

"A long time was needed to arrive at the conclusion that coercion is a mistake, and only a part of the world is yet convinced. That conclusion, so far as I can judge, is the most important ever reached by men. It was the issue of a continuous struggle between authority and reason." —James H. Bury

Teacher Pay Raise May Be in Making

AUSTIN (UPI) — Legislative leaders believe they have found a way to give Texas school teachers a $725-a-year pay raise and still avoid new taxes this session, the sponsor said today.

Rep. George Hinson, D-Mineola, said the amount of the raise will depend on whether the legislature finally adopts a one- or two-year spending bill, but the raise will be no less than the $725 a month average.

Hinson's bill is scheduled for House action Tuesday.

He said legislators will approve the bill, then either send it to a conference committee or let it "hang in abeyance" in the Senate until a final draft of the budget is agreed upon.

If a one-year spending bill is okayed, teachers will be allocated $61.9 million for a pay hike, Hinson said. That amount—compared to $69 million needed for the original proposal to boost teachers' pay by $775 a year—would assure average hikes of $725 a year in fiscal 1970.

Hinson said he will try to pin-legislators down to financing the remainder of the 10-year pay program in fiscal 1971, including making up for the "cut" planned to make the one-year spending bill possible.

"It's not a matter of that being the amount that's acceptable," Hinson said. "That's just all we can squeeze out of it unless we have a tax bill."

Not Much Squawk

He said if lawmakers are asked to pass a tax bill, he will make a "strong bid" to get the entire teacher pay package financed.

"As long as we can obligate the legislature to the rest of the program the second year, there shouldn't be much to squawk about," Hinson said.

He said the move by Speaker Gus F. Mutscher and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes to avoid new taxes will cost teachers "very little."

He said the result of one-year budgeting would be:

—To cut the amount of pay increases for the first year by about $7 a month.

Year Delays

—Delay for one year a planned 20 per cent increase in transportation allowances to school districts.

—Delay for a year a proposed 10 per cent hike in maintenance and operating funds for school districts.

If money is available, Hinson said he will accept an amendment to his bill that would "give the bigger school districts a break" on the number of (See TEACHER, Page 3)

US Paratroopers Lose Hamburger Hill Battle

U.S., Vietnamese Claim Progress In Peace Talks

PARIS (UPI)—American and South Vietnamese negotiators displayed hopeful spirits today over signs of apparent progress in the Vietnam talks.

The reason for optimism was that both sides have presented peace programs that contain several points on which aims appear to be similar, although approaches and methods may differ.

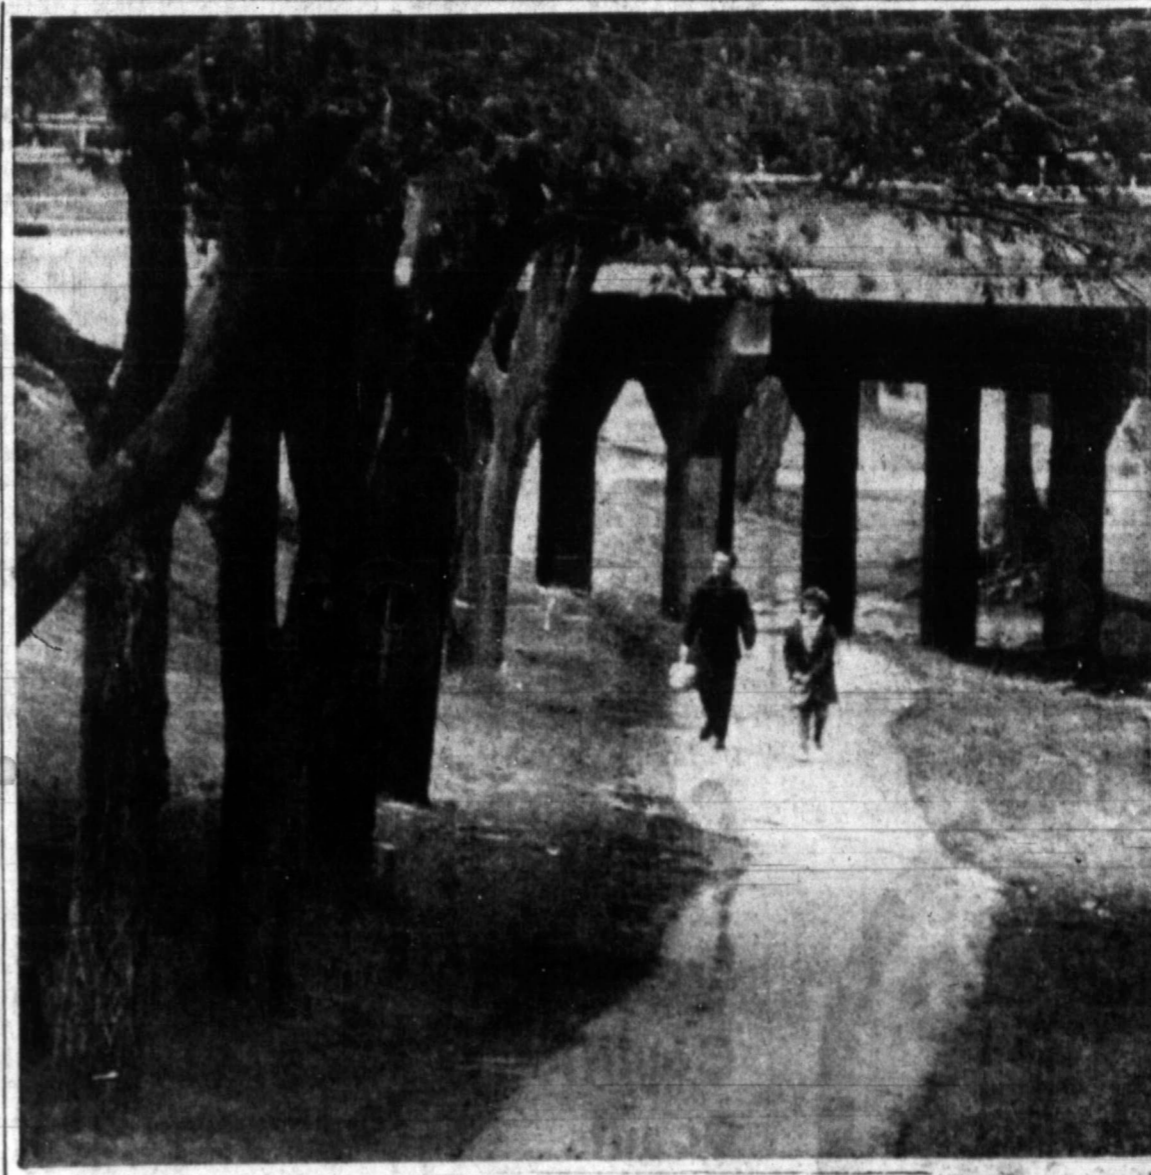

The United States and South Vietnamese negotiators planned a series of meetings before Thursday's 18th formal session, and an American spokesman said the Communists "should have come to grips" with the U.S. peace plan by then.

The American plan is the eight-point program presented by President Nixon Wednesday. Eleven days ago the Communists offered their own 10-point program developed by the National Liberation Front (NLF), political arm of the Viet Cong.

"We have a great deal of work ahead of us, obviously," said one Allied diplomat.

One obvious piece of work was the gap between the two sides on the question of troop withdrawals.

The Communist program calls for U.S. withdrawal "without any condition whatsoever."

IT'S SCENIC ROUTE—With the close of school almost here, Bill Baker, 12, and Sharon Cook, 8, won't be using the winding trail through Central Park on their way to Sam Houston Elementary School much longer. Instead the two youngsters may be found playing along the trail which is shaded by trees on the north and bordered by Red Deer Creek on the south. Combined with the vertical columns of the bridge in the background it makes a scenic route for walking to school or just relaxing with a nice stroll through the park. Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Baker, 303 E. Browning. Sharon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cook, 437 Hill.

American Casualties Doubled

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. paratroopers fought to within 150 feet of North Vietnamese troops dug in atop 3,000-foot "Hamburger Hill" Sunday before being forced to pull back by heavy mortar and machinegun fire, military sources reported today.

Other U.S. military sources disclosed that American combat deaths almost doubled last week, the first week of what they called the Communist summer offensive. Capture of Viet Cong documents said one of the primary aims of the intensified campaign was to inflict heavy American casualties to put pressure on U.S. negotiators at the peace talks in Paris.

"Hamburger Hill" in the Shau Valley near the border with Laos has been the scene of heavy fighting for more than a week.

The North Vietnamese were entrenched in deep bunkers with rifle-slit openings through which they fired machinegun, rocket grenades and rifle hand grenades down the slope into the ranks of the Americans. U.S. fighter-bombers and artillery have pounded the North Vietnamese positions but have failed to drive them to the peak.

U.S. spokesmen said at least 12 paratroopers were killed and 79 more wounded in 13 hours of fighting in drenching rain Sunday. They said at least 1 North Vietnamese were killed before the paratroops were forced to pull back to regroup and obtain new supplies of ammunition.

The Americans have dubbed the peak "Hamburger Hill" because of the bloody fighting. Military sources said American deaths nearly doubled 340 last week while the number of Communists killed in the same period rose from 3,038 the previous week to 5,611.

South Vietnamese battalions losses were the heaviest in comparison. The sources said 537 South Vietnamese troops died compared to 182 the previous week.

U.S. combat deaths the previous week before the offensive totaled 184.

The U.S. command does not officially release its casualty report until Thursday. The official report includes the wounded.

Allied military officials acknowledged today for the first time that the latest surge of Communist shelling and (See PARATROOPERS, Page 2)

Magna Carta Is Facing Modification

LONDON (UPI)—First, they dismantled London Bridge and abolished the farthing. Now progress is whittling that oak of English tradition, the Magna Carta.

The Magna Carta? Yes. The House of Lords receives the draft of a bill Tuesday that would repeal all but two of the original 37 articles forced upon King John 754 years ago by rebellious noblemen.

The bill would also remove from the records a 300-year-old act ordering a search for the murderers of King Charles I.

The streamlining tool, known as the Statute Repeals Bill, it would also do away with 200 ancient laws considered obsolete relics by the framers, such as several acts which declare Sunday must be observed as the Lord's Day and another that makes failure to attend church a punishable offense.

King John signed the original Magna Carta, or Great Charter of Liberties and Privileges, in 1215 under threat of civil war. Revised and modified versions were published under succeeding monarchs in 1216, 1217 and 1225.

The 1225 version issued in the reign of King Henry III is the document upon which English law has been based.

High Court To Study Powell Suit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court returned to the bench today after a two-week recess with an empty chair at Chief Justice Earl Warren's far right.

Justice Abe Fortas' resignation under public criticism left the remaining eight justices with more than 50 cases to decide. Whichever opinions Fortas had written or was writing at the time he yielded to clamor to step down must now be taken over by other members of the court.

Should his departure result in a 4 to 4 vote in some cases, the court will have the choice of hearing them again next term or merely affirming the lower court by a tie vote. Such an affirmation does not set a precedent in the law.

Leading issues now under advisement include the lawsuit of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell against the House of Representatives; proper standards for teacher desegregation in public schools; a racial challenge to private recreation "clubs"; the criminal anarchy laws of New York and Ohio; and important procedural matters relating to capital punishment.

Apollo 10 Flight Smooth

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Apollo 10's astronauts, trailblazers for America's first lunar landing team, sped today toward man's second rendezvous with the moon and his closest look yet at its forbidding surface.

Spacemen Thomas P. Stafford, John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan, all veteran astronauts, blasted away from Cape Kennedy Sunday on a course so precise ground officials cancelled a midcourse correction scheduled for early today.

Relaxing and enjoying their return to space during the three-day, 237,000-mile coast toward moon orbit, they promised a second day of color television from space and planned to take advantage of a second course correction opportunity at 2:22 p.m. CDT.

The three astronauts faced two and a half hectic days circling the moon. Their job was to fly every part of the landing mission except the touchdown, testing the techniques Apollo 11 will use for a July lunar touchdown.

Stafford, who "pushed and did a little kicking" to get a color TV camera aboard his craft, presented 72 minutes of the first live color telecasts ever sent back from space Sunday afternoon.

It was more than four times the amount of television officially scheduled—a single show lasting 15 minutes. Again today only one show was officially scheduled, at 4:04 p.m. for 15 minutes, but Stafford said he would leave the camera on as much as possible.

The three TV shows Sunday concentrated mainly on the planet Apollo 10 had left behind—a bright blue earth marbled by white clouds and yellow-brown or orange continents, sharply etched against the ink blackness of space.

Right On Time

The astronauts blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 11:49 p.m. Sunday, right on time, setting a record for Stafford. A veteran of two Gemini flights, he had never launched in space on schedule before.

Congress to Study Extending Surcharge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress this week starts considering whether the income tax increase that took an extra bite out of paychecks last year should continue nibbling at earnings for the last six months of this year.

The surcharge—the extra 10 per cent tax individuals and corporations had to pay on their regular tax when they filed their returns earlier this year—expires July 1. President Nixon wants it to remain in effect until Dec. 31 so that it will cover all income earned during the calendar year.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, warned however the surtax extension is in difficulty in the House unless there is a provision attached to it for tax relief for the poor.

Mills made the comment in a copyrighted interview in the current issues of U.S. News and World Report.

In the Senate, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the surtax extension should be tied to a spending limit tighter than the one Nixon has already opposed as too severe.

Budget Director Robert F.

Mayo told Congress last week the administration has already put the budget "through the wringer" and there is little room left for more cuts. He hinted any reductions demanded by Congress might come in programs such as construction projects popular with the lawmakers.

On the same day the Ways and Means Committee takes up the surcharge, it will also look at a $3.8 billion money bill to which has been attached a new-style spending limit to make the President stick to his promised hold on spending.

The money measure coming up this week also carries a rider which provides for $1.9 million to cover the 41 per cent pay raises the lawmakers voted themselves, effective March 1.

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., who feels the $12,500 increase is excessive, is ready with an amendment that would specify only half of the raise should be paid.

Findley admitted his chances of success are minimal. No roll call vote on his proposal is possible and it appeared unlikely he could win approval for a taller vote.

$50 Million Sub Goes to Salvage

VALLEJO, Calif. (UPI)—The $50 million nuclear submarine USS Guitarr, which sank at dockside while undergoing final fittings, was refloated Sunday by salvage crews at the San Francisco Bay naval shipyard.

The Navy still has declined to speculate on the cause of the accident. The 4,640-ton vessel went to the bottom in five minutes Thursday night, but 20 workmen scrambled to safety with nothing worse than wet feet.

The Guitarr, an advance model of Sturgeon class submarines, settled in 24 feet of water, with about 10 feet of the conning tower remaining visible. There was no danger of nuclear contamination because the reactor was not yet installed.

The refloating Sunday was accomplished after divers sealed the hatches and attached hoses to pumps on the surface. It took about 24 hours to empty enough water from the sub's compartments so it would rise.

Jordan, Israeli Troops Clash

By United Press International

Jordanian and Israeli troops battled with artillery in two separate encounters across the Jordan River cease-fire line today, a Jordanian spokesman said.

Amman Radio quoted a military communique that said Israeli guns opened fire on a Jordanian patrol in the South Jordanian Valley four miles north of the Dead Sea. It said Jordanian forces returned fire.

In the second clash, Israeli troops fired long-range guns at Jordanian troops one mile north of the Dead Sea, the spokesman said.

The spokesman said there were no Jordanian casualties but three Israeli vehicles were destroyed and Israelis suffered wounded.

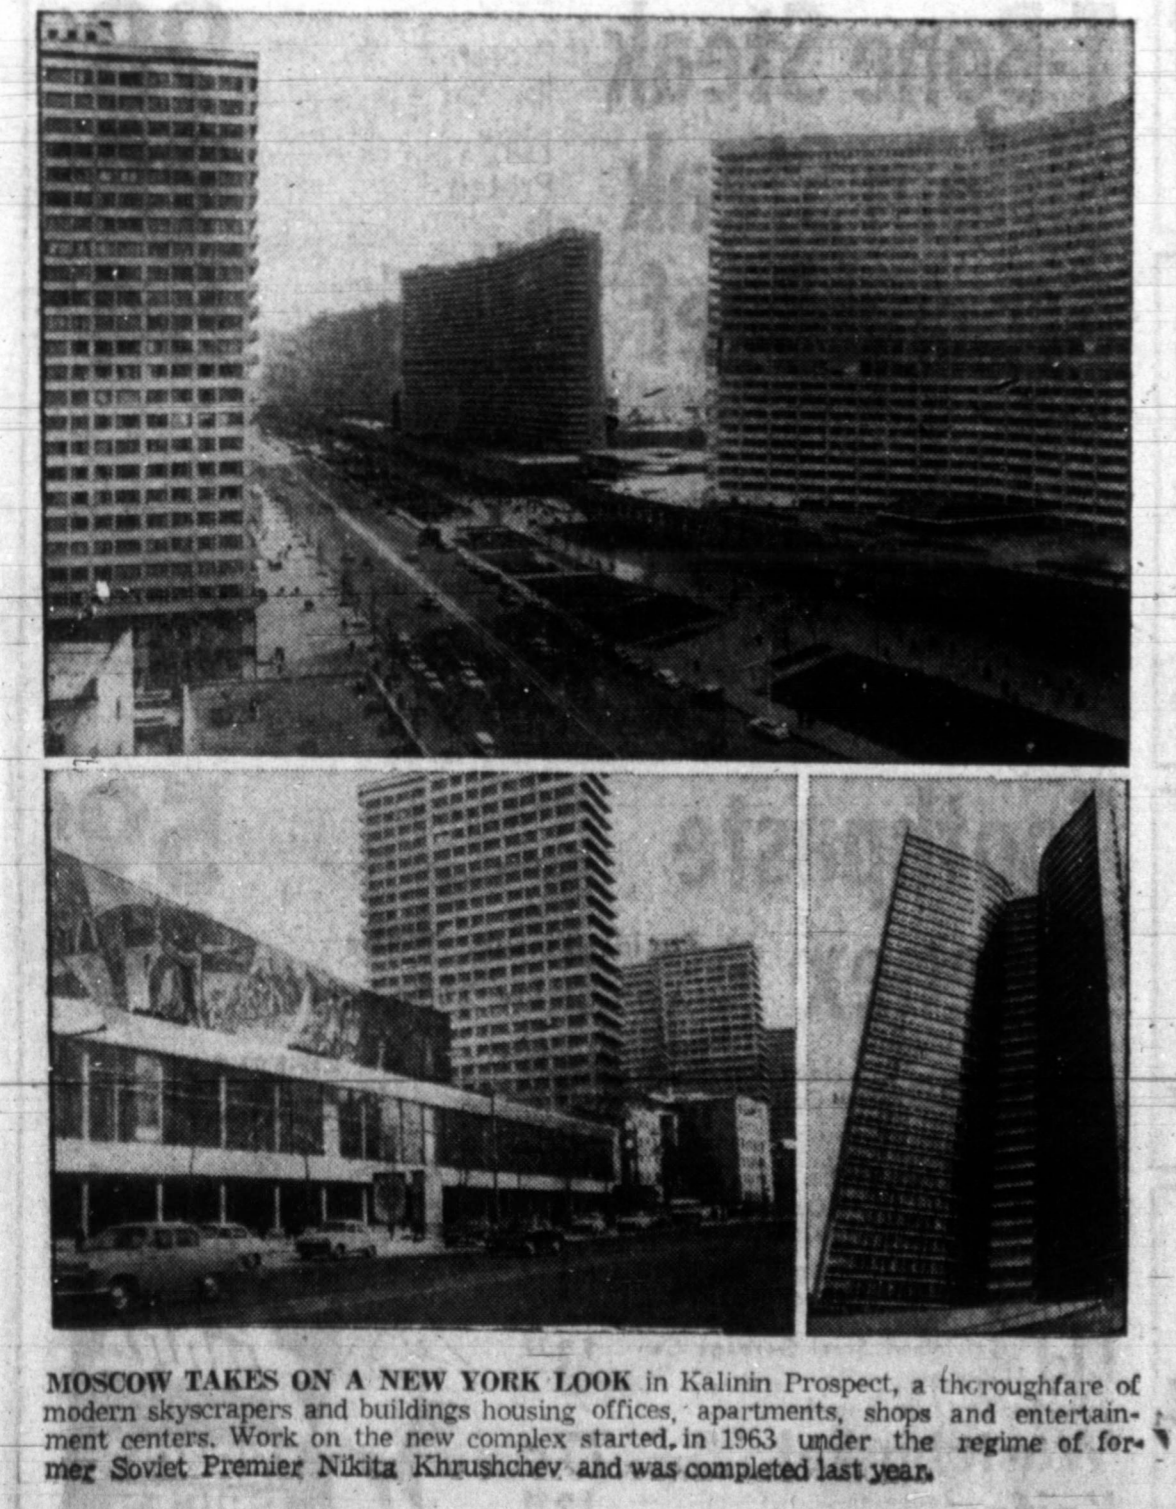

Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged fire for almost four hours in the same areas Sunday.

Blaiberg Shows 'Good Progress' From Ailment

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI)—Philip Blaiberg, the world's longest surviving heart transplant patient, was making "good progress" today at Groote Schuur Hospital, doctors said.

Blaiberg, 59, who received his new heart 16 months ago, was admitted Friday to the hospital after he was reported to have suffered breathing difficulties.

Hospital spokesmen said the dentist had a good night Sunday, was eating well, and making "good progress."

FOR TUESDAY, MAY 20
YOUR BIRTHDAY Tuesday:
—Change and expansion are indicated for the coming year. Your way of doing things can be perfected and marketed. Projects you had thought impossible may turn out to be the normal thing to do. Your private life is apt to be difficult. Tuesday's natives develop dramatic talents in maturity, sometimes stage, but usually for public affairs.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19):
—New people and visiting relatives and other circumstances keep you on the jump Tuesday with little privacy. Firm contracts are still not favored.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): —Get onto the job bright and early. Both old and new work moves smoothly under your drive, but concentrate on the old work first.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20): —Most people are not ready to agree with you. Wait for another time. Concentrate on matters that do not require much outside help. Romantic interests are not favored, will thrive better if put off.
CANCER (June 21-July 22): —Tuesday is not difficult except that business and personal relations are a bit sensitive. You should depend more than usual on your own determination. Romance is a bit beyond reach, somehow.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): —Boasting will backfire. The quiet and dignified approach is essential. For once, rest on your laurels, doing just the minimum. (Retire early).

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): —Now there is a real need for your cooperation with people you care about. Put aside petty differences; don't demand so much. Romantic interests should be held in abeyance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): —It is up to you whether you let Tuesday drift into squabbles and diversion of energy or whether you can focus on some creative action. Independent work fares best.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): —Your recovery powers are a bit low temporarily, so don't overdo any difficult chores. Other people's support seems quite beyond your reach now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): —Personal relationships diverge from the expectable and may become confused. Put off serious negotiations for long-term contracts and the like.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): —You are likely to be your own poorest representative. Everybody else wants to be a bit out-of-touch or disinterested, whereas you are full of energy and doing your best to organize everything.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): —Just do the routine thing for now as impersonally as you can. Nobody else wants to stir up much action so don't expect fluent or smooth cooperation.

By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am sure that my husband is running around with another woman. Is there any way I can find out who she is? I can't afford to hire a private detective right now, but as soon as my boyfriend comes back from Viet Nam I will be in better financial shape, as he says in his letters he is doing very well over there.

So please let me know if there is some kind of detective outfit that will let me pay for their services on time with a small down payment. Thank you.

SUSPICIOUS IN DAN DIEGO
DEAR SUSPICIOUS: I know of no detective agency that "looks now and collects later." Wouldn't it be a whole lot better if you just told your husband about your boyfriend and asked him about his girl friend?

DEAR ABBY: My husband I have been happily married for over a dozen years and have four fine children. Out of the blue, he told me that he had a 16-year-old son! The girl got pregnant while they were both in college. She left school, making no effort to contact him and he never even thought of her again. Then they accidentally met three weeks ago at an airport terminal.

She told him about their "son" (I'll call him "Buddy"), and that she was married.

Buddy has been legally adopted by her husband. She said she was glad she ran into him as she had been having her problems with Buddy and maybe he could help.

Buddy wrote my husband a letter telling him all about himself and he ends up with, "I would like to come and visit you." My husband says he has no feelings about the boy one way or the other, but he'd have no objections to having him visit us, and he hopes I wouldn't have.

No one in our community knows about this, and I prefer to keep it that way. I certainly don't want our children to find out. I can't have Buddy visiting us without answering a lot of questions.

Abby, this woman and her son went about their own business for 16 years. My husband had forgotten her, and now she reappears to upset every thing. Thank God we live 1,000 miles apart. What is the right thing to do in this matter? Your advice is badly needed.

PLEASE, NO NAME
DEAR NO NAME: Urge your husband to realize that his first consideration should be you and your children. If he really wants to see Buddy, he should meet him somewhere, but for the boy to visit your home would be unfair and unwise.

DEAR ABBY: After my umpteenth argument with my mother, I flounced out of the house and headed for the back porch, where I sat brooding. A newspaper lying nearby caught my eye. Picking it up, I began idly looking through until I came to Dear Abby's column of advice. "Maybe other people's problems will make mine seem less bad," I thought, starting to read. Suddenly I was stopped by your answer to one problem, which seemed to have been especially written for me. It said: "It's the same old story; you can abuse a mother, neglect her, but you can win her back with only four words, 'Mom, I love you.'"

I hurried back into the house. My mother was seated at the kitchen table, looking so tired and dejected, it cut me up. I went over to her, put my arms around her and said, "Mom, I love you."

Without a word she hugged me tight, then burst into tears. And before I knew it, I was crying, too, and we both had a good cry together.

Since then we get along much better—perhaps because I always find a way to say, "Mom, I love you."

ALABAMA TEEN-AGER
DEAR ABBY: The lady from Kansas who didn't know if she should call the police because the neighbor's kids were shooting birds in her backyard should have called a federal marshal.

Song birds are protected by law, and it is a federal offense to shoot one. Usually you need only to mention this to a kid with a gun to scare him out of this evil practice forever.

Sincerely yours,

Sheriff's Raid In Dallas Nets Gun, Money Haul DALLAS (UPI)—A series of raids which ended Sunday netted sheriff's officers 11 suspects, $5,000 in counterfeit money, $4,000 in stolen money orders, $20,800 in illegal guns and ammunition, and a large quantity of drugs and narcotics. Sheriff Bill Decker said the raids have broken the back of a large crime ring operating in Dallas. The five raids began Friday night and ended Sunday morning. The action began, according to Decker, when officers, acting on a tip headed toward an East Dallas residence. Near the house, they spotted a known narcotics addict in a stolen car. Officers arrested the man and two companions after a high speed chase. According to the officers, the man said he had taken part in about 200 house robberies in recent months and had sold the loot to finance a narcotics habit. At the same time, other deputies raided the East Dallas home, arresting two suspects and seizing a quantity of heroin. Outside, they arrested a 32-year-old owner of a printing company who confessed to printing the counterfeit $10 bills. The printer took deputies to an isolated home in Denton County where police uncovered the counterfeit money, printing plates and $4,040 in stolen money orders which the man said he purchased from a burglar with counterfeit money.

Cyclist Hurt After Collision With Big Dog A Pampa woman was cited Sunday for permitting a dog to run loose after a German Shepherd which she owns, caused a motorcycle to go out of control, causing an accident. The accident occurred Sunday afternoon in the 500 block of N. Zimmers. Olen Harris said he was riding his motorcycle north on Zimmers when the dog, weighing about 85 pounds, began pursuing the vehicle and snapping at the driver's legs. Finally the dog ran in front of the motorcycle causing the accident. Harris was removed to Highland General Hospital where he was treated for a shoulder injury, plus bruises and lacerations. The dog's owner, apparently unaware of the ordinance, said she had let the animal run loose "most of the time."

EXPLOSION RECORDED UPPSALA, Sweden (UPI)—An underground explosion, apparently a Soviet nuclear weapons test, was recorded Friday by the Uppsala Seismological Institute. Experts said the blast apparently occurred in Siberia.

Teacher (Continued From Page 1) teacher units they are allocated. He said such an amendment, lowering the teacher-pupil ratio, would mean about $1.7 million a year to Dallas schools and about $2 million to Houston. Return Not Needed He said if he can "pin the legislature down" to the long-range teacher pay program, "it will mean that there won't be any need for teachers to come back to the legislature to ask for pay raises for eight to 10 years." Yearly 5 per cent pay hikes, plus cost of living increases, would "certainly keep them up to the national average," Hinson said. The pay raise bill has enough co-sponsors in both the House and Senate to insure its passage.

Apollo (Continued From Page 1) one is a real ride," Cernan radioed the ground. He said it was "smooth as silk" until time for the Saturn first stage to drop away, and that then "all hell breaks loose." "Just like old times," observed Young, also a veteran of two Gemini flights, when Apollo 10 paused for two hours in a parking orbit around the earth. But the real shouts of wonder came after the astronauts rocketed out of earth orbit toward the moon at 24,000 miles an hour. "What a way to watch a sunrise," Cernan exclaimed when Apollo 10 shot into sunlight from behind earth's dark night side. "That world is incredible." And Stafford, struck by the way the earth shrank quickly behind him, told flight controllers: "The world is fading away." The astronauts carried with them flags of all 117 members of the United Nations, including the Soviet Union, two flags for each of the 50 states and perhaps even 10 Oklahoma flags smuggled aboard by Stafford. The astronauts pulled their command ship free of the Saturn top stage, turned around and eased back in to hook the fragile moon lander on their craft's nose. Then they pulled the moon lander away from the Saturn, which was fired out to orbit the sun. First Color TV This maneuver provided the first color TV scenes from space, and it was broadcast around the world. The "Snoopy" space machine showed up silver out of the command ship window. The pictures were so sharp numbers on the red-rimmed window in the lander were clearly visible. Later Stafford aimed the tiny camera out his window at the earth, showing the entire Western Hemisphere shrouded in swirling clouds and a solid bank of white clouds over Alaska. Oceans were bright blue. Land masses peeked out orange between the clouds. "See the rocky mountains sticking out there," Cernan said. "There's Baja California. I can't tell if you have any smog (at Houston, but Alaska's pretty well socked in)." The astronauts told Houston controllers even "the smog over Los Angeles" was visible from 26,000 miles in space. Sunday's best show was an unscheduled telecast late in the afternoon which was monitored in Mission Control but did not go out live to home viewers. Stafford switched from the earth to the inside of "Charlie Brown," taking a look at life in space.

Paratroopers (Continued From Page 1) tacks was part of their long-heralded "summer offensive." In documents telling of plans for the campaign, the Communists said one of its main aims was to inflict heavy enough U.S. casualties to force Allied concessions at the Paris peace talks. "The Communists' summer offensive was launched on the night of May 11-12," a communique from the South Vietnamese high command said today. UPI learned of the contents of the communique which goes out in the form of weekly military analysis to South Vietnamese field commanders. Four American planes were lost in a series of accidents. The Communists fought from bunkers with narrow gun ports from which they kept up a steady machine gun and rocket fire at men of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division. At least 12 Americans were killed and 60 wounded compared with at least 125 North Vietnamese dead. Three U.S. planes and eight Americans were lost Sunday in a fiery refueling collision over the South China Sea, military spokesmen said today. The planes carrying the flyers exploded and the men were listed as missing. Two other airmen parachuted safely from the third plane. In another accident, a U.S. Air Force C123 cargo plane crashed near Saigon, killing all six men aboard. The Americans nicknamed Ap Bia Mountain in the northern A Shau Valley "Hamburger Hill" because of the blood shed over it. The peak is near the Laotian border.

Three Fail In Robbery Stephen W. Wooten lost his billfold containing important papers when three men attempted to rob him near the Satellite Club, 1232 E. Foster. The three who had persuaded Wooten to get into a car with them, said the others had demanded his money. He resisted and they failed to find it where it was stowed in his trouser pockets, he told police. Noise of the affray caused bystanders to call the police department. Patrolman Roger Scott investigated. Wooten said he believed he could identify his assailants and was driven to the area where he had been attacked. He did not file charges, however, noting that he wanted only his billfold.

Gray-Roberts Teachers to Enjoy Ice Cream Pampa Classroom Teachers Association and Gray-Roberts Unit of Texas State Teachers Association will sponsor the annual homemade ice cream supper at 7 p.m. today in Central Park. Girlstown Due Help From CWA

The cash donor whose name is drawn at CWA headquarters June 2 will receive 30 full books of trading stamps, it is noted by Mrs. Pat Wilhelm, who is directing the telephone workers' campaign. The plan is to collect trading stamps for the drawing and also to obtain as many donations of 50 cents each as possible to add to the Borger Girlstown building fund. The Communications Workers of America Local 6128 has adopted the Girlstown project as a special cause. The home for underprivileged girls at Borger now houses only six who are currently housed in two old buildings. These structures are being reconstructed. Local 6128 has a total of 670 members in the area, the membership including 90 per cent of the Pampa employe total. Already Mrs. Wilhelm has collected 450 donations and other members also are working as hard at the project. Each donation is worth one ticket and a possible 30 books of stamps. Mrs. Wilhelm notes that special donations are eagerly sought, such as from businesses in the city.

More-Lumps for DDT

One of the dirtiest words in the lexicon of conservationists (particularly when the compound word identifies, is used indiscriminately) has somewhat more than four letters — dichlorodiphenyltrichloroethane.

Since World War II, when DDT first began being used extensively, traces of the water-soluble insecticide have spread to every corner of the globe, even as far from civilization as Antarctica, where it has been detected in the bodies of penguins.

In the early 1960's, ornithologists in America and Europe became aware some birds of prey, such as the eagle, osprey and hawk, were experiencing repeated nesting failures and that catastrophic decline in their populations was underway. Subsequent investigations revealed an upset in the calcium metabolism of the birds, attributed to DDT, causing them to lay fragile, thin-shelled eggs.

According to Science magazine, other studies have found that DDT has lethal or sublethal effects on a whole range of organisms, from microscopic phytoplankton, the primary food source for sea life, to some mammals. DDT is almost indestructible, passing and accumulating from one organism to another through the chain of life.

The Arizona Pesticide Control Board has banned the use of DDT in commercial agriculture for one year because of fears of excessive residues in livestock and food crops.

In Pennsylvania, a state Senate investigating committee has recommended after seven-month study that "hard pesticides" like DDT be banned in the state.

What may be a landmark challenge to DDT and another pesticide, dieldrin, has been launched in Wisconsin. There, a Long Island-based conservation group, the Environmental Defense Fund, is pitting all the scientific evidence it can muster against the equally persuasive arguments the agricultural chemical industry is expected to present.

It is possible, however, that the DDT controversy may become moot by some of the more recent research that created it. In its report, the Pennsylvania committee stated enough progress had been made in the development of other products that the continued use of DDT-type substances was "no longer necessary or desirable."

This may be the answer to the threat of DDT.

And it's quite likely that the "development of other products" was researched and carried out by the market place responding to widespread demand, rather than by some political "investigating committee" intent on garnering votes next election.

View from the Left

The senator surprised many outside his clique when he chose recently to sit on the Government Operations Committee in preference to retaining his membership on the influential Senate-Foreign-Relations Committee.

Some observers of the Washington scene interpret McCarthy's choice as his announcement that he will organize an active program of highly publicized investigations. These investigations may, conceivably, pinpoint needed reforms in government. They will certainly be utilized to enhance the prestige of the New Left's top governmental representative.

The general outlook of McCarthy's purist New Left followers may be captured by review of their position on one foreign policy issue and one domestic issue.

In the foreign policy field, these New Leftists appear to take the strongest isolationist position. They say, in effect, the United States should stay out of involvement in war and military action overseas.

McCarthy was expected by some to propound this view in the Foreign Relations Committee meetings. His move to another committee confirms that isolationism is not the core of his foreign policy position, however.

When his followers are pressed to state the principle of their view toward helping some foreign governments, they finally make clear what their stand is. They say the United States should stay out of involvement in military activity which aids "anti-Communist" forces, but should be prepared to support the anti-Fascist and anti-rightist movements. The United States may confront these—but not communism.

In the domestic field, the New Leftists, supposedly support nearly every constitutional guarantee which promotes personal freedom for the individual. At the same time, they support every federal action toward governmental regulation of incomes (guaranteed for everyone), ceiling prices, rationed distribution and production.

A central planning authority, they contend, can improve the lot of all citizens in a free society even if that authority must see to it people take specified jobs, earn specified wages, reside in specified locations, send their children to specified schools and otherwise meet planned quotas and requirements.

Know-How Pays Off

In these inflationary times, it is always a pleasure to report an example of "disinflation," to use the term now favored by economists.

A major maker of home power tools had announced the lowest prices for portable drills in its 59-year history.

The drills are not only lighter, more compact and more powerful but the price is less than half the cost of the first drill for do-it-yourselfers introduced by the company in 1946. In terms of today's so-called dollars, the price is less than a third.

It is also heartening to learn that foreign producers of power tools are not able to compete in the United States because American manufacturers are doing such an effective job of making and marketing these tools.

A power drill is a small item, but it bulks large as an example of what our much-vaunted American know-how can do without benefit of protective tariffs or import quotas.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: What part of the Constitution gives the U. S. Supreme Court the right to overrule the laws of the states, and therefore in truth change the very laws of the states?

ANSWER: The court has no "right" at all other than the rights of any individuals. It has the authority to determine if legislation is in accord with the Constitution and to decide specific enumerated types of cases. The court's powers have been expanded into state matters as a result of the 14th Amendment, legality of which is questioned.

The court has no powers of enforcement, however, and if a state refused to accept a ruling of the Supreme Court there would be nothing the court could do about it. However, since establishment of the national income tax which is used to subsidize state functions, like welfare and schools, a complaint administration and Congress has the power to cut off the subsidies to assure that states obey the court rules. Before the national government gained this power over the purse strings, some states used the doctrine of interposition in which they denied the central government's power to interfere with state matters. Even some Presidents and Congresses refused to accept court rulings. Andrew Jackson once was quoted as saying of the then chief justice, "John Marshall has made his decision now let him enforce it."

The trend of the court to "write laws" however, is not new. Jefferson in 1819 wrote that "... after 20 years' confirmation of the federal system by the voice of the nation... we find the judiciary on every occasion still driving us into consolidation." He also wrote that "The Constitution... is a mere thing of wax in the hands of the judiciary which they may twist and shape into any form they please."

Justice John M. Harlan of the present court has written in one of his dissents: "These decisions give support to a current mistaken view of the constitution and the constitutional principle, and that in a nutshell, is that every major social ill in this country can find its cure in some constitutional 'principle,' and that this court should 'take the lead' in promoting reform when other branches fail to act."

"If the time comes when this court is looked upon by well-meaning people—or worse yet, by the court itself—as the repository of all reforms, I think the seeds of trouble are being sown for this institution."

David Packard, deputy secretary of defense, wrote Vice President Agnew and Speaker McCormack that he had authorized the deficit spending. He acted under a civil war statute, approved in 1861, which permits such deficiencies for a number of military purposes including the "forage" of the troops.

Funds to offset the deficiencies, about $1.6 billion, are already on the way. They are included in a supplemental appropriations bill, however, and the bill is still making its leisurely way through the legislative mill.

The Pentagon's deficiency operation is not unprecedented and might even appear routine under normal circumstances. It is unusual, however, for a supplemental money bill carrying wartime defense funds to be awaiting congressional approval in mid-May.

In theory at least, Congress is supposed to have approved bills for next year's government financing by the time the new business year begins on July 1. That deadline is never met these days, however.

MORE RED FACES? — The same supplemental money bill may provide a new embarrassment for members of the Senate and House who voted themselves that controversial pay raise early this year.

Like the men in the military, members of the House and Senate are paid from funds appropriated for that specific purpose. What with the congressional pay increase, from $30,000-a-year to $42,500, the appropriations for paying the somnolent solons are running low. They may even run out.

Eventually the congressional pay accounts, like the Pentagon deficiencies, will be refinanced by the supplemental appropriations bill when it becomes law. In the meantime, no one expects that congressmen or senators will suffer any payless paydays.

Especially in the Senate, Biblical Rivers — Pishon, Gihon and Hiddekel were the rivers of the Garden of Eden. The Gihon is believed to be the modern Nile; the Hiddekel is the Tigris; and the Pishon may have been the Indus of India or the sea surrounding the Arabian peninsula.

Congress Still Fiddling While Republic Ravels

ROBERT ALLEN

JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — The Nixon administration's syrup-slow start and the indifferent response by Congress are beginning to have their little repercussions elsewhere in government.

No major crisis is in prospect, and the Republic will surely stand. Loose ends are unraveling, however, here and there.

The Pentagon, for example, advised Congress last week that it is overspending in 13 separate military appropriations. The various funds finance pay of the armed services and their operations and maintenance in Vietnam and elsewhere.

David Packard, deputy secretary of defense, wrote Vice President Agnew and Speaker McCormack that he had authorized the deficit spending. He acted under a civil war statute, approved in 1861, which permits such deficiencies for a number of military purposes including the "forage" of the troops.

Funds to offset the deficiencies, about $1.6 billion, are already on the way. They are included in a supplemental appropriations bill, however, and the bill is still making its leisurely way through the legislative mill.

Editor: The truth is finally out. It seems we must have a sales tax in order to continue operating the City. To the proponents of the Canadian River Dam, the truth must now be admitted.

Even if we were using Lake Meredith water we would be in even worse financial condition than we are now facing. Engineers warned, at least told us, that the cost of the lake water would be 30 cents per thousand.

City water cost had been figured at 14 cents per thousand, and now that revenue is gone. To what other source may we now turn? It is represented by city personnel that cost in operating the city can't be further reduced. Perhaps they are right.

The men who reached the decision on the City sales tax may have had their backs against the wall. Now would be a good time for the heavyweight promoters of this water project to come forward and assure us that we are in good condition. As matters look now, it may be another tax upon other taxes.

It seems that the State of Texas Health Dept. finds the Meredith water below drinking standards, as it was found to be long before the bonds for a filter plant were voted.

The way that more bonds will be voted is for experts to show how ruinous it will be financially to Pampa people to continue using well water. All in all, the history of the Lake project is rather a sorry one, but as one prominent citizen has said — "The chickens have come home to roost!" Another old adage might be quoted — "There is none so blind as he who WILL NOT SEE."

THE GLOBAL VIEW

Does Russia Want Peace Or Is It U.S. Pipe Dream?

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst

By the time President Nixon warned Moscow not to employ armed force against the Czechoslovaks the Kremlin's agents and secret police were already in full control in Prague.

Without firing a shot the Russians reversed the liberal trend in Czechoslovakia and upset the balance of power in East and Central Europe.

They also reaffirmed the "validity" of the "Brezhnev doctrine" which, they claim, gives them the right to invade Communist countries where the Marxist-Leninist regimes are ostensibly imperiled, including Red China, Yugoslavia and Romania.

More significant is the fact that the Kremlin leaders pursued their policy of naked aggression even as they were discussing with the Nixon administration control of the arms race, peace in the Middle East, Vietnam and the prospect of a summit meeting.

Ever since the upsurge of dissidence in the Communist countries of East Europe and the outbreak of armed clashes on the Soviet-Chinese border, Moscow has been behaving like a bear with a sore head, striking out angrily in new directions but retaining a certain degree of animal cunning.

The result has been shifts and zigzags in Soviet policy which warrant careful scrutiny by Nixon.

A "detente" with Russia is the target of the President's foreign policy. He has staked much of the success of his "peace offensive" upon his relations and negotiations with Soviet leaders.

What Nixon and his advisers must therefore decide is whether the Russians are actually interested in peace. Or are they merely exploiting the prospect of detente to convince President Tito of Yugoslavia, Ceausescu of Romania and, above all, the West Germans that the United States is likely to make a deal with Russia at their expense?

The question, though not easily answered, is crucial. Is Nixon prepared to pay Russia's price for detente by reacting cautiously to such acts of aggression as North Korea's destruction of the U. S. Navy plane and the Red army's rape of Czechoslovakia?

Admittedly, military retaliation for those acts of aggression is inconceivable. But surely this is not the time to create the impression that Soviet-American co-operation is fast becoming a reality.

This is precisely the impression the Russians are trying to create. They are in trouble in and out of Russia. They have alienated many of their supporters even in the Communist world.

A summit meeting with the United States, or even sufficiently high-level negotiations on bilateral problems such as arms control, would go far to distract the world's attention from the Czechoslovakian tragedy and to improve the prospects of the oft-postponed international Communist conference which Moscow is hoping to stage in June.

Another basic motive of the Kremlin is what Red China may be up to. Canada is already negotiating the establishment of diplomatic relations with Peking. Italy, West Germany and Belgium are likely to follow Canada's lead.

Understandably, the prospect of any such development has caused anxiety in the Kremlin which is trying to keep China isolated.

By holding out the olive branch to the Nixon administration the Russians obviously hope to discourage the United States from recognizing Peking.

As usual the Kremlin's Marxists-Leninists want capitalist America to pull their diplomatic chestnuts out of the fire. But is this in the interest of the United States?

The Communists have always regarded any type of appeasement as a sign of weakness. Surely Nixon understands that appeasement is no substitute for sound diplomacy.

Take These Precautions

If a Tornado Strikes

A tornado is a violent storm characterized by a twisting wind which may reach a velocity of 300 miles per hour and usually travels in a northeasterly direction. Although it may strike at any time it is most likely to occur when the weather is changing from cold to warm and chiefly in the late afternoon. Over 840 tornadoes occur in the United States every year.

These tornadoes may uproot trees and hurl other objects through the air with lethal force. Typically a tornado strikes on a hot humid afternoon when dark clouds appear in the sky accompanied by thunder, lightning and a loud hissing or roaring sound.

During a heavy storm, you should keep your radio or television set on and listen for official Weather Bureau warnings. Mere rumors should be disregarded. If a tornado warning is received and you are in a building, you should go at once to the southwest corner of the cellar. In a house with no basement you should take cover under a bed or heavy table.

Open the windows that do not face the approaching storm, then stay away from them. If you have time you should turn off all gas and electric appliances and keep a flashlight with fresh batteries handy.

If you are in open country, move away from the tornado at right angles to its path. If it is nearly on you do not get into or stay in a car. Jump into the nearest ditch or ravine and lie flat until the twister has passed. Don't touch any fallen wires but report them promptly to the power company, the police or the fire department. Above all, you should keep calm.

Q—My wife is a great believer in nutrition books and has the whole family taking brewer's yeast, lecithin, calcium and vitamin C. Is there any harm in taking the above every day?

A—There's no harm in taking them but for most persons they are not necessary. Brewer's yeast is an excellent source of the vitamin B complex. A well-balanced diet, however, should give you all the vitamins B and C you need. Milk and milk products will supply your calcium requirements. Lecithin will lower your cholesterol level if it is high but for this purpose other preparations are better.

FREEDOM SEASON

Patriotism is not a very "fashionable" virtue at the present time. Most highly publicized are the so-called intellectuals who denounce their country's efforts to defend freedom and who call for a surrender to communism. Radical students on college campuses tear down our flag and replace it with a Viet Cong flag at the same time as valiant young men give their lives to prevent the Viet Cong from destroying all freedom in South Vietnam.

Patriots are deeply disturbed by these events and want to know what they can do to counteract this trend, to show their loyalty to their country and the values for which the United States stands.

The state legislature in California has provided one answer to this question. Recently, both the Assembly and state Senate passed a resolution requesting the Governor to proclaim June 14 through July 4 as "Freedom Season."

Citizens throughout California are urged to take special steps during the period between Flag Day and Independence Day to show their patriotism and their dedication to freedom. The resolution especially urges all citizens to celebrate the season by displaying our country's flag.

Our citizens need to be reminded of their glorious heritage of freedom. The California example should be followed by legislatures in other states. Private citizens and organizations should also encourage special observances of this period.

Freedom can't be preserved if citizens take it for granted. We must all make every effort to display openly our love for Freedom and our loyalty to our country, which has done so much to preserve freedom throughout the world.

Abernathy Walks For Grape Boycott

EL CENTRO, Calif. (UPI)—The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, urging Negroes to unite behind the California table grape boycott, marched 10 miles in the scorching Imperial Valley heat with Mexican-American farm workers.

"We are going to sock it to the United States with black and brown and yellow power," Abernathy told a Brawley, Calif., rally of marchers, who are seeking to unify Mexican "commuter" farmworkers behind the demands of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee (UFWOC).

The marchers set out a week ago from Indio, Calif., for the border, a distance of about 100 miles, where they will stage a rally Sunday and seek support of Mexican laborers who work in the United States.

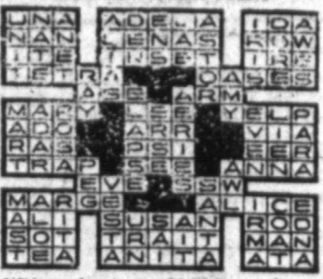

Wearing a "Viva la Huelga" (Long Live the Strike) button on his business suit, Abernathy, the head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the Poor People's Campaign, told the marchers: "I am a Mexican-American too. I grew up on a farm, only we did not pick grapes, we picked cotton. We made cotton king."

"My father and mother were not adequately paid for their labor but I'll be dogged if we're not going to see you're adequately paid for your labor."

National League Roundup

Tips From Mays Help Phils Roll

By United Press International. San Francisco Manager Clyde King would probably appreciate it if Willie Mays kept his opinions to himself in the future. Mays was coaxed by Philadelphia skipper Bob Skinner into giving Larry Hiale, the Phils' struggling rookie, a few pre-game tips and Hiale responded with four hits Sunday, including a game-winning double with two-out in the ninth inning which carried Philadelphia to a 9-8 victory over the Giants.

American League Roundup

Pepitone, Yankees in Hot Streak

By United Press International. Joe Pepitone is flying so high today that even the Baltimore Orioles need a telescope to see him. The Orioles have a 3 1/2 game lead in the Eastern Division of the American League after Sunday's 5-0 victory over the Kansas City Royals but Pepitone, the New York Yankees' long-haired mod man, is way out there in his own little world.

All Pepitone did was hit a three-run homer in the first game and a solo blast in the second game to drive in all the Yankees' runs in 3-1 and 1-0 victories over the California Angels.

Mel Stottlemyre pitched an eight-hitter to raise his record to 6-3 in the opener and Bill Burbach and Steve Hamilton combined in a three-hitter in the second game. Pepitone's homer in the first game came in the seventh inning off Andy Messersmith and his homer in the second game led off the ninth inning against Hoyt Wilhelm.

Mike Cuellar, acquired from the Houston Astros, during the winter, pitched a two-hitter for the Orioles and climaxed a three-run seventh inning with a run-scoring triple, his first hit of the season. Boog Powell homered after a double by Frank Robinson in the eighth to produce the Orioles' other two runs. Dick Drago suffered the loss for the Royals.

The Detroit Tigers whipped the Minnesota Twins, 8-2, the Seattle Pilots downed the Washington Senators scored a pair of 3-2 victories over the Chicago White Sox in other American League games. Oakland at Cleveland was rained out.

Fell For Double
 Mickey Stanley's popfly fell for a double when Tony Oliva and Rod Carew collided, climaxed a four-run sixth-inning rally by the Tigers. Mickey Lolich pitched a four-hitter but allowed six walks, hit a batter, committed a balk and permitted Cesar Tovar and Carew to steal home on him in the third inning en route to his fifth victory. The Tigers' 16-hit attack was their biggest since June 13, 1967.

Tommy Davis and Don Mincher drove in two runs each and pitcher Mike Marshall homered in the Pilots' victory over the Red Sox.

STILL TRYING — Veterans Mario Andretti, left and Bill Vukovich will try again for first victories in Indianapolis 500 on Memorial Day. Both have failed to win a 500 after several attempts.

Dickinson Wins Colonial Event
FORT WORTH (UPI)—Little Gardner Dickinson, who looks like Ben Hogan, swings like Ben Hogan and idolizes Ben Hogan, says some tips from Ben Hogan helped him win the fattest paycheck of his pro golf career—$25,000 at the Colonial National Invitational.

The 41-year-old, 130-pound Dickinson, who had won $352,167 and six titles in 17 seasons on the tour without such a large payoff, earned it with a "scratching" four-under-par 33-33-66 final round that gave him a 72-hole total of 278 over the 7,100-yard, par 35-35-70 Colonial Country Club course.

That was one shot better than South Africa's Gary Player, whose closing 69 gave him a 279 worth $14,300, and two ahead of steady Don January's 69 and 280 that was worth $8,850.

Jack Nicklaus and Bob Charles picked up $3,487 for their 282s; George Knudson, Bob Lunn, Dave Hill and Bruce Crampton earned $3,890 each with 283s, and Frank Beard pocketed $3,125 for his 284.

Player, who had been off the tour since winning the Tournament of Champions, was in contention for the title until Dickinson's birdie at No. 16, where Player missed a 5 1/2 footer for a par. He also had flubbed a two-footer for a par at No. 3.

"I thought a 279 would win this tournament and that January was the only one close to me," Player said. "I didn't realize Dickinson was 2-under until I walked off the 16th green."

Miss Whitworth, seeking to become the first woman golfer since the late Babe Zaharias in 1948 through 1951 to win the same tournament four straight years, tied for the lead by sinking an eight-foot birdie putt on the 18th hole.

Moments later, Miss Haynie missed a putt of about the same length on the closing hole for a bogey that threw the open into sudden death.

CRIDER RECALLED

Simpson, recently sent down by the Yanks, was traded to Seattle Sunday in exchange for outfielder Jose Vidal.

The Yanks said Simpson had requested to be traded to a major league team since he needs about 58 days on a major league roster to qualify for a baseball pension.

"He is not a machine and we are not afraid but we would like to have a horse next summer," said Longden, who rode Count Fleet to a Triple Crown victory in 1943. And the memory of that saddle triumph played a big part in the trainer's decision to "go home to California and rest for two or three months."

"The Belmont was the last race Count Fleet ever ran. He pulled a suspensory ligament in the race and that was the end of him as a race horse. I checked back and checked back and I found that horses that run in the Belmont haven't been worth a damn after that. I mean as race horses. I don't want to make the same mistake," said Longden at Pimlico, where his colt turned back a stretch challenge by Aris and Letters and survived a foul claim to win the Preakness Saturday by a head.

Prince Won't Run Belmont Stakes Race
 BALTIMORE (UPI)—Majestic Prince will not run in the Belmont Stakes, trainer Johnny Longden said Sunday, and the colt who already has Kentucky Derby and Preakness victories to his credit will forfeit all chance of becoming America's ninth Triple Crown winner.

Owner Frank McMahon reluctantly agreed to Longden's decision after thinking it over all morning. There was an outside chance he would change his mind.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One thing can be said for certain about the Army's nerve gas program. It is making a lot of people nervous.

Folks around Denver, Colo., are nervous about having 100 million doses of the stuff stored at the end of an airport runway.

Folks in New Jersey are nervous about plans to ship 809 tank cars of poison gas through their state en route to the Atlantic Coast.

And some members of a House foreign affairs subcommittee are nervous about plans to dispose of 27,000 tons of surplus gas by dumping it in the ocean.

Must Be Potent

Land o' Goshen! That gas must be potent indeed. If it has that kind of effect on the nerves while still in the container, imagine what it could do if actually sprayed on somebody.

It is not, however, the possibility of an accident that unnerves me. I am more unnerved by the thought that the chemical warfare service could somehow manage to acquire 27,000 more tons than it needed.

Twenty-seven thousand tons

INTRODUCES BILL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said today he will introduce a bill requiring the government to reimburse commercial fishermen whose catches are banned from the market because of insecticide contamination. Nelson said government has been "reacting too slowly" despite "mounting scientific evidence that persistent pesticides are infiltrating our environment and the tissues of living creatures everywhere on earth."

is a lot of anything. But 27,000 tons of poison gas! The motto of the Chemical Warfare Service must be: "Think big!"

During last week's subcommittee hearings on the disposal plans, Army witnesses explained that they happened to have 27,000 extra tons on hand because new and better varieties had been developed.

But that doesn't sound very plausible to me. My theory is that somebody went to sleep one night and left the nerve gas machine running.

Lines Up Men

The next morning the sergeant of the 733rd Nerve Gas Battalion lined all of his men up in front of the barracks and barked:

"All right, you guys. Which one of you forgot to turn the spigot off?"

Nobody answered. So the sergeant said: "Okay. Somebody has got to go and tell the captain that we've got 27,000 tons too many. Do I have any volunteers?"

A private in the rear rank raised his hand and said: "Couldn't we like maybe dump it in the ocean or something?" That way the captain wouldn't find out about it.

"You dummy! The nearest ocean is 2,000 miles from here," the sergeant snapped.

"Well, we could put it in tank cars and haul it to the coast."

"Good thinking, private. I'll see that your name is taken off the KP roster."

SHOULD RAISE RATE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said today the government should raise the interest rate for loans to college students above the present 7 per cent ceiling. He suggested the higher cost to the students should be offset by a government subsidy which would pay part of the increase. Miller said the rate should go up to encourage lending institutions to make more such loans.

NAMES INGERSOLL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has named Robert S. Ingersoll, Chicago, as Midwest regional chairman of the National Alliance of Businessmen. Ingersoll, 52, board chairman of the Borg-Warner Corp., will supervise the alliance's activities in Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio and Wisconsin. The alliance seeks to use private enterprise to train hardcore unemployed.
