Mrs. John Hessey is the leader of the senior group, Mrs. L. L. McCollm, acting leader of the junior group, and Captain Herman Lambrecht, sophomore leader.

A meeting of these groups was called previous to the opening of school and the teachers endeavored to bring before the parents the grading system, courses offered, and other aims of the coming year. Following the issuance of the six-week grade cards another group meeting will be held. At this session, which probably will be the last week in October, the teachers will explain to the parents the grading system and the parents will present their problems; thereby bringing about a better understanding of each individual case.

Soon after the group meetings, Mrs. Green will call a general meeting at which an interesting program will be presented and general topics will be discussed.

This is a new plan being tried by the high school P-T-A. To get closer cooperation of the school and home and to prove interesting enough that the parents will attend the meetings 100 per cent.

Officers and committee women attending the meeting were Mrs. L. L. McCollm, vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Cyril Hamilton, treasurer; Mrs. J. C. Richey, secretary; Mrs. Buri Graham, membership chairman; Mrs. W. D. Pelee, historian; and Mrs. George French, publicity chairman.

Tomorrow will mark nine and one half years in Pampa for the Pampa Furniture Co. This institution home owned and operated, with two stores, will observe their period of business in Pampa with a three week "Get Better Acquainted Campaign."

Frank Foster, owner and general manager, said, "It is our desire to become better acquainted with all of our many customers and make new acquaintances. We hold in high regard our many friends and customers who have patronized us in the past years, and on the realization of what these acquaintances had meant, not only in our progress but to every individual member of the organization, we were prompted with the idea of our 'Get Better Acquainted Campaign.' We want the people to visit us and feel that they are personally invited by each employee."

Many special displays will be made in the windows of the firm in the next few weeks, and will bring to the people of Pampa new modern styling in furniture and better home furnishings.

RE ARTISTIC WITH FLOWERS

If you have a flair for flower arrangement, the gardens are in their prime is the time to try to achieve the unusual. Have an assortment of flower holders for shallow bowls handy. Select carefully vases and bowls which will harmonize with the room you wish to decorate as well as the blossoms you use. A few blooms with buds and leaves, gracefully arranged, will give a more restful effect than an overshadowed vase of miscellaneous flowers. If your bouquet appears topheavy, cut the stems shorter or use a taller vase; if your bouquet looks as if it were going to sink into the bowl any minute, use a bowl more shallow or cut flowers with longer stems. Try to achieve proportion and balance between your container and bouquet. Generally speaking, you will like undecorated containers, best—unglazed pottery, clear crystal, burnished metal.

To keep bouquets fresh, remove the leaves on the stems which would be under water in the container. And don't forget to give them fresh water every day.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 35 to 50), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of pep, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells. If you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vitality to enjoy life and assist in carrying literary nerves and those disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life. Pinkham's is WILLI WORTHY'S.

Keep The Enemy Running

There is nothing like keeping an enemy on the run when you get him started. Remarkable gains have been made in automobile accident prevention this year. There is greater cooperation on all sides to prevent death and injury than ever before.

It has become generally acknowledged that in addition to educating the public on safety measures, it is equally important to build roads, intersections and automobiles in such a manner as to make accidents more nearly impossible.

In studying the mechanical conditions which tend to create accidents, in spite of a driver's ability, the question of road visibility from the car is now receiving particular attention. It becomes apparent that in recent years, practical vision for the driver, as well as occupants of the car, has been impaired by the craze for stream-lined effect.

According to Arthur W. Stevens, a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers, the 1938 motorist has a range of forward, useful vision which is only one-eighth of that of a man walking; and while cars are about 50 per cent faster than they were 17 years ago, the driver's visibility has been reduced 38 per cent.

No wonder "vision" from the inside of an automobile is coming in for a checking up in the accident prevention drive. With safety glass, which is universally used in automobiles, there seems to be no good reason for designing cars with less visibility. Greater visibility will help keep the enemy (motor accidents) on the run.

The Exchequer Goes To Sea

The college gates begin to creak open again, and thousands of dew-eyed scholars all over the country rush eagerly into the arms of the high-pressure salesmen of the campus.

Soon freshmen in droves will be signing agreements to get their suits pressed three times a week, contracting for nine months' worth of meal tickets, assigning laundry rights forever, and renting two grand pianos. But not at Princeton.

Not, that is, for the first couple of days, anyway. Bearing in mind the number of freshmen who practically throw themselves on charity before the school year is out, the college's student governing body has set up a protective arrangement which gives the new students a short period of grace in which to set up their defenses before the assault begins. In the meantime, student advisers and guides diligently study out with the students the kinds of defenses that might work.

It's doubtful if this is going to give rise to many outraged cries of "Mollycoddling" from the old folks at home at least, as a matter of fact, it suggests that some similar set-up might not be a bad idea for the older boys and girls contemplating marriage—a kind of Newlyweds' Protective Association.

Pancakes fried in castor oil is a favorite dish in Kellingok, Alaska. The rumor is that the town was named after the exclamation the first visitor made when he heard about it.

Some 300 magicians met in convention recently at San Jose, Calif. They studied the problems of the railroad a moment and then vanished in a body with a defeated expression.

ONE MAN RULE
(The United States News)

Yes, the boot and spur are not American instruments of oppression. The damage is done in more subtle ways and with less smashbuckling. The uncertainty of initiative, the exhaustion of enterprise through injudicious taxation and wasteful spending of public funds are not symbolized by an iron heel, though the net effect is comparable.

For what do we observe today in America as grave manifestations of one-man rule?

One man decides who shall be nominated for Congress in the majority party of the nation.

One man, using an immoral process of political corruption, and abandoning party debate or party caucus or party convention or conference, decides who is and who is not entitled to wear the label "Democrat."

One man by his public speeches influences the Federal machine, which, in turn, casts its ballots as a unit and dominates the party primaries in many States.

One man, having been given discretionary authority by a rubber-stamp Congress, decides whether we shall have public ownership of utility enterprises.

One man decides whether or not the Constitution shall be amended, for, without his consent, the rubber-stamp Congress does not dare submit fundamental changes to the people themselves to decide.

One man by the power of appointment to vacancies on the Supreme Court of the United States, has renegeed his intention of filling such vacancies with justices who meet his preconceived notions of how the Constitution may be stretched so as to accommodate his own point of view, without submitting the concrete issues to the people for approval or disapproval.

One man, acting through his Secretary of Agriculture, decides how much a farmer shall plant and in what field he shall plant.

One man decides the award of public works contracts to districts and areas where conditions are most favorable to the "leader" of the party.

One man, who is the most political advantage will accrue to the rubber-stamp members of Congress, by having considered their convictions, agree to pay 100 per cent with the President virtually in advance.

One man's Veto Are Manifested in Many Ways. One man's Veto funds and appropriates them in such a way as to prevent general purposes to be granted. One man's Veto the National Emergency Council, authorized to coordinate administrative functions of emergency agencies, turns out to be a rubber-stamp body to assist Mr. Roosevelt's policy.

Sharing The Comforts Of Life...

By R. C. Hollis

LABOR SHORTAGE NEEDED

Why do we need to have a labor shortage? Does anyone know of any individual who has all the comforts of life they need and if these comforts are only supplied by labor transforming natural resources into the comforts of life, then why should there not be a labor shortage?

There are very definite reasons for there not being a labor shortage and what we need most in this country is a labor shortage, caused not by war or any destructive force, but a shortage in labor to create the comforts of life. And we will have a shortage of labor to create the comforts of life when we more nearly approach a free competitive system.

Professor Wertenbaker of Oxford, England, former professor of Princeton, is authority for the statement and we believe it is true. "For three centuries we had a labor shortage and it made us the richest, the most powerful, the most democratic people in all history."

Unless we break the artificial bonds which now hamper industry, bonds imposed by labor, government, misuse of bank credit, the menace which hangs over the nation will become intensified. There is no reason why the worker should not produce to his utmost capacity and as the professor says, "Using the latest and most effective machinery, let industry pour out its bounties to the people in lower and ever lower prices, and now, as in the past, the public will respond by giving the laborer all the work he can do. Then, and not until then, will we get back to the old days when every honest and capable worker had a job, when a man was a man because society needed him, when he looked for support to his two good hands and not to the government."

SEMI-COMPETITIVE SYSTEM FAILED

There probably are more errors in believing that we ever had a free competitive system than any other belief. It was because we did not have a free competitive system that we are in trouble. And when people begin to reason that we want to return to the competitive system, we start our confusion because we cannot return to something we never have had.

The free competitive system has been condemned because the semi-competitive system has failed. A free competitive system is where each man gets the production of his own labor and this cannot be where a man does not have free choice to make a voluntary selection of the way he desires to sell his energy.

But, because we never have had a free competitive system and because there is little hope that it ever can be 100 per cent perfect, there is no reason why we should not attempt to approach it rather than to condemn it and proceed to move away from it by establishing more and more compulsory cooperative institutions through the government.

So the next time you hear someone condemning the competitive system, call their attention to the fact that it is not the competitive system that has failed but it is the half-competitive system controlled partly by coercion, dictators and confiscation of property that has failed.

WAR RUBS OFF THE VARNISH

As we read the news dispatches of war progress in Europe, it seems that the condition is about as well described by Major L. L. R. Angus of England as any short description we have read. He said "Europe is a seething zoo. Some cages or countries are full of savage beasts. Others contain fat and docile, though economically edible, animals. The ravenous wish to devour the edible; they are continuously howling and clawing at the bars."

So the veneer is brushed aside when things get territorial and growth or expansion of the strong are too greatly retarded by other political forces.

Political campaigning in the South and other sections of the country. Small wonder one man seeks to abolish the office of Comptroller General where a proper audit of expenditures is supposed to be maintained.

One man, by arbitrarily using the power of appointment to abolish the bi-partisan character of quasi-judicial commissions, directs them along lines which fit in with one man's social and economic philosophy.

One man writes the party platform and, when it is adopted by his party, assumes the right subsequently to add to it fundamental issues which were not mentioned therein, and to make such additional issues the test of party loyalty.

Recovery in Industry is Being Delayed

One man by threats of public competition, keeps a vast industry with twelve billion dollars invested in it from spending vast sums for replacement and expansion of existing facilities amounting to about one billion dollars yearly, thus delaying recovery in the heavy industries which usually supply materials for steel construction work.

One man controls the Federal Reserve system with its extensive powers over the credit machinery of the nation.

One man has authority to devalue the gold content of the dollar and thus to affect the gold exchange throughout the world.

One man, through his appointees on the Securities and Exchange Commission, can control the capital markets of the country, and, through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, can dominate both investment and commercial banking operations.

One man assumes the right to remove from office members of the commissions created by Congress, even when the law provided that removal can be made only by joint resolution of both House and Senate.

One man decides to keep the Federal budget unbalanced by billions of dollars a year and to postpone indefinitely the retirement of public debt.

One man gives the order to blanket all "emergency" employees into the Civil Service and thus make permanent the thousands of jobs which were obtained originally without competitive examination and primarily by political pull.

One man permits executives of the humanitarian agencies, such as the relief administration, to deliver in party politics and actually condones such participation.

One man chooses what laws shall be enforced and what laws shall be ignored. Anti-trust laws which can embarrass captains of industry—the job-makers of America—are enforced by criminal indictments. Yet the Federal Corrupt Practices Act, in violation of which his own political campaign committee "booked down" corporation executives and obtained corporation contributions, is conveniently overlooked.

One man decides whether business enterprise is to have a chance to operate and obtain a fair profit. Public threats against business men, holding over their heads constantly a club of further regulation, have impeded and materially retarded American business progress.

One man appoints to the Federal bench political appointees—as a reward for congressional subservience.

One man either seeks to control or already controls party nominations, Congressional elections, credit facilities and banking, utilities, State government and municipalities through the subsidy power.

Peace Be With 'Our Boys'

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—A picture full of wheat fields, but it also can be proud of the fine cattle that are raised near here. Nowhere else in the southwest are there so many fine herds of pure-bred cattle bred and born in Gray, Roberts, Hemphill, Wheeler and Lipscomb counties. Near Pampa the J. P. Osborne, Talley and Combs-Worley herds are famous all over the United States, and on Sept. 28 which is next Wednesday, Mr. Osborne will hold his fall sale. It is like going to a fair, except that it is better, to attend an Osborne sale, for you will see as fine cattle out there as you would see at a fair. Years ago, Mr. Osborne put all his eggs in one basket, and raising Prince Domino Herefords has been his profession and his major passion. He does it in a grand but restrained manner. His cattle are as immaculate and as well-groomed as Mr. Osborne himself. He can get you excited about cattle even if you don't know anything about them. Ever since that cold rainy November day when Mr. Osborne held a sale in the building now occupied by Standard Food, this one has attended his sales, and will certainly be on hand Wednesday when 90 pure-bred Herefords will be put on the block to buyers from a dozen states. There is an excitement to it that this one wouldn't miss.

The picture, except for some dramatic emboldering, reflects the struggles Father Flanagan surmounted to make his dream a reality.

Spencer Tracy plays the role with his fine gift for natural and sincere performances, making it one of his best. In the story Father Flanagan hears the confession of a condemned murderer (Leslie Fenlon) who passionately blames his crime upon his early lack of guidance. This inspires the priest to abandon his current benefaction, a refuge for aged derelicts, and go after other, more promising material. He borrows a hundred dollars from a pawnbroker friend (Henry Hull) and goes to work. Undaunted by antipathy and disinterest, he rents a ramshackle old dwelling and puts out his sign, "Father Flanagan's Home for Boys." With the loyal but not so "impractical" pawnbroker as chief aide, the priest, wins through to his goal—a country place, a real "Boys Town."

Comes to this happy, lively community—where all creeds, races and colors are welcome—one Whitley Marsh (Mickey Rooney), a tough guy. Loud, smart-aleck, fresh, Whitley gets set to run Boys Town, but he's getting away with it, but is taken down so thoroughly—both in the "elections" and in fist-cuffs, that he skips.

When little Pee-Wee (Boys Watson) trails him devotedly and is run down by a speeding car. Whitley softens—but then he thinks it's too late. He runs away, gets involved by chance in a bank robbery with his criminal old brother, and for a while it looks bad for Boys Town and Father Flanagan and terrible for Whitley.

Norman Taurog, expert in child direction, does another "Skipper" on a broader scale here.

"My Lucky Star" is a typical Sonja Henie vehicle, brightened by the star's rhythmic skating in several ice sequences, and distinguished by a spectacular "Alice in Wonderland" ballet the like of which has been seen in none of her previous films.

The story is no stranger than it has to be, but Joan Davis and Buddy Ebsen as comedy romantics, some nice tunes by Gordon and Revel, and Roy del Ruth's direction keep it moving to the ballet finale which makes it all worth-while.

How's Your Health?

POISONING BY ACCIDENT.

Have you any poisons in your house? As likely as not when confronted with such a question your answer would be "No." On the other hand, if you stop to look you will probably find from one to a dozen or more distinctly poisonous substances.

These may be drugs ranging from tincture of iodine to bichloride or mercury tablets, or highly poisonous metal poisons, pastes, volatile liquids and insect powders, and various exterminating substances.

Though you may not consider them as such, each of these poisonous substances is a potential hazard; and the hazard is the greater when there are young children in the house. It is wise to periodically make an inspection and to weed out the poisonous substances.

Start with your medicine cabinet and segregate all the poisonous items contained there. Don't keep tooth paste and mouth wash on the same shelf with the tincture of iodine or other antiseptics.

Do you have any barbituric acid tablets, or other commonly used "home remedies"? Segregate them from your toilet articles, place them apart in some container and in some place definitely reserved for medicines.

Follow the same practice with regard to the non-medical substances. Volatile liquids such as benzene, turpentine, solvent compounds, and cleaning fluids, should be placed preferably in some closet or a place which can be locked.

All of this may seem like excessive precaution but there are enough instances of accidental poisoning resulting from the careless distribution of poisonous materials through the household to warrant these practices.

In case of accidents due to poisoning, don't lose your head. Send for a doctor. If you can discover the nature of the poison the individual took, look at the container. Very frequently you will find the appropriate antidotes given thereon. Follow instructions and administer first aid.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Confirmation of plans for a 24-inch gas line from Central Gray county 500 miles to Omaha, Nebraska, was seen in the announcement by the Wall Street Journal that the Texas company had let a contract for pipe for the enterprise.

The last two blocks on West Francis street were opened to traffic, leaving only South Cuyler street and one block on Frost street to be opened.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Under an order reducing production in the state 25 per cent to comply with the National oil code, a new summary was issued by the Railroad Commission for the Panhandle field, setting the allowable at 49,727 barrels.

The Montgomery Ward company extended the lease on their present building on North Cuyler street 30 years, Manager E. M. Conley announced.

How 348 Students Got Out Of School

HOUSTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—The "court room holiday" of 348 students of the Oates Prairie district school was over today.

They recaptured their studies after District Judge Ewing upheld an election in which Oates Prairie was annexed to the Houston school district.

The election, held July 23, was contested by residents of the Oates Prairie district, who said they had been refused the right to vote.

Judge Boyd found an insufficient number of witnesses who had been presented by the plaintiffs to show that the result of the election would have been changed, if all had been permitted to vote.

So it's back to school for 348 boys and girls who got out of studies for several days while the court was deciding where they should go.

Tex's Topix

By Tex DeWesse

Sure, he spent a very comfortable night... Slept fine... Feels like a top, he says.

These cool Panhandle nights are just right for sleeping... A fellow wakes up feeling good and rested... No tossing about... Take last night for instance... All right, friend, you take it. Take it with you when you go, but please go. But before you go let's both admit that last night was a bit chilly.

Then let's admit that when we got into bed after padding about in our bare feet our toes were cold and the cold sheets didn't make them any warmer... Let's admit while we're at it that we went to sleep with our legs jacked up as close to our chin as they would go and that a whistling breeze right from the Arctic circle kept blowing down our backs... When we finally fell asleep we started to dream we were fighting with Byrd at the south pole and he kicked us out into a snow drift.

All we could do was burrow into it, which we did until we woke up with one leg hanging out of bed and the covers pulled up around our middle... Not knowing where the extra covers were kept, and being too sleepy to get them if we had known, we grabbed our clothes off the chair and tried to pull them over us. But it didn't work. When our shoulders were covered our toes were out... When we raked something over our toes, our shoulders were out.

So all night long we drove dogs sleds carrying serum to Nome, or Fairbanks or somewhere, and fell into one ice crevice after another until our legs simply couldn't be dragged another step. And along about that time we heard the roar of an airplane coming to rescue us, but it turned out to be the alarm clock and that was the end of a terrible night. The only good thing about it was the fact it did not last longer... These cool nights are the berries, all right, but not unless we have more covers after 2 a. m., which is the regular early morning hour for the Boy Wonder to leave his bed and crawl into mine.

The Capital Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—Coach Dana Xenophon Bibe, hired at $15,000 a year to re-establish the football glories of the University of Texas, is wearing a smile 24 hours in spite of the fact there are little reasons to believe the Longhorns will be world beaters this fall.

The team has wound up the past three seasons in the cellar of the Southwest Conference and has not won the championship in eight years.

This is Bibe's second year in active charge of the gridder. He became director of physical education and head football coach in the spring of 1937 after asking and receiving more than twice the salary of the state school president.

The reason for the grin which wreathes the stocky mentor's features is a crop of "fine, clean boys" who have registered as freshmen and who will be available for varsity play next year.

The "Bible plan" which won six titles for Nebraska University in eight years and five for Texas A. & M. College previously, is only

YOU AND YOUR Nation's Affairs

By ERNEST MINOR PATTERSON
President American Academy of Political and Social Sciences

Just a few years ago the price of an electric refrigerator large enough for an ordinary family was so high that only a few families could afford one.

The only kinds they could purchase were so small that they were quite inadequate. Now a six-foot box of standard size costs about $100 while a super deluxe model is about $250.

Notice what is involved. One man, many people have such small incomes that they still cannot purchase this modern convenience but there has been a great change.

Our column has several times called attention to the relation between prices and profits, with one point emphasized. A business man "makes money" if his total receipts are greater than his total expenses. Accordingly he does all he can to reduce expenses and increase receipts.

Receipts are enlarged either by selling at a higher price or by selling a larger volume. While frequently it makes no difference to the business man which method is followed, there are cases where there is a difference.

Notice what is involved. One element is what is called "elasticity of demand." Ordinarily more of any article can be sold at a low price than at a higher price. There are exceptions, some of them quite important, but the statement is on the whole correct. This elasticity of demand is more noticeable with some products than with others. But to a greater or less degree more units can be sold at a lower price.

The other element to be considered is cost. If more of a product is manufactured total costs are, of course, higher. But this does not usually mean a higher cost per unit. Instead the cost per unit may be and often is lower if the output is larger, at least up to the productive capacity of the manufacturer. This is what is called "production at decreasing cost."

Now put these two facts together. In a large number of cases we find demand for an article to be inelastic. Low prices for a better article at the old price, which is much the same thing, will mean enlarged sales. Also we may find that a larger output means lower costs per unit. If these two facts come together with a given article there larger profits are possible if the price is lowered and sales increased.

This is being realized more and more. We can express its significance in broad social terms by pointing out that a lowering of prices means a higher standard of living for the public. We may go a step farther by observing that only if a large volume of sales is made will it be possible to keep our productive equipment operating. Unfortunately, we have been in the habit of using it at only about 80 per cent of its capacity and many plants at many times operate at far less than 80 per cent.

But we may put it in still another way by noting that it is often to the immediate advantage of a particular manufacturer or dealer to lower prices. His tendency is apt to be the other way and sometimes he is right. There is a point below which he cannot reduce prices without losing money. Yet there is a danger that he may not appreciate the "elasticity of demand." The automobile manufacturer has grasped the idea as have the producers of electrical refrigerators, radios, etc. The idea is spreading.

A business man who wishes to study the possibilities of enlarging his sales through lowered prices will necessarily concentrate on an analysis of his own costs and the possibilities of his markets. If he wishes to see the problem in its broader setting he will do well to read a recent study published by the Brookings Institution written by E. G. Nourse and H. B. Drury. It is entitled "Industrial Prices Policies and Economic Progress."

Higgins Leads Western Market Sales Tuesday

HIGGINS, Sept. 23—Livestock receipts were heavy and bidding was active on all classes of stock at the Higgins Sales pavilion Tuesday. Although western markets were reported slow to fair Tuesday, Higgins sales were an exception.

In the miscellaneous division a number of articles were offered for sale with C. R. Patton the main consignee. A load of hay brought in sold at 19 1/2 cents per bale.

Hogs for slaughtering purposes were sold to numerous buyers throughout this section. Most of these were light and did not go over the scales but were sold by the head. Sows weighing around 500 pounds sold for around $6.50 per hundred and 200 pound sows brought $8.40 a hundred.

Buyers in this division included Perry Garringer and A. E. States of Higgins; T. O. Gilmer, J. M. Higgins of Shattuck. Among the largest consignees were J. M. Brannon of Mobeetie and G. Bryant of Shattuck.

A string of whiteface steers went through the ring at $20 a head. Jersey steers tipping the scales a little more than 600 pounds brought around $5 a hundred. Jersey bull calves sold from $10 to $15 each.

Bradshaw Sells Steers
Jeff Williams of Mobeetie was in with several loads of mixed cattle that sold by the head and in lots of 30 or less at exceptional prices. J. C. Bradshaw of Cheyenne was in with a string of whiteface steers that sold at very good prices.

These cattle went to Kansas pastures.

The top on heavy bulls was about $5.50 a hundred. A Hereford bull weighing around 1,400 pounds consigned by Arthur Longhoffer brought $75.26. A 900 pound white-face bull sold at $4.85 a hundred while a white bull of 780 pounds brought $5.10 per hundred. A young Jersey bull weighing around 320 pounds went through the ring at $4.30 a hundred. A black 290 pound bull sold for $5 a hundred.

Six Jersey bull calves were sold in one lot for $11.25 a head. A 690 pound heifer brought $5.40 per hundred. Fat cows sold from $4.74 to $5.00 per hundred pounds.

Thirteen cows with calves by side brought $30 each. One black white-face milch cow sold for $31.25; another black milch cow brought $33.25. No milch cows of exceptional quality were offered for sale.

Among consignees other than those mentioned were John Armstrong, Durham; Henry Mathis, R. T. Kelley, Tom Hill, W. B. Turner of Lipscomb; E. J. Gething, Laketon; Ray Foster, E. J. Dixon, Dallas; G. E. Lawson, G. H. Kyle, Pampa; Bill Barker, Perryton; Pearl Hixon, Harmon, Okla.; Wayne Newell, Tom Hex, Carl Freeman, Canadian; L. W. Love, Roy New, O. Kennedy, Arnett; Paul Koch, Follett.

Several buyers included Raymond Mays, Bucklin, Kansas; J. M. Higgins, Shattuck; Geo. Pier, Gage; A. H. Johnston, Viki; Tom Hex, Canadian and Allen Meadow, Briscoe.

Soil Saving Projects In Effect On 847 Plains Farms

AMARILLO, Sept. 23 (AP)—Erosion control programs now are being carried out completely on 847 farms and ranches totaling 595,265 acres in the ten Soil Conservation Service demonstration areas in the Texas Panhandle.

H. H. Finnerell, regional conservator, said that in the entire wind erosion region which, in addition to the Texas Panhandle includes Eastern New Mexico, Southwest Kansas, Eastern Colorado and the Oklahoma Panhandle, 1,701 farmers and ranchers are cooperating in the demonstration of erosion control practices on 1,129,483 acres.

These farmers and ranchers have agreed to follow recommended soil conservation practices for a minimum period of five years in return for assistance from the federal service in developing soil-saving programs on their land. Each agricultural unit is being or has been developed into a complete erosion control demonstration, Finnerell explained.

Practices employed by cooperative farmers to control erosion include contour or around the hill farming, terracing, contour strip cropping, gully control, pasture contour farming, range management, water spreading and diversion, tree planting, construction of stock water ponds, and others. Cropping systems are being rearranged in order that a vegetation cover for protection against wind and water erosion may be provided at all times.

Each of the farms or ranches included in the demonstration program is located within the work area of one of the five erosion control projects in the Texas Panhandle or within the work area of one of the five CCC camps which are working on erosion control under supervision of the service.

SUBSIDIZE WHEAT EXPORTS.
Up to 100 million bushels of wheat will be bought by the government and resold to exporters at prices in line with the world sale.

The subsidy program will be conducted by the Federal Surplus Commodity Corporation which will borrow $30,000,000 from the RFC to use as a revolving fund.

Losses incurred in selling grain to exporters for less than the government pays for it will be made up from customs receipts set aside for the disposal of farm surpluses.

Export of 100 million bushels would be approximately 18 per cent of the estimated world trade in wheat for this season, government officials say. The United States' share in 1937 was 20 per cent and in normal production years the average share has been 25 per cent.

Meanwhile, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics says prices for the 1938-40 marketing year will remain relatively low unless there is a material reduction in acreage next year or an improvement in world economic conditions.

SEEK FREIGHT RATES CUT.
Lower freight rates on farm products shipped for export will be sought by the government, it is announced.

Chairman Jones of the House Agricultural Committee points out that Secretary Wallace has authority under the farm act to initiate proceedings for the purpose of reducing freight rates.

Industry has received reduced freight rates on exports for years and there is no reason why the farmer should not get the same treatment," he said.

WOULD WIDEN MARKET.
Federal expenditures up to $140,000,000 to develop new uses for farm products have been proposed to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

Congressman B. W. Gearhart, Republican, Calif., told Secretary Wallace he believed the farmers' only hope for prosperity lay in creation of new outlets for farm products.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.
Slaughter supplies of sheep and lambs are expected by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics to be larger this fall than a year ago.

Expected increase in consumer demand and favorable prospects for wool prices are likely to offset adverse effects of the increase in supplies, the bureau says.

SEE BUYING POWER BOOST.
Improvement in consumer buying power and demand for farm products during the fall and winter is visioned by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Favorable factors were listed as: Gradual increase in government expenditures as new construction projects get under way. Increased need for durable goods. Brighter prospects in residential building. Relatively small amount of financial deflation as compared with other business slump periods. The bureau pointed out, however, that increased demand for farm products must await actual improvement in consumer incomes.

TRUCK CROPS.
Truck crops are making good progress in most sections of the country, the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports. In some areas either too much rain or its lack have retarded production.

Home Ec Classes Elect Officers

McLEAN, Sept. 23—The home economics classes of McLean High school, with Miss Betty Farley as instructor, have organized and elected the following officers: Audrey Campbell, secretary-treasurer; Virginia Blackby, historian-reporter; Doris Nell Wilson, social chairman; all section 1 students.

Section two class officers: president, Athella Cryer; vice-president, Joyce Dowell; secretary-treasurer, Mural Payne Carnes; social chairman, Eva Baker; historian-reporter, Dorothy Nell Woods. Third year girls elected Opal Thacker, president; Julia Mae Morris, vice-president; Margaret Kramer, secretary-treasurer; Bernice McClellan, reporter; and Marie Eddy, social chairman.

VOTERS WILL DECIDE UPON DUEL CLAUSE

AUSTIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—Texans can say on Nov. 8 whether or not their state officials should be required to swear they have never fought a duel with deadly weapons.

The single side-issue in the general election on that date is an amendment which would abolish the dueling clause from the constitutional oaths for state officials.

The anti-dueling provision is a hangover of hardy days when flaring tempers often required settlement of questions on honor by the pistol or sword. Pioneers evidently concluded it would both discourage dueling and keep duelist out of office.

Its repeated use in modern times had caused not a few snickers at solemn inaugural ceremonies. The oath has not been changed since it was incorporated in the present constitution, adopted in 1876. The dueling section perhaps would have been eliminated except that Texans generally did not feel it was of sufficient importance to warrant an election. The present legislature voted to submit it at the 1938 general election.

The three things to which an officialholder has sworn are that he will support the constitution and laws of the nation and state, has not acted as principal or second in a duel and has not promised any money or valuable consideration in return for his election.

Motto And Colors Chosen By Seniors

McLEAN, Sept. 23—"Out of the harbor, into deep channels" was chosen for the class motto by the 1939 seniors Monday morning, during the activity period. The meeting was called by the president, Vester Lee Smith, and Misses Jewell Cousin and Ina Nell Still, sponsors.

Wine and gold were selected as class colors. The senior rings, which arrived this week, are gold with a ruby set. Ships are carved on the sides of the rings and the letter "M" is raised on the set.

"Reality" Will Be Sermon Subject

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 25.

The Golden Text is: "Thy throne, O Lord, is for ever and ever; the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre" (Psalms 45:6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea" (Revelation 21:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "This testimony of Holy Writ sustains the fact in Science, that the heavens and earth to one human consciousness, that consciousness which God bestows, are spiritual, while to another, the unillumined human mind, the vision is material" (page 572).

The reading room in the church edifice is open Tuesday and Friday 2 to 4 o'clock. The public is most cordially invited to attend the services and to use the reading room.

DRILLING LEASE GRANTED.

AUSTIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—A lease for exploring shallow sands on 210 acres of the Wichita river bed, Wichita county, was granted the G. W. Drilling Company of Dallas by the Board of Mineral Development today. The same company recently was awarded lease on deep production in the same area.

Hopkins Residents Travel 200,000 Miles On Vacations

HOPKINS, Sept. 23—Following the tradition of "See America first," the residents of the Hopkins community traveled well over 200,000 miles throughout the nation this summer covering 18 states.

Many national parks, monuments, and historic shrines were visited. The mountains of Colorado and New Mexico held the most interest, while the coast of Texas and other states ranked second.

Fishing was the favorite recreation during the summer, all anglers returning to tell of large catches in the streams and lakes of Texas, Colorado, New Mexico, and Oklahoma, and to tell tall stories of "the one that got away."

Earlwhite mountain climbers told hair-raising experiences on dizzy heights. Five Scouts of Troop 18 claim the record of the season having climbed to the peak of Mt. Cu-lebra in Colorado which has an elevation of 14,039 feet.

Other recreations were bathing, hunting and touring. Several trips were made into Mexico also, points of interest being Juarez, Monterrey, and others.

LARGEST AND FINEST.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today that PWA's present non-federal program, three months old, was its "largest and finest." Ickes based this statement on the launching of 5,592 non-federal projects which will cost $1,273,336,606.

One bushel of pears or peaches, cut in halves, yields about sixteen quarts of mixture when put up in medium syrup. One bushel of tomatoes will yield about twenty-four quarts when canned.

Wheat Losing Power Of Resisting Rust

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—Some crop experts expressed fear today that the rust resisting power of Thatcher wheat, agronomists' newest weapon against the disease which destroys grain, may wane during coming seasons.

Thatcher wheat, planted in record breaking acreage in the spring wheat belt this year, turned in an excellent performance in a season of widespread rust infection, the crop authorities said, but showed the first signs of vulnerability since its introduction in 1934.

It was unscathed by rust and proved to be a potent factor in the production of the best spring wheat crop in six years.

H. C. Donovan, wheat's traveled crop expert, said he had found minor black stem infections on the wheat's blades. No damage was done, he said, but the fact that infection was found is disquieting. He expressed fear

Wallace To Talk On Wheat, Cotton Plans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Secretary Wallace will discuss the wheat and cotton programs with farm leaders next week.

An agricultural adjustment administration announcement said the secretary of agriculture would talk to farm leaders and others from wheat states, at Hutchinson, Kas., Sept. 29, and to southern farm leaders and those in cotton at Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 30.

Wallace will discuss the AAA said, "the present situation of American wheat farmers in the light of existing conditions here and abroad" in Kansas. This talk will also include an outline of "plans for administering the United States wheat program during the coming twelve months."

The Texas address "will be devoted to the present agricultural situation in the south, with particular reference to cotton," the AAA said.

46,000-Acre Cotton Farm To Be Divided

WILSON, Ark., Sept. 23 (AP)—One of the largest cotton plantations in the world, the huge 46,000-acre development now operated by Lee Wilson & Company, will be divided next year into 50 separate farm units and leased to individual operators.

Announcement of the proposed split-up of the 60-year-old "empire" founded by R. Lee Wilson was made yesterday by J. H. Crain, president of the company. The farm units, consisting of from 400 to 1,000 acres, will be leased for periods of from one to five years.

Many large South Louisiana sugar plantations have private railroads to haul cane to the mills for processing.

HARVESTERS TO FACE TEAM OF OWN SIZE HERE TONIGHT

PAMPA LINEUP WILL FEATURE TWO CHANGES

Meeting a team their own size for the first time this year, the Pampa Harvesters will attempt to ring up their second victory of the season tonight at 8 o'clock under the lights at Harvester Field when they tackle the Northeast Norsemen of Oklahoma City.

Like the Riverside Eagles of Fort Worth who took the Harvesters under last week, the Norsemen come from a new school, just two years old. Although beginning football last year without previous experience, the Norsemen won five and lost four games, dropping close decisions to such teams as Tulsa and Norman.

Nine returning lettermen gave Coach Haskell McManus the backbone for another potentially strong team. Newcomers, however, have been crowding some of the lettermen out of the picture.

A line featuring weight at one end, tackle and center will be in front of a light backfield reported to be strong on passing. Aiken, a 155-pound fullback, and Stewart, 146-pound signal barker, lead the attack from a single wing and short punt formation.

Lineup Changed
Although still undecided on a starting lineup following a dummy scrimmage yesterday afternoon, Harvesters coaches were pretty sure they would start Giddens at guard in place of Parish who received a leg injury last week; Green at end in place of Kyle; Karr at fullback instead of Ruple.

The injured Karr has been working out all week and his knee appeared to be in good shape. "We'll probably give Karr a chance to show his condition," coaches said. "He wants to play and claims his knee feels fine. Carille and Miller will be available at any time relief is needed."

Captain J. W. Graham was unable to work out yesterday afternoon because of a bad cold but he was at school this morning feeling "fine."

Three new officials will make their appearance in tonight's game in J. H. Duncan (Trinity) and D. V. Biggers (WTSC), both of LeFors and Tom Henry (OU).

Probable starting lineups will be:

Missions Need One Victory To Win Loop Title

BEAUMONT, Sept. 23 (AP)—The Texas League play-off moved here today with San Antonio needing but one victory to take home the pennant.

Last night at San Antonio the Missions defeated Beaumont, 5-4, to gain a three-games-to-two lead in the series.

Beaumont was to send Schoolboy Rowe, ex-19 leaguer, to the mound in an effort to stem the San Antonio tide with Harry Kimberlin expected to do the pitching chores for the Missions.

If another game is needed it will be played here.

San Antonio spotted Beaumont three runs in the first inning last night but scored five of their own before the Exporters could spike the pan again.

Beaumont drove Chill Wagner to cover but Bill Trotter did a great job of relief hurling to allow only four hits in eight and a third inning.

Bucks And Eagles To Play Tonight

WHITE DEER, Sept. 23—The White Deer Bucks will meet the Canyon Eagles here Friday night at 8:15 in the second game of the season.

Both teams won their opening games last week, White Deer trouncing the Littlefield Wildcats, 32 to 6, and Canyon downing Claude, 13 to 0.

The Bucks are in fine fettle and expect to make it two victories in a row.

ALLSTARS AND JAYCEES PLAY TO 2 TO 2 TIE

In a contest that was a combination of amateur rodeo, softball, and acrobatics, the ramna Jaycees and the Allstars battled their way to a 2-2 tie in a game played at Road-runner park before 300 spectators.

The donkeys, featured in the contest, are not listed in the official score. Had they been, the tabulation probably would include: total yardage thrown, 4,987 feet, total number of falls, 280, and like statistics.

As the donkeys are not allowed to be used more than five innings, the 2-2 tie was not played off.

Clay Pumpfrey was the hero of the Jaycees team, bringing in the tying score in the last half of the third inning, after the Allstars had been leading 2 to 0 since the first inning. Clarence Kennedy piloted his mount around the circuit for the other Jaycees tally in the second inning. Sheridan and Riley scored the runs for the Allstars.

Outfielders looked like gold prospectors in slow motion as they tried to get their mounts to hurry into dimly lighted corners of the field in pursuit of long flies.

Cluck Hickman, Jaycee shortstop, rode like a conqueror hero almost to first base, on one play, only to have the donkey balk and refuse to enter the first base circle.

Donkeys Spell Hits
Batting power availed the players little as many hits that were good for homers in any softball league did not result even in bingles, due to the antics of the donkeys.

Most of the donkeys started bucking the second a hitter mounted them. Some would amble contentedly along for half the distance between home plate and first, then circle back, kick, walk out from under the riders, or aggravatingly walk within inches of the base.

Jack Beck performed the most spectacular ride of the game. Getting off a long hit, Jack mounted a donkey and spectators declare Jack took aerial hops of at least 10 feet. He tried a half-dozen times to ride the donkey but the animal was a donkey version of "Five Minutes to Midnight."

Reeves Loses Donkey
Garret Reeves was a very surprised man at one stage of the game. Getting aboard his donkey, the Jaycee left fielder started in good fashion toward first base, after making a long hit. The donkey ambled for a short distance, then halted, and walked out from under Reeves. Garret looked around in a dazed manner, trying to find where the donkey had gone.

Substitutions were numerous in the last two innings, with each side trying to use as many players as possible. Starting lineups were: Jaycees: Hall, c; Kennedy, p; Monroes, 1b; Pumpfrey, 2b; Hickman, ss; Weathered, 3b; Reeves, lf; Parker, cf; Curry, rf.

Allstars: Sheridan, c; Patrick, p; Sharp, 1b; Hoy, 2b; Prince, ss; Riley, 3b; Chisum, lf; Lard, cf; Mangel, rf.

Among Jaycee subs were Williams, Altman, Yewell and Watson; for the Allstars, McAnally for Hoy, Haskell for Prince; Worley for Riley; Jameson for Chisum; Johnson for Lard; Barnes for Mangel.

NOTRE DAME COACH SAID TO BE WHISTLING IN THE DARK

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 23 (AP)—Coach Elmer Layden is whistling these days—but he sounds suspiciously like the small boy who whistled to buy his courage as he scurried past the graveyard at eventide.

A breath-taking nine game schedule, some Notre Dame loyalists fear, may well develop into a graveyard of Irish hopes. For with a squad composed largely of inexperienced candidates, Coach Layden may have a tough time preventing Kansas from writing the first paragraph of the Notre Dame "obituary" one week from tomorrow—and after Kansas will come one powerful adversary after another to haunt the Layden crew.

Layden says he is not disheartened.

"There isn't any use worrying about a schedule which anyone will admit is a difficult one," he says. "We've been lucky in past years, winning games by one point margins and having boys develop quickly to plug gaps. Maybe we'll be lucky this year—and if we aren't, we'll always be in there fighting."

Oct. 1—Kansas at Notre Dame; Oct. 8—Georgia Tech at Atlanta; Oct. 15—Illinois at Notre Dame; Oct. 22—Carnegie Tech at Notre Dame; Oct. 29—Army at New York; Nov. 5—Navy at Baltimore; Nov. 12—Missouri at Notre Dame; Nov. 19—Northwestern at Evanston; Dec. 3—Southern California at Los Angeles.

Shamrock's Irishmen, dogged by injury, have proved a light but spirited band of warriors. They have defeated Spartan and lost to Class A Childress by a top heavy score.

To begin the jinx of injury Jack George, letterman left end, injured an ankle in the first scrimmage of the season and is still feeling the effects of it, although he played a part of the Childress game. On the eve of the Childress game Roy Holmes, center and the only two-year man on the team, injured an ankle and is still out of the line-up. He will be out of the game Friday.

Cap. Chester Fox, Vernon Purcell, Ed Sutterfield and Fred Burcham, who were removed from the Childress game by slight injuries will be back in the lineup for this week's game.

Shamrock fans can begin to rate their chances in the district after this game as Mobeetie has already played all their conference opponents excepting McLean. General admission tickets for this game are now on sale at the Killarney, Tindall and Corner Drug Stores.

BARKER PICKS GRID WINNERS FOR SATURDAY

By HERBERT W. BARKER
NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Dipping lightly into the nearest desk drawer for a load of blank cartridges, the heckled football guesser opens harmless fire on the 1938 season and asks only for just enough time to duck when the gun backfires.

Other games played last night (Dallas) battled to a 7-7 tie in an interdistrict tilt, Waxahachie defeated Class B Keras, 19-0, and Brownsville swatted LeFors, 32-0.

More than 60 games will be played today and tomorrow with the Abilene-Lubbock, Vernon-Breckenridge, Masonic-Home Highland Park, Tyler-Palestine, Austin-Temple, Waco-Mexia, Brackenridge (San Antonio)-Tustin (Houston), Edinburg-Mission, Port Arthur-Nacogdoches, and Beaumont-Lak: Charles, La., title standing out.

Twelfth graders were not due to be in the starting line-up for Port Arthur against Nacogdoches and for that reason this game should furnish a good indication as to the Yellow Jackets' strength in the district 14 race.

The Yellow Jackets will not use them in championship play this year under interscholastic league referendum that barred them from competition after being the center of a controversy for several seasons but Coach Tom Dennis announced plans to play them in inter-sectional games.

Navy-William and Mary: There's little advance cheering down at Annapolis this year but the Tars should take this one safely.

Fordue-Detroit: Even without Cecil Isbell, Fordue looks no worse than an even bet against Detroit, which won't have Andy Farikas, spinning a brand new time, Purdue.

California-St. Mary's: Vic Bottari and Dave Anderson ought to pull California through this one.

Kansas-Tech: A perhaps ill-advised shot in the dark, Texas.

Georgia-Citadel: The crying towels are working overtime at Georgia but they can be put away for this one.

Tulane-Clemson: Ought to be close for Clemson has a veteran array. Picking Tulane and hoping for the best.

Washington University-Vanderbilt: It's whispered about that the Commodores really will play Ray Morrison's style of open football this year. Vanderbilt.

Texas Christian-Centenary: T. C. U. to whip a notorious annoymer of Southwest Conference teams.

Retail financing of new automobiles dropped 69 per cent in July, 1938, as compared with July, 1937.

Port Arthur Won't Play 12th Graders Tomorrow

(By The Associated Press)
The Texas Interscholastic league football campaign opened on all fronts today.

Lamesa was at Plainview to start the championship drive in the Panhandle with El Paso high playing at Odessa in district 4 and Corsicana going to Bryan in the Central Texas district.

One conference game was played last night, Arlington Heights downing Fort Worth Tech, 7-0, in the Fort Worth district's opener.

In other games played last night San Jacinto (Houston) and Sunset (Dallas) battled to a 7-7 tie in an interdistrict tilt, Waxahachie defeated Class B Keras, 19-0, and Brownsville swatted LeFors, 32-0.

More than 60 games will be played today and tomorrow with the Abilene-Lubbock, Vernon-Breckenridge, Masonic-Home Highland Park, Tyler-Palestine, Austin-Temple, Waco-Mexia, Brackenridge (San Antonio)-Tustin (Houston), Edinburg-Mission, Port Arthur-Nacogdoches, and Beaumont-Lak: Charles, La., title standing out.

Twelfth graders were not due to be in the starting line-up for Port Arthur against Nacogdoches and for that reason this game should furnish a good indication as to the Yellow Jackets' strength in the district 14 race.

The Yellow Jackets will not use them in championship play this year under interscholastic league referendum that barred them from competition after being the center of a controversy for several seasons but Coach Tom Dennis announced plans to play them in inter-sectional games.

Navy-William and Mary: There's little advance cheering down at Annapolis this year but the Tars should take this one safely.

Fordue-Detroit: Even without Cecil Isbell, Fordue looks no worse than an even bet against Detroit, which won't have Andy Farikas, spinning a brand new time, Purdue.

California-St. Mary's: Vic Bottari and Dave Anderson ought to pull California through this one.

Kansas-Tech: A perhaps ill-advised shot in the dark, Texas.

Georgia-Citadel: The crying towels are working overtime at Georgia but they can be put away for this one.

Tulane-Clemson: Ought to be close for Clemson has a veteran array. Picking Tulane and hoping for the best.

Washington University-Vanderbilt: It's whispered about that the Commodores really will play Ray Morrison's style of open football this year. Vanderbilt.

Texas Christian-Centenary: T. C. U. to whip a notorious annoymer of Southwest Conference teams.

WELLINGTON, PANHANDLE TO PLAY TONIGHT

PANHANDLE, Sept. 23.—Coach Lefty Fowler and his Panhandle

Panthers will journey to Wellington Friday night to battle the Wellington Skyrockets, one of the outstanding Class B teams in this section on its 1938 record to date.

Wellington will be out to avenge a loss suffered in the regional final with Panhandle last fall. Wellington will have probably the same team back while Panhandle will have only a sprinkling of veterans.

The Panthers are in excellent condition, Coach Fowler reported after a long but light workout Thursday afternoon. Ways and means of stopping Anfelope Austin and Estes, his running mate, were featured.

Thinks Time Is Ripe For New Automobile Style Cycle

Noted Viennese Designer Points Out That Better Cars Should Soon Bring Smarter Style

BY JAME. IDA JOLLES

All of us appreciate the constant change that is the rule in the world of fashion; too few, perhaps, realize what is behind such change, or what change marks the inauguration of a true style departure.

The fact is that the best style is the style that best expresses purpose. This is true whether you deal with automobiles or the important accessories of women's dress. Whether it's a car or a handbag, it must have logic as well as loveliness if it hopes to start a style.

Personally, I expect automobile design to embark upon a new road in the very near future. Too much attention, of late, has been going to the detail of decoration and too little to expressing the constant improvement that has been marked in automobile construction.

From all I hear, the car most likely to establish such a new style cycle appears to be the new Buick which will soon be announced. Reports that reach me point it out as something that derives its smartness from its improvement in functional design. That will be sufficient to make it a car that at last starts us on a new style cycle.

Pirates To Battle Warriors Tonight

LeFORS, Sept. 23—A pep rally was staged Thursday night in Shaw Park in anticipation of the game Friday. The Pirates will clash with the Miami Warriors here at 8 o'clock.

Much interest is being shown in the game since both games were victorious in their tilts last week.

Theodore Cooper, Pirate left guard, will be unable to play due to a broken nose received in scrimmage last Thursday night.

How Clever Chinese 'Catch' Bombs

Menaced almost daily by Japanese air raids, owners of buildings in Canton, China, have resorted to use of "bomb catchers" like the one over the roof of the building in the picture above. These protections are made of meshed steel rods anchored by stanchions.

GIRL PLAYS REALISTIC ROLE OF DWARF IN KIWANIS PLAY

When the magic adventures of Fairyland's favorite princess, Snow White, are presented in the play "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" on the night of September 30 in the high school auditorium, the audience will see a production that is sure to draw praise. For a total of nine weeks now the excellent cast, directed by Mrs. Dorothy L. Hesse, has been rehearsing the play. The production has its own special scenery, and costumes are furnished by the Walt Disney Enterprises. In the play, the audience will see the scene starters of the first order in the seven dwarfs. The dwarf whose lines will probably bring more rolls of laughter than another is played by Stella Mae Murphy. Stella Mae sang one of the songs of the play during the program of the Pampa Lions club luncheon yesterday and at noon today was on the program of the Kiwanis club. The Kiwanis club is presenting the play here for the benefit of the child's fund for underprivileged children. The amusing factor in Stella Mae Murphy's performance in the play is not the dialogue but the way Stella Mae delivers it. One of the youngest dwarfs, at the age of seven, her incredulous "Gooohh, gooosh" will sound near to professional. Another dwarf who will attract attention during the play is the one who does not talk—played by Shirley Dean Cavender. The leader of the dwarfs is played by Hurshelean Jouner whose droll talk is accompanied by a comical little jerk in her walk. An amicable little dwarf who carries a load of dialogue and does it well is Jean Chandler. Full of dirt misgivings and not in the least hesitant to voice them is William Boyd Pomby. An amusing aptitude for yawning distinguishes Donald Albright. Bobby Lacey plays the little dwarf whose frequent fitzgers are a cause for much hat holding among his fellows. In addition to the play, Pampans will also see dance numbers by pupils of Dixie Dice, presented between acts.

RUSSIA FORGES ARMOR AROUND UKRAINE AREA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Authoritative reports reaching Washington indicate the Soviet Union convinced Adolf Hitler has obtained a free hand in eastern Europe, is forging a protective armor for the lucrative Ukraine. On the basis of meager information diplomats believe the Russians, bitter over the collapse of western European efforts to stop German expansion, have speeded up their construction of a mighty line of steel from the Black to the White seas. Behind this line the Red army would await any invasion. Hitler's domination of Czechoslovakia, if and when completed, would bring the German influence or army within a hundred miles of the Ukraine. The latter is one of the richest geographical areas in the world, the possession of whose minerals and grains—in Hitler's own words in 1936—would enable Germany to "swim in wealth." The Ukraine now supplies the Soviet Union with about 80 per cent of its oil, 60 per cent of its iron, 95 per cent of its manganese, the bulk of its wheat, and vast quantities of mercury, copper and gold. It is Russia's granary, a country of limitless steppes, almost as large as Germany was before annexation of Austria. It is populated by about 30,000,000 stalwart, industrious Slavs who have known war ever since their ancient capital, Kiev, was overrun by the Mongols in the thirteenth century. Russia stands alone. Now that France has failed to come to Czechoslovakia's aid under its treaty, Russians believe they must rely entirely on their own resources to check a reborn and hungry Germany. The buffer nations set around Germany on the southeast by the Versailles treaty are no longer insurmountable, as developments in the last week have shown. The Russians' problem in the Ukraine is complicated by just such a minority issue as gave Hitler his chance in Czechoslovakia. The Ukrainians are not and never have been Russians. They do not speak Russian. Their culture, literature and civilization is vastly different and older. There has been and probably still is, a powerful separation movement in the region. As late as 1923 the Ukraine republic was a separate country signing treaties with European nations. Then it was gobbled up by the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics. The last of the Ukranian liquidation and subsequent famine seven years ago fell most heavily on the Ukraine Steppes, a ding to the discontent there. The Russians frequently have charged Germans were active in stirring up sabotage and counter-revo-

DONS OUT IN FRONT. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23 (AP)—San Francisco and Sacramento were cut in front today in the Pacific Coast Baseball league Shaughnessy playoffs, each with a two games to one lead over its opponent. San Francisco broke up a tie with a five-run barrage in the twelfth inning to defeat Seattle, 12 to 7, last night. Sacramento won from Los Angeles, 12 to 2. Sacramento and Los Angeles move to Sacramento to resume their four games out of seven series Saturday.

Seven Workers Lost As Dam Gives Way
PORT PECK, Mont., Sept. 23 (AP)—The bodies of seven of eight workmen entombed when a third of a mile of upstream face of $100,000,000 Port Peck dam gave way were hidden under millions of tons of soft dirt and rock today.

The body of Albert V. Stosser, 23, Park Grove, Mont., was found late yesterday soon after the huge section of the dam's east abutment roared toward the lake forming behind the dam on the Missouri river. Hours of dangerous search on the loose slide slope, 2,000 feet long and 200 feet high, convinced searchers none of the missing would be found alive. The entire dam is nearly three miles long.

Major Clark Kittrell, U. S. army engineer in charge of construction of the dam, largest earth-fill dam in the world, announced a preliminary survey did "not indicate that any reason for alarm should exist regarding the security of the main dam." He said the water level of the lake, now 90 feet deep, was 15 feet below the damaged abutment. Major Kittrell said construction was not halted on the dam, started four years ago and now nearing completion.

Training School To Begin On Sunday
On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock a six-day leadership training school will begin at the local First Baptist church.

Classes will be held each evening at 7:30 o'clock between Sept. 25 and Sept. 30.
Courses to be offered in the school are "Teaching Children," which will be taught by Mrs. John E. Eldridge of Floydada, "Worship in Young People's Divisions," the Rev. Marshall Rhew of Vega; "Christian Service for Adults," the Rev. W. E. Hamilton of Lubbock, and "Study of the New Testament," the Rev. T. S. Barcus of Clarendon.

Church To Have Special Program
On Wednesday evening the Church of God began conducting services in the new church building located at 929 Ripley street.

Beginning with the Sunday School services on Sunday morning the church members will pray and fast for the remainder of the day. The program for Sunday included Sunday School at 9:45 o'clock, preaching service at 11 o'clock, and worship hour at 7:45 o'clock. Prayer services are held on Wednesday night.
The Rev. John Morgan is the pastor of the church.

IT'S "SU-DEBT-EX"
AUSTIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—A tip for world-minded Texans: The No. 1 word in today's news—Sudeten—is pronounced with the accent on the first syllable. The second syllable, "d-t," is pronounced as "debt." Dr. Eduard Micek, professor of languages at the University of Texas, says Dr. Charles J. Hollub, Czech consul at Houston, is the authority for the pronunciation.

The Long and Short of It

A figure-fixing camera that will make you long and lissom or short and sassy has been developed by a Cleveland photographer, N. B. Aukerman. The photographs above are of the same model. At left, the camera produced a tall and willowy figure. The photograph shown at the right, portrays the model as shorter, more rugged of stature. The inventor is shown in the lower picture with his tricky camera as it is mounted in his studio. The camera has two lenses and is expected to prove most useful in the production of art photographs for advertising purposes.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Whizzer White made a personal hit with the big town sports scribers. Tonight we'll see what he looks like as a football player.

For Hrubka, or should it be skater? He is called Jimmy Johnston, her American manager, for two tickets to get out of that war-torn country.

P. S. Johnston sent 'em. Puerto Rico will guarantee the 1938 semi-pro baseball winners an all expense trip down there for a series with the island champs.

Easeball is an all-star proposition in Puerto Rico and Enrique Ryuk, the commissioner, plans to start his tournament in January.

Tomorrow is a big football day. We'll take Alabama over Southern California, Minnesota over Washington and Pitt over West Virginia, although if there is a big upset the mountaineers may spring it.

Also we will take Wichita over Army for one half. Jim Braddeck is on a refereeing tour of the south and going over big.

Francis Wallace's football preview in the current Satepost rings the bell as his prices always do.

Seems to us we read Bugess Whitehead was coming up here to work with the Jims the last two weeks of the season.

Temple opens the season tonight and Pop Warner has not selected his opening lineup yet.

If Georgia doesn't have the fastest backfield combination in Dixie there will be some mistake.

The wingback, Vasa Cate, is the southern conference 100-yard champion and one of the south's top hurdlers.

Harry Stevens, tailback and triple threat is a track team sprinter and does the 100 in 10 seconds. Jim Fordham, the fullback, can trav 100 in 10.5 and Bob Salisbury, who is trusted with the blocking, can step that distance in the same time.

PIRATES TAKE DOUBLEHEADER FROM DODGERS

By SID FEDER.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Between now and the time Pittsburgh sits down to figure out the Yankees to start the world series you're going to hear a lot of that "sweet revenge" bull-up in favor of Jim Tobin.

Of course, there's the little matter of sewing up the National League pennant still in front of Pie and his pirates, but after knocking off the Brooklyn Dodgers twice, 6-0 and 11-3, yesterday, there doesn't seem much the Bucs can do any more about getting out of it.

They're in a spot now where they can drop three of their ten remaining games and still win, even if the second-place Chicago Cubs sweep the 11 left on their schedule.

It seems this "revenge is sweet" business pops up about every time the Yankees get into the series which, you may recall, has happened once or twice in past years. Last season they sang the same song about the Giants' stringbean Cliff Melton who, like Tobin, was a Yankee castoff.

But everybody forgot all about it after Gehrig and Company pinned the Mickey Mouse man's large ears back.

About Tobin, there are whispers he is looking for a chance to go to work on them that Yanks.

The world champions obtained him from Oakland in '36, then left him there to undergo an appendectomy, and in '37, after bringing him up again, they sold him "down the river" to the Bucs.

The story now is that Jim doesn't figure he got a square shake, that the Yanks didn't give him enough of a tryout to show he knew the difference between his fast knee and his curve.

The Bucs still boast a 3 1/2-game edge over the Cubs, who also turned in a double-win over the Phils in the first full National League program in four days.

Bill Lee equalled a National League record with his fourth straight shutout, by a 4-0 count, in the opener, and Clay Bryant came through 2-1 in the afterpiece.

The Giants regained third place by kicking the Cincinnati Reds around twice, 6-1 and 2-1.

The Yankees finally snapped out of their eight-year record six-game losing streak by overpowering the White Sox, 7-4, calling on their big lefty habit of home-run hitting to do it.

Red Rife and Joe Gordon supplied out-of-the-hot power in this lone game on the American league card.

Boston's Bees, determined to hang on to fifth place in the senior circuit, whipped the Cardinals twice, 6-5 and 4-1.

PLYMOUTH FIRST TO PRESENT 1939 MODELS

Here's the first of the new 1939 automobiles, presenting an impressive array of added features for greater comfort and luxury in the lowest price field. The latest models now on display at Plymouth showrooms here confirm the forecasts that stronger "eye appeal" would highlight new auto designs for 1939. Inside and out, this newest Plymouth is completely restyled. Headlamps and tail lights are streamlined into the fenders, and a new Vee-type windshield adds more than six inches to body length above the belt. Built on a longer wheelbase—now 114 inches—brand new features include softer-riding coil springs of Amola steel; new high-torque engine performance; remote control gear shift up on the steering post, and a new "safety-signal" speedometer that flashes traffic lights right under a driver's eyes. The new Plymouth rides better, handles easier—and prices are still lower this year, the factory just announced.

ENID LIONS TO VISIT PAMPA OCTOBER 14

Members of the Enid, Okla., Lions club will come to Pampa next month to have an interclub meeting with the Pampa Lions, and attend the Pct. Arthur-Pampa high school football game to be played at Harvester park on the night of October 14. It was announced at the Lions club luncheon here Thursday noon. The visitors will see the football game Friday night and leave on the return trip to Enid Saturday morning. Carl Bernefeld, a former member of the Enid club, said.

Another interclub meeting was announced for noon Tuesday at McLean, with the Pampa Lions presenting the program.

Motion Pictures Shown
Motion pictures of a vacation trip to Trinidad, Colo., Mesa Verde, Salt Lake City, and Yellowstone National park, made by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Euenkiel and family, was a feature of the luncheon yesterday. Mrs. Doris Landers Hess, director of the play "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," and Stella Mae Murphy, seven-year-old girl who has the role of "Bashful" in the production, were introduced by Garnet Reeves, member of the Kiwanis club. The Kiwanis club is to present the play on the night of September 30 in the high school auditorium for the benefit of the club's fund for underprivileged children of Pampa.

Sings Song From Play
Mrs. Hess made a brief response, after which Stella Mae answered questions about the play asked by Mr. Reeves, and sang two songs. One of them was "Heigh-Ho," one of the songs she is to sing in the play. Ken Bennett played the piano accompaniment.

D. L. Parker, general chairman of the Lions club carnival, to be held October 27, 28 and 29, asked that chairman of concession committee inform him as to what awards they wished to offer. Jack Johnson was in charge of the program, which was opened with the singing of "The Lions Song" and "Smilis," led by Ralph Dunbar, salute to the flag, and invocation by Judge W. R. Ewing.

H. G. Walter, employed in the production department of the Texas company, was introduced as a new member. Mr. Walter comes to Pampa from Hobbs, N. M.

Noel Evans of Amarillo was a visiting Lion. He was introduced by D. L. Parker. E. B. Tracey introduced a guest, E. B. Emerson.

Hol Wagner, Rotarian, was another guest at the luncheon Thursday. Before the luncheon started Wagner distributed a copy of Rotaspokes, Rotary publication, at each plate, and from then on until the meeting was over parried quips with Lions on the softball game played last Tuesday night at Recreation park, which was won by the Rotarians 8 to 3.

Do motorists really feel the difference, when they use Phillips 66 Poly Gas? The figures above tell the story!
In ten short years, Phillips phenomenal growth, and rise to a place among the leaders, is an achievement without parallel in the entire history of the petroleum industry.
Every year for ten consecutive years, in good times and bad, sales of Phillips gasoline have continued their climb. Right you are! . . . when you say,
"It takes a great gasoline to grow like that. . . and we suggest that you try a tankful . . . compare . . . and decide. That's one way to get the most for your gasoline dollar."
See if you don't agree that our modern, high-test, high-energy, custom-tailored motor fuel, yields a new high in engine performance. See if you don't find that it does more, although it costs no more. See if you, too, don't feel that difference . . . after getting a trial tankful at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.
