SON-IN-LAW OF FORMER GOVERNOR SHOT, KILLED

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 4 (AP)—George Whitcomb, 37-year-old mine owner and son-in-law of former Governor John E. Erickson of Montana, was shot and killed early today during an altercation with Patrolman Tom Martin, 40, of the Helena police department.

In a statement to County Attorney Harold K. Anderson, Martin said he was patrolling his beat when he saw two men in the shadows near a monument works.

Martin, in his statement, said he went to investigate and recognized Whitcomb and Tom Curtis, a Helena restaurant proprietor.

The patrolman said he talked to them a minute or two and when he turned to go Whitcomb, who was six feet tall and weighed 308 pounds, grabbed him around the neck.

Whitcomb, the statement said, seized the club and started striking the patrolman who then drew his gun and fired one shot.

Prohibitive Costs

To understand what the German plan means, one has to know that automobiles are regarded as unattainable luxuries by the big majority of European people.

Besides these costs, some countries have heavy taxes on cars. England, for example, soaks the owner of a baby car with anything up to six horsepower about $22.50 per annum.

All these costs have resulted in those amazing midgets which they call "baby" cars.

They look like glorified perambulators. I've seen one shoot right out under the outstretched arm of a traffic policeman at crowded Trafalgar Square.

The baby cars do around 75 miles an hour, though they are so light that they hop about the road like fleas on a hot stove.

Of course, these low powered buses have their drawbacks. Some of them won't climb a hill. I've seen more than one turn around and back up an incline.

Under the Nazi Volsauto program a prospective owner can buy his car in advance with payments about $1.16 a week.

KING-DIAMOND SHOP MEET IN CITY SOFTBALL FINALS

JEWELERS WIN FROM BARBERS BY 3-1 SCORE

Big "Slim" Dillman, city police officer, led the Diamond Shop to victory in the final game of the City Softball league playoff last night when he bagged the only three hits made by his team in its 3 to 1 win over the Mack & Paul Barbers.

Tonight at 8:15 o'clock at Recreation park a mile east of the city the Diamond Shop will meet King Oil, winner of the Industrial league playoff, in the first of a series to decide the Pampa Softball champion and the winner of the Jaycee trophy.

An exhibition game between Mack & Paul and the Gray County Creamery, pitched out of the playoff by the Jewlers on Monday night, will follow the playoff game. Admission will remain at 10 cents for women and children and 15 cents for men. Seats to accommodate nearly 500 fans will be available and cars will be allowed to park around the playing field.

King will have Brown, Sharp and D. Way ready for mound duty and this morning Manager E. M. Dean was undecided which he would send against the Jewlers. Manager Sam Fenberg said he would start Gower on the mound with Witherspoon being held in reserve. The two teams will meet again tomorrow night in the second game of the series. Straight wins for one of the teams will end the playoff. Split decisions will necessitate a doubleheader tomorrow night because the series must end so that the district tournament can begin Monday night.

Three in Fourth. Mack & Paul jumped into a lead in the second inning when Cox was safe on a fielder's choice, went to second on a passed ball and scored when Brock singled to center.

The Jewlers scored their three runs in the fourth. H. Stephenson was safe on an error, going to second on the play, and scoring on Dillman's second blistering single between second and short. Holland walked. Erhart was safe on a fielder's choice when Dillman was forced at third. Gower then made the hit that won the game for the Jewlers. It was a high bounce down the third base line. The ball might have been foul but Jordan, standing in fair territory, played the ball and it bounced over his glove. Two runs crossed the plate as he made a wild throw home after recovering. H. Stephens walked in the sixth and Dillman sent him to third with his third hit of the game but both died on base.

Mage Keyser did some strong arm hitting for the Barbers with a single and double on three trips to the plate. Brock got the only other single for the losers.

Both teams played sparkling ball in the field, only two errors being chalked up against each team.

Score by innings:
Mack & Paul.....010 000 0-1 3 2
Diamond Shop.....000 300 x-3 3 2
Batteries: Mack & Paul, Brock and McWright; Diamond Shop, Witherspoon and H. Stephens. Umpire—Snyder.

American Pair In Quarter-Finals of Canadian Open

TORONTO, Aug. 4 (AP)—Two giants of U. S. tennis, Frankie Parker of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Wilmer Allison of Texas, were America's chief hopes in the quarter-final round of the Canadian singles championship today.

Laird Watt, hitherto known as a fine doubles player, but currently blossoming into a dangerous singles competitor, meets Allison today. Parker meets Gordon Robinson, little-known Canadian from Stamford, Ont.

Yesterday Allison eliminated Bob Madden of Detroit, ranked second in Michigan behind Fischer, 6-4, 7-5.

Record Number of Yearlings Bought At Saratoga Sale

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 4 (AP)—With some of the briskest and heaviest trading in years already on the books, the annual Saratoga sales headed for a banner business today after last night's auction in which 63 yearlings, a record number, sold for $128,276, an average of $2,036.

Top price last night was $13,000, paid by Don Cameron of California for a brown son of Blue Larkspur-Speed Boat by Man O' War, owned by H. B. Scott.

Pirates Win Pair From Bees; Lead by 5½ Games

CITY TENNIS CHAMPION

No wonder Leo Recknagle, pictured above, is smiling. He won three divisions of the Pampa Daily News-Summer Recreation Program Tennis tournament last month and annexed the mayor's cup for keeps. Recknagle, former Texas University tennis star, is standing behind his trophies, as follows: On the left, the 17-inch Pampa Daily News trophy, emblematic of the men's singles championship; second from the left, mixed doubles trophy, won with Mrs. Jack Dunn as partner; third from the left, men's doubles trophy, won with Rob Brown as partner; on the right, the mayor's cup, presented by W. A. Bratton. The two doubles cups were given by the Summer Recreation Program. Recknagle defeated Bob Childers, high school star, to retain his singles tennis crown.

By SID FEDER

The calendar must be wrong. If this is August 4, then what are the Pittsburgh Pirates, who are usually sound asleep at this time, doing up there 5 1-2 games in front of the National league pack and how come Cleveland's Indians, once so docile and sweet to the leaders, are in there punching, only two games off the Yankees in the American league?

And those aren't the only cases where either the calendar is way off or someone has his dates twisted. For instance, there are the Cincinnati Reds, dormats of '37, tied with the up-and-down Chicago Cubs for the National league's third place, while the somewhat gasless Cardinals wallow around in seventh and Brooklyn's baffling Dodgers head the second division.

And over in the American league, the supposedly woe-begone Washington Senators hang grimly onto fourth place, while Mickey Cochrane's Tigers can't seem to stay above the 500 mark.

The Bees added half a game to their first place bulge yesterday by knocking off the Bees up in Boston in both ends of a doubleheader, 9-4 and 5-3.

From the looks of things, the Giants, 5 1-2 games back—seven and a half—aren't going to do much catching up, even though they showed signs of coming to life in walloping the Cubs 8-3 yesterday with an attack featured by four homers.

The Yankees can't seem to put any appreciable space between themselves and the Indians. Yesterday they added a slim half-game to their edge by downing the Tigers, 10-7 in ten innings, with Joe Gordon's overtime homer featuring the winning rally. The Tribe, after dropping a 4-3 decision to Boston's Red Sox, in a twin-bill opener, came back to take the nightcap 8-6.

Ival Goodman's 27th homer paced a three-run rally in the tenth to give the Reds a 6-3 decision over the Phillies, moving the Cincinnati clouters into a third-place deadlock. The Cardinals nipped the Dodgers, 3-2, in a tenning night fust.

Connie Mack's Athletics bombarded four pitchers with 34 hits to trample the White Sox twice, 14-2 and 13-5. Eusebio Newsome turned in his tenth win of the year in hurling the Browns to a 5-3 victory over the Senators.

BAUGH ELIMINATED AS PRO BASEBALL PLAYER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—Slingin' Sammy Baugh—the big league professional football player—is just about through as a professional baseball player. "He can play down on the Texas sandlots if he wants to," said Owner George P. Marshall, of the professional champions, the Redskins, "but no more infolding for the St. Louis Cardinals or the International league."

HIGH SCHOOL STARS TRAIN FOR BIG GAME ON SATURDAY

LUBBOCK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Forty-nine youngsters will end their high school football careers here Saturday night in the annual "dream game," held as a feature of the Texas High School Coaches Association coaching school.

Ten of last year's all-state performers are on the squads, five to play for the North, coached by Harry Stuhldreher of Wisconsin University, and the same number on the South aggregation, tutored by Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern University.

It probably will be first football played in the nation this season. Headlining the all-star game will be another duel between last year's most published players: Dandy Dick Miller of Longview and Harold (Precher) Fleming of Wichita Falls. Those two backs met in the finals last fall when both starred as Longview won the championship.

Miller is on the Southern squad along with Euel Wesson of Temple, Joe Schwartz of Waco, Jess Hawthorne of Port Arthur and Chal Daniel of Longview, all of whom make the all-state team.

With Fleming on the Northern squad are Pat Lowry of Austin (El Paso), Arthur Goforth of Wichita Falls, Danny Reese of North Side (Fort Worth), and Odell Damerall of Wichita Falls, other members of the 1937 mythical selection.

The South will be fighting to even things in the matter of games won. They took the first tilt, played at Dallas in 1935 by a 3-0 score, but North won at Fort Worth, 13-0, in 1936 and at Waco, 7-0, last year.

Other members of the squad are: South: Brumley, Edinburg; Harrel, Conroe; Hall, Waco; Dickey, Rusk; Jones, Athens; Doss, Temple; Burleon, Smithville; Hasket, Robston; Price, San Perita; Ponton, San Saba; Russell, Cleburne; Peveto, Port Arthur; Brannon, Longview; Baisey, Austin; Looney, Conroe; Swanson, Austin; McMahon, Longview; McGaffey, Port Arthur; Rogers, Corpus Christi; Clark, Hall. North: Brumbaugh, Riverdale (Fort Worth); Judd, Vernon; King, Amarillo; Melton, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas); Ware, Lubbock; Brand, Wichita Falls; Crawford, North Side (Fort Worth); Pappas, San Angelo; Matthews, Pampa; Lowry, Paschal (Fort Worth); Virden, Abilene; Crain, Nocona; Wardy, Austin (El Paso); Patrick, Olney; Nible, Adamson (Dallas); Young, Sweetwater; Gray, Highland Park (Dallas); Johnson, Newcastle.

pointed Katsuni Morioka, the Japanese, from Vancouver, British Columbia, at Queensboro arena last night. Morioka weighed 109½. Montana, winner of the first bout to decide a new flyweight champion to replace Scotland's Benny Lynch, probably will meet Little Dado, a fellow countryman, next.

With eight straight victories tucked under their belts, there is little chance of any other team in the Junior Softball league catching the Knights of Columbus. The Baptists stand second in the league with four wins against two losses.

The Knights defeated Hopkins 14 to 4 yesterday to run their string of consecutive wins to 15 for the season. Once more Stone and Cooper divided mound duties with Redman behind the plate. Cooper and Sparks was the losing battery.

Ex-Caddies Vie For Left-Handed Golf Tilt Title

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Two former caddies, Alvin Everett of Rome, Ga., and Alex J. Antonio of Linden, N. J., fight it out today for the left-handed golf championship of the United States over the rough, tough Westchester Country club course.

Everett runner-up last year at Chicago where he bested Antonio in the semi-finals, is naturally enough the favorite. But if Antonio's putting is on—he is erratic on the greens—the 36-hole match should be tight all the way.

Major League Exiles 'Find' Selves In AA

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 4 (AP)—They'd better change the name of the American Association to the "Come Back League."

Cletus Elwood Poffenberger, who until recently was doing a disappearance act with the Detroit Tigers, added his name to the growing list of players let loose by major league clubs this season who have "found" themselves in the Association.

Poffenberger pitched the second game of a double header at Indianapolis and behind his seven-hit twirling Toledo won easily, 12 to 2.

Kaycees Win One More; Baptists In Second Place

With eight straight victories tucked under their belts, there is little chance of any other team in the Junior Softball league catching the Knights of Columbus. The Baptists stand second in the league with four wins against two losses.

The Knights defeated Hopkins 14 to 4 yesterday to run their string of consecutive wins to 15 for the season. Once more Stone and Cooper divided mound duties with Redman behind the plate. Cooper and Sparks was the losing battery.

SERIAL STORY MYSTERY AT THE LAZY R BY CLARKE NEWLON

COPYRIGHT, 1938, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CASE OF CHARACTERS NIKKI ZEROME, a beautiful blond, popular, is engaged to six-foot, black-haired STEVE HALLORY, hero who is accompanying her on a trip to Nikki's aunt and uncle on a Wyoming side ranch. Nikki's father, FISCHE ZEROME, is a wealthy New York jewel merchant.

Yesterday Sarto is captured and trapped up. Then Steve demands to know who Fiske is. Fiske turns swiftly.

CHAPTER XIV

UNCLE JIM let loose a great roaring laugh and somehow the tenseness went out of the situation. Nikki and Steve looked at each other in bewilderment. "Maybe we're crazy," said Nikki.

"No, honey," said Uncle Jim. "But you can put down the rifle, Steve. Fiske yonder is a detective." "Detective?" "Jewelry Protective," said Fiske, briefly, and then he smiled. "I don't blame you for being puzzled. Perhaps I haven't acted very detective-like. You see I knew exactly who Bancroft and Sarto were and they suspected pretty strongly who I was. But I couldn't act because this angle is just part of the entire case. If I tipped my hand too soon it would spoil the whole works."

Steve laid the rifle on the bench. Nikki started to speak. Then Sarto stirred slowly and Steve raised the rifle again, but Fiske had the revolver in his hands and was stepping back. Sarto slowly opened his eyes and sat up. His wavering glance finally centered on Fiske.

"Okay, copper," he said, and turned away. "Bring the rope," said Fiske. They led Sarto to the same tree around which he had ordered Nikki and Steve, and the returning searchers. Fiske gave Steve the pistol and he pulled Sarto's arms back of him and around the tree, binding them securely. Then he tied his feet.

"A little uncomfortable but not painful," Fiske observed.

NIKKI, meantime, had pushed her uncle away from Rance and taken over the first aid job, working deftly and capably. Uncle Jim brought out a kit from the cabin and Nikki selected a long swabbing stick and twisted cotton around one end of it. She dipped the cotton end into a bottle of iodine and said: "This will hurt." Rance was watching her admiringly.

"Where did you learn all this?" he asked. "School. First aid course."

Swiftly she ran the cotton swab through the wound, twisting it gently. Rance grimaced once and then grinned at her. The bleeding had almost stopped. She took a roll of bandage, placed a fold of cotton at the wounds on each side of the shoulder and wound the bandage over and around the chest.

"There," she said. "Now we need a sling. Wait a minute."

She unknotted the neckerchief from around her throat and fitted it on Rance. Suddenly, the job done, she felt a little weak. This would be a fine time to faint, she thought, now that everything's over. Then she remembered. The sun was high in the heavens. So much had happened it seemed as though it should be night. It was noon.

"Do you suppose," she said, resting one hand against the cabin and turning to her uncle, "do you suppose we could have something to eat? It's been a long time—"

"My Lord," said Uncle Jim. "For a minute I clean forgot you two had been lost. Say, there's a lot of tellin' to be done around here."

"There certainly is," said Nikki. "There are a lot of things Steve and I want to know."

"From you and Fiske mostly," Steve told Uncle Jim.

"That can wait a minute," said Fiske. "I'll tell you the whole story, but first, suppose you tell me about Bancroft."

"Suppose we let both stories wait until after we give Steve and Nikki something to eat," called Uncle Jim. "I'll sling a little cloth together right quick. Steve, maybe you could open this can of beans. Our regular cook has a headache."

WOODY wobbled over. "I can do it," he protested. Uncle Jim waved him back. "Let Nikki look at your head. She's the nurse around here." Nikki found an ugly cut, daubed it with iodine and swathed his head in bandages. "Wish I had something wrong with me," said her uncle. "You will have if you don't hurry with the food."

"I'm a little hungry myself," he replied. "We had quite a walk hunting for you all—while you were right back here in camp." Nikki and Steve ate ravenously and the others joined them. When they had finished Woody took a plate over and fed Sarto, who ate sullenly.

"If he says bandage just once," observed Uncle Jim, "Woody will probably jab that fork down his throat. That shore was a mistake. He might get away if he hadn't made Woody so mad."

"You two certainly use good teamwork," said Nikki. "You yell and Woody dives."

"It's an old trick," her uncle confessed. "I knew what Woody was aimin' to do. All I had to do was yip." "Fiske picked up the conversation," "Suppose," he said, "that we hear what happened to Bancroft now. It's business with me, you know."

Nikki and Steve told then of the landslide and of their getting lost and spending the night in the hills, of hearing the shot the next morning, seeing Sarto, and of finding Bancroft's body.

"I suppose Sarto must have seen us from the top of the hill," finished Steve. "He didn't know we had found Bancroft but he did know we were following him. So he was waiting for us when we got home."

RANCE, Woody, and Nikki were left at the cabin with Sarto while Steve led Uncle Jim and Fiske to the ravine where Bancroft lay. Uncle Jim carried a spade from the cabin. Fiske examined the scene carefully, made many notes in a small book and asked Steve several questions. He extracted the bullet which had killed Bancroft and then they buried the New York racketeer in a grave in the ravine, and piled stones for a rude marker.

"He was genuinely concerned over you being lost," said Fiske. "Not me," said Steve shortly. "Nikki!"

Fiske nodded. "That's what I meant. And that gave Sarto his chance to get him away from camp. They must have been heading for the other hill to see if they could sight you. When they passed this gully Bancroft decided to walk to the end of it. Sarto shot him in the back and that was the shot you heard."

Back at camp Steve told Nikki briefly that they had buried Bancroft. She turned to Fiske. "Was he Bancroft or Dillon?" "Wade Bancroft's real name, as you guessed," he said, "was Charles Dillon. And back of that is the story of this whole affair." Nikki broke in. "But what was my father's connection with Bancroft—or Dillon, rather?" "Fiske lit a cigar. "Dillon was your father's partner," he said.

AAA RELEASES TEXAS' QUOTA ON '39 WHEAT

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 4 (AP)—The Texas wheat allotment for 1939 is 3,684,863 acres, the state AAA office at Texas A. and M. college was informed from Washington.

The allotments are made at this time to give winter wheat farmers the information well before planting time. E. N. Holmgren, administrative officer in charge of the Texas office, said:

The acreage, however, will not be allotted to counties and then to individual farmers within counties, he indicated. The national allotment is 55,000,000 acres under the terms of the new farm act.

The state allotment for 1939 compares with a 1938 planted acreage of 3,315,000, a 1928-32 average of 4,855,428, and a 1926-32 average of 3,929,000 acres. The allotment for 1939 is based on a figure of 74.36 per cent, uniform for all states, of the 1928-37 average, with allowances made for trends.

Wheat growers who comply with their 1939 allotments will be qualified for advantages which other phases of the farm program offer. Holmgren notes such as price adjustment payments this year, 1939 conservation payments, 1939 wheat loans if a loan program is in effect next year, and a renewal of crop insurance program policies next year.

If marketing quotas are in effect in 1939, such quotas will be a uniform percentage of these acreage allotments multiplied by the normal yield for the farm. Such quotas will be in effect if supplies exceed domestic consumption and exports of wheat by 35 per cent, and if

ANCIENT SEAS BASIS OF OIL SUPPLY TODAY

Scientists believe, says the American Petroleum Institute, that petroleum, one of the oldest natural products used by man, was formed from decomposed marine plants and animals buried in mud of ancient seas. Dr. Robert T. Hill, eminent Texas geologist, defined it as "fermentation of oleagenous matter in the sea mud." Sketching the origin and development of America's petroleum industry, a statement from the institute says the mud became stone, forming what is known as "source rocks" of petroleum, and which are found on every continent. People used petroleum centuries before the Christian era and Prof. called the Ark with "pitch," a form of petroleum gathered on the shores of the Dead Sea. Early Chinese used oil and natural gas, and invented a method of drilling. Early settlers of New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio considered "rook oil" a cure for rheumatism. George Washington, visiting western Pennsylvania in 1753, bought land containing an oil spring and listed it in his will as one of his more valuable possessions. Oil was first used in this country floating on top of springs. Later, wells were dug and oil lifted to the surface in buckets. The Genesis of exploiting this natural resource on a quantity scale lies back of the American Civil war. George H. Bissell, visiting his old teacher at Dartmouth college, Prof. Crosby, noticed on the desk of the latter a small bottle filled with dark fluid. Prof. Crosby told Bissell it was a kind of mineral oil that came from salt wells and floated on the creeks in Pennsylvania, adding he thought it could be refined and used for illumination. Bissell's mind was filled with a great plan and soon he formed America's first oil company, the Pennsylvania Rock Oil Company. Stills to refine the oil were built and lamps made to burn it, but not enough oil could be found in the salt wells or creeks. One day Bissell saw in a store window at New York a salt well derrick and the impression it conveyed was transformed into a determination to dig a well especially for oil at Titusville, Pa. Accordingly the first commercial oil well was begun in the neighborhood where George Washington had found oil a century earlier. A railroad conductor—a tall solemn man named E. L. Drake—was given charge of the drilling. He told the people of Titusville he was drilling an Artesian well to forestall ridicule. After months of drilling the "Artesian" well produced nothing. People laughed and exclaimed, "Drake's folly!" But the driller was not discouraged. An old blacksmith named Uncle Billy Smith made special tools for drilling through hard rock with the aid of a steam engine. One day in August, when the hole was nearly 70 feet deep, Sam Smith, one of Uncle Billy's sons, looked into the well and there, less than a foot from the top he saw a rising dark fluid. "Oil! Oil!" he cried, a shout heard around the world because it was the first commercial oil well ever drilled. Within a year, thousands of prospectors were drilling wells throughout the neighborhood.

Sports Roundup By EDDIE BRIETZ.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Broadway operators who made Henry Armstrong a 3-1 choice to trim Lou Ambers have the jitters because of reports that such operators as Beverly Brown of St. Louis; Frankie Gatto of Kansas City and Babe Barron of Chicago are gobbling up all the 2 1/2 to 1 dough they can get their hands on. Now that Blondy Ryan is off the Jints he can resume sending those famous "they can't beat us!" wires—which may do the Jints a lot more good than Blondy did sitting on the bench. That Strickland-Farr bout which Toronto had set its heart on is definitely off—not enough dough for Farr. In passing out the orchids don't overlook Buriel Grimes for the job he is doing in Brooklyn. The guy ain't had so much as a posse since the day he signed to manage the Dodgers. Name of the gal who did such a swell broadcast on a Syracuse baseball game a few nights ago is Helen Detweiler of Washington, D. C. and she's available for future engagements of the same sort. (No charge for the ad, lady) ... Al Weill, who manages Ambers, swears the Armstrong fight will do $150,000, but Mike Jacobs (who is only the promoter) probably would settle for half that—and pay a commission to boot. New yellow ball made a hit here with everyone except the Cards—who lost. Jesse Hawley, the old Dartmouth coach, is cleaning up in the tropical hat business. Reservations have been made from every state in the Union for the fifth annual Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans next January 1. Daily Whitehead bulletin: He swatted a double that broke up a 21-game winning streak for the Plymouth (N. C.) Rocks. Jimmy Braddock said it didn't make him a bit homesick to watch Lou Ambers training yesterday—not in that heat. Is this some sort of a record? In a game between Hobbs and Clovis in the West Texas-New Mexico league the other night the first three guys to go to bat in the last of the eighth swatted homers. The Greeks might have a word for it at that. Vermont was the first state admitted to the Union after the original 13. In temperate climates the average day is coldest at about sunrise.

MISSIONS GAIN HALF GAME AS LEADERS IDLE

(By The Associated Press) Rain washed out another pitching duel between Schoiboy Rowe and Paul Dean yesterday but the patter of the drops made sweet music for the San Antonio Missions. The former Detroit ace, now with Beaumont, holds two minor league decisions over Dean, who is toiling for Dallas. San Antonio downed Fort Worth, 4-0, and gained a half game on Beaumont, the league leader. The ailing Tulsa Oilers, in the throes of a losing streak that has taken on the aspects of disaster, couldn't make it two wins in a row and Shreveport blasted them down, 6-3, in ten innings. Tulsa had lost nine games before the Oilers beat Shreveport Tuesday night. Bill Selmsch was the fair-haired boy as Houston nosed out Oklahoma City 4-3. The Buff hurter turned in a sensational relief job after Harry Brechen had put out the distress signal in the fifth, then supplied the hit that won the game in the ninth.

Broadhead Leads Field At Annual Broadmoor Event

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 4 (AP)—Harry Broadhead of St. Joseph, Mo., had a chance today to step into the role of giant-killer as the Broadmoor invitation golf tournament entered the round of 16. Broadhead knocked one former champion out of the running yesterday and was paired today with Howard Creel, Pueblo, Colo., the 1926 champion. Creel, national left handers' tournament winner in 1936, used some more of the par golf that won him medal honors to oust H. B. Miller of Emporia, Kas., yesterday, 5 and 3. E. J. Rogers of Oklahoma City, the 1935-36 titlist, was paired today with Morris Norton, Wichita Falls, Texas.

American Captain Unworried About Davis Cup Play

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Walter Pate, captain of this country's Davis Cup team, can't feel even a little bit of alarm about the challenge round to be played just a month from now at the Germantown Cricket club near Philadelphia. Pate figures the opponent likely will be Australia, and predicts the final bout will be United States 4, Australia 1. Also, he is dead certain that Gene Mako will continue to partner the peerless Don Budge in the doubles, and that Bobby Riggs will be America's second singles player unless something drastic happens to the young Chicagoan between now and August 24, when the team will be selected. The team captain, who ordinarily is very sparing in his predictions while he is feeling expansive at yesterday's luncheon at which his particular pride and joy, Budge, was presented the James E. Sullivan memorial trophy as the outstanding amateur athlete of 1937.

STORIES IN STAMPS

British Island Named After Fig Tree

SIXTEENTH century maps labeled Barbados, extreme eastern island of the Windward group in the West Indies, variously St. Bernardo, Barbudoso, Barnados and Barnodo. The name had been derived from the Spanish words for the bearded fig tree which abounds in the area. So in time Barbados evolved as the permanent name for this spot of 166 square miles in the Atlantic. The Portuguese, first discovered the island, apparently. The British ship Olive Blossom touched there in 1605 and immediately took possession in the name of James I. The first settlement was made in 1625. Three years later the island had a governor; 64 settlers, arriving at Carlisle Bay, founded the present capital, Bridgetown, now a town of 13,000. War between the British and the French during the 18th century spilled much blood in the West Indies, and Barbados suffered in the exchange. It suffered again during the American Revolution when embargoes shut off importation of provisions from the colonies. In 1805 the French almost regained the island in a sudden military coup. But the British won, and have held the possession continuously since. Sugar and cotton are the chief products of modern Barbados. The British ship, Olive Blossom, is shown here on a stamp of Barbados, marking the island's founding. (Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

England uses 24,000 tons of tin annually. Less than 700 tons of this comes from the Cornwall mines, the rest is imported from Bolivia, the East Indies, and Penang. The highest cliff in Great Britain is located at St. Catherine's, at the south of the Isle of Wight, and is 830 feet high. From now at the Germantown Cricket club near Philadelphia. Pate figures the opponent likely will be Australia, and predicts the final bout will be United States 4, Australia 1. Also, he is dead certain that Gene Mako will continue to partner the peerless Don Budge in the doubles, and that Bobby Riggs will be America's second singles player unless something drastic happens to the young Chicagoan between now and August 24, when the team will be selected.

ABSENTEE VOTING WILL BEGIN HERE NEXT WEEK

While Van Kennedy, state democratic executive committee secretary, has taken the position that county chairmen may rely upon newspaper tabulations as well as waiting for certification of candidates by the state committee before printing ballots for absentee voting, the Gray County Democratic executive committee will follow the latter practice. Absentee voting is to begin Sunday and end August 23. In Pampa, the day absentee voting begins will depend upon the day the office of the county clerk receives the printed absentee ballots. County Clerk Charlie Thut said yesterday that with the committee meeting on Saturday to canvass the returns and make up the ballot for the runoff election, it probably would be possible for the certification to be made to the county chairman, ballots printed, and absentee voting ready to start here on Monday. Relying upon newspaper tabulations, many county chairmen will have printed ballots ready for absentee voting on August 8.

INCUMBENTS IN CONGRESS HOLD POWER BALANCE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4 (AP)—The figures for about half the primary elections show that all but one of the Senators and most of the representatives who have asked their party's endorsement for another term have obtained it. Tennessee, picking candidates today for one senatorial and nine House seats, is the twentieth state to hold primaries. In the 19 states that have chosen candidates for the November balloting, 13 Senate and 190 House seats were at stake. Herbert E. Hitchcock, South Dakota Democrat, was the only Senator who asked for renomination and failed to get it. Two other Democratic Senators, Dietrich of Illinois and Reames of Oregon, did not ask to come back to Washington. The ten other Senators were renominated. Of the 190 House seats subjected to the scrutiny of the voters, 169 representatives have won party approval for two more years. Two seats were vacant when the primaries were held. Twelve of the 19 representatives who have not been renominated did not ask for another term. Some voluntarily retired from Congress, and others sought Senate nominations. Six of the representatives who did ask for renomination were defeated in the primaries. They were two Texans, one from Illinois, one from Virginia, and two from Pennsylvania. Another Texan still faces a runoff primary. All these beaten, either for the House or in the Senate, were Democrats. In most cases, however, political students say local conditions as much as anything else contributed to their defeat. Whether the men were for or against presidential policies was not always a major factor.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches, blazes on calves or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent of scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood.
