Leaders Arrive To Mourn Death

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It was the day for saying farewell to the "good and gentle and kind man" called Ike.

The funeral of Dwight David Eisenhower, most universally liked American President of this century, was in keeping with his own wish for a simple religious service "expressing confident faith in the everlasting mercy of God."

The ritual called for no eulogy, no military pageantry, no worldly pomp. But the congregation assembled in Washington National Cathedral bore witness to Eisenhower's illustrious place in history as the general who led the allies to victory in World War II and as the peace-loving President who settled the Korean conflict. Presidents, prime ministers and kings came to join President Nixon, former President Lyndon B. Johnson and other U.S. leaders in paying last respects to Eisenhower, who died Friday at the age of 78.

Before being borne to the Episcopal Cathedral (at 3:30 p.m. CST) for the half-hour Protestant funeral service, Eisenhower's body had reposed in state for nearly 24 hours in the rotunda of the U.S. Capitol.

Throughout the night, starting at dusk Sunday, thousands of persons filed through the rotunda to view the flag-draped casket. For several hours the stream averaged 1,500 an hour. (See DEATH, Page 3)

Major Ground Battles Reported Near Saigon

By JACK WALSH

SAIGON (UPI) — The United States is sending secret patrols of U.S. Marines or Green Beret Special Forces into Laos to report on the movement of thousands of tons of North Vietnamese supplies over high speed roads into South Vietnam, informed American military sources said today.

The disclosure was made as U.S. troops stepped up their pressure on Communist forces trying to move on Saigon. U.S. soldiers aboard tanks and armored vehicles shot their way into a North Vietnamese base 45 miles northwest of Saigon on Sunday, military spokesmen said.

The military sources said the patrols by teams of five to 10 men are under orders not to shoot unless they are fired on. They said their activities were credited with information leading to the capture of 525 tons of supplies and weapons last month in Operation Dewey Canyon near the A Shau Valley.

The patrols have reported that several supply highways inside Laos have been improved over the past months.

American Green Berets today transferred control of two of their Special Forces camps in the central highlands to the South Vietnamese Army as part of the plan to give the South Vietnamese more control over the war. The two camps at Cung Son, 240 miles north of Saigon and at Tan Rai, 65 miles to the south, are manned by 800 mercenaries.

The major ground fighting reported today was in the approaches to Saigon northwest of the city.

Charging through a fusillade of Communist machinegun fire and antitank rockets, the American troops and divers-bombers supporting them killed 38 North Vietnamese in the Michelin Plantation battle 45 miles from downtown Saigon.

It brought to 444 the number of Communists killed in the past two weeks of an allied drive to root them out of camps threatening Saigon. Eight Americans died and 11 were wounded in the fighting, communiques said.

The report climaxed a week-end in which the reds shelled Saigon and fired on a U.S. plane from the border demilitarized zone (DMZ)—two violations of the so-called understanding that

Police Battle Negroes Inside Detroit Church

DETROIT (UPI)—For 20 minutes gunfire poured in and out of the church.

Inside, black separatists huddled the floor as bullets punched through pews, broke windows and filled the air with brick and plaster dust.

Outside, police—called after one policeman was killed and another wounded nearby—jeveled one last umbrella of cover fire and stormed the church.

They arrested 135 persons. Only two were still in custody today. Four of the Negroes were wounded in the gunbattle; none of the 50 policemen was.

The gunfight came Saturday night at the New Bethel Baptist Church where the Republic of New Africa was celebrating the one-year anniversary of its inception based on a plan to get five southern states for American blacks.

Police said they went to the church, three blocks from the core area of the 1967 riots, after one officer was slain and another wounded by men entering a car nearby. They said they were fired upon from the church. Those inside said no fire came from the crowd in the church, which included some pregnant women.

The issue was clouded by a clash between Recorder's Court Judge George W. Crockett, a Negro, and Wayne County Prosecutor William Cahalan about the handling of the case. Sunday, Crockett freed all but two of those arrested.

David Brown Jr., 19, Compton, Calif., was held on a charge of assault to commit murder. He pleaded innocent to police charges he was firing a pistol from the church loft. Kirkwood Hall, 24, Linden, N.J., was held on a charge of possession of a gas-ejecting device, a can of chemical Mace. Arraignment was set for Tuesday. A third person, identified as Alfred Hibbit of Kentucky, was released on $1,000 bond on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Patrolman Richard E. Worobec, 28, was in fair condition but under sedation late Sunday with three bullet wounds. He was the only person definitely established as a witness to the start of the battle. Four persons inside the church were wounded by police gunfire.

Soviets Assail Mao for Failing On Responsibility

MOSCOW (UPI)—Spurred in its proposal to resume negotiations with Communist China on disputed border areas, the Soviet Union today assailed Mao Tse-tung for failing to meet socialist responsibility.

The Moscow newspaper Soviet Russia said "Mao and his group... are in fact guided by bourgeois and anti-marxist ideology of nationalism and great power chauvinism."

It added that Mao's anti-Soviet policy reflected his "failure to meet the complicated and difficult tasks of building socialism."

Sunday the Chinese denounced the Soviet proposal to resume negotiations on the disputed Sino-Soviet frontier as slanderous.

Although Peking has not officially replied to the 4,500 word Soviet statement delivered to the Chinese embassy here Saturday, an official embassy spokesman said:

"The note is a slander from the beginning to the end. It runs contrary to the facts and it confounds the right and wrong. But he added that the document "is being studied."

The Soviets offered to negotiate demarcation of the trouble and say it was being where he'd sit and visit with Callahan and Paul Royer and his other cronies."

Ike's Final Resting Place Will Be Among Home Town Friends

ABILENE, Kan. (UPI)—The world passed by just beyond the north end of town. There, on Interstate Highway 70 the cars and trucks hurry along with an urgent buzz, bound for far places like Denver and Topeka and Kansas City.

Here, inside a secure wrapping of surrounding slopes of brown Kansas earth a new green patches of winter wheat, lies everybody's hometown.

When the man from Abilene, Dwight D. Eisenhower, comes finally home Tuesday night, he will be among friends as though he never left.

From the Wagon Wheel Cafe down by the freight depot, where the funeral train will reach journey's end, to the cemetery on the hill, where his father Davis and his mother Ida are buried, the town Ike roamed as a boy is still uniquely his.

"They feel close to Ike," one man said of the people here. "He was always so proud to be from Abilene."

It's a feeling "that he really meant it," said Mayor Delton B. Hadel, "when he used to come back and say it was being where he'd sit and visit with Callahan and Paul Royer and his other cronies."

Legislature Delays Committee Hearings To Honor Eisenhower

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — The Texas Legislature—required by statute to convene today—was expected to stay in session only long enough to pay tribute to the late Dwight D. Eisenhower, then adjourn in his honor.

Legislative leaders said neither house would transact any business on the day of national mourning designated by President Richard M. Nixon.

A busy schedule of house and senate committee hearings scheduled today were all cancelled due to the death of the former president.

Gov. Preston Smith, who said he didn't have the authority to close state offices officially, said he hoped department heads would give time off to any employees who wanted to attend memorial services for Eisenhower.

Finishing Touches

House budget writers, meanwhile, are putting the finishing touches on a 1970-71 spending bill that is expected to be $30-$100 million smaller than the record $5.7 billion measure approved unanimously by the senate last week.

House appropriations chairman Rep. W. S. Healy, D-Paducah, had said he anticipated committee approval of the house budget bill by Tuesday, but today's adjournment may temporarily delay completion of the spending proposal.

The house panel is expected to present members with a balanced budget—one that will require no new taxes. It will not include a teacher pay raise that most lawmakers are already committed to support, however.

Raise Costly

The teacher-pay raise, considered a cinch to pass both houses, would require $200-$220 million in new revenue.

House Speaker Gus P. Mutscher says the lawmakers can spend $242 million more than the last biennium without raising taxes—and that is what he hopes to do with the exception of the teacher pay raise.

Senators see the state needs differently, however, writing and approving a budget that will require $63.3 million in new taxes without the teacher pay raise.

The senate bill does not include funds for any new medical or dental schools, and Mutscher said the house's "balanced" budget would provide funding for several new institutions.

Difference in the two proposals is expected to approach $100 million. Gov. Preston Smith's spending plan falls in between the suggestions of the house and senate.

Saigon Renews Offer for Talks

PARIS (UPI)—South Vietnamese negotiators said today they were still ready to open secret talks with the Viet Cong to try to end the Vietnam War despite outspoken Communist denunciation of such an offer last week.

An allied source said the South Vietnamese delegation did not consider the denunciation a "rejection." A Viet Cong negotiator had assailed the proposal as a "crafty trick."

French diplomats saw the new Saigon declaration of readiness to enter secret talks as "a sort of renewal" of President Nguyen Van Thieu's offer for such talks. Thieu had said the possibility of the talks was "a light at the end of the tunnel."

Some South Vietnamese officials are fearful that Saigon-guerrilla talks would lead to a coalition government including the Viet Cong.

In Washington, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said Sunday he would "certainly accept" a coalition government in Saigon "if it was elected in a free election."

Laird's remarks were in a copyright interview in the magazine U.S. News and World Report.

South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said Sunday he would fly to Paris after attending the funeral of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, giving hopes secret talks might begin soon. He has been in Saigon the past month. Ky has been coordinator of Saigon's delegation in Paris.

Diplomatic observers said they saw little prospect for progress in the 11th negotiating session Thursday at the Hotel Majestic. They said the absence of Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. negotiator, made it unlikely.

North Vietnam Repairs Damage During Bomb Halt

SAIGON (UPI)—It was a year ago today and former President Lyndon B. Johnson had just announced he was stopping the bombing of North Vietnam's heartland.

The announcement that all but the Communist nation's southern panhandle was off limits to U.S. bombers was cause for celebration for American pilots. They never wanted to go back to the likes of Hanoi.

"Give them (the North Vietnamese) a month and the flak will be so thick we can walk on it," one of them said. "They will have all of their roads and bridges fixed by then, too."

He was right. North Vietnam today has undone all the damage hundreds of thousands of U.S. bombs had done since the bombing campaign started on Aug. 4, 1964.

President Johnson's declaration last March 31 put North Vietnam's heartland off limits. Later, on Nov. 1, all the bombardment of the Communist nation stopped in a U.S. effort to get peace talks going.

Light Vote Seen In City Election

Tomorrow is election day in Pampa.

Indications today were that it would be one of the quietest city elections in years.

Because there are no contests for the three posts to be filled it also was expected to draw one of the lightest votes in Pampa history.

The candidates are: Milo Carlson, 2211 Charles, pipeline contractor, for mayor. George B. Cree Jr., 1912 Charles, oilman, for Commissioner Ward 1. Leo Braswell, 853 E. Craven, Cabot Corp. department superintendent, for Commissioner Ward 3.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the following places:

Ward 1 — City Hall.
Ward 2 — North Fire Station, 321 E. 17th.
Ward 3 — Optimist Boys' Club, 601 E. Craven.
Ward 4 — South Fire Station, 1010 S. Barnes.

Students to Be Charged For Campus Destruction

PRAIRIE VIEW, Tex. (UPI) — The disciplinary action to be taken against students who burned a destructive path across the Prairie View A&M campus during the weekend was in part for a student court to decide today.

But Dr. A. I. Thomas, president of the school, said Sunday charges "definitely" would be brought. He said he had been meeting with law enforcement officers and officials of the university to determine the charges. Thomas also said he was gathering a list of the students involved.

About 40 or 50 students tore through the campus of about 4,000 students, burning three buildings to the ground and damaging two others, about an hour after a student died of stab wounds Saturday morning. Damage was estimated at about $10,000.

Herbert Lee "Red" Thompson, 26, a Vietnam veteran from Beaumont was charged in the death of Wesley Davidson.

Concert Workers Receive Awards

Award winners in the Community Concert Association's membership drive which closed out successfully Saturday were announced today by Mrs. M. McDaniel, membership secretary.

Awards went to Mrs. Eddie Huston for the most memberships sold, 63; Mrs. Tex DeWeese, most new memberships sold, 27; Mrs. C. H. Hext of Canadian, most memberships sold by an area worker, 44.

Mrs. Tommy Burns, team captain, for having all workers at tea and campaign dinner, also received an award.

Winners at checkup meetings on Wednesday and Friday were Mrs. Ronald Merrill, Mrs. L. N. Anthony, adult memberships; Mrs. Jimmy Thompson, Mrs. Roy Kornegay, Mrs. Audra Cara and Mrs. Nicholas Kadingo, student memberships.

DENVER (UPI) — The father of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. says "man can shake hands with the moon, but he can't shake hands with his brother right down here."

The Rev. Martin Luther King Sr. emphasized brotherhood Sunday during a memorial service for his son. An estimated 1,000 persons attended the services.

"Look how smart man has gotten," the Rev. Mr. King said. "Ten per cent of the people think. Five per cent think they think. The rest would rather die than think."

As the temperature dipped below freezing, the number tapered off to about 350 an hour.

At 8 a.m., there was a noticeable increase in the number walking up the long east plaza steps, huddled in sometimes too-thin coats, and the average picked up to over 1,000 an hour. Many were youngsters — including high school groups on spring tours to the nation's Capital.

Before the public was admitted Sunday to view the casket, President Nixon eulogized Eisenhower as a "good and gentle man" who hated no one and was hated by no one.

"He personified the best in America," said Nixon, who served under Eisenhower as vice president from 1953 to 1961. "It was the character of the man, not what he did but what he was, that so captured the trust and affection of his own people and the people of the world."

stopped the bombing of North Vietnam entirely last Nov. 1. Guerrilla gunners fired three rockets at the city from rice paddies to the south Sunday night, two of them landing in a rice paddy and the third in the Saigon River. No one was hurt.

The barrage into Saigon was one of 20 overnight salvos into cities and military camps up and down South Vietnam. U.S. headquarters said.

In one, North Vietnamese troops lobbed 150 mortar shells into a U.S. outpost in the Central Highlands and then charged into the barbed wire throwing hand grenades. Six Americans were killed and 37 wounded.

The announcement said the outpost defenders threw off the attack with machineguns and supporting artillery strikes in two hours and counted 25 North Vietnamese bodies on the battlefield 245 miles northeast of Saigon.

U.S. analysts with access to intelligence reports and aerial photos today describe the Communist nation as completely rebuilt but suffering from social and economic problems.

North Vietnam's anti-aircraft systems are better than ever before, these analysts said, and all important airfields, railroads, ports, highways and bridges have been repaired.

"Some of their major bridges even have two auxiliary spans in case the main one is dropped by a resumption of bombing." More than 400 trucks move southward daily with war supplies for the battlefield.

But the halt in the bombing has created a lackluster attitude in the North Vietnamese man on the street, according to intelligence reports, and the Hanoi regime doesn't like it.

Art, Civic Club Studies Exercises In Area Meeting

LEFORS (Spl) The Lefors Art and Civic Club met recently at the Civic Center with two programs in one presented by Mrs. Bob Klein, on "The Home" assisted by Mmes. Tom Florence, Carl Hall, Mark Harper, and Joe Watson, stressing points of the home today and of the future.

Presenting the second part of the program on "Physical Fitness," was Mrs. Ray Chastain. A chart was presented to each member present to study her correct calorie count per day and her exercises on problem areas. General exercises was stressed for each day as a healthful life.

Serving refreshments were Mrs. Jeff Bradley and Mrs. G.N. Moulter to Mmes. Joe Watson, Earl Tabet, Ray Chastain, Tom Florence, Carl Hall, Mark Harper, Bob Klein, Jerrel Julian, James Gatlin and Helen Lette.

Area Residents Attend Coffee

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — Miss Bill Houghton, Skellytown sponsored a coffee at her home recently with games conducted by Mrs. Kay May.

Guests attending were Mmes. Troy May, Christine Smith, Ira Colley, M.L. Mills, Clifford Coleman, Susie Roberts, Harry Carter, and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Wall.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

TUESDAY, APRIL 1

Your birthday Tuesday: You can expect your circle of friends to expand this year to include unique and interesting people. There will be more opportunity for creative work and quite likely some unusual aspects in even the more routine activities of your daily life. Tuesday's natives tend to be dreamers who often fritter away potential talent. Their reasoning powers are unusually high.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Tuesday is more of a bridge into the future than most of us suspect. Whatever you do has a triggering effect. Come to terms with yourself as to just what your future is, but have patience with the absence of immediate progress.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Changes in work and health, most of them somewhat surprising, are the order of the day. Where scientific and medical research is on progress, dramatic news is due.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): An undertone of excitement has to be contained during most of the day. Romantic interest runs high. Put in full time at your regular responsibilities in spite of it all.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): You are forced to quit stalling and settle for some plan or other. Friends and relatives insist upon your attention, to get out of that mood!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): So many circumstances of your personal life need reconsideration that you may as well think about it as a time to make a completely fresh start. Do some discarding once the main directions are in your mind.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your emotional reactions are sharp. It simply will not do to let this distract you from your financial arrangements. Economy is favored.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Partners and competitors set the tone for Tuesday, in many ways a day of show-downs. You apparently must choose sides, for once, or make some clear commitment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): The moment arrives for finally taking a good look at the problems you've been dodging, like services you volunteered during a more relaxed frame of mind sometime ago.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Put all your energies into finding a token of your hopes and ideals. Expect interruptions and sudden gusty moods from all people you know. In the evening divert your attentions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): There is no point in family squabbles since everybody is going to do things in his own fashion anyway. Let each one work out his own mild experiment in preference to forcing issues.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your mind outruns emotional acceptance Tuesday. Give yourself time to react fully before you rush headlong into a new situation. Reports are incomplete or unreliable. Friends may be a bit irascible.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Think what the most important issues might be, and

B&PW Members Parade '69 Spring Easter Bonnets

"In Their Easter Bonnets" was the theme for Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club Spring Festival held recently in City Club Rooms. An Easter motif with Easter bunnies, colored eggs and Spring flowers were used to decorate the serving tables.

Mrs. Tommie Grant was commoentator for members' modeling their original Spring hats. Models were Mmes. Charles Ford, L. B. Robertson, Pearl Castka, Elsie Gee, Edna Day, Earl Eaton and Gladys Jaynes. Mrs. C. C. Rhoades played background music for the style show.

Mrs. Castka, club president, presided during the business session as Miss Elsie Cunningham reported on a self-survey

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "WAITING"—the 41-year-old virgin—to keep waiting. A woman's virginity is still the greatest gift she can offer a man in marriage. Even though a man makes excuses for himself, he still prefers a virgin for a wife. Please don't conclude from my signature that I know nothing about life. I was in the business world for over 30 years before I became a priest.

who insists that he be the "one and only" probably does so because he doesn't want the woman he marries to be able to make comparisons and find him lacking. Me? I don't have that problem.

A MAN NAMED "MANN"

DEAR ABBY: I am a U.S. serviceman with 18 years' service and three overseas tours of duty, and all my life I've practiced a code of morality some call "Victorian." I've taken tremendous ridicule for it, and I freely admit, it hasn't always been easy. I married a wonderful girl who held the same moral principles as I, and I cannot begin to express the closeness, trust and warmth of feeling it has brought to our lives. We've been married 16 years and have six fine children, and we're still "in love."

DEAR ABBY: For "WAITING"; Lady, you are to be commended. Don't let a clod sell you. If he says, if you don't give him what he wants, he will go elsewhere—let him. He will be doing you a big favor.

HANDSOME

DEAR ABBY: For "WAITING"; Lady, you are to be commended. Don't let a clod sell you. If he says, if you don't give him what he wants, he will go elsewhere—let him. He will be doing you a big favor.

DEAR ABBY: For "WAITING"; Lady, you are to be commended. Don't let a clod sell you. If he says, if you don't give him what he wants, he will go elsewhere—let him. He will be doing you a big favor.

R.B., OKLAHOMA CITY

DEAR ABBY: Why all the emphasis on virginity? A man

DEAR ABBY: In reply to "WAITING," who claims she's been on her own since 17, lived abroad, is romantic, sensitive, and not ugly. She has got to be kidding! I am all for purity, but at age 41, what kind of a "prize" does she think she's going to give a man?

Area FHA, FFA Sponsors Supper

GROOM (Spl) — A pot-luck supper at the Community Club House recently was sponsored by members of Groom Young Farmers and Young Homemakers Clubs.

Entertainment was provided by four senior students from Claude High School. These featured guests were Rhonda Goodin and Keith Cayton who had attended the Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar last summer at Waco and whose talks were entitled "Communism"; Tony Chauveaux, who won third place in the State FFA Public Speaking contest and whose speech was entitled "Freedom in Soil"; and Susan Bagwell who competed in the District American Legion oratorical contest. Her speech was entitled "Torch of Freedom."

No man, for example, is going to ask a Chinese girl, whose feet have been bound since infancy, to go on a hike with him. She'd be lucky to be able to walk around the block. And marriage is a long hike.

COMPASSIONATE IN L.A. DEAR ABBY: My analysis of "WAITING"; Immature, selfish, masochistic, inhibited, guilt-ridden, and a cold fish. She repeatedly lures her prey and then rejects it, laying claim to "virtue" — but punishing herself more than the man she has rejected.

DEAR ABBY: For "WAITING"; Maybe there is a Claus, but a body is not a gift — unless, of course, you are Dr. Frankenstein.

ADOLPH G., L.A.

Those present were the guests, Rhonda Goodin, Susan Bagwell, Keith Cayton, Susan Bagwell, and Tony Chauveaux and club members Messrs. and Mmes. L. A. Hudson, Bill Homer, Leon Schaffer, Tom Wagner, Johnny Eschle, Curtis Schaffer, Ernest Weller, Bud Fields, Bill Bohr, George Britten, Amos Britten, Charles Burk, Miss Irene Baggerman and Maurice Britten.

DEAR ABBY: Please forward to "WAITING"; My advice to you is to go out in the country, buy a little farm, and start raising chickens. One rooster and a half dozen hens will do. Feed them yourself and keep your eyes open. You'll notice that the hens always run away from the rooster, but they never run so far or so fast that they avoid getting caught. Try and Maurice Britten.

PAMPA Business News...

A NEW CONCEPT — R. O. Clements of Clements Barber Shop announces a new technique in the analysis of Hair and Scalp problems. The Capiloscope, shown at the right, analyzes hair by projecting one hair on a six inch screen 200 to 1000 times its size. This enables one to see deficiencies such as Hairfalls, Pelada (Alopecia Aeroato), Dandruff, infections of the Scalp and Shaft, Oily and Dry Hair. Once the problem is defined, the organic products used in the Capilo process of professional hair care can be used to control the problem, Clements said.

Clements Barber Shop Has New Approach to Hair Care - Capilo

Capilo of Paris is a branch of the European Cosmetics Company which is one of the three largest cosmetic companies of Europe. It is over 30 years old and has developed the world's largest system of hair analysis and treatment.

This treatment is a new and original approach to hair care which leaves no guessing — Hair and scalp problems can be understood Clements said.

This is a service never before available, but has always been needed. The hair is analyzed by using the Capiloscope.

A Capiloscope is a microscopic viewer that will enlarge a hair bulb and shaft 200 to 100 times its normal size. Its own screen shows you why you are having hair problems — for example: dry or oily hair, hairfall, dandruff, damaged hair or anemic hair.

If you are having hair problems, let us give you the solution!

Capilo de Paris products get results because they are made from organic elements. There are eleven treatment shampoos, scalp cleaners, capillary treatments, shaft conditioners, and protectors. Each will improve a different hair problem.

Call Clements Barber Shop today for an appointment to have your hair problem analyzed. Clements Barber Shop is located in Pampa at 310 South Cuyler, phone MO 4-4231.

For the convenience of all our customers, all haircuts and hairstyles are now by appointment only... you no longer have to sit and wait... call for an appointment soon.

Crux is the name given to the constellation which is entirely made up of the Southern Cross. Australia and Brazil use it on their national flags.

COMPLETE, COMPACT — Sales and service for typewriters and adding machines is a speciality of Jerry Perry Co., 940 S. Hobart.

Jerry Perry Offers Best In Typewriters

For 20 years Jerry Perry paid high rent, hiring bookkeepers, salesmen and was engaged in all the other ordinary necessities for operation a business Jerry didn't get the satisfaction however, of being able to sell typewriters and adding machines for enough less than ordinary list prices which he would have liked to have done.

In April, 1967, Jerry moved to 940 S. Hobart where he converted a rickety garage into a complete compact, sales and service store. Jerry does all his own sales, service, and bookkeeping. Having no rent to pay and combining his purchases with the purchases of one of Oklahoma City's largest dealers he obtains his machines for less money per unit than $2.40.

any other typewriter dealer in the Texas Panhandle. This adds up to being able to sell machines for less than all his local competition combined.

With inflation what it is, people like to buy the most they can get for the least money; they like to know they can return a machine for service should any be needed. Says Jerry, sells typewriters for less.

All Pampa school students should remember, you can rent or purchase the machine you need at an all-time low price at Jerry Perry Typewriter Co., 940 S. Hobart.

WHEELER-DEALERS

MELUN, France (UPI)—Thieves who broke into a wine warehouse here two weeks ago used a wheelbarrow to carry a safe containing $8,400 in cash and checks to a waiting car. They returned Sunday night and used the same wheelbarrow to trundle away a newly-installed safe containing another for less money per unit than $2.40.

ABBY
it. You'll be glad you did. With love.

AN OLD ROOSTER
DEAR ABBY: This is for "WAITING": I was all for your clinging to your virginity — until I read your age. Come on now, at 41, what are you waiting for? There is a happy middle ground between waiting and swinging, and it's called "discretion."

DISCREET IN N.Y.
DEAR ABBY: If at age 25, an attractive, normal, fun-loving woman surrenders her virtue without marriage, I wouldn't think less of her. It's nice to marry a virgin, but I think it's more important how a woman conducts herself after marriage than before. I married a virgin who didn't confine herself to me afterwards. That is why I am—

"SINGLE AGAIN" IN TULSA
DEAR ABBY: By what law of nature, morals, or divine sanction must a woman love only one man while we men may love as many women as our hearts desire, and without reproof of anyone's conscience—including our own?

If, indeed, the most precious gift a woman may bring to a man in marriage is her body, untouched, my first concern would be for the man. For surely there are better recommendations for marriage than never having loved.

Wide-Track LeMans: It proves a car doesn't have to look like a bargain to be one.

LeMans certainly doesn't look like the kind of car you normally associate with budgets and penny-pinching and all that. It looks like someone splurged. Someone did. Pontiac. And not just on the styling. LeMans is as great to drive as it is to look at. Thanks to a rather special way of moving called Wide-Tracking.

And a rather special piece of machinery called America's strongest Overhead Cam Six (with a pair of V-8's available if you want to do a little splurging of your own). So if you're bargain hunting, don't pass up LeMans just because it looks too rich for your blood. It isn't. That's the real beauty of it.

That's a Break Away.

See the '69 Wide-Tracks at your local authorized Pontiac dealer's.

A Little Height Goes A Long Way

Elrene Patterson is taller than most high school girls. Her father is taller and bigger than most average men.

Miss Patterson is a better athlete than most high school girls and her father, in his day, was a better athlete than a lot of other guys.

Harry Patterson is now a school superintendent at Sayre, Okla., a town about the size of White Deer.

But before becoming such a high ranking official Harry was an athlete, then a coach. He coached track, football and basketball in junior high and track and baseball in high school.

So you can see his life has pretty well been taken up by sports, especially when you consider he was an outstanding basketball, baseball and track player in his high school and college days.

He set a lot of track records in the 100 and 200 yard dashes when he was in college and played pro baseball for a while.

I don't think he could run 100 yards now since he hasn't kept in very good shape.

I've always thought, that like most fathers, Harry wanted a boy. He and his wife didn't have one. Instead they had a girl, by name of Elrene.

You Don't Say... By RON CROSS

She has done as good in sports as most any boy could do.

They wouldn't let her play football or baseball at Sayre so she chose basketball.

Elrene grew to be five feet, nine inches tall and she also grew to know how to put the rebound through the hoop, which it was intended to go through.

Sunday Elrene was named to the Oklahoma girls All-State basketball team as a forward. She averaged 23.2 points per game as a senior and this is just slightly higher than her sophomore and junior scoring averages.

Sayre is Class A in basketball, which is the highest classification for the girls sport in that state.

I think that probably some of her father's natural ability rubbed off on Elrene. A fellow figured up that over a three year span she made over 40 per cent of her shots from the field and over 80 per cent from the free throw line.

It used to be that when a young lady played her last high school basketball game, that was it.

But not anymore. In this age of equality for all, there are even girls basketball teams in college.

Harry Patterson had a boy he treated like a son and tried to help. But the kid was too dumb to listen.

I'm glad Elrene was smarter.

Pampa Host To Amarillo Nine Tuesday

Slightly bent, but not broken after a 21-0 shelling at the hands of Monterey Saturday, the Pampa Harvesters return to District 4-4A baseball action on the home diamond Tuesday.

Pampa plays host to Amarillo in a 4 p.m. contest at Optimist Club Park then hosts Palo Duro in a 4 p.m. encounter Friday. Saturday the Harvesters play a 1 p.m. contest in Borger.

The Bulldogs and Plainview each have a one game lead after the first weekend of district action.

Both stand 2-0 in league play with Borger the only unbeaten team in the district, season-wise, at 7-0 and Plainview is 6-3.

Pampa is 0-2 and 2-5 while Amarillo is also 0-2 but sports a 6-5 season record. Palo Duro currently stands at 7-5 for the season and 1-1 in league play.

Friday Amarillo was pummeled by Tascosa 17-5 and lost Saturday to Palo Duro 4-0. The Dons lost Friday to Caprock, 4-0. Borger downed Monterey, 3-2, Friday and edged Lubbock 4-2 Saturday. Pampa lost 5-4 to Lubbock Friday.

Tascosa and Monterey, both 1-1 in league play, were unbeaten going into Friday's opening district contests but Monterey fell to Borger before trimming Pampa and Tascosa lost Saturday, 5-3 to Coronado.

THE STANDINGS

Team	W	L	T
Borger	7	0	2
Plainview	6	3	2
Tascosa	11	1	1
Monterey	11	1	1
Coronado	9	4	1

Pampa	2	5	0

LAST WEEK'S RESULTS: FRIDAY - Caprock 4, Palo Duro 0; Tascosa 17, Amarillo 5; Borger 3, Monterey 2; Lubbock 5, Pampa 4; Plainview 5, Coronado 4.

SATURDAY - Coronado 5, Tascosa 3; Palo Duro 4, Amarillo 0; Monterey 21, Pampa 0; Borger 4, Lubbock 2; Plainview 9, Caprock 0.

Greer Wins At Dragway

Doug Greer of Pampa won first place trophy with his Dodge in the F-pure stock automatic class in the season opener at Amarillo Dragway Sunday.

Five other Pampanos were entered in the meet, all with Chevrolets, but they were all outdistanced.

The competitors were Charles Reeves, Wesley Brock, Fred Hughes, Greg Thomas and Darrell Luster.

Bryan Teal of Lubbock drove consistently throughout eliminations and won the top fuel championship. The victory boosted Teal into the points lead in the 1969 National Hot Rod Association pro fuel dragster circuit, which began its 30-race schedule with the event.

Although forecasts of snow and cold scared away some of the top cars, a crowd of 8,500 turned out to watch the opener. A total of 479 cars entered in the event, the greatest number of entries in the 10-year history of the dragway.

The next race scheduled at Amarillo Dragway will be April 20, with almost $4,000 in prize money posted for a 16-car fuel field.

STAFF COMPLETED

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The Xavier football coaching staff was completed with the addition of Hal Dyer, who headed the Pratt, Kan., Junior College coaching staff the past two years. Dyer coached the freshmen at Florida State for three seasons before going to Pratt.

Although oyster raising is an old industry, spawning the bivalves artificially in special nurseries is comparatively new.

Now John Can Coach To Win

By MARTY RALBOVSKY
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (NEA) — It was Sunday morning and the jet was cruising at 16,000 feet, its nose pointed southwest toward Los Angeles.

Sleepy young men in Navy blue blazers reclined in their seats and glanced halfheartedly at newspapers. Up front, John Robert Wooden sipped a cup of steaming coffee, his ruddy face rigid, a roadmap of creases and crevices.

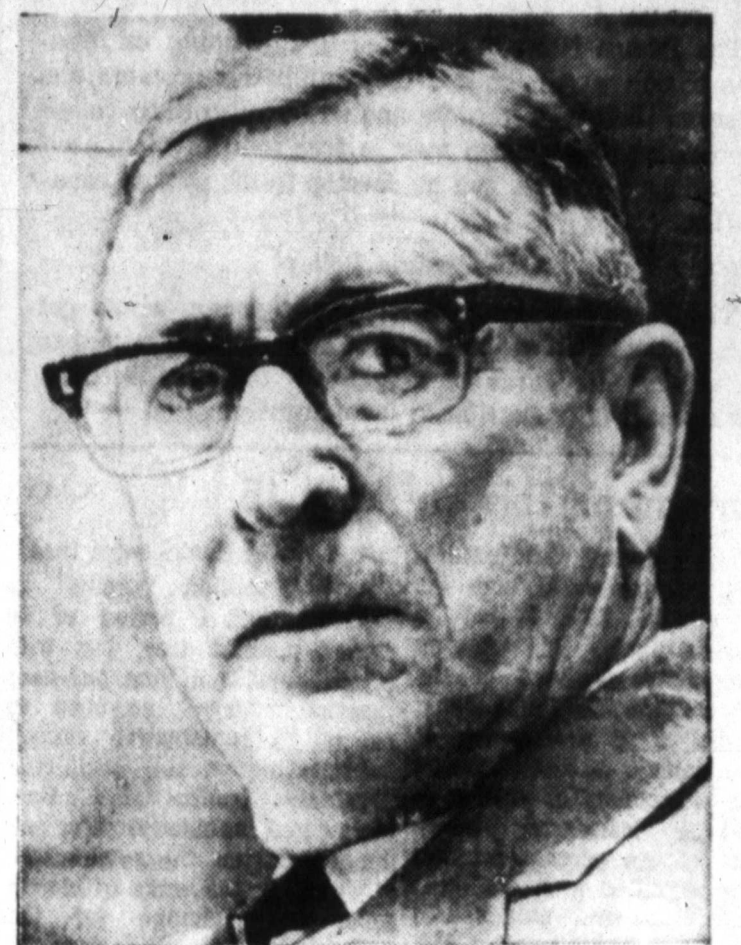

Trans World Airlines Flight 443 was due to touchdown at International Airport at 10:52 Pacific Time and for the occasion, John Wooden was saving one last sigh of relief. It was finally over, the Alcindor era and he was glad. Life at the top had been frustrating.

For all the victories and all the acclaim, the three years of coaching Lew Alcindor were not without discontent. There were petty flareups, a gap between him and his Negro players (they accused him of being too taciturn toward their problems) and, more pointedly, John Wooden was not coaching basketball in the manner he enjoyed most.

"I always felt a well-disciplined little man could do the job better than a big man," he says. "I always had considerable success with small, quick teams that played good defense. In the past, my guards were the key to the success of my teams."

During the Alcindor years, UCLA was still a quick team, but the three-on-one fast breaks, with Gail Goodrich feeding off to Walt Hazzard at the last split-second, delighting Wooden and his staff, were rare. For all his attributes, Lew Alcindor was not the epitome of speed and precision.

"With Lewis gone next year," Wooden says, "this team will be faster. We'll be fast-breaking again like the UCLA teams of the past and, hopefully, we'll be able to use our pressure defenses to greater advantage."

John Wooden

Lewis. John Wooden always called him Lewis. There is an aloofness in both men that made their relationship distant. Alcindor avoided bringing his problems to Wooden, and Wooden avoided dispersing paternal advice on Alcindor. Although never severely strained, their association was an impersonal one, at best.

"If Lewis asks for my advice, I will gladly give it to him. But I have never tried to influence his thinking. He's an individual, a well-read individual with a fine knowledge of many subjects, and entitled to his own opinions."

The independence of Alcindor, however, rubbed off on other Negro players and, although it was somewhat less than militancy, their actions irritated Wooden at times. During the NCAA Tournament, Wooden went to great pains to shield his players from the public, but on the night before the title game against Purdue, Alcindor and two Negro teammates showed up at an ABA game in Louisville on their own, and were mobbed by fans. The visit was not in Wooden's pre-game dossier.

"Every coach has a certain amount of problems with every team he handles. But the last few years I've had to handle certain individuals differently than I've done in the past. Sometimes you have to make concessions when unusual situations exist."

The concessions Wooden made, however, were never at the expense of dignity. He says he is very big on that. After he pulled Alcindor and Sidney Wicks in the closing minutes of the NCAA title game, they sat on the bench and raised both arms into the air, index fingers proclaiming UCLA No. 1 again. Wooden went over and quietly told them to stop.

"I am looking out for the best interests of UCLA basketball. Certain incidents occur and they are immediately misinterpreted. It is no particular individual's fault, but it is a result of all the pressure that has been upon us the last three years."

As the airplane started its descent, John Wooden fastened his seatbelt and looked out at the Los Angeles skyline. He removed his glasses and rubbed his eyes. "Yessir," he said softly, "it will be a pleasure next year, coaching to win

KC Faces Omaha

By United Press International
The Kansas City Blues may well take a fateful journey Tuesday night. The Blues go to Omaha for the fourth game in a best of five series in the Central Hockey League playoff bouts.

It may be fateful because Omaha is tough on home ice and the Knights already have a one game advantage in the series, 2-1.

Palmer Fares Well, Davis Has Trouble

By United Press International
On a sunny October afternoon in Los Angeles in 1966, the fabled career of Sandy Koufax ended in defeat in the second game of the World Series.

But the two guys in the headlines that day (no one knew at the time that Koufax would never pitch again) were Jim Palmer and Willie Davis. Palmer pitched a four-hit shutout for Baltimore and Davis undermined Koufax's pitching effort by making three errors in one inning.

Neither Palmer nor Davis has been in the headlines much since. Palmer has never done anything to match that pitching performance and Davis has seldom done anything spectacular enough to overshadow the blunders of that game.

This past weekend in Florida, Palmer and Davis were again in the spotlight. Again this time, things went well for Palmer and were a disaster for Davis.

Palmer, plagued with arm trouble the past two seasons during which he's won just three games, pitched eight scoreless innings of three-hit ball as the Baltimore Orioles blanked Pittsburgh 5-0.

Davis, who hit only .257 and .250 in 1967 and 1968 but seemed to be finally living up to his potential this spring, suffered a hairline fracture of the right arm Saturday night when he was hit by a Claude Raymond pitch. He was replaced by a rookie named Bill Russell Sunday as the Dodgers lost to the Braves 4-2.

In other games Sunday, Cincinnati outlasted Houston 6-4, St. Louis topped the Phillies 5-3, Boston edged Detroit 6-5, the White Sox turned back Minnesota 6-4, Washington beat Kansas City 5-1, Montreal nipped the Dodger B team 7-6, San Francisco outlasted Cleveland 13-11, the Cubs drubbed Oakland 8-3, Seattle blanked the California B team 2-0 and California topped San Diego 5-3. The Yankee-Met game in Fort Lauderdale was rained out.

Among the highlights Sunday were the hitting of Pete Rose and Tony Perez of the Reds with three hits each; seven innings of no-hit ball by the Braves Milt Pappas and Cecil Upshaw; a two-run game-winning homer by the Cards' rookie first baseman Joe Hogue off Chris Short; a game-winning pinch triple by Duane Josephson of the White Sox; a grand slam by California pitcher Rudy May; and Richie Allen had a typical day as he made an error to set up three unearned runs but drove in the Phils' three runs with two hits including a 475-foot homer.

Palmer looked like he was going to become one of baseball's great pitchers when he beat Koufax in 1966 and became the youngest pitcher in World Series history to toss a shutout at age 20. Those were the days when he was called "Pancake" for his habit of eating pancakes for breakfast before his pitching assignments. He was 15-10 that year.

But since then he's been plagued with arm trouble. He won only three games in 1967 and didn't pitch an inning in the majors last season.

This spring he's worked 28 innings, allowing 22 hits and seven runs and he flashed his old form Sunday as he set down the Pirates on only three hits.

Davis always looked like he had all the tools to become a superstar but he never seemed to fulfill his potential. His biggest failing was swinging at bad pitches as he almost never got a walk.

Bunky Dumps Murphy To Take Golf Win

MIAMI (UPI)—College rivals Bunky Henry and Bob Murphy "got the order mixed up" during a ragged round and it cost the pudgy Murphy $26,350 in the $200,000 National Airlines Golf Tournament.

Henry, a golfing rookie from Valdosta, Ga., whose prior claim to sports fame had been kicking footballs, dumped Murphy by one stroke Sunday to win the first-place $40,000, despite a disaster at the 13th hole where he hit into the water twice for a triple-bogey eight.

He may be the only man to ever win a major PGA tournament with an eight on a single hole.

"Bob and I played against each other right through college when he was at Florida and I was at Georgia Tech," said Henry, whose grandmother nicknamed him "Bunky" after a comic strip character. His real name—seldom used—is George.

"Murf and I were on the practice tee this morning and we agreed we should finish one-two in this thing," said Henry. "He said 'Yeah, it would be good, but let's not get the order mixed up.'"

Murphy, the 26-year-old native of Bartow, Fla. who created a sensation in golfdom last year when he won more than $105,000 as a rookie, carried a five-stroke lead over Henry into the final round as the leader at 13-under par. But he hit into the sand four times Sunday for a 76 and a four-way tie for the second-place money.

Also one-stroke behind the winner and collecting $13,650 each were Australian Bruce Crampton, Dan Sikes, who eagled the 205-yard 15th hole and Californian Dave Stockton.

Henry posted a 69-73-66-70-278 in the four-day tournament, the second richest stop on the PGA tour. Murphy had a 69-66-68-76-279; Sikes 70-70-71-72-279 and Stockton 68-69-70-75-280 to collect $7,200.

Henry's victory was another in a series of "little man" victories on the Florida leg of the PGA tour this year. First-time winner Tom Shaw took the Doral, Ken Still the Citrus, and Jimmy Colbert the Monsanto. Ray Floyd, whose last win was at Minneapolis in 1967, captured last week's Jacksonville Open.

With only $1,485 in his pocket for his first year on the tour, Henry roared out with five birdies on his first six holes Sunday while "Murf the Turf" Murphy was swinging at sand. He was three up on Murphy going into the 13th hole. That's where he went into the drink twice.

"I guess you can call it an easy eight for that one," said Henry, meeting the press with his pretty wife, Katie, and two-year-old son, Brad. "I hit my second shot with a three wood and landed right in the water. I dropped it out and then hit the ball right over the green into another water hazard. I took two putts on the green."

At Georgia Tech in 1964-67, Henry kicked 50 consecutive extra points to set an NCAA record which has since fallen.

"I'd never been ahead on the final hole in a pro tournament, so I guess I felt a little nervous," he said about going into the 18th hole. "When I bogeyed it I thought 'I'd had it.' But Murphy, meanwhile, had bogeyed the 17th.

"I felt shaky at every tee," Henry added.

Perryton's Gobin Named All-State

By United Press International
Champion Kerrville and runner-up Perryton won three of the five spots on the Texas Sports Writers Association's 1969 Class AAA all-state basketball team.

Perryton's Bob Gobin, a 6-3 forward who averaged 16 points and 17 rebounds per game, led in the balloting for the mythical team.

Kerrville's 6-7 Jimmy Locke, who averaged 15.6 points and 10 rebounds, and 6-7 Jack Vest, who scored at a 15.7 clip and averaged 10 rebounds, were next in the voting support. Vest was the only junior.

Taylor's Bruce Featherston at 6-10 1/2 the tallest player on any of the five all-state teams picked by the sports writers, brought a 30.4-point average to the team, which Mike Dukes of Levelland won the other berth.

4-4A Golfers Here Friday

Pampa High spring sports athletes, golf, track and tennis teams will all be in action this weekend.

Pampa golfers play host to district linksmen Friday on Pampa Country Club course. Monterey is currently leading the district.

Saturday Pampa trackmen journey to Borger for the Borger-Relays and Pampa net men and women are in Borger Tuesday for a duel meet.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Our Capsule Policy

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Remember This on April 15

Robert Strange McNamara, who gave the world both the Edsel and the TFX, is back in the news again; this time in his capacity as head of the World Bank. (The World Bank, as most of us are aware, is that socialistic institution which makes a specialty of lending—of 50-year "loans" at three-fourths of one percent interest can be dignified with the term—tax payer money to socialistic governments the world over whose finances are such a mess that any lender in his right mind would not touch them with a 10-foot pole.)

The former U.S. secretary of defense made his way back into headlines as the result of an announcement by the World Bank that it had placed a $192,650,000 (that's one hundred and ninety two million, six hundred and fifty thousand dollars) issue of U.S. dollar bonds in markets outside the United States.

Considering the fact that those bonds, plus 6 1/2 per cent interest payable semi-annually, will have to be reclaimed two years hence with U.S. tax payer pell, the news will be greeted with something less than cries of joy by tax payers sweating out Form 1040 and April 15.

The announcement drew the attention of Barron's, the national business and financial weekly, when, according to Barron's March 10 editorial, "Blood and Treasure," the World Bank "succeeded in disclosing a good deal more."

Among the more juicy items brought to light by the announcement of Mr. McNamara's bank (which, incidentally, has just won a fresh vote of confidence from the Nixon administration and the House Banking and Currency Committee, which voted to turn over $480 million of U.S. tax money to the World Bank) were these: A $16 million "credit" to Pakistan for a period of 50 years; interest free, but with a three-fourths of one per cent "service charge" attached to defray "administrative costs."

WASHINGTON:

Russo-Sino Rift May Spur Talks

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent
SEOUL, KOREA (NEA)—Increasing Russo-Red Chinese tension may push the Kremlin to seek more seriously some way of protecting her U.S.-Western Europe back door.

If the Soviet-Communist China quarrel worsens, Brezhnev, Russia's major leader, may knock quite firmly at President Nixon's door.

Unpublicized information reaching here through a third country close to both Moscow and Peking indicates the Soviet Union within the past several months has sent an additional division of crack troops to the Mongolian border because of increased troubles with Communist China.

These presumably were troops freed because the occupation of Czechoslovakia moved ahead without strong opposition from the West.

The same third-country source reports that some of the highest military men in the Soviet Union argued strongly against the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia. They were worried that a tie-up of Soviet troops in the West for the Czech adventure could lead Mao Tse-tung's Chinese to action in the East.

If the United States and West Europe should react strongly on the West, said the generals, defending simultaneously on the Czechoslovakian and Chinese borders would present the Soviet Union with grave problems on two fronts thousands of miles apart.

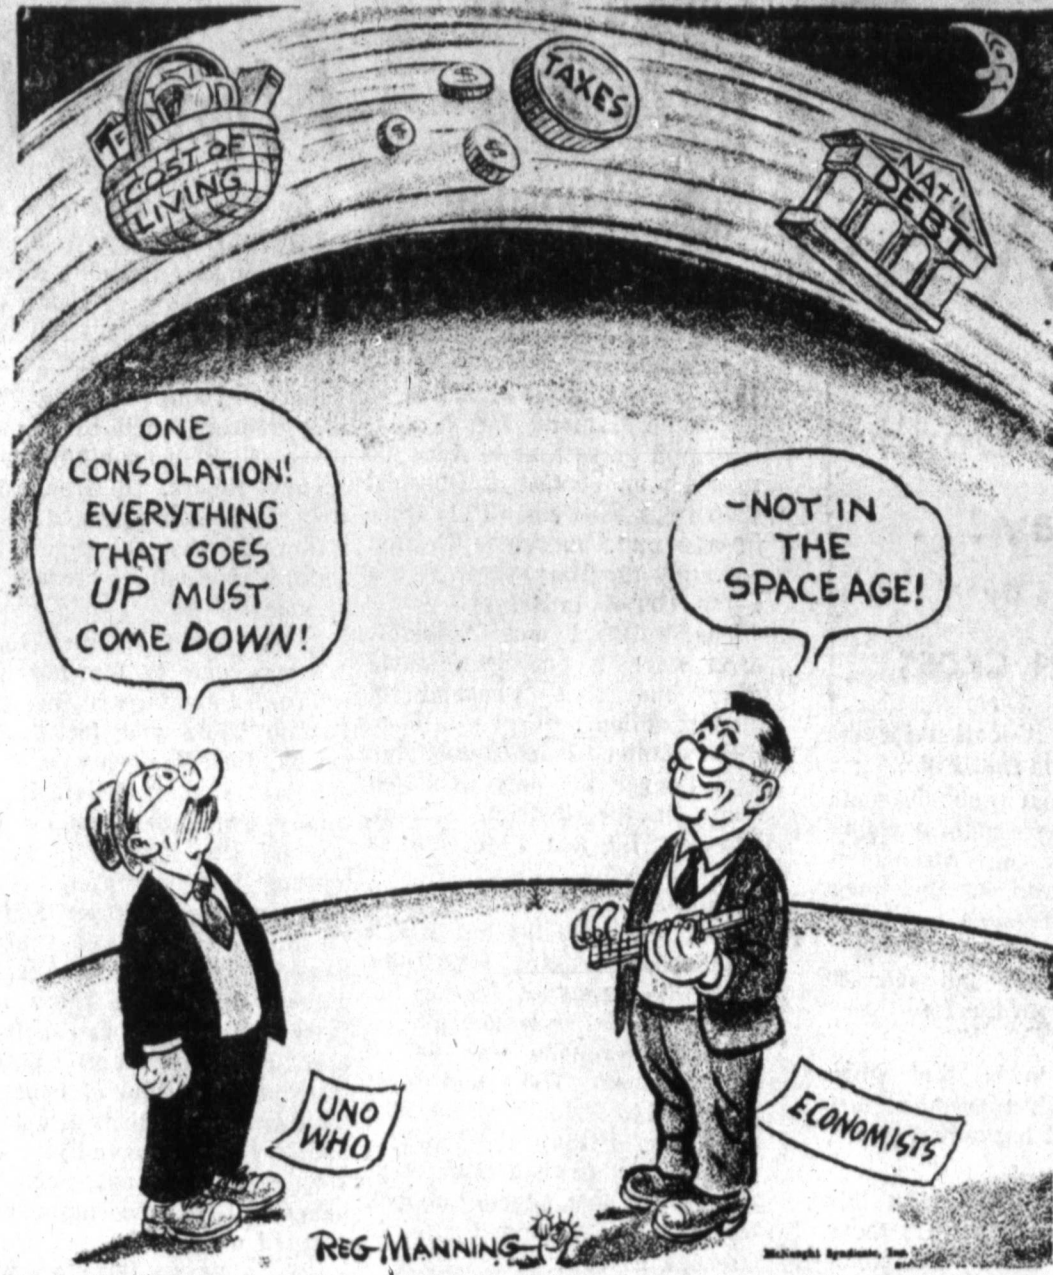

This, these Soviet military men pointed out, could be a quite serious matter, given the limited capacity of the Soviet rail system on long stretches of the East-West route.

Despite considerable expenditures, the Soviet rail and highway systems are in no condition to permit Moscow to transport heavy numbers of men and great amounts of equipment from east to west with sufficient rapidity to make the Soviet generals rest easily.

Air transport would be insufficient to handle more than a minor fraction of the men and equipment required.

One way or another, a great many troops and reservists and huge tonnages of equipment were mobilized and moved Westward for the invasion of Czechoslovakia. This displacement could have caused serious problems in a two-front crisis.

An Old Fashioned Idea

Red Rubber Stamps Ready?—CP Calls

WASHINGTON — For the first time since 1966, the long-time rulers of the Communist Party, USA, among the most slavishly pro-Soviet in the world, are convening a national convention in New York City on May 1.

Attending as invited observers will be militant moguls of the Students for a Democratic Society — whose national and local leadership is heavily far leftist.

Actually, the forthcoming 19th CP national convention is a year late. Under the party's constitution, these affairs are specified as biennial. The 18th national convention took place in 1966, so the next one should have been held in 1968.

But rumblings of disaffection and discontent were so wide-spread and pronounced, particularly on the West Coast, that the party's veteran rulers were afraid to call a regular convention. They feared a possible upheaval and drastic house-cleaning due to raging resentment against the Kremlin's loading to the Arabs and Iron-handed invasion of Czechoslovakia.

So the leaders resorted to a characteristic Red stratagem. They staged a "special convention" — which did everything a regular one usually does except elect officials.

The Doctor Says

High Blood Pressure Is Not a Light Matter

Q—My nephew, 22, has a blood pressure of 166-100. He takes this very lightly, saying that the idea that the normal blood pressure in 100 plus your age has been expolded. What do you think?

A—A systolic pressure of 100 plus your age is no longer regarded as normal—100 plus half your age gives a closer approach but even that may be too high. A pressure of 166-100 is high for a person of any age and a lower reading of 100 is a definite sign of potential trouble.

Q—What are the dangers of lowering the blood pressure too fast?

A—It is advisable to allow three or four weeks to bring a very high blood pressure down to normal. Bringing the pressure down too fast may cause lightheadedness or fainting.

Q—Is an altitude of 5,280 feet above sea level beneficial for a person who has high blood pressure?

CAPITOL EYE

The Southerner Shifts To Softer Segregation Views

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (NEA) — Southerners, like everybody else, simply do not fit the easy labels many try to apply to others they see at some distance. A man in one of the poorer rural counties in the northern half of Alabama demonstrates the case.

He cannot be identified because it would be to his disadvantage. For the same reason, he can't even be "placed" more precisely.

This man falls in the 35-45 age bracket from which the state is now taking some of its new leadership at various levels.

Unsurprisingly, he is by upbringing and basic emotional bent a racial segregationist. He was a supporter of George Wallace as governor, is still an admirer and presumably would back him again if he decides to run for that office in 1970.

If this anonymous rural southerner were to appear suddenly in a setting with northern doctrinaire liberals, they would quickly seize upon some of his utterances to brand him unacceptable according to their rigid moral judgments.

But the significant fact about this fellow is that he has moved away from the pole of total segregation where he once stood.

Indeed, he has changed sufficiently to adjust himself to the idea of a 50-50 ratio of whites and blacks in the public schools of his town and county. He seems also to accept some racial mixing of the faculty in formerly all-white schools.

Part of the reason for his change he would never confess publicly to his neighboring southerners. In a substantial period of military service, he decided on the basis of his actual experiences that desegregation is "not all that bad."

Beyond that, he is responding further to the inescapable pressures of federal court orders to desegregate. Says he: "The courts have lifted a burden off our consciences. We know the law provides that they (Negroes) can go to our schools."

leader again: "We are going to respect the law here. We intend to see that Negroes have the privilege of a better education."

There is one other factor in his change, a factor this reporter had mentioned to him often as he toured Alabama extensively. The average segregationist white southerner has lost some faith in those politicians who promised that desegregation would never happen.

There can be no great credibility granted such political figures on this score today. What they said would not occur has occurred.

The rural man's continuing admiration for Wallace is on grounds other than race. He sees him as a man who got things done, who built trade schools and roads, provided free textbooks, and persuaded Alabama citizens to bear the higher taxes to pay for all this.

Yet no make-over miracle has been performed with this man. He does not want to see white youngsters in his area going to present all-black schools.

He thinks, as do his counterparts in many sectors of Alabama, that such schools will be closed before that happens. And he believes that the subsequent predictable flooding of Negroes into previously all-white schools (now "acceptably desegregated") will produce such disproportionate black preponderance that whites who really cannot afford it will launch a new wave of private schools to escape the tide.

Hearing such comment, the northern dealer in southern stereotypes would see the man with blasts of moral fire. But the exercise would be destructive and largely self-serving. For he has moved — slowly, painfully, but truly. He is a different and a new southerner, and his hard but real adjustments to life are impressive.

Question Box

QUESTION—Can one reason as to what is just and right without having a standard with which to compare?

ANSWER—It is no more possible to reason without a standard than it is to count without a unit by which to measure. If we did not have zero and one by which to measure things, we couldn't measure distance, weight etc.

Groups Pass The Buck

The more witnesses when someone is in trouble, the less likely any of them will try to do anything to help.

This lamentable "law" of human nature has been discovered by Dr. John M. Durlley, Princeton University psychologist, and Dr. Bibb Latane of Ohio State University after a three-year investigation into the way people respond to emergencies.

The research was prompted by the murder of Kitty Genovese in New York in 1964, which took place before 38 passive observers.

Re-enacting the incident in a laboratory, the psychologists found 81 per cent of their subjects gave help when they thought they were alone with the victim. In groups of five observers, only 31 per cent reacted.

The same thing was found in several different emergency situations. The more people there are, the more they pass the buck.

It's not that people are basically uncaring. The presence of a crowd, say the psychologists, can force inaction on its members by implying, through its passivity and apparent indifference, that an event is not an emergency.

Moral: If you ever get into a tight spot, hope that no more than one or two people are around when it happens.

Shameful Traffic Record

It took some doing, but we did it again — topped all records in automobile accidents in 1968, in both monetary, and human terms, says Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The economic cost of automobile accidents in the United States last year soared to $14.2 billion, reports the Insurance Information Institute. This was 14 per cent above 1967, the previous record, and represented an economic loss averaging $285 for every family in the country.

There were 55,500 traffic deaths in 1968, the most ever recorded for any year and 4.5 per cent above the toll of 53,100 in 1967. The number of persons injured is estimated at 4.5 million, another all-time high and almost 15 per cent above the 1967 figure of 4.2 million.

Comic Opera Invasion

"The white man's burden" still weighs heavily on the rulers of the shrunken British empire, at least to the extent of requiring an invasion of the Manhattan-size island of Anguilla in the Caribbean in order to save its 6,000 inhabitants from themselves.

Fortunately, in keeping with the happy-ending traditions of operetta, no shots were fired and no one was hurt.
