Guerrillas Vow Liberation War

By United Press International
An Arab guerrilla leader today vowed to mount a "war of liberation" throughout Israeli-occupied territory.
In Cairo, Yasser Arafat told newsmen he would "escalate the Palestinian armed revolution in all parts of occupied Palestine to become a popular war of liberation."
He spoke following his election Monday night as chairman of the executive committee of the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), a combine of guerrilla bands and groups of Arab refugees from Israeli-held territory.

Only Solution

Arafat said armed force is their only solution. He ruled out "all political solutions." He is a leader of the fanatic E. Fatah guerrilla band.

In Amman, Jordanian authorities Monday accused Israel of sending two helicopters and gunships backed by jet fighters into the area and strafing a civilian settlement, killing two women. According to Jordanian and Iraqi spokesmen it was the fourth Israeli air incursion and strike of the day into Jordan. Both Jordan and Iraq, which keeps some 10,000 troops in Jordan, claimed downing two Israeli aircraft.

In Jerusalem, Israeli spokesmen denied their craft did any raiding Monday except for hitting Jordanian guns that popped at an Israeli patrol on the west bank of the Jordan. The Israelis reported no air losses.

Other Developments

In other Middle East developments:

—Israeli officials said an Arab terrorist grenade killed two Arab boys and wounded eight other bystanders in Israeli-occupied Gaza. The blast came shortly after Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan ended a tour of the city.

—In Cairo, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad appealed Monday to U.N. Secretary General Thant to "put an end to Israeli barbaric acts" against demonstrators in Gaza. He also told his parliament Egyptian President Gamal A. Nasser reached "very important" decisions the past week in (See WAR, Page 3)

Area Residents To Discuss Farm And Ranch Group

Possible formation of a Farm and Ranch Council under auspices of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will be considered at a Feb. 11 luncheon meeting of interested persons of Pampa and the rural area, according to Bill Tidwell, incoming Agriculture and Livestock Committee chairman.

Clyde L. Carruth, current chairman, is cooperating with the project.

The meeting will be at First Methodist Church. John McHaney, extension economist at Texas A&M University, will be the chief speaker, stressing importance of close rapport between agriculture and the business community. A question period will follow the address, Tidwell said.

Such programs as watershed dam location, feedlots and individual farm tours will be described, as well as a possible Farm and Ranch Day for the city and area.
Cost of the luncheon will be $1.50, Tidwell noted.

Conflicting Testimony Given in Mutiny Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Three Army Military Police officers gave conflicting testimony Monday concerning events which led to charges of mutiny against 27 soldiers for holding a sitdown strike at the Presidio Stockade.

The testimony came as the army opened its case in the court martial of Pvt. Lawrence W. Reidel, 20, Crescent City, Calif., and Louis S. Oszcepniski, 21, Florida, N.Y. They are the first of the 27 defendants to be tried.

Capt. Robert S. Lamont, correctional officer for the stockade, testified his mind was "focused on mutiny" when the protest occurred last Oct. 14.

However, he denied he was "setting up a mutiny" by reading Article 94 to the prisoners, having photographers shoot the group from all angles, drawing up military police troops in the area and stationing another officer at the opposite side of the group to signal that Lamont's voice was audible.

Lamont said he went to the stockade on the morning of the sit-down strike but was unable to read Article 94, the description of mutiny, to the group because the soldiers were singing and chanting "We Shall Overcome." "We want (attorney Terence) Hallinan," and "We want the press."

The captain said he left the stockade and read the article from the Uniform Code of Military Justice over a loudspeaker mounted on an MP automobile. Lamont said he then refused to obey it.

Lamont said he had read the mutiny article to stockade prisoners several days earlier when Pvt. Richard Bunch, 19, of Dayton, Ohio, was shot to death during an escape attempt.

The 27 defendants, all white and some veterans of Vietnam, said they held the sit-down strike to protest the fatal shooting of Bunch as well as what they called "unsanitary" stockade facilities.

Defense attorneys Capt. Branden Sullivan and Capt. Joseph Choate asked Lamont if he were "setting up a mutiny" by making all the preparations. He replied, "I don't think so."

Shaw, 35, former managing director of the International Trade Mart, is charged with conspiring with Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie in Ferrie's apartment in September, 1963, to murder President John F. Kennedy.

The first alternate juror, John J. Bellman, 26, a foreman in a microfilm manufacturing firm, was chosen Monday.

Nixon, National Security Council Discuss Mideast

CALLING A BLUFF? — The world's biggest poker table is what the gagsters are calling the massive round table the delegations to the Vietnam peace talks in Paris finally agreed to sit down around. Facing the camera is U.S. delegation head, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. Talks are slowing down again as the Communists announced they are waiting for concessions from South Vietnam.

Consider Participation For Peace Conference

By EUGENE V. RISHIER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon met again today with his National Security Council for further discussion of the potentially explosive Middle East situation.

It was Nixon's fifth session with the panel of top diplomatic, military and intelligence advisors since he took office, and the second in four days dealing with the Arab-Israeli crisis.

The chief executive called this latest session to unfold and discuss his plans for U.S. participation in a possible four-power peace conference on the Mideast within the United Nations.

In Paris, meantime, Western diplomatic sources reported that the President will arrive in Paris in early March for talks with President Charles de Gaulle, who shares Nixon's deep concern about the Middle East. Paris will be the first stop on Nixon's forthcoming tour of Europe, the sources said.

As for the President's plans for dealing with the Mideast crisis, it appeared likely he would spell them out at his second presidential news conference Thursday morning.

Even with the Mideast problem hanging heavy over the early days of his administration, Nixon tentatively plans a (See NIXON, Page 3)

CHICAGO (UPI)—Protesting University of Chicago students receiving little official reaction to their six-day occupation of the Administration Building, plan to interrupt sociology classes today to present their case.

The protesters pointed out, however, no effort would be made to force sociology students to listen to them and normal activity in the five-story Social Science Building two blocks from the Administration Building would not be interrupted.

The protesters repeated their vow to occupy the Administration Building until the university grants concessions to their demands. About 300 students have occupied the building. To date, the university has publicly ignored the protesters' activity.

At Michigan State University, officials chose not to ignore an attempt by 600 students to occupy two floors of the Administration Building. They called in state, East Lansing and campus police.

Although the riot-ready police were never called into action, the MSU students decided to end their protest and leave at closing time, 2½ hours after they entered the building.

At issue on each campus was a dissident student demand that a controversial instructor fired by the university be rehired.

At MSU, the students wanted rehired psychology Prof. Bertram Garskof, whose policy of letting students grade themselves was liked by undergraduates but frowned upon by fellow faculty.

At the 8,600 student University of Chicago, the issue that sparked the six-day occupation of the Administration Building and today's action was the firing of Mrs. Marlene Dixon, radical associate professor of sociology who espoused leftist views.

Borman said he hoped the space program would not be used for defense purposes. Borman and his wife are scheduled to leave Wednesday for Paris. Their tour will take them to Belgium, the Netherlands, West Germany, Italy, Spain and Portugal during the next 17 days.

Bombers Blast Red Base Camp, Kill 200 Soldiers

SAIGON (UPI)—American B52 bombers dropping 750-pound bombs from an altitude of 30,000 feet blasted a Communist jungle base camp and killed 200 North Vietnamese soldiers, military spokesmen said today.

South Vietnamese troops explored the ruins of the camp in South Vietnam's Central Highlands 235 miles northeast of Saigon Monday and found the dead, who wore green jungle fatigues, the spokesmen said.

Direct hits from the bombs also destroyed 10 barracks structures, a network of bunkers and a food storage depot.

In Saigon, the U.S. Command announced the close of three extensive military operations in central South Vietnam. The campaigns occurred over a 16-month period and resulted in more than 7,000 Communist troops killed, spokesmen said.

The spokesmen said U.S. losses in the long-term operations were 1,096 killed and 5,312 wounded.

American officers also reported the loss of the 999th American helicopter shot down by Communist forces in South Vietnam. Groundfire downed the UH1 Army helicopter Sunday in the Mekong Delta about 75 miles south of Saigon. (See BOMBERS, Page 3)

Communists Seek Concessions From South Vietnam Diplomats

PARIS (UPI)—Communist negotiators have decided to wait for concrete offers of "concessions" from South Vietnam before making any move to break the current deadlock at the Vietnam peace talks, Western diplomats said today.

The diplomats said North Vietnam and the Viet Cong would make no move to break the impasse over whether military or political issues will be discussed first at the talks until they found out exactly what sort of concessions the South Vietnamese had in mind.

South Vietnamese Vice President-Nguyen Cao Ky made the offer of "more concessions" without specifying what he had in mind, when he called once again for private bilateral talks with North Vietnam at a news conference Monday.

Ky, who had just come from an hour-long conference with American delegation chief Henry Cabot Lodge, emphasized that he was only prepared to discuss military matters in the private talks.

In doing so he ruled out the biggest concession that the Communists have sought—that political questions relating to South Vietnam should be solved before the military problems.

Another development that was expected to hold up progress in the two-week-old talks was the impending visit of President Nixon to Europe.

French government sources said the President would make Paris the first stop on his itinerary.

The Communist negotiators, who have maintained all along that there can be no solution except on the basis of their five-point declaration of last November, may wait to see if the presidential visit will bring any new concessions.

Frank Borman Touring Europe

LONDON (UPI)—Col. Frank Borman, commander of the Apollo 8 moonship, today carried American goodwill from No. 10 Downing St. to Buckingham Palace on the second day of his 19-day tour of Europe as President Nixon's special envoy.

The U.S. astronaut was calling on Prime Minister Harold Wilson at his official Downing Street residence in the afternoon and was being received by Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace in the early evening.

Interviewed by the British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) Monday night, Borman said permanent space stations would be manned by scientists "much as we have manned research stations in the Antarctic."

Borman said he hoped the space program would not be used for defense purposes. Borman and his wife are scheduled to leave Wednesday for Paris. Their tour will take them to Belgium, the Netherlands, West Germany, Italy, Spain and Portugal during the next 17 days.

Militant Pickets Attempt To Overload TEC Officials

MALLEN, Tex. (UPI)—Militant Mexican-American demonstrators kept the picket lines moving Monday in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, but action designed to overload the staff of the Texas Employment Commission at MalLEN in an illustration of job need caused little deviation from normal office routine.

About 35 demonstrators turned out at the employment office under the leadership of Reynaldo de la Cruz, recently elected president of "Colonias del Valle"—the Federation of Migrant Farm Villages from Rio Grande City to Brownsville.

They carried picket signs spelling out charges of apathy toward the poor and alleged TEC favor of "green card workers" from Mexico, and all of them entered the office to apply for work.

Quickly Processed/All were quickly processed, and the orderly demonstration broke up shortly after the last job application was signed. Richard Stolle, manager of the MalLEN office, said the influx of demonstrators "didn't increase our normal Monday work load one iota."

"We always have a heavy day on Monday," said Stolle. "Many of those people already had applications pending. I do not think we took more than 15 new applications from the whole bunch."

De la Cruz, who joined his followers in applying for work, has charged that the employment commission has put out "false and misleading" figures on the unemployment rate in the Valley. He also charged the commission "has not gone out among the people to ascertain how many people are unemployed."

Ruling Outlaws Advertising For Employes by Sex

WASHINGTON (UPI)—From now on, unless you need something like a go-go dancer or a football tackle, you will be violating the law if you advertise for employes by sex.

The U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission printed new guidelines Monday which prohibit the placement of job openings under separate male and female headings except in rare cases where sex is a definite qualification for the position.

The order, according to the commission, is retroactive to Jan. 24 when the U.S. Court of Appeals in the District of Columbia ruled the guidelines constitutional.

WITNESS UPSET

GRAZ, Austria (UPI)—Marek Sledzik, 73, blanching when he came face to face Monday with Alfred Lusser, accused of murdering Jews in a Nazi World War II concentration camp.

"Let me out of here!" he said. "Lusser is here in the room and when I see him I see dead bodies!"

Sledzik testified Lusser helped shoot 20 patients in a Jewish hospital.

Sirhan Expected To Break Silence

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sirhan B. Sirhan, who has uttered only two complete sentences in public since he was arrested for the murder of Robert F. Kennedy, was certain to break his long silence today.

He was called to testify in support of a defense effort to throw out the indictment against him on grounds the grand jury which returned it was unconstitutional.

The defendant and his mother, Mary, 56, were scheduled to give only limited testimony—restricted to the poor financial status of their immigrant family.

Chief defense counsel Grant Cooper told Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker before a long weekend recess last Thursday that the grand jury which indicted the Palestinian Arab was composed of higher income persons and was in fact discriminating against Sirhan.

This, he contended, was an unconstitutionally selected jury because it did not represent a broad cross-section of the people.

On Monday, ironically, Sirhan was sued for $1,050,000 by Irwin Stroll, 17, one of five persons wounded June 5 in the Ambassador Hotel where Sen. Kennedy was fatally shot.

Stroll, a Kennedy supporter, was hit in the leg by a bullet.

DIDN'T GET OKAY

CORONADO, Calif. (UPI)—The U.S. Navy Command in the Pacific drew up plans for a raid to free the crew of the Pueblo from North Korean captivity, but it never received a go-ahead from high up.

The Navy also was prepared to destroy the intelligence ship in the Communist port of Wonsan after its capture but there was no green light on that either.

Such were the highlights Monday of another dramatic day of testimony before a five-admiral court of inquiry.

450 Boy Scouts To Participate In Annual Exposition

About 450 Boy Scouts from the Walls Council will participate in the annual Scouting Exposition from 2 to 8 p.m. Saturday at the National Guard Armory, according to Bill Walker, Santa Fe District Scout executive for the Pampa area.

The council includes three counties, Gray, Roberts and Carson, with 13 Cub Scout units, 17 Scout troops and four Explorer units.

Cub Scouts will demonstrate younger scouting activities, such as building bird houses and showing Indian dance themes," Walker said. "Scout troops will have a variety of booths from communications to survival techniques and will present activities on first aid and pioneering."

Scouts are planning 18 booths for the 1968 show and are selling about 6,000 tickets this week. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

Tickets are 50 cents each. Anyone under eight years old is admitted free. Tom Gray, Santa Fe District activities chairman, said.

Committee members assisting with the show are W.O. Rucker, Bill Felter and the district committee, who will serve as judges and safety personnel.

For this third annual scout exposition, judges will award ribbons for the best booths. Judging is based on how well the booth meets scouting standards in its display and activity, Gray said.

The district commissioner staff will operate a concession booth Saturday. The Scout Exposition will start activities for Boy Scout Week, which is scheduled Feb. 9-15. Saturday is the 59th anniversary of Scouting in the United States, he said.

Girl Scout Leaders Slate Art Workshop

Badge requirements relating to the arts will highlight the ceramics, cookies and crafts workshop for Girl Scout leaders from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Pampa Little House, 718 E. Kingsmill.

Volunteer instructors will be Mrs. R.H. Nensiel and Mrs. Fred Sloan, members of Pampa's Paint, Pot and Piddle Club.

Demonstration and participation will be stressed. Mrs. Nensiel will demonstrate the coil method in pottery formation. Mrs. Sloan will give instruction in sculpture in the round and tile making. Although geared to badge requirements on Junior and Cadette levels, the course is open to all leaders.

Price Announces Nominations For U.S. Academies

Congressman Bob Price announced in Washington today the names of 52 Panhandle youths, including four from Pampa and one each from Wheeler and Lefors, who received his nomination for appointment to the US Military, Naval and Air Force Academies.

The students made application for the nominations and were chosen on the basis of Civil Service Test Scores, high school academic records, athletic participation, and extracurricular activities.

Congressman Price stated he made the nominations on an equally competing basis. Actual appointments would be announced later in the spring after the young men have been given physical examinations and College Board grades are known.

Price's nominees for the four vacancies at the US Military Academy, West Point, New York are Steven Ross Burleson, Littlefield; Stephen Van Cole, Amarillo; Wayne Sinner, Dalmier; Amarillo; Elisha Lonnell Demerson, Amarillo; Eliza Bonnell Damerson, Amarillo; Billy John Ford, Sudan.

Jeffrey Don Morris, Pampa; James Byron O'Connor, Amarillo; Nicholas Ray Patterson, Abertnath; James Brian Rains, Amarillo; Johnny Michael Ranev, Muleshoe; Jimmie Lynn Reeves, Abertnath; Kenneth J. Self, Amarillo; William Dwight Smith, Panhandle, and Arnold Jay Underwood, Booker.

The congressman nominated 17 young men for the two vacancies at the US Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland. They are John Grant Bundy, Amarillo; William Douglas Chappell, Memphis; Fred Ellis Cozy, Dalhart; Joseph Deck Cox Jr., Amarillo; Eddy Dean Hopkins, Pampa; Robert Earl Maples, Lefors.

Danny Burton Hogsett, a junior math major at the University of Texas at Arlington, was named to the honor roll for the past semester with four A's and one C. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Derrel B. Hogsett, 2356 Aspen Drive.

Nixon (Continued From Page 1) weekend trip to Florida Friday. Nixon continued making the rounds of various federal agencies for get-acquainted sessions Monday. He dropped in on the Department of Housing and Urban Development and told HUD's top officials they must "maintain the character of American life in our cities."

HUD Secretary George Romney praised Nixon for "being a president with a deeper concern for urban problems than any president in history."

In a stop at the Agriculture Department Nixon said he had given Secretary Clifford M. Hardin a special responsibility to try to eliminate hunger and malnutrition in America.

He said he realized the department still had the "primary responsibility" for protecting the welfare of farmers. He called farm surpluses "a great bounty because we can deal effectively with hunger."

The planned Florida trip to Nixon's compound "at Key Biscayne, was to begin on Friday afternoon and end Sunday evening or early Monday. Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's national security adviser, was to accompany him on the trip to discuss foreign policy.

It will be Nixon's first break from work since he entered the White House.

Mrs. Nensiel has led a troop from Brownies through Senior Scouting. A former president of Quivira Council, she has served Scouting in many different capacities and has taken several art courses.

An art teacher for 10 years in Oklahoma City schools, Mrs. Sloan has taught several art courses in Pampa. She is a graduate of Oklahoma City University and studied for her master's degree at Columbia University, New York City. Until recently she was head of the visual arts division of Pampa's Fine Arts Association. Later in February, she has scheduled classes in batik, the art of designing and dying textiles.

The second portion of the course, the art of cookie salesmanship, will be taught by Mrs. Fannie Oxley, sales consultant for National Sales and Service. Creative use of cookie cartons for crafts will highlight her instruction.

A list of materials to bring to the course is available at the Girl Scout office. Students are asked to bring a salad for the luncheon and a craft to display.

THC Approves Road Projects
Two new projects have been approved by the Texas Highway Commission, both in Gray County, according to Charles W. Smith, Amarillo, district engineer.

In Pampa US Highway 70 to 0.4 miles east of the city limits, a distance of 2.1 miles, will be reconstructed to a modern curb and gutter municipal section. Estimated cost is $416,000.

Right of way from Farm to Market Road 2477 to US Highway 66, a distance of 4.7 miles, will be purchased at an estimated cost of $18,000.

Four Persons Fined For Check Charges
Four persons were fined $1 and $35 court costs by Gray County Judge Sherman Lenning, Jr. Monday on charges of swindling with worthless checks.

Fined was Joe Castognetta, Sherman K. Phillips, Mrs. J.C. Schoonover and Mrs. Phillip Hutchinson, all of Pampa.

Two DWI Bonds Set
A Canadian man and one from Pampa had bonds set in Justice of Peace E. L. Anderson's court Monday, both on charges of driving while intoxicated.

B. V. Mresterson, Pampa, had bond of $500 set on the charge and Leslie Webb, Canadian, had a bond of $1,000 set.

WASHINGTON — Acting President S.I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State College, telling House subcommittee how he dealt with student disorders:
"I had ample force available and demonstrated a willingness to use it quickly. I have introduced something new to this business of preserving order on campus. But I would not want anyone to believe that I think this is the solution for campus unrest."

CORONADO, Calif. — Rear Adm. George L. Cassell, when asked by a Court of Inquiry what protection was provided the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo:
"The main protection we felt the Pueblo had was the fact she was operating legally in international waters."

PRAGUE—Prague city national committee, in resolution pledging support for the Czechoslovakian government and expressing disapproval of acts designed to stir up political unrest:
"We are of the view that all abnormalities which particularly in Prague disturb public order, traffic and normal working conditions must be speedily overcome with the cooperation of all judicious people."

MIAMI—Leon Finkel of Lakeland, N.J., discussing his brief stop in Havana after the plane he was on was hijacked:
"They tried to give us the grand tour, but I don't think any of us bought that jazz."

9,000 Gray Countians Register for Voting

It appears that slightly more than 9,000 Gray Countians have registered to vote in this off-election year, according to an estimate by County Tax Assessor collector Jack Back.

"We've been so busy selling car and truck tags that we don't have everything counted, but just guessing, it looks like more than 9,000 have registered," Back said.

Back called the registration unusually heavy for an off-election year. About 13,800 persons registered for the 1968 elections.

"I think that probably by Monday we'll have everything counted and then we'll know for sure," Back said.

Putting you first, keeps us first. '69 Camaro Sport Coupe, "The Hugger"

Most of the cars that are competitive with Chevrolets are clamoring for you to buy them now. Big deal. (You hope.) Chevrolet offers something even better than hope. Many popular items are priced less than a year ago. Such as Powerglide and large V8's. Head restraints are now standard. New advanced-design power disc brakes are priced over a third less than our power disc brakes were last year. So we're offering a '69 Camaro Sport Coupe for less money than last year.

$147.00* less if you equip it with the new 350-cu.-in. 250-hp V8 (as compared with last year's 327-cu.-in. 275-hp Eight), the Powerglide and power disc brakes, whitewalls and wheel covers.

Help us deflate inflation. Show up at your Chevrolet dealer's Showdown. You'll win.

*Based on manufacturer's suggested retail price, including federal excise tax and suggested dealer new car preparation charge.

Value Showdown:
$147.00 less than last year's Camaro with comparable equipment.

AFS Committee Names President

The American Field Service Committee met in the Hospitality Room of Citizens' Bank and Trust Company recently.

Both of Pampa's foreign students, Miss Helen Hill of Springs, South Africa, and Nobuhiro Ichiryu of Kochi, Japan, discussed their experiences in America.

Miss Debbie Veale, and Terry Pulse, finalists from Pampa in the Americans Abroad program were also introduced to the group.

Mrs. W.A. Morgan was elected committee president for the current year, succeeding Mrs. E.L. Henderson. Howard Graham, faculty advisor, reported on school adjustment of both AFS students.

Members discussed ways to help the American Field Service exchange students become better known to the school and the community.

The Home Selection Committee is currently interviewing families interested in accepting a student in their home for the 1969-70 school year. Families to serve as hosts will be chosen by Feb. 15.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for a long time and have finally concluded that nobody has a problem like mine.

Almost every evening after dinner Ralph and I watch TV together, then Ralph cuddles up in his easy chair, falls asleep and starts to snore with all the lights blazing in his face. There is nothing else for me to do except go to bed.

When Ralph finally wakes up and discovers that I have gone to bed without him (about 2 a.m.) he becomes very angry. I've tried to let him know before he falls asleep that I'm going to bed, but he doesn't even hear me.

We're not a couple of old fogeys, Abby. I am 26 and he is 28 and we've only been married for 2 years. And I'd like to add that before we got married I wasn't sure I'd be enough "woman" for him, and I actually used to pray to the good Lord to give me the strength to keep up with him. What happened?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Either the honeymoon has ended, or your prayers were too well answered.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if you had a very Juanita Miller of Pampa. Members attending were Pat Pair, Sue Pair, Gloria Huck, Irene Baggerman, Dorothy Mansel and Mary Rose.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 5.

Your birthday Wednesday; Diversity and discrepancy complicate your year. All programs of activity have to be expanded, revised, or perhaps relocated before the cycle runs out. Unexpected results are in order this year but can be very helpful. Wednesday's natives usually have broad views and strong power of projecting them. They are generally well respected but often misunderstood.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Circumstances continue to clear up. Stay on the same basis for a while longer before changing your approach. Communications are good; listen to the news all around you and to nearby people.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Your efforts now attract the attention of more important people than usual. Get on while the getting is good. The temptation is to let day-dreams slow your efforts.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Continue sifting the various incomplete ideas that come drifting in. Eventually enough of them will jell. Avoid fatigue. Modest entertainment or quiet conversation is indicated at night.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Review your holdings and think about converting some of them into more fluent forms. Put time into your hobbies this evening if you are free. Share information with others in the same field.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Your pride may suffer a blow today. If you show any anger, a worse defeat comes later. Older people are expected to deal with, if you can concentrate on them.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Wednesday runs a course much like yesterday. Be consistent in your chosen approach; avoid squabbles over details. Flexity is best.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Friendship turns out to be rather important before the day is over. On intuitive act of yours brings help and support to someone near. Extend a hand without fretting over rewards.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Hold to a conservative line in what looks like a perfectly ordinary day. Complete all loose ends while the coast is clear. Serious study in the evening will produce great returns.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): There is a message for you in some apparently silly or superficial remark. Be alert (since it may not be repeated for a long time). Communications are not to be neglected. This evening think over the last few weeks; seek a pattern.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Organize your efforts and await breaks. Check the safety and security of your home and working place. Light entertainment for the evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Intellectual ferment is apt to beset you Wednesday. Nothing can be safely left as it is. New ideas on all sides must be taken into account. Be observant in your area of interest.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Let the other fellow be the one to speak extreme words or divulge information. Dealing in unhappiness is pointless, no matter how harsh the reality. Patience may clear up any bad news.

Quirks In The News

By United Press International
RIGHT ANSWER
 WESTON, W.Va. (UPI)—Danny Everlin, 19, was rifling a patrolman's locker in the back of the city jail Monday when police barged in on him. Feigning amnesia, police said Everlin moaned "Where am I?" An officer shoved him into a cell and replied, "You're in jail."
HERO OF THE DAY
 HOUSTON (UPI)—A small-well-dressed but nervous man was led into the lineup room at police headquarters Monday. He fidgeted under the bright lights when an officer asked what he had been arrested for. "I hit my mother-in-law," he replied. "Release that man," cried someone from the darkened audience. "Give him a medal," another shouted. The officers and victims in the room gave the suspect a standing ovation.

SMALL FIRE
 DENVER (UPI)—It was only a small electrical fire in the apartment Monday. Damage was only $15. But when the men of Fire Engine Co. 3 returned to the station house, they discovered some one had swiped their $400 color television set.
WIKONG PICK
 PARIS (UPI)—Georges LeJean wandered into the wrong parking lot at Orly Airport. When he realized his mistake, he headed for an exit with an automatic gate and tried to duck under without paying. The arm of the gate swung down sharply and clipped LeJean on the head. He left in an ambulance. Airport officials said his car was still parked in a different lot.

OVER TRAINED
 PITTSBURGH (UPI)—It's the great way they can train dogs these days, but Ruth Jacks says enough is enough. Mrs. Jacks told police a German shepherd snatched her bag Friday and carried it to a man waiting a few feet away. Dog and man fled before Mrs. Jacks could react.

EXPENSIVE ITCH
 CLUN, England (UPI)—When Bill the Bull itches, he scratches—and lets the sparks fly where they may. Bill scratched himself so vigorously on a power pole in farmer Frank Collins' field recently that two high-voltage lines crossed overhead. Clun and nearby Bishopsgate were blacked out until trouble shooters got Collins to steer Bill away from the pole.

Pampa Host To 'Horns In 4-4A Battle

By RON CROSS
Pampa will try to think of Caprock instead of Tascosa tonight when the Harvesters host the 'Horns in a District 4-4A basketball encounter.
The teams will faceoff at 8 p.m. with B teams starting their game at 6:15 p.m.
Everybody (except Lubbock) has beaten Caprock including Pampa, and the Harvesters have an important date Friday night in Amarillo against Tascosa.
But to make the Rebel-Pampa game even more important the Harvesters must first get by the 'Horns, who of late have been no pushover.
Pampa won the first meeting this season, 52-37, but it took them more than a half to actually get the game under control.
Caprock led after one period in that game and trailed Pampa by only three points at halftime before the Harvesters finally broke it open in the final two periods.
Pampa, Tascosa and Borger are all tied for the second half lead in District 4-4A with a 4-0 record.
Something will have to give tonight, however, since Borger hosts the Rebels. Tascosa won the first half with a perfect 9-0 record and beat both Pampa and Borger.
The Rebels will play host to Pampa Friday night.
Pampa is 15-6 for the season and will be seeking its fifth straight victory tonight. Caprock is 4-20 for the season and 1-3 in district play, having beaten Lubbock, who beat Caprock in the first round.
The Harvesters have the second best defensive average in the league with only Tascosa showing a better defensive mark.
Craig Owen, a 5-8 senior, and Norman Dahle, a 5-9 junior have been Caprock's most consistent scorers. Owen is averaging just over 11 points per contest and Dahle just over 10.
Jim Hollis still leads Pampa and the district in scoring with a 20 point plus average.

Buff's Keep Big 8 Lead With Victory
By United Press International
Colorado's surprising Buffaloes held their slim lead in the Big Eight Conference basketball title struggle today with 13th ranked Kansas ready to take over.
The Buffs needed six crucial points from Gordon Tope in an overtime period to nip Missouri 80-79 while Kansas solved Oklahoma State's ball control tactics for a 64-48 victory Monday night to stay within passing distance.
It moved Colorado to 5-1 and Kansas to 5-2. Oklahoma State dropped to 3-3 and a tie with Kansas State, which stopped Southern Illinois 74-56 in a non-league contest.
In other conference action, Nebraska jumped out of the cellar with a 90-83 triumph over Oklahoma. It put the Cornhuskers at 2-4 and dropped the Sooners to the bottom at 1-4.
Tope was the difference throughout, leading all scorers with 31 points. Missouri went ahead at halftime 46-39, but the Buffs cut the edge away until it was tied 68-68 at the end of regular play.

Joe and Mickey Contrast in Careers

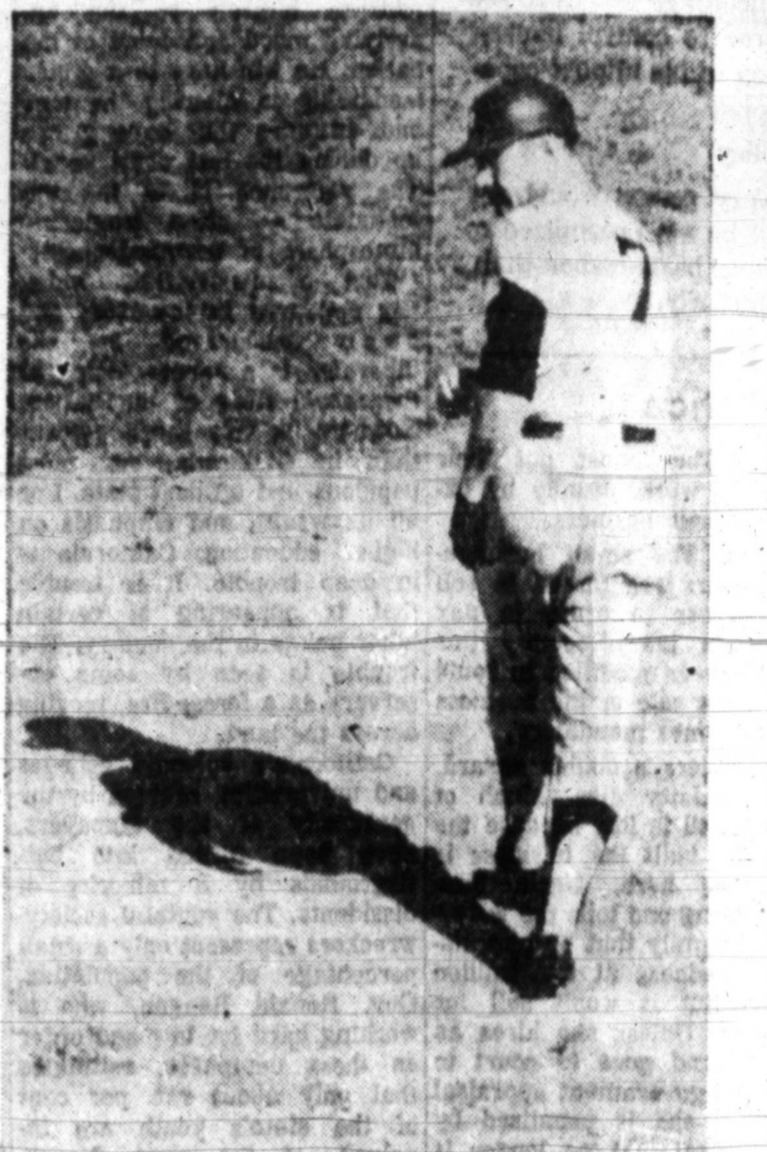

Heroes: Coming... .. Going

A line of female fans tackle New York Jets quarterback Joe Namath after recent luncheon celebrating Jet's Super Bowl victory.

By LEE MUELLER
NEW YORK (NEA) — Glasses clink, laughter clatters off the bar mirror and Mickey Mantle studies the destruction of another Bloody Mary.
Pinching the stem of a cocktail glass almost daintily, Mantle crooks a pinkie and gulps down the drink with the finality of a challenged gun-fighter.
Mickey Charles Mantle, 37, with newly grown sideburns reaching his earlobes, then sat down in a corner booth to answer the question, again.
"I'm going to spring training like I always have and I'm going to work out like I always have," he says.
"If the knees hold up and I can still swing at it a little, I'll be around. If not, well, we'll see."
The voice trailed off, lost in the rumble of the party. Mickey Mantle, the last of the great bubble gum heroes — for certain, the last of the great Yankee heroes — and quite possibly the last of the blond, white-toothed, non-propane, All-American-type heroes, ordered another drink.
"This is a nice place," he said, smiling at the waitress.
The Bachelors III is a bistro on Lexington Avenue here between 61st and 62nd streets. There are no gypsy violinists here, no dancing girls, no free drinks. Indeed, the joint's main attraction is its proprietor, a large-nosed Hungarian from Beaver Falls, Pa., named Joe Willie Namath.

They met here, Namath and Mantle, to be unveiled as one of New York's teams in the $30,000 American Astrojet Golf Classic, Feb. 14-16, at La Costa Country Club in California.
Mantle and Namath teamed. America's old sports idol and its new one. Hello, Joe. Goodbye, Mick.
Poor old bright-eyed, bird-hunting, cornball Mickey Mantle. After 18 years in New York, he still sounds like Main Street, Commerce, Okla., if it has a main street.
Soft-spoken and admittedly shy, Mantle got his glamor from his blond hair, wholesome grin, rugged build and his 565-foot home runs. Mickey never owned a llama-skin rug.
Now Namath talks glibly to reporters about acting career. "O.K., I never acted before," he says, grinning, "but that's like saying I never played professional football before I signed up."
Across the room, Mickey Mantle begins again. "I'm going to spring training like I always do and..."

Mickey Mantle and his shadow turn away from home plate. Mantle says spring workouts will determine whether he will play another year.

Saylor Tries To Derail Aggie Careers

WACO (UPI)—Coach Bill Menefee, whose Baylor Bears make the big effort to derail Texas A&M's Southwest Conference title hopes tonight, figures the game will be like all the others this season because "they have all been a struggle."
"We have not overwhelmed anybody despite our 12-3 record," Menefee said, "but at the same time we have not been overwhelmed. We were in each one of those three losses until the final minutes."
"And, in most cases—at least against the better teams—our opposition has been in the game down to the final buzzer, too. I imagine it will be that way against the Aggies."
Texas A&M will bring a 3-0 league record into the game against Baylor's 4-1 and, as Menefee put it:
"Anxious for Victory
"We need badly to upset them to tie it up. If we don't they may be too far out in front for anybody to catch because they'll have only three more road games, left."
Menefee pointed out that both clubs have been winning the close ones, citing the fact that his Bears have only an eight point spread over their opponents despite the 4-1 win-loss record.
The Aggies, too, have had to pull some chestnuts from the fire to stay unbeaten.
"But, that's how champions are made," Menefee said. "They win the close ones whether it is by a lucky break, skill or whatever."
The Baylor coach said that while most people think of the Aggies' "bigness" first, his first thoughts of the College Station crew is the fine all-around ability of the team, its excellent shooters, good depth—and then, "its tremendous height to boot."
Then, "there is the momentum they have built up now with those five big victories," he added. "We had it going, but Texas Tech took it out of us. Now, I hope we've got it rolling again."
Menefee said he knew there would be "six other conference coaches in our rooting section and not because they like Baylor."
The Baylor coach said he thought the conference race was the best balanced he had ever seen it and, "with more good teams."
"Oh, there have been better teams than any we have today, but not as many in one year," he said.

Lombardi Becomes Part Of Washington Redskins

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—Vince Lombardi, who at the age of 54 "retired" from active coaching last year to become the Green Bay Packers' general manager, said Monday he has asked the team to release him from the final five years of his contract so that he can become the top executive officer, the coach and an owner of the Washington Redskins.
"Everybody wants to own something sometime," Lombardi said. "And you want to do something you feel you do best. I will have a substantial piece of equity, and the position will include coaching. I will have control of the club—everything."
However, his transfer from the city that has been his home for the past 10 years hinges on one thing—the willingness of the Packers' Executive Council to excuse him from the balance of his contract.
Packers President Dominic Ojejezick said the council would give Lombardi's request "serious consideration." But, he said, "this is not just an ordinary matter."
Lombardi said two things had swayed him to the decision to move: The chance to return to coaching and the chance to become an owner.

Washington last season won only five of 14 games. And, because of the illness of George Preston Marshall, majority owner of the club, there has been some front office disorganization.
Lombardi said he would have complete control of the franchise in a capacity similar to that of an executive vice president. He said Edward Bennett Williams would continue as president and there would be a general manager.
Lombardi said he did not know what the status would be of Otto Graham, who has been the Redskins' head coach and general manager the past three years.

Mathis, Emile Breeze By Chuvalo, Heilman
NEW YORK (UPI)—There will be no rest for the victors—Buster Mathis and Emile Griffith—despite their lopsided decisions Monday night in Madison Square Garden.
Mathis turned George Chuvalo's face into a bloody pulp to take a 12-round heavyweight verdict and earn a bout in the Garden with Jerry Quarry on March 10.
Griffith, the former welterweight and middleweight champ who was celebrating his 31st birthday, overcame a sluggish start to win a 10-round decision over Andy Heilman, a game, but outgunned substitute for injured Doyle Baird. Griffith goes back in action in the Garden on Feb. 24, trying to avenge a loss to Stanley "Kitten" Hayward.
Tortures Chuvalo
Although Mathis, a 232-pound giant, tortured Chuvalo by opening five deep cuts, the game loser from Canada refused to quit or go down. Chuvalo went to the canvas in the fourth and fifth rounds, but both were ruled slips by referee Harold Valan.
The 25-year-old Mathis seems determined to score a knockout after Chuvalo hit him low in the first round.
"If I ever got cut up like that, I have to say that I'd quit," said Mathis about the 200-pound Canadian. "It was awful."
However, Mathis said he expects a tougher fight from Quarry. "He's smarter and quicker than Chuvalo," said Mathis.

Memphis State Loses at Home
By United Press International
Something happened to Memphis State Monday night that has not happened in a long time.
The Tigers, who usually lose by just a few points and in the closing seconds, this time were humiliated before their hometown fans 89-70 in the only Missouri Valley Conference basketball game.
All MVC teams are idle tonight. Wednesday, St. Louis travels to league-leading Tulsa and non-conference foe Iowa State invades Drake.
Memphis State started out hot but cooled off and fell behind 40-35 at the half. From then on it was North Texas State all the way.
High for Memphis State was Joe Proctor with 21 points.

Club Owners Meet
MIAMI (UPI)—With enough hats in the ring to start a haberdashery, the major league baseball club owners will determine today if Miami's weather is more conducive to commissioner picking than is Chicago's.

Bruins Keep Cage Rating

NEW YORK (UPI)—The LaSalle College Explorers are discovering new heights in their steady climb in the nation's major college basketball ratings.
The Explorers, under first year Coach Tom Gola, advanced to the No. 9 position today in the ninth weekly ratings of the season—highest ranking of the campaign for the Philadelphia school.
The Explorers pushed their season record to 16-1 Saturday night by trouncing Loyola of New Orleans 102-65 and the victory enabled LaSalle to climb one notch in the ratings.
Kentucky, St. John's of New York and Villanova also made advances in ratings. Kansas rejoined the top ten and Davidson and New Mexico State dropped.
Unbeaten UCLA, boasting a perfect 16-0 mark and unchallenged this season, was the unanimous choice as the No. 1 team for the ninth successive week. The Bruins received all the first-place votes from the 35-member UPI Coaches Rating Board and a perfect score of 350 points compiled on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 breakdown.
North Carolina retained the No. 2 rating while Santa Clara, the only other unbeaten team in the top 10, held the No. 3 position.
Kentucky advanced one position from the previous week and team. St. John's seventh last replaced Davidson as the No. 4

How Taxes Change America

President Richard Nixon will receive $200,000 in salary this year, double that given to President Johnson. And members of Congress will receive $42,500, a handsome 12,500 more than they were getting in 1968.

These sound-like generous sums, particularly the President's new salary. Let's analyze his tax, and then look into the estate tax, too, for the purpose of seeing how taxes force individuals to sell small businesses to chains in order to protect their family.

At $100,000 per year, President Johnson was paying 62 per cent on his top bracket, assuming he had no other income. Probably he would wind up keeping about $50,000. The next bracket for all over $100,000 which will be Nixon's situation at $200,000, the tax is 70 per cent, leaving a thin slice of $30,000 of the $100,000 increase. Which gives you a pretty good picture of what the income tax does to your earnings.

Now let's look at the man who made $10,000 in 1968. His taxes went up two-thirds more than when he made $5,000 a year a decade ago. But that isn't all. Inflation made the dollar purchase only about half of what it used to buy. The man making $10,000 today is worse off than when he made $5,000 because of inflation and higher taxes. On the other, Uncle Sam makes money on inflation because it brings in more tax dollars.

But the story of small businesses is something else. Say a small merchant has been reasonably successful, and has developed a business worth a million dollars. A goodly share of that value might be in goodwill, because of the owner's personal honesty and fair treatment of his customers brought him a large volume of business. Should he die, the estate tax on a million dollars is $325,000—a third of the total value, which usually must be paid in cash. That's considerably more cash than most small businesses can muster. They must put their money to work, usually by expanding their business.

Result: The small businessman's heirs are forced to sell the business in order to pay the estate tax. Recently this rule has been modified to some extent, but sale of the business often becomes mandatory. Here enters a double hazard. The proprietor dies. Much of the goodwill is lost because the man who built the business is no longer here. Uncle Sam comes along and tells the widow and her family that he appraises the business at one million dollars. But it won't sell for a million. Unless she hires an attorney and goes to court to prove the government appraisal is wrong, she is penalized by costs and attorney fees—both, if she loses her case.

So what happens when the small business man finds himself alone in years and wants to protect his wife and family? He sells his business to a large corporation which, through sale on the market of common stock of the firm, has a quick way of handling tax and inheritance problems. Should the small businessman take an exchange of stock for his business and gets his million in stock, when he dies the widow simply markets enough of the stock at the going rate to pay inheritance taxes. No appraisals to worry about. Sale price of the stock is unquestioned. Simple, easy, no fuss with the government's high appraisal.

This is why small businesses are selling in large numbers to chain stores and the so-called conglomerates.

High estate taxes are compelling a big change in our country. Instead of many individual small businesses we're now becoming a nation of chain stores.

No question about it: The graduated income tax and the graduated inheritance taxes are so high that they are driving the small man out of business.

Hazy Forecast For Future

Winters aren't what they used to be, say climatologists, and they are not talking about the blizzard of '68.

Since about 1950, a cooling trend has made winters a bit harsher and summers slightly milder in both North America and Europe. This reverses a warming trend that took place during the first half of the 20th century, says the National Geographic Society.

Paradoxically, the experts suspect that man-created pollution is responsible for both trends.

The warming may have been caused by carbon dioxide, produced by burning coal and oil. The cooling may be due to other forms of pollution—dust and smoke and other particles man is spewing into the air.

One scientist with the Environmental Science Services Administration estimates that the carbon dioxide naturally present in the atmosphere keeps the world about 20 degrees warmer than it would be if the gas were totally absent. A 10 per cent increase in the amount of carbon dioxide, which is an efficient absorber of heat, could raise temperatures in the lower atmosphere by one-half a degree Fahrenheit.

This is just about what the worldwide temperature increase has been since 1900. It doesn't sound like much, but it was enough to push the crop line on the Canadian prairies 50 to 100 miles farther north.

On the other hand, dust and smoke reflect some of the sun's heat back into space. We're currently manufacturing, warn the climatologists, a nebulous veil of dust that is virtually encircling the world.

Mankind evidently has two alternatives before it. Either we pour more carbon dioxide into the air to counteract the effects of the dust, and then more dust to counteract the effects of the carbon dioxide, or we stop polluting the atmosphere entirely.

It is not difficult to guess what it will have to be. There is no advantage in being comfortably warm if you can't breathe.

The Price Of Quinine

Sen. Philip Hart, the would-be trust-buster from Michigan, said some months ago that the United States has enough quinine stockpiled to last 1,142 years. He claimed price rises are caused by the fact the drug is controlled by an international cartel. Wonder if he has given any thought to the hoarding by the federal government as having anything to do with the high price of quinine?

The Threat of Permissiveness

While administrative changes will occupy the attention of Richard M. Nixon during his initial period in the White House, in time he will have to address himself to the underlying mood and spirit of the nation. He will have to exercise leadership in altering the tone and attitudes that have grown up during the last eight years. The reference is to the unfortunate — often tragic — atmosphere of permissiveness.

This permissiveness, which has appeared in the 1960s and been encouraged by the 'liberals,' is a cancer eating at the moral fiber of the nation. Nowhere is this more evident than in California, our most populous and affluent state. For all its wealth and emphasis on higher education, California is in deep trouble. It is trouble that is appearing at certain other points in the country. The trouble is seen by some observers as a forest fire, moving across the land.

California's splendid colleges and universities, created by the generosity of the taxpayers, have been turned into battlegrounds by a minority of dissidents. The youthful society-wreckers represent only a small percentage of the population. Gov. Ronald Reagan, who is working hard for law and order on these campuses, estimates that only about two per cent of the state's youth are involved, at the most. Nevertheless, they have the capability of paralyzing great centers of learning and of denying education to those who seek it. The same phenomenon was observed last Spring, the Spring of 1968, at Columbia University in New York City.

The difficulty in dealing with those who seize classrooms and break into administration buildings lies in the permissiveness of many educators and other influential citizens. Offenders are excused on the alleged grounds that they are expressing themselves. Lawbreakers aren't punished at all, or receive only token punishment. Often the educational institutions have a built-in governing structure that denies to the taxpayers any effective means of restoring order.

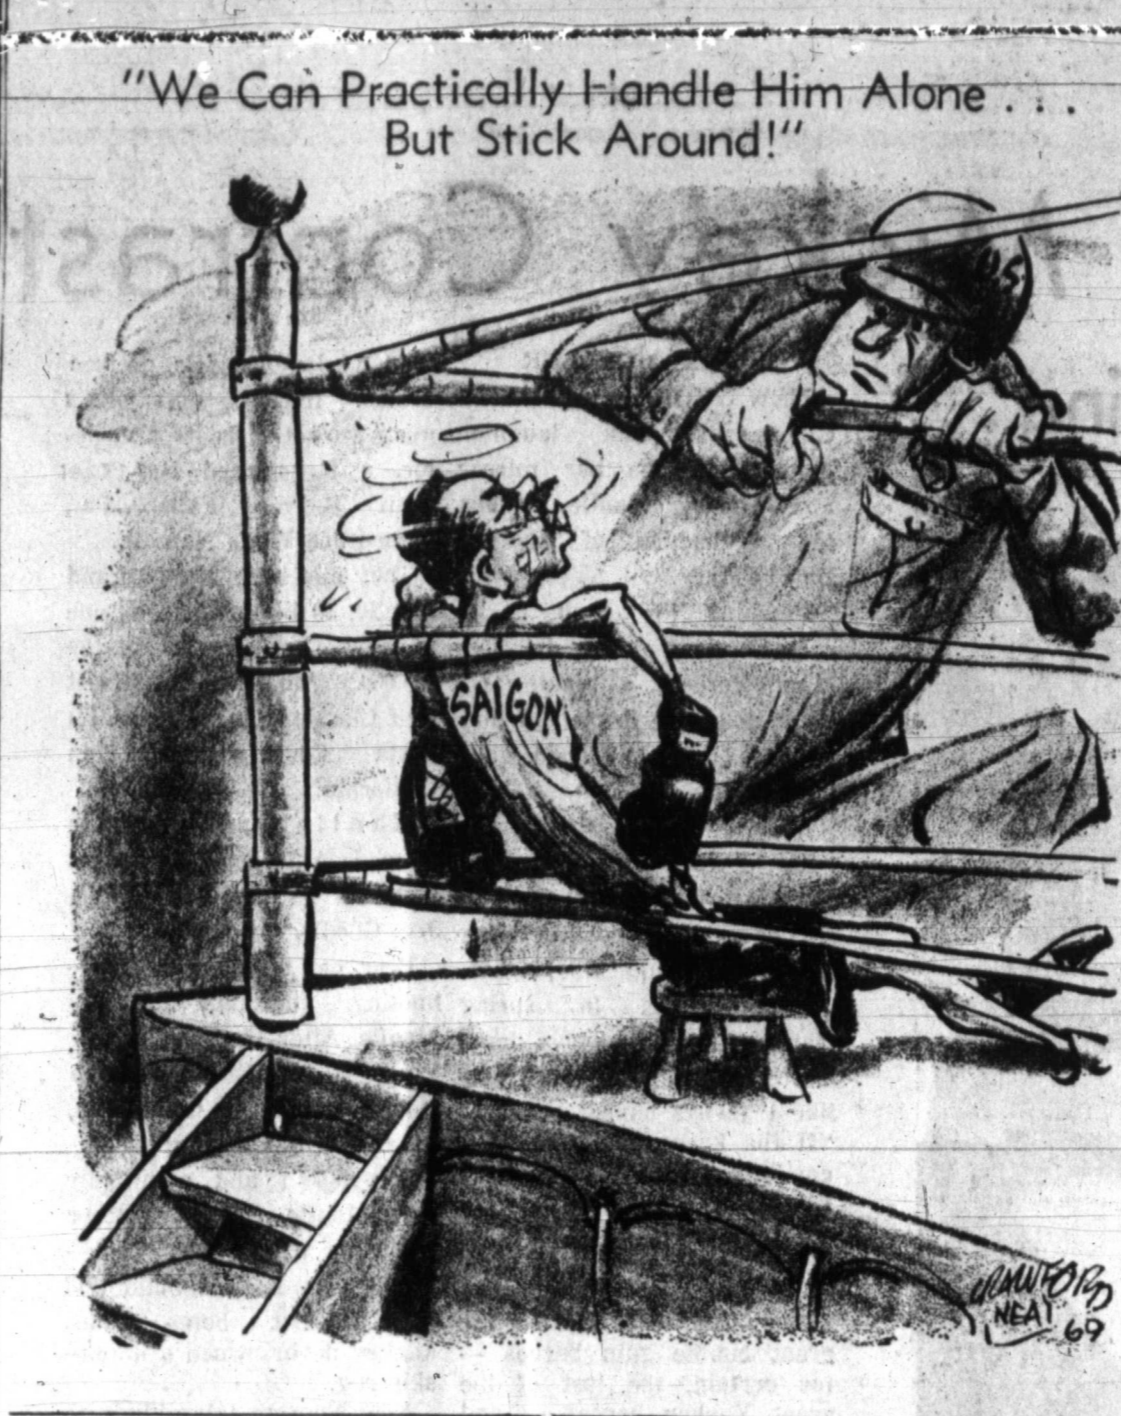

It should be noted nationally, however, that California voters recently rejected a tremendous new bond program for the state's centers of higher education. The voters apparently decided they weren't going to create more classrooms for the anarchists to seize.

Much more is needed, however, than a taxpayer rebellion. After all, the public wants the universities to improve; its desire is to oust the hippies and the communists from the campuses. Ways must be found in California and other states to get responsible faculties that don't attempt to propagandize and don't lend encouragement to lawbreakers and anarchists in their classes. In California, some of the teachers, as at San Francisco State University, aided and abetted the black power extremists who recently disrupted that institution.

The country at large also should look at the menace of drug addiction. Here again, the climate of permissiveness seems to be behind the frightening spread of the use of marijuana. The young often are told that marijuana is no worse than smoking tobacco or using alcoholic beverages. The truth, to be sure, is that marijuana alters the character of users, turning them into people who will lie or steal in order to obtain their wants. It conditions youngsters for the use of far more dangerous drugs such as heroin or LSD, drugs that destroy the mind and the body.

Despite the evil of marijuana, the nation hears familiar permissive arguments on the subject. The public sometimes is told that laws on marijuana should be relaxed and punishments should be reduced or eliminated. Parents are told that they should be 'understanding' or 'tolerant' if their youngsters become involved.

The country is suffering from an excess of tolerance regarding dangerous social changes. Instead of being 'understanding' of users of marijuana, or of campus lawbreakers, parents

Senators May Have To Vote On Pay Boost Maneuver

WASHINGTON— There will definitely be at least one roll call vote on the proposed 37.5 per cent pay hike for members of $42,500.

However, the odds are still strongly against the big pay boost being turned down.

The backstage strategy of Congress—from $30,000 to both political parties is to duck a record vote and to allow the salary boost to automatically go into effect around the middle of February—while Congress is enjoying a ten-day recess. But while this wily plan seems virtually certain to succeed in the House, it's being thwarted in the Senate by a long-time indomitable economy crusader.

Sen. John R. Williams, R-Del., has served notice on the bipartisan leadership that he is determined to force a rollcall vote.

A master parliamentarian, he has astutely set the stage for that.

He has introduced a resolution to reject the pay increase, which he will offer as an amendment to a series of other resolutions to be considered by the Senate to provide funds for the staffs of its numerous subcommittees. These are known as "housekeeping" measures, and Williams proposes to use them to wage his fight against the $12,500 pay hike.

Under Senate rules, this kind of indirect attack is possible. But House procedure bars it. Legislation there must first be considered in committee before it can be taken up on the floor.

Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa, who, like Sen. Williams, has long battled for economy, has offered two resolutions to kill the pay boost. But they are languishing in the Civil Service and Postoffice Committee and the Rules Committee—with virtually no chance of being reported out before the ten-day recess.

As a consequence, Gross has no way of raising the pay issue on the floor of the House under its rules of procedure.

GREASING THE WAY—

Under the bill passed by and other adult citizens should take a tough approach to behavioral problems. The President of the United States also has to be concerned with these behavioral problems, for the nation is threatened from within by those who want to destroy all the ancient rules of a decent society.

If the moral framework of individual life is shattered, the United States will be lost. Character, not wealth or sophistication, is the foundation of American greatness. Thus now is the time to end permissiveness and to stress the stern duties of life.—Therman Sensing.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANSTADT

Child's Temperature Not as Stable as Adult's

The body temperature of a child is not as stable as that of an adult. In children, sudden fevers that disappear as mysteriously as they occur are common. Now it has been found that, in some children, chewing gum steadily for five minutes or more may raise the temperature as much as 1.4 degrees (100 degrees). The cause is not the gum but the exercise of muscles close to the place where the thermometer is held.

To a lesser degree, vigorous running or other exercise may cause a child's temperature to rise. For this reason you should let your child rest for 15 minutes before taking his temperature. It is not how high his temperature goes but the cause of the rise that is important. Whenever your child has an unexplained fever of 100 degrees or over that lasts for more than a day you should call your doctor.

Q—I have a son who is autistic. It takes him a very long time to go to sleep and this is getting worse. Does his autism cause this?

A—Autism is characterized by a complete failure to communicate, a desire to be let alone and an insistence on certain rituals being followed at mealtime and bedtime. Although deficient in emotional and social development, an autistic child is far from being mentally defective despite the fact that he may give that impression. Your son's difficulty going to sleep may well be a part of his autistic behavior. The cause of autism is not known but some of these children can be cured with proper treatment. If you have not already done so you should write to the National Institute of Mental Health, Bethesda, Md., for more detailed information.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 4th the 35th day of 1968 with 330 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1901, a campaign was started by Maj. William Gorgas of the U.S. Army to wipe out yellow fever in Cuba.

In 1938 Adolf Hitler seized control of the German Army, putting Nazi officers in key posts.

In 1948 Ceylon became a free and self-governing dominion of Great Britain.

In 1966 President Lyndon Johnson flew to Hawaii for a conference on the Vietnam war. A thought for the day: William Penn said, "Passion is a sort of fever in the mind which never leaves us weaker than it found us."

Pull Up A Chair

By JOHN KEASLER

Many people—and certainly every TV comedian—feel that any President has got to be good whose salary was doubled before he started.

It does have a certain class in a nation where getting-the-raise is always a precise science and sometimes an art. Nowhere is the fine balance between success and failure so delicate. Who gets psyched-out? The boss or the supplicant? At the opposite end of the fine Nixon touch is, I fear, the horrible example of an old friend of mine.

This happened years ago on the Saturday Evening Post (R.I.P.) when George Horace Lorimer was its great editor. My friend—call him Smith—went on to nationwide fame as a writer, but in his early years he got himself bottled up in the art department of the Saturday Evening Post.

He didn't want to be an art editor, he wanted to be a writer.

Additionally, he was over a financial barrel. His job title sounded just great, and of course the SEP back then was the happy hunting ground of many editors and writers. But the pay, to say the least, had not kept step.

He was, in short, in a position not unique in the world of letters—he looked like a success but any unexpected expense, such as the monthly water bill, was an emergency.

He brooded over this but said nothing, as many of us are apt to do. He didn't just brood for a while—he was a great brooder. He brooded for a matter of years, doing a job that left him thwarted; always a day late and a dollar short.

And, humped broodingly over his desk, he rehearsed, mentally, time and time again, his raise-asking speech to George Horace Lorimer. He had it letter-perfect; every thought, every nuance, every injustice.

Finally, one fateful day, destiny finally propelled him into the office of the editor. He never remembered exactly why he got up the nerve that specific day, but he did.

"Mr. Lorimer?" he said. "Yes," snapped the editor, looking up.

Smith, at long last, launched into his discourse and his opening was this:

"Mr. Lorimer," he said, "I am tired of living in genteel poverty."

Mr. Lorimer blinked. He went on, letter perfect. He stated his case masterfully. George Horace Lorimer leaned back impassively, watching him.

Finally, he held up his hand. "Smith," said the editor. "I want to apologize to you. I owe you an apology. I'm supposed to be the boss here and I have neglected my responsibility in seeing all this. Your points, every one, are well taken. And I admire you for bringing them to my attention so well. You are absolutely right and..."

With this, the editor—point by point—agreed to every one of Smith's demands; gave him more of a raise than he had expected, promised an immediate transfer to the writing staff... and all the rest.

Walking on clouds, half stunned with joy, Smith returned to his desk. He sat in euphoria... for a while...

Then, he remembered he had not finished his speech... Some of the treasured speech he had rehearsed had been interrupted.

Only a couple of tiny, trivial things were left.

But he had gone over it for years.

Smith got up. He strode back into Lorimer's office.

"Yes?" snapped George Horace Lorimer.

Mr. Smith took a deep breath and took up at the precise point his dream had come true.

"Furthermore, Mr. Lorimer," Smith said, "I have this to say..."

He said his other few sentences. The editor said:

"Smith, you are fired. Pick up your pay."

And with that the editor went back to his editing.

Mr. Smith staggered out, jobless.

With Some Reservation

The A-Rabs went and bagged some spies over in Bag-Dad. The Israelis don't deny they were spying, only that they shouldn't have been hung for do it.

I used to be a spy for Montgomery-Ward. Then we knew that if we were ever caught by Sears-Roebuck we would be hanged for sure. But times have changed. Nowadays, they just call them 'comparative shoppers' and turn them loose.

But hanging them fella's over on that side has presented some terrible problems over on this side. Mr. Richnix is already talking to his advisors as to the proper way for us to get into it.

What with Viet Nom and Korea causing trouble we are already stretching a breaking point in finding a reason to fight in the Middle East. But I know those advisors will come thru with a good excuse.

We have made great progress along that line. Diplomats used to have all they could handle trying to get us into one war.

was hurt or what was to be done with him immediately. For on came the final credits of the broadcast as Russell remained on the floor—and the network arbitrarily ended its coverage.

Earned Reputation

ABC-TV sports has earned a reputation of having a sportsman's interest in athletics—in the human beings who participate in them, and what happens to them as people.

So one hopes there will never again be the lapse in taste that allows a cutaway to credits as a human being is in agony before a national television audience.

And one hopes, in terms of simple coverage, that viewers are not again left hanging in suspense regarding the reporting of a sudden, newsworthy event that has happened before their eyes.

The viewer who wanted to find out what happened to Russell had to learn elsewhere. It was only by calling the local UPI office that I found out Russell eventually had to be carried from the floor, and had suffered a bad knee injury, and was taken to a hospital. For sportsmanship and sports reporting, one expects ABC-TV to be at its best at moments like this.

Christopher Columbus was responsible for introducing the rum industry into the West Indies, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Liechtenstein is the only German-speaking monarchy in the world.

As the game ended, he remained there, his knee severely whacked, and as the camera properly moved in on him, one could see the pitiful sight of Russell in obvious agony. For basketball fans, and for just ordinary televisioners, it was a matter of simple human concern.

One of the announcers made the correct statement that although New York had won the game, the real story was there on the floor: Russell.

But the televisioner never had a chance to find out more about Russell's injury, how badly he

WASHINGTON (UPI)—When I entered his office, the rainmaker was standing before a window, looking up at the sky.

"Ahem," I said to get his attention.

The rainmaker turned and walked to his desk, upon which rested a couple of tom-toms and several brightly painted gourds.

"What can I do you for?" he asked.

I said, "I've been reading in the papers about the controversy over the new airline routes to the Far East, which were approved by former President Johnson and then withdrawn by President Nixon.

"The papers say that when a company is trying to obtain an airline route, or a television permit or some other goodie from the government, it hires a lawyer with political influence to handle the application.

Called 'Rainmakers'

"These lawyers, who are supposed to know which string to pull, are called 'rainmakers.' I was hoping you might explain to me how rainmakers operate."

"I'll be glad to," the rainmaker said, rattling a gourd and thumping one of the tom-toms.

"Some of us are Republican rainmakers, some are Democra-

NEW YORK (UPI)—Recent strength in blue chip stocks may prove to be short-lived if weakness in the market's technical underpinnings is not corrected, E.F. Hutton & Co. says.

A divergence between the blue chip average and the breadth index, with the former strong and the latter weak, "not only tends to negate the strength in the Dow Jones industrial average but has often raised a caution flag for the market as a whole," the firm says.

Blair & Co., Inc. finds reason to believe that the "long-awaited economic slowdown is now under way—a condition that should prove to be effective in moderating the recent rate of inflation... and puncture the inflation psychology."

Tessel, Paturick & Ostrau says the possibilities of continued firmness in the stock market appear good. Risks appear lower than at any time in the past two months and selective purchases are advised, the firm says.

ESSA Initiates Tornado Program

An intensive campaign to lower the death toll exacted by tornadoes was launched Monday by the Weather Bureau, an agency of the Environmental Science Services Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce.

"During the five-year period 1963-1967, tornado-caused deaths averaged 124 annually, injuries 2,019, and property damage $180 million," Dr. George P. Cressman, Weather Bureau Director, pointed out. "In some years, this toll is much higher.

Although the property damage cannot be avoided, many of the deaths could be prevented if everyone were adequately prepared.

"The greatest single hope for saving lives when a tornado strikes," he said, "is preparedness—by national, state, and local government, by private organizations, schools, and hospitals, and—most important of all, by each member of the general public."

The stepped-up preparedness program launched in advance of the 1969 tornado season is called "Skywarn" and is part of ESSA's nationwide Natural Disaster Warning system, which provides warnings of impending environmental hazards, including hurricanes, floods, winter storms, and solar disturbances.

The Office of Emergency Preparedness, the Office of Civil Defense, and the American Red Cross are cooperating in the "Skywarn" campaign.

"Skywarn" is an effort to save lives during tornado emergencies by expanding networks of volunteer spotters and by developing the widest possible participation in preparedness programs.

Tornadoes effect relatively small areas, but they strike faster and pack more concentrated violence than any other natural storm. When a funnel dips toward the earth from a storm cloud, every second counts. Everyone involved in spreading warnings, everyone responsible for others' safety, every single individual should know, without hesitation, the appropriate action to take. Indecision, panic, and confusion cost lives.

The ESSA-Weather Bureau's National Severe Storms Forecast Center at Kansas City, Mo., keeps constant watch on weather conditions across the nation, alert for situations favoring the formation of dangerous thunderstorms or tornadoes.

When conditions make such storms likely, severe storm forecasters issue bulletins advising that a threat of severe thunderstorms or tornadoes, or both, exists in a certain area during a specified period of time. The bulletin, called a "watch," is disseminated from the local Weather Bureau to the public through the cooperation of radio and television broadcasters.

The local Bureau also alerts public safety agencies and volunteer tornado reporting networks to the threat. Even when a tornado does not develop in the area covered by a watch, the alert still serves a vital purpose, because severe thunderstorms, hail, lightning, or damaging winds usually occur and these hazards take even more lives than tornadoes.

The Weather Bureau issues a tornado warning when a funnel has actually been sighted. Only one instrument—the human eye—can positively identify a tornado. Most tornado sightings are made by private citizens or by the volunteer storm reporters who serve as the Weather Bureau "eyes" across large areas of the country.

There are about 500 networks of tornado spotters composed of thousands of public-spirited citizens and organizations who report tornadoes to the Weather Bureau or to a designated warning center. One aspect of the "Skywarn" program will be the recruitment of additional storm spotters where they are needed.

While many state and community agencies are prepared to cope with the aftereffects of disaster, fewer are prepared to move in advance to prevent it. To encourage the development of tornado preparedness plans at the state, county, and local levels, ESSA-Weather Bureau representatives will meet early in 1969 with public safety officials in areas where tornadoes occur most frequently.

In addition to observer networks, community preparedness plans include the designation of 24-hour warning centers to receive and disseminate tornado watches, warnings, and reports. Schools, hospitals, factories, and other places where people congregate should also have tornado preparedness plans.

WASHINGTON—Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, expressing his skepticism over plans to construct an anti-ballistic missile system:

"We are, in short, on the verge of a great debate on nuclear arms control, a debate whose outcome could well determine the survival of this country, not to mention the life and death of millions of other persons around the globe."

WASHINGTON — Daniel P. Moynihan, President Nixon's adviser on urban affairs, backing up his unofficial suggestion that American families receive a monthly "baby bonus" from the federal government:

"It's not a handout, it's an investment in the human resources that ultimately determine whether or not this is a healthy, stable, prosperous, happy country."

Expanded Vietnam peace talks will take place at a round table which satisfies Hanoi's contention that four equal powers are involved. Two side tables, for secretaries and translators, however, form a psychological division that bears out South Vietnam's two-party, "our side, their side" theory. Figuring in the Paris negotiations will be Henry Cabot Lodge and Lawrence E. Walsh for the United States; Nguyen Cao Ky and Pham Dong Lam for Saigon; Kuan Tshui and Nguyen Thanh Le for North Vietnam; and Tran Bau Kiem and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh for the Viet Cong.
