Act Nonchalantly, Dodge Jitters Of First School Day

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
Are you going to lose little Jack this fall? Is he going to go to a cruel school where no one will understand him or care whether he is happy or not?

This is the way so many mothers regard the first wrench that separates them from the six-year-old who has never been farther away than the corner, and seldom out of their sight.

The neighbors have been telling you that school is not the same today, and things have changed. Teachers are kind, work is interesting, and there's a lot of time for play. Jack's will never be far from your side, and besides haven't you complained that half the time he hasn't known what to do with himself? It's high time he had more to do than trundle his wheel up and down the street. And, they assure you, he will have friends and everything, your Jackie will.

But you don't acknowledge the truth to these kindly souls who talk to you. What do they know about your baby? Jack is just a helpless little baby after all. Nothing they can say will change this fact. But more terrible than this new journey all alone is a hard world, is the one at your heart.

New World for Child
Never again will this child look to you for everything. He will have interests entirely of his own for the first time in his life—experiences that you cannot share, failures you cannot comfort, small reprimands you cannot defend.

I exaggerate a little, of course, for modern mothers are practical as well. They don't go in for emotional orgies or take their knitting to school for this first week and let Billie or Molly know that mother is still near. Yet almost always there is the old headache that comes with the first separation, and always will. And you are right, mother. It is a dividing of worlds from now on. You won't be losing him, exactly, but Jackie will sprout wings of freedom and independence that go into the making of a citizen. And you can't follow.

Don't let it get you down. Both of you will be happier after the first day or two. Don't make an issue of nine o'clock Tuesday, or think of it as a barrier. Up to now, Jackie has been playing B to your A. Now he is going to reverse it a little and in his school world you will have to be B. He will be A. He will be John Jones. Enquire, student, play-fellow, classmate and traveler. His primer will explain the bedtime story, or at least supplement it. He will be a follower of affairs. "The man has a dog" will be sweeter music to him than "The Giant Killer," and he gets the thing of the message on the page that you can read aloud those words.

There should be no emotional tangle about the big day to come. It should be a matter-of-course event. Put on his best suit at the zero hour, brush his hair, and scrub his face. Kiss him good-bye as he starts off. Then go and make the beds that he will come home hungry. He will take care of his brain. He wants you to love him and fill in where a chape needs a friend. Why likely he's going to like you better than ever.

Roosevelt Blisters New Pension Plan

HYDE PARK, Aug. 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that a proposal being discussed in California to give $30 weekly pensions to all persons over 50 can be described as a short cut to Utopia.

The President, told at his press conference that such a pension system was being talked about in California, referred reporters to his recent address on social security.

In that address, the President said he hoped the social security system could be developed year by year. But he warned "against those who advocate short cuts to Utopia or fantastic financial schemes."

The reported California pension plan would provide for the issuance of warrants to which stamps would have to be attached until they were retired.

This system, the President said, would represent nothing less than a tax on all the people. The tax would fall particularly heavily on the poor, he added.

HOPKINS, Aug. 26—The daily vacation Bible school that has been in progress at Hopkins school No. 2 since August 15 will close tonight with a program showing the work the students have been doing.

The school has been conducted by C. N. Wylie of Canyon, who is a Sunday school missionary connected with the Presbyterian Board of National Missions.

Assisting Mr. Wylie as teachers of the different departments were: Mrs. E. W. Tully and Mrs. W. M. Parker, teachers of beginners from 4 to 5 years; Mrs. C. O. Gilbert and Mrs. E. C. Dewey, the primary department; or the fourth, fifth and sixth grades; and W. M. Parker, the seventh and eighth grades, or intermediate class.

The attendance has been excellent, maintaining an average of 81 for the two weeks.

This school is the fifth and last of a series conducted by Mr. Wylie this summer. Later in September he plans to return to Hopkins to reorganize the weekly Sunday school.

leafy vegetables and beets and carrots are anti-acid and are therefore important to one who is anxious to eliminate exceptional dark circles under her eyes. In other words, for eye, hair, and nail as well as skin beauty, every woman should eat quantities of fresh and stewed fruits, drink milk and orange juice regularly. And be positively fussy about her exercise, sleeping and daily elimination habits.

The first pawnbroking establishment in the world is said to have been opened in Bavaria in 2198.

Thursday Audience Largest Of Revival

Attendance at the revival meeting last night at the First Methodist church was the largest week-end crowd of the entire revival. Rev. W. M. Pearce, pastor, said this morning. There will be no services at the church Saturday. The regular services will be held at the church on Sunday.

At 8 o'clock tonight Rev. Pearce will speak on the subject "The Election." This morning a special service for elderly people was conducted in the church auditorium at 10 o'clock.

Last night Rev. Pearce's sermon subject was "Esau." Special music was given by a quartet composed of Dorothy Dodd, Louise Smith, Clarence Coffin, and John Webb. The meeting closed with a solo by Nolan Froehner, who has been conducting the singing during the revival, and who left this morning on his return to his home in Waco. Josephine Lane was pianist at the service last night.

BCD Helped Induce State To Spend $700,000 On Highways In Last Year

The Pampa area has been one of the most active in highway construction in the state during the past year, Chamber of Commerce officials revealed today. Nearly $700,000 has been spent or will be contracted to be spent by the end of the year, it was pointed out.

This work comes largely as a result of the consistent work of the highway committee of the BCD co-operating with county officials.

Committees working under direction of John Roby, 1937 highway committee chairman, and Jim Collins, 1938 chairman, and with the full cooperation of County Judge Sherman White and his commissioners have made trips consistently to the monthly hearings of the Texas Highway commission at Austin and have contacted members of the commission and the engineering staff upon other occasions. BCD President Reno Stinson has been especially active with the highway committee for the past year and a half.

Among the contracts let in the past year that have been of direct interest to Pampa are the following: Grade and drainage Gray-Carson line to Berger on highway 152, let last November at a cost of $155,000. Grade and drainage on 12-mile gap, No. 152 between Pampa and Wheeler, $87,992.

Surface for 12 miles No. 152 between Pampa and Wheeler, $29,418. Widening paving, building up shoulders, straightening curves, etc., between Pampa and Panhandle on U. S. 80, let April, 1938, $40,977.

Among contracts advertised to be let or on the schedule for early construction are the following: Paving Gray-Carson line to Berger on No. 152, to be let Sept. 7, estimated cost about $130,000.

Repair, building shoulders, etc., No. 152 from Pampa west to Carson line, to be let about October, 1938, estimated cost about $30,000.

Repair, building shoulders, improvement on bridges, straightening curves, etc., on Pampa-LeFors-McLean highway, to be done within the coming year, estimated cost $150,000.

Total of above mentioned projects $623,107.

The graph above has been prepared by W. J. Van London, for the past eight years division engineer for the Texas State Highway Department, showing the pavement constructed by years since 1918 in the 19 Panhandle counties, with accumulative mileages and costs.

Mr. Van London is being transferred to the Houston division next week. On Monday night at the Schreiber Hotel here friends and highway associates of Mr. Van London will honor him with a stag dinner. Reservations may be made at the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

It will be noted from the graph that the greater portion of the pavement has been built since 1930, in which period approximately 800 miles of pavement has been built, an average of over one hundred miles a year, and at a cost approaching two million dollars a year. Within the last seven years the more important highway arteries paved of which are advertised for immediate construction are as follows:

courtroom now," said District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey yesterday, "and see if you see anybody here you recognize as ever having seen with Schultz."

The lanky, sun-burned riding master stood up, surveyed the whole troupe crowd, finally picked one white-haired man in a gray suit with a beaconned necktie.

"That gentleman right there," Brothwell said, pointing to Hines.

"It was all display, wasn't it?" Striker demanded.

"Yes, I wanted to be sure I was right," the witness said, adding that no one had suggested his manner of picking out the silvery-haired 61-year-old defendant.

Brothwell said he was unable to recall the exact date of his seeing Hines with the notorious gang over-look, except that it was a Sunday in late summer.

The huge-framed defense lawyer referred to Brothwell's identification of Hines as "the man in the red tie," and asked:

"Did someone tell you Hines had a red necktie on, before you came into court?"

"No."

Called five minutes before adjournment yesterday, he testified that the Dutchman, a free-spending playboy in the days when he drew $6,000 a week from the racket, kept his "own horse," "Sunbeam," at Earthwell's fairfield estates in 1935.

One late summer Sunday afternoon, Brothwell recalled, Schultz, two men and two women came to the stable.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Aug. 26. (AP)—Light profit taking halted an early forward tilt in today's stock market and initial advances running to a point or more were reversed or cancelled.

Selling of the recently strong motor, steel, and rubber tended to dim the order of buying forces and many traders, while still encouraged by business prospects over the remainder of the year, decided the discretion might be the better part of valor and adjourned to the safety zone.

The Island folk he left as a lad years ago turned out en masse to give him a welcome as befits a hero. Whistles blew, horns tooted, and hats sailed in the air as the $900 airplane he flew from New York to Dublin, Ireland, landed on the eastern side of the island after flying across Galveston Bay from the mainland.

Townsmen presented Corrigan with a bronze plaque commemorating his wrong way flight—the trip to Ireland he claimed should have been made to California.

Atop the plaque was a compass. The compass needle pointed west instead of north.

"That's all right," the smiling flyer said, "sometimes it's hard to read the compass right."

A few seconds after he hopped out of the old plane which he flew here from San Antonio, Corrigan dedicated the municipal airport which the Galveston city council will be known as Douglas Corrigan airport.

Guest At Luncheon

Corrigan made a little speech thanking the town of his berth for the honor and then was ushered down the expansive seawall toward a hotel where a huge luncheon was laid in his honor.

Mayor Adrian P. Levy who greeted him at the airport acted as toastmaster at the luncheon.

During the afternoon Corrigan is scheduled to parade down through the streets of this former home of Jean LaFitte, the pirate, to the city hall and then to the old Brownstone house almost in the heart of the city where he was born 31 years ago.

It was shortly after his birth there in 1907 that Douglas Corrigan made his first bid for fame. He was adjudged the prettiest baby in Galveston.

"I'm glad to get back to the old home town after an absence of 30 years," he said at the luncheon.

After today's parade he is to appear at a public reception at the municipal auditorium and tonight a banquet will be given in his honor.

Allred To Make Up Mind In September

AUSTIN, Aug. 26 (P)—Governor James V. Allred intends to decide "some time in September" when he will become a federal judge in the South Texas district.

The governor said today that no announcement regarding his plans would be forthcoming until after September 1. He stated he and his family would leave about September 1 for a week's rest "on the gulf coast."

Several close friends of Allred believe he will change jobs next month. If he should do so, the lieutenant governor would serve as governor until inauguration of W. Lee O'Daniel January 17.

MEXICANS SILENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (P)—Mexican embassy officials were silent today as to what course their government might take in view of Secretary Hull's latest note on the farm lands expropriation question.

They said the embassy had forwarded the note to the Mexican government, and any comment would have to come from the Mexican foreign office.

As last almost a cent today in a nervous, erratic market. Speculative activity was at a minimum, with most dealers preferring to await more definite information on government export subsidy plans. Reports from the southwest confirmed belief that export business had dropped off sharply during the past several days, lower rail rates on export grain to the east were expected to intensify effect within a month.

GORRIGAN GOES TO BABY SHOW IN GALVESTON

GALVESTON, Aug. 26 (P)—Douglas Corrigan, the Irishman who flew the wrong way to fame, today came back to the town of his birth and the scene of his first triumph—a baby show.

Missing Girl Seen At Claude Thursday

A 15-year-old LeFors girl reported missing for some time was seen in Claude in company with another girl yesterday, a Clarendon resident reported to Police Chief J. I. Downs this morning. The companion is not known to police and no report of a second missing girl has been received by them.

The girl, Beverly Ferguson, daughter of Mrs. A. C. Thomas of LeFors, formerly worked at the White Way Drive Inn, Six's Pig Stand and the Killarney.

OIL TAXES CUT AT INTANGIBLE BOARD HEARING

AUSTIN, Aug. 26 (P)—Twenty-five pipeline companies doing business in Texas today faced payment of taxes on 1938 intangible valuations of $48,140,000, a reduction of $6,574,669 from last year.

Individual levies were lowered in many instances because the companies' incomes had been reduced. Secretary of State Ed Clark, a member of the Intangible Tax Board, explained yesterday after final hearings. He said the board used capitalization of earnings as a base for determining valuations.

Taxes of 13 companies were re-

G-Men Fired For Fumbling Bandits

DALLAS, Aug. 26 (AP)—"To bad about them two G-men getting a rap for fumbling me and Floyd the other night—but you gotta take the bad breaks when they come . . . look where I am."

That Ted Walters, desperado captured last Sunday, commented today on the reported resignations of Tom Neal and D. B. Davis, Federal Bureau of Investigation agents who let Walters and Floyd Hamilton escape from a trap last week.

The officers had covered Walters with their guns when they walked into a darkened house where they had kept a vigil for the fugitive pair. But Walters managed to talk his way out by claiming he was someone else. The G-men didn't recognize him. Hamilton later came to the house but fled when he saw the officers. He received a wound in the ankle but got away.

SECOND TWIN DIES
BRENHAM, Aug. 26 (AP)—Jesse James Gillespie, 16, died last night from injuries he received in a car-truck crash near Prairie View Wednesday. His death occurred a few hours after his twin brother, Ben Allen Gillespie, killed in the same accident, was buried. The truck driver was held for negligent homicide.

Eats, Drinks To Be Plentiful At Picnic

From the kiddie standpoint no picnic is complete without red lemonade, pink ice cream, hamburgers and hot dogs.

The sponsors of the community picnic to be held on Labor Day Monday, September 5, at McClellan Dam have promised an ample supply of these favorite childrens' "fruits."

Barrels of red lemonade and gallons of pink ice cream can be had on the picnic grounds. Hamburgers and hot dogs with everything on them will be in the concessions at the stands. Three hundred pounds of hamburger meat, 100 pounds of hot dogs, pickles, onions, mustard and chili sauce has already been ordered for the picnic.

Three thousand balloons of every shape and kind have been purchased. There will be Mickey Mouse balloons, Popeye, Donald Duck, sausage serpentine, and just plain old squawkers to be had during the day.

Silk parasols and Chinese umbrellas in gay colors are part of the novelty concession.

Sheppard Urges Law To Halt Soliciting

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) of the Senate Campaign Expenditures committee advocates today a law forbidding any person from collecting money from WPA workers for political purposes.

Clarification of present statutes he said, is needed to cover such instances as the disclosure that the Workers Alliance, an organization of relief workers, wanted to raise a $50,000 political campaign fund.

Sheppard explained that there was no federal prohibition against the collection of money from WPA clients by the Alliance. He insisted, however, that it would be "conniving at violation of the law" if it used the money to benefit any candidate for the Senate or House.

Gov. Earle Awaits Arrival Of Wife

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Governor George H. Earle of Pennsylvania today awaited the arrival of his wife before continuing his trip home after a vacation in Mexico.

He arrived here in his state-owned plane yesterday after a rough flight from Vera Cruz. Mrs. Earle, now in Guatemala City, will come by commercial plane but hurricane conditions will probably delay her arrival, the governor said.

He left Mrs. Earle in the Central American city when it appeared he would have to fly through weather influenced by the Caribbean disturbance, he explained.

GIRLS ACCUSE THREE YOUTHS

The fire of flaming youth was extinguished yesterday for three 18-year-old boys when they were taken to county jail to face statutory charges as the aftermath of a party which authorities say got out of control night before last.

Today the three youths, two of them held merely as conspirators in the case, were under bond awaiting action of the county grand jury on charges brought by three girls.

Two of the girls gave their ages as 14 years, and the third girl, principal complainant, is 16 years of age.

County authorities said today the party began as a "pick-up on the streets," progressed to a movie, and from there went to a night club, and was followed up by drinking on the part of one or two of the boy participants.

The youths were released on bond signed by their fathers, authorities stated. They were arrested by Constable Henry Shciffitt of LeFors.

BLONDE TROUBLE

ST. LOUIS—Police answered a disturbance call to a fashionable west side residence and found two boys, both under 12 years, strutting on the sidewalk. The signs they bore read "Blonde is unfair to us kids," "She is just like her mother," and "This house is unfair."

The youngsters' football had plunked into a flowerbed and "Blonde's" mother had refused to return it.

LOAN AGENCY HOLDS SESSION AT AMARILLO

I. B. Hughey, J. L. Noel, and C. McKnight represented the Pampa National Farm Loan association at a group meeting in Amarillo yesterday. Mr. Hughey, secretary of the local association, reported that the conference afforded an excellent opportunity for officers and directors to discuss problems of mutual interest as well as to review operations of the associations represented at the meeting.

More than 1,915 loans totaling $4,446,400 were made during the first seven months of 1938 by the Federal Land Bank of Houston and the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation to Texas farmers and ranchers. Of this amount, $1,208,730, representing 556 loans, was for the purchase of land for agricultural purposes. Nearly 400 bank-owned farms were sold to Texas farmers during the same period. The sale of these farms involved considerations totaling $914,032.

These significant facts were brought out by A. C. Williams, president of the bank and general agent for the Farm Credit Administration of Houston, in talking to the group.

"When the bank is forced to take over farm properties," said Mr. Williams, "necessary repairs and improvements are made and the units are sold to new owners as soon as possible." "Hundreds of young farmers," he continued, "have found it possible to acquire farms of their own either through purchase of a farm from the Federal Land Bank or by means of a federal land bank and land bank commissioner loan. In either case the buyer pays off his mortgage in reasonable semi-annual payments that gradually reduce the principal of the loan over a long term of years. By taking advantage of the Federal Land Bank method of financing, the farm purchaser avoids the necessity of costly renewals and has the added advantage of very low interest rates."

NEW CASTLE ISN'T NEWCASTLE ANY MORE

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP)—Uncle Sam has settled a 117-year-old argument by ordering this Indiana city's name split into two words. The Post Office Department at Washington, D. C., revived the controversy recently by pointing out that some confusion had arisen because the name was spelled as both "Newcastle" and "New Castle." The local postmaster dug up the records and found the earliest record gave the name as two words.

WHAT THE RAILROAD COMMISSION MEANS TO THE PANHANDLE

The conservation of our natural resources is of vital importance to the people of Texas. The Railroad Commission of Texas is charged with the responsibility of administering the conservation laws of our State.

Upon the stability of the oil and gas business depends not only the jobs of those working in this great industry, but the continuation of adequate funds for the public schools of Texas.

It is a matter of history known to all that a few years ago chaos existed throughout the oil fields of Texas. Oil was selling for as low as 10c per barrel. . . gas was being wasted . . . taxes being realized by the State, the Counties and the School Districts from this great natural resource was at a minimum.

Order and stability in this great industry has been established by a courageous and capable Railroad Commission. C. V. TERRELL, as Chairman of the Railroad Commission, has been a dominating influence in eliminating hot oil operators and in establishing fair proration orders throughout the State. The Panhandle has had and will have, under the administration of C. V. TERRELL, a fair consideration at the hands of the Commission. His ability and integrity have never been questioned.

C. V. TERRELL

Texas wants to go forward . . . it wants to continue its great school system and to have same adequately financed through reasonable taxes upon its great natural resources. This cannot be done without stability in the industry. We know the record of C. V. TERRELL. We know what he will do in the future. We know he can be depended upon to be fair at all times. He will undoubtedly be re-elected.

The statement has been made over the radio that independent oil operators are supporting the opponent of C. V. TERRELL. Every independent operator in the Panhandle field so far as is known to us is supporting C. V. TERRELL for re-election. The independent operators publish this advertisement in the interest of the candidacy of C. V. TERRELL for re-election in the belief that their welfare and the welfare of the merchants, and the business people and their employees, of the Panhandle field and the state as a whole will be best served by his re-election.

'HIGH UP' OF 'OVEN' PRISON FACES CHARGE

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26. (AP)—A "high up" at the Philadelphia County Prison was charged by Coroner Charles H. Hersch today with responsibility for the "oven cell" deaths of four hunger striking convicts last Monday.

It was this official, the coroner declared, who gave the order to "turn on the heat" in punishment cells where he said the prisoners were "literally baked alive" after taking part in an organized revolt against a "monotonous" diet.

"We have definite information as to the identity of the higher up who was responsible for the incarceration, punishment and death of these men," Hersch said.

Although he declined to discuss names, the coroner said he had warrants for the arrest of "four to six guards and officials" and promised he would "break the case wide open."

Guards Gave Tip
Hersch said his information concerning the "higher up" was given by four guards during six hours of questioning last night.

He identified two of the guards as Francis Smith, 43, and Alfred W. Brough, 39, held in $2,500 bail each as material witnesses in the deaths. Before going to the prison, where the questioning took place, the coroner said Smith had offered "to tell all."

Meanwhile, Dr. Martin R. Crane, Coroner's physician, reported that a final autopsy on the bodies of the four convicts disclosed that their hearts had shrunk to half their normal size.

The report, announced by Hersch, also revealed that other organs were similarly dehydrated.

Hersch declared that the temperature must have been early 200 degrees in the cells where the prisoners were confined with about 20 others for participating in the strike.

The super-heat was produced, he said, by closing windows and ventilators and turning steam into radiators in the corridor outside the cells and beyond the reach of prisoners.

Negro Saved Second Time From Chair

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 26. (AP)—Sam Cash had another reprieve from death in the electric chair today while the Board of Pardons and Paroles renewed its investigation of circumstances surrounding the crime for which the negro was convicted.

Cash was scheduled to die in the chair early today but yesterday afternoon Penitentiary Warden W. W. Waid was apprised of the fact a second 30-day stay had been granted by Governor James V. Allred, who acted on recommendation of the board.

About a month ago Fobie Grays, another negro, was executed for the same crime—the robbery slaying of Paul Henig, Glenfiora merchant. In his death cell Grays told an investigator for the state pardons board and Father Hugh Finnegan, prison chaplain, Cash had had no connection with the crime and that he had implicated Cash with the idea it might help his own case.

BOTH CHINESE AND JAPANESE LOSE HEAVILY

SHANGHAI, Aug. 26. (AP)—Intense fighting raged on the west shore of Poyang lake today with both Chinese and Japanese suffering heavy losses but nevertheless continuing to throw contingents after contingents of reinforcements into battle.

Against the furious Chinese opposition, the Japanese were reported to be combining infantry, air and naval forces in a determined thrust to break through to Nanchang, Chinese air base and an immediate objective in the Japanese drive toward Hankow, 225 miles away.

Chinese reports said large Japanese landing parties met virtual "annihilation" at the hands of the entrenched Chinese fighters who estimated the invaders lost 500 men at each of several sectors.

Heavy losses were admitted by the Chinese.

The Chinese maintained they still held Juichang, a city 21 miles west of Klukiang and another focal point in the Yangtze valley fight for Hankow, the provisional capital. They said Juichang was in ruins under the rain of Japanese bombs and that heavy fighting was continuing in the area.

Klukiang, occupied by the Japanese a month ago, lies near the northern tip of large Poyang lake.

A Japanese thrust in the Lu-Shan mountains near Klukiang—a resort in which 100 American and British refugees are staying just 13 miles south of Klukiang—was said also to have been repulsed with extremely heavy losses.

The Chinese reported they inflicted thousands of casualties west of Singtze, in the Lu-Shan mountains.

East of Hankow, a Japanese column of 10,000 occupied a village 24 miles from Luan—150 miles east of the Peiping-Hankow railroad at its nearest point—and another force of 10,000 Japanese was reported at Kwantung, 28 miles from Luan.

Super Bull's Eye Ready For Spitters

A super-super bull's eye is being constructed for use in the tobacco spitting contest to be held at the community picnic Monday, Labor Day, Sept. 5, at McClellan dam site.

The prize committee of the picnic will give a prize to the winner of the event. The only information that they will put out is that it will not be a plug of "chawin' terbaccy."

Instead of spitting at a cuspidor or a bulls eye, the contestants will get to spit in "Ole Pete's" face. This is a new type of bulls eye, and the spitters will have to be accurate.

Since the announcement of this coming event, the tobacco dealers all over the Top O' Texas area have been contacted and they advise the sales of favorite chewing tobaccos have pyramided from eight to ten times the average sales.

Entrants in this event will register at the registration desk on the picnic site, and will be numbered in the order of their registration.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life...

By R. C. Hollis. $30 A WEEK IN CALIFORNIA. One of my good friends remarks that he believes the California $30 a week plan will carry.

Who's Kidding Whom?

Sometimes, surveying this confused world of ours, it is a little hard to figure out just who is kidding whom. The line that separates the charlatan from the statesman gets awfully thin, at times.

A few days ago the New York Times went to the trouble to print a verbatim stenographic report of a speech delivered by Father Divine to a flock of the faithful in one of his "Heavens" near New York City.

The technique is much the same; the emotional appeal is the same, and the intellectual content of the message is the same.

For the dictator has the same technique of aiming his appeal at the emotions rather than at the reason. He knows, too, the trick of appealing to discontent, of pouring forth a string of high-sounding but fundamentally meaningless phrases.

That a group of underprivileged colored people should follow Father Divine is not at all surprising. But that whole nations should flock after these assorted Father-Divines-in-uniform, surrendering their destinies to them and empowering them to go forth and destroy the peace of the world—that is nothing less than appalling.

An exceedingly happy young lady is Sally Clark, younger sister of Mrs. John Roosevelt, who is shown above as she danced with George McLanahan of New York, whom she will marry next Jan. 6. Calls Peace League Red-Dominated

J. B. Matthews, who described himself as a former "fellow traveler" of Communists here was once the head of the League.

No, you're not seeing things—that's really milk which Mrs. Tony Galento is holding out to her box-fighting spouse in their Orange, N. J., home. For the first time in a long while, beer and ale play a very minor part in the heavyweight's diet as he convalesces from a siege of bronchial pneumonia.

Trying to budge this gentleman would be as simple as moving Gibraltar if the expression on his face means anything. Police Sergeant Allen puts everything into it—including his 200-odd pounds—as he grimly sets about the task of anchoring the police tug-of-war team in its contest with the Royal Army Service Corps huskies during the London Police Sports Meet at White City. Allen takes no chances, by wrapping the two-inch rope around his torso.

Parishioners 'Picket' to Keep Priest

Day after day, plodding through mud and rain, "pickets" of the St. Barbara Catholic Church at Vulcan, Mich., surrounded the rectory to prevent the departure of the Rev. The group of picketers shown above shouted "We want Father Simon," and at one point physically blocked the priest's effort to leave. A similar demonstration last spring halted a similar transfer order.

WINTER NIGHT FROST HAS A SISTER HERE

James V. Alfred finally got the "v" in his name explained, but this situation is more complicated for a brother of Mrs. Buena Burchfield of Pampa, whose name is "Winter Night Frost."

How much time he has spent in explaining his unusual name has not been revealed by the experts who like to figure everything out by slide rule. Speculation over the name was started Thursday when a New Orleans newspaper man sent a telegram to Amarillo, asking if Mayor Ross D. Rogers knew a man by the name of Winter Night Frost, who formerly lived in Amarillo.

Cause of the injury was the attempt of the man on Tuesday night to swim the muddy Mississippi from New Orleans to the Gulf. But yesterday he quit the river after he had swum about 45 miles.

Three months ago the man with the seasonal name sang with a studio orchestra over a radio station in this section, and he appeared under the name of Jack Frost. But Winter Night Frost is his real name.

The father of the young man is H. L. Frost, who lives in Rosewell, N. M. The youth's mother, Mrs. Billie Gail Frost, resides at El Paso.

19-Story Building Planned By Allred

AUSTIN, Aug. 26 (AP)—Construction of a 19-story state court and office building here would save money for Texas because it would eliminate the $72,169 a year now going for rent, Governor James V. Allred said today.

Allred applied to the federal PWA yesterday for a grant of $1,170,000 and loan of $1,430,000 for erection of the structure. If the PWA would approve the application, a special session of the legislature would be necessary this fall to sanction borrowing by the state and adopt a repayment policy.

The governor said he believed PWA headquarters at Washington would act on the request within 30 days. He added he had additional legislative subjects "in mind" in event of a special session but preferred not to name them at this time.

Arrangements for construction of the building, Allred said, cannot go over until the regular legislative session beginning in January because work on all projects in the current PWA program must be under way by January 1.

O'Daniel Reaffirms 'Open Mind' Policy

FORT WORTH, Aug. 26 (AP)—The State Baptist Student Conference considered by gubernatorial nominee W. Lee O'Daniel as representing 25,000 votes against legalized horse race betting in Texas, adjourned Wednesday and will hold its next meeting at Memphis, Tenn., in October as part of a Southwide assembly of all state groups.

O'Daniel Thursday told a committee of Baptist youths here that he would not change his "open mind" attitude toward legalized race track betting until he had a representative poll of opinions from the entire state.

He told the meeting, however, he would consider its petition as 25,000 votes against betting, the committee declaring it represented that many Texas Baptist college students. O'Daniel said his "open mind" policy meant he was open to opinions by the people and that he would make no statement until the matter became a political issue.

Inventors Of Cotton Picker Plan Gifts

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 26 (AP)—John and Masek Rust, co-inventors of a mechanical cotton picker, today announced formation of the "Rust Foundation," through which they said they proposed to apply a large part of their personal profit on the invention to uplift agricultural workers of the south.

"We think the idea of limiting the spread in income to ten to one would make an interesting experiment," the Rusts said in a statement in which they announced a charter of incorporation would be sought at Nashville.

They said all income they personally realize from their invention above the limited income set for themselves, would go into the foundation in an effort to make the picker "a blessing instead of a curse" to displaced labor.

STEER MAKES BREAK

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 26 (AP)—A big Texas steer, yearning for the open range, dived from a seventh story window of a packing house into the White river. The steer swam the river, trotted through town and put on several prompts mill lights with bystanders who played cow-boy and gave chase. Finally two policemen shot and killed the animal.

Picture of Man Being Nonchalant

Harry Bridges, under heavy fire in Washington as the Dies committee investigating "un-American" activities heard charges that he is a Communist, seemed plenty nonchalant as he lighted up at the first California C. I. O. convention in Los Angeles, just after his unanimous election as chairman of the meeting.

LODGE MOTHER TO BE PICKED

Women interested in applying for the position of house mother at either one of the Top O' Texas lodges recently established at Canyon, within five blocks of the West Texas State College campus, will be interviewed by Mrs. Geraldine Green, WTSC dean of women, at 10 o'clock Monday morning in the office of R. G. Hughes in the Rose building.

One of the lodges is for boys, the other for girls. A total of 23 boys have signed for places in the house assigned for boys and 14 girls have registered for places in the girls house.

Both these houses were recently rented by a group of Top O' Texas alumni of the college and other interested citizens, for the purpose of providing co-operative homes for boys and girls so that they might attend college, at a cost of only $15 a month each.

Represented among the boys and girls who have already registered for places in the Top O' Texas lodges are students from Hopkins, LeFors, Pampa, Skellytown, Wheeler and Miami.

Presidential, Air Mail Stamps Here

Six more of the series of Presidential Stamps have been received at the local postoffice and are available for stamp collectors. The supply is limited because of the demand over the nation for the new stamps.

Also on hand is the new issue of air mail stamp. The six new stamps and five received two weeks ago may be secured from Assistant Postmaster O. K. Gaylor.

The new six-cent air mail stamp is bi-colored having a blue border with a red center showing an eagle with outstretched wings and a shield and sheaf of arrows in its claws.

In the Presidential series, the one-half cent stamp is orange in color and carries a bust of Benjamin Franklin. AUSTRALIAN NATIVES GET SPECIAL COURT.

MARBLE BEAR, West Australia (AP)—A new court of native affairs—established as an experiment in dealing with native crimes—gave its first decision recently.

It sentenced "Smiler," an aged native, to two years banishment from his tribe for killing a fellow tribesman. The court is composed of a special magistrate, a superintendent of native hospitals, a Crown law representative, the protector of native affairs, and "Sambo," headman of "Smiler's" tribe.

Priest's Transfer Brings Protests

The Rev. Simon Borkowski, above, tried vainly to obey orders to transfer from his Catholic parish at Vulcan, Mich., but parishioners surrounding the house in a "picket line" prevented his leaving. A similar protest against a similar transfer was made by the congregation last spring.

W. LEE CITES HOGG EXAMPLE

FORT WORTH, Aug. 26 (AP)—Examples set by Jesus Christ, the United States government and former Governor James Stephen Hogg were cited by W. Lee O'Daniel today as precedents for his endorsement of a slate of candidates for state offices.

The examples were stressed in a radio speech in which the gubernatorial nominee mentioned his favorite candidates by name for the first time since his famous endorsement speech of two weeks ago. O'Daniel also repeated the portion of his endorsement speech relating to two judges, pointing out that he had not claimed they could help in carrying out his legislative program. Again emphasizing his belief that people should vote as their conscience dictates, O'Daniel appealed for a heavy vote in the Saturday primary.

He used results of the July primary as certified by the state Democratic executive committee to prove his contention that thousands of voters had no preference among the candidates in the six state races touched by his endorsements. These figures showed the differences in the number who voted for governor and the other state races ranged from 75,566 in the state general's race, to 178,532 in the race for judge of the court of criminal appeals.

"It was those who did not vote for those other candidates that were interested in knowing who we wanted them to vote for," O'Daniel said. Citing precedents for his action, O'Daniel said "I will give you three of the highest authorities known to man."

The first, he said, was Jesus Christ. "You will remember," he said, "that Christ had a board of directors called the Apostles, and although perfect, he chose one Apostle who betrayed him." O'Daniel admitted that he may have erred in naming some of his preferences, but declared that on the principles of wanting a cabinet of advisers, and the right to express his preferences were the same in both cases.

Gov. Hogg Cited. O'Daniel also cited the action of former Governor Hogg in demanding a slate of sympathetic state officers to serve with him, and emphasized the coincidence that the two men Hogg especially wanted elected were the lieutenant governor and attorney general "just as desired by O'Daniel."

He also pointed out the coincidence that the lieutenant governor endorsed by Hogg had previously served in the House of Representatives, and had been speaker of the House, "the same as Cokes Stevenson now endorsed by O'Daniel."

O'Daniel announced a series of regular Sunday morning broadcasts will be started by him from his home in Fort Worth on Sept. 16, and will be continued from the governor's mansion after his inauguration. "It is to be a new feature in government administration," he said. "We want to get back to the old original idea of government of the people, by the people and for the people, to prove that all of us can travel the highway of happiness and prosperity, instead of just a favored few."

Man Does Turn In WPA Sewing Room

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 26 (AP)—Malley, WPA client whose last name was not given, is doing a man's work now—but only after a turn in the sewing room.

He applied for a job recently and was accepted. A stenographer transcribing his name wrote it "Molley."

After he had been on his job some time, this letter came to the WPA offices: "I have never worked a button hole in my life, and I can't run a sewing machine. It's all I can do to even thread a needle. I want to ask you to please try to find some work for me besides what you have assigned me to in the sewing room."

A quick recheck followed, "Molley" became "Malley" in the records, and a more masculine assignment was made.

GOSSETT ENDORSED. WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Wichita Falls Daily Times today said it received a letter from W. R. Williams of San Antonio, southwestern representative of the American Federation of Labor, endorsing Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls for Congress from the thirteenth Texas district.

SERIAL STORY

HAYWIRE HOUSE BY EDWIN RUTT

Yesterday: The day of the fore-closure approaches and Kinks and Sally are desperate. Then Kinks has a last-minute idea!

CHAPTER XVII

ON the day that she was to lose her home, Sally Pennington found Mrs. Clipstock in a state. "This is a crazy house," Mrs. Clipstock said darkly. "I cook a nice, hot lunch and four of 'em don't come to eat it."

Sally Pennington

"Where are they?" said Sally. "I don't know. I heard them shouting outside about an hour ago. But they didn't come in."

"Well, if they haven't sense enough to eat they can hangry for all I care," said Sally. "Sit down, dearie," said Mrs. Clipstock, noting Sally's tired face.

"The thought of losing this place made Sally sick. To lose this house, the only home she had, the place she loved above all others. Oh, it was too rotten. She crossed the lawn swiftly, holding back the tears with tremendous effort. And then, suddenly, she came to an abrupt halt."

"The voice of Kinks Parker, raised in a chatty singsong, was proceeding from the barn. 'C'mon, Adar,' Kinks was imploring. 'Adar from Decatur, treat me right. Eight's m' point an' eight's m' potion. Swing it, bones, an' let's go to town. Are you ready? Then, go! Hot dig-gity!'"

"Postponing her cry for a moment, Sally crept to the barn and peered in at the door. Kneeling in a circle were Kinks Parker, the Great Pierre, Bull Griffin and Mr. Tony Spaldini. Each had money before him, but the Great Pierre had more than the others. A little mountain of greenbacks rose in front of him. Even as Sally looked the dice were his and he rolled them with a grand Continental flourish. On the running-board of one of the cars, not playing but absorbed in the game, sat Mr. C. K. Titus. No one noticed Sally. And it was a good thing. For the tears came suddenly now, like rain in Pago Pago. She turned, fled down to the river and flung herself on the grass. Kinks had simply walked out of his responsibilities. He claimed he loved her, wanted to marry her. But he'd

"I'm coming with you," said C. K. Titus. There wasn't time to find out why. Kinks pushed Sally in. The car roared out of Mrs. Preston's grounds. At the bank in Winstock Mr. Spencer Ames sat with a smile playing about his lips. He looked across the desk at his son Wilton. "Well," he said, "they've got just half an hour. They can't make it. We've played our cards very well, Wilton, and we'll show a handsome profit. We..."

There was a sudden commotion outside his office. The voice of Bettinson, one of the clerks, rose in exasperation. "But you can't go in there," expostulated Bettinson. "Mr. Ames is busy. You..."

MR. BETTINSON never finished it. There was the unmistakable sound of a jaw being socked. Something heavy crashed. The door of Mr. Ames' office was flung violently open. The next instant Sally Pennington, Kinks Parker and an unassuming, unknown gentleman stood in the room. Spencer Ames struggled to his feet. "What is the meaning of this?" he demanded angrily. Kinks marched to the desk. With a quick gesture he flung down a check for $400 and $200 in bills.

"The meaning is," he said, "that we keep the old homestead for another six months, at least. And you"—he whirled suddenly on Wilton—"you dirty, little rat, I'd like to plaster you all over the state of Connecticut." Sally came to life. If anybody was going to raise the devil with Wilton Ames, she thought that it should be she. "And let me tell you this, Wilton Ames," she snapped, "if you ever so much as—look at me again, I'll slap your face so hard that your head will ring till Christmas."

"Well," he cried, "I'm cleaned out. You guys go ahead." He dashed suddenly from the barn. How long she'd been crying, Sally Pennington didn't know. She felt herself lifted suddenly. "Where's that $400?" Kinks Parker was shouting in her ear. She looked at him blankly, the tears streaming down her cheeks. "In m-my handbag," she said. "A—a check. But you—you... don't you touch me. I hate you. You..."

"Nuts," cut in Kinks. "Come on." He seized her wrist and raced her across the lawn. Sally's car stood in the driveway. To Kinks' amazement, C. K. Titus sat in the back.

The Life Story of W. LEE O'DANIEL

CHAPTER 15—THE TEXAS CAMPAIGN IN KANSAS

By C. L. DOUGLAS AND FRANCIS MILLER

(Copyright, 1933, by the Scripps-Howard Newspapers of Texas. Reproduction in whole or in part expressly prohibited.)

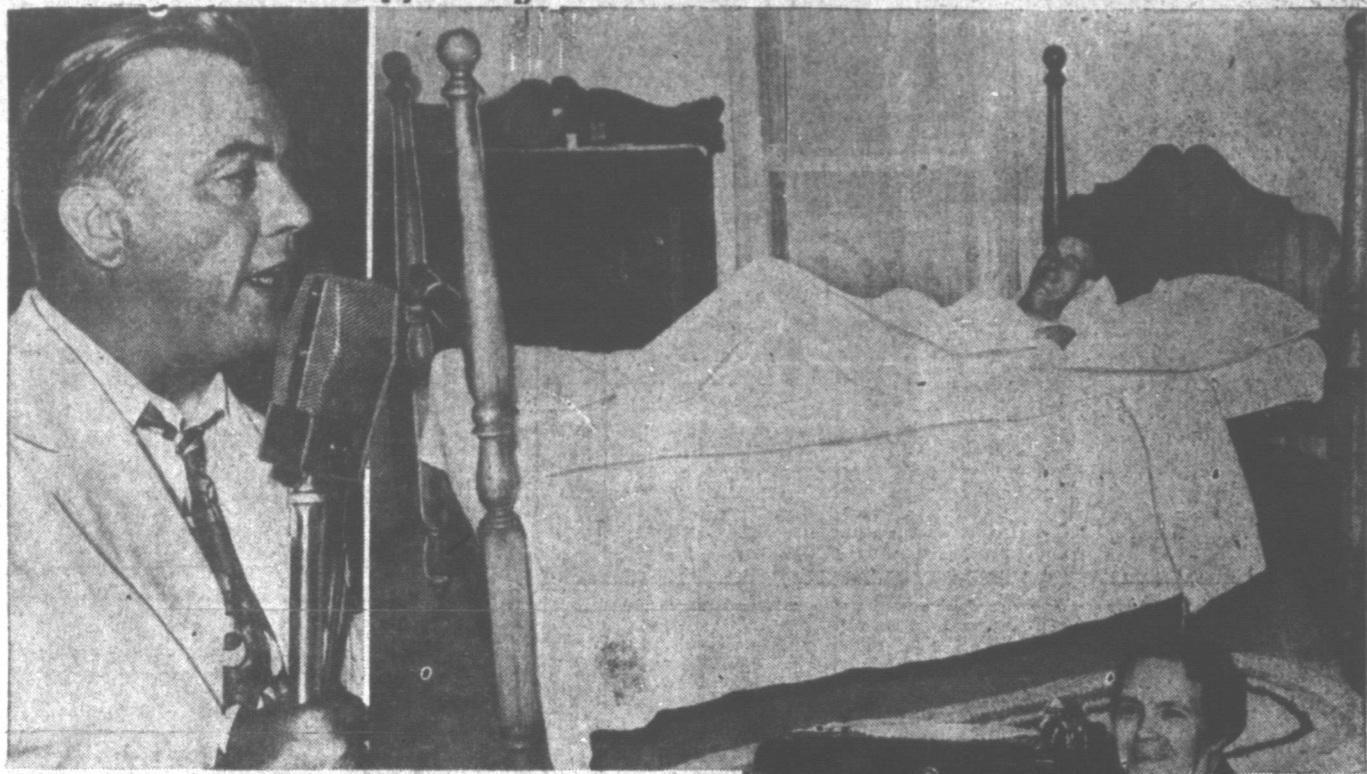

Mr. Gilbert Endicott of Waco, Texas, seldom went back to the old home town, but when he dropped in on Kingman, Kan., for a visit with friends and relatives during the first week of July he started something.

"Say, did you know that the W. Lee O'Daniel, who is running for governor of Texas, is the same Wilbur O'Daniel who used to live here?" he asked his friends.

"You don't say!" exclaimed the friends. "Old Wilbur, eh? Well, what do you know about that? We've heard him on the radio a long time but didn't recognize the name."

"Yes, he has a good chance of winning the nomination," said the man from Waco, "and that usually means election in Texas."

Somebody told the weekly Kingman Journal about it, and on July 8 the Journal ran a Page 1 piece which started, in part:

by Texas business men," said the Journal, whose front page already was on the way south for reproduction in Lone Star newspapers.

W. Lee, who had stated that he already was out of the Associated company when it went under took all this furore with a smile.

"I didn't care," he said later. "I knew they couldn't get anything on me that would hurt my reputation, because there was nothing to get."

Anyhow, his friend went ahead with a little offset publicity by arranging a "big broadcast" from Kingman—with some of the future governor's friends participating.

KANSANS LOUD IN THEIR PRAISE FOR CANDIDATE

Garfield Crawford of Dallas arranged it for Kingman, because it was the town's first time on a hookup. Kingman was all excitement. It took place on the porch of the Elster Halle home with Mr. Crawford introducing the citizens.

"They will refute and correct," he said, "the political canards instigated in Kingman by professional politicians. There is indeed a message from the heart."

Then he called on Glenn Ferguson, hardware dealer, to act as master of ceremonies. Said he: "Wilbur was a go-getter, a good business man and a good citizen, a regular fellow."

Elster M. Halle, a pioneer real estate dealer and former resident of Fort Worth, was next. "I've known Wilbur since he came to Kingman back in 1914. He was progressive, a hard worker and I've never heard a breath of scandal against him."

CAPABLE IN EVERY WAY TO SERVE PEOPLE OF TEXAS

Police Chief M. F. Fisher: "He started at the bottom of the ladder of life. I knew him when he was getting 40-a-week working in a mill. There was never a better man than Wilbur. I know he hasn't changed. He was a happy, hard-working youngster."

Joe Morris, the barber: "A fine white license plates of Texas began appearing in Kingman's streets. Telephone calls from Texas and telegrams from wire agencies began pouring in.

"Personal visits are being made clean young man admired by everybody. His big Irish-American heart beat in tune with these less fortunate."

Dr. W. M. Benefiel: "I know him to be a fine type of man, and I believe him capable in every way to serve the people of Texas as governor."

Charley Peterson, city clerk: "I am glad to recommend him as a clean honest gentleman in every respect. The people of Texas will make no mistake in picking him as their next governor. We now extend to him an invitation to come up and eat fried chicken with us. Thank you, Neighbor Texans."

HOUSEHOLD GOODS NOW PRIZED BY KANSANS

That ended Kingman's big broadcast of 1933, but it didn't end the talk. Everybody who knew "Wilbur" let everybody else know about it, but none was more proud than Bun Sanders, the tent and awning manufacturer.

"Because," he grinned, "I now sleep in a bed that the great man slept in."

According to Mr. Sanders, the Hillbilly candidate stored some of his household goods with Claude Honey when he moved from Kingman in 1920. After being gone for some time he wrote Honey to sell the goods because the cost of packing and the freight would be almost as much as the articles were worth. Sanders bought the four-poster bed and dresser.

"Maybe," said Mr. Sanders, interviewed in the bed, "I can lie here and figure out how to be governor of Kansas sometime."

TWO GOVERNORS FROM RENO COUNTY, KANSAS

Five cities in Kansas immediately laid claim to Wilbur as a hometown boy—Hutchinson, Anthony and Wichita—but Arlington, of course, had the best claim.

All Reno County was proud. Reno had furnished one governor, the current Walter Huxman, who was born a few miles from the farm where O'Daniel was reared—and how it would be able to mark up another.

But even after the broadcast, the Texas opponents of O'Daniel weren't through. In Kingman they found a man who didn't like W. Lee and they bundled him off to Texas that they might use him on the radio.

Whatever this gentleman might have said, if anything, probably will forever remain a mystery, for those who brought him to Texas made one serious error—they saved him for the run-off.

(Next: Hell Bent for Election.)

Endicott states that O'Daniel is making an aggressive campaign in which he uses sound equipment and an orchestra, and that he is having immense crowds at his meetings. He has streamlined his name since leaving Kingman and it is now W. Lee O'Daniel, a number of speeches in his behalf have been heard in Kingman over Fort Worth and Dallas stations, but on account of the change in the name it was not connected with the former Kingman man.

TEXAS DEMOCRAT FLIES TO KANSAS FOR INQUIRY

That item started the Texas campaign rolling in Kansas.

The following week the contemporary Kingman Leader-Courier had this to say:

"Stories in Kingman papers concerning the candidacy of W. Lee O'Daniel, for governor of Texas, caused quite a sensation in the Lone Star state."

"A representative of the state Democratic organization in Texas flew here Tuesday to find out what he could about O'Daniel while he lived here."

"You wonder who he was? We'll tell you this much—he was a lawyer, short, stout and jovial, and they say his face beamed when he discovered that the Journal—obviously antagonistic to the former hometown boy—had printed another and more lengthy piece on the subject."

The man from Texas bought 500 copies.

The second Journal article said, in part:

"It (the O'Daniel campaign) is somewhat similar in style to the campaign used by the lately lamented Dr. John R. Brinkley for governor of Kansas in 1932 and which created such a furore in this state."

"It seems that since O'Daniel went to Fort Worth in 1925 all efforts of the people of Texas to get any information about him have been fruitless until the Journal story appeared last week. . . ."

"Kingman people will recall that O'Daniel came here as a bookkeeper for the Kingman mills about 1913. Later he was one of the organizers of the Independent Milling Company, a small concern using 'mid-ge' mills and located in the elevator now owned by the McKenna Grain Company."

"Later the company was merged into the Associated Mill and Elevator Company and O'Daniel was given a job with the company in Kansas City, and left here in 1920."

Later a petition asking for a receiver was filed in the federal court, and the late J. N. Doloy of Topeka was appointed receiver. In the windup of the company's affairs the stockholders lost their entire investment."

So said the Journal, and immediately cars bearing the black and
