

Banks Ready To Aid Forgetful Depositors To Recover Money

By RUTH LEWIS
News Staff Writer

Remember that time you sold a calf and banked the money — way back when you were in school, perhaps? What did you do with the money? Did you ever draw it out? Bank depositors have a habit of forgetting small accounts, according to Pampa financial institutions. Every year, usually in May, a carefully compiled list of dormant accounts is published by each Pampa bank, as well as Security Savings and Loan Association.

Right now Mrs. Pat Young, for instance, is spending all her spare time at Citizens Bank & Trust Co. in telephoning and writing letters to holders of old and apparently forgotten accounts. Mrs. Young, secretary to the president, F. E. Imel, has been able to locate "a good many" account owners simply by staying with the job until she has exhausted all the possibilities in each case.

"It's fun, really," Mrs. Young admits. "Sometimes you realize that just one more call might clear the air so you can't afford to give up."

Sometimes recently she has found "five or six" in a single day, which she considers good going.

"These were not large accounts, the largest perhaps about $80, but the owners were delighted to have a sudden windfall, for of course they had forgotten having left a balance in the account."

Some accounts are as low as under a dollar, the secretary notes, but like the others, they are considered dormant if inactive for a period of seven years.

Another staff member, Mrs. Norma Fulps, has been concentrating on writing letters for the past several weeks, hoping by this means to discover account holders or their relatives.

How are the names arrived at? The bookkeepers on the staff provide lists of all inactive accounts of seven years' standing or a little less. It is from these names that the secretaries do their detective work.

Bill Kindle, assistant cashier, said, "We really go to great lengths in playing detective. If we find anyone with the same surname as the depositor, we try him; he might be a relative."

At First National the story was substantially the same.

According to Adell Myers, assistant vice president, the list of dormant accounts is published every year in May. Such publication results in the identification of many persons who had forgotten they had left some money in a checking account.

"About five years ago," Myers said, "a state law was passed requiring that all dormant accounts of $25 or less, remaining so after public advertising, shall become the property of the state treasury. The money is to be used for the public good, like taxes."

This advance advertising often gets results, Myers said.

For instance, a depositor may have died but his sons or daughters may read the name, or perhaps a grandchild will call.

"When the Air Base here was deactivated," said Myers, "we had many small accounts left behind by personnel. These were cleared up fairly easily, however, with the help of the War Department."

Both banks are eager to have the money revert to the rightful owner, even though the state offers can use the extra revenue. After all, it had been worked for and deposited by an individual and is rightfully his.

An interesting feature of the law is that should a depositor learn of his dormant account even years after the money has reverted to the state treasury, the sum will be refunded to him in full.

One of the banks found a pocket of small sums carefully saved and deposited during World War II by school children who had purchased Savings Stamps. It was a rather touching thing for these grown-ups to receive back the small hoards they had so carefully accumulated for the war effort.

"Sometimes a depositor is as happy over getting back ten or 20 dollars he had forgotten as if he had inherited a million."

At Security Savings and Loan the story is the same. Roy Sparkman, vice president, discloses that statements must be mailed twice yearly, even though the sums involved may be only five or six dollars. Dormant accounts must be advertised, just as with banks, the Security's first listing having included about 40 names.

"Some school children's accounts amount to 50 or 60 cents," Sparkman said.

"We had a number of Savings Stamps accounts deposited by school children but there were

OF CITY, SCHOOL ELECTIONS

Residents Prepare To Decide Outcome

By WANDA MAE HUFF
News Staff Writer

This spring, Pampans' thoughts turn to more than budding trees and singing birds for this year voters will decide the outcome of a three elections—$900,000 school bond issue election Tuesday, a city election April 1 and school trustee election April 5.

Pampa voters will go the polls April 1 in the no-contest city election, but in the school board election April 5, voters will have a choice of two candidates for one position available.

One candidate is seeking each of the three posts to be filled in the city election. Milo Carlson is candidate for mayor to succeed Mayor Jim Nation. George B. Cree, Jr., is the only candidate for Ward 1 city commission post, with Leo Braswell as the only candidate for Ward 3 city commission position.

Cree has filed for the commission post held by M. McDaniel. Braswell filed for the post left vacant by the death of the late Joe Taylor.

In the school board election, Dr. R. M. Hampton, incumbent, is running for his fourth term as trustee. Bobby G. Tinney filed for Hampton's post to "offer voters a choice of candidates," Tinney said.

In the school bond issue election, to vote a person must be a registered voter and own property which has been taxed for taxes in the Pampa Independent School District. To vote in the city and school trustee elections, a person must only qualify as a registered voter.

The $900,000 bond issue election, the first here since 1958, will, if passed, construct new cafeterias at Mann and Wilson Elementary Schools, renovate the Pampa High School auditorium, construct new science, library, and girls

ABM Foes Move To Block Nixon's Missile System

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Despite disclosures by the Pentagon of new Russian nuclear delivery systems, Senate opponents to the Safeguard defense missile system remained convinced Saturday that they were within striking distance of blocking the proposal.

Foes of the antiballistic missile (ABM) plan figured they could still muster between 40 and 45 votes against the program if it were put to the test Saturday. For some, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's appeal for support on the basis of potential peril to the U.S. "strike back" power in the 1970s only hardened their resolve.

Laird said the Russians have 200 large and accurate SS9 missiles which could give them a "first strike" capability against the United States.

But Sen. Frank Church, D-Ida., said he doubted Laird's presentation Thursday and Friday would make a dent in the hard-core Senate opposition to the ABM.

Catholic Women's Deanery Slates Spring Meeting at St. Vincent's

The Pampa deanery of the Amarillo Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will hold its spring meeting tomorrow at St. Vincent de Paul's auditorium beginning at 9 a.m.

Theme of the meeting is

"DCCW: Helping - Caring - Doing."

The Rev. Michael Heneghan, diocesan coordinator for the United States Catholic Conference, will speak at the meeting, outlining social action projects of the diocese.

Father Heneghan has been working with a number of the poverty programs, including SEARCH FORWARD, Amarillo Head Start and the USCC Urban Task Force.

Mrs. D. M. Poundstone, diocesan president of the DCC, will develop the theme, "Helping - Caring - Doing," explaining the ways in which members of DCCW have been and can be actively involved in the many areas open to them in the organization.

The morning session will include scripture readings and discussion of the theme, led by Monsignor A. M. Bottoms, pastor of St. Francis parish and deanery moderator.

Mrs. Phillip Smith, deanery president, will give a summary

America's Hick Town For Sale

PODUNK CENTER, Iowa (UPI)—Podunk Center, everybody's all-American hick town, is for sale and it may be auctioned off on April Fool's Day.

Homer Weeks, Podunk Center's owner, said he was dicker with "a man in Ohio" who wants to buy the ghost town.

Weeks, who now lives in nearby Winterset, said he expected telephone negotiations with the Ohioan to continue. Weeks said he didn't know what the prospective buyer wants to do with Podunk Center, a collection of buildings on a one-acre tract of south-central Iowa corn ground.

Contractors Hire Retired Officers, Senator Reveals

System Threatening Military Procurement

By MARGUERITE DAVIS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., disclosed Saturday that 2,072 retired, high-ranking military officers are on the payrolls of the nation's 160 leading defense contractors.

He called it a "most dangerous and shocking condition" that threatens the public interest by increasing the chances of abuse of the military procurement system.

"The easy movement of high-ranking military officers into jobs with major defense contractors and the reverse movement of top executives of major defense contractors into high Pentagon jobs is solid evidence of the military-industrial complex in operation," he said in a statement.

Proxmire said he would make public the names of the retired officers and their companies in a Senate speech Monday.

The Defense Department, which said it furnished the information at Proxmire's request, had no comment.

A Pentagon spokesman said he was unaware of any prosecutions under a 1966 Defense Department directive restricting the post-retirement activities of department employees in the interest of avoiding conflict of interest.

The regulations generally forbid retired officers to "represent anyone other than the United States in connection with

Anguillans Clash In Show of Anger At Anthony Lee

THE VALLEY, Anguilla (UPI)—A mob of 1,500 angry Anguillans scuffled with British troops Saturday in a wild scene outside the office of the British-appointed commissioner, Anthony Lee.

Some islanders tried to prevent Lee from entering the building, but he made it to the office after police and troops opened a path through the milling crowd. A task force of more than 400 British paratroopers and policemen invaded this Caribbean island last Wednesday to reestablish colonial rule.

Anguilla, led by rebel "President" Ronald Webster, unilaterally declared its independence in May, 1967. The situation reached crisis proportions earlier this month when islanders drove off at gunpoint an emissary sent by British Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

In St. Croix, Virgin Islands, Webster Saturday broadcast an appeal to the people of Anguilla to "please keep calm. We have won a battle. The British want you to take a rebellious attitude."

Webster was apparently disturbed over reports that Lee had been punched in the mouth during the demonstration on Anguilla Saturday morning.

Webster, in his broadcast, said the situation was improving.

"We have things coming nice in our favor," Webster said. "If you respect me as your leader, please be quiet. I will do all within my power to bring Anguilla a free independent nation. I am now depending on each of you for your cooperation."

In London, the first of about 100 British army engineers took off Saturday from Heathrow Airport en route to Anguilla where they will replace the two companies of paratroopers who invaded last Wednesday.

TRAINING SESSION.—Soviet border guards train in the Magadan region of Siberia. According to Western intelligence sources, the Soviet Union has intensified civil defense training in schools and factories near the Manchurian border against the possibility of mass incursions by the Chinese. No new clashes had been reported since Wednesday, but diplomatic tensions increased.

Soviets Say China Is Building Military-Bureaucratic Regime

YBARRA PLEADS GUILTY
SAN ANGELO, Tex. (UPI)—Miguel Gallegas Ybarra, an AWOL soldier, pleaded guilty during the second day of his trial Saturday to charges of murdering a Colorado oil heir and was sentenced to 4½ years in prison.

CZECHS SHUN RUSSIA
PRAGUE (UPI)—Czechoslovaks by the thousands shunned vacations in the Soviet Union this year in favor of Yugoslavia and Romania, a newspaper said Saturday.

The trade union daily Prace said figures supplied by the official travel agency, Cedok, showed only 6 per cent of the 22,000 available tours to the Soviet Union this summer have been sold.

DEATHS SHOW GAIN
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas Department of Public Safety said Saturday 596 persons have been killed in Texas traffic accidents this year, a 2 per cent gain over the same period in 1968.

There have been the same number of fatal accidents—484—as last year. The DPS reported that as of noon Friday, deaths on interstate highways are up 27 per cent over last year.

FRENCH BACK USSR
PARIS (UPI)—The French Communist party, the second largest in Western Europe, Saturday firmly backed Moscow in its border dispute with Red China.

MOSCOW (UPI)—The military newspaper Red Star Saturday said Peking was attempting to build a military-bureaucratic regime completely free of Communist party control.

The newspaper said the military now head 24 of the 29 provincial "revolutionary committees" which run the giant nation. "Of the 200 people comprising the ruling upper crust in Peking, more than 130 are military," it claimed.

Newspapers Saturday gave wide coverage to the awarding of high honors to four soldiers involved in recent border clashes with the Red Chinese. The Presidium of the Supreme Soviet Friday declared the four Heroes of the Soviet Union, the nation's highest military honor. The awards, two of which were made posthumously, are equivalent to the U.S. Congressional Medal of Honor.

No new Chinese attacks have been reported along the frozen Ussuri River border since Wednesday. The Soviets claim the Chinese have mounted five attacks against their troops in the Damansky Island area since March 2.

Soviet deaths are reported to be at least 43. Chinese casualties are not known.

The news agency Tass reported Saturday that "spring has come to the banks of the Ussuri. The warm southern wind has melted the snow on the fields."

The report presumably indicated the battle-scarred ice on the Ussuri River itself could be expected to break up soon, covering almost all of the small, uninhabited island with spring flood waters.

City to Consider Contract On Data Processing System

Recommendations of City Manager Charles Hill and staff members concerning the award of a contract for a data processing system of City Hall accounting will be made at Tuesday's meeting of the Pampa City Commission, according to the agenda released Saturday by the city manager.

The bids and system specifications submitted by three bidders more than a month ago have been studied in several sessions by Hill, Tax Collector Aubrey Jones, City Finance Director Stanley M. Chittenden and other city department heads.

They are scheduled to make their recommendation Tuesday on the system the study committee believes will best serve city accounting needs.

Other business on the Tuesday agenda includes: Consideration of a recommendation concerning the sale of Lake Meredith water to the City of Lubbock.

Receiving recommendations from the Planning & Zoning Commission concerning approval of a new city zoning map and ordinance; consider first reading of an ordinance adopting a new set of standards for zoning regulations.

Consider authorization to advertise for and receive bids for the 1969 seal coating of city streets.

Consider a resolution regarding improvements and construction of city streets on U.S. Hwy. 60 through the city.

One or two other routine items will be considered by the commission.

Ike Resting Well Despite Setback

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower continued resting comfortably from his latest medical setback Saturday but his physicians still were concerned over his condition.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Medical Center said Friday the 78-year-old general was in "favorable condition" and "good spirits" after suffering congestive heart failure a week ago. The hospital said it had nothing to add to that report Saturday.

The setback, described as a failure of the heart to pump enough blood, may well have lessened Eisenhower's reservoir of reserve strength, a spokesman said.

Eisenhower has had similar heart problems in the past but his "favorable but slow" response to treatment this time may indicate an overall weakening of his condition, the hospital spokesman said.

Eisenhower has suffered three heart attacks and undergone intestinal surgery complicated by post-operative pneumonia since entering Walter Reed last April.

Mrs. Eisenhower is staying in a suite next to her husband's hospital room.

COOKIE PUSHERS — Jack P. Foster, 1228 Williston, received a call recently from two Quivira Girl Scout Council Juniors, Kim Hoover, 12, center, and Stephanie Secrest, 11. The Girl Scouts, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hoover, 2323 Duncan, and Newt Secrest, 2231 Christine, were among the Pampa area Girl Scouts completing their annual cookie sales this week. Sales from Girl Scout cookies help finance troop activities and scouting projects. The sale will continue until Friday.

Scouts Continue To Push Cookies

One week remains in the 10th annual Quivira Girl Scout Council Cookie Sale which began March 17. Girl Scouts sell cookies to make money for their troop treasuries, to help raise money to build an established camp, and to help with the 1969 camping program. The money is also used to subsidize the overall camping program. Council President Mrs. Richard Stowers will report to the Council Board of directors on the results of this year's sale at the May 6 board meeting. "Girl Scouts are selling five kinds of cookies this year for 50 cents per box. The kinds of cookies include assorted sandwich, vanilla butter flavor, mints, chocolate chips, and butternut. Troop bonus is 10 cents for each box the troop sells. Council policy limits Brownies to selling only six boxes of cookies per girl.

Congressman Price Issues Statement on Pay Raises

EDITOR'S NOTE — Congressman Bob Price, deluged with letters from constituents regarding the recent pay hike Congress approved for its own members and other high-ranking government officials, including the President, Saturday issued this statement regarding his slant on the matter: The following is a statement of my position regarding the Congressional pay raises and my efforts to prevent enactment of what I consider unwarranted increases for Supreme Court Justices, Cabinet Members, Congressmen, and other high ranking Federal officials. The authorization for the proposed increases were included in the Postal Revenue and Federal Pay Act of 1967, which included a three-stage salary increase for civilian Federal employees that was intended to close the so-called "comparability gap" between salaries of private employees and Government workers. Another provision of the Act was the establishment of a commission to recommend rates of pay for judges, Administration executives and Members of Congress. In a roll call vote, I opposed the establishment of the commission, but the proposal carried and was enacted into law. The commission, known as the Kappel Commission, made its report to the President, who in turn sealed the recommendations down considerably and submitted them to Congress on Jan. 15, 1969. In accordance with provisions of the Act, the increases became effective after thirty (30) days unless disapproved by Congress. I and several other members introduced resolutions to disapprove the increases and to bring the issue to a vote on the House Floor. But the House Rules Committee by a vote of 12-3 refused to send the proposal to the floor so the House membership had no opportunity to vote at all. The Senate did bring it to a vote but voted against disapproving the pay raises. I also voted against the resolution to recess Congress from Friday, Feb. 7, to Monday, Feb. 17, during which time the pay increase would become effective. That resolution was offered by the House Democratic majority leader and was objected to by Rep. H. R. Gross, a Republican of Iowa, who also opposed the pay raise. Actually, 199 members, including myself, voted against establishment of the Kappel Commission on Oct. 11, 1967, when the bill was passed. On Feb. 4, 1969, I introduced the two resolutions to disapprove the pay increase and bring it to a vote on the House floor. On Feb. 5, 1969, I voted against the resolution to recess Congress for the period during which the increase would automatically become effective. A total of 125 members opposed that resolution. She will also introduce the deanery project for the coming year, of praying for vocations and for priests in particular; by distributing the Prayer of Vocations, which will be said at all meetings. Up to .40 of an inch was recorded.

a matter in which the United States is a party or has an interest and in which he participated personally and substantially for the government." This and other prohibitions are intended to cover contract negotiations, claims against the government and sale of supplies, the Pentagon spokesman indicated. High Ranks Proxmire said 10 of the top 100 contractors employ more than half the retired officers, all of whom hold the rank of colonel or Navy captain or higher. He said the 10 are Lockheed Aircraft, with 210 officers; Boeing Company, 169; McDonnell Douglas Corp., 141; General Dynamics, 113; North American Rockwell, 104; General Electric, 89; Ling Temco Vought, 87; Westinghouse Electric, 59; TRW, Inc., 56, and Hughes Aircraft Co., 55. Among the major contractors producing key components of the antiballistic missile system (ABM), Proxmire reported, nine employ 465 retired officers, an average of 51 each. Amarillo Man Is Injured In Freak Accident

A 42-year-old Amarillo man was hospitalized late Saturday night following a freak accident at the intersection of Ballard and Brown streets.

Investigating officer George Hendricks said a Southwestern Public Service truck, driven by Glen E. Dougherty, 38, of 721 Sloan, was traveling east on Brown and attempted to make a left turn onto Eallard.

A car driven by Ronnie Blair Campbell, 22, of 403 Purviance, was traveling west on Brown and the cars collided in the intersection. Neither driver was hurt but Jesse D. Wiley, 42, of Amarillo, who watched the wreck from behind a highway sign, got the worst of it.

A piece of a headlight and fender off the Campbell vehicle sailed across the street and struck Wiley in the leg. He was taken to Highland General Hospital by Duenkel ambulance and was being given X-rays at 10:15 p.m.

CAREER CORNER

DATA-KEEPERS ON THE MEDICAL TEAM

Miss Lain awards a Mercury portable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Co., to Mrs. Roberta Lewis, Amarillo, Tex., for her request:

"Please explain the difference (in the medical records field) between a Registered Record Librarian (R.R.L.) and an Accredited Record Technician (A.R.T.)? Now that my children are in school, I'm considering a career in this field — understand there's a tremendous demand."

A—You said it! The shortage and anticipated future need for medical record librarians is severe. So severe, in fact, that this is one of the few fields I know of in which you can become qualified (on the technician level) through a professionally-sponsored correspondence course.

MEDICAL DATA-KEEPERS. The medical record librarian is not a medical librarian, who works chiefly with publications, but receives and records the individual medical records of hospital and clinic patients. These permanent records include such data as case histories of illnesses, physical examination findings, doctors' orders, reports on X-rays and lab findings.

The records are used during treatment, and later for various purposes including increasingly important medicare and insurance company requirements.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
Two excellent speakers will be in the program in the meeting room of the Agricultural Office building Monday at 7:30 p.m.
Dr. Frank Petr, agronomist with the Extension Service of Amarillo, will talk on "Wheat Production... Past, Present, and Future." He will present information on what is to come in hybrid wheats as well as new varieties. We have been using dryland varieties for years now for irrigated wheat production. Yields have been very disappointing. What we need is the development of a variety that will excel in production under irrigated conditions. Dr. Petr will give some excellent information on things to come in wheat production.
Dr. John Shipley, Bushland Experiment Station economist, will talk on "The Economics of Irrigating Milo and Wheat." Shipley has done extensive research on determining the most economical level of land should be irrigated. Many farmers are of the opinion that the most money is made with the highest level of production. This is not necessarily correct. Shipley's research will show the optimum level at which one should produce. In other words, there might be more net dollars made producing at 7000 pounds per acre than producing 8000 pounds.

Refreshments will be served. All area farmers are invited.
Corn Production
Considerable interest is noted locally in planting corn in Gray County. A study in the Dumas area showed that 150 bushels production of corn was worth over $20 more to the acre than 7000 pounds of milo per acre. One grower from the Dumas area who produces over 2,000 acres of milo said, "If a producer was on his toes, he could produce 150 bushels of corn easier than you could 7000 pounds of milo."
Many farmers are hesitating because of the expensive changeout of farm equipment. We believe corn production will be on the increase.

Experts Will Judge SCS

The outstanding conservation district and cooperating landowner of Texas will be judged by these experts:
Henry W. Turney, Dublin, committee chairman; Harvey Davis, and John Kincaid, Temple; and Doyle Hutcheson, Weatherford.
Turney is a member of the Texas Soil and Water Conservation Board. Davis and Kincaid are executive director of the Soil and Water Conservation Board and assistant state conservationist. Hutcheson is a conservationist.
District and individuals will be judged on planning, organization, education, publicity and the effectiveness of their soil and water conservation practices.
The national awards program includes all 50 states plus Puerto Rico.
The winning district will receive a citation. The top cooperators and a member of its district's governing board will be guests of the sponsoring Goodyear Rubber Co. next year on a vacation-study trip to Goodyear Farms, near Phoenix, Ariz.

SCS NEWS

Craig Morris has recently critical-area-shaped some bad washes on his farm north of McLean. He plans to seed these areas to grass this year. Critical area shaping is a method to change worthless gullied land into profitable grassland.
Diversion terraces to control runoff water have recently been constructed on the Tony Smitherman farm and on the Johnson Ranch.
J. D. and Ray Fish are the newest members of the Great Plains program in Gray County. They have become the 12,005th members of the Great Plains Conservation Program in Texas since the program was initiated in 1957. Frank Worsham is also a new member of the Great Plains Program. Frank has assumed a contract previously held by J. C. Haynes on the Irene Muljanax farm.
Paul Wagner and Sons, Rex McAnelly, Leon Daugherty, Austin Crowell, and Elmer Balch have all completed or plan to carry out land leveling on their farms this winter and spring.
Eben Warner has constructed 3 ponds this winter to provide stock water and improve livestock distribution.
At present a planning party is expected for the Red Deer Creek watershed in May or June of this year. They are presently working on the watershed program located at Dell City, Texas.
The installation of underground pipe has always been a popular item with Gray County farmers. This year will be no exception. Pipelines for irrigation have been installed, or will be installed on the Doshia Anderson estate, Ray Burger and Sons, Flora Corbin, Eakin Brothers, Perry Everett, Floyd Franklin, J. W. Gordon Jr., R. M. Hampton and John Harnley, W. T. Johnson, Roy Kretzmeier, H. T. Kirby, Rex McKay Jr., Kint Philpott, Tony Smitherman, J. T. Trew, and the Taylor Ranch. The majority of these producers are obtaining cost share under ACP through the ASCS office.

Planting Of Grass Is Due

Now is the time to prepare your land for grass planting. For Weeping Lovegrass and Ermelo Lovegrass a clean seedbed, with just enough trash on the surface to deep soil from blowing, should be prepared anytime now. Seed lovegrass from mid April to mid May.
For native grass the soil should be swept or plowed and all the litter should be left on the surface. The grass seed should be drilled right in this litter. Native grasses can be seeded at any time now.
Good seedbed preparation is essential to a stand of grass. For more detail on seeding of any grasses contact the local Soil Conservation Service.
Children do not "naturally" develop responsibility, according to Extension Family Life Specialist Jennie Kitching. For the most part, children adopt the sense of responsibility which their parents show and encourage.

Soil Conservation News and Comment

By JIM ROACH
Although the much needed moisture was welcomed, it may have left us with a possible wind erosion hazard. The wetting, freezing and thawing of the surface soil tends to powder and pulverize the surface soil. This pulverized soil will blow very easily where there is not sufficient cover to prevent the blowing. Wind erosion can cause a severe financial loss to farmers. This loss also affects business establishments of the area.
Farmers and ranchers who have been practicing stubble mulch farming will not have anything to worry about when the hard winds begin. Stubble mulch farming not only prevents wind erosion but is our best method of getting water into the soil. The soil is the best place to store water. It will make more money and do less damage when stored in the soil. If we received heavy rain on 640 acres of land and had a 3-inch run-off, this would be enough water to fill a 20-acre lake 8 feet deep.
The recent snow also points out the advantage of keeping a grass cover on our grassland. On areas where all of the grass was grazed off, much of the snow blew off. The same thing will happen this spring when we get our rains. Most of the water will run off where there is no grass cover to hold it on the land.

To be a successful farmer or rancher we need to carry out conservation practices which will get water into the soil. Stubble mulch farming along with contour farming, terraces, and proper use of grassland are a few of the better conservation practices which can be used. The use of these practices is drought insurance. The first people to yell about a drought are the ones that are not carrying out sound conservation program.
Good family communications help make a happy family. Extension family life specialist at Texas A&M, advises family members to listen with a "third ear." The first two ears hear what is being said; the third ear hears what is not being said.
AGE OF SEPARATES
To the fashion industry this is the Year of the Separates. Skirts and collotes, jackets and vests, tunics and pants are in style on every scene today, says Dr. Graham Hard, Extension clothing specialist.

Inflation Cause Of High Prices

High prices are not inflation, they are the result of inflation, according to economists on the staff of Livestock Marketing and reporting service.
When citizens experience a general price rise it means that there is too much money trying to buy available goods and services. Any increase of money seeking goods and services without a corresponding gain in the supply of such goods always results in higher prices.
People who owe money usually will benefit most from high prices, as they can pay their debts with cheap money. There are always more people who owe money, and politicians well know this situation.
Inflation is the direct responsibility of the federal government and the management of the money system. Inflation is caused by a government's spending more than it collects from the people.
TAKE CONSEQUENCES
To help your child develop responsibility, an Extension family life specialist at Texas A&M, suggests a parent let a child make decisions and involve him in family decision-making. Then let him learn to take the consequences of his decision.

Lasting Influence of SCS

The Great Plains conservation program has proved that it has lasting influence, says Douglas Cunningham, area conservationist. Soil Conservation Service. All know some of the outstanding benefits of the program; however, the true test of any conservation program is how well the producer maintains, improves, and keeps the conservation program applied to the land after it is begun.
A recent analysis of 500 expired GP contracts in this area shows that only 16, or three per cent, are not being maintained. Most of these contracts that have not been maintained have had a change in ownership. These had only a few acres of grass seedings which are being plowed out and put back to cropland where erosion will be a problem.
This low percentage is very reassuring as the GPCP is in its 11th year of operation and it is significant that the program is proving effective in helping landowners complete lasting conservation programs, Cunningham added.
In reviewing conservation plans on these expired contracts the directors were told by many that without GPCP assistance their conservation plans could never have been completed. Of special assistance has been the cooperating help of the Farmers Home Administration, agricultural program and the GPCP in helping young farmers stabilize their operations so they could stay on the farm. Other outstanding accomplishments have been the establishing of grass on submarginal croplands and eroding rangeland. Especially are the grass seedings outstanding on deep sands which were non-productive and eroding prior to stabilization.

Don't Yell Drought, Use Conservation Practices

Although the recent needed moisture was welcome, says Jim Roach of Soil Conservation Service, it leaves the farmer rancher with a wind erosion hazard. Wetting-freezing-thawing of the soil tends to powder and pulverize its surface. Such soil will blow very easily, Roach notes, where there is not sufficient cover to prevent.
Wind erosion can cause severe financial loss which also affects the business establishment of the area.
Stubble mulch farming not only prevents wind erosion but is the best method of getting water into the soil. And soil is the best place to store water.
"The water will make more money and do less damage when stored in soil," Roach adds. "If we have a heavy rain on 640 acres and a 3-inch runoff, this would be enough to fill a 20-acre lake eight feet deep."

The recent snow also points up the value of grass cover. On areas where all the grass was grazed off much of the snow blew away. The same will happen this spring. Most of the rain water will run off where there is no grass to hold it."
Conservation practices capable of getting water into the soil are necessary to successful farm and ranch operations. Stubble mulch, contour farming and proper use of grass land all are drought insurance.
"The first man to yell about a drought is the one who is not carrying out sound conservation practices," Roach finished.

Panhandle Water

By FELI XW. RYALS
The Western States Water Council met in Lubbock on March 17 and 18. This is the first time that the Council has met in a state which is not a member. The current membership of the Western States Water Council is limited to Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

Texas is not regarded as one of the Western States by the Council. Several of the Council Members have used their influence in an attempt to gain membership for Texas. Our neighbor state, New Mexico feels very friendly toward Texas. West Texans, while forming Water, Inc., wholeheartedly supported a water plan that would include New Mexico. This friendly Texas attitude will be remembered.

Alaska and Hawaii are not members at present, but membership is open for them when they decide to join. Texas is permitted to have observers at the Western States Water Council meetings and is looking toward eventual membership. Congratulations must be extended to the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Water, Inc. for the splendid hospitality extended to the Council. Water, Inc. and the Lubbock Chamber were hosts for the annual meeting of the Council.

In order that the people of our area may more fully understand the importance to our area of the Western States Water Council we are listing some of the principles of the Council as set forth in its manual of operations.

"Comprehensive regional planning, transcending political boundaries, is a major consideration in the maximum proper utilization of the water and related resources of the West. Development of those resources to meet all reasonable needs as they may arise is essential to the continuing prosperity of the region and each of its economically interdependent parts.

The planning process should include or supplement rather than supersede existing water resource developments; it should complement and strengthen local and state planning activities rather than displace them; it should result from cooperative effort of all agencies concerned.

The planning program should be aimed to achieve a reasonably equitable balance among all existing and potential users of water, insofar as the supply available or to be developed will permit, consistent with established rights.

Water resources of the region should be put to beneficial use to the fullest practicable extent in an efficient manner in accord with the needs and types of use in the particular area.

It is imperative that all states, as expeditiously as possible, make thorough studies of their water resources and predicted water needs in accordance with guidelines and standards similar to those adopted by the Council.

Long-range water plans should be expeditiously developed which are flexible enough to permit modifications to meet changing long-term needs and advances in technology, yet specific enough to provide solutions for immediate water supply problems.

Water exportation studies shall include a thorough examination of efficiency of water use and cost-price relationships and a comprehensive economic evaluation that considers all costs and benefits accruing to the area of origin and costs and benefits accruing to the area of import. The economic analysis must include similar studies for alternative sources of supply. Esthetic values shall be considered in over-all project evaluation.

Close cooperation and free interchange of ideas and reporting of data on a uniform basis among all affected local, state and federal interests, shall be sought.

New Agent For Ochiltree

Ronnie Wood, now associate county agent of Potter County residing at Amarillo, will be the new county agent for Ochiltree County. He will replace Douglas Smith who is resigning as of April 1 to be associated with Farr Better Feeds, Guymon, Okla.

Smith's family will remain at Perryton until close of the current school term. Mrs. Smith is a former instructor of music in the Perryton schools.

Fishermen in St. Lucia in the West Indies use cotton flour sacks to make sails for their boats.

To Cite Heroic Rancher, Son At Conference

Because they saw an immediate need, acted without regard to personal safety and rescued four men from what could have been death by fire, a Matagorda County rancher, J.O. Thompson, and his son, Johnnie, 19, are to be given the Rural Heroism Award at the annual Texas Safety Conference March 31 in Houston.

The rescue occurred last December when a pipe-line crew, repairing a line on the Thompson ranch was caught in an explosion of gas. The father and son had observed the crew at work and, since the owner notified in advance had gone out to suggest the work be had not been done until permission was given. While they discussed the matter with a crew member the foreman came by to inform the owner that the line was under pressure.

Thompson and his son drove away in their pickup but were just getting out of the vehicle when the explosion occurred. Rushing at 80 mph to the fire scene, the two men saw flames searing to 1000 feet upward. Working in heat so intense that it destroyed vehicles at a greater distance than their own from the blaze, the two managed to save four men whose clothing already was afire. The risk was increased by the danger of a shift in wind direction and the constant threat of secondary explosions.

The Rural Heroism Award is made annually at the Texas Safety Conference at the Rice Hotel.

Thompson is a breeder of Red Angus cattle.

A SNACK ERA

Snacks are becoming more popular. This may be related to the increased proportion of teenagers in the population, to the popularity of television and to an increase in entertaining at home, relates Elizabeth Barnard, extension nutritionist. During the recent U.S. Department of Agriculture 10-year survey, consumption increased for soft drinks, punches and ades, potato chips, crackers, cookies, doughnuts, ice cream, candy, lunch meats and peanut butter.

Gray County Show Winner Scores Again in National

Fred Vanderburg Jr., Poland China hog breeder of Pampa, exhibited the Reserve Grand Champion barrow at the breed's National Spotlight Show and Sale, Cedar Rapids, Ia. last week.

Coming back in the lightweight pork carcass competition, the Champion took second place award in this area also.

The barrow was Reserve Grand Champion in the Gray County livestock show for junior breeders here in February. It was then the property of Wayne Whaley, 11, son of Foster Whaley, county agent.

The younger Whaley sold the barrow back to its original owner after feeding it out for the county show, an arrangement made in advance by the breeder and buyer.

Wayne was happy to re-sell the animal to be exhibited elsewhere because, "Now it won't have to be killed," he told his parents.

At the Southwest Poland China conference in January a Vanderburg market hog entry won the show with a "tremendous" 7.92 square in loin.

Fifty exhibitors participated in the Cedar Rapids show. Boars sold at an average of $349. The top price was $3,100.

Food Cost Up, Percentage Low

A recent USDA report says that costs at the grocery store for US farm foods have risen 14 per cent during the 1960s but that during the same time wages of food buyers rose faster. The percentage of income used by consumers to buy food declined from 20.7 per cent in 1957 to 17.4 per cent in 1967.

Farmers in 1968 received 39 cents of every food dollar an increase of one cent over 1967. The farmer's share varied from 19 cents of the dollar for bakery and cereal products to 55 cents for poultry and eggs.

Millions of Chicks

More than 168.3 million chicks were placed in Texas during 1968, a new record, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The state ranked 7th in the number of chicks placed.

Gross income from broilers totaled $81.6 million and the average live weight per bird was 3.5 pounds. Nationally, the gross income from broilers was more than $1,263 million.

Hogs were valued at $22.3 million. Average value per hog was $23.70.

What Is The Cause of Boils?

Many people think that boils are caused by over-rich blood, or possibly a virus from a cold. Boils usually are a local infection started by the bacteria found on the skin. The staphylococcus or "staph" germ is considered the culprit.

The germs work their way into or through the skin. They form a colony and multiply rapidly. The bloodstream rushes white corpuscles to the spot to kill the invading germs. A boil must be kept covered, for if these germs leak out, more boils may form on your skin or the skin of someone who touches you. A physician usually can relieve a boil by prescribing an antibiotic treatment.

SAFE AT THIRD — Ross Holman pulls in safely at third during Pampa's 10-0 romp over Woodward Saturday afternoon. Holman's blast scored three runs. At right is coach Tommy Lindsey.

Harvesters Win Pair

By RON CROSS

The former error-plagued Pampa Harvesters didn't make but one all day Saturday and Sammy Heasley and Dan Carlton blanked Woodward all day Saturday and the Harvesters swept a double-header from the Boomers, 2-0 and 10-0 in Optimist Club Park.

Heasley pitched a five-hitter in the opener while his teammates managed only five hits off Jim Clabaugh but tallied once each in the first two innings.

Carlton allowed only one hit, a scratch single, in posting his five-inning, 10-0 victory. The second game was called because of the 10 run rule.

Heasley, a junior making his first start of the season and pitching in his second game, fanned four and walked only one. He also hit two batters.

Clabaugh whiffed seven and walked only one batter but Pampa hits in crucial spots told the tale.

Woodward loaded the bases against Heasley in the first inning with one out on three singles. But the young lefty settled down to get Hays to hit into a force play to get the runner at the plate and got the next man on a ground ball.

Pampa jumped in front 1-0 in the first when Mike Stevens lashed the second pitch for a double. After Tommy Hawkins struck out and John Henkins grounded out to send Stevens to third Gary Parrish doubled to score the runner.

The second Pampa run came when Ross Holman opened the bottom of the second with a single, went to second on Vernon Johnston's long fly to center and scored on a ground ball and wild throw.

Woodward threatened off Heasley in the third when the leadoff man singled and went to second on a passed ball.

But Heasley bore down and got the next two batters to fly out and the next man on a ground ball. The leadoff man got on in the fourth for the Boomers but Heasley again flashed his stuff for three straight outs.

In the second game a confident Carlton fanned six and walked three but was never in serious trouble.

Woodward got loaded the bases in the third with two out on two walks and a single but Mike Lillard stroked one deep to center that Parrish caught one-handed.

Pampa jumped in front 1-0 in the second on a one out error allowing Larry Kotara to reach first. The strongboy catcher moved around on a single by Steve Scott and a throwing error.

The Harvesters really went to work on Gary Aldridge in the third when they plated eight runs.

It all came with two out. Stevens reached first on an error and went to second when Hawkins was safe on an error. A ground ball by Henkins turned into a twin killing with Hawkins going to third.

Another error put Parrish on first and scored Hawkins. Kotara was hit by a pitch and Holman tripled home three runs and scored on Scott's single.

Texas Tech Contracts Bob Bass As New Coach

By MIKE WESTER

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Tech Saturday signed Bob Bass, head coach of the American basketball Association Denver Rockets, to a four-year contract as head basketball coach of the Red Raiders to replace the fired Gene Gibson.

Bass will take over his new duties April 1. No salary terms were disclosed.

Bass, 40, flew to Lubbock Saturday morning and signed the contract Saturday morning in the office of Texas Tech athletic director Polk Robison.

Tech President Grover Murray said he thought Bass was a fine choice because of "his diversified coaching experience as well as his outstanding record." I think he will be an asset to the Southwest Conference and to Texas Tech.

T. L. Leach, chairman of Tech's athletic council, said council members were impressed during Bass' recent visit to the Tech campus.

"Coach Robison has conducted one of the most intensive searches I've ever seen to find the right man," said Leach. "The council is certain we have him in Bass."

Bass, one of the most successful small college coaches in the country in a 15-year tenure at Oklahoma Baptist University, took over at Denver when the ABA was founded in 1967. In his 19 years as coach of high school, collegiate and professional teams, Bass has compiled a 464-254 record.

NAIA Champ
He won the NAIA national championship in 1966 at OBU and took the Big Six to the finals of the NAIA tournament on two other occasions.

Gibson was fired before the 1968-69 season was over. His club presented him with his 100th victory as Tech coach in his last game March 4 against Baylor. He left Tech with a 100-92 record.

The choice for a new coach apparently narrowed down to Bass and Eastern New Mexico University coach Harry Miller during the past week.

Campus Visitor
Both had visited the Tech campus earlier this month along with head basketball coach and athletic director Glen Whitis of Howard Payne.

Bass said shortly after his visit at Tech that he wanted to coach the Red Raiders "if they will have me."

Although Tech officials declined comment all week, it became known Friday that the Tech athletic council had given school president Grover E. Murray the go ahead to hire either of the two men.

LINE DRIVE — Joe Clabaugh lined one to the left off Sammy Heasley but it went straight to third baseman Tommy Hawkins for an out, Pampa won a pair from Woodward Saturday.

Its UCLA, Alcindor Defeats Cousy, BC

By 92-72

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Lew Alcindor completed his reign as the king of college basketball in dictatorial fashion Saturday with 37 points and dominance of the backboards to power UCLA past Purdue 92-72 for an unprecedented third consecutive NCAA crown.

The towering 7-foot, 1 1/2-inch center, playing his final collegiate game, turned what was expected to be a close contest into a runaway early in the first half as the Bruins climaxed the greatest three-year history in collegiate basketball.

In the three-year Alcindor era, the Bruins lost only twice in 90 games and in none of their three NCAA championship games was the final score close. It was UCLA's fifth NCAA title in six years.

The Bruins led by as much as 20 points at one stage of the game with Purdue, and, except for a brief rally late in the second half, the Bolleymakers were never in contention.

Alcindor, who at times in the last three years has had trouble getting emotionally up for games, seemed geared to a peak in the first 20 minutes as he scored 24 points and pulled down 11 rebounds to give the Bruins a commanding 42-31 lead at intermission.

Purdue, counting heavily on its outside shooting to stay in the game, stayed close for the first five minutes, but the Bruins outscored the Bolleymakers 13-4 during the next three and a half minutes and took control.

In the consolation game, fast-closing Drake gained third place by storming past North Carolina 104-84 and established itself as the most under-rated team in the nation. Willie McCarter paced the Bulldogs' attack with 28 points.

Baum's 30 Defeats Cousy, BC

NEW YORK (UPI)—John Baum poured in 20 of his 30 points to spark a second half rally that carried underdog Temple to an 89-76 victory over Boston College Saturday in the final of the 32nd annual National Invitation Tournament and spoiled Bob Cousy's farewell to college coaching.

Temple, which won the first NIT in 1938 and never made it to the finals again until this year even though it has appeared in eight tournaments, rallied from a 46-42 halftime deficit behind the shooting of Baum who popped in seven baskets in the second half and added six free throws as he scored 20 of the Owls' 47 points in the second half.

The loss snapped a 19-game winning streak for Boston College which had not lost since Cousy announced he was retiring from college coaching in January. The Eagles finished the season with a 24-4 record.

Temple, overshadowed in Philadelphia's "Big Five" by Villanova and LaSalle and a loser to St. Joseph's in the Middle Atlantic Conference playoff, played the same kind sound ball it showed throughout the tournament and finished the season with a 22-5 record.

Temple played the same tight 3-2 zone it utilized throughout the NIT and held Boston College center Terry Driscoll, who had trouble maneuvering inside and finished with only three baskets in each half and had a total of 18 points.

The Boston College guards tried to shoot over the zone, but failed to hit consistently although Jim O'Brien had 18 points and Billy Evans had 16 in the losing cause.

Joe Cromer backed up Baum for Temple in the well-played game before a crowd of 17,437 with 19 points, including 13 in the first half. Among the Owl rooters was Bill Cosby, the comedian who once ran track for Temple.

Idea, Hard Work And A Golf Course

If you drive north on Hobart Street and then turn west on Kentucky and then drive about a mile off to the right, you'll see a place where it looks like either a real big one has been exceptionally busy.

There is a driving range there that did a considerable amount of business last year and made Wallace Bruce wonder if a driving range has a lot of customers that could a fellow do with a whole golf course?

Wallace doesn't know a lot about golf. He hasn't played in eight years. He's been moving and storing furniture for a business and that's a lot different than operating a golf course.

"It seemed like a good idea, then it didn't and now it does again," Bruce said.

He decided to talk it over with a friend and see if he'd like to be a partner with him.

Elmo Hudgins, an oilfield pumper and gospel singer of renown, apparently knew better than to pass up a good deal. At least he didn't pass this one up.

"We decided on just a nine hole course for the present but if everything goes alright then we can expand in the future," Bruce said.

Bruce planned the course himself, something he'd never done before and all the work, fixing the sites for the greens, the tee mounds, laying the water system pipes, have all been done by Bruce and Elmo.

Golfers will benefit most. Green fees will be $1.00 on weekdays and $1.50 on weekends.

"Most people just can't afford a $2.50 or $3.50 green fee and we think ours is just right for the working class people," Bruce said.

The pair hope to have the course open by the middle of summer.

Bruce and Hudgins will plant grass on the greens and tee boxes next week and it should be up in 90 days or less.

They are using Seaside Bent grass.

The course itself has five par three holes, three par four's and a par 5.

They have planted between 75 and 100 trees.

"I studied this a long time and a lot of people have told me I'm crazy but I've done a lot of watching and waiting and I've gotten a lot of bargains like on the grass, trees and the water system pipes," Bruce said.

The course covers about 25 acres and some of the fairways are narrow but several of the holes will offer a real challenge to golfers.

The driving range will open March 31 at 1 p.m. and then when the course opens the hours will be changed.

The first three holes are all par 3's measuring 200, 110 and 110 yards respectively. No. 4 is a 375 yard par 4 and No. 5 is a 180 yard par 3. The sixth hole is the par 5 hole and measures 475 yards but watch out for the creek. No. 7 is a short par 4 measuring 245 yards while No. 8 is the last par 3 with the distance 110 yards and No. 9 is a 250 yard par 4.

"My banker said it couldn't be done and then we have been set back about six weeks because of the snow and I was beginning to wonder," Bruce said.

"However, things are going along real good right now so I just hope the people will accept it and like it."

It's amazing what a couple of guys can do with an idea and a lot of hard work.

You Don't Say... By RON CROSS

18 Foot Putt Gives Floyd Stroke Edge

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Curly-haired Ray Floyd, often in the money but not a winner since 1965, birdied the final hole Saturday with an 18-foot putt to edge into a one-stroke, third round lead in the $100,000 Greater Jacksonville Open golf tournament.

Floyd, a one-time "Army brat" who earned $63,000 without a victory last year, had fallen back into a tie with early leader Dewitt Weaver when he missed a five foot putt at No. 17—then moved back in front on the 603-yard, par-5 18th when, after bouncing his approach shot past the cup, sank the pressure-packed putt he needed.

The 26-year-old Floyd, a stroke off the pace at the start of the third round, shot a 4-under-par 68 Saturday for a 54-hole total of 9-under-par 207.

Right on his heels, at 208, were Weaver, who entertained a gallery packed with his relatives with a 6-under-par 66 and 41-year-old Gardner Dickinson, the veteran who led last fall's player revolt, with a 70.

South Africa's Gary Player, disturbed because he missed a number of birdie putts "I should have made," had a 68 Saturday for a 7-under-par 209 that tied him for fourth place with Citrus Open champion Ken Still who had a 71.

One more stroke back, at 210, was a five-way group that included Palmer and Trevino—two of the leaders at the start of Saturday's play. Palmer and second round leader Lionel Hebert with a 72, Bob Dickson with a 68 and Terry Dill, who formerly hailed from Muleshoe, Tex., with a 70.

Jack Nicklaus, also complaining about the condition of the greens, shot a 70 Saturday and headed a group at 211 that included former GJO champion Doug Sanders, Tom Weiskopf, Bill Collins, Bob Lunn and Rives McBee.

Defending champion Tony Jacklin of England fell far off the pace with a 71-216 and Miller Barber, who took over as this year's leading money R. Martinez, was even further back at 73-218.

How They Shot

Passes Plenty In SMU Session

DALLAS (UPI)—Southern Methodist's first scrimmage of the spring season, as expected, was filled with passes Saturday.

The Mustang's offense scored 10 touchdowns in the controlled scrimmage, three of them by the passing route, but the defense picked off nine passes. Four of those would have gone for touchdowns under normal game conditions.

Quarterback Chuck Hixson completed touchdown throws of ten and three yards while freshman Gary Hammond hit on a 25-yard, touchdown toss. Halfback Bicky Lesser scored three times, once on a run of 33 yards, and freshman fullback Gordon Gilder got off the longest run of the day, a 44-yarder.

Cardinals Tumble Detroit, 9-1

By United Press International

Joe Hague, one of the spring's most promising rookies, and veteran Lou Brock hit homers Saturday as the St. Louis Cardinals rocked John Hiller for seven runs and defeated the world champion Detroit Tigers 9-1.

Nelson Briles and Steve Carlton, expected to be the Cardinals' No. 2 and No. 3 starters, respectively, held the Tigers to four hits for eight innings. An error and a double by Norm Cash enabled the Tigers to score a run in the ninth against rookie Harry Parker.

Hague led the 13-hit attack with three hits, including his second spring homer after Curt Flood and Vada Pinson singled in the first inning. Mike Shannon's single, a double by Tim McCarver and a two-run single by Julian Javier rounded out the five-run inning.

Brock hit his first homer of the spring after a double by Briles in the second inning.

Mel Queen and Wayne Granger each pitched three strong innings and rookies Steve Mingori and Jose Pena completed a two-hitter as the Cincinnati Reds beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-0. Darrel Chaney's double, singles by Pete Rose, Bob Tolson and Tony Perez and a sacrifice fly by Alex Johnson gave the Reds their four runs in the fifth inning for Don Sutton.

Rookie Larry Hise's sixth inning double drove in the decisive run in the Philadelphia Phillies' 4-3 decision over the Boston Red Sox. Hise, who walked with the bases filled to force in a run in the third inning, doubled in the sixth after a single by Ron Stone. Carl Yastrzemski homered for the Red Sox.

Union Dispute In Baseball to Come to Head

By DREW A. ROY
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—The saying is that "nobody loves an umpire," but Bill Valentine contends that it is not so.

Valentine, 36, of Little Rock, an umpire veteran of 18 years, said today that baseball people have come to his aid and he is now hoping to get his American Baseball League umpiring job back at the start of the current season.

Valentine and Al Salerno were fired last September by American League President Joe Cronin after they successfully organized a union for the men in blue. Valentine had been in the American League since 1962.

"We have our case before the National Labor Board and it looks like they will hear it around the first part of April," Valentine said. "I certainly hope we can be umpiring again when the season opens."

After the two umpires were given the thumb by Cronin, the American League president denied the firing had any connection with the pair's efforts to organize the umpires. The National League had already organized an umpire's association.

"We did what we thought was right," Valentine said. "Our attorneys told us if the league office found out what was going on they would fire us. There is no doubt that is the reason we were fired."

After he got the heave ho, Valentine said American League managers Alvin Dark, Hank Bauer and Dick Williams came out "publicly and said we had been unfairly discharged." He said most of the league's managers and players rallied to the umpires side, but the people that counted, baseball's owners, remained mum.

"This kind of thing was tolerated by the owners. It is now a standoff between Cronin and us. We don't want to involve baseball in long litigation."

After his dismissal, Valentine returned to Little Rock to accept a job at a radio station. He now has his own show with another former baseball umpire Jim Elders, an ex-Texas League umpire.

"These guys haven't forgotten me," Valentine says of the players and managers. "They have been very helpful and many have pitched in and helped me. Some of them have been on my radio program."

Valentine believes the infant umpire union has made giant strides in its first year, but he says the future for the organization looks ever brighter. The union has been successful in getting a minimum raise of $2,500 and has gained added expense allowances.

"The lack of pay has caused a shortage of good umpires in baseball. The pay for umpires is the ridiculous except at the class-AAA level or above."

Clarendon Wins At Lefors

LEFORS—Clarendon made a speed count and showed plenty of it, here Saturday, scoring 15½ points to win going away in the annual Lefors Invitational.

The Broncos landed six first places in the running events and added another first place medal in the broad jump plus several seconds.

White Deer placed third with 77 points and Childress was five points back of the second place finishers. Host Lefors, one of three class B teams in the field of 10 was seventh with 36 points.

The host Pirates had the high individual in senior Jim Gilbreath who was second in the pole vault and won the shot plus running in relay events for Lefors. No new meet records were set in the windy and rain-threatened day.

Clarendon won all three relays and Jimmy Moore of the Broncos was the only double winner of the day racing to first in the 220 yard dash in 23.6 and tying running mate Donald Reeves in the century. Both ran the dash in 10.2 against the win. The Broncos won the mile relay in 3:34.9; the 440 relay in 45.1 and the sprint medley relay in 4:04.5.

Probably the most impressive individual in the meet was sophomore Mark Thurmon of White Deer. Thurmon won the discus in 144.5½ and although he didn't set a meet record one track official commented, "By the time he's a senior we may have to move the ring back or he'll throw out of it."

Gilbreath won the shot event by tossing the iron ball 48 feet, four inches. He then took second in the pole vault by going 10 feet, three inches. Gilbreath also ran on the Pirates' mile and sprint medley relay teams.

Besides their relay, 100 and 220 dash wins the Broncos had a first by Chip Land in the 440 dash. Land covered the distance in 52.2 Jim Pack, also of the Broncos was second.

The only events Clarendon didn't get from a first through third place finish was the 120 yard high hurdles, pole vault and shot.

Mike Weatherton finished third in the mile for the Broncos; Chilton was third in the 880 run; Leeper was second in the high jump and Land finished second in the discus.

The meet was composed primarily of class A teams in Clarendon. White Deer, Childress, Wheeler, Canadian, McLean, Lefors, Follett, Turkey and Hooker were the class B teams represented and the host team was the best of the small school clubs.

POP UP — An unidentified Harvester pops one up but the wind carried the ball out of play and gave him new life. The Harvesters swept a pair of games Saturday from Woodward. (See story, other pictures, page 9)

Pampa Trackmen 5th In Perryton Relays

PERRYTON — Pampa trackmen, out of action for two weeks because of unseasonable snow, showed improvement anyway, here Saturday in the annual Perryton Relays.

The Harvesters thinclads finished fifth in a field of eight teams in the meet won by Borger.

The Bulldogs totaled 122 points while host Perryton finished second with 93; Caprock and Dumas tied for third with 68; Pampa had 58; Liberal, Kan. had 40; Guymon, Okla. had 16 and Woodward, Okla. had 14.

Fleet Paul Anderson won Pampa's only first place medal by upsetting James Lee Robinson of Borger in the 100 yard dash.

Anderson sped the distance in 9.9 while Denny Johnson was picked third in 10 flat. An argument arose over the placement of Johnson who crossed the finish line almost at the same time Anderson did. Johnson also was third in the 220 dash in 22.4 and Anderson was fourth in 22.6.

Weightman Scotty King finished second in the shot and third in the discus. Scott threw the iron ball 50 feet, 7 inches while first place throw was 51-6. Lewis Davis was fifth with a throw of 47-7. King hit 130-9 in the discus.

Anderson, Johnson, Stan Scarborough and Jerry Brumfield paced Pampa's 440 relay team to a second place finish in 44.9, the best they've had this season.

Keith Coyle took sixth place and points for the Harvesters in the 120-yard high hurdles in 16.3.

The Harvesters have been idled the past two weeks, unable to compete in any meets and unable to practice outdoors. They've spent the time staying in shape running in school halls.

Although coach Ed Lehnick wasn't greatly happy with the thinclads performance he said he felt just about everybody had improved over his last showing.

"We did better and we've got to do better every week. We probably could have picked up a couple of places more Saturday," Lehnick said.

The Harvesters compete next week in the Amarillo Relays where Palo Duro, one of the best track teams in the state is the favorite.

Like Mother, Like Daughter In Stratford

By MIKE WESTER
STRATFORD, Tex. (UPI) — Girls basketball around Stratford has become a way of life and a family tradition.

The Stratford Elkettes won the Class A state championship last week by defeating Deweyville 42-37. It marked the first time such an honor had been captured by the Elkettes since scholastic League took over the program in 1951.

However, the mothers of several of this year's team members played on a Stratford team which won a state championship in 1945 under the old league setup and their aunts played on a team which won the state title in 1936.

The 1935-36 team to win the honor was the Conlen Lassies. The town of Conlen still exists, 11 miles southwest of Stratford on U.S. 54 in the Texas Panhandle toward Dalhart. But the school has been consolidated with the Stratford district.

Stratford finished this year with a 37-2 record under the guidance of coach P. D. Fletcher.

Coached Five Years
 Fletcher, 33, is a graduate of Dumas High School and Panhandle A&M college in Goodwill, Okla. He has been at Stratford the past five years in his only job as teacher-coach.

"This year's team was not necessarily our best," Fletcher said. "But we accomplished more than any other. Before we have always run into trouble in the regional tournament."

Stratford's girls have been to regional every year since Fletcher became coach. During the past four years its overall record is 131-16. Fletcher also coaches tennis, is an assistant in football and teaches American history and civics.

Two members of this year's squad made all-state. They were Rene Knight, a junior forward, and Neta Brannan, a senior guard.

"We were certainly disappointed that one of our best players wasn't mentioned," said Fletcher. "Kathy Allen is probably the best girl athlete I've seen."

Mother Was All-State
 Ironically, Kathy's mother

made all-state on the 1945 team and her aunt was all-state on the 1936 Conlen team. Kathy also was on the doubles tennis team which won state last year, and is a high jumper on the girls track team.

She scored 51 points this year against Sunray to set the school's individual scoring record for one game, and has scored 2,784 points in three years to set another school record. She made 35 points against Lexington in the semifinals and 13—her lowest ever—against Deweyville in the finals.

"That really wasn't her fault," Fletcher said. "We used her more as a decoy to get Rene open. Kathy hit over 50 per cent of her shots from the floor."

Kathy is a 5-9 forward who made all-regional two years and all-district four years, including her first season as a guard. Another team standout, guard Carla Hester, didn't make the state tournament due to illness.

Played With Champions
 Kathy's mother, Mrs. Katie Hester Allen, and Carla's mother, Mrs. Joy Hudson Hester, both played on the 1945 championship team. Kathy's aunt, Mrs. Billie Murie Hester Steel, was on the 1936 Conlen team. She now lives in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Kathy was named to the North-South all-star team as a forward. The game is scheduled this summer at Duncanville during the Girls Basketball Coaches Association clinic.

"The community gave us great support," Fletcher said. "Watching our girls play must have been the city's No. 1 entertainment. I know of two chartered buses which went to Austin, several flew down and others went in private cars."

Fletcher thought this pretty good for a high school of 220 students and a city with a population of 2,500.

All to Austin
 "If there had been a fire during the state tournament the whole town would have burned down," said Dave McReynolds, publisher of the weekly Stratford Star. "We all went to Austin. Most of us, including myself, just closed down our businesses."

The old Conlen champs battled even greater odds. It was so small that all the girls in high school had to play basketball so there would be enough for a first and second team. Both the head coach and the assistant coach of that team have since died.

M. D. Blankinship, head coach, died of a heart attack in 1950 at his ranch in Helmsville, Mont. His wife Mincie still lives there. Assistant coach William D. Graves is also dead, and his wife Nannie Belle now teaches school in Dalhart.

Girls basketball has become a real tradition in these parts.

Baylor Grid Boss To Be In Amarillo

Baylor University's new head football coach, Bill Beall, will be in Amarillo, Tuesday evening as a guest of the Panhandle Baylor Club.

Beall will be the guest speaker at a special Baylor Club meeting, at Furr's Cafeteria, Western Plaza Shopping Center.

Prior to the 7:00 p.m. dinner meeting, a reception will be held for the new Baylor coach, starting at 6:00 p.m.

"The meeting and reception will give area Baylorites and anyone else interested, an excellent opportunity to talk to Coach Beall," Morris Cobb, President of the Panhandle Baylor Club, said, in making the announcement.

"We hope everyone interested in Baylor University and Baylor football will plan to attend. No reservations are necessary," Cobb said.

A 1950 graduate of Memphis State, Beall was Assistant Coach at Louisiana State University before accepting the Baylor coaching position. He has also served on the coaching staff of Rice University.

At the Tuesday night Baylor Club meeting, Coach Beall will share the platform with Ross Larson, Principal of Amarillo High School, who will announce details of the newly created "Mike Dewlen Memorial Scholarship." Son of Amarillo Writer, Al Dewlen, Mike Dewlen is a former Baylor University football great. He was killed in Vietnam in 1968.

Pat Kelly: Brother Of Leroy.....

By IRA BERKOW
POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (NEA) — Pat Kelly wacked a ball to right-center field and made a triple out of it.

In the press box, someone said, "That was a 30-yard gain." This is the kind of humor Harold Patrick Kelly has been subjected to for the last several years. There are signs, however, that this will change.

After the game, a reporter approached Kelly in the locker room. "Some day," said the reporter, "a story on you may have an angle other than 'Pat Kelly, brother of Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns.'"

Kelly, a rookie centerfielder for the new Kansas City Royals, did not have to chew that thought as he chewed his egg salad sandwich.

"Yeah," he said, smiling, and dabbing the mayonnaise from his mouth. "My team mates are always kidding me about it. You know what they call me? 'Brother of.'"

In early spring training games, Pat Kelly has been starting in the outfield and batting third. He has looked good. Manager Joe Gordon feels there will probably be a place for him on the club.

"He's got a good attitude," said Gordon. "He likes to play. He's also got power. But we like the way he skadoots around them bases. That's what we want, an exciting player."

"I won't believe I'm in the majors," said Pat, "until I'm on that plane flying to Kansas City."

That would be a departure. In his last six seasons in professional baseball, Kelly has played with Erie, Orlando, Wilson, Wisconsin Rapids, Charlotte and Denver. For the last two years, he also has had coffee breaks with the Minnesota Twins.

Last year at Denver, he batted .306 and led the Pacific Coast League in stolen bases with 38.

"The saying is, 'Have a good year and move up,'" he said. "Well, for the last six years I was with the Minnesota organization. But they had outfielders like Uhlaender, Allison and Oliva. Never much room for me. And I had good years." Three times, Kelly has batted over .300 and always he has been a base-stealing threat.

The Royals picked Kelly up in the fourth round of the expansion draft. He knows it is a great opportunity. At 25, there may not be many more chances to be something other than "brother of."

"All I want is to get some success of my own now," he said. "Leroy's got his, and I'm glad. He deserves it. I'm deeply proud of my brother. And I'd like to achieve in baseball what he's done in football. He's fantastic, isn't he? He's the best, except for Jim Brown. Leroy's always calling me down here, wanting to know how I'm hitting. Wants to know how I'm running, too." Kelly laughed.

"I signed a pro contract before Leroy did. He had baseball offers but decided to go to Morgan State College. At the time, he said, 'My day is coming.' Now, that's what I'm saying."

"But you know who my idol is? Earl the Pearl. That's right, Earl the Pearl Monroe, the basketball player. I played high school basketball against him in Philadelphia. And I remember how hard he worked. There'd be five inches of snow on the ground, and he'd clear it away and shoot baskets."

After last football season, Pat visited Leroy in Cleveland. And Leroy had a date lined up for his brother.

"I turned it down," said Pat. "I told him Earl the Pearl was in town playing against the Royals and I wanted to see the game. 'Are you nuts?' The girl's beautiful," he said. "But I had to see The Pearl."

With that kind of fanaticism, Pat Kelly could become either a great centerfielder or a monk.

Yanks Beaten, Orioles Still Look the Best

By United Press International
 The heir-apparent to Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, Tony Solaita, was cut from the main club squad Friday and the Los Angeles Dodgers proceeded to chop off the Yank six-game winning streak with a 9-0 shellacking Friday night.

The Baltimore Orioles, leading the Grapefruit League, needed only one inning to dispose of Ted Williams' hapless Washington Senators. Baltimore scored all 11 runs in the fifth inning by ripping Bruce Howard and Dennis Higgins.

The Cleveland Indians split their squad and both A and B teams won. Sam McDowell and Jack Hamilton combined for a four-hit job against the California Angels for a 3-0 victory, while the B squad staggered to a 10-9 win over the Seattle Pilots, even though the Pilots hit five homers.

The Chicago Cubs saw their three-game winning streak ended violently by a 15-8 trouncing at the hands of the Oakland Athletics, who scored seven runs after two were out in the second inning.

The Minnesota Twins, with Jim Kaat making an impressive winning run in the ninth.

Sydney O'Brien's homer off Bob Priddy in the ninth gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

The Mets earlier this week tabbed third baseman Amos Otis as an "untouchable" during their effort to obtain Joe Torre from the Atlanta Braves.

Wranglers Eye Fourth And Playoffs

By United Press International
 With just four days left to go in the scheduled Central Hockey League season, the top three places in the northern division are still up for grabs.

But the fate of Tulsa, Omaha and Kansas City could be decided tonight.

The Oilers need only to win one of their three remaining games to clinch the northern division title and Tulsa would like nothing more than wrap it up tonight when the team ventures into Amarillo to play the fourth-place team in the southern division.

Omaha and Kansas City, fighting it out with Tulsa, play each other tonight in Omaha. A tie there would clinch at least a first-place tie for Tulsa and would eliminate Kansas City, four points behind the front running Oilers.

The Blues kept their slim hopes alive for a title tie with Tulsa by blanking the Oklahoma City Blazers, champions in the southern division, 2-0 Friday night.

In the only other game, Dallas clinched at least a tie for the runner-up spot in the southern division, by blasting Omaha 6-1.

Kansas City's win moved the Blues within one point of Omaha for second place in the north.

Houston needs to win its remaining two games. While Dallas needs to lose all three games left on its schedule.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE — This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by The News as a public service to taxpayers.

Q—Taxes were taken out of my pay on the summer job

A—You must file a tax return to obtain any refund that may be due. Tax forms and instructions are available at local IRS offices as well as many banks and post offices.

Ward's Grocery Sold to Foodway

Announcement was made Saturday of the purchase of Ward's Grocery, 502 W. Francis, by the Kimbell Corp. of Fort Worth.

Bill Heller, Amarillo district manager for Kimbell and Foodway Stores, said the new Pampa acquisition will be known as Cashway and will offer a complete supermarket service, meat and delicatessen departments.

Trading stamps will be continued, Heller stated, and the delicatessen service will be maintained with an upgraded quality of food service.

Heller said Kermit Plowman has been named store manager with Bill Lam as assistant manager and Carl Saxton in charge of the meat department.

Cashway, he added, will handle top national brand groceries along with the freshest and best quality produce available.

Although the new owners have taken over and now are operating the store, Heller stated that a grand opening of Cashway is being planned for the near future.

Q—I've read where a lot of people are making mistakes on their tax returns because of the surcharge. What are they doing wrong?

A—Taxpayers are either forgetting to add the surcharge or they are figuring it wrong. Mistakes like these delay processing as well as any refund that may be due. To avoid these mistakes check your instructions which explain how the surcharge should be handled.

Q—Can I deduct the federal tax I pay on my phone bill?

A—No, this is an excise tax and excise taxes are not deductible.

Q—My brother has just been sent to Vietnam by the Army. Does he have to file a tax return?

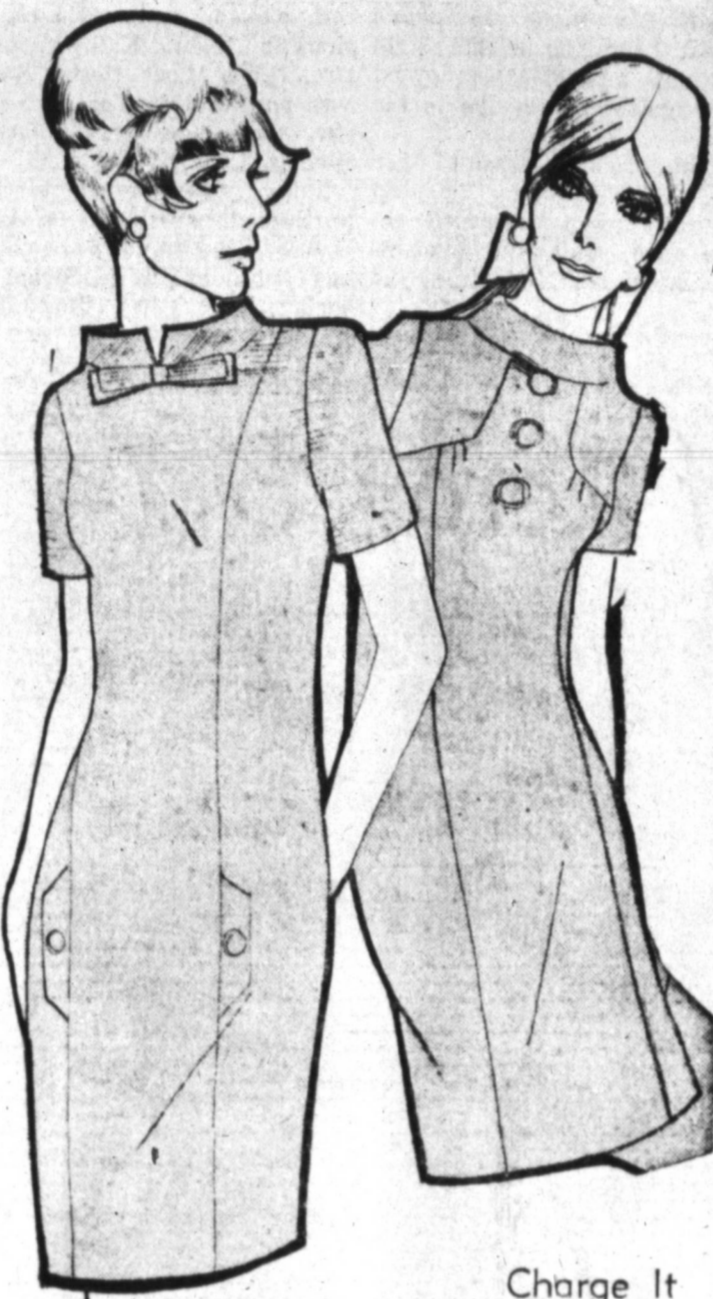

A—Military personnel in Vietnam don't have to file tax returns while stationed there. Your brother may wait to file his 1968 tax return until 180 days after he leaves Vietnam.

Q—Where can I buy a copy of "Your Federal Income Tax?"

A—Most local offices of IRS have copies of this guide, Publication 17, or you can write the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. It costs 60 cents.

Cotillion Club Revives 19th Century Spirit

WANDA MAE HUFF, WOMEN'S NEWS EDITOR

GLASSWARE COLLECTION — Mrs. Martin Hager, left, admires an opaque milk glass Easter egg which Mrs. Lee Fraser, Cotillion Study Club president, is holding. The game set, a platter and set of matching game plates on the first shelf, is from France and is dated Aug. 15, 1916. The game set and all other items pictured will be among the antique furniture and housewares for sale in the Cotillion Club's Antique Show. Proceeds from the show will be used for one of the club's service projects, The Opportunity Plan, a college scholarship program for Pampa area students.

ted china pieces of the Victorian period. A Victorian rosewood chair upholstered in black background decorated in needlepoint is placed beside Mrs. Spearman. All Victorian pieces pictured are for sale in the Cotillion's annual Antique Show April 11, 12 and 13.

TURN OF THE CENTURY FURNISHINGS — Mrs. Ben Sturgeon, left, and Mrs. Jim Alexander, Cotillion Club members, examine an early 1900 walnut compartment lap desk. The round piano stool on which the Chinese tea can lamp is setting, is of the 1840-1900 period and is made of empire walnut. The Chinese tea can lamp is one of a pair made between 1810 and 1820. The chair is hand-made maple and pine designed about 1830. All home furnishings will be sold in the club's Antique Show and Sale in the Coronado Inn, Starlight Room April 11, 12, and 13.

BEFORE INDOOR PLUMBING — Mrs. Jim Campbell, left and Mrs. Howard Greenlee discuss how this pitcher and bowl set were used with their matching toothbrush holder and soap dish. The set was used in the late 1880's, when washing up before dinner was done indoors but without a modern, stainless steel and tile bathroom. The china "bathroom set" is included in the club's Antique Show and Sale along with the walnut Sheraton lamp on which the china is placed. The table was made about the 1830's or 1850's, and will be one of several home furnishings of that period sold for the club's project, The Opportunity Plan.

Soap, water and slippery surfaces in the bathroom create hazards for all ages. A few inexpensive items such as a suction-type rubber mat or safety strips in the tub, a non-slip mat on the floor, and bathtub handholds can go a long way toward eliminating falls in the bathroom.

Your Horoscope
JEANE DIXON

SUNDAY, MARCH 23
YOUR BIRTHDAY today: — Practical application is strongly needed during all the coming year if your greater potentials are to be fulfilled. Associates ask for your assistance. You must pay close attention as to what and to whom you are lending your time and energy. Established relationships improve steadily. Today's natives are more peacefully intentioned than most Aries people. Many have distinguished themselves with a sense of humor.

ARIES (March 21-Apr. 19): — Do yourself the honor of a good appearance this morning. Then set about using the rest of the day in systematic future planning.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): —

Higher rewards await any constructive effort today. Get up early and keep moving all day. Your health and morale improve. Devote the evening to meditation. Retire early.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): — Fit yourself in with some group and let somebody else lead and do the talking and perhaps most of the spending. The evening will be time enough to be serious with plans for the next few days.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): — Find something special to do that helps the community in its expression of faith. Entertain friends and their associates. Contribute to your favorite charity.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): — There is a lot going on that you would miss by staying home. See what the neighborhood is up to. Be of assistance. The evening can be real fun once you slow down a bit.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): — Your spirits are improved as a result, perhaps, of indications of higher income. Get into the social mainstream of your community, share in making it a happier place to live.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): — Self expression is more fluent today, particularly verbal. Travel is favored. Communications improve; try placing that delayed call to distant relatives again.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): — Make the formal amenities today, then use the opportunity to see or telephone people who are inaccessible all week. You may be able to make some unusually good arrangements to secure support for your activities.

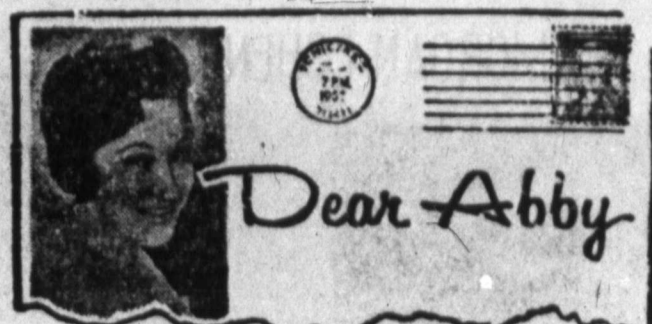

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): — Irritation will get you nothing but more of the same. Move with positive thought early; decide that you will make the best of whatever is going on. Show your loved ones how you feel about them — it's a story that stands endless retelling.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): — You are at an excellent starting point to improve your life and happiness. You have nothing to lose and everything to gain.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): — Care in driving is important. Patience during misunderstandings over time pays off a millionfold in appreciation after the meeting is straightened out. If you express it, temper with the opposite sex spoils everything.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): — The opportunities open now will shortly pass; so if you want anything of what is presently available, move quickly today and tomorrow. In doubt? Go ahead.

MONDAY MARCH 24
YOUR BIRTHDAY MONDAY: This coming year is the time to make a systematic survey as to how far your life program has progressed. Unproductive social connections (See Horoscope Page 16)

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been a widow for three years and have two teen-aged children. A daughter and a son.

A few months ago my husband's best friend whose wife passed away last year started calling on me. We've known each other for 25 years and have the deepest respect for one another. We enjoy each other's company and it's so good to have someone to be with after all this time. (Yes, it could be "love.")

My problem is my 16-year-old daughter. She treats him disgracefully and insults me each time he calls. She has even given me an ultimatum, "If you really love me, you won't see him again."

Abby, I love my daughter, but I don't want to quit seeing this man. My son adores him. How can I convince my daughter that this is a respectful form of companionship? I've talked to her for hours but can't get through to her. She won't let our minister talk to her either. Maybe she'll listen to you.

TRYING HARD
DEAR TRYING: Your daughter is angry and jealous because she feels she is "losing" her mother, after having recently lost her father. But that should not rule the course of your life, and you must not let it. Quit trying to explain your "feelings" to your daughter. Ask the family doctor to explain the facts of life to her. The girl needs help in understanding, but her problem should not be allowed to blight your own happiness.

DEAR ABBY: We have both been married twice before and each have children. He claims he loves me, but this is not the right time to get married. When I ask him when will the time be right, he says he doesn't know, but this isn't it. I help him with his part-time work, and I have carried a hot lunch to him five days a week for three years. Plus I do up his laundry and give him supper at my place every evening and he has all his meals here with me on week-ends. I go to his place to help with the housework since his daughter (17) is too lazy to do anything. Besides this I take care of my own house and work nights. I average four hours sleep a night.

I love him dearly and we get along fine. We spend so much time together lots of people think we are married. So why doesn't he marry me?

SUCKER
DEAR SUCKER: Why should he? He's getting the whole show for the price of the amusement tax.

DEAR ABBY: I have been living in an empty marriage (in many ways) for many years. We put on a good show, but are strangers who can't even discuss our problems with each other, so we keep very busy, each with our separate lives.

For some time I have been thinking of making a break, hoping to find a truly meaningful relationship. Am I crazy for considering giving up possessions and a comfortable place in society?

UNFULFILLED
DEAR UNFULFILLED: When the chips are down, each one of us must decide for himself what is worth how much. Only you can answer your question.

DEAR ABBY: What's all this stuff in your column about whether or not a 15-year-old girl should ask her boy friend to give her kid sister a ride to school? Or should the mother take the kid sister? Why should any healthy normal kid who lives less than a mile need a ride to school?

I think it is absolutely ridiculous to see mothers and fathers hauling able-bodied children to school in automobiles when the 15-minute walk would do them a world of good. In a few generations we won't even know how to walk.

I grew up in a midwestern city and we walked everywhere, and I'll bet you did, too!

R.H.
DEAR R. H.: You can say that again!

ABWA Group Has Program for March

The American Business Women's Association held its March meeting recently in Furr's Cafeteria, with Mrs. Eugene Franklin president, presiding. Pampa's Foreign Exchange Student from Japan, Nobuhiro Ichiryu, was guest speaker.

Nobuhiro was introduced by his Pampa brother, Gene Key. He is from a family of six and as he says, "including his grandmother."

He explained it is the custom in Japan for the grandparents to live with the families of their children. Nobuhiro gave a brief geographical layout of his country and noted his home is the Island of Kochi City. Japan with a population of 250,000.

He said Japan is only one nationality and one language, universal, only different accents. The Japanese have two forms of religion, the Shinto, which is their ancestor worship and the Buddha, the latter being the religion used in their death ceremony.

"The Japanese show appreciation and honor to their religions by building shrines in their honor. The Japanese ratio of modern conveniences is exceeded only by the United States of America. The country is favored with good climate the year around," he said.

Mrs. Raymond Johnson book-keeper at Pampa clinic, gave the vocational talk. Members discussed the Spring Tea and heard a report on the last Council of Clubs meeting which had a talk by Dr. James F. Malone for its program. Dr. Malone spoke on Phase I of the Pampa School bond issue election.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Eugene Franklin, C.A. Herd, J.G. Shelton, T.A. Mastin, Kurt Newman, Raymond Johnson, Carl Thomas, Harry Paul, Danny Malone, James Quary, Arville Hayes, G.F. Richmond, Allen Buske, James Culpepper, Vernon Graham, Lloyd Summers, Norman Dulaney, Eunice Maddox, Miss Maxine Nabors and a guest, Mrs. Don Elledge.

probably wither, sometimes with little repercussion. The temptation will be to take more time away from group activities, neglecting essential amenities, for self-indulgent pastimes. Monday's natives often strike out on impulse. This year provides little opportunity for this.

ARIES (March 21-April 19); Impatience Monday creates minor problems. If you take offense at a trifling discrepancy, you only ask for more. All such matters are within your free will; it isn't necessary to upset other people or your welfare by letting your expression get out of control.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20); Everybody seems to be determined to tell you how to spend money Monday. Pay no attention and stick to your own earlier decision. Look over your personal accounts tonight.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20); Public life is in the fore. Take the trouble to present yourself effectively with words and appearance. Seek the assistance of others with similar tastes and habits.

CANCER (June 21-July 22); Get busy, offer information from your locality to connections in far places. No point in sulking over lack of incoming news. Make some yourself.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22); Extra support comes from meeting others in your own line of activity, and exchanging ideas. Find technical matters which will give you the facts behind the opinions you hear.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22); Let the facts speak for themselves and spare your voice. The urgency is more in your own mind than in the real situation.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22); Unplanned free time, misplaced records, lapses in schedules are all part of the vexations of Monday. Bring along something to read in the gaps or prepare to mark time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21); Slow down long enough to check out your position thoroughly. Know where you stand, what you have available. Then make full use of your resources.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21); Your wisdom in avoiding a show of petty annoyance will greatly benefit you later on. If permitted to do so, those little complaints can turn into giant stumbling blocks.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19); Everybody seems to have something extra to say Monday, but not enough people are doing much work. Be one of the producers rather than one of the talkers. You'll be ahead.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18);

If you will give others a fair chance to offer their comments, then you can prevail with your plans. Be sure you are thoroughly organized and can answer questions, before you begin.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20); Make sure you have the agreement and support, then reach for wider bases and outside support. Check your home to see that all is in order. The evening is going to be full of complicated discussions.

County HD Agent Explains Processes

A new chemical finishing process may take the "drip" out of drying durable press garments on the clothes line, reports Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Gray County home demonstration agent.

The "mild-cure process" gives cotton fabrics the capacity to dry smoothly when hung on a line while damp, after the spin dry cycle on the washing machine. Usually they must be hung while dripping wet after the rinse cycle.

Wrinkles can be prevented in durable press garments by drying them in a dryer, if they are removed immediately after the drying cycle stops or if the dryer has a cool down cycle.

The process is named for the relatively low heating, or curing, temperatures employed, says Miss Wainscott.

Treatment involves first wetting the fabric with a chemical solution, then heating the wet fabric to 212 degree F. for two minutes to cause a reaction between the chemicals and the cotton. Curing temperatures in conventional processes may range up to 325 degree F.

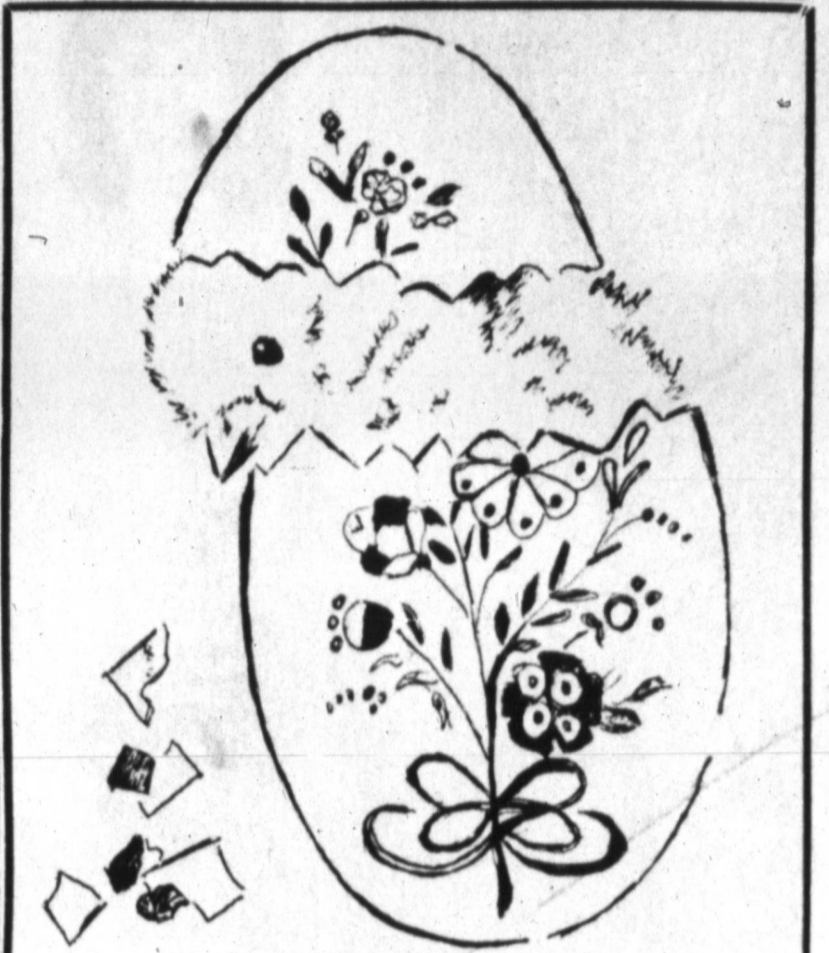

In the last step, the treated fabric is washed and dried. Lower temperatures can be used, but the reaction time is increased proportionately, she reports. The low temperature reaction improves what the chemists call "wet wrinkle recovery."

The process has been carried (See County Page 19)

MRS. DAVID MARK HENKEL
... nee Joy Lynn Howard

Miss Joy Howard, David M. Henkel Exchange Marriage Vows In Pampa

Miss Joy Lynn Howard and David Mark Henkel were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony in Central Baptist Church March 8. Rev. T.O. Upshaw, pastor, and Rev. Hershel H. Henkel, the bridegroom's father, officiated for the evening candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Howard, 2129 Williston. The bridegroom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. H.H. Henkel, Wilcox, Ariz.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, with the "her mother and I avowal," the bride was dressed in a formal gown of peau de soie and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The dress was designed with a wedding ring neckline, long tapered sleeves and a styled sheath skirt. The detachable chapel train and front of her dress was appliqued with lace adorned with bridal pearls. Her veil of silk English illusion was attached to a wired pearl-studded headpiece of organza flowers. She carried a cascade of white rose-shaped camillas on a white Bible.

The bride observed traditional customs by wearing pennies in her shoes with the couple's birth years, for her something old; carried a Bible from her parents as something new; borrowed a white linen handkerchief from her mother; and wore a blue garter. Other traditional customs were giving single roses to her mother and the bridegroom's mother.

ATTENDANTS

Maid of honor, Miss Connie Simpson, the bride's cousin, was assisted by Sharon Maddox, as bridesmaid, and Sydney Brown as flower girl. Bridal attendants wore formal gowns of avacado green peau de soie and carried long stem white rose-shaped camillas. The flower girl carried a basket of flowers.

Al Williams, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, was best man, assisted by Don Howard, San Antonio, the bride's brother, as groomsmen. Ushers were Jerry Simpson, Pampa, and Melvin Simpson, McLean, the bride's cousins.

The couple exchanged vows in a setting of four seven-branched candelabras. Two of the candelabras were lighted by ushers, two by David Howard the bride's nephew and son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Howard, San Antonio, and by Mark Henkel, the bridegroom's brother. Choir rail was covered in lemmun leaves interwoven with white mums.

Mrs. Charles Parr played traditional wedding music with David Murphy of Pampa, as vocalist for "Lord's Prayer," and "Twelfth of Never."

The bride's mother wore a kelly green three-piece suit with platinum antique accessories. The bridegroom's mother selected a green and blue sheath dress with blue accessories. Both wore white camillas for corsages.

RECEPTION

For the reception in the church Fellowship Hall, the bride's table was decorated with a four-tiered white wedding cake which was adorned with white roses. Mrs. Charles Parr played piano music for the reception. Mrs. Sandra Williams, the bridegroom's sister, assisted at the punch bowl as Mrs. Don Howard, served cake. Miss Gale Eoswell, registered guests. Others assisting were Mrs. Ray Boswell, Mrs. Raymond Maddox and Mrs. Lloyd Simpson, all of Pampa.

For the honeymoon in Texas and New Mexico, the bride traveled in a three-piece green knit suit with white accessories and wore the camillas lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple live at 333 Miami. The bride, a Pampa High School graduate, is a bookkeeper for a Pampa office supply. The bridegroom, a Tonkawa High School graduate in 1965, attended Phoenix College, Phoenix, Ariz., and is a cable television technician here.

Twentieth Century Forum Club Studies Texas Under Confederacy

Twentieth Century Forum met in regular session in the home of Mrs. William Cornman at 809 N. Nelson recently. Mrs. Aubrey Steele led the group in giving the "Club Collect", and Mrs. Frank Stolfa, president, conducted business.

The club voted to conduct a Rummage Sale early in the fall, which would enable them to continue giving a scholarship to a high school student.

Mrs. H. Joe Franklin, discussing "Texas Under the Confederate Flag", said "Turbulence and violence were greater in 1860 than they had been since the Revolution of 1836. All of the newspapers were full of stories of crimes committed everywhere. Abolitionists had aroused public indignation and disorder to a high point. Vigilance committees were formed and acted throughout Texas, men arresting any suspicious character and hanging him if necessary. Several gospel ministers were hanged either for their abolition sentiments or for tampering with slaves.

"As early as November, 1860, mass meetings were held throughout the state demanding the governor convene the legislature or provide for a convention of the people to effect secession," she said.

"As an original question, secession perhaps would have failed to carry in Texas, but the six leading cotton states, having already seceded, banded together in a new confederacy and formed a new government.

"Texas was confronted with becoming part of the new compact, remaining in the Union or resuming her sovereignty as a separate republic. The course adopted was the only one open to her. Northern states had generally sympathized with Mexico in dependence and Texans had really preferred to fight Massachusetts rather than Louisiana," Mrs. Franklin said.

"Texas voted to secede from men and supplies. It is the Union Feb. 23, 1861. The order became effective March 2, 1861.

"Once committed to the Confederate Alliance, many problems faced Texas—how to raise troops, money for arms and supplies and transportation to the war zone. Texas, like the other gulf coast states, was less into war. Some money was raised by selling U.S. Bonds acquired during the border settlement of 1850 and by sale of cotton.

"Texas strained every nerve to help the Confederacy with men and supplies. It estimated Texans furnished 90,000 men for her armies. There were 135 officers above the rank of lieutenant who were from Texas. Among these generals were Johnston, Hood, Maxey, Wharton and Green.

The Confederacy's last death throws came about June 2, 1865, on board a Man-of-War in Galveston Harbor when Confederate General Kirby Smith signed the capitulation that officially ended the Confederacy.

"The broken soldiers who survived battles of the long war were coming home to face fallen fortunes. Thousands who died were mourned by mothers, widows and orphans throughout the turbulent, desolate land. This was Texas under the Confederate flag," Mrs. Franklin said.

Refreshments were served to members Mmes. Holt Barber, Hugh D. Barton, Michael Dunigan, H. Joe Franklin, J. R. Holloway, David E. Holt, M. McDaniel, Aubrey Steele and Frank Stolfa.

MINI FINGERNAILS

In this era of mini, it seems petite girls have the advantage except in the area of false fingernails — which may be too large to fit a small girl's fingers and have to be filed and cut down. But nevermore. A firm has brought out mini size ones. They are also good for nail-biters who have less surface area on which to affix false nails.

Along with the ability to line dry smoothly from a damp-dry state, the treated fabric has all the good properties of cotton treated by conventional processes.

Durable creases have been put into fabric finished by the process, but only on a very limited scale. Chemists at an Agricultural Research Service laboratory in New Orleans, La., say that further research is needed to determine the best combination of processing conditions on a variety of fabrics before the process is ready for commercial application.

Floral Society To Attend Show By Dallas Club

Pampa African Violet Society met at Mrs. V. N. Osborne's home, 315 N. Starkweather recently for a monthly meeting as members were invited to attend the First African Violet Society's show in Dallas March 28 and 29.

An appreciation letter was read from Capt. Jess Duncan of Salvation Army for the club's Christmas donations and a plaque was presented to the club from the Army.

Mrs. Norman Walberg, president, announced the National African Violet Convention will be held in Philadelphia April 17, 18, and 19 with the theme, "Violets in Philadelphia."

Mrs. Osborne presented a program on arranging with African violets and had several arrangements of African violets with driftwood as an arrangement background. "Balance is the most important factor in arranging, she said.

Mrs. Dan Glaxner discussed a new self-watering plant on the market which would keep plants from being watered more than two to five weeks. She also gave names of new introductions of African Violets on the market soon.

Nine members attended the meeting.

SUNDAY MORNING GRIST

From the Editorial Mill

JUST TO give everyone an equal opportunity to get in on one of the most outstanding concert seasons in the more than a quarter-century history of the Pampa Community Concert Association, we are jotting down this reminder today that the association's annual open membership campaign for the 1969-70 season gets under way tomorrow morning. Following a successful renewal week membership drive, remaining memberships will be available starting tomorrow. The campaign will continue through the week until the seating capacity of Pampa Junior High School auditorium is sold out. Three big attractions already have been contracted for the new season. They include the colorful Fiesta Mexicana company of singers and dancers, The Vienna Academy Chorus, acclaimed world-wide, and the Clebanoff Strings, which has been a smashing hit on concert stages across the United States. A fourth concert number will be selected by the association board at the conclusion of this week's membership campaign. We're safe in saying that any one of next season's attractions could well be worth the membership fee for the entire 4-concert season. Adult season memberships are $10 and there is only a $5 fee for student memberships. Some 130 volunteer campaign workers will officially launch the final week drive at the concert association's annual dinner tomorrow night in Coronado Inn. Campaign headquarters in the Southwestern Public Service Co. lobby, 315 N. Ballard, will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, starting tomorrow. A phone call to headquarters at MO 5-3821 will get you a reservation and your membership card will be delivered.

TUESDAY WILL be the day of decision on that $900,000 school bond issue. We are not going to tell you to vote AGAINST it. And we are not going to tell you to vote FOR it. In other words, it is suspected that voters already have made up their minds. The Pampa News has published details on all of the 13 projects in the package deal and the school superintendent and athletic director have been quoted in news stories as to what is contained in the bond issue. Plus their contention that all of it is needed. The Chamber of Commerce and other organizations have endorsed it. All you have to do Tuesday is decide whether you want to pay for it. And here is a reminder that you have to be a property owner and registered voter in order to cast a ballot. There will be one place to vote—the Pampa Junior High School gym at Ballard and Browning streets and the polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

PERHAPS IT is belated, but we want to add our congratulations to the Skelly Oil Co. on its 50th anniversary. Skelly Oil has, through the last half-century, been an important factor in the economic life of Pampa and the Texas Panhandle area. And, it still is. Having had the pleasure of attending one of the two anniversary dinners held in Pampa during the past week, compliments are due to Skelly Oil officials for the smooth-running anniversary programs which were enjoyed by more than 600 employees and their wives here Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Pampa was happy to welcome Skelly Oil president Ernest B. Miller Jr. and other company officials who were guests during the two-day observance. Mr. Miller, we learned, once was a Pampian. That was back in the early days of the Panhandle oil boom. He first came to Pampa in 1926. One year later he moved to Pampa and was employed as a tool dresser on a wildcat well just east of town. Through the years he dedicated his life to the oil industry, and now is president of the company founded by Bill Skelly back in 1919. At that time, he stated, it consisted of one oil well and a couple of gas stations. Today it stretches half way around the world.

SEX EDUCATION in the schools seems to be a hot topic of discussion these days. Controversy appears to center around those who support SEICUS (Sex Information and Educational Council of the United States) and SOS (Sanity On Sex). This latter organization charges that SEICUS, while it has some good sex guides for children—also has some very bad ones which it is trying to establish in U.S. schools starting with the kindergarten set. They say the program is a lot like serving a glass of good, pure water. And then when nobody's looking, pour several drops of poison into it. Assurance has been given locally that no known attempt has been made to inject SEICUS materials into Pampa schools and that all sex education subject matter used here is carefully screened. The aim of SOS, we understand, is to alert and forewarn the American people on what SOS believes is a subtle attempt to infiltrate acceptable sex

WIDER HORIZONS, THANKS TO ATOM
No one needs to be reminded that this is the Atomic Age. We sometimes forget, however, that the atom's effect on our lives involves more than the spectacular release of energy in an explosion or its use as the power source in a submarine or electrical generating plant. Some 250 of the nation's largest corporations now employ radiologists — elements treated in reactors to give off radiation — in their manufacturing processes and another 5,000 small companies also use radiation techniques, says the Atomic Energy Commission in a thick, 343-page report on research and development in this area. In medicine, radiologists are used to diagnose and treat between three and four million patients a year. Other applications include the space program, conservation of natural resources, environmental pollution monitoring and crime detection. Recent developments cited by the AEC include a system which allows helicopter pilots to fly in formation in limited visibility and a tough new construction material made by combining concrete and plastic. Among the subjects of ongoing research are jet engines that can be implanted on the body to power heart devices. It is no small thing, the atom.

Bomb Halt Robs Ho Of War Excuses

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) —

Information reaching this reporter from Hong Kong indicates that the bombing halt which he wanted so badly has turned out to be a mixed blessing for Ho Chi Minh.

Prior to the halt, Ho could blame his growing economic and political problems on the bombing. He could also use the air attacks as a spur and as an excuse for forcing people to endure greater sacrifices.

Now Ho has no such convenient crutch.

The people are finding that the bombing was not the only cause of North Vietnam's economic stagnation.

Increasing numbers of troops mobilized and sent southward for the Vietnam war and held as backup for that war have caused important manpower shortages in agriculture and industry. For the most part these have been young men of prime laboring age.

The bombing halt, of course, is releasing tens of thousands who were needed for bridge and road repair. But the shortages remain. In part, the release of these men has been offset by a lessening of effort in recent months.

With no war directly facing them at home, there has been a lull.

So Ho has a morale problem.

Absenteeism is growing on the docks at Haiphong, North Vietnam's major port. Black markets are flourishing in goods pilfered by idle dock workers from the mountains of goods in the port areas. Officials complain that many men don't find it possible to put in full time at their jobs, they're so busy pilfering and black marketing.

There are reports of serious port management corruption and waste as well.

Ho's troubles are not limited to the ports. Black markets are reported growing in tea, sugar, cane, cotton and rice.

Rice production has fallen more seriously than predicted, and shortages must be made up by more severe rationing and increased imports of rice from Communist China and wheat from Russia.

Coal output continues to decline. There are slowdowns in forestry, construction, the light industries and fishing. Work lags at the collective farms because farmers are busy with their own private — and more profitable — plots.

None of this is to suggest Hanoi is now ready to end the war in South Vietnam or prepared to make major concessions at Paris. Ho and his men are dogmatists willing to make much greater sacrifices than this to achieve their ends. Effectiveness of the bombing was evidenced by Ho's extreme determination to get it stopped.

What these reports seem to say is now that the bombing is stopped, things are not as rosy for Ho's planners as they had expected.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The reason for right or left-handedness is unknown. Ten per cent of mankind is left-handed. The World Almanac says. In ancient times left-handedness was considered evil as shown by the Latin word for left—sinister. Wealthy Romans stationed slaves at doors to make sure guests entered with their right foot first, thereby avoiding bad luck associated with the left.

How To Play ABM Systems In Poker With the Russians

ROBERT ALLEN

JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The Russians have started testing a new defensive missile (ABM) along with other sophisticated components of an improved anti-ballistic missile system.

They are continuing to expand their offensive missile strength. They now have about the same number of land-based ICBMs as the United States, and they are rapidly building missile-firing submarines of the Polaris type. These little-discussed developments were vitally important considerations in President Nixon's decision to go ahead with deployment of a modified anti-missile system. The developments were doubly important for the new President.

In the first place, it was clear that the margin of U.S. deterrent power — call it "superiority," "sufficiency" or what have you — has narrowed in recent months. In that sense the "threat" of which the President spoke has been increasing.

Equally important, however, were the implications of recent developments for Mr. Nixon's projected top-level talks with the Kremlin on missile limitation and other subjects. One highly placed expert has been likening those talks to a highstakes game of draw poker. "You don't sit down at a table with crafty and determined opponents like the Russians and say, before the betting begins: 'One of my cards is not very good; I'll discard it and play just four.'"

In the President's modified deployment status, the ABM system can serve as a bargaining counter in talks with the Russians. If it had been deferred, that could have been a hint that the United States would do, unilaterally, those things the bargaining is supposed to accomplish on a mutual basis.

U.S.S.R. DEFENSIVE — There now can be no doubt that the Soviets have started tests on a new anti-missile missile. Like the Spartan envisioned for the U.S. system, the new Russian rocket is designed to intercept incoming missiles a couple of hundred miles from its launching point. The new Soviet missile is said to have shown significant improvement over the performance of its predecessors, which have been deployed in the "Galosh" antimissile system around Moscow.

At the same time, Russian experts are reported to have made progress on new radars to guide their beams electronically, as do sophisticated U.S. radars, faster and more accurately than by using mechanically rotated antenna.

Some experts think the emergence of this new anti-missile hardware is responsible for the apparent delay in completion of the "Galosh" deployment. In any case, as Mr. Nixon stated last week, the Russians have some 67 defensive missile emplacements. Moreover, as Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., has been telling his colleagues, the new Russian defensive missile is a "third generation" weapon, since the Russians began their ABM deployment even before the "Galosh" system, with a ring of ABMs around Leningrad several years ago.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

Motorman 'Got Involved'

By PAUL HARVEY
There was a "demonstration" of significance the other morning in Chicago.

The Lake St. elevated train, "the El," loaded with commuters was Loop-bound approaching California St. when, in the fourth car back, a man in his middle 50s turned pale, let go, slumped to the floor.

Nobody screamed. Nobody moved toward him. Those near him drew back in stunned silence or unconcern.

The elevated guard, in that car at that time, pulled the emergency cord; the speeding elevated train screeched to a stop at the next station.

The El guard ran into the station, shouted for somebody to call the police, which somebody did.

Several passengers, expecting the train to be delayed, got off.

The man lay still on the floor of car four, turning gray against the dark blue of his crumpled, almost shabby windbreaker.

It was then that the motorman from four cars ahead ran back down the platform, entered car four and in an instant was on his knees beside the fallen passenger.

Ripping open the man's coat and shirt, the motorman placed his ear to the exposed chest, listening. He heard nothing.

Other passengers stood and watched or sat and watched — or resumed reading the sports pages.

It was the motorman, Tom Patterson, who began urgently to massage the fallen man's chest. When there was no response it was the motorman who placed his mouth over that of the unconscious man and sought to breathe some of his own life into the silent lungs.

Minutes went by; there was no perceptible response. The motorman did not give up, did not look up, continued his persistent, determined effort at artificial respiration until, when the police arrived with oxygen, the stricken man was breathing again.

And it was the motorman who held the oxygen while police placed the man on a stretcher and removed him toward the hospital.

The delayed train resumed its run. The delayed passengers, with a sigh or a shrug, showed only relief that the gaunt, prostrate man was now out of sight, that they were again on their way; they would not be too late for work.

The man they last saw standing alive — they last saw prone on a stretcher — in the hospital died. The motorman returned to work. When his work day was done he would make out a formal report — on his own time.

Perhaps it should not make a ny difference that the passenger, Fred A. Ellerman, so long ignored there on the floor, was white. . .

And that the man who kept him alive if only for a little while in the only effort to rescue him was motorman Tom Patterson, 27, who is black.

It should not make any difference. It's just that you've read so much about the "demonstrations" in Chicago that I thought you should read about this one.

Editor:
We are accepting this opportunity to express our approval of the school bond issue to be voted on March 25. We realize repair of the buildings and equipment of the Pampa Schools has long been needed, and because of improved methods and equipment for teaching many of our present facilities need to be renovated or replaced. The members of the school board have been elected by the people to take care of the business at hand and decide on procedure. They have spent much time and study to make the best plans for our system. We have given them the job of making for our children and community the best educational facilities possible. If they are to be able to do this we must see that money is available. We urge each voter to give his approval to the bond issue on March 25.

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES
The Serenity of Surrender
The Lord Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forever (Hebrews 13:8). The man or woman whose faith is fixed in Him will be filled with a sense of complete confidence no matter how much conditions around him are changing. As the Prince of Peace, Christ is able to give peace of mind to those whose lives and thoughts are centered in Him.

He maintains an inward peace however noisy the tumult and bloody the war which shakes the earth around him. When others are afraid, he maintains the same restful attitude of trust which he felt when outward conditions were settled and quiet. He lives in the world; but inwardly he is unaffected by its changing currents of thought, its seething emotions, its vain ideas. He is not swept off his feet by the current of popular opinion. His faith is fixed in a God who is eternal; his feet are set on the Rock of Ages.

The secret of maintaining such a state of life as this is found in the words of Isaiah, "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on Thee" (Isaiah 26:3). The man whose mind is constantly occupied with the affairs of this world, whose affection is fixed upon temporal things, is bound to be affected by the loss of earthly possessions and the changing conditions which give them changing values. Paul says to the Christians, "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth" (Colossians 3:2). Both life and peace are the possession of the man who is spiritually minded (Romans 8:6).

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Following the disclosure that a Maryland motorist had his auto insurance cancelled because his house was dirty, other cases of seemingly capricious cancellations have been coming to light.

For example, a young housewife in Virginia reported that an insurance company refused to renew the policy on her car because of "personal habits within your household."

Since the company failed to specify what sort of "personal habits" it had in mind, the lady was understandably upset. She didn't even know whether it was something she could blame on her husband.

Start Striking Back
If insurance companies are getting all that nosy, and fastidious, it may be time for us policy-holders to start striking back.

I recommend the treatment I gave my insurance agent the other day.

"I want to cancel my auto insurance," I told him over the phone.

"What's the matter?" he said. "Haven't we always given prompt attention to your damage claims?"

"You certainly have," I said. "And haven't we been generous in our allowances for repair bills?"

"Generous to a fault," I said. "Then why do you want to cancel?"

Buts on Floor
"Well, when I was in your office recently I noticed there were some cigarette butts on the floor."

"I can explain that," the agent said, a note of panic creeping into his voice. "My secretary tipped over an ashtray and we didn't have time to clean it up before you arrived."

"Perhaps so," I said. "But that doesn't explain why your desk was so cluttered. Frankly, I have seldom seen such a messy looking desk."

"Please," he begged. "Don't hold that against me. I was frantically busy that day and one of my assistants was sick, so the paperwork piled up on me. I usually run a tight ship."

"Okay," I said. "I'm willing to give you a six-week extension, which should be enough time to get the place tidied up. But I'm warning you, I'll be back for a white glove inspection at the end of that period. And that doorknob had better be polished."

"Thanks awfully much," he said, sighing with relief. "That's all I'm asking for is just a second chance."

The Prairie Wind

By CLEO TOM TERRY

If you've never seen a flock of sandhill cranes in a field, you've really missed something.

Last spring as I drove down toward the Hay Hook Camp, I saw a herd of something whitish gray over in Lon Matheson's field. I rushed home for a camera, thinking I'd find out what in the world it was — it looked so very much like a herd of sheep massed and grazing that I was completely amazed when, as I drove up and stopped, one or two of these great birds took to the air, before I could aim my camera.

It was not until I was within a few yards of them that I realized they were either cranes or great gray geese, for they grazed like animals, bunched and with all heads down. Last Sunday as The Boss, Clifford Pulse and I drove toward town en route to church we saw them again — hundreds and hundreds of big, grazing birds, and there wasn't time to go get my camera before church. By the time we got back they were gone. The pickins must have been slim. Last year they stayed for nearly two days.

The wet weather hasn't been equally good to everyone. Dock Stockton, who pumps wells down on the Canadian River got stuck — in his four-wheel drive yet.

Eddie Harlan had an unusual accident the other day. Pouring out cake from the pickup tailgate while his Dad, Bob Harlan, drove, he had a cow horn go into his leg, deep enough to pull him out of the pickup. It wasn't serious, however, for Ed spent the weekend in Dallas.

Leonard and Rose Johnson of Duncan Ranch took Karen and Cindy to Pampa to see "Treasure Island" — how fine that we still have some really good, yet decent movies left! Kristi, the "little Indian" visited her Grandma, being a trifle young to sit through two and a half hours of even the best movie!

Did you know that the first white children born in the Panhandle, predating all other white births by at least 25 years, were twin boys, named Marcy and Dillard, last name not known, born in a little meadow on the banks of White Deer Creek, close by the Price Ranch Headquarters? Well, I didn't either until Ernest Archambeau so informed me, and gave me a map of the trail followed by the parents of these little boys named after Captain Marcy and Lieutenant Simpson, who led the Santa Fe expedition through here in 1849.

This was the old Fort Smith-Santa Fe Trail, not to be confused with the later day Santa Fe Trail, which was a more northern route. The navigation route of the Arkansas, Mississippi, and Ohio River system centered at Fort Smith Arkansas and starting from this terminus of the river navigation system, an overland trail led in a generally western by north-west direction to Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Along this trail Captain Marcy led a group of gold seekers, around 500 people riding in wagons, buggies, and carts, or on horseback, accompanied by around 80 troops who justified their presence by the necessity to find a transcontinental railway route — it almost had to follow pretty closely the route of the Ft. Smith-Santa Fe Trail! There was an abundance of wood, water and grass along this overland route. The rolling country was good for wagon travel. Both this trail and the earlier, 1840 Gregg Trail led across what is now Hutchinson County and old wagon ruts can be seen crossing the campus of Frank Phillips Junior College today. This road appeared on maps made before the area was even part of the United States. And yet — there are people who would deny the importance of teaching Texas History in our universities, supported by the taxpayers of this state!

What became of little Marcy and Dillard is not known. But their parents, with all that large company, spent two nights on White Deer Creek in the big, beautifully grassed and timbered meadow where hay is still cut every summer. Lt. Dillard Simpson called White Deer Creek, "Valley River" and the name fitted, even up to 40 years ago. But Captain Marcy, who was captain of the wagon trail while Simpson was commanding officer of the military escort, called it "Timbered Creek". The crossing of Spring Creek must have been on our place here and maybe I've seen those wagon ruts without even knowing what they were! When they reached Dixon Creek, Marcy called it Bluff Creek on his topographical notes. It probably was never called Dixon Creek until after the last battle of Adobe Walls, when half of everything in the county began to wear the name of Billy Dixon.

A phone call from Mrs. Homer Hayes of Pampa last Sunday night was most informative. Mrs. Hayes and her husband were good friends of my aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ginn of Hopkins Community south of Pampa and of the Joe Bowers and Maggie Hopkins'. The Hayes were not just old timers around here, they had a heritage of distinction down state too. Mr. Hayes' maternal uncle, Will Hayes, and his son-in-law, White Porter, built and owned half of the town of Bowie. And another relative, Tom Lindsay, was sheriff of Montague County for about 30 years.

Being a sheriff anytime must not be easy. In the old days it probably faced nothing like the razor blades hidden in the toes of sandals, the acid thrown in their faces from a hidden doorway, or the broken bottles suddenly become a weapon, that the big city law men face today. But more'n likely many a sheriff had to arrest a former ranch pard for doing something the sheriff could easily understand, because every body knew everybody else. I'm sure it'd be easier to be a pioneer law man than a big city officer of today. Still — anytime, anywhere, there'd be people whom it hurt you to arrest, and — well, anywhere the law man's job must be a lonely one.

This week I celebrated my birthday. I won't celebrate my next birthday, for now I, too, am the product of an outer space age — I am starting on my count-down.
