DR. DOUGLAS S. FREEMAN

Hq's Army of Northern Virginia Chambersburg Pike, near Gettysburg, Pa., July 1, 1863 (11 P. M.)—Lee's army today won a stunning victory over at least two Federal corps, took almost 5,000 prisoners, occupied the greater part of the town of Gettysburg, and now is preparing for a general battle that may win Southern independence.

DR. DOUGLAS S. FREEMAN

The Third corps of the Army of Northern Virginia advanced this morning on the road from Cash-town, followed by the First corps. As the Third corps approached Wiltoughby Run, it encountered the Federalists in force.

DR. DOUGLAS S. FREEMAN

As they did so, part of Archer's brigade including its gallant commander, was captured. General Hill thereupon ordered Heth to re-form his line, to give his men a breathing spell, and then to attack again with the full strength of his division.

DR. DOUGLAS S. FREEMAN

At that moment the Federalists on the opposing front began to move troops hurriedly to the north of Gettysburg and to draw in the right of the line that was facing west to meet the expected assault of Hill's corps.

DR. DOUGLAS S. FREEMAN

Girls may register at the box office or at the office of the manager at the LaNora theater.

To the winner of the pageant will be awarded the title "Miss Pampa" and she will be sent on an all-expense paid trip to Sweetwater, where she will compete on July 15 with contest winners from other West Texas towns for the title of "Goddess of West Texas."

Winner of the regional contest will be crowned by Bruce Cabot, motion picture actor, presented a silver loving cup, and given a one-week trip to Galveston with all expenses paid.

Towns that have already accepted the invitation to have sponsors in the regional contest are Anson, Rotan, Snyder, Crane, Midland, Ft. Worth, Mineral Wells, Graham, Breckenridge, Stamford, Abilene, Colorado, Big Spring, Eastland, and Roscoe.

PIERCE BROOKS STILL CANDIDATE, HE SAYS

DALLAS, July 1 (AP)—Pierce Brooks, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, denied last night he had sent a telegram to Vann Kennedy, Secretary of the State Democratic Executive committee, announcing his withdrawal from the race.

Kennedy had said at Austin he received a telegram signed "Pierce Brooks," announcing the withdrawal, but giving no reasons.

Brooks said in a statement he had "not considered in the least withdrawing from the race" and that he was pushing his campaign vigorously.

"There is no question but what this contemptible trick was perpetrated by someone interested in seeing my defeat at the polls, realizing the strong support my candidacy is receiving over the entire state," Brooks' statement said. "I shall go to the bottom of this and make every investigation until I locate the party or parties responsible for the act."

Investigation showed, Brooks said, the message had been telephoned to the telegraph company Wednesday

FUNERAL FOR PAMPAN'S MOTHER HELD RECENTLY

Funeral services for Mrs. G. W. Southern, mother of J. Leo Southern, agent of the Fort Worth & Denver City Railway company at Pampa, and of Mrs. Ed Clifton of Alameda, were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church in Pampa, Va. The burial was in the Mt. Olivet cemetery at Pampa, Va.

Mrs. Southern died Saturday morning in a Pampa Va. hospital, following an appendectomy four days prior.

Survivors, in addition to her daughter, Mrs. Ed Clifton, and her son, J. Leo, are her husband, G. W. Southern, Paul Valley, Okla., son Guy, Harold; daughters, Mrs. Orla Smith and Mrs. Roy Campbell, both of Ada, Okla., and five grandchildren.

All of the immediate family attended the funeral services, Mr. Southern returned to Pampa on Wednesday.

Mrs. G. W. Southern's last visit to Gray county was in the spring of 1937, when she visited her daughter, Mrs. Ed Clifton, on the Clifton ranch near Alameda.

testament for attorney general had no elaborately-financed campaign and was living largely on hamburgers.

Withdrawal of Gregory Hatcher from the race for railroad commissioner was the second in that contest. Hatcher, who followed Will M. Martin in getting out of the railroad commission, said lack of finances caused him to toss in the towel.

During an address, Hunter became ill, and remained off the stump several days. His illness and that of his daughter led to an exchange of friendly messages between him and Governor James V. Alfred, the first communications between them in years. They are old political antagonists.

O'Daniel Is Target

O'Daniel, the "hill bill" candidate with the ten commandments for a platform, invaded Texas' "big cities" first of the major contenders for the governorship to do so. He visited Austin and San Antonio in succeeding days and pointed for Houston on the weekend. Usually candidates hit the big cities toward the close of campaigns, because interest in cities grows more slowly than in small towns and rural communities and candidates want to reach these concentrated votes at the last minutes.

William McCraw was one gubernatorial candidate who changed tactics and began talking notice of O'Daniel. Referring to campaigning the latter with an orchestra, McCraw said problems of state could not be solved by "hill bill music." Elsewhere there was reference to poll tax payments. O'Daniel has not paid his.

I Told You So

Action of the Railroad Commission in lifting only the Saturday, not the Sunday, shut-down of Texas oil fields gave another candidate for governor, Ernest O. Thompson, and C. V. Terrell, commission chairman, asking re-election, opportunity to say "We told you so," in reply to charges motivated the commission's regulation of the oil industry. The charges were made after predictions closings both Saturday and Sunday would be removed.

Both candidates were heard declaring for "ousting professional politicians" from Austin. Those making the declaration included O'Daniel, Jerry Sadler, candidate for the Railroad Commission, John Lee Smith, lieutenant-governor, and Larry Mills, for land commissioner.

General Longstreet's widow a vehement of defense of her husband as the "bulldog of the Southern army." She is attending the reunion as a special guest of the anniversary commission.

Defends Husband

"His (Lee's) judgment saved them from even worse defeat," she asserted. "General Lee relied on his advice, and took the whole blame for defeat at Gettysburg, after the battle.

"I am writing an answer to all the unfair and false statements made against General Longstreet."

Under a hot Pennsylvania sun, Gilette and Riffin, together with more than a thousand of their comrades and onetime foes, toured the rolling battlefield, and visited Cemetery Ridge and Seminary Ridge where the Union and Confederate troops were stationed.

Funeral Rites For Infant To Be Held

Funeral services for Ina Honey Moon, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Moon, will be conducted at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Seventh Day Adventist church by Elder LaGrone of Amarillo. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery under direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral home.

The child died in a local hospital last night. Survivors the parents and a brother, T. B. Moon, Jr. Mr. Moon is employed by Cheek and Robinson Welding company and has resided here for two years.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, July 1. (AP)—Stocks swept forward with renewed vigor in today's market, many reaching new highs for the year and some with gains running to 3 or more points.

A start in virtually all major industrial commodities raised the share-buying four to a real rallying pitch. Cotton jumped about 3 1/2 and bid and rubber futures advanced sharply. Only grain, including to-hang-back.

One group after another was taken up with copper, rails, steel, motors, oils, rubbers, aircraft, mail orders and specialties being given a close check.

Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares.

With a 2 1/2-day holiday beginning at noon tomorrow, there was a tendency in some quarters to get out under, but the ease with which selling was overriden implied the liquidating urge in the most cases.

Stocks conspicuous on the forward swing included Consolidated Edison, Electric Power & Light, Public Service of N. G. American Water Works, Western Union, Anacosta, Cerro de Pasco, American T. & T., Texas Corp., U. S. Bank, Pennsylvania, Great Northern, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Standard Oil, N. E. Texas Corp., W. S. Baker, Allied, DeLong Aircraft, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, American Can, Westinghouse, General Electric, DuPont, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, Schenley, National Distillers and Union Carbide.

Hancock had succeeded John F. Reynolds, one of our ablest rear-guard leaders who was wounded mortally when he moved up with two corps to support Buford's cavalry.

Late tonight Meade went to the battlefield himself. Our army as well as Lee's is closing in on Gettysburg.

Hancock was leading the fighting. So heavy was the fighting that General Heth wished to renew the attack from the west. General Lee preferred, at the moment, to await the arrival of Longstreet.

Then occurred a second marvelous instance of the incredible logistics of "Mars' Robert." At the moment when Rodas's attack was at its most difficult stage, there came a year of guns from a point beyond Rodas's left flank. General Jubal A. Early, with his division of Ewell's corps, had at that moment arrived and had thrown the weight of his veteran troops against the Federals.

The enemy was put in an impossible position. His left, which ran from south to north, faced Hill, who was ready to resume his advance from the west. The right of the enemy, running from west to east, faced the combined attack of Rodas and Early. Thus the Federal front formed a right angle, every part of which was exposed to assault.

As soon as this was apparent, General Lee ordered Hill to attack with Heth and Pender. Simultaneously, Rodas and Early bore down from the north. Within forty-five minutes the Unionists were driven from the field in rout and retreated to the hills to the south of Gettysburg. They left close to 6,000 prisoners in the hands of the Confederates, with approximately the same number of dead and wounded on the field.

General Lee sent discretionary orders to General Ewell, late in the day to attack the Federals on the high ground south of the town, and subsequently he rode to the left to confer in person with Ewell and the divisional commanders of the Second corps. For some reason, no attack has been delivered there, nor is it certain at this hour whether the final thrust of the Army of Northern Virginia will be directed against that position or against the southern extension of that elevated area, a long and strong sweep of ground called Cemetery Ridge, which the enemy does not appear to have occupied as yet.

Stuart's cavalry, which has been on a long and successful raid, at last has reported and will arrive tomorrow.

Conferences and reconnaissances have been underway all evening, while surges have been carrying the army of wounded. Tomorrow, the last units of Longstreet's corps should be here. With them and with Stuart's cavalry to support the troops that were successful today, victory lies just over Cemetery Ridge.

horses upon whose understanding and cooperation so much of their success depends.

Confederates with their rubber-tired trailers for their equine partners, and many with roomy trailers for themselves have arrived in greater numbers, apparently, than ever before.

On the grass carpeted arena, which is in the best condition since the birth of the rodeo, performers were practicing tricks and timing with their artists and giving their steady last minute training to insure their good work in the contests tomorrow, as the work of numbering the outlaw mustangs was going on in the corral behind the chutes under the crowd's nest.

Reunions were many and the swapping of tall tales in order as waddies arrived and greeted one another, and wished each other well in the contests of the next three days, although each is the other's rival. There is a great quality of sportsmanship in these hard-muscled, wiry, cow-punchers who gamble their own two hands, and the sureness and keenness of their eyesight, and the steady cooperation of their own horse, but who lose with a grin determination to do better next year at his existence, and a few who never been better before. There is a Whitley Stewart of Anadarko, Okla., Jimmie Olsen and Tex Doyle of Pampa; Earl Moore of Otter, Fred Picture of Old Tascosa; and others in and about the grounds.

Mounted arena officials were busy all morning numbering and timing the stock, getting everything in last-minute readiness to insure the show getting-off to a fast start and keeping up its famous fast pace throughout the three days of contest and judging.

Tomorrow the hours of work spent in the hills to the south of Pampa will be evidenced only in the smoothness and ease with which Canadian's big summer show progresses throughout three gay days and nights. The intense work that it takes to manage wild, frightened animals and yet keep the show going without a moment's pause will be hidden behind a glowing curtain of showmanship that has made the Anvil Park rodeo one of the fastest and smoothest shows in the entire southwest.

bulletin

Headquarters, Army of the Potomac, Taneytown, Md., July 1, 1863—Our vanguard, meeting the Confederates today at Gettysburg, was forced back by superior strength to Cemetery Ridge, south of the town.

Late this afternoon General Winfield S. Hancock advised General Meade that the situation was safe until nightfall and that our army could either retire or fight it out. Meade has decided to fight it out.

Hancock had succeeded John F. Reynolds, one of our ablest rear-guard leaders who was wounded mortally when he moved up with two corps to support Buford's cavalry.

Late tonight Meade went to the battlefield himself. Our army as well as Lee's is closing in on Gettysburg.

worked to the base of the cliff through the canyons.

They carried 1,000 feet of rope with which they expected to try and lower the body if possible.

Members of the family clearly indicated their conviction the tragic hunt was at an end.

A wallet found near the body, reliable sources connected with the searching party said, established it was that of young McCormick. A hat and a leather necktie, also believed certainly those of the body, were found nearby.

The body was discovered almost precisely on the opposite side of the knife-firm peak from the ridge or, which the lifeless form of Richard Whitmer, the young man's climbing companion, was found late Friday.

It had come to rest on a narrow shelf, about 25 feet from the top and 400 feet from the bottom of the peak's steeper rock face.

Forest Service express belief a lightning flash might have tumbled both youths to their deaths from the knife-edged crest of the mountain.

They said it was possible that such a flash running along the rim, only two to three feet wide in places, could have sent McCormick plunging down the east face, while Whitmer, 20-year-old Albuquerque youth, fell to the west.

Discovery of "the second body" ended a bitter eight-day hunt for Mrs. Ruth Hamer McCormick, Sumner young McCormick's mother.

Even after Whitmer's body was found, she clung grimly to hope her son might be found alive. Daily she went to dawn to the Juan Tabo base camp of searchers and personally directed the hunt.

Forest service officials said the plan today would be to top-examine a few more mountain peaks and a few timberline canyons. There were 23,000 contestants, of whom 1,000 were from Pampa and vicinity.

The peak crest and then made their hazardous way to it, said there was little doubt it had lain there all day, the time when the search was concentrated on the "opposite side" of the mountain.

M'LEAN WOMAN WINNER IN NATIONAL CONTEST

When it comes to fashion knowledge, the women of Gray county don't have to bow to anybody on Fifth avenue. As one of the winners of a national fashion contest conducted by the Rose O'Neill Shoe Company of St. Louis, a cash award of $5 was presented Mrs. S. M. Hodges of McLean by C. W. Brascoe, manager of Murfee's shoe department, Wednesday.

The contest presented a technical problem in styling. Six spring eschimeres and 12 spring shoes were shown. The trick was to put the correct shoes with the correct costume.

There were 23,000 contestants, of whom 1,000 were from Pampa and vicinity.

The peak crest and then made their hazardous way to it, said there was little doubt it had lain there all day, the time when the search was concentrated on the "opposite side" of the mountain.

SHOWING THE COMPLETE EVOLUTION OF A NO-HIT, NO-RUN DELIVERY

How to pitch consecutive no-hit, no-run games—by Johnny Vander Meer.

Phillips, Creamery And Gulf-Cooper Win Games

Large scores were recorded in softball games at Recreation Park last night when Phillips took a 10 to 4 Industrial League game from Stanolind and Gray County Creamery swamped the Christians 15 to 4 in a League postponed game. Gulf-Cooper of Skellytown downed the Christians 6 to 1.

Phillips opened with a barrage of runs in the first three innings and then coasted. John Dewey was on the mound with Haddock and Gibson dividing the receiving duties.

Goins and Worley worked for the losers.

A fifth and sixth inning uprising gave the creamerymen victory, five runs crossing the plate in each inning. Up to that time the game was close and exciting. McAnally and Dickinson was the winning battery with Jordan and Macey the losers. Harold Nicholson bagged two home runs and Dawson one for the Creamerymen.

Gulf-Cooper jumped into a five inning lead in the opening inning and held it the rest of the way to down the churchmen in the postponed game. Stansell was on the mound for the winners with L. Etubgeon receiving. McDaniel and Macey was the losing battery.

Schedule for tonight follows:
8 p. m.—Supply Boys vs Jaycees.
8:15—King vs Danciger.
9:30—News vs Diamond Shop.
In the News-Diamond Shop game, brother will meet brother in a mound duel when the Gary brothers swing into action.

Favorites Win In First Round of Tennis Tourney

Managers of all teams in the City and Industrial softball leagues have been invited to meet with officials of both leagues between 7:30 and 8 o'clock in the chamber of commerce rooms in the city hall.

Alton Hall, Panhandle commissioner of softball, will preside at the meeting at which time the date will be set for ending league play, date of the playoff series determined and date of the Panhandle District tournament set.

League business will include stricter regulations on failure of teams to report for scheduled games, stricter regulations in starting time of games, etc.

W. B. Weathered is president of the Industrial League, Harry E. Hoare, vice-president, and Jack Back, secretary. Joe Parkinson is president of the City League, J. T. Hoar, vice-president, and Ray T. Franklin, secretary.

Van Mungo Hurls One-Hit Game To Beat Bees 5-0

By SID FEDER Associated Press Sports Writer

They called a "for rent" sign on the Dodger's "doghouse" today. For the first time in years, Van Mungo doesn't live there any more.

"The arm" gave up his long term lease on the strength of a one-hit pitching effort for a 5-0 win against the Boston Bees yesterday. His class job featured as a fine collection of hurling as the big leagues have seen on any one day this year, and most of the performances, like Mungo's were surprise packages, turned in by fellows like Jack Knott and the up-and-down Cy Blanton and Slick Castlemann.

Mungo, you know, has been the sole resident of the Brooklyn doghouse for so long everyone thought he owned the place. He renewed his lease last year with his annual display of "prima-donna-itis," and went away to milk among his black hills of South Carolina.

They said at the start of this season that Van was back in the good graces to the powers that be, but no one was particularly impressed by that one.

Mungo had a couple of fair days, like his shutout against the Cubs some weeks back, and a 1-0 heart-breaker he dropped to the Giants. But in between there was more bad than good in his work. Yesterday, however, all that was changed. Although his sore elbow was still ailing, he showed a world of stuff and a lot of his old speed against Casey Stengel's stungles Bees. Hal Warlick's two-bagger opening the fifth was the only hit off him.

Pirates Best Reds

While Mungo's was only one of six elegant elbowing jobs during the day, it was easily the most impressive. More important in the pennant picture, however, were the seven-hitter Castlemann, turned in for the Giants and the three-hitter Blanton posted for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Terrific Terry's outfit really did not need all the pitching Castlemann gave them. Almost any finger could have coasted home behind the 19 hits the Giants fired in futility the Phillies, 14-1.

Since Blanton's three-hitter was at the expense of the slumping Reds from Cincinnati, giving the Pirates a 3-1 decision, the National League race was somewhat changed. The Giants' first-place margin was raised to four full games, and the Buc climbed over the Reds into second place. The Cubs' game with the Cardinals was rained out.

'DAFFY' DEAN WINS GAME AS ROWE QUILTS WITH SORE ARM

Over in the American league, the Yankees stretched their winning streak to five straight behind some neat flings by big Rufus the Red Ruffing, who allowed only four hits and set down the Athletics, 7-1. Joe DiMaggio and Tommy Henrich contributed homers. The Yanks remained three games behind the Cleveland Indians, however, for the tribe nosed out the Tigers, 10-9, when a single by Johnny Allen, who relieved a tiring Bobby Feller in the eighth, drove the winning run across.

Jack Knott, strictly a loss in his days with the Browns, returned to St. Louis as a member of the Chicago White Sox and tossed a four-hitter at his ex-mates for a 11-1 victory. Young Jim Bagby allowed only six hits and paced the Boston Red Sox to an 11-1 win over the Senators.

Paul (Daffy) Dean, who hopes to climb back into the fast company in which he once starred, last night turned in the most capable performance since he landed in the Texas League, hurling the Dallas Steers to a 3-1 victory over Oklahoma City's Indians.

At the same time Beaumont's candidate for rehabilitation, Lynwood Rowe, conqueror of Dean in a recent duel, pitched the Exporters to a 3-2 lead over the Shreveport Sports before he retired with an aching arm after seven fine innings. When he left his mates weakened and Shreveport romped home to win 10-7.

Six hits were all the Indians could muster off Dean's slants. He mowed down another half dozen on strikes, hit no batsmen, and gave no walks.

All of the Steers' runs were made on errors, but Dean showed more speed and stuff, including superb control, than he has displayed since he started ailing.

Port Worth's Cats blanked Tulsa's Oilers 3-0. Clyde Small outpitching Max Thomas, and San Antonio's Missions downed Houston 4-1, with Jack Kramer giving up only five scattered hits.

The results left Tulsa in first place by a comfortable margin. With San Antonio, Beaumont, and Oklahoma City back again in a second position deadlock.

Conditions For Fishing On Gulf Coast Excellent

(By The Associated Press)

Texas anglers looking forward to an unusually long week-end of fishing on the Gulf coast will be assured Friday that conditions were excellent or improving. Barring possible sudden changes in the weather, the outlook was universally bright. The report by areas:

Port Arthur—Clean water at all points. Mackerel running off east jetty Thursday. Specks and sheepshead good at Lake Sabine; kingfish, long, and mackerel at 18-mile light; tarpon at south jetty.

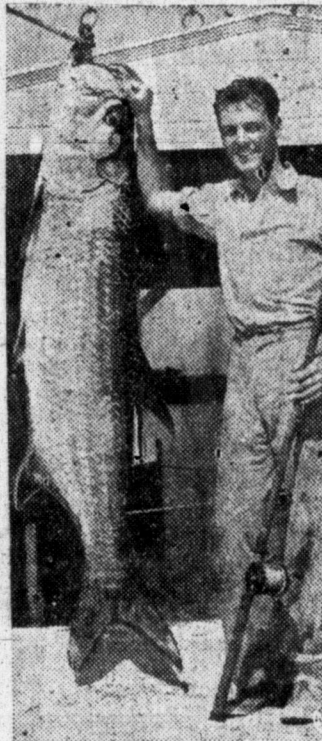

Houston—Freeport—Bay fishing good but live shrimp scarce. Boats off Freeport brought in nice catches of kingfish. Weather and water prospects good.

Port Isabel—Boca Chica—Weather and water excellent, with good catches of kings. Bay and surf fishing only fair past week, with few trout in bay and reds in surf. Two more sailfish gaffed past week.

Galveston—Weakening winds and clearing water promised improved week-end fishing in rodeo and tarpon round-up. Most fish still being brought in by deep-sea anglers, more trout, reds and panfish are being caught inshore.

Corpus Christi—Port Aransas—Gulf, bay and Laguna Madre fishing "rare" during past week. Mackerel, kings and tarpon reported from Port Aransas. Red fish and trout being caught in large quantities from Laguna Madre.

Top Tarpon

Jay A. Gaines tussled 1 hour and 16 minutes in bringing the 125-pound tarpon, which he so proudly exhibits, to gaff in the St. Petersburg, Fla., Roundup.

It topped the list in the national tournament for thousands of dollars in prizes. Gaines is a wealthy young sportsman of Evanston, Ill.

Athletes Hope To Win Summer Trip To Europe

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 1.—A half thousand athletes with a score of champions in their ranks converged here today for the national A. A. U. track and field meet tomorrow and Sunday.

They sought not only trophies and titles, but aimed for the coveted 40 places on a squad which will be sent on a tour of Europe this summer.

Two tense rivalries were expected to flare in one race, the 1,500-meter run. Glenn Cunningham and Archie San Romani on one hand, and Chuck Fenske at Louis Zamperini on the other are to resume their duels.

Fred Wolcott of Rice Institute, stood out among entries in the 110-meter hurdles.

Pitted against him is his teammate, Jack Patterson, defending champion in the 400-meter hurdles.

Marshall Wins 8-7 Thriller

(By The Associated Press)

Marshall continued to maintain a winning pace at the top of the East Texas League today, its latest conquest a thriller won 8-7 in the ninth inning last night from Jacksonville.

Tom Climo's Texas league behind second, scoring Hape, proved the winning punch for the Tigers, after a tough battle with the Jax which saw the score twice knotted.

Four runs in the seventh and eighth innings brought victory to Texarkana's second place liners over the Henderson Oilers, 7-3. The Tyler Trojans eked a 2-1 win over Palestine, through Carl Kentling's single in the eighth, scoring Bubba Floyd from second.

After eleven straight losses Longview's Canibals snapped out of the slump to defeat Kilgore's Rangers 4-1. Hurier Ralph Pate kept four Ranger hits well scattered.

HEROES NOT WANTED

DEL MONTE, Calif.—The average college athlete star may be a hero on the campus but he's no dazzling prospect as a husband, in the opinion of Gamma Phi Beta girls. As matrimonial material, the hero who comes through to win the game was rejected by three to one vote at the international convention of the sorority here.

Production of quick frozen foods in the United States this year is expected to total about 480,000 pounds, almost three times the output in 1936.

Uruguayan Girls Will Go to Bat

Demonstrating the "new" game she is taking back to Uruguayan girls, Miss Alcira Ibarburu explains to her mother the idea behind a baseball bat. After a year as a foreign exchange student at Texas State College for Women she plans to teach the girls in her country the sports and activities she learned over here. Her mother, who speaks no English, traveled twenty-eight days from their home in Montevideo, Uruguay, to see Alcira graduated.

Two Helens To Meet Saturday On Center Court

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, July 1.—Helen Wills Moody, 32, and Helen Jacobs, 29, meet again tomorrow on the center court at Wimbledon, to write another chapter in the longest and bitterest rivalry in the history of women's sport.

Ten years ago, in 1928, Helen Wills, then still known as Helen Jacobs, "poked face" inflicted her first important defeat upon the younger girl who had followed her out of Berkeley, Calif. That was in the national championships at Forest Hills.

They have been at it, off and on, ever since. Helen the first, carrying on her tennis career through a marriage and divorce, has done most of the winning. Helen the second never married, has been forced through most of a decade to play the part of a game loser.

Three times Helen has defeated Helen Jacobs in the final at Wimbledon—in 1929, 1932 and 1935. Helen Jacobs' only victory, at Forest Hills in 1933, was not a complete one; her famous rival defaulting when the score was 3-0 against her in the third and deciding set. The back injury that forced the older Helen off the court that day kept her out of competitive tennis for 18 months.

There never has been a violent enmity between the two girls, nor have they ever been real friends. Off the playing court they simply have gone their respective ways, with nothing in common.

More than 300 pawnshops, located in the Shanghai area, were either destroyed or looted during hostilities last year according to a survey just completed by the Shanghai Pawnbroker's Guild. The total loss was estimated at more than (U. S.) $10,000,000.

Ralph Guldahl Will Try Next For PGA Title

NEW YORK, July 1.—Ralph Guldahl, first man since Bobby Jones to win the U. S. open two straight years and first man ever to win the Western open three times in succession will train his sights on a title that so far has escaped him in the $15,000 Professional Golfers Association championship July 10-16 at Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa.

His U. S. and Western open triumphs gave the icy-nerved Texan 160 points and the lead in the low-scoring competition for the Harry Wray Memorial award. But while Guldahl, with 244 points, is 37 ahead of Paul Runyan on an average of 71.5 strokes for 32 rounds of tournament medal play the P. G. A. is a tournament of another technique, if not exactly another color.

Medal play in the P. G. A. is limited to the 36-hole, two-day qualifying round. After that, the 63 low scorers and defending champion Denny Shute will go into match play, something the nation's pro-cumcutter rarely on their annual circuit.

In the lists against Guldahl will be seven former winners of the pros' own title. In addition to Shute, who won at Pittsburgh in 1927 and at Pinehurst the year before, they are Walter Hagen, non-playing captain of the 1937 Ryder cup team whose five victories make him the only man to win the P. G. A. more than twice; veterans Leo Diegel and Gene Sarazen, two-time champions; Johnny Revolta, Shute's predecessor; Rohny and Tommy Armour.

PLANES SEARCHING FOR TEXAN'S STOLEN YACHT

NEW ORLEANS, July 1.—An airplane search was made today along the Gulf Coast for a 38-foot auxiliary yawl, the "Artemis," reported stolen Tuesday from the yacht basin at Galveston.

The yacht was valued at $10,000 and was owned by Harry Hawley, Jr., retired business man of Galveston. Hawley said in a telephone call from Galveston that his yacht was fully equipped and provisioned for a cruise along the Gulf Coast to Florida.

He chartered an airplane from New Orleans to search the coastline between Galveston and New Orleans.

FLYING FORTRESSES' IN GOULF TEST FLIGHT

MIAMI, Fla., July 1. (AP)—An army "flying fortress" took off at 2:20 a. m. eastern standard time, today for a 1,000-mile flight across the Gulf of Mexico to test new military navigation equipment.

The four power engines of the silver bomber were expected to propel the craft across the midwest stretch of the Gulf to Brownsville, Texas, in about five hours.

A homing device which tunes in on commercial radio stations and leads the plane directly to the point of broadcast was used.

Major Stanley Umsted and a crew of six brought the craft here from Dayton, Ohio, a distance of about 1,400 miles, in 4 hours 58 minutes yesterday. The Gulf flight was described as one for "routine navigation training."

HOLDUP HONEYMOON

BY EDWIN RUTT Copyright 1938, NEA Service Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JOSEPH SANDHAM—hero, who thought he was out of the world until he snatched into KERRY ARCHER II—heroine who thought she was headed for the altar until she snatched into ED, the WEASEL—gangster who thought he was headed for where, too, but affairs somehow mixed up.

Yesterday Joe convinced Ed that he is kidnapping Kelly and that under cover of darkness he begins to do things in the Ford.

CHAPTER IX

YES, under cover of darkness, Mr. Sandham moved into action. First his left hand slipped surreptitiously into his inside coat pocket while his right continued to guide the car. From the pocket he drew a small oblong object which he placed in his lap. Then the hand went back into the pocket and came out with a smaller thinner object. After that for the space of five minutes, both hands rested innocuously on the wheel.

In the back of the car the head of Ed the Weasel nodded slightly. He was by no means asleep. But the steady purr of the motor had lulled his sensibilities. Kelly turned in his seat and stole a look at him out of the corner of his eye.

"Getting sleepy?" he asked.
 "Naw," said the Weasel, blinking through the darkness.
 Joe drove for another mile in orthodox fashion. Then, very carefully, his right hand slipped from the wheel, groped in his lap for the slender thing which he had taken from his pocket, found it. The oblong object lay flat on his knee. And for a short time the thumb and first finger of his right hand were tortuously busy, while with his left hand he controlled the destinies of the Ford.

Finally he ceased his labors. "Want some candy?" he said suddenly to Ed the Weasel. "This car's lousy with it."
 "Don't care if I do," said the Weasel, yawning. "I ain't much today."

Joe reached down to a cardboard packing-case under the seat and fumbled in it. He extracted a small flat box.

"Try these," he said, passing it back to the Weasel. "Chocolate covered peppermints."
 The Weasel took the box and tore at the cellophane wrapper with his fingernail. It came off and presently he was rustling the wax-paper inside, fighting his way toward the peppermints. For a second the noise of paper rattling filled the back of the car. Under cover of it came a thinner rustling sound from the front seat, a sound that was barely audible. Then Joe slipped the oblong object back in his pocket.

"Dese is okay," said the Weasel, with his mouth full of peppermints.

"Take all you want," Joe invited.
 "I got enough," said the Weasel. "I don't go for sweets much." "Guess I'll have one myself," said Joe.

The Weasel handed him back the box. His fingers dove into it. After that, he replaced the lid and left the box on the seat beside him.

At dawn Joe pulled up before a likely-looking refreshment stand whose environs were devoid of other vehicles. A black-haired girl was poisoning the counter inside. At Joe's signal she issued forth.

"Kawfee," said the Weasel hoarsely, from the depths of the Ford. "Any hot cakes. Per free. We'll have 'em out here in a da cap."

In a short time the black-haired girl returned, bearing sustenance. The hot cakes were huge, brown and indigestible. Kelly and Joe ate of them but sparingly. Ed the Weasel, however, was no weak sister. He cut his allotment into great segments, drowned them in syrup and masticated with audible satisfaction.

"Dat hits da spot," he stated, between bites.

"Do enjoy yourself," said Kelly. Presently the girl returned with coffee in thick China mugs. When they had finished drinking Joe handed her a bill.

"Keep the change," he said grandly.

She flashed him a smile. "Thanks."

"And just as a token of our esteem," said Joe, evidently made mellow by the coffee, "I accept these chocolate peppermints. Delicious, fine-flavored, a boon to the digestion. Here you are. On the house." He picked up the box of chocolate peppermints and thrust them at her.

The girl hesitated. Joe's eyes held hers.
 "Come on," he said. "Take 'em. Plenty more where they came from."

She reached for the box then. Joe laid in the clutch. He winked flagrantly at the girl of the refreshment stand. The Ford roared away.

MID-AFTERNOON found them nearing Niagara Falls and the Canadian border. In a deserted stretch of road a few miles from the town, Joe stopped the car suddenly.

"You and I," he said to the Weasel, "have got to have a conference."

The Weasel exhibited impatience at the unexpected delay. He was anxious to get across the border. He growled: "Wot we gotta talk about? Ting is to git into Canada."

"Sure," said Joe. "But we'll never do it with all this junk in the car." His hand swept over the merchandise which loomed around the Weasel. "The customs officials will want to know why we're going to Canada with enough candy to make a herd of elephants sick. There'll be questions and delay."

"Gee, dat's right," said the Weasel thoughtfully.

Kelly looked at Joe in exasperation.

"You would bring that up," she said. "You certainly do all you can to smooth the way for our amiable jailer here, don't you?"

"I figure it a romantic touch," Joe told her, "for you and me to be married in a foreign land."

If a pretty girl can snort, Kelly snorted. "Married? You know darn well whom I'm going to marry. And he doesn't look anything like you."

"I'll bet I'm handsomer," said Joe. He turned to the Weasel: "We've got to throw the cargo overboard, that's all."

"Tain't on some place, den," said the Weasel. "An' we'll 'trow it." A side road offered a convenient spot. At the point of the Weasel's gun, Kelly and Joe evacuated the car. The Weasel took a position favored by overseers.

"Okay," he said to Joe. "Chuck da stuff out."

Joe opened the back doors of the car and started in. Confessions of all descriptions were dragged out and dumped carelessly at the roadside. And as he worked Mr. Sandham sang, raucously. He broke off suddenly and addressed the Weasel. "Give me a hand with this, will you? It's heavy as lead."

Obligingly the Weasel shuffled over, placed a hairy paw on a huge box and jerked. Joe jerked in unison. The recalcitrant box of chocolate dipped nougats began to vacate the Ford.

"Then, all at once, the Weasel dropped it as if it had been a puff adder.

"Hey," he roared. "Come back here, you!" At the same instant his gun hand whipped up.

Joe raised his head. Miss Kelly Archer had converted the distraction of the Weasel's attention. She was fleeing down the road toward the main highway like a species of red-headed deer.

WPA BOSSES PUNISHED FOR PLAYING POLITICS

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—Harry Hopkins announced today that two WPA straw-bosSES in Kentucky have been punished for playing politics.

The work-relief administrator, replying to recent charges of political coercion in the Kentucky WPA, responded specifically to charges contained in a recent series of newspaper articles. These allegations mentioned partisans of both Senator Alben W. Barkley the administration floor leader, and Governor A. B. Chandler, who are waging a hot campaign for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Kentucky.

Hopkins said the two WPA workers involved were Lee Garden, chief supervisor for the Edmondson county district, and Cleve Keeney, foreman in the Newport district.

Evidence showed, Hopkins said, that Garden had distributed among WPA workers a resignation card designed to procure political information.

"We have taken steps to see that this man minds his own business," the WPA administrator said. "He was told that any such activity on his part in the future would result in his being fired."

Kenney, the statement said, discussed with one of his subordinates a meeting addressed by Chandler and remarked that "the fellows on the job are going to have to support Barkley if they are going to stay on the WPA."

Hopkins said that "we regard this remark by Mr. Kenney as reprehensible."

other fiscal year. It won't be 1938, however, but fiscal year 1939, which sounds as if the government got a six-month jump on the calendar.

That is not the case, though. The fiscal year is part of a system that Alexander Hamilton figured out and nobody has ever improved upon.

It runs from July 1 to the next June 30, inclusive, and it's pretty important to the bookkeeping system of your Uncle Sam.

On July 1, the treasury adds up its receipts and expenditures, starts a fresh ledger, and the government departments get new funds.

Close questioning in a number of departments disclosed that officials never get the government's new year mixed up with the other people's new year.

If you don't believe it—just try writing in and saying you have paid your income tax for 1939. They'll straighten you out in a hurry.

Ask State Help for Movie Stars

Once a highly-paid actress and wife of Rudolph Valentino, Jean Ackler Valentino, above, leads a group of impoverished former film luminaries who have petitioned Governor Merriam of California to draft a new state "career insurance" law setting aside 10 per cent of salary and protecting stars against penniless lives when careers are ended. Mrs. Valentino is pictured during work as an extra in new movie, "The Young in Heart."

CUPID CROSSES PARTY LINES IN MARRIAGES

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP)—Cupid slung his bow over his shoulder today, scanned the list of June victims and decided his marksmanship wasn't at all bad, considering the times. John Roosevelt, 22, youngest son of the President, and Anne Lindsay Clark, 21, said "I do" to a Democratic-Republican coalition. Last year he crossed party lines in uniting Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., and Ethel Du Pont. Politics proved more formidable but love conquered at last when Kurt Von Schuschnig, former Chancellor of Austria, was wed by proxy to Countess Vera Fugger von Babenhausen.

Cupid joined Harold L. Jokes when the Secretary of the Interior "put one over on Washington" by a surprise marriage to Jane Duhiman, 26, in a little church near Dublin. Marshall Field, Jr., and Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt took brides. Field, grandson of the Chicago merchant prince, was married to Joanne Bass, daughter of former Gov. and Mrs. Robert P. Bass of New Hampshire. A two-months whirlwind courtship culminated in the marriage of young Vanderbilt heir to a $20,000,000 fortune, and Manuela "Molly" Hudson, of California. Harold Fowler McCormick, 66, wealthy Chicago manufacturer, heard wedding bells for the third time. He married Odah Wilson, 34, a nurse. The young man with the bow and arrows invaded grand opera to capture Lily Pons for Andre Kostelanetz, orchestra conductor. In royal circles he united Princess Eugenie of Greece and Denmark with Prince Dominique Radzwill of Poland.

KIDDIES PARADE TO BE NEW REUNION FEATURE

STAMFORD, July 1—A children's parade on the morning of July 4 will be a new feature of the Texas Cowboy Reunion this year. The attraction will be in addition to the grand parade to be held on July 4 and the parades of sponsors and cowboy contestants on the afternoons of July 4 and July 6. The children's parade will be held at 10 a. m. through the downtown streets of the city. Warren B. Taysman, parade chairman, announced. Headed by the American Legion band of Stamford, children 13 years of age and under, riding on bicycles, tricycles, stick horses, traveling in little wagons and carts, will present their version of a real appropriate prizes will be given to the winners in the contest. Mrs. G. E. Cole of Stamford has been appointed chairman for the children's parade, which is not to be confused with the juvenile section of the main parade.

NO SALE — William Zion, 53, waited till street car No. 1324 came along. He boarded the car, showed a bill of sale to the conductor for No. 1324, and demanded his property. The conductor referred Zion to the police bunko detail which now seeks the "safest" who took Zion's $100.

MANY THINGS OF INTEREST IN News For Farmers

FRUIT OUTLOOK GOOD.

Fruit crops are reported in good condition in most of the important producing sections. Citrus crops from the new bloom are in good condition in all states, although the size of the crop in Florida was curtailed when dry weather caused young fruit to drop. Subsequent rains have improved the situation. California production is running at new high levels, particularly in oranges and grapefruit. Southern states report a peach crop a third bigger than last year and 13 per cent over average. Atlantic coast states reported frost damage had decreased yields on apples, pears, peaches, and cherries in some areas. Southern peach growers and Pacific coast apple men are preparing intensive marketing campaigns for their products.

COTTON VS. BUTTER.

Southern farmers claim that their cotton acreage reductions is helping dairy farmers because it is reducing cottonseed-oil production, and thus decreasing the total of butter substitutes.

FIND EROSION CONTROL.

Farmers in widely scattered areas are adopting a simple method of control for erosion.

In Kansas, eroded land is being taken out of cultivation and planted to grass, according to I. K. Landon, soil conservation service co-ordinator.

North Carolina farmers, trying a similar plan, discovered to their satisfaction that the method holds down dust storms which previously damaged tender young plants. In that state strips of small grains or grasses were planted in cotton fields.

Oklahoma farmers discovered terraces and grass planting also conserve moisture.

PROBE MILK PRICES.

Inquiry of retail milk prices in Michigan cities, undertaken as a joint federal and state investigation, is seeking to determine if the companies have price-fixing agreements.

There is a possibility that the federal government may carry the inquiry into a great many other states.

POTATO GROWERS ACT.

Efforts are being made in all areas, which have not already done so, to establish state potato marketing agreements.

The government points out that the practice helps hold up prices by keeping culls and undersized stock off interstate markets.

RADISHES ARE GIANTS.

Truck gardeners should be interested in a new Chinese radish, being grown by R. H. Gregory of Rocky Mount, Tenn. He was astounded to discover the seeds he planted produced radishes up to eight inches long and three inches in diameter. They have a good flavor.

PERSIMMON WILT SEEN.

Development of a wilt which kills persimmon trees is being watched in the Atlantic and Southern States. Tree disease specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture are seeking means to control the disease.

case, fearing that its spread may kill off all persimmon trees, in the same way chestnut trees were lost.

CLEVER FARMERETTE.

Only twelve years old, Fay Jacques, of Manchester, Maine, has the title of "New England's" largest raiser of geese. She started with a small flock six years ago, and now has a flock of more than 500. She does all her own purchasing and merchandising, and hires a man to help during the busy season.

WANT HOG GRADE LAW.

In Alabama, where hogs are being fattened on a diet of peanuts, farmers are demanding a more uniform system of grading hogs, as a move to getting better prices on the markets.

INSTRUCTORS FAIL ON PRONUNCIATION TEST

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)—The nation's school children will be glad to know today that ten teachers took a pronunciation test at the National Education Association's convention here and not one made a passing grade.

Five men and five women faced each other in a pronunciation bee. The men won but didn't gloat because all of them flunked, by school-room standards. Words like dioceses, canalicule, Nabuchodonosor and fortiori stopped both teams dead with concerted groans.
