THIS IS NOT CARBON BLACK SMOKE Japs Bite Dust Before Shellfire Fury

RUSS AND JAPS STILL FIGHTING ALONG BORDER

Japan Directs Second Protest Note To Moscow

MOSCOW, Aug. 3 (AP)—A Soviet Russian communique declared today that under existing conditions the conflict with Japan along the Siberian border "further continuation of hostilities, fraught with extremely serious consequences is regarded inevitable."

The communique, issued by the official Russian News Agency, coupled this prediction with a statement that "since the very beginning of the conflict the Soviet government has declared that it intends only to defend territory indisputably belonging to the Soviet Union."

Redefine boundary? A newspaper which reliably reflects official opinion recalled that the government had indicated a willingness to redefine the boundary separating Siberia from Japanese Korea and Japanese-protected Manchoukuo.

JAPS AND CHINESE FIGHT MAJOR BATTLE IN CLOUDS

SHANGHAI, Aug. 3 (AP)—Japanese and Chinese warplanes fought a major air battle near Hankow today in which large numbers of planes were reported brought down.

A Japanese naval spokesman said an undisclosed number of Japanese bombers and pursuit ships encountered 54 Chinese planes during a raid on Hankow and shot down 32. He said seven other planes were destroyed on the Hankow airfield. One Japanese plane was missing, he said.

The communique declared that Red forces remained "exclusively within the limits of Soviet territory" and that reports of Russian air raids were "emphatically refuted by competent Soviet circles."

The communique accused Japanese militarists of circulating the air raid reports "in order to justify their repeated attacks on Soviet territory and the tremendous losses which they have to bear."

Japs Send New Protest

TOKYO, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Japanese government directed its second protest in 24 hours to Russia today.

VIRGINIA WIN CHEERS REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—John Hamilton said today the new deal "suffered a crushing and humiliating defeat" in yesterday's Virginia Democratic primary.

Referring to the victory of Representative Smith over William E. Dodd, Jr., the Republican national chairman said the issue presented was "new deal versus anti-new deal."

IOWA GOVERNOR MAKES STATES RIGHTS ISSUE

DES MOINES, Aug. 3 (AP)—Governor Nelson K. Kraschel today carried his constitutional law battle to the National Labor Relations Board with the statement that the federal government "possesses only that authority which was delegated to it by the states."

In defiance of the governor's order closing the board hearing into the Maytag washing machine strike, the NLRB in Washington ordered the inquiry resumed here today.

Border Fight Viewed as Local Affair

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Meyers from the administration looks for guidance today to the conviction that the latest Russo-Japanese fighting was likely to conclude in an armed truce.

Regardless of pitched battles along the Manchoukuo-Korea-Siberia border, well-informed persons still are inclined to view the clash as a local affair destined to be settled locally.

All observers, however, are ready to revise their judgment quickly if the boundary fighting shows signs of getting completely beyond control.

PAMPANS TELL OF SUCCESSFUL HIGHWAY TRIP

Chamber of Commerce and county officials who returned yesterday from Austin and San Antonio expressed themselves today as being well pleased with results of their appearance before the Texas Highway Commission.

"We received even more than we anticipated," Reno Stinson, president of the Board of City Development said. "We appeared with three delegations and were given what we asked for in each instance. We were among a very few of the delegations who were accorded this response."

"Action obtained on the three highways on this trip, came as a result of continuous and systematically planned contacts with the commission over a period of several months. We did not ask for more than we knew we were entitled to receive."

Biggest item of the three was the acceptance of the commission of the Pampa-McLean road as a state highway. This action will save

RIOTING STARTS ANEW IN BURMA, 20 KILLED

RANGOON, Burma, Aug. 3 (AP)—A new wave of rioting among Buddhists and Moslems caused 20 deaths and injury of scores today in Tharawaddy, a village 68 miles from here.

Five persons were reported killed and 50 wounded in an outbreak of violence at the British-owned petroleum center of Hyenangung.

Today's rioting followed a week of violence, in which 67 were killed and 420 wounded, which was precipitated by publication of a Moslem book, since withdrawn, interpreted by Buddhists as offensive to their faith.

BURNING TRASH CALLS OUT FIRE DEPARTMENT

Burning trash in a tin storage container at the rear of 117 N. Cuyler street sent the fire department on its second run of the month at 2:50 o'clock this morning.

Water from the truck booster tank was used to extinguish the blaze and no damage resulted. Cause of the fire discovered at the same time by a taxi driver and the city police patrol car, was not determined.

STATEWIDE HEARING CALLED AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—The Railroad Commission today announced a statewide hearing in Austin September 6 to take evidence on oil pipeline coverage. Laten Stanberry, head of the oil and gas division, said it would be the first time overages were considered.

LOOP-THE-LOOP WEDDING Cupid Gets a Bit Dizzy

Because (so the story goes) they first met and plunged headlong into love on this same roller-coaster David Goldberg and Hilda Schneider conceived the dizzy but thrilling idea of getting married on the zoomer at an amusement park across the Hudson from New York City. With the regulation ushers and bridesmaids in attendance, with the Reverend Cyrus A. Starkey of Pleasant H. J. performing the ceremony and with three movie cameramen whirling away, the happy lovers are shown at the top of a hill about to take the drop (wheel-ee-ee!) into matrimony.

Third Largest Wheat Crop is Predicted

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP)—The third largest wheat crop in United States history was forecast today by the six Chicago crop experts.

Their figures when averaged indicated a total wheat production of 936,000,000 bushels, largest since 1931 when the total was 941,800,000 bushels.

DEWEY SAYS SCHULTZ HID AWAY A FORTUNE

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey was said by the New York World Telegram today to have learned that a huge sum of money—estimated at from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000—was hidden away by the late Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, fingerprinter and that J. Richard "Dixie" Davis was the only person who knew the hiding place.

Davis, who has pleaded guilty to policy racket charges and is scheduled to be the principal witness against James J. Hines, Tammany district leader accused of "fronting" for the racket, was said by the newspaper to be slated for a grand jury appearance within the next few days.

SOLON ASKS CORRIGAN BE NAMED A COLONEL

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3 (AP)—It will be "Colonel" Douglas Corrigan if the recommendation of Representative Charles Kramer to the secretary of war is heeded.

Declaring Corrigan's feat in flying a $900 airplane from New York to Dublin "will long stand as a splendid example of American youth," the congressman urged that the title of honorary colonel in the army air corps be given the Los Angeles aviator.

NEW LAW WILL REGULATE AND LICENSE HALLS

Taxi Dancing Barred Under First Regulatory Bill

Pampa's city commission last night provided for a "check and double check" of city dance halls when it passed Pampa's first ordinance regulating the dance places.

Heretofore there has been no ordinance covering operation of dance halls here. There have been no requirements for inspection, and no licenses were asked.

Adapted from the Amarillo ordinance, discussed by Mayor E. S. Carr and members of the city commission while on a visit to Amarillo last spring, the law provides for the "registration, licensing, and inspection of dance halls, in the interests of peace, morals, safety and health."

Patterned After Amarillo. "We have studied the situation and Amarillo's city manager has told us that their ordinance on the subject has been satisfactory in regulating dance halls," Mayor Carr said.

"We have several dance halls in Pampa and there has been no law to regulate them. The ordinance passed by the city commission last night is the first regulatory dance hall ordinance Pampa has had."

Dance halls are classified, according to floor space, as Class A, B, and C. Class A dance halls are grouped under the general heading of "night club or cabaret." Those with 1,500 or more square feet are listed as Class A-1, 500 to 1,500 square feet, A-2, less than 500 square feet, A-3.

Class B dance halls are those operated by any non-profit society that owns, rents or operates a place where dancing is provided for its members. No license fee is required of Class B dance halls. Where class B dance halls rent dancing space to others, the rating becomes B-1, and subject to the payment of a license fee.

The ordinance exempts private dance halls, in addition to Class A and B, are classified as Class C. License fees are: Class A-1, $100.

CARBON BLACK OUTPUT GREATER DURING JULY

The Railroad Commission at Austin reported today carbon black production in June was $5,000,000 greater than for the preceding month but total gas production dropped 3.72 per cent.

Dry gas production for the month was 1,735,222,000 cubic feet and casinghead gas withdrawals aggregated 1,047,725,000 cubic feet.

Thirty-seven plants produced 1,065,742 pounds of carbon black daily, an average of 1.40 pounds per thousand cubic feet of gas processed. Distribution of all gas included 34.74 per cent to pipelines for light and fuel, 27.33 to carbon plants, 15.99 to lease operations, 4.74 extraction loss in gasoline plants and 5.3 for repressuring wells.

OIL SLICK EXAMINED FOR CLUE TO CLIPPER

MANILA, Aug. 3 (AP)—Samples of an ocean oil slick, principal clue in the disappearance of the Hawaiian Clipper, were brought here today for tests to determine whether they came from the plane flying boat, which vanished last Friday.

Army and navy forces continued the vast sea search east of the Philippines, but diminishing fuel supplies forecast withdrawal of several vessels soon.

CITY OK's BONDS

WATER ISSUE WINS BY 223

Approval of the city's issuance of $165,000 in water revenue bonds and Pampa's share in a $260,000 Public Works Administration project to build an enlarged and improved sewerworks system, was given by voters in the election held yesterday. There were 501 votes cast, of which 350 were in favor of the measure and 186 opposed. The remaining six ballots had been mutilated, City Manager W. T. Williamson said.

Only those qualified voters who had received real or personal property for 1938 taxation and who had a poll tax receipt or exemption receipt, were eligible to vote in the election yesterday, held in the city commission room of the city hall, with J. S. Wynne as election manager.

Citizens qualified to vote in the election yesterday will also be qualified to vote in a second election Saturday, when Pampans will be asked to decide if the district shall

GIRL, 17, FAILS WHEN SHE TRIES LEDGE ACT

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Emily Arkwell gave policemen and firemen some anxious moments today as she simulated John Warden, spectacular New York suicide, and defied attempts to rescue her from a ledge 50 feet above the ground.

Clad in a nightgown, the inmate of the East Croydon Moral Welfare Home climbed from her room to the ledge and threatened to jump if anyone went near her.

But unlike the young New Yorker who plunged to his death from a 17-story ledge after 11 hours, the rescue attempts succeeded. While the girl's attention was distracted from below, watchers snatched out a window and seized her wrists.

She was taken to a hospital for observation.

WAR PLANES HALT EBRO RIVER DRIVE IN SPAIN

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish Frontier), Aug. 3 (AP)—Spanish insurgents reported today that the German bombardment by hundreds of warplanes had halted abruptly the government's Ebro river offensive in Catalonia.

The air raiders' curtain of fire was described as so intense that the nightmen were completely disorganized and unable to reform their lines.

Although dispatches from government lines admitted a slight insurgent aerial supremacy, they insisted government planes had been able to minimize the effects of insurgent bombers.

Soaks Neck In Brine For Hanging

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 3 (AP)—A cocky 20-year-old youth who told the jury that convicted him of murder he was "soaking his neck in brine to get ready for the rope" will go to the gallows at the state penitentiary shortly after tomorrow midnight.

The youth is Stanley Knapp, one of three convicted for the killing of W. E. Walker, customer at the Security State Bank of Spokane which the youths robbed in June, 1937.

SOCIETY URGED GIVE UP 'COCKTAIL HOURS'

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3 (AP)—As a challenge to society to forsake its "cocktail hours," women of the Christian Temperance Union, opening their sixty-fourth national convention here tomorrow will establish "milk bars" and "fruit juice bars" as cut-of meeting as being places during the conference.

State presidents of 21 states arrived last night.

Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith of Evanston, Ill., national president, outlined a nine-point program today for the convention.

The WCTU, she said, has two prime purposes—total abstinence from use of alcoholic beverages in any form by the individual and the abolition of the liquor traffic for the nation.

VETERAN TEXAS POLICE CHIEF TAKEN BY DEATH

WEATHERFORD, Aug. 3 (AP)—John R. Brown, 83, past president of the Texas organization for Chiefs of Police and a veteran of 42 years service as a peace officer, died here today.

Since he came from his native Tennessee and settled in Parker county, Texas, in 1874, Brown served variously as a policeman, constable, city marshal, police chief, deputy sheriff, and sheriff, in 14 campaigns for office he was never defeated.

Survivors were a son, Reagan G. Brown of Oklahoma City, and two daughters; Mrs. Minnie B. Ruggs of Galveston and Miss Dollie Brown of Weatherford.

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow.

POLICE FINES HEAVY IN JULY

Fines assessed in city police court in July totaled more than in any one month since "boom" days, it is believed. Fines amounted to $729 although only $321.50 of the amount, was collected in cash.

An additional $213.50 has not been collected pending decision of nine defendants on gambling charges, whether or not to appeal the cases. They have until tomorrow to file the appeal in county court or to pay the fines.

The police report showed that prisoners had served 36 days for fines and that an additional 56 days of work had been done by prisoners working out fines.

Greatest number of arrests was on charges of intoxication, 45. Then came speeding, 29; overtime parking, 27, and running stop signs, 14. Officer W. C. Dillman had the greatest number of arrests, 45, followed by Traffic Officer George Pope with 26, Officer Lawrence Flaherty with 25 and Officer Jeff Guthrie with 23.

SUSPECT NOT HELD FOR TEXAS DESERT SLAYING

DETROIT, Aug. 3 (AP)—Salt Lake City detectives today prepared to return John W. Deering, 39, to Utah where he will face a murder charge in the holdup killing of Oliver R. Meredith, Jr., wealthy merchant, last May.

The detectives said they also questioned Deering about the torture murders of Mrs. Hazel Frome and her daughter, Nancy, in Texas last spring, but that Deering established that he committed a holdup in Detroit at the approximate time of the Frome murders.

They See Trotsky. This morning soon after he and the boys opened their hotel window which looks out upon the national o, they heard sirens of thirty-two motorcycles. It was about 7 o'clock. The streets were vacant and the sound of the sirens filled the air. All at once the people in the hotel ran to their windows and began yelling "Alli Trotsky!" And that was how the R. R. and the boys saw Trotsky. Two days ago we went to his house and the R. R. interviewed his secretary, a Swede who spoke perfect English, but the most famous man in Mexico was busy writing a biography of Stalin. Every Sunday Trotsky takes a ride through the city, escorted by 32 motorcycles. Trotsky lives in La Casa de Delos Rios, the famous mural painter,

The house is situated in the slums and surrounded by mud puddles. The house, however is as repellent as Go To Bull Fight. Today the R. R. and boys saw the bull fights, and six bulls were killed. One toro was almost gored, but he jumped to his feet and touched the black bull on the horn and the crowd yelled "Ole." The best part of the bull fight was when a boy fifteen wearing tattered dungarees and tennis shoes jumped into the ring and used his dirty sweat shirt as a cape. He made his best pass of the afternoon when he dropped to his knees and held the sweat shirt as the bull charged. The crowd cheered madly and threw money and their hats at him. The boy then grabbed the chief torero cape and executed several more beautiful passes. The torero patted the boy on the back. Thus preventing the police from sending him to jail. It is a prison offense for such an amateur to risk his life spontaneously in the bull ring. After the last bull was killed, Cotton rushed into the ring and got a banderillo, a steel tipped dart, which was jabbed into the neck of the bull to infuriate him. All the Mexicans stood around and gazed in admiration at the nerve of the cotton-headed boy. The R. R. and the boys brought ten American dollars apiece

to spend and they have been rich because ten dollars in Mexico equals 50 pesos, and a peso will go as far as the American dollar. The boys have exactly nine bushels of Aztec pottery, shoes, knives, jewelry, boleros, dry goods, and the R. R. has one impressive collection de Botellas. REAPERS HAVE SOCIAL EVENT ON TUESDAY

Attractive arrangements of summer flowers set the color note at the social meeting of the Reapers class of the First Baptist church Tuesday afternoon in the church parlor.

The program for the afternoon was opened with the singing of the class song, "Bringing in the Sheaves."

Mrs. A. L. Prigmore, class president, presided over a short business meeting in which each officer gave a report for the work done during the month of July.

Members learned of the recovery and improvement of Mrs. E. C. Williams, Mrs. C. B. Whitfield, Mrs. Viola Van-over, Mrs. H. M. Vandover and baby, Mrs. E. L. Tarrant's husband, Little Scottie Gray, and Mrs. Roy Doyson's husband.

Cut Up, Wash Up, Brush Up Hair for Ringlet Coiffure

Whether you are enthusiastic or just lukewarm about the idea, here's going to have to brush your hair upward, and in some way or other, manage to keep it up. That is, if you intend to wear any of the various versions of miniature hats which are becoming more popular by the minute.

There are no two ways about it. "Doit" hats look infinitely smarter on hair dressed high than atop long bobs. However, if you have a very long face or a rather prominent jawline, it would be a mistake to brush your hair severely upward and pile it in a cloud on top of your head.

The girl whose features are quite regular (and this doesn't necessarily mean they can have her shining tresses brushed upward, with the locks on top cut fairly short and finished in soft ringlets. Or perhaps in a roll that extends from one side of her head across the back to the other.

One whose features certainly require the softening effect of hair low-placed on the neckline just behind her ears, might try brushing the hair at the front, back and away from her brow, the sides up, eliminating all parts except one at the back.

There is, for instance, the business of thumb-sucking. Don't tolerate it for a minute. The baby may look pretty cute with her thumb in her mouth, but the results of this little habit won't be cute at all.

If her ears do not lie flat against her little head, some kind of ear cap contraption is very much in order. You can buy one in almost any infant's wear department, or if you like, make one yourself from soft pieces of cotton cloth.

Groom her tiny nails as carefully as you manicure your own. Push the cuticle back with a soft towel several times a day. Always use an emery board to smooth down rough edges after cutting, and clippers to remove bits of jagged cuticle. If her nails are perfectly comfortable, she'll be less likely to bite them.

Teach her to use a hairbrush each and every night, ready to enjoy her daily bath, to hang up her dress the minute she takes it off, always to carry a clean handkerchief and all the other things you know to be important to a well-groomed appearance.

And remember that about the worst thing you can do is to compare her unfavorably with a more attractive sister or playmate. Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART

Your daughter's chances of growing up to be a great beauty are undoubtedly fairly slim, but if you do your part from the day she is born, there's no reason under the sun why she won't turn out to be attractive. Beauties are born beautiful. But downright attractiveness—the glowing variety which doesn't fade with the years—is within easy reach of all and sundry.

During the first four years of your daughter's life, you, or her nurse, ought to pay a great deal of attention to seemingly unimportant details. It isn't enough that you feed her properly, keep her clean and take her to the doctor regularly. In addition to the essentials to her well-being, there are several more little matters that require your earnest attention. That is, if you are determined that YOUR child, at the age of twenty, won't go about blaming HER mother for the lack of beauty.

There is, for instance, the business of thumb-sucking. Don't tolerate it for a minute. The baby may look pretty cute with her thumb in her mouth, but the results of this little habit won't be cute at all.

CITY USES 50 MILLION GALLONS WATER MONTH

A total of 49,869,000 gallons of water was pumped from city water wells last month, the report of Superintendent Andy Crookes shows that was a daily average of 1,602,877 gallons.

Water used far exceeded the amount pumped some days. An accurate check cannot be made because of the fact that much of the water used is not metered. Water used by the city to fill the swimming pool, for watering parks, for use in the city hall and fire station and for other purposes does not go through a meter.

Water users on several days last week necessitated withdrawal from storage.

STAMP NEWS

ELIMINATION of high values from the new series of Constitution stamps to be issued by Panama has been announced.

The delayed visit of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain to Paris resulted in a change in the commemorative 1.75-franc stamp. The original die bore the date "28 Juin 1938," and this was changed to July 19.

First-day sales of the 3-cent Sesqui-centennial of the Northwest Territory Commemorative at Marquette, Ohio, postoffice, July 15, totaled $10,215.48.

When bicyclists travel in groups, not more than two should travel abreast. If two of those are a man and a girl, the man should be next to the traffic. Bicycles should keep about 10 feet apart.

Don't let anyone ride on the handlebars. Handlebar-riders are likely to get their feet tangled in the spokes. Then everybody takes a spill. Even if you escape spills, the extra weight makes the bicycle swerve—so it's difficult to guide.

Don't start a long trip without a repair kit. You need a wrench and tire-patching equipment. A hand-crank-basket will come in handy, too, for carrying lunches, guide-books or notebooks.

Girls shouldn't wear skirts that are too tight. Shorts, culottes or slacks are good—or a skirt that is wide enough to give you a little freedom.

Ride in the most comfortable position. You should be able to reach the pedals with your heels without any strain. Your hands should rest lightly on the handlebars. The ball of your foot—not your instep—should press on the pedals. Your ankles should do much of the work.

DANIEL BOONE, THE SIXTH, TO BURY THE HATCHET. NORRIS, Tenn. (AP)—Daniel Boone great-great-grandson of the frontiersman, is going to hunt bears with a descendant of an Indian tribe with which his famous ancestor often waged war.

Boone, a Nashville attorney, accepted the invitation of Amonsee Sequoyah, descendant of a Cherokee chieftain, to join him this fall in a bear hunt in the Great Smoky mountains.

In making plans for the hunt, Sequoyah, a college graduate, explained: "The Cherokees liked Boone. Fought him in battle but always found him valuable friend in peace. Indians captured Boone few times but never harmed him. Liked him so much for that."

The regular meeting of the Order for Eastern Stars will be held at the Masonic Hall at 8 o'clock.

The Busy Darning Sewing Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Lewis Turple, 1402 East Francis Street, at 3 o'clock.

H. D. Club Will Have Recreational School Thursday

A recreational school will be held at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon in the office of Mrs. Julia Kelley, county home demonstration agent.

Recreational chairman and two other members from each club in the county are urged to attend the meeting.

BUTTONHOLE SAVED

Baste the buttonholes in knitted garments together—to keep them from stretching when they are ironed. You can easily remove the threads when the garment has dried.

MIX HOT AND COLD

Try serving a hot soup and a cool salad on hot summer days. Mushroom soup makes a good partner for fruit salad. Vegetable soup is tasty with salmon salad. Chowder makes a perfect complement for a cabbage-relish salad.

Georgia grows about twice as many acres of velvet beans as any other state.

Mrs. Bartz Hostess To Nimble-Thimble Members Recently

Mrs. Addie Bartz, hostess to the members of the Nimble-Thimble club, was presented with a silver shower at a recent meeting of the club.

Sandwiches and coco cola were served to Mmes. A. M. Nash, Alice Bartz, T. J. Rhee, D. A. Rife, T. A. Goldsmith, R. E. Walker, Miss Frieda Bartz, and the hostess.

One new member, Mrs. Moon, was voted into the club.

UNCRYSTALIZED SYRUP

Add a pinch of soda for each two cups of sugar to help keep syrups from crystallizing. Sprinkle the soda on top while the syrup is cooking and don't stir it.

SUMMER TREATMENT

A little heating often will improve the flavor of nut meats in summer. Sprinkle a thin layer of nuts on a shallow pan and heat them for five minutes or so in a moderately slow oven. Cool.

FDR Backers, Critics Split Honors in 4 Primaries

RESULTS GIVE IDEA OF JUST WHAT'S WHAT

PRIMARIES AT A GLANCE
 Missouri—Senator Bennett Clark, frequent Roosevelt critic, wins Democratic renomination by landslide; former Gov. Henry S. Caulfield chosen Republican nominee.
 Kansas—Senator George McGill, Roosevelt follower, easily wins Democratic renomination; former Gov. Clyde M. Reed captures Republican nomination, the Rev. Gerald Winrod, called pro-Nazi by opponents, runs third; Gov. Walter Huxman, Democrat, renominated; will be opposed by State Senator Payne Ratner, Republican.
 Virginia—two Roosevelt supporters lose house races; Rep. Howard Smith defeats William E. Dodd, Jr., 3-1; former Rep. Colgate Darden unseats Rep. Norman Hamilton.
 West Virginia—Representatives Ramsay, Edmiston and Johnson, who have backed President, win Democratic renomination.

Roosevelt backers and anti-administration candidates divided the Democratic honors yesterday in four primary elections.
 Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri, foe of the court bill and other White House measures, won a landslide renomination. So did Senator George McGill of Kansas, loyal follower of the President.
 Their victories were not unexpected. However, for both had the active backing of their state party organizations. President Roosevelt had taken no part in either race.
 The same division extended to nominations for house seats in two other states. Three West Virginia Representatives who have supported the President defeated their opponents, but in Virginia two avowed new dealers lost out.
 Rep. Howard Smith, of Virginia, whose district includes the "home towns" of George Washington and Thomas Jefferson, won a 3-to-1 victory over William E. Dodd, Jr., son of the former ambassador to Germany. The vote, with 10 precincts missing, was: Smith, 19,601; Dodd, 6,530.

Smith, a rules committee member who fought the wage-hour bill, claimed the right to vote as he thought best on administration measures, while the 32-year old Dodd was on the "blacklist" of labor's non-partisan league (C. I. O.), but he led 2-to-1 in Alexandria, home of John L. Lewis.
 The only other Virginia house race was much closer. Rep. Norman Hamilton, calling himself pro-Roosevelt despite his vote against the government reorganization bill, lost by about 1,500 votes to former Rep. Colgate Darden, whom he defeated in 1936. Hamilton said Darden was backed by Senator Hatcher Hays' organization.
 In yesterday's Republican primaries greatest interest was shown in the Kansas senatorial race because of campaign charges that one of the four candidates—the Rev. Gerald Winrod—was pro-Nazi, who denied the accusation, but third.
 The nomination went to former Gov. Clyde Reed. The count in his favor gave him 22,000 more votes than Dallas Knapp, running second, and 26,000 more than Winrod. The Rev. J. C. Fisher trailed.
 Gov. Walter Huxman, Democrat, was renominated without opposition. State Senator Payne Ratner, who like Reed lives in Parsons, Kans., was ahead for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Winner of the Republican Senatorial contest in Missouri, was former Gov. Henry S. Caulfield, who easily defeated politically unknown Ray E. White, St. Louis real estate man.
 Senator Clark polled three and a half times as many votes in the first half of the state to report as did his three opponents combined. Joseph T. Davis, Willis H. Meredith, and Robert L. Young, Missouri Democrats, who had taken Clark's victory for granted, were more interested in a fight for a state Supreme Court nomination between forces of Gov. Lloyd C. Stark and T. J. Pendergast, Kansas City party leader.
 James V. Blaine, endorsed by Pendergast, took an early lead because Kansas City's precincts were counted early, but Judge James M. Douglas gradually pulled even as returns came in from St. Louis, his home town.

Yesterday's primaries formed a sort of curtain-raiser for two fiercely-fought contests to be settled later this week. Tennessee Democrats will pick their senatorial and gubernatorial favorites tomorrow, and Kentucky Democrats will choose Saturday between Senator Alben W. Barkley and his challenger, Gov. A. B. Chandler.

The senate campaign expenditures committee has denounced campaign tactics in both states, and has investigators on the scene.

Pall Of Death Where Plunging Plane Killed 53

An army flyer, stunting at a military field dedication in Bogota, Colombia, grazed the reviewing stand of the diplomatic corps with his low flying plane. That threw him into the stand occupied by Colombia's President Alfonso Lopez. The speeding plane tore through the tin roof of the stand, then exploded. The picture above was taken just as flaming gasoline was thrown over the jammed crowds and the whirling propellers bit into the mass of screaming people. Some of them can be seen fleeing. Fifty-three were killed or died in hospitals since the accident, and more than 100 were injured. President Lopez escaped unscathed.

It's Another Boy for the One-Time 'It' Girl

It's easy to see that Clara Bow doesn't care about being in moving pictures ever again as she poses for the first time with her 7-week-old son, George Robert Bell, in Hollywood. This was the second son born to the red-haired former "It" girl of the movies and husband Rex Bell, cowboy actor. Tony is 4 years old.

4-H Club News

TEACH PARENTS
 Parents are learning better farm and home practices from their children who are members of 4-H clubs.
 Building of tables, chairs and desks from scrap lumber, making corn shuck rugs and even curtains are among the accomplishments of 4-H members toward improvement of their homes.
 An example of how these activities influence parents is had in the report of one mother who said: "My son made his room look so nice that I decided to get him to help me improve the appearance of our five-room house."
 Farm authorities report that when on visits to farm homes they find poultry and livestock above the average, they feel sure that one of the children belongs to a 4-H club.

CATTLEMEN HELP
 4-H club members in some sections are being helped by cattlemen in their livestock projects.
 These enthusiastic supporters of the work being done by farm youngsters plan to aid them in getting better animals to feed and raise.
 Cattlemen praise the achievements of the future farmers but feel that they should accomplish even more if they had better stock to work with.

MEMBERS HELPFUL
 4-H club members who are proud of their community schools help to maintain that pride by assisting in the improvement of school grounds.
 They see to it that the lawns are kept neat and green, that playgrounds are in order, and they do other work to improve the appearance of their schools.

UNSELFISH PROJECT
 Improvement and upkeep of cemeteries is a project adopted by some 4-H clubs.
 Members repair fences, plant and tend flowers, shrubs and hedges; mow grass, keep paths trim; and otherwise make the grounds more attractive to visitors.

BOYS GROOM SELVES
 4-H boys generally devote most of their efforts to cultivation of the many virtues, but classes in personal grooming is to make "sissies" of them, but to teach neatness in attire, an important trait in the search for success.
 Clothiers are lending their aid by supplying clothes, suitable accessories and model to illustrate points in proper grooming.

STARTS YOUNG
 Shirley McConnell, 11-year-old member of a 4-H club in Madison county, Illinois, is a far-seeing lass. To earn money for a college education she entered the poultry business.
 Her father built her a brooder house and an underground heater for raising 208 White Rock chicks. In addition to the starting and growing feed Shirley feeds the chickens green feed every day.
 The plans to sell eggs to a hatchery.

CLUB CAMPS
 4-H club members in many sections are returning from club camps invigorated physically by their participation in outdoor sports and refreshed mentally by all forms of recreation.
 Meanwhile, other members are just leaving for camps, regional and state, in various localities.
 Camp life is not all play, and campers engage in various activities to add to their knowledge of crafts, music, health preservation, and the functioning of nature.

WINS HONORS ON FIRST TRY
 Some 4-H Club members, even though making their first entries in dairy judging contests, are winning top honors.
 There are scores on record of making 500 points out of a possible 600, more than the best of the "veteran" contestants are able to gather in some contests.

SAVE COLLEGE FUNDS
 Many 4-H members are using money earned in profitable projects to start funds for a college education.
 Savings are swelled by sale of cream, livestock and other activities that provide a cash income.

STYLE REVUES
 Style shows are being conducted by 4-H girls in many sections.
 Winners in community and county revues will compete in state contests for the right to enter the national style revue to be held in the fall.
 Some girls are making college wardrobes as club projects.

SMALL FRUITS PROFITABLE
 The small fruits have been proven a profitable crop for 4-H Club members seeking to increase their earnings through club activities.
 One member sold $114 worth of strawberries from his one-half acre plot in two years.
 The Klendyke variety of strawberry is being used successfully, bringing 10 cents a pint.
 Customers seeking perfect berries pay no less in buying by the crate, in some instances.

OIL INDUSTRY LOOKS UP FOR BETTER TIMES

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—Continuing downward trends of gasoline and crude stocks, coupled with close proration in major producing states, inched the oil industry toward an improved position, many observers agreed today.
 Interest centered on authorized production for August, final month of the high gasoline-consuming period which apparently will tell whether the industry will enter fall months in better condition than a year ago.
 The Oil and Gas Journal reported United States production decreased 33,488 barrels daily during the week ended July 30, to reach a daily average of 3,315,890.
 This was slightly less than an estimate of daily market demand for the remainder of 1938 made before the Interstate Oil Compact Commission meeting last week. Representatives of member states and many operators in attendance indicated they favored continuation of close proration rather than liberalization of restrictions at a time when possible demoralization might result.
 Ernest O. Thompson, compact chairman, stressed the need of careful study of future demand as a guide for further production.
 Although decreasing gradually, gasoline stocks for the week ended July 23 were 76,366,000 barrels, or 6 percent more than a year ago.
 The consensus was July production had removed the danger of immediate difficulties but whether new threats of distress prices would appear depended upon the control of August flow from wells.
 Texas entered the month with a basic allowable of 1,417,895 barrels daily, or 58,615 more than the July 1 basic authorization. Sunday closing of wells, in effect since January, were continued. The increase resulted because there were five Sundays in July and there are only four in August.
 The production of all Texas fields, except the vast East Texas pool, was reduced two per cent under allowances of July 26. Allowances increase each month due to new well completions.
 There were reports of improved conditions in the KMA pool of Wichita county where lack of pipeline connections had caused alarm. Oklahoma's corporation commission set the August allowable for that state at 428,000 barrels daily, unchanged from July.

SENATE INVESTIGATOR HURRIES TO TENNESSEE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—A Senate investigator hastened back to Kentucky today to obtain more facts about primary campaign tactics which his superiors called deplorable.
 Chairman Sheppard (D. Tex.) of the Senate campaign expenditures committee said the investigator would be kept in the state through Saturday's primary election so that no matter who won the Democratic Senatorial nomination, the Senate would have all the facts.
 Kentucky thus became the second state in which the committee has hinted the election eventually may be contested on the Senate floor.
 The committee last week criticized Tennessee's Democratic primary campaign, saying the victor might face a contest in the Senate on the ground of "excessive expenditures."

Mayor Facing Recall Election

Scuffling at charges that his last campaign was "sponsored and financed by racketeers and political underworld personalities" Mayor Frank L. Shaw, of Los Angeles, faces an election proposing his recall after reform groups obtained sufficient petition signatures to force the vote.

Discouraged by many hours of fruitless search near the point in the southern Pacific off Luzon, P. I., where the Manila-bound Hawaii Clipper was last heard from, frantic searchers on planes and ships began to lose hope for the giant plane, nine crew members and six passengers. Discovery by the transport Meigs of a heavy oil slick 40 miles south of this position added to mounting fears for the safety of all aboard, including those pictured above: Pilot Leo Terletzky; Dr. Earle B. McKinley, authority on leprosy; Dr. Fred C. Meier, principal pathologist of the Department of Agriculture in Washington; Engineer H. L. Cox; Fourth Officer J. W. ## WHAT'S GOING TO HAPPEN IN BORDER RIFT?

By DEWITT MACKENZIE, Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer.
 NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The Russo-Japanese fighting at the junction of the Siberia-Manchoukuo-Korea borders is like the Orient's famous hotpest soup—considerable of a mystery into which one dislikes to inquire too closely because of the strong likelihood of discovering something unsavory.
 Certainly the two combatants have the entire world guessing as to what underlies such a sudden fierceness in a border dispute of long standing. They undoubtedly have been testing to discover each other's fighting temper (an old custom in that salty Serran), but the matter now has gone beyond an ordinary laboratory test.
 The only thing we are dead sure of is that the situation endangers world peace.
 Major General Todah, Japanese officer who has been in command of the Manchoukuo border patrol and is now en route to Tokyo, gave newspapermen what purported to be an optimistic view of the situation. He said the Soviet military operations may be regarded largely as an anti-Japanese demonstration and therefore unlikely to develop into a major conflict.
 That would be a more comforting prediction were the good general the seventh son of a seventh son and well established as prophet.
 There are numerous possible reasons for the border fighting and it isn't difficult to pick them out. The trouble comes in trying to fit them down to the logical explanation.
 With both Moscow and Tokyo talking to each other in no uncertain language, we can dismiss the idea that the present phase of the clash is a purely local affair. The show is being directed from the two capitals.
 Here is one bare possibility.—The Japanese have a half million of their crack troops in Manchoukuo. They would be a welcome aid to the Japanese command down in China.
 A good many observers in the Far East express the belief that Japan and Germany are getting ready for a joint attack on Russia. If that is true, it might explain the border fighting.
 There is one possibility, however, which seems rather more logical than most of the others, and might warrant a small bet. This must assume something which we do not know to be a fact—namely that the Soviet took the initiative in the border scrap.
 The half million crack troops and mountains of equipment which the Japanese have in Manchoukuo, would be of tremendous assistance in China, where the Japanese have encountered very sticky going indeed.
 Every time the invaders capture a square mile of territory, they must increase their fighting forces to police it. The drain on man-power, war equipment and finances has been heavy.
 Russia is China's avowed friend, and has been helping the Celestials "unofficially" ever since the war started. One of the easiest ways for the Soviet to aid China and hurt Japan would be to create a diversion along the Manchoukuo borders to keep the half million troops from moving south to fight the Chinese.
 That may be what is going on.

Three Busy Bees Don't Tolerate Intruders

NEENAH, Wis. (AP)—That bees kill and then embalm mice, snakes or other invaders of their hives was discovered here by E. E. Lampert, amateur beekeeper.
 Lampert found by experimentation that when a live mouse or snake was placed in a hive a swarm of bees descended upon it and stung it to death. Then, unable to remove it, the bees embalmed it by covering it with wax to prevent contamination.

FOR'S PARTY LANDS FIVE BIG SAILFISH
 ABOARD U. S. S. HOUSTON, Cocos Island, Aug. 3 (AP)—(Via Naval Radio)—President Roosevelt and his party got in the last of their deep sea fishing in the Pacific today before leaving Cocos Island for the Panama Canal Zone.
 The Houston made ready to leave at 2 p. m. (CST), on the 540-mile run to Balboa, where she is scheduled to arrive tomorrow afternoon.
 Prize catches of the President's party—five big sailfish—were overshadowed today by a 1,645-pound ray, harpooned by the crew of the escorting destroyer McDougal. Hung up alongside, it measured 15 feet in width and 9 feet in length.

MACK AND PAUL BARBERS, DIAMOND SHOP PLAY TONIGHT

KING REPEATS IN INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE RACE

First game of a series to determine the Pampa Softball championship will have to be delayed another day because the Diamond Shop upset Mack & Paul Barbers last night in a City League game, necessitating another game between the two tonight. King downed Cities Service in the Industrial League and will represent that group in the playoff.

Mack & Paul and the Diamond Shop will meet tonight at 8:15 o'clock under the lights at Recreation park to see which one will take the field against King Oil at the same hour tomorrow night in the first playoff game. Two wins will decide the title with the victor receiving the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce trophy, won last year by King.

Jayces this morning were trying to match a nightcap game between a Pampa and an out-of-town team and they were optimistic that a double-header would be presented tonight. Admission will be 10 cents for women and children and 15 cents for men.

Getting away to a good start, King won 9 to 5 for their second consecutive Industrial league title. Dewey allowed the Cities Service Sluggers who had blasted Patrick of Danziger all over the lot Monday night, only five bingles while King batters got to Campbell and Muncy for 6 hits.

King scored three in the opening stanza but Cities Service came back with two. King, however, jumped into a commanding lead with two in the second and four in the fourth to hold off the gasser's rallies in the fifth and sixth innings.

Score by innings:
 Cities Service... 302 400 0-9 9 2
 Cities Service... 200 022 0-6 5 3
 Batteries: King, Dewey and Sheridan; Cities Service, Campbell, Muncy and Morgan.

Scoring early and staying off a late rally, the Diamond Shop beat Mack and Paul 8 to 5 to remain in the running for the City League Championship necessitating another meeting tonight. The Jewellers jumped on Burleson for six runs in the first two innings and had him in trouble in the third when Jordan took over to pitch shut-out ball the rest of the way.

Witherspoon was on the mound for the Jewellers and was effective until the third when two runs crossed the plate. Another pair in the fourth and one in the fifth gave the barbers hope but Witherspoon bore down and with nice support checked the rally.

Dope points to a pitching duel between Witherspoon and Jordan tonight. The two were teammates on the Cortez team last year and finished the season this summer with the Christians. They separated for the playoff.

Score by innings:
 Diamond Shop... 332 000 0-8 9 3
 Mack & Paul... 002 210 0-5 6 4
 Batteries: Diamond Shop, Witherspoon and Holland; Mack & Paul, Burleson, Jordan and McWright.

K. of C. Has Won Seven, Lost None

The Knights of Columbus junior softball team is merrily on its way to an undefeated season of play. With less than three weeks of play remaining in the league schedule, the Knights have won several games and lost none.

Toughest competition of the season for the Knights was Monday evening when they defeated the new McLean entry 14 to 11. Once more Stone and Cooper divided the hurling job with Redman behind the plate. Hugh Stennis helped the drive with a home run.

Other teams have not reported games and their standing is not known.

IRISH GOLFERS NIMB ABOUT TRIP TO PAMPA LAST SUNDAY

(FROM SHAMROCK TEXAN)

Utter silence surrounds the results of a golfing expedition which a score of Cole Creek's finest made to Pampa Sunday afternoon. Members of the expedition which fared so bravely forth emulated the well known claim when an attempt was made to interview some of them this morning.

Usually willing—even anxious—to report the results of inter-city matches, the flower of the Irish golfing fraternity were something more than reticent about their fate at the hands of the Pampans. The invariable answer to questions was a mumbled, "Don't know. We left before all the matches were in."

It was rumored, but not confirmed, that a man on the Shamrock team, one Bill Smith, won his match. Under pressure, however, it was admitted he really is from Brisbane.

It was also noted about that Grover Austin, young Pampa flash, who was runner-up in the Greenbelt tournament here last spring, blasted out a 61 to come in 10 under par for 18 holes and set a new course record. His opponent, young Walter Fendleton, was still suffering from shock this morning and unable to confirm the report he lost the match 7 and 6, or 8 and 7, or some such figures.

One clear fact emerges from the fog of mystery which surrounds the Pampa invasion. "Up to Sunday afternoon the Cole Creek masher hounds had never been able to beat the Pampans on their own hunting grounds. They still haven't!

Rowe and Dean to Face Each Other Again Today

(By The Associated Press)

Schoolboy Rowe and Paul Dean have faced each other twice on the mound since being sent back to minors and to date everything is in favor of the former Detroit ace.

Rowe is now with Beaumont of the Texas league where Detroit hopes he will work the trouble out of an ailing arm. Dean was shunted to Dallas by the St. Louis Cardinals for the same purpose.

Today when Dallas and Beaumont clash it's Dean vs. Rowe for the third time.

Beaumont took the second straight game of the series yesterday, 3-2. The Exporters today are out in front by three and one-half games over second-place San Antonio, which lost to Fort Worth, 5-2.

The Tulsa Oilers broke a nine-game losing streak by downing the Shreveport Sports, 9-7, in a battle of home runs. Four Oiler runs were made by homers by Botarini, Christoff and Engle, the former making his start with Tulsa by blasting two circuit bloopers.

John Grodzicki hurled a five-hit game to give the Houston Buffs a 3-1 victory over the Oklahoma City Indians.

Today's schedule:
 Dallas at Beaumont (day).
 Fort Worth at San Antonio.
 Oklahoma City at Houston.
 Tulsa at Shreveport.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—If Fred Apostoli and Young Corbett don't open the Garden's indoor season October 3, they'll settle their middleweight dispute in the same arena (as announced Harry Balogh would announce) on November 18... that guy licking his chops down there at Morgantown, W. Va., is "Little Sleepy" Glen, head football coach at West Virginia... He has 'em on only three deep in every position and is set for all comers, including Pitt. Believe it or not... every incoming train brings a load of broke horse players from Saratoga. Bet on the Yankees, boys, and sleep nights.

Don't let anybody try to tell you this Clay Bryant didn't holl himself a ball game at the polo grounds yesterday... His fast one was knocking the buttons right off the Giants' shirts... Winner of tonight's flyweight go between Small Montana and Katsumi Morjoka, the Japanese-Canaan, will meet Little Dodo of California for Benny Lynch's old title... John Henry Lewis' $300,000 suit against the three members of the boxing commission is expected to be filed today... And now comes Doug Smith from way up under in Trail, British Columbia, to suggest that Tony Galento may have caught his cold from being "froth bitten," to which we say such with a big O.

IRISH GOLFERS NIMB ABOUT TRIP TO PAMPA LAST SUNDAY

(FROM SHAMROCK TEXAN)

Utter silence surrounds the results of a golfing expedition which a score of Cole Creek's finest made to Pampa Sunday afternoon. Members of the expedition which fared so bravely forth emulated the well known claim when an attempt was made to interview some of them this morning.

Usually willing—even anxious—to report the results of inter-city matches, the flower of the Irish golfing fraternity were something more than reticent about their fate at the hands of the Pampans. The invariable answer to questions was a mumbled, "Don't know. We left before all the matches were in."

It was rumored, but not confirmed, that a man on the Shamrock team, one Bill Smith, won his match. Under pressure, however, it was admitted he really is from Brisbane.

It was also noted about that Grover Austin, young Pampa flash, who was runner-up in the Greenbelt tournament here last spring, blasted out a 61 to come in 10 under par for 18 holes and set a new course record. His opponent, young Walter Fendleton, was still suffering from shock this morning and unable to confirm the report he lost the match 7 and 6, or 8 and 7, or some such figures.

One clear fact emerges from the fog of mystery which surrounds the Pampa invasion. "Up to Sunday afternoon the Cole Creek masher hounds had never been able to beat the Pampans on their own hunting grounds. They still haven't!

TYLER CLIMBS IN EAST TEXAS LEAGUE RACE

(By The Associated Press)

The Tyler Trojans edged into third place in the East Texas league last night by sweeping a double-header with Palestine, but they were still a long way from the leaders—eleven games to be exact.

Tyler took the first game, 5-1, with Jack Lavis pitching a five-hitter, then copped the second, 4-2, behind similar hurling by McClendon.

League-leading Marshall downed Jacksonville, 8-6, Hal Simpson's two doubles and two singles topping a 16-hit assault.

Second-place Texarkana downed Henderson, 6-3, Archie Cook, a newcomer, giving up but six hits in his mound try.

Kilgore made it two out of three in the series over Longview with an 11-4 victory. It was a free-hitting game with both sides clouting 26 blows.

Lubbock Seeking 1939 Meeting Of Texas Coaches

LUBBOCK, Aug. 3 (AP)—Lubbock was making a spirited bid for return of the coaching school of the Texas High School Coaches Association here in 1939 as the organization prepared to hold its annual meeting tonight.

W. B. Chapman, coach of Lubbock high school and vice president of the association, was in line for elevation to president.

The North and South All-Stars each squad at full strength, went through another hard workout today in preparation for the annual game scheduled for Saturday night.

Softball Tourney To Open With 22 Teams Registered

The Panhandle Softball tournament, to be played here, will get under way Monday night with 22 teams entered. Mack and Paul Barbers of Pampa was the last team to come under the wire before the deadline.

Time and location of games for the first round will be announced within the next day or two by Commissioner Alton Hall. The tournament will be staged under sponsorship of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce with 40 per cent of the proceeds going to the winning team.

Entered in the tourney are teams from Borger, Skellytown, Vega, Amarillo, McLean, Shamrock, Wellington and Pampa.

Cubs Gain Ground as Pirates, Giants Lose

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.

At least two major league clubs have quitted recently, if they didn't know it before, that a good ball team isn't quite enough to win a pennant in the kind of races the two big circuits are staging this season.

There's no doubt that the New York Giants and Boston Red Sox are good ball clubs, but they're some distance from the top and managers Bill Terry and Joe Cronin are working hard and spending freely in an effort to remedy matters.

The Giants remained five games behind Pittsburgh's National League Pirates despite a 7-0 licking by the Chicago Cubs yesterday, but that was only because Pittsburgh took a 1-1 setback in Boston when Johnny Lanning came up with a four-hit game. The Cubs, however, cut New York's second-place margin to 1 1/2 games.

Similarly the Red Sox didn't lose any ground to the Yankees, and still have a 1 1/2 game margin over Boston when they won two games from St. Louis, 6-2 and 9-3. Johnny Vander Meer's return to form helped keep the Cincinnati Reds on the Cubs' heels as they downed Philadelphia 3-2.

Washington gained a 5-3 victory over the St. Louis Browns in a game protested by the losers after Umpire Harry Geisel had suffered a broken wrist in a collision with Billy Sullivan. The Chicago White Sox beat the Athletics, 8-4.

Little Interest In Armstrong and Ambers Fisticuff

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (AP)—It appears that the astute Mike Jacobs finally has been sold a pup in his big triple-decker championship fight between Henry Armstrong and Lou Ambers next Wednesday night.

Two days of investigation reveals that the great fight public simply isn't much interested, even with three titles on display and one, the lightweight, actually involved.

Perhaps it's the heat. The fight looked like a stem-winder when it was arranged. If for no other reason, it offered Armstrong the unheard-of opportunity of adding the lightweight crown to the featherweight and welterweight titles he already held.

But now there's little talk about the "rattle and the advance sale has been so poor there have been persistent reports Jacobs would plaster on another postponement. But Mike vows there will be a fight a week from tonight if there's nobody but him and the users to lend voice.

One difficulty is that Ambers doesn't lend himself readily to the old ballyhoo. For all his boxing skill, the lightweight champ is a colorless individual. Nothing exciting happens to him, and he doesn't say much.

There was an abortive attempt to stir up a controversy the other day. Ambers' manager threatened to claim the welterweight title if Lou won. The Armstrong camp didn't enter into the spirit. Eddie Mead, Henry's pilot, fanned himself a moment and said: "It doesn't matter because Ambers isn't going to win."

Streets Flooded in Gulf Coast Town

MATAGORDA, Aug. 3 (AP)—Flood waters which started in the San Saba area in central-west Texas almost two weeks ago were pouring into Matagorda Bay today, inundating the streets of this Gulf Coast town.

It was the final phase of the flood which began from heavy rains that sent the San Saba river out of its banks joining with other streams to send the Colorado river on a rampage.

The flood waters moved out of Wharton, which had been isolated several days ago. Water reached a depth of two feet in some places here but damage to property was not expected to be high enough grazing land in this section has been ruined for the season.

The rise here is slow and expected to continue until some time today. About 65 families are being cared for by the Red Cross.

HARVESTERS WILL BE TAKEN TO ALL STAR FOOTBALL GAME

Hey, harvesters. Do you want to see the All Star football game in Lubbock Saturday night? Well, if you do call Bob Curry at 652-W immediately and tell him. He will secure free transportation for you.

The game will feature high school stars of Texas, those of the north half of the state playing the south. In the line for the north will be J. P. Mathews, star guard of the Pampa Harvesters.

The game will close the Texas Tech coaching school. Attending from Pampa High school are Coaches Odus Mitchell, J. C. Prejean, Bruce Barton and Oscar Hinger.

Many Pampa football fans plan to drive to Lubbock for the big game, scheduled for 8 o'clock Saturday night at Texas Tech stadium. An estimated 10,000 or 15,000 will see the game.

Pampa fans planning to see the All Star game and who will be able to take one or more Harvesters with them are asked to call Mr. Curry before tomorrow night. He expects at least 20 of the squad will make the trip.

French Mothers Urged To Have More Children

WASHINGTON (AP)—France is doing something about her missing population.

The American commercial attaché in Paris reports that the French are using a system of family allotments to encourage larger families.

Under the system, a family's income is increased by specific amounts according to the number of children supported. A recent survey showing that births declined in France by 210,000 between 1930 and 1937 has led to an increase in allotments during last year by more than 8 per cent.

Won't They Be Surprised When They Hit Fence?

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Migrating deer in Shell Creek canyon near the Montana-Wyoming boundary have a shock in store for them.

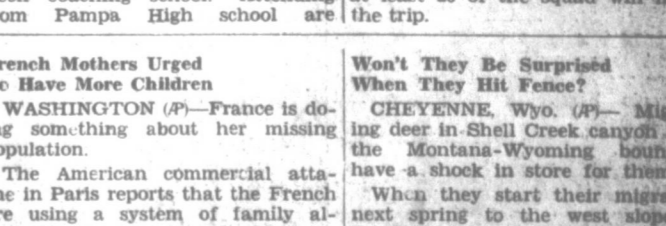

When they start their migration next spring to the west slope of the Big Horns they will get a shock of electricity every time they touch a certain wire fence that is being erected. The fence is an experiment to determine if a charged wire will keep deer from breaking into the alfalfa fields of ranches in that vicinity. If it works, all the fences will be charged.

SERIAL STORY MYSTERY AT THE LAZY R BY CLARKE NEWLON

COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS NIKKI JEROME, 16, a blond, popular, is engaged to six-foot, black-haired STEVE MALLORY, hero who is accompanying her on a trip to Nikki's aunt's home on a Wyoming dude ranch. Nikki's father, PETER JEROME, is a wealthy New York level merchant.

Yesterday: Returning to the clearing, Steve and Nikki are held up by Sarto. He jabs his pistol. "I don't also with this," he warns.

CHAPTER XII

AS Nikki and Steve moved over into the center of the clearing under the waving directions of the black automatic in Sarto's hand, they heard a rifle shot in the distance. It was followed by a second and a third and the sounds dotted a semicircle in the direction Steve and Nikki and Woody had taken when they left camp the day before.

Three shots, thought Steve, meant Uncle Jim, Rance and Woody were searching separately. Fiske probably was with one of them. He wouldn't be alone. One shot meant, of course, they hadn't found anything. They couldn't very well when the persons they hunted were safely back in camp. Well, they were back in camp anyway, thought Steve, if not too safe.

He glanced at Sarto. The man was backing toward the cabin against which a rifle stood. Of course, thought Steve, he'll complete the signal system. He watched Sarto jab the pistol into his hip pocket and stoop for the rifle and for a moment thought of making a break. If he made the trees he could at least warn the others. Then he as quickly discarded the idea. Nikki would be left alone with the gunman.

Sarto's thoughts had gone along the same line. "Don't try it," he said with an evil grin. "I'll get one of you and it might be the girl."

He picked up the rifle and fired, not once but twice in the air. That will bring the others back, thought Steve, startled. If one shot meant no luck, certainly two shots would mean he and Nikki had been found. Before he had time to go further along that mental tangent, Sarto spoke.

"You two sit over by that tree. Face toward the fire and don't try anything. It wouldn't be healthy. When the others come in, he waved a casual arm in the direction from whence the shots had come, "don't try to give 'em any signs. I'll do the talking."

THEY sat down, their backs to the tree, facing the clearing and the cabin at their right. Sarto placed the rifle on the bench by the cabin and sat down also, the pistol held carelessly in his two hands. "What's he going to do," whispered Nikki.

"Ambush the others when they come in I suppose," Steve whispered back. And then as he found this answer: "He'll need someone to guide him back to the ranch."

They sat quietly for several minutes. Nikki shifted uncomfortably. After Sarto had ambushed the others, then what? He had murdered Bancroft. A man who had killed once probably wouldn't worry very much about repeating the crime. She remembered, suddenly, the day they had walked through Grand Central, she and Steve and her father. No hint of tragedy in the bright sunshine of that day, no warning of the things ahead. Then the money on the train and the realization that her father was somehow involved with the sinister Bancroft and his companion. She looked at the hunched figure on the bench. No, no. Her father couldn't be to blame for all this. He just couldn't. But Bancroft's reference to the "Jerome affair" kept coming back.

"Hungry?" asked Steve, with a quick glance at the gunman. "I guess so," said Nikki. "I hadn't thought about it."

"Sarto," called Steve. "We haven't eaten much lately. Couldn't we have a little food while we're waiting?"

"Shut up," said Sarto. "You'll get something to eat later—maybe."

"Isn't there some way we can warn the others?" whispered Nikki. "I've been trying to think of a way," answered Steve. "But it's too dangerous now. Wait until the others get here."

"Cut out the chatter," said Sarto roughly. "Can it—all of it, see?"

"Nobody's hurt yet," he said. "Drop the rifle." Rance let it slide slowly from his hands. Sarto walked over and ran his left hand across Rance, removing the hunting knife at his belt.

"Now walk over and sit by them. And don't you start anything either. I'll run this little show." He picked up the rifle and dropped it behind the bench with the knife. Rance sat on the other side of Nikki, his face a bewildered puzzle.

"Just sit," said Sarto. "Don't talk." They sat there in a tight-fisted little semicircle, waiting for the next returning searcher. Nikki breathed a little prayer as another call was heard. Please let Uncle Jim be careful.

"Answer it," commanded Sarto and she called out another "hello."

A MOMENT later her uncle came puffing up the trail to the camp, his stocky form pushing through the brush impatiently, perspiration rolling from his forehead. He hurried into the clearing.

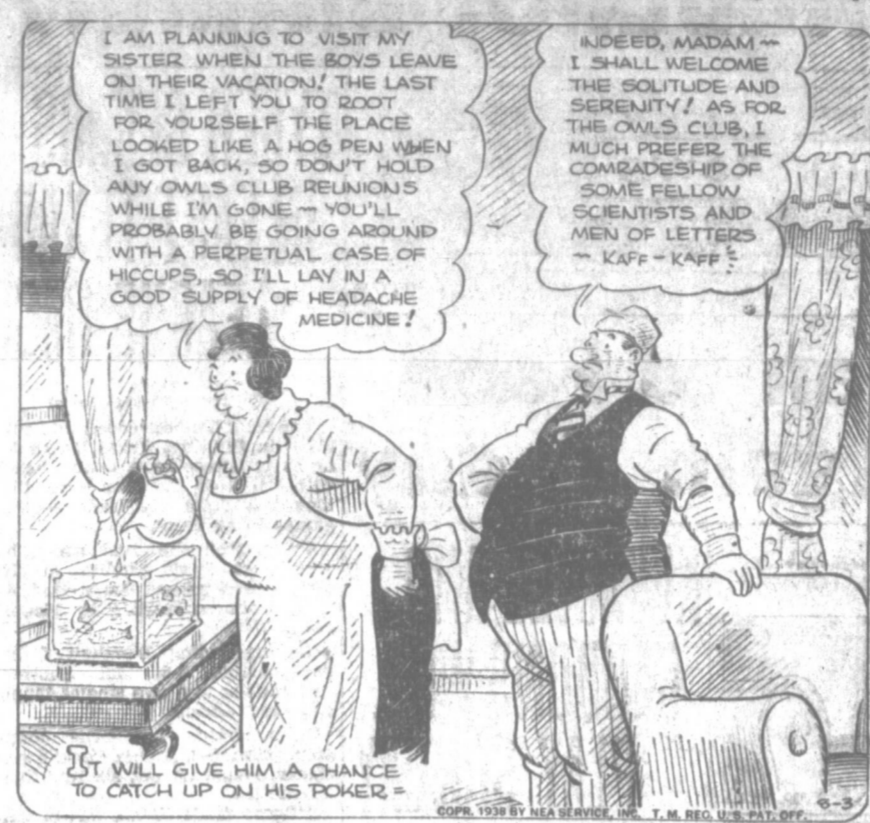

"I knew you two'd turn up safe and sound," he shouted, his ruddy face lighting up. Then he stopped short as he saw them all three seated silently by the tree.

"What in thunder—" Nikki's hands clenched. "Shut up," said Sarto. "Drop the gun." Uncle Jim let the rifle slip to the ground as he turned slowly to face Sarto and to look in the stubby, black gun.

"Mister," he drawled. "You seem to be the boss right now. But I don't think it'll last." "Get over by the tree and sit down," said Sarto. "And shut up."

"Where's Bancroft?" asked Uncle Jim, disregarding the last command. "Dead," said Steve laconically. Sarto's upper lip curled until his front teeth were showing whitely through. "You know too much." Steve thought for a moment he was going to shoot. Then the lip came down.

TORTOISES HAVE THEIR SHOULDERS INSIDE OF THEIR RIBS.

TORTOISES once had only an armor-plated skin, but this heavy armor gradually settled down to the ribs and spine, and later became welded to them.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)-An aerial trip to Alaska by Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, provided a hint today that the administration was considering development of a great army air base in the far north.

Johnson said he would leave about August 15 to inspect army posts and projects in Alaska, and at the same time would study the feasibility of both the base and of a projected all-weather road from the American northwest through Canada to Alaska.

Such a highway, in addition to drawing tourists, might prove vital in rushing men and munitions to Alaska in time of war. The only regular link now is by water, although an airline is considering establishment of regular service.

Congress authorized the air base in the 1936 Wilcox Act, providing for frontier aerial defenses such as the one already started at Tacoma, Wash. The navy has projected a $5,000,000 base at Kotlik, Alaska, and lesser establishments at Sitska, Alaska, and Dutch Harbor, in the Aleutians, but the army has taken no action.

One objection to construction of an army base has been an administration desire to avoid arousing Japan's concern. Another was the prevalence of fog, making flying hazardous.

The cost of completing a road to Alaska has been figured at $12,000,000 to $20,000,000. The major difficulty is that most of the burden will fall on British Columbia. Prime Minister T. D. Bennett has been negotiating for American assistance.

REPUBLICANS PUT 'SOCIALIZED MEDICINE' UNDER MICROSCOPE

Not One of the Seven Dwarfs

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP)-The Republican program committee placed "socialized medicine" under its political microscope today.

The controversial medical issue was among a wide range of national problems being studied by the committee this week in preparing a prospectus to be submitted to the Republican National Committee next year.

Dr. H. L. Snyder, Winfield, Kan., was scheduled to represent the American Medical Association at the closed forum. Dr. John P. Peters, professor of medicine, Yale University, and Secretary of a committee of Physicians opposing the medical association's policies, also was slated to take part.

The committee's attempt to find a common denominator for the nation's medical problem comes only a few days after the Justice department at Washington accused "organized medicine" of illegal activities against a cooperative health group and announced a grand jury investigation to ascertain "the particular persons responsible."

The medical association virtually challenged the administration to a court struggle.

Chairman Glenn Frank said that when the committee makes its report on policy to the national committee, it will not represent the white party nor will its declaration "chart the course of the party" in the 1940 election.

At the open session last night, Matthew Wolf vice president of the American Federation of Labor, and Louis E. Comstock, president of the Merchants Association of New York, spoke from the same platform on the "Cooperation of Labor and Industry."

Both sounded a plea for cooperation between the two groups to speed recovery.

YOUTH NAMES EX-OFFICER AS DOCTOR SLAYER

SOUTH PARIS, Mo., Aug. 3 (AP)—Paul M. Dwyer, 18-year-old convicted slayer of the country doctor today named former Deputy Sheriff Francis M. Carroll as the man who committed the murder for which Dwyer now is serving a life sentence.

Asked by Prosecutor Ralph M. Ingalls if he had murdered Dr. James C. Littlefield, Dwyer answered, "No."

"Did you see him murdered?" Ingalls asked.

"Yes, sir, I did."

"Who did murder him?" Ingalls asked.

"Francis Carroll."

Dwyer, sent to prison after confessing the murder of Dr. Littlefield, was asked by Prosecutor Ralph M. Ingalls in his opening, to have taken the blame after death throes by Carroll, whom he described as a "vicious killer."

The room was packed with an audience which included Dwyer's former sweetheart, Barbara Carroll, 18, daughter of the man on trial.

Dwyer testified Carroll threatened to "ruin" him and his family unless he relinquished letters from Barbara, which he said, disclosed allegedly improper relations between the former deputy sheriff and his daughter.

Dwyer, under questioning by Ingalls, related the uneventful history of his small town boyhood and high school friendship with Barbara.

"Did you become intimate?" Ingalls asked.

Judge William H. Fisher struck out his low answer, and explained to the pallid youth that he could answer if he wished, but did not have to "incriminate" himself.

Ingalls again asked the question, "Did you rather not answer that," Dwyer said.

"I don't mean to kill him," he quickly answered.

He said Carroll left the house to get some whiskey from his car to relieve the doctor, and that meanwhile he tried to help the groaning physician.

"Carroll again came into the house," Dwyer continued, and ran up the stairs three at a time.

"Did he have a whiskey bottle in his hands?"

"He had a .45 caliber automatic pistol in his hand, and he hit the doctor on the head with it."

"He said the doctor fell to the floor and I think Carroll hit him again," Dwyer said he "felt faint" and sat down.

"Then Carroll took the belt from my pants, and told me to put it around Dr. Littlefield's neck. I would not do it, but Carroll did, and I could hear the doctor struggling for breath."

"Then he said Carroll told him, 'I'll kill you if you don't give me those letters.'"

"He testified he gave Carroll two letters Barbara had written to him, previously Dwyer had testified Carroll accused him of 'getting Barbara into trouble.' He said he told Carroll he didn't believe it, and that Carroll offered to have his daughter examined by Dwyer's physician to prove it.

"That was why Dr. Littlefield went to the Dwyer home—and his death—that night," Dwyer said.

RADIO RANGE FINDERS MAKING AVIATION SAFE

Air travelers in Texas will have maximum protection from hazards which might be encountered during bad weather or night flying.

A Bureau of Air Commerce executive in Washington said today that the installation of eight new radio range finding stations in the state, which, with those already in service there, will project a cross-cross of signals to guide flyers from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande valley and from East Texas thickets to New Mexico.

NEW REMEDY FOR UGLY HUSBANDS

When your husband (or wife) gets cross, ugly and grouchy, when he finds fault with the coffee, the eggs, the bacon, and the cook, you may well suspect that he has a touch of biliousness or so-called "torpid liver," as prevalent in hot weather.

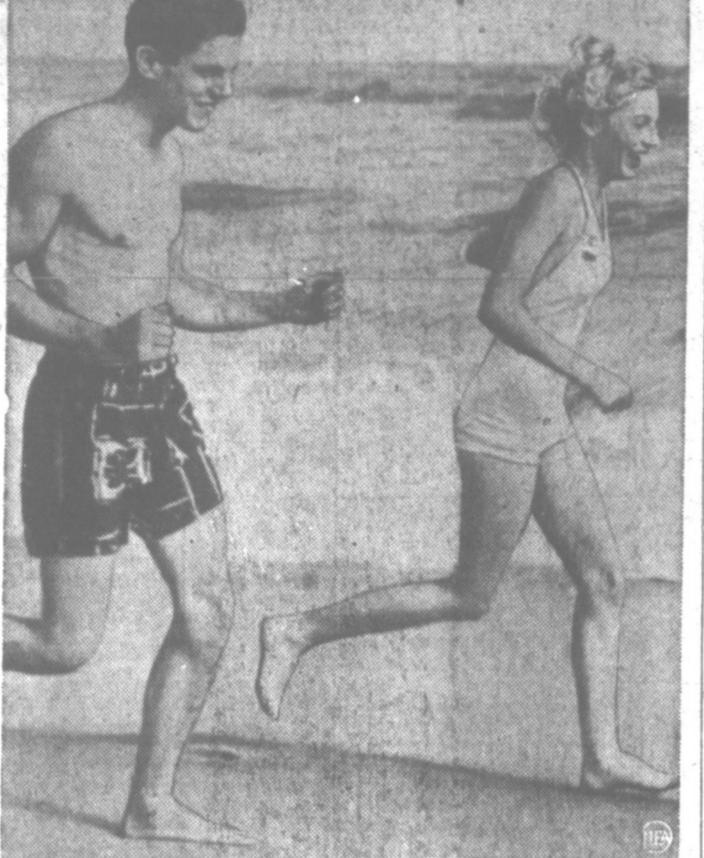

All he may need to set him straight is a little Calolab, or better still, Calolabs, the improved calomel compound tablets that make calomel-taking a pleasure.

Calolabs give you the combined effects of calomel and salts, helping nature to expel the sour, stagnant bile and washing it out of the system. One or two Calolabs at bedtime with a glass of water—that's all. Next morning your system feels clean and clear, your humor is clear, your appetite is good, and you are as good as new.

Calolabs are available in white packages and at all drug stores. Buy them at once.

CUPID STAYS IN THE RUNNING

In case you're interested in the rich girl-poor boy romance that cheered the country in June, here is evidence that it's coming along merrily.

CITY COMMISSION 'CALLS TIME' TO GET RESULTS OF ELECTION

City commissioners became so interested in the result of the water revenue bond election last night that they took a half-hour recess to await the announcement of the election.

Meeting at 8 p. m., just as the polls closed, the commission passed two orders, then marked time waiting for election returns.

After announcement of the approval of the issuance of the bonds by a vote of 359 for to 136 opposed, the commission resumed its session, passed the dance hall ordinance, and adjourned about 11 o'clock.

In the first part of the meeting, the commission voted to accept the bid of nine cents a foot of the Monarch Construction company of Pampa for the digging of a 1,100-foot ditch, 42 inches deep and 24 inches wide to connect water well No. 4 with the 80,000 barrel storage tank. Total cost of the job, which includes back-filling, is $99.

Preceding the acceptance of the bid, the commission approved a contract between the city and J. M. Saunders for the purchase of caliche at three cents a cubic yard to be used in Pampa street improvements.

The plan for an enlarged waterworks system includes the drilling of two additional water wells in the south part of the city, making a total of six wells in all, the jooeping of dead end water lines taking up inadequate mains in both the residential and business portions of the city, and the construction of an overhead storage tank near the airport.

While improvement of both production and distribution of water is contemplated, the major portion of the funds will be used for distribution.

As a whole the project is designed to provide adequate water facilities for a city of 25,000, a population that Pampa is expected to have within a few years.

Plans for an enlarged and improved waterworks system have resulted from Pampa's low water supply. In 1930 the city had three water wells, each with a potential of 800 gallons a minute. Today, the potential has been reduced to 400 gallons a minute for each well, putting Pampa on a verge of a water shortage.

At a meeting of the Pampa Kiwanis club last Friday, Mayor E. S. Carr declared that if one of the city's present three wells were to be shut down, there would not be a sufficient water supply 36 hours later to put out a bonfire.

In an effort to end bitter fighting along the Russian Siberia-Japanese Manchoukuo frontier.

The fighting still was in progress today between large forces of well-equipped troops, with airplanes and tanks, and it was felt in authoritative circles that the exchange of gun fire marked the first round of the Far East's second unofficial war.

A foreign office spokesman said Japan hoped to localize the trouble and settle it by the diplomatic steps, but the presence of large forces in the frontier area indicated the battle which began Sunday might be merely a prelude to major operations.

Those who held that a second undeclared war in the Orient had begun argued that Russia had been near financial collapse.

And "now or never moment" had arrived to fight a preventive war against forestal attack by Japan in the future.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Aug. 3. (AP)—Little buying in gold mining shares imparted a flicker of life to a sleepy stock market today.

When the market drifted into a stalemate when the market drifted into a stalemate after prices rose and fell in gentle swings in the forenoon. Dealings entered one of the quietest periods since the routine June upswing started.

Speculation in the golds centered on Alaska Juneau, Homestake, McIntyre and Dome, all up fractions to more than a point.

Moderately lower most of the day were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Westinghouse Electric General Motors, New York Central, Anaconda Copper, Western Union, Briggs and National Cash Register. Higher most of the time were American Can, Douglas Aircraft, National Distillers and American smelting.

Stocks approximated 860,000 shares.

Commodity prices were uneven in a dull market.

PRIZE SETTER-MOTHER TO DUROC JERSEY PIG

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 3. (AP)—What next? Collett Mayfield, Nashville lawyer and sportsman, wondering that today in revealing that his prize female setter bird, "Teddy," had been mothering a Red Duroc Jersey pig for eight weeks.

Born during a severe rainstorm two months ago, the pig was the lone survivor of a little flock on the farm of Mayfield's father in Maury county.

Mayfield said some of the fellows down at the farm were wondering if the pig would point birds when "he grows up." A few of the boys believe, too, that he "will make a good coon 'dog'."

U. S. BLIND GIRL URGES KING TO FREE HER DOG

LONDON, Aug. 3. (AP)—Hazel Hurst, 22-year-old blind American, appealed to King George VI and American Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy today to waive British animal quarantine restrictions which prevent her from taking her Alsatian dog-guide into England.

She rejected the offer of a one-eyed man to have his eye transferred to her by surgical means. She also refused the offer of a British guide dog.

"The blind girl telegraphed King George: 'Making my last appeal to your majesty to permit me and my 'seeing eye' to enter your country. My dog is my eyes. I know you can help me.'"

"What seems to have escaped attention is that the law regarding the importation of dogs provides for quarantine except in the case of performing dogs, exhibition and breeding dogs or dogs imported for other special purposes," the News Chronicle declared.

"Could not guidance for the blind be considered as a special purpose?" the newspaper asked.

Gray county several thousands of dollars monthly and will eliminate the hazard of the loss of a bridge from flood waters. The action will open the way for work in the Texas Legislature to have the balance due on the bond of the road and the road of Pampa.

The highway will no doubt carry more traffic when it is placed upon the Texas system and can be advertised through the state highway maps.

County Judge Sherman White presented the matter to the commission calling attention to a recent traffic count made by Gray county which showed traffic of over 1800 cars daily over the road.

In company with 27 representatives from eight counties, the Gray county delegation appeared in San Antonio Monday seeking an immediate survey of the proposed 8-18 north south road from Clarendon to Turkey. This request was granted. The commission was advised that the number 1 objective of the highway association is designation and construction between Clarendon and Turkey, that number 2 objective is designation and construction from Pampa east on U. S. 60 for nine miles, north across Roberts and Ochiltree counties through Perryton to the Oklahoma line; objective 3 construction in Kent and Val Verde counties; and objective 4 one Texas highway number from Perryton to Del Rio.

San Braswell, Clarendon newspaper publisher, served as chairman of the 8-18 delegation. Speakers included: State Representative Max Boyer, Perryton; State Representative Bob Alexander, Childress; State Representative C. L. Harris, Dickens; and Geo. Barber, Sweetwater BCD manager.

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce was largely instrumental in organizing the large delegation which appeared in the 8-18 delegation, which was one of the largest delegations that appeared on the dockets.

Saturday, the Gray county delegation appeared with fifteen representatives from Berger, Stinnett, and Dumas to seek an immediate survey and early construction from Stinnett to Dumas on the Oil Field Highway. The immediate survey was ordered and Chairman Robert Lee Bobbitt and Commissioner Harry Hines stated the construction was to be programmed for 1940. They likewise promised to start construction in the present program in the event sufficient funds are left available from other projects.

H. N. Pruitt, Berger Chamber of Commerce manager served as chairman of the Oil Field Highway delegation. Other speakers included: Moore County Judge Noel McDade; Reno Stinson, and Sherman White of Pampa; M. Wallace, Shamrock Oil & Gas Co., Dumas; Hutchinson County Judge Norman Coffee; and Ed Willis, secretary of the Dumas Chamber of Commerce.

The city secretary will issue licenses, subject to approval of the city commission. Licenses are granted for a period of not less than one year. Operators refused a license have the privilege of a hearing before the city commission within not less than 30 days after date of refusal.

In securing a license, operators are asked to file information concerning their place with the city secretary. The dance hall is to be inspected by the chief of police, chief of the fire department, city health officer, and building inspector, who are to report on whether the hall meets the requirements of their departments.

Charged with requiring compliance with the law are the police, fire, and health departments of the city. Free access is to be granted to dance halls at all times when they are on official duty.

"Taxi" dance halls are specifically barred.
No dance hall can remain open during the hours from 1 a. m. to 7 a. m. except by a special permit from the city manager, which may be granted on special occasions, such as during a convention.

CALVERT BACKS MANN

DALLAS, Aug. 3. (AP)—Bob Calvert of Hillsboro, eliminated in the first primary as a candidate for attorney general, announced today his active support of Gerald C. Mann for the place. Calvert said here he would take an active part in the runoff campaign and expected to make some speeches for him.

WOOL CROP ESTIMATE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimated the 1938 wool crop today to be about the same increase over last year's crop. This is about 2,000,000 pounds more than in 1937.

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

CANADIAN MAN TESTIFIES ON FREIGHT RATES

C. H. Smith of Canadian, manager of the Farmers Grain & Feed Co., representing 500 farmers in four counties, testified that an increase in freight rates will decrease railroad revenues, at an Interstate Commerce Commission meeting in El Paso yesterday.

The ICC is taking testimony on the railroad's petition asking the Texas commission to enforce rate increases for interstate shipping.

El Paso shippers told the commission at the hearing yesterday that El Paso trade territory shrank during the past 15 years because of increased freight rates.

J. H. Pierson, Mowden-Dunnagan-Ryan company traffic manager, and G. W. Frytzman, manager of the Southwestern East & Door co., said their areas had been limited by a gradual increase in rates.

Pierson testified that an increasing number of competitors of his firm are using trucks.

Trucking of cattle to Fort Worth has increased from 13.5 per cent in 1930 to 73.7 per cent in 1937, testified C. A. Stewart of the Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers association of Fort Worth.

Argentina proclaimed its independence of Spain, July 9, 1816, and then suffered from a civil war for 36 years.
