Food Buying Guide WASHINGTON (UPI) The following guide to the nation's food buys for the weekend was prepared by the U.S. Departments of Agriculture and Interior for United Press International.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports that food shoppers will find excellent displays of meat and poultry and good supplies of some fresh fruits and vegetables in food stores and supermarkets this third weekend in April.

Heading the list of abundant meats are broiler-fryer chickens and turkeys. Next comes these beef cuts-roasts, steaks, and ground beef. Nearly all pork cuts are in the abundant class, including bacon, Boston butts, chops, ham, roasts, sausage, and smoked picnics.

Maine sardines, canned salmon, and fish sticks and portions are the fish buys to watch for, according to the U.S.

Murder by Automobile Although cars kill more than 50,000 Americans every year, we seldom think of a car as a murder weapon. Nevertheless. with growing frequency, motorists are being convicted of the crime of murder by automobile.

The key ingredient, upping the offense from mere manslaughter to murder, is malice And a jury may find malice by logical deduction from the circumstances of the killing. For example:

A man who was rebuffed by his girl friend pushed her out of the car, ran her down, then backed over her prostrate body. In this behavior a jury found ample evidence of malicious intent, and brought in a verdict of murder by automobile.

Even if a driver has no specific intent to kill anybody, he may still commit murderif his conduct is reckless enough to imply malice.

Thus, in another case, a man decided it would be great fun to drive up close to pedestrians and make them jump. After playing this little game several times; he misjudged his distance and struck down an inno-

Tried afterward for murder by automobile, the man pleaded a lack of any intent to kill. But the court found him guilty as charged.

"Malice," said the judge, "does not necessarily mean an actual intent to take human life. It may be implied, as when an act is done so recklessly as to manifest depravity of mind and disregard of human life."

Still, however wrongful a driver's conduct, he is not guilty of murder if there is no casual connection between his bad driving and the accident itself. Suppose, for instance, that a drunken driver is traveling down the street when he suddenly has a blowout. If the car! edestrian, solely because of the blowout, the driver could not be convicted of murder. True a jury might find malice' in the way he was driving. But if the blowout would have resulted in the accident anyhow, then the bad driving could not be the cause

The long Sino-Soviet border meandering through the heart of Asia has taken on the look of a hostile frontling since the armed clash at Damansky Island north of Vladivostok. Continuing tension and the propaganda battle between Moscow and Peking have raised speculation of eventual war. At issue are large areas of Siberia seized by Czarist Russia, shaded on map, which China still claims. The areas are particularly sensitive to Moscow because the Soviet lifeline, the Transsiberian Railroad, runs through or near them. Vladivostok is a major Soviet naval base and some 15 to 20 Red Army divisions are believed stationed between there and Lake Baikal.

Nixon Seeks Missing Ace Of Co-Ordinators

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) - The White House under President Nixon has plenty of co-ordinators but very little real coordination.

The plain fact is that nowhere on the large White House staff today is there a man who at once helps to set major domestic policy, is widely recognized throughout the Nixon possesses the administrative drive and skill to make effective the decisions that flow from the power center.

The lack is beginning to be realized more acutely with the passing weeks. Yet, since the staff is already so large and so laden with prestigious types, News. A similar article was reasons have a bearing on the there is no move afoot right

An untuned car is horns in your ears.

Horns in your ears . . . a missed appointment . . . a tow truck ride . . . a pounding head and a lot of other things to spoil your driving. That's what an untuned car is.

Untuned car trouble results from old worn spark plugs in an untuned engine. The cure is quick and effective, it's a Champion Tune-Up: a new set of Champion spark plugs plus other basic tune-up items you may need.

You'll feel the difference pronto. Troublefree starting. Quicker acceleration for safer highway passing. More power. Dependable performance. And an average saving of over a gallon of gas per tankful—proved in United States Auto Club certified tests.

For trouble-free driving, get a Champion Tune-Up now—and every 10,000 miles. Because an untuned car is trouble!

The heart of a tune-up

Overheating Can Be Forestalled By These Checks

While most cars made today have cooling systems that are 'sealed" in the factory, a wise motorist still takes precautions against engine overheating. Here are some basic precautions to take to make sure your car keeps its cool.

Test the anti-freeze to make sure it hasn't lost its rust inhibiting elements. If it has, drain and flush the cooling system before installing new anti-freeze.

Test the condition and tension of all drive belts as well as radiator and hoses for leaks. Also check pump gaskets and radiator hoses. Check the tightness of the pulley hub on the water pump.

Check to see that there is no foreign matter on the cooling fins and that the overflow tube is not obstructed.

HELPFUL TIPS ON ...

How to Get More Miles Per Gallon

Two drivers of the same automobile may get different gas mileage due to the differences in driving habits. Other factors include driving conditions and mechanical condition of the automobile.

It costs almost 50 per cent more to drive 80 mph than it does to drive 50 mph. Cost of driving 60 mph is 25 per cent higher than cost of driving 30 mph.

- Wet driving condition: Slowing down under wet or snowy conditions conserves fuel. Wet pavement can reduce mileage by 1 mile per gallon.

-When parked, turn off engine. One minute of idling uses more fuel than restarting uses.

-Starting and stopping. Avoid "jack rabbit" starts, sudden stopping and racing on the green light.

-Windy conditions. Drive slower if you're interested in better fuel economy.

Here are some suggestions on care and mechanical condition of your car for better fuel economy:

-Use good grade of gasoline recommended by the manufacturer of your automobile.

-Be sure the thermostat Isn't stuck in the open position. A warth-running engine is more efficient (uses less fuel) than a cold-running engine.

-Be sure tires are inflated properly.

-Balance and align tires, @

Beware! Shower Can Make Road Slippery

Summer showers, especially after a long dry spell, can make road surfaces as slippery as winter ice, a special safety bulletin issued by the Rubber Manufacturers Association warns.

The danger of skidding is greatest, says the trade group, during the first 15 to 30 minutes after it starts to rain; up to an hour or more in a light drizzle.

This is due to the little-known fact that rain tends to float up n onto the road surface a greasy film of oil, gasoline and rubber residue which becomes a treacherous ice-like lubricant between the tires and the road until enough rain falls to wash

The possibility of an accident on a wet road, says the Association, is between 5 and 10 times as great as on a dry road, in terms of the likelihood of a skid and loss of control of a car. In terms of stopping distance, it may take up to four times as far to stop on a wet road as a dry road.

Sports Car Roar From Sedan May Signal Trouble

Has your family sedan started to develop a sports car "rap"? Instead of taking it to Watkins Glen or Lemans, better check your exhaust system. That deep-throated roar under the chassis undoubtedly means your exhaust system is defective.

Not only might it earn you a traffic ticket for making too much noise but it could mean a death sentence for you and your family. A leaky exhaust is a potential source of lethal carbon monoxide.

When you hear a noisy exhaust, head straight for your favorite service outlet. Better yet, have a mechanic check your exhaust system next time your car is on the hoist.

What's a safe distance to follow another car? Experts recommend one car length for every '10 miles per hour of speed on dry roads. When roads are slippery, the distance between should be doubled.

For all his considerable achievements in his chosen profession, Neyhart is best renowned as the father of driver education in the nation.

Losing Your Grip, Tire-Wise?

If you hear your tires talking, perhaps a few days fishing will help or a week in the mountains.

On the other hand, if you see them talking, you're tire-wise, and you'll heed their message.

Talking tires. They'll tell you when your pocketbook is being hit. And in most cases they can tell you exactly who the culprit is, too. Like improper alignment, worn shocks, overinflation, underinflation, and many other conditions that rob you of the tire mileage that you pay for. Besides accelerated wear, there's also the safety factor — something that's even more important than the money you may waste.

What are the tires on your car telling you? Study the pictures and try the little test below, then check the answers to find out how tire-wise you

When the tire is worn in patches, particularly on the shoulder, it

(1) the brakes tend to grab (2) the tire is out of balance (3) the tire is overinflated

The tire is worn evenly, but the treads are feathered. It means:

(1) the tire is overinflated (2) too much front end toe-in (3) you take corners too fast

Both shoulders are worn while the center still has some tread.

(1) new shocks are needed

(2) slow down on corners (3) tie rod is loose

Tire is wearing more at each shoulder; tread is "stepped" from the center tread toward each side. It means:

(1) tire is out of balance (2) tire is underinflated (3) tire is overinflated

Tire shows extremely uneven wear. It means:

(1) faulty brake system (needs

fluid, adjustment)
(2) faulty wheel alignment

(3) tires need rotation (including spare)

The center treads of the tire ar wearing faster than the shoul ders. It means:

(1) worn out shocks

overinflation wheels need balancing

The students' failure to wear seat belts was not because of their failure to recognize the consequences, the survey found. Almost two-thirds of them identified not wearing belts as a major contributing cause to traffic fatalities.

Estimates by the National Safety Council show that about one out of five fatalities could have been avoided if seat belts were being worn.

Is This the Way to Talk to a Lady?

is something that does not like didn't even crack a smile. automobile mechanic. That's at least if he's 6'1" in his old army boots, has uncertain blue eyes and goes by the name of Hank.

Now, I guess I know as much about cars as the next League of Women Voters Foreign Policy Committee chairman. After all, it was I who spent three hours in the library looking up trade restrictions on aftomotive replacement parts. So, I'm not exactly a babe in the woods on the subject.

But to talk to Hank, you'd think I was dumb. I say "Talk to Hank" advisedly. Every time I drive in, he mumbles something about test-driving a manifold and takes off in his car, leaving me standing there. You'd think we were married, the way he carries on.

My last non-communication with Hank happened just last week. I was late for a hair dresser's appointment, it was raining and my car wouldn't start.

Naturally, I was frantic. If you miss an appointment with Mr. Gino he demotes you from Friday afternoon to Monday morning. And do I have to tell you what kind of mood Mr. Gino is in on Monday morning?

So, I called Hank. My tears must have moved him because he was out in five minutes.

Hank was unusually talkative when he came. He actually said, "Hi." He got me started and I made it to Mr. Gino's with 27 seconds to spare. Which was fortunate since it meant I only had to wait 45 minutes before the maestro could take care of me.

But wouldn't you know that as I tried to start my car again, nothing happened. Nothing, that is, except my hairdo began to disintegrate in the downpour.

So, I called Hank again. This time he took a half hour to come and didn't bother with a "Hi." Instead he pushed my car into the station, popped up the hood and left me to peruse his ample supply of automotive magazines. You'd think they'd publish a few articles a gal could appreciate.

Just as I was absorbed in a piece about "How to Sell More Upholstery Shampoo," Hank approached me. It was evident he was about to speak to me because his Adam's apple was ouivering.

"When's the last time you had your car tuned up," he challenged. By his serious look, I thought I'd humor him, "The last time the piano tuner came through town," I quipped.

First Test Track Built in 1915

Proving grounds were introduced by the industry in 1924. But what probably was the first test track designed specifically to test and evaluate production vehicles was built by a Detroit auto maker back in 1915. A halfmile planked track circled a steel-fabridated "hill" than 40 feet high, which cars had to climb prior to leaving the factory.

Cars were also required to plow through a sand pit and travel around the track at all speeds before being approved for shipment.

He managed to hide his plugs are fouled. No wonder you did Robert Frost said it. "There amusement manfully as he couldn't start."
