalem, "the chances of a renewed Middle East conflict are very real."

He said Israel could not hold out indefinitely if the no-peace, no-war situation continued. He said Israel would deal with its enemies on a "tit-for-tat basis" and that the army would strike back as hard as possible against Arab incursions, inflicting maximum punishment.

Jordanian and Israeli troops exchanged fire during the night south of the Sea of Galilee and there were reports of a rocket attack on an Israeli township near the Lebanese border Tuesday night.

A spokesman in Amman said Israeli troops fired on a farm about eight miles south of the Sea of Galilee with machine guns and tanks at 7:10 a.m. (11:10 a.m. CST).

Twenty minutes later Mirage fighter planes plastered the area with napalm and rockets. Four other Mirages attacked the Ziklab Dam area in the northern Jordan Valley, the spokesman said.

A military spokesman in Jerusalem said fighters had been dispatched to silence Fatah guerrilla positions and "sabotage nests" in the village of Menshiyer, south of the Sea of Galilee. Neither side reported any casualties.

A Milan newspaper today published a rare interview with a hijacker.

Hijacker Forces Greek Airliner To Fly to Egypt

ATHENS (UPI)—A Greek airliner with 104 persons aboard was hijacked today and forced to fly to Egypt. The hijacker was identified as a Greek miner who threatened to destroy the planes in flight when Greek jet fighters pursued it.

Sources close to Olympic Airways said the hijacker, identified in Cairo as George Flamorides, 29, fired one shot through the fuselage of the plane at one point after the fighters came in pursuit and then were forced to turn back because of his threat.

The plane was on a flight to Athens from Heraklion, Crete, when it was hijacked 18 minutes after becoming airborne and forced to fly first to Alexandria, Egypt, and then to Cairo. Egyptian authorities said the plane would fly to Athens after refueling.

American Embassy sources in Athens said at least five of the 96 passengers on the Olympic DC6 airliner were Americans, including two women teachers and three airmen from the U.S. Air Force base at Heraklion.

Congress Picks Party Leaders For New Term

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Re-election of Speaker John W. McCormack appeared assured today as House members met to pick party leaders for the 91st Congress.

But Democratic insurgents, backing 46-year-old Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., to replace the 77-year-old Massachusetts lawmaker, figured to win what they termed important concessions on how party and house affairs will be run.

Republicans, at their own pre-session party huddle, were to rename Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan as their party leader, without a contest.

Republicans were asked to take a stand on whether and under what conditions to seat former Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., whose Harlem constituents have twice re-elected him to the House seat from which he was excluded on March 1, 1967.

Anderson Favored
Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., was favored over Rep. Albert W. Kunen, R-Minn., for election as chairman of the Republican conference, a post being vacated by Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., the newly designated secretary of defense.

The new congress opens at noon Friday when as its first business the House will formally elect as speaker for the next two years the candidate—presumably McCormack—picked by the majority party today.

Pre-session party huddles in the Senate were set for Friday morning when leadership contests on both sides of the aisle will be settled.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is seeking to topple Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., as majority whip. Republicans meantime will choose either Sen. Roman Hruska of Nebraska or Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania to replace Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California as minority whip.

California by far led the state in deaths during the holiday season, according to a report by the National Safety Council.

Holiday Deaths Below Estimate

By United Press International
The New Year's holiday traffic death toll headed today toward the low minimum advance estimate made by the National Safety Council.

It seemed unlikely a new record would be set for a 30-hour holiday.

The record for a one-day holiday was 193 traffic deaths, set New Year's in 1963. The safety council had predicted 200 to 260 persons would be killed on the nation's roads this new year between 6 p.m. local time Tuesday and midnight Wednesday.

A United Press International count at 11 a.m. CST showed at least 167 persons killed in traffic accidents since the holiday period started. A normal, non-holiday period of similar 30-hour duration would have killed 95, the council said.

The breakdown:
Traffic 168
Fires 35
Planes 13
Miscellaneous 22
Total 238
California by far led the state in deaths during the holiday season, according to a report by the National Safety Council.

The firm suggests that investors avoid extreme positions and keep the big picture in view, anticipating some degree of shakeout in the first third of the year, followed by re-establishment of a constructive market trend.

Pope Supports Intervention Of Big Powers in Mideast

TURIN, Italy (UPI)—Pope Paul VI said in an interview published today that the great powers might have to intervene to bring peace to the Middle East.

The pontiff made the suggestion in an interview with Arrigo Levi of the Turin newspaper La Stampa at the Vatican on Monday. It was one of the few interviews granted by a Pope.

Publication of his remarks coincided with a request by the Soviet Union for the United States, Britain and France to join Russia in a big-power Mideast initiative.

The request was made by Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Smirnovsky in London to British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart.

Conflict
Pope Paul VI, in which the Pontiff said intervention in the Mideast by the great powers might be needed to halt the area's slide toward war.

In London, Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Smirnovsky was said to have carried a new peace plan involving Britain, France and the United States when he met today with British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart.

The Lebanese cabinet met in a late night session Wednesday and then announced all defense of the country would be placed under the Commander-in-Chief of the army.

Premier Abdul Lah Yafi also announced a buildup of Lebanese forces along Lebanon's border with Israel, but denied rumors that Soviet and American ships were conducting special maneuvers in the Mediterranean.

In Amman, Fatah guerrillas said they had shot down an Israeli supersonic Mirage fighter south of the Dead Sea. But they said only that the plane had been seen falling "in flames," and did not divulge the time of the downing or the weapons involved.

An Amman newspaper said Arab guerrillas had caused "many" casualties in a platoon of Israeli soldiers stationed outside the Ibrahim Mosque in Hebron, occupied Jordan.

Israeli Air Force planes this morning "silenced" Fatah guerrilla positions and "sabotage nests" in the Jordanian hamlet of Menshiyeh on the east bank of the Jordan River, south of the Sea of Galilee. The attack followed an attempt by a guerrilla bazooka team to blast an Israeli patrol. The Arabs missed the target.

The fighting continued what Pope Paul described as the chain of violence in the explosive Middle East. The Pope, interviewed but not directly quoted by the Turin newspaper La Stampa, suggested the chain might have to be broken by "the agreed intervention of the great powers," La Stampa said.

There were widespread reports that Russia already was circulating a new peace plan for the area. The Soviet ambassador to Britain, Mikhail N. Smirnosky, asked to meet British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart later today. Diplomatic sources said the reported Soviet proposals probably would figure largely in the discussion.

Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged fire during the night near a settlement in the Beisap valley, Israeli officials said today. They said there were no Israeli casualties in the brief exchange.

Israeli military sources said three Israeli civilians were killed when Soviet-built Katyusha rockets rained down on the settlement of Kiriat Shmona near the Lebanese border Tuesday night.

Eight of the officials are incumbents who won re-election and all are Democrats. All of the elected officials will serve four year terms.

Only District Attorney Guy Hardin and County Attorney John Warner, both Democrats, were taking their oaths of office for the first time. Warner has not previously served as a county official, but Hardin is a former Wheeler County attorney.

On hand for the ceremonies were two long-time retiring public officials, former Dist. Atty. Bill Waters and former County Attorney Don Cain. Both are now law partners in the Pampa law firm of Smith, Teed, Wade, Waters and Cain.

Viet Cong's decision to release three American prisoners during a meeting on the Vietnam battlefield Wednesday, and perhaps to free others.

South Vietnam accused the Viet Cong Wednesday of attempting to use the liberation of U.S. servicemen as "a mini-conference with near diplomatic protocol in the field."

The statement issued by Pham Dang Lam, chief of the Saigon mission to the Paris conference, highlighted differences between the two allied delegations.

Washington must hold extensive consultations with South Vietnam before each session with Hanoi in an effort to develop a common position which might lead to a compromise on the issue of status for the Viet Cong.

The Saigon government has so far opposed seating the Viet Cong separately.

Oregon's largest city, Portland, was connected once again with the East early today as a 65-mile stretch of Interstate 80 was reopened to traffic. The road was closed Monday at the height of a blizzard.

Extreme cold continued to prevail around much of the rest of the nation with hard freezes hitting Georgia and Alabama and freezing weather extending into northern Florida.

The cold wave, associated with a large and frigid arctic air mass, held its grip from the Northwest to the Gulf and the Atlantic Coast.

Several record cold readings were reported on New Year's Day, including Chicago's 10 below zero, 10 above at Bristol, Tenn., and 21 below at Minneapolis where a 44-year-old record was shattered by five degrees.

An attorney at Hales Corner, Wis., was found frozen to death in a farm field Wednesday after he had abandoned his disabled car which had skidded into a canal near Wind Lake. The temperature at the time of the accident was 10 below zero.

It is of particular importance to those 45 years or older, who are overweight, or those who have diabetic relatives. Since it also occurs in families where there is no known diabetes, and in both sexes and in persons of all ages, it is a wise precaution for everyone, according to Lay Society officials.

All persons who have diabetes, who are relatives of diabetics, and the general public are invited to the Jan. 7 meeting and to other meetings of the society which are held on the first Tuesday of each month.

Social Security Questions Answers

Q. Please explain the new provision of 60 days added hospital insurance under Medicare.

A. Under the old law, hospital insurance covered only 90 days of hospitalization in one benefit period. Now, a patient who uses up his 90 days can draw on the extra 60 days of coverage in his "life-time reserve." During the extra days, the hospital insurance will pay for all covered services except $20 a day.

Q. I have social security credit for earnings that average about $350 a month. If I should die, how much would my wife and two children under 18 receive?

A. Based on average earnings of $350 a month, your wife and two children would receive survivors insurance of $280.80 a month. In addition, there would be a burial or lump sum payment of $255.

Q. I will be 65 next month. I wish to apply for Medicare, but I plan to continue working. I do not want my employer to know my age. Will he be notified that I am 65?

A. No. Social security records are confidential. Information about you cannot be released without your authorization.

Q. I understand that I should apply for social security two or three months before I reach age 65. What records should I bring with me when I make my application?

A. Bring your birth or baptismal certificate with you. If you have neither of these recorded before age five, bring other records that you have which show your age or date of birth. Proofs such as a school record, an old insurance policy, family Bible, the birth certificate of a child that shows your age, an immigration or military service record, are usually available. Usually, older proofs are better. You should also bring a copy of your last income tax return or W-2.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—It is time someone explained why long sideburns have become fashionable again. It shall endeavor to perform this service.

To understand the sideburn fad we must recognize that growing hair on the face is the only thing man can do that women can't.

Woman, by contrast, can do a whole host of things man can't. (don't ask questions about this; just take my word for it.)

When man became aware of his comparative limitations, he felt inferior. His first attempts to remove the hair from his face reflected a subconscious desire to make himself more like woman.

Later on, man realized that shaving was getting him nowhere. But by that time he was under the influence of shaving cream commercials. So he continued to scrape off the stubble.

Then came the revolt-against shaving cream commercials by beatniks, hippies and other protest groups. Beards began to appear in substantial numbers, and with them came a reawakening of interest in man's only natural prerogative.

Clean-shaved squares everywhere secretly longed to let their whiskers grow, too. And some did. But most lacked the courage to reclaim this symbol of masculine superiority.

Beards, as you know, do not sprout full-blown. They emerge in elegant languor. Five o'clock shadows gradually deepen into prickly eyesores. The entire face becomes a slum area.

It is this period of transition men most dread. It subjects them to complaints from the women they nuzzle, and to crude jokes from the guys in the office.

Sideburns are a happy compromise. Women cannot grow them. Thus they gratify the male ego, which is hard pressed to find any sort of gratification.

Better yet, sideburns can be grown inconspicuously. Each day a fraction of an inch is left unshaved and the hairline creeps surreptitiously down the cheek. No complaints from the ladies. No jibes from the gentlemen.

For sensitive souls who have been trying to get up enough never to grow mustaches, sideburns are a godsend.

That embarrassing interlude when the upper lip is discolored with what appears to be a bristly fungus can be completely avoided.

One simply lets his sideburns sneak down and across his face until they meet under his nose. Then he shaves his cheeks and presto!—instant mustache!

Festive Confections

Sweet things to eat are part and parcel of holiday pleasures. And delectable confections which require little or no cooking are favorites of cook as well as family and guests. Chocolate Marshmallow Haystacks—of the "no-cook" type—fit beautifully into the festive scheme.

Piquant cream cheese is the secret to their smooth character and is responsible for their fudge-like consistency. Combined with confectioners' sugar, it's a popular base for several varieties of uncooked candies. In this case, melted chocolate flavors the cheese-sugar mixture and then you fold in miniature marshmallows for taste and texture surprises. For a final fillip, the luscious little morsels are tossed in flaked coconut.

It's a generous recipe that makes four dozen "goodies" so you can keep some handy in the refrigerator to offer holiday callers. Chocolate Marshmallow Haystacks make neighborly gifts, too, especially if you arrange them in an attractive carrier such as a large brandy snifter, novelty candy dish or pretty bowl that can be used later for flowers.

Chocolate Marshmallow Haystacks

- 1 8-oz. cream cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- 2 1-oz. squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
- 1/2 cup miniature marshmallows
- 1/2 cup flaked coconut

Combine softened cream cheese and milk, mixing until well blended. Gradually add sugar. Stir in chocolate, vanilla and salt; fold in marshmallows. Drop rounded teaspoons of mixture in coconut; toss until well covered. Place on baking sheet; chill until firm. Yield: 4 dozen.

Fresh fruits and vegetables in good supply at most economical prices include apples by the bag, bananas, Tokay grapes, oranges by the bag, potatoes, celery, carrots, cabbage, dry yellow onions, tomatoes, collard greens, sweet potatoes and radishes.

Popular in home furnishings, according to Extension specialist Jane Perry, are Spanish and Mediterranean styles and red, gold and black colors.

Don't throw pumpkin seeds away. Try them roasted or toasted and salted.

Economists Suggest 'Eating Resolutions'

OAK BROOK, Ill. (Sp) — Resolutions concerning good eating know no season. Versatile convenience foods such as pre-packaged turkey gravy on turkey slices are handy to serve all year around. For a colorful, airy touch, this popular combination is topped with cheese puffs. The puffs are easy to make and there is no worry that they might collapse. Bread crumbs help them keep their puff.

Biscuits or spoonfuls of mashed potatoes are other favorites with turkey and gravy. The frozen turkey gravy on turkey slices come in a foil pan for easy heating in the oven. Home economists pass on this tip when using toppers. The puffs, potatoes or biscuits should be placed on the gravy after the mixture has heated to bubbling. The bottoms of the biscuits or puffs cook in the hot gravy while the tops are browning in the hot oven. If the gravy is not hot enough before the toppings are added, they may be doughy on the bottom.

Contents of the package heat easily when flipped into a skillet or heated in an oven. Canned mushrooms, cooked macaroni or frozen mixed vegetables may be stirred into the gravy for a skillet meal par excellence.

At other times the homemaker will want to spoon the hot turkey gravy and turkey slices over rice, toasted English muffins, corn bread or cooked spaghetti. The choice is limitless. Even buttered toast becomes a glamorous base when a slice of jellied cranberry sauce is put in place before the hot turkey and gravy is spooned over all.

TURKEY SLICES WITH CHEESE PUFFS

- Yield: 4 to 6 servings
- 1 pound 12 ounce package turkey gravy or turkey slices
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1-3 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1/4 cup bread crumbs

Heat turkey gravy with turkey slices according to package directions. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff peak s form. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Fold yolks into whites; fold in cheese and bread crumbs. When gravy is bubbly hot (approx. 45 min.) place cheesy meringue by tablespoonfuls on top of mixture. Bake 15 to 20 minutes—longer in a hot oven (375 degrees F.) until cheese puffs are golden brown.

Oranges And Pork Chops—Good!

Pork chops, acorn squash, fresh oranges and orange juice concentrate blend their flavors in a delicious skillet dinner. This meat-vegetable-fruit dish can be prepared in a short time, and it's oh, so kind to your budget!

The chops and sliced squash simmer in a spicy, tart-sweet sauce of frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, brown sugar and ginger. Orange slices add bright, fresh flavor and texture. Use Florida oranges frequently in cooking and baking as well as for juicing, and in fruit cups, salads, desserts, and for out-of-hand eating, too. They're full of valuable vitamin C, needed daily for good health and vitality.

Orange Pork Chop-Skillet Dinner

- 1 can (6 ounces) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons ground ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
- 6 pork chops, cut 1/2-inch thick
- 1 acorn squash
- 2 Florida oranges

Combine undiluted orange juice concentrate, brown sugar, ginger, salt and Tabasco. Brown pork chops on both sides in skillet; rubbed lightly with fat trimmings from chops. Drain all fat from pan. Wash and slice squash into rings 1/2-inch thick; remove seeds and cut rings in halves. Arrange squash with chops in skillet. Pour on orange juice mixture. Cover and simmer 45 minutes or until chops are tender, spooning sauce over chops and squash several times during cooking. Slice oranges 1/4-inch thick; cut each slice in half. Add orange slices to skillet last 5 minutes of cooking time. YIELD: 6 servings.

FOOD QUESTION BOX

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Nutrition Editor

Q. Can you tell me how to pick a good grapefruit?
A. For best eating select firm, grapefruit—usually have more juice than those with thicker skins. Avoid soft, discolored areas on the peel at the stem end. Loss of bright color and peel that breaks easily are symptoms of decay.

Florida is the major source of supply of grapefruit but California, Texas and Arizona are in there, too. White grapefruit is most common, but the pink or red variety are creeping on steadily.

Q—Sometimes my egg whites have a greenish color. Is that safe?

A—At times egg whites show a greenish or straw color rather than the crystal clear color many consumers expect. But there is nothing wrong with the egg. Researchers have found that greenish or straw-colored whites are usually due to the riboflavin (vitamin B-2) in the white. This essential nutrient is a desirable component.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Ice cream and soda water, long enjoyed separately, were not combined until 1874, and then by chance. The World Almanac notes. A soft-drink seller at the Franklin Institute Exposition, Robert M. Green, ran out of the sweet cream he added to syrup and carbonated water. He intended to substitute melted vanilla ice cream, but thirsty customers downed the drink before the ice cream melted.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

A Blow For Freedom

Bureaucratic attack on freedom of the press never lets up. Like termites boring from within, the advocates of government dictated and controlled "news" never miss an opportunity to cajole, bribe, blackmail, coerce, threaten and compel successful media.

Attempts, partially successful, to subvert the free flow of information via bureaucratic control of advertising and government restrictions imposed on the reporting of crime and court proceedings are common knowledge and have been the subjects of more than a few editorials by this newspaper. The battle continues, with the outcome hanging in the balance.

Now, however, the federal government, in the form of the Securities Exchange Commission (SEC) has mounted a new attack from a new direction. The SEC was created to regulate and control the stock market and the various stock and bond exchanges, ostensibly for the purpose of "protecting" defenseless buyers from unscrupulous sellers. As it turns out, more often than not, both buyers and sellers need protection from the SEC. By its very nature, since it transfers control of property from rightful owners to the bureaucracy, the SEC is fascist; therefore, socialist.

But the SEC is no longer satisfied with riding herd on the stock and bond markets. Calling on its virtually limitless and ill-defined powers and totally ignoring the constitutional prohibition against interference with the press, the SEC is now claiming the right to invade the publishing field.

Choosing the Wall Street Transcript, a bona fide newspaper in every sense of the word, as its first, foot-in-the-door victim, the SEC seeks to "investigate," register, license and regulate that enterprise with no more flimsy excuse than that the Transcript happens to publish financial news; a tactic which, should it succeed, would give the SEC control of every newspaper, in addition to many other publications, in the United States.

Commenting on the grab for control, which became public when the SEC applied to the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York for a court order to enforce a SEC subpoena for the Transcript's records, Donald I. Rogers of the Transcript has this to say in an affidavit to the court, part of which was published in the Dec. 2, Barron's, the National Business and Financial Weekly, in an editorial entitled, "Salute to the Transcript - It Has Struck a Blow for Freedom of the Press."

"I consider it a shocking invasion of freedom of the press for the commission to seek to investigate the Transcript on the notion that it should be registered with and licensed and regulated by the commission. What is worse is that the commission seeks nothing specific

Where To Start Cutting

Dramatic changes in government over the next four years will be relatively few, and they'll come, for the most part, with almost imperceptible slowness. Gradual and deliberate change is in the American tradition. The increasingly complex nature of today's society strengthens rather than weakens this pattern.

But a moderate Republican administration will make its presence felt. If there are few great changes, there should be at least a number of discernible shifts in direction. One such shift or trend, hopefully, will be in the area of governmental competition with private business.

"One of the greatest of many opportunities for substantial savings in federal expenditures," says Texas Sen. Tower charges, continues to according to its subpoena, but seeks to inquire into the general news-gathering facilities, sales facilities, operations, names of subscribers and prospective subscribers as well as correspondence with them.

"The very act of an investigation," Rogers continued, "frightens, away and dissuades subscribers and advertisers, without which no newspaper or publication can function. Not even the strongest and mightiest publication could avoid damage, both financial and to its reputation, in the face of such an investigation."

"One of the fundamental purposes of a free press," Rogers emphasized, "is to inform the public about its government and to criticize the government where that seems necessary or desirable. What newspaper would have the courage to live up to its purpose if the commission could conduct such a sweeping investigation as is here contemplated? No newspaper would dare run such a risk. The very prospect of such an investigation is frightening and of destructive of a free press."

But even more frightening and destructive to the free flow of news to the public, as was also brought out by Rogers in the affidavit, is the fact that the SEC further seeks to compel the Transcript to produce for its inspection, all notes, memoranda, writings and correspondence relating to the Transcript's news sources.

Inviolate news sources, as Roger made compellingly plain to the court, are a reporter's most precious asset. They keep him supplied with his sole "stock in trade." Sources of information, said Rogers, "commonly want their identification shielded from disclosure. If such sources are revealed, they are lost to the reporter and he is a reporter without news."

A reporter without "news" means, in turn, a newspaper without news and, consequently, an uninformed public; in short, if the SEC gets what it seeks, it would mean that freedom of the press would be dead.

Laudably, the U.S. District Court, performing its sworn duty, turned down the SEC's application and gave it a verbal tongue-lashing as well. However, bureaucrats never give up and the SEC, undoubtedly, will appeal to the Supreme Court and, with that body's socialist bias, anything can happen.

Rogers, in his affidavit to the court, compared the SEC's grab for more power to the Inquisition in Spain under the aegis of Torquemada, the Soviet crushing of the Czech press, the letters du cachet of Mazarin, the Star Chamber of Edward IV, the control of the German press by Hitler and Goebbels, and the attempt by Gov. Cosby in this country's youth, to crush John Peter Zenger.

We agree. And, with Barron's, salute the courageous actions of both Rogers and the Wall Street Transcript, as well as Barron's for giving their stand national coverage.

To change all of these conflicts at once would be impossible, if indeed it were desirable in all cases. We would hope, however, that the Nixon administration in the next four years will establish a trend toward easing governmental competition with private business.

The Military Air Transport Service, in spite of repeated congressional criticism, Sen. Tower charges, continues to

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANSTADT

Drugs Are Not Answer To Nervous Tension

Q—I perspire heavily, even in the coldest weather. Is this a nervous reaction? Would decreasing my intake of fluids help?

A—A nervous reaction is the most likely cause. You should keep up your intake of fluids to prevent dehydration. Such antiperspirants as AHR 433, benzoyl copalamine hydrobromide and Ollatum Cream are safe and effective.

Q—Whenever I meet a stranger or have to recite in class, my heart pounds, my voice quavers, my hands perspire and I feel faint. My doctor says the cause is too much adrenaline. He prescribed a tranquilizer but it doesn't help. Is there any way to get relief?

A—In situations that appear to be threatening, not necessarily to your safety but to your peace of mind, your adrenals put out a hormone that increases your heart rate and muscle power. Its purpose is to aid you in flight or flight. If you do neither, the result is sweating and a let-down feeling.

Even seasoned actors have this reaction—stage fright each night when they first step before the footlights. By long practice and by thinking of the audience instead of themselves, they learn to overcome it and so can you. Drugs are not the answer.

Q—What causes nervous tension? What are the symptoms? Is there any cure for it?

A—Nervous tension in moderation is essential to life but, when carried to excess, it can lower your efficiency. It may be caused by worry, a fright, impatience or frustration and may produce such symptoms as headache, backache, a feeling of tightness in the neck or chest and acid indigestion. Over a period of years, it may cause high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and premature aging.

Although there is no easy cure for nervous tension, much can be accomplished by taking stock of the factors in your way of living that add to your stress, by eliminating as many of these as you can, by eating your meals slowly in a relaxed atmosphere, by keeping regular hours and getting some physical exercise every day and getting adequate sleep and by learning to relax completely when you go to bed.

Q—I have heard that the male hormone of her twin brother prevents a twin sister from having children when she grows up. Is this true?

A—This is not true for any mammal, including man.

operate excessive numbers of flights on routes served by commercial airlines.

The Alaska Communications System still is government owned and operated, he says, despite the availability of buyers.

Despite the fact costs are up to 15 per cent higher than those of private shipyards, the Navy currently assigns over three-fourths of all Navy repair work to its own yards. It does much the same thing with its aircraft overhaul and maintenance needs, while the Army and the Air Force place much greater reliance on private service companies.

The Defense Department still owns and operates more than 100 local telephone systems. In the decade from 1950 to 1960, federal power facilities doubled the amount of electric energy they generated.

To repeat, getting the federal government out of business in each of these fields, immediately and completely, is neither possible nor necessarily desirable. Still, it is hoped that at least a start can be made in that general direction by the incoming Nixon administration.

Take A Lesson In Passing

Straight Talk

He Is Watching

Several years ago a college freshman went out for football, unsung and uninvited. A few weeks later when the coach reduced the squad, he cut the volunteer off. But he was such a wonderful fellow that the team begged the coach to let him stay. The coach relented. The volunteer never missed a practice, never got discouraged. He sat on the bench for four years. On a Thursday before the final game, his father died. He left immediately for the funeral, 600 miles away. Just before game time Saturday, to everyone's dismay, he entered the locker room and dressed out for the game. Then he went to the coach and begged him to let him star the final game. The coach thought: "What can it hurt? I'll put him in for the kickoff and then take him out. That can't hurt us. And he's so popular it might even give the team a psychological lift."

He relented. His team "kicked off. The volunteer raced down the field and made the tackle, unassisted. The startled coach thought, "Well, I'll leave him in for another play or two." The volunteer continued to play magnificently and played the whole game. With one minute to go and the score nothing to nothing, he made a sensational tackle behind the goal line, scoring a safety for his team, which won 2-0. He was carried off the field on the shoulders of ecstatic fans. In the dressing room the coach hugged him and said, "Son, how did you do it? For four years you never played like that. What came over you?"

"Coach," he replied, "My father died Thursday. He had been blind all his life. Today, in Heaven, for the first time he was watching."

EVERYBODY in Heaven is watching. Watching us. Most of all, God is watching us—even though one of the and we didn't see any sign Russian astronaut cracked: "We've been all over 'Heaven' of God."

Thurmond Sparks Opposition of LBJ's Plan for Treaty Approval

By THURMOND ALLEN

WASHINGTON. — A vigorous drive is underway to mobilize strong Senate opposition to President Johnson's reputed plan to seek ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty before leaving office on Jan. 20.

He is being urged to do that by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., and Senator J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. Both heartily favor the treaty, and have expressed willingness to place it before the Senate immediately after it convenes tomorrow.

Critics of the controversial pact are bent on blocking speedy approval. They contend it has serious defects and loopholes, and urgently requires extensive revamping in view of changed world conditions.

"Spearheading this backstage opposition effort is Senator Strom Thurmond, S.C., second ranking Republican on the influential Armed Services Committee. He is known to have the active support of both Democrats and Republicans including leading committee chairmen.

In a personal letter to his colleagues, Thurmond argues that hurried ratification of the nonproliferation treaty "would deprive President-elect Nixon of some of the leverage he needs in dealing with the Soviet Union."

Thurmond maintains the pact has been "overtaken" by far-reaching events and should be "re-evaluated" in view of the new world situation. He also holds that the treaty is seriously undermined in not providing adequate safeguards for inspection of Russia.

According to Thurmond, the pact exempts the Soviet from adequate inspection. The two principal points made

UFOs Get 'Recognition'

By PAUL HARVEY

The dreamers always must precede the doers across new horizons.

The ethical scientist has opinions, preconceptions, but dares not acknowledge them even to his colleagues. To the professional scientists all new ideas are theoretical until they are supportable with conclusive evidence.

There is no conclusive evidence about "flying saucers." Most men of science, therefore, have expressed either disdain or disinterest in the subject.

The handful of bona fide scientists who did want to speculate on UFOs found themselves in the uncomfortable company of pseudoscientists, commercial cultists, pulp book-sellers and crackpots.

Last December's issue of the respected Journal of Aeronautics and Astronautics changed all that. In this technical publication the bigwigs of the esteemed AIAA subscribed to this very meaningful conclusion: "UFO phenomena cannot be resolved without quantitative scientific study; this matter merits the attention of scientists and engineers."

Suddenly the pooch-poochers were themselves refuted. Suddenly, officially, all Air Force and other studies conducted heretofore were adjudged inadequate.

Suddenly such men as Dr. James McDonald felt less alone. Dr. McDonald, physicist, head of the department of meteorology, University of Arizona, has been in the forefront of those few respected voices urging "quantitative study."

Inevitably now the evidence he and others have collected will be properly evaluated. Dr. Allen Hynek, head of the department of astronomy,

Northwestern University, now freely confesses his own "conversion." Having previously rejected the notion of extraterrestrial visitations as preposterous, Dr. Hynek—a civilian consultant to the Air Force on this subject—now urges thorough scientific examination of accumulated documentation. He says, "I can no longer dismiss the UFO phenomenon with a shrug."

Other respected professional voices join the rising chorus. For Medical Times, Dr. Bernhard Eric Schwarz, eminent psychiatrist, examined scores of UFO "observers," decreed that they are not psychotic, not suffering hallucination, not publicity-seekers. "More on the contrary, fearing ridicule, are embarrassed to testify to what they saw."

Notably, Dr. Schwarz and his colleagues find among mental patients a total absence of any such "observations." So, concludes Dr. Schwarz, "These reports are neither conscious nor unconscious fabrication. What they say they saw they think they saw!"

For no man is this now official recognition more rewarding than for Dr. McDonald. He believes "UFOs constitute the greatest scientific problem of our times." He believes this matter has been "mishandled for 20 years."

Perhaps we are today where the French were just a few generations ago. Periodically, peasants had whispered or shouted stories about "stones from heaven!"

It took a handful of very brave scientists to coax the French Academy of Science properly to investigate the stories.

But the peasants' accounts proved correct and the very useful science of meteorites was born.

stay in the yard for 30 years. The phone company is great for giving awards to people who have said "Number, Please!" for 30 years hand-union, but these James have union seniority and Ma Bell wouldn't dust fire one, so what the hell?

The military is the premier award-giver. I got some medals years ago for not getting killed. The Air Force construed this as an act of patriotism and I let them think so. It was good for "points" toward getting out so I let the dumb Air Force think I was a hero. What I say is if an employer is proud of a fellow, he ought to slip him an extra bill or two on payday and save the oratory for his funeral. I have always been a strong believer in the tentmaker theory of taking the cash and letting the credit go.

Maybe the Hero takes this to heart and faithfully preserves the citation, but I think I would be tempted to return it to the sender, with instructions. There are also citations given for years of continuous service, and this is a real ring-ding. When you're buttoned into a job by Civil Service it takes an act of cunning to get fired. They ought to give medals to those who escape, not the ones who

FRIDAY, JAN. 3, 1969

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Your home affairs conflict with your business or profession; decide early which is to take your attention. Expect no special considerations; give yourself time to think.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20): Able by your routine commitments. Do your share of community, family duties. This evening concentrate on study, meditation.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): The more important people around you are not likely to see things your way. Stick to regular activities, slow down a trifle, listen more consistently. There is much to learn.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Your world is a bit edgy, so there is no point in your urge to fight city hall. It is an error to assume your activities have come to general knowledge or approval. Keep travel simple and organized.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Economy is more important than usual. Bargains are not quite what they may seem.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): If you accept difficult moods from everybody else without getting thorny yourself, necessary tasks can be done with briskly. Do all the amenities simply, skipping nothing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): There is little that will alleviate the undercurrents of tension; accept the passing mood as just that. New equipment is apt to balk for no apparent reason. Take it easy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Watch your change and your supplies. Formalities intrude on your time and efforts. Moderation in diet and exertion will turn out to be helpful by evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Stay with the most conservative approaches and wait for a more volatile time. Scuffling can deteriorate into bitter quarrels. Get the weekend organized as quietly as you can.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your impatience may show clearly. Take time to think where your actions may lead. You'll be happier at a later date if you can make concessions now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): See yourself as facing some temporary handicap; make the best of it. Older people and bosses need patience and a bit of favorable comment. Stay on the surface this evening.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Get busy catching up neglected routines, correspondence, errands. Local news abounds with subtle nuances that are seldom spoken outright. Listen carefully, but don't gossip.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, age 77. I live in the same apartment building with a very fine gentleman, and we've become very good friends. He's married but he has a legal separation from his wife. He pays her a big alimony, but she won't give him a divorce unless he gives her a very large settlement, which he does not want to do as he figures he may outlive her. (She's 81 and he's 84.)

I'm not ever entirely at ease with this man as I am afraid his wife might sue me and I have a pretty nice savings myself. She's very clever and I have heard that she still watches him very close.

He takes me out to dinner, and I have him in for meals, and maybe we watch a little television. We both enjoy the companionship. I think you get the picture, but I'm not looking for trouble.

CAREFUL
DEAR CAREFUL: Ask your lawyer how much "companionship" the law allows a man in your neighbor's circumstances. I think I get the picture, but if you aren't careful, you could get the frame.

DEAR ABBY: As a Chaplain in Vietnam, I would like to say something to wives and girl friends who have men over here:

If you have a "Dear John" type of letter to write, please don't. Yesterday I saw two men who received "Dear Johns" and I can tell you it was not a very pretty sight.

One man had been crying hysterically for an hour before I found him at his machine gun post after a buddy had brought him a "Dear John" letter. He could have endangered the whole post.

Another man who was responsible for a whole detachment told me that because of a "Dear John" letter he was so hopelessly depressed he was in a fog and could not think straight.

You may think your man is in a safe area, but there is no "safe area" when a man receives a letter that destroys his dreams of going home. Sincerely,
BATTALION CHAPLAIN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a friend who is a very fine person. His wife, unfortunately, is something else again. When the men are together, watching a sports event on TV, she and I will sit in another room, where she tells one fantastic story after another. I have never heard such outrageous lies.

For instance, she tells of her close friendships with influential people. (They call her to ask her for advice.) She talks about her "collection" of priceless antiques, which she keeps stored in a warehouse. She speaks of her blueblood family background (in a distant state) and talks about her rich relatives whom nobody has met.

I just smile and say nothing, but it has gotten to the point where I feel like a blooming idiot, pretending to believe all that stuff.

My husband has been a linner all his life, and this woman's husband is the first really close friend he has ever had, and I hate to disturb the relationship.

The husband has heard his wife tell some of these outlandish tales, and he does not say a word. What should I do?

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: If the husband is a "fine" person, and he listens silently while his wife spins these yarns, he is obviously aware of the problem and is handling it as best he can. People who lie consistently in the manner you describe are "sick." You are generous to consider your husband's friendship with the husband. Continue to "smile" and keep mum. You'd gain nothing by letting this pathetic woman know you are wise.

Carr Creek Cagers Came Out Of Nowhere

Since its basketball season and since we do have a pretty darn good basketball team it seems appropriate to pass along the story of the famous Carr Creek Feat.

Champs from Georgia. Carr Creek wasn't even upon the map back in 1928. It had a population of only 140, no post office, and a high school that consisted of only 15 students.

Country boys qualified for the finals at the Univ. of Kentucky, the folks in Richmond were so impressed with the mountain boys that they raised $55 to purchase a new set of uniforms for all eight.

It was a big event for the Mountaineers to qualify for their meeting with Ashland. The town is located in Knott County, 20 miles from the nearest railroad.

You Don't Say... By RON CROSS

The game was refereed by Jack Travnicek and Frank Lane. The latter subsequently became a major league baseball general manager.

By winning, Ashland qualified for the national high school tournament at the Univ. of Chicago. In view of its excellent record, the colorful Carr Creek team was also invited and they proceeded to become the darlings of the fans who packed Bartlett Gym, at the Univ. of Chicago, for these games.

Collegiate Football Ends Season

By United Press International The cream of the nation's collegiate football teams wrote the final verse of the 1968 season Wednesday.

And Ohio State, Penn State, Texas and Arkansas racked up the victories in the grand departures—the four major bowls—to drive their team mates on the 1969 editions some heritage to live up to.

—Third-ranked Penn State, like Ohio State, putting the wraps on a perfect season, made the most of a second chance at a two-point conversion with 15 seconds remaining in the game and edged Kansas 15-14 in the Orange Bowl.

—Fifth-ranked Texas, chewing up yardage in large-sized gulps and throwing back viciously, virtually every offensive effort of its opponent, destroyed seventh-ranked Tennessee 36-13 in the Cotton Bowl.

—Ohio State had gone 9-0, Penn State 10-0, Texas 8-1 and Arkansas 9-1 through the regular season. Among the defeated, Southern Cal was 9-1, Kansas 9-1, Tennessee 8-1-1 and Georgia 8-0-2.

The Penn State-Kansas clash carried the most nail-biting excitement, with the verdict veiled until the final ticks of the scoreboard clock.

Kansas' Donnie Shanklin returned a punt 46 yards to set up a fourth-quarter TD that appeared to have clinched a 14-7 decision for the Jayhawks.

Kansas had to punt with little more than one minute remaining—and the kick died at midfield. It took Penn State three plays to score, with the big play—a 7-yard pass reception by halfback Bobby Campbell.

'Horns Next For Pampa In District

By RON CROSS Caprock would like nothing better than to make its first District 4-4A victory in 1969 an upset over Pampa.

The Longhorns host the Harvesters at 8 p.m. Friday in the 'Horns gym. Junior Varsity teams from the two schools meet in a 6:15 p.m. encounter.

Caprock is winless in four league starts and stand 3-12 for the season. The 'Horns have dropped their last seven in a row and 12 of their last 13.

Pampa will be battling for a share of second place since the two district leaders, Borger and Tascosa are meeting in Amarillo and the loser will fall to 4-1 in league play.

A Pampa victory would give them a 4-1 league mark and 9-4 season record. The Harvesters broke a two game losing streak with a 49-48 win over Perryton in Pampa Tuesday.

In other district games Friday Plainview is at Amarillo, Monterey hosts Palo Duro, Borger is at Tascosa and Coronado hosts Lubbock High.

The Longhorns have just three lettermen, one more than Pampa, and no starters back from last season, same as Pampa.

Ted Teague, a 6-0 senior, has been the only Caprock player doing much of anything. Teague, who averaged three points per game last season has scored 190 points for a 12.6 average.

No other 'Horn is close to the double figure average with 5-8 senior Craig Owens next with a 7.8 average. Another senior, 5-8 Ricky Culp is next at 6.0, same as 5-10 senior Ted Liles.

Sophomore Robert Graham, 6-3, is averaging 5.4 points per game.

In league play the 'Horns have been dropped by Tascosa, 68-48; Lubbock, 54-50; Coronado, 75-57 and Borger, 87-57.

Pampa has beaten Amarillo, Plainview and Monterey while dropping a 'questionable' two point game to Palo Duro.

SCRAMBLING HAS become a trademark of the Pampa Harvesters this season. Above Billy Thomas takes after a loose basketball and teammates shortly come to his aid. The Harvesters are in Amarillo Friday night to play Caprock in a District 4-4A game.

Jets Coach Undisturbed By Strength of Colts

NEW YORK (UPI)—Weeb Ewbank suddenly has 10,000 assistants. Each is self-appointed and each has an urgent news bulletin for him.

These assistants are all concerned about Weeb Ewbank. They don't want him and his New York Jets innocently walking into the Super Bowl 10 days from now the same way the Christians walked into the arena against the lions.

They're telling the round, little 60-year-old Jets' coach all about the Baltimore Colts. What an amazing defense they have. Now next-to-impossible they are to beat.

They're going around telling Weeb Ewbank all this like, he's some kind of dummy. Like he doesn't know it himself. Like he needs someone to tell him or else he'd never know.

Weeb Ewbank knows some of the Baltimore Colts better than they know themselves and he's going to know a lot more of them and about them in the next 10 days.

Some people have painfully short memories. They either forget or gloss over the fact that Ewbank took over the Colts the third season they were in existence, coached them nine years, molded them into the most formidable football machine of their time and led them to their only NFL world titles in 1958 and 1959 before coming over to the Jets.

Don Shula, the Colts' coach, is one of Ewbank's pupils. He played defensive back for Baltimore while Weeb coached there.

The Colts have a number of players Ewbank coached. They include Ordell Braase, Tom Matte, Jimmy Orr, Lenny Lyles, Billy Ray Smith, Bobby Boyd, Don Shinnick, Dan Sullivan and Jerry Hill.

Johnny Unitas was another, of course. Ewbank was deeply hurt when it was reported incorrectly that he was snubbed by the veteran Colt quarterback during a visit to Baltimore not so long ago. Actually Ewbank and Unitas are warm friends.

Ewbank appreciates all the "help" he's been getting from his new assistants but truthfully he doesn't need it. Most people spent the New Year's celebrating. Ewbank spent a good part of it going over films showing the Colts clouting Cleveland, 34-0, a week ago. Then he studied some scouting reports on the Colts. He and the Jets will go over a great deal more between now and Jan. 12.

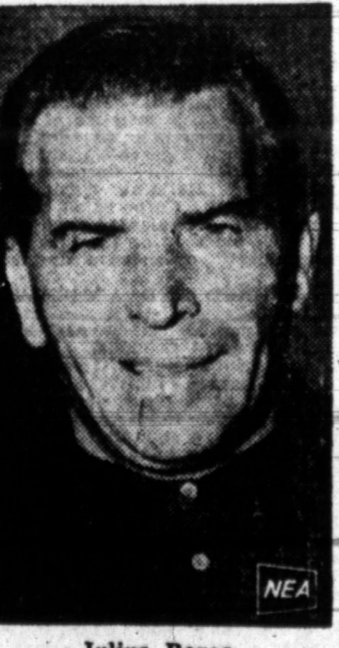

Weeb does find time to look at a newspaper now and then and he has taken notice of the fact the Colts have been installed whopping 17-point favorites for the big contest in Miami. It doesn't faze him.

"You do your best and you don't worry about things like that," he says. "You do what's in your heart and hope it works out."

Ewbank has been in the business too long to let a little thing like odds bother him. Nor does the Colts' reputation. He knows they're good but believes his Jets are no bums either.

"I have the greatest respect for this ball club and all the players on it," he tells you.

Boros Set For 19th Tour

NEW YORK (NEA)—Quintagenarians, sexagenarians a so, on have long looked to Julius Boros for inspiration. He has painted the dreams of hoary duffers everywhere. He has been to the creaky-kneed sportmen what Aristotle Onassis has become to the creaky-hearted rags.

In Big Julie's large, leathery, triple-chinned face there is still the flush of youth about the eyes and cheeks. He will be 49 years old on March 3. It's an age when most athletes hobble to the bench outside the court house and spit 'n' whistle away their declining days.

Yet Boros is now straightening out his back, tucking in his tummy and packing his pitching wedge for the start of his 19th go on the pro golf tour. Last year he won the PGA tournament and the Westchester Classic. And folks in rest homes throughout the world flung their canes aloft.

"I am always getting letters from old people," said Boros recently. "They say if it were not for me they would never play golf any more. One fella who is 74 writes regularly and says he plays five holes a day. I even feel a responsibility to them."

"I like hearing from them. If Big Julie enjoys it, his wife, Armen, is a bit to the right of that sentiment. A woman always is, when it comes to the calendar.

"It gets embarrassing the way some think of him," she said. "One man not long ago came up to me—he must have been 89 years old, he could hardly walk—and he came up and said, 'Mrs. Boros, I just want to tell you how wonderful it is that someone our age can still do so well in golf.'"

"Our age! Of all things! I keep telling Julius, 'Honey, believe me, you really are not that old. You're still a young man as far as I'm concerned.' He just smiles. It's hard to convince him."

"If someone talked age that way to the lady pros, they'd get a black eye. Wouldn't blame them one bit."

There is a more endearing side, admitted Mrs. Boros. In Rome, for example, when they went to the World Cup tournament, some Japanese told the couple that all of Japan was thrilled he won the PGA. Then one said to Julius, "You're the greatest old man in the world."

"In a way," Mrs. Boros said, "it was nice."

Five years later he won the U.S. Open.

"Ever since the Jack Nicklaus era," said Mrs. Boros, "this thing about age has been coming out. I don't know, I guess Julius has been old since he was 35."

Boros' success, according to competitors, is due to his smooth-swing and placid disposition. He never seems hurried or worried. His stroke is the model of grace and power. But he shirks the notion that he is not emotional. Under the broiling sun of San Antonio during last year's PGA, Boros missed two short-putts in a row.

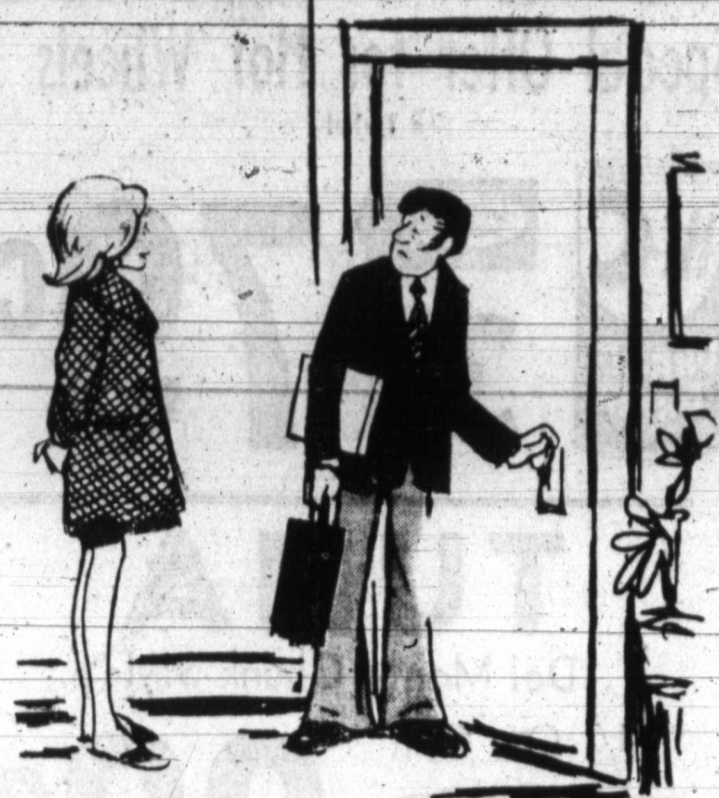

"I was getting hot under the collar," he said "and it wasn't just the heat."

Vintage specimens who perform great feats—like staying alive—are always asked their secret. In Jullunder, India, for instance, a 94-year-old long-distance cyclist recommended: "Drink nothing but sugar-cane juice and milk, and eat lots of mustard leaves and clarified butter."

Boros, however, credits his children for his vigor. "I have seven," he said, "ages 2, 4, 6, 8, 10—no, uh, 11—and 17. They keep me hopping. But even they think I'm ancient. It's that age-old thing between parents and kids."

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM UPI Foreign News Analyst

What about those eye-rolling Israeli attacks against Arab forces?

The Arabs, of course, are indignant.

The United States has joined the Soviet Union and other nations in condemning these attacks, including the most recent in which regular units of Israel's military forces attacked Lebanon's Beirut airport and in 15 minutes destroyed some $50 million worth of civilian air transport.

The United States is embarrassed because it had just promised to start delivery to Israel in late 1969 of 50 Phantom F4 jet fighter-bombers.

The Same Pattern Both the United States and Russia obviously see in the escalating pattern of attack and counterattack around the Israeli perimeter the same pattern that led to the June, 1967 war.

Yet in the general condemnation of the Israeli action, one cannot feel feeling that some crocodile tears are being shed. On the personal level, an individual would be unusual indeed if he did not respond to attack and constant threat of attack.

It seems unusual also that opinion of world governments tend to no such level of indignation over the Arab commando attack on an Israeli transport at Athens airport in which a passenger died as over the attack at Beirut airport in which no one died. It becomes a question of values.

Soviet Position In the larger area of world power politics, the Soviets have reacted to further cement their position among the Arabs.

The United States has reacted defensively, condemning the latest Israeli attack but certainly not ready to join in any punitive action either economic or military against the Israelis. Last this is considered an over-all defense of Israeli actions. It is not.

Certainly since their victory of 1967, strong Israeli forces have displayed an arrogance which matches the strident tones of Arab leaders and have not contributed to peace in the Middle East.

Certainly Israel has made no move to comply with United Nations demands that it retire from Arab lands taken in 1967 except on its own terms. It has done nothing to ease Arab sensibilities, especially in its announced determination to hold all of Jerusalem.

It has retaliated perhaps over-harshly in the destruction of an Egyptian refinery, processing 80 per cent of Egypt's oil, against Jordanian towns suspected of supporting Arab commandos and now against Lebanon, probably the least offensive of all.

Yet it also must be said that each of these Arab nations has supported action against Israel and encouraged it.

Wall Street Chatter

E. F. Hutton & Co. sees in the lower volume of trade on the Big Board hope for an end to the market's declining phase.

Furthermore, from a technical standpoint, the firm points out, the market now is in oversold territory. "Even if a further large decline is in the offing, it would seem more likely to be preceded by some sort of a technical rebound to at least partially correct the oversold condition."

Shearn, Hammill & Co. feels that "while the stock market is not performing well as the moment and will probably undergo some additional correction or consolidation, the outlook is far from firm says, concern about a black." At the moment, the credit squeeze seems to be outweighing the otherwise favorable economic outlook. "Despite many explanations and official assurances that the squeeze will not worsen enticement proportions, it still looks alarming to investors."
