PALESTINE, July 19 (AP)—It wasn't so much that Herman Brien of St. Louis caught the same fish twice at Davey's lake north of here. It was what Brien thought about it.

Brien said he believed the fish must have become excited and drowned.

Babs Travels Far For Her Romance, But Somehow They Just Don't Last For Dime Store Heiress

By NEA SERVICE

People with heaving hearts often have itchy feet as well. Barbara Hutton-Milvani, daughter of a wealthy family, now residing in a London court the fragments of a romantic career which began in Siam, is only one of the rich world-travelers to whom romance and rambling go hand in hand, and a steamer ticket leads to heart's desire as well as to odd ends of the earth.

Barbara, heiress to a stack of 5-and-10-cent store dimes that would make the Great Pyramid look like a pinch of snuff, was born an American, and raised a "poor little rich girl." At the age of 18, her debut party cost $60,000, her private car $120,000.

To discourage several youthful romances deemed unsuitable, her father launched her on the restless career of travel in which she has moved ever since.

In Paris she met Prince Alex Mdivani, youngest of several brothers from Georgia (Caucasus), not the dot of a sou.

Back to the United States and then off on a world tour went the restless Barbara. In Bangkok, Siam, by the river Me Nam, Prince Mdivani caught up with his princess. They were married in Paris in 1937.

The honeymoon covered Lake Como, Biarritz, southern France, Morocco, and Venice. The fashionable beaches and night spots of Paris, Rome and London soon knew them well. By that time that same year they were off on a world cruise—restless, unwilling to stay long in one place.

When they returned, there were rumors of quarrels. Barbara retired to a London nursing home. Mdivani devoted himself to polo. Soon they parted. Barbara crossed the ocean once again and went to Reno for the divorce.

The reason for the lack of grieving was then revealed. For immediately she married Count Court von Haugwitz-Reventlow, a minor Danish nobleman.

Back to New York, and on to Denmark for a honeymoon in the "haunted castle" of Herdengen, Herby, Lance, was born in London.

Back again to the United States came the restless Barbara, this time for only a brief stay to sign away her citizenship. But the boy, Lance, who might have been expected to be a bond, became a source of discord. A long trip to Egypt and up the Nile and a long stay at St. Moritz failed to bring the hoped-for marital happiness.

Soon Barbara, with a divorce suit pending in Copenhagen, was in London, while the count denied from Paris the charges that he was trying to steal their son. When they got together again it was in a London court where he posted a peace bond not to disturb her.

Is it any wonder that the Woolworth heiress is the idol of the travel agencies? Doesn't it seem unlikely that even divorce from the Danish count will turn her yen for Danish romance.

Cleaning Fluids Need Special Care For Safety Uses

By NEA SERVICE

In preparing rugs, draperies and other fabrics for summer storage, make sure that you are taking no dangerous risks with inflammable and explosive cleaning materials. Many of the excellent products now on the market need to be handled with special care. In all cases, read the label on the container carefully. Choose a cleaner that is non-inflammable and non-explosive. It's better to send articles to the commercial dry cleaner than to take chances with dangerous fluids. The expense is small in comparison with the accident costs that may result from attempting the work at home.

Gasoline Is Dynamic

Many persons have the mistaken idea that it is safe to clean with gasoline where there is no open flame. As a matter of fact, explosions of great ferocity have been caused by dry friction sparks resulting from rubbing a fabric. Gasoline vapor lingers in the air for hours after the fluid has evaporated, and this vapor is highly explosive. Never use nor store gasoline in the house. It is many times more powerful than dynamite.

Special precautions should be taken with anti-mold sprays and other insecticides. Follow exactly the directions for their use. If you're spraying your summer cottage to rid it of flies and mosquitoes, make it a rule to put out oil stoves and other open flames, not forgetting cigarettes.

And, speaking of oil stoves, remember that kerosene, too, needs to be handled with care. It should never be stored where there is heat, brought near an open flame, nor used to quicken a wood fire. Alcohol, turpentine, paints, varnishes and oils are on the danger list. Keep as few of them in the house as possible and store such necessary materials in a cool, ventilated place.

Because most summer cottages and bungalows will burn easily, it's highly important to observe the rules for fire prevention. Before using the fireplace, investigate the condition of the chimney, and have it cleaned if necessary. Keep a fire screen handy. Use safety matches. Make sure that walls and floors around stoves are properly fire-proofed with metal to avoid overheating.

Be Wary in the Kitchen

Keep a sharp eye on all heating and cooking equipment when it is in use. A playful breeze may cause serious trouble. If a fire starts in the country, you can't depend on a quick response from the fire department, so be prepared for such an emergency. At least one fire extinguisher should be kept in the house, and one in the garage. The type that is fastened to the wall is best for average use. Make sure that the chemicals are renewed from time to time, so be prepared for such a possibility. Always be in good working order.

This picture of Countess Barbara and Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow happens to have been taken aboard the S. S. Victoria as they were en route to Bombay, India, shortly before their recent split-up. Actually, however, it is symbolic of the entire globe-trotting career of the American heiress—always restless, never long content in one place, always seeking new vistas, new friends in remote parts of the world.

Glorifying Yourself By ALICIA HART.

All the beauty advice to travelers and summer vacationists notwithstanding, the business of looking her best every hour of the day is a much bigger problem for the girl who spends the summer in town than for one who doesn't.

The vacationist may have to worry about what too much sun does to her skin, the effects of salt water on her hair or the callouses that cause paddles, tennis rackets and golf clubs make on her hands. But, for her, the simple business of staying and looking just plain clean isn't overwhelmingly difficult. For the city woman, it is.

Also, there's the matter of getting enough sleep. Anyone who has been out in the sun part of the day and has had a little exercise in the bargain, isn't likely to be troubled with insomnia. But lack of sunshine and exercise plus the fact that her room is pretty hot and stuffy, just aren't conducive to restful sleep.

The city girl's problems, then, are: how to keep clean and how to get enough sleep. She should tackle both quite seriously. They are not unsolvable.

First of all if you have to spend the summer in town, it's a mistake to try to get by with less than three baths (or showers) a day—one in the morning, one before dinner and another just before going to bed. If cooling cologne is patted on after each bath and a non-perfumed use several times a week, the feeling of freshness you have immediately after a bath will be more likely to be retained until the next one.

Also, don't overlook the importance of cleaning face and throat frequently during the day. Use a cool clear cleansing lotion or soap and water, followed by a creamy lotion. Never, never put a layer of fresh powder and rouge on or over stale makeup.

Furthermore, you'll look and feel cooler and happier if you—
Have a shampoo every six days instead of every seven. (If your carter is in your home rather than in an office, you might go to the beauty shop early in the morning, have your hair washed and set, then let it dry while you are doing the morning's work. This plan eliminates the slow torture of sitting under a drier in hot weather.)

Wear a corset which is off the face and off the neck. See your hairdresser about this. And tell him you want your hair not only brushed up, but ANCHORED.)

Supplement the dark sheers in your wardrobe with at least two cotton or silk frocks that can be washed and ironed quickly. And buy white gloves that are as easy to wash as silk stockings.

Work out a plan for living where you seldom have to hurry. Do only what is necessary during the next two months, and budget your hours carefully to allow time to get "the necessities" done with as little confusion as possible. If this means getting up an hour earlier in the morning, do it. You'll be amply repaid.

WORLD AGAIN INSPIRED BY DARING HOP

By DEWITT MACKENZIE, Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer. NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—When young Douglas Corrigan poked his tousled red-head and laughing Irish eyes out of the window of his flying contraption at the Dublin aviation field, he satisfied an over-weening personal ambition of long standing.

But he did far more. He took his place—most likely unwittingly—among the great inspirational forces of our age. That is the real value of such breath-taking exploits, which often seem so foolishly and uncalculated for who could read of the courage of that dangerous, lonely flight without being a better man for having read?

A few scraps of chocolate and a bottle of water for food. No radio through which to call for help or ask for guidance. Two poor but proper aviation instruments—just using a jackknife and a piece of string, so to speak. Flying blind to glory.

If we could check the world over we should find that already thousands of young people are thrilling with a Corrigan-inspired ambition to achieve great things. New York City was wallowing in heat and humidity and feeling pretty low when the adventurous Irishman landed on the Green Isle of his ancestors—the land where they still believe in fairy tales, and why not!

Self Pity Abandoned. With the first flash of Corrigan's exploit, however, the city came to its toes. Corrigan! Sure and there's a man for ye. The name shot from one to another in restaurants, in offices and on the street. People quit self-pity over the heat and stuck out their chests. They felt like work-like doing something worth while.

I recall vividly another example of the effect of an epic flight like that. It was in the Atlantic with that famous sea-hero, Captain George F. Fry, when Corrigan's predecessor, the great Lindbergh, came winging his way across. The Viking Fried responded to wireless news of this gallant effort like an old war-horse to the smell of gunpowder. The blood of adventure and daring ran hot through his own veins.

The skipper asked me to wireless the Associated Press for Lindbergh's route, and when we had that Fried promptly diverted his ship, the Roosevelt, northward and well out of its course in order to be available to help the flyer. What matter if the vessel was late into port. There was a hero in the making. Fried also laid down a dense smoke trail for the rest of that day, so that Lindbergh might see it, and might hug searchlights blazed from the Roosevelt.

Flying From Flames. On August 24, 1921, the big dirigible ZR 2 broke her back over the mouth of the Humber river at Hull, England, and carried nearly half a hundred Yankee boys to flaming death. She was being purchased by the United States from England, and that was to be her final tryout.

I spoke with an American army captain as we stood among the bodies of his colleagues. He was looking far away and his eyes were dim with grief, but his shoulders were square as he said: "We shall keep on until we have conquered dirigible flying. Nothing can stop us. We shall carry on where these boys left off." And so it goes. Inspiration comes always from those who dare grandly and grandly, no matter what their walk of life. It's the Corrigan who lead the way.

Just eager, fearless youngsters. Flying blind to glory. ZIMMERLEA TO SPEAK AT TOWNSEND CLUB. Charles Zimmerlea will be principal speaker at a meeting of the Pampa Townsend Club tonight at 8 o'clock in the country court room in the courthouse.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, July 19. (AP)—Stocks continued toward the stratosphere in today's market with gains of 1 to more than 4 points putting leaders at new tops since last October. Profit taking cut down top marks at the close of the final gong.

Resumption of the mid-year boom on the broadest scale of the year today was a further response, brokers said, to the much brighter prospects for business recovery as exemplified by the brisk upturn in steel mill operations, building construction and retail spending, in addition to signs of convealing from many other recently lagging lines of industry.

Buying orders from all over the country and abroad deluged commission houses at the opening. With blocks of 1,000 to 6,000 shares changing hands on the upside, the ticker tape during the greater part of the first two hours was as much as six minutes behind.

The feverish run-up resulted in the largest volume for about 3 months, transfers approximately 2,900,000 shares. Selected stocks, motors, rubbers, mail orders, farm implements, copper, rails, oils and specialties took the leadership from the start. Utilities rose moderately, but were hardly acted upon, notwithstanding satisfactory earnings reports from the aviation manufacturers, the latest being the Glenn Martin Co.

INCIDENTS OF STRIKE TO BE TOLD IN DETAIL

WASHINGTON, July 19. (AP)—A Senate committee inquired today into activities of citizens' organizations during a 1935 strike in the Berger Manufacturing Company steel plant at Canton, Ohio.

Chairman LaFollette (Pro. Wis.) said the Civil Liberties Committee wanted to develop in detail the incidents of the strike as indicating a pattern which he asserted the Republic Steel Corporation followed in the 1937 "Little Steel" strike.

The committee heard yesterday dramatic testimony of street fighting between union pickets and Berger Company officials and guards. One witness said the scrap involved Charles M. White, operating vice president of Republic Steel, which controls the Berger Company.

Paul L. Hamilton, a railroad brakeman who formerly was a Canton city bus driver, said he "peeled" the ruddy-faced steel executive on the chin and knocked him down. White, he declared, had acted insolently in ordering pickets off the company property.

Repeating curtly a few minutes later, White said Hamilton struck him in the back of the neck while he was escorting Clarence Hale, another picket, off the Berger property.

L'ORS BOY FAILS TO GAIN JUDGE'S MERCY. Two days in the care of the city police have taken all the badness out of an 11-year-old Peck's Bad Boy detained after he had been apprehended the third time for theft of automobile parts.

He was taken before County Judge Sherman White yesterday but his conduct was unsatisfactory before the judge who released him to the care of officers.

This morning the boy wanted to be taken before the judge again but Thursday morning has been set for his appearance. The boy was first arrested last Friday and in his possession were several auto accessories. On Saturday he was found with a Peck's Bad Boy in his possession. Sunday he was picked up carrying a sack containing two car headlights. He is a resident of L'ors.

COURT Foe NOW OUT OF POLITICAL DOGHOUSE. WASHINGTON, July 19. (AP)—A pledge of loyalty to President Roosevelt's objectives apparently removed today any administration opposition to renomination of Senator Lonergan, Democrat, Conn., a foe of the court and government reorganization bills.

BUILDING TO START ON NEGRO FARM PROJECT

DALLAS, July 19. (AP)—The Farm Security Administration announced today construction of buildings on 57 farms will start this week on the administration's project near Marshall, where Negroes, many of them living upon the same land to which their grandfathers came as slaves, are being helped to ownership.

The new farms being developed, averaging 120 acres, will bring the total to 80. The 23 families now living on the project, whose farms were developed last year, are setting a record in the amount of canned goods put up from home-grown fruits and vegetables. Andrew H. Baakey, project manager, said.

Baakey was in Dallas to complete details of letting the contract for construction to J. J. Hardy and Son of Marshall, low among the eight contractors who bid upon the dwelling houses. The contract price is for slightly less than $1,300 a dwelling.

In addition to the Negro project, a project for white farmers of Harrison county was announced this week as part of the activities under the Bankhead-Jones farm tenant act. From five to ten loans will be made in the county to white families for purchase of farms, to be paid for in 40 years with interest at 3 per cent. Harrison was one of the 50 counties announced this week, in which a total of approximately 380 farms will be developed.

TWO CONVICTS SHOT IN ATTEMPTED PEN BREAK. COLUMBUS, O., July 19. (AP)—Two convicts were shot, perhaps fatally, and an Ohio penitentiary guard was knifed today in an attempted prison break.

It was the first organized, attempted break in nearly a year. Those shot were: Clyde Stamp, 24, serving a robbery sentence, Charles Menges, 23, sentenced to a life term for murder.

Guard Raymond T. Thornton, was stabbed in the stomach with a butcher knife. Elmer Callahan, another guard, thwarted the escape attempt when he opened fire as the two convicts approached the main prison gate with a "hostage," Col. William Walker, superintendent of the prison subsistence department.

The prisoners accosted Walker in the dining hall and forced him at the point of the butcher knife to walk in front of them toward an exit. As the convicts approached the gate, guard Thornton interfered and was stabbed as he broke away. Callahan then opened fire. The prisoners' wounds were reported as serious.

NEW YORK HAILS HUGHES

Here is how a royal welcome—American style—looks. Tangled ticker-tape dangles from skyscrapers, confetti and torn-up telephone books rain a paper storm down on the streets, photographers grind away, men mill about, the crowd yells itself hoarse. The scene you see above is a small sample of what Howard Hughes (indicated by black arrow) and his doughy crew encountered as they rode up Broadway.

MINISTERS OF TEXAS ENDORSE C. V. TERRELL

Ministers of Texas, representing various portions of the state endorsed today campaign of Judge C. V. Terrell for reelection to the office of railroad commissioner, promising their support to him, according to Ed Dunigan, Pampa supporter.

In the form of an open letter, the endorsements promised their support because of his splendid work in public office in the past.

"We believe it would be for the best interest of Texas," the letter stated, "to reflect to office a man of Judge Terrell's ability and splendid quality. We know him well qualified in every way to continue in his splendid work which has brought him close to the hearts of the people of Texas, and given him the title of 'Public Servant No. 1.'"

Letters of endorsements came from a number of ministers including W. F. Bryan, pastor First Methodist Church at Galveston, Reverend O. M. Bloom, Round Rock, and W. F. Klindworth, Trinity English Lutheran Church, Dallas.

MARIE'S HEART TO BE BURIED ON BLACK SEA

BUCHAREST, July 19. (AP)—Dowager Queen Marie, in letters opened today, requested that dark lilac be the color of mourning for her and that her heart be buried at her favorite resort on the Black Sea. King Carol's mother, who figured largely in the destiny of Rumania for a generation, died yesterday of a rare liver disease at the age of 62.

In the letters, written June 29, 1933, the queen mother explained that lilac was her favorite color and that she preferred it to the usual black. Officials said the letters would be made public in a day or two. One of them was addressed to her subjects.

Although the queen will be buried at the palace of Kurtea De Argesh beside her husband, the late King Ferdinand, she requested that her heart be embalmed and taken in a special urn to Balic on the Black Sea.

During the night twelve high ranking officers of the queen's own regiment, the fourth cavalry, carried her coffin from her palace at Sinaia, where she died, to the royal palace of Pelesch. Thereafter these officers took turns standing watch in the great hall of the palace, where the queen lay in state.

The death of their mother brought at least temporary reconciliation between Queen Marie's two sons, King Carol and Mr. Nicholas Brana.

The king summoned his brother—the former Prince Nicholas, shorn of his titles and in exile in Italy since April 26, 1937, for marrying a commoner—to attend the funeral of the queen, who died Monday of an unusual form of cirrhosis of the liver at the age of 62.

King Carol warned Brana, however, that he must leave Rumania immediately after the ceremonies.

MCCRAW 'LAYS OFF' KNOCKING HIS OPPONENTS

(By The Associated Press)

Words and music to go with them—rude thunder and played mightily the Texas air today as candidates launched fully into final summing up of cases for judgment by the electorate in Saturday's Democratic primaries.

Beneath the flow of oratory and mountain "swing," campaign organizations rolled logs and "turned chips" in concentrated efforts toward lining up the vote.

W. Lee O'Daniel and his hillbilly band, continuing to declare it was time for Texans to throw out the professional politicians in Austin and take back their government, pointed their way today to Seymour, Olney, Graham, and Jacksboro.

Ernest Thompson, who spoke in Austin moved on to La Grange, Columbus, Hallettsville, Rosenberg, all in the afternoon, and planned to speak at Houston tonight. Thompson talked only of his record and platform and did not mention any other candidate.

William McCraw pledged in his address last night at Port Arthur an administration in harmony with the Texas legislature and labor if he is elected governor. Today he went to Hempstead and Galveston. McCraw failed last night to mention by name a single one of his opponents.

Tom Hunter planned to speak at Waco. He was at Houston for a radio address last night in which he explained how he would carry out the state's contract with its aged pioneers.

Karl Crowley, who spoke at Houston last night, emphasizing the seventeen points in his platform, was to go to San Antonio tonight. Other candidates, among them P. D. (Pete) Renfro of Beaumont, had not reported speaking schedules, but were for the most part making contacts by shaking hands.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE UNITED BEFORE WORLD

(By The Associated Press)

The state visit of Britain's monarchs to France gave notice today that the two democracies stood together.

Meanwhile the world's two wars brought a Japanese air attack on China's provisional capital and desperate fighting in eastern Spain.

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth arrived in France accompanied by Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax and War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha, indicating there would be important behind-the-scenes conferences during the four-day visit.

The talks were expected to include discussions of the Central European problem, efforts for a settlement with Premier Mussolini in the Mediterranean and problems growing out of the Spanish Civil War.

In Spain, two insurgent armies continued to advance down the Teruel highway toward Valencia while government "suicide squads" fought a desperate rear guard action in the Espina mountains to cover the retreat of the main body to new defense lines, about 34 miles northwest of Valencia.

Other insurgent forces were driving southward through the Espadan mountains toward Segorbe, 15 miles northwest of Sagunto, where the Teruel-Mediterranean highway joins the main coastal road leading to Valencia.

In the Orient, 33 Japanese warplanes made an intensive attack on Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang. Huge columns of dark smoke rising above Hanyang and Wuchang gave evidence of fires started and material damage that resulted.

Sharp Guerilla fighting in industrial Pootung, across the Whangpoo river from Shanghai, was reported to have ended by Chinese withdrawal after 600 persons had been killed in four days.

The fighting around Kiokiang, 135 miles below Hankow on the Yangtze river, remained stalemated.

Tension in Tokyo over recent reported clashes on the Manchoukuo-Siberian frontier was emphasized by a demonstration before the Soviet Russian embassy by 25 Japanese, carrying heavy canes and clubs and wearing arm bands of the Nationalist society.

"Get out of Manchoukuo or we will throw you out," some yelled.

BARCELONA CATHEDRAL STRUCK BY AIR BOMB

BARCELONA, July 19 (AP)—The celebrated cathedral of Barcelona was struck by an insurgent bomb during an air raid today.

The bomb tore through the roof near the front of the cathedral and plunged to the floor east of the nave, carrying down an iron chandelier and a heap of stone.

Crowds gathered about the 14th century church, which was considered one of the finest examples of gothic architecture in Catalonia.

PORTION OF RANDALL COUNTY IN AMARILLO

AMARILLO, July 19 (AP)—Amarillo has a greater county than the county which it serves as county seat. It is the only city of consequence in Potter county and a big slice of the southern portion of the city lies in Randall county. The Randall county part added to the Potter county part gives the city a greater population than either Potter or Randall county.

IRELAND'S PRESIDENT COMPLIMENTS CORRIGAN

DUBLIN, July 19 (AP)—Prime Minister Eamon de Valera congratulated Douglas G. "Daredevil" Corrigan today on his "wrong way" flight from New York to Dublin.

The prime minister hurried from a cabinet meeting to greet the 31-year-old Californian and hear the details of the daring flight.

After thanking de Valera for Ireland's kindness to him, Corrigan visited government buildings to straighten out difficulties arising out of his failure to have any of the papers a flier abroad is supposed to carry.

Officials of Ireland's Department of External Affairs told him they would place no difficulties in his way.

Corrigan went out to Baldonnel airport to see his "old crat" and disclosed he hoped to visit London and exhibit the plane. There also

CREAMERY WHIPS SUPPLY BOYS 8 TO 4 AS JAYCEES WIN

SKELLY RUNS IN 15 SCORES FOR SHUTOUT

The Gray County Creamery stepped a rung closer to a place in the playoff last night when they downed the Supply Boys 8 to 4 in a City league game. The Jaycees beat the News 7 to 4 to stay in the running.

Skelly's Oilers, the in-and-out team of the Industrial league, was decidedly in last night when they blanked the combined Cities Service and Stanclind teams by a score of 15 to 0, scoring 10 runs in the first inning as the losers couldn't get organized.

Gray, regular thirdbaseman for the creamerymen but catcher last night, accounted for six of his team's runs when he bagged a home run in the first inning with the bases loaded and repeated in the third with one man on base.

Williamson went the route on the hill for the winners. Christopher, making his first appearance on the mound this season, hurled nice ball for the Supplymen excepting for pitching home run balls to Gray. Romine was behind the plate.

The News came up with another ace hurler last night when Rhoades pitched an outstanding game with Robbins as his teammate. Weak support in spots and inability of the newhaws to hit in the clinches gave the Jaycees victory with Burlinson pitching great ball with Hall behind the plate.

Skelly did everything right in downing Cities Service. Mayo was in fine form with Johnson behind the plate. Fielders handled the balls almost faultlessly and the hitting was top. Cities Service started Mayo but called in Chism from first base to finish as he threw the ball all over the lot or held it while runners made bases or scored.

The schedule for tonight will see the Diamond Shop playing their last game of the league season against the Christians at 8:15 o'clock. It will also be the closest game for the Christians who don't have a chance to get in the playoff.

The night game will send Mack & Paul Barbers against Gulf-Cooper, also playing their last game of the league season, perched in second place.

The 6 o'clock game will be a postponed affair.

Texarkana Edges Up On Marshall

(By The Associated Press) Texarkana's Liners crept closer to league-leading Marshall of the East Texas circuit last night with an 8-6 victory over Tyler, while Longview was beating Marshall 4-3.

Jacksonville's 1-0 shutout of Kilgore was featured by the victory-bringing home run by Skipper Robello. It was the 27th of the season for him.

Timely hitting in the pinches brought a 7-5 victory to Henderson over the Palestine Pals.

ARMSTRONG GETTING READY TO KNOCK AMBERS' HEAD OFF

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Every time you look up Henry Armstrong is getting ready to knock some fellow's head off. This time it is Lou Ambers and the Los Angeles negro goes so far as to predict he'll belt out the king of the lightweights.

The buzz-saw is making his first appearance here since he battered Barney Ross into a bleeding, helpless pulp and added the welterweight championship to his featherweight crown. He starts training Wednesday.

"I saw him fight this Jimmy Vaughn out in Los Angeles," said Henry, "and I think maybe he's gone back. He didn't lick Vaughn until Vaughn got tired and Jimmy hit him a couple of licks that really rocked him."

"Now that's different than he was," continued the hammer. "Remember him against Montanez that time indoors. Pedro hit him with everything but the water bucket one round and he came back in the last rounds and won a draw. Then he took some more from Pedro, outdoors, and licked him."

The inference was that Ambers, after five years of fighting on or around the top, has passed his peak. But Henry was not too confident that was the answer. "I'm not too sure," he said, "all I can say if he doesn't get better, I'll drop him."

This was an about face for Henry. Early last spring when he and Harry Armstrong, his trainer, were plotting their triple killing of the welterweight, lightweight and featherweight titles, they were more worried over Ambers than Ross.

"We still think he's cute, we haven't changed our minds on that," Henry answered. "Man, he's hard to hit and he knows a lot. But if his legs are gone he isn't going to be so hard to hit and you saw how much knowin' a lot meant for Schmeling when he got in there with that Louis."

Rose Bowl Tickets Can Be Bought By Public This Year

PASADENA, Calif., July 19 (AP)—The football public, denied the right to buy tickets to the Rose Bowl game last New Year's Day, got a break from the Pacific Coast Conference today.

Mr. ordinary fan, even though his alma mater was the school of hard knocks, will have a chance to get one of the 35,000 seats reserved for public sale at the next renewal of the grid classic.

They amount to 40 per cent of the Rose Bowl's total seating capacity, 89,000.

Fifty per cent of the seats will be allotted to the university whose team represents the conference in the "East-West" game.

The remaining 10 per cent will be reserved for the press and other special groups, including the school representing the "East."

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Henry Armstrong has been doing the pitching for a Los Angeles soft ball team called the "Armstrong dynamiters."

What was that Dizzy Dean muttered about a "lemon, Hickey" after he got that four-hitter out of his system the other day? . . . If you are still horsing for real long shots why don't you place a quid on "Feller and Hensley and Broin and Todd" as the batteries for the opening game of the world series? . . . And before you laugh that one off, remember that Connie Mack pulled old Howard Ehmke out of the bullpen and sent him against the Cubs one day—and won.

KEWANEE NINE BEATS OILERS IN 11 FRAMES

The Kewanee Oil company's baseball team, whose home diamond is three miles west on the Borger road and one mile north, won its 15th game in 17 starts Sunday afternoon in White Deer by defeating the crack Panhandle Oilers 7 to 6 in an eleven-inning battle.

It was the stellar relief pitching and the hitting of Larry Trenary that pulled the Kewanee nine to the front. The youngster went to the mound in the eleventh and fanned three batters. His stick work included a triple and three singles in five times at bat. Barham started on the mound but was relieved by Rye who in turn gave way to Jack Baller. Sharp was behind the plate.

Kellus Turner, former pro star, went the route for the Panhandlers and pitched great ball. Tucker was behind the plate.

Following Trenary on the offense was Norton who bagged three hits. Mangell at shortstop was the outstanding defensive player of the game.

Dillihay with four hits on five times at bat and Odle and Alexander with three hits each led the Panhandle attack. Odle is the TCU freshman football star of last year.

Kewanee won in the first half of the eleventh when Sharp, first batter, singled and went to second on an out. He stole third and came home when pinch hitter Brannon bunted safely.

Kewanee will play on their home diamond on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and on Sunday afternoon against the rejuvenated Coltexo Blackcats of LeFors.

'DAFFY' WILL DUEL AGAINST ROWE TONIGHT

(By The Associated Press) Beaumont's Exporters, who walloped the Tulsa Oilers 8-4 to cut the latter's Texas league leadership to three games, come here tonight to meet the Schoolboy Row against Dallas' Paul Dean, in the rubber game of a now famous duel on the mound.

When the Schoolboy was with the Detroit Tigers and Dean with the St. Louis Cardinals, Daffy beat Rowe in a work series on June 1. Recently in Beaumont, however, the two former big league stars, now attempting a comeback, met again, with the Schoolboy winner although Dean allowed only four hits.

Scoreless the first four frames last night, the Exporters burst loose with six runs in the fifth, and scored twice again before the end.

San Antonio's Missions took a 7-2 decision from the Oklahoma City Indians, thereby squeezing the Indians from third place in the standings.

In a 10-inning affair at Fort Worth, the Cats eked out a victory over Houston, 5-4, when a final inning rally was successful.

Dallas beat Shreveport, Jelly Sorelle of the Steers getting back to work for the first time since he was hospitalized for spike wounds.

of flying the Atlantic in an old sewing machine has touched the hearts of the nation . . . Last night, as this column is being written, Jack Corbett, president of the Syracuse club of the International league, called to say he was forwarding a check for $100 to start a fund to buy a new plane for Corrigan . . . This department is too busy (?) to write about the handling of such a fund, but I'll guarantee to run Corbett's check to anyone who will . . . Anyway, Corrigan rates a new mount, we say.

Ouch Dept.: Judge Landis bought himself a new jimmie and went out to see the Cubs play . . . The park attendant didn't recognize the judge in his finery and wouldn't let him in . . . If football coaches wore numbers you could dish out No. 13 to Emmett Stuber of the Cape Girardeau (Mo.) Teachers and he would not holler murder—in fact, he'd reach for it . . . He thinks he is the unluckiest coach in the biz . . . Last fall his team won its first championship in history . . . What happened? . . . Thirteen of the small squad graduated, 12 flunked out and three transferred . . . Back in 1931, after Stuber had led his Westminster (Mo.) team through an undefeated season the school—you guessed it—dropped football.

A youngster named Earl Tolley is apt to give Sam Snead, the pride of the Virginia, right off the front page down there . . . Tolley is the pro at the Swanky Greenbrier Club at White Sulphur and has all the earmarks of a comer . . . And if all this happens, the irony would be that Tolley earned most of his gold watches in the pro play . . . Sports editor Alan Good is starting a three week's vacation . . . All we hope is, he doesn't come a cropper as he did a couple of years back . . . Ahoy, there mate—or should it be avast.

Not many people up this way are fooled by the way Frank Guernsey of Wee is going to town in tennis . . . Pros called the turn on him as far back as two years ago . . . They said then the kid was going places and, well, he's gone.

Cubs And Pirates Win National League Games

BACK ON THE RESERVATION

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
No matter what may happen to those pennant-hungry New York baseball clubs within the next week or so, no one can say they haven't given or received fair warning.

The Yankees, leading the American league by a game and a half as they go into a "crucial" four-game series with Cleveland's second-place Indians today, sounded the alarm by winning 17 of their last 20 games and tying another. The Giants, dropped into second place by Pittsburgh's Pirates, have heard a similar warning from the Chicago Cubs. They have to tackle Dizzy Dean late this week after what they hope will be a pleasant interlude at St. Louis.

The Cubs, right now, look like a team to watch in the National league. They have won seven straight from Philadelphia and Boston to move back into third place. The return of Dean undoubtedly will be an inspiration and the team appears overdue for its annual big winning streak.

Chicago has a long way to go, however, before it can overtake those persistent Pirates. The Buccos, who rose to the top on a 13-game victory string, proved that wasn't just a prolonged flash in the pan when they won two games and tied one in a four-game series with the Giants. They made their margin, previously visible only in the percentage column, a half game yesterday by slugging out a 7-4 victory in two big innings.

The Cubs, meantime, pulled out a 7-6 decision over the Boston Bees in the ninth inning after blowing a 6-3 lead in the same frame.

The St. Louis Cardinals knocked off the Phillies, 5-3, in the day's only other game as the Brooklyn Dodgers, with four straight victories, were checked by rain at Cincinnati. The American league had an open date.

JOHN HENRY LEWIS AND TONY GALENTO TO FIGHT IN WEEK

LEIPERVILLE, Pa., July 19 (AP)—"The Forgotten Man"—that's what they're calling John Henry Lewis these days.

The light heavyweight champion is matched for a 15-round non-title bout with beer drinking, "two-ton" Tony Galento at Philadelphia's municipal stadium, a week from tonight. Tony has been getting most of the headlines.

"So, I'm the forgotten man," mused Lewis at his training camp here. "That's all right by me. I never was much of a hand for cavorting around. But just keep one thing in mind—fighters don't forget me."

"Let Tony have his fun now. I'll have mine next Tuesday night. I can beat any fighter in the world today, Joe Louis included. Tony outweighs me more than 20 pounds, but he's small, he has short arms. I've seen his stuff in the ring and I know what to do about it."

"What I'm counting on is me. I've been around boxing since I was four years old. My father had a gymnasium in Phoenix, Ariz. So I was born in the game and know what I'm talking about."

Galento must have something to get where he's got. Otherwise, how could he knock out all those fellows he's met? No, I don't under rate Tony, but boiled down he's just another fighter."

"I'm me, he's a step toward a match with Joe Louis for the heavyweight title."

Palo Duro Canyon Now Has An Indian

AMARILLO, July 19 (AP)—The Palo Duro canyon, once the home of the Plains Indians, has an Indian in it for the first time in years.

Chief Sky Eagle, an Ottawa, is living in the canyon for a short while. Although a full-blooded Indian, he doesn't tread the canyon floor in sandals as did his ancestors. He is an entertainer at a lodge in the canyon.

TRAVEL INCREASES. WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—American travel abroad increased during June, but still was considerably below last year. The state department announced today a decline of 23 per cent in the number of persons going to foreign lands during the first six months of the year.

HEROES WITHOUT TIES

America likes its heroes casual, and that's the way it has them.

The latest addition to the gallery of idols is a man who has been called "the American tailor's despair." Howard Hughes flew the world's most elaborately equipped private plane out of New York with his coat off and his collar unbuttoned. As a concession to the modishly correct French, when he got to Le Bourget Mr. Hughes got out his coat and tie and a rather floppy fed hat.

There was another flight made about the same time by another adventurer, whose plane was as off-hand a job as Hughes' haberdashery. Douglas Corrigan, a west coast flyer who made a non-stop trip from Long Beach, Calif., to New York, followed up with a "sneak" flight from New York to Ireland yesterday and was so very matter-of-fact about the whole thing from start to finish that nobody knew he'd done it till after he arrived in Ireland.

The ship was eight years old. It had almost none of the flying instruments that are considered indispensable today. It didn't even have a radio. Corrigan didn't bother to take a "chute" along. He arrived with five gallons of gas in his tanks. The tanks were piled in the forward part of the plane and blocked his vision. When he wanted to check on where he was going he turned the ship sideways and peered out the window.

Corrigan's flight didn't add a chapter to the history of aviation, but it certainly added a bright footnote.

A DOG'S LIFE

Maybe a man thinks he knows a lot more about a dog than he really does. There are cynics who declare that a man's affection for his pooch, however, is based largely on the recognition of so many canine characteristics—and weaknesses in particular—which remind him of himself. And whether your taste runs to cynics or not, a little thought on the matter suggests that there's likely more than a little truth in it.

Anyway, most dog-owners probably know enough about Fido's outlook on life to bet their bottom dollar that the latest news on canine longevity would leave him sadder than a bone in a well.

Dogs who live in the city, according to a report delivered at a veterinarian's convention, live two or three years longer, as a rule, than dogs who live in the country. The reason seems to be that they're somewhat better cared for, and scarcely ever exposed to the elements.

This is a dandy reason for spending your life in a steam-heated apartment. Rover—if you have a broad, deep streak of the lounge-lizard in you. But if you're the pooch papa thinks you are, he'll bet his shirt you'd trade an extra year of old-age in a basket for six weeks of rural night-prowling and chasing crows across pastures.

TAX NIGHTMARE COMING.

Thirteen months from now, according to slide rule calculations of a government economist, the national debt of the federal government will be in excess of 43 billion dollars—double what it was five years ago. For the fiscal year 1939, beginning July 1, next congress has authorized the expenditure of 12.5 billions, six billions of which will be "deficit financed."

Breaking this vast sum down, it is found that during the fiscal year 1939, the federal government will spend $1,027,397,250 a month; $34,246,575 every day; $1,428,940 each hour; $23,782 every minute or $396 every second.

So what! Soak the rich, you say? According to the government economist (who gets his figures from a treasury report), only forty-three people out of the 130,000,000 in the United States had incomes of a million dollars or more in 1937. Their aggregate income was 73 million dollars and if every penny

Behind the Scenes In Washington

WASHINGTON, July 19—The candidates in Oklahoma who tried hardest to out-promise the others were licked. Namely Gomer Smith, for senator, and Alfalfa Bill Murray, for governor.

Mr. Roosevelt's friend, Senator Elmer Thomas, who won the Democratic nomination for President, is said to be on the back, is no sound, cautious conservative himself. Elmer always is wanting to do something more about silver, printing press money and inflation.

In fact, there were those who tried to spring on the President with a property plan based on shining shoes and buying wheat to make bread at a profit, belonged somewhere on a ticket which featured Gomer, Alfalfa Bill, Elmer and an astonishing assortment of Mac Wastes, Danie Boone, Brigham Youngs, Huey Longs, Oliver Cromwells and Patrick Henrys.

No doubt you have heard of student aviators freezing to airplane controls. . . Well, last night I froze to a radio microphone. . . It happened near the end of my regular news broadcast when somebody, I don't know yet who it was—sneaked up behind me in the broadcast booth and shoved a yellow scrap of paper over my shoulder, and it fluttered to the desk in front of me. . . I was right in the middle of a news bulletin. . . I could hear the person tip-toeing off behind me. . . It was so disconcerting that I almost forgot what I was reading at the time. . . Then between lines I tried to decipher what was on the slip of paper. . . It was scribbled, in blue pencil. . . I made out a proper name and the words "better" and below it, "much". . . So I figured from that that this proper name must be much better. . . And, then it dawned on me what it was all about.

What I planned to do then was to tell listeners that Raeburn Henry, Pampian, who has been seriously ill in a local hospital, was greatly improved and on his way to final recovery. . . But, the mysterious "sneaker-upper" and the code on the scrap of paper had me so completely flabbergasted that I couldn't find the word, "recovery," anywhere. . . The word simply wasn't there, that's all—and I never did find it. . . After a five second pause which must have seemed like four minutes, I stuck in the word "improvement," which was wrong, and then stumbled into the Night Cap on the News and bungled that in nice shape, froze to the microphone again, almost slipped and fell on my sign-off line and left the air a minute too soon. . . It was nice going for a minute and a half. . . From now on the door to the broadcast room will be locked securely and anybody who wants to sneak up behind me and freeze me to a mike will have to blast to get through the door. . . Well, no alibi is better than none at all, isn't it?

The above clap-trap is by way of explaining to anyone who might have wondered what happened to me. . . It was not heart failure, but it was akin to it. . . I had often heard of "freezing to the mike," but in nearly a year and a half of daily work behind one, it was my first experience. . . And, if I wasn't frozen and tongue-tied to it last night, nobody ever was. . . Here's a letter that came in yesterday's mail:

"For quite some time I read your column most conscientiously and with much gusto as I feel you must surely some fine day forsake rules you learn from books and from school marm. In fact I feel this is such a sure thing that I jays a saw-buck on my hunch. At more odds than somewhat, I feel this way, a man who likes hamburgers like Tex must of a surely be some-what wise upstairs, and a newspaper guy who is wise upstairs is very especial indeed. I know many columnist guys in years gone past, an dmore than many who think they are columnists.

"In fact, I even go so low sometimes when judging, as to confess I once operates something of a column myself, although not for long, and if my pals find this out I must 'fold up my tent like the Arabs.' Nevertheless, I applaud loud and audible when I read the last section of your column in last Sunday's rag. Said efforts were gigantic, huge, and even almost mediocre, and the more sudden you lifts the lan on 'ain't' and other alleged 'low-brow' expressions, the more sudden we who dwell without benefit of higher learning will be gladdened. And, what with present conditions, no doubt most of us can stand much glad, and there ain't nothing wrong with glad. Yours for more D. Runyon style, A. Reader."

The Capital Jigsaw

AUSTIN, July 19 (AP)—Thirty-three cities maintain some type of auditorium, says M. G. Toepel of the Bureau of Municipal Research, University of Texas.

Writing in Texas municipalities, organ of the league of Texas municipalities, Toepel said auditoriums were evidence of wider activities by municipalities.

The largest auditorium in the state, seating 6,065 and costing $1,040,000, including the equipment but not including the site, is at San Antonio.

The next largest are at Houston, Dallas and Mineral Wells. Auditoriums in each of these cities seat 5,000. The seating capacity of the auditorium at Wichita Falls is 4,200, and that at Hillsboro 3,000.

Other auditoriums and their seating capacity include: Amarillo, 2,500; Beaumont, 2,378; Harlingen 2,027; San Angelo, 1,860; Abilene, 1,700; Sherman, 1,500; Waxahachie, 1,500; Big Spring, 1,412; Sweetwater, 1,404; Mexia, 1,212; and Childress, 1,200.

Toepel's survey also showed: The average location of the auditoriums is three and one half blocks from the business center.

Size of the sites varies from 224,770 square feet at San Antonio to 5,370 at Ennis.

Of 29 cities reporting, four indicated they considered the auditorium a liability, 19, an asset, and three, a financial liability, but a civic asset.

In seven instances gross receipts were greater than operating costs, the heaviest losses occurring among the largest cities.

Control by city manager seems to be the most popular, Wichita Falls, Beaumont, Amarillo, and San Angelo, among others, using this type of organization.

Toepel said the municipal auditorium concept had developed only recently.

"Significant developments have succeeded the post-war impetus toward memorials for the war dead and the need during the depression to find worthwhile public works and relief," he said.

"Auditoriums are evidence of the wider range of activities municipalities are gradually assuming in the mechanized twentieth century.

"They are justified either because of the failure of private initiative to assume the burden or by the realization that the function is, after all, public in nature."

Many uses are made of the auditoriums, Toepel continued, nothing however, uses lifted by reporting cities do not include movies.

"Significant developments have succeeded the post-war impetus toward memorials for the war dead and the need during the depression to find worthwhile public works and relief," he said.

"Auditoriums are evidence of the wider range of activities municipalities are gradually assuming in the mechanized twentieth century.

The Silver Anniversary of Sacred Heart church at White Deer reminded this one that Father Joseph Wonderly came to Pampa ten years ago on July 7 to assume the pastorate of Sacred Heart church. That fact was published in Kenneth Carman's favorite column in the news, "Ten Years Ago Today."

Well, this one went down to Father Wonderly's and began yelling for a picture. "Why I have not had a picture made since I came here," he said as if he had just as soon face a firing squad as a camera.

"But you've got to have your picture made—why you've been here ten years!" this one replied. Then Archbishop Gerkin came and we asked him to persuade Father Wonderly to have his picture taken. He said he would, but here it is 12 days after the anniversary of Father's arrival here so we're tired of waiting for the picture, and will have to go ahead with this tribute.

He's been a good shepherd to his flock since he's been here. He has grown steadily in the estimate of both protestant and Catholic; he has lived in harmony with his fellow citizens; his words and actions have tended to produce peace and harmony, rather than dissension and friction; he has been a good neighbor—what greater compliment can one pay any man than the phrase of which he is so fond—the good neighbor.

Maybe these few words are not sufficient; maybe we ought to give him a dinner or something. Anyway, knowing Father Wonderly these ten years has been worth it.

Oops! There Goes A Few More Grand
After eight months of panic and penury, talk-towns is beginning to take the terms "colossal" and "terrible" again.

Metro budgeted $112,000 for a single sequence, a ship burning, in "Too Hot to Handle." One of its back lots, a 30-acre tract, is covered with a set for "The Great Waltz"—a town with a street a quarter of a mile long.

Warners will spend $200,000 on their technical version of the San Francisco earthquake in "The Sisters." An RKO company will live and work for two months on a mountain location for "Gunga Din." Five hundred carpenters are preparing sets and quarters for them now.

David Selznick will produce "Titanic" and Walter Wanger may do "Leviathan." And in a few weeks Hollywood production should reach an all-time high, with about 70 flickers rolling from the cameras.

As usual, however, quickie producers are still starving. One of them was seen knocking at the roof's door.

Bing Crosby and Paramount really are battling over the title of his new picture. First it was "Sing, You Sinners"; now it's "The Unholy Desires." His indignation is so great that he refused to show up for work the other day—just merely over an inept title, but because his music publishing company printed all the sheet music with the original tag and now may have to scrap it.

HOLLYWOOD, July 19.—Short takes: A visitor on the sets commented about the number of famous actresses he had seen knitting as they sat around between scenes.

"Yeah," said a dour press agent, "it gives 'em something to think about while they're talking."

Still demonstrating that the Rand is quicker than the eye, Sally is appearing at a local theater with her fans and bubbles. For the radio program with Charlie McCarthy, there was talk of equipping Miss Rand with a set of Venetian blinds. But as the star of a picture, called "Murder on Sunset Boulevard," she'll be deeply depressed.

Georges Risaud, "French" actor from the Argentine, leaves Paramount after a year with a fair knowledge of English and the substantial remains of a $100,000 salary. But he didn't make any pictures because he still has too heavy an accent.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M. D.

THE BODY SPEAKS

To the skilled physician all symptoms, organic and functional, are expressions of the body as to what is wrong and what the body is attempting to do.

Reading the language of the body is an ancient medical art. There is a story of the noted Alexandrian physician, Erasistratus, who, being skilled in reading the language of the body, diagnosed correctly the ailment that troubled the famous youth Antiochus.

Many a physician had been baffled by the problem, but Erasistratus, while examining Antiochus, felt a sudden leaping of the patient's pulse. Looking around for the cause, he observed that the young and beautiful Stratonice, his father's concubine, had entered the room. The diagnosis was established and the remedy evident.

Even in casual examinations the physician must frequently depend for important data on the language of the body.

The patient who is asked whether he is anxious about anything and who, knitting his brow, replies with an emphatic expression, that nothing bothers him, and why does the doctor ask, is not likely to be taken at his word. Greater consideration will be given to the contradictory statement of the individual's body.

The language of the body has many idioms. Frequently the body "speaks" through some functional disturbance. These are commonly an expression of some emotional disharmony which the individual is unwilling or unable to resolve and of which he may not be aware.

Perhaps nowhere is this witnessed more commonly than in disturbances of the gastro-intestinal tract. The sudden loss of appetite on the receipt of bad news is commonplace. It is not difficult to conceive how chronic disturbances in gastro-intestinal function may arise from some persisting unresolved emotional disturbance.

All of which would make it evident why the problems of disease can seldom be resolved by merely "taking something" to remove the symptoms.

Nor can the symptoms always be accepted at face value. The feverish tuberculosis sufferer may at times feel very well, even exuberant. The pain of acute appendicitis may subside just at the time the abscess ruptures.

LIONS OPEN CONVENTION.
OF AMERICAN COUNTRY (CAP)
—Nearly 10,000 Lions club delegates from all parts of the United States and seven foreign nations open their twenty-second annual international convention here today.

A draft agreement has been initiated by the foreign ministers of the two countries which, if ratified by their respective governments, would peacefully put an end to a controversy which has been going on for 100 years.

North Americans who are unfamiliar with the Chaco controversy can scarcely appreciate the magnitude of this victory if it is ratified. For the Chaco dispute is one of the bitterest international controversies to harry a tired world.

The Chaco, a wild region about the size of Arizona, seems to North Americans a prize of too dubious value to warrant such long and bitter struggles. But to Paraguayans and Bolivians it is more than a mere jungle controlling access to the sea. It has become a symbol, a point of honor around which militaristic elements of either country have been feebly in the past to rally frenzied feeling.

Book A Day

By BRUCE CATTON

Alan Villiers apparently is never going to tire of sailing the seven seas and then producing books about his voyages—and this reviewer, for one, hopes that he never does. For Mr. Villiers' books create the feel, the look, the whole romantic appeal of the sea for us landlubbers who will never know what it is like to voyage under canvas; and there can hardly be too many of them.

His newest one is mostly photographs. It is called "The Making of a Sailor" (Morrow; $4), and it is illustrated with something like 200 pictures taken on those famous schoolships, the Joseph Conrad and the Georg Stage; and if you have any feeling at all for the exciting beauty of the square-riggers, these photos are apt to take your breath away.

There is a certain amount of text, to be sure, which tells a bit of what life is like on a square-rigger and explains what Mr. Villiers has been trying to do in the way of recreating interest in these ships among young men.

But for the most part, he lets the pictures speak for any—and how eloquently they can speak!

Here you get views of men aloft, furling sail; of the pattern of light and shadow on deck, as the ship idles her way down the trade winds, of wind and wave in action, far south; of the orderly rows of masts of the ship going forward under all sorts of conditions; of the beauty and majesty which only a sailing vessel can attain.

Any lover of the sea will find this a first-rate addition to his library.

Victory for Peace Comes Into Sight

By BRUCE CATTON

Just about the time when things looked blackest, and it seemed probably that exhausting war might again break out in the Chaco region of South America between Paraguay and Bolivia, a sudden and spectacular victory for peace becomes possible.

SERIAL STORY INTERNE TROUBLE BY ELINORE COWAN STONE

CAST OF CHARACTERS TRAN DEARBORN—hero...

CHAPTER XI TRAN had started awake that morning thinking, "This is the day!"

It was to have been the culmination of the dreams of almost two years. For today she was to help at one of Dr. Stephen Sargent's operations.

True, she had worked under several of the other surgeons before—but that was not the same.

In honor of the occasion, Tran had had a shampoo, a fingerwave and a manicure. Not that any one would know the difference, but having done so gave her an uplifted feeling of being fit and clean and ready, like a priestess performing cleansing rites before a sacrifice.

Tran's mood of exaltation had been momentarily jarred as she hurried along a corridor that morning by the sight of Dr. Benchley and his pretty widow, coming together from one of the private rooms.

Something intimately possessive in the way she rested a hand on Bob's sleeve and laughed up into his face surprised Tran into a sudden unreasonable fury of resentment.

She reminded herself with a shrug, "Well, I could have had him if I'd liked, couldn't I? I've got what I did want, haven't I?"

BUT just then Mrs. Maitland turned and called over her shoulder with the exaggerated graciousness of one who makes a rite of being always kind to inferiors.

"So sorry, but I'm not going that way," Tran answered with what she hoped was just the right touch of tolerant amusement to point the difference between a busy professional woman and a mere social butterfly.

Young Dr. Benchley glanced swiftly from one to the other with a manner at first startled; then, as his eyes came to rest on Tran, faintly amused.

Congratulating himself on his happy escape, Tran thought, Well, he's not the only one.

The catastrophe came shortly after the operation was over. Toward the end, a violent wind and electrical storm had blown up. Even the serenely beautiful Miss Miller, who was handling the sutures, glanced up apprehensively once or twice when small objects hurtled by the windows or static crackled in the hushed room with each blinding flash of lightning.

When it was over, and the patient had been wheeled away, only Dr. Sargent, Miss Miller, and Tran remained—Miss Miller because Dr. Sargent had detained her; Tran, because there were still things she had to do.

Moving about between the instrument table and the service room, Tran heard Miss Miller say, "Congratulations, Doctor. No one but you could have done that. He'll live, don't you think?"

She heard Top Sarge reply a little wearily, "And what about his name, his the poor devil to live for?" This is the kind of case that makes a surgeon feel like a criminal.

When Miss Miller said in her clear, even voice, "As soon as the shock wears off, the nerve will come to life," he only lifted bleak eyes and said with bitter amusement, "Your bedside technique is as perfect as ever, Miss Miller."

Just then Dr. Benchley hurried in with a fresh nurse; and Miss Miller turned and walked with her erect, light step out of the room. It was a moment before Tran followed.

WHEN she did go into the service room beyond, Katherine Miller, "the icicle," stood, leaning against a cupboard door, her face buried against her bent arm, her body wrenched with sobs.

"His arm!" she was moaning. "Oh, no! I couldn't bear that in another year he would have been famous. People would have been coming to Saint Vincent's from all over the country."

"Famous! Saint Vincent's! . . . You can't bear it?" Tran snapped before she could remember to bite her cheeks. "And what about him? If he can't operate any more, it will kill him—or worse. . . . Why don't you try thinking about him for a change?"

Miss Miller whirled upon her, her blue eyes blazing through her tears. "You little fool!" she cried. "What else would I be thinking about?"

"Then for heaven's sake," Tran said hardily, "go and do something about it. Let him see how you feel. You're the only one who can do him any good now."

"But I—I can't." Amazingly the correct Miss Miller was crying out in the thin, high voice of a frightened child. "He's so—I'm afraid. . . . You know what he's like."

"Why should you be afraid of him if I'm not?" Tran demanded. "He's crazy about you. Any one with eyes can see that. If he hasn't told you, it's probably because he thinks—like a lot of other people around here—that you're—well, not quite human."

"You can't blame him, you know, the way you go around acting like a frozen plaster saint. . . . For heaven's sake, if you really want him to know that you're actually alive, with feelings like the rest of us, go and tell him so now, while you look like it for the first time in your life!"

LUBBOCK BOASTS OF NO TRAFFIC DEATHS

LUBBOCK, July 19 (AP)—This West Texas city, schooled in the ways of traffic safety, ended the first six months of the year without a single highway fatality and crowned its record with a clean slate over the hazardous Fourth of July holiday.

New ordinances and established traffic rules are brought home to its citizens by newspapers, radio, schools and an American Legion-sponsored safety council. The one death which marred the city's first-half-of-1937 record did not re-occur.

Three officers, instead of the one last year, have been detailed solely to traffic control and regulation enforcement and only nine persons suffered injuries the first half of 1938 as against 15 for the same period last year.

Through widespread publicity, Lubbock residents have been educated to report accidents and rare is the mishap of which the police do not have a detailed record.

The safety council recently conducted an eight-weeks school open to the public in safe operation of motor vehicles and the Texas Department of Public Safety has conferred approximately 100 diplomas on high school youths in recognition of their safety work.

HELIUM SALE TO REICH ADVOCATED BY OFFICER

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, commander of the Lakhurst naval air station, returned from Germany today and expressed the personal and unofficial view that the United States should sell helium to the third Reich.

As an officer in the navy, Rosendahl said, it would be improper for him to criticize governmental policies, so his views must be construed as unofficial.
