New Clue Found In Coed's Death

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Investigators announced Saturday that the killer of University of Texas at Austin student John Albert White and Keitha Morris probably is a young, white prowler. But Sheriff T. O. Lang denied that an Air Force reconnaissance plane photographed the crime.

"We have looked at the Air Force pictures," Lang said. "We can see roads, buildings and things like that. But seeing a person is just out of the question."

"Our information about the prowler came from a human being."

The reconnaissance photographs however show the automobile that took Miss Morris away from the picnic ground where she and White were attacked.

Made Pictures

Lang also disclosed that a roll of film White made just the day he was killed also had been found. The developed film showed White, Miss Morris and another couple picnicking. The film was believed to have been found near a lake into which the body of Miss Morris was thrown.

A spokesman for Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin disclosed that an RF4C reconnaissance plane made pictures of the area where White, 21, was killed, and from which Miss Morris, 19, was dragged off to be killed later.

Funeral services for Miss Morris were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the White Deer First Methodist Church. A large crowd attended the services.

The Air Force spokesman said the plane was mapping the area and made pictures "immediately before and after the murder." The pictures were turned over to Texas Department of Public Safety and Lang. "The pictures they make are so good they can blow them up and pick out cars and occasionally people," an Air Force man said.

White, son of a prominent Corpus Christi, Tex., lawyer and a former peace corpsman, and Miss Morris were set upon while picnicking Wednesday (See CLUE, Page 3)

Israeli Warplanes Attack Jordanian Civilian Areas

Both Sides Exchange Tank, Artillery Fire

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—Israeli warplanes attacked Jordanian civilian areas twice Saturday with machineguns and napalm, after two gunbattles across the cease-fire line, a Jordanian military spokesman said.

There were no reported casualties in either raid, the first in the northern Jordan Valley and the other near the Abdullah Bridge just above the Dead Sea. The spokesman also reported both sides exchanged tank, artillery and machinegun fire for more than two hours near the bridge.

Israeli spokesman did not confirm the air raid reports, although Israeli settlers in the Beisan valley said they saw the jets streak into Jordan about 10 minutes after the first reported firefight.

Jordan blamed Israel for starting the second land clash but said Jordanian fire damaged three Israeli tanks and apparently inflicted several casualties.

Four Israeli jets attacked the area around the bridge for 20 minutes, the Jordanian spokesman said. Earlier he said four warplanes had bombed with napalm and strafed farms near the Sea of Galilee.

In recent weeks Israel's high command has responded to Arab guerrilla attacks and other incidents along the tense cease-fire line with air strikes at Arab positions. Israel has withheld details of previous sorties without denying their launch.

Assures French Support
The latest clashes came as a high French official flew to Lebanon, reportedly to assure Arab leaders that France will back their confrontation with Israel. That showdown began

Projects Slated In MOD Campaign

Under the banner of "A Happier New Year" at birth for every child, preparations continued in Gray County for two upcoming projects in this month's fund-raising campaign of the March of Dimes against birth defects.

First up will be the annual bucket brigade, which is set for Saturday, weather permitting, in Pampa, Lefors and McLean. Men's service organizations will man buckets at business intersections in the communities. David Holt will be in charge in Pampa.

The county-wide Mothers' March is scheduled for Monday evening, Jan. 20. Mrs. T. L. Garner is in charge of Pampa's activities.

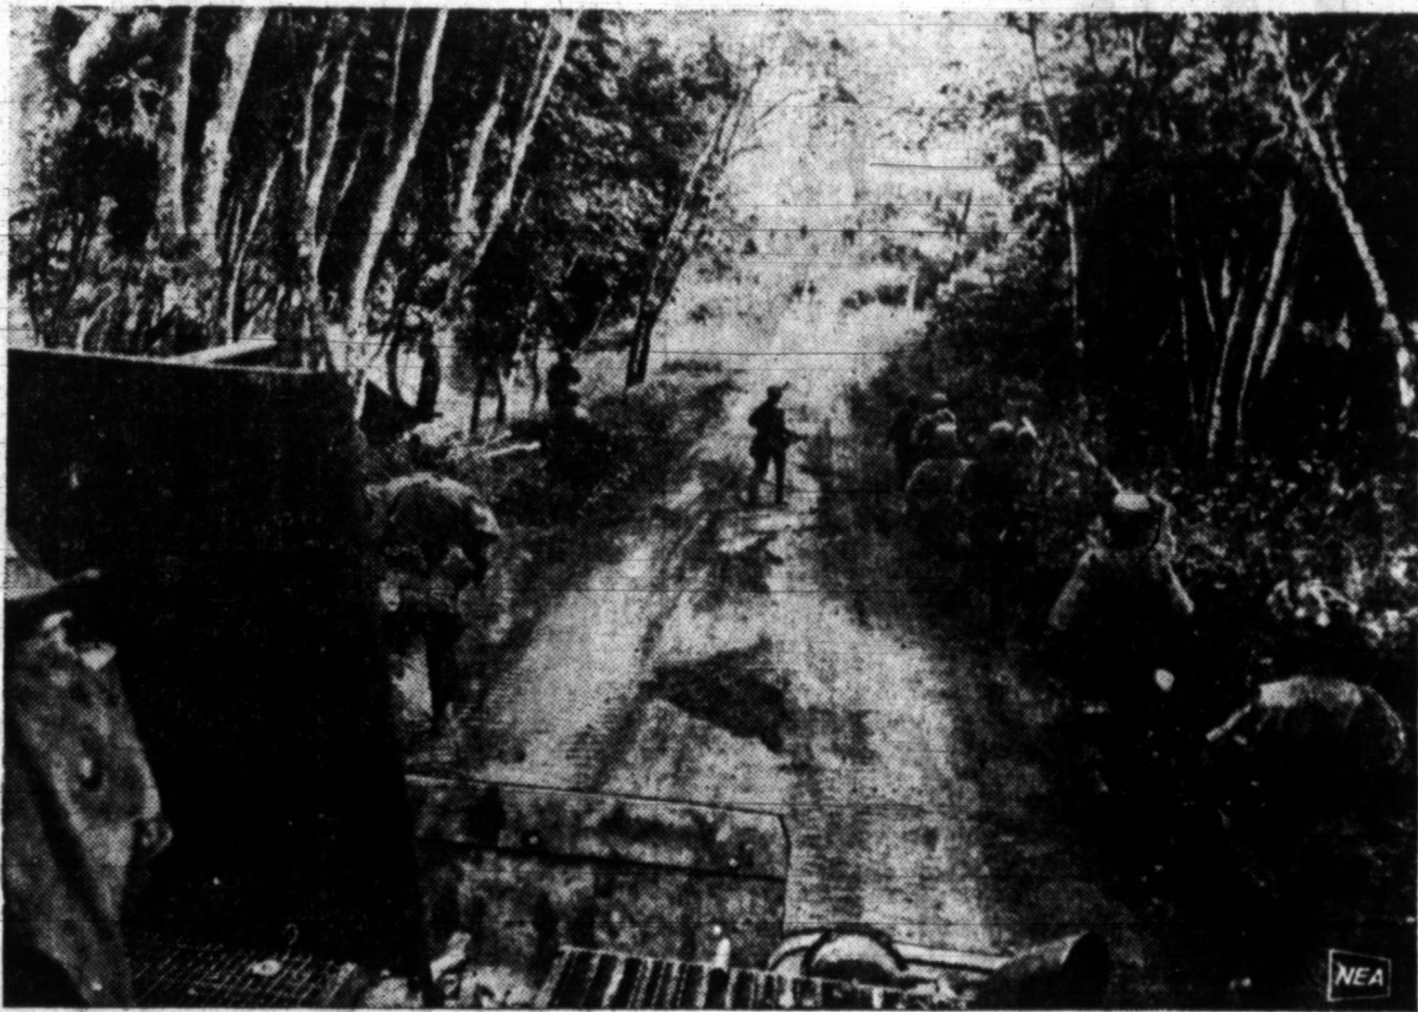

Charles R. Martin, March of Dimes campaign chairman, expressed satisfaction over campaign plans for the county, including the response from prospective volunteer workers.

"The need is urgent," Martin explained, "because we know now there is hope — through research and treatment — to overcome the devastating toll birth defects claim annually in our country. Modern medicine holds the promise of preventing many of the physical and mental afflictions which now strike 250,000 American infants each year.

PERUVIAN JETLINER

Exchange Students Hijacked To Havana

MIAMI (UPI)—A Peruvian jetliner loaded with 110 exchange students from Argentina was hijacked during its landing approach to Miami Saturday—the fourth to be diverted to Havana during the first 11 days of the new year.

In addition to the students, selected for study in this country from schools across the Argentine, the Peruvian International Airline flight carried a crew of eight—or a total of 118 persons.

It was just five minutes out

Soviets Denounce Red China Again

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Communist party declared Saturday that Mao Tse-tung has pulled Red China out of the world Communist movement by abandoning "scientific socialism."

Mao's thinking, which forms the ideological foundation of his party, "spells a full rupture with the principles of proletarianism and Socialist internationalism," the Soviets said.

Diplomatic observers here said Saturday's blast signaled the beginning of a fresh Soviet effort to rally support for the World Communist Parties Conference, to be held here in May. The Soviets are believed to want the session to formally eject Peking from the world movement.

from Miami and Capt. George Wagner was in contact with the Miami control tower when he suddenly announced he was heading for Havana.

"You know the reason why," Wagner said, without elaboration.

A total of 403 persons have been aboard the four airliners hijacked to Cuba so far this year. Two of the planes have been American jets belonging to Eastern Air Lines, and the third was a Colombian airliner.

Officials estimate the Fidel Castro regime picks up an average of $2,500 in landing fees and other charges for each plane diverted to the Communist island.

The Peruvian flight involved in Saturday's hijacking originated in Buenos Aires, where the students boarded. Officials said the youths were participating in an exchange program, known as "Youth for Understanding," which is headquartered in Ann Arbor, Mich.

After leaving Buenos Aires, the plane flew to Lima, where it became Peruvian International Flight No. 60. It made a brief stop at Tucuman Airport in Panama City, R.P., and then continued on toward Miami, where it was scheduled to land at 10 a.m. CST.

Miles before touchdown however, Wagner reported he was changing course, and was given clearance for the flight to Cuba. The plane, a 990A Convair, touched down at Havana's Jose Marti Airport at 10:36 a.m.

Minister Says Report on UFOs Covered-up Truth

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Dr. Frank Stranges, a minister, who also is the nation's leading proponent of unidentified flying objects, said the report on UFOs made by the University of Colorado is a "cover-up" of the truth.

"It is inconceivable that this study group has ignored all of the evidence accumulated and says there is no scientific evidence to support the belief of interplanetary visits," Dr. Frank Stranges said. "I believe it is a cover-up."

The 42-year-old Stranges is the international director of the National Investigations Committee on Unidentified Flying Objects headquartered in 39 nations.

Stranges said in an interview unknown people in the National Academy of Sciences approved the report, released last week. "They are nameless faces," he said.

Stranges said there is definite proof that the Central Intelligence Agency has prevented the truth about unidentified flying objects being released to the public.

SIX INFANTRYMEN KILLED

Viet Cong Guerrillas Ambush Allied Patrol Napping In Hut

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong guerrillas caught a nine-man allied patrol napping in a hut near Saigon Saturday and killed six American infantrymen with point-blank bursts of gunfire, military sources said. The patrol's Vietnamese scout was killed and two other Americans were wounded.

"The squad may have made a practice of goofing off in the hut," a U.S. Army officer told UPI correspondent David Lamb. "The Viet Cong could have watched them establish this pattern night after night and were waiting."

Issues 'Secure' Report

In Saigon, U.S. pacification experts issued a new optimistic report Saturday which said three people out of every four South Vietnam now live in "relatively secure" areas. It said more than 500,000 peasants came under South Vietnamese control last month.

The pacification report was issued a few hours after Communist gunners shelled 12 cities and towns throughout South Vietnam. Many of the shells hit five province capitals and seven district towns, most of them considered among "relatively secure" areas of the countryside. The series of Viet Cong attacks broke out late Friday night and early Saturday, but the wave ended before dawn and there were no infantry followups to indicate the start of a new general offensive.

Correspondent Lamb, reporting on the hut ambush, said the nine-man patrol left the U.S. infantry base at Dong Tam 37 miles southwest of Saigon to set up an ambush position early Saturday.

Slept In Hut

Instead, Lamb reported, the troopers went to sleep in a deserted bamboo hut only 300 yards from the base.

Lamb learned from informants that the sergeant in command of the patrol had been ordered to make radio

Negotiators Try To End Deadlock

PARIS (UPI)—Allied negotiators began work Saturday on a new strategy designed to break the deadlock delaying the broadened Paris talks on Vietnam.

Diplomatic quarters said the Allies would make a hard new try in future meetings with the North Vietnamese to find a compromise over the unresolved problem of the shape of the negotiating table and the order of speakers.

There was speculation that before he flies home Jan. 19, chief American negotiator W. Averell Harriman would meet his Hanoi counterpart, Xuan Thu, toward this end.

Saturday's strategy session was held by Harriman's deputy, Cyrus R. Vance, and Saigon's chief delegate, Pahan Dang Lam. Lam said he and Vance had a useful working meeting, and Allied sources reported it dealt with new ideas on how to overcome the impasse.

The deadlock developed over the Allied demand to consider the Viet Cong delegates as part of the Hanoi delegation. North Vietnam and the National Liberation Front (NLF), the Viet Cong's political branch, insist it must be a meeting of four equals.

Harriman and Thu last met in October when they reached an agreement after five months of tough bargaining that led to America's total bombing halt over North Vietnam Nov. 1 and President Johnson's call for new, expanded peace negotiations. (See LEGISLATURE, Page 3)

Legislature Ready For Action On Taxation, Teachers Salary

AUSTIN (UPI)—The biennial gala known as the Texas Legislature opens its 1969 stand this week with last season's cast playing new roles in the same old play—"how to raise taxes and still get re-elected."

Curtain time is noon Tuesday, but there will be little action until Gov. Elect Preston Smith is inaugurated Jan. 21.

The leading men from the last performance, Smith and speaker Ben Barnes, are back, but for the first week the audience will have to read the program notes carefully to know who's who.

Because of the vagaries of the Texas Constitution, hardly anyone's term begins at the same time as anyone else's.

Some state officials took office Jan. 1. Legislators' terms begin Tuesday.

The new speaker, Gus F. Mutscher of Brenham, will take office as soon as he is elected Tuesday.

Smith and Barnes do not take office until Jan. 21.

Therefore, Smith will spend the first week presiding over the Senate in his old job as lieutenant governor.

Barnes will move out. He has to move his family and staff from the speaker's quarters in the West Wing of the Capitol to a hotel for one week, then move back to the lieutenant governor's quarters in the East Wing.

When everybody finally finds his proper place, the legislature will face a mammoth tax bill.

Estimates of its size range from $200-$400 million. A single item—a teacher pay raise to which about two-thirds of the legislature already is committed—would require about $150 million in new revenue.

UPI's survey of legislators last month indicated that more than half favor expansion of the sales tax.

Less than 10 per cent indicated a willingness to raise the sales tax rate—now 4 per cent in most cities and 3 per cent elsewhere.

But 60 per cent said they would be willing to tax items (See LEGISLATURE, Page 3)

FLY TO HEAVEN

Astros To Attend Super Bowl Game

MIAMI (UPI)—America's moon-girdling astronauts flew to "heaven" Saturday for a private party and 50-yard-line seats as Sunday's Super Bowl.

"You may have reached the moon," beamed Dade County Mayor Chuck Hall when the Apollo 8 astronauts and their families arrived after a flight from New York, "but you're pretty close to heaven right now being in Dade County."

Hall presented Frank Borman, James Lovell, William Anders and their families keys to the county and tickets to the pro football championship game between the Baltimore Colts and the New York Jets.

Family Affair

There were 13 family members in the party—Anders, his wife and two of their five children, Alan, 11, and Glen, 10; Borman, his wife and their two sons, Fred, 17, and Edwin, 15; and Lovell his wife and their children, Barbara, 15, James, 13, and Susan, 10.

The Borman boys will act as ball boys during the Super Bowl, retrieving stray footballs.

The astronauts received a tumultuous welcome in New York Friday. Space agency officials said the men requested permission to attend the Super Bowl before flying on to Houston where another ticker tape parade is planned. They will leave immediately after the game.

The astronauts and their families checked into an ocean-side Miami Beach hotel where a private party was scheduled Saturday night. They planned to attend three separate churches Sunday before the game.

Speaking to a small crowd which welcomed them at Miami International Airport, Borman confessed "I'm kind of partial to the American League, but I'm also a great fan of Johnny Unitas." The other astronauts did not indicate their preference.

The astronauts said they were "overwhelmed" by the reception in New York City but Lovell, a Navy captain, admitted "I wish we had a chance to take in a couple of shows. We'll be back again, though."

Only Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas still forbid the use of snow tires that contain small metal stud inserts for increasing the grip, according to the National Automobile Club.

Allis-Chalmers Plant in Iowa Is Acquired by Harnischfeger Corp.

An agreement for the sale of the new Allis-Chalmers Cedar Rapids, Iowa, construction equipment plant to the Harnischfeger Corp., which operates in Pampa, was announced Saturday by the two Milwaukee-based companies.

Harnischfeger Corp. currently has a working agreement with Cabot Corp. and is engaged in the production of hydraulic construction equipment in Cabot's Machinery Division here.

W. P. Stewart, resident manager in Pampa for Harnischfeger, stated that his company's contract agreement with Cabot runs until 1970 with provisions for a long-term phase out.

Stewart and Robert D. Teece, Harnischfeger executive vice president from Milwaukee, met Friday with local personnel, Cabot officials and the plant management to discuss the company's plans for local operation.

Acquisition of the Allis-Chalmers Cedar Rapids plant, Stewart stated, will have no effect on the company's operations at the Pampa plant.

In Milwaukee, Harnischfeger president Henry Harnischfeger stated that since his company will use the new facility to manufacture new models not now being built by the company, its acquisition will not affect production or employment at other Harnischfeger equipment plants in Pampa or in Milwaukee, Wis., or Escanaba, Mich.

"All of our present production capacity plus the additional capability which will result from the expansion program underway at Escanaba — will be needed to meet the increased demand for our other types of construction equipment," Harnischfeger said.

Allis-Chalmers president David C. Scott and Harnischfeger President Henry Harnischfeger said the transaction included the new 320,000 square foot plant and its equipment and provides for continuation of production and employment. No product lines are involved in the sale. Value of the transaction was not announced.

Under terms of the agreement, Harnischfeger will take over the Cedar Rapids facility on Nov. 1, 1969.

Harnischfeger said the Cedar Rapids plant would become the production center for P&H hydraulic construction equipment, which is the company's newest and fastest growing product line.

"This acquisition," he said,

"is the key move in our plans to accelerate production of hydraulic equipment to meet the increased world-wide demand for such products."

Harnischfeger Corp. is a leading builder of large truck cranes, electric mining shovels, overhead traveling cranes and electric hoists. The company is also a major producer of other types of construction equipment, and electrical motors, brakes and controls.

Attack (Continued From Page 1) revocation. The petitions, introduced by anti-Gaullists, accused the government of aggravating the Middle East situation and favoring one of the belligerents.

Saturday's air strikes were on farms at Al-Manshiya, eight miles south of the Sea of Galilee, and on Ash-Shuna, six miles from the water, the Jordanians said.

They said the raids lasted about an hour, during which the planes dropped napalm on farms and then strafed the land. Israel has used napalm in previous raids.

The planes apparently took off shortly after bullets flew across the Jordan river. No casualties were reported in that exchange, and neither side would admit to firing first.

The day's political developments were highlighted by the Gaullist official's trip to Lebanon, and by consultations in Beirut between the new premier-designate and Lebanese President Charles Helou.

Sources in Paris said former Information Minister Georges Gorse had been dispatched to Beirut by De Gaulle after the two met at length Friday.

In Beirut, Premier-designate Rashid Karami consulted with his president amid reports that the country's latest political crisis was at an end.

Legislature (Continued From Page 1) that are now exempt, such as food, drugs, machinery, services, liquor, tobacco and gasoline.

The tax fight probably won't be settled until close to the last day of the session, June 2.

Other issues to be resolved by them include:

- Liquor by the drink (sentiment seems to favor submitting the issue to voters as a constitutional amendment).
- Free public kindergartens for 5-year-olds.
- Minimum $1,000 a year pay raises for teachers.
- School district consolidation (where fewer than 2,600 students are in a district).
- Among others are tightening laws on private clubs, prohibiting vending machine operators from financing taverns, importing water into the state from the Mississippi River, strengthening laws to make it easier for prosecutors to get convictions and modernizing the 93-year-old state constitution.

If past records are a guide, legislators can be expected to introduce nearly 2,000 bills, about one-third of which will pass.

The cabinet-designees are winding up two days of sessions with a total of 22 task forces which are reporting on two-month long studies of broad spectrum of domestic problems ranging from poverty and education to intergovernmental relations.

They have been meeting separately with the task forces but were to assemble Saturday night along with about 250 members of the study groups for a dinner at the Pierre hosted by Nixon. No public statement is expected on the results of the meetings.

Rogers conceded that Mosbacher of suburban Westchester County had no diplomatic experience but said he has "sailed against princes" and has many close associations in diplomatic circles.

Man Is Sentenced On Exposure Charge Carmon Thomas Ferrell, 57, of Pampa, was given a 10-year probation sentence Friday in 31st Judicial District Court here after he waived his rights to a trial by jury and pleaded guilty to a charge of indecent exposure.

Ferrell was arrested by Pampa police last May and charged with indecently exposing himself to a child. He has been free on $2,500 bond.

Clue along Bull Creek, just outside the Austin municipal limits.

White was shot in the back, bashed over the head with a stone and thrown into the creek. His body was still warm when other students found it.

Dragged Away Miss Morris, a pretty dramatics student from white Deer, Tex., was dragged away and her nude body was found late Thursday in Inks Lake, about 50 miles from where White was slain. Her neck was broken and there were the marks of three blows on her head.

An autopsy showed she died of drowning and she was not raped.

Miss Morris obviously was taken away from the picnic ground in an automobile and Lang said the reconnaissance photographs were being examined minutely for automobiles.

If investigators can find the route the killer took to Inks lake, they may be able to find Miss Morris' clothes. So far, only a shoe of the clothing she was wearing has been found.

A joint statement issued by the Texas DPS and Lang said:

Suspect Believed "The killer of University of Texas students John White and Keitha Morris is believed to be a young white man seen prowling in the Lakewood area not more than an hour before White's body was found by two other students."

"Officers are now checking a number of leads which have been received in connection with the double murder."

"In addition aerial photographs furnished by the U.S. Air Force at Bergstrom Air Force Base are being carefully studied. It is hoped that the photographs will uncover additional evidence at the Bull Creek site."

The Lakewood area is adjacent to the Bull Creek sector where White was killed.

Teenagers Charged After Disturbance Two negro teenagers were charged with affray Friday night following a disturbance at the negro center in the southern part of the city.

According to a police report, Paul E. Anderson, 18, Pampa, was treated and released at Highland General Hospital with a razor cut in the upper right thigh.

Placed in city jail was Chester Louis Jackson, also 18, of Pampa.

Officers Stan Brown and Stanley Belt investigated the incident.

Stolen Pickup Found A late-model pickup reported stolen in Memphis (Tex.) last week has been discovered abandoned about four miles northwest of Pampa. The Gray County sheriff's office said Friday.

All members are urged to attend and a special invitation is extended to local farmers and those from surrounding counties.

Mark Gething, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gething, 1717 Mary Ellen, is attending the last day of the 10-day New Zealand Boy Scout Jamboree today and will arrive home tomorrow afternoon after an absence of 24 days.

Gething, a Pampa High School sophomore, was one of 48 delegates from the U.S. who attended the jamboree.

The Scouts assembled in San Francisco Dec. 21 for orientation and a tour of the bay area, then flew to Hawaii where they visited Pearl Harbor, Honolulu and other points of interest.

They arrived in New Zealand on Dec. 27 and spent three days in the Wellington area before taking a ferry to Christchurch and a scenic bus-trip to their final destination at the Kaipoi camp site near Christchurch.

More than 6,000 Scouts and their leaders from the U.S., New Zealand, Australia, Cook Island and Fiji attended the session.

Gething, an Eagle Scout in Troop 14 here, was sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Pampa.

The bridge, about three miles east of the Country Club, collapsed this summer under the weight of a large truck.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL

Executive Secretary ARC

Our sincere sympathy goes to the John Morris family in White Deer and we are grieved over the death of Keitha Morris. Keitha was a Waiver Safety Instructor for the Red Cross and last summer she taught classes at the White Deer Pool.

We enjoyed working with Keitha and we know our Red Cross will miss her happy face in our Water Safety work.

Do not forget the Advanced First Aid Class that will begin Monday evening at 7 p.m. at the North Fire Station with Ray Fisher, FAI, in charge of the class. Check your Standard Card, and if it is about to expire, come to the class and let us work to gether to get your card renewed.

There will be a Red Cross Board meeting at the Coronado Inn, Tuesday morning at 7 a.m. Each board member is urged to be present and to make their report of work done during the holidays. John S. Skelly, chairman, will be in charge of the business session.

is no charge for this course and we urge persons who hold a WSI card to be present if they have not taken this refresher course. Neighboring communities are invited to be present for this work.

We are receiving letters from servicemen thanking Pampa for their Christmas ditty bag program. Mrs. J.J. Rance received a letter from a serviceman thanking her for her thoughtfulness, as well as the Home Makers Club in Skellytown.

Our chapter received a letter from Robert E. Maples, Ch USA Staff Chaplain thanking the Pampa Community for packing the bags for the boys Christmas in Vietnam. It gives us a good feeling to know that our bags were delivered, and the boys were so grateful to the American Red Cross.

Thanks to Mrs. Marie Bond, who has made 28 bibs for the patients at the VA Hospital in Amarillo. Thanks for your continued interest in our Veterans at the hospital.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by The News as a public service to taxpayers.

Q—What is his business about an amnesty period for registering firearms? I didn't know firearms had to be registered with IRS?

A—Certain gangster-type weapons such as machine guns, sawed-off shotguns, short barreled rifles and silencers have been required to be registered with IRS since 1934 when the National Firearms Act was passed.

The Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of IRS has the responsibility for administering the gun control laws and can give you the details on registering these weapons. Your local IRS office can give you the address of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax office nearest you.

Q—My return went through OK this year and I got my refund a month or so later. Is it true I can still be audited and have to pay additional tax?

A—Yes, IRS generally has three years from the due date of a return to make whatever checks might be necessary to assure that income and expense items are accurately reported and to assess additional taxes. For this reason it is advisable to keep tax records for at least three years.

Q—Is the cost of an out-of-state hunting license deductible?

A—No, hunting licenses are not deductible.

Q—On a job overseas will I have to pay foreign income tax and ours too?

A—It depends on where you work and the circumstances of your employment. The U. S. has agreements with many countries to ease the problem of double taxation. A U.S. citizen may also, in many cases, be able to take a credit or a deduc-tion on his U.S. income tax return for the foreign income taxes he pays.

Q—We purchased tickets to a football game sponsored by a charity group. Can we deduct the cost of the tickets as a charitable contribution?

A—A portion of the ticket price may be deductible. To determine what this might be, find out what the cost of your seats would be at a comparable football game. The difference between the regular cost and the price you paid may be taken as a charitable contribution.

Scientists Study Low Cholesterol Eggs

DALLAS (UPI)—Production of a low cholesterol egg that may help persons with heart trouble is being studied by Texas scientists and farmers.

But the man who is trying to sell it said the American public may not be ready for it.

And the farmers who own the chickens who lay the special eggs seem cool to the whole idea.

Dr. Allen Bookatz, a Dallas scientist who invented the low cholesterol egg by mixing a special chicken feed, said the first problem is to get farmers to give chickens the feed to produce the egg.

William R. Canaday from Mary Ruth Canaday.
Ethel Nadine McDowell from J. W. McDowell.

"They don't want their food modified," Bookatz said of the farmers. "They are afraid anything different would poison their chickens."

Joe H. Golman, a Dallas businessman and freshman state legislator who is trying to market the egg, said it may be the answer for persons on a low cholesterol diet for health reasons from heart to diet problems.

But Golman and inventor Bookatz said they are having problems introducing the egg in the United States. Bookatz said he holds patents on the low cholesterol egg in the U. S., Canada, Great Britain and Germany.

Lewis P. MacAdams, president of Food Industries in Dallas and the first man who tried to market the egg, said he spent

$1 million on the project before dropping it.

He called the egg "a dodo" but predicted its success.

"The egg died a miserable death," MacAdams said of his attempt to market it. He said the eggs had a lot fat content and "the chickens who ate the new diet were even more tender."

He said the project failed the first time because he "could not get a stable marketing basis" for the eggs.

A Dallas doctor who asked that his name be withheld said regular chicken eggs are high in cholesterol and are not suited for persons with heart trouble.

"Studies prove that a high fat content in the blood causes deposits of fatty materials in the vessels leading to and from the heart and thus increases the chances for heart trouble," the doctor said. "A low cholesterol or low fat diet reduces this fatty deposition thus reducing the chances of heart trouble."

Golman, president of Circle T Foods, said the low cholesterol eggs should be available in supermarkets by "the middle of February or March 1 in all probability."

"We are in the midst of a market study on it now so we will be armed with all the state when we go to put it on the market," he said.

"People did not know enough about the egg," Golman said of its initial failure. "It is necessary that an educational program be developed when you put a new product like this on the market."

He predicted success for the egg because "more and more persons are becoming diet, calorie and health conscious."

A German publisher, Martin Waldseemuller, first used the name America, after Amerigo Vespucci, in a book published in 1507.

Ice Hockey Great in Canada

MONTREAL (NEA) — The Montreal Forum, like the Forum of Caesar's day, has not always been a haven for peace and tranquility. And like its Roman predecessor, Montreal's Forum was once a crumbling structure.

But the home of the Montreal Canadiens defending Stanley Cup champions, has been refurbished. Last year the Canadians management spent $10 million renovating the arena for its French and English constituents, the most knowledgeable and bilingual fans in the National Hockey League. Some 2,400 seats were added, raising the seating capacity to 16,429. Many of these new seats were made for only the most feverish fans, daredevils, if you will. At the north and south ends of the rink, seats are piled up at a 45-degree angle. There is a constant tug between derrieres and the law of gravity. A sneeze forward could find one skimming across the blue line. To stand up takes as much courage as tumbling down Niagara Falls in a barrel. Walking up the stairs is like walking up a wall. But fans here will suffer any inconvenience for hockey. It is their national pastime. They see plays and strategies that go over the heads of fans in any other city. Their knowledge of the league is exemplified by the scoreboard, the part which lists the scores of other NHL games. Names of teams are not used. Only the symbols. One evening recently, yellow circle with black "B" was tied with a blue, winged music note; an Indian profile was beating a green "N"; and some shield or other was losing to an arboreal leaf. The esoteric — and the illiterate — never had it so good. At the other extreme, the scoreboard for the local game is explained in duplicate. It's period and periods, penalty and punishment. A certain brand of cigarette tastes terrific in English and even better in French, depending on who interprets the bright sign. Renovation has removed all the pillars in the rink. Before, half the spectators viewed the game with one eye. It was especially noisome to those who had not mastered the curve ball. Pillars presented an obstacle for flinging articles of disapproval on the ice. Funny thing, though, less is being heaved onto the playing surface than ever before. Certainly nothing will equal St. Patrick's night, 1955; it is to Montreal what St. Valentine's Day, 1929, is to Chicago. Even before the Canadians' game with Detroit began, the fans were in an ugly mood. Their star, Maurice (Rocket) Richard had been suspended. And this game would decide first place. After the Red Wings took the lead in the first period, the game ended. Stink bombs were hurled onto the ice. A riot ensued. The game was forfeited to Detroit. Outside the arena, trolley cars were overturned, stores were looted and the upheaval was halted only when Richard, the next day, appeared on television pleading for peace. This put a rap on Montreal fans that they have never lived down. Apologists say that at least fans here have never tossed rabbits on the ice as has been done in Chicago, or octopuses, as did cephalopod lovers in Detroit. This year, there has been a noticeable lack of ice-cluttering here. The elegance of the renovated arena may be one reason. Another, according to NHL publicist Ron Andrews, is purely economic. He said that the price of hats, overshoes and even programs, once favorite items for irate fans with strong arms, has risen to make those objects dearer to the beholders. Programs have gone from 50 cents last year to a dollar. Mention must also be made of the program hawkers. They are toothsome femmes who stand behind the turnstiles wearing jaunty fur hats, shrinking red dresses and enticing black boots. Inside, ushers wear furry white hats topped with furry white balls, form-fitting blue jackets, red plaid skirts and beguiling boots. A few ushers are also in attendance. Their uniforms are nondescript.

Miami Site Of Baseball Owners Meet

NEW YORK (UPI) — The search for new baseball commissioner will continue in Miami on Feb. 4. Walter O'Malley, the owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Gabe Paul, president of the Cleveland Indians, announced the date and site of the Miami meeting. Both are members of baseball's executive council. O'Malley and Paul are also the leaders of opposing factions in the search for the new commissioner. O'Malley is supporting Chub Feeney, the vice president of the San Francisco Giants, but Paul has rounded enough American League votes to block him. Paul was in favor of Mike Burke, the New York Yankee president, as commissioner but O'Malley blocked him and Burke has taken himself out of the running. The owners tried to select a replacement for William Eckert, who was fired on Dec. 6, at a meeting in Chicago on Dec. 20. It takes a 75 percent majority in each league to elect a commissioner. John McHale, general manager of the Expos, and Lee MacPhail, general manager of the Yankees, have been advanced as compromise candidates. If the owners can't decide on a new owner at the Feb. 4 meeting, the speculation is that they will appoint another screening committee and possibly search for a new commissioner outside of baseball.

Sifford Leading At Los Angeles

By JOE ST. AMANT
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Old reliable Charlie Sifford, picking his way cautiously around the golf course Saturday, shot his second par 71 for a 54-hole total of 205, eight-under par — good for a three-stroke lead after three rounds of the 72-hole, $100,000 Los Angeles Open. Sifford's closest challengers for the $20,000 first prize to be awarded Sunday were in the 208 bracket. They were Harold Henning of South Africa, who had a third round 66, and Dave Hill, Evergreen, Colo., with a 69. A stroke back at 209 was a newcomer to the pro tour, Bob Payne, 25, Mt. Vernon, Ill., who had rounds of 70-67-72. Defending champion Billy Casper also slipped to a one over par 72 and landed in the 210 bracket with Ken Ellsworth, Harbor City, Calif., who had a 70; Australia's Bruce Devlin, with a 69; Mason Rudolph, Lehigh Acres, Fla., with a 71, and Tommy Shaw, 26-year old pro from Golf, Ill., who had a 73. The 45-year-old Sifford, recovering from a flu attack, shot remarkably steady golf for his third round par. He had a birdie three on the sixth hole, offset by a bogey four on the 17th. His eight strokes under par were acquired in the first round when he shot a 63. He took a par 71 in the second round. His birdie came on the sixth hole when he sank a four-foot putt. On the 17th, he three-putted from 30 feet for a bogey. Sifford said he still had a cough from the flu and tried a cigar before he played but started coughing again and threw it away. He is the first Negro to win a PGA tour event — the 1967 Hartford Open. Looking forward to Sunday's final here, he said "I really have confidence. I think I'm going to win it. I'm going out tomorrow to just do the best I can."

Aggies Nip 'Hogs, 73-68

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (UPI) — A rally in the final six minutes of play led the Texas A&M Aggies to a 73-68 victory over the Arkansas Razorbacks Saturday afternoon. The lead changed hands seven times in the first half and left Arkansas leading 43-40. Then with 6:09 left, A&M's Ronnie Peret dropped in a lay-up that put the Aggies out front 64-62 and started a series of shots that the Razorbacks could not match. Four players from each team scored in the double figures. For Arkansas it was James Eldridge with 20, Donnie Watts with 13, Benton Cone with 11 and Robert McKenzie with 13. For Texas A&M Sonny Benfield hit for 10, Mike Heitman dropped in 11, Billy Bob Barnett poured in 24 and Ronnie Peret picked up 19.

North Seniors Rip South, 27-16

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — The North utilized the power running of all-American fullback Bill Enyart of Oregon State and tailback Bob Campbell of Penn State Saturday to beat the South 27-16 in the Senior Bowl and wind up with a 4-1 edge on this winter's all-star tour. The contest had been billed as a passing duel between quarterbacks Bobby Douglass of Kansas and Edd Hargett of Texas A&M but a stiff wind and the biting 40 degree temperature enhanced the ground attacks for both teams — and Enyart and Campbell gave the North a decided edge. Enyart scored the opening touchdown with a five-yard burst up the middle that climaxed a 71-yard North march that started with the opening kickoff and consumed half of the first period. About five minutes later left-hander Douglass, who connected on only three of 12 passes in the first half while having three intercepted, threw his lone touchdown pass of the game — a 19-yard strike to flanker Eddie Hinton of Oklahoma. That gave the North, which had never scored two touchdowns in the opening period of any of 19 previous Senior Bowl games, a 14-0 lead with barely 13 minutes gone in the game. The South came storming back in the second period, thanks to pass interceptions by Donnie Sutton of Alabama and Tommy Maxwell of Texas A&M, to cut its halftime deficit to 14-10. Kenny Vinyard of Texas Tech kicked a 9-yard field goal, shortest in the history of any bowl game, and Hargett, who hit on only three of eight first half passes, threw a six-yard touchdown pass to flanker Jerry Levias of Southern Methodist. The South gained its only lead of the game early in the third period, marching 72 yards after the second half kickoff with Warren Bankston of Tulane scoring from four yards out. Vinyard missed the extra point but it was still 16-14, favor the South. That lead lasted only three minutes — until soccer-style placekicker Ken Juszkowich of West Virginia, who also kicked three extra points and a later 20-yard field goal, put the North back in front with a 37-yard field goal — longest ever in the Senior Bowl. A couple of minutes later Ron Pritchard of Arizona State recovered a Bankston fumble at the South two yard line and Campbell took it in for the clinching touchdown as the South was unable to threaten seriously again.

Jets, Baltimore Battle Today

MIAMI (UPI) — The Baltimore Colts and New York Jets stage football's third annual world championship Super Bowl show in the Orange Bowl Sunday, maybe in the rain, and the quarterback for the heavily favored Colts admits he had to be talked into taking his job. Earl Morrall, super sub for John Unitas, says he wouldn't have come to Baltimore if coach Don Shula hadn't been so persuasive. He figured the job as just another season of being a No. 2 quarterback. But when Unitas injured his arm in the pre-season, Morrall stepped up and directed Baltimore to the National Football League championship today, he faces off against Broadway Joe Namath, his colorful counterpart for the American League champion New York Jets. The Colts are 18-point favorites to win the Super Bowl trophy a third time for the NFL. Kickoff will be at 2 p.m. CST. Prospects for good weather were doubtful. Rain moved in on the leading edge of a cold front early Friday and weathermen said there was a good chance the front would stall over south Florida. Morrall readily concedes he had reservations about accepting the offer from Baltimore after going through training last summer with the New York Giants, and after 11 years in the league, most of them as a second string quarterback.

"I wasn't ready to give up football when (Giant Coach) Allie Sherman told me, but I wasn't sold on the idea of going to Baltimore," says Morrall. "I felt John would be playing and I'd be sitting on the bench behind him. I felt there were some other teams I could go to and play. But I talked with Don Shula and he convinced me. He told me John was having some problems with his arm and that he had a good team with a chance at the championship. So here I am." Shula reiterated Friday, "The Jets are capable of scoring on the bomb, of coming in with the easy touchdown on you. Joe can sure throw the bomb and he has the receivers to catch it." But he added, on the matter of over confidence by Baltimore: "We were a hungry football team this year, and we still are a hungry football team. We would hate like hell to see it all go down the drain on today."

Dons Place Pair On AAAA State

By United Press International
Donald Ealey, a spearhead in Austin Reagan's back-to-back state championships, was the only repeater on the Texas 1968 Class AAAA all-state high school football team. Ealey, who gained more than 1,200 yards and scored a dozen touchdowns for the capital city champs, was one of three members of that team to win first team berths. The others were end Mike Bayer and linebacker Howard Shaw, both of whom were second team all-staters in 1967. Offensive guard Craig Loy of Houston Bellaire and defensive back Brad Dusek of Temple also made the move up from second to first team in their senior season. Defensive back Larry McClure of Galena Park dropped from first to second team status. Reagan also placed lineman Jimmy Williams on the second defensive team. Rounding out the first team backfield with Ealey were quarterback Larry Foster of Houston Washington, who hit 164 of 296 passes for 2,375 yards and 26 touchdowns; running back Donnie Joe Morris of Amarillo Palo Duro, who gained 1,387 yards in 164 carries, including two games above the 200-yard mark and seven above 100 yards; and Steve Sanford of Houston Lee, whose 353 points in three seasons made him the highest scoring back in Houston history. Bayer, whose receiving saved the day for Reagan in its 17-11 final victory over Odessa Permian, caught 40 passes, while his first team running mate — Robert Frazier of Beaumont Chariton, snagged 66 for 990 yards during the season. There were no unanimous choices, but linebacker Bruce Best of Houston Smiley lacked only one vote and Ealey lacked only two. There were only two juniors to break into the 44-player squad and both — end James Cain of Houston Washington and guard Thomas Williams of San Angelo — were on the second offensive unit.

Steve Hits 15 in Tech's 88-82 Win

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — Texas Tech forward Jerry Turner hit four points in the final 90 seconds Saturday to lead the Red Raiders past Rice 88-82 in Southwest Conference action. Turner, who finished the game with only nine points, sank two free throws and a jump shot in the closing seconds to give the Raiders the win. Lubbock gained their final lead at 70-69 on a layup by Clay Van Loosen and quickly built a six-point margin midway through the second half. The win made Tech's conference record 1-1 and dropped the Owls to 0-2. The Raiders stand 5-6 and Rice 3-6 for the season. Free throws were a big second half factor as Tech made 15 points while the Owls hit only four from the foul line. Tech finished with 29 of 34 free throws and Rice with 18 of 26. Van Loosen led all scoring with 23 points, including 16 during the first half. Rice guard Greg Williams, held to seven points in the first half, paced the Owls with 21. Tech's Steve Williams was the only other Raider in double figures with 15. Bob Rule with 15 was second for Rice. GM WINS AWARD
NEW YORK (UPI) — Johnny Murphy, topnotch relief pitcher with the New York Yankees in the 1930s, and now the general manager of the New York Mets, was named today the winner of the William J. Stocum award for long and meritorious service to baseball. The New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America will present the award at its 46th annual dinner and show Feb. 2.

JUST MISSED — Pampa center Jim Gallman just missed a rebound but managed to get back without fouling. Pampa downed Lubbock, 63-48 Friday night to keep pace in the District crack race. (See story, picture, page 8).

LUBBOCK — Pampa remained in third place with Monterey in District 4-A and Tascosa kept its record unblemished and Berger stayed a game behind in the torrid league race with Friday-night victories.

The Harvesters had no trouble at all in disposing of Lubbock, 63-48, in Lubbock as Billy Thomas took scoring honors with 14 points.

In other district action Tascosa polished off Plainview, 73-43; Berger beat Coronado, 77-65; Monterey beat Caprock, 52-36 and Palo Duro surprised Amarillo, 64-38.

About the only thing the Westerners, now 2-18 for the season and 1-6 in district play, did well was hold the league's leading scorer Jim Hollis to his lowest point total of the season. Hollis managed only 10 points, hitting four of 12 from the field and two of two from the charity stripe. Hollis' previous low was 11 points.

But when the Westerners pressed Pampa, now 10-5 and 5-2, they let loose Thomas who has now been the leading scorer in three games and is averaging over 10 points per contest in district competition.

Thomas and Hollis were the only two Harvesters to make the double figure bracket but coach Sterling Gibson cleared his bench early in the second half.

Six-foot senior Randy Pope paced the Lubbock scoring with 19 points and another senior, Len Meinecke scored 15.

Thomas pumped in seven points and Hollis five to speed the Harvesters to a game winning 16-8 first period lead. By halftime, with Thomas keeping his hand hot and Tommy Ivey scoring six points, the Harvesters lead had mounted to 32-14 and as far as the Westerners were concerned the game was already over.

Lubbock could never get closer than nine points after half-time and trailed 47-28 after three periods. But with the reserves playing most of the way, they closed the gap to 53-44 before the Harvesters caught fire and began pulling away again.

Pampa plays host to Lubbock Coronado Tuesday in an 8 p.m. encounter and then travel to Borger Friday for an important contest with the Bulldogs.

The Pampa Shockers saw their record rise to 5-4 with an easy victory over the Lubbock Junior Varsity.

Unsed One of Best NBA Rookies

By LEE MUELLER

NEW YORK (NEA) — There are men who would have you believe Elvin Hayes of San Diego is the only logical choice for Rookie of the Year in the National Basketball Association.

Hayes, they say, is Bill Russell with a shot; the only real outstanding big man to hit the NBA since Wilt Chamberlain.

Do not, however, try to pass this logic in Baltimore.

Two years ago the only thing higher than a Baltimore Bullet was perhaps a Chesapeake Bay clam. The Bullets ran through three coaches that season, compiling all of 20 wins. Hapless? A Baltimore Bullet had to look up to see a Philadelphia Eagle's knees.

Suddenly, though — like the flick of Earl Monroe's wrist — that has all changed. These days the Bullets are challenging the legendary Boston Celtics for the Eastern Division title. The question that nags is: How? The answer is plain enough. It's not Monroe, although his is a major contribution. It is Wes Unseld, the 6-foot-8, 245-pound rookie center from Louisville.

"The big thing about Wes," says Monroe, "is the way he grabs a rebound and gets the pass out for the fast break."

"Unseld's the difference," agrees Atlanta coach Richie Guerin. "He gives Baltimore a consistent rebounder. With Unseld, they're stronger physically than even the Lakers, even when they have Chamberlain in the middle."

What makes Unseld so effective? At barely 6-8, he is one of the league's shorter pivot-men. Still, he is averaging more than 20 rebounds and consistently scores in double figures. His jumping ability is good, but not great — not like Hayes'. What is it then?

Opinions around the league vary. Quickness. Good hands. Balance. Instinct. Many things. Unseld himself does not know, not exactly.

"I'm still doing the same things I did in high school and college," he said. "I get the ball, play defense and score when I get the opportunity."

"There's a difference, of course. The guys here are so much bigger than the average college players. But when I was in college, two or three guys usually keyed on me to block me out (from under the basket). Here, I'm usually fighting one man."

In the NBA, fighting is the proper term.

"No one's tried to push me around," said Unseld, whose build has been likened to that of the United Nations building. "I can take it and I can give it. If a person finds he can push you around in this league, he will.

"There's no brotherly love out there. You have to fend for yourself."

Unseld, it can be reported, fends very well. But then, roughness never bothered him. It was always the little things.

"Getting used to the traveling and playing all the time have been my hardest adjustments," he said. "All this traveling is tough."

Most NBA people, including Bullets' coach Gene Shue, though Unseld would not assert himself as quickly as he has.

"Wes was an odd size and awful small to play the pivot," Shue recalled. "His speed was horrible but he had real good quickness. His shooting, I think, was questionable, too."

When the season began, however, Unseld — like Hayes — took the NBA and its veterans by the nose.

Wranglers Ice Dallas, Blazers Trip Tulsa

By United Press International

Danny Shock picked up a goal in each period Friday night to lead the Oklahoma City Blazers to a 3-5 Central Hockey League win over Tulsa.

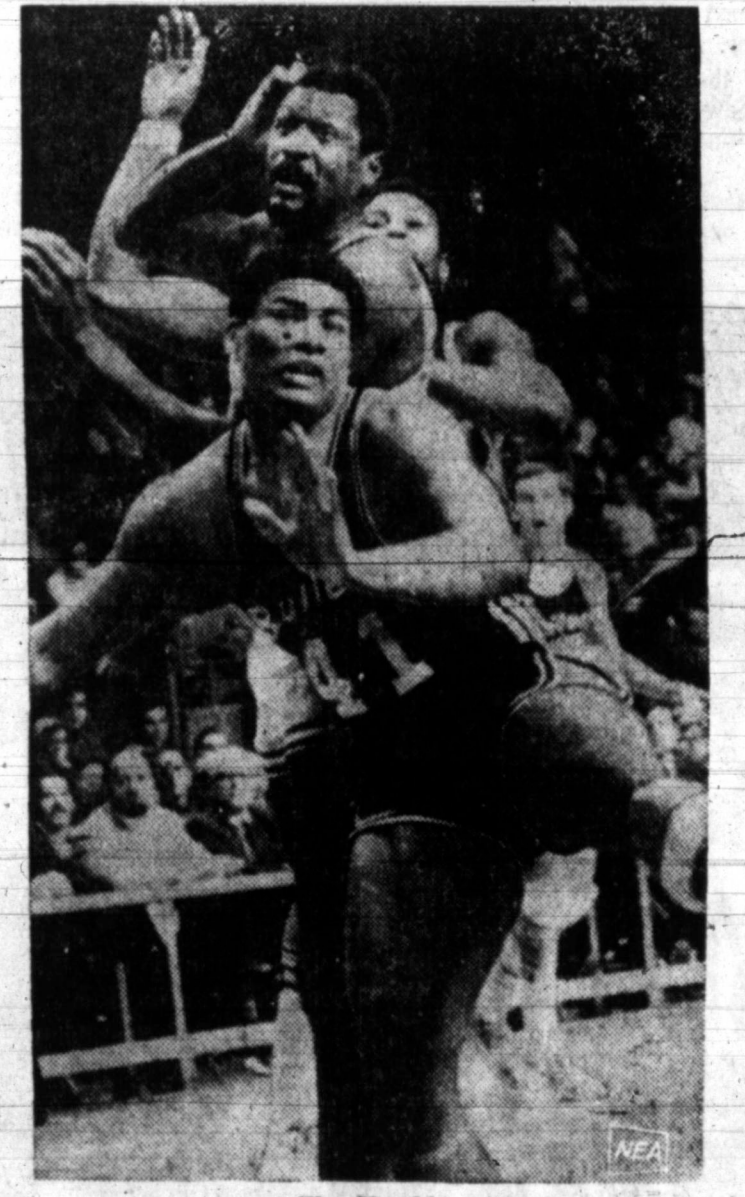

The Blazers made it look easy on home ice, scoring five goals in the first seven and one-half minutes of play. The Oilers tried to make a game out of it in the second period on scores by Mikey Byers and Gord Nelson, but the Blazer onslaught proved too much.

In other CHL action Friday night, Houston shut out the Omaha Knights 4-0 in Omaha, Amarillo beat Dallas 6-4 and Kansas City and Memphis battled to a 4-4 tie at Memphis.

Houston goalie had 28 saves to pick up his second shutout of the season. Al Johnstone saved 29 times for the Knights, but gave up four.

In Amarillo, Andre Gaudette and Dwight Carruthers each scored in the third period to break a 4-4 tie and hand the Wranglers the win over Dallas.

George Duibault led visiting Kansas City into the tie with Memphis by picking up two goals.

Beamon Hits 25 Foot Jump

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Long jump king Bob Beamon is finding it increasingly difficult to approach the effort which brought him the world record during the 1968 Olympics but sprinter John Carlos has no such problems.

Beamon, who may have put the mark out of reach when he leaped 29 feet, 2 1/2 inches in Mexico City, had to settle for a jump of 25 feet 3 1/2 inches, but it was good enough for a victory in the Washington Catholic Youth Organization indoor track and field meet. Beamon's jump beat Charlie Mays of New York who was second at 25 feet 2 inches and veteran Ralph Boston, third at 24 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

Carlos tied the world indoor mark in the 60-yard dash with a clocking of 5.9 seconds. The performances by the two Olympians were the best in a meet which attracted a top field of contestants from scattered parts of the nation.

Carlos, the former East Texas State star, tied the mark set by Bob Hayes in 1964. Wearing white socks instead of the black ones which brought him notoriety in the Mexico City Olympic games, Carlos finished a step ahead of Orville Harris of Norfolk State. Harris was clocked in 6.0 seconds. Mel Pender of the U.S. Army was third in 6.1 seconds.

Briscoe Wins Pair, Allison, Miami Divide

Briscoe bumped Mobeetie and Allison split a pair of games in Prep basketball action in the Panhandle area Friday night.

Briscoe girls jumped to a 29-15 lead and rolled to a 56-42 victory while the boys built up a 36-18 halftime cushion and won, 56-45.

Allison boys zoomed to a 50-18 halftime lead and outdistanced Miami, 83-50 while the Miami girls took a 34-43 decision.

Stengel Better After Surgery In California

GLENDALE, Calif. (UPI) — Venerable Casey Stengel, retired manager of the New York Yankees and Mets baseball teams, was reported showing satisfactory progress today after undergoing surgery for a perforated ulcer Friday.

The 78-year-old member of baseball's Hall of Fame was listed in critical condition at Memorial Hospital here after the surgery because of his age. Doctors, however, said he withstood the operation well.

A hospital spokesman said surgeons reported they were able to close the perforated peptic ulcer without any complication.

Stengel managed the Yankees to 10 pennants in 12 years and joined the Mets after his retirement by the Yankees. He was forced to retire again when he broke his hip and has been consultant for the Mets since then.

Super Bowl Due for State

DALLAS (UPI) — Clint Murchison, the owner of the Dallas Cowboys, says he will propose to the National and American Football League club owners in March that the annual Super Bowl game be alternated between Dallas and Houston domed stadiums starting in 1970.

By that time, Murchison hopes to have the new home of the Cowboys ready for occupancy in the suburban city of Irving and he thinks the game deserves to be played without the threat of bad weather.

Last Sunday's game (the Playoff Bowl) in Miami was played in the rain and mud," Murchison said, "and according to advance weather reports the (Super Bowl) game Sunday will probably be played in the same conditions."

The Prairie Wind

By CLEO TOM TERRY

Before hunting season we and brothers, with their neighbors, loved not just the singing in the thicket in our creek pasture. Since then, one time a little fellow waved his small white flag as he bounded away—only one. The turkeys have come back however. The sun glints along their curved shiny black backs as they feed—and always one watches. A lean coyote, getting low on rabbits and rats, slips through the edge of the thicket hoping for an unwary bird, but isn't likely to have much luck.

When I was a child, my mother used to tell of the young people going in buggies and backs to singing school after church and dinner on Sunday. The master taught shaped notes and my mother and her sisters

Texas at the time when it was the cattle tipping center of the world. Old time rodeo buffs will remember her as the person who trained the first "Square Dance on Horseback" team in the Panhandle. New comers may connect the name, Virginia Browder, with the "Saints Roost Saga" put on in Clarendon around the Fourth of July by the cowmen and women, the cowboys, and the townsfolk of that pioneer community. The LeRoy Johnsons have returned from their Christmas trip to Florida and to south and central Texas bringing with them their son Alvin and his new bride. Leonard and Rose Johnson and children drove over to the Sam Dunn Ranch to visit them Saturday, having not yet met their new sister-in-law. Jettie Hardcastle fixed one of her wonderful dinners for the C.E. Terrys, the Gordon Alexanders and Ernie Jones on Tuesday. The Hardcastles, Jettie and Wood, who lived on the DD Ranch on White Deer Creek for more than 20 years were neighbors of the Terrys and Joneses then. Gordon Alexander was an across-the-street neighbor of the Jones Family Memphis Texas 60 to 70 years ago. He and his brothers, and the Jones boys grew up together. Ernie Jones' father, L.F. Jones was sheriff of Hall County, Mr. Alexander, Gordon's father, was county clerk and the oldest Alexander boy, John, was deputy. In reminiscing with Gordon, Mr. Jones told Dean Allard, also of Silverton, "We played a lot of ball (baseball was what was always meant by "ball" then). Only the first baseman of the team had a glove and it was not a first baseman's glove but just an ordinary glove. I could catch anything Gordon could throw barehanded with either hand. And Gordon could throw pretty hard." Elsie Groninger, Sue Terry and Freda Brown were Amarillo visitors Tuesday. Going to see a cousin and her new baby, they also visited the sister of the cousin. ## Oil Firms Do Not See Market Electric Car

By BILL MULLINS
 United Press International
 All those consumers watching for an announcement any day now about an electric car on the market can relax for a while. Some oil firms and financial institutions with an interest in the matter have been studying the idea and they do not anticipate any widely marketable product of that sort in the near future. The Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, in a study of the total energy market, had little hope for the electric car through 1980. "The petroleum products do their work effectively and at low cost," the firm comments. "To displace them, another energy source would need to perform better at equal cost or as well at lower cost. "The electric powered vehicle, which has been suggested as a partial solution to the problem of air pollution, falls far short of meeting either test. "Moreover, it now appears highly probable that the contribution of the internal combustion engine to the overall problem of air pollution will be reduced to an insignificant amount, well before the end of the forecast period, by changes in design. Nor are other forms of transportation likely to be replacing the gasoline burning family car. Frank N. Ikard, president of the American Petroleum Institute, said the evidence shows the American people overwhelmingly prefer travel by car. J. Cordell Moore, assistant secretary of the interior for mineral resources, says the trend is so strong that 95 percent of the nation's total horsepower is moving up and down America's streets and highways. Motor vehicles account for 18 times the combined horsepower of all other prime movers, Moore said. This includes all of the nation's factories, mines, electric plants, railroads, aircraft and ships. But very little of this automotive horsepower is used for recreation. Chase Manhattan said four-fifths of the cumulative annual-mileage put on automobiles is for business or essential family use. The firm expects the use of automobiles to mushroom in the period between now and 1980 and predicts quick and vigorous resentment by the people of any effort to restrict their use of cars. It pointed to the mushrooming growth of shopping centers, the swift expansion of industrial parks and commercial strip cities as evidence of the population's preference for automobile travel. The number of drivers also is expected to increase rapidly, Chase Manhattan said. There were 110 million persons old enough to drive in 1950, but by 1965 there were an additional 24 million and another 35 million are forecast by 1980.

THE TIRE EXPERTS ASKED FOR:

"Looking at our results, it is easy to see why radial ply tires are so appealing. But the more we look, the more we feel that all the advantages are a result of the belt, which stabilizes the tread, and not the radial plies themselves. In fact, the areas where the radial tires show signs of weakness can be related to the radial plies, not the belt. We can't help but think that a combination tire—a cross ply with a belt—would be an admirable solution."

Panhandle Water District News

BY FELIX RYALS. On Tuesday of this week, eligible voters will be going to the polls to elect a director to the board of directors of the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District No. 3.

Fred Vanderburg is a candidate for re-election in director's precinct No. 4 covering the western portion of Gray County. The eastern boundary of director's precinct No. 4 begins two miles east of Pampa and runs from the Roberts County line north of Pampa to the Donley County line on the south. Vanderburg is currently serving as president of the board of directors for the Water Conservation District.

To be eligible to vote one must have a current voter registration and have real or personal property on the county tax rolls, and reside within the precinct.

The Texas Board of Water Development, before and after the release of the Texas Water Plan, has done an excellent job of reassuring Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri, Mississippi and Louisiana that the desire of Texas to secure surplus water from the Mississippi River would not endanger the future economic growth of those states.

Major General Robert MacDonnell, president of the Mississippi River Commission, in a recent speech before the Lower Mississippi Valley Flood Control Association, stated that a preliminary analysis indicates the Mississippi River to be the most feasible source of water for irrigation in West Texas and New Mexico.

The tone of General MacDonnell's speech indicated that he understands our predicament and is sympathetic to our needs. He went on to say that the water shortage problem is growing desperate in West Texas and New Mexico and that the Bureau of Reclamation estimates a business drop of more than half in the next fifty years if a supplemental supply of water is not provided.

Joe Carter, chairman of the Texas Water Rights Commission, was present during the unveiling of the Texas Water Plan on December 17. He announced that the next big step would be the public hearing before the Texas Water Rights Commission to determine whether the vested rights of current water owners are protected by the Texas Water Plan.

As now drawn, the Texas Water Plan calls for the water to be started west from the Mississippi River at a feasible point below New Orleans.

The water would move mostly by canal to the Sabine River which forms the boundary between Louisiana and Texas. The link-up between the Sabine and the streams to the north such that the plan, as drawn, could receive water from the Mississippi, either by canal on the lower Louisiana Coast or up the Red River or Cypress. This original movement of import water will not be backing a big uphill elevation problem.

The only probable big problem depends on the needs Louisiana comes up with in the extensive State Water Planning study now underway.

Once water crosses by canal from the Mississippi to the Sabine River (near Orange, Texas) the water can then gravitate down the Sabine River and on into the Coastal Canal or be pumped up the Sabine to reservoirs in Northeast Texas, where it will join the Trans-Texas Canal for movement to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

What the Texas Water Plan calls the "Eastern Division" are the pump-back and other facilities needed to move, by the year 2020, approximately eight and one-half million acre feet a year through the Trans-Texas Canal, and the four to million acre feet through the Coastal Canal.

Soil Conservationist Says U.S. Abuses Land Resources

DENVER (UPI) — Loris Trubschenck, director of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, said Tuesday the nation eventually would have to pay a price for the way it uses its land.

"This complete misuse of the land is going to catch up with us," the Grass Valley, Calif. conservation expert said. "It might happen in 50 years or 200 or with luck in 1,000 years. But it's going to catch up with us."

Trubschenck told delegates attending the annual meeting of the Colorado Association of Soil Conservation Districts that agriculture technology was present, keeping up with land losses.

"But there's no question but what we're sacrificing food quality for expansion and progress," he said.

Trubschenck said industrial and business expansion was taking valuable farm land and leaving less desirable ground for the raising of agricultural products.

"You go in a supermarket these days and buy fruits and vegetables, and you're buying what we used to throw away," he said. "We wouldn't even bother with harvesting it. Now we're eating it."

"Just because we've made mistakes in using land for 100 years is no reason to go on indefinitely making the same mistakes," Trubschenck said.

4-H Club News

By JEANNIE FORD, Asst. County Home Demonstration Agent and JESSE HOERMANN, Asst. County Agricultural Agent.

Now is the time to start thinking about demonstrations. The method demonstration is an important teaching tool in 4-H Club work. By giving demonstrations, 4-H Club members learn to do by doing. A demonstration is showing how to do something while telling what you are doing. Demonstrations are fun and provide an opportunity for the personal growth and development of 4-H Club members. They enable 4-H Club members to share experiences and information with others, and encourage participation by 4-H Club members in appearing before their local club members and other groups.

Demonstrations can be given on any subject that is of interest to the 4-H Club member. We will help each person who is interested in giving a demonstration in any way we can.

The Lucky Star 4-H Club held their monthly meeting Jan. 6. Mary Holman was installed as club president; Marva Rowan, vice-president; Delia Holman, secretary; and Jim Pepper as Council Delegate.

Gray County 4-H Council will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Agricultural Office Building to discuss plans for 1969. All council delegates and club presidents are urged to attend.

Plans have been made to an automotive and small engines project the first week in February.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY, County Agricultural Agent.

Compulsory Bangs testing of cattle has been a controversial question in Texas for many years. There are still many ranchers outspoken against the idea.

However, with well over ninety per cent of all counties in the nation having gone through the test, there is little doubt that the trend will be reversed.

The two above named organizations have constantly kept up the pressure on USDA to get them to make things rougher for more counties and states have delayed testing.

Many ranchers feel this is a problem that should concern only the individual rancher. But that is a highly debatable question.

In 1947 when a national program was launched to eradicate Bangs disease there were six thousand three hundred twenty-one cases of Bangs disease in man.

If 1966 there were only two hundred fifty-two cases reported in the nation.

Packing house workers accounted for one hundred one (46 percent) of the cases studied in 1966. Persons drinking raw milk accounted for nineteen of the cases studied.

Veterinarians accounted for several of the cases.

There is little doubt about the effectiveness of the program in reducing the incidence of undulant fever (Bang's disease in man). Undulant fever in man has dropped in direct proportion to the number of counties tested each year since 1947.

It is very doubtful if anyone

Nixon To Carefully Study New National Farm Policy

NEW YORK (UPI)—President-elect Richard M. Nixon will take his time developing a farm policy.

Clifford M. Hardin, the former University of Nebraska chancellor who will head Nixon's agricultural programs, said he did not expect the program to fully evolve before 1970 and only after months of scholarly research.

Hardin said he and his assistants would hold a series of meetings with farmers throughout the country to hear their problems "commodity by commodity and region by region."

The Nixon administration has time to conduct widespread hearings because the current farm omnibus bill covering most programs does not expire until 1970.

Hardin made his remarks at a news conference at which he announced his two top assistants—both of them farmers who do not receive federal subsidies.

It is no one's concern but the individual ranchers is about the same as pouring a heavy concentration of arsenic in a stream on one's place and the people down-stream.

REMEMBER THIS

If you work for a man, in Heaven's name, WORK for him. If he pays you wages which supply you bread and butter, work for him; speak well of him; stand by him and stand by the institution he represents. If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness. If you must vilify, condemn and eternally disparage... resign your position, and when you are outside, damn to your heart's content, but as long as you are a part of the institution, do not condemn it. If you do that, you are loosening the tendrils that are holding you to the institution, and at the first high wind that comes along, you will be uprooted and blown away, and probably will never know the reason why. — Elbert Hubbard

POLLY'S POINTERS Reader Advises Greater Care for Baby's Safety

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I just read a reader's suggestion for pinning a baby's pacifier, with a ribbon through the handle, to the baby's clothing. I advise against this as I think baby could choke to death. I recently read of such a case — baby was found dead in bed with the pacifier string wrapped around his neck. Usually the column gives me pleasure but not this one. I also want to warn mothers of the dangers of putting baby to bed with a bib tied around his neck. This could get twisted or caught.

—MRS. D. M.

DEAR MRS. D. M. — Thank you for your warning as we all like to exercise every care with baby. Our reader, Sharon, suggested this, especially when taking baby out and the pacifier might drop on the floor. A ribbon pinned to the front of a garment should not be long enough to go around baby's neck and only reach to the mouth but mothers will do well to heed your letter and NEVER do this or put it on a ribbon around the neck when baby is in his crib. Only when taking him out and when he will be under close supervision.

—POLLY

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — I am a Pointer fan who needs some Pointers on the easiest way to apply decorator burlap to wallpapered walls. I am sure some of the girls have done this and I hope to benefit from their experience.

—MRS. J. Q.

DEAR POLLY — I hope my remedy will help Marjorette remove the rust her baton left on her white uniform. Make a paste of table salt and lemon juice and rub on the stain. Use the lemon skin for rubbing it in. Place garment in the sun and the rust will vanish. I have used this many times. Of course, this mixture must be rinsed out, and then the garment washed or dry cleaned.

—MRS. G. J. M., Jr.

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer is for Marjorette whose baton left rust spots on her white uniform. Moisten the stain with oxalic solution (one tablespoon of the crystals to one cup of warm water). If this does not remove the stain, heat the solution and repeat. Or, the crystals might be put directly on the stain after it is moistened with water. Rinse article thoroughly after using. I find this safe for all fabrics except nylon but I would not use it on colors. Also experiment on an inconspicuous spot to see its effect on the material, just as a general precaution.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You once printed "A PARENT'S PRAYER" which had some wonderful advice in it for parents. I kept it for about five years and now I can't locate it, and I am just sick. If you know the piece I'm referring to, I beg you to print it again. Thank you.

LUCY ANN
DEAR LUCY: Thanks to a competent secretary I was able to dig it out. And here it is:

A PARENT'S PRAYER
O heavenly Father, make me a better parent. Teach me to understand my children, to listen patiently to what they have to say, and to answer all their questions kindly. Keep me from interrupting them or contradicting them. Make me as courteous to them as I would have them be to me. Forbid that I should ever laugh at their mistakes, or resort to shame or ridicule when they displease me. May I never punish them for my own selfish satisfaction or to show my power.

Let me not tempt my child to lie or steal. And guide me hour by hour that I may demonstrate by all I say and do that honesty produces happiness.

Reduce, I pray, the meanness in me. And when I am out of sorts, help me, O Lord, to hold my tongue.

May I ever be mindful that my children are children and I should not expect of them the judgment of adults.

Let me not rob them of the opportunity to wait on themselves and to make decisions.

Bless me with the bigness to grant them all their reasonable requests, and the courage to deny them privileges I know do them harm.

Make me fair and just and kind. And fit me, O Lord, to be loved and respected and imitated by my children.

AMEN.
DEAR ABBY: Why is it that mothers are so much stricter with their daughters than they are with their sons? My mother watches us girls like hawks, but she lets my brothers do just about anything they want. My friends tell me it's the same at their house. I think this is very unfair.

CINDY
DEAR CINDY: It all averages out. The fathers are usually stricter with the boys.

DEAR ABBY: There is a young couple in our church who have been married almost a year. Some of the folks are getting disgusted by the way they act in church.

She nibbles on his ear, and he kisses her neck. They aren't teen-agers. He is 33 and she is 24.

I am also newly married, but my husband and I show our affection in private.

Maybe if you say a word in your column it will help.

DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: Love is beautiful. But in church—no contact sports.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MIMI: Money isn't everything. Sometimes it isn't even enough.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

SUNDAY, JAN. 12

Your birthday today. Practical application is the key for your activities during the coming year. Everything you touch may well turn into a dividend. The art of getting along with people outside your community becomes important to success. Today's natives diversify, and usually possess much energy for their pursuit.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): You are tempted to overdo; take it easy. Loved ones are rooting for you while friends argue. Restrain your impatience; you'll be glad you did when you hear the end of the story.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Partnership or marriage matters are responsive to fine nuances. What you say and do become extremely important. The relationship may be worth more than control of any decision.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Bring your people out to help in the community. Changing activities back and forth isn't the answer. Meditate and rest. Opportunity tomorrow!

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Get out early, stay out and enjoy. Some half-for-gotten promise may be abruptly filled. Accept invitations for fun.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): This is a friendly, family sort of Sunday. Everybody has his own around him, and it's good to share with mate and younger people. Invite guests or find a lively party in the evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): In spite of the lighter-than-usual Sunday traffic, you tend to find the route hazardous or tangled. Allow enough time and enjoy a good talk with anybody going with you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Affection, love, respect are there for you (according to what you've been projecting). Make the day enjoyable, memorable. Bring young people into the evening doings.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Good news from distant places is likely. Offer or accept invitations freely. Get your favorite music going and share it with intimates.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): The urge is to rush to help a distressed friend before you have the whole picture. You overture early, then find out there is a lot more to do before you can quit.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Those who love you understand and make allowances. Those who don't can easily get wrong impressions. The evening becomes more peaceful and you can have some good fun.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your ideas follow yesterday's pattern. Let them ride along until another line of activity beckons. Physical sports and hobbies are easiest to overdo. Relax early.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Spend the day exploring. Everybody you know introduces you to somebody new if you charm your way along the chain.

MONDAY, JAN. 13

Your birthday Monday: Dramatic episodes add interest to the coming year. Your urges toward radical self-expression run into conflict. There is opportunity for you to study, particularly the occult. Monday natives are noted for their philosophic turn of mind, scholarly and mystical pursuits.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): The main problem this week will be keeping your information straight. Check all your facts before acting. Go right into the work this morning with gusto. Make plans tonight for the morrow.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): If you fail to report enough details, your work-mates do not get the whole picture. Aside from this, you can receive recognition. Expect belated acknowledgment of your help.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Think out your position quickly, settle on one decision or the other and stick to it through the day, at least for argument purposes. Be definite about what you say.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Now it's your sort of day again. Take advantage of any openings. Keep your own counsel about you aims, and keep up and move steadily.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): This is the time to begin setting some ideas. Just be sure you are doing as good a job of listening as you are selling. Help is volunteered on all sides, most of it with few or no strings; there will be more.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Creative endeavors are highly favored. If you will use your natural approach of being very specific about what you want and what you will give, you can handle the problems in representing your friends and neighbors quite well.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Stay alert and on balance Monday; an odd break is coming; you need to speed it quickly. Preventive maintenance, timely repairs, vigilance, pays off, either at home or on the job.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Every shortcut turns out to be the long way around. Everybody you care about disagrees. All this passes, with the help of the young in spirit, so hold on to your sense of humor.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Put on a bold front while actually playing it straight. Follow your own convictions without starting arguments about whose ideas you're using. This evening don't talk shop.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You are dealing with astute people today, so think what you are doing. Promote your interests, new contacts. Tonight make notes and review.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Avoid new deals Monday, particularly where the finer points are hazy. You have favorable backing which is not visible at the moment. Joint affairs tend to prosper.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): The day is full of gossip—don't butt in to confirm or deny; your reaction may be the purpose of the story. Put your talents front and center on the job. Considerable progress is promised.

Is Albumin In The Urine Significant?

Albumin may indicate a serious disturbance when it shows up in a urine analysis. Often, it may help to diagnose a kidney problem. It sometimes points to a kidney infection that could develop into a serious illness.

That is why it is so important for everyone to visit their physician for a health check-up at least once every year and preferably twice a year for senior citizens. An early diagnosis of an ailment usually leads to quick relief.

Oil Primer Urged
New western red cedar or red-wood siding that's to be painted rather than stained should be primed with an oil-base primer, even when the final finish is to be water-base paint. Oil-base primer will prevent the "bleeding" of the wood's pigment through to the top paint coat.

At the Montres de Bijoux, Switzerland's big watch and jewelry show, there were even mother of pearl dials. ### Wesleyans Study Southeast Asia Religious Beliefs

Wesleyan Service Guild met recently in the First Methodist Church parlor with the business meeting conducted by the guild president, Mrs. O. G. Smith. Mrs. Luther Kirk gave the meditation lesson on Southeast Asia, and said "the Christian religion is growing in these countries, but the need is great for more missionaries. Buddhism and Muslim are predominate in these areas. "More Christian churches are being built. The missionaries are using a different approach than they used to. They now start the churches and turn them over to the people. This seems to be a more successful plan," she said.

Flower Society Attends Dinner

Pampa Rose Society members met at Jim's Steak House recently for their annual December dinner. After dining, they attended a meeting in Mr. and Mrs. Dan Glaxner home. Mrs. Mary Weaver gave the program on a poem, "Could I have been in Bethlehem," and an article, "The Angels and the Atom," by G.H. Montgomery. Mrs. Holly Gray installed officers. Mrs. Glen Radcliff, president; Mrs. H.H. Boynton, vice president; Mrs. Dan Glaxner, secretary and treasurer and Mrs. Holly Gray, historian. The hostess, Mrs. Glaxner and co-hostess, Mrs. Milo Carlson, served refreshments to the 16 members and one guest attending.

Upsilon

Cotillion Members Discuss Activities For Antique Show

Twentieth Century Cotillion Club met in the home of Mrs. Jean Martindale, 1727 Fir, recently as Mrs. Lee Fraser, president, conducted a short business meeting.

Reports were heard from committee chairmen, as Mrs. Jim Alexander announced plans are started for the club's annual Antique Show and Sale which will be held this year April 11, 12 and 13 at the Coronado Inn.

Proceeds for the show go to the Opportunity Plan, Inc. Members discussed the Opportunity Plan — how it works and the opportunity it provides for students to further their education after high school.

Members visited recently on the West Texas State University campus with Milton Morris, founder of the Opportunity Plan, Inc., who introduced members and their guests to students from Pampa, Borger, Canadian, and other area cities who are attending WTSC on the plan.

The recent meeting here ended with a program, presented by Mrs. Jim Brown, entitled "The Happening of Becoming". Members participated by creating collages representing what "becoming" meant to them.

Couple Exchanges Nuptial Pledges

LEFORS (Spl)—Mr. and Mrs. Ben White, Lefors, announce the marriage of their daughter, Dolris Joy, to Dennis Paul Lambert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lambert of Convent, La.

The double-ring ceremony was performed Dec. 14, in the Lafayette-Hotel Chapel in Long Beach, Calif., with Dr. W.A. Marey officiating.

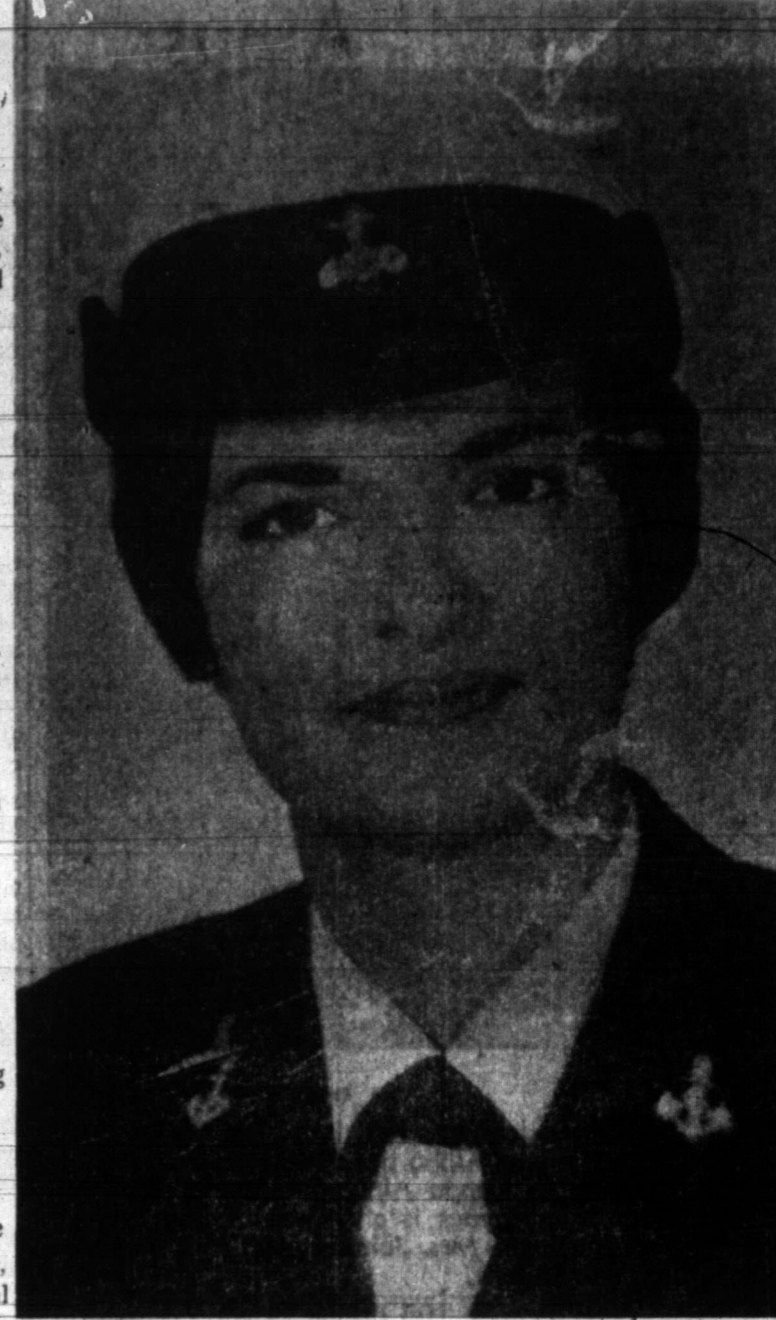

The bride chose for her wedding ensemble a white satin dress accented with lace, with boat neckline and cap sleeves. She wore a white carnation corsage.

Her maid of honor, Marie Postel of Los Angeles, Calif., wore a pastel green A-line dress with white and green corsage.

The bridegroom was attended by his best man James Duncan of Los Angeles. The couple are stationed with the Dentalman Naval Dental Clinic, Naval Station at Los Angeles, Calif. They live in an apartment at 637 Magnolia Street, Long Beach, Calif.

The bride graduated from Lefors schools and attended West Texas State University at Canyon one year before enlisting in the Navy, Aug. 9, 1967. She works as a dental nurse.

The bridegroom is a native of Convent, La., and is stationed on the USS James E. Keyes Destroyer in Long Beach.

Columnist Accepts Pampan's Ideas For Publication

For the second time, an 11-year-old Pampa girl has received recognition by a national columnist for her "made-up ideas." Brenda Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.J. Boyd, 128 N. Faulkner, has twice received a Polly Dollar for her Polly's Pointers ideas.

The first dollar was for ideas she submitted last summer, which were printed in December, 1968. Out of several suggestions included in her letter, two were printed on suggestions for crocheting wash cloth edges to make them last longer and using scraps of yarn to fill pillows.

Her latest suggestion was to "save empty kitchen and safety match boxes to make luggage for a doll. Measure and cut pieces of construction paper and glue all around the boxes. Cut a little strip and glue the top for a handle for this miniature suitcase," Brenda wrote.

The last suggestion is scheduled to be released in Polly's Pointers published by Newspaper Enterprise Association on Jan. 19.

"We think this is just grand, but Brenda doesn't think it's too unusual. She's real casual about it, as if she thinks getting an idea published in a national column is a routine matter," Mrs. Boyd said.

Tiny Tim Still Bewilders Many

By WILLIAM D. LAFFLER
NEW YORK (UPI)—Tiny Tim continues to bewilder those who regard him as something of an oddity who will soon disappear. His prominence might have been short-lived had Tiny Tim been compelled to depend on his long tresses, toothy grin and falsetto voice although it cannot be denied these three characteristics helped him considerably. It is possible that Tiny Tim will discard his visual trademark, that long hair-do, someday just as the Beatles changed their appearance to conform with their ascendancy into maturity. Now that he has become a star, Tiny Tim eventually may assume his own identity. Tiny Tim's greatest asset is his falsetto. It is not thin or sissified. He has a good tone in this upper register and he is able to inject into it a cheerfulness that gives it warmth. And Tiny Tim knows how to mix the falsetto effectively with his own natural voice, which is not a bad one. His fans should be delighted with "Tiny Tim's 2nd Album" (Reprise RS 6323). It is much better than his first record, even though it lacks a major standout such as "Tiptoe Through the Tulips."

Tiny Tim mixes up his bag in his latest effort, and the overall product is good entertainment from the beginning to the end. An oldie, "My Dreams are Getting Better All The Time," is a particularly good vehicle. The inside of the album contains pictures of Tiny Tim when he was plain old Herbert Khaury and looked like what used to be called a "drugstore cowboy."

The Family Lawyer

If Your Property Is Condemned
If the government wants your property for some public use, the government may take it. But when that happens, you are entitled — under the Constitution — to "just compensation" for the loss. Unhappily, your notion of "just" and the government's notion of "just" might be very different. When citizen and government can not get together on the price, what rules prevail? Almost always, the test applied by the law is "fair market value" — that is, the price your property would bring in a normal sale by a willing seller to a willing buyer. This leaves out elements of value that are strictly personal to you. Take this case: A home owner claimed several thousand dollars for some shade trees, located on a strip of his land condemned for a highway. Although the trees added little to the market value of the property, the man pointed out that he had given them tender loving care for more than 20 years. But the court denied compensation for this special value, saying: "The law simply does not allow compensation for such personal feelings." Nor can you collect for future values that can be seen only through rose-colored glasses. In one case the owner of raw acreage tried to show the court how valuable his land could be, some distant day, if it was subdivided and sold for home sites. However, the court would not listen. As one judge put it: "To permit such evidence would convert an eminent domain proceeding into a guessing contest. On the other hand, you are entitled to be paid for possibilities that are realistic — even if you yourself have not yet tried to realize those possibilities. Thus, a man owning land on a business street won compensation for its income potential, even though he himself had only a house on it. The court said the income potential was real enough so that a buyer would consider that element in making an offer. In short, the law seeks a fair balance between the government, hoping to cut expenses, and the property owner, hoping to hit the jackpot. In the words of the United States Supreme Court: "Compensation shall be just, not merely to the individual whose property is taken but to the public which is to pay for it."

Social Security taxes, as you probably already know, are up again this year. This year it's the rate; last year the percentage remained the same but the base amount of earnings from which taxes are extracted was increased.

Cost of Auto Accidents

It is probably impossible to measure the full extent of the economic benefits which the automobile has brought to this country. It is equally as impossible to measure its costs, particularly such intangible and elusive ones as those in the social and psychological realm.

EDITOR: What a pleasant surprise to see the Pampa High School Band and choir recently on TV during half-time of the Rams L.A.

I had just about forgotten about it when again they appeared in New York while we were watching the Jets versus Oakland. They were outstanding!

Pampa should be very proud of these young people. I graduated from Pampa High in 1946 and was a band member part of my high school days. Winston Savage was band director but later became principal by 1946. Pampa high has always had an outstanding music department and these band and choir members are upholding the tradition.

My husband is Director of Research here at Washington State University and we have six children. Four of them are band members and our senior son is student director of Pullman High band. I feel music plays a big part in school life.

My parents (Mr. & Mrs. J.E. Rose) still reside in Pampa and we visit as often as possible. Our last visit was in June of 1967.

EDITOR: It may be that 80 per cent of the people of the United States are ready for Communism. Before you get the oil to the boiling point, let us think together.

Citizens have had years to learn to love the fruit of the tree while pretending to scorn the root of the tree. Is there a start-wart among us, who if he were all powerful, that would have the courage to stamp out the practices of Communism in our own country.

First, you would be indignant that anyone would dare hint that you would forsake your belief in God to become a Communist. That, my friend is not necessary, at first. When the iron claw starts to play cat and mouse with you, then you would realize that any pretensions of religious or governmental freedom, that you thought you had, was a sham.

Sure, keep your belief in God, UNTIL you start to get carried away with it, as opposed to the good of the party, then remember the Czechs and others.

No-President could be elected for a second term if he went all out against Communism, already well instilled in our government and our society.

Our society as a whole has lost the power of righteous indignation. Remember, "To get along, GO along."

Everywhere, City Halls and State Capitols, they can see Communism in Russia, Cuba, but they can't see it in City Hall. Down close to home, it is just a helping hand from the "Federal Funds" to give a city a boost. A grant for a sewer plant, a help financially for a City Plan, taking money from thousands, deducting cost of "Administration" and returning what is left to a grateful public, waiting for the crumbs to fall from the table.

Many could agree that "there is some evil" in the system, but if everyone else is going to steal a horse, we might as well do it, too. Let's get our part.

As more and more "benefits" are granted, then we have less and less desire to see the benefits cut off. It is doubtful if the situation in which we live will be realized soon enough, and that people will arouse themselves soon enough, to reverse the oncoming Communist order, because, for too long, we will have loved the fruit of the tree, without realizing the evil of the root of the tree.

Wit and Whimsy

Among the English language's many puzzling words is "economy," which means the large size in soap flakes and the small-size in automobiles.

A Boston newspaper some 73 years ago reported: "Joshua Coppersmith has been arrested for trying to extort funds from ignorant and superstitious people by a device which he says will convey the human voice over wires. He calls the instrument a telephone."

Inside Washington

Four Southerners And Teddy — How Kennedy Won Job as Whip

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Senator Edward Kennedy owes his election as Democratic Whip to four southerners.

The four Dixie solons who made it possible for the 36-year-old New Englander to wrest the key party job from Senator Russell Long, La., are:

Senator J. William Fulbright, Ark., chairman of the prestigious Foreign Relations committee who supported young Kennedy in the secret ballot for two reasons — his opposition to the Vietnam war, disapproval of Long on personal grounds. Fulbright, leading congressional critic of the conflict, has angrily tangled with Long on this and other issues. Long has made no secret of his dislike of Fulbright, and the Arkansas returned the favor by voting against him in the secret ballot.

Senator Albert Gore, Tenn., member of the Foreign Relations Committee, who also backed Kennedy because of his opposition to the war, and personal aversion to Long. Gore, a member of the Finance Committee of which Long is chairman, has sharply clashed with him in the committee's deliberations and on other matters.

Senator Ralph Yarborough, Tex., militant liberal who has differed with Long on important economic and other legislation. While geographically they are from the same section, ideologically they have little in common. In the backstage politicking, Yarborough was one of the first to side with Kennedy.

Senator William Spong, rookie Virginian, a warm admirer of Kennedy's assassinated older brother, who has a high regard for "Teddy." Like Yarborough, Spong also is ideologically much closer to young Kennedy than to Long.

Up to 24 hours before the secret voting in the Democratic caucus, Kennedy had 27 firm commitments in his challenge of Long for whip. That was two short of the majority needed to win. In the final hours of the tense backstage maneuvering and electioneering, Kennedy secured the backing of the four southerners that enabled him to defeat his older and senior-ranking Louisiana rival.

JOHN GOLDSMITH

remained on warm personal terms with the Kennedys.

"MAC THE KNIFE" — Senator Long did get the backing of two Finance committee members who might have been expected to desert him for Kennedy.

They are Senators Vance Hartke, Ind., an ardent Kennedy partisan who boasts that the late Senator Robert Kennedy made the decision to throw his hat into the presidential ring in Hartke's office, and Eugene McCarthy, Minn., who lately has been saying he offered to throw his support to "Teddy" for the presidential nomination at the Chicago convention.

This McCarthy claim is spurious. That is not what happened. The poetry-spouting Minnesota "peacenik" has long harbored personal animus toward the Kennedys. In 1960, he put the late Adlai Stevenson in nomination against then-Senator John Kennedy. When "Bobby" threw his hat into the ring early last year after McCarthy made a strong showing in the new Hampshire primary, McCarthy was very bitter. When Bobby decisively defeated him in the Indiana and South Dakota primaries, McCarthy refused to send him the traditional congratulatory telegram.

At the Chicago convention, McCarthy indignantly rejected a proposal that he switch his faltering strength to "Teddy." Despite what McCarthy now says, the following is what actually happened — as reported at the time by this column:

"McCarthy's long privately-harbored grudge against the Kennedys) came harshly out into the open in an extraordinary encounter between him and Professor John Kenneth Galbraith in the final hectic hours that preceded the nominating balloting.

Galbraith, head of Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) and one of the prime movers in persuading McCarthy to seek the presidency as a "peacenik" candidate, came to him with a surprising proposition. What it amounted to was that McCarthy abandon his own laboriously nurtured but unavailing candidacy, take the convention rostrum and nominate Senator "Teddy" Kennedy.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANSTADT Positive Allergic Tests Clinch Asthma Diagnosis

A mother writes that her son, 3½, has had asthma since he was one. Tests show that he is allergic to house dust and dog dandruff. One doctor says his symptoms may be due to cystic fibrosis. This mother wants to know how to tell which diagnosis is right.

It's true that some confusion may arise from the fact that the coughing and wheezing of a child with cystic fibrosis may suggest asthma. Positive allergic tests would clinch the diagnosis. It is also true that, while most cases of cystic fibrosis are diagnosed in infancy, a few are not detected until later. One reliable test for cystic fibrosis is measurement of the salt content of the sweat, which is greatly elevated in this disease. It's, of course, possible for a child to have both diseases.

Q—My son, 9, has had asthmatic bronchitis for four years. About a year ago, the doctor started giving him desensitizing shots. His last tests showed that he is now more sensitive to house dust, wool and feathers than he was before he started taking the shots. Does this mean the shots have failed? Would a change of climate help him? A—Desensitizing injections do not help all asthmatics and apparently have not helped your son. Since house dust, wool and feathers are in no way related to location, a move would not solve your problem. Emotional factors are often involved in the

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES

"God led them not through the way of the land of the Philistines, although that was near. Lest peradventure the people repent when they see war, and they return to Egypt" (Exodus 13:17); God's people were out of the stubble fields and the clay pits of Egypt. To have taken them through a land such as that of the Philistines stuck with me through thick and thin. I can do no less for them. If I have to go down in defeat, as it appears I will, then we will all go down together. But I'm not throwing in the towel to help "Teddy." I wouldn't think of it.

And that's the way "Mac the Knife" (as McCarthy is known among his colleagues) lowered the boom on "Teddy." If also explains why McCarthy, the loudly vocal Minnesota liberal, voted for Long, the Louisiana conservative, for Senate whip.

God does not want you to take any short-cut that would shortcut your usefulness to Him. If you have already made the mistake of running ahead of the Lord, do not worry about it. Forget the things of the past. Ask the Lord to forgive you for rushing ahead of His time and purpose, and pledge yourself to do your best from now on to follow His will.

Someone asked Mr. Edison, "Are you not discouraged by all the unsuccessful experiments you have made?" Mr. Edison answered, "I think this is the forty thousandth line of experimentation that has not worked. But I am not discouraged. I consider the time well spent. The next time perhaps it will work." AND IT DID! May the Lord keep us from the sin of impatience, from the desire to achieve ahead of His time.

WASHINGTON:

Instant Control Nixon Aim For Dealing With Crises

By RAY CROMLEY WASHINGTON (NEA) — President-elect Nixon's men are already wrestling with what may be the thorniest two problems of the new administration:

1—How to set up things so that in a Cuban missile crisis, Czech invasion, Pueblo capture or equivalent domestic emergency, President Nixon can take instant personal command more quickly and effectively than has been possible in the past, drawing the reins from the Pentagon, the State Department and all other agencies concerned.

This requires a means for feeding all information and analysis to the White House more quickly. It means grouping all "experts" on tap immediately. It requires having the White House staff, the cabinet officers, intelligence agencies and all other persons or groups closely concerned with the problem "at" or in instant working contact with the White House and each other, (sometimes within minutes).

It requires also that arrangements be made so that the work of government goes on while this emergency system is working. These special arrangements may have to operate efficiently for days or weeks.

Difficult as this how-to-deal-with-a-crisis problem is, it is "easy" in comparison with the second thorny problem Nixon's administration faces:

2—How to set up this crisis organization in such a way that the President can quickly loosen the reins when the immediate crisis is over, allowing the departments and agencies concerned to take over again under the general direction of the President.

This is the problem that is now causing no end of "brain thumping" among Nixon's closest advisers.

The gradual centralization of personal-day-to-day control in the White House has been going on for almost two decades. It was speeded up immensely in the John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson administrations. Under asthmatic attacks of children. These should be looked into by a child psychologist. Meanwhile, there are many remedies your doctor can prescribe to control the asthmatic attacks.

Q—My son, 9, is allergic to bee stings. He was given desensitizing shots for a year but when he was stung again he had to be admitted to the hospital. Should he continue to take the shots? If so, how often and for how long? A—in the usual course of this type of immunizing injection, the shots are given once or twice a week and the interval is gradually increased to once a month or longer. But they are never completely discontinued. The most important measure, however, is to avoid flower beds and other haunts favored by bees. When traveling where he might be stung, your son should carry an epinephrine aerosol to inhale if no adult is available to give him an injection of this drug. Ice packs over the sting will slow the absorption of the venom and relieve the pain.

President Johnson especially, a great many of the day-to-day problems have been handled in the White House that in another era would have been handled by the Pentagon or the State Department — or by subordinates in the field.

Of late, that is, the staff at the White House has assumed very great importance indeed. But this overconcentration in the White House has caused the same degree of inefficiency that would result if the head of General Motors, Westinghouse or General Electric were to attempt to run his vast concern directly from his private office with his personal "kitchen" cabinet.

Agreement is rather general that for day-in-and-day-out actions, this centralization trend will have to be reversed. But there is also a strong belief among the men working on the problem that the centralization in time of crisis must be gotten into gear more quickly and efficiently than in the past and gotten out of gear again with greater dispatch when the crisis has settled down.

Dependency Often Causes Tax Woes

EDITOR'S NOTE: It is time to think about the income tax again. This is Chapter Four of a series reviewing the regulations, with emphasis on taking advantage of all exclusions and deductions legally due you.

By RAY DE CRANE
NEA Publications

Most people are aware of the added $600 exemption credit they receive when they turn 65 and another exemption credit allowed for blindness and of the $600 credit for each dependent. But it seems there is at least one special case in every family that raises serious questions and oftentimes results in later questioning by Internal Revenue and a request for a greater tax payment.

Here are typical "special situations" that have a way of popping up in almost everyone's return at some time:

A dependent daughter was married in the latter part of 1968. Can she be claimed as a dependent by her parents who supported her for perhaps 11 months of the year?

A son or daughter graduated in June and started to work. Can the parents claim the graduate as a dependent since they paid total support for the first six months and partial support thereafter? And what if the new worker makes no contributions to the parents' expenses after graduation?

What about an elderly parent who lives in your home and receives Social Security? Can the parent be classified as a dependent? "You know they can't get along on their small pension and need help from us," is the usual complaint.

What happens when a dependent dies during the year? May he be claimed on your return? And what effect does the birth of a baby toward the end of the year have on your return?

The last question is the simplest of all, so will be answered immediately. In the event of death the status is determined by the status existing at the time of death. If at death the party was a dependent of yours, you get the full year's credit. A baby born any time during the year — even on New Year's Eve, entitles the parents to a full year's dependency credit.

The daughter who married in the last part of 1968 is entitled to file a joint return with her new husband. If they file a joint return or if she is listed as an exemption on her husband's return you are out of luck. But if the new son-in-law files a separate return and does not list his wife as an exemption you can claim her as a dependent on your return if she meets the qualifications of a dependent.

The chief stumbling blocks to claiming dependents are the requirements that you furnish the chief support (more than 50 percent) and that the claimed dependent have less than $600 gross income. While the income limitation is waived for your children under 19 and those older if they were a full-time student for at least some part of each of five months during 1968, the chief support requirement remains.

That explanation invariably produces this immediate question: "Just how much can my student son or daughter safely earn and still permit me to claim him as a dependent?"

There is no uniform answer. The important thing that must be determined is the cost of total support for the child in 1968. Having established that, it is relatively easy to determine whose funds supplied more than half of that total support.

The fact that the student may have contributed little or nothing at home is unimportant in this determination. Whatever the student spent on his own determines his contribution toward his support, even though the money may have been spent frivolously.

The same reasoning is followed on the question of claiming a parent for a dependent. Only in this case there are no exceptions to the limitation of less than $600 gross income.

Again, the fact that the parent living in your home contributes little or nothing toward your household expenses is not the important consideration. Whatever the parent spends in his or her behalf must be more than offset by contributions out of your funds before the parent entitles you to a dependency credit.

Next: Deducting sick pay.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—During the Apollo 8 mission, one of the astronauts spoke poetically of the "eternal loneliness" of the moon.

As a card-carrying member of the "Man-Will-Never-Fly Society," I felt that same sense of isolation Thursday while the Apollo crew was being honored at a joint session of Congress.

The astronauts were a smash hit, receiving about a dozen standing ovations. After the ceremony I telephoned an official of the society at our headquarters in Kitty Hawk, N.C., and gave him the bad news.

"Those astronauts really socked it to us," I said. "What do we do now?"

"Demand equal time," he advised.

The damage has already been done, however. Even if we managed to get the law givers back together to hear our side I doubt we could restore their faith in man's inability to fly.

As a result, we face the same sort of morale problem that has undermined the "Flat Earth Society." That group was hit by wholesale resignations after the publication of photographs taken by the astronauts.

The photos, ostensibly depicting the earth as seen from the moon, showed a greenish globular object. Many die-hard accepted them as proof that the earth was round.

Actually, of course, the photos didn't prove anything. A lot of greenish globs usually show up in the snapshots I take, too.

Nevertheless it appears that the never-fly society, despite its brilliant success in debunking the Wright-brothers myth, is on the brink of collapse.

Insofar as the society is concerned, the only comfort I could find in the astronauts' appearance before Congress was James A. Lovell Jr.

One evening after his return to earth, he said, he looked up at the moon and "could hardly believe that I was there."

Eventually, perhaps, the astronauts will perform some feat that is so incredible nobody will be able to believe it. Including the astronauts.

If so, the society may be able to rebuild its shattered forces. Meanwhile, poor losers that we are, there is nothing much we never-flyers can do but sulk and seek solace in our motto.

Our motto is: "Birds fly; man drinks." That latter part, fortunately, is still valid.

Quirks In The News

By United Press International
MUNICH, Germany — U.S. Army Sgt. Wesley A. Williams, testifying that he routinely beat prisoners in a stockade built on the site of Dachau, the Nazi concentration camp.

"It was part of my on-the-job training... the sergeant supervisors showed me how."

NEW YORK—Governor Nelson Rockefeller, looking on as 2,500 banquet guests in search of autographs flooded to a table occupied by the three Apollo 8 astronauts: "This started as a state dinner but turned out to be a love-in."

SPACE CENTER, Houston—Astronaut Michael Collins, chosen to help pilot the Apollo 11 spacecraft to the moon, expressing distaste for the possibility that he would not be allowed to land: "It would be the equivalent of Columbus sailing within 60 miles of the coast of the new world and then turning back toward Queen Isabella and going home."

North Carolina is one of the original 13 states and the 12th to ratify the Constitution.
