GAIL, BORDEN COUNTY, TEXAS 79738

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1972 1

Serving the Counties of Borden, Dawson, Garza, Howard, Lynn & Scurry

An "ol' Pro", Congressman GEORGE MAHON gives some sage advice to RICH ANDERSON, 1972 candidate for State Representative of the 63rd district. This picture was made prior to the formal dedication of Western Texas College, Snyder. The Hon. Mahon was guest speaker at the event.

Dedication At WTC

Congressman George H. Mahon of the 19th District of Texas Friday formally dedicated Western Texas College "to the happiness of the people it serves — the happiness that comes only from achievement."

Speaking to a crowd of several hundred persons in the central courtyard of the college campus, Mahon's address climaxed a morning filled with activity on the WTC campus.

"You are in something big," Mahon told the administration, faculty and students of WTC. He noted that there are 46 two-year colleges in Texas, over 1,000 of them in the United States and that they have a combined enrollment over 2 1/4 million.

While senior colleges and universities have seen their enrollments double in the past decade, the community colleges' enrollment has quadrupled, Mahon said.

Expressing amazement at the facilities that have emerged since Nov. 9, 1970, when he spoke at ground breaking ceremonies on the barren campus, Mahon said he envied the students.

"Wouldn't it be fun to go to school here?" he asked. "If I lived close enough, I would like to take a course in conversational Spanish. I took a Spanish course down at Hardin-Simmons in my younger days, but it didn't rub off much," he said, commenting on the fact that many adults find community colleges the answer to their hopes to pursue courses they are interested in.

"The miracle here is that the community was able to get together and build this," Mahon declared. "You get happiness only by achieving something and achievement is impossible without training. I dedicate this college to the happiness of the people — the happiness that comes only from achievement."

A number of special guests and groups were recognized. Some of the major memorials and gifts include the campus, which was contributed by Mrs. Jonisue Stiff; the Christian Student Center which is made available to the college by the East Side and Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ congregations; the Sentell Memorial Stage, contributed in memory of the late John E. Sentell by Mrs. Sentell and family; the Forest Sears Carillon system, contributed by Mrs. Sears and her daughter, Carolyn; a statue in the fine arts center and a fountain by C. T. McLaughlin; and a new gift announced today, a sunken garden to be contributed by Mrs. Edith McKanna.

Dr. Tom Hatfield of the coordinating board staff in Austin, had praise for WTC. Noting that he had visited over 250 campuses of colleges and universities all over the world, he said that WTC best reflects the hopes of people seeking quality education. He complimented the administration and board of trustees, declaring, "They could serve on any university board anywhere." He predicted that WTC would be sought out by planners from all over the country as they seek to build new educational institutions.

W.A. (Bill) Jones, president of the board of trustees of the college, welcomed the audience to the dedication, and Dr. Robert Clinton, WTC president presented the steering committee which achieved the groundwork that ultimately led to the application for authority to create the college district.

Other guests also were introduced by Dr. Robert Clinton. Several area colleges and universities were represented at the ceremonies by their presidents or other administrators. These included Texas Tech, Sul Ross State University, East Texas State University, West Texas State University, McMurry College, Hardin-Simmons University and South Plains College.

Mahon was introduced by Edwin Parks, member of the board, while Bentley Baize, another board member, recognized the museum committee. Board Member R. C. Patton introduced representatives of the Texas Education Agency, and Board Member Dr. Robert H. Hargrove Jr. introduced representatives of the Dean Morgan, director of the Christian Student Center on the campus, gave the invocation, and the Rev. John Gordon, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, the benediction.

Mark "For" To Vote "Against"

Texans will finally get a chance to take their grumbles about daylight savings time to the ballot box Saturday, but they'll have to vote in the Republican primary — where most usually don't — to do it.

Three referendums — one on the Democratic ballot and two on the Republican — will allow voters to express their feelings on DST and on busing for desegregation.

State Demo leaders, however, rejected the idea of a DST "straw vote."

Busing Complicated

The Republican DST question merely asks that the ballot be marked "For" or "Against" daylight savings time, but the busing questions are considerably more complicated — and confusing.

On both Democratic and Republican busing questions, the voter must mark "For" in order to register himself as being against busing.

Wording Is Confusing

The Democratic question reads, "No public school student shall because of his race, creed or color, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school. This referendum applies to the required busing of public school students and provides for equal quality education for all public school students."

The GOP wording is thus:

"Are you in favor of a constitutional amendment which would prohibit forced busing of school children or forced consolidation of school districts solely to achieve racial balance?"

So, if you mark your ballot "For" such an amendment or "For" no student being required to attend a particular school, you are voting "Against" busing.

Rodeo Approved

The Scurry Co. Rodeo Association has voted to join the International Rodeo Association and have received word they were approved.

Local Contestants do not have to join the Association to compete in the Scurry Co. Rodeo for 1972. There are few IRA Shows in West Texas area so we were granted this 125 mile radius.

There had been numerous request for the Scurry Co. Rodeo Association to join the IRA Association. So many IRA members had wanted to compete in our Rodeo but in order to keep their points built up, they would select an IRA approved show. They build points by the amount of money won. The top 15 contenders then compete in the IRA Finals end of season for championship.

The Scurry Co. Rodeo Association felt it would improve our Rodeo even more to join this professional association for it will not affect our local contestants and at the same time draw members of IRA to compete in our show. We are expecting several of the IRA champions to compete in our show July 19, 20, 21, and 22nd.

Only one event has been added and this is Steer wrestling which we feel the spectators will really enjoy.

Sloan Williams of Hungerford, Texas is once again our Stock Producer. Jim Miller of Rapid City, S.D. back for the fifth year as Rodeo Announcer. Clowns will be Lecille Harris of Collierville, Tenn. and D. C. Coghurn of Miami Oklahoma. Both clowns were here in 1971 and always give us an outstanding performance. Lecille is President of the IRA Association.

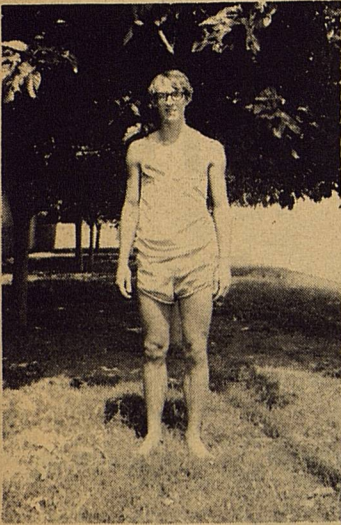

With the amount of money added to each event, the Scurry Co. Rodeo Association expects a gross purse of $10,000 and one of the finest and fastest Rodeos produced in State of Texas. Make your plans early to be with us for July 19, 20, 21 and 22nd.

Gifted To Compete

During the first week end in May, hundreds of the most gifted pupils in Texas public schools, will compete in Austin for honors in literary, drama, and athletic contests.

For many, the State Meet will be the culmination of years of dedication and hard work. Although hundreds of other talented teenagers have failed to reach this level, their lives have nevertheless been enriched by working and learning and competing, even if they did not reach the State Meet. The philosophy of the Interscholastic League is that, even though every one cannot win, everyone is made richer by his experience with educational competition.

In tribute to these boys and girls, it should be noted that participation in Interscholastic League activities is purely voluntary and is not part of the school curriculum, nor is it required for graduation from high school. Several thousand young people have put forth the extra effort and have sacrificed their time in order to compete in these athletic and academic contests. The direction and impetus which their initiative has provided will make them better citizens and is evidence of the value and integrity of our youth, often too easily overlooked in the troubled world of today. We are encouraged when we realize that these young people are not content to be "average" but want to make their own contributions to their schools and communities.

Our hats are off to these fine young men and women. They are the "cream of the crop" of Texas youth.

Taken from the Interscholastic Leaguer.

III student O'Donnell and Gail. The Gail FFA member honored was Mike Herring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Herring, of Route 1, Fluvanna. # Here's clippings

Now that you asked me, here is my assessment of the candidates for public office as they line up to face one another in the primaries of May 6. The post is pretty crowded this year, particularly for the position of governor. I don't even know the names of all the candidates, but I am familiar with the records of most of them - in both parties.

If I were voting in the Republican primary, I would have to go along with Hank Grover. He is a proven vote-getter, having served in the House and Senate for a number of years. But the ability to garner votes doesn't mean you are worth a cent - look at the Kennedys. Mr. Grover is the most conservative of the Republican candidates. He has a voting record to prove that he votes where his mouth is. He should also appeal to conservative Democrats, since he was a Democrat for years before switching parties for philosophical reasons (those reasons seem to be more obscure today than in 1964). This year above all, the Republicans cannot expect any cross-over votes in their primary due to the intense feelings in the Democrat primary. But Hank Grover would, in my opinion, be able to pull more Democrat votes in the state race in November than any of his Republican opponents.

Right here and now, let me remind all voters that come November, you can vote for whomever you please. Just because you voted in the Democrat primary does not mean you will be struck dead or all the buzzers will go off when you choose to vote for a Republican candidate in the general election, and visey versey. Many people have been led to believe that they are either bound by law or honor to support the complete ballot of the party in which primary they voted. That is simply not so - hogwash - you have been brainwashed, and don't let anyone intimidate you.

But should I choose to pull the lever in the Democrat primary, my choice would be Dolph Briscoe. Not that I am a real son of a gun about Dolph, or identify in every way with his political philosophy, it is more a case of protection from all those other people running. I do think Mr. Briscoe is honest - he is a rancher which appeals to me. He should be aware of and know a solution for problems confronting the rural people and areas. And these problems get worse every year, particularly the problem of water. Mr. Briscoe speaks well, dresses nicely and would present an image as governor that we would not be ashamed of. Those are silly filly reasons for selecting a nominee, but it takes all kinds of voters to get elected. Sad as it is, I would be voting against candidates in the democrat primary rather than strongly supporting a candidate. The credibility gap between the electorate and Governor Smith seems to get wider. It really seems a shame to return him to office for two more years of pretense that everything is above board in the state of Texas.

Ben Barnes is by far the most experienced of any of the candidates in either party - but whoo-wee - he is so experienced in the ways of politicians that he scares me. You realize how young he is - which will appeal to the 18 year old voter, I spec - but I just wonder about that. He is a terribly wealthy man which is great money provides jobs for folks. But he has been in politics most of his adult life which makes me wonder just when did he have time to get out and honestly earn all that money. So far, he has been cleared of any connection with the Sharp scandal - there you can't help but ponder.

Then there is Cissy - she shore is purty - speaks good too. But I believe that lady is more than skin deep - she is supported by labor which classifies her as too liberal for my way of thinking. She seems to have an axe to grind on every issue. Course, lady governors are not unknown to Texans, but I don't think 1972 is the year for the women folk. The women militants have made too much of themselves and have caused the men and feminists to be cautious about aligning themselves with an outspoken Ms.

So there you have it - in my opinion. Now YOU tell me in which primary to vote.

DARRELL TAYLOR

Western Texas College selected Darrell Taylor as "Campus Favorite" at the Spring Formal held on April 13. Darrell is a 1970 graduate of Borden High School, a freshman at WTC studying science. He is a member of the WTC Rodeo Club and employed fulltime at Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Darrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Taylor of Gail.

Also selected as 1972 Campus Favorite was Terry Canon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Canon. No picture available.

To Whom It May Concern:

Herman Isaac Ledbetter worked for this company from 1951 through 1967 when he quit to work for himself.

During that time he advanced from common laborer, truck driver, heavy equipment operator, and at the time of his leaving was our serviceman, responsible for servicing all of our equipment.

We found Herman to be honest, hard working and capable in any position that we used him in and we were well satisfied with his work at all times.

Herman used sound business judgment in the decisions he made involving company operations. We also observed his very businesslike conduct of his personal affairs.

Antelope Count

According to the Permian Basin aerial antelope census just completed, Garza County has 98, and Borden County has a total of 589 antelope.

The census, taken in eight counties by personnel of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, tallied 1,870 animals, consisting of 690 bucks and 1,180 does. Project leader George Litton said final figures indicate a decrease of 5.4 per cent.

Outstanding in the count was one ranch in the area that revealed an overall increase of approximately 33 percent from last year, the result of moving domestic sheep from the area.

In addition to Garza's 98 and Borden's 589, Glasscock County has 77, Midland County 150 and Howard 39, with the balance in Mitchell, Reagan and Sterling counties.

Let us never forget that the cultivation of the earth is the most important labor of man. Unstable is the future of that country which has lost its taste for agriculture. If there is one lesson in history which is unmistakable it is that national strength lies very near the soil. - Daniel Webster.

Snyder To Host AJRA Rodeo

Approximately 300 youth will be competing in the American Junior Rodeo Association's first Rodeo held in Snyder. The Rodeo is open to those other than AJRA members.

These youth compete all year in the State of Texas and New Mexico and then the top contenders are eligible for the big finals to be held in the elaborate Rodeo arena of Pueblo West, Colorado for 1972. Some $300,000 has been spent on what is termed the "sports site" alone in Pueblo West. These young people are really riding and roping their heart out this year for they are to be eligible to compete there.

The youth competing in AJRA are ages 8 to 19 years old. They compete in most every event in three age groups. Twelve years and under, thirteen to fifteen, and sixteen to nineteen.

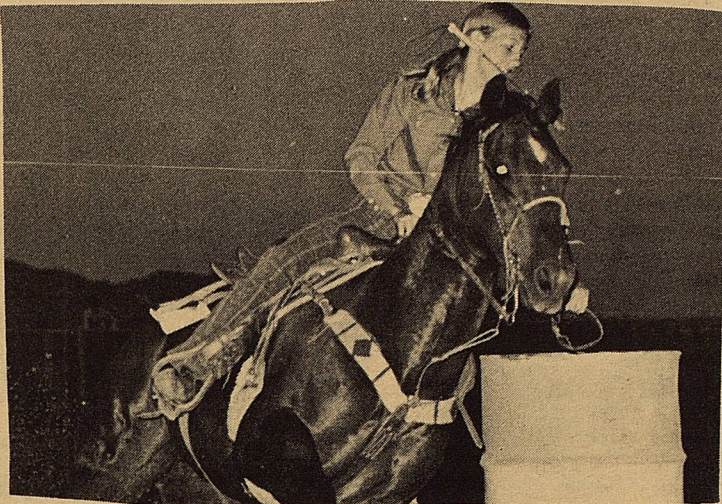

Mr. Red Whatley of Crosbyton, Texas will furnish the bucking stock. The events are as follows: Bareback Bronc Riding, Bull Riding, Barrell Race, Ribbon Roping, Tie-down Roping, Break-a-way Roping for girls, Pole Benking.

Nineteen Trophy Buckles will be awarded the winners of the Snyder Junior Show May 26th and 27th. Several of our Borden County AJRA contestants will be working hard to win one of these buckles.

There will be two nightly performances at 8:00 p.m. All slack will begin at 9:00A.M. on Saturday morning. Entry blanks have been mailed to all AJRA members but entry blanks are available at Carter's Western Store in Snyder or you may call Mrs. Sid Johnson 915-573-3236 for information. Rodeo dances will be held Friday and Saturday nights.

The following are members of the American Junior Rodeo Association of Borden County: Rex Cox, Randy Ogden, John Anderson, Mary Anderson, Sally Anderson, Claudia Swann, Gigi Cannon, Chuck Cannon, Janice Browne, Darrell Taylor, Rick Hendley, and Cindy Beaver.

CINDY BEAVER is looking forward to the first AJRA Rodeo in Snyder. Cindy was among the top five competing in the AJRA Finals in Odessa, Texas in 1970 but 1971 brought hard luck to Cindy as her top barrel horse in the above photo was killed when the horse trailer came loose from their car. Cindy is proud owner of a new horse this year she calls Buck. Better luck in 1972 Cindy.

STERLING WILLIAMS CANDIDATE FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

THIS IS MY RECORD:

6 yr. as County Democratic Chairmen for Borden County.

Two years as County Attorney of Scurry County
Six years as County Judge of Scurry County
Eight years in the Legislature from this six county area
Seventeen years, three months and six days as District Judge of this district.

As your District Judge I presided at the trial of some of the largest and most complicated cases that were tried in Texas. My record for cases affirmed by the higher courts compares favorably with the record of the better Judges of this State. On the Criminal side, I presided at the trial of many criminal cases in many different places with many different District Attorneys prosecuting, and of those cases, only one was reversed by the Court of Criminal Appeals. While I was Judge all civil cases were set for trial as soon as they were ready for trial. The criminal docket was called every 60 days. If there were no good motions for continuance, all cases in which the State announced ready, were tried.

I left the Docket in good shape.

The exercise of many virtues are necessary in the conduct of a court, not least among which are fairness and compassion for the feelings of others.

If I may be elected as your District Judge, every person will be given the same fair and impartial treatment before the court, without regard to his financial condition or station in life.

May I have your vote next Saturday?

Miss Softball League

The Miss Softball league is a national sports program designed to provide girls between the ages of nine and 15 with a summer program similar to the Little League activity offered to boys.

Approximately 700 people from Big Spring and surrounding areas turned out for the organizational meeting of the FIRST MISS SOFTBALL league in Texas, at Runnels Junior High School last week. The turnout was so tremendous with such a fantastic response that parents were asked to volunteer their services in the league, and over 100 of them stepped forward.

Big Spring was the first city in the state of Texas to organize a Miss Softball league and many cities in about 25 other states have already initiated the program. Over 300 girls have signed up for the Big Spring Miss Softball minor league (girls nine through 12 years) and about 50 have signed up for the Big Spring major league (girls 13 through 15 years old.)

Tryout dates will be announced later.

Officers of the Big Spring Miss Softball League are George R.

Calvin Jr., president; Gladys Custer, vice president; Gayle Bledsoe, secretary, Sara Fryar, treasurer; Max Coffee, major league coordinator; Don Mincey and Wendel Pate, player representatives.
